News in Brief

Deadline for voter registration

Wichita County residents who have not previously registered to vote have until Oct. 5 to do so in order to be eligible to vote in the November 4 general elections according to Jean James, deputy clerk.

Registration forms are available at the County Agriculture building, a sub-station of the county clerk's office, but must be mailed or turned in to the County Clerk's office at the Wichita County Court House in Wichita Falls.

GED class to begin here Monday

A free, self-paced class which will help adults prepare for the GED (high school equivalency) test will begin Monday at Iowa Park Junior High School.

The class will meet from 6:30 to 9:30 each Monday evening.

Areas of instruction will include math, reading, social studies, science and writing skills.

Anyone at least 17 years of age and officially withdrawn from school is eligible to attend.

The class, sponsored by Region Nine Adult Education, will be taught by Linda Gray.

Attendance important to school budget

The number of students who attend the Iowa Park schools on a daily basis from Oct. 6 through Oct. 21 will have an impact on the amount of money the school district will receive from the state during the 1986-87 school year, according to Supt. Glen Mitchell.

Parents are urged to make every effort possible to see that their children attend school during the four-week period. The school district will receive approximately $80 per day for each student who is in attendance this four-week period.

The district is expected to receive approximately $2,660,000 from the state this year. This amount will increase or decrease according to the total amount of students in attendance during October.

Last year an average of 97 percent of the students were in attendance on a daily basis during the designated period.

Supt. Mitchell explained that a one-percent increase in attendance would increase the average daily attendance by 17 students, and this would generate an additional $27,000.

1.38 rainfall measured

Rainfall measured in Iowa Park during the past week was 1.38 inch, according to Virgil Woodfin.

EMPTY CHAIRS, ALMOST EMPTY STREET RESULT OF BOMB THREAT SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Bomb threat shortens Whoop-T-Do two hours

Event though Saturday's Whoop-T-Do was cut short two hours by a bomb threat, it was still considered by observers to be one of the most successful ever held.

Police received a bomb threat by telephone shortly after 1 p.m., and operators of booths and activities were notified of the threat. Most shut down immediately and left the area.

The closing came just as the first of three activities for children, money hunt in hay, hay bale rolling and sack races, was getting underway.

But members of the non-profit organizations operating booths still said they had one of their best years for fund raising, because of the number of people who had attended.

Observers said the crowd arrived early and stayed until booths started closing.

Winner of the Turtle Trot, which drew a record number of entries, was four-year-old Christina Stancliff.

ESA king and queen winners were: Cami Fischer, Miss, and Eric Prince, Mr.; Bambi Feltman and Jeffrey Prince, LaPetite; and Christy Freeman and Garrett Sampley, Baby.

Robert Palmer was declared the winner of the Fried Okra Cookoff and Tim Hunter won the Showmanship Award.

As part of the community's observance of the Sesquicentennial, a canned foods contest was judged.

Winners included, first through fourth places in order:

Jelly - Minnie Estes (first through third), Penny Trammel;

Canned Vegetables - Belenda Walls (first and second), Charlotte Pruett and Mickie Carter;

Relishes - Belenda Walls, Penny Trammel and Joni Whitis;

Pickles - Belenda Walls, Teresa Adams, Mickie Carter and Charlotte Pruett;

Sweet Pickles - Belenda Walls, Teresa Adams, Mickie Carter and Mildred McLemore.

Winners of the annual Arts and Crafts Show included:

Hawks seek to thwart Vernon one more time

Iowa Park's Hawks have been working hard all week in an effort to continue their frustration of Vernon's Lions.

The two clubs meet at 8 p.m. Friday in Hawk Stadium.

Vernon has been the larger town and usually had a larger enrollment from which to pick larger and faster athletes.

Yet, in the current 16-year series between the two schools, Iowa Park holds a narrow edge in winning, with a record of 8-7-1.

An indication of that frustration is last year, when the Lions went all the way to the semi-finals before losing 20-14 to eventual AAA champion Dangerfield.

Vernon advanced to the playoffs by virtue of a coin toss because the Lions shared the district title with Iowa Park and Springtown.

That tie was the result of Iowa Park's 17-7 win over the Lions.

The year before, Vernon again was in the playoffs, but suffered a scoreless tie with the Hawks, who didn't make the playoffs because of two other district losses.

Because of their growth in enrollment, the Lions were moved back to Class AAAA this year. Friday's game will not have a bearing on either school's district standings, and will be Iowa Park's final non-district game on the schedule.

Because they have a hard time finding someone who'll play them, the Lions had an open date last week. In fact, a large team delegation was here to watch the Hawks play.

The intruders apparently tore off a screen and broke out a window to gain entry.

Value of items taken was not reported on the police blotter, but only small items such as a camera, jewelry and coins were taken.

James Hembree told police Monday a set of tools were taken from 300 W. Crystal.

Police continue to investigate a bomb threat received by telephone at the police station at 1:06 p.m. Saturday.

According to the police blotter, the first part of the conversation was unintelligible, but an unidentified male voice reportedly stated "...is set to go off within one hour."

