Council takes action on junk cars

The city council Monday night passed a new ordinance it hopes will better control junk vehicles in the community, another ordinance which increases water meter deposits and fees, and agreed to extend water service to a new church site on West Smith.

The junk car ordinance prohibits "...the parking, placing, accumulating, or storing of junked motor vehicles upon any private or public property or public right-of-way within the city..." and describes such a vehicle as "...does not have lawfully affixed to it both an unexpired license plate and a valid motor vehicle safety inspection sticker and that is wrecked, dismantled, partially dismantled or discarded."

Also, a junked vehicle is described as one that "remains inoperable for a continuous period of more than 120 days."

The ordinance contains no "grandfather" provision.

Water meter deposits, under the new ordinance, are $40 for residences and $50 for businesses, plus a $10 connection fee.

When service has been discontinued due to payment, a resumption of service fee of $20 will now be charged, and $40 if the meter had to be removed. Also, when moving from one location to another, within the city, a transfer fee of $20 is now established.

The council agreed to serve water to the Cornerstone Pentecostal Church of God, at a site on West Smith, if the church agrees to be annexed into the city. It adjoins another tract currently being annexed. Smith Street parallels the railroad track, on the south side.

Administrator James Barrington was authorized to file suit or take other actions to collect a water bill for Country View Mobile Home Park from former owner Dick Bergland, in the amount of $5,184.13.

Of the amount, $2,796.62 was involved in a bankruptcy application. During the time it was filed, an additional $2,387.51 was accumulated, before it was learned the earlier bill was collectable because the application was disallowed.

In the meantime, the previous owner, Ed Sneller, has taken back the property, the council was told.

Bergland lists his residence as Longmont, Colo.

The council approved advertising for a new police patrol car, as well as a request for a new storage disk for the computer that will cost $13,300. The original disk is near capacity, Barrington told the council.

Approval was also given by the council to purchase a flag pole for the new library, at $1,697, and additional dumpsters from a Wichita Falls source that will cost less than those which have been purchased earlier from Lubbock.

Another purchase approved is for a new pump for the Garden Valley sewer lift station, to cost $2,452.

Aldermen agreed with Mayor Tim Hunter to name Stanley Williamson back on the county appraisal district board, as Iowa Park representative. A similar appointment must be made now by the school board, to be sustained.

A resolution was approved, leasing land occupied by Iowa Park Ready Mix at $100 per month the next five years, with an additional five-year option. Land leased is next to the sewer treatment plant.

WATER RATE HIKE

Mayor Hunter told the council he had been informed by the city of Wichita Falls that Iowa Park's water rates for treated water would be increased by 42.3 percent.

The increase is brought about because of additional expenditures by Wichita Falls at its Cyprus Street treatment plant, source of water purchased by Iowa Park.

Besides stating he felt the increase was unfair, because it is greater than any increase being charged anyone in Wichita Falls, Hunter took exception to the shortness of notice Iowa Park was given.

The letter was written Sept. 5 and received Sept. 9, eight days before the city council meeting, as stated in the letter, would be given at 3 p.m. Monday (Sept. 23) and the Wichita Falls city council was to act on the proposal the next morning.

Hunter appeared before the council Tuesday, and was successful in getting an extension on council action until Oct. 15, during which time Iowa Park and other communities in the area are to work on counter offers or alternate courses of action.

Valley Water Coop patrons will be charged, in effect, an increase of some 135 percent, because it purchases raw water from Wichita Falls, as well as treated water through Iowa Park, Hunter said.

Holiday and Burkburnett increases are said to be 47 percent.

"If we cut back by conserving, or producing more water on our own, they'll just come back and raise us again," Hunter told the council. He explained the Wichita Falls budget is set on a certain amount of revenue from sales to Iowa Park, and if that revenue is lower than anticipated, they will just raise the rate to generate what is budgeted.

Hunter said the greatest increase anyone in Wichita Falls will pay, which is major consuming industries, is 37 percent. Homeowners will actually get a cut in price, aldermen were told.

"We must come up with something that is fair and equitable," Hunter said.

Baugh says Stamford is better than 1984

Stamford's Bulldogs "could be Coach David Baugh said about tomorrow night's opponent for the Hawks in Hawk Stadium, and "do a whole bunch more offensively" than eight-man defensive front, he is also concerned about the visitors' offense because they run deceptive plays and have a good blocking line.

