TWO YEARS AGO -

Economist forecasted '90 unusual weather

The unusual weather thus far in 1990 was prophesied two years ago by a speaker in Wichita Falls.

Dr. James F. Smith, director and chief economist for the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas at Austin, was speaking on the topic of "Texas Economic Outlook" February 1988 on the campus of Midwestern State Univ.

Dr. Smith, one of several on the "North Texas: Its Place in the Economy of the Future" speakers, made the statement, "Based on past history, I would suggest that you worry about unusual weather extremes in 1990."

Besides well-above rainfall, temperatures have been unusual, with no daytime high below freezing thus far this year.

Continuing, Dr. Smith said, "We all seem to have a thing about census years. In 1950, you managed to hit 7 degrees in December and 14 degrees in November; I'm certainly glad it's not 1950 weather today. In 1970, you managed to have 54 degrees in July and 51 degrees in June. In 1980, you managed to have 117 degrees in June -- Death Valley type temperatures -- and 114 in July and cooled all the way down to 113 in August."

"Never underestimate the role of the economist on practically any subject," he commented.

He did not comment on weather during 1960.

HEAVY RAINS Wednesday morning flooded most of the streets in Iowa Park, but no homes were threatened, according to police. But, with the additional rains that fell during the day, and with more in the forecast today, residents and motorists alike have been alerted to be aware. By 8:30 a.m. Wednesday, 1.47 inches had been measured. This, added to the 1.13 that had fallen since Wednesday of last week brought the week's total to 2.60 inches. Motorists are warned to be sure of the water's depth if it crosses a roadway.

Council rescends sewer line action

In a called meeting Monday night, the city council passed a motion to rescend its action taken the previous week to install a sewer line

Permits are down

Eventhough there were no permits issued for new homes or major structures by the city during April, the month's total still reached a reputable level of $65,325.

Among the permits listed for the month were three for Ken's Pizza, which was heavily damaged by high winds that blew off part of its roof, and then was followed by heavy rains that collapsed part of the ceiling. Three permits were taken out for repairs and additions to the business.

April's permits raised the year's total to $283,490.

Permits issued during April included: Kenneth Edwards, 201 E. Jefferson, alteration, $100. E.H. Pearce, 703 N. Victoria, alteration, $6,480. T.J. Bailey, 409 S. Texowa, alteration, $3,000. Buddie Johnson, 1004 S. Park, addition, $384. Gene Tatom, 308 W. Chestnut, repair, $2,995. Victor Nieto, 107 W. Alameda, repair, $2,500. Don Jagger, 123 Wood Circle, alteration, $2,600. Floyd Dickerson, 1107 Lincoln, repair, $4,816. Linda Reed, 1315 Edgehill, addition, $15,200. Sonic, 719 W. Highway, storage shed, $400. Greg Miller, 712 W. Clara, carport, $3,800. Jimmy Holdbrook, 1100 Lincoln, work shop, $10,800. Dan Spruiell, 519 W. Clara, repair, $5,000. Ken's Pizza, 902 W. Highway, repair, $2,500. Ken's Pizza, 902 W. Highway, repair, $2,500. Ken's Pizza, 902 W. Highway, storage shed, $650. Raymond Long, 400 W. Park, alteration, $1,000. Dennis Campbell, 128 James, repair, $600.

from US 287 to Lake Iowa Park.

As was the case the previous meeting, however, the vote was not unanimous.

Alderman Bud Mercer moved the action accepting the construction bid be rescinded. It was seconded by Virgil Woodfin.

Voting for the motion were Mercer, Woodfin and Diane Robnett. Voting against it were Johnny Coker and Bud Burch.

Mercer, Coker and Burch had voted the previous week to accept a bid of $42,656.50 to install the line. Woodfin had voted against it, and Robnett was absent.

Engineer Kerry Maroney answered several questions concerning the estimated costs of extending sewer service to homes and a business inside the city and to the east of Wigley Road, as well as serving those homes on Quail Valley Road that are not inside the city.

The cost of serving five homes from Wigley Road along the access road to the entrance of Quail Valley was estimated at $48,000, and additional $31,000 to take the line on east to Park Tank.

However, because of lift pumps that would be necessary to serve the homes north of the city on Quail Valley, the total cost would be as much as $160,000, Maroney said.

