Early voting begins for party primaries

Early voting by personal appearance in the March 10 Democratic and Republican primaries in Wichita County got underway Monday.

Any voter may now vote early, regardless of reason for absence at the time the regularly-scheduled election date.

The state legislature changed the terminology last year in the Election Code from "absentee voting" to "early voting," and eliminated a reason to be required.

March 6 is the final day early voting ballots may be cast. Poll hours are 8 a.m. to 12-noon and 1-5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Four early voting polls have been established in the Iowa Park area for Democratic Party voters.

The Democratic polls are the Wichita County Agricultural Building at 220 W. Park, Precinct 32; Faith Baptist Church, 411 S. Wall, Precinct 33; West Wichita County Coop Building, the old Valley View School campus, Precinct 34, and Chaparral Baptist Assembly, 3784 Church Camp Rd., Precinct 35.

Republican Party early voting polls include: First Christian Church, 105 E. Cash, Precincts 32 and 33; West Wichita County Coop Building, Precinct 34; Chaparral Baptist Assembly, Precinct 35.

The Republican Party ballots include a non-binding straw vote, proposing limitation of terms for elected officials.

The proposition states: "That an amendment to the Texas Constitution be submitted to the voters of Texas for approval, the terms to be limited in the following manner: (1) Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Attorney General, Comptroller of Public Accounts, Treasurer, Commissioner of the General Land Office - two, four-year terms, (2) members of the Texas Railroad Commission - one, six-year term, (3) members of the Texas Senate - two, four-year terms, (4) members of the Texas House of Representatives - four, two-year terms, (5) Texas members of the U.S. Senate - two, six-year terms and (6) Texas members of the U.S. House of Representatives - four, two-year terms."

The Democratic Party ballot does not have a constitutional amendment proposal.

In addition to the presidential race, state and local races on the ballots include:

Extended school day helpful for students

Student interest in the extended day program at Iowa Park Junior High continues to grow, trustees were told during the board's monthly meeting Monday night.

Mozelle Sullivan, coordinator, said nine students participated when the program was initiated Nov. 5. That number has grown to an average of 22, requiring three teachers.

And the number is expected to grow until a fourth teacher is necessary, trustees were told.

Mrs. Sullivan said the attitude of the students is not one of feeling punished for staying after school. "They are eager to come and leave happy. The students' attitude amazes me," she said.

The program was initiated to not only tutor students so grades could improve, but also provide working parents with a structured atmosphere their children could stay until they got off work.

In almost every case, according to a grade sheet comparing the first six-week period with the second period the program has been offered, student grades showed improvement.

Also appearing before the board was another junior high teacher, Kellie Gibson.

She gave a hands-on demonstration of a new method of teaching algebra to students on the seventh grade level, using what she described as "concrete, pictorial and written."

Following a 50-minute executive session near the end of the meeting, the board approved extensions of contracts for all key personnel, including assistant superintendent, principals, assistant principals, athletic director, counselors and tax collector.

Allen Shewmake, tax collector, reported 92.29 percent of all current taxes had been collected by Jan. 31.

Shewmake also told the board court suits against several delinquent taxpayers are to be filed this week.

The board officially called a trustee election for May 2, designating polling places and appointing judges.

As part of House Bill 72, board member training received during the year was reported. All trustees are to undergo a minimum of 20 hours by the end of their first year in office.

Trustees and their training hours include: Randy Catlin, 21.5; Keith Fisher, 69.75; Wendall House, 38; Sheri Kennedy 55.75; Denny McCarthy 30; Jerry Reed 58.5, and Martha Dudley 31.

A proposed calendar for the 1992-93 school year was presented to the board, and Supt. Glen Mitchell said it or a variation should be approved at the March board meeting.

The proposed calendar contained a number of changes, including completion of the fall semester before the Christmas holidays, and two one-week breaks during the second semester.

In order for the fall semester to be completed by Christmas, classes would begin Aug. 17. Final day of school would be May 27.

The third week of February and first full week of April were marked on the proposed calendar as breaks.

Included in the calendar, which provides for 180 days of instruction, were three teacher work days and two bad weather days.

Instead of having inservice days for faculty before the start of school, they were spread out through much of the year, with a day each in August, October, January, March and April.

HAVING BIG TIME - A large delegation of Iowa Park High students had a big time during a recent basketball game with Bowie High, despite the Hawks losing 79-43 to the Jackrabbits. The signs being displayed were to remind Bowie fans about last fall's 35-7 win in football, despite the fact the game was called off at halftime due to threatening weather.

Police blame kids for crimes

Roving bands of juveniles are suspected as the culprits in a large number of criminal mischief and minor theft cases reported to police over the weekend.

The cases involve broken vehicle windows and hood ornament thefts.

Leading police to believe youths are responsible for the numerous complaints was an incident which occurred during the early morning hours Saturday.

Police were notified by a resident in the 900 block of Dossia that four or five boys were ringing a door bell, banging on windows and climbing over fences, according to the police blotter entry.

The caller then gave a general description of an automobile in which the youths left the area.

Shortly afterward, at 2:31 a.m., police stopped a vehicle with nine juveniles in it. All but one were boys.

Each was written up on "minor in possession of alcohol." Their parents were notified to go to where the vehicle was stopped and pick up their children.

The first of six hood ornament theft complaints received over the weekend was received Friday morning from a resident in the 1100 block of Louisa.

The next morning, an owner in the 1100 block of Mary Drive filed a complaint.

Then, Sunday afternoon an owner in the 1300 block of Emma said hood ornaments were taken from three vehicles at that location.