Baugh also pointed out that the Stamford team seems to always come up with a new trick play each game it plays. This is credited to Coach Fred Strickland, an understudy of Brownwood's Gordon Woods, who has kept a lot of the Lions' plays when he made the move to Stamford.

The Bulldogs come into the 8 p.m. kickoff with only one win in their three games. But those losses have been to outstanding teams: Eastland, 33-14, and Graham, 34-18.

That was turned around last week, however, when Stamford defeated a good Olney club, 19-7.

Credit the victory to the outstanding return specialist of the Bulldogs, Timmy Delee, who ran last week's opening kickoff back for a touchdown, and returned a punt for another six points.

Delee is one of five starters back from last year's club that suffered a 31-13 setback before his own fans at the hands of the Hawks.

He and the others back from last year will be remembering well that Iowa Park chalked up one of the Bulldogs' five losses in 1984. Even so, Stamford was a regional finalist for Dist. 6-AA, finishing the season with an 8-5 record.

Bullrider's best friend...the clown

By KEVIN HAMILTON

Six seconds into an eight-second bullride, you've already lost your hat and the stick of Juicy Fruit you had tossed in your mouth at the end of your bull-mounting ritual.

Aside from these minor setbacks, you're doing a standup job with this ragins ton-of-flesh beneath you, handling every twist, lunge and jerk the monster has offered.

Suddenly, the beast makes two lunges and twists to the outside of your anchored hand, instead of the usual one lunge and twist. And you're airborne.

Unfortunately, your "dally," the rope wrapped through your fingers with surgical precision in the chute before the ride, is still secure, and the massive animal goes berserk, trying everything it can think of to get to you.

In the midst of your worst nightmare, a lone figure arrives by your side. You almost want to laugh when you glimpse the comical face, red polka dots around the eyes against a white background and black lines to make the mouth look twice its size.

Reacting with swift precision and wasteless effort, the man with the painted face grabs the end of the dally and jerks, and the rope comes off your hand as if it were never tied in the first place.

Almost as fast as he had appeared, the man is gone, first planting himself between you and the bull, then diverting its attention from you with loud yelps and intimidating gestures. For the moment, he is your best friend. He's the rodeo clown.

Gary "Buffy" Neves of Iowa Park has become the instant "best friend" for several area bullriders in the course of his 17 years in this most unusual occupation. His relaxed, and friendly personality has done more to make several "permanent" friendships on a rodeo circuit that has been a good part of his life.

Hailing from Jermyrn, near Jacksboro, Neves was exposed to the "life of the roper" at an early age, learning firsthand knowledge of it at various rodeos in the area. Family friends Ken Williams and Don Brewer one day introduced him to rodeo clown Buzz Crenshaw of Iowa Park, who Neves feels is the best all-around clown in the area.

"I was riding bareback at that time, it was neat," remembers Neves. "Brewer and Williams were probably the best bareback riders in the area, that was where I got interested in riding. They also rode the bulls."

Using the handy excuse that "...things were kind of lonesome on the farm," Neves decided after meeting Crenshaw that he wanted to clown. "I liked the rodeo to begin with," he admits, "and I was just wanting to do something to keep in rodeos."

Having moved to Jacksboro with his parents (J.D. and Juanita Neves) in 1968 "to play football," the town also became the site of his first experience in clowning, one he will not soon forget.

"The first two bulls out of the chute hit me good," he says. "That is, the first two bulls I clowned on my own." "One rode completely over me, and the other one hooked me real hard," Neves continues. "It was kind of embarrassing. I climbed over the fence and told Williams and Brewer that I wasn't going to do this sort of thing anymore, but they eventually talked me into staying with it."

From that shaky start in 1968, Neves worked on his newfound occupation by hitting every rodeo on the area circuit that could use him. "I now probably average 20 or more rodeos a year, and have done close to 300 rodeos total."

The most important points to being a clown, Neves claims, is "knowing the riders and the bulls."

"Or you could say it is a combination of knowing your bulls and a lot of luck."

Concentrating on rodeos in Texas and Oklahoma, Neves has worked some of the biggest and best of the bunch. "Probably the best rodeos I have clowned in was Stamford, Canadian, then of course the Open Rodeo in Wichita Falls. I have also clowned the World's Largest Rodeo in Ardmore four times," he says.

