City changes mind on certificate sale

The city council Monday night voted not to authorize sale of up to $650,000 worth of certificates of obligation, but instructed the city administrator to advertise for bids to correct flooding problems in Country Hills Addition.

Aldermen decided certificates of obligation were not the route to take to finance the project, if undertaken. Instead, any monies used will be from surplus funds and unbudgeted money on hand.

At the same time, aldermen added a fourth alternative to correct, or alleviate flooding in the housing area immediately north of US 287.

The first three alternatives considered were: 1) build a storm sewer from Mary Drive to the expressway, under Douglas, and repave the street; 2) do the Douglas project and duplicate it on Rita Lane; 3) do both Douglas and Rita, and rebuild Johnson Road.

The fourth alternative is to build a storm sewer on the west side of Johnson Road, rework the road, and not do the Douglas and Rita projects. The city's engineer estimated this would handle approximately one-third the water that contributes to flooding in the housing area. Cost would be approximately $330,000.

During a discussion period, some fears of possible flooding south of the expressway were voiced, as well as questions about the total cost of the project and need of resurfacing Johnson Road.

Alderman Bud Burch, pointing out Johnson Road is already extremely narrow, would serve the greatest number of residents by helping control flooding, as well as rebuilding one of the heaviest-traveled streets in the city.

The vote to authorize preparations of plans for bids on Johnson Road was approved by a 4-1 margin, with Bud Mercer voting against it.

Council members approved construction of the Tom L. Burnett Memorial Library and released the contractor; an ordinance amending the requirements for certain electrical installation standards, and another ordinance requiring inspection of air conditioner installations.

Insurance coverage on the new library was approved, with $500,000 on the building and $200,000 on the contents.

Upon the recommendation of architect Don Daugherty, who told the council he had drawn plans for the completion of the new Lakeview Church of God building, the council both approved the plans and a waiver for one set of stairs that does not meet the code.

Administrator James Barrington told the council of a proposal that the new library's features be incorporated into the city's official emblem. It was suggested a contest be developed to encourage public participation on how the emblem should look, and the council agreed.

Former alderman Lita Watson proposed an historical marker, commemorating both the Texas-Oklahoma Fair and Wichita County's first refinery, be erected at the west end of Park Ave. She pointed out the location would be at the entrance of the old fair grounds.

Mrs. Watson's proposal, as well as a request the city pay for the sign, were approved by the council.

Following a 40-minute executive session under the topic "pending or contemplated litigation or settlement offers," Mayor Tim Hunter announced the council was "authorizing the administrator and attorney to enter into a note with Dick Bergland, and turning down his offer of a cutting horse."

Bergland, a Colorado resident who briefly owned the mobile home park on the east side of town and owes the city several thousands of dollars in unpaid water bills, has apparently offered ownership of a cutting horse in trade for settlement of his account with the city.

Sight is handicapped, but not love, actions

By OLIVE BLALOCK

Heather Coleman, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B.E. Coleman, seems to have a magnetic appeal that captures the hearts of all who know her.

A first grade student at Kidwell Elementary School, she is legally blind. She has especially endeared herself to Mary Helen Schell, her home room teacher, Gail Miller, the resource teacher, the students, June Williams, her Blue Bird leader and girls in the troop.

Naturally, her mother, who is a third grade teacher at Electra, and her father, who works for IHR Burglar Alarms, love her very much. In fact, they uprooted themselves from Kentucky and moved to Iowa Park two years ago so that Heather could benefit from the educational advantages that the local school system provides for visually handicapped. She has a two-year old brother, Matthew, and chances are that she is something special to him, too.

Ann Moore, a Region IX coordinator for visually handicapped, works with Mrs. Schell and Mrs. Miller as she assists with braille and work on the abacus. She also helps to supply them with the resources that the local school does not provide. The school has a machine voyager which enlarges objects and makes it easier for Heather to visually determine what they are.

Mrs. Coleman said Heather's teachers go beyond the call of duty to help her. Since there are no text books in large print for first graders who are visually handicapped, Mrs. Miller writes exceptionally large words and Heather is able to read them to her parents at home. They also have a Systems 80 computer for her at home.

Mrs. Williams said that Heather has wrapped herself around the heart strings of the Blue Birds leaders and members of the troop. "She kindles the light of joy in our lives and shows so much love that it has become a pattern for all of us," Mrs. Williams said.

The personnel in the Camp Fire office in Wichita Falls became aware of Heather recently and had the highest commendation for her when she completed one of the Blue Birds' project, "No Greater Love," a salute to veterans, by writing her salute in braille.

Mrs. Coleman said Heather loves senior citizens and that they are immediately attracted to her. When the family lived in Kentucky, she made regular visits to the senior citizens' center with her grandmother.

The Colemans naturally have a nostalgia for Kentucky, their families and friends. But they are happy in their new environment because of the educational and social advantages that it has for Heather.

Contract, dress code get trustees' action

Supt. Glen Mitchell received a one-year extension on his contract during Tuesday night's meeting of the school board.

In other action, the board approved advertising for bids to repair the track at Hawk Stadium, hired a teacher's aide, and adopted updating of 25 school policies as well as amending the dress code.

Noting work on the track needs to get underway as soon as possible, because the season starts in late February, board members agreed to hold a called meeting Jan. 30 to open the bids. At the same meeting, members are to hear the newly-drafted discipline management plan and take action on architects' plans for additional classrooms on the Kidwell Elementary campus.

