Homecoming, Whoop-T-Do scheduled this weekend

Whoop-T-Do is Saturday

The 18th annual edition of the Whoop-T-Do, sponsored by the Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce, is set to get underway at 9 a.m. Saturday in the area of Wall and Cash Streets.

The day-long activity was created by the Chamber of Commerce for two main purposes: to give persons who come back to Iowa Park for the annual homecoming event something to do between the Friday night football game and the Saturday night banquet; and the activity would be a carnival-like event at which non-profit organizations of the community could hold their major fund-raising activities.

For want of a better name, then-president of the Chamber, Ralph Beall, suggested "Whoop-T-Do." None of the Chamber's board members had a better suggestion, so the name stuck.

This year there will be 38 non-profit booths and 29 booths operated by individuals displaying their arts and crafts.

In addition, the Iowa Park Arts and Crafts Association will be sponsoring a People's Choice Arts and Crafts show in the Lions Club building, next to The Friendly Door.

The Chamber of Commerce will observe open house to the public, at its new office building across the street from city hall.

Local western artist Jack Stevens will be creating a painting in the office throughout the day, which will be auctioned to the highest bidder at 3:30, with the proceeds going to the Chamber.

Stevens will have on display his works from his Stompin' Grounds Gallery.

Entertainment will be provided to the public throughout the day, including:

- 9:00 - turtle trot (open to all youth through the fourth grade, with a first place prize of $25 donated by Dutton-Tanner-Aulds Funeral Home)
- 9:20-9:40 - Junior High School Band

- 12:00-1:00 - Rockin' Hawkettes
- 1:00-2:00 - Gymnastics & More
- 2:00-3:00 - Straight Shooter Band
- 3:00 - Iowa Park Booster Club will hold a "slave auction," at which members of the Hawk varsity football team will be auctioned to do not more than four hours of work the following Saturday, at a fee of $3 per hour.

IOWA PARK LEADER

Vol. 21, No. 4 IOWA PARK, WICHITA COUNTY, TEXAS 76367 Thursday, October 5, 1989

Hawks' opponent ranked among top teams in state

The Hawks will take on their first state-ranked opponent of the year Friday night in the '89 homecoming contest.

The Gainesville Leopards have been ranked among the top 10 Class AAA teams of Texas all year, even after dropping their first contest last week.

Kickoff time in Hawk Stadium is 8 p.m.

Iowa Park holds a 4-3 edge over the Leopards in their previous seven meetings, despite a disappointing 28-10 loss at Gainesville last year. The two teams first met here in 1972, with the visitors winning 33-24.

This isn't the same team Iowa Park faced last year, however. Of the 28 players listed on the Leopard roster, there are 11 seniors and seven sophomores.

And two of those seniors likely will not be playing tomorrow, including tailback Donald Lorne, who was the team's leading gainer against the Hawks last year.

Donald, who has a twin brother Ronald on the squad, sustained a knee injury in the third quarter of their 47-0 romp at Burk Burnett two weeks ago, and isn't expected to be back in uniform.

But before he left the game, he had carried 13 times for 76 yards and scored a touchdown. He had 245 total yards before being lost.

The Leopards lost another valuable back in the same game. Neal Searcy, against Burk Burnett, rushed for 149 yards, caught a 36-yard TD pass, and after being switched over to quarterback from wingback, threw a pair of touchdown passes.

But there are still five more backs on the Leopard roster, including sophomore sensation Paul Oatts, who had a 67-yard touchdown run among his six carries for 109 yards at Burk Burnett.

And last week, in their 29-28 loss to undefeated Allen, Oatts carried 24 times for 11 yards and two touchdowns, as well as being credited with making six tackles and covering a fumble.

The Leopards edged Dallas Hillcrest of Dist. 11-AAAA in their sea-

Six charged in gym thefts

Five juveniles and one adult have been charged by Iowa Park police with stealing money and other personal items from lockers of junior high school football players while the teams were playing Sept. 26.

The juveniles have all been turned over to the juvenile probation department, and David Wade Hodgkins, 18, was arrested Monday, taken before the justice of the peace, booked and placed in county jail under a $2,000 bond.

Value of the property was set at $359, and almost all the watches and other items, except the cash, have been recovered, according to Ray Smock of the police department.

Entry into the team dressing room at the junior high gymnasium was apparently through a window.

Donald Scott Owen, 25, was arrested at 11:09 a.m. Sunday at Ruby and Yosemite following a traffic stop, when he was observed carrying two juveniles, ages eight and 10, in the back of a pickup.

Owen was filed on for having no vehicle liability insurance, driving while license was suspended, and failure to identify - fugitive from justice.

The subject reportedly initially gave the officer a fictitious name, and it was later determined he was wanted by the sheriff's office on a warrant for driving while license was suspended.

Owen was transported at 1:32 p.m. to the county jail.