At those rodeos, Neves has also seen the best performers. His vote for the best area bullrider is Von Woodress of Altus, formerly of Wichita Falls. "He has been the best bullrider in this area for the last 10 years," he claims. "He is just tough."

"One of my favorite clowns is Dennis Holbrook from around here, although Buzz Crenshaw is my overall favorite clown. He was more of a "funny-man" clown, and he had a knack at being at the right place at the right time. I learned a lot just watching him."

Neves married the former Karen Schroeder of Iowa Park in 1975, when he had moved to Wichita Falls to work rodeos in Oklahoma and west to Childress. The couple have two children, Michael and Michelle. Asked if his wife liked the idea of him continuing his dangerous occupation, Neves responded, "Karen worries a little, but she can't much, she has been to too many of them. Whatever, she does live with it."

Injuries to riders are commonplace, but injuries to clowns are also as frequent, but not as noticed. Twisted knees, abrasions, bruises and other assorted "liveable injuries" happen to the clown, but there is also the other types, such as gorings and collapsed lungs. For Neves, "I have been lucky to have broken only some ribs and fingers, but the most I get are a lot of cuts."

His worst experience in the arena was in Stamford, with a "bad-looking Brahma" named J-Plus. "A kid was hung up, and while I was trying to unhook the dally, I got stuck in a mudhole. I got the kid free, but the bull just wanted me, and tried to push me as deep into that hole as he could."

As for his worst fears in the rodeo, Neves says "You never know when you are going to get hooked, but when you're around the bull, he is just using them (the horns) to throw you. My worst fear is being stepped on." He adds that most bulls weigh between 1,400 and 1,800 pounds.

Asked how long he would clown, Neves snickered and then exclaimed, "They will have to drag me out of the arena!"

Hill, Wilson wedding vows are exchanged here recently

A double wedding-ring ceremony was performed Sept. 7 at the Iowa Park Church of Christ by Jack Cummings of the 23rd and Grace Church of Christ in Wichita Falls to unite Miss Cecilia Maxine Hill and Robert Lynn Wilson.

The parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hill and Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Wilson.

The bride walked to the altar lighted with candles aflame in branched candelabra with her father who presented her in marriage for her parents. The unity candlestick lent itself to the candelabra to provide a setting highlighted by beautiful simplicity.

Mrs. Johnnie Routh and Miss Sharon Routh furnished the vocal music for the wedding. They sang "I Love You" and "If" before the ceremony and "You Light Up My Life" and "Walk Through This World" during the ceremony.

The mothers of the couple wore shoulder corsages formed on light blue and dark blue flowers and ribbon with their dresses. Mrs. Hill wore a white pleated dress with a high neck trimmed in pearls, and Mrs. Wilson wore a light blue velvet dress trimmed with white lace.

The wedding was followed by a reception hosted by the bride's parents at Texas Electric Reddy Room. They were assisted by Miss Laveda Davis and Mrs. Darwayne Wilson who served at the bride's table, and Mrs. John Abel and Mrs.

Ray Willingham who served at the groom's table.

Mrs. Wilson also directed the signatures of guests at a table which held the book, blue feather pen, floral arrangement and a basket filled with the rice bags.

The refreshment tables were covered with white lace over blue. The appointments on the bride's table were a five-branched bronze candelabrum holding small blue candles, a crystal punch bowl and two-tiered cake iced white and decorated with blue and white frosting roses, and a top ornament of wedding bells and doves.

The groom's table held a three-branched candlestick supporting tall blue candles, a chocolate cake decorated with blue roses, and a punch service.

The groom's parents gave the rehearsal dinner at the United Pentecostal Church. The tables were decorated to carry out the chosen colors in bells, streamers and floral bouquet centerpieces. The western style meal consisted of barbecued brisket, potato salad, red beans, relish tray, hot rolls, Cherry Pudding Delight and iced tea.

The bride and groom are students at Iowa Park High School. They are living with the groom's parents. The families of the groom's sisters and brothers arranged for the newlyweds to spend a short honeymoon at the Hilton Hotel in Wichita Falls.

Fayne Wilson and Mrs. T. Martin, grandmothers of the groom, were special guests.

Out-of-town guests included Messrs. and Mmes. David Dwight of Leonard, Max Barnett of Garland, Johnny Wilson and children of Holliday, Mrs. Thelma Martin of Electra. Guests from Wichita Falls were Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Patterson, Pat Lebus, Jean Byas and Pauline Boutwell.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT WILSON

The bride chose a formal white Chantilly lace gown with a long train for her wedding. The bodice featured a high wedding ring collar, sheer yoke bordered with a wide lace ruffle and long sleeves.

