City, school schedule meetings next week

The city council will take action on a proposed boat race and the school board will call its annual election, when the two groups hold regularly-scheduled meetings next week.

The council will convene at 7 p.m. Monday in council chambers, and the board meeting is slated at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the administration building.

Two items on the city's meeting agenda concern a request submitted earlier by the Iowa Park Athletic Alumni Association to sponsor a day of boat racing at Lake Iowa Park this summer.

The organization, represented by spokesman Jerry Spruiell, has complied with council stipulation to provide insurance for the event.

Also on the agenda is a public appearance by Jesselea Jones, who will request permission to use city property on Fourth Street for a girls' softball team practice area.

City Administrator James Barrington is to report on three meetings he attended recently in Austin, conserning a Texas Municipal League Legislative Seminar, another having to do with the city's landfill operation and the third on an Economic Development Seminar.

Also to be discussed are means of correcting a drainage problem on West Emerald, and a proposal the city participate in the Texas Civil Justice League.

School trustees are to set April 4 as election day, which will also be the same date of the city's election.

Annual contracts of key personnel will be considered. They include those of the assistant superintendent, principals and assistant principal, athletic director, tax collector and all counselors.

A contract for a computer system for the administration office will be considered, as will a request to order a new bus for the 1987-88 year.

A dominating portion of the meeting is expected to be consumed with an Annual Performance Report of the 1985-86 school year.

Trustees will decide when to hold their monthly meeting next month, because the regular Tuesday date conflicts with the spring break, according to Supt. Glen Mitchell.

Intoxication arrests made by local police

Iowa Park police during the past week made an uncommon number of arrests for public intoxication, seven.

Two of those arrested were also found to be wanted for outstanding warrants by other departments.

One of those, Christopher Adam Crawford, 20, was arrested at 10:49 p.m. Sunday. He was held for release to the Department of Public Safety on warrants for "rider not secured by seat belt - passenger" and failure to appear in court.

The other, Dean Evan Troutman, was arrested at 9:04 p.m. Monday. He had an outstanding warrant on him from the Archer County warrants, both involving failure to have motor vehicle liability insurance. Since the second offense becomes a county court offense, he was released at 11:24 a.m. Saturday to a county deputy.

Linda Mae Koerth was taken into custody at 11:43 a.m. Saturday while walking on the Access Road near Johnson Road, on an outstanding warrant from Electra Police Department for criminal mischief and assault by threats. She was released at 2:49 that afternoon to an Electra officer.