Arrested at 10:34 p.m. Thursday at Allsup's was Eric McDonald, 29, on a charge of disorderly conduct. He was released after posting bond.

Also arrested Saturday night on the access road near Pacific was Ronald Edward Patterson, 21. He was charged with public intoxication and disorderly conduct.

Police are still investigating a complaint received at 5:27 p.m. Friday that someone in one of two vehicles had thrown two gasoline-filled jugs into the street in the 1300 block of Mary Drive, setting fires.

Descriptions of the vehicles were a silver Volkswagen pickup and white Toyota sedan. No damage was reported.

Officers are still unsure whether a grass fire reported 20 minutes later on Coleman Park Road had anything to do with the Mary Drive incident.

CANDIDATES for Iowa Park High School homecoming queen this year are Jennifer Welch, lower left, and Shonna Weaver; Shea Slack, upper left, and K.K. Hickey. Coronation will be at 7:30 p.m. Friday, prior to the football game in Hawk Stadium.

Homecoming activities begin this afternoon

As former students enter the stadium area, they will be asked to register at a table. From that list, the annual coming home queen will be selected, and be recognized during the made at the game's halftime.

Prior to the 22nd annual Alumni and Ex-Student Homecoming Banquet in the high school cafeteria, a reception will be held in the foyer, starting at 5:30 p.m. Saturday.

The banquet, which will begin at 7, will have as its featured speaker Robert Dawson, son of the former high school principal.

Theme of this year's banquet is "Bright Spots in the Classes of '9," as special recognition this year will be given to classes that graduated in years ending in "9."

Tickets for the steak dinner, which will be prepared and served by the Iowa Park MuleSkinners, was $8 in advance, and will be $10 at the door.

Bank to feed community

It's not every community that has a bank wanting to feed everyone. But that's just what the State National Bank is planning to do Friday.

SNB has for several years held a reception in its lobby, with all kinds of refreshments, the same day of the Iowa Park High School homecoming football game.

But, according to President Jimmie Tate, chili and beans cooked by the MuleSkinners will be served to the general public from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. on the vacant lot across the street from the bank . . . at no charge!

MYSTERY CAR - Police still haven't heard from the driver, or owner, of this 1978 Pontiac that was involved in a one-vehicle accident just after midnight Friday night. A resident heard the crash, and police found the vehicle, on its wheels, in the ditch next to U.S. 287, unoccupied. The driver had lost control while traveling east on the access road at Third Street. It struck the guard rail and vaulted over it. Police and emergency workers immediately scanned the area, looking for someone they presumed was injured, but were unsuccessful. Police found four unopened bottles of beer, apparently spilled out of a cooler in the back seat, and a small amount of what appeared to be marijuana in a plastic bag. The vehicle is registered to a Karen Peplinski, 1035 Harlan, Wichita Falls. No report of it having been stolen had been filed by Wednesday. But no one has contacted the police, nor Sam's Body Shop which picked up the pieces.

As I See It... By BOB HAMILTON

This being the 20th anniversary of Iowa Park's first state championship in football, I'm somewhat disappointed that a reunion of that outstanding group of men was not arranged for homecoming Friday.

It would have been appropriate. But while the memories of that glorious fall are still reasonably fresh, I realize there are a wealth of people living here now who didn't follow the '69 Hawks on their path to glory.

Let me tell you some about the team, and it was a team.

They started off by kicking the stuffing out of Burkburnett, 44-7, and Decatur, 34-7, before a squeaker here with Hirschi.

The Huskies were well inside the Hawks' five yard line and apparently were going to score, when a jarring tackle shook the ball loose and a Hawk covered it, all with less than 30 seconds remaining in the game.

Obviously, the Hawks, who went undefeated that season, won. The final outcome was Iowa Park 21, Hirschi 14.

Close? Exciting? It sure was! So much so, that a Hirschi fan died of a heart attack in the stands, just about the time the final buzzer sounded.

We laid claim to being the overall high school state champions that season, because Hirschi was the only team to beat the Coyotes of Wichita Falls High, which won the big school championship that same year.

Then, the Hawks wiped out Wellington 68-6, Seymour 53-7, Electra 41-0, Memphis 80-8, Childress 41-14, Quanah 63-0, and wound up the regular schedule on a bitterly-cold night at Shamrock, 31-6.

By the way, Childress coach Charley Johnson has never agreed to play Iowa Park in a non-conference game since that season.

The Hawks humbled Dalhart 61-16 for bi-district and Floydada 35-6 for region.

That's only when those games that year was on another cold night, at Lubbock, when they met Reagan County in the quarterfinals. The score was 7-7. The Hawks were behind in the statistics and had lost starting quarterback Jim Clapp with a concussion.

Then, junior tailback Jeff McDonald was called to run an end sweep around the left side. Every player on the field converged about the left end position, it seemed, but no one was on the ground and the whistle hadn't blown.

