CITY COUNCIL SAYS:

County not paying fair share of costs to fight rural fires

Wichita County Commissioners Court should either get into the business of providing rural fire protection or pay its fair share of fire protection costs borne by Iowa Park, Electra and Burkburnett.

That was the heart of a resolution passed by the Iowa Park city council at its Monday meeting.

The resolution's wording pulled no punches in laying out its complaint to the county government.

The city refers to the county's annual contribution for fire fighting as a "token" and states the commissioners look upon city residents as "second class citizens" when it comes to county services.

Iowa Park's budget for the fire department this year is $38,500. The county gave the city $8,400 this year earmarked for the fire department.

Yet, according to a study of fires fought by the Iowa Park Volunteer Fire Department two years ago, 70 percent of all fire calls were outside the city limits.

And Alderman Johnny Coker said "The county has indicated they are wanting to get out of fire fighting."

Mayor Tim Hunter pointed out the city has no intention to change its policies, but said "all we're wanting is a larger chunk of money to pay for the services we provide outside the city."

Copies of the adopted resolution will be forwarded to the councils of Electra and Burkburnett.

Wichita Falls has for several years refused to send its firemen into the rural areas to fight fires, because the county will not pay its share of the costs.

Pointing out its grievances, the county's resolution states:

"Whereas, the City of Iowa Park has a long-standing tradition of allowing its volunteer firemen to go outside the corporate limits of Iowa Park in fighting fires and providing emergency services to protect lives and property outside the scope of its legal requirements and boundaries; and

"...the City of Iowa Park has provided dispatching services not only for its own volunteer firemen when they travel outside the corporate limits of Iowa Park in response to emergencies, but has taken on the additional duties of dispatching the Wichita West Fire Department and the associated calls from the public being served by that department; and

"...Wichita County has a long-standing tradition of treating its citizens who reside within the corporate limits of its cities as 'second class citizens' in provision of services; and

"...Wichita County has a long-standing tradition of treating its citizens who reside outside the corporate limits of its cities as the only citizens who deserve or can receive county services; and

"...Wichita County has made a token 'contribution' in an attempt to pacify the cities for the abuse of the good nature and 'good neighbor' policies of the cities in dealing with non-residents of the cities; and

"...the City of Iowa Park is no longer satisfied with the position Wichita County has taken by precedent (if not action) in shirking its responsibilities to its citizens inside and outside the corporate limits of its cities."

To resolve the issue, the city states:

"The City council of the City of Iowa Park has voted to continue fire-fighting, dispatching and related emergency services that it has traditionally offered in the past to Wichita County residents who reside outside the corporate limits of Iowa Park.

"The City...expresses by this resolution its displeasure and dissatisfaction with the traditional position taken by the Wichita County Commissioner's Court with regard to services provided in greater proportion to non-city residents than to residents of the cities in Wichita County and with particular regard to its attempts to make the cities of Wichita County responsible for the public safety and welfare of individuals who have chosen not to reside within or pay taxes to those cities.

"The City Council...expresses by this resolution its request that the Wichita County Commissioners' Court consider its responsibilities in

Rain amounts vary over area

While almost every part of the area benefitted from the weekend "cotton showers," the amounts varied considerably.

Some areas, such as around the Kamay community, received in excess of an inch. Cotton and hay crops as well as pastures benefitted.

However, in Iowa Park, the official measurement made by Virgil Woodfin was only .45 of an inch.

dealing with the public safety of its citizens who do not come under the jurisdictions of the municipalities. Furthermore, the Commissioner's Court should take action to provide such services or contract with the municipalities at a reasonable fee to compensate the citizens of the cities for their generosity in providing these services for the county."

A second resolution seeking exemptions for municipal residents from county ad valorem taxes did not get council approval.

The resolution, had it passed, was to have been forwarded to the Texas Municipal League for consideration and presentation to the state legislature, failed on a split vote.

Voting for its passage were Bud Mercer and Virgil Woodfin, while Bud Burch and Johnny Coker were against.

In the absence of Alderman Diane Robnett, Mayor Hunter was called on to break the tie, which he did.

He explained after the vote that he would like "something different brought back in the future."

Four persons arrested by police during week

Four arrests and two burglaries were included on the police blotter during the past week.