Two owners residing in the 1000 block of Mary filed complaints of missing hood ornaments Monday.

The first vehicle window breakage was reported Friday evening, by a resident in the 1100 block of Louisa. In fact, the address was four houses away from the initial hood ornament report.

Similar reports were filed Sunday morning by two residents in the 800 block of Vogel.

Police believe a BB gun was used in all three incidents.

Police arrested a 37-year-old female, Rita Faye Alexander, on a charge of public intoxication after she was seen walking along US 287 near Bell Road. She was released shortly after the 11:28 p.m. arrest Friday after signing a personal recognizance bond.

A new, 10-speed bicycle was reported Monday evening as having been stolen from a residence in the 100 block of James Drive.

Police found the front door of a business in the 100 block of West Park standing open, apparently kicked in, at 1:35 a.m. Saturday.

The owner said after inspecting the scene that nothing had apparently been taken or disturbed inside.

A resident in the 100 block of East Washington told police someone had kicked large holes in the outside wall of a shop building, causing approximately $100 in damage.

Det. Ray Smock said he had been successful in receiving restitution for two business owners that were victims of a man's scam in early January.

Employees at K&K Food Store and Allsups were duped by an individual who had identified himself as a local business employee needing $25 cash to make change for a customer, and promising to return the money shortly. He never showed.

But the man, later identified as Clifford Leon James, 27, is now in Wichita County jail on other charges, and Smock said he coordinated the return of the money through James' attorney.

Two file for mayoral post

Eventhough filing for the May 2 city election opened the first of this week, there already is competition for mayor.

Incumbent Wayne House is challenged by Mike Grubbs, pastor of the First Christian Church.

Terms also are expiring for Aldermen Johnny Crawford and Charlie Helms.

Two posts on the school board also are up for election May 2. They are currently held by Jerry Reed and Denny McCarthy.

Crawford said he intended to file for re-election. Helms said he was undecided.

Athletic Boosters to meet Monday

A meeting of the Iowa Park Athletic Booster Club will be held at 7 p.m. at the high school.

Members should enter on the south end of the building.

Members will discuss their participation in the annual Iowa Park Lions Club Hawk Relays, Mar. 6-7, and other topics during the meeting.

Young man, juvenile charged in theft case

One young man is in jail at Fairfield and a male juvenile faces arraignment in Wichita County juvenile court, both charged with the theft last Tuesday of a vehicle from the high school campus.

Additional charges are pending against Kenny Glen Gilmore Jr., 17, that are expected to be filed by authorities in Walker, Freestone, Brazoria and Leon counties.

A 1980 Ford stationwagon owned by Athletic Director Lucky Gamble was taken while Gamble was on duty in the school lunch room.

It was found abandoned on FM 1462 in Brazoria County Thursday morning and impounded.

County authorities there said another vehicle was stolen from the immediate area where Gamble's vehicle was found.

A station attendant told police Saturday that a vehicle with two young men had driven away without paying for a $15 gasoline purchase.

Shortly afterward, according to the report, a Department of Public Safety trooper spotted the stolen vehicle near Centerville, and a pursuit followed, finally ending at Fairfield.

Gilmore is being held under a charge of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle, with a recommended bond of $3,500. A similar charge is being filed locally.

Officials in the counties involved did not want to press charges against Gilmore's 15-year-old companion, and he was released to his mother's custody and returned to Iowa Park.

Gamble's vehicle was returned to Iowa Park, but he said it had been heavily vandalized and all his personal papers that had been in the glove compartment were missing.

He reportedly carried no insurance on the vehicle other than liability.

Proposed ordinance would ban dumping oil in city's landfill

The Iowa Park City Council will consider Monday night an ordinance prohibiting any petroleum products or oil filters in the sanitary landfill.

The meeting is to begin at 7 p.m. in council chambers.

Cause of the proposed ordinance is a directive received by city hall recently from the Texas Water Commission which states oil and oil-saturated items cannot be put in the landfills.

In response to an earlier request by the council, Administrator Gary Jones is to present a proposed schedule for removing septic tanks now being used inside the city limits.

As part of the project, aldermen are proposing sewer lines be made available to all residences and businesses in the city which have not received the service in the past.

The council will consider acting on bids for construction of concrete alley approaches in certain areas of the city, where erosion has created problems.

Final acceptance for painting the water tower on Johnson Road will be considered, which would allow for final payment to the contractor.

Jones also is to discuss letters his office has received from Beverly and Danny Bohannon.

Mrs. Brian Fulfer, Nicholas and Drew

Both Cindy Fulfer and her husband, Brian, grew up in Iowa Park and are graduates of Iowa Park High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lunney, and Brian is the son of Sonny and the late Ann Fulfer.

Following graduation from high school, Cindy took a computer course at Vernon Regional Junior College. She has been employed five years in the Medical Records Department at Bethania Regional Health Care Center. Brian is a machinist and works for Production Machine and Tool.

