1.89 more inches rainfall received

Five separate rain storms during the past week produced 1.89 inches of precipitation, according to measurements taken by Virgil Woodfin.

That elevates Iowa Park's total for June to 5.78 inches.

Several residents to the north of town reported almost 1.5 from the early Tuesday morning storm, with more last week.

Farmers continue to worry about the wheat that remains unharvested in the fields, and wondering when, and if, they will ever be able to cut it.

Without exception, however, the opinion of producers is that quality of the unharvested grain is deteriorating each day it remains uncut. The quality possibly will be further reduced should rust infect the heads, and weeds spring up due to the moisture.

No flooding has been reported in the area.

Lakes Iowa Park and Buffalo are almost at the level of the overflow spouts, and as of Tuesday morning, Lake Gordon was one inch from going over its spillway.

The city has picked up its spraying activities to control mesquitoses, and Wichita Valley residents complain they are "being carried off" by the new crop of large, pesky insects.

City accepts bids to pave 7 blocks

The city council Monday night accepted the lowest bids to rebuild seven blocks of streets and purchase of 10 mobile radios.

Aldermen also voted to install a four-way stop on Rebecca, begin charging a fee for daytime use of the library meeting room, seek permission to close part of the landfill, use white paint on the newly-located water tower, and, by a split vote, to deny an increase in retirement paid to formerly retired volunteer firemen.

Total bids accepted for paving the seven blocks were $170,803.50, approximately $40,000 over budget.

Slightly more than five blocks were in one bid, from Ruby on Texowa to just past Diamond. The bid was submitted by Ralph Garza Construction of Wichita Falls, in the amount of $87,792.50.

McGrath Brothers of Wichita Falls was the other successful bidder, to rebuild Texas Ave. from First to Third streets, for $83,011.

Aldermen had sought bids on two other alternates: on Texas from First to Pacific as first alternate, and Third from Cornelia to Coleman as second alternate.

Aldermen decided their base bid on Texas and the Texowa project were of the highest priorities, even though the first and second alternates were for less money.

At the outset of their street improvement project a few years ago, council members had said they wanted first to improve the streets around the schools.

Both rebuilding projects include concrete construction, instead of asphalt.

On the same day as the meeting, the city was informed April's sales tax rebate was low. The council has dedicated all sales tax money for the street improvement project.

Mayor Tim Hunter said money to pay the $35,000 over budget bids would have to come from unobligated funds.

Architect Kerry Maroney told the council he considered all the bids to be "excellent," and lower than previous street bids received here.

Texowa will actually be widened by some eight feet, but the cost was held down by not requiring curb and guttering, which is not there now.

Eventhough the costs were high-

Commodities to be distributed June 22

U.S.D.A. food commodities will be distributed from 12-noon until 6 p.m. Thursday, June 22, at the First Christian Church, according to Marian Andersen, coordinator.

To be distributed will be butter, canned beans, canned pork, dried eggs, honey and flour.

er than budgeted, Hunter said it was a good investment for the city, because neither street should require any maintenance for at least 20 years.

Lett Electronics of Topeka, Kan. submitted the lowest of two bids for the radios to be used by the public works department. The low bid, which does not include installation, was $4,490 for 10 radios.

Based on a traffic flow study by the police department and Chief Alan Sheffield's recommendation, council members approved installation of a four-way-stop intersection on Second and Rebecca, and change of a yield on First at Cornelia to a stop.

A fee to use the meeting room at Tom Burnett Memorial Library has in the past been applied only during hours when the library has been closed.

That has been changed to apply at any hour. The clean-up deposit has been raised to $50, which is fully refundable after acceptance by the librarian.

A proposal to seek official permission to close a portion of the sanitary landfill was approved, after Administrator James Barrington said new EPA regulations will go into effect Sept. 1 which will greatly increase the cost of closure.

All pits filled prior to required lining of the pits will be closed if permission is granted. They already are covered, and closure is a formality required.

Barrington's recommendation to use an off white paint on the relocated water tower, with green lettering, was approved.

A new and longer-lasting paint was specified in the contract, Maroney told the council, with the choice of color to be determined.

The council's decision to not change retirement amounts paid to previously-retired volunteer firemen was a 3-2 vote.

Seven retirees are currently receiving $25 monthly, and two widows two-thirds that amount, from a state fund which is paid by the city.

Two firemen recently retired under a new program, receiving $75 monthly.

The earlier retirees had a choice of which retirement program they wanted to participate, Fire Chief Danny Skinner explained in response to a question from the council.

Alderman Bud Burch said he did not believe the city should review a retirement program once in place, unless it was for cost of living.

He, Diane Robnett and Virgil Woodfin voted to not change the program in place. Aldermen Bud Mercer and Johnny Coker voted against the motion for no change.

In other business, the council voted to take action on an abandoned vehicle at 506 North Bell; seek a grant from the Department of Energy to replace aeration blowers at the wastewater treatment plant; have a traffic count survey conducted on Poe and Bond streets, and tabled action on the group medical insurance plan for employees.

Police activity slows

Most of the police activity during the past week was concerned with responding to domestic disturbances, but primarily close patrolling homes of residents on vacation.

But in between those activities, officers arrested three persons on charges of public intoxication, took into custody a runaway, and received reports of a criminal mischief and one for forgery.

Police arrested Armando Galle-gos Salas, 31, at 2:10 a.m. Friday near Pacific and US 287, charging him with public intoxication.

Salas was later charged with driving without a license and having no vehicle insurance. He was released at 7:30 a.m., according to the blotter, after signing a promise to appear in municipal court.

Jeffery Hayes McKnight, 33, was taken into custody at 12:06 a.m. Saturday in the 500 block of North Victoria for public intoxication.

While checking his record, he was found to have outstanding warrants against him by the Department of Public Safety in Waco for driving without license and failure to appear.

McKnight was turned over to a DPS officer at 2:22 to be transported to Wichita County jail.

Officers took Dennis Michael Phillips, 20, into custody at 3:12 a.m. Sunday in the 100 block of East Washington, charging him with public intoxication. He was released on personal bond.

A 16-year-old juvenile female runaway from Abilene was taken into custody in the 400 block of East Jefferson at 1:36 p.m. Thursday. She was taken to the Wichita County juvenile detention center.

