CLEAN-UP WEEK

Volunteers key to project's success

This year's Clean-Up Week will possibly be the most successful since the project was begun in Iowa Park, from all indications of participation.

The week begins Sunday and continues through April 25, the following Saturday.

In fact, one group, the Girl Scouts, have already done their work, which was to clean the West side of Gordon Lake.

Service, fraternal and civic organizations of the community have been, or are being contacted, to accept responsibility of cleaning up certain areas in the community.

"We felt if we could involve more people, through their organizations, and ask them to do a small amount of work, we could get more participation than we've had in the past," commented Bob Hamilton, this year's Chamber of Commerce project chairman.

"So far, we've not had a single group to turn us down, and in fact, some through we weren't asking them to do enough," he said.

The groups are being asked to clean up their designated areas some time during the week, but are being asked to contact either the Chamber or Hamilton, in order to have trash containers placed in the areas so the filled bags could be deposited.

Placing the containers in the areas will cut down on the expense of the city's in having men follow the groups to pick up the bags.

The volunteer groups can pick up plastic bags, furnished by Cryovac, either at the Chamber or the Iowa Park Leader offices.

Groups being asked to volunteer, and the areas they've been asked to "adopt," are: Camp Fire - city park at City Hall; Friendly Door - around the building; Masons - around the lodge; Optimists - South side of West Highway from Fourth St. to Wall, and 23 Study Club - West Park from Yosemite to Colorado.

Also, Epsilon Sigma Alpha - City Park on West Highway between Glenda and Sandra; Athletic Ex-Students Association - Lake Iowa Park East of dam; Future Farmers of America - North side East Highway from Wall to Bell; Future Homemakers of America - South side East Highway from Wall to Bell, and Noon Lions, South side of West Highway from Fourth St. to Access Road.

Also, Amity Study Club - Pacific from Access Road to Aldine; Evening Lions - North side West Highway from Fourth St. to Wall; 4-H Clubs - East side Gordon Lake; Tennis Club - all three tennis courts; and Philia Study Club - Pacific from Aldine to West Highway.

Also, Rotary Club, North side West Highway from Fourth St. to Access Road, and Iowa Park Garden Club, Burnett Library grounds.

Residents and business owners are being encouraged to clean up their respective areas.

The city, as in the past, will open the sanitary landfill to residents for free dumping throughout the week, providing they dump in accordance with the supervisors directions.

The landfill entrance is near the intersection of Johnson Road and West Smith Road.

Iowa Park's Clean-Up Week also coincides with "The Great Texas Trash Off," which will be observed state-wide April 25.

Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts from here will be joining some 15,000 Texans who have volunteered to clean up approximately 2,000 miles of Texas highways on that date.

The local Scouts adopted a two-mile stretch of Old Iowa Park Road, commencing on the East city limits.

Eighteen months ago, Texans were throwing trash on Texas highways to the tune of $24-million in annual clean-up costs, according to the state highway department.

The volunteer program of adopting stretches of highways is similar to Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce's plan this year of asking organizations to adopt areas in the community to clean.

Brush and rubbish will be picked up by city workers Friday and Saturday of next week, if residents will notify city hall and let it be known if it will be stacked at the front curb or by the alley trash container.

Police have 'one of those weeks'

The Iowa Park Police Department had one of its more active weeks of recent months, handling cases of thefts, assaults, and numerous arrests since last week.

Answering a call to the south part of town where a domestic disturbance was underway, police took Daron Gene Allen, 40, into custody on a public intoxication charge.

After he was taken to the police station, a call for emergency medical technicians was made, to attend to minor injuries Allen apparently had sustained during the disturbance.

He was released Sunday morning after signing a promise to appear in court.

Just after midnight Tuesday, police receive a complaint from a woman on West Garden, that she had been assaulted.

Police, according to the blotter, responded to the address and arrested Benton Earl Downing, 43.

He was later taken to Wichita Falls, where an outstanding warrant on a traffic offense was outstanding.

Keith Fisher told police Thursday that someone had burglarized his home at 1307 Mary, and took approximately $300 in cash.

Two thefts at Ayres Tire were reported last week.

Betty Hillard said a radar detector was taken Thursday from a tractor trailer rig while parked at the business, and Friday, employees reported the theft of an air hose.

Two persons were arrested on outstanding warrants from other law enforcement offices.

Lynne Anne Kelly, 29, was taken into custody Wednesday evening when it was determined two warrants were against her by the Department of Public Safety. She was released after posting an $85 bond.

Micheal Scott Price was arrested Friday afternoon at 1015 Cornelia on an outstanding warrant for driving while intoxicated. The warrant was issued by Galveston County. He was released to the Wichita County Sheriff's Department.

Police arrested James Edward Addison, 33, for driving while license was suspended. He also was released to Wichita County.

A female juvenile was taken into custody at an address on Surrey late Friday night for public intoxication. She was later released to her step-father.

The Iowa Park department issued a warrant against Reggie Leroy Lacy, 46, on a charge of involuntary manslaughter.

Lacy, the driver of a vehicle in which a male passenger was fatally injured when it crashed into a barrier in front of Iowa Park High School, has not been located for serving the warrant. His name is now entered into state and national crime location computers.

Trustees need time to formulate plans

Tuesday night's meeting was not nearly long enough to make a detailed study of facility improvements and setting of priorities, school trustees decided.

After hearing reports from each of the campus principals, trustees decided to hold a called meeting May 5.