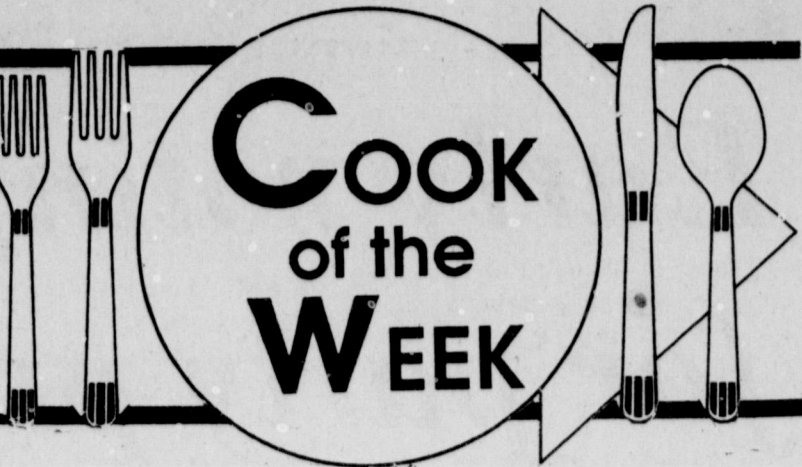

They have two sons, Drew, who is four-years-old, and 21-month-old Nicholas.

With their jobs and two active sons to take care of, Cindy and Brian don't have much time for outside activities, but they do like to go fishing. Cindy said that she and her husband would like to learn how to country and western dance when the boys are older.

The recipes she submitted were given to Cindy by the women she works with. She said that she only cooks ordinary things and that Brian is the one who likes to try unusual recipes and does much of the cooking.

Junior High dance is slated

Iowa Park's Drug Free Youth Awareness Group will hold a Leap Year dance from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. Friday, Feb. 28, at the Recreational Activities Center.

Admission will be for junior high school students only.

Admission will be snacks, such as a six-pack of soft drinks, large package of chips or bag of cookies, according to De De Alderman, coordinator.

Though the dance is open only to junior high aged students, membership in the Drug Free Youth Awareness Group is open to students in both junior and senior high schools, Alderman said.

Supper, cake auction set Feb. 29

Iowa Park Band Boosters will serve an "all you can eat" combread and bean supper from 5:30 to 8 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 29, in the high school cafeteria.

Hot dogs and homemade desserts also will be available.

In addition, a cake auction will be held, with Tom McKee acting as auctioneer.

Admission for the meal, which includes hearing the different bands in concert, is $3.50 for adults and $2.50 for children 12 and under.

Revenue from the project will benefit both the high school and junior high band programs.

Correction

In a story last week announcing the engagement of Hope Drissel and Cpl. T. James Allen, it was mistakenly reported that the bride-elect's mother, Linda Drissel, lives in Houston. Mrs. Drissel is a resident of Iowa Park. We regret the error.

It's Girl Scout Cookie Time, and the Iowa Park Girl Scouts will be taking door-to-door orders through the end of February. The girls will be delivering cookies and having booth sales March 6 through March 22. Each box sells for $2.50.

If you are not contacted and wish to order cookies you may call the Girl Scout office at 723-4336 or these local numbers: Dianna Miller 592-9561; Denise Parham 438-2344.

Baptist Women complete review

Mrs. Eleanor Bell completed the review of "Empowered," a mission book by Esther Burroughs, who works as a consultant for women at the Home Mission Board, Monday night at a meeting of the Thelma Smith Baptist Women.

Mrs. E. T. Patterson served as hostess for the meeting which was held in the Fellowship Hall of First Baptist Church, with 11 members in attendance.

Mrs. V.I. Woodfin presided during the period devoted to business and Mrs. Patteson was in charge of the missionary birthday calendar of prayer.

Mrs. Bell introduced the review by reminding members of the purpose of writing the book was to reclaim the meaning of missions through the power of the Holy Spirit. "Renewing in the Spirit Through Prayer" was the topic of the chapter reviewed, and the divisions showed how time spent with God every day allows the Holy Spirit to empower Christians for effective witness.

The divisions were titled "Centering on God," "Total Surrender" and "The Wind of God's Spirit." The first two contained examples of what people empowered by the Spirit had done, and were still doing to reach people for the Lord. The last division was a reminder of how the sound from heaven came as a mighty rushing wind and filled the house on the day of Pentecost and caused the disciples to go into different countries to witness.

Quoting the author, Mrs. Bell said "we have an awesome responsibility to keep our lives such that the Holy Spirit can "blow" through us to refresh someone else."

The program was concluded by group singing of "Breathe On Me" directed by Mrs. Carl McKinnon and Mrs. Woodfin.

Megan Ledue

Help sought for Megan

Two Iowa Park women are leading a local effort to help a 10-year-old Wichita Falls cancer victim.

Brandy Fox and Melissa Moss are asking residents of this area to contribute to a fund for Megan Ledue, who is in dire need of an expensive bone marrow transplant.

Young Megan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Ledue, has a brain tumor as well as two tumors in her spine.

Physicians have told the parents that without a transplant, which they admit is experimental, the youth will die in two to three weeks.

The transplant, which would be done at Cook-Fort Worth Children's Medical Center, will cost $100,000, which must be paid in advance.

Because the transplant is experimental, the operation is not covered by the parents' insurance.

The local women have opened a special account at State National Bank, and donations can be made to account No. 402-1730.

A fund drive has been underway in Wichita Falls over two weeks, and has grown. The total amount is not available.

However, should more money be raised than necessary, according to Mmes. Fox and Moss, the excess will be donated to Guardian Angel Foundation for use by another child.

