

McConnell, Hambricht wedding held Saturday

Miss Stephanie Ann McConnell, daughter of Mrs. Aloma McConnell of Wichita Falls, and Andrew Daniel Hambricht, son of Mr. and Mrs. A.D. Hambricht of Iowa Park, exchanged double-ring wedding vows Saturday evening at the First Baptist Church in Holliday. Rev. David Hardage, pastor, was the officiant.

The candlelight setting featured tapers burning in 15-branched candelabra decorated with shades of blue silk roses, carnations and baby's breath flanked by tapers aglow in 15-point candelabra trimmed identically to the center holder. Blue silk bows marked church pews.

Clay Morgan, organist, provided prelude music and the traditional wedding marches. The entrance of the bride into the sanctuary was heralded with a taped recording of "Now and Forever."

The petite bride was presented in marriage by her brother, Eddie Wayne

McDonnell. She wore a formal gown of white satin and Chantilly lace to compliment her brunette beauty. The design of the gown featured a tight off-the-shoulder bodice that dipped to a low V in the back trimmed with a row of self-covered buttons, sheer ruffled elbow length sleeves, a full skirt overlaid with the lace that was used generously on the bodice and extended to a cathedral length train.

Her three-tiered sheer veil was trimmed in the lace and drifted to fingertip length from a pearl-encrusted headpiece. She carried a cascade of white lilies, carnations, baby's breath with long streamers caught up with lilies.

The bouquet was the one that her sister carried in her wedding and used for the "something borrowed" tradition. "Something old" was one of her mother's felt baby shoes tucked underneath her "something blue" garter. The bride chose her wedding gown for "something new" to complete the traditions.

Mrs. Steve Rippy attended her sister as matron of honor. She wore a Caribbean blue dress defined with an off-the-shoulder neckline. She carried a baby blue rose outlined with silk greenery complemented with a big bow trimmed in lace.

The groom's father served as best man. The ushers were Steve Rippy, Rowdy Robertson and Greg Gibbs. The groom wore an all-white tailed tuxedo, and the others wore black tuxedos with blue bow ties and cummerbunds.

The bride's mother and sister were hostesses for the reception held after the wedding in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

The refreshment table was covered with blue linen overlaid with a white ruffled sheer cloth trimmed with blue satin bows. The centerpiece was composed of white and blue carnations and lilies accented with satin bows and greenery.

The crystal punch bowl and cake marked table extremities. The three tiers of the white cake were refreshingly decorated with frosting flowers in the spring colors of yellow, pink and blue, and divided by columns to give a full view of the swans between the layers. White satin wedding bells seemed to be ringing out the good news of the wedding in a heart-shaped archway on the top tier.

Shower fetes bride elect

Miss Dawn Hester, bride-elect of Dr. Robert E. "Bubba" Nolen Jr., was honored Sunday with a bridal shower in the home of Mrs. Dub Crawford of Wichita Falls.

Assisting with hostess duties were Mmes. David Styles, Larry Pond, Cecelia Miley, Tommy Swanson, Jeff Nolen, and Misses Millie Crawford and Mona Miley.

Decorations were in the bride-elects chosen colors of pink and mauve. The refreshment table, draped with a white lace cloth, was centered with a doll dressed in traditional bridal attire. A crystal punch bowl, large silver trays holding finger sandwiches, cakes, fruit and cheese, two white ceramic swans accented with mauve bows and filled with mints and nuts, and mauve napkins completed the table setting.

A large, ruffled mauve parasol, decorated with white wicker wedding bells and mauve bows, was the attractive focal point behind the registry table. Covered with a mauve cloth draped over white, the table held the bride's book and a white plume pen.

Arrangements of pink azaleas in white ceramic swans were tastefully placed around the party rooms to complete the decorations.

Special guests were Mrs. Gordon Trusty of Sikeston, Mo. and Mrs. Robert E. Nolen Sr. of Iowa Park, mothers of the couple, and Mrs. W.T. Crawford Sr. of Iowa Park, grandmother of the prospective groom. They and the honoree were presented with corsages formed of pink, white and mauve baby orchids, made by Mrs. Dub Crawford.

The couple will be married June 21 in Faith Baptist Church in Wichita Falls.

MRS. ANDREW D. HAMBRICHT

The white napkins further accented the romantic mood through a picture of a bride and groom, and "Stephanie and Andrew April 19, 1986" in gold.

Members of the houseparty were Mrs. Steve Romoser, Misses Tina Day, Tina Davis, Dana Rice and Julie Wallace.

Miss Day was in charge of registering guests at a table in the church foyer that held a special wedding gift of the couple, a needlepoint pillow bearing the names of the bride and groom. The table was covered with blue linen and held a floral bouquet, baby blue plume pen and wedding book.

The groom's parents were hosts for the rehearsal dinner held Friday evening at the church.

