Council's new budget to be unveiled Monday

The city council will hold a public hearing on its proposed budget for 1989-90 during Monday night's regular meeting in council chambers.

It was decided during a work session Monday night that all the cutting possible was done, and a rate increase was required to have a "balanced" budget on which to start the new year Oct. 1.

To fund a budget that is almost $2.7-million, the rate, if approved, will increase from .84 to .885 per $100 valuation, generating about $42,000 additional money.

The second hearing on the budget, which calls for $1,714,000 for the general operating fund and $975,000 for the water and sewer fund, will be held Sept. 11. Then a called meeting is planned Sept. 18, at which final action to adopt the budget and set the new rate.

According to the agenda, Monday's meeting will be busy, right from its 7 p.m. start.

A public hearing will be held regarding a house at 908 E. Highway which was heavily damaged several months ago, and action was delayed at the owner's request. If nothing has transpired by then, the owner was told the city will have the remaining structure destroyed and the cost levied against the property.

Aldermen will consider bids that are to be opened this week for a proposed new building to replace the old Recreational Activities Center.

When the council decided to call for bids earlier, it was pointed out that necessary repairs on the old RAC likely would be almost as high as construction of a new structure.

Five ordinances will be considered, including:

* scheduling a public hearing to consider an increase in the tax rate;

* abandoning a 25-foot strip of the 300 block of West Park;
* rezoning the lot at 309 N. Colorado from C-C to C-G;
* accepting the replat of two lots in the 500 block of West Clara;

* and amending the code of ordinances concerning definitions of terms for the control of animals and fowls.

A resolution will be considered to accept the street work on South Texowa and authorize final payment to the contractor.

The 1989-90 Nortex 9-1-1 budget, which will not be acted on by that district until later this week, will be presented for action.

Chamber changing Whoop-T-Do format

Directors of Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce approved a change in the format of the Whoop-T-Do this year.

Instead of charging non-profit organizations a set fee to operate a booth at the annual event, the Chamber will sell tickets which will be used instead of currency at the booths, and then charge the organizations a 10-percent "handling fee."

Directors approved the change Monday during their regular monthly meeting.

The use of tickets is similar to the format used at the FallsFest in Wichita Falls.

Tickets will be sold for 25-cents each, and prices at booths will need to be adjusted to that increment.

Chamber workers will have the tickets on sale to the public at several locations during the day.

Organizations will turn in their tickets to the chamber and be issued a check, after the Chamber's 10-percent has been deducted.

Individuals who operate arts and crafts booths will still be charged a set fee, which this year will be raised from $10 to $15.

This year's Whoop-T-Do will be Oct. 7, according to Chamber president Kenneth Via.

The change in format and increased arts and crafts fee is designed to generate more revenue for the Chamber, which this year has experienced considerable financial difficulties.

In other business, Via reported 22 representatives from Sheppard AFB have been invited as Chamber guests to participate in a dove hunt Sept. 1.

Coordinating the effort with the Chamber are State National Bank and H.M. Nipper. A feed that evening for the hunters will be provided.

Distribution of new city maps, which were displayed during the meeting, is expected next week, Via said. The maps are printed, and must be folded before advertising sponsors are to receive their allotments of 10, Via said.