The Caffeine Question

- Most Americans probably consume some caffeine every day as a natural, or added, ingredient in foods, drinks or medications.
- Caffeine is a stimulant that speeds up the heart, dilates some, and constricts other, blood vessels and increases urination.
- Caffeine is also moderately addictive. If you have a soft drink with every meal for several weeks, you will probably feel the effects of withdrawal when you stop.
- The symptoms of withdrawal are sluggishness, throbbing headache and mild depression.
- Caffeine consumed by pregnant women passes through the placenta to the unborn child. It also passes into the milk of nursing mothers.
- In recent years the Food and Drug Administration has said that earlier reports linking caffeine with birth defects are unfounded; there is no evidence that caffeine has ever caused birth defects in humans. Nevertheless, many pregnant women and nursing mothers have opted to avoid caffeine.
- Caffeine has not been shown to increase the risk of heart disease. But many doctors advise patients with irregular heartbeats or high blood pressure to be wary of using it.
- Studies have also failed to show any relationship between caffeine consumption and reproductive function, pancreatic cancer or benign breast disease.
- Caffeine affects people differently. If consumption of caffeinated foods or beverages makes you jittery, nervous or causes insomnia, cut them out of your diet. If medications have these effects on you, discuss this with your doctor or pharmacist.

As I See It... By Bob Hamilton

You may notice that there is nothing in this issue concerning two gatherings last week of those who oppose the proposed prison site on FM 369.

I was not aware, until after both had taken place, that a meeting was to be held at the RAC, nor the rally at the proposed site.

The group apparently knows that I support the prison's proposed location. That being the case, they possibly believe that I wouldn't cover their gatherings.

That idea is about as dumb as the group's reasons that one should not be built here.

I welcomed two letters opposing the prison, and printed both without any editing, didn't I?

I do my best to not allow my personal beliefs interfere with my responsibilities as a journalist. And I would have covered both events, had I known about them.

Having read most of their points of opposition, and discussed several with one working against locating the prison here, I frankly cannot accept any one of their points as a plausible reason.

One protester was quoted in the Wichita Falls newspaper Friday as having said, "We know that 60 percent of the prison population remains in the community when they're released..."

Come on now. If that were true, Huntsville would be the size of Houston by now!

Other arguments are that the prison wouldn't be like another industry, because it would be state-owned, and wouldn't be generating any taxes. Also the point is made that few employees wouldn't be hired here, but rather from within the prison system.

Using that argument, the group should be demonstrating for the closing of Sheppard Air Force Base. Are you ready for that?

And as for those comments about a prison being in one's back yard, and a deterrent to tourism, I've also got a couple of responses.

First of all, I'm hard pressed to recall more than half a dozen homes within two miles of the proposed site. Those claiming that would be in their back yard must be true West Texans.

And as far as the prison being a deterrent to tourism, I wasn't aware that many out-of-staters traveled FM 369. Most of that traffic, I had thought, is on I-44 and US 287.

The point is often made, and I can't reject it, that communities like Abilene, Snyder, Childress and others, that already have prisons are asking for more.

Does that mean they are gluttons for punishment?

When Wichita County voters went to the polls last November to cast their ballots on proposed state constitutional amendments, that funding issue for prisons passed by almost a 2-1 rate.

I really don't believe county voters, all 11,855 of them that voted for the issuance of bonds to construct more prisons, were saying, "I'm for it, but not here."

Folks, there's been a lot of noise made against the proposed location of a prison on FM 369 by a hand full of people. I think it's time those who feel it is the right thing to do speak up.

Or are there any supporters out there?

Worth Quoting

I miss old Paul. I don't remember ever hearing his last name, but I know he was from Wetumpka, Alabama. That made him okay in my book. In a way, Paul was to Lamesa what Goober was to Mayberry.

Paul was a good-natured guy with a rag sticking out of his back pocket, and when you pulled into Eulie Rosson's Humble station, he hustled out to fill it up, check the oil, air the tires and remove every last bug from the windshield.

Paul was an artist with a scrub pad and a chamois. He took a personal offense to bug guts. He'd work on your windshield until he felt like you were driving a new car. After Paul cleaned your glass, you drove off seeing colors you never knew were there. And while the pump was clicking regular or ethyl into your tank, he'd give your car a thorough checkup, finishing up by whisk-brooming the sand and gravel off your floor mats.

Meanwhile, he'd update you on the news from Wetumpka, or the latest weather forecast. He'd ask how your Alabama kinfolks were doing, or pass along the latest local gossip.

The way Paul treated you made you feel important. For a few minutes, you and your car were the center of attention. If something wasn't running right, you knew Paul wouldn't let you drive out of there until it was fixed. He took a personal interest in your transportation, all for the price of gas -- about 32 cents a gallon.

I don't know what Eulie paid him, but it wasn't enough. A lot of people went to that station just because of Paul, because you got more than gas from Paul. You got service.

The fact that I'm old enough to remember service isn't particularly newsworthy. I've recently been reminded, however, that for all we've gained in this modern society of ours, we've lost some things as well.

On the way back from East Texas after a late Christmas, we stopped in Plano for gas. I knew no one was going to hustle out and wait on me, but this was a new one.

Through the miracle of technology, the entire transaction took place right there at the pump. Following digitally displayed directions, I pushed the button for "regular unleaded," selected "credit" over "cash," and ran my card through the reader. When the readout gave me the go-ahead, I obeyed like a sheep and commenced to pump my gas.

If Paul has passed on and is lying in the fertile soil of Wetumpka, I'm sure he's rolling over in his grave.

This was one of those placed where they've removed the little latch that holds the nozzle in the "on" position (I hate it when they do that). In the cold rain, I stood there and held it until my Suburban's tank was full. Glancing at the pump, I could see why they had removed the latch: the digital precision, the computer was advertising cigarettes to the captive audience it knew had to be standing there, pumping gas.

Good thing I didn't have a match.