The bride changed from her wedding dress into a blue double breasted spring suit styled with a short-sleeved jacket trimmed with white buttons when the couple departed on their wedding trip to Padre Island. They will live in Galveston, where the groom, who was graduated from Iowa Park High School, will be working as assistant manager of McCoy's Lumber Co. the

Amity officers installed

The Amity Study Club met in the home of Mrs. James Barrington Thursday evening and Mrs. Joe Vickers shared hostess responsibilities.

Mrs. Earnie Reusch used a "Pot of Stew" for the theme of the installation service for new officers. She presented each officer with a vegetable suitable for the duties of her office.

She presented Mrs. Lee Hale, the president, with lettuce and charged her "let us come to order," and to Mrs. Joe Ward, the vice president, she gave carrots and turnips as she charged her, "you are to take care of our president and turn up at every meeting."

She gave Mrs. Bob Hamilton, secretary, corn and potatoes and reminded her "you are the eyes and ears of the club," and to Mrs. Dan Johnson, the treasurer, she used celery and a tomato as she said "you are in charge of the green stuff and are to keep a count of the tomatoes." To Mrs. James Barrington, the historian, she gave green beans and squash and said "you can spill the beans and squash all the things into our scrapbook."

She charged the rest of the members to light the fire for the stew.

Members answered roll call with the way a rainy day makes them feel. The next meeting will be a salad luncheon at the Tom Burnett Memorial Library May 15 to close activities for the year.

Study Club ends year installing officers

The 23 Study Club concluded activities for the current club year at a covered-dish luncheon held at the home of Mrs. Keith Aulds Thursday with Mrs. Frank Roberts, the assistant hostess. Mrs. C.E. Birk was program leader.

Mrs. L.E. Brooks offered the invocation at the luncheon. Places at the tables were marked with denim bonnets, the handiwork of Mrs. Aulds, with two Tejas pecans, the variety that earned V.I. Woodfin state honors, tucked in.

Following the luncheon, Mrs. Earle Denny introduced the program with the visual arts number, "Paying Tribute to the Pioneer Women." She focused attention upon the bronze memorial that stands in a museum in Ponca City, Okla. The statue sculpted in appreciation of pioneer woman is that of a woman wearing a bonnet and holding the hand of a child.

A guest speaker, Mrs. Elsa Galbraith, one of the founders of the Hospice Chapter in Wichita Falls, gave an informative discussion of the Hospice House. She stressed in the beginning that the Hospice House is not a hospital, rather it is a program for care of terminally ill people and their families at home. She said that it was an alternate means of care to allow the patients to be at home among family and friends and enjoy the peace and tranquility of their home.

Mrs. Galbraith explained that the hospice group acts as a support for the family of the terminally ill patient and helps them cope with the problem day by day. She said that the program is carefully set up under the direction of the patient's doctor, who continues to care for the patient day by day, either by telephone calls or in person.

She said that to be enrolled in the hospice program, a doctor must pronounce the terminally ill patients as having six to eight months to live. Mrs. Galbraith said that the staff is composed of trained nurses who stay in touch with the patients, either physically or by telephone around the clock, volunteers and pastors, who attend to physical rather than medical needs to help the family members in everyday living.

"The support group is a very important part in caring and lifting up the family," she stated.

Mrs. Aulds, retiring president, conducted a brief business meeting when it was voted to help furnish sandwiches for the workers in the city's Clean-Up Day, April 26. She announced that the money had been paid for the 23 Study Club's sign that will be placed with others at the entrances to the city.

Mrs. C.L. Metz used "Good Ship 23 Study Club" for the theme of an impressive installation ceremony. She likened the duties of the officers to members of a ship's crew and gave each one an emblem of her office.

Those installed, their offices and emblems were: Mmes. Joe Singer, president, the helm; Sam Hill, vice president, an anchor and chain; B.G. House, recording secretary, a log book; Miss Betty Meadows, corresponding secretary, writing material; Mmes. Riley Thompson, treasurer, a key; Earle Denny, historian, a scrapbook; D.O. James, federation counselor, head phone; Keith Aulds, parliamentarian, mate whistle; Homer Blalock, reporter, identification and press cards.

When the gavel was turned over to Mrs. Singer, members voted to keep the same club projects during her administration and to sponsor five students who want to learn to play tennis in a tournament that will be held in June.

Holliday resident calls for support

TERRORISM IN HOLLIDAY, TEXAS

- SLANDER 1. false statement meant to do harm. 2. talk falsely about. 3. the spreading of false reports about person(s).
- SLANDEROUS 1. containing a slander. 2. speaking or spreading slanders.
- TERROR 1. great fear. 2. cause of great fear.
- TERRORISM 1. terrorizing; use of terror. 2. condition of fear and submission produced by frightening people.
- TERRORIZE 1. fill with terror. 2. rule or subdue by causing terror.