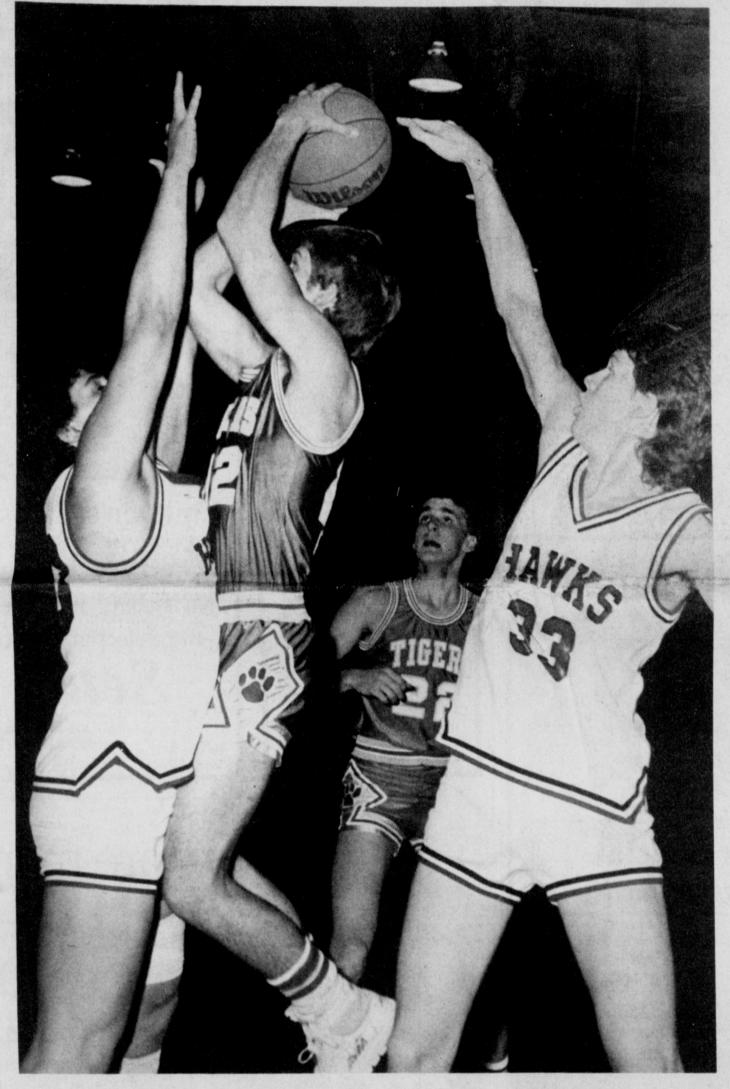

School officials reported the theft of several bus keys, taken from the vehicles at the bus barn. The report was filed by Robert Palmer, assistant, Monday morning. Alice Overman, 1003 Foley, reported filed a criminal mischief complaint Sunday. Her home had been egged.

City issues permit report

Though no permits for new home construction were issued during the first month of the year, several homeowners sought permits to work on their homes.

The January permits amounted to $33,264, according to a report by city hall.

Permits were issued to: Jerry Whitman, 107 E. Washington, addition, $2,000; Ken Edwards, 201 E. Jefferson, addition, $504; Jeri McCann, 1327 Edgehill, addition, $15,000; Allsup's, 200 W. Highway, addition, $150; John A. Caulfield, 1103 Cornelia, new shop, $5,760; Dewey Spruiell, 422 N. Bond, repair, $4,000; M.L. Frie, 901 W. Cornelia, alteration, $1,000; Leo H. Fletcher, 908 Van Horn, alteration, $4,800; Brad Parker, 608 E. Highway, alteration, $50.

Frank Scott and Sharon Portman were elected to the board of directors of Wichita Valley Water Corporation during the annual membership meeting this week in Holliday.

New directors

are elected

The two will replace retiring members D.E. Bratt and Iowa Parkan Roy Thompson. M.C. Kuykendall, whose term had expired, was reelected.

Other members of the board include Don Barton, Fred Lane, Johnny Hicks and Delbert Catlin.

Auditor Nayland Smith gave the financial report, which showed a net profit of $25,897.

A San Antonio firm was awarded a contract for the repair and cleaning of the corporation's 17 holding tanks, with a bid of $164,000, a major expense for the corporation.

A budget of $667,000 for the year was set and approved.

Band Boosters to make plans

Plans for a cornbread and bean supper will be made when the Band Boosters meet at 7:30 a.m. today in the high school band hall, according to Jo Ann Hale.

OFFENSE ON DEFENSE - Iowa Park's two big inside men, Steve Allen, left, and Sean Robinson, played a lot of defense Tuesday against Jacksboro, but they were also major contributors as the Hawks set a season high scoring mark of 89 points. Robinson had 30 points and Allen 20. For details of the game, please turn to page 12.

Price of electricity drops 3.7-percent

Local electric customers should notice slightly lower bills this month.

The Public Utility Commission recently approved TU Electric's request to reduce fuel charges and to refund about $55.6-million to its customers.

TU Electric includes the utility firm formerly known as Texas Electric Service Co.

Because of the drop in the cost of natural gas, which is used to generate about half the electricity used by TU Electric customers, the company had asked the PUC to decrease its composite charge for fuel from 2.45-cents per kilowatt-hour to 2.19cents. The average residential customer wills average about $30 per year because of the lower fuel charge, a 3.7-percent annual reduction in the average residential electric bill. The lower charge will go into effect in February.

The reduction in rates caused by decreasing fuel costs is the second for TU Electric customers within a year. Residential customers' bills were lowered by five percent annually in March of 1986.