All of a sudden, the smallest player, McDonald, burst out of the 22-player cluster and dashed more than 50 yards to score, and the Hawks advanced to the semi-finals with a 14-7 victory.

Their next-to-last game of the season was played on the field at Midwestern State Univ., against Jacksboro, which was then coached by Dan Owens, now superintendent of Holiday schools.

Owens' team had just earned him his 100th career victory by defeating Gladewater 9-7.

As usual, it attracted a standing room only crowd. And, also as usual, the Hawks won -- 21-0.

Then, the state championship was set up with Houston Klein, a team which also had walked across all comers and, according to all the big-town experts, were just too much for little ole Iowa Park. They had players who allegedly could start as freshmen the following season for any Southwest Conference school.

It was played in the University of Arlington stadium, and it was so foggy that punts disappeared. Even the fans in the stands could hardly make out what was taking place on the field, and certainly couldn't see those in the upper seats on the opposite side.

Well, obviously, Iowa Park won and handily, 31-14.

If you've not been doing your addition, the Hawks outscored their opponents in those 15 games, 638-112.

Like I said, it would be most fitting to have the team's members here for this particular weekend.

Besides the 20th anniversary, the Hawks are going into Friday's game with a perfect, 4-0 record.

City, School meetings set

The city council will be asked to authorize for bids on four new vehicles and school trustees will hear a report concerning the state supreme court's ruling on state funding of public education, when the two groups meet next week.

Aldermen will meet at 7 p.m. Monday in council chambers, and the school board will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the administration building.

Administrator James Barrington will ask council permission to advertise for bids to purchase two new patrol cars for the police department, as well as two pickups.

The council also will discuss alternate proposals for garbage collection rates, primarily those concerning commercial areas.

An ordinance authorizing a new stop sign on West Texas at First Street will be considered.

The council at its last meeting voted to put a stop sign at the intersection, but law requires all such signs to be supported by ordinance.

Aldermen will also consider a proposal to accept the recently-completed paving of the 600 and 700 blocks of West Texas, and make final payment to the contractor.

Supt. Glen Mitchell is to tell the school trustees information he has learned concerning the state's highest court ruling, handed down Tuesday, which ruled the present method of financing public schools is unconstitutional.

Also on the meeting agenda are:

- * administer oath of office to Keith Fisher, who has been appointed to fulfill the unexpired term of Gary Fielding on the board;
- * approve committee appointments for the school year;
- * consider new applications for student transfers;
- * hear a report on the recent convention of school board members and school administrators.

Hawks

son opener, 6-3, and then defeated Springtown 39-7.

The Hawks' scouting report on Gainesville says they are "...another good football team. They are not as big as they have been in the past. They are fast. They have speed at all skill positions."

Only the Leopard coaches know exactly how big the players are, however. Gainesville doesn't list player weights on the programs.

The Hawks got a two-year starter back on the field last week, but at the same time, lost another second-year starter.

Gary Green had missed two games with a severely sprained ankle, but saw considerable action in the Hawks' 21-13 win over Mineral Wells.

But, late in the third quarter, Jay Loggins hobbled off the field, and was later diagnosed as having a bad knee injury.

Loggins, one of the team captains, was to undergo surgery Tuesday afternoon to determine the extent of damage and make repairs.

Another player, Joey Boyd, who plays on the junior varsity team but saw varsity action at Abilene Wylie, also is to undergo knee surgery this week after being injured Thursday at Mineral Wells.

Sophomore Mike Brewer, who has been starting at a safety position on the varsity, also an unlikely to suit out against Gainesville. He was said to have sustained an elbow injury against the Rams.

Three other starters were questionable as to whether they would be able to play Friday, according to Len Williams, head coach.

Quarterback Jimmy Duggins had a severe sprain on one of his ankles Friday. Monday and Tuesday, Williams was working out split end Bruce Palmer at that position.

Palmer was pressed into action because backup signal caller Brian Luney, who didn't suit out Friday, is still recovering from an ankle injury and is also questionable tomorrow. Luney is also a defensive secondary starter.

Should Duggins and Luney not be able to play tomorrow, Don McIlroy, recently moved up from the junior varsity, will back up Palmer at quarterback.

The jury was still out Tuesday on the Hawks' fastest player, David Slack.

The senior tailback, who before receiving bruised ribs in the Breckenridge game, had carried 29 times for 242 yards, but was in civilian clothes along with Luney on the sidelines last week.

Coach Williams had fitted him with a protective vest this week, to test if Slack could play again.

Worth Quoting

Did'ja hear about the woman motorist who was trying to navigate a traffic jam?

She rammed the car in front of her, then tried to back up and knocked down a pedestrian. Then she tried to move over to the curb and smacked into a fire hydrant.

A policeman came up. "Okay, lady, let's see your driver's license," he demanded.

"Don't be silly," she groaned. "Who'd give me a license?"

JAMES ROBERTS
Andrews County News

I read once about a newspaper editor who wrote a sizzling editorial lambasting the town council.