Board president Jimmy Howell said it would probably take three hours to arrive at any decisions, and then only if several items of information, such as projected costs, were available.

Problems facing the trustees include requests for additional classrooms, major repairs, and a lack of knowledge of facilities.

The lack of knowledge comes from the fact that almost half the board, 43 percent, was replaced in the recent election.

The three new trustees, Wendall House, Don Decker and Gary Fielding, were all sworn into office at the outset of the meeting. None has been on the board before.

During the reorganization of the board, Howell was returned to the head chair, John Sibley was elected vice president, and Martha Dudley was returned as secretary.

Prior to the swearing in ceremony, plaques commemorating their years of service on the board were presented to Roy Boutwell, Rex Wells and Marilyn Hale.

Young man found drowned in tub

A young Iowa Park man drown in his bath water Wednesday morning, in an apparent accident.

Kyle Grove, 20, was discovered in his bath tub shortly before 8:30 a.m. after apparently suffering an epileptic seizure, hitting his head and being knocked unconscious.

Police and medical personnel were called to his home, 1012 Louisa, where he lived with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Grove.

Trustees were approached with proposals that they consider constructing 12 additional classrooms, a recreation facility, additional storage space, relocate the vocational agriculture stock area, and, possibly the most expensive of all, completely re-roof the high school building.

No cost estimates were available on the proposals.

More classrooms were requested for Bradford Elementary and the Junior High.

Bradford principal Kenneth Davis told the board his rooms are already at capacity, and larger classes are to come from the Kidwell campus over the next three years.

Davis explained his grades have not yet come under the HB 72 mandate of 22-1 pupil-teacher ratio, but will unless changes are made during the current meeting of the legislature.

Six classrooms are needed at the junior high campus, Jimmy Alsop, principal, said.

This is because the "blue metal building" was built about 25 years as a "temporary" facility. It is being to need major repairs, but could be used for storage if the classes meeting there could be moved elsewhere.

Major leaks are causing damage to the interior of the high school building, which was completed in late 1969.

Principal Richard Davis said areas inside the building are being damaged when it rains and the flat roof allows water to flow inside.

Because all but one room at Kidwell is now used for regular classes, and another large kindergarten class is expected next fall, more space is needed at that campus, principal Ron Woods told trustees.

Even with four new classrooms built last summer, Woods said the lone room not used for classes is where students hold physical education when weather conditions are poor. That room likely will not be available for PE next year.

Several other storage areas and repair needs were pointed out as being needed.

During the discussion, the district's bonded indebtedness picture was disclosed by Supt. Glen Mitchell, who said all debts would be paid off by 1990.

He said the Valley View school

Kindergarten registration May 4-5 at Kidwell school

The annual registration and screening of Iowa Park kindergarten-age children is scheduled May 4-5 at Kidwell Elementary, according to Ron Woods, principal.

Hours for registering will be 8:30-11:30 a.m. and 12:30-3:30 p.m.

Parents who have not received an appointment time through the mail are asked by Woods to contact the school, at 592-4322. Information such as the child's name and birth date will be helpful in scheduling.

All children who will be five years of age by Sept. 1 are to be screened.

Additionally, a full year of special education is available for eligible three- and four-year-old children who have a physical or learning deficiency, such as vision, hearing, speech, mental maturity or physical handicaps.

Parents with children eligible for Early Childhood Special Education Class are asked to contact the school for a screening time.

Early registration of all first-year children is necessary for the school to plan on numbers of rooms and teachers needed for next year, Woods explained.

Philia Club members hear how to save on traveling

Margaret Humphreys of Tour World Travel Agency presented the program for the Philia Study Club meeting held Monday evening in TU Electric Reddy Room. Mrs. Herman Escue and Mrs. Glenn Phillips were hostesses. Fourteen members were present.

The speaker warned prospective travelers to beware of advertised rates that seem too good to be true, and shared reasons why a travel agency can save money for travelers.

She explained that customers do not pay travel agencies for the complicated arrangements they make.

Patriotic program planned

The Modern Music Study Club meeting last Thursday was held in the home of Mrs. Ed Hefti and Mrs. H.J. Cannon was the co-hostess.

During the business, plans were made for the patriotic program which will be held July 2 in the pavilion at the city park. The school children who sign up at the Tom Burnett Memorial Library will be involved.

Gratitude was expressed to the high school choir and to Darrell Dick, director, for the impressive sacred music concert presented in March at First Baptist Church.

Club members sang "All People That On Earth Do Dwell," the hymn of the month. Mrs. David Jones provided piano accompaniment.

Mrs. James Sewell presented piano selections and played the accompaniment for choral singing. The meeting was closed with club members singing "Texas Our Texas" accompanied by Mrs. Michael Sargent.

Refreshments featured Easter bunnies and chick cookies served with tea and coffee.

The next meeting will be held at Tom Burnett Memorial Library and two outstanding seniors will receive the annual musical achievement awards from the club.

She said that travel agencies have computers that are linked to all major airlines and can check rates and times available, and that they always try to save customers money. "Travel agencies earn their wages from the airline companies," she said.

