McCarthy only new elected official

Predictions of a light turnout by voters in Saturday's school and city elections proved correct, as only 236 votes were cast in the city boxes and 614 in the school's.

Denny McCarthy edged Keith Fisher for Place 5 on the school board, a position relinquished after nine years by Jimmy Howell, who decided not to seek re-election.

McCarthy drew 144 votes to Fisher's 121.

The other two candidates for the same position were Larry Godwin, who received 68 votes, and Carmen Lozpone, 12.

Incumbent Jerry Reed, who was unchallenged, received 254 votes to return for his second term of office.

Ten persons received write-in votes in the school box, but none got more than four votes.

DENNY MCCARTHY

There were 225 votes cast at the Kidwell box (Precinct 32), 116 at Bradford (Precinct 33), and 57 at Valley View, where Godwin received 50 of his 68.

McCarthy won all three boxes, out-polling Fisher 105-94 at Kidwell, 34-22 at Bradford and 4-2 at Valley View.

All three incumbents in the city voting were winners.

Diane Robnett was the only candidate to be opposed, but she defeated challenger Ira Hambright 140-94, to return to Place 5.

Johnny Coker, the senior member of the council, was returned to Place 3 with 193 votes, and Virgil Woodfin polled 198 votes in his bid to return to Place 1.

Of the 200 votes cast at Kidwell, Robnett out-drew Hambright 119-80, and 21-14 of the 36 votes cast at Bradford.

HOUSE ROOF DESTROYED BY THURSDAY NIGHT WINDS ON HUNTINGTON LANE . . . most serious damage reported in the Iowa Park area.

Thursday storm damage slight

Residents of Iowa Park and the area are still counting their blessings that they weren't hit by storms of the same strength, Thursday evening of last week, as other areas to the south.

Winds in excess of 70 miles per hour were experienced, accompanied by lightning and .90 of an inch rain, but damage was termed minimal.

Most of the damage in town was limited to broken tree limbs, but at least two full-grown trees were felled, and a small framed structure was knocked to the ground.

The entire roof of a house on Huntington Lane, owned by Mrs. Gertrude Edwards, was blown away and a large portion landed atop Luke Coffman's garage, heavily damaging it.

From the Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday rainstorms, Iowa Park received a total of 2.71 inches, according to measurements taken by Virgil Woodfin.

As Thursday's storm developed to the south, the more severe weather developed, starting about Young County.

A tornado struck at Possum Kingdom Lake. Among the structures destroyed was a covered floating dock where several house boats were tied.

All the boats and the dock were scuttled except one boat, which is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Dan Spruell of Iowa Park. Their craft received only minor damage, according to early reports.

Members of the Iowa Park Volunteer Fire Department were called out only once during Thursday's storm, to the scene of a broken power line behind Davis Laundry.

No flooding was reported in the city.

City seeking bids for new fire truck

The city council Monday night approved a proposal to advertise for bids to purchase a new pumper for the fire department, and gave the owner of a house 90 days to correct the structure's non-compliance with city codes.

The new pumper, if purchased after bids are received, would replace a 1960 model truck that has only 10,000 miles on it.

However, the council was told that the state mandates pumpers 30 years old must be replaced, or the "key rate" to insure homes and businesses in the city will be greatly increased.

Chief of the Volunteer Fire Department, Danny Skinner, provided bid specifications for a pumper he estimated would cost $140,000.

An alternate to the bid would be to take the '60 model truck as a trade in.

Responding to a question from the council, if the truck were ever used to fight fires, Skinner said no. The only time a pumper leaves the city limits is for repairs or to respond to a mutual aid call from a neighboring community, he said.

During a public hearing concerning the home of Mrs. Cora Blivins, which was heavily damaged Feb. 24 by fire and has not been lived in since that time, a video film of the structure was shown to the council.

Mrs. Blivins explained she had been trying to sell the property, and Derrell Jolly, a real estate salesman, confirmed the statement.

Jolly asked the council for more time, and aldermen agreed to the request. They then passed a resolution calling for demolition of the house Aug. 14, if it had not been repaired

Juveniles face charges

Three of the six theft cases investigated during the past week by police involved juveniles.

Friday afternoon, a resident called police about having seen two juvenile boys in a field on the east side of town, carrying guns.