Action on the superintendent's contract was taken following a 42-minute executive session during which his performance during his first year here was evaluated.

Athletic director David Baugh told the board he had received estimates for repairing the track that ranged from $9,000 to $15,000. Crumbing areas of the surface are to be replaced with new base and asphalt, he proposes.

Trustees approved hiring of Cheryl Roth on a half-day basis the balance of the year to assist junior high special education teachers. Principal Jimmy Alsup explained his school experienced an influx of qualified students during the recent Christmas holidays.

Formal opening plans formed

Ten members of the Friends of the Library Board and two guests, Mrs. Kay Mashburn, librarian, and Mrs. Stacia Brown, library program coordinator, attended a recent meeting held at the library, and toured the library.

Mrs. W.A. George, the presiding officer, asked the members for their suggestions for the formal opening March 1. It was discussed what dignitaries should be sent invitations, and decided that Mrs. George and Tim Hunter would be in charge of invitations.

Mrs. George announced that the MuleSkinners would serve a meal at the library during the day and that proceeds from the ticket sales would go into the library fund.

Man charged with burglary

A 48-year-old man presently in Archer County jail is possibly facing more time behind bars once he is released there.

A warrant for his arrest was served to Archer County Wednesday of last week by Det. Tommy Adams, alleging Jerry Huff is guilty of the Dec. 8 burglary of Scobee's II.

Huff reportedly admitted to burglarizing the local store, as well as others in Wichita Falls, during an interview with a Wichita Falls officer.

The local warrant charges him with burglary of a business. Archer officials are to hold him under a $10,000 bond once he is released from that facility.

Two non-resident motorists were arrested here over the weekend on outstanding warrants from other cities.

Mike Keith Wilson, 27, was taken into custody Saturday evening at a local eating establishment after it was determined he had outstanding warrants issued against him by the Department of Public Safety at Lubbock.

The warrants against him including speeding, no motor vehicle liability insurance and violating promise to appear. He was turned over to Wichita County Sheriff's officers.

Early Sunday morning at US 287 and FM 368, officers took Jerry Lynn Brashier, 30, into custody when it was determined he had four outstanding warrants against him from Wichita Falls Police Dept.

Those warrants included no motor vehicle liability insurance, violating park curfew, invalid motor vehicle inspection sticker and warrant fee.

He was released to Wichita Falls police.

Child abuse topic of Thursday program

"The Prevention of Child Abuse," a special project of the president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, provided the theme of the program at the Thursday afternoon meeting of the 23 Study Club. The meeting was held at the First Presbyterian Church and hosted by Mrs. B.G. House and Miss Betty Meadows.

Mrs. Howard Marlar served as program coordinator.

Mrs. Keith Aulds presented a vocal rendition of "Bless This House" for the performing arts number with piano accompaniment furnished by Mrs. House.

The speakers for the afternoon were Kathy Bullitt, who has been with the Wichita County Child Welfare Department for five and a half years, and Mrs. Riley Thompson.

Church group meets

Mrs. E.T. Patterson gave a devotional program for the Friendship Class of First Baptist Church Monday evening in a meeting held at the church. She used "Forgetting the Past, Pressing Forward" for a topic. She used for a preface articles on "I Am" and "God is Invisible, Silent and Spirit."

Mrs. O.S. McLemore conducted the business and Mrs. D.O. James directed a period of recreation.

The hostesses were Mrs. Leanord Jones and Mrs. D.H. Ford. Sixteen members were present.

Circle meets

The members of the Jessie Mae Circle of First United Methodist Church met in the home of Mrs. Gene Owens Tuesday morning. Mrs. Dave Davis presented the lesson on "Christ's Invitation." Twelve members were present.

Twelve members of the Bertha McDonald Circle met in the church library for a program given by Mrs. L.A. Thurlo on "Mission at the Crossroads." Mrs. S.B. Keeter, UMW president, was a guest. The hostesses were Mrs. China B. Smith and Mrs. R.E. Waters.

Mrs. Thompson spoke on "Emotional Child Abuse" which she described as a national plague and as devastating as physical abuse. She referred to it as a systematic destruction of self esteem inflicted by abusers prompted by their own psychological problems.

During the discussion, she placed emphasis on the four "Ds" of emotional abuse: deprivation, distancing, depreciation and domination, and recommended therapy that involved the whole family as one of the best corrective measures.

Mrs. Bullitt spoke on "Violence in the Home" involving physical and sexual abuse. To make her listeners aware of the family violence in the county, she said that there were now 102 children in foster care, these having been removed from their homes because of neglect or abuse. She attributed distress in the homes that cause family violence to the ways parents were treated when they were children, to drugs, alcohol and "parent fighting."

Mrs. Bullitt said that anyone who suspects that a child is being abused or neglected should report it to the Child Welfare Department which will investigate it immediately.

Mrs. Travis Smith gave the resolutions adopted by GFWC at the annual meeting in Houston in 1985 for the federation counselor's report.

During the business directed by Mrs. Aulds, officers for 1986-88 were elected. These were Mmes. Joe Singer, president; Sam Hill, vice president; B.G. House, secretary; Riley Thompson, treasurer; and Betty Meadows, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. E.F. Soell introduced Mrs. Chauncey Weiler, a life member of the club, who will write the foreword for the journal that club members will be responsible for to put in the Sesquicentennial Time Capsule in March.