All members of the police and fire departments were assembled to search the area of the Whoop-T-Do in the 100 block of W. Cash.

Also, business owners where large crowds were shopping were alerted of the threat and some closed their doors about an hour.

Most of the booths at the Whoop-T-Do were shut down immediately, but some continued to operate about an hour before the major crowd left the area.

Iowa Park police are continuing investigations of a burglary, theft and bomb threat which occurred over the weekend.

When Mr. and Mrs. Glen Mitchell returned home at 1501 Quail Valley from a trip out of town Monday evening, they found their home had been burglarized.

The intruders apparently tore off a screen and broke out a window to gain entry.

Value of items taken was not reported on the police blotter, but only small items such as a camera, jewelry and coins were taken.

James Hembree told police Monday a set of tools were taken from 300 W. Crystal.

Scobee, Harris vows are solemnized Saturday evening

The altar decorations of First United Methodist Church were highlighted with an open Bible and gold cross complemented with the stain glass window high above the choir loft for the Saturday evening wedding of Miss Vinita Charlene Scobee and James Harland Harris.

Seven-branched candelabra holding dusty rose candles flanked the Bible and were trimmed with grapeleaf ivy and light pink daisies. The altar decorations were completed with bouquets of dusty rose and pink daisies in brass bowls. The altar rail was entwined with grapeleaf ivy dotted with light pink daisies, and the same style of decorations was noted in the unity candlestick in the lower altar. The church pews were marked with large white silk bows.

Rev. Jack Meyers officiated the double-ring ceremony to unite in marriage the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Scobee and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Evans.

Miss Melissa Matthews secured the signatures of the wedding guests as they entered the church foyer. She sat at a round table covered with white lace over pink silk. The table held a tall pink candle burning in a hurricane globe a pink plume pen and the lace-covered wedding book.

The wedding music was presented by Mrs. Jerry Basser, organist, who played the traditional wedding marches, and Marjean Suggs, soloist, who furnished her own piano accompaniment. The latter presented "You Light Up My Life," "We've Only Just Begun," and "Ice Castles" for prelude selections. During the ceremony, she sang "The Wedding Song," "There Is Love" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father who answered "her mother and I" to the minister's question, "Who gives this woman in marriage?"

She was radiantly beautiful in a gown of white imported bridal taffeta enhanced with Chantilly and Brussels laces. The basque waist bodice was fashioned with a deep V yoke and stand-up collar of Brussels lace embroidered with pearls and iridescents. The yoke was outlined with a ruffle of Chantilly lace that spanned the shoulders and capped the very full sleeves.

MRS. JAMES HARLAND HARRIS

The bouffant skirt ended in a hemline cascade of ruffles that were caught to bows of ribbon on the sides, then flowed to a long chapel train.

She chose a hat of Brussels lace embroidered with pearls and iridescents from which her veil of imported bridal illusion drifted to fingertip length.

The bride's bouquet of white roses, sweetheart roses, stephanotis and alstermeria lilies carried on a lace-covered Bible provided the perfect finishing touch to her wedding.

She remembered to keep bridal traditions by wearing a gold bracelet that belonged to her late grandmother for "something old;" her wedding gown for "something new;" pearl earrings "something borrowed" from Frankie Wooster; and the "something blue" garter made by her mother who also made the attendants' headpieces, the ring bearer's satin pillow, flower girl's basket, covered the wedding book and bride's Bible with lace.

Mrs. Clifford Klinkerman, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. She wore a dusty rose satin dress styled with a fitted bodice overlaid with Chantilly lace, short puffed sleeves, a softly gathered waistline, long fitted skirt. Self bow trim at the shoulders enhanced the beauty of the dress. She wore a floral wreath headpiece with streamers and carried a lace-covered fan ornamented with pink and white daisies.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Louis Sawyer, another sister of the bride, Mrs. Randy Scobee, sister-in-law, and Mrs. Johnny Schenk of Wichita Falls. Their dresses, headpieces and fans were identical to those of the matron of honor.

Chellie Scobee, niece of the bride, was the flower girl. She wore a soft pink peau de soie frock designed with soft ruffles on the shoulders, lace on the bottom of the skirt, and a satin sash that hugged the waistline and tied in a bow at the back. She wore a headpiece matching those of the bridal attendants and carried a white lace basket of rose petals.

Clint Scobee, nephew of the bride, the ring bearer, was dressed like the groom's attendants.

Cami Franks and Cody Franks, niece and nephew of the bride, carried the torches and lighted the candles for the service. She was dressed like the flower girl and he was dressed like the ring bearer.

The groom wore a walnut Sierra Western suit with white pleated shirt, matching vest and white rose and baby's breath boutonniere. His attendants, ushers and fathers wore the same attire with pink rose and baby's breath boutonnieres.

The father of the groom served as best man. The groomsmen were Steve Harris and Donnie Harris, brothers of the groom and James Harris, his cousin. The ushers were Randy Scobee, brother of the bride, and Joe Harris, the groom's cousin.