Police received a complaint at 7:05 a.m. Tuesday that someone had broken out a window of a home in the 1300 block of Westridge.

A forged check passed at Wal-Mart was reported Tuesday afternoon to police. The writer had been arrested on similar charges in several other cities, according to police.

EVERYTHING'S JUST DUCKY - Lake Gordon was a fitting home for a large flock of ducks Tuesday morning, because they had plenty of room in which to paddle. The lake lacked one inch of overflowing its spillway.

School hires group to teach discipline

School trustees Thursday night approved a proposal to hire a firm to teach a discipline management course to the faculty, approved resignations and hiring of new personnel, and agreed to retain the district's above-state base salaries.

On the provision that the Lee Canter Assertive Discipline Behavior Management Training can be taught during inservice training on Aug. 30, and by Diana Day, who met with the board, trustees gave their approval.

Day, who claims to have taught the course to some 650,000 teachers, said the Aug. 30 date has been tentatively allotted to the Klein schools, but Iowa Park would be next in line.

The district would benefit from the training, Day explained, because it would provide a district-wide policy, rather than responses that vary from one teacher to another.

Cost for the 122 teachers and administrators of the district would be $4,880, plus instructor's expenses.

Electra and Holliday districts may send their faculties to the one-day course, in order to take advantage of volume-reduced rates.

A special class possibly will be set up for bus drivers of the district.

"Teachers and administrators examine ineffective methods they've used with disruptive students in the past. They will learn techniques that will help end everyday disruptions in an effective, more positive manner," the Oklahoma City firm's brochure states.

Resignations were accepted from Valer Mae Jones, cosmetology instructor, and Martha Harris, resource room at Kidwell.

New personnel hired included Valerie Dillard, first grade; Susan Mollett, resource room at Kidwell, and Patricia Costello, kindergarten.

Mollett and Costello both have five years teaching experience, and Dillard three. Supt. Glen Mitchell asked the board to reaffirm, by vote, its policy of paying all teachers $1,500 above state scale, plus an additional $300 to live within the school district.

The board had previously voted for the policy when it approved contracts for the 1989-90 school year.

But since that time, the state legislature has mandated a blanket $1,800 salary increase for all teachers in the state. The increase applies to those educators who were qualified for a previously-mandated annual $1,140 increase, as well as those who have reached the top pay scale.

Before the legislation, 104 of the district's teachers were to receive the $1,140 increase, costing $118,560. The blanket $1,800 increase applies to all 117 teachers, and the cost to the district will be $210,600 more than last year.

The legislation included an increase of $148,085 in state funding to the local district for 1989-90.

OTHER BUSINESS

The board approved a special meeting for July 6 to open bids on work to be done at the high school gymnasium, as well as to continue its study of facilities.

For the past several years, the board has not held a meeting during July.

Trustees approved a proposal to continue using the student insurance plan provided by Heritage Insurance Managers of San Antonio.

Also approved was the purchase of a new, 71-passenger bus for delivery during the next year, at a cost of $31,000. The district did not buy a bus during the past year.

School bus routes will be the same as they were at the close of the 1988-89 school year, according to Robert Palmer, assistant superintendent.

The board took no action on setting a date for a bond election, to fund construction and improvements, but Supt. Mitchell said he would recommend calling the election for sometime in November.

Trustees approved a proposal to name Mitchell as the district's representative to the Regional Advisory Committee of Region Nine Service Center.

Also decided by vote was naming of State National Bank the official depository for the district's funds. Proposals from the local bank and three others were considered.

Counselor Pat Davis reported on the Texas Education Assessment of Minimal Skills test administered to the first graders last year.

She said "We're really pleased with the scores."

The TEAMS test will no longer be administered to first graders.

Special recognition certificates for competition on the state level were presented to Kerri Dorner, Angie Turner and Shonna Weaver, who were present, and Kristy York, who was absent.

They were members of the school's first girls' sprint relay team to ever compete in the state UIL meet.

Dorner, Turner and Weaver are all underclassmen. York was a senior.

Recognition was also given Mrs. Carole Venhaus, who for the second year was coordinator of "Project Graduation," an all-night party given for members of the graduating class following commencement exercises.

House, Blake recite vows Saturday in double-ring ceremony

The sentimental intimacy of a wedding ceremony performed in the presence of family members and close friends was noted Saturday evening when Miss Betsy Carol House and Mark Dale Blake recited their matrimonial vows. The First United Methodist Church was the scene of the double-ring service officiated by Rev. John Mollett, pastor.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Wayne House of Iowa Park, and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. W.M. Blake of Fritch.

Mrs. Cecilia House, organist, aunt of the bride, provided a prelude concert of musical selections. These included "Just For Today," "Oh Perfect Love," "Oh Lord Most Holy," "The Lord Is My Shepherd," "Our Wedding Prayer," and "Adagio."

Mrs. David Fiaoni, cousin of the bride, sang "One Hand, One Heart" after the mothers were seated, "Household of Faith" during the ceremony, and "The Lord's Prayer" at the close. Miss Cindy Harper furnished the piano accompaniment.

Mrs. House played "Trumpet Voluntary" for the processional and Mendelssohn's traditional march for the recessional.

Upon entering the church sanctuary, wedding guests were immediately impressed with the rare beauty of the altar setting where each appointment lent itself to the total design, achieving an effect of graceful ornamentation.

The classic beauty of the lighted stained glass window above the choir loft was the focal point of decorative interest and accentuated the hushed reverence for the wedding. Brass arch candelabras holding burning white tapers trimmed with an abundance of sprengeri fern, pixie pink carnations, centered with a navy blue silk bow with cascading ribbons centered the altar table below the stained glass window. The candles glowed on either side in eight-point slanted candelabras decorated in the same fashion to provide further illumination.

The white-cushioned kneeling bench in the lower altar was delicately trimmed with sprengeri fern and soft pink bows and flanked by pedestal arrangements of fresh flowers consisting of aescynanthus plants in brass containers touched with pink forget-me-nots and large bridal pink bows.