Mrs. D.O. James and Mrs. Travis Smith were appointed to purchase the tree which will be planted at Bradford Elementary School on Arbor Day.

Eighteen members and one guest were present.

Pop music is program

An entertaining program on "Pop Music" was presented for the Modern Music Study Club at a meeting held Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Helen Burrell with Mrs. Delbert Todd serving as co-hostess.

Mrs. Kenneth Davis served as program leader and conducted the business.

Mrs. Michael Sargent gave a short talk on "Pop Music" to set the stage for the musical numbers. She defined it as a popular music of the time that was carried through movies, radios, juke boxes over and over again, and is now heard in a particular movie, on records and television.

The program featured Mrs. Davis who sang "Far Away Places," a selection from the forties, and "Love and Marriage" a Sammy Cahn tune from the fifties. Also Mrs. H.J. Cannon who played "Raindrops Keep Falling on My Head," a hit from the sixties. Mrs. Sargent played "Maple Leaf," a ragtime pop tune by Scott Joplin that was popular in the seventies, and "Arthur's Theme," from the movie "Arthur," a song of the eighties.

Mrs. William LaBarier played "Heaven and Earth and Sea and Air" by Joachim Neander, the hymn of the month.

Cook of the Week

If you are looking for an experienced cook, look no further for you are about to meet her as the Cook of the Week.

Gladys (Mrs. D.O.) James did a lot of cooking for her late husband, who died in 1968, and their four sons, Don and Douglas of Wichita Falls, Billy and Deryl of Iowa Park, and two daughters, Juanelle (Mrs. Ben) King of Lubbock and June (Mrs. Donnie) McManus of San Antonio. She now has 20 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren and nothing makes her happier than when all of them get together on holidays and special occasions. In fact, 41 enjoyed Christmas Eve together at her home.

Speaking of Mrs. James' cooking, the young people of First Baptist Church are aware of her culinary abilities and have asked her to be in charge of cooking for them on three different mission trips, one to South Texas and two to Leadville, Colo.

One might be led to believe that Mrs. James has spent most of her time in the kitchen which is not true. She has been very much involved in church, community, school, PTA, club work on local, district and state level, and in the Democratic party in all of these places through the years.

A member of First Baptist Church, she has held as many responsible positions as perhaps any member has. She is currently serving as secretary of the junior high school Sunday School department after relinquishing her place as leader of Adult Three Sunday School department several years. She is a mission study chairman of the Night BW. She has been president of the WMU and served as secretary of the Wichita-Clay-Archer WMU six years.

One of Mrs. James' first loves for many years has been the P-TA. She had held local, council and state offices and has organized 16 P-TA's.

Cognizant of her value to the entire community, she was the people's choice for the Citizen of the Year award, the first one presented by the Chamber of Commerce. She has also been named the Texas Mother of the Year.

A loyal Democrat, Mrs. James has served as Precinct 33 chairman 16 years, and she is a member of the State Democratic Executive Committee.

She is on the library board, a member and two-time president of the 23 Study Club, member and president of the Iowa Park Lioness Club for the second time, member and past president of the Iowa Park Garden Club, a former member of the Park Area Home Demonstration Club, and she served as president of the Highland Cemetery Association two years.

Mrs. James' useful and busy life has afforded her ample opportunity to enjoy her favorite hobby - traveling. She has traveled through 13 countries; Australia, New Zealand, British Isles, China, Greece, the Holy Land, Alaska, Hawaii, taught school in Brazil one summer, taken the Caribbean, Bahamas, Panama cruises, and attended two of the Rose Bowl games in Calif.

Does she really have time to cook? Let her recipes speak for themselves.

Texas towns Philia program

The Philia Study Club held its January meeting in the home of Mrs. Helen Burrell Monday evening. Mrs. Raydean Mattis served as co-hostess.

Mrs. Leon Bidy presided during the business, and Mrs. Mattis provided a thought-provoking meditation of "Inner Peace."

Mrs. Judy Spring presented a very informative program on small Texas towns with slides and detailed information about each.

The towns and a thumbnail sketch of them begins with Athens, the county seat of Henderson County which received its present name from a Mrs. Dull Averitt who thought that it would be a cultural center, and it was later noticed that the town was built on seven hills.

Canton, the county seat of Van Zandt County, according to the speaker, has two stories of the origin of its name and it is widely known for its first Monday trade days. Cooper, county seat of Delta County, which has 25 historical markers, is known as the "vetch" capital of the world, and a train depot which has been made into a museum.

Commerce, located in Hunt County, was founded in 1872 with the building of a small store which now bears a historical marker. It has a library, brick streets and the longest city block for a town of its size. Clarksville is the county seat of Red River County, one of the original Texas counties. Its present courthouse, the fifth one that has been built, is one of the main attractions of the town. It has massive walls of limestone quarried in Honey Grove, topped by turrets, sheet metal cornices and a remarkable clock tower "Old Red."

The next town described was Detroit, located on Highway 82, famous for the home of the old "Cactus Jack" Garner, who was elected vice president of the U.S. after serving in the House of Representatives. Blossom, another of the towns was at one time noted for its mineral water wells. Lamar College was begun there in 1889 and Vice President Garner was supposed to have attended.

Honey Grove, located in Fannin County, where Davey Crockett camped near the present site and found honey in nearly every locust tree, in the grass and even on bushes. He referred to the site as "honeygrove" hence the present name. Bonham, formerly Bois D Arc Creek, had its name changed to Bonham, a defender of the Alamo, by an act of Congress. It is also the birthplace of Sam Rayburn, who became the Speaker of the House.