The refund approved Jan. 18 represents further savings to customers from lower fuel costs. The refund will be made through a credit to Feb-

This week's cook, Melissa (Mrs. Ricky) Moss, like many women today that work outside the home, prefers recipes that are quick and easy.

She and her husband, Ricky, were married in November of last year. As a newlywed, she is still learning to cook, but, like most young women, did have some cooking instruction from her mother and grandmother.

As is reflected in her recipes, her favorites are those that are hearty but easy.

When Melissa isn't working at Video Library, she manages to keep busy with her hobbies which include swimming, ceramics and making concho shirts.

She is a member of the Baptist Church and the YMCA.

Ricky is employed by the Wichita Falls Fire Department.

Mrs. Moss, formerly Melissa Horne, was born and raised in Plainview, but moved here five years ago. She and her husband are graduates of Iowa Park High School.

After trying out one of those two new shaded rest areas in the Park Street median this week, I accused Mike Price, city public works director, of using the new police chief as a model for designing it.

Alan Sheffield, you may recall from our announcement story of his being named, stands 6-7.

The problem is, you've got to be awful long legged for your feet to touch the floor of the structures once you sit down. I'm 5-10, and my feet dangle six inches from the floor when I lean back on the seat.

Price assured me he had already begun plans to correct the situation, having heard from others before me.

Is it really true, that bigger is better?

Apparently a lot of people in government think so.

There appears to be a move afoot to close down small rural hospitals over the state. And the same appears to be true of small rural schools.

You've probably heard about the problems an Archer City doctor is having with this peer review project. He's not having his license revolked, but it's almost as bad.

He and 35 other doctors serving 30 rural hospitals over the state have been notified they may not be allowed to accept Medicare patients in the future.

Only those being served by such physicians have said anything about an effort to close down rural hos-

Worth Quoting

Standing in my small corner of the closet Thursday morning, my sleep-heavy eyes searched for brown shoes to wear with brown slacks. Never paying much attention to style or color (I don't like pink and yellow together), I had decided to put a little more into my attire.

No brown shoes! I looke pitals, but those folks are putting out the word. Loud and clear.

In most cases, patients of the physicians would have to travel several miles to an "approved" doctor. And in some cases I've heard, the patients' round trips would be something like 350-400 miles.

Now, I've certainly not read everything printed about these cases, but in about half a dozen of the newspapers I've read, not one complaint was ever issued by a patient of the "unapproved" doctors.

And concerning small schools in the rural areas, I've had numerous long-time career educators tell me the handwriting is on the wall. Many of Warning to others Dear Mr. Hamilton,

I need your help so that another family in Iowa Park won't fall prey to the sticky fingers that removed a commercial type battery charger valued at $300 or more. It was worth a lot more to us due to the fact it was my father's.

His life was taken Dec. 17, 1986 in a Bellevue truck wreck that also left my brother disabled, we hope and pray for a short time.

I mean in all our grief we never thought someone would take something out of our yard while we were out. We have been here four years and this never happened before.

Please warn other families to be more cafeful.

Everyone here in Iowa Park and Wichita have been so good to us. They took up a collection of money here at Ken's Gulf. Not to mention the money that is being brought by the house. If we ever needed anything it's support because we are at a great loss. My dad was our whole world. Donald Merle Robertson was more than a name to a lot of people in this area. Please, is there some way to find out where my father's commercial battery charger is, or any way to recover it without any questions asked?

them are not long to be open.

Education of students to meet state standards is not "cost efficient." And unless schools provide all the courses and equipment being required, they face losing accreditation, and, hence, state funding.

The first move to close small schools by consolidating them into larger districts was made back in the mid-1960s. But that was beaten down because in those days, we still had a large number of rural district representation in the legislature.

No so today.

There are numerous school districts in the state where students now must ride their buses well over an hour, both to and from school. That, in many districts, would be doubled if they were forced to join other districts.

Either that, or rent a room in the town where they went to school.

I opposed the earlier movement, as I oppose it today. Not only because of the students, but because of the communities where the schools are located.

In the 1960s, Dolores and I had the newspaper at Kress, in Swisher County, which had a population of only 500.

