Johnson Road project to cause inconvenience

Work on the Johnson Road project which will probably be the most disruptive to residents in the north part of the city will commence next week, according to Mike Price, city public works director.

Water in that area will be cut off about four hours Thursday of next week, while two taps are made on the new line which has been installed.

Service will be cut about 10 a.m. and be resumed approximately 2 p.m. one week from today, Price said.

He explained that the time was set so the fewest numbers of people and meals would be involved in the curtailment.

"We knew at least one meal period would be involved in the tapping, so we chose the one we felt the fewest people would be inconvenced," Price said. "Earlier or later would also involve a lot of people taking baths and that sort of thing."

City workers will be on hand to assist the contractor, in order to make the taps in the shortest period of time.

Travel on Johnson Road will be even more of a problem beginning Monday, Price warned.

That's when the contractor will begin ripping up the old pavement in preparation for laying a new concrete surface.

Traffic has been slowed the past couple of weeks, while equipment was digging on the west side of the road to lay drainage and water pipe.

Price said the contractor could not tell him how long the paving project would take, because it depended on the weather and interruptions.

A surface will be left for travel, possibly in the ditch, Price said.

"We've tried to get a temporary approval from the state to let people drive both directions on the access road," Price said. "That would help, but so far we've not received it, even on a temporary basis."

Principal purpose of the overall project was to lay a storm drain along Johnson Road, from Wagon Wheel to the access road.

The drain, according to an engineer, is to prevent most of the flooding problems of homes north of the expressway.

The drain is expected to handle approximately 30 percent of all the water that drains into Country Hills Estates.

MEMORIAL DAY services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at Highland Cemetery, and will include dedication of the recently-completed Memorial Building. The Ministerial Alliance will be in charge of the services.

Hawks to meet Merkel Monday for Bi-District

Iowa Park High School has its first baseball district championship since 1975, and will meet Merkel Monday afternoon in Fort Worth for Bi-District.

The Hawks won the title Thursday by shutting out Bridgeport 17-0 in five innings.

Monday's game will be played at Fort Worth Brewer High field, in the southwest part of that city, starting at 4 p.m.

Merkel, runner-up in Dist. 6-AAA to Graham, enters the game with a 10-8 season record after going 4-4 in the three-team district.

Admission will be $2 for students and $3 for adults.

The Hawks are 12-8 this year, and will host Vernon at 4 this afternoon in a warm-up contest.

Vernon, runner-up to the Hawks, is to play Graham. The Hawks and Lions have split in their two outings this season, each winning on the 10-run rule.

Sophomore Ramon Moreno is expected to be the starting pitcher for Merkel, a team composed of three seniors, four sophomores and one junior and freshman. Moreno has a record of 4-2.

Robert Adams, with a pitching record of 6-3, is expected to be the Hawks' starter on the mound.

Hitting has been the Hawks' long suit this season, with seven players batting .219 or better for the year.

Their hitting has actually improved in district play, where the averages start among the leading

Stolen bikes are recovered

Police this week recovered three bicycles which had been reported as stolen, according to Det. Tommy Adams, and charges are being prepared against a suspect.

The latest theft reported was Saturday, when one was allegedly taken from 523 W. Aldine.

Another theft still under investigation is a riding lawn mower taken Monday from 1132 Louisa. Owner Charles Heacox said it was a gray tractor with an 11 horse power motor.

Police arrested Margarita Lenore Archibeque, 21, at 123 James Sunday on a felony warrant for injury to

Shower fetes bride elect

Miss Phyllis Forsgren, bride-elect of Rowland Ketchersid, was honored at a miscellaneous shower held Sunday afternoon at Texas Electric Reddy Room. The hostesses were Mmes. Eddie Worthy, Jeff Willeford and Lorraine Neese.

Shades of blue, the colors that will be emphasized in the honoree's wedding were combined with white to provide inspirations for decorations and appointments.

The colors were first noted in an eye-catching appointment on the registration table which featured double blue satin bells trimmed with white lace and flowers under a glass dome.

The decorative interest reached a high peak on the refreshment table draped with white lace over blue. The centerpiece, which was compatible with the cakes, napkins and punch, was composed of white bells, blue and white carnations, roses and stephanotis and votive candles in clear crystal cups.

The two double wedding bell-shaped white cakes were decorated with blue frosting flowers and accents and served with blue punch from a crystal bowl. The blue napkins were marked with "Phyllis and Rowland" in white.