The altar rails were draped with garlands of sprengeri fern and leather-leaf and accented with pink bridal bows to enhance the beauty of the decorations. The pews for family members were designated with sprengeri fern and pink bows and other aisle pews were marked with white satin bows.

The bride shone in the spotlight of beauty as she entered the sanctuary on the arm of her father who escorted her to the altar and presented her in marriage for her parents.

She wore a luxurious gown of white satin and Schiffl embroidery lace. The bodice featured a sabrina neckline with a keyhole opening and short puffed sleeves trimmed with pearl drop ornamentation. The distinction of the gown was expressed in the low back highlighted with a ruffled cathedral-length train embellished with lace and window pane cut-outs.

The beauty of the bride's gown was enhanced with a lace and beaded headband garnished with floral and filament sprays highlighted with a full pouf and a fingertip bridal illusion veil. Her bouquet in cascade design created of white bridal roses, dainty sprengeri fern and white satin ribbon streamers completed the "dream come true" look of the bride's wedding gown.

Little Miss Lindsay House, niece of the bride, made a perfect flower girl for the wedding in her petal pink full-length satin dress featuring a basque bodice and full puffed sleeves. The irresistible charm of the dress was noted in the beaded embroidery that trimmed the front of the bodice and front of the skirt encircled with a crystal ruffle. She wore a headpiece of white sweetheart roses and gypso-phila and carried a dainty white basket holding pink and white carnations and sprengeri fern accented with pink and navy blue ribbons.

The groom wore a black tailed tuxedo with white shirt, vest and tie and a bridal white rose with sprengeri fern for his boutonniere.

Phillip House and Brandon McLemore, nephews of the bride, the candlelighters, Wendall House brother of the bride, Michael Blake of Fritch, brother of the groom, Gary Thomas of Lubbock, the ushers, and fathers of the bride and groom, wore black tuxedos, matching ties and cummerbunds, white shirts and boutonnieres formed with pink roses and sprengeri fern.

The mothers of the bride and groom chose to wear pink sweetheart roses with navy blue accent corsages for the finishing touches to their dresses.

Mrs. House wore a pink polyester silk two-piece dress designed with short puffed sleeves and a waist peplum, trimmed with rhinestone and pearl buttons down the front bodice, and topped with a matching lace jacket. Mrs. Blake wore a steel blue silk polyester dress featuring a jacket trimmed with lace around the collar and lace extending from a sequin flower on the shoulder to encircle the edge of the jacket.

Miss Dana Trantham presided at the guest registry table in the church foyer and at the post-nuptial reception. The table was covered with white Chantilly lace and the appointments included a picture of the bride and groom in an oval frame surrounded by an arrangement of fresh flowers, a white plume pen and the bride's book.

Following the ceremony, the bride's parents honored the newlyweds at a reception held in the Fellowship Hall of the church where the room was a lovely place wrapped in beauty and good taste.

The tables that held the bride's cake, groom's cake and silver coffee service, and the silver punch service that belonged to Mrs. W.G. Edwards of Wichita Falls were draped with white Chantilly lace featuring tiered skirts and accented with pink and navy blue silk ribbon and bows. The food table that held meat, cheese and vegetable trays and other hors d'oeuvres, and the round tables set up for guests to eat refreshments were covered with Brussels lace.

During the reception, Miss Cindy Harper provided piano background music. The piano top held a majestic arrangement of pink snapdragons, godetia, roses, dusty pink lilies, white roses, agapanthus, fuji mums, calla lilies with pussy willow and sprengeri fern. The round tables were centered with small bouquets of the same flowers.

The bride's cake of Lady Windermere design was pleasing to the eye as well as to the palate. The three small cakes that formed the base were linked together with clusters of frosting orchids, agapanthus, roses, petunias and stephanotis in shades of pink and white and cascades of the flowers ornamented the sides of each tier. One set of sugar posts trimmed with lattice work, the borders sculpted with drop garlands and shells, and the floral top piece enhanced the appeal of the cake.

The groom's chocolate cake also had special appeal with its amaretto chocolate shavings on top.

The flower girl and ushers handed out white rice bags tied with navy blue ribbon and pink bells to wedding guests.

Mrs. W.G. Edwards, grandmother of the bride, was a special wedding guest.

Mrs. Kendall Hill honored the bride-elect at a luncheon Saturday at the Wichita Falls Country Club.

The groom's parents were hosts for the rehearsal dinner given Friday evening at The Green Onion in Wichita Falls.

The bride was graduated from Iowa Park High School. She attended the Univ. of Arkansas and received a B.A. degree in psychology from Midwestern State Univ. The groom was graduated from Sanford High School at Fritch and was graduated from Texas Tech Univ. with a B.S. degree in electrical engineering. He was on the dean's list. The couple will live at Columbia Lakes and he will be employed by Phillips Petroleum Co. at Sweeney.

When the newlyweds departed for their new home, the bride was wearing a blue linen dress designed with puffed sleeves and gold buttons down the front of the bodice.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Williams of Iowa Park are the parents of an eight pound, five ounce son, Troy Don, born June 4 at Wichita General Hospital. The baby has two brothers, Dustin, five years old, and Jeremy, two.

Mrs. Williams is the former Donna Cook of Iowa Park.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. Cook of Houston and Mr. and Mrs. Felton Williams of Valley View. Mrs. W.M. Williams of Valley View, Mrs. Morean Cook of Graham and Earl C. Ewing of Abilene are great-grandparents.

Reuben Dale, a six pound, 14 ounce son, was born May 29 at Wichita General Hospital to John and Debbie Trahan, both of Iowa Park. The baby has a sister, Sugar Raye, six years old.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Dormier, and Juanita Williams, all of Iowa Park.

Great-grandparents are Marie Crenshaw and Reuben Crenshaw, both of Bridgeport.

Miss McLemore feted at pre-nuptial courtesy

The colors of peach and blue governed decorations for a pre-nuptial shower given Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Singer to fete Deborah McLemore, bride-elect of Mike Nash.

The colors will be emphasized in the couple's wedding which will be solemnized Saturday evening at First Baptist Church.

The co-hostesses with Mrs. Singer were Mes. Bill Bates, Alton Yeakley, Steve Ming, Glen Mitchell, Jerry Robertson, James Yarbrough, D.O. James, Homer Blalock, Miss Janet Walker and Miss Jody Beavers.