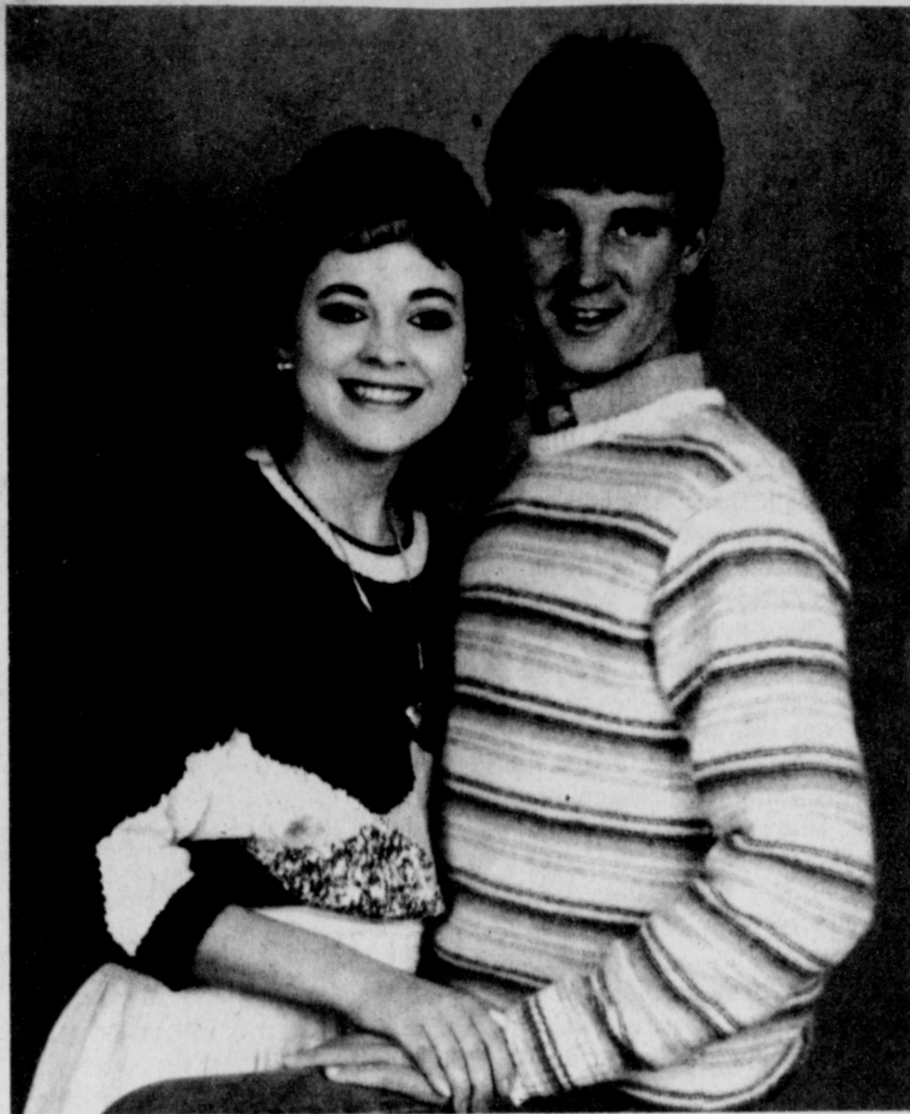

Mrs. Humphreys stated that although prices for all-inclusive tour packages are more expensive to purchase, the package deal usually saves money when the final totals are compared. Inclusive packages usually include travel transfers, hotels, meals, activities, cocktails, tips and sometimes cigarettes.

According to the speaker, the package can save up to $200 per person, and the most recommended packages are made available through Jack Tar Villages.

To conclude the program, Mrs. Humphreys briefly detailed other popular travel vacations including cruises, continental travel, and U.S. fun spots. She left members with colorful brochures and an invitation to call Tour World Travel Agency whenever planning a trip.

Mrs. Phillips provided the meditation from the poems, "The Test of Man" and "Don't Quit."

Mrs. David Springer presided during the business and announced that Philia Club had one first place award on the president's report and arts and crafts at the Santa Rose District spring convention.

Cook of the Week

Someone has said "The discovery of a new dish does more for the happiness of mankind than a new star." No doubt, scientists who have their telescopes ready to record data on any new star that appears in the sky will disagree with the above statement, but people who have the responsibility of preparing meals find new recipes a boon in the truest sense.

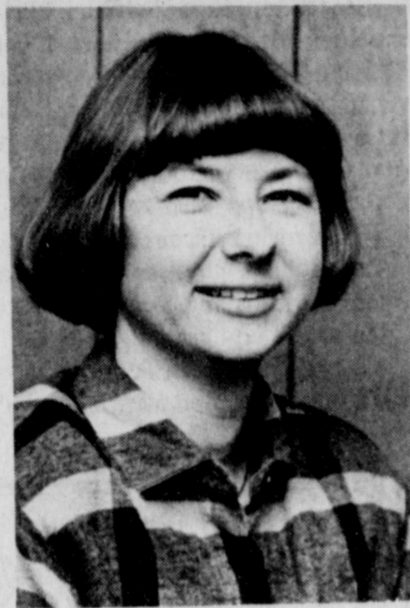

Chances are that the recipes of Glenna (Mrs. Kenneth) Via this week will be a boon to many cooks. Some of them will perhaps be new; others old ones with a new twist that gives promise of adding new flair and excitement to meals. Her "Yam 'N Cranberry Casserole" is one that sounds especially appealing.

The yam and sweet potato are very often confused because they look and taste alike, but they are not the same because they are from different families and botanically far apart.

It seems that the birthplace of the yam was West Africa. This is one region of the world where it is found wild and abundant, and in many sections the staple food. It is also found in Asia which includes India. An early reference to the yam on that continent was a reference to roast kid and yam sauce in a Chinese poem called "The Summons of the Soul." Yams have been described by one food authority as the best known edible root plants in the modern civilized world.