Three of the arrests were persons wanted on Department of Public Safety warrants.

Maria Garcia Saucedo was taken into custody at 6:24 p.m. Friday in the 300 block of West Highway on warrants from the Lubbock DPS office. She was released to a DPS trooper at 7:55, according to the blotter.

Sunday at 2:25 p.m., Sylvia Gloria Brown, 24, was stopped on South Colorado. After it was determined she had outstanding warrants for her from the DPS, she was released after posting a cash bond.

Donald Scott Owen was released after posting a bond of $80.50 Tuesday when he was stopped in the 600 block of W. Rebecca and found to be wanted by the DPS.

The fourth arrest resulted after a 5:55 p.m. Tuesday harassment complaint was filed against John Rusk, 23.

Rusk was taken into custody at 6:10 on a charge of resisting arrest, and transported at 7:40 p.m. to county jail.

The two burglaries were both of vehicles, and within almost 24 hours of each other.

A resident in the 800 block of Van Horn told police at 11:47 p.m. Sunday of seeing a white male, five CENTENNIAL BEAUTIFICATION UNDERWAY - Trucks loaded with dirt began filling the vacant lots Tuesday on the south side of the 100 block of West Park, in preparation for grass seeding. The project was undertaken by the Iowa Park Lions Club, as its part in Iowa Park's 100th birthday observance. The civic club plans even more improvements, such as flowers and shrubbery, next spring. The area will be maintained by the city along with its other parks.

City limits to expand

The city council Monday night passed two ordinances initiating a two-month process to annex land that will connect the present city limits with Lake Iowa Park.

Aldermen also approved the only bid received to line a new pit at the sanitary landfill.

The first of the two ordinances accepted a petition to annex land on the west side of the lake's entrance road, and the second calls for the first public hearing on annexation.

The annexation format, which is established in the state-written "general laws charter, calls for two public hearings, another ordinance and two legal publications before annexation can be completed Sept. 12.

The city has leased the strip of land along the road from Gene Wigley so it can annex it in order to reach the lake, which the council wants to take inside the city limits.

The lake cannot be annexed before the strip of land is annexed, James Barrington, city administrator, explained.

A bid submitted by Bob Bounds to line the city-dug landfill pit to meet state specifications was accepted by the council.

Bounds' unusual bid of $28,446 contained an alternate to deduct $4,500 if the city allowed him to use the city's scrapper and fuel on the project, lowering the bid to $23,946, which the council accepted.

Aldermen voted to make needed improvements at the Burnett Field, next to the Recreational Activities Center, and also take over its operation, which has been the RAC's responsibility the past few years.

Bloodmobile here Monday

The Red River Regional Bloodmobile will be at the Faith Baptist Church from 4 to 6:30 p.m. Monday, according to Jim Grove, blood services chairman for the Optimist Club.

Iowa Park's goal is 50 units of volunteer blood.

Grove reminds the public that "Blood is badly needed during the vacation season, due to the unfortunate number of traffic accidents and volunteers not being available to make their usual donations."

Council members discussed optional areas to build one or more softball fields in the future, but reached no decision on a location.

Should another field be built for softball play, along with the Senior Little League getting a new home behind the cable television and Sonic site, Burnett Field might be turned over to soccer play, according to council discussion.

Burnett Field, however, will not be changed from softball and baseball use until after the 1989 season.

During a discussion on whether a bond election should be called to build a community center, the general feeling given by all council members was that now was not a good time to ask the public to approve a $1.2-million issue.

Such an issue would increase the city's tax rate by about 14-cents.

Alderman Bud Burch stated, "We all know the need for it. We've discussed it many times and agreed, but I don't think it would fly (voting) now. I just don't want us to say 'just drop it.'"

"We need to go back to square one," responded Alderman Bud Mercer, saying a bare-bones structure that could meet general needs and be added onto in the future should be built.

He said such a structure could be built at a price the city could afford. No decision was reached, but the members indicated the issue would not be dropped.

Council members took no action on a request to abandon part of West Smith Street, where a garage has been built on city right of way.

The council agreed to hold a budget work session July 21.

