Annual Chamber banquet features awards, speaker

Who will be recognized for their contributions to the community and their fellow citizens during 1993, when the announcements are made Saturday night.

Those recognitions are always the highlight of the annual Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce banquet, which is to get underway at 7 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

Under the policy of the Chamber, it is possible that as many as four individuals and one business could be recognized. It is up to the anonymously-appointed committee members to decide who, if any, qualify for the honor.

Besides the award recipients' announcements, the evening will also include a dinner prepared by the Iowa Park MuleSkinners, an entertaining speaker, and the installation of new Chamber officers.

Tickets for the banquet are $10 per person, and are available at the Chamber office, Parkway True Value, 1112 N. Jackson, and Iowa Park Leader.

The usual steak dinner, cooked over mesquite coals right outside the high school building, will include baked potato, mixed vegetables, tossed salad, hot rolls, desert, coffee and tea.

One of the more popular speakers in the county, Justice of the Peace Janice Sons, is to be a feature of the evening.

Among the new officers to be installed will be Cathy Riggins, as president, Dale Cox, first vice president, and Janice Newman, second vice president. Mrs. Riggins succeeds Larry Dutton as head of the organization.

The Chamber began its recognitions in 1971, when the late Gladys James was named Outstanding Citizen of the Year.

She was followed, in order, by Dr. Gordon Clark, Mrs. Frank Harlin, Ralph Beall, Wayne House, Darrell Dick, Mrs. Lita Watson, Mrs. Charlie Lee, Bill Steger, Gordon Griffith, Buck Voyles, Bill Gilmore, H.M. Nipper, the entire Iowa Park Volunteer Fire Dept. membership, Grover Cleveland, Frances George, James Barrington, Dr. Erwin Soell, Robert Palmer, Bob Hamilton, Michael Price, Ruth Welch, and last year, Sheri Kennedy.

The first recipient of the Outstanding Senior Citizen award went to Fenton Dale. Those who followed were Charlie Weitz, Beverly McDonald, Mrs. Otis Gay, Mrs. James Sewell, Lester Brooks, Riley Thompson, Olive Blalock, Pauline Singleton, Carl Sullivan, Ida Mae Lehman, Raymond Good, Tommie Smith, Betty Lowe, Wayne House, and Virgil Woodfin.

Virgil Woodfin was the first to receive the Outstanding Agriculturist award, which was presented in 1978. Those who followed were Loys Barbour, Ray Hicks, Rex Wells, Barry Mahler, Robert Wilcox, Stanley Williamson, Freddie Daume, Denny McCarthy, Marvin Klinkerman, David Robnett, and Gene Jordan.

The first Outstanding Educator award was presented in 1979, to John Sibley. In following years, recipients included Ethyle Kidwell, Linda Ayres, Bob Dawson, Earnie Reusch, Patsy Todd, Carol Edwards, Joni Whitis, Greg Miller, Jim Gotcher, Helen Roberts, Carole Venhause, Kenneth Davis, Carolyn Richter, and Dorothy Palmer.

Cryovac was the first business to be recognized under the new awards program. That presentation was made in 1987.

to sister publisher name, recognized by the City of Iowa Park in 1989.

No business awards were presented after that until last year, when Entex Fabrication Inc. was recognized.

LANDMARK IN FLAMES - One of the oldest structures in the Iowa Park area was completely destroyed by fire when 1994 was only minutes old. The two story vacant house was located on the east side of Bell Road, near the intersection of Ruby Street. Because it had not been occupied more than three years, and had no utilities connected, arson is strongly suspected, especially since a grassfire was reported less than two hours earlier at Bell and US 287. The house is on the farm leased from the W.F. George Estate by Dewey Spruiell, and is believed to have been built just before the turn of the century. When Iowa Park firemen arrived on the scene, the structure was so fully involved it was impossible to save it.

Month's permit total is down, but year's up

After several months of uncommonly high building permit figures, December fell into a more common area, as no new home permits were issued by city hall.

However, the year's total still exceeded $2 million.

The most common permits issued were for roofing and storage buildings, which accounts for the month's total of $76,582.

Though low, by comparison, it still raised the year's total to $2,025,480.