Mrs. Via, the former Glenna Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Miller, was graduated from Iowa Park High School and received a BSE degree from Midwestern State Univ. She was a member of the Wichita Falls School faculty 11 years, teaching at the Travis and Fannin Elementary Schools. She is presently the owner of Glenna Via Insurance Co. and is in charge of the property and casualty insurance.

She is an accomplished musician, having studied under Dr. Nita Akin and at MSU. She is organist of First Baptist Church where she and Kenneth, who owns Parkway True Value and Furniture, are active members. As a musician of note she has many demands on her time and her business keeps her busy, so she does not have much time for hobbies but she likes stained glass art when she has time for it.

YAM 'N CRANBERRY CASSEROLE

- 1 can (40 ounces) Princella Yams, drained
  - 1 pkg. (12 ounces) fresh whole cranberries, (3 cups)
  - 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 cups sugar
  - 1 small orange, sliced
  - 1/2 cup pecan halves
  - 1/4 cup orange juice or brandy
  - 1/4 tsp. ground cinnamon
  - 1/4 tsp. ground nutmeg
  - 1/8 tsp. mace
- Combine cranberries, sugar, orange slices, pecan halves, orange juice and spices in 2-quart casserole. Bake uncovered at 375 degrees 30 minutes. Stir yams into cranberry mixture; bake until hot through, about 15 minutes. Makes 8 servings.

BAKED SOLE WITH SHRIMP SAUCE

- 2 pkgs. frozen sole fillets (or flounder)
  - 1 can cream of shrimp soup, undiluted
  - Ground peppercorns
  - Parsley, chopped
- Heat oven to 325 degrees. Thaw fillets, pat dry with paper towels. Separate and place in an oiled flat baking dish. Pour soup over fillets. Bake until fish is tender when pricked with fork, about 25 minutes. Just before serving, add pepper to taste and parsley. Serves 4 to 6.

BRISKET

Soak trimmed brisket in Claude's Brisket sauce at least 3 hours. Cook 5-6 hours at 250 degrees in foil-covered pan.

LAYERED NACHO SALAD

- 1 16 oz. can refried beans, mix with
  - 1 pkg. taco seasoning
  - 1-6 oz. avocado dip
  - 1-8 oz. sour cream
  - 2 large tomatoes
  - 1 small onion
  - 1-6 oz. can chopped ripe olives
  - 1-4 oz. can green chilies
  - 6 oz. Monterrey Jack cheese, shredded
- Layer the ingredients in 12X8X2 dish.

EASY PEACH FRIED PIES

- 3/4 cup sugar
- 3 tablespoons cornstarch
- 3/4 cup water
- 3 peaches, peeled and diced
- 1/4 tsp. almond extract
- 1 (10 ounce) can flaky refrigerator biscuits
- Vegetable oil

Combine sugar, cornstarch and water in small saucepan, mix well. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until smooth and thickened. Remove from heat, stir in peaches and almond extract. Set mixture aside.

Roll each biscuit out on a lightly floured surface to 1/8 inch thickness. Spoon about 1/4 cup peach mixture on half of each dough circle. To seal pies, moisten edges of circles and fold in half, making sure edges are even. Using a fork dipped in flour, firmly press dough edges together.

Cook pies in 1-inch deep hot oil (360) until golden, turning once. Drain pies on paper towels, and serve warm. Yield: 10 pies.

Base to host retirees

Sheppard AFB will host "Retiree Appreciation Day" Saturday. All military retirees and their spouses are invited to attend this specially planned event.

The program will begin at 9 a.m. in the Sheppard Officer's Club. Coffee and donuts will be served prior to the opening ceremonies. Major Gen. David W. Forgan, Technical Training Center Commander, will present the welcoming address.

Retirees and their spouses have a first-hand opportunity to greet the commander in person. There will be a mission briefing followed by presentations by key speakers who will provide current information in their area of expertise. These area include the hospital, legal, personal affairs and the Texas Veteran's Commission.

Immediately following the briefing, there will be a social period and a buffet luncheon at the Officer's Club for $5.50 per person. The guest speaker will be Colonel (Ret) John A. Allen, U.S. Air Force Retiree Council Representative for the Sheppard area.

During the afternoon, the CBPO Customer Service Unit and the Security Police Pass and Registration Section will provide identification cards and vehicle registration services for each retiree's convenience. The Commissary and the Base Exchange will feature "Retiree specials."

Sheppard Air Force Base wants to make this day a memorable occasion for all military retirees. For planning purposes, it is necessary to know the number of retirees and spouses who will attend this special event.

To make reservations, call the Retiree Activities Office, 851-4257/4358, during the hours of 1000-1400, by Friday.

As I See It...

By BOB HAMILTON

If you've been wondering why we had all this cold weather a couple of days ago, you either haven't read this column over the years, or just forgot about it.

Only once or maybe twice in the past 30 years can I remember a cold front not blowing in 10 days before or following Easter.

It's just one of those funny quirks of nature, I guess.

Did you read or hear the comment of the big area union leader after it was announced Safeway was selling and/or closing all its stores in this part of the country?

"We'll demand that they hire our people," he said of all new owners.

You can tell that sucker never paid anyone's salary before.

Can you imagine what that group of Germans that owns Furr's, the ones who put in that big new store in Wichita Falls and bought the three Safeway stores to boot, would reply?

The problem with unions, and more especially those in higher offices, is that they forget which is the owner.