He concluded his tirade with "Half of the town council members are crooks!"

Taking much offense to the writings, the town council members demanded a retraction.

The editor agreed and wrote in the following issue, "We're sorry for the error, half of the town council members are not crooks!"

Crawford honored on 80th birthday

The children of W.T. "Sonny" Crawford were hosts for a surprise birthday party honoring their father on his 80th birthday, held Saturday evening at the Mansion in Wichita Falls.

His eight children and their spouses are Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. W.T. "Dub" Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nolen, Cecilia Miley, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Pond, Mr. and Mrs. David Styles and Clyde Crawford.

Larry Pond was master of ceremonies for a tribute, "Highlights of your Past," when each child told of an incident from the past. Crawford was then presented with a photo album containing pictures of important events of his life.

The party also honored Crawford's wife of 62 years, Nannie Ethel Crawford.

Mr. Crawford was born Oct. 3, 1909 in Iowa Park. He moved to Fort Worth, then to Abilene, where he met his future wife. They were married Nov. 19, 1927. They have been residents of Iowa Park 46 years.

He is retired from Crawford Decorating and Drywall, which he founded.

He was also honored Saturday morning at First Seventh-Day Adventist Church by Cyril Miller, president of the Southwest Union Seventh-Day Adventist Conference. Crawford has been a member of the church 46 years and is head elder.

All 49 of Crawford's children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren attended the service.

But we as Catholics have indeed found something very special and we would like to share our Church, our Faith, our Way of Life with you. Cook of the Week

Mrs. Mike Walsh

Those who know Carla Walsh as an accomplished hair stylist at Tangles Salon may not realize that she is also a talented seamstress, and has a working knowledge of horses.

Prior to working for Tangles, Mrs. Walsh sewed for the public, making clothing, drapes and other items. She made the first uniforms for the Little League Football Drill Team, of which her daughter, Lisa, now 13 year old, was a member. She learned the art of sewing from her mother, who also taught her to cook.

Carla and her husband, Mike, lived in Kamay 10 years on a ranch where they bred and raised race horses. Now living near Iowa Park, the couple still raise quarter horses. Mike is employed as assistant manager at Bealls Dept. Store.

Carla's other interests include various crafts. She and her husband enjoy horseback riding and rodeos. The family are members of Faith Baptist Church.

HEALTH NEWS

CHECKING YOUR CHOPPERS - Taking care of your teeth (even if they are not your originals) can extend their usefulness. Brushing and soaking dentures every night and rinsing and brushing them again in the morning will help to cut down on plaque, which could cause sores, infection, or pain. The need for adhesives actually may signal the need for refitting at the dentist, and relining and repairs should be left to the professional, not do-it-yourself kits.

EASING INTO EXERCISE - For those are looking for fitness without nearly dying in the attempt, yoga could be the answer. This is a particularly good exercise for people with arthritis, who might limit the movement of their sore joints and, thus, exacerbate the condition. The slow, easy stretching involved in yoga not only is an excellent way to increase body flexibility, but it can lower blood pressure, reduce stress, and increase mental concentration.

MAMMOGRAMS AT 40 - Eleven professional medical organizations have insured guidelines on mammography screening that include the recommendation that women get baseline mammograms by the time they are 40 years old. In an attempt to find breast cancer at the earliest possible stage, when it is the most treatable, they further recommend annual clinical examinations with mammography every one to two years up to the age of 50 and both examinations and mammography annually after that.

The Trane XL 80 Gas Furnace.

Winter is coming, and there is no wiser gift you could give your family than the Trane XL 80 gas furnace. Old, inefficient gas furnaces often waste much of their heat up the chimney. The XL 80 gas furnace with AFUE's up to 81% can help you control your heating bills all winter.

Plus the XL 80 gas furnace features an energy saving hot surface ignitor (not an old fashioned pilot light), and a multi-speed blower which quietly circulates warm air.

Call us today to find out why an XL 80 gas furnace is a sensible housewarming gift for you.

Hawks shear Rams, 21-13

Iowa Park effectively combined ball control and tenacious defense to beat Mineral Wells, 21-13, before a delighted near-capacity crowd Friday night in Hawk Stadium.

The Hawks extended their season record to 4-0 by executing 70 offensive plays, of which Matthew Blackman carried 40 times and caught two passes, to the Rams' 48. Blackman finished the game with 179 yards rushing and tacked on 17 more on pass receptions.

Meanwhile the hard-hitting Mean Green defense claimed five turnovers, two fumbles covered by Chuck Brown and the others by Mike Dungan and Michael Arredondo, and an interception by Jimmy Nicholson.

So effective was the defense that the Rams' quarterback, John Ruelas, a third-year starter who last season completed 88 of 176 passes for 1,137 and came into Friday's contest with 24 completions out of 44 attempts, was held to only six of 18 for 87 yards.