It became immediately apparent to me that if the school in Kress were to close, most of the businesses of the community would likewise have to close. Kress would be erased from the map.

But, away from economics of communities, let's also take the parents into consideration. How would a mother of a....say six or eight year old student feel if she received a call the child had become ill at school, which was an hour's drive from the house?

Bigger is not necessarily always better. There are people to consider.

my little corner and came up with one pair of black loafers and a pair of wornout wingtips with a hole in the sole.

A glance over at the wife's majority share of the closet produced a lineup of footgear that would make a cobbler's mouth water. In various shapes and styles she had multiple colors and all in pretty good condition...all 24 pair.

It's just not right for a woman who goes barefoot most of the time to have that many shoes (no wonder she felt sorry for Mrs. Marcos).

Back in my corner, I found four pair -- the two black pair, a worn-out set of tenny-runners and western boots with the aligator print peeling off. The cuddly-bear house shoes don't count.

Snooping into son's closet, I found one pair of deck shoes, new boots and four pair of athletic shoes (a high top, two low tops and a middle top). Oops, forgot the football cleats and golf shoes.

The teenage daughter's closet produced 29 pair, 30 counting the pair I hope she wore to school. I'm afraid to count purses.

Back in my closet, I flipped a coin to see which black pair to wear with brown pants. It slipped out of my hand and fell into pair No. 23 on the wife's side.

"Just leave it there," I thought. "That's as safe a piggy bank as I could have."

"Maybe I should just wear blue pants."

Hawks set high, low scoring marks for season

The Hawks set two season scoring records in their last two Dist. 6-AAA games.

They suffered their lowest point production Friday at Bowie, losing to the Jackrabbits by a disappointing 64-40 margin.

And they return home Tuesday to produce more points than any tilt of the season, defeating the Tigers of Jacksboro, 89-73.

Friday's loss put the pressure on the Hawks in their post season playoff bid, by dropping them into a third place finish for the first half.

Decatur won the first half and assured the Eagles a spot in the playoffs. Bowie, losing only to Decatur, wound up in second place.

The Hawks now have two chances to get into the playoffs.

One, they can win the second half of the round robin schedule. In that case, they would hold a playoff with Decatur to determine the district championship.

Two, they must finish no lower than second, should Decatur continue its domination of league teams. Should Decatur also win the second half, whichever team finishes second, other than Bowie, would hold a playoff with the Jackrabbits to determine the district runner up and the right to advance into the playoffs.

The outcome of Tuesday's game with Jacksboro was not determined until the final period, as the Tigers stayed close through the first three quarters.

The visitors trailed only 22-14,

Iowa Park's aggressive play. The Hawks were charged with 26 personal fouls, and Jacksboro chalked up 25 of their points from the charity line.

Iowa Park's two big men completely dominated the boards on both ends of the court, as well as the scoring. Sean Robinson had a seasonhigh 30 points and Steve Allen scored 20. Bill Chandler finished with 13 and Brad Huff had 12.

Coach Earnie Reusch said the Hawks were not ready to play when the game started Friday at Bowie.

That was apparent, because the host 'Rabbits established their lead in the first quarter, which ended 18-2, and Iowa Park never threatened.

"We were just standing around waiting for the ball (on offense) until midway in the second quarter. Then we went to work and pretty well stayed with them the rest of the game," he explained.

Those two points in the first period didn't come from a starter, either. Jeff Huff got off the bench to post Iowa Park's only field goal of the quarter.

And as the lowest point production game of the season would indicate, not one Hawk finished in double digits, another first this season.

Robinson was high with nine points, and Jeff Huff finished with eight.

The Hawks will carry their 10-7 season record down to Breckenridge Friday night. In their first meeting, in Hawk Gym, they blasted the Buckaroos 85-59.

Tuesday, they'll return home to take on a stubborn Bridgeport club. In their first meeting, Iowa Park won 72-50, but the Bulls had trailed only 46-39 going into the final period.

end for the girls Tuesday, when they host Bridgeport.

Iowa Park, with a season record of 8-15, will travel to Breckenridge tomorrow, go to Wichita Falls High Monday, and then finish the season Tuesday.