Because the residents on Quail Valley who are not in the city would be asked to participate on a prorata share, each residence would cost an estimated $12,000, it was pointed out.

During a discussion of making sewer service available to all residences inside the city, Mike Price, public works director told the council there were approximately 50 homes using septic tanks because sewer service was not available to them.

The discussion later extended to recent sewer problems throughout the city following heavy rains.

Aldermen were told the treatment plant had, at peak flow during the flooding problems, handled 1.9-million gallons in one day, when the normal flow was less than 750,000. The plant, however, is designed to handle 2.5-million gallons.

Maroney suggested the city permit his firm to conduct a complete study of the city's sewer system, and reminded them that he had made the same proposal more than a year ago.

Mercer asked if it were possible that a separate line from Bradford Elementary, which was hard-hit by backflowing sewer a week earlier, would correct the school's problems.

"I think it's awfully important, more than anything else, to help the south side and mainly the school," he said.

Aldermen instructed Administrator James Barrington to have the topic of a system study on the next council meeting agenda.

Police have busy week

The past week was another very active week for Iowa Park police.

When they weren't taking reports on burglaries and thefts, or arresting men for public intoxication, they were investigating acts by juveniles.

A resident in the 100 block of Wood Circle told police Monday someone had broken into his work truck, parked in front of his home overnight, and taken three boxes with assorted tools and a grinder, all valued at more than $200.

Police were also informed Monday that someone had broken into the junior high school gymnasium and taken two stop watches and a jacket.

Four juveniles were arrested later that day and charged with the offense.

Another burglary of a vehicle report was filed Monday, but the owner was not certain the theft of a tool box from his pickup had taken place Sunday night here or in Wichita Falls.

The report, for theft over $200, was filed by a resident of the 700 block of North Wall.

Police stopped a vehicle at 10:30 p.m. Sunday near the intersection of West Highway and Foley, and arrested one man for public intoxication and another for carrying a prohibited weapon.

Alton Paul Jarrell, 19, was charged with public intoxication, and re-

Possible record vote seen here Saturday

The increased interest in Saturday's city and school elections, as indicated by the number of absentee votes cast during the past week, could possibly indicate a record local voter turnout.

City and school polls will both be located in the same buildings, at Kidwell and Bradford elementary schools. Additionally, the school will have a third poll, at the West Wichita Coop building on the old Valley View school campus.

The polls are to open at 7 a.m. and close at 7 p.m.

Primary reason for the anticipated large turnout of voters is the fact that only one of the five positions is not contested.

There are two places on the school board to be decided.

The city voters will be deciding on the mayor's position, as well as two aldermen.

Only Keith Fisher, incumbent for Place 7 on the school board, is unopposed Saturday. Fisher was appointed to fulfill the unexpired term of Gary Fielding when he resigned.

Place 6 incumbent Don Decker has drawn opposition from five other candidates, including Eddie Miller, Jimmy Duggins, Randy Catlin, Carmen Lozipone and Nan Davis.

Incumbent Mayor Tim Hunter is being contested by Wayne House.

Incumbent Alderman Bud Mercer is challenged for his Place 2 on the council by Charlie Helms.

Bud Burch opened the door for a new council member when he decided not to seek re-election to Place 4. That attracted three candidates: Ira Hambright, Mark Raby and Johnny Crawford.

Sixteen absentee votes were cast by Tuesday's deadline in the school election.

But, as of yesterday, there had been 32 votes cast by absentee in the city election, and three more that had been requested by mail were still out. Absentee voting deadline by mail must be received by Saturday.

Both city and school absentee

City, school meetings are slated next week

Both the city council and school board will hold meetings next week to canvass the results of their respective elections to be held Saturday.

The council will meet at 7 p.m. Monday in council chambers, and trustees at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the administration building.

This will be the first of four changed meeting dates for the city. Instead of the council's usual second and fourth Monday meetings, May and June meetings will be the first and third Mondays.

Following the canvassing of votes, the mayor and aldermen will be sworn into office, followed by the traditional appointment of mayor pro tem, and the designating of official depositories for city funds and authorizing of signatory authority.

A public appearance has been requested by Chris Powell, who will seek a waiver of building requirements for an oil separator in the sewer line of his new building.