I don't guess I'll ever understand the thinking of union people. But I'll tell you one thing for sure: I'll sure not lose any sleep over it.

No challenge has been issued, but I hope Iowa Parkans will do their share in cleaning up our community, and keep it prettier than Burkburnett.

Our neighbors to the northeast are looking to get a lot of publicity out of their clean up campaign that is underway.

I'm not necessarily looking for the publicity for the town. All I want to do is stay a step or two ahead of Burkburnett.

We're already there, any way you look at it. I just want to keep it that way!

Trustees

bonds would be paid off next year, the high school bond in 1988, and the junior high bonds in 1990.

With only $325,000 in bonds remaining to be paid, Mitchell told the board "This district is in better financial shape than any district I know of in this area."

Members agreed with Mitchell that they are interested in hearing a proposal from a Wichita Falls firm that has a program for cutting down on energy costs.

The program reportedly cut costs for Wichita Falls schools from an average of $95.01 per pupil to $63.63, and Iowa Park's cost currently averages $94.31.

The savings would soon pay for the cost of the service, Mitchell said.

Trustees approved purchase of a computer program to be used for figuring budgets.

The program, which was not in the previously-approved computer package, would cost $2,200.

Following a 17-minute executive session, the board approved hiring all auxiliary employees another year, and also approved adding 13 more teachers to the Career Ladder Level Two.

The 13, which brings the district's total to a current 55 on Level Two, include Darlene Barrington, George Brandt, Diana Collins, Darrell Dick, Kellie Gibson, Kaleta Hutson, Karen Lamberth, Barry Lucy, Ann Norris, Eldon Patterson, Earnie Reusch, Ray Sefcik and Jan Yeager.

Two resignations were accepted from teachers at Kidwell. They were submitted, effective the end of the current year, by Darlene Barrington and Kathryn Nordman.

Churches seek city help

The city council will be asked to abandon areas of right of way on two streets near the Faith Baptist Church, when aldermen meet at 7 p.m. Monday in council chambers.

Ordinances will be considered, according to the meeting's agenda, to abandon 12.5-feet of right of way on the north side of the 100 block of East Lafayette, and also 7.5-feet on the south side of the 100 block of East Ruby.

A third ordinance to be considered Monday also concerns church property. The council is being asked to approve the replating of land at the Lakeview Church of God.

Herman Rains has requested to make a personal appearance, seeking water service outside the city limits, for commercial use.

The council will consider two requests to make purchases. Administrator James Barrington will ask authorization to purchase a tractor with mower, and a hand-held meter reading system.

A request for authorizing travel expenses to a "Newly-Elected City Officials Workshop" will be submitted, and council members will consider accepting the concrete work recently completed around city hall and to make final payment on the work.

Aldermen will discuss dates and place to hold their annual retreat, where a goal-setting workshop will be held.

An executive session is also on the agenda on a topic which has been on the two previous meeting schedules: "Exchange or value of real property." Action as result of the session is also on the agenda.

Worth Quoting

Just as the fruit trees thought they were safe from winter snows, the nation's taxpayers thought they were safe from changes in the tax law. After the extensive changes that were made in the income tax law last year, the general idea was that the Congress was through tinkering with the tax code.

In the President's budget there was no call for new taxes. The populace is not clamoring for a higher tax bill but, Jim Wright and his fellow Democratic Congressmen feel that we need to pay more in taxes.

The Democratic budget that was presented to Congress this week uses the old Democratic philosophy of tax increases to finance more government spending. At the same time the Democrats tell us that the tax increases are necessary to reduce the national debt and meet the targets of the Gramm-Rudman bill.

What about reducing spending? The Democratic leadership stated that they have made all the cuts in the budget that they feel the country can stand and that any further reductions in spending would hurt the programs financed.

To anyone, but a Washington bureaucrat, that statement would mean that there will be less spending by government under the Democratic budget. Wrong. The actual amount of money spent by Washington would increase about six percent over the amount spent last year.

Wright is talking about cutting the rate of increase in spending. The fact is that if government spent exactly as much money this year as last, there would be no problem of reaching the Gramm-Rudman target of a $104-billion deficit.

I know of very few families in Ochiltree county that have the problem of how they are going to spend their pay raise. Most families are trying to figure out how to make ends meet on a reduced pay check. Our national government should do the same.

Instead the Democratic leadership of the House of Representatives want to increase taxes to finance their spending schemes. One of the first places they plan to tap your pocket book is at the gas pump. Wright's budget calls for an increase of 10-cents per gallon in the gasoline tax.

A gallon of gas will soon cost more for taxes than you get in fuel. The state has already increased its tax by a nickel a gallon and is eyeing further increases.

Putting more taxes on people trying to make a living is not the answer to the deficit problem. The answer is to reduce the amount of spending by the federal government.

Maybe the Congressional pay raise has made our representatives think they can afford more taxes but, their constituents cannot.

The Wichita Regular Field gained a producer when J.C. Wells completed the No. 7W Ella Schulz one mile south of Clara.

The well indicated ability to pump 16 barrels of oil per day, plus 50 barrels of water. It bottomed at 1,585 feet, and production is from perforations in the Cisco Formation, 960 to 1,560 feet into the wellbore.

The operation is located in a 63-acre lease in the H&TB Survey, A-474, 3,250 feet from the north line and 150 feet from the east line of the lease.

FHA history is recalled

Joe Gilbreath, county agent for Farmers Home Administration, spoke to the Evening Lions Tuesday.