Her fingertip illusion veil cascaded from a fashionable white bridal hat trimmed with a cluster of flowers at one side. She carried a striking bouquet composed of light blue and dark blue silk roses, philodendrons, lilies, pom poms accented with matching feathers, lace and net tufts, Parkey's string of pearls for "something borrowed" and Mrs. Jackie Wilson's diamond ring for "something old." She chose her wedding rings for "something new," and the popular garter for "something blue."

Miss Susan Streich, the maid of honor, Mrs. Jimmie Brown and Mrs. Alan House, the bridesmaids, were attired identically in baby blue tea length formals featuring off-the-shoulder necklines. Their bouquets were like the bride's bouquet adapted into a smaller style.

Lisa Wilson and Trisha Marie Abel, nieces of the groom, were the flower girls. They wore long light blue velvet dresses trimmed with lace and ribbon and carried blue flowers in white ribbon-trimmed baskets.

The groom wore a white tuxedo with tails, white wing collar pleated shirt, a baby blue cummerbund and tie, and a boutonniere of light blue and white flowers with baby's breath.

The male participants in the wedding wore light blue and dark blue tuxedos with white wing collar shirts, light blue cummerbunds and ties.

Scott Weaver was the best man, Danny Forman and Clarence Hill, brother of the bride, were the groomsmen, and the ushers and candlelighters were Darwayne Wilson, brother of the groom, and Bradley Loucks.

Cook of the Week

Mrs. Victor Heverly

Each year with the coming of fall, cooks naturally turn their thoughts to foods that are especially adapted to cooler weather. They have incentive to turn their ovens on and resume baking. Pastries, cakes and desserts are high on the list of favorite foods at this time of year.

Carolyn (Mrs. Victor) Heverly's recipes this week indicate that she is in the mood for baking some sumptuous desserts.

American settlers liked desserts and devised some interesting confections reflecting their various backgrounds and existing conditions in the New World. Modern housewives do not have to expend the efforts that early Americans did to have tempting pastries, cakes and desserts and their recipes do not sacrifice creative style or good taste.

Pastries have been favorite desserts for many years. Four centuries ago a good cook might have been recognized by royalty in Italy, where pastry making was regarded as an accomplished art. In those times, the kings bestowed upon a favorite few the title of Master Pastry cook, and the recipients were granted many special privileges.

Pastry as we know it was created in the late 18th century. While Americans are famous for a number of pastries, the Italians, Greeks and airy puff pastries. The English are renowned for their gooseberry tarts, the Germans their paper-thin Applestrudel, the French for their Napoleons, and the Italians for their macaroons.

Victor and Carolyn Heverly and their three daughters, Jennifer 12, Nikki 10, and Traci 6, have lived in Iowa Park for two years. He is employed by Shell Oil Co., and they are members of the First Baptist Church.

Carolyn was graduated from Denver City High School. At the church here, she is director of the Adult III Sunday School department and a Girls Auxiliary director. Her hobbies are counted cross stitching, cooking and reading. She is also publicity chairman of the Kidwell PTA. She and her family enjoy camping and fishing together.

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

It's been a long time since I've strongly disagreed with our city council, but Monday night I got on my soap box and sounded off.

An ordinance was proposed to forbid smoking anywhere in city hall, by anyone at any time.

Thank goodness, the council agreed to delay any action until its next meeting, which is regularly scheduled Oct. 14.

As a smoker, I'm getting darned tired of the putdown I and others receive. It's like we're being classified as second class citizens.

It must be noted that none of those on the council smoke. And it is further noted that only one of the employees in city hall smokes. Therefore, it comes as no surprise that this kind of ordinance might be considered.

But, as I pointed out, city hall is owned equally by smokers and non-smokers. No one has more rights or privileges in a publically-owned facility than another.

And to top it off, anyone smoking in the building "shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars for each offense."

Now, that boils my blood. Ask me, or any other smoker, not to smoke in an area if it bothers someone, and I'll generally agree. But tell me not to, and I get my back up!

If the smoke bothers some of the employees, and I think I know a couple who complain about it, they knew what was coming when they accepted the employment. If they don't want to be around smokers, I think it would be just fine if they bought their own business and put a no-smoking sign at the door. I'd respect that.