The mothers of the bride and groom wore corsages of sweetheart roses and alstermeria lilies with their wedding dresses.

Mrs. Scobee wore a long rose chiffon gown accented with a jewel neckline and designed with a bodice trimmed with simulated pearls, fitted waist with cummerbund, long flowing sleeves and pleated skirt. Mrs. Evans wore a long off-white chiffon dress with laced bodice, dropped waist and pleated skirt.

The wedding reception was hosted by the bride's parents in the Fellowship Hall of the church where decorations in the bride's colors created refreshing and enchanting charm.

All features of the bride's table combined to make it a thing of beauty. It was draped with white Chantilly lace over dusty rose silk and swagged at the top with dusty rose ribbon caught to matching bows. One extremity held the crystal punch service and the other held a four-point silver candelabrum bowl holding dusty rose candles and a bouquet of silk roses in the bride's colors and white daisies.

The cake centerpiece with three tiers and one set of Grecian pillars clearly stood apart, yet lent itself to the total design of the table. Rambling Rose was the theme of the sentimental and frilly cake that was perfect for the bride who loves romantic tradition. The frosting details featured upright shells topped with bows separated with zig-zag designs, clusters of pink roses in between the shells, a ceramic bride and groom stood under a lace-covered gateway rising from a cloud of white net for the top ornament.

The table appointments also included pink and white bell and heart-shaped mints in crystal bowls and pink bridal napkins marked with "Jimmy and Vinita" in silver.

The groom's table was covered with ivory lace over brown and featured a fascinating style of decorations to fit his work. One side held a cowboy boot made by the bride's mother filled with dried eucalyptus, cattails, wheat, sunflowers, different kinds of foliage and a large artichoke. In front of the boot were a cowboy and cowgirl standing on either side of a small bale of hay.

The double-ring shaped German chocolate cake was bordered with pink roses, covered with coconut-pecan frosting and lettered with "Jimmy - Vinita." The table also held a silver coffee service, trays of nuts and mints.

During the reception, refreshments were served by Mrs. Ronnie Adams, Mrs. Page Harris, Mrs. David Torronez and Sharon Lewis.

The houseparty members were Mmes. Wade Puckett, Donald Potter, Harold Riggins and Christy Evans.

The long gift table was covered with white lace over dusty rose and decorated with the bridal attendants fans at the corners. It held the dusty rose net rice bags in pink bells that were placed in two baskets covered with rows of white lace and dusty rose ribbon.

The groom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner at K-Bob's in Wichita Falls.

The bride was graduated from Iowa Park High School. She attended Midwestern State Univ., and is employed by Williams-Dyer Co. The groom was graduated from Wichita Falls High School and TSTI at Waco. He is employed by Burgess Industries.

Following the wedding, the couple left to visit Six Flags and then for a cruise to the Bahamas. When they left, the new Mrs. Harris was wearing a matching blue jacket and skirt and a pink and blue floral print blouse. They will live in Iowa Park.

Special wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harland Hunter of Ardmore, Okla., grandparents of the groom.

Doan, Cook wedding is performed Saturday

The Church of Christ was the setting for the Saturday evening wedding of Robin Renae Doan and Ray Alan Cook. The double-ring ceremony was performed by Keith Parker.

The bride is the daughter of Robert E. Doan of Iowa Park and Marilyn J. Abernathy of Del Norte, Colo., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dean Cook of Iowa Park.

The wedding decorations consisted of two seven-branched candelabra decorated with grapeleaf ivy and candlelight bows holding ivory candles to shed soft lighting, and two floral arrangements of candlelight gladiola, roses, carnations, and sweet-heart roses. The pews were marked with candlelight satin bows.

A quartet composed of Tina Escue, Kim Martin, Kyle Long and Phil Thames sang "Endless Love" and "Evergreen" before the ceremony, and sang the traditional processional and recessional marches.

During the ceremony, the minister read a poem on marriage.

The bride's two-year-old daughter, Lindsay, walked the aisle to the altar with her.

The bride wore a candlelight regal satin and Alencon lace dress fashioned with a dropped hip bodice featuring a sheer yoke and high neck. The butterfly puffed sleeves were capped with lace and extended almost to the elbows to add distinction to the dress. The slightly gathered satin skirt fell to the popular tea length.

She chose a chapel length veil of imported candlelight illusion caught to a wreath of Alencon lace flowers. She carried an arm bouquet of candlelight roses, irises, tea roses and freesia brought together with a lace bow.

Mrs. Richard Boyle of Wichita Falls participated in the wedding as matron of honor and Mrs. Frank Trotter of Iowa Park was the bridesmaid. Each wore a royal blue satin dress featuring a black lace collar and overlays of the lace on the loose fitting bodice and dainty skirt. They carried bouquets of candlelight roses, spider mums and freesia accented with matching ribbon.

Melissa Threet was the flower girl and Amanda Threet was the ring bearer. They wore ivory lace dresses over satin accented with royal blue satin sashes.

