Trustees won't change attendance incentives

Iowa Park schools will continue offering incentives for students to achieve perfect attendance during October of this year, despite a request that the program stop or be changed.

The school board heard an appeal from Gary Fielding, who resigned his seat as trustee a month ago, and Mrs. Fielding to change the program, claiming it discriminates against students who have an excused absence.

The couple pointed out that their daughter, a student at Bradford Elementary, suffers from asthma and is unable to attend school from time to time.

Because of the attacks, the girl is not allowed to attend a part of a period each week when those who have not missed school are treated to a "Coke party."

Students who are absent must remain in their classroom for about 20 minutes of the period, it was explained.

Fielding said he was aware of the incentive program while he was on the school board, but was unaware that students who had been absent were "discriminated" against, as had been explained.

The schools receive $80.30 for each day a student is present during the month of October, a rate established by the state for funding public schools on an average daily attendance basis.

Trustee Wendell House told the Fieldings the local schools have gained approximately $10,000 in funding since offering the incentives for students to attend during the test month.

"The state doesn't allow us to recognize them (students) as being in attendance if they miss with an excused absence," he said.

Mrs. Fielding said she believes children should be taught good attendance, but proposed the students be rewarded on the basis of perfect attendance or for having an excused absence at all parties and to be eligible for prizes.

John Sibley, another board member and long-time school administrator, told the couple he felt the state had created a bad situation when the basis for funding was on average daily attendance, rather than on the number of teachers required to educate the children.

"It shouldn't be the October thing. It should be all year," Sibley added.

Supt. Glen Mitchell, who said before the Fieldings began their appeal, he was solely responsible for all programs developed as incentives for students to be in classes during October, said the program was not intended to penalize anyone.

In response to Mrs. Fielding's assertion that students are encouraged to attend school even when they are not well, Trustee Sheri Kennedy said Bradford Principal Kenneth Davis is known to send students home who should not be there.

Davis was not at the meeting because of illness himself, but Kidwell Principal Ron Woods explained it was the practice of all principals to dismiss students who should not be in class because of illness.

But, Woods added, sometimes some parents do not make the effort to get their children to school every day, and pointed out that he had gone to homes and transported such students in the past, because the children wanted to attend.

Indicating the program was already underway this month, Mitchell said he would try to work out a program the couple would feel acceptable and put into action next year.

To that, Fielding said, as he was rising from the conference table, "If it's not right next year, it's not this year."

No action could have been taken by the board on the couple's request, even if the board had wanted, because such action was not on the official meeting agenda.

Prior to the discussion, Keith

Fisher was administered the oath of office. He was appointed to fulfill the unexpired term on the board, created by Fielding's resignation.

Enrollment Oct. 10 was down 17 students from the Oct. 13, 1988 figure, Supt. Mitchell reported.

There are 480 enrolled at Kidwell Elementary, 468 at Bradford Elementary, 410 at junior high and 513 at high school.

The latter two campuses both reported fewer students than last year, contributing to the decrease. Junior high dropped from 422 to 410 and high school from 540 to 513.

Two school bus drivers were recognized for their safety records. Dave Bridges for 80,000 miles of safe driving, and Sharon Fulfer for eight years and over 120,000 miles.

The board approved appointments to committees, a student transfer and changes in board policies, as well as the tax report and the 1989

HUGE CROWD ARRIVED EARLY SATURDAY FOR START OF WHOOP-T-DO ... listens to concert by Mean Green Marching Band.

Weekend big success!

No one has disputed the claims of several that more people attended this year's Whoop-T-Do than at any time in the previous 17 years.

Perfect weather, the attraction to ex-students' to Homecoming '89, and loads of activities were credited with the extra large turnout.

The activities started Thursday evening with the traditional bonfire, followed by the parade and football game Friday, Whoop-T-Do all day Saturday, and climaxing with the annual Ex-Students' Association banquet that evening.

The parade was one of the longest in many years, and some observers commented more candy was distributed by float riders than will be handed out on Halloween night.

Winners of the float contest were: School - FFA, first, High School and Junior High Student Council, second, and Spirit Team, third; City - Lakeview Church of God, first, Iowa Park Church of God, second, and Camp Fire, third.

Two queens were recognized at Friday's game between Iowa Park and Gainesville. Prior to the game, Jennifer Welch was crowned Homecoming Queen. Then, at halftime, the Ex-Students Association recognized Darla Daugherty Bradberry as "Coming Home Queen."

WHOOP-T-DO

First winner Saturday was Joey Gathier, eight, who had the winning entry in the largest Turtle Trot ever held here. Two heats had to be run before Gathier's winner was determined in a runoff.

People's Choice winners in the annual Iowa Park Arts and Crafts Show included: Acrylics - Tammie Taylor Pastels - Bob Orr Oil Painting - Jack Railsback Watercolor - Helen Reed Dolls and Toys - Dottie Jeter Ceramics - Adell Marlar Decorative Arts - Gail McLlroy Needlework - Dianna Britt Porcelain - Dorothy Lowrey

All three organizations selling food during the day, MuleSkinners, Knights of Columbus and Iowa Park Lions Club, reported selling out of their products well before the day ended.

A painting on which noted area western artist Jack Stevens worked all day at the Chamber of Commerce was auctioned off at the end of the day, with the proceeds being donated to the Chamber.

Tommy Key, representing Texas Realty, was the winning bidder.

BANQUET

W.F. George High graduating Class of 1939 had the largest group at Saturday's Ex-Students' banquet, with 16 members. Close behind was the Class of '49, with 15.

Gene Jackson traveled from New York to receive recognition as the member traveling the farthest.

Youngest graduate was Lisa Schulz Ezzell, and Ruth Reaves was the oldest ex student.

Leota Weseman, Class of '23, received the State National Bank's savings bond prize.

Speaker Robert Dawson gave the dinner speech, recognizing teachers and what they had meant to him.

Entertainment was provided by Dave Bridgers and the school's jazz band.

During the business meeting, new officers were elected. They were: Ladell Trimm Jordan, president; Joni Whitis, first vice president; Lisa Schulz Ezzell, second vice president; Patsy Cope, treasurer; Bonnie Medlinger, corresponding secretary; Lela Mercer, recording secretary, and Denise Henderson, reporter.

Hawks host Bowie in district opener

The Hawks are now to the point they've been aiming the past nine weeks: District 5-AAA competition.

Iowa Park hosts Bowie at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Hawk Stadium.

All the two-a-days, scrimmages and non-conference games have been leading up to the next five Fridays, with hopes of advancing further into the state playoffs.

The Hawks, though losing their first game of the season last week to state-ranked Gainesville by a scant six points, will possibly be better off physically than they've been for any tilt so far.

Except for more taped ankles than they started the year, every player was fit and ready early this week, with the exception of starter-captain Jay Loggins, who is out for the season following knee surgery.

As if they needed more incentive to be ready for the Bowie game, the Hawks have been reminded several times through the week that they lost to the Jackrabbits last year...for the first time ever.

Since they began playing each other in 1970, the Hawks had shut out the Rabbits six times, with the two widest margins being 66-0 in 1987 and 70-0 in 1970. The closest the Hares had ever been in the scoring was in 1983, when they pulled to within 21-12.

But Hawk fans, and players, are still smarting about the Jackrabbits winning 26-21 last year. That was salt to the Hawks' wound in a season when they went 1-9.

Bowie comes into the game with an impressive season record of 3-2, but all the Rabbits' games have been against AA schools.