I was awakened this morning, April 17, 1986, at 3:30 a.m. A friend was calling me on the phone. Realizing my interest in the local Holliday scene, he had called to tell me that Tanner's Kuntry Store was on fire again. Shortly I arrived at what had been Tanner's Kuntry Store. The flames were still shooting into the sky. Our volunteer fire fighters, the Tanners and Police Chief Jule Colbert were very much awake and engaged.

The citizens of Holliday, Texas would like to believe that their's is a safe little community, a fine place to raise their families, a great place to spend their golden years. The events of the past few months would seem to make this belief somewhat in error. The events that have occurred here this day, sometime in the early morning hours, should prove to any person willing to face the unpleasant facts that the small City of Holliday is at this moment anything but a safe place to raise families and spend those golden years. We do in truth have TERRORISM in Holliday, Texas.

The word slander and its derivations are defined above. The thing about this vicious and insidious activity is that while a person(s) can take responsibility for the wrongs they have done and about which others are making uncharitable remarks, they are in most instances unable to defend themselves against lies.

Judge Bettye O. Tanner can tell you what slander is and the effect it has had on her public and private life. Chief of Police Jule Colbert can tell you what slander is and how it has effected his life and the performance of his duties. City Administrator Brown Hudson can tell you what slander is and how it has effected not only him but the running of the City of Holliday.

Yes, fellow citizens, they could tell you but they won't. They will not become like those who attack them. They will just go on feeling the hurt and doing their jobs to the best of their ability regardless of the obstacles they encounter. The source of these insidious actions is a very small number in any community. The reason they are able to cause such disastrous effect is because "rumor mongers" pass these slanders on usually adding slanders of their own. The way to handle this is to get the other side of the story and make your own determination of the truth. If you find that the report was false, make the truth widely known. You will find that your elected public officials and public servants are more than willing to help you get at the truth.

On occasion, in spite of our best attempt at judging the candidates for public office, we make an error. If we find it was a serious enough error, there exists mechanisms for correcting errors in judgement.

Fellow citizens, you owe it to yourselves and your community to crush these slanderous actions as you would crush the head of a rattlesnake.

Public officials have received death threats. Public officials, public servants and private citizens have had their property damaged or destroyed. Public property has been damaged or destroyed. I consider threats and actions against my elected public officials and appointed or paid public servants as threats against me and each and every citizen of this community.

That this incident started sometime ago is evident. Since five "drug busts" were made in Holliday last year there has been an escalating series of what might at first appear to be unrelated events.

The first slanderous attack was on Justice of Peace Tanner. Two of the specifit slanders were: 1) Tanner had caused "No Parking" signs to be throughout Holliday on Seymour highway. 2) Tanner had caused the closing of the "Eagle's Nest" operated by Don Duke for the benefit of our teenagers. Investigation of these reports shows both to be "false reports."

The next target for slander was the Holliday Chief of Police Jule Colbert. Jule's offense was that he was doing what we, through our city Council, hired him to do very well under difficult circumstances.

The next target was City Administrator Brown Hudson. Brown Hudson is a public servant hired by the citizens of Holliday through the City Council. There is nothing in the records that does not demonstrate outstanding performance with very little to work with.

The next perhaps unrelated incident was the destruction of Bettye O. Tanner's Kuntry Store by fire on January 30, 1986. The fire was reportedly caused by an electrical overload. The lives of the volunteer fire-fighters were very much placed in jeopardy in this fire because of the ammunition stored near the apparent source of the fire.

The most recent happening, prior to today's incident, was attributed to vandalism. The electrical power at Allsup's turned off from the alley in the rear of the building. The resulting "fear" probably was a diversion for the action of throwing bricks through the windows of the Dairy Queen and Wanda's Restaurant. With this incident it appears that private citizens have now become the target for attack.

The attempts to get rid of Judge Tanner, Brown Hudson and Chief Colbert having failed, the next area of attack occurred this date with the attempted isolation of our city from outside help; with numerous tire slashings of public and private vehicles; with the fire bombing of Wanda's Restaurant and of Tanner's Kuntry Store and the hospitalization of three of our volunteer firefighters who fought the fires.

The thing about our elected and appointed officials and our volunteers is that they must do what has been done with or without our support. They must make the decisions that have to be made whether or not they have input from the citizenry. Your constructive input or criticism is always welcome.

Criticism is always welcome. What you need to do is to tell them that you do care about your community and that you do support them in their task of making our city a safe place to live and accomplish our dreams. This is our duty. We can do no less.

This date in an "Emergency Session" your Mayor and City Council adopted a resolution authorizing your City Administrator, Brown Hudson, to request help from the State of Texas and other outside agencies. This request has been made and as most of you have seen is being provided. Your Police Chief, Jule Colbert, now has the outside help that he needs to handle the problem. He still needs your help and support. Some of you have the answers to the questions that will solve this situation. Come forward, you have nothing to fear but fear itself.