The groom wore a black tuxedo with tails, royal blue cummerbund and tie and a tea rose combined with rosebuds for a boutonniere. The male participants in the wedding were dressed identically except for regular length coats.

Shane Kimbrew was the best man and Leroy Threet Jr. was groomsman. The ushers were Frank Trotter and Monty Hale.

The bride and groom were graduated from Iowa Park High School. She is attending Vernon Regional Junior College. He attended Midwestern State Univ. and is employed by Southland Beauty Supply. He is also a member of the board of directors of the Wichita Falls Maternity Cottage.

The wedding reception was held in the Tom Burnett Memorial Library.

The decorations on the refreshment table were beautifully compatible with the long glass-topped table that was uncovered to show its beauty. The centerpiece was a four-branched silver candelabrum holding ivory candles and a bouquet of tea roses, freesia, pom mums and baby's breath to blend with the candles. The table also held a silver punch bowl, crystal trays of mints and nuts and bridal napkins.

The table's appeal was heightened in the magnificent three-tiered cake of candlelight floral design with one set of sugar pillars. That provided space for an open orchid on top of the second tier. The confection was a master piece of cascades of candlelight roses, agapanthus, petunias, forget me nots and blossoms that covered the sides and clustered in a bouquet for the crowning touch.

Refreshments were served by Terri Hill, Angela Hatfield and Alicia Hatfield. Guests signed the wedding book under the direction of Theresa Hatfield.

The groom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner at the Frontier Steak House in Wichita Falls.

Special wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. Val Scott of Chillicothe, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Wooster of Denver, Colo., and Ione Kimbrew. Others from out-of-town were the bride's mother, H.L. Abernathy of Del Norte, Colo., Mr. and Mrs. Roger Smith from Dallas and Mr. and Mrs. Brian Smith from Fort Worth.

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

I'm afraid having two consecutive weeks of complaints in my column will get me labeled an old grouch.

But, like Eddie, I'm mad. Three things happened during the past week that really upset me.

I'm maddest about the mindless fool who called in the bomb threat Saturday and killed the Whoop-T-Do.

Sure, it was a hoax. But imagine the power felt by such a mindless wimp, that he could break up an event as big as the annual celebration.

A few years ago, this sort of thing could be dismissed as a prank. But with the world situation as it is, with all the bombings going on around the world and people being killed and maimed, such threats can no longer be taken with a wink of the eye.

I'll give $100 cash to whomever turns the caller in, if the accused is found guilty in court.

The second problem came to light in Earl Gwinn's column in Seymour's Baylor County News.

Iowa Parkans are accused of misconduct at the football game played there.

Wrote Gwinn, "My niece, who has a daughter in the band, related that while the Panther Band was on the east sidelines waiting their turn to march, fans from the visiting team threw gravel at them and shouted at them saying that Panther Band is no good, it stinks and the visiting band was the best."

"While the visiting band was playing and marching, Panther Band stood quietly on the sideline waiting their turn."

"When they (Panther Band) got on the field and started their marching, the visiting band scattered like wild fire and some smart remarks were made by them to the Panther Band..."

Earl, if this happened as you relate, I apologize for the entire community. We don't need that kind of reputation.

My third gripe has to do with the tax bill passed during the special session of the state legislature.

Adding five-cents tax on gasoline just shows me our elected officials can't get off the back of the oil business.

Good gosh, they just doubled the state tax on gasoline a couple of years ago, and now they've tripled the old tax.

Sure, it's only supposed to be for a few months. But people who have to make their living in their vehicles are picking up an unfair portion.

And speaking of unfair portion, how about that sales tax increase, from 4 1/8 cents to 5 1/4?

Those of us who sell items at a price less than $1 can't pass on the fraction of a cent.

So, a major portion of the revenue the state will get from the sales tax increase will actually be from the businesses of the state, not the buying public.

City awards contract

The city council accepted the only bid submitted to use smoke to detect leaks in sewer lines.

RJN McCullough Associates of Dallas was the only bidder. Aldermen approved the firm's offer of $27,810.

James Barrington, city administrator, said he was pleased with the bid, because it was about $2,000 less than was budgeted for the project.

The city's sewer system will be divided into three sections for testing purposes. Smoke will be injected into the lines and leak areas identified where rainwater might enter the line and help overload the treatment plant.

Homeowners with leaks in their private lines will also be notified by the firm.

Public Works Director Mike Price told the council the elimination of rainwater from the sewer line could result in savings which would pay for the testing.

He said the additional volume of water in the sewer line causes the treatment plant to load down, and cost of operating the treatment plant is very expensive.

Council members heard a plea from an elementary school principal for the city to assist in correcting traffic congestion at his and another campus.

Ron Woods, Kidwell principal, said morning traffic around his school is dangerous for children.

He cited his major problem was caused by parents who park, legal and illegal, and wait for the school bell to ring before unloading their children, parents ignoring the "bus only" sign in front of the building, and some people driving faster than regulation speed.