Special guests were mothers of the betrothed couple, Mrs. R. J. Forsgren and Mrs. C. S. Ketchersid; their grandmothers, Mrs. O. L. Forsgren of Wichita Falls and Mrs. Bertha Bradstreet of Iowa Park, and a sister of the groom-elect, Mrs. Larry Perry of Iowa Park.

The couple will repeat their matrimonial vows June 6 at the Iowa Park Church of Christ.

Honor student given party

Jennifer Welch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Welch, was honored Monday at a "jam party" at the Tom Burnett Memorial Library. Mrs. Jim Bob Merrick was the hostess.

A light supper catered by Kathy Richardson was served and guests made their own ice cream sundaes.

Jennifer was named valedictorian of the Iowa Park Junior High School for 1985-86. She also received eighth grade outstanding student awards for tennis and English. She is a band member and drum major and received the band director's award. She also received the ESA sorority award for the outstanding eighth grade girl student.

Jennifer is a member of the Junior High Honor Society and holds the office of treasurer. She received a scholastic achievement award. In District UIL competition, she won first place in spelling and second place in oral reading.

Jennifer's friends who attended the party were: Shea Slack, Paula Beavers, Becky Ketchum, K.K. Hickey, Angie Turner, Angie Barker, Nancy Storey, Kami Wynn, Necia Williams, Kristi Grider, Lisa Tanner, Christy Lollis, Iris Adams and Stacy Martin.

Urged to offer services

Twenty-one members of United Methodist Women, and a guest, Mrs. Don Youngblood of Archer City, attended the meeting Tuesday morning. A luncheon following the program concluded activities until September.

Mrs. S.B. Keeter presided during a brief business meeting. She introduced Mrs. Youngblood, wife of a former pastor, who is serving as a member of the nominating committee for district UMW officers.

Mrs. Youngblood spoke briefly on the need for district officers and urged the local members to offer their services. She also encouraged them to attend the North Texas Conference to be held in Wichita Falls Sunday through Wednesday of next week, and the Christian School of Missions in Dallas July 14-18.

Mrs. Catherine Bricker gave the devotional thought on "I am going to treat others the way I want to be treated," taken from the fifth beatitude in Robert Schuler's book "The Happy Attitudes."

Quoting the author, she said that the prescription for joyful living is very simple, and if one wants to be happy he will treat people right and carry their burdens. She stated further that for every positive action there is a positive reaction.

To close, Mrs. Bricker read Helen Steiner Rice's poem, "A Sure Way to Be Happy," and observed that by completing what God gives us to do that we find real contentment and happiness.

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

I've never returned from a state track meet without some memories of outstanding races or performances, and last week's big track circus will be no different.

In fact, my 26th consecutive trip may well have more memories than I want.

First of all, it was the coldest of them all! And folks, I mean cold.

That storm that blew through here apparently didn't leave any of the cold. We had it all, right there in Memorial Stadium.

I had it better than the majority, because I had a rain suit in the car to cover my short sleeve shirt. It was my salvation.

A great number of people, who apparently had experienced the heat of meets in the past, had taken only their short sleeve or tank top shirts, and shorts.

Those folks, and apparently most of the early audience stayed until the bitter end (12:50 a.m. Sunday), wrapped in plastic ponchos, trash bags, towels, newspapers or anything else they could get their hands on.

I figure the temperature was in the low 40s. That, coupled with the high humidity and hard winds, which were gusting around 30 MPH, made light clothing hard to take.

A lot of people told me they ran the heaters in their cars when they left the stadium.

On May 17? In Austin?

And I thought the district track meet at Vernon was tough to take!

Saturday was also only the second time a meet had been delayed because of rain, in all my years there. And it really created problems.

Classes A and AAA boys and girls were competing Saturday afternoon when it started raining. Those who didn't compete were forced to run that evening, when AA and AAAAA classes were scheduled.

So that meant, each time a race was to be run, there were four classes for the boys and four for the girls.

In other words, when the mile event came around, we were looking at the prospects of watching eight miles of races, followed by eight more in the relays.

My ole traveling companion, Robert Nolen, made an observation I hadn't thought about, when he said, "We just watched the longest mile in the history of the UIL track meet."

He explained that the AA boys started their mile run on Saturday, and finished on Sunday.

Can't argue with that logic.

Another memory will be the national record in the 100 meter race by Derrick Florence of Galveston Ball, who went the distance in 10.1, against a 1.7 MPH wind!

But I thought the two AAAAA high jumpers who cleared seven feet was about as impressive.

They were having to jump into the wind, waiting between jumps in that cold temperature, and knowing when they landed, that plastic bag on which they landed would be cold on their exposed limbs.