Echols, McDonald wed in ceremony

Ginger Jade Echols and Edwin Gus McDonald Jr. were married July 2 at the home of the groom's parents. Rev. Earl Correll of Northside Baptist Church in Iowa Park officiated the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Echols, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin G. McDonald, all of Iowa Park.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a Victorian-style wedding gown for her special day. The gown was covered in chantilly lace and featured a high collar and cathedral-length train. A chapel-length veil flowed from a Juliet cap to complete her wedding costume.

She carried a bouquet made of aqua and wine colored carnations on a lace background with streamers added for a finishing touch.

Traditional wedding marches were used.

Sisters of the groom attended the bride. Sherri McDonald Murray of Wichita Falls was matron of honor and wore a seneca pink tiered-lace dress and carried a brandy snifter surrounded with carnations. Christina McDonald Webb of Iowa Park was bridesmaid and wore a strapless aqua sundress trimmed with English lace. She carried a brandy snifter identical to the matron of honor.

Tanya Moon McDonald of Iowa Park and Crystal Blu Murray of Wichita Falls, nieces of the groom, were flower girls. The pair wore identical blue sundresses trimmed in lace.

The groom's father served as best man, and Gene D. Murray of Wichita Falls, brother-in-law of the groom was groomsman.

MRS. EDWIN MCDONALD JR.

The couple exchanged vows before baskets holding aqua, wine and pink colored carnations and trimmed with bows against a wine-colored back-drop.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the home.

The focal point of the reception room was the bride's cake, served by Tammy Hill. The three-tiered cake featured aqua and wine colored flowers cascading down the sides. The cake was topped with a bride and groom standing in front of a flower-covered archway.

The couple reside in Iowa Park and are planning a delayed honeymoon trip to Pennsylvania.

The new Mrs. McDonald is a student at Iowa Park High School and the groom is a graduate of Iowa Park High School.

Special wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. L.C. Echols, Janice Echols and Mr. and Mrs. Jackie McClutchen, all of Brownwood.

MOTION SICKNESS

- Motion sickness--the most common medical problem of traveling--is usually experienced as dizziness. It is also sometimes accompanied by nausea, vomiting and pale or clammy skin.
- To minimize motion sickness, ride where your eyes will see the same motion that your body and inner ears feel. For example, sit in the front seat of the car and fix your eyes on a distant, stationary object. If you are in a boat, look at the horizon.
- If you are prone to motion sickness, do not read while traveling, and do not sit facing backward.
- Avoid watching or talking to someone who is experiencing motion sickness.
- Avoid strong odors and spicy or greasy foods that may unsettle your stomach, especially just before or during travel.
- In addition to these self-help measures, there are several medications available that minimize the effects of motion sickness.
- If you experience severe motion sickness, or any other type of dizziness, consult a physician who specialize in disorders of the ear, nose and throat.

Cook of the Week

Debbie Wagner, Bethany and Jason

While a great number of cooks build their meals around a main dish that includes meat, a growing number of cooks build theirs around, and out of, only vegetables.

This week's Cook of the Week, Debbie Wagner, is a vegetarian and says her decision was based on many factors over a number of years.

Debbie says like most of us, she grew up eating meat as a main course with her meals, but when she was in the third grade her family joined the Seventh-Day Adventist Church. She said the church carried a strong health message concerning diet, smoking and drinking, but that particular sector wasn't strict about vegetarianism.

She said some sectors of the church don't believe in eating any meat or meat by-products such as milk, eggs and the like.

When she was a junior in high school, she transferred from a public school to a church school, where no meat was served. She said occasionally she and her friend would slip off and eat a hamburger, but for the most part her diet included only vegetables, which Debbie cites as a turning point in her food preferences.

Now, she says, she feels very strongly about the commitment to vegetarianism, and now prefers vegetables to meat rather than making a conscious choice not to eat meat.

Debbie chose the lifestyle for health reasons as much as for religious reasons, although she said she worries about meeting the nutritional requirements of her children, particularly with proteins.

According to an article in the Dallas Morning News, the key to providing sufficient protein with vegetarian dishes is to combine foods that complement each other, providing the proper amount and balance of amino acids, the building blocks for protein. Examples might include pairing legumes with grains, or dairy products with nuts or seeds.

Debbie sometimes eats fish, but says they've recently began carrying vegetable substitutes for meat at the grocery stores, usually made from soy products, allowing her to have a "vegetarian hot dog."