The honoree and her mother, Mrs. Laurence McLemore, and her paternal grandmother, Mrs. O.S. McLemore were presented with silk corsages consisting of peach and white roses, rosebuds and baby's breath when they arrived for the party.

As I See It... By BOB HAMILTON

Not satisfied with clamping down on coal burning to stop acid rain, the Environmental Protection Agency has come up with a new rule to curb air pollution in West Texas.

That's right. We've got smog in the vast air space of West Texas.

And, by golly, it's caused by the highly volatile gasoline we burn in our pickups and cars.

Ever heard about our problem? Why sure you have. Otherwise, the EPA wouldn't have held public hearings a couple of years ago that led to putting regulations into place June 1, and setting June 30 as the deadline to comply.

I picked up all this information from an Associated Press article that was published last Friday in the Dallas Morning News.

The EPA has used the 99th longitude as the dividing line between the hot part of Texas from the cooler part.

"The EPA says the regulations are designed to reduce smog by limiting gas fumes that escape during the hot summer months, when evaporation rates rise," said the article.

Know where the 99th longitude is? Well, it just happens to be right on the line dividing Wichita County from Wilbarger County.

What it all means is, gasoline sold west of Wichita County can not be refined the same as gasoline sold in Wichita County.

How was the 99th longitude selected? The EPA says the boundary was "drawn years ago by the American Society of Testing and Materials, an organization representing the petroleum and auto industries and the scientific community."

A spokesman for the EPA said it announced the boundaries in August 1987, and no one from Texas protesting during "a lengthy public comment period."

That may have been because the announcement was on the EPA's bulletin board in Washington. I don't recall ever having read a release or any type of hearings being held.

Anyway, Sen. Phil Gramm is raising a big fuss about the issue, and rightfully so.

He points out that major refineries don't have the storage capacity to produce different types of gasoline for different zones within the state.

He further says there could be a shortage of available gasoline in West Texas, and what can be bought will be at a higher price. All because of the anti-smog regulation.

This type of thing isn't new for the EPA. I recall back in the 1960s when burning of cotton burs by the gins was prohibited. It was causing too much smoke.

Some of those gins out in West Texas, with maybe five houses within 30 miles, didn't understand that. Nor did I.

But they complied. There's only one city in all of West Texas that has a smog problem, El Paso. And I don't think that is caused by the heated volatile gasoline being sold there.

El Paso's smog comes primarily from Juarez heating and cooking stoves, and is trapped in the area by the mountains.

But who can tell a bureaucrat in Washington about the hot parts of Texas? After all, it's in the record books.

Seymour, which is about 10 miles west of the 99th longitude, holds the record high temperature for Texas: 120 degrees, set Aug. 12, 1936.

Those of us in the cool eastern part of the state don't have that kind of reputation.

After all, Iowa Park's record for high temperature, set July 17, 1978, is only 118 degrees.

I guess that's the reason we don't suffer from smog here.

Livestock Auction set July 21-22

The 21st annual Crippled Children's Livestock Auction will be held July 21-22, as the North Texas Rehab Center's largest fund-raising event.

Members of the cattle auction committee in the 15-county area surrounding Wichita Falls have begun their work in getting livestock, merchandise and cash donations.

The two-day event is a tradition among area cattlemen, farmers and merchants, who not only donate but who come to the auction and buy.

Livestock will be sold July 21 at Arrowhead Livestock Sales Barn on Jacksboro Highway. The big merchandise auction and barbecue will be July 22 at the Wichita Falls Activities Center.

A silent auction will precede the merchandise auction.

Joe Parker, rancher and banker of Byers, will be chairman for the 18th year. Hollis Dickey of Waurika, as auctioneer, has been with the auction almost since its 1969 beginning. He is assisted by Bill Burgess of Graham.

The term "cattle auction" is misleading. Actually, livestock sold includes horses, goats, mules and any animal with four legs.

"Give four legs so that two can walk," has been the famed slogan all these years.

The auction started out with donations of livestock only, but through the years, has increased to merchandise items of high quality, antiques and art.

There will be everything from saddles to new appliances, agriculture equipment, afghans, watermelons and peaches.

"You name it and we'll probably have it at this auction," said Parker.

Parker considers the auction a "good time to be had by all" and a chance to help the Rehab Center provide therapy at the same time.

"Therapy never stops. We need those livestock donations because that was the original idea for the auction. Then, we need the buyers."

Iowa Parkan Stanley Williamson is Wichita County chairman.

News Briefs

Sales tax receipts slump

Sales tax collections apparently took a slight slump during May, according to the rebate check received this week from the comptroller's office.

A check for $10,756.17 was received, bringing the year's total to $82,234, which is 3.79-percent less than the $85,470.59 at this same time in 1988.

June checks represent taxes collected in April by monthly filers and reported to the comptroller's office by May 22.

Both Burkburnett and Wichita Falls reported increases, of 4.46- and 11.87-percent, respectively. Electra was a minus 15.20-percent.

Holliday's check for $2,803.64 raised that city's total to date 15.28-percent, to $37,399.75.

Alabama tickets sell slowly

Though only 18 tickets to the July 4th Alabama concert at Shepard AFB have been sold locally, that number is expected to climb dramatically before deadline date.

The $15 tickets are on sale at the Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce through Friday, June 30.

Susan Dillard, Chamber secretary, said she had received numerous calls from persons saying they would pick their's up before deadline.

Alabama was designated the "Group of the Decade" at the recent Country Music Awards.

Entertainment at the event will also include Mark Murphy and the Class band, Gene Watson, Holly Dunn and Alabama, followed by the annual SAFB fireworks display.

Though tickets are $15 purchased in advance, they will be $20 at the gate. Children under six are admitted free.

Worth Quoting

Ron Bates, Amarillo Daily News columnist, had a piece last week about the perils of easy credit in today's society, especially among the youth. There are all sorts of invitations to buy on credit and the financial institutions are joined by a variety of outfits offering credit cards on easy terms. The whole pitch is how easy it is to buy now and pay later, with the implication that paying later is easy. Statistics show that America today lives on credit and the average person owes more than he thinks because his outstanding debt is stated in the monthly payment rather than the entire amount due.