They lost their season-opener to powerful Electra 14-0, but rebounded to defeat a surprisingly-strong Jacksboro club 12-7 the following week.

After falling 27-10 to Holliday, Bowie has shut out their last two opponents: Henrietta 14-0 and Olney 26-0.

Trace Morris, though a sophomore, is rated the team's best runner by Iowa Park scouts. He carried 20 times for 61 yards against Electra; 21 for 118 in the Jacksboro game; 16 for 33 against Holliday, and against Olney he gained 133 yards on 19 carries.

The Jackrabbits found success in their passing game against Olney, completing five of eight attempts for 132 yards and two touchdowns.

Chris Walsh, who is carried on the roster as a tight end, figured in on three of Bowie's touchdowns against the Cubs. He ran for one, caught a 37-yard pass from wingback Kenny Boner, and threw a pass to quarterback Danny Dorman, that covered 16 yards, for the other.

Those three touchdown plays indicate how much Bowie counts on deception and trick plays.

Bowie's game with Jacksboro might sound like it was close, with a 12-7 point spread. But Jacksboro made it look that way by returning the game's opening kickoff 85 yards for the Tigers' only trip into the end zone.

One of Bowie's touchdowns in the Jacksboro game was set up by a 46-yard pass, caught by wide receiver Jess Swint.

Punting has been a problem for Bowie throughout the young season. In the Electra game, for instance, the Rabbits were deep in their own territory and forced to punt. The ball went straight up in the air and back down, where an alert Tiger lineman snatched it up and ran 35 yards for a touchdown.

After suffering five turnovers, two pass interceptions and three fumbles

Owner finds wrecked car from article in Leader

The owner of a vehicle found wrecked Sept. 30 on the side of U.S. 287 said the car was stolen.

A woman identifying herself as Karen Peplinski of Wichita Falls called the Leader office Monday, and said her first knowledge that her car had been found was when a friend had taken her a copy of last week's edition.

She stated she had last seen her car about 9 p.m. Sept. 29, before she went to bed, and it was not there the next morning.

She said she immediately reported the missing vehicle to Wichita Falls police, but had not heard from that department nor Iowa Park's that the car had been located.

She said she had purchased the car in June, and had no insurance other than liability.

Concerning unopened beer bottles and a small amount of substance believed to be marijuana found in and around the wrecked vehicle, the caller said she hated drugs, and in fact worked as a volunteer in drug abuse programs.

She admitted having left her keys in the car before retiring.

STOP SIGNS

City to study need

The city council Monday night delayed action on a proposed stop sign on West Texas, changed dates municipal court will be held, and discussed the possible sale of the old overhead water tower behind city hall.

Opposition to an ordinance that would create a four-way stop at the intersection of West Texas and First Street was voiced by Charley Strickland, who lives at 617 West Texas.

Recognizing a petition of other residents of the street had been presented to the council at its last meeting, requesting the stop signs, Strickland questioned the majority of the residents felt the same way.

He also asked if the council felt the stop signs were in the best interest of the entire community.

Leader publisher Bob Hamilton, who wrote in his column the previous week opposition to the idea, encouraged the council to "at least put as much study into placing stop signs there as it did when signs were approved on Rebecca."

Petitioners had expressed fear that the newly-paved portion of the street would encourage speeding traffic, causing a danger.

A motion by Alderman Bud Burch to adopt the ordinance required to place the sign at the intersection was offered, and seconded by Alderman Diane Robnett. It failed, however, with Aldermen Bud Mercer, Johnny Coker and Virgil Woodfin voting against it.

Mercer then moved that the subject be tabled, to allow a study of traffic at each intersection of West Texas between Pacific and Third Street. The motion passed 4-0, with Robnett abstaining.

Strickland told the council, "If the study supports (placing of the stop sign), I'm all for it."

A resolution accepting the two-block re-building on West Texas also was tabled. The work must first be accepted by the council before the contractor can be paid.

A proposal that regular dates for holding municipal court be changed from the first and third Tuesdays of each month to the second and fourth was considered.

Administrator James Barrington explained the first week of the month is extremely busy in city hall, with people paying utility bills. Office workers would have less conflict for their time if the dates could be changed.

The change was approved, to become effective Jan. 1.

The city's oldest water tower, as was the case of the tower relocated from Gordon Lake to the south part of town, has not been in operation since the Johnson Road tower was constructed, because of an automated filling control. It's level is below that of the Johnson Road tower.

Because it is not used, and also because it is so small, council members had earlier decided to either sell it or have it taken down.

A possible offer for its sale to the community of Woodson was explained by Kerry Maroney, engineer who does most of the city's technical work.

The council authorized sale of the tower, for $6,000, with the funds to be used to erect a 200-foot tower that will accommodate all the police and fire radio antennas.

Maroney also told the council he was responsible for the lettering on the relocated tower, which council members had felt was unsatisfactory, and he would have it corrected at no expense to the city, unless aldermen wanted the words stacked instead of as they now are.

Aldermen had felt there was inadequate spacing between the words

Hutchens, Frantz wed in Saturday ceremony

Good Shepherd Lutheran Church was the setting Saturday afternoon for the exchange of vows by Miss Alissa Rena Hutchens and Calvin James Frantz. Albert Lindemann, retired pastor of Grace Lutheran Church in Burkburnett, officiated the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Cindy Mata of Iowa Park and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ainsworth, and the bridegroom is the son of Wanda Lou Frantz of Iowa Park and LeRoy Frantz of Fort Worth.

Escorted to the altar by her brother, Scott Byrd, the bride was radiant in a floor-length embroidered lace bridal gown, featuring a fitted waist and bodice, with a ruffle encircling an off-the-shoulder neckline. She wore a floral wreath to secure a fingertip illusion veil.

A colonial cascade bouquet formed of white and pink roses, pink bells and greenery added the perfect touch to her attire.

In keeping with bridal traditions, Miss Hutchens wore her wedding gown for "something old," her veil for "something new," a pearl and diamond necklace belonging to Linda Bowen for "something borrowed," and the "something blue" garter.

The bride was attended by Julie Menasco of Iowa Park as matron of honor. She wore a pink tea-length gown with a dropped waist and tiered skirt, and carried a nosegay of pink and white roses.

Janet Dumas and Stephanie Jackson, both of Iowa Park, were bridesmaids.

Miss Dumas wore a white floor-length gown with a lace overlay, and carried a single long-stemmed pink rose tied with white satin ribbon.

Miss Jackson was attired in a pink tea-length gown featuring an off-the-shoulder neckline. She carried a single long-stemmed pink rose tied with white satin ribbon.

Kelly Dickerson of Kamay served the groom as best man, and Donovan Gould of Iowa Park was the groomsmen.

Ushers were Don Ellis and Steven Frantz, brother of the groom, both of Iowa Park.

The altar area featured two brass stands holding English ivy centered with pink and white bows. The altar table held white tapers, lit by Jayne Roberts of Iowa Park, cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Phyllis Carter, organist, provided the traditional wedding marches for the bride's entrance and the couple's exit from the church. A taped rendition of "You Needed Me," was played during the ceremony.

A reception, held at the church, followed the ceremony.

The reception table, covered in pink with a white lace overlay caught up at each corner with pink satin bows, held the bride's cake, punch service and pictures of the couple as children.

The bridal cake was a white three-tiered confection stacked layer upon layer. Each layer was encircled with pink scallops and clusters of pink roses. White wedding bells adorned with net and sitting beneath an archway of tiny white flowers topped the cake.