The former Debbie Hutson was raised in North Carolina. She and her two children, Bethany, seven, and Jason, five, moved to Iowa Park over two years ago from Sheppard Air Force Base. She is a dispatcher with the Iowa Park Police Department.

Peel the potatoes and use the peels for a potato peel broth - never throw them away! Wash the leeks and chop them up well, discarding the tough green ends. Cook these vegetables in the salted water about 1/2 hour, or until they are tender. Add the milk, caraway seeds, dill, and salt and pepper to taste. Let the soup simmer another 15 to 20 minutes, or until it begins to take on a rather thick consistency and the potatoes begin to fall apart a little.

As I See It... By BOB HAMILTON

We may well have an indication here in Iowa Park that the economy is recovering.

One new business has opened its doors, three more will soon be ready for customers, and an existing firm is making an impressive expansion.

A new beauty salon, Tangles, owned by Robin Cook, recently opened at 311 N. Wall, next to Flowers by Reba.

Another new beauty salon will soon be opening in the 100 block of West Cash, and right beside it Ira Hambricht will have a new business.

And in the very near future, a quick oil change business will open to customers behind Catlin Car Wash at Third and West Highway. The new business reportedly is co-owned by Randy Catlin and John James.

And down on South Yosemite, 411 to be exact, Bill Sasser is having installed a new, state-of-the-art painting unit at his Auto Craft Collision Repair shop (formerly Deryl James Body Repair).

For a community in which business expansion has been almost dormant the past couple of years, all this in just a short time is very, very impressive.

Do you suppose it's indicative of what is to come during Iowa Park's second 100 years?

I got a little concerned Tuesday at the two Little League all star games over at Burkburnett, when the heat began to get to me.

But then I realized the problem. The heat is nothing new. But it is this year.

As I recall, we've only had one or two days when the temperature has risen to the 100 or higher mark this summer.

Shucks, we usually have that by the end of May, and here it is middle of July.

I'm just spoiled.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Mr. Hamilton,

As a member of the crew of the U.S.S. Vincennes and an Iowa Park resident, I would like to let it be known that the crew responded to the air threat (July 3) with professionalism. Given the same circumstances in the future the crew would take the exact same action.

The Vincennes left San Diego a month early. She then set a record for crossing the Pacific Ocean in a naval vessel. Being an engineer myself, I'd like to add that there were no engineering casualties.

The first week in the Gulf we had to stand by and watch an Iranian frigate board and seize an unflagged tanker. In accordance with the Rules of Engagement, we cannot take action unless the tanker requests help. They did not, or they were in a position where they couldn't.

We were tasked with the responsibility of escorting the "Mighty Servant II," the underway dry dock that carried the U.S.S. Samuel B. Roberts, through the Straits of Hormuz.

The "Sammy B." found herself in a minefield (laid by Iranians) and when she tried to back out, she struck a mine that exploded with enough force to rip a hole in her and blow her two gas turbine engines off of their mounts.

The crew of the "Sammy B." saved her. By all rights she should have gone down.

By the way, the oil platform the Navy blew up in retaliation is still burning, and will for a long time.

The U.S. taxpayers have paid for a billion dollar Aegis platform that works and works well. The U.S.S. Vincennes (CG-49) is the second Aegis cruiser I've been stationed aboard. The first was the U.S.S. Yorktown (CG-48) which was credited with a patrol boat kill in the Gulf of Sidra.

The crew of the Vincennes needs your support and prayers. The loss of life is always tragic. But our first and foremost responsibility is to fight to protect our ship, which we did, successfully.

MSU's bachelor of science nursing program receives initial accreditation

Midwestern State University's bachelor of science in nursing program has received initial accreditation from the Texas State Board of Nurse Examiners.

According to Dr. Bonnie Saucier, division director of health sciences at MSU, the board gives initial accreditation to every new nursing program until it has graduated its first class.

The four-year bachelor program will replace the associate program which was started in 1969. The last associate degrees will be granted in the spring graduation of 1990.

However, MSU will continue to offer the "2+2" bachelor's degree in nursing for students who possess the associates degree in nursing. This is designed to interface advanced coursework with the associates degree to allow for the completion of a bachelor degree in nursing for registered nurses.

Once students receive their associate degrees "They can always come back and earn a bachelor of science in nursing for registered nurses," Dr. Saucier said.