The other small towns of Texas included in the program were Bells in Grayson County. Its original name was Gospel Ridge but was changed when the Texas and Pacific Railroad opened in 1873 and the church bells rang so loudly. Electra in Wichita County was named for the daughter of W.T. Waggoner. It has two streets made entirely of brick that span the town.

The last town included was Iowa Park, formerly called "Daggett Switch." Its name was changed around 1882 when the small settlement war organized into a township.

She concluded the program with a short poem "Small Towns of Texas."

Approve donation

Thirteen members of the Alathean Class of First Baptist Church and one guest, Mrs. George Burkett of Altus, Okla. attended the monthly covered dish luncheon Tuesday.

Mrs. Earle Denny brought the devotion on "He Touched With Grace," and Mrs. W.F. Booher directed the business. It was voted to give a monetary donation of $50 to the Wichita County Memorial War Fund in memory of Charles Roby.

FIRST-DAY BROWSERS - Sherlene Hail and her two children, Angela, eight, and Terry, six, were among the many residents who visited the Tom L. Burnett Memorial Library on opening day, Tuesday. The new facility is open 8-8 Tuesdays and Thursdays, 10-4 Wednesdays and Fridays and 9-1 Saturdays.

Library News

By STACIA BROWN

The Tom Burnett Memorial Library is now open to serve the citizens of Iowa Park. The new library facilities are definitely something for the community to be proud of as well as use to meet the reading needs of the community. Many exciting programs will begin throughout the coming months for people of all ages. The first Children's Hour will begin on Saturday, January 18th. The featured film will be "Curious George Rides a Bike." All children kindergarten through third grade are invited to attend this film from 9:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. For most youngsters Curious George is not a stranger as there are many books and films available which tell of the hilarious situations that Curious George finds himself in. Then at 11:00 all children grades fourth through sixth are welcome to come to the film presentation Hans Christian Anderson's "The Ugly Duckling" which is the classic tale of a baby swan's mistaken identity and how it changed his life.

We are also looking forward to the beginning of our preschool reading program. However, this program will not begin until March and more details concerning this program will be available at a later date.

Also, something which may be of interest to Senior Adults is a four week reading program about Texas. During the course of this unit many topics about Texas will be covered. This program will begin on January 28th at 6 p.m. at the library with a presentation "Tales of Old-Time Texas" which will consist of reading several folk tales from Texas to the group. We encourage the senior adults to take part in this new program.

There could not have been a better time to select a reading program on Texas because the library has many new books about our state available. Among the new books on our state are: (Children's Section) A Child's History of Texas,

Children of the Alamo, Children Indian Captives, and Jane Long; Mother of Texas. In the Adult Section: ABC's of Texas Wild Flowers, Texas an Album - of History, and Texas Sketches. Other new books available are Jane Wyman, Three From Galilee and Caveat. Also, a series of books The Five Senses is new in the children's section.

In the video tape section we have a new selection of tapes on loan from the North Texas Library System. Among these are: The Blues Brothers, The Day of the Triffids, Terrytoon Cartoons, Hombre, Casablanca, Basic French By Video, Superman, Porky's, The Grapes of Wrath, Muppet Movie, Fantastic Voyage, None But The Lonely Heart, Bells of Rosavida/Old Barn Dance, The Agony and the Ecstasy, and My Bodyguard.

The Library has also purchased a new selection of video tapes which include: Pippi Longstocking, Benjie Takes a Dive at Marineland, The Best of the Little Rascals, Pinocchio, Mousercise, Its Flashbeagle Charlie Brown/She's a Goodskate Charlie Brown, The Berenstain Bears Comic Valentine, Gigglesnort Hotel, Curious George, The Berenstain Bears Play Baseball, Romper Room and Friends, Charlotte's Web and Jackie Sorenson's Aerobic Exercise.

We welcome you to our new library and encourage you to take advantage of the many wonderful experiences it can provide.

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

How often have you heard it said one can take a set of statistics and prove about any point you want?

Well, that's what a bunch of Damn Yankees from an Ivy League school has done, causing no little amount of embarrassment to counties all over the United States, and more in particular neighboring Wilbarger County.

A group calling itself the Physicians Task Force on Hunger at the Harvard School of Public Health alleges it made the study.

Now I think a study of that group should be made by the top 10 students of Kidwell Elementary's kindergarten class. It would likely be more accurate.

The Harvard group ranked counties on the basis of highest rates of poverty, apparently IRS figures, and lowest rates of participation in the food stamp program. These intellectuals ranked Wilbarger 54th out of the 150 counties in the U.S. said to have a high degree of hunger.

In other words, this bunch figures if you have an income the government figures to be below poverty, and don't take food stamps, you've got to be hungry.

Overlooked is the fact that poverty level income in some parts of the country is not the same in others where cost of living is higher; some people use their energy and common sense to raise much of what they can't afford to buy; some people just plainly don't want to be on the other end of a government handout.

Heck, it's even possible some people steal. And they certainly don't report that income.

But a major point our Harvard observers failed to look at... or at least it wasn't mentioned in any of the news releases... was whether these "physicians" looked at anyone physically to determine if they were hungry.

That, or just asking someone face to face, is the best way to find out if someone is hungry.