Amanda Roberts, cousin of the bride, and Melanie Curtis, both of Iowa Park, presided at the table.

Mrs. Calvin James Frantz

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were Esther Frieling of Burkburnett, grandmother of the groom, and Larry and Missy Chase of Wichita Falls.

The bride attended Iowa Park

High School. Frantz was graduated from Iowa Park High School and Lincoln Tech in Irving. He is employed by Union Gas and Oil.

The couple are at home in Iowa Park.

Look Who's New

A 12 pound daughter, Crystal Elizabeth, was born Oct. 11 to Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Browning of Iowa Park. The baby has a brother, Waylon Lee, two and a half.

Mrs. Browning is the former Pam Ford of Lakeside City.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Willie Browning of Iowa Park, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ford of Lakeside City and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Cox of Irving.

Great-grandmothers are Edith Cox of Irving and Jewel Reed of Wichita Falls.

P-TA meeting set

The Kidwell P-TA will hold its regular monthly meeting at 7 p.m. Tuesday at the Kidwell Elementary cafeteria.

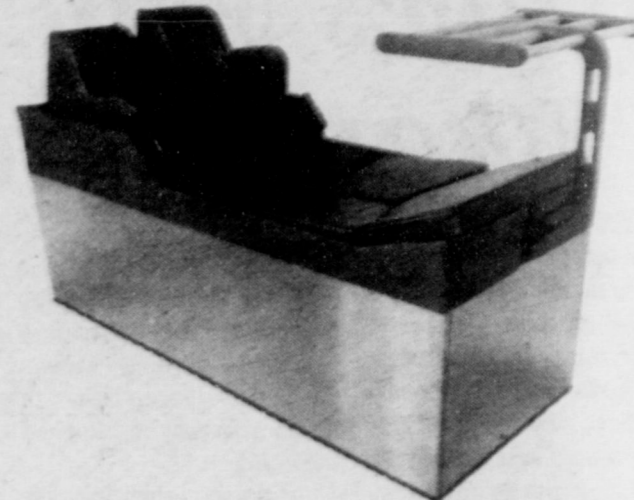

The program will be "Questions and Answers," where a panel composed of faculty members will be on hand to answer questions.

Art Show is success

The Iowa Park Arts and Crafts Assoc. met Tuesday evening at the TU Electric Reddy Room.

During the business, reports were given on the successful "People's Choice Art Show" at the Whoop-T-Do Saturday, and Tommie Smith expressed her appreciation to all members who helped out at the show.

Margaret Denton, chairman of the nominating committee submitted the names of new officers for the 1990 club year. Elected unanimously, they include Tommie Smith, president; Gail McIlroy, vice president; Sherry Albus, secretary; and Billie Railsback, treasurer.

Billie Railsback presented the program, a workshop on making toy soldier decorations from terra cotta flower pots.

Seventeen members and their guests participated in the workshop during which each constructed a toy soldier.

The next meeting will be held Nov. 14 at the TU Electric Reddy Room. Installation of officers will highlight the meeting, and members are asked to bring refreshments and articles they have made during the year for the annual "Show and Tell" program.

Look Who's New

Mr. and Mrs. Rich Thar of The Colony are the parents of an eight pound two and a half ounce daughter, Jamie Elizabeth, born Sept. 29 in Dallas. The baby has a brother, Brian, three years old.

Mrs. Thar is the former Dawn Jari Ehler of Iowa Park.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ehler of Iowa Park, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Thar of Washington, Ill.

Melonie Sue Smith and Buck Cargal

Couple set November date

Marilyn Westbrook of Iowa Park and Michael Smith of Anderson, Ind., are announcing the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Melonie Sue Smith, to John Buckman Cargal, son of Myra Jane Rogers of Iowa Park and Buster Cargal of Wichita Falls.

Park High School. Miss Smith attended Midwestern State Univ. and Vernon Regional Junior College, and is employed by NCNB Bank in Wichita Falls.

Cargal attended MSU, and is sports editor for the Graham Leader.

The couple will marry Nov. 4 at Faith Village Church of Christ in Wichita Falls.

The couple are graduates of Iowa

*QUESTION - "Are drug prices higher today than in years past?"

*ANSWER - "Prices have risen with inflation. Many drugs available now are new. Even though drug costs may have increased, newer agents can avoid absence from work or school and/or lengthy hospital stays that were necessary in the past. Single doses of new medications are often replacing several different medicines used in the past, with resulting savings in cost. Medicines today save lives which could not be saved in years gone by."

DPS Trooper is speaker for Amity Study Club

Trooper Joe Clements, Public Information Officer for the Texas Department of Public Safety, spoke on Satanic Cults and Criminal Activity, at a meeting Monday of the Amity Study Club.

Introduced by program leader, Amy Brown, Clements began by saying, "We're not talking about a religion, but about cult activity relating to crime." He said most kids get involved in this type of activity for self gratification, ego, or power.

A description of satanic cults and sub-culture groups includes:

- * Membership: 8 years of age to early 20s.
- * External influencing factors: (a) General interest in occult; (b) Heavy metal music; (c) Fantasy role playing games; (d) Interest in drugs and sex, and (e) Influence from peers.
- * Usually openly defiant.
- * Display drawings, posters with satanic or similar themes.

Clements said there has been evidence of cult activity in this area, such as defacing property and animal sacrifice, but nothing to the extent of areas such as South Texas and Florida where it is a serious problem.

Officer Clements described the problem as relating to a breakdown in the American family. "Many parents are not spending quality time with their children," he said. "We should show our children love, spend time listening and communicating with them, and be aware of their activities."

Following the program, Evelyn Ward presided over the business session in which Marilyn Hale reported on the club's booth at the Whoop-T-Do, and plans were made for the joint meeting with Philia and 23 Study Club in November.

Mrs. Hale gave the Federation Counselor's report and encouraged members to attend the fall workshop, Oct. 21, in Burkburnett.

The meeting was held in the home of Margaret Denton, and following adjournment, she and co-hostess Rita Worthy served refreshments to the members.

Flower show winners named

The Iowa Park Garden Club held its annual flower show Saturday at First Christian Church in conjunction with the Iowa Park Whoop-T-Do celebration.

Over 130 visitors attended the show, entitled "Flora Rama of Eighty Nine," and were able to view over fifty horticulture and floral displays.

Winners of the People's Choice Awards were Mrs. Don Decker, artificial, and fruit and/or vegetable; Mrs. Joe Kennedy for fresh; and Mrs. Dewey Conley for miniature. Each participant in the youth division received a ribbon for participation.

Entrance to the show was decorated with a wheelbarrow filled with fall-colored mums and a poster announcing the show.

Flower show committee members include Mrs. Charles Seets, chairman, Mrs. Dewey Conley, Mrs. Joe Kennedy, Mrs. Oscar Wells and Mrs. Gene Young.

Kristy Lynn Pollard and Brett William Hale

January wedding planned

Miss Kristy Lynn Pollard and Brett William Hale will be married Jan. 6 at Our Redeemer Lutheran Church of Wichita Falls.

Miss Pollard is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don C. Liggett of Lake Arrowhead, and Hale is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee M. Hale of Iowa Park.

The bride-elect was graduated with honors from Henrietta High School. She is a sophomore physical education major at Texas Tech Univ. in Lubbock.

Hale, an honor graduate of Iowa Park High School, is a junior accounting major at Texas Tech Univ.

Choir Boosters slate meeting

The Iowa Park Choir Boosters will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the high school choir hall.

All parents of Iowa Park choir students are invited to attend.