Officers found two boys, ages 14 and 15, in an old building off Bell Road at 1:21 p.m., and determined they had five guns, rifles and shotguns.

The guns were confiscated, and the department later received a report that some guns had been taken from a storage shed in the same neighborhood.

The boys denied having taken them. The case is still under investigation, according to Chief Alan Sheffield, and the youths were referred to the county juvenile department.

The second case was reported to police Saturday.

An employee's purse was reportedly taken from the Good and Plenty Restaurant on East Highway.

The purse, with most of its contents, was later recovered. Police have a suspect and Chief Sheffield said he intends to file charges with the juvenile department.

After receiving a report Tuesday that a $300 value JVC jam box had been taken from the Recreational Activities Center, officers recovered the item yesterday and charged a 14-year-old boy with the theft.

Believed to be a suspect in at least two other theft cases, the youth was taken Wednesday to juvenile deention in Wichita Falls.

Connie Jo Jones, 50, was arrested Saturday afternoon at B&R Thriftway on a charge of theft over $20.

The woman had reportedly taken

$58 worth of cigarettes and makeup items without paying for them. She was transported to county jail.

Trustees continue study of future building needs

Continuing their studies into the future facility needs of the school district, board members Tuesday night spent as much time on the ongoing subject as they did in taking care of all the regular monthly topics.

Trustees are expecting to set the priorities of what construction will be done, and determine how it will be financed, at a meeting in two weeks.

Architectural drawings were provided the board, showing where the proposed additions would be located, if approved, along with cost estimates, at Tuesday's meeting.

Should all the proposed building and improvements that are being considered be approved, the total cost is estimated at $3,181,000. That is down from an earlier estimate of $3,316,680, after some trimming was accomplished.

Newly-elected board chairman Jerry Reed took an unofficial poll of members concerning calling a bond election for the financing, and heard no negative comments.

"We won't vote the bonds," he explained about calling for the election. He said if bonds are approved, it will be the people doing it, not the board.

Following a canvassing of Saturday's election results, Denny McCarthy was declared winner of Place 5. Then, he and Reed were administered the oath of office.

Outgoing trustee and chairman of the board, Jimmy Howell, chaired the election of the new chairman. He then was presented a plaque for his nine years service to the district.

John Sibley was then elected vice president and Sheri Kennedy was re-elected board secretary during the board's annual reorganization.

The only voting of the evening that was not unanimous was when the board considered the proposed amendment of the dress code.

Kennedy and Gary Fielding voted against the code that was adopted.

The change at issue was the length of attire, which is not to be

Amity programs planned

Members of Amity Study Club planned programs for the next club year at a meeting held Monday evening in the home of Amy Brown.

The setting for the meeting was a poolside patio, where each member answered roll call with an idea for a program.

Programs planned include flower arranging, time management, informative program on satanism and the occult, color analysis, a fashion show and growing irises.

In other business, Evelyn Ward, president, told members she had ordered books for the library and that the names of the past year's speakers would be inscribed in them.

Marilyn Hale reported on the items collected for M.D. Anderson Hospital in Houston, and said she had found a firm who agreed to deliver the items to the hospital free of charge.

Club members approved the addition of a monthly project as well as program, suggested by Mrs. Ward.

Rita Worthy gave the meditation on not throwing the first stone, and gave each member a small stone with the work "First" printed on it.

Following the meeting, Mrs. Brown and co-hostess, Angie Covington, served cheesecake with blueberry and whipped cream topping to those attending.

"Olive Wood Tree" is program

Mrs. Roy Smith gave an impressive devotion on the "Olive Wood Tree" Monday evening for a meeting of the Friendship Class of First Baptist Church.

She said the tree was mentioned 37 times in the Old and New Testaments, the first mention of it being in Genesis when the dove brought a branch of it to Noah's ark after the flood.

In the New Testament, Jesus sat under the branches of the olive tree as He taught, and branches from the tree were strewn in His path as He made the triumphal entry into Jerusalem, then Jesus went under their branches in the Garden of Gethsemane a few hours before the crucifixion.

Mrs. Smith said many of the trees of Bible days are still standing, some are over 2,300 years old, and that the wood from the olives today, wherever they grow, is being used for useful purposes.