I understand the ordinance was an outcrop from a complaint one of the aldermen received concerning municipal court judge G.A. Benesh's smoking while court is in session.

If it is, to offer an ordinance banning totally any smoking in city hall is an over reaction. And unnecessary.

Judge Benesh serves the city at the will of the council. And if the council objects to the attorney's activities while serving the city, it has every right to criticize him or even relieve him of his duties.

Oh, I'm aware the federal government and numerous agencies are working hard to have smoking banned in all public places. But, hopefully, our city government is not like the feds.

The council agreed to postpone action on the ordinance until the next meeting after I pointed out there was no advance notice of it being considered.

So, now it's the public's time to give aldermen some input on the subject. If you want the ordinance, or don't want the ordinance, I believe our council members will be receptive to your opinions.

City hall is for us all, not a few.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Mr. Hamilton:

This is in regard to the new TAX REVISION BILL now out of committee and before Congress. I don't like what I'm hearing on the TV, radio and in the newspaper that the Congressmen are saying; namely, that the public is apathetic toward the bill and they are receiving very few letters.

I think if taxpayers knew the 5 components of the bill, they'd definitely be interested and write to these three men:

Honorable Beau Boulter
1427 Longworth, H.O.B.
Washington, D.C. 20515

Honorable Phil Gramm
174 Russell Bldg., S.O.B.
Washington, D.C. 20510

Honorable Loyd Bensen
703 Hart Bldg., S.O.B.
Washington, D.C. 20510

The 5 components of the bill essentially are as follows:

1) Raise the tax deduction to $2,000 per family member (last year it was $1,480 income tax)

2) Give homemakers the right to invest $2,000 a year in IRA's, when last year it was $250 (a clear discrimination)

3) Give an overall reduction in the tax rate 9% below last years

4) Preserve the total deduction for mortgage interest paid, and

5) Preserve the deductions for contributions to churches and other non-profit organizations up to 50% of income.

We should all IMMEDIATELY write to these 3 men named above who represent us and let them know we want them to vote FOR the bill.

Very truly yours,
Mrs. Geardene Miller

Taxing, finance sections

certain provisions which must be included to grant the government the authority to operate its necessary functions. One of those requirements is the authority to tax. Chapter 6 of the proposed charter deals with the taxing authority of the city.

There are seven sections in the taxation chapter, but there is not significant change to the method of levying or collecting taxes. These sections specify what types of property may be taxed and that franchise taxes are authorized. It gives the council the authority to levy, assess, and collect taxes in accordance with state law. It allows the council to collect taxes through normal collection, liens against the property of people who refuse to pay, and suits against delinquent taxpayers. All of these procedures are allowable under state general law. No changes in the methods of assessing, levying, or collecting are provided in the proposed charter.

In short, the power to tax is part of proposed charter, neither adds to or takes from the powers given to the city by the current general law provisions.

Chapter 7 of the charter is similar in several ways because it is one of the sections which is needed to establish the general framework within which the city operates. It is titled "Finance" the financial operations of the city.

The first requirement of chapter 7 is the designation of the fiscal year. It is October 1 - September 30 just as the current situation provides. Next, a budget is required to be submitted to the council at least 60 days prior to the beginning of the fiscal year. Certain requirements are spelled out to be provided that will give the council comparative information. A city budget for Iowa Park is usually about 60 pages long and details projected income and expenses for the coming year. It also gives information on the previous year's experience and the funds needed to pay the bonds and debts of the city. Borrowing by government is usually accomplished by the issuance and sale of revenue bonds or general obligation bonds. These bonds are to be paid from funds generated by municipal operations or tax revenue respectively. To avoid financial difficulties, the charter requires that the budget each year be balanced with available resources to meet expected expenditures.

It is not the purpose of this series of articles to persuade people to vote for or against ratification, but rather to give information so that each voter may cast an informed and intelligent vote as he or she sees fit. Home Rule is intended to allow the people at home to decide what they want their government to be. If YOU don't vote, you are giving up that right.

Questions are welcome. We will try to answer as many questions as possible over the coming weeks. They should be addressed to the Iowa Park Leader or to City Hall, Attn: City Administrator. Remember to vote November 5!