I was so cold, sitting there watching them jump. I just knew they would be so brittle they would shatter each time they landed.

Each year, I think the crowd can't get any larger. But it always does. I think that's because when one sees his first state meet, he always returns.

That's what happened to me.

I vowed as I watched that first meet in 1961 that the state meet weekend would be my annual sports outing. Some folks take an annual fishing or hunting trip, some go skiing, others do something else.

Me, I head toward Austin about this time every May. And I've got a world of memories I treasure.

Camp for diabetic children

All the signs show that summer is fast approaching -- Little League play is starting up, the mesquitos are out, the days are lengthening, and children everywhere are packing for summer camps.

For many children with diabetes, summer means spending three wonderful, fun-packed weeks at Camp Sweeney in the green hills of North Central Texas, 10 miles northeast of Gainesville.

Camp Sweeney is a summer camp especially for diabetic children ages six to 18. The camp is sponsored by Southwestern Diabetic Foundation and is funded through the United Way and private donations.

Children at Camp Sweeney participate in the same activities that their peers in other summer camps enjoy, such as swimming, boating, fishing, archery, hiking and horse-back riding. In addition to these activities, campers at Camp Sweeney learn how to deal with their diabetes and lead normal lives. Each camper's diet is individually monitored by an experienced kitchen staff. The medical staff is on duty 24 hours a day to check the campers for any adverse signs and to conduct classes to help educate the campers on the medical aspects of their disorder.

Any child with diabetes may attend Camp Sweeney, regardless of ability to pay. Scholarships are available for any diabetic child who wishes to attend the camp.

This summer's sessions are as follows: Session One: June 8-27; Session Two: June 29 - July 18; Session Three: July 20-Aug. 8.

There are still openings in all the sessions at this time. For more information on attending the camp and the scholarships that are available, contact Southwestern Diabetic Foundation at Box 918, Gainesville, 76240 or phone 817-665-9502.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

I am writing a letter to you because the Wichita Falls Times and Record News refuses to give me a chance to speak after lambasting teachers in their paper on Saturday and Sunday, May 3 and 4.

I wrote to them thanking them for a classic example of biased writing. I was referring to the Saturday, May 3, morning headline, "Teachers disrupt White's speech." I pointed out that they were obviously biased for Mark White and against teachers. (My sixth, seventh, and eighth grade reading students readily identified the biased headline on Monday morning, May 6.)

My students also identified a headline which did not fit the article. The headline told the readers that the article would be about teachers disrupting White's speech. (The definition of disrupt as found in the 1985 edition of the World Book Dictionary is: to break up; burst apart; split; shatter - The rioters disrupted the assembly.) However, the article was about teachers asking the Governor questions AFTER his speech and then only after he had approached them. It was not a "breaking up, bursting apart, splitting, or shattering." The Wichita Falls Times and Record News missed again.

In reference to the letter by an anonymous editor of the Wichita Falls Times and Record News, teachers have no apology to make for their behavior on Friday, May 2, at Kell House. They were attentive throughout the Governor's speech. There was no heckling or jeering as was erroneously reported. The recording "Shove the Gov," was not played during the governor's speech. In fact, he didn't get to hear it at all, which is unfortunate.

However, questions were asked of the Governor when he came out to talk to the teachers. It's time teachers had answers to their questions from the man who instigated this massive assault on the people who care enough about children and education to stay in the classroom in spite of the attitude of many government officials and the Wichita Falls Times and Record News.

In reference to the letter to the Wichita Falls Times and Record News in Sunday's paper written by Lessel Evans, I wish to make this response. Ms. Evans, I, too, was given tests before I was certified to teach. I successfully completed the National Teachers' Examination and the Minnesota Multiphasic Personality Inventory, which is a psychological examination. Certain scores were required on these tests before a person could become a certified teacher. I met these requirements, graduated with honors, and later earned a master's degree. Do you feel that now, fourteen years later, I should take a new test, a test not nearly as comprehensive as the first and written at a lower level of readability? Please consider this analogy. The state of Texas is upgrading its graduation standards. How would you feel if all Texas high school graduates were required to take a test to validate high school diplomas earned as long as thirty years ago? Does this seem at all fair?

The TECAT was not a difficult test. It was insulting and expensive. It cost you and me over $4 million in tax money, money which could have been spent in educating children.

I challenged the Wichita Falls Times and Record News to print my letter in its entirety. I also asked them not to alter the spelling or punctuation to reflect errors. I wrote, "Ross Perot and his 'Blue Ribbon' committee proof read and sanctioned it, and they know all about public education, right?"