The Hawks scored twice in the first half, including the first time they had their hands on the ball. Starting from their own 39 yard line, the Hawks called on Blackman to carry eight times and catch a 10-yard pass, with one carry by Marc Cruz mixed into the series, before sending Blackman over right guard the final two yards to score.

Blackman scored again with 56 seconds remaining in the second quarter, this time on a five-yard plunge. The drive was set up by Nicholson's interception on the Hawk 18.

Mineral Wells, on that series, had driven to the Iowa Park four yard line where, on third down, the Rams were penalized five yards on a motion penalty, and then lost nine yards when Chuck Brown and Kelly McClure broke through the line of blockers and pounced on the carrier.

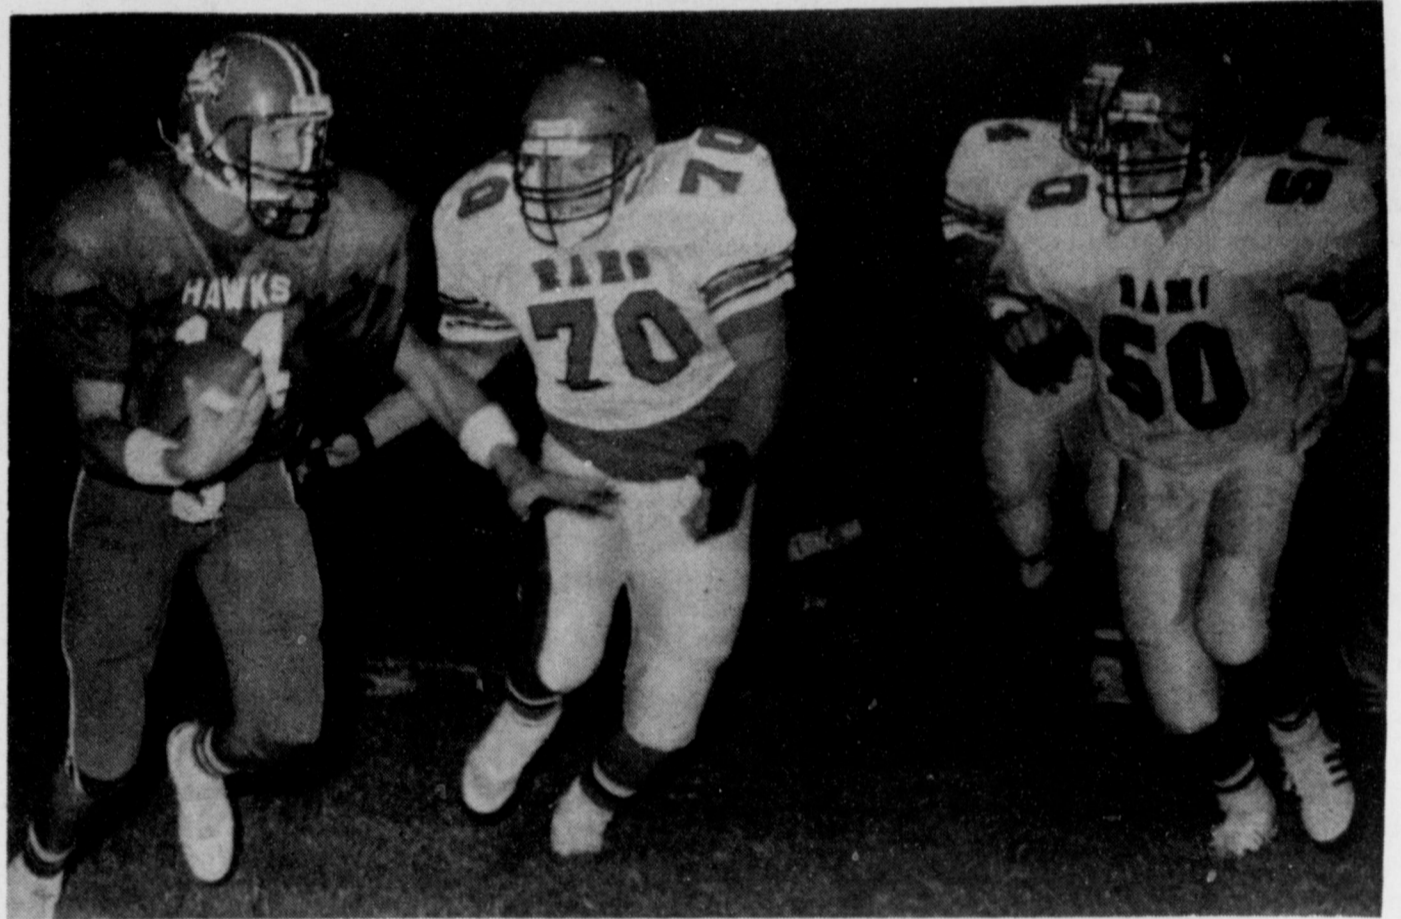

Possession of the ball would change hands five more times before the teams went to the dressing rooms at halftime.