Woods said many parents drive across traffic on Third Street so they can park at the campus curb to let their children out, and then have to drive against traffic again when leaving.

He suggested signs might be placed by the city to prohibit any parking on the east side of the street during school hours and more patrolling of traffic during rush hours.

He said problems were similar but slightly different at Bradford Elementary.

While no action was taken, Mayor Tim Hunter said it appeared a three-way attack might correct the situation: education, legislation and enforcement.

Elaborating, Hunter said work with parents on proper places to park, ordinances to control traffic and police enforcing the traffic laws.

In other business, the council approved a proposal to advertise for grass grazing lease bids at both Iowa Park and Buffalo lakes, but put a minimum of $8.05 per acre.

The city administrator was given the authority to negotiate terms of the leases, with one-year terms and one-year options.

Aldermen tentatively approved a drawing of the city logo, but wanted to see some minor changes before formally adopting it.

Also discussed was the possibility of purchasing a covered wagon to be placed in city hall park, a workshop session on the city code book Oct. 13 and progress of construction of the trap shooting range and picnic area construction at Lake Iowa Park.

Hawks

back Dan Buesing and two-way starter Chris Thomsen, a 230-pounder who plays tight end on offense and tackle on defense.

Both suffered injuries in the Tascosa game, but are expected to be in uniform tomorrow.

Thomsen was the most seriously injured of the two, with a shoulder separation. He is expected to be limited to defensive play only.

Buesing, who completed 10 of 19 pass attempts against the Hawks last week for 133 yards, started off this season in a big way, throwing for 273 yards against Altus.

Iowa Park is expected to have the services of leading linebacker Dennis Phillips.

The 200-pounder who also plays offensive guard suffered a severe ankle sprain at Seymour and was used last week only to snap the ball for punts.

Unpleasant task

Dear Bob,

On Saturday I had one of the most unpleasant tasks I have ever had to do since elected to office. That was to announce the bomb threat we received at Whoop-T-Do. Although it turned out only to be a hoax, an announcement had to be made to warn the public of a possible danger. Anyone who would make such a call during an event that many people look forward to and one that our community benefits from is definitely sick and in need of help. I can only say to that individual that your pathetic attempt to ruin a perfectly good day was not successful. Although our time was short, I definitely feel that our Whoop-T-Do was a tremendous success. This was due to the efforts put forth by the many dedicated organizations in our town and two very hard workers, Robert Palmer and Dee Blackwell.

Even though we will possibly face similar events as the one that occurred Saturday, I can definitely say with pride that anyone who makes such a threat may shorten our fun but they can never break the spirit and the pride that the citizens of Iowa Park exhibit.

Bob, I would also like to say that everyone will have the opportunity in reducing this sort of incidence by voting for the Extended 911 in the November elections. This not only will allow us to trace such calls, it will increase our response time in any type of emergency.

Sincerely,
Timothy W. Hunter
Mayor

Organ donor plan topic

Sue Meyer, a registered nurse and active in the Organ Donor Program, was the speaker for the Iowa Park Lioness Club in a meeting held Thursday evening at the Lions building. The hostesses were Mrs. Joe Kennedy and Mrs. C.L. Thompson.

Mrs. Meyer used "The Gift of Life" for her topic and stressed that "There is no greater gift than the gift of life for other people who might otherwise die or remain gravely ill that can be helped through organ or tissue donation."

She said that well over a hundred thousand people are currently waiting for trasplants which include heart, liver, lungs, corneas, pancreas, bone marrow, bone and skin. She also said that on an average day in the U.S., one heart, 20 kidneys and 65 corneas are transplanted each day.

Mrs. Meyer said that most organ donors were under 65 years of age and in good health, but others over 65 could help by donating eyes and skin and just talking to people about giving something they could no longer use.

Mrs. G.O. Thurlo gave the devotion on "If You Can't Sing, Whistle," and Mrs. D.O. James directed the business.

The next meeting will be held Oct. 23, and Hobbie Miller will present the program on "Railroad Crossing Safety."

History of cemetery told to Garden Club

Mrs. B.J. Gilmore gave a program on the history of Highland Cemetery for the Iowa Park Garden Club in a meeting held Friday morning at the cemetery pavillion. Eighteen members were present.

Mrs. Gilmore began the program by telling the group that the oldest stone found thus far in the cemetery is dated 1889. She said since the land was free and most burials were done by relatives there are no written records of the early burials. She said that the funeral home began keeping records in November 1917, and the Highland Cemetery Association was organized in 1924, the year that a plat was drawn.

She said that in 1954 the caretakers building where the records were stored burned and all records belonging to the cemetery were lost.

She said that in 1960 the cemetery was surveyed and burials were recorded on canvas maps, but because records were not updated the cemetery was surveyed again in 1984, and the records were made and compared with all known information.

Mrs. Gilmore said that the cemetery was again mapped out, and the map placed on the wall in the new office area of the pavillion, thus making it easy to locate a certain burial site or unsold land.