Garden Club prepares for annual flower show

The Iowa Park Garden Club met Friday at the First Christian Church Fellowship Hall in preparation for the annual homecoming parade and flower show.

Each of the 23 members in attendance answered roll call with the number and type of arrangements they would enter in the flower show.

Mrs. Gladys James, president, conducted the business session, where she announced that the club's entry in the parade to be held the same day would be a golf cart filled with fall flowers and driven by Mrs. Deryl James.

The club's annual flower show, to be held the next day, was also discussed in detail.

Mrs. Norma Fortner announced that the Yard of the Month award for October was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kofoed at 1105 W. Louisa.

Through for the day, read by Mrs. B.J. Gilmore, was entitled "Keep Me At It" by Marjorie Holmes.

Mrs. Vern Mikkelson and Gala Mikkelson were hostesses for the meeting. They served refreshments from a table decorated in a fall motif.

As I See It... By BOB HAMILTON

I wish I could develop the same enthusiasm as our local school superintendent and others I've read about over the state, concerning last week's ruling by the Texas Supreme Court.

I'm speaking, of course, about the state's high court declaring our present method of financing public schools violates the state's constitution.

Supt. Glen Mitchell says he believes our school district will come out ahead on the amount of monies received from the state to educate our children here.

Just about every story I've read from across the state quoted their superintendents saying the same thing, with the exception of Andrews and Dallas.

The court has given the state legislature until next May to come up with a "suitable provision for the support and maintenance of an efficient system of public free schools...If the system is not 'efficient' or not 'suitable' the legislature has not discharged its constitutional duty and it is our duty to say so," the court ruled.

Cries immediately arose after the announcement by the court that the state would have to generate anywhere between $1- and $5-billion new dollars in tax money to fund the school program.

Well, I only hope something can be worked out, by the deadline, that will benefit everyone, satisfy the court, and have no interference with the education of our children.

I can't say I have confidence, however. I don't know what the court means by "suitable." I don't know what will be the price tag. I don't know what "local enrichment" will be permitted.

And I certainly don't know how education is going to be improved for all the children of our state.

Some schools have apparently been doing a reasonable job of educating students. After all, none of the supreme court judges, all of whom are Texas school graduates, admit to being dumb.

There's a credibility gap, as far as some members of the high court are concerned, however. Little has been changed since at least three of them, Jack Hightower, Lloyd Doggett and Oscar Mauzy, were members of the state legislature. And I don't remember any one of them raising any fuss about state funding while they were there.

And, as I remember, I warned you voters about Doggett and Mauzy when they were candidates for the supreme court, about how liberal they were.

I guess some changes have taken place since they were in the legislature, however.

It all started with the passage of House Bill 72. Yeah, you've heard me say that before.

But that was when the effort led by Mark White, Bill Hobby, Gib Lewis and others pushing the reform succeeded, everything started going downhill. (Let me point out that Rep. Charles Fennell voted against that bill.)

The result was a need for more classrooms and teachers, not funded by the state; higher salaries for teachers, not funded; more paperwork, not funded, and a return to the old basis of state funding from average student daily attendance from a policy of funding teachers on the basis of need.

And, I also noticed that it was less than a week after the supreme court made its decision that state district judge Harley Clark, who first made the ruling in the Edgewood vs. Kirby case that started it all, said he was quitting and going into private practice.

No, I just wish I could find something in all this that would give me some encouragement that things will be better in our public schools education program.

I'm hopeful Supt. Mitchell is absolutely correct and I'm wrong.

News Briefs

Sales taxes still down

Sales tax receipts continue to decline in Iowa Park, according to the monthly report from the state comptroller's office.

Iowa Park received its monthly check this week for $11,127.83, a 22.27-percent decrease from the same month last year, $14,316.92.

For the year, sales taxes are down 8.83-percent: $134,061.72 as compared with $147,053.71.

October's check represents taxes collected by businesses in August and reported in September.

Electra is down 13.19-percent, but Burkburnett is up 4.02 and Wichita Falls showing a 9.28-percent gain.

Holliday is a plus 9.68-percent for the year, having received $56,677.48.

Police workload light

Despite all the extra number of people in town during homecoming weekend, police had a relatively light week of activity, according to the police blotter.

Three arrests were reported, but none related to the celebrations.

Elton Jay Sinks, 45, was picked up in the 1300 block of Johnson Road at 11:12 p.m. Thursday on a charge of public intoxication. He was released six hours later on bond.

Charles Henry Chaplin, 42, was taken into custody Saturday night on local traffic warrants, and released after paying a fine.

Police arrested Frank Dale Scott, 25, Sunday on an outstanding warrant issued by the Department of Public Safety. He was released to a DPS officer for transport to county jail, according to the blotter.

A motor cycle rider's helmet was reportedly taken sometime Tuesday from the 100 block of N. Hawthorne.

A resident in the 300 block of East Lafayette told police someone attempted to kick in her front door about 3:28 a.m. yesterday.

The responding officer found the door of a storage building in the back yard had been removed, but nothing was determined as missing. Damage was inflicted to the door of the home, however.

Drug awareness stressed at Faith Baptist Church

Faith Baptist Church hosted a Drug Awareness Emphasis Sunday morning, conducted by Van Houser of the Texas Alcohol Narcotics Education (TANE), the oldest prevention organization in the state.

Maroney said he expects to be able to put water in that tower within the next three weeks. One piece of equipment is yet to be delivered and installed, he explained, and the general contractor must have a representative here when water is pumped into the tank.

Other business taken up by the council Monday included:

- * approved a resolution accepting the certified tax rolls for 1990;
* approved a proposal to authorize the administrator to advertise for bids to purchase two new police cars and two vehicles for the public works department;
* took no action to change commercial garbage collection rates;
* approved a proposal to allow the administrator to enter into a new contract for employee uniforms;
* recognized Eddie Browning as the city's "employee of the month."

Houser, who has been specifically trained to provide information and prevention alternatives for families, spoke to the congregation on the problem of drug and alcohol abuse, citing prevention and public awareness being important in stopping substance abuse.

TANE believes that prevention is the only answer to the widespread problem of substance abuse. The organization provides materials and programming for prevention strategies for individuals, families, schools, churches, community organizations and businesses.

With current studies showing over one-third of American families being adversely affected by drug abuse, the church is concerned that every effort is being made to provide the community with the information necessary to prevent the spread of drug abuse.

bles, against Gainesville, the Hawks this week have been concentrating on concentrating.

They had turned the ball over only seven times in the previous four contests.

Like Bowie, Iowa Park's leading ground gainer is an underclassman. Junior fullback Matthew Blackman is averaging 4.3 yards on 126 carries. He is well on his way toward one of his season goals of exceeding 1,000 yards, with 548.

Senior tailback David Slack was out of action against Mineral Wells and saw only limited play Friday. He has carried the ball only 35 times so far, but gained 259.

Senior quarterback Jimmy Duggins is having an outstanding year with his passing arm, completing 27 of 49 attempts for 418 yards, but has been intercepted twice in both the last two games.

Duggins hasn't played favorites with any of his receivers, however.

Two, Bruce Palmer and Blackman, have caught six apiece. Palmer, with a 61-yard TD against Gainesville, has 185 yards thus far. Blackman's receptions have been for 56.

Tight end Stephen Brown has five catches for 61; Marc Cruz four for 57 and Bunkie Imboden four for 36.

Duggins' ankle injury prevented him from punting last week. His backup, Brian Luney, had the same problem. So Palmer's foot was pressed into service for that duty.

