City, school meetings center on work bids

Iowa Park city council will hold a regularly-scheduled meeting Monday evening and the school board is to hold a called meeting Tuesday.

School trustees, who are to open their meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the administration building, are to consider bids to be opened earlier in the day, for construction of four new classrooms at Kidwell Elementary campus.

Also at the meeting, according to Supt. Glen Mitchell, the board is to hold its first reading of a policy relating to selection of the graduating class' valedictorian, salutatorian and honor students.

The subject was discussed last year, when a two-tier level of study was provided for students. Different values will be placed on courses, depending on their difficulty, Mitchell said.

The change would not become effective until this year's sophomore class graduates in 1988.

The city meeting, to begin at 7 p.m. in council chambers, will deal with possibly amending the code dealing with livestock in the city, bids for street work, and consideration of proceeding with the final phase of city hall renovation.

During a discussion concerning the city's ordinance on livestock in the city, aldermen at their last meeting said they wanted to amend the code to clarify intent.

Bids are to be considered for new concrete crossing of the railroad, repair work on the ground storage unit, and storm draining and street work in Country Hills Addition.

Bids will also be considered to construct a fence around the city's south side sanitation vehicle garage, according to Administrator James Barrington.

Aldermen are to consider whether they want to proceed with the third and final phase of city hall renovation, which would be the exterior.

Also to be discussed is a request from a resident on Coleman Park Road to purchase water, an item on which no action was taken at the last meeting.

Aldermen will discuss the possibility of contracting maintenance of the Tom Burnett Memorial Library grounds, as well as city parks, Barrington said.

On a subject which has been discussed several times in the past, the council will hear alternatives for obtaining public officials' liability insurance.

Barrington said an executive session is on the agenda, during which time council members are to discuss the possible acquisition of land, and action could result when the group returns to open session.

HUNGRY WORKERS - More than 40 volunteers, mostly members of the Wichita County Young Farmers, worked all day Saturday at the late Ray Hicks' farm, cleaning equipment and arranging small items for an April 5 auction. Jackie and Ray Gholson were among the group who took time out at noon for a fish fry. Part of the catfish was furnished by Jeff Watts at the Midway Fish Farm.

Two student teams advance in mock trial competition

When she was born, Hope Johnson's father did not want to have anything to do with her; so he gave custody of Hope to her grandparents.

Suddenly, after three years of living elsewhere, Skip changed his mind. Now he wants Hope back, but Hope's grandparents want her, too.

Should Hope live with her father, or should she remain with the grandparents? How would you decide? Interested?

High school teams from more than 150 districts across Texas are, and will be competing to prove what would be in the "best interest for Hope Putnam Johnson" during the Seventh Annual Texas High School Mock Trial Competition.

Iowa Park has two teams entered, and both have qualified in the regional preliminary competition to advance to compete against each other in the regional finals, which will be at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday in Wichita County Court No. 2.

The winning team at the finals will advance to the state competition in Dallas, slated Mar. 14-15. And a team can continue all the way to the national level.

One team is composed of: Scott Webb and Scott Boss, plaintiff's attorneys; Kristen Sharpe and Jana Coltrain, defense's attorneys; Randy Boutwell, in role of Skip Johnson and Lisa Weed as Grace Putnam/Dr. Stone.

Their attorney advisors are Frank Trotter and Ron Poole, both of Wichita Falls.

Members of the other team are:

Cathy Downes, Dr. Stone/respondent attorney; Greg Ross, Homer Putnam/movant attorney; Lori Hankins, movant attorney; Rhonda Foehner, Grace Putnam; Leona Allen, respondent attorney, and Wes Ward, Skip Johnson.

Their attorney advisors are Alyce Bondurant of Iowa Park and Hank Rugeley of Wichita Falls.

Both teams are sponsored by Jeanie Wilson.

The state-wide finals, sponsored by the Dallas Bar Association and funded by the Hatton W. Summers Foundation of Dallas, will be held at the Dallas County Courthouse and the Earle Cabell Federal Building.

Jerry L. Buchmeyer, U.S. district judge, will preside in the final round which determines the state champions.

More than 800 attorneys and judges are involved with the mock trial competition around the state. Winning teams of the state finals will be presented scholarships.