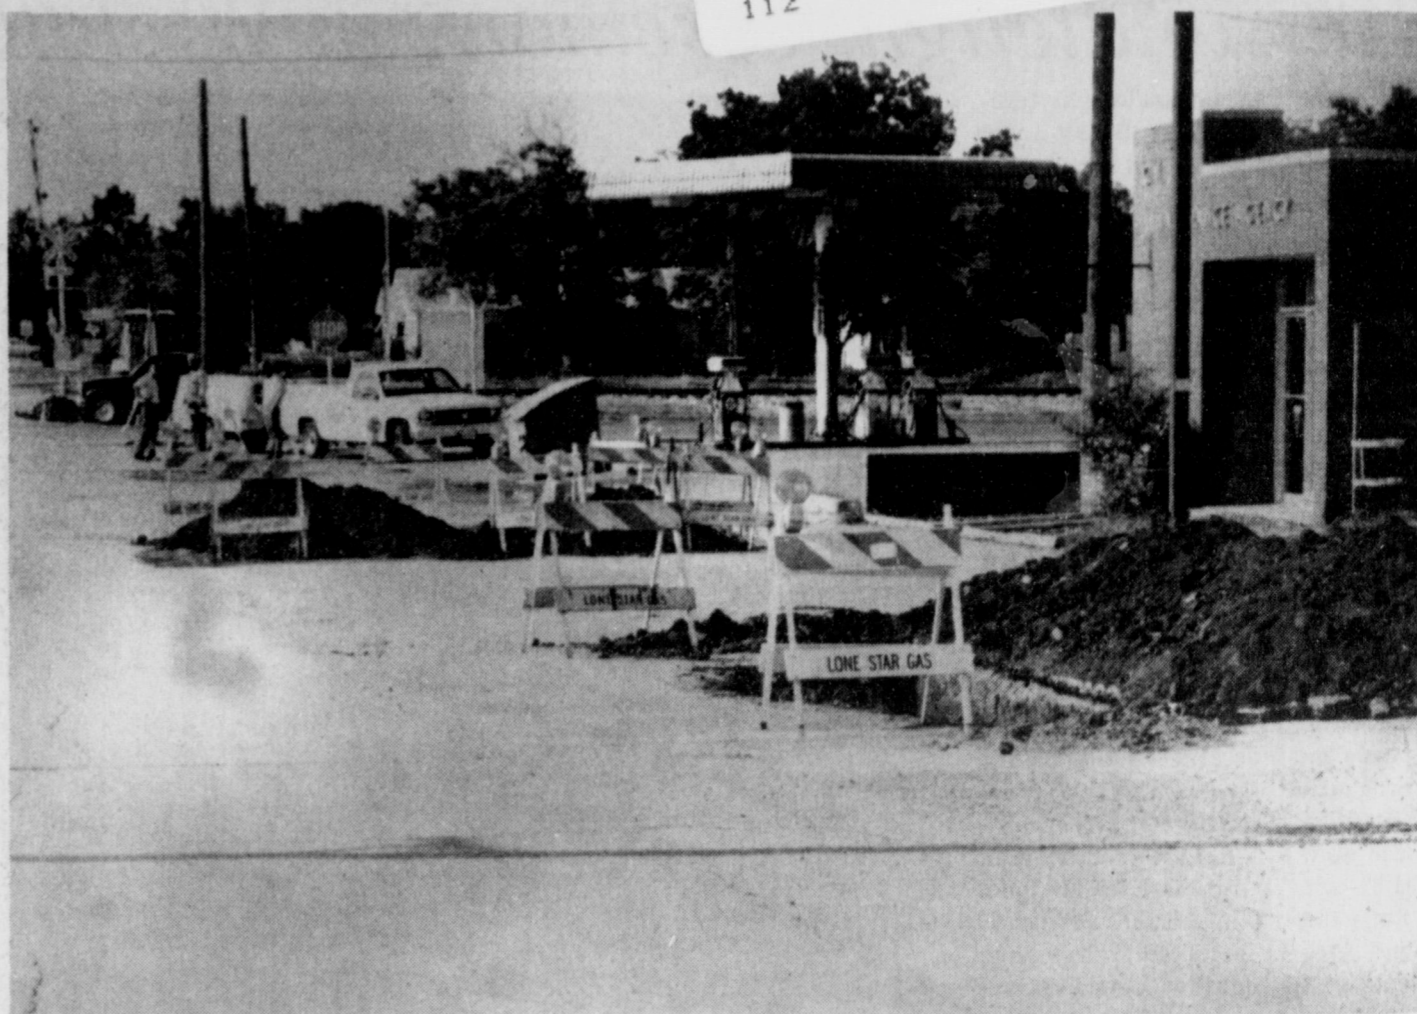

Gene Jordan, Jan Clapp and Glenna Via were appointed to a committee to study the dues structure of the organization.

Nipper and Mrs. Clapp were elected to serve with the organization's presidents as members of the executive committee, in accordance with the bylaws.

The directors also approved the Chamber sponsoring a Customer Development Seminar, which will be instructed by Joel Combs.

Dates for the two-evening course which covers personal attitude devel-

NECESSARY REPAIRS are underway in the downtown portion of Iowa Park, especially on Yosemite, by Lone Star Gas Co. A spokesman explained tests were drilled in the low-pressure line areas, where 4-6 ounces of pressure are held, and numerous leaks were found. Temporary repairs were made, to be followed by permanent replacements.

Police investigating thefts

Two of the theft cases being investigated by the Iowa Park Police Department are for stealing water service from the city and cigarettes from a grocery store.

Chief Alan Sheffield said charges will likely be filed soon against a resident of an apartment unit on Second Street for theft of water service, as well as one or more water meters.

The suspect's water was reportedly cut off for non-payment, but he allegedly turned it back on. Workers then removed the meter, but another was found in its place later and the water reconnected.

The incidence was entered into the police blotter Friday morning.

Police were notified at 5:15 p.m. Monday that a black man and woman entered B&R Thriftway, picked up four cartons of cigarettes, and left without paying for them.

Witnesses turned over a license number to police, and the case continues under investigation.

One other theft and two burglaries also were included on the blotter during the past week.

Nineteen letters were reportedly taken sometime Sunday night from an outdoor sign at Harvey's.

Police were told Tuesday that the back door of a home on Surrey had been forcefully opened, and a television and VCR machine taken.

A report was still being completed concerning an alleged burglary of a home in the 1000 block of Lanelle, sometime over the weekend.

Four arrests were noted during the week on the blotter.

Oren Ray Hamilton, 37, was taken into custody in the 400 block of East Diamond at 1:15 a.m. Friday on a public intoxication charge. Another charge of resisting arrest was later noted against him. Hamilton was transported to county jail.

Lonnie Gene Kinnett, 22, was taken into custody Saturday afternoon on a local warrant for driving while license was suspended.