A healthy Duggins adds more pressure on teams trying to defend the Hawk offense, because this year he has found success in running with the ball. Some of his 98 yards have been in very key situations.

Head Hawk Len Williams has emphasized the fact that, while the Jackrabbits haven't had real strong competition this year, "They can't be overlooked."

He has only to point to 1988 and Iowa Park's 26-21 loss.

Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce

Letter to the Editor

Appeals for change To Iowa Park Community:

We would like to take this opportunity to appeal to our community. On Tuesday, October 10, we presented our appeal to the Iowa Park School Board. No action was taken.

Because our school's state funding is based on the average daily attendance of students during the month of October, maximum attendance is of the utmost importance. In an attempt to encourage students to be present every day of this month, there are several incentives presented to our children. 1) There is a drawing for a new bicycle in which only students with perfect attendance the month of October can enter. 2) Each week there are special privileges given (longer recesses, candy, etc.) to classes who have had the highest percentage of attendance for that week. 3) At the end of month, there is a school-wide party. At Bradford, children who have had perfect attendance will be allowed to participate for the entire time. "Absentees", regardless of the reason for absence, will be detained in a classroom for a portion of that period. According to one school board member, if a child becomes ill, has to miss school and is thus not eligible for contests or full festivities "that's the breaks and that's just life". As a way of justifying our present campaign, this same elected official cited several area schools who were conducting similar incentive programs. The adolescent attitude of "everybody else is doing it, so it's all right for us to do it" has no place in our school's decision making body.

It was pointed out by one elected official that our present promotional system has netted our school system thousands of dollars in state funds. Friends, the end does not justify the means. To continue on a course that is not best for all students, negates any other benefit -- even monetary gain. To reward a student for effort and attendance is good. However, it should not be done if the action that rewards one student serves to penalize another student who has had a legitimate reason to be absent.

A viable option to the present policy is to allow students with perfect attendance and excused absences to qualify for the already promised prizes and parties. We believe that there needs to be action to change the policy that discriminates against children with excused absences.

Because of a desire to submit to those in authority over us, we have sought to appeal through the proper chain-of-command. Therefore, we spoke with Kenneth Davis, Glenn Mitchell, the school board, and now the community. Before Tuesday night's meeting, Mr. Mitchell told both Gary and me that if we would not attend the school board meeting, he would give a letter of promise that for next year this policy would be reviewed and altered. However, the warning was issued that it would do no good to present our complaint to the board. Nothing would be changed. Indeed, a couple of verbal board members had their rebuttals prepared before our case was presented. Obviously, someone had done their homework!

If you are concerned about a policy that separates and detains children with excused absences from the rest of their peers, please verbalize this to a board member. If, on the other hand, you agree with the board president that "an absence is an absence" make your support known. Joyce Fielding school tax roll.

Mitchell pointed out to the board the school had received a letter stating the district was fully accredited by the Texas Education Agency, following a study by that office last year.

A discussion was held concerning the Nov. 14 bond election and materials of information being prepared for distribution to the public, as well as plans to encourage all eligible voters to take part in making the decision.

Turnovers help Leopards

Seldom does a football team lose a homecoming game and their fans feel the club has accomplished something.

But that was the case in Hawk Stadium Friday night, when the Mean Green was edged by state-ranked Gainesville, 20-14.

Comments of Iowa Park fans as they left the stadium were exclusively about how well the Hawks had played, especially with many of their starters hobbling, and how the team might have won had it not been for turnovers in the final period.

Needing only a touchdown to tie the visiting Leopards, and an extra point to win, the Hawks were on the march. The standing-room-only crowd was on its feet as Marc Cruz returned a punt to the Hawks' own 42 yard line. Then Matthew Blackman picked up a pair of first downs on runs of 15 and 13 yards, reaching the Leopard 30 yard line.

Then disaster struck. The determined junior fullback, who had carried the ball 28 times before and gained 132 yards, hit the line for the 29th time. A crowd of tacklers converged and, in his typical effort to gain extra yardage, Blackman had the ball stripped from his grasp and a Gainesville player claimed possession, with 3:37 remaining in the game.

Gainesville picked up four yards on three tries, and was forced to punt to the Hawk 38. There was still enough time, 1:49, for a series of big plays to pull the game out of the fire. But on the first play, Cruz took a lateral from Jimmy Duggins and was immediately hit, losing the ball on the 25. Gainesville had only to run out the clock for the win.

All the game's scoring took place in the first half. The Leopards lost very little time in lighting up the scoreboard. In fact, two plays of 60 and three yards. Had it not been for the fleet-footed Bruce Palmer, the runner would have scored on the first play. Their kick for extra point failed, but the high-flying Gainesville bunch led 6-0 with 8:23 remaining in the first quarter.

Steve Brown set up Iowa Park's next drive by returning the kickoff from his 16 to the Hawk 41. But the drive was snuffed out after seven plays when a handoff from Duggins to David Slack fell to the ground for the Hawks' first turnover.

The Mean Green defense forced the visitors to punt on fourth down, and Palmer returned the kick 38 yards, to the Gainesville 37. A major penalty on the play advanced the ball to the Leopard 21. Seven plays took the ball to within the length of the football from the goal line. Blackman and Palmer were both held without gains, and then Blackman, with an extra effort of twisting his body, crossed the plain to score. Kelly McClure's kick put the Hawks ahead, 7-6.

Gainesville quickly reclaimed the lead, scoring on a 12-yard pass to cap a 68-yard drive. But, again, the extra point attempt, a pass, failed.

An interception halted Iowa Park's next drive, which had taken the Hawks to the Leopard 39. Again, in quick fashion, Gainesville scored, covering the distance in six plays. A pass for the two-point conversion was good, and Gainesville held a 20-7 lead with 4:00 showing in the half.

Then it was Iowa Park's time for the big play. Starting from their own 19, Blackman picked up a first down on a pair of runs and Cruz tacked on three more. Then, Duggins threw a bomb that was both down and across the field to a streaking

BRUCE PALMER BLOCK SPRINGS BUNKIE IMBODEN LOOSE

Palmer, who was behind the safety. The senior receiver never broke stride, and wasn't touched on his 61-yard touchdown reception. McClure again kicked the extra point.

And that was all the scoring for the next 18:32 of the game.

The Leopards threatened late in the third period, advancing the ball to the Iowa Park 19. But a tackle by Jimmy Nicholson for a yard loss and a well-timed tackle by Palmer that broke up a pass reception, turned the ball over to the Hawks on their own 21.

Duggins, hobbling on a sore ankle, had his most prolific passing game of the season, completing seven of 14 attempts for 127 yards. His chore of punting was turned over to Palmer, who averaged slightly over 25 yards on four kicks.

Bunkie Imboden caught three passes for 38 yards, Blackman two for 18 and Cruz one for 10, besides Palmer's big 61-yarder.

Slack, who missed the Mineral Wells game because of a rib injury, carried only six times but gained 17 yards.

A defensive play that took place early in the fourth period, which brought the Hawk fans to their feet, was when Nathan Perry, Michael Arredondo and Mike Dungan broke through the line of blockers and, like a pack of grayhounds, swamped a Leopard for a 14-yard loss.

Five new classrooms in Bradford planning

Eventhough Bradford Elementary was enlarged by four additional classrooms last year, three temporary buildings are now in use and enrollment next year will be increased.