Mrs. O.S. McLemore was in charge of business. Members voted to cooperate with the Thelma Smith Baptist Women group to save labels from Campbell's products to help secure a van for Texas Baptist Children's Home at Round Rock.

Mrs. M.E. Goforth directed a period of recreation.

Mrs. A.A. Simmons and Mrs. McLemore were hostesses for the meeting held at the church. The refreshment table decorations carried out the class colors of pink and purple and were highlighted with bouquets of fresh roses, and the place favors of handmade plastic canvas nut cups.

Fifteen members were present.

Modern Dentistry

By Dr. Richard Carver

FIXED BRIDGES

A fixed bridge is an appliance made to replace a missing tooth or teeth. It is best to have the bridge made as soon as possible after the tooth has been lost.

The teeth on both sides of the space are prepared by the dentist to receive a crown. Impressions or imprints that are very accurate are then taken, a wax bite or other method is used to determine how long the teeth should be and how they will fit with the opposing teeth. Temporary crowns are then put on the teeth to protect them so the patient can go about their business until the bridge is ready to seat at the next visit.

The dentist will remove the temporary crowns, check for proper fit and make any adjustments that are necessary, then cement the bridge using a special dental cement.

Bridges can be made from solid dental gold, gold and porcelain or gold and acrylic. Nowadays much of the metal used is a special alloy that is less expensive than the gold.

The fixed bridge:

- * replaces missing teeth
- * prevents over-eruption of opposing teeth
- * prevents drift and tilt of adjacent teeth
- * helps prevent decay in abnormal areas
- * helps retard the onset of periodontal disease (bone destruction around the teeth)

If you have missing teeth - perhaps you should consider a fixed bridge before it is too late. You may call the office at 592-5141 for more information. Prepared in the interest of better dental health. Richard Carver, D.D.S.

Max Odle tells Lions economy looks good

Max Odle, a broker and realtor from Burkburnett, told the Evening Lions Club Tuesday to "go ahead and plant the flowers" as he made positive comments about the economy during the last six months.

He said he was optimistic about the local economy with the expansion of Sheppard Air Force Base adding 850 people, and the prospect of the state prison adding another 900 people, if Wichita Falls is chosen for the site.

Odle discussed the buying and selling of homes. He said that when buying a home the monthly payment should not exceed 25 percent of the gross income.

He said people who wanted to sell their homes should "package" them for sale. The first thing in the package would be setting the price competitive in the market place.

He advised the sellers to evaluate their product by looking at the house as a critical prospective buyer does. He stressed the importance of having a well-groomed lawn and attractive front door. He also said trimming the shrubs, planting inexpensive flowers and painting could dramatically transform the exterior of a house and be an incentive for a prospective buyer to look positively at the interior.

Odle said the interior should be light and bright, free from cigarette smoke, pets and other odors; carpets should be clean or new, furniture arranged so that potential buyers can envision their own furniture in the house, and windows with treatment that commands the least attention.

The speaker was introduced by Dave Davis.

During the business conducted by Jim Sligar, members made plans to work at a booth where they will sell drinks Saturday during the Morris Bros. "Fix Your Home Up" demonstration.

For Your Health

ARTHRITIS AND AEROBICS: Although the traditional approach to treating arthritis involves restricting a patient's activities, recent studies have found that, in fact, this may be detrimental by contributing to poor aerobic capacity and reducing the patient's functional status. When rheumatoid arthritis patients with only limited functional impairment participated in a short-term stationary bicycle exercise program at the University of Michigan, they had significant increases in maximum aerobic capacity and endurance as well as a decrease in disease severity, as indicated by the number of painful swollen joints. Because these types of exercise programs still are in their early development stages, it is not known whether regular aerobic exercise performed over long periods will have unexpected adverse effects. Additionally, the best type of exercise - bicycling, aerobic dancing, walking, swimming, stationary cross-country skiing, stationary rowing, or just participation in everyday sporting activities - has not been determined, although the common key is to minimize stress on weight-bearing joints. Probably two of the most important points are that participants should be supervised closely in the initial exercise period and they should be given constant encouragement to continue to exercise.