People have changed their attitude toward debt, of course. There was a time when folks took pride in the fact that they didn't owe anything. Today a man's wealth is apt to be measured by how much he owes and paper assets are considered wealth. But some of us still cling to the old fashioned idea that it is better to be debt free than in debt. I have been in debt from time to time but always, when incurring a debt, I have attacked it and can not rest easy until it is disposed of but I realize this is an odd idea today.

My mother taught school in the early days of Ochiltree county, teaching at the Plainview school northeast of what is now Perryton. As a young and single teacher, she was lonely and figured out that one solution would be to buy a Victrola where she could play records. She bought a Victrola on the easy payment plan and soon after learned a great lesson about debt. She was making about $50 a month and her payments on the Victrola were $10 and seemed to stretch into eternity. When she finally paid off the machine she determined never to be in that fix again and preached the lesson of avoiding time payments to her children. She and my father never did go very deeply in debt for anything except a house mortgage.

I learned about credit and the pain of repayment when in junior high school. Most of us in school at that time, those of us who lived in town, walked home for lunch at noon. On very bad days we could eat in the cafeteria, operated at that time by Mr. and Mrs. Ed Morgan. One time, on a bad day, I went to the cafeteria with my friends Dean Blank and Bob Whippo who proceeded to order chili and other items and told Ed Morgan to "charge it." That sounded like a neat idea to me and I didn't know you could get stuff that way. So I tried it and was amazed when I could secure anything I wanted by merely saying "charge it."

Eventually Ed Morgan went to see my father about the bill I had run up. My father expressed considerable surprise because he didn't know anything about it, and told Ed Morgan that since I had run up the bill it was up to me to pay it. The problem was that I had nothing with which to pay it. Ed Morgan was pressing for payment. My father was firm in his refusal. The solution came when Ed Morgan put me to work after school cleaning up the cafeteria. I learned to carry out the trash, to scrub the floors, to clean the stoves, to do all sort of messy chores as I worked off my debt. Finally I paid it off. But it took a long time and I never charged anything there again.

Over the years this lesson has stuck with me and I have never felt comfortable with a debt that I cannot discharge at the end of the month. Part of this philosophy comes from my parents who insisted on paying bills as they came due. My father was in the grocery business for many years and while he did extend credit to customers, was insistent upon being paid and his worst contempt was reserved for the deadbeats who didn't pay their just obligations.

I realize that this is an old fashioned notion and that today the entire American economy is floating on a sea of consumer debt. Very little is sold for cash. Automobile dealers display the low interest rates and low monthly payment rather than the price of a car. If they didn't, they wouldn't sell much.

There was a time when bankruptcy was a disgrace and personal bankruptcy was unknown. Today bankruptcy is seen as an easy way to get rid of creditors and those who take bankruptcy apparently have little problem in piling up fresh debt all over again. And why should we wonder about this? We have an outstanding example in our federal government which spends more than it takes in and tells us not to worry about the deficit because we only owe it to ourselves.

Attend Church Sunday

Friendship Class meets

Thirteen members of the Friendship Class of First Baptist Church attended the monthly meeting held Monday at the church. Mrs. C.L. McKinnon and Mrs. Homer Blalock were the hostesses.

Mrs. Roy Smith gave a story taken from the Baptist Standard in April 1964 for the devotional emphasis of the meeting. The title of the article was "The Fanatic," which told how a lady, named Sarah Ballinger, was considered a "religious fanatic" by people in her church because she was willing to give herself wholeheartedly to the work and service of the Lord.

However, as time went on, the critics changed their opinion of her from a fanatic to a consecrated worker when they realized how the young people were trying to emulate Sarah's example and encouraging the adults to do the same.

Mrs. O.S. McLemore directed the business and had charge of the fun time by reading three articles from "God Loves My Kitchen Best" by Mab Graff. The articles she read were: "Insufficient Funds," "Dieting" and "New Year's Resolution."

A bird theme was carried out in refreshment table decorations in the place mats, centerpieces and napkins.

Optimists meet

Dale Thompson gave a program on water and water filter systems for the Iowa Park Optimist Club recently.

In other business, Allan Shewmake reported on "Project Graduation," which the club helped sponsor. Shewmake said 86 of 125 Iowa Park High School seniors attended the event.

"I AM YOUR FLAG"

I was born on June 14, 1777. I am more than just a cloth shaped into design. I am the refuge of the world's oppressed people. I am the silent sentinel of freedom.

I am the inspiration for which American Patriots gave their lives and fortunes. I have led your sons into battle from Valley Forge to the bloody conflict of Vietnam. I walk in silence with each of your honored dead, to their final resting place beneath the silent white crosses, row upon row.

I have flown through peace and war, strife and prosperity, and in it all I have been respected. My red stripes symbolize the valor of the men whose blood was spilled in defense of this country. My white stripes symbolize the purity that is cherished by the burning tears shed by Americans who have lost their sons. The blue field is symbolical of justice and liberty for all. My stars clustered together, unify 50 states as one, for God and country.

"Old Glory" is my nickname, and proudly I wave on high. Honor, respect, and defend me with your lives and fortunes. Never let my enemies tear me down from my lofty position, lest I never return. Keep lit the fires of patriotism, strive earnestly for the spirit of democracy. Worship Eternal God and keep His commandments, and I shall remain the bulwark of peace and freedom for all mankind.

Cook of the Week

Mrs. Jimmie Kasperek

With summer already begun, mothers like Galyia (Mrs. Jimmie) Kasperek, this week's featured cook of the week, are certainly on the go keeping up with their children's activities.

When asked what her hobbies are, Mrs. Kasperek simply answered, "My kids....I love doing things with my kids." She is speaking of her son, Greg, 14 years old, and daughter, Lori, 12.

The fifth grade English teacher at Bradford Elementary will be busy, while not in the classroom, taking her children to different summer activities as well as coaching her daughter's softball team at the Wichita Falls YMCA.

Her children aren't the only thing that keeps Galyia busy. She is vice president of the Bradford P-TA, secretary of Philia Study Club, and is a member of an organization for gifted and talented students. She also teaches kindergarten and pre-school-aged Sunday School at First United Methodist Church, where the family holds their membership.