The school board is proposing to construct five more classrooms, at a cost of $215,000, remodel two rooms to accommodate a larger library that is now utilizing one room, for $18,000, complete storm-proofing of the elementary building, $30,000, reroof the original building and walkway canopy, $31,000, and purchase more furniture, $10,000.

The total project's cost is estimated at $304,000.

Projections of increased enrollment thus far have been accurate. The projection for this year was to have 470 students on campus. As of Tuesday, the figure stood at 468.

Projections are for 490 pupils to enroll for the 1990-91 year and 480 for 1991-92.

The increases are based on the fact that there are 139 students in the fifth grade this year, and 148 are waiting in the second grade at Kidwell to move up to the third grade.

There are 178 currently enrolled in the fourth grade. But the year that class moves into junior high, it will be replaced by 172 now in the first grade.

The state has mandated no more than 22 pupils per teacher in all classes through the fourth grade.

When the physical education building was constructed some 10 years ago, it was the intention of the board to complete it by building a berm of dirt around three of its walls.

The berm, an application of dirt sloping from the ground almost to the roof line, is designed by experts to deter a tornado funnell from striking the vertical wall with a direct blow.

This is the second of a six-article series designed to explain the purpose of the $2.75-million bond election the Iowa Park Consolidated Independent School District's Board of Trustees has called for Nov. 14. Next week's article will be on Iowa Park Junior High School.

For various reasons, that project was never completed.

Because of the large enrollment, and a growing emphasis on reading, the capacity of the room now used for the library needs to be enlarged.

The library space would be doubled, if the project is approved.

Space would also be provided for the speech therapy classes, which are now held in a room designed for use as a book storage room.

The five additional classrooms would be added onto the north wing, next to those completed last year.

Those additional rooms would provide adequate space to allow the school to do away with the temporary buildings which were pressed into service last year, according to Supt. Glen Mitchell.

PP&K making return

Punt, pass and kick competition is coming back, but will be sponsored by the Optimist Club, instead of Ford Motor Co.

Tri Star Contest will observe the same three events and rules as the old PP&K competition did, according to Steve Smith.

To be held at 1 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 21 at the Top of Texas field on West Magnolia, six age divisions will compete.

Youth who will be eight to 13 on Dec. 31, 1989, are eligible, and three prizes will be awarded in each division, Smith said.

No entry fee will be charged, and youth can register at the contest.

The Iowa Park FFA Chapter will hold its annual sweetheart election at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the school auditorium.

Candidates include Brandi East, Laura Davis, Christina Adams, Kim Kimbrel, Cami Franks, Tiffany Stephens, Tonya Williams, Cynthia Sargent, Tammy Nix, Brandi Berry, Adela Collazo, Christie Chandler and Jamie Hatcher.

Recreational Activity Center News

The "Halloween Bear" class was a treat last week, and those of us who made the bear will have a lovely centerpiece to display for fall and Halloween.

The cake demonstration by Kathy Hicks Monday was very enlightening. She demonstrated the creation of a Jack O'Lantern cake, using different cake decorating techniques and a few of her own tips. Kathy will demonstrate a Thanksgiving cake at 10 a.m. Monday, and the cake will be given away at the end of the class. There will be a small fee for this class.

Thank You

Our booth for Whoop-T-Do was a lot of fun, as well as a success, this year. I would like to thank the members of my board who gave their time to help me. Thanks to Stormy, Dana, DeLean, Debbie, Dee, Billy, Denise, Phil and Darlene. I would also like to thank Cindy, Sherry, Ardis and special friends and family for your help. I couldn't have done it without any one of you.

Annual Fund Raiser

One of the RAC's annual fund raisers, the motorcycle "Fun Run" is getting close. Nov. 5 is the date scheduled for this fun-filled event.

Classes

The Iowa Park 4-H Club will be making a Halloween t-shirt at 7 p.m. Wednesday. Denise Henderson will instruct this class.

We still need children ages five to 15 for the Tae Kwon Do class offered Monday and Friday evenings at the RAC. For more information about any class, or to give suggestions, call Pat at 592-4471.

Kidwell 1-0-2 in competition

Kidwell Hawks soccer team has earned a record of one win and two ties through three games in the Wichita Falls Soccer League.

The team tied its first two games, 3-3 and 2-2, and won the third by a 5-3 margin.

Goals scored have been by: Chase Wright, five; Brian Swenson and Eric Kieren, two, and Brian Worthy, one.

Outstanding on defense have been Heath Hodges, Lindsey Kyle, Brandon Lane, Kary Covington, Zac Miller, Neil Henderson, Rowdy Hebel and Nicholas Kennedy.

Iowa Park Pee Wees 20 Sheppard Pee Wees 0

Iowa Park had 166 net yards rushing and passing in Saturday's win.

Mike Swenson scored two touchdowns, one rushing and one on a pass from Justin Terry. Chad Wright scored the other touchdown, and Brandon Brown accounted for the two extra points.

Outstanding on defense were Terry, Brandon McLemore, Brad Green, Toby Catlin and James Gibson.

Iowa Park 18 Sheppard 0

Iowa Park amassed 117 yards rushing in a game between Iowa Park and Sheppard eight-year-olds.

Toby Williams scored all three touchdowns, two rushing and the other on a pass interception.

Smooth ball handling by Ross Dillard and good blocking by Johnny Dillard opened holes for Williams.

Outstanding on defense were Brian Huff, who had six individual tackles, Chad Parker, Randy York, Derrick Cain and Dustin Hicks.

'89 HOMECOMING QUEEN crowned before Friday's football game is Jennifer Welch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Welch.

JV at Bowie tonight

The Hawk Junior Varsity will start district play tonight against the Jackrabbits in Bowie, immediately following the Freshman game.

After dropping to 0-5 for the season last week, the JV is hopeful of claiming its first win of the season.

The Hawks fell 24-8 to Gainesville Thursday.

Taking the ball on their first possession, the JV drove to the Leopard goal. However, the drive stalled when a pass was dropped in the end zone.

The Hawks held Gainesville and forced a punt.

Iowa Park got the ball, but turned it over on the Leopard 40. The hosts then drove and scored. But the PAT kick failed.

Later in the second quarter, the JV was penned against their own goal on fourth down. A high snap of the ball went over the punter's head, giving the Leopards a safety.

On the ensuing kickoff, Gainesville returned the reception for a TD. The extra point was good, making the halftime score 16-0.

Gainesville continued its scoring, taking the ball for a touchdown immediately after the half, and converted the extra point to push the score to 24-0.

Iowa Park finally completed a successful drive late in the third period, when Joel McIlroy scored from 10 yards out. McIlroy also ran for the two-point conversion.

The defenses then took over the game, leaving the score 24-8.

Boyd leads fourth win

Scott Byrd led the Iowa Park Eighth Grade "A" team past Bowie Tuesday night, scoring three long-distance touchdowns.

The club beat Bowie 20-6 and extended its record to 4-0, having scored 93 points while allowing only 26.

Byrd's first touchdown was a 40-yard pass and run play from quarterback Tim Denton. His next two were 50-yarders, one from scrimmage and the other a punt return.

Stan Tigrett scored the two-point conversion.

The club will host City View at 4:30 Tuesday.

The Seventh Grade "A" team lost 28-0 to Bowie, and will travel there next Tuesday for a rematch, to start at 4:30.

A team composed of players from the Eighth and Seventh Grade "B" teams will travel to Quanh today to play that school's Seventh Grade, also starting at 4:30 p.m.

Penalties hurt Frosh

Giving up 22 points and having 117 yards in offensive penalties left the Hawk Freshmen eight points short of the Leopards at Gainesville Thursday evening.