Seconds after I hung up, a receipt squirted out, and the computer thanked me -- digitally, of course. The transaction was complete, duly noted, no doubt, in a giant mother computer somewhere, which will bill me at the end of the month. I drove away with the smell of gas on my hands, bugs on my windshield, gravel in my floorboard, entirely ignorant of whatever may be happening to Wetumpka.

I miss ol' Paul.
BOB BUCKEL
Springtown Epigraph

Do you feel a lot safer since the regulatory authorities have forced service station owners all over the area to dig up all those underground fuel tanks?

If this is the real reason, and I have no reason to believe it is not, then I would like to commend the authorities who have required this considerable expenditure of money for the protection of our environment. You have acted like a typical government bureau. You have obviously done all this without knowing very much about what you're doing.

If petroleum is the problem, your job may not be finished for many years.

Since, as I understand it, asphalt is made in many instances by evaporating crude petroleum and mixing it with crushed rock or sand, I would like to ask you a question.

When are you going to start digging up all the asphalt highways and tearing asphalt roofs off of buildings?

WHO IS SIMMONS?

I am Jerry Dean Simmons. I presently work in production at Certainteed, as a hard-working factory worker. I graduated MSU in 1987, with a degree in Political Science and Public Administration. I served in the Navy as a supervisor in engineering on board a nuclear submarine. I was honorably discharged in 1984. I moved back home where my family and relatives live. I have been married to Sandy for 11 years and have 2 sons, Jason and Freddie, ages, 10 and 8.

I worked construction as a laborer, while attending college. I am an open-minded and sincere individual, at age 34. I have been laid off. I know first-hand how people are still suffering from lay off or worried about a lay off. Wichita county needs to generate fore jobs (i.e., multi events center, increased tourism, new industries, the prison, and better treatment of small businesses.) No job means no health insurance. The moral and financial responsibility for indigent health care falls on the county. I believe that the county has made it to first base, but still has a long way to home plate. Our children are our future and needs to be protected from the abyss of our present. I would try to improve communications between county government and the it represents. I would look at new ways to solve old problems (i.e., crime, the environment, and more). I am a working man who is seeking your support come election day. Thank You.

SCHOOL SCENE

Information prepared by Iowa Park School Counselors

American College Test (A.C.T.) and Scholastic Aptitude Test (S.A.T.) results are in for 1989-90, and Iowa Park High School seniors had some of the best scores in this part of the state.

In fact, of area schools, Iowa Park seniors ranked first on the SAT and third on the ACT.

These tests are required for college admission, and many advanced program and scholarships depend on how well students perform.

And although Texas ranks below the national average on both tests, Iowa Park students scored well above the national average.

On the ACT, their composite score was 21.0. The state average was 19.8, and the national average 20.6.

On the SAT, Iowa Park students attained a mean total score of 952. The state's mean total score was 872, and the national average score was 900.

THE THIRD week of the current six weeks reporting period has just ended.

Progress reports have been sent to parents of those who are failing at the three-week point. Many students look upon progress reports as a way teachers have of getting students in trouble with their parents!

However, students need to realize that progress reports are, instead, a way of involving parents in the educational process.

THESE REPORTS are to alert the student and parent of areas of weakness that may be causing the student to fail in those particular subjects.

The reports are an additional way of helping the student correct whatever it is that is causing the failing grade before the end of the reporting period to prevent failing grades on the report cards.

THE PROGRESS Report, or "Notice to Parents," states that:

1. The student is presently in academic difficulty in this subject, and consequently there is the danger of failure.

2. It is necessary that the cause(s) of this deficiency be understood and the recommendations be followed.

3. Make certain that you are familiar with the school's grading system and the suggested amount of homework expected in the subject each night.

POSSIBLE CAUSE (S) for deficiency listed on the progress reports are:

ABILITY:

Poor aptitude in subject.
Inadequate foundation in subject.
Lack of attention or participation.

ATTITUDE:

Poor attendance/lateness.
Inadequate preparation for class.
Lack of serious approach to studies.

PERFORMANCE:

Poor test scores.
Inadequate preparation for class.
Lack of attention or participation.

AMONG the recommendations which may be suggested on the progress report are:

More effort.
Conference with teacher.
After school help.
Tutoring.
Others which may be written in by the teacher.

CHILDREN benefit greatly when parents take an active role in their education. Children will usually enjoy learning and school more, improve their skills and attitudes, and do better in school when parents are actively involved.

The students will also develop confidence in themselves and be better prepared for the future when they are more successful in school.

Parents benefit, too, by being involved in the education process of their children!

Parents who are involved feel good about themselves knowing that they are helping their children get a good education.

So, if progress reports have been sent to your home, you and your child can reap great benefits from responding to those reports--by contacting the teacher who sent the report and/or helping your child correct deficiencies reported to you.

DOOM AND GLOOM OR RISE AND SHINE???

It always amuses me whether in the political, business, social, or religious arena there is always a mass of experts telling why a particular idea will not work. If the doom and gloom experts had their way, we would still be living in the dark ages without electricity and all sorts of "new fangled inventions." Some people can only see the negative side of life and become "doom and gloom" experts.

Charles Bradberry at the recent UIL band concert could have become a "doom and gloom person." After all, what can you do when the bass pedal on your drum breaks? You go with the flow doing the best you can improvising along the way. The improvisation must have been great because our band did fantastic having several superior ratings. I remember several years ago hearing of Old Bull, a noted violinist, having his A string snapped at a concert, but Mr. Bull continued on and finished on three strings. Here we note two great examples of courage and optimism!