The former Galyia Beals is a graduate of Iowa Park High School, and began teaching at Bradford two years ago after receiving her degree from Midwestern State Univ. Prior to that, she worked as a teacher's aide at City View schools two years. Her husband, Jimmie, is employed at Cryovac.

The couple will recite their wedding vows June 24 at Lakeview Church of God.

Lions focus on child welfare

Judy Brock of Wichita Falls, a part-time worker for FOCUS of Foster Care Advocate Services, spoke to the Evening Lions Tuesday.

Brock put major emphasis on CASA, Court Appointed Special Advocates for children who are removed from their homes because of neglect, abuse and abandonment and placed in foster care or institutions.

She said 270,000 children are removed from their homes each year, and, eventually, end up in court, and their only "crime" is that they have been victims.

Mrs. Brock explained the need for more CASA volunteers, stating that they are just ordinary women and men that work alongside attorneys and social workers as appointed officers of the court. Their duties involve finding out as much as possible about the child they are assigned to, interview parents, review records, talk to teachers, neighbors, and, most important, the child.

The speaker stressed the efforts of the Child Abuse Prevention Network to reunite families, and urge parents to take counselling and attend parenting classes so that children who have been removed can return home and live happy, wholesome and productive lives.

She said CASA volunteer workers, both women and men, were selected on the basis of their objectivity, competence and commitment. Once accepted, they are trained, and it takes only about 10 or 15 hours each month to be a volunteer.

Ickles takes post at Midwestern

Former Iowa Park High School assistant principal Don Ickles has been named Director of Academic Development at Midwestern State Univ.

Ickles left Iowa Park when he was hired principal of Graham High School, a position he held until that administration recently appointed him Director of Special Programs for the Graham school district.

His resignation was accepted last week by the Graham school board.

At MSU, Ickles will be working for the vice president of Academic Affairs, teaching several courses, and have an opportunity to work toward earning his doctorate degree, according to an announcement in the Graham Leader.

Benefit dance set June 24

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT ANTACIDS

HEARTBURN - is very common, especially in the elderly, the overweight middle-aged population and during pregnancy. Over-the-counter antacids are often used to treat heartburn and related digestive problems.

-Heartburn is the major symptom of a condition caused by the backup of food, stomach acid and other substances from the stomach into the esophagus. It starts out as a burning sensation in the lower chest or upper abdomen and spreads upward.

ANTACIDS - are most effective when taken on a full stomach, one-half to two hours after a meal.

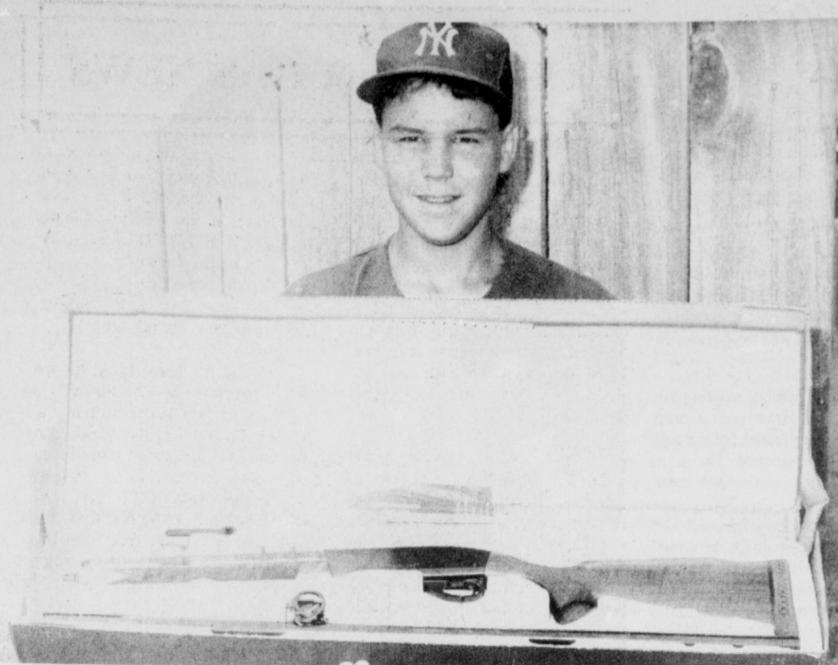

-If antacid is taken for peptic ulcer disease, take it one to three hours after meals and at bedtime, unless otherwise directed by your doctor.

-Persons on salt-restricted diets should avoid sodium bicarbonate containing antacids.

-Liquid antacids neutralize acid faster than tablets, which should be chewed thoroughly and followed with water.

-Antacids may mask other serious medical problems. Consult with your doctor if symptoms last longer than two weeks. Heartburn can mimic angina pectoris, so anyone who regularly complains of chest pain, even with only mild discomfort, should see a doctor.

PREVENT HEARTBURN BY: Avoiding caffeine beverages, fatty and irritant foods, such as citrus juices and tomatoes. Stay away from chocolate, alcohol, spearmint, peppermint. Eat slowly. Wait at least 3 hours after eating before going to bed. Raise the head of the bed 6 inches to improve stomach emptying. Watch your weight.

SCOTT McNEELY PROUDLY EXHIBITS HIS STATE CHAMPIONSHIP GUN TROPHY

TRAP SHOOTER

He's the best for his age

When classes start in September at Iowa Park High School, among the student body will be a bonified state champion.

He's Scott McNeely, who will be a freshman. And he's the Sub Junior Texas State Singles Trap Shoot champion.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy

McNeely, 312 W. Clara, earned his title last week at the state trap shoot tournament in San Antonio.

And he may well add to his list of titles before the summer is over.

Scott, 14, will compete in the Oklahoma state championships July 1-4 in El Reno, and the state 4-H Club trap shoot meet in Waco in August.

Though he only took up the sport two years ago, he beat out more than 300 competitors who were 15 years of age and younger at San Antonio.

He broke 190 of 200 clay targets in the singles event; 91 of 100 in the handicap event, and 97 of 100 in the Lone Star Singles.

For all this, he was awarded a Remington 1187 trap gun and three leather carrying cases.