President Teddy Roosevelt said, "The American People are slow to anger, but once aroused their wrath is like an all-consuming fire." We, the citizens of Holliday, are the American People. Some say that it is public officials and law-enforcement that is being targeted. Sam Morgan and his wife Wanda are not public officials. The public officials hold their offices because we put them there to do a job. Judge Tanner has paid a heavy price for her dedication to her office. An attack on our public officials is an attack on each and every citizen of this community. We must support and protect these officials as they have sworn to support and protect us. The perpetrator(s) of these attacks against us and the very system which protects all of us will be brought to justice in the American way and face our wrath in the courts and system they attempted to destroy.

This is what I have observed happening in the community of Holliday over the past year or so. Please accept it with my sincere wish that it helps.

By the way, as many of you know I have been known to write letters to the President of the United States, the Vice President and Members of Congress. It is quite a coincidence that I have a letter to the President already written, dated today. In this letter I was expressing my support of his action against the source of TERRORISM. Perhaps two or three hundred of you might wish to sign this letter with me. You can stop by and sign it or you might catch me when you see me around town.

ONE OF TWO ROLLOVERS - The first of two one-vehicle rollovers on the old highway east of Iowa Park within a five-day period was Friday afternoon. In it, Dayna Daugherity received multiple abrasions and contusions, and was treated and released later at Wichita General Hospital. Three others in the car with her were uninjured. About 3 p.m. yesterday, Michael Crittenden lost control of his pickup while driving west, about the Peterson Road intersection. The vehicle broke a highline pole off at the ground, flipped three times in the air, according to one witness, and came to rest upright. Neither Crittenden nor passenger Sam Foreman were seriously injured.

pre-registration

Pre-registration of children who will be three to five years of age by Sept. 1 is underway by Kidwell Elementary principal Ron Woods.

The information, Woods points out, is necessary to make plans for the 1986-87 school year, both in determining space needs as well as teachers.

Guess who's going to be 50 tomorrow?
Love, Your Family

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

For the second time in as many months, Texas public school teachers converged Saturday on the capitol grounds in Austin to demonstrate their dislike for the governor.

About 10 from Iowa Park made the trip.

Among them was assistant football coach Dean Kirkpatrick, and I loved the shirt he brought back with him from the rally.

In large, bold lettering, words on the shirt are "Mark White is a Pain in the Class."

For several weeks now, I've been receiving news releases from California about a promotion called "Hands Across America."

The event is supposed to take place May 25, with a human chain extending from the Pacific to the Atlantic coasts, and each of those in the chain is to donate $10 for that privilege.

The donations are to "combat hunger and homelessness in the United States."

Coca-Cola and Citibank/Citicorp are supposedly underwriting the cost of putting the whole thing together. Coca-Cola is said to have already contributed $30-million.

One thing that has been missing in all the dozens of releases I've received, is how the money will be distributed.

I figure Coke's money has gone for postage and "administrative" costs and figure the financial institution is using its windfall profits from credit card use donations as a big tax write-off.

Texas is supposed to be crossed by this human chain, but I'm not sure of the route. But I'd like to see that stretch from Fort Stockton to Alpine linked up with people holding hands.

Frankly, they couldn't get people to "chain" that area if they were to pay them the $10.

I'll go along with my publisher buddy Harold Hudson of Perryton, who said, "Put me down as a skeptic. First of all, I don't believe that many people will kick in $10 and second I don't believe the hungry and homeless will ever see any of the money."

Oh, by the way, friend Hudson has been elected to serve as president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce 1987-88.

That will be a year of satisfaction for the author of so many columns I've used under the heading "Worth Quoting."

You see, Harold loves to travel. And instead of going to Spain, Russia, Japan, etc., he'll be logging about as many miles making all the meetings in the vast West Texas area.

Missions book reviewed

Sixteen members of the Night BW of First Baptist Church and one guest, Mrs. David Jones, attended the regular meeting held Monday in the home of Mrs. Sam Hill with Mrs. W.F. Booher the assistant hostess.

Mrs. D.O. James reviewed a chapter in the home missions book, "Servants Like Him." The faithful servant focused upon in the review was a grandmother, who with two other faithful servants, is ministering to jail inmates and others who have been released from jail and trying to reshape their lives in Georgia. She was assisted by Mmes. E.T.

Patterson, V.I. Woodfin, Roy Smith and Hill.

Mrs. Patterson read the names of missionaries who observed their birthdays Monday and offered prayer for them to open the business meeting conducted by Mrs. Smith. It was voted to buy a crown for an Acteens girl who will be recognized in a service May 1 for a mission in action project.

Mrs. Woodfin announced that members were invited to a WMU Appreciation luncheon to be hosted by the Baptist Student Union at Midwestern State Univ. April 30.

in two years, and no indebtedness extends beyond the year 2003.