Optimism is a disposition to look to the bright side of life expecting and working for the best, believing it will come to pass! Certainly reverses will come our way in life but an optimist will only view reversals as a challenge to greater accomplishments! It was the apostle Paul who declared, "I can do all things through Christ which strengthens me."

Many are the examples of individuals who have faced severe handicaps and rose to greater heights. The young man Joseph in Genesis 37 through 50 rises from being sold into slavery to becoming the second in command in the land of Egypt. Peter and John, two of the leaders in the early church, were noted as uneducated men (Acts 4:13). May we ever recognize when troubles come our way, sometimes they are blessings in disguise!

Football players receive awards

"I'm here to tell you that I love these guys," an emotional Head Coach Lucky Gamble said of his 1991 Hawks.

A standing ovation by the audience was the response when he said of the graduating seniors, "They left a legacy that will never be forgotten."

Gamble's remarks were made Thursday evening at the annual IPHS Football Banquet, which was highlighted by a speech from Spike Dykes, head coach at Texas Tech Univ., and awards presented to individual players. The banquet is sponsored each year by the Iowa Park Athletic Booster Club.

This year's Outstanding Hawk Award was presented to lineman Charles Jolly.

Defensive Player of the Year was T.J. Bean. Jolly shared the Ball Hawker Award with Greg Steger.

The David Ross Memorial Award was presented to four starters who sustained season-ending injuries during the season. They were Jason Dudley, Carl Pace, Shawn Green and J'Bill Merrick.

Corey Bridwell, Mark Tatum and Johnny Duggins were recognized as the most improved players on the team.

Other varsity awards included: Outstanding Offensive Lineman, Scott McNeely; Receivers, Joel McIlroy and Mike Brewer; Back, Robert Denton, and Specialty, Todd Pulley.

The Jackie Denton Memorial Award, presented each year to the outstanding Junior Varsity player, went to Scott Byrd, Brent Brown and Tony Lozipone.

Dykes compared football with life, saying, "The more you put into it, the more you get out of it."

To emphasize part of what a youngster gets out of playing football, he quoted the late Gen. Douglas McArthur, who once said 93.7 percent of all commissioned officers during World War II had played football.

The Tech mentor listed six important ingredients to be a good athlete, or citizen: desire, belief, commitment, dare greatly, enthusiasm and have feelings.

New officers of the Booster Club include Billy McNeely, president; Gary Steger, first vice president; Randy Scobee, second vice president; Sherry Rose, secretary; Billie Scobee, treasurer.

and Connie Denton, parliamentarian.

Outgoing officers include: Jim Bob Merrick, president; Gary Steger, first vice president; Billy McNeely, second vice president; Sherry Rose, secretary; Linda Merrick, treasurer, and Shirley Bridwell, parliamentarian.

J'BILL MERRICK LIMBERS UP FOR WORKOUT AS BASEBALL SEASON NEARS START

Baseball season opens next week

Work has been feverish this week to get the high school field ready for the Hawks' season baseball opener next week.

Weather reportedly has been the cause of delay on the project, much of which is being done by Booster Club members.

Coach Daryl Frazier is hoping the mortar will be dry on the new dugouts when his 1992 edition takes the field against Nocona Tuesday at 4 p.m.

But that actually won't be the first game. The Junior Varsity team is to host Vernon at 4 p.m. Monday.

No scrimmages were scheduled prior to the season openers, primarily because of field conditions.

Concrete floors were poured Tuesday, and block walls are to be erected before Monday, Frazier said.

Frazier, beginning his 10th year at the helm, lost only two players off his 1991 Dist. 4-AAA championship club. They were seniors Lewis Skinner and Gary Green.

The Hawks have advanced into the playoffs six of nine seasons under Frazier's leadership, four as district champion and twice as runner up.

Last year's squad went 17-11, including a 7-3 district record.

But while almost all the players' faces will be familiar to local fans, one in the coaching box will be new.

David Fuhrman has taken over the assistant coaching post, allowing John Hoelter to assume a new duty as head girls' track coach.

The Hawks, who hold workouts at 4 each afternoon, won't have long to get the soreness worked out following Tuesday's opener. They travel the following Friday to Wichita Falls to take on Hirschi, and the following Monday they go to Burkburnett.

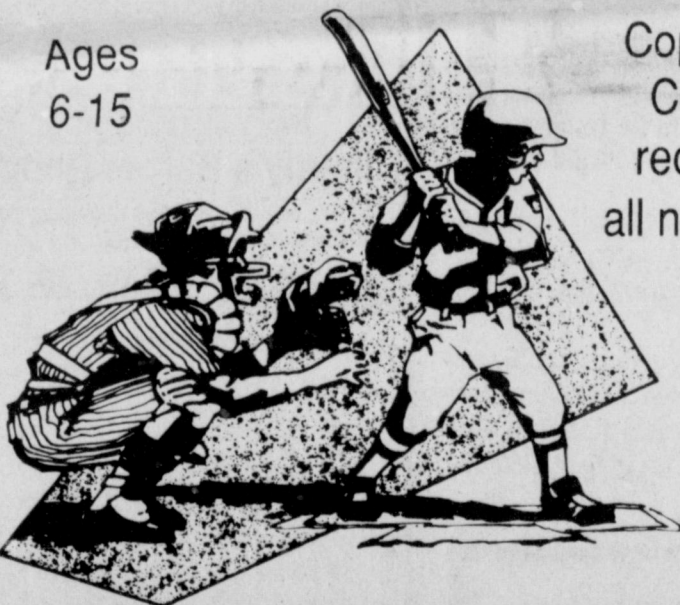

Two tournaments are on the varsity's schedule. The Wichita Falls meet will be Mar. 4, 5 and 6. Then the varsity and JV will play in Burkburnett's tourney Mar. 19, 20 and 21.