The Hawks dominated the ground game, averaging 12 yards a carry. Chris Williams had 172 yards while Mark De la Rosa turned in 74 yards.

The Leopards opened the scoring by driving the length of the field on their first possession, but missed the extra point.

Iowa Park came out breathing fire, when De la Rosa broke the first play for an 82-yard touchdown. The play, however, was negated by a clipping penalty.

Then, facing second and 15, Williams was handed the ball and he scooted 72 yards to the Leopards' 11.

Four plays later, Williams went over from the seven, and Jason Miller added the two-point conversion to take an 8-6 lead.

Gainesville added 16 more points before the fourth quarter, allowing the Hawks only two possessions during the second and third quarters. Both possessions, Iowa Park had long drives which were ended by penalties.

The Hawks received the ball with less than five minutes remaining in the game. They began their final drive at the Leopard 40.

After moving to the 20 yard line, Miller hit Ken Cooper on a fly pattern in the end zone for the touchdown. The two-point conversion failed, leaving the final score 22-14.

The Freshmen open district play at 6 tonight in Bowie. Iowa Park will be facing the Jackrabbits without the services of starting tailback De la Rosa, who broke his collar bone at Gainesville.

Scores of local interest last week include:
Bowie 26, Olney 0
Graham 45, Burk Burnett 0
Hirschi 16, Vernon 7
Southlake Carroll 36, Decatur 0
Holliday 14, Bridgeport 12
Stephenville 26, Breckenridge 19

A stew and cornbread supper will be served to the public prior to Friday's football game at the Vocational Agriculture building, just north of Hawk Stadium.

Fee for the stew, cornbread, dessert and drink is $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children under 12.

The meal is a project of the FFA Booster Club.

Cheerleaders' Point of View

We've had a great week even with the Hawks' first loss of the season. They played a good game and stood tall against the Gainesville Leopards. We're proud of you Hawks -- now let's go out and win District!!

The Hawk, the cheerleaders and the Spirit Crew want to send out a great big "Thank-You" to our Hawk fans during Saturday's Whoop-T-Do. Now "The Hawk" sends a special "Thank-You" to the children who came to get their picture taken with him.

This week the Spirit Booster Club is sponsoring a push-up-a-thon for the Bowie vs. IP ballgame. We're requesting pledges for the number of push-ups the guys will do during the game. The guys do push-ups each time IP scores -- they match the score on the scoreboard with push-ups. If you're interested in making a pledge please contact Sue Imboden after 5 p.m. at 855-8808 or 855-9400. From all of us to all of you - we'll see ya at the game!!! Hawks are #1!!

The cheerleaders, Spirit Team members and their parents will be recognized at this week's game.

Each class will form spirit chains at the pep rally Friday. Spirit links will be sold during lunch for 10-cents each.

PATIENT OUT - Senior lineman Jay Loggins got out of the hospital in time to watch the football game Friday from the sidelines. He underwent major surgery Tuesday to repair knee damage, and will be out of action the rest of the season.

OPEN until midnight after Friday football games

MOVING MOUNTAINS

Do you believe that one day years ago, a man just like you and me was able to control the rainfall cycle of a whole nation just by praying?
Do you believe that a dying man added fifteen more years to his life because he prayed to live?
Do you believe that a previously barren woman became able to conceive and bear a son because she talked to God about her problem?
Do you believe that at least twice in history a man's prayer was all that was needed to stop the normal movement of the solar system so that "the sun stood still," or in one case, went backwards?
Incredible as the stories may sound to us today, they are recorded in the Bible as actual fact. You can read them for yourself in the life-stories of Elijah, Hezekiah, Hannah, and Joshua. By praying, these people were able to control situations that human beings usually give in to as uncontrollable.
Maybe that explains why some of us get discouraged. When our troubles pile up so heavy that we're ready to throw in the towel, we are usually coping with situations too big for us to handle by ourselves and we have no thought of asking God to handle them for us!
Christ recommended prayer as an alternative to depression. He taught that we "ought always to pray and not to lose heart." Too often we try every possible solution to some problem except praying about it. Then we despair because things aren't getting any better. Only God can move some mountains: trying to move them without His help is foolish and frustrating.
In your struggle with life you have not begun to fight until you are praying with faith. Then you can say, "The Lord is my helper; I will not be afraid."

Cook of the Week

Mrs. Mark Wise and Marcus

One inventive way to get new recipes, other than from this weekly article, is from a recipe chain-letter. That is what this week's featured cook's grandmother did several years ago through her church in California.

Brenda (Mrs. Mark) Wise said her grandmother, as a young girl, belonged to a church where a recipe chain letter was begun. The recipient of the letter would be sent recipes and asked to send six of her recipes, along with the others, to a friend.

As a result, Brenda's grandmother has an impressive collection of good recipes, five of which are printed this week.

Brenda and Mark have been married seven years, and have a son, Marcus, four years old. Mrs. Wise is employed as customer service clerk with the City of Iowa Park, and Mark is employed at Week's Park Golf Course.

The former Brenda Simon attended school in Iowa Park and graduated Holliday High School.

She enjoys crafts and piano lessons. The couple are active at Cornerstone Pentecostal Church of God, where Mark is associate pastor, and Brenda teaches pre-teen Sunday School.

SPICY NUTMEG MOUSSE

- 1-6 oz. can frozen pineapple juice
- 1 tsp. nutmeg
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 cup heavy cream, whipped
- 2 egg whites
- 1 tsp. vanilla

Thaw pineapple drink enough to stir. Turn into mixing bowl. Add one tsp. nutmeg, vanilla and sugar. Mix well. Fold in whipped cream. Beat egg whites until stiff peaks form; fold into pineapple mixture. Spoon mousse into punch cups; freeze until firm. Sprinkle with nutmeg before serving.

BAR-B-QUE SAUCE

- 1 1/2 lb. brown sugar
- 6 lemons (juice)
- 10 cups ketchup
- 1 cup Worcestershire sauce
- 5 Tbsp. mustard with horseradish
- 5 cups celery, chopped fine
- 1 cup apple vinegar

SWEET POTATO SOUFFLE

- 1 cup milk
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 2 tsp. sugar
- 2 Tbsp. butter or margarine
- 2 cups mashed sweet potatoes
- 2 eggs, separated
- 1/2 cup raisins
- 1/2 tsp. ground nutmeg
- 1/2 cup chopped walnuts
- 15 marshmallows

Scald milk with salt, sugar, and butter. Add to potatoes and beat well. Beat egg yolks and add to potato mixture. Stir in raisins, nutmeg and nuts. Beat egg whites until stiff and fold into mixture. Pour into 1 1/2 quart casserole. Top with marshmallows. Bake in preheated oven at 325° 45 minutes.

CREAM CHEESE PIE

- 2-8 oz. pkgs. cream cheese
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 2 tsp. vanilla
- 1 tsp. lemon juice

Scald milk with salt, sugar, and butter. Add to potatoes and beat well. Beat egg yolks and add to potato mixture. Stir in raisins, nutmeg and nuts. Beat egg whites until stiff and fold into mixture. Pour into 1 1/2 quart casserole. Top with marshmallows. Bake in preheated oven at 325° 45 minutes.

Combine ingredients and beat until light and frothy. Pour into graham cracker crust, and bake in 350° oven 15 to 20 minutes. Remove from oven and allow to cool. Pour topping over pie. Return to oven and bake 10 minutes longer. Refrigerate at least five hours before serving.