The Remington likely won't be fired anytime in the future, however. He's going to mount it, like any major trophy should be.

Winning at the state meet wasn't new to the youngster, however.

Last year, in his first major meet, he won the handicap and doubles events.

Scott maintains his competitive edge by competing at the Iowa Park Trap Club at Lake Iowa Park.

Sports
Shorts

Bill Chandler, who with his doubles partner Mark Johnson advanced to the state tennis tournament in 1988, has reportedly accepted a scholarship to play for Collin County Community College, a two-year institution at Plano this fall.

SS SS SS SS SS

The M Club at Midwestern State Univ. has exceeded its financial drive goal of $80,000, reaching $101,199. Athletic Director Steve Holland says the addition of football and a good recruiting year for men's basketball are the keys to the success.

Boys' basketball camp set Monday

A basketball camp for boys who will be in the seventh, eighth and ninth grades this fall, will begin Monday at the high school gym.

The five-day session costs $20, and will be held from 9 a.m. to 12-noon through Friday.

Friday is the deadline to register. Forms are available at the high school field house.

A football camp for boys who will enter the sixth through ninth grades this fall will begin July 24.

CONGRATULATIONS - As is its policy, members of the Iowa Park school board Thursday night recognized students who compete on the state level. Chairman Jerry Reed is shown presenting a framed certificate to Kerri Dörner. She, Shonna Weaver, Angie Turner and Kristy York were the first girls' relay team to ever represent the school at a University Inter-scholastic League track meet.

Tatom, Edwards playing on team

Two Iowa Park youth are spending their summer playing on the newly-organized Black Socks II team for 15 and 16 year olds.

They are Danny Tatom and Vance Edwards.

As of June 6, the team had raised its unbeaten record to 6-0, and is scheduled through July 30.

Hickey, Peterson solemnize vows Saturday

In an elegant Saturday evening ceremony, Miss Tammy Hickey and Gordon Peterson solemnized their wedding vows at Floral Heights Methodist Church in Wichita Falls.

Dr. Jim Palmer, pastor, officiated the double-ring ceremony for the children of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hickey of Iowa Park, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Peterson of Wichita Falls.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father, who gave her in marriage for both parents.

The couple exchanged vows before an altar setting featuring double standard candelabras flanked by large brass containers holding arrangements of white mums, pale pink peonies and pink starburst mums with Boston fern and English ivy accents. Satin bows were placed on each pew.

Miss Hickey chose for her wedding day a magnificent gown of white silk organza over white satin, enhanced with imported laces, seed pearls and crystal iridescents. The fitted bodice and basque waist were heavily adorned with jeweled laces, and full puff sleeves featured layers of silk organza ruffles. A full gathered skirt and cathedral-length train were sprinkled with beaded lace appliques accented with layers of silk organza ruffles. A Juliet cap with imported laces, seed pearls and crystal iridescents secured a waltz-length veil with a blusher, and added the perfect finishing touch to her gown.

The bride carried a silk teardrop bouquet of white roses, white cattleya orchids, lily of the valley, stephanotis and Journey's End rubrum lilies on a background of English ivy and accented with a white satin bow.

Observing bridal tradition, she wore a strand of pearls, belonging to her mother, for "something old" and "something borrowed;" her wedding gown for "something new;" and the "something blue" garter. She also wore in her shoe a penny dated the year of her birth for luck.

Charla Watson of Iowa Park, served as matron of honor for her sister, and Kelly Hickey of Iowa Park, also sister of the bride, and Rita Eggleston of Wichita Falls, were bridesmaids.

MRS. GORDON PETERSON

The trio presented a charming picture, each dressed in a pink floor-length taffeta gown featuring a sweetheart neckline, puffed lace sleeves and a large lace bow in the back, complimented with pink lace gloves.

Each carried a nosegay of poms, rubrum lilies and peonies in shades of pink, accented with Boston fern and white satin streamers.

Miss Abbey Simmons of Dumas and Trey McKnight of Wichita Falls, cousins of the bride, were flower girl and ring bearer, respectively.

The flower girl wore a gown identical to the bride's attendants, with a matching hairbow, and carried a white fireside basket filled with English ivy, pale pink starburst mums, buttercups and white lilies of the valley.

The ring bearer carried a square satin and lace pillow highlighted with pearls and lily of the valley.

The groom was attired in an all-black tuxedo with tails, a bow tie and cummerbund, pleated pants, and a white wing-tipped shirt, complimented with a boutonniere formed of two white stephanotis and English ivy.

He was attended by Ron Orr of Fort Worth, best man, and Carol Peterson of Sherman, brother of the groom, and Tom Young of Missouri as groomsmen. Ushers were Richard Wilhoit and Steve Eggleston, both of Wichita Falls.

Male members of the wedding party, and fathers and grandfather of the couple were each attired in an all-black tuxedo with a regular coat, bow tie and cummerbund, white wing-tipped shirt and pleated pants, with a boutonniere of pale pink stephanotis and English ivy.

The mother of the bride chose a pink silk tea-length dress, featuring a pink lace overlay on the bodice with a jeweled applique on the shoulder. The dropped waist went to a gathered skirt.

The groom's mother wore a pink sachel tea-length gown with a drop waist, mushroom pleated bodice and long full chiffon sleeves. The skirt featured imported satin lace over chaira.

Each mother complimented her dress with a corsage made of white cattleya orchids with accents of coffee leaf and white iridescent ribbon.

Grandmothers of the bride, Ollie Hickey of Bowie and Mrs. Ima Reece of Iowa Park, were presented with corsages made of white roses on ivy with white satin bow accents.

A reception, hosted by the bride's parents, followed the ceremony in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

The bride's table was draped in white Irish linen edged with white hand-tatted lace, and overlaid with an oval hand-tatted cloth.

The bride's cake was separated with one set of Grecian pillars and featured a floral design in shades of pink, with clusters of floral bouquet arrangements gracing the top layer.

The table also held the silver punch service, and a silver candelabra decorated with pink and white snapdragons, cushion poms, rosaria alstroemeria, leatherleaf and smilax trailing to the cake.

The groom's table, centered with a large silver bowl filled with fresh fruit, baby's breath and sprenger fern, held a chocolate cake, Marzipan fruit on a silver tray, a silver coffee service and a silver candelabra.