Further investigation by police determined he was wanted by the county sheriff's office at Fort Lauderdale, Fla. on a charge of "uttering a forged instrument and grand theft."

The Florida office asked that Kinnett be held in the Wichita County jail until they could pick him up.

Also arrested on a charge of public intoxication was Michael Robert Beltz, 29. He was picked up at 2:15 a.m. yesterday at Pacific and Texas.

William Lee Rumisek, 23, was taken into custody when police answered a domestic disturbance call

Trustees to set tax rate

Iowa Park school trustees will meet in a called session at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the junior high library to take the necessary actions for funding the 1989-90 school year.

A public hearing on the proposed budget, amending the 1988-89 budget, voting on the 1989-90 budget and setting the tax rate are all on the agenda.

The proposed budget is figured on no increase in the previous year's tax rate of 91-cents per $100 valuation.

Four other topics are included on the meeting's agenda.

Dates for teacher appraisal periods, approving a list of appraisers other than principals, football and gymnasium concession stand contracts for the new year, and student transfer are included on the agenda.

Teachers to work Friday

Though classes will not start in Iowa Park schools until the morning of Sept. 5, all faculty members begin their year tomorrow.

Friday is inservice/work day for local teachers, who are to report to their respective buildings, according to Supt. Glen Mitchell.

Monday through next Friday, teachers will continue inservice.

A general meeting of the faculty will begin at 9 a.m. Monday, in the high school auditorium, and sessions will continue until lunch, which will be held at the school cafeteria. That afternoon will be a workday.

Inservice sessions will again be held at the high school until lunch Tuesday, and the afternoon will be workday.

All day Wednesday the entire faculty will attend the Lee Canter Discipline Training workshop at the high school auditorium.

Thursday will be another workday.

Friday the teachers will spend all day in Wichita Falls High School auditorium. They will hear Jim Savage at 8 a.m., and that afternoon Dr. William W. Purkey. Both men are from the Region Nine Service Center.

COMPARED TO STATE AVERAGE -

Local taxpayers getting bargain based on the 1,888 students enrolled in the fall semester of 1988.

The average salary for classroom teachers paid by Iowa Park District in 1987-88 was $22,888 plus supplements for the career ladder.

In Iowa Park, the average salary for administrators was $40,957, and $25,805 for other professional support employees (librarians, counselors, nurses, supervisors, etc.)

Four dollars in five were spent for salaries. Statewide payroll expense averaged $2,757 per student, as compared to $2,250.42 in Iowa Park. Payroll expense is a combination of salary levels and staffing patterns.

Taxpayers provided one teacher for 17.5 students in Iowa Park, while the statewide pupil-teacher ratio was 17.1 to one. Because of the existence of small classes, especially at the high school level, and abbreviated teaching schedules, many other classes have more than the average number of students.

To fund higher school budgets with a declining tax base, school trustees in most districts have raised tax rates.

The average school district imposed a property tax at the rate of 91.2 cents per $100 of appraised value, which value averaged 96.5 percent of market value (selling price).

The "true tax rate" was 88.1 cents (91.2 times 96.52 percent) statewide. Locally, the Iowa Park District imposed a rate of $.810 while property was appraised at 99.4 percent of its market value making the true rate $.805 per $100 of market value (selling price).

The report points out that the calculation of a true tax rate based on market value rather than on appraised value enables a valid comparison of tax levels with other schools. In 1988, the true tax rate exceeded $1 in 336 school districts in Texas.

The tax on a house that would sell for $80,000 in Iowa Park would have been $653. If the homeowner were eligible for homestead exemptions, the tax would have been $612, and if owned by a person 65 years or older, the tax on an $80,000 house in this district would have averaged $531, or less if subject to a tax freeze.

That compares with statewide average tax bills of $723, $638, and $544 respectively for an $80,000 house.

Last year Iowa Park District's revenue from the property tax increased by 5.2 percent for 1988-89 as compared to a 6.8 percent increase statewide.

Local property taxes plus state aid was $2,622 per student in Iowa Park District as compared to $3,221 statewide.

The primary purpose of state aid is to equalize state and local tax resources among schools.

The 1988-89 tax resources ranged from less than $2,500 per student in 12 districts to more than $10,000 in five districts.

Brown, Harrell united in marriage recently in candlelight ceremony in Wichita Falls

In an elegant candlelight ceremony Aug. 12, Miss Becky Lynn Brown and Mark Harrell were united in marriage at Faith Village Church of Christ in Wichita Falls. Claude Brown, grandfather of the bride, officiated the double-ring vows.

Miss Brown is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown of Iowa Park, and Harrell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harrell of Odessa.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by both parents. For her wedding day she chose a formal white gown of raw silk with a v-neckline and large pouf sleeves accented with schiffli lace trim. The bodice was made of schiffli lace and adorned with pearls and iridescent sequins, and the back of the bodice went to a V at the shoulders. The dropped basque waistline went to a full gathered bouffant skirt with a cathedral length train. She wore a tiara adorned with pearls and sequins, accented with a large pouf in the back to secure a chapel-length veil.