"I'm not expecting a commitment from you today, but I'll need some word in the next three weeks," Hunter told the Chamber leaders.

Chamber president Rip Smith appointed Keith Aulds, Frank Gossett and Gene Jordan to serve with him on a committee to study the proposal.

Smith told Hunter his group would have a response within the time frame the mayor had noted.

In other business handled during the Chamber meeting, the year's budget of $11,278 was approved; a report on the Consumer Opinion Survey would be made at a noon luncheon Friday at the ASCS building; Carol Hayslip, Clean-Up Week project chairman, said several youth groups were pledged to work Saturday, and five businesses had joined the Chamber, including Mercer Electric, Nutrena Feed, Golden Fried Chicken, Home Place and Bro & Moe's Videos.

Cook of the Week

The cook for this week, Frances Matlock (Mrs. J.R.) Krause, offers several household tips that homemakers are sure to appreciate, but, more importantly, she gives two recipes for hyperactive children and others with problems associated with food additives and salicylates.

Mrs. Krause became aware of the importance of dietary management with hyperactive children, instead of the crutch of medication which masks the underlying condition and cures nothing, a number of years back. She has had first hand experience in dealing with hyperactive children and has one of the success stories in response to dietary management.

She is very careful to research the food supplies and read the labels for her family. She selects fruits, vegetables and miscellaneous items that contain no salicylates, artificial food coloring and flavoring. She cannot stress too strongly the importance of shoppers reading labels before they make a purchase.

Frances was graduated from high school in Los Angeles and from UCLA with a degree in business. She has had her share of work experiences that range from retail sales to teaching school, and is presently employed as an interior decorator and salesperson at Parkway Furniture.

She started modeling at the age of 14. She has taught children with learning disabilities at Junction City, Kan. and Lake Isabella, Calif. She taught remedial reading in Germany when her husband, who is now a data processing supervisor at Cryovac, was stationed in Germany with the Army.

She recalls with joy and enthusiasm her work in a cookie factory in Germany. Some of her other varied work experiences include being the editor of a newspaper in Kernville, Calif., a cosmetic manager in Dillard's Department Store at Lawton, Okla. She also mentioned having driven a school bus.

Mrs. J.R. Krause

To converse with her for even a short time one is convinced that she is competent of seeing any worthwhile task to a successful finish. Her hobbies are creating silk flower arrangements, knitting and reading.

Mr. and Mrs. Krause are members of First Baptist Church. Their children are Mark of Houston, Sean of Thousand Oaks, Calif. and Heather of the home, a fourth grader.

The first two of Mrs. Krause's recipes were taken from "The Feingold Cookbook" for hyperactive children and others with problems associated with food additives and salicylates.

CORNED BEEF HASH PUFFS

1-16 oz. can corned beef hash (check the label)
2 eggs, separated
1/2 tsp. salt (I use sea salt purchased at health food stores. The flavor is super and it takes less to satisfy)
8 sprigs parsley, finely chopped

Grease a baking sheet. In a medium bowl, break up the hash with a fork. Beat the yolks of the eggs until they are thick and very light in color. Add the yolks, salt and parsley to the hash; mix thoroughly.

In another bowl, beat the egg whites at high speed until very stiff; gently fold them into the mixture. Drop 8 mounds of the mixture onto a baking sheet. Broil 10 minutes or until baked through and brown on top. Serves 4

BETTIE'S GRANOLA

(A do-it-yourself that both children and grown-ups like. This can be served as a cereal with milk or as a snack)

3 cups uncooked rolled oats
1 cup sunflower seeds, optional
1 cup sesame seed, optional
1 cup wheat germ
1 cup honey
1/2 cup pure vegetable oil (I recommend Hollywood Safflower)
1/4 cup soy flour
1 Tbsp. pure vanilla
1/2 cup water
1/4 cup chopped nuts, optional (omit if allergic)
1/4 cup chopped dates, optional
1/4 cup shredded coconut, optional

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Lightly grease a baking sheet. In a large bowl, combine all ingredients, except dates and coconut, with the water; mix together thoroughly. Spread the mixture evenly on the baking sheet, and bake 20 minutes or until browned. Stir in the dates and coconut, if desired. Store in covered container. Makes 7 cups.

SAVORY STRING BEANS

Lo-carbohydrate serves 4-6, 8 grams

1 lb. cooked string beans
1 onion, chopped
1 garlic bud, minced
1/2 tsp. Savory
1 tomato, peeled and diced
1 Tbsp. minced green pepper
1 Tbsp. minced parsley (optional)
2 Tbsp. olive oil
Salt and freshly ground black pepper to taste

Saute garlic and onion in oil until golden. Add other ingredients except beans and mix well. Simmer 15 minutes and pour over hot string beans.