Building Bones: When Mom said, "Drink your milk, it's good for your bones," she wasn't kidding. As one of the primary sources of calcium in the human diet, milk can be a major contributor to the prevention of osteoporosis, broken bones, and significant disability in older years. However, the key is to build up bones at a young age. By the time they reach age 35, most women begin to lose bone mass, and if they did not have a sufficient quantity before that time, they can become prime candidates for osteoporosis. Three glasses of milk plus some yogurt and cheese every day can supply the required daily allowance of calcium in young people, but researchers have found that milk is decreasing in popularity in this age group and, therefore, their calcium intake is dwindling. The shortage is even more acute among adults. For those who don't drink milk, calcium-fortified food products may provide an alternative. Calcium-carbonate tablets, on the other hand, are not always effective because they may not disintegrate enough to provide the needed calcium. The best osteoporotic preventive remains drinking plenty of milk early and all through life.

As I See It... By BOB HAMILTON

You know what I like about this time of year? It's all the awards programs for our kids at school.

Some awards, such as Saturday's hamburger feast honoring the spring athletes that was put on by the Booster Club, was the first.

Our Future Farmers of America certainly did themselves proud at the area level, and at their annual awards banquet this week.

Now comes the big programs at high school and junior high. This is where the youngsters are recognized for their academics, leadership and other efforts.

Everyone likes to be recognized for what they've done, unless what they do is wrong. Then they don't want anything said about it.

Our goal at the paper is to give our kids all the recognition they have worked for. Often we fall short. Sometimes we are accused of only reporting the bad things that people do.

Whatever, recognition time is when this paper swells with the weight of names of youngsters who have done well. And this is the time when I get my biggest kick out of being in the business.

Let's set the record straight.

I made a mistake in this space last week when I said the office of the state's commissioner of agriculture was in the state constitution.

The fact is, the commissioner of agriculture's post is the only statewide elected office not protected by the constitution. It was created by the legislature in 1907.

Now, with that out of the way, I want to express my appreciation to the Iowa Park High Chapter of Quill and Scroll for the beautiful plaque the organization gave me Tuesday.

Also, thanks to Vo-Ag teachers Ray Dillard and George Martin for nominating the Leader for the area public relations award. We're honored.

Exceptional kids

I would like to say thank you to several people I have become very fond of in the past 12 weeks. As Iowa Park's student teacher in the horticulture department, I have been able to observe a very outstanding group of people. The FFA students are exceptional in many ways.

During the time I was here, many banners, a trophy and other awards were won by the chapter. They competed all the way to the state level. Eventhough these awards say something of the quality of the students, I would like to stress it further.

I have viewed "young men and women" who are leaders, achievers and winners in life in general. These students need to be commended in many ways.

I would like to say "Thank You" to them and to their advisors, Mr. Martin and Mr. Dillard who have gone out of their way to make me feel at home for my student teaching time limit.

Iowa Park's FFA is definitely a winning chapter and I know I learned as much from it as I have taught throughout my classes in the past 12 weeks. I will deeply miss many friends I have made in the FFA.

Sincerely Your Friend,

Added to the list of clothing that is prohibited was "bike pants."

School counselors explained the recently-graded TEAMS tests, and the general comment from the three was that the overall grades were improvements over the past year.

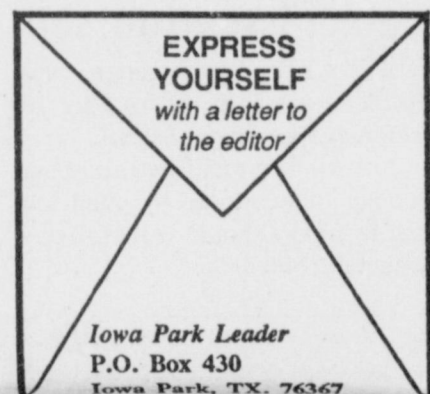

After telling the board that the current tax collections were at the 95.15 percent point, collector Allen Shewmake said notices were sent out Monday to delinquent taxpayers.

Trustees accepted the resignations of two kindergarten teachers, Helen Roberts and Sherry Eckelkamp, and second grade teacher Kay Sitgreaves.

Hired for next year were Mike Bean, fourth grade, and Tracy Otto, who will teach early childhood.

In other business, trustees voted the last two days of school, June 1-2; heard short reports from the three school librarians, Mary Pike, Carolyn Richter and Linda Escue, and presented framed recognition certificates to five students representing six FFA teams and one FHA member who had competed this year on the state level.