Under contest rules, any school district may enter teams of four to six members. Student members assume the roles of attorneys and witnesses.

To help them prepare for the event, students have been provided with witness statements and rules of evidence. Teams have worked intensively with their teacher/lawyer coaches since the beginning of the school year in preparation for the activity.

The mock trial provides the students with first-hand knowledge of some of the procedures of the legal system as well as an opportunity to sharpen skills in communications, persuasive expression of ideas, and legal reasoning.

The regional competition is being sponsored by the Wichita County Bar Association and Wichita County Young Lawyers Association.

Local teacher among 17 to receive scholarship

Joni C. Whitis, of 805 North Jackson, Iowa Park, has been named winner of a scholarship for summer college study by the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers (PTA).

Mrs. Whitis, a third grade teacher at Bradford Elementary, will be attending Midwestern State Univ. She will work on courses to teach the gifted and talented.

Now in her eighth year of teaching, Mrs. Whitis is also serving as president of Bradford PTA, and last month was recognized by the Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce as "Educator of the Year."

She is one of the 17 Texas public school teachers selected from 58 applicants to share in $8,300 in scholarships given by Texas PTA. Mary Tippin of El Paso, State PTA president, announced the 17 winners and two alternates in late January.

The 1986 awards bring to $150,400 the total awarded to 301 PTA scholarship recipients since 1964.

All recipients are currently teaching and have had at least three years' experience in Texas schools. They are members of their local PTAs and have agreed to teach in a Texas public school for the year following their summer scholarship study.

Funds for the scholarships come from local PTA gifts to the Texas PTA endowment fund.

Police arrest third man on sex charge

For the third consecutive week a man has been arrested on a charge of sexual abuse of a juvenile.

Det. Tommy Adams yesterday morning arrested James Elbert Jennings, 41, of Wichita Falls, on a charge of indecency with a child.

He was taken before Justice of the Peace Virgil Hill, who placed him under a $10,000 bond, and then placed in Wichita County jail.

The incident between Jennings and a local juvenile is alleged to have occurred in Iowa Park.

City police during the past week made three arrests on charges of driving while intoxicated.

Alfred Leon Fowler, 35, was arrested shortly after midnight Friday in the 200 block of S. Jackson, and released at 2:02 a.m. to county deputies.

At 1:18 a.m. Sunday, according to the police blotter, officers took Velma Shipman Oakley, 59, into custody on a DWI charge. She was taken to Wichita General for a blood test and later turned over to county.

Francisco Reyes, 36, was taken into custody at midnight Sunday on US 287 near Bell Road on a DWI charge. He also was released to county deputies.

Theft of several cases of soft drinks and bottles from the storage building east of DC Auto Parts was reported Friday by Carl Davis, owner.

No contests develop in elections

No contests had developed in either the city or school elections, as of yesterday afternoon.

Only the three currently holding city council posts had filed for places on the April 5 ballot.

They were incumbents Tim Hunter, for mayor, Bud Mercer, alderman, and Bud Burch, who was appointed to serve the unexpired term of Don Decker after the latter moved outside the city.

Deadline for any other candidates to file in the city rate was 5 p.m. yesterday.

None of the three incumbents had filed in the school election, but the school's deadline to file isn't until Mar. 5, having been changed this year by the secretary of state.

Gary Fielding had filed for Place One last week, and since then, Leo Thames has filed for place Four.

Terms expire this spring for Places One, held by the late Ray Hicks and filled by Jerald Brown; Place Four, held by Rusty Rusk, and Place Five, held by Jimmy Howell.

The school board election will also be held April 5.

Sales higher than 1985

Iowa Park's sales tax rebate check received this month brought the two-month total to $30,663.34, according to the state comptroller's office.

The check, $19,360.98, raised the city's total to 10.11 percent above the same period last year.

Wichita Falls is showing a gain of 17.07 percent and Burkburnett 6.61, but Electra is down 9.8 percent from this time last year.

Holiday, also, is below the 1985 figure for two months, by 7.73 percent. That city's rebate check this month was $8,255.95, making the two-month sum $15,415.78.

Archer City, Scotland and Windthorst are the only Archer County communities showing gains: 23.86, 44 and 5.33 percent, respectively. Megargel and Lakeside City are in the minus column, 6.38 and 5.77 percent, respectively.