He said that the program was set up 50 years ago to aid rural families in purchasing land, building houses and later providing for water. He said that the program was still designed to help rural families but now it could make a loan for a house in town of less than 10,000 population.

He told members that FHA loaned $44-billion nationwide last year.

New officers of the club have been elected to include: Sam Hunter, president; Jim Sligar, Dave Davis, Joe Kennedy, vice presidents; Herb Adcock, secretary; Don Beavers, treasurer; Gordon Griffith, tail twister; Riley Thompson, Lion tamer; Jerry Pruett and Lee Holt, directors; Delbert Todd and Virgil Woodfin, holdover directors.

Ronnie Hatcher was voted in as a new member and Don Jagger was a visitor at the meeting.

Wichita County Commissioners' Notebook

By LYDIA TORRES

The 9-1-1 telephone emergency number, which was overwhelmingly approved by Wichita County voters in November, will soon be available to county residents.

Monday, Wichita County commissioners voted to further support the 9-1-1 emergency assistance program by approving a $10,000 interest-free loan to the 9-1-1 Communication District. The loan will be for a 120-day period.

Wichita County is maintaining its aggressive approach to crime prevention. Commissioners approved a request from Sheriff Tom Callahan to send Deputy Artie Woods to a seminar in Corpus Christi, April 21-23.

The seminar will consist of two courses dealing with Latch Key/Child Care and Neighborhood Watch. The only cost to the county will be for travel; remaining expenses will be paid from the Rural Crime Prevention Grant.

After June 1, hiring requirements for Wichita County will be more strict. In accordance with the 1986 Immigration and Reform Act, commissioners passed an order wherein future county employees will be required to produce proof of eligibility to work in the United States.

Burkburnett residents received county-wide recognition Monday when commissioners proclaimed April 25 as "Beautification Day" in Burkburnett.

The proclamation is in recognition of Burkburnett's support of the "Keep Texas Beautiful" campaign and the efforts of local schools, churches, businesses and other organizations in making the clean-up project a success.

Commissioners voted to table action on the Individual Development Center's request to lease county property, and bids for a wheel loader for Precinct Two. The items will be taken up at the April 27 court meeting, which will be held at the courthouse in Commissioners Courtroom at 10 a.m.

Happy Birthday

There's this guy we'll call Mr. D. - Everyone knows him as well as me. But there's a story about this guy - Who hates to age and I don't know why. He's changed his birthdate from Spring to Fall - Claimed there was a mix up at the Town hall. Now to me that sounds a little bit strange - Who else would think of such a change? If there's a question of who's this about Drive down Louisa & you'll see him out. Everyone who knows him should give him a call - Let him know that this tale is the biggest of all. It's not so bad to be fifty-four - I'm sure he will live to see many more.

Top students tour Los Alamos facility

Iowa Park High School chemistry and physics honor students took a co-curricular field trip to Los Alamos Student Science Days at the Los Alamos National Laboratory in New Mexico recently where they received first-hand knowledge on their field of study.

The student science day is participated in by invitation only and is geared for students that are "the cream of the crop" in chemistry and physics, according to Diana Collins, physics teacher at IPHS.

Students who attended were Robert Adams, Eddie Collins, Scott Davis, Linda Gibbons, Missy Logan, Art Morris, Kim Nicholson, Sarah Owens, Jana Thompson and Sean Robinson, all seniors. Miss Collins, Tim Kaspar, biology teacher, and Don Owens, chaperone, accompanied the students.

The fast-paced one-day tour took the students through the Los Alamos Mason Physics Facility where the Electron Accelerator (Atom Smasher) is located, as well as to the Bradbury Science Museum, the public relations center for the laboratory.

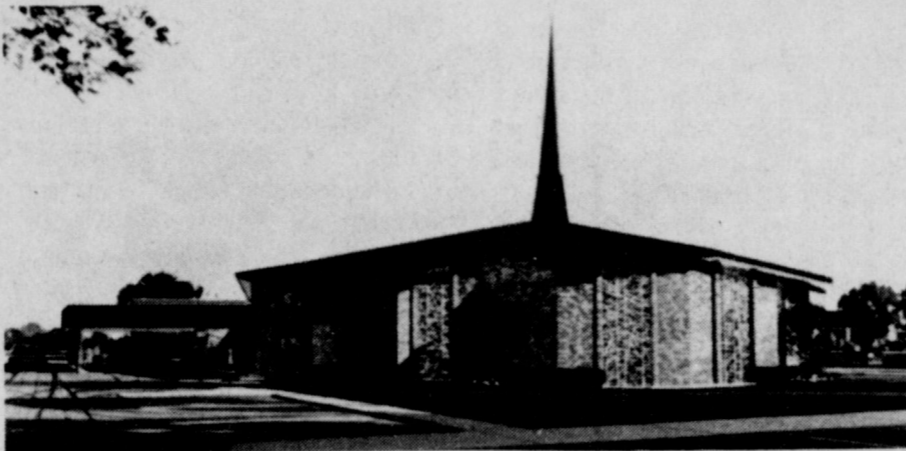

They also toured the Omega West Nuclear Reactor, its main purpose to produce neutrons. During this phase, participants learned about the nuclear accidents at Chernoble and Three-Mile Island, and how they could have been avoided.

The finale of the tour was when students heard speakers who are the top in their fields.

They included a nuclear physicist who studies tests at underground bomb sights to determine the radioactive level; an atmospheric chemist who experiments on the movement of the atmosphere at Antarctica; and a nuclear geochemist who studies the history of the earth and its rare elements.