City

to meet city codes.

In other business, the council approved requests to have repairs done to city hall roof, subscribing to a televised law enforcement training network, and authorized travel costs to attend a Texas Water Commission hearing in Austin.

Administrator James Barrington told the council considerable water was found on city hall floors Friday morning, following the previous evening's storm.

He said he was unsure if the water came from a leak in the roof, but some damage had been found and asked that it be funded for repairs.

Subscribing to the Law Enforcement Television Network will cost $4,800, Police Chief Alan Sheffield told the council, but the savings of not having to send officers to other cities to receive state-mandated training will more than pay the cost.

Programming is transmitted 24 hours daily, but it can be recorded here for officers to view when they are available.

It would be illegal to record the same programs elsewhere, for viewing here, he explained.

Because Wichita Valley Water Supply Corporation is proposing to expand its lines into areas where the city might grow, Barrington told the council the city should be represented at a hearing Monday in Austin.

Aldermen had earlier expressed concern over the rural water supply cooperative's proposals, and already had determined the city should oppose the plan.

Council members were told that Blue Cross Insurance has given notice of a 32-percent increase for employee medical coverage.

The city administrator asked that he be allowed to continue premiums two months, during which an insurance consultant would search for an alternate company.

In other business, council members agreed to hold their annual budget and goal workshop June 24, and approved appointment of Johnny Coker as mayor pro tem.

Barbara Beth Smith

Funeral services for Barbara Beth Smith, 56, of Iowa Park, were Tuesday morning at Church of Christ in Wichita Falls with Larry Suttle, minister, officiating. Burial was in Crestview Memorial Park.

She died May 5 in a Wichita Falls hospital.

Born Jan. 29, 1933, in Pernell, Okla., Mrs. Smith was a civil service instructor in the military pay division at Sheppard Air Force Base. She was past president of the Altrusa Club and a member of the Toastmistress Club of Wichita Falls. She had lived in the area 40 years.

She is survived by two sons, Richard of Wichita Falls and Robert of Iowa Park; and a sister, Madelyn Robbins of Ada, Okla.

E.L. Rogers

Services for E.L. Rogers, 82, were Wednesday afternoon at Maddox Funeral Home in Jacksboro, with Rev. Roy Carpenter, pastor of First Assembly of God, officiating. Burial was in Cundiff Cemetery in Jack County.

Rogers was born Sept. 11, 1906, in what is now Linwood, Okla., and was a longtime resident of Jacksboro. He was a machinist for Harbison-Fisher, retiring in 1969, and Etta Dean were married Oct. 10, 1964, in Denver, Colo.

He is survived by his wife; one son, Bobby of Lubbock; two stepdaughters, Miriam Jones of Bossier City, La., and Floy Alice Leckie of Enid, Okla.; two brothers, Robert of Iowa Park and Henry of Houston; one sister, Elva Graham of Abilene, several grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Ardine Walter Copeland

Funeral services for Ardine Walter "Hoppy" Copeland, 52, will be at 11 a.m. Friday at Tanner-Aulds Funeral Home with Rev. Carl Kent, pastor of Pleasant Valley Baptist Church, and Rev. Ben Hotubbee of Antlers, Okla., officiating. Burial will be in Highland Cemetery under the direction of Tanner-Aulds Funeral Home.

He died May 9 in a Wichita Falls hospital.

Copeland was born May 17, 1936, in Seymour, and was a retired oilfield pumper. He and Doris Alene King were married Oct. 30, 1954, in Seymour. He had lived in Iowa Park 20 years, and was a member of Pleasant Valley Baptist Church and the Wichita-Archer-Clay Baptist Men's Assoc.

Survivors include his wife; three sons, Spencer of Lubbock, and Ardine Jr. and Matthew, both of Midland; two daughters, Juanetta Stone and Ann Orr, both of Iowa Park; four sisters, Ethel Mobley of Hartford, Mo., Delphine Carrington and Francis Martin, both of Seymour, and Ola Mae Nichols of Vera; and five grandchildren.

Finnell endorses legislation

Rep. Charles Finnell has given a strong endorsement to legislation to encourage development of the state's abundant natural-gas resources and create thousands of jobs in North Texas.