Laird, Pfeiffer vows are exchanged recently

The altar of St. Paul's United Church of Christ in Little Rock, Ark. was adorned with artistic arrangements of white carnations, gladioli and mums with pink and burgundy accents for the Saturday evening wedding of Miss Angela Laird and Jim Pfeiffer. Gold candelabra with ivory tapers flanked the altar, and burgundy candles surrounded by carnations and greenery marked the windows of the chapel.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Mark Lasater, minister, to unite the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe W. Laird of Iowa Park, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Pfeiffer of North Little Rock, Ark.

The wedding music was furnished by Mrs. Helen Dramer, organist, and Mrs. Ben Dodge, soloist. They offered "Whither Thou Goest" and "One Hand, One Heart" for prelude selections. The organist played "Trumpet Fanfare" for the processional and "O Perfect Love" for the recessional. Selections during the service featured "Song of Devotion" and "Wedding Prayer."

The bride was presented in marriage by Dr. Jerry Butler of Little Rock. For the very special day in her life, she chose an ivory satin gown fashioned with fitted bodice, full skirt and semi-cathedral train lavishly trimmed with Alencon lace and seed pearls. Her chapel length veil cascaded from a pearl-trimmed tiara, and she carried a nosegay of white roses, pink rosebuds and baby's breath for the finishing touch.

A note of family sentiment was added to the bride's costume with a white satin garter trimmed with hand-crocheted lace that her late grandmother wore at her wedding 75 years ago. She completed traditions by wearing her mother's wedding ring for "something borrowed," her wedding gown for "something new," and a second garter for "something blue."

As part of the ceremony, the bride presented her mother with a single long-stemmed red rose during the processional, and an identical rose to her new mother-in-law during the recessional.

Mrs. Ted Staderfer of Little Rock served as matron of honor for the bride. She was attired in a Victorian-style cranberry lace gown over a silk sheath designed with a dropped waistline and full skirt. She carried a nosegay of white carnations and pink rosebuds.

Krystle Madru and Dustin Madru of North Little Rock participated in the wedding as flower girl and ring bearer, respectively. She wore a long pink voile dress trimmed in white lace, and he wore a charcoal grey tuxedo with burgundy tie and cummerbund.

In Germany

Army Staff Sgt. Larry W. Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen L. Green of 1323 Central Freeway, Wichita Falls, has arrived for duty with the 77th Armor, West Germany.

Green, a tank commander, is a 1971 graduate of Dallas County High School, Plattersville, Ala.

His wife, Kathy, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Sheets of 1113 Lincoln Drive, Iowa Park.

MRS. JIM PFEIFFER

Candles for the service were lighted by Staci Sullivan and Brian Sullivan, daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Sullivan of Dallas and the grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Harrel Sullivan of Iowa Park. She was attired in a floor length pink silk dress tied with burgundy bows, and he wore a charcoal grey tuxedo with white pleated shirt, burgundy tie and cummerbund.

The groom wore a pearl grey tuxedo set off with a white rosebud boutonniere. The best man and ushers wore charcoal grey tuxedos, burgundy ties and cummerbunds.

Jim Faver of Bryant, Ark. served as best man. Guests were ushered to their seats by David Laird, brother of the bride, and John Beaty, of Dallas, Dave McGehee and Gary Smith, both of Little Rock.

Mothers of the bride and groom wore cymbidium orchid corsages to complement their dresses. Mrs. Laird chose a tea length burgundy chiffon dress with a three-tiered skirt, and Mrs. Pfeiffer wore a turquoise crepe street-length dress.

Mrs. John Beaty and Mrs. Jim Faver directed the registration of wedding guests at a round table covered with white lace in the church lobby. The table was appointed with a single long-stemmed red rose in the crystal bud vase, the wedding book and plume pen.

The wedding was followed by a reception in the church fellowship hall where the white lace-covered refreshment tables commanded special attention.

The bride's table was centered with a large bouquet of mums and gladioli arranged in a silver champagne bucket that belonged to the groom's mother. The three-tiered white cake captured attention with the fresh pink and burgundy carnations, roses and mums between the divided layers. Other highlights of table interest were the silver punch bowl filled with strawberry punch, white chocolate pink and burgundy mints.