Miss Collins and Kaspar explained that although Los Alamos National Laboratory does maintain a weapons contract for the Federal Government and is involved in the "Star Wars" program, the laboratory is run by the Univ. of California and not the government. They said its main purpose is to maintain the free world.

FAMILY HEALTH NOTES DIABETES

How does a person with diabetes, or for that matter any illness of long duration such as chronic kidney or heart disease, learn to cope and live with the problem? At least part of the answer is in being as well-informed on the condition as possible and to learn about the causes, treatments, and day-to-day habits that are required for good control. Most comprehensive diabetes education programs require anywhere from twelve to eighteen hours of continuous education. In this article we will talk about what diabetes is and begin to describe the various types of diabetes. What one does for himself, how rigid treatment must be, how often one needs to see the doctor—all depend on the type of diabetes.

For all practical purposes diabetes is a problem with the body's ability to handle sugar. It is also a problem of not having enough insulin, all the way from too little insulin to no insulin at all. Recently, however, we have found out that in the vast majority of diabetes the problem is not with the lack of insulin but that the normal to above normal amounts of insulin in the bloodstream are just not working properly due to a problem at the cell level with receptor sites.

The function of insulin is to allow sugar in the bloodstream to penetrate the cells, where the sugar provides energy for the various activities of the cells e.g. a heart cell, a kidney cell, a brain cell, etc. Insulin acts like a "key" which unlocks the locks (receptors) on the surface of cells and thereby opens the cell and allows sugar to enter. This is similar to a car working--the car (cell) has to receive gasoline (sugar) before it will operate.

There are two major types of diabetes based on what we know: Types I and II. There are other types, such as those associated only with pregnancy, pancreatitis, or other basic hormone problems. However, in the two major types, the causes are not known. Type I diabetes used to be called juvenile, brittle, or ketosis-prone diabetes. It is presently called insulin-dependent diabetes mellitus (IDDM). Ten to fifteen percent of older people with diabetes have this very difficult type. Their bodies have no insulin, and without insulin they will die. Most of these individuals develop diabetes before the age of 30-35, are underweight, and usually start out with the typical symptoms and signs of diabetes -- increased thirst, increased food intake combined with weight loss, and increased urination. They are very prone to developing ketoacidosis which can lead to coma if insulin is not begun. Although this type of diabetes does not seem to run in families, it does seem to be associated with the presence of certain genes in the chromosomes that are affected by certain environmental incidents, such as virus and chemical irritants.

Type II diabetes mellitus or non-insulin dependent diabetes mellitus (NIDDM) constitutes the large majority of individuals with diabetes, about 80-85%. In these cases there is plenty of insulin -- in some instances too much--but the insulin is ineffective because there are not enough receptors on the cells to allow sugar to get in, so sugar accumulates in the bloodstream to cause the typical signs of diabetes -- increased thirst, urination and hunger. But unlike Type I individuals, it rarely leads to ketoacidosis or coma. Also, these individuals are usually overweight. This type of diabetes usually develops in people over the age of thirty, seems to run in families, and most cases can be controlled or treated quite well with special diet and loss of weight, requiring no medication.

In other types of diabetes, which represent a very small portion of diabetics, a specific cause can be determined. For example, pancreatitis caused by excessive alcohol intake or from obstruction of the tubes in the pancreas can cause diabetes. Pregnancy can be associated with diabetes, but in this type the diabetes goes away at the end of the pregnancy. However, some of the "diabetic prone" individuals will develop full-blown diabetes later in life and therefore have to be watched closely for this after pregnancy.

Diabetes is a disease which can be controlled, but unfortunately cannot be cured.

Fall Prevention

Elderly people are prone to falling at home, due to a variety of causes -- deteriorating vision, or balance problems are prime ones. Here are some tips on how to reduce the risks for household falls (originally published in Drug Therapy magazine).

- * Clean up spills on the floor immediately.
- * Never place anything on the stairs or at the head or foot of a stairway.
- * Keep stairways well-lit, with switches at either end.
- * Place non-skid threads on steps and install handrails on both sides of stairs.
- * Use sturdy step-stools or ladders to reach high shelves. Never climb on a chair, carton or stack of books.
- * Install tacked-down, or non-skid carpeting on slippery floors.
- * Install safety railings and support handles in bathroom (tub or toilet).
- * Don't let electrical cords hang loose; tack or tape them to the wall or edge of floor.

Thinclads how readiness for 6-AAA title contest

Both the Hawk and Lady Hawk track teams gave strong indications Saturday that they are ready for this weekend's Dist. 6-AAA meet.

The two teams finished in second place against strong competition in the Panther Relays, which were held at Holliday.

The Lady Hawks were edged by Olney for the girls' division trophy, 95 1/2 to 90. And Childress, for the second week, outpointed the Hawks 120-100 for that division's crown.

Impressive as the team points may be, the fact that three school standards were broken is even more impressive.

Scott Weaver, who had his most outstanding meet of his career, shattered Mike Brockman's 1963 long jump record of 22-10 with a leap of 23-7 1/4, one of the best in the state this year for a high school athlete.

David Meissner broke the record of Gary Williams in the 300-meter intermediate hurdles, 39.6 seconds set in 1970. While his winning time was a slower 40.02, he was clocked at 39.5 in the preliminaries.

And Lori Allen broke her own school record of 119-8 in the discus with a winning toss of 119-8 1/2.

Weaver had a day the likes of which no Hawk fan has seen since the days of Bobby Gilbreath.