HOMEMADE MAYONNAISE

Lo-carbohydrate 1 Tbsp - .02 gram

2 egg yolks
2 cups salad oil (corn, cottonseed, olive, peanut, mineral)
3 Tbsp. vinegar or lemon juice
1 tsp. dry mustard
1/2 tsp. salt
Dash of cayenne

Mix egg yolks with seasoning in a deep round bottomed bowl. Stir in 1 Tbsp. vinegar or lemon juice. Add a few drops of oil and beat with mixer or rotary beater until thoroughly mixed. Continue adding oil, a few drops at a time until about 1 cup of the oil has been used. Beat in remaining oil 2 Tbsp. at a time. Beat in remaining vinegar and lemon juice. Makes 2 cups.

Purchase approved for library needs

The Friends of the Library met Friday in the directors' room at the library with Mrs. W.A. George presiding.

Mrs. George informed the members that she had been notified by Sandy Goff of the Heritage Society that the library will be recognized with a plaque and certificate for restoring the Burnett home. The plaque will be displayed in the library yard for a year.

Mrs. Billy Mashburn, librarian, met with the group and listed items that the library needed.

It was voted to buy a microfiche reader printer, and to buy shelves to complete those in the main library and continued tops for the children's area. Members were reminded that if the shelves were not completed now that the matching wood might not be available later.

It was also voted to keep the same officers for another year, and the need for new members of Friends of the Library was stressed.

In other business, projects for raising money each year were discussed and the need for raising money to continue assistance to the library.

Rodesney, Muse nuptial vows recited Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. Michael David Muse, who were married Saturday evening at the Christ United Presbyterian Church in Wichita Falls, are honeymooning in Ixtapa, Mexico this week.

The bride is the former Miss Marcella Lynn Rodesney, daughter of Mrs. Naomi Price of Wichita Falls and George Rodesney of Midwest City, Okla. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Muse of Holliday.

Rev. Bennie Compton, pastor, officiated the double-ring ceremony in an altar setting featuring an archway trimmed with fern, peach bows and carnations, and large spray arrangements of pastel carnations, white roses and sprengeri.

Large peach ribbon bows and streamers decorated the doors of the sanctuary and fellowship hall where the wedding reception was held.

When the bride's father presented her in marriage she was wearing a formal gown of white chiffon and Alencon lace. The colonial-style gown featured a Victorian neckline with bouffant puffed sleeves trimmed with lace at the elbows. The lace was extensively used on the layered billowing tiers of the skirt that swirled into a chapel train.

A headpiece of silk flowers and lace secured her fingertip illusion veil, and her lovely bouquet lent a perfect touch to her gown. It was fashioned in cascade-style with peach roses, white mums, carnations, alstermeria lilies, baby's breath, white picot and iridescent ribbons trimmed in gold.

Pat Smith, an aunt of the bride, provided the organ music for the wedding and accompanied Miss Stephanie Brewer, vocalist, who sang "A Perfect Heart" before the wedding and "Endless Love" during the ceremony.

Miss Annette Patterson of Tulsa, Okla. took part in the wedding as maid of honor. She wore a pink brocade satin tea length dress and carried a bouquet of white irises, alstermeria lilies and peach roses.

The bridesmaids were Miss Latitia Garcia of Wichita Falls, Miss Wendy Smith of Norman, Okla. and Christy Muse of Holliday. They wore yellow, blue and pink brocade satin tea length dresses, respectively. The colors of their dresses were emphasized in the roses in their bouquets mixed with pastel irises, carnations and sprengeri.

Courtney Ashley, the flower girl, wore a long white pleated chiffon dress with lace sleeves over taffeta.

The groom wore a grey tuxedo with matching accessories, and the male members of the wedding party wore traditional black tuxedos.

Bill Muse, the father of the groom, was the best man. The groomsmen were Steve Snider, Shannon West and Lyle Jeffcoat. The candlelighters and ushers were Paul Cartledge and Chris Harrell.

The bride made the corsages for her mother and the groom's mother to wear with the dresses that they chose for the wedding. Mrs. Price wore an off-white knit street-length dress and Mrs. Muse wore a dusty rose street-length dress. Their corsages were formed with peach roses, white mini carnations and iridescent ribbons.

The Fellowship Hall where the wedding reception was hosted by the bride's parents was decorated with tropical plants, bouquets of alstermeria lilies, peach roses, carnations, lyatrice, sprengeri, white globe candles, pots of yellow, white and lavender mums and daisies.

Miss Teresa McCarthy presided at the wedding book table covered with white ruffled eyelet cloth. A candle made by the groom's grandmother, Mrs. T.C. Butler, and an aunt, Mrs. C.E. Harrell, created special interest with the couple's wedding invitation embedded in it.

The bride's cake on her tastefully draped table excited great admiration. Decorated by her mother, the three-tiered structure was trimmed with fresh peach roses, alstermeria lilies and green fern. The floral theme was carried over into a centerpiece where three globe candles were banked with fresh flowers, lyatrice and fern. Those who served at the table were Misses Shelly Atkins, Dee Anne Ashley, Starla Brewer and Stephanie Brewer.