The Hawk coaching staff had done an outstanding job scouting Stamford last season, and had the defense ready to hold the Bulldogs to only 31 net yards rushing. But Stamford went over the Hawks' heads in that game, completing four passes for 136 yards.

Warning his players to become mentally ready for the contest, Baugh said Stamford is a hungry team that wants badly to win.

"Stamford is a town that takes great pride in their team and their players usually respond," he stated.

The Head Hawk has been pleased with the progress of his defensive platoon, that has given up only three points in its last two games. In three games, they've forced 10 turnovers, five each in interceptions and fumbles.

But Baugh has been emphasizing the need for more consistency on offense, pointing out that one or two players make mental errors at times that breaks down momentum of drives.

Numerous thefts reported

Police activities last week were concerned with a number of burglaries and thefts, as well as recovering a stolen pickup.

James Jenkins told police Thursday renters of his mobile home at 1007 S. Wall had moved, taking with them two air conditioners and a mirror.

A.L. Bohannon the same day said someone had taken a 15-inch wheel and nylon tire.

Friday afternoon, Lou Dormier reported theft of a loose diamond, a rod and reel and plastic bag containing some jeans from her home at 1013 Louisa.

An estimated $3,510 of household furniture and fixtures was allegedly taken from 505 N. Yosemite. Tim Rich reported Sunday.

FATAL ACCIDENT - Volunteer firemen from Iowa Park and Wichita West departments assisted Wichita Falls emergency workers Saturday morning in an effort to free two men from an overturned truck near the Wichita Falls landfill. The employees of John L. Hancock Co., industrial waste remover, were hauling a load of scrap from CertainTeed when they lost control on the rain-slick pavement. One of the two, Mark Anthony Travis, 21, was dead at the scene, but workers were successful after about an hour in removing the other injured man.

Thursday games shutouts: Jayvee wins, Frosh lose

As indicated by the scores, the wrong teams played each other Thursday in Hawk Stadium.

Iowa Park's Freshmen were shut out, 20-0, by Holliday's Junior Varsity, and then the Hawk Jayvee shut out Electra's JV 47-0.

Fans in the stands were expressing opinions that the Hawk JV was a better match with Holliday, and visa versa.

Iowa Park ran up a 33-0 lead by halftime. Scoring went: Chad Fielding 10 yards, Toby Brown kicked extra point; Fielding short run around end, Brown kick good; Doug Dietrichson, 25-yard pass from Fielding, kick fail; Billy Kenyan, 72-yard run, two-point attempt fail; Gary Tatum, 46-yard run, Brown kick good.

The scoring slowed considerably in the second half, but Shannon Pearson went around end for another TD and Brown kicked the PAT.

Tatum finished off the scoring in the fourth quarter and Brown again cleared the uprights to make the final score, 47-0.

Coach Ray Sefcik praised his entire defense for holding Electra scoreless, and very few first downs.

The JV gets a week off, with an open date this evening. But the Frosh will host Wichita Falls in Hawk Stadium at 5 p.m.

Eighth Grade beats Vernon; Seventh Graders' game a tie

The Eighth Grade defeated Vernon Tuesday night, 18-6, while the Seventh Grade game wound up in an 8-8 tie.

Marc Cruz set the tone of the Eighth Grade game by returning the opening kickoff 70 yards to score.

Jeremy Sine intercepted a Lion pass at midfield and took it to Vernon's four yard line, from where Chad Patterson punched his way into the end zone, also in the first quarter.

Iowa Park's scoring was all in the first half, as Jimmy Nicholson in the second period scored on a 35-yard pass from Jimmy Duggins.

The visiting Lions finally got on the scoreboard midway through the third quarter, scoring on a 45-yard run.

Vernon was driving in the final period, but Sine posted his second interception of the evening to kill the threat on the Hawk 15 yard line.

Vance Edwards scored from the two in the second half, and then ran over the two-point conversion to tie Vernon. The Seventh Grade was driving deep in Vernon's territory when time ran out.

The teams will play at City View Tuesday.

Hawks edge Eagles 9-0 in big defensive battle

As had been anticipated by the Hawk coaching staff, the Mean Green had their hands full Friday night in scratching out a scant 9-0 win over Holliday's Eagles.

The stingy Big Red defense reluctantly gave up a net of only 84 yards rushing to the Hawk offense. And had it not been the best game of the season for Iowa Park's passing game and four Eagle turnovers, the outcome possibly would have been a 0-0 tie.