A free-form arch bouquet formed of large white lillies, small white orchids and stephanotis, eucalyptis and pearl sprays added the finishing touch to her attire.

In keeping with bridal tradition, Miss Brown carried a linen handkerchief in her bouquet that belongs to her grandmother for "something old;" her wedding gown for "something new;" pearl earrings belonging to a friend for the "something borrowed;" and the garter for "something blue."

The groom was attired in a full dress black tuxedo with a tailed coat, white vest and bow tie.

Prior to the ceremony, slides of the couple from birth to the present were shown on a special screen set up in the ceremony, with "Sunrise, Sunset" played for background music.

The bride's walk to the altar was lined with brass hurricane globes holding burning tapers. The couple exchanged vows in a candlelight setting, the altar centered with an arch candelabra flanked by spiral candelabras and seven branch candelabras, all holding burning white tapers. Boston ferns, atop white pedestals provided further decoration.

White tulle net, draped and caught up with white bows, was placed over the doorway where the bride entered the sanctuary.

Music for the ceremony was provided by "Sincerely Yours," a vocal group composed of Wendell Burnam, Laura Burnam, Dik Pittman and Angie Pittman.

Mrs. Mark Harrell

Prelude selections included "Follow Me," "Annie's Song," "Wedding Song," "The Father's Call," and "Wind Beneath My Wings."

The quartet offered "Love Will Be Our Home" as the grandmothers and mothers of the couple were being seated.

"Friends" was sung as the groomsmen escorted the bridesmaids to the altar, and the traditional wedding march was played for the bride's entrance. The couple left the service as "The Lord Bless You and Keep You" was sung.

Kelli Stegall of Tyler, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Leslie Jennings of Old Glory, Kari Robnett of Iowa Park, Kristine Carpenter of Irving and Lydia Lyon of Abilene, sister of the groom.

Each of the bridal attendants wore a white tea-length taffeta gown featuring a fitted waist, peplum skirt and large bows at the shoulder, with white pearl drop earrings, a gift to each from the bride.

To compliment the gowns, free-form arch bouquets of forget-me-nots, purple iris, yellow freesia, red gerbera daisies, hot pink pom pom carnations, pink lilies, beargrass and fern were carried by each attendant.

Best man was Daniel Harrell of Taylor, brother of the groom. Perry Holmsley and Mark Lyon of Abilene, and Jerrod Hayner of Odessa, all brothers-in-law to the groom, and Toby Brown of Iowa Park, brother of the bride, were groomsmen.

Male members of the wedding party were attired in black tuxedos with regular coats, black bow ties and cummerbunds.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church annex.

White lattice work provided a background setting for the bridal table, covered in white taffeta, which held the bride's cake flanked by four-branch brass candelabras, enhanced by arrangements of iris, freesia, gerbera daisies, pom pom carnations and lilies in purple, yellow, red, pink and hot pink.

The bride's cake was a four-tiered white iced confection featured intricate scrollwork and scalloped edging. The bottom layer, square with a bouquet of fresh flowers and greenery at its center, was the base for Grecian posts holding two round tiers stacked layer upon layer with a bouquet at its center. The top layer was raised with a set of Grecian posts, and was topped with a bouquet of fresh flowers for an elegant finishing touch.

Presiding at the bride's table were Stephenie Goodwin, Bevie Fleming, Shelly Logan and Paige Morgan.

The groom's table was covered in white taffeta, and held three brass candleholders with white tapers, a brass coffee service and the groom's cake. The German chocolate cake was covered with chopped pecans with gold and chocolate leaves for accent, and the initial "H" on the top. Elizabeth Harrell, Leah Holmsley and Rachel Hayner, sisters of the groom, presided at the table.

The punch table was covered in white taffeta, and held a crystal punchbowl on a brass base.

Guests were seated at round tables covered in white and centered with burning votive candles.

Baskets filled with white birdseed bags sat on the gift table, which was covered in white lace.

Deann Ellison and Krista Ellison presided at the registry tables, each covered with a white pleated cloth holding the couple's engagement picture, the bridal book and white plume pen.

Specials guests were Mrs. Frankie Ellison of Crosbyton and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Brown of Wylie, grandparents of the bride.

Following a honeymoon trip to the Cayman Islands, the couple is at home in Midland.

The bride is a graduate of Iowa Park High School and Abilene Christian Univ. She will begin teaching in the Midland public schools in September. The groom is a graduate of Odessa High School and Abilene Christian Univ.

Ashcraft, Davis wed Saturday in double-ring ceremony

The First Baptist Church in Pagosa Springs, Colo. was the setting for a double-ring ceremony performed Saturday afternoon for Miss Michelle Lynne Ashcraft and Richard Scott Davis to recite their matrimonial vows and exchange rings. The officiants for the ceremony were Dave Rattan, university minister of First Baptist Church in Plainview, Texas, and Rev. Grant Adkisson, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Pagosa Springs.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Ashcraft of Pagosa Springs, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Davis of Iowa Park.