The Wichita Falls Times and Record News did not print my letter. Will you?

Very Sincerely,
Karla Wallace

Dear Mr. Hamilton:

Support from a community leader such as yourself is vitally important to organizations such as ours.

We appreciate the recent article that you placed in the Iowa Park Leader regarding the Wichita Adult Literacy Council and you will be pleased to know as a direct result of it, an adult is now receiving instructions in reading.

We are also pleased to report that eight Iowa Park residents received tutor training on May 10th and several learned of our program through your article.

Again thank you for your support in our work to address the problem of illiteracy.

Sincerely,
Wichita Adult Literacy Council, Inc.

Hawks

Senior Shawn Price leads the stick corps, batting at a .418 clip over the year and .520 in district play.

Coach Daryl Frazier uses another statistic for batters, contact, which indicates the percentage of at-bats the players put the ball into play.

In that category, Price and Ray Sefcik are the leaders with .920 and .923, respectively.

Sefcik's hitting average is .308 in district play and .358 for the season.

The other top hitters, using district averages, are: Eric Whitman, .346; Dave Taylor, .308; Craig Rickman and Jeff Huff, .300, and Adams, .296.

Rickman may have established some sort of state record, Coach Frazier said, for number of walks during a season.

Through Thursday, the sophomore had drawn 32 free trips to first base this year. The lefty is the Hawks' leadoff batter.

Those seven top batters have also accounted for a high percentage of runs batted in (RBI).

For the season, they've had 136 hits and 111 RBIs, and in district play, they had 58 hits and 57 RBIs.

Indicating the future of the Hawks, only three of those top seven hitters are seniors: Price, Sefcik and Taylor.

In that final district game at Bridgeport, which was a makeup after being postponed, the Hawks did all their scoring in the first three innings.

They racked up seven runs in the first and third frames, and three in the second.

And speaking of hitters, Price, Sefcik and Adams each recorded home runs.

Cook of the Week

The bean is a protein vegetable whose forms are so many and so numerous. One thing that can be said of all of them is that they go back to prehistoric times. For centuries they have probably been the answer to "what's cooking today?"

Cindy (Mrs. Russell) Yarbrough, a young homemaker, has evidently realized their importance because two of her recipes this week, Baked Beans and Green Bean Casserole, feature beans as the main ingredient.

The three most important beans in order given are Asian soybeans that were cultivated 4,000 years ago; American haricot beans which have been found in excavations dating several back thousands of years; and the European broad beans that have been discovered in the kitchen middens of prehistoric lake settlements.

The haricot bean seems to be the most versatile. There are round, oval, fat, flat and kidney-shaped beans and are produced in six different colors, according to one food authority. This bean was discovered in Florida in 1528, and again, later, at the mouth of the St. Lawrence River.

The green or wax beans go back to ancient Roman times. It is said that the Indians grew them when Miles Standish courted Priscilla. They also planted green lima beans with corn to choke the weeds, and they taught the Pilgrims how to make succotash, the first truly American dish.

Thanks to the creativity and imaginations of cooks in this century, the modern cooks have a variety of ways to prepare the beans agreeable to the palate and taste.

The former Cindy Lewis, Mrs. Yarbrough attended Iowa Park High School. She is an assistant room mother and team mother for T-ball. She and Russell, who is a driver for Geer Tank Trucks, are members of First Baptist Church. They have two sons, Bodie six years of age, and Cole, four.

Mrs. Russell Yarbrough

Cindy says that she wants to be a good homemaker and mother, first of all, and, if she has time, she enjoys ceramics and swimming.

Biddy, Weaver place in state track meet

SCOTT WEAVER AND STEPHEN BIDDY WAIT THEIR TURN AT STATE TRACK MEET ... while another division completes high jump event.

It may well be that in the future, whenever Stephen Biddy hears the national anthem, he'll remember the state track meet.

The Class AAA high jump event had already gotten underway Saturday when the formal opening of the session, the playing of the anthem, was held.

Biddy had cleared each height on his first attempt, until missing his first run at 6-4.

He was approaching the bar on his second attempt, when a bugler began playing the anthem.

Biddy cleared the bar, easily, and placed fourth in the largest track meet for high school athletes of the year.

His running mate, Scott Weaver, cleared 6-2, and placed sixth.

On his best attempt at 6-4, Weaver narrowly clipped the bar off the stand with his heel.

Biddy's first two attempts at 6-6 were foiled when his right calf knocked the bar to the ground.

Two competitors had already cleared the height when Biddy was eliminated, and a third still had one more chance after the Hawk missed his final try.