Being a fellow of certain principals, I have never seen a Jane Fonda movie even though I am aware that it deprives her of only a few pennies. Recently however, I was persuaded to watch a network program, 20/20, featuring Hanoi Jane apologizing for cheering the North Vietnamese on to killing more American servicemen. Apology my eye! If ABC (I think it was ABC) paid for that glib propaganda appearance it was a sucker and not the rough-and-ready business organization most people believe it to be. If that unctuous trull didn't pad her pockets after the performance -- well. The only reaction from this quarter was to must; it's a pity she and Jim (Snake Oil) Wright haven't combined their talents. What a pair they might make! They'd make Jim and Tammy Bakker look like tenth raters.

Meanwhile, thanks to 20/20, how many mothers, wives and sisters of men lost in Vietnam will increase Hanoi Jane's snake oil sales? C.M. HENKEL JR. Port Aransas South Jetty

Worth Quoting

There are a lot of things that owners of American business have to be concerned about these days, primarily lower income and higher taxes and costs. Among the latter is the frightening increase in the cost of health insurance premiums, a factor that is rapidly reaching the crisis stage. This year the cost of health insurance took a 34 percent increase. In the past 12 years the cost of our health insurance has increased by 3,000 percent! We are not too far from the point where we will be unable to afford it.

Time magazine had a story a couple of weeks ago about this problem. It pointed out that General Motors in the first nine months of last year spent $2-billion on medical care coverage for its 2.3-million employees. In the same period, the profits earned by the giant industrial firm were $2.7-billion. GM profits were about the same as the year before but health care premiums were up by 30 percent. Here at the Herald in 1987 we paid out more in health care premiums than the total profit of the business and now we are wondering how long we can keep on paying this kind of health insurance premiums.

Group health plans are boosting premiums at alarming rates and there are no indications that this trend will not continue. The insurance companies have the figures to show that they have to have more premium income to cover the rapid rise in payments to hospitals and doctors. Hospital room rates and other costs seem astronomical to the layman, yet most hospitals seem to have a very hard time these days operating in the black. There are a lot of reasons why it costs more to cure the sick these days but it all adds up to such heavy costs that the average person is going to be very hard pressed to meet this expense.

The explosion in medical premiums hits business especially hard. Except for government workers and those covered by Medicare and Medicaid, most Americans are insured against medical expense through private employers. To provide this coverage, U.S. companies will pay $130-billion in insurance premiums this year, up from $110-billion in 1987. Since the early 1980s companies and the government have worked to bring medical costs under control. At first this effort centered on hospital costs but it has been a losing battle because the national average cost for a hospital stay in 1987 is $697 a day.

Beginning in 1983 the government took steps to limit the costs of Medicare by putting in a lot of rules and regulations which in effect took away the blank check that most doctors had until then. The result has been delays and frustrations which irritate doctors and patients alike. Major insurance companies now require a second opinion for elective surgery and in some instances before they will approve admission to a hospital. Despite all the cost cutting measures that have been put into effect, the costs keep on rising for health care.

A small business which pays hospitalization insurance premiums on its employees is being squeezed hard these days and may be forced to require employees to pay more of the cost of this kind of insurance. The net result of that, of course, is a cut in pay for a worker and nobody likes that. Health costs have risen because of the increased cost of malpractice insurance for doctors and hospitals which have to be recovered from the patients. Costs increase when a hospital and doctor have to require many more tests to safeguard against a lawsuit, and modern medical techniques are wonderful, but nothing is cheap.

The average person simply cannot meet the cost of medical care without hospitalization insurance. What sticks in my mind is a routine surgery on my mother a couple of years ago in Dallas. She was in the hospital seven days, had no complications. When all the bills were totaled up it came to more than $23,000. It is not hard to spend that kind of money for surgery these days and those who have undergone difficult surgery have been hit with gigantic bills. What is going to happen in the future is anybody's guess, but right now it is getting mighty serious.

Rehab Center benefit auction scheduled for July 22 and 23

The "countdown" comes this week as members of the Cripple Children's Livestock Auction round up donations of livestock and merchandise for the two-day auction July 22-23 in Wichita Falls.

The auction, commonly known as the "cattle auction" benefits the North Texas Easter Seal Rehab Center in its treatment of disabled children and adults. Many Iowa Park residents over the years have received treatment at the Center.