An abundant use of white cathedral candles created an all-candlelight setting for the wedding. Fifty six candles burned in an arch candelabra flanked by spiral candelabra. The church pews were decorated with white satin bows connected by light teal ribbon with faint touches of black ribbon. One aisle leading to the altar was reserved for members of the wedding party.

The vocal music for the wedding featured a prelude duet "Christ the Treasure" by Mitchell and Regina George of Plainview. During the ceremony, Anthony Levell of Wichita Falls, the groom's brother-in-law, sang "Single Prayer" and Kristie Lloyd of Plainview presented "Love Will Be Our Home." The ceremony was closed with an impressive prayer by the groom.

The wedding processional and recessional by the pianist were in tune with sacred compositions.

As the lovely bride entered the church with her father who escorted her to the altar and presented her in marriage for her parents, wedding guests delighted in her beauty in her Southern Belle Mari E. Lee designer gown. Fashioned of white satin, the gown featured an off-the-shoulder bodice lavishly trimmed with pearls and sequins, elbow length sleeves accented with bows, and a large bow at the back of the waist. The pearl and sequin ornamentation bordered the hem of the full skirt and cathedral train.

A perfect complement for the bride's gown was her bouffant satin and pearl headpiece that held her illusion waist length veil trimmed with scattered pearls. She carried an all-white bouquet of white silk roses, stephanotis, baby's beath, sparkling pearls and long satin streamers to enhance the charm of the bridal attire, and she remembered to keep traditions of the special day.

The bride was preceded to the altar by a maid of honor, four bridesmaids and a flower girl. Her attendants wore identical teal length dresses of light teal overlaid with lace and designed with elbow length sleeves, satin cummerbunds and bows at the back. Each carried a lighted teal candle trimmed with teal and white ribbons.

Miss Kristie Lloyd of Plainview was the maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Sherri Ashcraft, Miss Ronnie Ashcraft, sisters of the bride, Karie (Mrs. Anthony) Levell of Wichita Falls, sister of the groom, and Miss Tabby Saul of Pagosa Springs. Katie Wilson of Chattanooga, Tenn., cousin of the bride, was the flower girl and wore a long teal sleeveless dress with fabric rose accents on the shoulders.

Richard Davis served his son as best man. The groomsmen were Mark Tillman, Paul McGinnis, Ben Dyess, all of Plainview, and Anthony Levell of Wichita Falls, the groom's brother-in-law.

The groom wore a black onyx tuxedo with tails, white shirt, black bow tie and cummerbund and two white roses in his boutonniere. His attendants wore black onyx tuxedos with regular coats, white shirts, teal cummerbunds and bow ties and light teal carnation boutonnieres. Cory Rattan of Plainview, the ring bearer, wore a black tuxedo, white shirt and black bow tie.

The ushers were Shannon Bryant of Albuquerque, N.M., Robbie Wilson of Chatanooqa, Tenn., cousin of the bride, and Mitchell George of Plainview.

The bride's mother chose to wear a tea length dress of pink chiffon accented with white appliqued roses and designed with a round neckline. The groom's mother was attired in a tea length dark teal chiffon dress over satin featuring a scalloped bodice trimmed with scattered pearls, and a straight cut skirt. Their corsages were formed of white carnations and teal accents.

Mr. and Mrs.

On the eve of the wedding, the groom's parents hosted a dinner catered by Aspen Restaurant at the church. The highlights of the occasion were a devotion by Glen Mitchell of Iowa Park, and a surprise slide presentation prepared by the groom's parents depicting Scott and Michelle as they grew from infancy to the present time.

The bride's parents honored the newlyweds at a postnuptial reception held in the Family Life Center of the church which was transformed into a garden complete with a gazebo, built inside the room especially for the occasion, with its hanging baskets and lattice fences. Tall aspen trees and shrubs were cut and brought in to accentuate the garden theme.

Special interest inside the gazebo was the bride's cake of three white square tiers with two sets of column dividers. A delightful treat for the eyes was the top piece, a "Precious Moments" bride and groom, representing the enduring symbols of love.

The groom's table nearby held a red velvet cake topped with another "Precious Moments" bride and groom driving their getaway car with trailing tin cans.

A separate table held the silver fountain punch bowl.

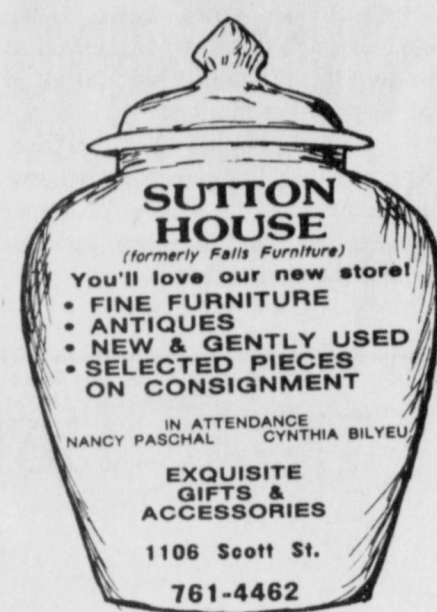

The bride's cake was served by Kim Griffin and Donna Burns of Plainview and the groom's cake was served by Kay Defoor and Kathy Poole, also of Plainview.