Iowa Park twice had scoring opportunities in the first quarter, but was held to a three-point field goal. And the score stood that way until the third period, when the Hawks lit up the board for their game's sum.

It looked like the Hawks were going to have another runaway similar to last year's 31-0, when they were knocking on the Eagle scoring line early in the game.

Unable to pick up a first down on their first possession, the Eagles punted. Stephen Biddy took the ball on his own 36, handed off on a reverse play to Scott Weaver, and the junior back went all the way to Holliday's 15 before being knocked out of bounds.

Four plays later, the Hawks were on Holliday's two yard line, but Weaver was thrown for a one-yard loss. Then Robbie Wilson, on a fourth down and needing three to score, was held without a gain, and Holliday's defense handed the ball over to the offense.

Iowa Park drove to the 12 yard line, but drew a five-yard delay penalty and on third down threw an incomplete pass.

That's when Robert Adams was called on for a field goal attempt. After missing four times this season, Adams connected, this time on a 33-yard attempt, to give the Hawks a 3-0 lead with 2:30 remaining in the opening period.

Again, it appeared the Hawks would run away with the game, when Holliday fumbled on the ensuing kickoff return, and Randy Boutwell claimed possession on the Eagle 25.

But the Big Red defense once again held, even after Iowa Park had picked up a first down at the 11 in only two plays. Four plays after that, Holliday took over the ball on downs, at the Eagle 22.