It appeared the Lady Hawks were going to blow Jacksboro out of the local gymnasium Tuesday, when they jumped out to a 20-8 lead in the first quarter, and held a 20-point edge, 38-18, at the half.

But the second half was almost all in Jacksboro's favor, as the Lady Hawks cooled and Lady Tigers got the hot hand.

Iowa Park scored only six points in the third period, as Jacksboro pulled to within 14, 44-30.

The visitors continued their rally until they trailed by only six points, and the teams pretty well matched points the final two minutes.

Lori Allen finished with 20 points and Laurie Espinoza had 12.

League-leading Bowie did not intimidate the Lady Hawks through the first half of Friday's game. The hosts led only 18-12 at the first rest period and 30-22 at the half.

But Bowie got the hot hand in the third period and pulled to a 49-30 lead before heading into the final quarter.

Paige Knight was high scorer for the Lady Hawks with 11, and Wendy Trantham was close behind with 10.

Allen, usually Iowa Park's high pointer this season, was held to only five points, all in the first quarter.

SCHOOL SCENE

Does your child have a learning disability?

Suppose your youngster is having trouble in school. The teacher or principal tells you the problem is a "learning disability." What does that really mean?

The term attempts to describe a condition for children who have been proved in tests to be sound in body and mind but who just cannot seem to get the hang of reading, writing, and arithmetic, and who lag noticeably in school. The "LD" child may have normal or even superior intelligence and a strong desire to learn. Yet the youngster cannot perform the way formal, regular education demands. In short, there is a marked gap between capability and performance in school.

Learning disabilities take many different forms. The youngster may have difficulties with reading, language, math, or relating one concept to another. Many "LD" children have trouble in developing a sense of direction or position (such as distinguishing between right and left, and up and down), or understanding time. Often "LD" problems appear in combination.

What can you do at home if your child has a learning disability? Perhaps a parents' greatest contribution is understanding. Maintain a warm and supportive emotional climate. This helps raise the child's opinion of himself and helps him realize your opinion of him is high. Look for genuine opportunities to give praise and recognition, especially in front of others. Concentrate on help with language skills. Learning disability symptoms usually center around difficulties with language development of one type or another speaking, reading, writing, and so forth.

It's important to watch for possible learning problems, but don't assisting in other ways are encourag- confuse ordinary differences indevelopment between your child and others with signs of more serious trouble. If you perceive any prolonged, unusual behavior or marked slowness in development, don't wait for the youngster to "outgrow" these traits. In our schools our resource program provides special education and support while letting the "LD" child participate in regular classes. A part of each day is spent in a room with a specially trained teacher who uses many different techniques and materials to teach the child language, reading or motor skills. For the greater part of the day, the child joins a regular class and thus spends as much time as possible with the other children in normal, everyday situations.

With proper training and emotional support the child can learn to deal with the problem so that it no longer impedes development. In fact, any parent can take heart at the long list of famous people who suffered from a learning disability - among them, Albert Einstein, Thomas Edison, Woodrow Wilson, and George Patton.

-from Jerel Kerby Fish Oil Relieves Arthritis Pain

Daily doses of EPA-rich fish oil have proved to be effective in the relief of pain of rheumatoid arthritis and other inflammatory diseases.

These are the findings of two studies reported at the recent meeting of the American Rheumatism Association.

Other studies have shown that EPA (eicosapentaenoic acid) reduces risks for coronary heart disease by increasing blood levels of HDL - the "good cholesterol."

When used as a dietary supplement, EPA capsules reduced tenderness of joints and fatigue in about 50% of rheumatoid arthritis patients studied by Dr. Joel M. Kremer of Albany Medical School. Similar results were reported in a study conducted by Dr. Richard I. Sperling at Harvard Medical School. Patients ingested 15-20 capsules of fish oil each day, in addition to their regular diet.

Other scientists are testing EPA as supplemental treatment for systemic lupus erythematosus and in asthma. The NIH is conducting a multi-center clinical trial to evaluate the effect of daily fish oil supplementation on about 60 patients with lupus. Results should be available before the end of the year.