McClure grounded his kickoff following the last Iowa Park TD, bouncing it off a Ram lineman, which Arredondo covered on the 50 yard line. Three plays later, a pass from Jimmy Duggins bounced out of Bruce Palmer's hands and was caught by a Mineral Wells player, who returned it to the Hawk 25. Three plays later, with six ticks remaining on the clock, the Rams attempted a 42-yard field goal, which fell short. And Palmer took the snap from center to kill the remaining time.

It didn't take long for the margin in the score to be narrowed, once the teams returned to play the second half. In fact, only 32 seconds and four plays, as the Rams scored on a 40-yard run and kicked the extra point.

The two teams exchanged possession twice before Duggins punted to the Ram 23 yard line. On the second play, Brown claimed his second fumble at the visitors' 30. Five plays later, Blackman bulldozed his way over from about the one-inch line. Cruz had almost scored on the previous play, carrying 15 yards around end.

Mineral Wells caused tension in the stands during the last four minutes of the contest, by scoring on an 84-yard drive with 1:26 left on the clock on an 11-yard pass play. But a pass attempt for two points failed. And had the Hawks not been able to pick up a first down after the following kickoff, on a drive that started from their own 12, the Rams were still a threat to pull the game out of the fire.

JIMMY DUGGINS PICKS UP YARDS

But two carries by Blackman, sandwiching a six-yarder by Duggins, who was limping badly with a twisted ankle, ate up both Mineral Wells' remaining times out, as well as time on the clock.

The Rams had threatened to score early in the final period. They had returned the Hawk kickoff near the end of the third quarter to the Mineral Wells 42. The drive, with the help of an unusual 15-yard penalty against the Hawk coaching staff for being in the way of the line official, advanced to the Hawk 27. On fourth down and needing one yard for a first, Chuck Brown and Robert Cargal set the runner back for a two-yard loss, and the Hawks took over the ball.

Two key Hawk backs were not suited out for the game: David Slack with a rib injury, and Brian Luney, a sprained ankle.

Cruz carried nine times for the Hawks, and gained 25 yards. Duggins picked up 26 yards on five carries; Nicholson two for five, Palmer (who took over quarterback to relieve Duggins because Luney is the backup signal caller) gained seven yards on three carries, and Bunkie Imboden one for two yards.

Palmer snagged two passes for 24 yards, while tight end Stephen Brown caught one for eight.

Because of turnovers and stalled drives, there were only three punts in the entire game: two by the Hawks and one by the Rams.

Kidwell improvements explained

Projected cost of improvements at Kidwell Elementary has been set at $419,000.

One of the major expenditures is for a project which has been discussed more than 10 years by the local school trustees: a physical education structure that can double as a shelter for students in case of a tornado or extremely dangerous storm.

The structure, along with a music room, library, office and storage space is projected to cost $314,000.

Trustees have long recognized the fact that the Kidwell building has more exterior glass than any other structure in the district, and the hallways are simply not enough protection in case of a dangerous storm.

The PE building is designed to withstand a direct strike by a tornado funnel, once a dirt berm is completed around its exterior, as is the design of the similar structure erected a few years ago at the Bradford campus.

But the space would be utilized as a recreation and exercise area for students when the weather does not permit students to utilize the playground. A classroom is now being used for that purpose, which would be freed for instructional usage when the PE building is completed.

Student comfort also would be improved with the renovation funds, primarily by enclosing the covered walkway that extends the full width of the building's front.

Students, during cold or blowing rain periods, must wear coats just to reach the school cafeteria. Enclosing the walkway would create a comfortable corridor.

Cost of enclosing that area is estimated at $40,000.

The music and library rooms also would free space currently used, and allow for the projected growth of enrollment.

The campus currently has 479 students. Enrollment has grown steadily from 425 in 1985-86 to 469 in 1986-87 to a high of 485 in 1987-88. It decreased to 478 last year, but projections are for that number to rise to at least 490 over the next five years.

Without more current census figures than every 10 years, when it is done by the federal government, school officials have only previous-year figures on which to base their estimations. This is unlike projecting enrollments at the other campuses, where in-school attendance is known.

The district constructed, out of existing funds, four classrooms and two rest rooms on the south wing a few years ago, hoping that would take care of the building's space needs. However, their estimations of enrollment fell short, and space is already a major problem.

"Lack of space," points out Ron Woods, school principal, is a major need of the facility. "The proposed addition will give us a work room for the teachers, a volunteer work room, and additional office space for the secretary.

A portion of the present entry area would be taken in for the secretary's office, as well as the teacher workroom. At present, the secretary's office walls are lined with stacks of boxes and papers, allowing only for a walk area.

The same is true for the principal's office. Even the hallways are lined with boxes, but more importantly with movable stands for projectors and other visual aid equipment which has no secured storage.