A carryover from the council's meeting this week, authorizing an engineering study of the city's sewer system, is to be acted on.

Additionally, the council is expected to pass a resolution supporting a regional landfill.

School trustees, according to the meeting agenda, are to set a date when the oath of office will be administered to board members, as well as reorganizing of the board.

The agenda also calls for action to accept personnel resignations and hire new personnel.

Other principal items on the agenda are:

- * hear a report on Texas Education Assessment of Minimum Skills tests, and Comprehensive Tests of Basic Skills;

- * consider revision of the student dress code policy;

- * consider early dismissal time on May 31 and June 1.

Tolers feted on 50th wedding anniversary

One of the loveliest social functions held in the city over the weekend was a dinner and reception at the ASCS building Friday evening honoring Mr. and Mrs. Fred Toler on their 50th wedding anniversary.

Approximately 100 relatives and friends were present to offer congratulations and make the occasion a memorable one for them.

The hosts were the couple's children and their spouses, Mr. and Mrs. James (Jo Ann) Yarbrough and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry (Peggy) Robertson, their four grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Cheyenne Roberson, a great-granddaughter of the honored couple, presided at the guest book with its plume pen that was placed on a black wrought iron table, a piece of the family gift to the couple. It held a picture of Mr. and Mrs. Toler, which was taken during their early years of marriage, a bride and groom rabbit couple, and a silk floral bouquet from the First Baptist Church where they are members. The picture was in an antique frame.

Cole Yarbrough and Dakota Patterson, great-grandsons, were responsible for placing the handsome assortment of gifts the guests brought on a table framed with tall mirrors, covered with a hand-pieced wedding ring quilt, and centered with a green topiary tree. After the anniversary cake was cut and served the couple unwrapped them for display.

Mrs. Randell Yarbrough, Mrs. Russell Yarbrough, Mrs. Mark Patterson, granddaughters, assisted with arrangements for the event and duties of entertaining and serving at the reception.

Those who served the sumptuous food from white granite containers were Russell Yarbrough, Randell Yarbrough, Mark Patterson, Roddy Robertson, grandsons, Bodie Yarbrough, a great-grandson, and Wesley Todd and Shawn Chambers.

The delicate beauty of the room and table decorations was inspired by a French country theme. It was carried out to create a wonderland atmosphere and attest to the ingenuity of those who planned and arranged it.

The setting was illuminated by an abundant use of votive candles glowing in tall green topiary trees at vantage points in the room. Pink, mauve and mulberry were the irresistible colors chosen for the fresh and silk flowers on the long white-covered tables and in bouquets scattered throughout the reception area. The flowers on the tables were arranged in ceramic rabbits that spoke of the spring season, flanked by mulberry candles in crystal cups. The table decor was completed with runners of fresh foliage extending between the rabbits and candles, napkins and serving dishes in the chosen colors.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Toler

Mr. and Mrs. Toler had been led to believe that the supper and reception would be the only anniversary gift from their family. They were pleasantly surprised when they were presented with another gift, a six-piece patio set of black wrought iron furniture with a large umbrella. They sat at the table under the umbrella as they ate and later as they unwrapped their gifts for display.

The three-tiered white anniversary cake was placed on a small round table laid with white lace over pink silk and covered with a large brass arch centered with a flower sets of Grecian posts separated the tiers of the cake garnished with sprays of pink, mauve and mulberry confection roses and a cluster of the flowers on top of the second tier. The top ornamentation featured a porcelain bride and groom standing beneath an archway of pearled hearts.

Mr. and Mrs. Toler were married April 27, 1940, at Morre Haven, Fla. The former Mary Roach was born at Holliday, and he was born at Talley, Mo. They have lived in Iowa Park 44 years. He worked as a pumper for independent oil operators for a number of years and worked as production superintendent for Robertson Oil Co. before retiring. He is a veteran of World War II. She has They are members of First Baptist Church.

The next meeting will be the annual End-of-Year dinner on May 23.

We would like to say thank you so much to all the people who kept our son, Christopher, in their thoughts and prayers. You see, it was those thoughts and prayers which brought our son home after spending the first 26 days of life in Cook-Ft. Worth Children's Hospital. Thank you for asking our Lord to touch the hands of doctors who touched our son. Special thanks to the members of First and Faith Baptist Churches and the associates of Wal-Mart.