Friends of the couple presided at the refreshment tables.

The bride is a graduate of Iowa Park High School and Bethania School of Nursing, and attended Midwestern State Univ. She is employed at Wichita General Hospital.

The bridegroom was graduated from Hirschi High School, Midwestern State Univ., and East Texas State Univ., and is self-employed.

The couple departed the reception in a limousine still dressed in their wedding attire. Following a honeymoon trip to Acapulco, they will live in Wichita Falls.

Haines, Flatt vows read in double-ring ceremony Saturday

In a double-ring ceremony held Saturday afternoon at St. Mark's United Methodist Church in Wichita Falls, Miss Christy Lynn Haines and Bill Paul Flatt exchanged matrimonial vows, officiated by Rev. Rusty Hedges, pastor.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Haines of Wichita Falls and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lindsey of Iowa Park recited their vows before an altar setting including a floral centerpiece in shades of pink and ivory, flanked by candelabras intertwined with greenery and pink and white flowers.

The bride made her walk to the altar on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. For her special day, she chose a drop-waist gown of ivory taffeta and French re-embroidered Alencon galloon lace accented with pearls and sequins. The gown was designed by the bride and beaded by her mother, who also designed and made a wreath of ivory lace and pearls for her headpiece.

To compliment her gown, the bride carried a classic cascade bouquet formed of japhet orchids, sweetheart roses and freesia, with a background of English ivy.

The bride chose to keep tradition by wearing her mother's solitaire diamond necklace, a gift from her father to her mother at their wedding, as "something old;" her wedding attire for "something new," carried a prayer Bible belonging to Betty Bicoy, for "something borrowed," and her garter for "something blue." She also wore a sixpence in her shoe.

Miss Cathy Haines of Wichita Falls, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a tea-length pink satin gown with a drop-waist, and a bodice of lace flowers. She carried a bouquet of white japhet orchids and astro lilies.

Miss Tiffany Hamm of Centerville, Va., and Christine Cowling of Iowa Park, sister of the groom, were bridesmaids, and were dressed identical to the maid of honor.

Jamie Smith of El Paso, cousin of the bride, presented a charming picture as flower girl in a pink taffeta and lace gown, carrying a ivory satin-lined basket of rose petals.

Pam Patterson of Wichita Falls was candlelighter.

The ring bearers, Justin and Jonathan Smith of El Paso, were attired identically in grey slacks and blazers with pink ties.

The groom was attended by Bill Davison of Wichita Falls as best man, and Mike Behersesh of Wichita Falls and Mark Wilkins of Altus, Okla., as groomsmen.

MRS. BILL PAUL FLATT

The tiers boasted drop garland borders and cascading bouquets of roses, agapanthus, stephanotis, petunias and forget-me-nots in shades of pastel pinks down the front. The top piece was an arrangement of agapanthus, stephanotis, petunias and forget-me-nots in pinks with pastel green leaves for accent.

The bride's table also held a small candelabra intertwined with pink and ivory flowers as a centerpiece.

The groom's table was decorated around the groom's hobby, which is golf. Highlighted by a cake, decorated in a golf theme, the table also held a miniature church surrounded by greenery, and an assortment of golf balls and golf tees.

Presiding at the refreshment tables were Julie Barnes, Kelli Kitchens, Dianna Conkling, Kim Thompson and Elaine Hanson.

Michelle Hughes directed the guests' signatures at a table holding the bride's book, an engagement picture of the betrothed couple and a flower arrangement in the bride's chosen colors.

Special wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Haines Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jordan, grandparents of the bride, and Mrs. Lucille Cullum, grandmother of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Kahn and Mr. and Mrs. Con Smith.

Miss Haines was graduated from Wichita Falls High School and is attending Midwestern State Univ. She is employed by MSU and the Olive Garden in Wichita Falls.

Flatt is a graduate of Iowa Park High School and MSU. He is employed by General Mills.

Following a honeymoon trip to New Orleans, La., the couple will live in Oklahoma City.

MR. AND MRS. CODY LYNN WHITAKER

Caudill, Whitaker marry Monday in Port Aransas

Donna Lee Caudill and Cody Lynn Whitaker were married Monday in a private ceremony in Port Aransas.

The bride is the daughter of Kathleen Leonardi, and Whitaker is the son of Toby Whitaker, all of Iowa Park.

The couple are graduates of Iowa Park High School. The bride is employed at the Wichita County Sheriff's Dept., and the groom works for the City of Iowa Park.

Following their honeymoon in Port Aransas, the couple will live in Iowa Park.

DRIVING WITH LLUMAR® ON YOUR WINDOWS IS NO SWEAT.

It's a hot, muggy day, and you're stuck inside your car. Your air conditioner runs full blast, but you're still hot under the collar. And if all that isn't bad enough, the blinding glare hurts your eyes and hampers your vision. Keep your cool with LLUMAR®. LLUMAR solar control window film from Martin Processing reduces the sun's fury to raise your driving pleasure. Ideal for all types of vehicles, the film allows light in but keeps a considerable amount of heat and glare out. The result: You stay cooler. Your air conditioner works easier. Add your car wastes less gas.
Protects your car. Protects your life.
But there are just a few of the reasons to drive with LLUMAR. Available in a variety of eye appealing tints, the film adds a stylish, custom look to your windows. It makes a sporty car look more expensive. And an expensive car look protection. LLUMAR stops the sun from fading your upholstery and carpet by screening out up to 99% of harmful ultraviolet rays. It keeps the sun out of your baby's eyes. Softens jarring headlights at night. Affords more privacy, particularly for vans or RVs. And works like a steel curtain across your windows to protect your vehicle from vandalism and you from flying glass in case of an accident.
You can get LLUMAR only at an authorized dealer.
Engineered to resist scratching, the film cleans easily with a mild liquid detergent. An authorized dealer will help you select the right tint, then install it for you. And LLUMAR is covered by a limited warranty. So test drive our film today. Because LLUMAR takes the heat so you don't have to.
Drive over for a free estimate.
And ask about LLUMAR for your home and office.
We are here, year after year, to back up our written guarantee.