Guests were served refreshments at the bride's table by Mrs. Gary Capwell, Mrs. Susan Chapman and Mrs. Jan Moffett.

Mrs. Phyllis Baysinger and Mrs. Michael Hemphill served at the groom's table which held the two-layer chocolate chocolate cake and silver tea service.

Following the reception, Miss Cindy Nutter and Mrs. Hazel Rozema handed out packets of bird seeds from ribbioned baskets.

The groom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner Friday evening at the Lamplighter Restaurant. An arrangement of white mums and burgundy roses decorated the head table, and the bride-elect was presented with a corsage of white roses.

The 24 guests at the dinner included members of the wedding party, close relatives and friends.

The bride received a B.A. degree of Oklahoma Christian College, a M.A. degree from the Univ. of Oklahoma, and a Ph.D. from the Univ. of Kansas. She is currently a speech teacher at the Univ. of Arkansas. The groom received a B.A. degree in business administration from the Univ. of Arkansas. He is a zone representative for Navistar Credit Corp.

Following a wedding trip to Hot Springs, Ark., the couple are at home in Little Rock. The bride chose a pale pink wool suit for travelling.

Among the out-of-town guest not mentioned in the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Harrel Sullivan of Iowa Park, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Sullivan of Dallas, Neal Coleman of Healdton, Okla., and Mrs. Tommy Madru.

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

To borrow an expression of the late LBJ, it's with a "heavy heart" that I write this particular column.

The reason, it's the first time in my life I've ever designated an entire column to correct mistakes from a previous week's issue.

No, I could do a book on the errors I've made in my three decades in the business. And all the mistakes of last week really wouldn't require an entire column, but the explanations accompanying them might.

So here goes. The first one I heard about was moving Fred Parkey from Faith Baptist Church to Grace Baptist.

It just didn't happen. Parkey is, in fact, a member of Faith Baptist and he was that congregation's spokesman before the city council applying, and receiving approval, to use the median east of the church for parking.

Maybe some people don't realize it, but when a reporter is writing, he can sometimes forget which, among five Baptist churches here, is involved.

My apologies, Fred and the rest of Faith Baptist Church.

Next, I got a call from a woman, who was very patient with me, but wanted me to know that I'd confused the readers about when the local school would observe spring break.

It had to do with changing of next month's regular meeting of the school trustees, from Mar. 11 to 18.

I reported Supt. Glen Mitchell asked the change be approved because the regular date conflicted with spring break.

Well, Mitchell did, in fact, bring spring break into the explanation. But I missed the rest of it.

Mitchell explained to me that he needs more than one day to prepare for any board meeting, what with research and all other preparation.

Spring break, according to the calendar I have over my desk, was originally set Mar. 10-14. However, that was changed, and I failed to make note of it on my calendar, to the first week of the month, to coincide with Wichita Falls and Midwestern State Univ.

Students will be out of school from dismissal Feb. 28 until the morning of Mar. 11, the superintendent informed me.

What happened to the 10th, you asked?

Well, that's a no-class day for students, because that's when more than 200,000 educators, including our's from Iowa Park, will be taking the Texas Examination of Current Administrators and Teachers (TECAT) tests.

And the third mistake we had in last week's edition, at least as far as I've been informed, was that we had two school trustees misidentified as to places on the board, for election purposes.

Mitchell got me off the hook on this one, however, because he explained he had misread the board minutes when places for members were drawn a few months ago.

We reported Rusty Rusk as being Place Five on the board, when he is in fact the Place Four member. Likewise for Jimmy Howell, whose correct number on the board is Place Five.

Now that we've got all this out in print for everyone to read, let me get off the hook a little more, by pointing out someone else's mistake.

Remember that TECAT testing I mentioned a couple of paragraphs earlier? Well, teachers received, in the mail, locations where they were supposed to report Mar. 10 to do them.

Supt. Mitchell said he was under the impression everyone was to be tested in their respective counties.

Well, Mrs. David Baugh was informed her test site would be in Shamrock. That has since been changed, however.

But the good 'un was the one I heard about the poor teacher in one of Houston's schools. She was to be reported at Crosbyton, about 35 miles west of Lubbock, for her test.