Wilbarger County Judge Bob Arnold was put out no little bit over the news carried by Associated Press, and I don't blame him. I think I'd take it just as personal as he has, because it gave any number of ways people receive assistance in his county besides food stamps.

According to the study, Wilbarger has over 20 percent poverty rate and participation in the food stamp program is over 16 percent.

The real answer to the Wilbarger situation is simple: 20 percent of that county's population either owns a farm or a ranch, and none of them have been able to show a profitable income in several years.

Added gasoline tax funding highway work

Texas Utilities Electric Company Tuesday filed an application with the Public Utility Commission asking authorization to decrease fuel charges by about $233-million annually and to refund about $78-million to its customers.

In requesting the $233-million fuel charge reduction, the company asked the PUC to decrease its fixed composite charge for fuel from 2.79 cents per kilowatt-hour to 2.46 cents.

The lower fuel charge per kilowatt-hour will save the average residential customer about $45 per year, about a 4.9 percent reduction compared to what their bills would be under the present fixed fuel charge.

TUEC in late December had announced its plans to ask approval of the refund and lower fixed charge.

The $78-million refund represents the savings to customers brought about by lower costs for fuel used to make electricity. The company is asking the PUC to authorize the refund a the earliest possible date, which would be in March, through a credit to customers' bills.

Under the company's proposal, residential customers are expected to receive an average refund of about $13.

The fuel cost savings are being made possible by the declining cost of natural gas, which is used to make slightly more than half the electricity used by customers, said Wayne House, Iowa Park manager.

The price of gas brought by the company declined from an average of $3.74 per millison Btu in 1984 to $3.51 for the 12 months ended

September 1985. The company's request for a decreased fuel charge is based on an estimated average gas price of $3.02 in 1986.

"We will continue to aggressively pursue contracts for lower-priced gas in our efforts to keep fuel costs to our customers as low as reasonable possible," House said.

State-ranked teams in shootout Friday

Additional drama has been placed on tomorrow night's Lady Hawks game at Vernon.

Besides the fact both teams are undefeated (4-0) in Dist. 5-AAA play going into the game, and the Lady Lions are the defending state champions, the Texas Association of Basketball Coaches ranking system has elevated Iowa Park into the top 10 teams in the state, along with Vernon.

Based on their records through Friday night, Vernon was raised from seventh to sixth place. Iowa Park, making its first showing in the top 10 this year, is now ranked eighth, with a 15-3 record.

Tomorrow's game which starts at 6 p.m. also winds up the first half of district play, and the winner automatically advances into the state playoffs.

Iowa Park shot down Bridgeport Tuesday night, 68-50, at Bridgeport, while Vernon was defeating Springtown 60-30, to keep their conference records unblemished. The Lady Hawks had defeated Springtown here Friday by a 53-49 margin.

Bridgeport likely would have preferred to have quit at the half, while leading 34-30. But Iowa Park came roaring back to totally dominate the second half, outscoring the hosts 16-9 in the third quarter and 22-7 in the fourth.