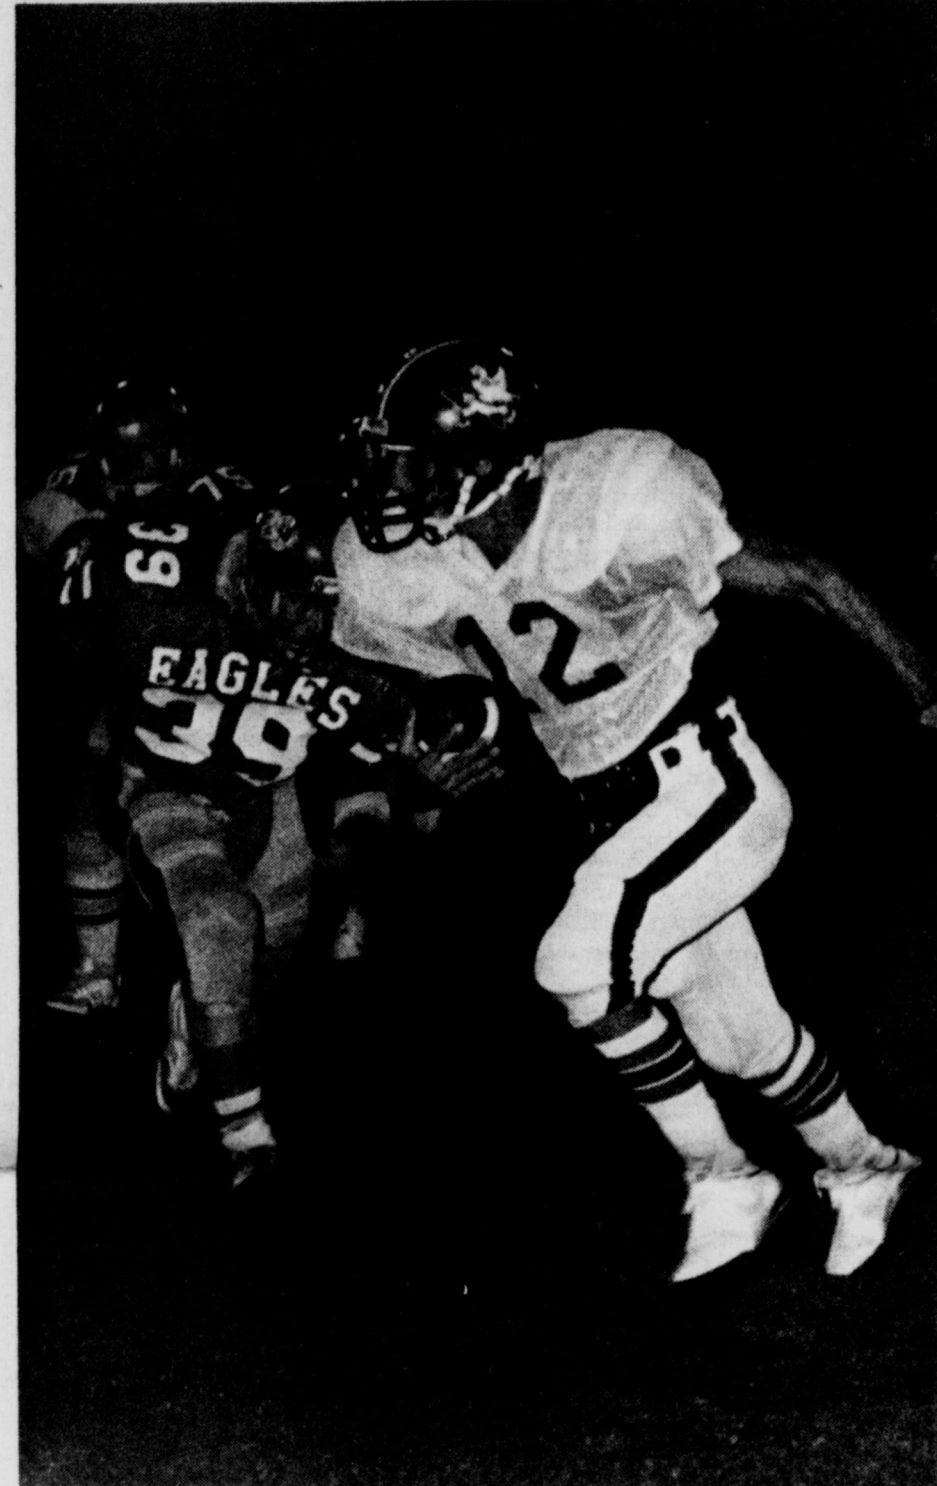

Both teams drove to their opponents' 30s during the second quarter, but were unable to score. Each lost the ball on fumbles during the period, with Whisnand capturing his second Eagle misuse of the game.

The Hawks scored on their second possession of the third quarter, mounting a 67-yard drive with the aid of two big passes.

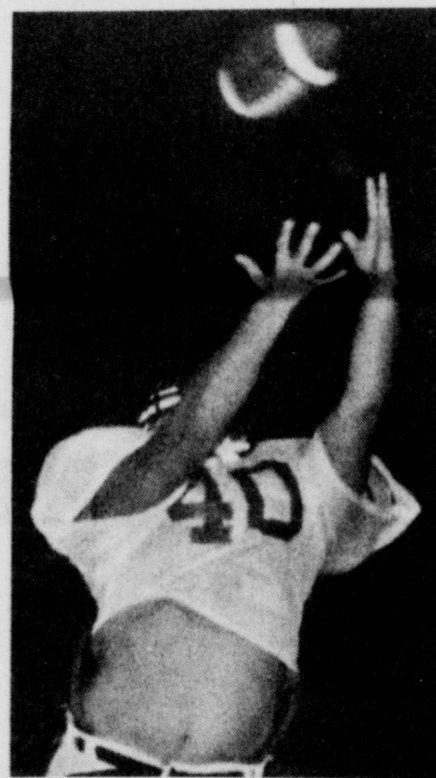

Quarterback Ray Sefcik hit Biddy on a 19-yard aerial, and on the next play threw to Ronald Young nine yards.

The score came when Weaver went wide around left end, was sprung clear by a key block thrown by Sefcik, and scampered 32 yards down the sideline to the end zone. Adams' kick for the extra point was wide left, his first PAT miss this year.

when the Eagles took over possession on the Hawk 24. But the opportunity was nullified by Whisnand's fumble recovery.

The chance was set up when Wilson was set to punt, but the snap from center sailed high over his head. He picked it up on his own 15 and was able to reach the 24 before being tackled.

Holliday's stunting defense caught Sefcik eight times behind the line of scrimmage for a minus 53 yards.

Sefcik completed six of 15 attempts, four to Biddy and one each to Weaver and Ronald Young, for 107 yards. The pass intercepted by Holliday was not Sefcik's, but was off the arm of reserve quarterback Brad Huff, late in the game.

Weaver, who carried only once in the fourth period, was the workhorse for the Hawks. The tailback gained 73 yards on 14 carries. Boutwell gained 33 on nine carries and Danny Forman had 25 yards on only three totes.

It was an unusual game for both teams, penalty-wise, with Iowa Park drawing only two calls by the officials and Holliday three. Each drew only 20 yards.