Crust:

- 14 graham crackers, finely crushed
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine

Combine and pat into pan.

Topping:

- 1 cup sour cream
- 3 1/2 tsp. sugar
- 1 tsp. vanilla

Blend together and pour onto pie.

SWEET-SOUR PORK

- 1/2 cup flour
- 1 lb. lean pork
- 1/2 tsp. dry musard
- 1 beaten egg
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1 cup pineapple chunks
- 1 medium green pepper, cut in 1/2" pieces
- 2 Tbsp. corn starch
- 2 Tbsp. water
- Sauce:
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup vinegar
- 1/3 cup pineapple juice
- 1/4 cup ketchup
- 1 tsp. soy sauce

Combine flour, dry mustard and salt. Dip pork cubes or strips in beaten eggs and then into flour mixture. Coat well. Fry in deep hot fat six to eight minutes. Remove and drain pork on paper towel. In deep skillet, combine ingredients for sauce. Bring to a boil. Blend cornstarch into water and then into sauce. Stir until thickened. Stir in pork, pineapple and green pepper. Simmer together. Serve with rice or chow mein noodles.

Friendship Class installs officers

Mrs. Dave Davis conducted the installation ceremony for officers of the Friendship Class of First Baptist Church Monday night following a salad supper. She was introduced by Mrs. D.O. James, who later presented her with a gift of appreciation from the class.

The theme of the service was "Called by Jesus to Serve." The interest center featured a poster centered with a white cross on the wall, and as Mrs. Davis installed the officers she reminded them that they were called by Jesus to serve and to give of their best to the Master. She gave each one the face of a woman to place on the cross to completely cover it and the rest of the poster. To conclude, she gave the officers crosses that she had crocheted for Bible book marks.

Those installed were Mmes. Glen Mitchell, teacher; Carl McKinnon, assistant teacher; O.S. McLemore, president; Miss Helen Reed, vice president; Mmes. R.G.

McLaurin, second vice president; J.T. Parker, secretary; E.T. Patterson, assistant secretary and treasurer; Loyd Lowe, corresponding secretary; Homer Blalock, reporter; M.E. Goforth, Clay Davis, Elmer Singleton, F.L. McCoy and D.O. James, group captains.

Mrs. Patterson gave the devotion on "Fruit of the Spirit" and emphasized the petals of joy and gentleness. Mrs. McLemore presided during a brief business meeting and was responsible for the autumnal table decorations, place cards accented with red silk roses and favors. The tables were centered with colorful cornucopias which spilled out seasonal leaves and acorns, and bouquets of fall silk flowers. The unique favors were clothespin refrigerator magnets marked with beaded silk alligators with rolling eyes.

The meeting was held in the Fellowship Hall of First Baptist Church. New yearbooks made by Mrs. Patterson were distributed.

Couple to wed

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dunn of Kamay and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Sandquist of Iowa Park are announcing the engagement of their children, Amber Tyson and Chad Sandquist.

Miss Tyson is a graduate of Iowa Park High School, and attends Vernon Regional Junior College school of nursing. She is employed at Ken's Pizza. Sandquist is an IPHS graduate and is employed at McDonald's in Wichita Falls.

The couple will exchange vows Nov. 22 at Tom Burnett Memorial Library.

Fellowships meet

The Jessie Mae Owens and Bertha McDonald Fellowships of the First United Methodist Church met in separate meetings Tuesday.

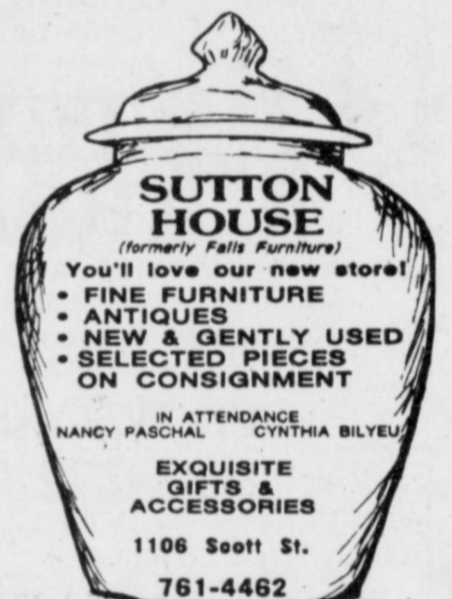

The Jessie Mae Owens Fellowship met in the church library with Freda Parks Serving as hostess.

A program, entitled "Faith," was presented by Mary Mixon, and the scripture reading was from James 2:14-19.

Evelyn Thompson gave a devotion on "The Empowerment of God" to the 11 members present.

The Bertha McDonald Circle met in the home of Harold and Linda Smith.

Bernice Compton, leader, gave the program, "Are We Mortgaging Our Children's Future," assisted by Hilda Thompson.

Obituaries

Kenneth Wells

Funeral services for Kenneth "Red" Wells, 43, of Wichita Falls, were Wednesday afternoon at Owens & Brumley Funeral Home with Rev. Jimmy Gill, Elder Aaron Flowers and Elder Walter Todd officiating. Burial was in Electra Cemetery.

He died Sunday in a Big Springs hospital. Wells was born Aug. 22, 1946, in Bowie. He was an oil field and heavy equipment operator and served five years in the U.S. Navy. He had lived in Wichita Falls since 1957.

He is survived by a son, Kenneth J. of Charlie; his mother, Irene; a sister, Ann Sosebee of Wichita Falls; and a brother, J.C. of Iowa Park.

Nellie Askins

Services for Nellie Askins, 83, were Saturday at First Baptist Church of Burkburnett with Rev. Lamoin Champ officiating. Burial was in Burkburnett Cemetery.

Mrs. Askins was born Feb. 20, 1906, in Whitewright, and had been a Burkburnett resident since 1928. She was a homemaker and a member of First Baptist Church, Burkburnett Home Demonstration Club and Senior Citizens Club. She and Sidney E. Askins were married Dec. 26, 1928. He died in 1980.

Survivors include two sons, Billy of Lubbock and Cleo of Iowa Park; a sister, Hattie Thornton of Wichita Falls; five grandchildren; and five great-grandchildren.

Dutton speaks to Optimists

Larry Dutton, owner of Dutton-Tanner-Aulds Funeral Home, educated the Iowa Park Optimist Club on the cost of funerals, at a meeting held last week at the RAC.

Dutton told Optimists that the high cost of funerals can be traced back to government regulations, as well as the cost of vehicles used by funeral homes.

Funeral homes must comply with certain government regulations in preparing a funeral, thus making the cost of burial somewhat higher.

Also, the cost of the vehicles is very high, with one hearse averaging $60,000, and a limousine costing some $30,000.

Dutton explained pre-arranged funeral planning, in which a person may choose the items and service he desires upon the event of his death, and pay for the service over several years.

Card of Thanks

We would like to extend our sincere thanks to our neighbors and friends of the Kamay-Valley View communities for the food, prayers, visits, calls and flowers given us after the loss of our wife and mother, Pauline Myers.

Special thanks to all of the friends who served us lunch at the church. It made a difficult time easier for us all. Also special thanks to Rev. Mark Mitchell of the Kamay Baptist Church and Rev. Gil Peters of the Holiday Church of Christ for their prayers and support. We are very fortunate to have such wonderful neighbors and friends as you.

We miss Pauline dearly, but we will carry her in our hearts forever. Bless you all, C.E. Myers Edward and Donna Myers & family Randy and Diane Myers & family Jerry Myers