The permits included:

- Donald Litting, 305 Kathleen, roofing, $1,200.
- Robert McIlroy, 608 W. Coleman, roofing, $800.
- Jim Sargent, 504 W. Rebecca, storage shed, $600.
- Clara Martin, 800 Park Plaza, roofing, $650.
- Cam Eaton, 608 N. Texowa, mobile home, $6,000.
- Michael Gaitan, 900 Dosia, roofing, $1,469.
- Joanna Honeycutt, 1009 E. Ruby, siding, $11,180.
- Bob Perkins, 409 E. Ruby, roofing, $4,500.
- J.R. Arrick, 404 W. Lafayette, mobile home, $37,900.
- James Merrick, 1101 N. Jackson, storage building, $200.
- Gary Steger, 1212 N. Jackson, storage building, $200.
- James Oliver, 126 W. Garder, roofing, $300.
- Mike Price, 306 E. Bank, storage building, $6,000.
- A.L. Bohannon, 520 W. Magnolia, roofing, $1,600.

- Gary Stamm, 1510 Bentwood, roofing, $2,000.

Golf course back on council agenda

A new and different possibility for a golf course at Lake Iowa Park will be discussed during Monday night's meeting of the city council.

Iowa Parkan Mike Negri has requested a three-month extension on his lease of the property where the course is proposed.

Negri was originally granted a lease on the land last year, when he was attempting to coordinate development of a golf course there.

However, that course proposal was scuttled last fall, when the council voted to not spend money on a feasibility study that the proposed developers had requested.

The council is back to "square one" on annexing a 9.7-acre tract on the north side of town, for a housing development, known as Park Place

Addition.

Two hearings were previously held, and the annexation proposal approved by the council. But then it was determined that additional paperwork was necessary, and a change in state law now requires three such public hearings.

So the annexation process is starting over again.

City Administrator Mike Price is to discuss with the council another subdivision proposal, which would be located north of US 287 and west of FM 368.

A discussion of using public resources for private purposes also is on the meeting agenda under the heading of "administrator's report."

The meeting is to begin at 7 p.m., in council chambers.

Meeting set in Kamay on phone rate change

The possibility of extended area telephone service for residents in the southwest part of Wichita County will be discussed at a meeting later this month.

Residents are encouraged to attend and discuss a plan that could result in the significant lowering of telephone costs for subscribers being served by the GTE exchange in Kamay.

The meeting is scheduled to begin at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 25, at the Kamay Volunteer Fire Department, located west of the post office and next to Kamay Electric.

If accepted by the residents, the telephone exchanges and the Public Utilities Commission, calls to Wichita Falls and Iowa Park would be local, instead of long distance, at a "reasonable standard increase" to the basic rate now charged.

In addition, Precinct One Commissioner Woody Gossom will discuss some road design changes for the intersections of Hodges and FM 1206, Hodges and Love, and Hoge Road and FM 1206 as well as the arena at that intersection.

Questions on either subject can be posed in advance to Shirley Cravens, 438-2901, or Gossom, 766-8258.

Drinkers were absent from roads New Year's

The public apparently payed attention to all the warnings by various law agencies about drinking and driving during the New Year's holiday.

Only one public intoxication arrest was made during the past week by Iowa Park police, and that wasn't until Jan. 2, according to the police blotter.

There were, however, several disturbances reported, as well as thefts.

The only public intoxication arrest was made at 11:38 p.m. Sunday, in the 1300 block of West Magnolia, when Gerald Allen Fountain, 22, was taken into custody. He was later released after promising to appear in municipal court.

A couple who had gone to the police station, during an argument, was issued a disorderly conduct citation New Year's Eve.

They were Charles Hazel Wright, 27, and Lorraine Annette Wright, 28, and were released after promising to appear in municipal court on the charge.

About the same time, another disturbance that had reportedly originated in the 400 block of South Jackson evolved to the police station.

Notice to adult victim of family violence citations were issued to Timothy Sanderson, 36, and Regina Melton, 20. They also were released on personal recognizance bonds.

Monday afternoon, police responded to a neighbor's call in the 700 block of East Bank, after receiving a report of yelling and screaming being heard.

A charge of assault was filed against Debbie Karen Lane, 34, and she was released on a personal recognizance bond.

Police arrested Rickie Dee Smith, 36, Saturday afternoon in the 200 block of North Victoria, after receiving information that a warrant for his arrest had been issued by the Wichita County Sheriff's Office.

The warrant was for "bond insufficient, aggravated sexual assault." He was later turned over to a county deputy.

Tuesday evening, a clerk at Wal-Mart called police to inform them that a person who had previously been issued a criminal trespass warning was in the building again.