District opener will be April 7, with Vernon coming here. Final regular season game on the schedule also will be played here, against Graham.

CHARLES PERRY

Former Hawk signs pro contract

Former Hawk standout Charles Perry may be the first Iowa Park graduate to play professional football, when the Professional Spring Football League gets underway Feb. 29.

Terry May made a serious run at the pros in the late 1960s, but is not believed to have signed a contract.

Perry, who followed an outstanding high school career here to play three years as a starter at Texas Tech Univ., has signed a contract to play for the Albuquerque Rattlesnakes.

Home trying to recuperate from a bout with the flu, Perry spent the last month in a training camp in Phoenix, Ariz. The camp also served as a player evaluation for teams, he explained.

At the end of the camp, teams were drafted with college territories in mind. So the Rattlesnakes will be made up principally of players from schools in Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California.

The Rattlesnakes, who will use the University of New Mexico stadium as their home field, will play a 16-game schedule. They open the season Feb. 29 against Las Vegas.

League championship playoffs will be in June and July, Perry said.

He said he dropped about 10 pounds during the three weeks of two-a-day sessions, after reporting at a weight of 290 pounds.

But, despite weighing 290, he was clocked at 5.1 in the 40-yard testing.

The quickness apparently impressed his coach, because he has been put at the defensive end position. Perry played defensive tackle at Tech.

"That's going to be a little new to me," the former Hawk said of his position. But he feels comfortable with it. At the camp's last scrimmage, he said he got three quarterback sacks.

Perry was enthusiastic when he told of his plans next fall. He will be the defensive line coach for West Texas

State Univ., which is reinstating its football program, but on a non-scholarship plan such as Midwestern State.

He coached last season at Midwestern.

Besides being in football, he said he plans to continue his studies toward a Master's Degree at WTU.

1991 VARSITY HAWK BASKETBALL TEAM

Hawks drop final two games

Coach Tim Clark's Hawks saw their hopes for a shot to advance into the post-season playoffs disappear in the final period of Friday's important game at Breckenridge.

The Buckaroos thwarted Iowa Park's rally attempt by outscoring the Hawks 20-11 in the last eight-minute period, and finished with a 72-56 win.

Going into the game, Iowa Park had a 2-1 record for the second half, and finishing the season with back-to-back wins, with some help from Graham, could have put the team in the playoffs.

Tuesday's season finale here with Vernon also was a disappointment to the club as the Lions put on a 20-9 final quarter surge to win 62-49.

Iowa Park had trailed Breckenridge through the first three periods. But the Hawks had narrowed the 36-25 half-time score to 52-45 going into the final eight minutes.

The hosts then began their passing stall to kill time, and Iowa Park was forced to foul in an attempt to get the ball back.

That failed to pay off, however. Breckenridge hit 16 of 24 charity shot attempts. The Bucks added only two field goals in that frame.

Jeremy Carroll and Jon Hankins were the only Hawks to score in double digits, 17 and 11 points, respectively.

The first three periods of Tuesday's game with Vernon were close. Iowa Park led 19-13 after the first period.

Vernon rebounded to lead 30-26 at the half, but saw the lead wilt to 42-40 at the final rest stop.

Carroll canned 19 points in his final high school contest, and fellow senior Todd Pulley chipped in 14.

Girls' basketball alive and well

Though the girls' basketball win-loss ratio was down this season from 1990-91, Iowa Park High still emerged with a winning record.

All three teams, the varsity, junior varsity and freshman, posted winning records for the season.

Overall season record was 58 wins and 23 losses, 21-9 in district. Last season the overall record was 69-14 and 26-4.

Because all three had won their respective district titles last season, there had been considerable speculation voiced that this season would be as good, or better, than last.

But that was not the case. Only the junior varsity earned the district title, going 9-1. And the freshmen stumbled in their final two games of the season to finish 8-2 in district, and 21-2 overall.

The Lady Hawks posted a 22-10 season and 7-3 district record as they earned the 4-AAA title. This year the club was 16-14 and 4-6.

Losing two key players off the 1990-91 team is considered by Coach Jimmie Cain as part of the team's lower winning record.

Besides losing three-year starter Kerri Dornier to graduation, his two-year starter Erica Knight, who would have been a junior this season, moved with her family to Oklahoma.

Knight is now a starter on the Ardmore varsity which, as of two weeks ago, had posted an 18-1 season record.

But equity among district teams also was a major contributing factor, as evidenced by Lady Hawk scoring. The varsity scored 1,308 points this season, down only slightly from the 1,399 last year.

And the average per-game scoring for the Lady Hawks this year was 43.6 points, while their opponents averaged 41.2.

The equity among conference teams shows up in the fact that, despite winning only four of 10 district games, the Lady Hawks had a higher per-game scoring average in those 10 starts than for the season.

They averaged 45.8 points against Dist. 4-AAA opponents.

Marcy McCarthy emerged the team's leading scorer and rebounder. She racked up 241 points for the year and was credited with 143 rebounds.

Misti Cook was right behind her in scoring, with 236. Melody Gray had 186, Jennifer Ricks 166, Cheri Halady 155, and Laura Davis 103.

Gray, Davis, McCarthy, Rachael Kimbro, Dee Ann Warren and Kristi Ring are all seniors.