One local teacher remarked, "If they make that kind of mistake just assigning people to take tests, how can we have any confidence in their grading the tests we take?"

Letter to the Editor

Dear Mr. Hamilton,
 I would publicly like to express by gratitude to all of the people who made our lovely new library a reality. It is so beautiful that any city in the world would deem itself fortunate to have it. Even though I am an optimist at heart, I must admit I never thought I would see so fine a facility in Iowa Park.

I have been told that we have this library in large part because of the work of Mrs. Francis George. Thank you Mrs. George for not settling for lesser building - you're a rare woman of vision and a valuable asset to the people of Iowa Park.

Pasture burning helps in controlling brush

By DAVID FINLEY
County Agent

Ranchers may want to consider prescribed burning during early 1986 to improve their rangeland.

Although prescribed burning is not a cure-all, it can be used effectively for several purposes. Johnny Miller at the Bradley 3-J Ranch near Kadane Corner has practiced prescribed, controlled burning for several years, and it has been truly effective. Fire may be used as a brush management tool, to improve forage quality, to improve livestock distribution, to improve wildlife habitat and to suppress parasites.

Each of these uses may require a different type of fire. Thus, a prescription for the fire must be developed. This requires that objectives of the burn be clearly established.

A burn to suppress brush would require different environmental conditions than a burn to remove old grass to improve forage quality. Most prescribed burns in Texas are conducted during the cool season - January and February.

Planning for a prescribed burn should begin at least one year before the anticipated burn. Often pre-burn treatments are necessary to improve the grass cover. Grass provides the fine fuel to carry the burn.

After the purpose or objective of the burn has been established, a fire plan is developed. This includes the purpose of the burn, the prescription, the location, the time and how to install the burn.

The fire plan also includes a checklist of items to be completed before the burn. Neighbors and appropriate authorities such as the local sheriff, fire department and department of public safety should be notified before a prescribed burn.

The burn should be conducted in a manner to contain the fire on the area to be burned. This includes proper installation of firelanes and proper use of firing techniques. Firelanes should be constructed several weeks prior to the burn and should not have any flammable material that would allow a fire escape.

Prescribed burning can be an effective range management tool, but it requires good management. A rancher should follow three basic steps to conduct a successful burn program:

1. Thorough planning, which includes total ranch evaluation, training for conducting a safe burn, and preparations for the burn.

2. Safe and effective execution of the burn on the specified area.

3. Sound range, livestock and wildlife management prior to and following the burn.

Remember, this is a proven practice, but be sure to "follow the rules" when planning a burn.

City hires engineer to oversee project

The Holliday City Council, in a regular meeting Tuesday evening, selected an engineering firm to oversee the construction of new sewer mains and a lift station for the city, accepted the 1985 audit report by Seve Johnson, More-Camp, Inc., accepted bids for ambulance maintenance and voting booth construction, and changed its monthly meetings from the third Monday of the month to the second Monday.

With Mayor Don Duke and alderman Jim Virdell absent, mayor pro-tem Elizabeth Gorman acted as mayor for the meeting.

Biggs and Mathews of Wichita Falls was selected as the engineering firm to oversee the construction of new sewer mains and a lift station. The city received a community development grant of $100,100 to help pay for the construction.

Kerry Maroney, representative and vice president of Biggs and Mathews, told the council that, if selected, the company could begin preparations as early as the end of the week.

The council accepted the audit report given by Steve Johnson, Moore-Camp, Inc.

Steve Johnson, who was on hand to answer any question pertaining to the report stated "The city had good, clean auditable records." He also said that the city "is in sound financial condition" and that the financial situation of the city has gotten better in the past three to four years.

The council opened bids for ambulance maintenance and voting booth construction, receiving only one bid for each.

Charlie's Garage of Holliday was awarded the bid to service and maintain the city's ambulance. He submitted a bid of $100 per month.

Jack Monroe was awarded the bid for the construction of voting booths for the city. He submitted a bid of $60 for three booths or $20 per booth should the city need any more.

Approximately one booth for every 150 registered voters is required.

The council changed its monthly meeting date from the third Monday of each month to the second

Holliday News

Monday in order to facilitate the payment of city bills.