When officers arrived, they learned the woman had left the building, and walked to the Pizza Hut.

Police had run a computer check on the woman's name, and it was determined an arrest warrant was outstanding at the sheriff's department.

Kristie Kaye Gregory, 28, was taken into custody, and turned over to a deputy to be transported to jail.

Some time later, a Pizza Hut employee called police, informing them that a woman's billfold and other personal items had been found in a trash can in the ladies restroom.

Identification in the billfold was that of Gregory. Police believe she was trying to conceal her identity, but it didn't work because she was recognized.

The county warrant on Gregory was for theft over $20.

A criminal trespass warning was issued, for the second time according to police, to Earl Wayne Wilson, 29, when he attempted to pay a visit at Woodbriar Apartments Monday evening.

Four reports of thefts were filed with police during the past week.

A resident in the 1000 block of Louisa told police someone had taken the license plates off a two-wheel trailer. The number, issued in Texas, is 14SLBW.

Contract to be considered

The first of a series of employee contracts will be considered Monday night by the Iowa Park school board.

The meeting is to begin at 7:30 p.m. in the junior high library, with a portion to be held in the administration building.

Trustees traditionally consider extension of the superintendent's contract in their January meeting. Action on all other contracts will come over the next three months.

An executive session will be held while discussing Supt. Glen Mitchell's contract, and for that the board will move across the street to the administration office.

Personnel resignations and employment also are listed on the meeting's tentative agenda.

Besides several bid considerations, trustees will consider an increased cost of health insurance, use of the junior high gymnasium, and reviewing enrollment and facility needs.

"Man from Ireland" to lead Bible conference this month

Victor McManus, known internationally as the "Man from Ireland", will be leading a mid-winter Bible conference at First Baptist Church Jan. 16-19.

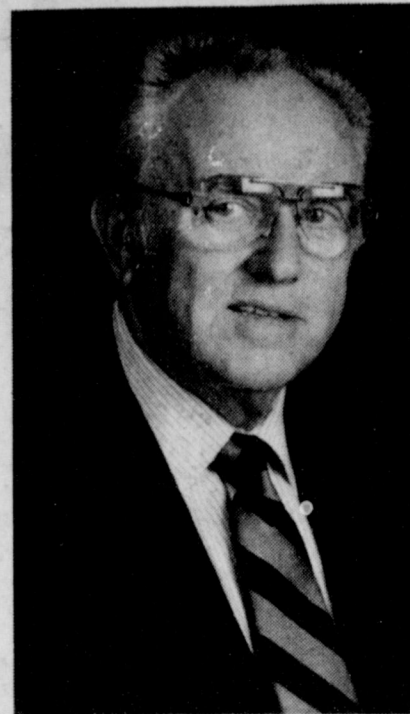

McManus, one of the most widely known evangelists and Bible teachers in the world, will lead in the regularly scheduled services Sunday, Jan. 16.

Monday through Wednesday, Jan. 17-19, he will teach from 7-8:30 p.m. This year's Bible study is from the book of Hosea and deals with God's redeeming love.

Possessed with a vivid imagination and the legacy of the old Scottish and Irish preachers, McManus has mastered the art of pictorial preaching.

One newspaper columnist wrote, "In the McManus crusades, the Bible comes alive and so do men and women through the pictorial presentation and exposition of the Word of God. Old scenes are re-enacted. The prophets live again and Bible events seem to have happened only yesterday."

The family of First Baptist invite community friends to join them for this lively Bible study. A nursery will be provided for all services.

Worth Quoting

I ran across a story that I'd read somewhere, years ago, and it has a great moral.

It seems a man was visiting a home which wasn't much to look at, kind of run-down and lacking even a good coat of paint. Outside the home, a little boy and his sister were playing in the yard. They were laughing, running and having a good time. The man surveyed the situation and had pity for this needy family.

He asked the small boy some questions about the home and the family. The youngster told him that his father had not been able to work lately because of illness, and that his mother had to care for the father. When asked about his patched clothes and bare feet, the boy explained that his daddy would buy some things for him and his sister when he got well.

The man also learned that the boy and girl had not been able to enjoy some of the normal experiences of childhood which require money. Wanting to say something to help them face the situation, the man said, "It must be awful bad to be poor."

Quick as a flash the youngster answered, "Mister, we ain't poor. We just ain't got no money."

I guess the story is meaningful to me because I was once in that situation. But I didn't know that I was "poor," because we were happy. The story reminds us of the old adage: Money can't buy happiness.