He said a bill filed by Rep. David Cain of Dallas would require the conversion of thousands of state vehicles and transit system buses from gasoline and diesel to compressed natural gas or other alternative fuels.

The increased industrial and home use of natural gas would stimulate the North Texas economy, which has been stifled by a sustained decline in oil exploration and production activity, he explained.

The Holliday legislator is co-sponsor of a bill with Rep. Bob Hunter of Abilene to provide incentives for new oil and gas production.

HB 2711, which has been reported favorably from the House Energy Committee, would eliminate production taxes for wells started and completed from September 1989 through 1991, he said.

Card of Thanks

We would like to thank all of our friends and relatives, and members of the First Presbyterian Church, who were so helpful following the loss of our son and grandson, David. The people in Iowa Park are wonderful.

Mrs. Mae Shelton

I LOVED YOU ENOUGH!

I want to share with you what one mother wrote as we pay tribute and honor to our mothers on May 14th.

Some day when my children are old enough to understand the logic that motivates a mother, I will tell them:

I loved you enough to ask where you were going, with whom, and what time you would arrive home.

I loved you enough to insist that you buy a bike, that we could afford to give you, with your own money.

I loved you enough to be silent and let you discover that your hand-picked friend was a creep.

I loved you enough to make you return a Milky Way - with a bite out of it - to a drugstore and to confess that "I stole this."

I loved you enough to stand over you for two hours while you cleaned your room, a job that would have taken me fifteen minutes.

I loved you enough to admit I was wrong and ask for your forgiveness.

I loved you enough to let you see anger, disappointment, disgust, and tears in my eyes.

I loved you enough to let you stumble, fall, and hurt.

I loved you enough to let you assume the responsibilities for your actions at 6, 10, or 16.

But most of all, I loved you enough to say NO when you hated me for it. That was the hardest part of all.

Cook of the Week

Mrs. Joe Guy

Although this week's featured cook, Kathy (Mrs. Joe) Guy, is a busy working mother, she still enjoys taking the time to cook, and in fact makes cooking a family activity.

Kathy admitted that when working, it is hard to do a lot of cooking, but the help of her five-year-old daughter, Niki, makes it a more enjoyable experience.

She said that while she won't let Niki help with dinner, as there are too many hot pans to deal with, she and her daughter make a lot of desserts such as cakes and cookies.

Mr. Guy's specialty is cooking the fish the family catches on their fishing trips together.

The former Kathy Richardson has lived in Iowa Park most of her life, and graduated Iowa Park High School. She and her husband have been married nine years.

Mrs. Guy has worked at Wal-Mart seven years where she holds the position of cash office clerk, and Joe works in the films department at Cryovac.

While most of her time is limited, Kathy said she enjoys crafts-decorating t-shirts and sweatshirts, but said a lot of her spare time is spent with Niki, shopping and going to the movies.

The family holds their membership at First United Methodist Church.

Visitor from New Zealand captivates Lions Club

Wendell Allen has been host to a house guest the past couple of weeks with whom he often speaks but until she arrived, he had never seen.

Lizzie Jury and Allen often hold conversations over their ham radios, and the visit, which ended yesterday, was one they both had long awaited.

Mrs. Jury lives in New Zealand. The vivacious mother of three was the guest speaker for Tuesday's meeting of the Iowa Park Lions Club.

She explained her radio contacts were with ham radio operators all over the world, but it is with the Americans she most enjoys talking.

Her trip to the United States has been to visit three of those contacts. After a couple of weeks with a friend in California, she came here, and left Wednesday for Arizona, her final stop.

After nine years of virtual confinement on their 1,150-acre ranch, giving birth to three children and having to work alongside her husband, she explained she decided it was time for her to take a trip to visit some friends.

So she did. Her interest in ham radios developed during her confinement to the family ranch.

After describing her radio contacts with Americans as being very interesting, because they all have a sense of humor, she declared, "Texas is a blessing. Everyone is very generous," and told of numerous benefits she had received during her visit, such as parties, being taken flying over the area, and visiting Six Flags Over Texas.

"But you can keep your storms," she said.

A group of ham radio operators recently gave her an ice cream party and presented her with numerous certificates, including an honorary membership, and gifts.

She was looking forward to seeing the Grand Canyon.