Jan Riley was the wedding coordinator and Marcy Wilson, cousin of the bride, directed registration of wedding guests.

Following the reception, the bride and groom, followed by a caravan of well wishers, were driven to a private airport and left on a private plane for Albuquerque, N.M., then flew to San Diego, Calif. for their wedding trip. They will continue their education at Wayland Baptist Univ. in Plainview where the groom is a senior and employed as the university's track team manager. He was graduated from Iowa Park High School. The bride was graduated from Pagosa Springs High School and is a junior at WBU.

Special wedding guests among the many who attended from Texas, New Mexico and Tennessee were Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Henry, grandparents of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Harris, the bride's grandparents.

As I See It... By BOB HAMILTON

I've never been one to want to stand in the way of progress or a way to cut back-breaking labor.

That's why I'm all for a program being touted by Dr. Bill Knopp, a turfgrass specialist with the Texas Agriculture Extension Service at Dallas.

That Aggie says we otta stop catching and bagging the grass we cut in our yards which is being sent to the city landfills.

And he's got facts and figures to back up his argument.

Knopp says a study done last spring in Fort Worth, where all the bags of trash that were picked up to be sent to the landfill, was 20 to 25 percent grass trimmings.

About stopping the practice, Knopp says "It reduces the trouble and expense of lawn care for homeowners and landfill space and improves the environment."

Director of the Fort Worth Department of City Services, Tom Davis, said "Our municipal landfill has estimated 16 years of use left at the current rate of waste disposal.

"We're not facing a landfill crisis, but we recognize the need to conserve the remaining space. In addition, the city could save about $200,000 in annual disposal costs if all the residents here stopped bagging grass clippings," Davis said.

Well, if it saves money in a city like Fort Worth, surely it should save in a city like Iowa Park. And, if you've kept up with the reports of the city council and its fight to keep the landfill available without breaking every bank in the county, you should know it would save each and all of us money.

But what do you do with the clippings?

"Fortunately, traditional lawn care practices can be adjusted easily to remedy the problem," Knoop said.

He has devised the "Don't Bag It" Lawn Care Plan, with recommendations on watering, fertilizing and mowing practices which allow you to leave your trimmings right there where they fall.

Actually, I can't really claim the change will save me any work.

Whatever grass trimmings that are raked up in our yard, my bride, Dolores, does it. I only carry it out to the dumpster.

Police

The arrest was on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Emergency medical workers were called to the same address later that day when Rumisek, who had been released, had reportedly eaten some poisonous mushrooms from his yard.

Council

In The Military

ROTC student Cadet Robin L. Combs received practical work in military leadership at the U.S. Army ROTC advanced camp, Fort Riley, Kan.

The six-week camp, attended by cadets normally between their third and fourth year of college, includes instruction in communications, management and survival training.

Successful completion of the advanced camp and graduation from college results in a commission as a second lieutenant in either the U.S. Army, Army Reserve or National Guard for the cadet.

Combs, a 1982 graduate of Iowa Park High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Combs of Iowa Park.

SAFB speakers are available

As a service to local communities, the public affairs office at Sheppard AFB has a speakers bureau program.

Professionals at the base are eager to speak about their fields of expertise. Volunteers are listed in the speakers bureau and are available to speak on various topics representing typical activities at an Air Force base.

The public affairs staff helps find the right person to speak to requesting organizations, on topics such as foreign lands, professions, hobbies, travel, medical topics that affect everyday life, and Sheppard's mission.

Organizations needing a speaker can contact the public affairs office at 676-7242.

Letter to the Editor

Other side told

Dear Editor and Concerned Parents:

Communication in 1989 seems to be a lost art. Mr. and Mrs. McClurg failed to get all the facts before writing a letter to the editor which was published in the newspaper last week. We appreciate all the parents who called in response to the letter and expressed appreciation for how we have cared for their children over the years. Our business is young people and we have spent 20 years telling your children to stay inside until your ride gets here and watching as they got into the car.

The philosophy of Sand Beach has not changed and did not change the Saturday night in question. Yes, two boys were scolded for catching the pool balls so that they would not go into the pockets of the table. Other people were waiting to play pool. Yes, one of the boys did break a skate when he slammed it into a rail at the skating rink. The skate is available for viewing at the rink and you can clearly see where it hit the rail. By the way, the same "antique" skates can be purchased from any skate supply house that carries Surgrip skates.

Finally, the boys did leave the rink without calling their parents and without approval of the management. The manager told the boys not to go to the road, but they did. The manager sent two employees out to look for the boys who could not be found. Therefore, since the manager did not have a phone number for the parents, he called the sheriff's department to notify them that there were two juveniles on the Iowa Park Road. The boys were not kicked out of the rink and could have called for a ride if they had chosen to do so.

There have been many times over the past 20 years that parents have been late picking up their children and the management has waited up to two hours after closing with the children. If you leave your kids at Sand Beach they will be taken care of. Parents are always welcome to come and watch their children at no charge unless they decide to skate. If you want to leave your children, just leave a number where you can be reached; and should a similar incident occur we will call you.