Livestock will be sold at 11 a.m. on Friday at Arrowhead Livestock Sales Barn on the old Jacksboro Highway.

Merchandise will be auctioned beginning at 5 p.m. with a barbecue feed at Wichita Falls Activities Center, and a silent auction will be held all day Saturday (until 4 p.m.) at the Center. Those who will attend the barbecue can bid until 7 p.m. in the silent auction.

All types of new merchandise of high quality, art, crafts, appliances, plants, furniture and other items will be either in the silent auction or the open bid sale.

CARD OF THANKS

Thanks to all my friends and family for all your help with my roof. I don't know what I would do without you. A very special thanks to Phil Welch and the people at State Farm. Phil, you're the best.

Thanks,
Brad Wynn

The silent auction, says chairman Lola Hampton and Louise Thomas, is a "fun and suspenseful" event in which bidders receive cards for listing their bids which are then tallied at the end of the sale.

The highest bidder on the item gets it. The silent auction gives the bidder a chance to browse leisurely and decide which items to choose for bidding.

The entire auction is a "good time thing" says Joe Parker, general chairman, who has headed the event 18 years.

The auction is celebrating its 20th year as the Rehab Center's largest fund-raising event.

Traditional theme of the auction has always been "Give four legs so that two can walk" because the auction started out as a livestock sale only. As it grew, it evolved into a merchandise and cash sale.

"We need buyers and donors," says Parker.

CARD OF THANKS

Words can't express our thanks to you who comforted us during the loss of our Mother, Grandmother and Great-grandmother. The comforting words, phone calls, food, flowers, visits and money. The food served by Faith Baptist Church we appreciated so much. Thanks to Brother Jerry Miller and Brother Eric Johnson for their prayers and help. Thanks to Mrs. Gilbreath and staff at Heritage Manor for their loving care. May the Lord Bless you all very much.

WE PREACH JESUS

"For we do not preach ourselves but Christ Jesus as Lord, and ourselves as your bond-servants for Jesus' sake." (2 Cor. 4:5). It's amazing how much truth God packed into so few words. Paul was commenting on his own ministry, which shaped the future of the Lord's church. What kind of church is it?

The Lord's church never trumpets itself. The message is never "ourselves," because the church doesn't accomplish through its own power. A church that's true to the Lord's will doesn't seek to enhance its own reputation. Its glory is "not by works, so that no one can boast." The church is a group of people who are saved and molded by the loving hand of God.

The church preaches-not about ourselves, but we do have a message to preach. We're committed to preaching which is announcing a message and not just standing behind a pulpit.

We preach Jesus as Christ, God's anointed Savior. The One who takes away sin. The One who gives life and hope. We preach Jesus as Lord, Master, and Ruler. We live for Him, following His direction, doing His will. He is Lord-we are followers. At the center of what we believe, preach, and practice is Jesus, our Lord.

We live as servants, Christians seek ways to serve. If people are hungry, we feed them. If they're in darkness, we preach light and life to them. We make a commitment to servanthood.

To whom much is given, much is required. What we have, we must share. But what we share isn't ourselves-rather it's the gift of Christ and the power of God at work. Come on over and worship with us.

Sheriff's Report

Wichita County Sheriff's Department received three reports of theft during the past week, one occurring almost a year ago.

Micki Ann Nunley of Rifle Range Road told deputies last Wednesday that two "eternity" rings were stolen from her home July 24, 1987. The jewelry was valued at $1,200.

Two reports of burglary of a building were filed by Kenny Gilmore, occurring at the same building within a three-day period.

Gilmore told deputies someone had broken into a building at a business owned by him, Winters Monument at Hwy. 287 and Bell Road, sometime between Wednesday and Thursday of last week. Items stolen were valued at $3,490, and include an antique rocking chair, Victrola record player, air conditioner, 25-inch color television set, curio cabinet, jigsaw, staple gun and pictures and frames.

Gilmore reported the building was broken into again Saturday, and a wooden baby bed with a value of $150 was taken.