Mrs. Jeff McCarthy served at the groom's table that held a chocolate horseshoe-shaped cake, three large brass candleholders with candles, and silver coffee service.

Members of the houseparty were Mmes. Peggy Thomas, Ruth Shoup, Janet Compton, Calvin Ashley and C.E. Harrell.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at the Frontier Steak House. The white-covered tables were decorated with bouquets of pastel carnations and daisies and fern.

The bride was graduated from Wichita Falls High School. She attended Southeastern Oklahoma State Univ. and the University of Oklahoma. At Southeastern she was a cheerleader. The groom was graduated from Holliday High School and was chosen for the Red River 22 football team and all-district tackle. He is employed by the Wichita Falls Times and Record News. When the couple return from their wedding trip, they will live in Wichita Falls. The bride chose a white cotton dress for travel.

The prenuptial courtesies included a shower by Women's Association of Christ United Presbyterian Church; a miscellaneous shower given by Miss Stephanie Brewer, a pounding party for the bride and groom given by Mmes. Lawrence Muse, Lonnie Cox and Jimmy Henderson, a miscellaneous shower given for the couple by Mrs. T.C. Butler and Mrs. C.E. Harrell, and a bridesmaid luncheon held at the home of the groom's parents.

Out-of-town guests who did not participate in the wedding were W.L. Wilson, Midwest City, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Henderson and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Black of Arlington.

COMBINED CLEANING AGENTS CAN CAUSE DEADLY LUNG INJURY

The common household cleaning agents, bleach and ammonia, are relatively safe when used separately.

But when these agents are combined, they can cause an acute, life-threatening lung injury called toxic pneumonitis, according to Dr. George R. Reisz, of the University of Missouri School of Medicine in Kansas City.

Dr. Reisz reports he has treated three patients with toxic pneumonitis caused by mixing 5% sodium hypochlorite (household bleach) and ammonia while cleaning.

All three patients were treated with antibiotics and required prolonged hospitalization. After hospital discharge, all three suffered from increased shortness of breath upon exertion and lasting lung function impairment.

The physician said the combining of the two chemicals creates intermediary chloramine compounds which are far more toxic to the lungs than either of the chemicals individually.

Community reels from vandalism acts

The town of Holliday is returning to normal after a wave of unexplained violence and vandalism early last Thursday morning resulted in the destruction of a store, and damage to a diner and three vehicles.

Eagles lead in district

The Holliday Eagle baseball team upped their record to 4-0 in District play after downing Electra Thursday 7-1. Holliday is now 10-2 for the season.

Larry Krob was the winning pitcher, putting his record at 6-1. He went three for four and hit two doubles.

Les Dolberry went two for four with one double and Tim O'Brien went two for three with a double.

The Eagles will meet the Henrietta Bearcats at home at 4 p.m. tomorrow.

YHT program is demonstration

The Holliday Young Homemakers of Texas heard a program on color analysis at a meeting recently in the Holliday High School homemaking room.

Kathryn Huffman of Uniquely You was speaker for the evening and also gave a makeup color analysis demonstration. Her associate gave a facial massage demonstration.

YHT member, Paula Hall, won a free color analysis.

During the business, it was decided that the organization enter a float in the Mayfest parade.

Washateria opens

Tanner's Washateria, Holliday's only coin operated laundry is now open, according to Bettye Tanner, owner.

And it has a new twist. Although customers may do their own laundry, there will be an attendant on duty at all times to do customer's laundry for 50¢ per pound.

The washateria will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. daily.

Tanner's Kuntry Store, also owned by Mrs. Tanner, was destroyed by a firebomb last week.

Church dedication to be held Sunday

The Holliday First Baptist Church will hold the formal dedication of its new church building at 11 a.m. Sunday during regular morning services.

The public is invited to attend.

Junior band competes

The Holliday Junior High Band rated a Division three in concert and four in sightreading at the District UIL Concert and Sightreading last Wednesday at Wichita Falls High School.

There were no injuries. Hudson Brown, city administrator, reported that there are some suspects in the case and good evidence.

Tanner's Kuntry Store, still in the stages of rebuilding after a previous fire, was totally destroyed by fire after a person or persons entered the building through a window and put a homemade bomb, made with an aerosol hairspray can and matches, by one wall, threw another homemade gas bomb in the middle of the floor and saturated another wall with "flammable liquid," set each on fire and left the building, according to Bettye O. Tanner, owner. The building, which was declared a total loss, sustained approximately $175,000 damage.

Another homemade bomb was thrown through the window of Wanda's Kuntry Kitchen, also located on Highway 277, just down the road from Tanner's. Damage, which included a broken window, a destroyed booth and several chairs as well as smoke damage, resulted in an estimated $1,500 damage, according to Sam and Wanda Morgan, owners.