Why would the McClurgs fail to contact the management and find out all the facts before writing an inflammatory letter which can cast doubt on the reputation of a business which has served young people for such a long time? Gloria and Gene Bond

Cheryl Lynette Barker and Robert Keith Reed

November date set

Mrs. Andrea Barker of Iowa Park and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Barker of Holliday are announcing the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Cheryl Lynette, to Robert Keith Reed, son of Mrs. Linda Reed of Iowa Park.

Miss Barker was graduated from Iowa Park High School and attends Midwestern State Univ. She is employed by State National Bank. Reed is a graduate of Iowa Park High School and is employed by Howmet Turbine Corp.

The couple will exchange vows Nov. 18 at First United Methodist Church.

Williams feted at anniversary reception

Mr. and Mrs. DeWayne Williams were feted recently with a 25th wedding anniversary reception at TU Electric Reddy Room.

The couple's children, David Williams, Necia Williams, and Mr. and Mrs. Andy Anderson, were hosts for the reception.

Williams married the former Gay Campbell Aug. 15, 1964.

An elegant and sentimental motif was apparent throughout the party room, where many of the couple's original table appointments at their wedding were used again for the affair.

The refreshment table, covered in lace, held a white two-tiered cake decorated with silver leaves and white frosting roses. The bottom tier was decorated with hearts inscribed with "DeWayne" and "Gay," and the dates "1964-1989." The top layer held an ornament centered with a silver "25," and white doves, white roses and bells at the base.

A cutglass crystal candleholder, used on the bride's table at the couple's wedding reception, was placed on the outer extremity of the table and held a burning silver taper. Placed in front of the candleholder was a bride and groom ornament that topped the couple's wedding cake. An antique silver lazy Susan with four cutglass bowls, originally belonging to Mrs. Williams' paternal grandmother, and given to the couple as a wedding gift from her parents, was placed on the other table extremity.

Napkins from the Williams' wedding reception and plates and cups with wedding bell designs completed the table setting.

Punch was served from a crystal cutglass bowl atop a table covered in white linen. A silver coffee service stood at the opposite end of the table. A silver frame, a gift from Mrs. Williams' co-workers bearing the names of the couple and "1964-1989," held a picture of the Williams on their wedding day, and served as the centerpiece.

The gift table, covered in white lace, held the couple's wedding album, a large Valentine's Day card given to Mrs. Williams from Mr. Williams over 25 years ago, and a silver guest book. A five-branch brass and crystal candelabra with silver voice candles completed table decorations. Melody Williams, niece of the couple, registered guests.

Special guests included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Campbell of Lake Whitney, and Mrs. Andy Arrington of Nocona Hills, parents of the couple, and Susan Calloway Barr, the maid of honor in the wedding.

Mrs. Billy McNeely and Mrs. Sonny Bates assisted with the reception.

THE VOICE OF ONE

Sometimes the most important action to be taken in a crisis situation is the voice of one. Pilate was looking for a voice to support the innocent Jesus. God chose Moses to be the voice of Barnabas that put Saul in good standing with the church in Jerusalem and was the beginning of his great ministry.

In 1848 a clerk of Salem, Massachusetts was laid off from his job. Times were hard and he felt he need to find another job quickly in order to support his family. He talked to his wife about the problem, but his wife disagreed with his decision. Her response was that she knew he had always wanted to write and this was a great time to pursue it. Her voice of one basically was, "I've saved a little along the way, and I believe we can make it. You devote your time to writing." An unemployed clerk went to his first love-writing. Two years later he published his first book and the title page read, "The Scarlet Letter", by Nathaniel Hawthorne.

Perhaps there is someone right now in your sphere of influence who needs your voice of encouragement, admonition, advice, or concern. Certainly there are times when no voice at all is best. James stresses the point of listening (James 1:19). There needs to be a voice when truth needs encouragement.

We often talk about doing a good deed for someone else. There is the desire to be able to help someone in need. A simple act that can prove the most good may be your voice of one.

Cook of the Week

Mrs. Andy Anderson

This week's featured cook, April (Mrs. Andy) Anderson, said she didn't know how to cook one a half years ago when she married, but with the help of an understanding husband and practice, she now lists it as one of her hobbies.

"I didn't know how to cook anything!" she laughed. But she said her husband, Andy, didn't complain, and she was able to try new recipes until she "got it right."

April teaches ballet at Studio KG, and babysits. She began taking ballet lessons when she was six years old, and continued until she was 16. She said she is taking lessons again to learn new techniques. Andy is a disc jockey at a Wichita Falls radio station.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. DeWayne Williams, she lists her hobbies as cooking, reading and dancing. Attending Bible class at Replidim Church in Wichita Falls, where she is a member, is something she said takes much of her time as well.

Annual Hawk-Eagle scrimmage set Friday

Iowa Park and Holliday football teams will hold their annual scrimmages here Friday afternoon.

Because Holliday does not have enough players to field three teams, freshman, junior varsity and varsity, Eagle JV players usually face Hawk freshmen and then JV.