"Footsteps of Paul" retraced

Mrs. Lois Bradley presented a program on Greece and the Greek Islands Thursday for the Evening Lioness Club. She showed slides that she took on a recent "Footsteps of Paul" tour and interspersed them with historical facts and modern improvements. She was introduced by Lem Tate.

Some of the cities and places were Athens, famous for its white stone buildings, numerous monasteries, ruins of Acropolis, the upper fortified part of the city, the parthenon, a celebrated Doric Temple to Athena built on the acropolis in the 5th century. Also Mars Hill, where Paul delivered his address when he observed the altar to "The Unknown God," the ancient theaters, and flea market.

Other places of interest shown were the Isle of Rhodes and different areas where they are trying to build back the old ruins, Little Harbor of St. Paul. In Turkey, she concentrated on the exquisite rugs, palaces, many monasteries, showing one with 900 rooms with 15 monks, another with 1,200 rooms, and many one-room monasteries built high on the mountain tops.

Mrs. Bradley included pictures of the fortified walls of the old fortresses and theaters of Phillippi, and a canal built by 6,000 slaves at Corinth. Other interesting scenes gave glimpses of the Isle of Patmos, Forest of Stone and modern hotels in some of the cities.

Mrs. Alan Bennett gave the devotion preceding the program and Mrs. Kenneth Via conducted the business later in the evening.

Mrs. Bennett used "Be Ready in the Morning," taken from the "Streams in the Desert" as the theme for the devotion. During the business, an audit committee composed of Mmes. T.C. Berry, Gerry Thurlo and Bennett was elected.

One of the special guests at the meeting was Mrs. Zoe Ackerman, sister of Mrs. Bradley.

The meeting was held at the Lions building and the hostesses were Mrs. Grover Cleveland and Mrs. Lem Tate. They were assisted by Mrs. Joe Kennedy and Mrs. Sam Hunter.

A covered dish dinner May 24 will conclude activities for the current year.

Herb gardens are program

Several members of the Iowa Park Garden Club presented a program on growing herbs for a regular meeting of the organization Friday at TU Electric Reddy Room.

Those participating in the presentation were Mmes. Don Decker, Gladys James, Gala Mikkelsen, Norma Fortner, Joe Kennedy, Bob Illingworth and Jim Gilmore, each of whom grew herb bedding plants earlier in the year.

They presented information on growing, preserving and using each herb grown, including basil, chives, dill, savory, rosemary and marjoram.

They distributed the plants, along with handouts on growing herbs and their uses, and recipes that require the use of the herbs.

Mrs. B.J. Gilmore gave the thought for the day on "commitment."

She challenged each member to pledge to accept the responsibility for cleaning up the earth by recycling throw-aways, conserving natural resources, and limiting the use of pesticides. She also gave each member a handout on vital environmental statistics, tips on making your yard less toxic, and statistics on global warming.

Mrs. Gladys James, president, conducted the business meeting.

Mrs. Don Decker announced that members would gather at Kidwell Elementary later in the afternoon to plant a five-foot Cedar Elm tree in observance of Earth Day.

In other business, members contributed to a "bakeless bake sale" as a club fundraiser, and voted to invite all past presidents to a May 25 luncheon at the home of Mrs. W.A. Goerge, where members will celebrate the 30th anniversary of the club.

Mrs. Deryl James was hostess for the meeting. She served punch from a water pot, and "cookies and dirt pudding" from clay flower pots, using garden tools to serve.

Sixteen members answered roll call with her favorite herb.

Cook of the Week

Kidwell goal almost met

"It appears we will make our goal of $10,000 (on the 'Fun and Fitness '90' project), Kidwell principal Ron Woods said Tuesday.

More than 420 students who participated acquired pledges for their participation, and though the event was not held April 20 because of weather, it was carried out.

Woods said students had continuing to contact the remaining donors.

The principal explained pledges were evenly acquired by the students. He pointed out the student with the most in pledges had slightly more than $300. The students shared in a number of prizes for their efforts.

Proceeds from the project, which was the "brainchild" of Daryl Frazier, physical education instructor at the campus, will be used primarily to purchase equipment for the new gymnasium that is to be constructed this summer.

As I See It...