The Jury ranch is located on the southeast side of the north island of New Zealand, and is north of Wellington. They raise 5,000 sheep and 120 head of breeding cows.

Sheep are normally sheared twice a year. But when a rancher is strapped for money, shearing can be done as many as four times annually, she said.

Their hope is to leave the ranch eventually to the Drury's son, who would become the sixth generation of the family to operate the spread.

The economy in New Zealand has changed considerably since the Labor Party was voted into control, and she gave numerous examples.

While all subsidies to agriculture have been removed, costs for everything have risen. She explained that a $50,000 tractor here would cost a farmer $100,000 over there.

Simple purchases, such as beer and cigarettes, are major. A carton of cigarettes is $24 and a case of beer is over $30.

Crews of hired laborers and

neighbors like a beer after a hard day of shearing sheep, she mentioned.

She related a case of when she and her husband had borrowed about $250,000 to purchase shares in the ranch from family heirs, they had signed a note for nine percent interest, but the newly-elected political party voided the interest portion of the note and charged 18 percent.

Also, since the Labor Party has gained control, there is considerable anti-American movement in the country.

American naval ships are not allowed to dock there for two reasons: because they may be powered by, or carry, nuclear materials, and because "they don't want American sailors coming in and spreading AIDS."

She said she is confused about the refusal of nuclear ships, because most of the country's electricity is produced by nuclear generation.

Mrs. Jury said she plans to become more politically involved when she returns, to work for a change in the nation's government.

DANNY TATOM AND DAN FANNIN PLAY CATCH IN BRIDGEPORT GAME ... to keep Bull runner honest at first base.

Has the fat lady sung yet?

The Hawk baseball team is reciting the old professional saying, "It ain't over until the fat lady sings."

Though facing elimination from the playoffs for the first time in several years, they still have a chance to make it.

But to get there, Iowa Park must win the remaining two games and Bowie must lose twice.

They got in that position by defeating Bowie 3-0 April 28, losing 5-4 to Graham Saturday, and then knocking off Bridgeport 14-4 here Tuesday.

The Hawks are slated to travel Friday to Decatur for their final game of the schedule, but will have to play a makeup game with Vernon, if the Jackrabbits falter.

The Vernon game was postponed because of weather May 2. It would be played Monday or Tuesday, if played at all.

Coach Daryl Frazier said Jimmy Duggins pitched "the best I've ever seen him pitch" in the win over Bowie. He gave up only two hits and one walk.

Iowa Park had only two hits. Bunkie Imboden got on base, was sacrificed to second, and Shannon Bernstein singled him in for the winning run.

Saturday's loss to Graham was determined on an error in the eighth inning, with two outs, that allowed the winning Steer run to score.

Duggins, again, pitched the entire game, giving up four runs in two innings on only one hit.

Tuesday's win over the Bulls was determined in only five innings. Iowa Park's bats were the difference, as Kelly McClure went four-for-four, including a triple and double. Duggins and Terry Sitgreaves each went two-for-three.

The Hawks accumulated 14 hits in the five innings.

Danny Tatom worked the entire game on the mound.

Roast planned for Lucy

A toast and roast supper honoring Don Lucy will be held at 7 p.m. Monday, May 22, at the Outdoor Education Center on Midwestern State Univ. campus.

Lucy, a graduate of Valley View High and former Iowa Park coach, has resigned as athletic director and head football coach at Holliday High School, but will continue there as a classroom teacher.

Mike Birdwell will be master of ceremonies, and anyone wanting to tell "stories" on Lucy should contact him for a place on the schedule.

A steak dinner will be catered by the Kiowa Cooks of MSU.

Tickets will be $10 per person and are available at Bobby Evans

Former resident is all-tournament

Sporting Goods, Holliday High business office, or by calling 586-0058.

The event is sponsored by the Holliday Athletic Booster Club, and all proceeds will go to the school's athletic department.

Ryder McDonald was named to the all-tournament team at the Midland Excaliber Soccer Challenge recently.

Shorts

Those who attended Saturday's hamburger feast for IPHS spring sports athletes may have thought Athletic Director Len Williams' slight limp was because he was wearing a new pair of moccasin-style shoes. Nope. He wore the shoes because they were soft, and two toes on his left foot were badly bruised. He was playing horse shoes Thursday and dropped one. A ringer?