Derrick Deshotel of Hampshire-Fannett cleared the bar. Had he not, Biddy would have earned third place and a medal, because he had fewer misses.

As it wound up, Dusty Wilson of Ingleside and Brian Gilliam of Princeton took first and second, each clearing 6-7.

Biddy's best height of the season was 6-8, and Weaver's 6-4.

They had earned the shot at the state championship by placing first and second at both the Dist. 5-AAA and regional meets.

Biddy invited

Even though the state track meet is over, there's still some competition for Hawk high jumper Stephen Biddy.

The senior has accepted an invitation to compete Saturday in the Chief Auto Parts Meet of Champions at the University of Texas at Arlington.

The high jump event is scheduled to begin at 5 p.m.

100-inning ball game slated here May 31

A 100-inning baseball game will be played May 31 as a fund-raising project for the Little League.

League coaches will commence the marathon at 8 a.m. that day and continue until the 100th inning is completed.

Proceeds will be from the concession stand, as well as pledges or donations supporting the program.

The idea of the game, in which players have sponsors who pledge money for each inning completed, came from Hawk baseball coach Daryl Frazier.

He explained many major colleges use a similar plan for raising funds.

Due to the extended length of the game, a pitching machine will be used instead of players. And since each pitch is supposed to be over the plate, each batter will already have two balls and one strike against him when he approaches the plate.

No admission will be charged, but anyone wishing to sponsor a coach or Little League staff member can contact them or Mike Price, at 592-9747.

Wells receives scholarship

Kyle Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Wells, has received a $1,000 scholarship, one of the eight scholarships awarded by the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, to continue his college education for the 1986-87 year.

Kyle was graduated from Iowa Park High School where he was active in FFA and belonged to the Ag Coop. At MSU, he is majoring in biology and minoring in geology. He spends his summers working with his father on the farm.

FIBER REGULATES ENERGY, REDUCES COLON CA RISK

By helping to regulate energy availability and loss, dietary fiber may lower the risk for colon cancer, according to Dr. David Kritchevsky of the Wistar Institute of Anatomy and Biology in Philadelphia.

The protective role of dietary fiber has been advocated (and debated), but its mode of action has not been delineated.

According to Dr. Kritchevsky, fiber reduces the caloric content of stools and thus may inhibit carcinogenesis.

Dietary fiber may also protect by increasing fecal bulk, lowering fecal steroids and lowering colonic acidity.

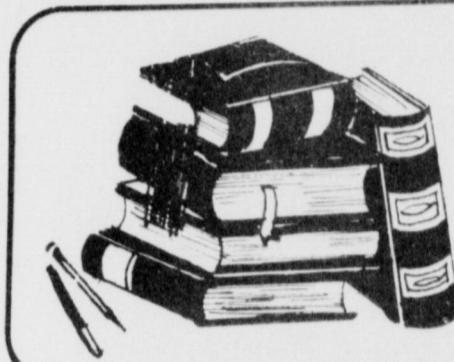

The scientist presented his findings at a conference on diet, nutrition and cancer held in Houston by the American Cancer Society.

Council will resume two meetings monthly

The Holliday City Council will once again meet twice a month, this action taken at a called meeting Friday night.

The meeting was called to consider items tabled at the regular meeting of the council May 12.

Meetings of the council had been held twice monthly until December when it was decided that the meeting were too short to justify both meetings.

After some discussion, aldermen came to the conclusion that one meeting a month couldn't handle all city business, so bi-monthly meetings were reinstated.

Prom Friday

Holliday High School's annual Junior-Senior banquet and prom will be at 7 p.m. Friday at the Hilton in Wichita Falls.

The event, with a theme of "Puttin' on the Ritz," is sponsored by the junior class to honor the seniors.

A dance will follow the dinner, and will feature disc jockey Robert Parkey, graduating senior.

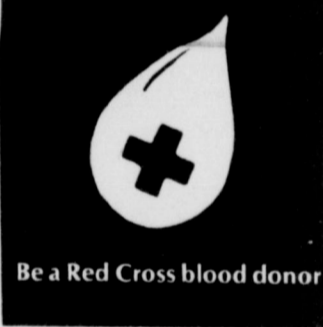

Carlton named drum major

Darren Carlton has been selected as drum major for the 1986-87 Eagle Pride Band after tryouts last Thursday.

Selected as twirlers were Pam Long, Deanna Segler and Denissa Weyant.

Flag corp members are Jami Murphy, captain, Mary Jane Billingsley, Rhoda Cox, Melissa Faver, Michelle Haggerty and Shelley O'Brien.