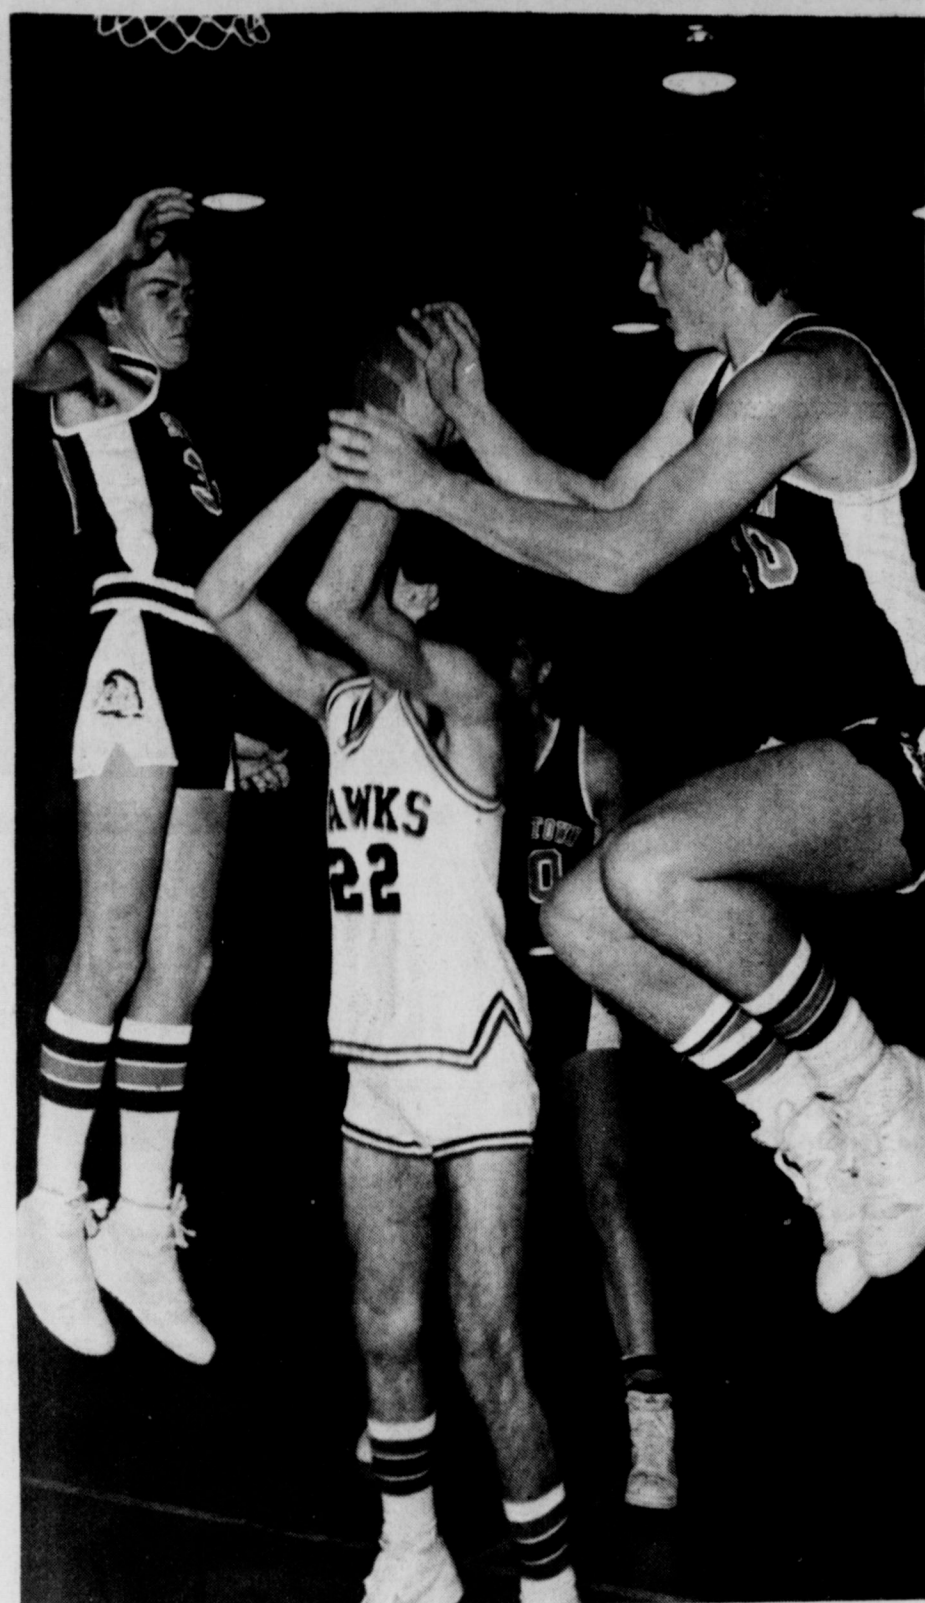

High scorers for Iowa Park were Lisa Selby, 16, Cindy Clanton, 14, and Laura Parker, 11.

Friday's win over Springtown was far more difficult than the four-point spread might indicate. In fact, the Lady Hawks held only a 51-49 lead before Selby sank a pair of free shots with nine seconds remaining.

Springtown, controlling the boards most of the night, trailed only 14-15 after the first quarter, but took a 22-17 lead with 4:54 remaining in the second. However the Lady Hawks fought their way back into the lead, 24-22, with 3:27 showing on the clock and held a narrow lead the rest of the game.

The visitors pulled to within one point, 47-48, with 5:08 left in the game. But both teams began missing shots and turning over the ball and the scoreboard didn't post a change until 1:06 remained, which was another free shot by Selby.

Selby finished the night with 11 points, thanks to hitting five of seven charity tosses, and Clanton had 10.

STEVE JOHNSON TRIES TO GET SHOT AT BASKET

Hawks 1-1 in district

After losing their Dist. 5-AAA opener here Friday night to Springtown, the defending champion Hawks evened their conference record Tuesday on the road by defeating Bridgeport.

They travel tomorrow night to Vernon, and return to their home court Tuesday to host the Jackrabbits of Bowie.

Trailing 27-33 at the half Tuesday, The Hawks became more aggressive on defense to force several turnovers and outscored their hosts 23-15 in the third quarter and 16-13 in the fourth for a 66-61 win.

Stephen Biddy led scoring with 21 points, followed by Steve Johnson's 16 and Mike Sikes' 10.

Tuesday was the first time Sikes had seen action in a while, having suffered a leg muscle injury.

Biddy fired an 18-foot desperation shot as the final buzzer sounded Friday, but the ball bounced harmlessly off the rim and the Porkys went home with a 41-39 win.

Springtown had an opportunity to put the game out of reach, but missed a free shot with 14 seconds left on the clock. Biddy was fed the rebound to dribble almost the length of the court so he could take his shot.

Trailing only by three points at the half, the Hawks suffered a frigid third quarter, during which Ray Sefcik's long outside shot was their only points, and went into the final period behind 22-30.

Bridgeport led 41-35 with 41 seconds remaining in the game, but Steve Allen hit a short jumper and Johnson sank a 16-footer with 14 ticks left on the clock to narrow the score at 39-41.

Brad Huff, playing in place of the injured Sikes, scored six of Iowa Park's first eight points and finished in a tie with Johnson for scoring honors with 12 points. Biddy had 10.

DIETARY VITAMIN D, CALCIUM MAY REDUCE COLORECTAL RISK

The addition of vitamin D and calcium to the diet may reduce the risk for colorectal cancer, according to the interpretation of a retrospective study of 1,954 men. Dr. Cedric Garland of the University of California in San Diego said that the 20-year study showed a relationship between a D/calcium-poor diet and an increased incidence of colorectal cancer.