By BOB HAMILTON

It has become very apparent to me that a great number of our public school teachers perceive the current school reform situation as another means of increasing their salaries ... and their interest is not necessarily the same as the state supreme court.

Texas legislators have been called back by Gov. Bill Clements for a third special session. They are to meet the direction of the court to devise a new method of funding public education so that poor schools receive more money.

And at the same time, they are fully aware that the governor has said he will veto any legislation requiring new taxes.

Why do I feel so many teachers look at this as a chance for higher salaries?

First of all, one organization has already had its members demonstrating, union style, in Austin.

And one of the demonstrators was quoted in the Dallas Morning News as saying, "I don't ever think we'll have enough, but it's a step in the right direction."

It's possible he was quoted out of context, but the comment was in response to a question to whether the $555-million increase the legislators had approved would be sufficient.

While Gov. Clements has said he felt up to $400-million would be sufficient, after shifting those funds from other accounts, I must admit that I question it would be enough.

Why? Because House Bill 72 was so underfunded. And it will take at least the $555-million just to fund what wasn't funded seven years ago. Then there are the increases.

You may be getting tired of my referring to the ills of HB 72, but that is when all the real and serious problems of public education costs started.

And one of the main architects of that legislation, former governor Mark White, still boasts about it. Proudly and loudly.

And one of the teacher organizations, the Texas State Teachers Association, at its convention last week endorsed its first candidate for governor since 1982.

That was when the TSTA endorsed Mark White. And he won. The TSTA made the boast to reporters that a large percentage of those the organization has endorsed wins in elections.

God help us if we have a second coming of Mark White.

Anyway, it's back to the drawing board for the legislators. Or some of them, anyway. Most of them spend their time at the golf course while all the infighting goes on in committee during special sessions.

I'm still very upset with our commissioner of education, and those who used his same technique, about warning everyone that public schools would have to close as of May 1, if

That was a bunch of bull! A lie!

The schools were going to get their money through all but a couple of days in May. They got it April 25. But no one ever mentioned that.

Now the new deadline is June 1.

If not reached by then, the court will appoint a "master" who will be empowered to take over public education in Texas, set whatever salaries and operating expenses he wishes, and send us all the bill.

I'd suggest the politicians in Austin get their acts together. We had a plenty of that with our prison system, ala William Wayne Justice.

Oh, I would be remiss if I did not express my appreciation to the city council for its action Monday to reconsider spending some $43,000 to extend a sewer line to Lake Iowa Park, but rather to look at the overall sewer needs of our city.

tion. He was released at 8:11 on a personal recognisance bond.

At the same time police were informed Monday of the burglary at the junior high gymnasium, police also were told of vandalism at the school.

Newly-planted shrubs had been pulled out of the ground, police were told.

One juvenile has been arrested on that charge, police said.

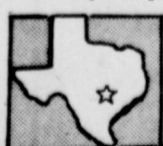

Vandalism of recently-planted flowers in planter boxes at State National Bank was reported Friday morning.

One witness told police some youngsters had been seen riding skateboards in the bank's parking lot the day before, but could not say whether that was when the plants were pulled out and thrown on the sidewalk.

Miss Stephens is recognized

Miss Gail Stephens, freshman at Iowa Park High School, was honored as an outstanding volunteer by the Wichita Falls State Hospital.

Last summer, Miss Stephens worked three eight-hour days a week at the hospital, in almost all of the volunteer positions available.

During the first part of the summer, she worked in the Children's Unit Summer School program each morning as a teacher's aide.

In early afternoon, she worked in occupational therapy, and as a teacher's aide in the Adult Education Program in the late afternoons.

When the Children's School program ended, Gail continued to work her regular hours, volunteering in the Fashion Shop and in Music Therapy on the Geriatric Unit, assisting with programs.

The hospital cited Miss Stephens for her dependability, cooperation and friendliness, and the ability to make each patient feel special.

A spokesperson for the hospital said, "We are proud to submit Gail Stephen for recognition because she is most deserving and a true asset to our youth community because of her ability to make each day better for those she works with."

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Stephen, she has earned 199 service hours, and six training hours.

The annual book sale has also been very successful and will continue for another week. Books for sale include hardback and paperback books. Funds from the book sale will be used to purchase library materials.