She explained that the Highland Cemetery Association is a non-profit organization made of lot owners and interested citizens who contribute to the cemetery. She said the money for the lots is used to maintain the grounds.

Mrs. Gilmore said the memorial pavillion was built by donated funds and labor, and that a plaque is on display listing names of families or individuals who donated $100 in memory of loved ones.

When she was asked about the bluebonnets which covered the cemetery for many years, Mrs. Gilmore said although they were encouraged at first, because of maintenance problems they had to be mowed.

She closed with a beautiful poem entitled "Memorial" which she composed expressing her feelings about the cemetery, then encouraged members to tour the office area and look over the map of the cemetery.

During a short business meeting directed by Mrs. Jimmy Gilmore, she introduced Mrs. John Clapp and Mrs. Jimmy Bradberry as new members. She reminded members to bring a list of personal wildflower sightings to the Oct. 10 meeting which will be held at Texas Electric Reddy Room.

Childress upsets Eagles

HOLLIDAY - The Holliday Eagle's season record dropped to 3-1 after a disappointing loss to the Childress Bobcats Friday night, 18-19.

The Eagles were in control of the game the entire first half, leading at the end of the second quarter, 18-0.

Senior wingback Scott Broyles was responsible for the first touchdown of the night with a 44-yard run to the endzone. Holliday led the game, 6-0, after the extra point failed.

On the Eagle's next possession, Tim O'Brien sprinted for a 52-yard run to the endzone, bringing the score to 12-0. A two-point conversion was attempted, but failed.

It was O'Brien again who scored the final Eagle touchdown of the game with a 90-yard run putting the Eagles at a seemingly solid lead of 18-0 at the half. The extra-point kick failed.

A Bobcat rally in the second half proved to be more than the Eagles could overcome.

With a touchdown and good extra point kick in the third period, the Eagles were still leading 18-7.

But two touchdowns by the Bobcats in the fourth quarter, both of which extra point kicks failed, won the homecoming game for Childress, putting the score at 18-19.

Porkys tie Hawks 14-14

JIM CUMMINGS LEAPS TO CATCH PASS

Friday night's homecoming game with Springtown was weird, to say the least. While the Hawks dominated every offensive category against a club they had never defeated, the score wound up in a 14-14 tie. After holding the Porcupines short of a first down at the Hawk five yard line and taking possession with only 54 seconds remaining in the game with a 14-6 lead, the Porkys covered a fumble, scored both a touchdown and two-point conversion, and left Hawk Stadium feeling they had won the game. After the final gun, fans in the stands were asking each other, "Why didn't we run out the clock?" "I blew it," stated Head Coach David Baugh Monday. "I'm not making any excuses. If I had it to do over again, we'd sit on it (the ball)." Baugh said he didn't believe, at the time, his team could run out the clock by the quarterback taking the snap from center and touching his knee, because Springtown still had two times out to stop the clock. "I wanted to run one play to get our backs away from the goal line," he said. He called the play, and Danny Forman carried the ball all the way to the 17. But Iowa Park was called for clipping, and the play was nullified. Still wanting to get away from the end zone, Forman was again handed the ball. He carried six yards this time, but for the first time in his last 103 carries, he fumbled when tackled. Springtown quickly took advantage of the possession. From the Hawk 13 yard line, with 40 seconds left on the clock, the threw once for the touchdown and then the quarterback rolled around right end for the two-point conversion. The other Porky touchdown happened about as quickly. After Iowa Park had scored with 7:40 remaining in the game to take a 14-0 lead, the Porkys covered 92 yards on a 27-yard run and 65-yard pass, but failed on a trick extra point attempt and trailed 14-6. The first quarter was almost a joke, as far as Iowa Park was concerned. Springtown not only lost the ball attempting to run back the opening kickoff, but fumbled three more times during the period. In fact, the nine possessions of the ball through the first 36 minutes of the game ended with the Porkys turning over the ball four times on punts, fumbling four times and having a pass intercepted. Penalties proved more effective in stopping the Hawks than Springtown's defense. Game officials walked off 133 yards on 12 calls, and several of those, like the clipping penalty on Forman's carry late in the game, proved disastrous and gave the visitors new life. Nine of those penalties were major: five for clipping, two ruffing the passer, and one each for pass interference and holding. The only defensive play that the Porkys made to hurt the Mean Green offense was blocking a punt attempt by Scott Weaver late in the game.

Forman, who wound up with 160 yards rushing on 24 carries, scored the first Hawk touchdown on a four-yard plunge over left tackle with 5:06 remaining in the first period. Eric Whitman raced 64 yards for the other Hawk TD, and Robert Adams kicked both extra points. Iowa Park missed on three field goal attempts, as the ball narrowly missed the uprights on each try. Adams missed a 40-yard attempt when the Hawks stalled on their first possession. Toby Brown tried the other two times, using his soccer-style kick. The first time was a 36-yard attempt late in the first quarter and the other, a 40-yard try, was in the third period. Defensive end Jim Cummings covered two of the Porky fumbles, David Meissner and Chad Fielding the other two. Jeff Huff was credited with the pass interception. Whitman's 64-yard run helped him record 75 total yards on five carries for the evening. Weaver gained 45 on 12 attempts, Scott Davis 16 on seven and Joel Galloway 13 on two.