YEAR IN REVIEW

Change is key to Holliday's year

Holliday City Council agreed to hire an additional police officer in response to requests voiced by a group of concerned residents, with the robbery of Allsup's Convenience

Store the prevalent issue. The new officer would be under the command of Police Chief Juel Colbert and would make the first time in Holliday's history to have two officers serving the city. School board trustees accepted the resignations of head basketball coach Bill Higgins and high school math teacher Ann Doan. They agreed to hire Johnny Dornier to replace Higgins as head basketball coach, Kent Lemons as assistant girls and boys coach and teacher and Mikki Phillips as special education teacher. Holliday High School students Cheryl McMasters, Debra Battles and Stephanie Fleming advanced to the State UIL Literary meet after placing in the regional meet in Stephenville.

MAY

Holliday city council approved the hiring of police officer James Massey at a starting salary of $1350. School board members accepted the resignation of vocational Agriculture instructor Cal Gauden and hired Houston Petty, high school band director; Eddie Wolsch, high school social studies and foreign language; Donna Bartley, high school English and journalism; Leslie Vann, assistant vocational agriculture teacher; Chester Jones, middle school math; and Sandala Downs, elementary special education teacher. Trustees in April approved the hiring of Mikki Phillips for special education instructor, but she was unable to fill the position. The board reinstated the annual senior class trip after meeting with the parents of high school juniors. The Holliday Eagle baseball team was named District 11-AA Champs. The Holliday Chamber of Commerce sponsored the third annual Mayfest Dance. David Parkey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Parkey, was named star chapter farmer of the Holliday Future Farmers of America Chapter at the group's annual Parent-Student Banquet. Star green-hand honors were earned by Shannon Shores, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Shores. The fathers of the pair were also cited, being named honorary chapter farmers. Junior High student Ronnie Molina captured two first place awards in oral reading and modern oratory at the Iowa Park UIL Literary Meet. Graduation ceremonies commenced at Erma Barton Auditorium as 40 Holliday High seniors received their diplomas, including valedictorian Becky Cutlers and Salutatorian Gayle Peters. Valedictorian of the junior high graduating class was Katha McAllister and salutatorian was Christy Edward.

JUNE

Holliday school received commendation by the Texas Education Association for being above average when compared to other comparable schools across the area. Trustees approved the hiring of three new teachers to complete its selection of personnel for the 1985-86 school year. Trustees hired Jerry Pink, high school English; Ricky Ledford, baseball coach and assistant to athletic director Don Lucy; and Charles Petty, assistant band director. Holliday City Council accepted the resignation of Public Works Superintendent Morganna Thorn, which Thorn said she hadn't given. This action apparently resulting from a growing conflict between Thorn and contractor John Lewellan, who had been awarded the bid to install new water lines in the city under the community development block grant for water improvements.

JULY

Holliday school board accepted the resignation of veteran teacher Evelyn Timms, who was relocating with her husband to San Marcos. The board hired Sherry Davis, who was then subject to assignment. Holliday City Council awarded Shaw Motor Co. of Iowa Park low bid for a new police car with a bid of $11,705. Dave Campbell's Texas Football Magazine placed the traditionally-winning Big Red in fifth place behind Electra, Henrietta, Olney and Jacksboro in the preseason picks. TF magazine predicted a rebuilding year for the Eagles. State Rep. Charles Fennell was appointed a member of the

Taxes, personnel get trustee action

During the first meeting of 1986, the Holliday School Board gave a two-year contract extension to Pritchard & Pritchard, and Pritchard & Abbott for delinquent tax collection and tax rolls, extended Supt. Dan Owen's contract two years, accepted the resignation of one teacher and hired another.

Trustees accepted the 1985 tax report which showed a total of $1,106,228.86 on the tax roll for 1985, and a 50 percent collection rate of $552,181.10, leaving a balance of $554,107.76.

1984 and prior delinquent taxes totaled $73,740.68 with an 18 percent collection rate of $13,219.90, leaving $60,520.78 due in delinquent taxes. Total tax balance due is $614,628.54.

Board members voted to extend the contract for delinquent tax collection and delinquent tax roll, held by Pritchard & Pritchard and Pritchard and Abbott, respectively, for two years.

The school will pay 30-cents per item on the delinquent tax roll and 15 percent of total delinquent collections, no change from the prior contract.

Following an executive session, trustees voted to extend Supt. Dan Owen's contract by two years, with a year remaining on his present contract, putting his contract up for expiration June 30, 1989.

Board members accepted the resignations of Eddie Wolch, social studies teacher, and Fern McAllister, school board recording secretary. They then approved the hiring of Earlyn Sadler to teach social studies, Claude Conway for high school maintenance, and Jesse Fair for part-time maintenance and bus driver.

In other business, schedules for 1986-87, and career ladder evaluation were discussed but no action was taken.

City expects large crowd

Holliday City Council will begin its regular monthly meeting at 7 p.m. Monday in the Holliday High School Auditorium, anticipating a large crowd. City Administrator Brown Hudson has provided a tentative agenda.

Some 80 members of the Holliday Riding Club are expected to attend the council meeting, where the council will discuss the renewal of the club's lease at Stonewall Jackson Park. Jim Ezzell will speak on the Riding club's behalf.

Ray Paradee, representative of Holliday Cablevision, Inc., is to meet with the council to discuss the continuation of Holliday's present cable service.

The council will call for election, which will be April 5. Those with terms to expire include Mayor Don H. Duke, alderman Elizabeth Gorman (mayor pro tem), and alderman J.R. Franklin.