This is the first of six articles designed to explain the purpose of the $2.75-million bond election the Iowa Park Consolidated Independent School District's Board of Trustees has called for Nov. 14. Next week's article will be on the Bradford Elementary campus.

"The addition will open up three classrooms (PE, library and music) so we may have a second grade classroom, a computer laboratory and a speech room," Woods said.

The speech room currently is a sectioned-off portion of a room used for Early Childhood and Gifted and Talented classes, both of which are half-day classes. Speech room capacity is currently four students and teacher.

The state, with the passage of House Bill 72, has mandated no class from kindergarten through fourth grade can have more than 22 students in it.

Should the state later mandate that all kindergarten classes be held full-day -- it's now optional to districts -- rather than half-day, more classrooms would be required.

As of Monday, there were 150 students enrolled in kindergarten, 169 in the first grade, 148 in second grade and 12 in Severe and Physically Handicapped and Early Childhood classes.

Completing a list of expenses in the projected $419,000 project are: $11,000 for expanded office space and work room; $20,000 for furniture and gymnasium equipment, and $34,000 to remove some asbestos, add a cover over the walkway from the parking lot and a new ceiling over the present walkway.

Graduate teaching students benefits of 'just saying no'

An Iowa Park High School graduate is taking on a sideline to his work as a lawman, teaching.

But he's not instructing the skills of being a lawman, rather the benefits of staying away from drugs and alcohol.

Sgt. Danny Sargent, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Sargent of Iowa Park, is a security policeman with the Military Air Command at Scott AFB near Freeburg, Ill.

Freeburg Elementary School is one of four school districts in St. Clair County which has been selected to operate "Project D.A.R.E." and is sponsored jointly by the Illinois State Police, Illinois Board of Education and Dept. of Alcoholism and Substance Abuse.

Project D.A.R.E., according to an article in the Sept. 21 issue of The Freeburg Tribune, is to "help students recognize and resist the many subtle pressures that influence them to experiment with alcohol and marijuana. In addition, program strategies are planned to focus on feeling and relating to self-esteem, interpersonal and communication skills, decision making, and positive alternatives to drug abuse behavior."

Scott AFB is loaning to the school the services of Sgt. Sargent, who will teach sixth graders once a week for 17 weeks at the Carl L. Barton School.

He will talk about the different types of drugs and their effects and consequences, while covering resisting pressures to use drugs, building self esteem, assertiveness, managing stress without taking drugs, decision making, alternatives, support systems, intimidation and peer pressure.

"Sargent will also speak to other classes of other grades," the article said. "In addition, he will meet with teachers in the lounge and children in the cafeteria and on the playground. Already, Sgt. Sargent is quite popular with the students as he eats lunch with them and joins them in play at recess."

D.A.R.E. was founded in 1983 as a cooperative effort between the Los Angeles Unified School District and Los Angeles Police Dept. The program has reached three-million students in grades five and six and this year will be taught in 50,000 classrooms in all 50 states.

Dr. Clarence Haege, superintendent of Freeburg schools, said, "In no way do we suspect a drug or alcohol problem in our school, but we must do all that we can in order to prevent any problem developing. This is the goal of D.A.R.E. We believe that our school is fortunate to have Sgt. Danny Sargent and the D.A.R.E. Program in our school."

Behind the good blocking of line-men Toby Catlin, Tommy Duerson, Mike Noel and Brandon McLemore, the Hawks had 138 net yards rushing.

Brandon Brown scored two touchdowns and Mike Swenson two extra points.

Outstanding defensively were Richard McCann, Brad Green, Justin Terry, Jeremy Tatom and Chad Wright, who had an interception.

Eight year olds playing well are Ross and Johnny Dillard, Toby Williams, Brian Miller and James Gibson.

The first meeting of the Iowa Park 4-H Club was held Sept. 15, at the Tax Office. Plans were made for the Whoop-T-Do booth and for a float for the Homecoming Parade.

New members were welcomed, committees formed for various projects, and social activities planned for the upcoming year.

A program was presented by Kent Kyle concerning parliamentary procedure.

The next meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m., Oct. 11, at the Tax Office in Iowa Park.

National 4-H Week is Oct. 8 to 14. Anyone nine to 19 years old is eligible to join 4-H, and may do so by contacting a local 4-H club or the County Extension Office, 766-0131.

4-H provides training in achievement, agriculture, breed, citizenship, consumer education, family life, animals, food and fashion.

Telephones can be dangerous during electrical storms

It's thunderstorm season again in Texas. Telephone customers may have heard tall tales about the dangers of using the phone during a storm, but Dan Adams, area manager of Southwestern Bell Telephone gives some works of advice.

"We recommend that customers avoid using the telephone during electrical storms," said Adams. "We use protective measures to limit electrical surges entering your home, but absolute protection from lightning is impossible."

The company used a variety of techniques to protect phone users from electric and acoustic shock. Since Southwestern Bell Telephone does not sell customer premises equipment, protective measures are limited to the local network.