Wichita County Young Farmers will sponsor a meal immediately before the election and will hold their regular meeting after the election.

Current directors are Bill Brockriede of Burk Burnett (zone 1) and Barry Mahler of Iowa Park (zone 2).

Zone 1 is bounded by the Wilbarger County Line on the west, Red River on the north, U.S. 287 on the south, and Buffalo Lake Reservoir and F.M. 2345 on the east. Zone 2 western boundary is the same as the eastern boundary of zone 1. It is bounded by the Red River on the north, U.S. 287 on the south, and F.M. 369 on the east.

To be eligible to serve as a director, a person must be an eligible voter who owns land within the numbered subdivision from which the person is appointed or elected and must be actively engaged in the business of farming or animal husbandry.

A person is eligible to vote in an election if he or she holds title to farmland or ranchland lying within the Wichita Soil and Water Conservation District, is 18 years of age or older, and is a resident of Wichita County.

If a family farm corporation owns farmland or ranchland in the Wichita Soil and Water Conservation District, the corporation is entitled to one vote in each election under the chapter that would affect the land owned by the corporation. The corporation shall designate one corporate officer to vote for the corporation in the election.

Soil and Water Conservation District Directors serve a term of four years. The term of office of a director begins the day after he is elected provided he qualified. State law requires that a Soil and Water Conservation District Director take an oath of office before he is officially to serve as a director.

Midget Hawks 56 Quanah 0

The Midget Hawks extended their winning streak to 3-0 by handing Quanah a 56-0 thrashing.

Chad Thompson got the scoring started with an early 10-yard sweep, and Patric Kennedy followed with the first of his four two-point conversions.

Following a successful inside kick, Scott McNeely quickly made the score 16-0 on a 28-yard sprint.

T.J. Bean added the next score as he ripped the ball from the visitors' punter and rambled 35 yards to the end zone.

Ralph Dillard added another six points on a 24-yard dash to end the night for the offensive regulars, early in the third quarter.

Other touchdowns were by Scott Byrd, Biran Kinnett and Jeremy Kingcade.

Kennedy was the leading receiver (one for 17) and ground-gainer, with 121 yards on 11 carries. Dillard ran five times for 64 yards, Jason Miller went four times for 21 and Thompson gained 17 yards on three tries.

Sheppard will be the next opponent, Saturday night.

Midget Eagles 42 Seymour 0

The Holliday Midget Eagles surprised the Panthers of Seymour with a balanced offensive attack that resulted in 363 yards and six touchdowns.

Jason Menasco opened the scoring early in the first quarter with a one-yard quarterback sneak on the Eagles' first possession. The PAT failed.

Menasco scored again early in the second period on a six-yard run. Blake Belcher scored next on runs of 11 and 10 yards, respectively.

Bubba Turner caught a PAT pass and Cory McClendon also added a two-point conversion to give the Eagles a 28-0 halftime score.

After a scoreless third quarter, Johnny Stewart hauled in a touchdown pass from Josh Bobbitt and Menasco pushed over for the PAT. The final score was a 55-yard run by Rob McIlhane, sealing the Eagles' third victory of the year, and keeping the club in a first-place tie with Iowa Park.

Holliday's offense was paced by the running of McIlhane, who carried nine times and gained 141 yards. Menasco picked up 64 yards on 10 carries; Belcher 54 on seven and McClendon five for 39.

The Eagles completed seven of 17 pass attempts for 69 more yards.

Holliday visits Electra next. The Tigers are 2-1 and are considered the most improved team in the league, having lost all six of their games last year.

Peewee Hawks 20 Quanah 6

The Peewee Hawks improved their record to 3-0 with a 20-6 win over the Quanah Braves.

The Hawks' stingy defense continued this week along with their strong running game behind Clint Witherspoon and Robert Klinkerman.

The Hawks' scores came on runs by Witherspoon of three yards, Klinkerman's 30 yards and a two-yarder by Cory Thompson.

Other than a 79-yard TD run by Quanah's J.R. Combs, the Braves were held to a minus 31 yards total offense.

The defense was led by Phillip House, Chad Simpson, Rusty Downs, Jeff Taylor, Brian Spruiell, Josh Castles, Casey Moser and Jason Young.

Witherspoon continued his 100-yard streak with 105 on 18 carries. Klinkerman carried six times for 61 yards and Mickey Mayor three times for 10.

Hawk cheerleaders this year are Brandy Catlin, Lori Kasparik, Christy Berry, Melody Williams, Liza Castles and Sarah Kennedy, with Terri Goin as mascot.

CARLAN FLATT AND BECKY WOODS

March date selected

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry D. Woods are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Becky, and Carlan J. Flatt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Flat. The wedding is planned for March 28, 1987, at the First Assembly of God Church.