Other items on the agenda include the discussion of traffic regulations and parking at and in front of the school, the city disposal of Christmas trees picked up after the holidays, and a report by the newly-formed Parks and Recreation Board.

Pecan trees popular

Pecan trees are ever popular among home owners and the commercial pecan grower. Interest is always high during pecan growing season, especially when there's a good crop. With tree planting time arriving, many home owners have begun asking questions about planting pecan trees in their landscapes.

There are several varieties of pecans growing in Wichita County and most have done well. Not all the varieties grown are recommended for this area of the state. Many were planted long before work on specific varieties were documented.

The first step any home owner or would be commercial pecan grower should do is select a site and plan out what you want to do with you site. Select soil that is well drained, deep, fertile, and has a large water holding capacity. To a home owner, a soil that is well drained is probably the first prerequisite. This could be somewhat difficult in our heavy clay soils, thus the addition of a soil amendment such as peat moss or nay other type of organic matter, would be helpful.

Next is the selection of the right variety. There are several popular varieties that are recommended for Wichita County. Among these are Choctaw, Wichita, Desirable, Mohawk and Cheyenne. Other varieties that are grown here include Comanche, Burkett-Stuart, Western and Mahan; but, some of these, such as the Burkett, are not a recommended variety.

Finally, after you've selected your varieties, you will need to plant them in the right way. For the commercial grower, they should be planted no closer than 35 feet. If planted in a 35 feet by 35 feet spacing, you will then be able to plant 35 trees per acre. The homeowner can get away with closer spacings due to the more intense care given each tree. When planting, be sure and compensate for root loss by cutting from one third to one half of the top position of the tree off.

I know this is the one thing that home owners hate to do, but it is a must if the trees are to start growth properly this spring. The reduction of top growth takes some of the pressure off the root system of the newly planted tree and will aid in assuring good growth this spring.

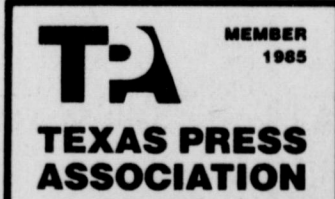

We have all types of publications available on selecting, planting, training, pruning and care of pecan trees. Drop by the office at 1626 Midwestern Parkway or call and we can send you what you need.

There are many other trees that do well in the home landscape. Many of these are being planted in the medians here in Wichita Falls as well. Norma Crane of the City of Wichita and the Young Executives Business League are heading up a median campaign at the present time. Some of the more popular ones they are replanting include the live oak, red oak and cedar elm.

Others such as the fruitless mulberry and mimosa are heavily planted here, but these are not on my list of recommended varieties. The reason for this is because their roots grow too close to the surface of the ground. They also love water and sewer lines and will grow into them if planted close.

One other problem they cause is to keep most grasses from growing underneath them. The grass may grow for a while, but as the tree gets larger, the grass will die out. This is caused by the thick canopy they have coupled with the fact that the roots are so close to the top of the ground and compete with grass for water and nutrients.

Select a tree that will enhance the landscape, not one that will cause trouble later on. The ones I have mentioned are a good list to start with. There are several more recommended for the area as well. I have this list at the office and would be glad to send it to you. It is free, so do not hesitate to call.

Area oil, gas report

Quintin Little Co. has finalized a new producer in Wichita County's Daves Field, flowing 166 barrels 41-gravity oil per day on a 42/64-inch choke. Drillsite was 770 feet from the south line and 1,210 feet from the west line of Section 21, Block 2, Denton CSL Survey, A-57, 8.5 miles south-southeast of Iowa Park.

The well is designated as the No. 2 R. B. Sisk. The operator took the hole to a 5,443-ft. bottom and perforated the Atoka Conglomerate Formation for production at 5,328 to 5,369 feet. Flowing tubing pressure came in at 100 PSI.

The No. 7 Hugh Reilly "A" is scheduled to be drilled in Wichita County, six miles southwest of Burk Burnett. Century Resources of Burk Burnett will be the operator. The venture will be situated in a 140-acre lease 275 feet from the north line and 1,050 feet from the west line of the J.B. Johnson Survey, 1-169, Wichita Regular Field. It carries permit for 1,700 feet maximum depth.

Wichita County gained three new producers when the wells were finalized by Century Resources. They include: the No. 1 Hugh Reilly "A," located six miles southwest of Burk Burnett, 150 feet from the north line and 150 feet from the west line of the J.B. Johnson Survey, A-169, pumping 20 barrels 41-gravity oil per day; the No. 2 Hugh Reilly "A" located six miles southwest of Burk Burnett, 150 feet from the north line and 450 feet from the west line of the J.B. Johnson Survey, A-169 pumping 45 barrels 38-gravity oil daily with 10 barrels water; and the No. 4 Hugh Reilly "A," located four miles southeast of Clara, 450 feet from the north line and 750 feet from the west line of the J.B. Johnson Survey, A-169, pumping 60 barrels 38-gravity oil per day. Bottomholes ranged from 1,700 to 1,701 feet. Production will be from perforated intervals in the Gunsight Sand Formation at 1,422 to 1,641 feet.

Egbert Oil Operator has given up on its efforts to make a producer out of the No. 1 J.A. Keown. It was a developmental try in Wichita County, 4.5 miles west of Burk Burnett. It bottomed at 1,920 feet without production prospects. It will be plugged and abandoned.