The fire from that bomb extinguished itself before more extensive damage occurred.

Wanda's Kuntry Kitchen was vandalized two weeks prior to the incident, when rocks were thrown through that business' window, as well as that of the Dairy Queen.

As well as the damage done to the two businesses, three vehicles, including a police cruiser parked at city hall, reported slashed tires.

Mrs. Tanner's and George Kriedler's vehicles, both parked at their residences, also sustained slashed tires.

Mrs. Tanner serves as municipal judge and Archer County

Justice of the Peace. She is running for re-election as Justice of the Peace in May. Kriedler is ex-assistant fire marshal of Holliday.

Hudson, estimated that all of the damage occurred between 2:30 and 3:00 Thursday morning, beginning at Mrs. Tanner's residence just south of the school on College Street, then to Kriedler's residence, which is two blocks south of the railroad tracks, then to city hall and on to the Kuntry Kitchen and Tanner's.

The fire at Tanner's was reported at approximately 2:55 a.m., just two hours after contractors had finished painting the inside of the building. The fire was brought under control shortly after 6:30 that morning.

The fire apparently started where the flammable liquid was spread on the walls, Mrs. Tanner said.

Holliday had requested assistance in fighting the fire from Lakeside City Fire Department, but that department was delayed in arriving when they found a tree blocking Ford Road, evidently the work of the same people responsible for the other damage.

Three Holliday volunteer firemen were hospitalized as a result of smoke inhalation in their efforts to fight the blaze. Leland Hart, Jack Monroe and Mark Owensby were admitted to a Wichita Falls hospital where they were kept overnight.

Mrs. Tanner was rebuilding the store after a fire on January 31 of this year partially destroyed the building. Investigator of the previous fire showed that it was due to an electrical short in some equipment at the front of the store.

Contractors had been working on the store for about a month and Tanner reported that they were supposed to begin installing the refrigeration equipment Monday.

"I am building back," Mrs. Tanner said.

A state of emergency was declared at 10:30 Thursday morning when an emergency session of Holliday City Council was called. It was stated that "a state of emergency exists because of the burning of buildings, slashing of police vehicle tires, private and public officials vehicles tires, and blockage of highways to prevent the passage of emergency vehicles."

During the meeting, councilmen authorized Hudson to pursue every resource available, especially law enforcement agencies, until the problem was solved.

The Holliday Police Department, consisting of police chief Juel Colbert and officer James Massey, received law enforcement assistance from the Department of Public Safety, Archer County Sheriff's Department and the Texas Rangers.

Until last Monday night, there were six law enforcement officers patrolling at all times.

The motive for the violence, although not iron-clad, has been put to a vengeance against some law enforcement figures and city officials.

Other than Mrs. Tanner's, Kriedler's and the police department's tie with city government, Sam Morgan, co-owner of Wanda's Kuntry Kitchen, unsuccessfully ran for Place Two on the city council April 5.

"All of it appears to be against law enforcement," Hudson said.

Hudson also said that Holliday is usually a quiet town. "Our crime rate is lower than anybody around here," he said.

The citizens of Holliday have rallied and raised some $5,600 as reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible.

Evidence from the fires have been sent to labs in Abilene, Wichita Falls and Garland for inspection.

The incidents are being investigated by the Texas Rangers, State Fire Marshal, and the Archer County Sheriff Department, as well as the Holliday Police Department. It was reported that the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) was investigating the situation. That report was neither confirmed nor denied by city officials.

UMW continues study

Mrs. Tom Compton gave the second study of "Stories of Survival" taken from conversations with native Americans and compiled by Emmett and Kathleen Hummelen, for the United Methodist Women Tuesday morning with 22 members in attendance.

The study concerned the native Americans in Alaska and Canada, and Mrs. Compton stated that their survival is a counterpart of the native Americans in the United States. Explaining, she said when the United States purchased Alaska from Russia, provisions were made for all the people to enjoy rights, advantages and immunities as citizens of the United States except the "uncivilized tribes." They were to be subjected to laws and regulations as the United States, from time to time, might adopt in regard to the aboriginal tribes of that country.

Mrs. Compton stated that in due time settlers moved in and the exploitation of Alaska's natural resources began. Reservations, treaties and the Bureau of Public Affairs was a repeat of the United States. The federal policies eliminated vast numbers of native people as legal entities of the land.

The speaker said that a restless peace has marked the decades since Indian wars ended. Treaties have been understood differently by the parties involved and wounds of betrayal and loss have never been closed.

Continuing, she mentioned that the elders among the Indians are frightened and see their way of life vanishing before them as their grandchildren capitulate to ways of the immigrant.

She brought the study to an impressive close by discussing the spiritual statue of the native Americans who believe that God's voice is the voice of nature. They have a concept for creation and have tried to live in harmony with it and not exploit it for individual profit.