The future bride was graduated from Iowa Park High School where she was in cosmetology and a member of the VICA Club. She works at Pro-Cuts in Wichita Falls. Her fiancé was also graduated from Iowa Park High School and attends Vernon Regional Junior College.

CARD OF THANKS

The Iowa Park High School Council wishes to express its sincere thanks to all those individuals, classes and organizations who helped make this year's Homecoming activities a success.

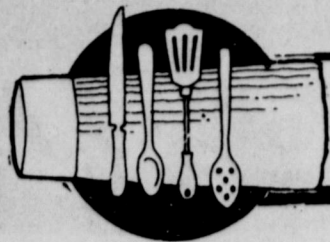

We appreciate, especially those who cooperated by participating in the homecoming parade. There was a minimum of confusion and a maximum of community support.

Thank you again.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank everyone for all the prayers, flowers, food, visits and phone calls. It was deeply appreciated. God bless you all.

Cook of the Week

Patricia (Mrs. Claburne) Lindley definitely realizes the nutritive value of beef. She probably doesn't feel as strongly about its value as an eighteenth century chef did when he said that it would be difficult to live without it, but her recipes this week show that she probably has a treasure trove of recipes that call for beef.

She enhances its flavor with different spices and vegetables, chief among the latter is the onion.

The origin of the onion remains a mystery. It was being cultivated by prehistoric men when they were still in the collecting stage which preceded the pastoral and agricultural stages, where roots and bulbs were easy to gather. The onion was perhaps the easiest to gather because it gave itself away by its smell.

Wherever the onion originated from, its written history seems to begin in Mesopotamia. It was one of the most familiar vegetables of the tables in that land. The oldest known body of law, the Hammurabi, stipulates that the needy shall receive a monthly ration of bread and onions. But it was also grown in the gardens of the kings.

The Egyptians were great onion eaters, and it is a plant shown most often in Egyptian art. In Greece and Rome, the onion was the chief food for the poor. However, Apicus, who designed a cookbook for the wealthy, used onions in his sauce or accompaniment for other dishes. Columella, the first agricultural writer of the Christian era, praised the onion, and Pompeii ordered them planted in his domain.

Nearly every garden in the United States today has onions planted in it, and many people eat onion at least twice each day.

Mrs. Lindley was born in Honolulu, Hawaii. Her mother is a native of the 50th state and met Patricia's father when he was stationed there in the armed forces. They lived in Hawaii for a number of years and moved to Dallas in 1960 where Patricia was graduated from Justin F. Kimball High School. After she and Claburne, who is a native of Iowa Park, met and married they moved to Wichita Falls where she worked at First National Bank, Grisham & Sons Concrete Co. and for Dr. R.W. Ramming.

Mrs. Claburne Lindley

They are now living in the Holliday-Kamay area. He is a longtime employee of Transamerica Financial Service. They are active members of the Holliday First Baptist Church. She is a Sunday school teacher, member of the choir and social committee, and he holds several responsible positions.

They have two children, Robert, 14 years of age, and Claburne, three. Patricia's main interests are her family and church, and she also likes crafts and arts, reading and gardening.

CORNBEEF PATTIES

- 4 medium potatoes
- 1 can cornbeef
- 1 small onion
- Salt and pepper

- 4 slices bacon, chopped
- 2 stalks celery

- 4 cups diced potatoes
- 1 can whole corn
- 2 T butter
- Milk
- Salt and pepper

BEEF CHOP SUEY

- 1/2 lb. beef (round steak slightly frozen, sliced thin and flat)

Soak beef strips in soy sauce with garlic salt and pepper; set aside. In heavy skillet, quickly cook string beans, peppers, celery and onions in hot Crisco until crisp tender. Remove and set aside. Add meat to hot skillet and brown quickly. Combine water, cornstarch, sugar and salt to skillet. Cook and stir until mixture thickens and bubbles. Add celery, onions, peppers, string beans, tomato, and heat through. Serve over hot rice and add extra soy sauce, if desired. Serves 6.

- 4 slices bacon, chopped (Spam and sausage are good substitutes)

Nurse tells of free work

Mrs. Ellen Palmer of Wichita Falls, a nurse who is working with a team of doctors and nurses who volunteer their services at least one week of each year to better health care in Haiti, was guest speaker for the United Methodist Women Tuesday morning.

Although she works with an international organization, Mrs. Palmer spoke from the viewpoint of the Methodist churches in the United States who help Grace Children's Hospital in Haiti, stating that they do great work in providing for better health care and for the needy.

She stated that Haiti is about the size of the small state of Vermont and has a population of several million people, many of them in extreme poverty and without support of any kind.

Mrs. Palmer showed photographs of Grace Children's Hospital and the activities engaged in for the treatment of diseases among children. She said that the admission charge for each was 42-cents, and that it was very difficult for the patient to get that much money, so it was often paid by the volunteer doctors and nurses.

Mrs. Gerry Thurlo read the poem "God Builds No Churches, Man Does, and God Abides Within" for the devotion. Twenty-three members were present.