Underclassmen on the club are Ricks, Christie Catlin, Michelle Robertson, Cook, Halady, and Hayli Dyer.

State Capital

HIGHLIGHTS
 By Lyndell Williams
 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN - Regarding two issues of major importance to Texans — the presidential primaries and public school finance reform — Attorney General Dan Morales last week:

■ Persuaded a federal appeals court to probe what Morales says is improper conduct by another judge who scuttled the Democrats' redistricting plan;

■ Asked the U.S. Supreme Court to delay state senate primary elections because of the controversy; and

■ Through an assistant, said his office would not ask the Texas Supreme Court to reconsider its ruling that the school finance tax is unconstitutional, but must be paid anyway.

Morales went to Washington, D.C. to ask Supreme Court Justice Antonin Scalia to halt the March 10 primary for the state Senate only, and allow other balloting to proceed as scheduled.

Several political forecasters have predicted that the new Senate districts crafted by U.S. District Judge James Nowlin will end Democrat domination of the state Senate.

Two Emotional Issues

While increased retail sales indicate the state's economy is gaining speed, Texas taxpayers are irritated at having to pay illegal state taxes which, once collected, may never be returned.

And with the primary just days away, Democrats are very emotional about what they feel is a royal shafting by Republicans.

If it appears that Morales is ignoring taxpayers to concentrate on party politics, an aide explained that several federal lawsuits will challenge the ruling that the illegal tax must be paid anyway.

The high court ruled the Legislature violated the Texas Constitution by imposing a statewide property tax, and by levying the tax without voter approval.

The lawsuits challenge the mandated payment as a violation of taxpayers' right to due process.

Insurance Companies Racist?
 Some officials want Morales' list of official chores to include investigating insurance companies for refusing to sell health insurance to people who don't speak or read English.

State Rep. Eddie Cavazos, D-Corpus Christi, accused some company officials of "David Duke marketing of racism."

Cavazos, who chairs the House Insurance Committee and the House Mexican-American Caucus, waved a letter from G. Scott Smith, president of National Health Insurance of Grand Prairie, stating policy that persons not understanding English are considered ineligible for coverage.

Company officials explained they do not have personnel to handle claims for persons who do not speak English.

Other Highlights

■ A federal grand jury indicted former Texas House Speaker Gus Mutscher in connection with bogus land development schemes that cost investors nearly $1.5 million. Mutscher, who fell from power in the 1970s Sharpstown scandal, was indicted on 14 counts of mail fraud, money laundering and other charges.

■ Texas Railroad Commissioner Bob Krueger endorsed Democrat presidential hopeful Paul Tsongas of Massachusetts, causing some observers to speculate whether Ark. Gov. Bill Clinton is losing ground in Texas. But Clinton garnered the Texas State Teachers Association nod from its president, Olivia Bestiero.

■ Krueger also split with commission chairman Lena Guerrero over selection of a firm to do an environmental impact study of the proposed Texas bullet train. Guerrero chose the firm endorsed by the consortium which won the contract to build the train; Krueger questioned whether the study would be objective.

■ Gov. Ann Richards, speaking at a U.S.-Mexico business conference in San Antonio, urged both countries to build roads and bridges to accommodate a free trade agreement. The governor wants to build new international bridges at El Paso and Laredo to connect with U.S. interstate highways, and to build a toll road from Laredo to Corpus Christi.

■ Five Texas cities were among 23 nationwide which posted value increases for used homes last quarter, led by Fort Worth with 11.8 percent gains.

■ Capitol reporters twitted Gov. Richards for using a state-owned Ford Crown Victoria that is federally classified an import, even as she urges consumers to buy American. "Oh, give me a break!" she said when told the car was assembled in Canada.

■ Comptroller John Sharp said law enforcement officials will routinely check state lottery offices for wiretaps to protect the confidentiality of the process for selecting the winner of a contract to operate the state's first on-line lottery.

■ State Education Commissioner Lionel "Skip" Meno said the career ladder system that rewards good teachers should be scrapped and replaced with a more equitable bonus system. "The current system wrongly pits teacher against teacher. We need teamwork, not competition," Meno said.

■ Roy Wood Jr., a former assistant executive director of the Louisiana Racing Commission, has been named director of racing for the Texas Racing Commission.

SCIATICA

Sciatica can be a severely painful condition. It is caused by irritation of the sciatic nerve, a nerve which runs from the lower back through the hip and down the leg. The sciatic nerve is the largest nerve in the body, as anyone that has had sciatica can attest. The most common cause of sciatica is pinching or irritation of the nerve in the lower spine. Slipping of a disc, subluxation or minor misalignment of spinal joint, bone spurs or combinations of all of these problems are the typical causes of sciatica nerve irritation.

Sciatica is one of the most common conditions for which back surgery is recommended. Back surgery however, is only successful about 60% of the time and has a fairly high risk of complications. More recent interest in nonsurgical treatments for sciatic nerve pain has caused several researchers to look at chiropractic manipulation as an alternative. Researchers at St. Thomas Hospital recently reported the results of their study for back and sciatic nerve pain in the British Journal of Rheumatology. They found manipulation to be the single most effective treatment in the 513 patients studied.

In a similar study, researchers at the California College of Medicine at the University of California Irvine, also found manipulation to significantly improve clinical signs of sciatic nerve compressions. Clearly, chiropractic manipulation is one of the most effective conservative treatments in those with sciatic nerve pain.

Chiropractic manipulation should be one of the first considerations in those with sciatica. It can prevent the need for spinal surgery in many patients. There are effective ways of dealing with pain in the body's largest nerve!