It was stated that most of the city's bills come in around the first of the month and are payable within 30 - 45 days. However, if there is an error in a vendor's notice, the city must notify the vendor within 21 days after receiving the invoice.

With city meetings being held the third Monday of the month, it did not give the city enough time to pay its bills.

In other business, Wayne Inman addressed the council about a drainage problem on his property on Sycamore Ave.

Inman told the council that he had hauled in dirt, planted grass and kept it mowed in a ditch located in front of his home.

The ditch, which is not private property, was worked on by city crews earlier this month, was allegedly torn up and Inman says he now has water standing in his yard.

He said since there is no drainage ditch at the end of Bois D'Arc, water has been backing up into the ditch and his yard.

Alderman Melvin Bills, said that a drainage problem not only existed on Sycamore, but many places in the city, and he asked that the entire city be surveyed.

This was rejected by the council, since it is not a budgeted item. The council did, however, agree to fill the ditch in front of Inman's house with sand.

Aldermen discussed a contract with Gossom and Cotton for legal services, to charge the city at the rate of $70 per hour.

Also stated in the contract was that payment for services may be made at the rate of $300 per month for the first six month period, and at the end of the period the status of the city's account would be reviewed. If the city has a credit, then the monthly payments for the next six month period would be reduced accordingly. If there is a debit, then the remaining amount would be immediately payable.

After much discussion, alderman decided that although the services are well worth the price asked, the city could use Texas Municipal League lawyers to answer any legal questions, without having to put a legal firm on retainer.

Aldermen agreed that they did want to use Gossom and Cotton for pressing legal matters, but without paying a monthly retainer fee. The matter was tabled until Administrator Brown Hudson can negotiate with David Gossom.

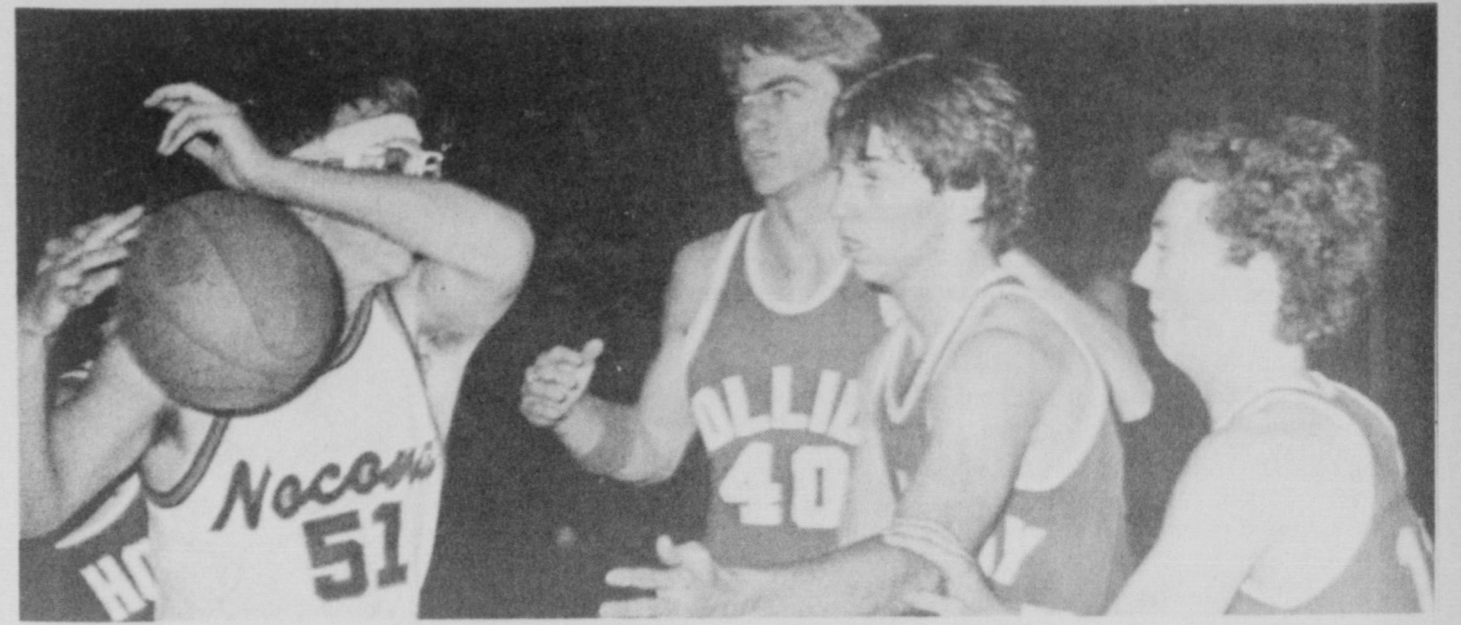

Aldermen authorized Brown to cancel an agreement with M-Bank of Dallas to make payments related to bond indebtedness in order to invest the monthly payments in an interest bearing account.