MEET: Kathy Paulk is a single parent seeking an Associate Degree in Office Technology at the VRJC Technical Center in Wichita Falls. Kathy, who learned about the College from a friend, chose to attend VRJC because of the location and the low cost. According to Kathy, "The one on one student to instructor ratio is really nice. The other students are friendly and we help each other. I like VRJC." Kathy helps defray the cost of her college courses with the Pell Grant and the College Work Study programs. She does plan to continue her education after completing her VRJC course work by pursuing a bachelors degree in accounting.

RICHARD MARTINEZ IS EXCELLENT WITH HIS HANDS, BUT IT'S HIS BACKBONE WE WANT TO TALK ABOUT.

Richard is a lineman for TU Electric. And his job takes more than skill, it takes the character and tenacity to handle any emergency at a moment's notice. So whether it's high noon on a scorching summer's day, or four a.m. during a winter ice storm, Richard has the resolve to stay on the job until it's done. But he's not looking for a pat on the back. Because like so many of our employees, he sees this dedication as just another part of his job. Actually it's what A Commitment To Service is all about.

Jim Bob Dooley, who's name remains on the Hawk track records for pole vaulting, was in town recently for the IPHS Class of '78 reunion. Dooley is working on his master's degree at Central Missouri State College at Warrensburg, and is assistant track coach and strength coach at that institution.

Another former IPHS athlete will be on the Holliday High coaching staff next year. Lisa Yeakley, just out of Midwestern State Univ., has signed her contract. Jim Clapp earlier was hired at the school.

Former Leader reporter Lewis Simmons will instruct a 12-hour Texas Hunter Education Course from 7-10 p.m. July 25, 26, 28 and 29 at the Henrietta VFW building. Midwestern State Univ. athletic director Steve Holland said 1,600 season tickets had been ordered by July 1 for that school's football season, its first in 32 years. The Indians, with at least three '88 graduated Hawks, open play Sept. 3 in Memorial Stadium against Howard Payne Univ.

BRAZOS VALLEY PLAYER SAFE AT THIRD WHEN GARY GREEN MISHANDLES BALL
... Iowa Park Senior all stars fell 16-14 in tournament opener Tuesday at Burkburnett.

One team posts tourney win

Only one of Iowa Park three Little League all star teams won in tournament play Tuesday.

The 13-year-old team defeated Sheppard AFB 7-3 at Olney, with pitcher Chad Thompson going the distance on the mound.

The Major all stars lost 8-5 to Burkburnett and Senior all stars lost 16-14 to Brazos Valley. Both games were played at Burkburnett.

Only two of Burk's scores were earned in the Major game. Iowa Park was to play Sheppard last night.

Iowa Park defeated Sheppard 10-4 Monday in a game that featured Brent Brown's two-run homer.

Going to the top half of the second inning tied 1-1, the Seniors fell behind 7-1.

Iowa Park fought back to hold a 14-8 lead, but Brazos Valley regained the lead in the top of the seventh, and sat down all three Iowa Park batters in the final half for the win.

The 13-year-old all stars were to play the winner of Tuesday's Olney-Brazos Valley game last night. A win would send them to the finals Friday, but a loss would put them back on the field tonight.

Improved method told for preserving tomatoes

With tomatoes at their peak in Wichita County, improved methods of canning will insure preserving the natural goodness while protecting the fruit from spoilage. Barbara Fangmann, Wichita County Extension Agent, recommends the following method for canning tomatoes.

Crushed Tomatoes:

A new-style, high quality product, ideally suited for use in soups, stews, and casseroles.

Procedure: Wash tomatoes and dip in boiling water for 30 seconds or until skins split. Then dip in cold water, slip off skins, and remove cores. Trim off any bruised or discolored portions and quarter. Heat one-sixth of the quarters quickly in a large pot, crushing them with a wooden mallet or spoon as they are added to pot. This will exude juice. Continue heating the tomatoes, stirring to prevent burning. Once the tomatoes are boiling, gradually add remaining quartered tomatoes, stirring constantly. These remaining tomatoes do not need to be crushed. They will soften with heating and stirring. Continue until all tomatoes are added. Then boil gently five minutes. Add one tablespoon bottled lemon juice per pint and two tablespoons per quart. This can be added directly to the jars before filling with product. Add one teaspoon of salt per quart to the jars, if desired. Fill jars immediately with hot tomatoes, leaving 1/2 inch headspace. Adjust lids and process in boiling water bath 35 minutes per pint and 40 minutes per quart.