Central offices and telephone lines exposed to lightning are equipped with protective devices designed to conduct excessive current harmlessly to the ground, according to Adams.

However, when lightning strikes, extremely high energy and voltage is unleashed, making it virtually impossible in the event of a nearby lightning strike to ensure complete protection from this powerful natural phenomenon.

"We use insulating materials in telephone wires and a grounder shield surrounds the outside cables. The interface connecting outside wiring to a customer's inside wiring also is grounded to prevent an electrical surge into the customer's premise," said Adams. "The bonding of the telephone ground, power system ground and metallic materials in the home, such as pipes, help prevent the build-up of voltage between any two of them."

As a general rule, electrical parts of a telephone are wrapped in insulation to eliminate obvious shock hazards, explains Adams. A phone, as a low-voltage, low-current device, is no way comparable in hazard risk to home appliances operating on household current.

"Southwestern Bell Telephone has no record of recent claims (withing the past 10 years) involving electrical shock during a thunderstorm" Adams said. Such claims are very rare.

JV has good stat game

By BRUCE PALMER

The Hawk Junior Varsity played their best statistical game of the year Thursday night, but came up six points shy of a win.

Johnny Duggins started Iowa Park scoring by capping off a 40-yard drive with a three-yard plunge.

The extra point attempt failed, and the Hawks went to the locker room at halftime tied 6-6.

As the second half got underway, Mineral Wells scored, taking advantage of a Hawk turnover on the Iowa Park 30 yard line. The PAT failed, making the score 12-6 in favor of the hosts.

The Rams were forced to punt in the fourth period. Greg Steger returned the ball 50 yards for a touchdown.

Robert Denton scored a two-point conversion, but the play was called back on a penalty.

Their second attempt also failed, due to a fumble, but the score was tied at 12-12.

Iowa Park threatened to score again with seven minutes remaining, but disaster struck again in the form of a fumble on the opponents' 40.

The Rams then completed two passes, with the second scoring, making the score 18-12.

Iowa Park mounted a last-second drive, but that one also ended on the Ram 28 with a fumble.

The Jayvees travel to Gainesville tonight, where the game is to start at 7:30.

Eighth 'A' is winner

Iowa Park Junior High's Eighth Grade "A" team prevented a four-game sweep by Vernon Tuesday night.

The Eighth "A", playing at Vernon, edged their hosts 22-20, after Vernon won the Eighth "B" contest 22-6.

Meanwhile, playing in Iowa Park, Vernon shut out both the "A" and "B" Seventh teams, 24-0 and 18-0, respectively.

Scott Byrd scored touchdowns on runs of six and two yards for the Eighth "A", as well as running in a two-point conversion.

B.J. Murray scored the other TD for Iowa Park, taking a pass from Tony Lozipone. The play covered 42 yards.

Defensively, Chris Eaves, Michael Seigler, Jason Maxwell, David Hollis and Chris Lee were singled out for recognition.

WORTH QUOTING

Sometimes newspaper types are accused of having more guts than brains. If your wife hasn't suggested this recently, she probably will.

The publisher of a daily in Scurry County recently decided that the price of a single copy should be standardized. The Exxon oil spill provided the courage to increase to 50 cents, six days a week.

Every time there was a gripe, we simply blamed it on the Exxon oil spill. Because of the dead fish, we logically concluded that there would be a shortage of fish oil.

Since fish oil is a basic ingredient of hypertension medicine, we had to go up on the cost of the newspaper -- since newspaper types survive on large doses of hypertension pills.

Thanks Exxon.....

Miscue dooms freshmen

By BRUCE PALMER

A mishandled punt gave the Mineral Wells Rams the opening they needed to slip past Iowa Park's Freshman team Thursday.

The Rams scored on their first possession. However the Hawks stopped the extra point.

Five plays later, Chris Williams broke through the line on a 40-yard touchdown run, and Micheal Smith added the extra point to give Iowa Park a 7-6 lead.

The Hawks held the Rams, then three plays later Mark De la Rosa made a 45-yard run to the end zone. Smith's kick was good for a 15-6 lead.

Mineral Wells added seven more before halftime, as the Hawks went to the locker room with a one-point lead.

In the second half the Hawks posted the first score when De la Rosa scored from the two, and Smith made the score 21-13 with his third straight PAT.

With six minutes remaining in the game, Mineral Wells, still down by one point, was forced to punt. The catch was bobbled and the Rams covered the loose ball to begin their scoring drive.

Cheerleaders' Point of View

The Hawks came through with another victory. The score was 21 to 13. This week we will be hosting Gainesville for Homecoming. The cheerleaders are asking that Hawk fans decorate their front doors, cars, mail boxes, etc. Friday will be "Mum Day" at the high school. All students and teachers are asked to be silent during the day until the mini pep rally at the end of the day. Get involved in Homecoming activities and support the Hawks.