The city has been paying M-Bank $1500 per year for them to pay an FHA bond. The city felt that they could save the money they were paying M-Bank by investing it in an interest-bearing account and pay the FHA bond twice annually.

The council also consented to the transfer of $3000.51 from the city's general fund, designated Stonewall Jackson Camp Fund, to a Money Market, interest bearing account, which may only be administered by the trustees of Stonewall Jackson Camp.

Aldermen also approved a contract with American Television and Communication Co., who was previously Holliday Cablevision, Inc. There was no change in the contract previously held by Holliday Cablevision, just a change of name.

Aldermen tabled discussion of amending an ordinance allowing a separate two-inch water meter for a yard sprinkler system pending further investigation.

NOCONA'S CENTER GATHERS A CROWD OF EAGLES UNDER THE BASKET SATURDAY NIGHT

Indians oust Eagles

The Eagles were ousted out of the District 9-2A playoffs Friday night, losing 44-53 to the Nocona Indians.

Free-throws apparently clenched the win for the Indians in the fourth quarter, who hit 27-of-31 attempts at the charity line.

During the game, Holliday was called for fouls 22 times with the Indians being called only 11 times.

The first quarter of play looked promising for the Eagles, as the Indians had trouble shooting from the field and didn't score until Holliday had eight points on the board. The Eagles did, however, have trouble with fouling, with Brian Still tallying up three fouls in the first quarter.

The first quarter ended with the Eagles ahead, 8-6.

In the second quarter the Indians passed the Eagles up with 6:02 left in the first half with the score at 12-10. The Big Red relinquished the lead by the end of the quarter sending them to the locker room leading 19-18.

The second half of the game proved to be the Eagle's downfall as multiple fouls presented them with a problem. By the end of the third, Pat Parker had a total of four fouls and the score had tied 28-28.

During the fourth, three Holliday mainstays, Dolberry, Parker and Brian Still were benched on foul calls, and the Eagles fell behind and never caught up.

The Indians hit 19-of-21 charity tosses with Indian Greg Hendrix hitting 12 straight attempts, and a total of 14-of-14 for the game.

Nocona ended the game making 13-of-55 attempts from the field for a total of 27 points from the charity line and 26 from the field.

Scoring was led by Pat Maxwell with 19 points, Still with 12 points and Parker with nine.

WE'RE GENERATING NEW IDEAS TO HELP KEEP YOUR ELECTRIC RATES DOWN.

We're using innovative resources to meet your energy needs. Historically, when long-range growth projections showed we would need more electric generating capacity, we built new power plants. Even though we know we'll need new plants in the future to meet your electrical needs, rising construction and financing costs mean we must plan carefully to keep costs down. So, we are also seeking other ways to meet our commitment to keep your electric rates reasonable.

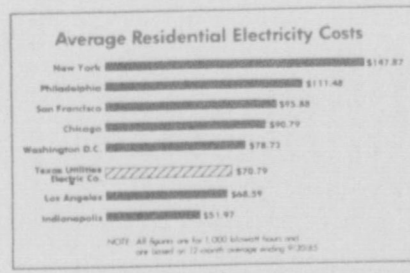

By using low-cost solutions to meet future needs, we've held the line on the cost of your electricity, while delivering an adequate, reliable supply of that power.

Take our Energy Action Program, for example. It offers you, our customers, the chance to earn valuable rebates when you install energy-efficient equipment in your homes or buildings. In the long run, paying you to be more energy-efficient will be less expensive for us. With a reduced demand on our system, it could delay or even eliminate the need to build as many new power plants.