Fangmann says, "By using this method, air is forced out of the tissue and will insure a better pack." USDA now recommends halved or whole tomatoes, raw or hot packed, be processed 85 minutes in a boiling water bath. For more information, contact Fangmann at 766-0131.

A total of four new developmental wells are scheduled for spudding in the Wichita Regular Field, Wichita County, about five miles northwest of Burkburnett. The wells will be known as the Nos. 1 through 4 Prothro "V." Victory Oil and Gas of Dallas is the operator.

Total depths are projected to 1,790 for the No. 1 and 1,800 feet for the other three wells. Locations are in a 163-acre lease in the RRVL Subdivision.

The No. 1 is 610 feet from the north line and 830 feet from the west line of Block 87. The No. 2 is 610 feet from the north line and 1,280 feet from the east line of the same block. The No. 3 is 1,230 feet from the north line and 830 feet from the west line, same block. The No. 4 is 1,230 feet from the north line and 1,280 feet from the east line, same block.

Two unsuccessful developmental wells have been written off as dry holes in the Wichita Regular Field by Williams Petroleum of Burkburnett. The wells include the No. 14 and No. 15 Burnett "D." Drillsites were two and three miles southeast of Fowlikes, respectively. The No. 14 bottomed dry at 411 feet, while the No. 15 went to 970 feet with no commercial shows. Both will be plugged and abandoned.

H&H-Star Energy of Wichita Falls has hung the dry hole sign on an unsuccessful Hardeman County wildcat seven miles north-northwest of Chillicothe. The explorer well was known as the No. 1 Huneycutt. It was spudded on April 30 of this year and is bottomed at a depth of 9,000 feet with no commercial shows indicated.

It will be plugged and abandoned.

Shallower pay will be sought at a new pay zone in the No. 1 Rapp-Koontz, a producing well in Hardeman County's Southwest Chillicothe Field. Located about one-half mile south of Chillicothe, the well originally flowed 186 barrels of oil per day when finished in January of 1984. Production was from the Pennsylvanian Conglomerate at 7,432 to 7,444 feet.

Staying on as operator, Phillips Petroleum of Oklahoma City will be seeking new pay at a depth of about 7,300 feet.

Operating out of Wichita Falls, Madison Oil et al has driven stake for the No. 1 Georgia Pacific Unit "C" in Hardeman County's Quannah Field. Total depth is projected to 9,000 feet. Location is in an 80-acre unit in the W&NW Survey A-964 Section 144 Block H. Location is 433 feet from the west line and 650 feet from the north line of the section.

Independent operator David Crutcher of Wichita Falls has posted first production data for a newly completed well in The North King Field, Wilbarger County, about eight miles south of Vernon.

It is the No. 5 Andrews, pumping at the rate of 36 barrels of oil daily along with five barrels of salt water on an open choke.

Crutcher took the hole to a 1,910-ft. bottom and perforated the Cisco Sand for production at 1,646 to 1,680 feet into the wellbore.

Drillsite was about eight miles south of Vernon.

Plug-and-abandon orders have been issued for a Foard County wildcat located about 12 miles south of Crowell. Designated as the No. 1 J.G. Halsell, the well was spudded on May 15 of this year and was taken to a dry bottom at 6,012 feet.

Abilene-based Sojourner Drilling Inc. was the operator.

Flowing 144 barrels of oil with 37,000 CF gas per day on an 8/64 choke, the No. 3 Bobbie Gerald has been completed in Hardeman County's Bobbie Gerald Field, about five miles north of Chillicothe.

Perry L. Larson Operating of Dallas is the operator.

Larson took the hole to total depth of 8,232 feet. Production will be from a set of Mississippian perforations, 8,212 to 8,222 feet into the hole. Flowing tubing pressure was gauged at 840 PSI. Oil tested at 46-gravity.

A potent new producer has been brought on line in Hardeman County's Groesbeck Creek Field, 4.5 miles northeast of Quannah.

It is the Hyson Wells Unit, flowing 231 barrels of oil along with 52,000 CF casinghead gas daily on a 6/64 choke. It registered flow pressure of 1,150 PSI.

Also showing ability to make a minor volume of gas, the well probed to total depth of 2,495 feet. Production will be from the Cisco Sand, 2380 to 2,385 feet into the hole.