Plans are well underway for a busy summer at the library, beginning with auditions for Summer Youth Theatre to be held at 11 a.m. May 12. Auditions will be open to children through the fifth grade. This year's production will be an adaptation of "Walt Disney's Peter Pan."

Students chosen for the play will practice each Tuesday and Thursday through the summer, beginning June 5. The performance date is scheduled for late August.

For further information, call Jo Lynn Cockrum, program coordinator, 592-4981.

GRUDGITIS, A KILLER DISEASE
A grizzly bear lumbered into a clearing where garbage had been dumped. Tourists noticed there was only one animal the grizzly would permit to eat with him, a skunk! I'm sure he resented the skunk's brazen impudence. He easily could have won a fight with the skunk, but did not. Why? He knew the high cost of getting even!
Smart grizzly! A lot smarter than thousands of humans who spend long days and sleepless nights brooding over resentments and inventing ways to get even. Man never learns the high cost revenge!
Dr. S.I. McMillen insists that a disordered emotional life is a frequent cause of ulcerative colitis, toxic goiters, high blood pressure, and scores of other diseases. If the truth were revealed, thousands of death certificates would record that the victims died of grudgitis. We've often heard people say through clenched teeth, "I'll get even with him if it's the last thing I ever do!" Often it is!
The moment we start hating a man we become his slave, for he controls our thoughts. We cannot escape his tyrannical grasp on our minds. He hounds us wherever we go. He may be miles away, but he whips our thoughts into such frenzied frustration that even our mattresses become a torture rack. Every moment is filled with thoughts that fume like nitric acid and corrode deeply.
For centuries scoffers have ridiculed the advice of Jesus, "love your enemies". Impractical, idealistic! Now psychiatrists are recommending it as a cure for many of man's ills. When the Great Physician said "forgive 70 times 7", he prescribed good medication not only for our souls, but our bodies!

Etching pieces of beauty

by ANNE STROME

"A work of art is a joy forever." Jean Ritchie's many hobbies are a work of art and she finds a great deal of pleasure and joy in them especially her most recent hobby of glass etching.

Mrs. Ritchie, who resides in Iowa Park, is a training specialist in the 3770th Technical Training Group's Electrical Division at Sheppard AFB.

The art of glass etching dates back to the early Egyptians and other areas of the Middle East, especially Syria.

Initially, the only tools needed are a pencil type etcher and an electric or carbide-tipped pen. After a design is placed under a piece of glass, one simply has to trace over it with the electric pen.

Safety glasses must be worn to prevent glass fragments from getting into the eyes.

So intrigued with the new hobby, she has etched the bathroom windows and kitchen cabinet glass in her home. She has also etched designs on glasses, pitchers, cake-plate covers and various decorative "suncatchers" that people hang in windows.

She is presently designing an etch for two large entrance door panels for a new home. She plans to acquire a new, high-powered engraving system this summer which uses an air compressor to turn the etching pen. It will also be used to engrave on metal, plastic and wood, as well as glass.

Windows and doors with excessive etching designs require a more intricate technique known as acid application.

This entails placing a piece of plain, undesignated contact paper on the glass surface. The design is then drawn on the paper. Areas or pieces to be etched are then cut out with a sharp knife leaving the areas exposed for etching.

The acidic compound, a thick paste, is then applied by brush. Safety precautions while working with the acid are to wear eye protection, the glass is water rinsed, the contact paper removed, and the finished etch is revealed.

The acid etch method is used predominately around borders, then reverting to the electric pen for center design.

Pens must have interchangeable tips and do not last long. Tips each cost about $10; pens about $40.

Mrs. Ritchie finds the hobby both interesting and relaxing.

"Etched glass also makes a beautiful gift," she said. "There is a saying around my house: 'If it stands still, she'll etch it.'"

Modern Dentistry

By Dr. Richard Carver
DENTURE IDENTIFICATION

When people that wear dentures or partial dentures go to a hospital or a nursing home - keeping up with their property can be a real and serious problem. Especially if they get separated from their appliances by leaving it on the food tray, changing rooms, possibly leaving it in the operating room or leaving it in a drawer when going home. It is sometimes nearly impossible for the nursing personnel to find out which patient it belongs to.

Not only is it inconvenient and embarrassing to the patient, but it can involve a significant amount of time to replace, especially if the fee is to be paid for by the patient, it may be a hardship as well as an inconvenience.