The younger teams are to start their scrimmage at 5 p.m., and the varsities about 7, according to Coach Len Williams.

In scrimmages, each team runs a predetermined number of plays on offense and then switches over to defense. Coaches are on the field with their players at all times in order to both criticize and praise play by the players.

Iowa Park got its first taste of action Saturday morning, during the annual "Watermelon Bowl," which gets its name because ice-cold melons are fed to the players and fans following the session.

Williams commented the main thing about Saturday's intrasquad scrimmage was the fact that the players "...got after it real hard and still had no casualties, only a few minor bungups."

That's important, says the Head Hawk, because their numbers are so thin. But he quickly added, "A lot of times, it's not the quantity, but the quality" of those out for a team.

Only 72 players turned out for football this season, and 27 were assigned to the varsity, 22 to the junior varsity and 23 are freshmen.

Because their ranks are so thin, injuries could spell major problems for the teams which are already planning on several players having to play both on offense and defense.

But the reserves are of major importance, Williams pointed out, because no player can go full-out an entire 48-minute contest.

The Hawks held the last of their two-a-day sessions yesterday, and will report only in the afternoons for practice the rest of the season.

That is because the coaches are also classroom teachers, and the faculty begins in-service training Friday in preparation for the Sept. 5 start of school.

Varsity players are to report this morning, however, for their annual picture-taking session. That is to begin at 9:30.

The teams will have yet one more pre-season scrimmage before they start regular schedule play. They will travel to Olney Friday of next week.

Allan Knowlden, RPh., Manager

UNDERSTANDING ASTHMA

In Simple Terms, What Is Asthma?

When you breathe, air is carried in and out of your lungs by thousands of passageways. These "airways" branch out from the bottom of your windpipe like the branches of a tree, getting smaller and smaller as they go along. In fact this system of airways looks something like an upside-down tree.

Normally, the muscles of the airways relax when you breathe in. This lets the airways expand and makes it easier for air to get in. Just moments later, these muscles tighten. This makes the airways more narrow and helps move the air out. Moments later, the muscles relax again, and the breathing action is repeated.

In addition, the inside of the airways is normally lined with cells that hold just the right amount of mucus to keep the airways moist and lubricated.

When a person has an asthma attack, the airway muscles don't do what they normally do. When the attack comes, the airway muscles tighten, but don't relax adequately. This keeps the airways narrow, making it harder to get air into the lungs and much harder to get air out of the lungs.

At the same time, the cells lining the inside of the airways become swollen, and mucus is produced in larger amounts than normal. This stops up the airways even more and makes it harder to get air in and out of the lungs. If this extra mucus is allowed to collect in the airways, breathing can become even harder.

Asthmatic attacks can be caused by different things and come at different times, in different people. Between attacks, the asthmatic person usually has no problem breathing. Asthma can become a very serious problem, so it is important to consult your doctor. Modern medical and pharmaceutical treatment can bring more and better real help to asthmatics.

Teacher sought for classes here

The class would meet two hours, two nights per week.

Persons interested in teaching should contact Region Nine or Iowa Park Assistant Superintendent Robert Palmer.

Local student studies in London

When a student can travel to London and get six hours of college credit, all on a scholarship, it's not a bad deal.

At least Becky Roberts thinks so.

The senior elementary education major at Midwestern State Univ. had the opportunity to go to London in July through the British Studies Program at MSU and took it. After applying for the program, and meeting the minimum grade point average required, Becky received a scholarship to help fund the trip.

She was one of 270 American students, and of nine MSU students to study political science and criminal law at Chelsea College, a branch of the Univ. of London.

While in London, the students stayed in the dorms at Chelsea College, and were taught mostly by native English professors and lecturers.

During the course of study, the class was able to take a field trip to the Police Training Center in London, where Becky said she learned of some major differences between British and American police tactics, as the regular British police force carry only "night sticks," and not guns. She said the group was told that when a situation arises where stronger force is needed, a special police force is called in.

Out of the classroom, Becky got quite an education on culture as well.

Saying that the English have a more liberal attitude, she also commented that they are not likely to greet you on the street, but will talk if you initiate a conversation.

The pubs that England is famous for, are a different story. She said the pubs have a strong social and political atmosphere, and that the patrons aren't shy about airing their dislike to Americans.

Other sources of interest were the ice, or rather lack of it, and the subway system. Becky said that if you want ice there you must ask for it, usually only getting one or two cubes. The subway system, or tubes, is the main source of transportation in London, and the first few days the group was there, workers were on strike.

During the four and a half week trip, students weren't restricted to all study, and were able to take a four-day mini-break.

On break, Becky was able to tour St. Paul's Cathedral, Westminster Abbey, Buckingham Palace, National Art Museum, British Art Museum and the Hard Rock Cafe, among others. She also had the opportunity to see the play "Dangerous Liaisons," and said she would have like to have seen others, but a lack of seats or the price of the tickets prohibited her.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Roberts of Iowa Park is employed at MSU. She will graduate there in December, and said she will do her student teaching in the fall.