The senior Hawk not only won the long jump with that record leap, but won the 100-meter dash (11.53), 110-meter high hurdles (15.53), and first in the high jump (6-2).

Weaver's only disappointment was a second place in the 200-meter dash, where he was edged out by Seymour's Mark Peters, 23.40-23.74.

Coach Barry Lucy, besides pointing out that both the high hurdles and 100-meters were run into a 20-mile per hour wind, said Peters got a leaning start in his win over Weaver.

"Everybody besides Peters slowed to almost a start after five yards, thinking the race would be called back," he said. That was the edge the Panther sprinter needed to win.

Brett Hale won the 3200-meter run in 10:47.16, indicating he is recovering from his stress fracture, and Brad Huff was third in the 1600 meters, 5:05.01, adding depth in the Hawk distance events.

Danny Forman placed third in the intermediate hurdles (41.80) and Meissner was fourth in the high hurdles (15.95), giving the Hawks a total of 30 points in the hurdle races.

More points came off the arm of Dennis Phillips, who was third in both the shot put, 43-11 3/4, and discus, 128-5.

Additional points came from both relays, where Iowa Park placed sixth: 46.47 in the 400-meter, and 3:43.12 in the 1600-meter.

Other Lady Hawk points were: Meisel, second in the 3200-meter run, 13:39.87; Turner, third in the 100-meter dash, 13.78; and the sprint relay team, which won first in 51.45.

DISTRICT MEET

The Dist. 6-AAA championship meet for boys' and girls' varsities and junior varsities will be held Saturday at Bridgeport.

Varsity boys' and girls' field events beginning at 9 a.m. will be: boys' pole vault; boys' discus; boys' long jump; girls' triple jump, shot put and high jump.

Also at 9 will be the JV preliminaries in: girls' hurdles; both boys' hurdle events; and both boys' and girls' 100-meters, 400-meters and 200-meters.

Junior varsity 3200-meter run for both boys and girls will be held at 9 a.m., and there will be no preliminaries in the event.

Varsity boys' high jump and shot put, as well as varsity girls' long jump and discus are to begin at 10 a.m.

Varsity girls' and boys' 3200-meter run will be held at 11 a.m.

Preliminaries for varsity events beginning at 11 will be: both boys' hurdles; girls' hurdles; and boys' and girls' 100-meter, 200-meter and 400-meter dashes.

The order of finals, to begin at 2:30 p.m., for JV girls, varsity girls, JV boys and varsity boys, will be: 400-meter relay; 800-meter run; 100-meter hurdles; 110-meter hurdles; 100-meter dash; 800-meter relay; 400-meter dash; 300-meter hurdles; 200-meter dash; 1600-meter run, and 1600-meter relay.

Individuals and relay teams finishing first and second will advance to the regional meet at Odessa.

Dist. 6-AAA tennis champs The boys did it, also

As did their female counterparts the previous week, Iowa Park High boy's tennis team Saturday captured the Dist. 6-AAA championship.

Competing at Bowie, the boys accumulated 40 points, while Breckenridge finished second with 20. It was a repeat of last year for the boys.

So dominating were the Iowa Parkans, their two doubles teams met in the finals, with Bill Chandler and Mark Molsbee beating Matt Gerstner and Jeff Bartow for the title.

Additional points came from Darryl Franklin placing second in the singles and Casey Rains third.

The two doubles teams and Franklin will join Jenny Bowerman, Peni Lee and Elaine Elder at the regional tournament April 29-30 at Odessa, as Iowa Park qualified eight of 12 possible players to advance from the district.

The boys' junior varsity also won that division, with Greg Huff and Daryl Downes winning the doubles, Jason Orender and Mike Brillhart second, and Chris Blalack winning the singles.

And things don't look any different for 1988, because Coach Dick Wineinger points out Molsbee is the only player on his entire team who will be lost by graduation this spring.

Junior High teams place high in district meet

Though none of the Iowa Park Junior High track teams won a first place in the Dist. 6-AAA meet held Saturday in Bridgeport, all placed well among the leaders.

Both Eighth Grade teams were second, the Seventh Grade boys were third and the Seventh Grade girls finished fifth.

Jacksboro won the Eighth Grade girls' division with 138 points, and Iowa Park had 107 1/2 points, edging Decatur with 105 1/3.

The Eighth Grade boys finished in a tie with Breckenridge for second place, with 90 points. Bowie won it with 114 and Breckenridge had 80.

Points lost in the 400-meter relay of the Seventh Grade boys' division, when Iowa Park was disqualified, knocked the locals out of second place.

Iowa Park wound up with 95 1/2 points. The relay team finished in second place, which would have been 16 more points, enough to have overcome Decatur's 109.

Breckenridge won the division with 123 points and Bridgeport had 87.

The Seventh Grade girls wound up with 67 points, only two behind

Jacksboro's fourth-place 69.

SOME OF THE THINGS DISCUSSED HERE MIGHT SHOCK YOU.

But not if you follow these tips for working around electricity while working around the house or on the job.

- Keep ladders and trimming tools away from overhead wires.
- Call an expert if your electric meter or fuse box needs to be moved.
- Don't dig if you suspect there are underground wires—call us first.
- Make sure you're clear of all wires when installing an antenna; think about where it might land if it falls during installation.
- Make sure all tools that run on electricity are properly grounded and treat them with respect.

We don't mean to alarm you. But too many people become accident statistics simply because they forget to be cautious around electricity. And that's the shocking truth.