Information such as name, social security number, allergies or if the person is a Diabetic can be made a part of the denture.

If you or members of your family would like to have this kind of service, you may call the office at 592-5141 for an appointment.

Edna B. Belcher

Services for Edna B. Belcher, 86, of Seymour, were Saturday afternoon at Seymour Memorial Funeral Home with Rev. Lloyd McIntosh, pastor of First Assembly of God, and Rev. Douglas Crow, retired Baptist minister, officiating. Burial was in Vera, Texas, Cemetery.

She died Thursday in a Wichita Falls nursing home.

Mrs. Belcher was born July 10, 1903, and was a longtime resident of Knox and Baylor counties. She moved to Seymour in 1971. She and Rev. Charles Lester Belcher were married Oct. 18, 1924, in Munday. He preceded her in death Mar. 29, 1986. She was a member of First Assembly of God.

Survivors include a daughter, Eunice Thomas of Iowa Park; three sons, Talmadge of Euless, Carroll and Don, both of Abilene; two sisters, Helen Fulton of Amarillo and Lizzie Riddell of Munday; three brothers, Calvin Call of Garland, Buddy Call of Smithville and Clifford Jones of Mesquite; 11 grandchildren; and four great-grandchildren.

Area students are inducted

Three area Midwestern State Univ. students were inducted recently to college scholastic honor societies for freshmen.

Regina Marie England of Iowa Park was inducted into the MSU chapter of Phi Eta Sigma, an organization that sponsors campus academic and service projects such as the Falls Honor Symposium, the residence hall director and an annual book drive for children at the Wichita Falls State Hospital.

Daniel Fannin of Iowa Park and Floyd W. Raines, Jr. of Holliday were each inducted into Phi Eta Sigma, as well as Alpha Lambda Delta.

Eligibility for membership in Alpha Lambda Delta is based solely on scholarship, and all students who earn a scholarship average of 3.5 or better during their freshman year are eligible.

The chapter co-sponsors the annual MSU Honors Symposium for high school students, publication of "Smoke Signals" and an annual book drive for children at the Wichita Falls State Hospital.

Policy changed

HOLLIDAY - The Holliday Chamber of Commerce has announced a change in policy concerning the annual Miss Holliday Pageant.

The Chamber now permits former Miss Holliday title holders to enter competition after their one-year reign has been completed.

Those interested in entering the pageant may obtain entry forms from P&H Foodworld in Holliday and from Holliday Chamber of Commerce members. All entries must be submitted by next Wednesday, and may be sent to Director Janet Perry, P.O. Box 216, Holliday.

Hawks crush Eagles 10-0 in 5

The Hawks crushed Decatur 10-0 Monday to extend their record to 12-3 for the season, and remained unbeaten in all five district games.

Not only was the game postponed from Friday because of wet weather, but it had to be played here due to conditions of the Eagles' field.

Tuesday's scheduled game here with Bowie was postponed when another rain shower moved over the area. No date for a makeup has been set.

The Bowie game was to be the first of the second half. It is to be played here.

The remainder of the schedule is: Vernon, May 4, here; Graham, May 8, there; Bridgeport, May 11, there, and Decatur, May 14, there.

The Decatur game was shortened to only five innings, because of the 10-run rule.

Pitcher Danny Tatom earned the win, giving up only three singles and walking three.

The Hawks scored twice in the first inning and added six more in the second. They left five runners on the bases in the third and fourth, but got the needed two runs in the bottom of the fifth, with an error on Jeremy Carroll's hit scoring the final run.

Jimmy Duggins and Bunkie Imboden led off the game. Both beat out infield singles, and both scored. Duggins was walked in when Caleb Vaughn sent Kelly McClure and Jimmy Nicholson to the bases on walks. Then Carroll hit a sacrifice fly into the outfield to score Imboden.

In the second inning, with one out, Tatom walked and Duggins singled. Imboden singled, driving both runners home.

A double in deep left center by Robert Denton scored Imboden, followed by McClure walking. Both reached home on a Nicholson single.

Vaughn was relieved by Bryan Lane after walking Carroll, and he was able to hold Hawk batters in check until the fifth inning, when the ceiling fell in.

Among the players Coach Daryl Frazier liberally substituted following the second inning scorefest was Ken Schlaud, who has not seen action since injuring himself in the Childress game.