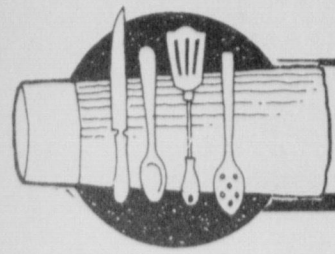

At Texas Utilities Electric Company, bringing you the right amount of electricity at the right price is our commitment to you. And it's how we aim to keep the people, the businesses and the jobs coming to our part of Texas.

Cook of the Week

Family participation in the kitchen is a big help to Christy (Mrs. Eddie) Blagg, this week's cook, who is a student at Midwestern State Univ. and also holds down a job.

Christy said that her husband of almost a year enjoys cooking and often helps in dinner preparation.

Since the couple doesn't like to fry much food, the outdoor grill plays a big part in menu planning.

She said, "He does the outdoor cooking, I do most of the indoor cooking."

Mrs. Blagg, the former Christy Oshiro, is a senior at Midwestern State Univ. where she is majoring in accounting. She expects to graduate in May.

In addition to this, she is employed as a secretary for Walter Coppage, CPA. Eddie is employed at Quail Plastics.

When she has spare time, Christy enjoys embroidery and crocheting.

TEXAS GARDENER TIPS

Variety selection is one of the most important considerations to successful gardening in Texas.

To help gardeners know what varieties to plant, TEXAS GARDENER Magazine started an "All-Texas" Selections list five years ago and updates it each spring. To be included on the list, a vegetable variety must have undergone extensive testing and evaluation by horticulturists and proven itself to be outstanding for Texas. Five new selections were added to the list for 1986. They are:

Y1015 Onion—Developed by Texas A&M University, this new yellow onion is exceptionally sweet tasting. It has excellent vigor, outstanding disease-resistance and resists bolting or seedstem formation. It will yield onions as large as softballs.

Jade Pogoda Chinese Cabbage

Five Vegetable Varieties Named To All-Texas List

45 to 50 days after seeding and is best suited for a fall planting.

Sugar Ann Peas—This variety of edible-podded pea is similar to Sugar Snap but with one important exception—it produces high yields of quality peas on a compact, bush-type plant. Ideal for smaller gardens, plants of Sugar Ann seldom exceed 18 to 24 inches in height.

Elephant Garlic—Although not a true garlic, Elephant garlic is what Texans should grow. Its flavor is only slightly milder than true garlic, but not enough for most people to notice. Easy to grow, Elephant garlic will produce giant bulbs with cloves twice the size of regular garlic.

—This hybrid Chinese cabbage is adapted to early spring and fall plantings. It is resistant to bolting and produces compact, upright plants that reach 14 to 16 inches in height. Jade Pogoda has outer leaves with excellent green color and a rich, creamy colored "heart."

Iron Duke Spinach—This new hybrid spinach can be described best as "heavy bodied." It is a crinkled-leafed variety, very dark green and quite tasty. It can be harvested

NEWS

A recent survey revealed some cold facts about cold weather accidents. The typical ones involve an ice-covered walkway where someone has made an ineffective attempt at removing ice by chopping it up and shoveling it away. These accidents were serious enough, 85 percent of the time, to result in broken bones or other injuries requiring hospital visits.

Fortunately, there are steps you can take to take the slip out of your steps.

The basics, according to the National Safety Council, involve clearing steps, walks and driveways of snow. After shoveling, don't attempt to chop up the thin undercoating of ice. This does not completely eliminate the hazards; rather, use a fast-acting de-icing agent.

The agent considered most effective is calcium chloride pellets. Used by highway road crews for more than 40 years, calcium chloride pellets will break an ice bond in approximately half the time it takes the same amount of rock salt. At temperatures below

People are less likely to slip on icy walks if calcium chloride pellets are used.

20°F, calcium chloride reacts in minutes, while rock salt is virtually ineffective. Calcium chloride pellets are available under a variety of brand names.

If you do find yourself walking on an icy area, take short steps, with your knees bent, your weight towards the ball of your foot and with your hands at waist level, your arms slightly forward. If you feel yourself falling, bend your knees, tuck your arms close to your body and try to slide after you hit the ground rather than falling flat.

Keeping this advice about ice in mind can help you keep your feet on the ground.