A utility player, Schlaud usually plays first base, but was hurt while playing right field. He also is among the team's pitchers, being the only other left handed hurler besides Tatom.

Palmer, Duggins to play for Texas in Oil Bowl

Two Hawk All-District football stars will be members of the Texas team in this year's Oil Bowl.

They are Bruce Palmer and Jimmy Duggins, both of whom have accepted college scholarships.

Both were offered invitations to play in the benefit game, and have accepted.

Head Hawk Len Williams has been named head coach of the Texas team this year.

Other area stars who also have been invited to play are Jayson Lavender of Wichita Falls High, Mickey Moore of Rider High and Bryan Wright of Hirschi High.

KC's to sponsor annual dinner

Iowa Park's Knights of Columbus Council will sponsor an Iowa Park Annual Clergy Appreciation Dinner at 7 p.m. Saturday, May 12, at the Christ the King Parish Hall.

Proceeds from the dinner, a $5 donation, will be used to benefit the local Ministerial Alliance, the Friendly Door and the Knights of Columbus charities.

Tickets are available at The Friendly Door.

Coordinators are suggesting tickets be purchased early, due to the limited seating and serving capacity.

The steak and potato dinner will include salad, vegetable, dessert and choice of coffee or tea.

Freshman qualifies for state track meet

Iowa Park High tracksters experienced the familiar saying "the thrill of victory and the agony of defeat" at the Region One track and field meet Saturday at Odessa.

The thrill was the fact that Erica Knight placed first in the triple jump and second in the 100-meter hurdles, thus becoming what is believed to be the first freshman athlete in the school's history to qualify for the state track meet.

The agony was suffered by the outstanding junior Kerri Dornier, who not only failed to qualify for state in the long jump, as she did last year, but also was hampered in her running on the three relay teams she anchored.

Dornier, it was learned only two weeks before the regional meet, was the victim of mononucleosis, which had literally drained her of energy.

Coach Lorna Klinkerman said she had noticed earlier in the season that Dornier was not running to the ability she had shown the past two years, and was becoming slower as the season progressed.

Then, when the junior speedster began experiencing temperatures each afternoon, she was sent to the doctor where the disease was confirmed.

The 800-meter relay team of Dornier, Knight, Angie Turner and Shonna Weaver managed to qualify in the preliminaries, but placed only fifth in the finals with a time of 1:48.40.

The same quartet made up the 400-meter relay team, which didn't qualify for the finals.

And Dornier, Weaver, Turner and Sherry Halady were the members of the 1600-meter relay which also failed to qualify for the finals.

This was the fourth trip to the regional meet for Turner and Weaver, and it was Dornier's third.

Last year, Dornier, Turner and Weaver made it all the way to state with their relay team, and Dornier in the long jump as well.

Knight won the triple jump with a distance of 36-2 1/2.

In the hurdles, she qualified for the finals with a personal best of 15.52, but her 15.58 in the finals placed her second.

Even with the disappointments, the Lady Hawks still managed to place in a three-way tie for eighth among teams, with Sanford-Fritch and Brownfield.

Gary Green was the only Hawk to place in the boys' division of the meet.

His heave of 49-10 with the shot putt earned fifth place. Green was unable to qualify for the finals in the discus, however.

Blalack, Smith lose in second round

Chris Blalack and Eric Smith made it to the second round of the Region One tennis tournament last week at Odessa.

Blalack and Smith qualified for the region by placing first and second in singles competition at the Dist. 5-AAA tournament.

Blalack had no trouble disposing of Chuck Boecking of Midland Greenwood, 6-1, 6-0.

Meanwhile, Smith overcame a shaky first game start with Brian Huddleston of Crane, to win 6-4, and then closed the match 6-0.

But in the second round, the two Hawks ran into netters from the upper Panhandle, and had to put away their rackets.

Blalack battled Friona's David Barnett in a tight 6-4, 6-3 match, and Smith lost 6-1, 6-1 to Chris Canon of Canyon.

Anyone wishing to voice opposition to the state Parks and Wildlife department increasing the required length of crappe to 10 inches and channel catfish to 14, do so at a meeting in Wichita Falls May 18. To get on the agenda, however, opponents must call 1-800-792-1112, ext. 4505 or 4974.