A lot of us who were born in the depression have made some mistakes in judgement about "having money," and we've passed it on to our children. I've heard it so many times: "My children are going to have it better than I did!"

So, we made sure they did have it better and sometimes we lavished them with gifts and money. As long as we didn't forget love and discipline along the way, maybe it worked out okay. And if we remembered that our presence is more important to our children than our presents, then perhaps our grandchildren will also learn the valuable lessons that cannot be bought with money.

They will know that no person is poor who has character and purpose, who loves God with all his might and loves his neighbor as himself.

As I See It... By Bob Hamilton

Police are concerned that a lot of people are being taken by a scam that some guy is pulling in and around Iowa Park.

The suspect -- police know him, but I'll not use the name until some kind of a charge is levied against him -- is apparently approaching older people, asking for financial help.

He doesn't ask for much, something like $12 or $13, but if he makes a number of successful hits in a day, that gets to be a large sum over a day's effort.

At least one resident said the man explained his child was in the emergency room, and he needed the money to pay the bill... $12.50.

Shucks, what is the president talking about when he says health care is getting too expensive. I might be able to visit the emergency room twice in one day, if it doesn't cost more than $12.50.

I'm not making light of the fact that this bum is scamming people who seriously want to help someone in need. But he's smart enough, or dumb enough, to know that elderly people usually live on a tight budget, and he'll have a better chance of getting something, if he doesn't ask for much and gives a real tear-wrenching pitch for it.

Like I said, I'm not using his name right now, but you can bet your bottom dollar, or $12.50, that his name will be in a front page headline if he's ever charged for what he's doing.

Oh, you've seen it in our police reports in the past, so you'll recognize it right off.

edly were taken Wednesday night from the Barbour truck yard in the 200 block of South Victoria.

Probably the most unusual case among the thefts reported was that of a skateboard ramp, from a yard in the 700 block of West Louisa.

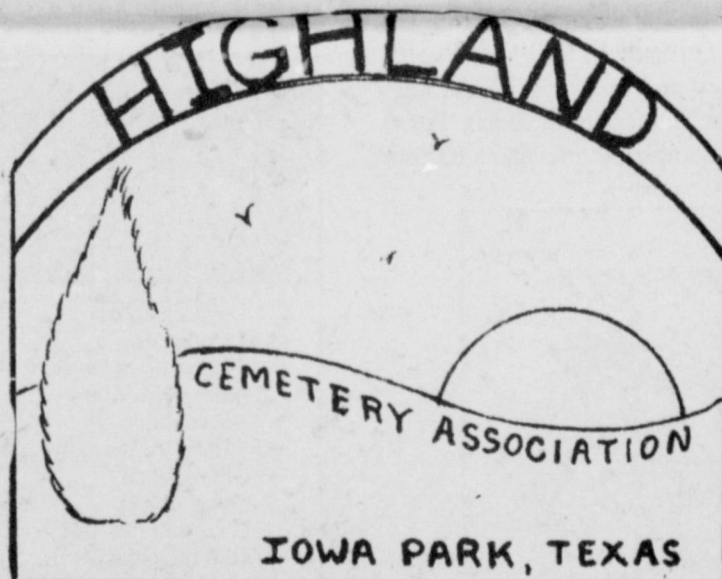

A resident in the 700 block of East Bank reported to police Saturday that a Honda minicycle had been taken from the back porch of the home.

A resident in the 1500 block of Wagonwheel told police Saturday afternoon that someone had driven a vehicle across the yard and broken a young tree.

Tournaments tough on varsities' records

Playing in their final tournaments last week, in preparation for entering Dist. 4-AAA play, both varsity basketball teams found the tough competition they had wanted and expected.

The teams played a combined seven games in the tourneys, and returned home with two wins and five losses.

The Lady Hawks, who will start district play tomorrow at Graham, were playing in the West Texas Invitational at Slaton, where they won one and lost two.

Meanwhile, the Hawks won one and lost three in the Bearcat Holiday Classic at Aledo. Boys' teams will not start conference competition until Friday of next week, when they host Vernon.

But before then, the Hawks will host Olney tomorrow and Tuesday play at Hirschi.

LADY HAWKS

In their first game at Slaton, which is in the middle of a territory where girls' basketball is known as a state powerhouse, the Lady Hawks lost their first game 65-62 to Crosbyton.

Crosbyton jumped out to a 20-point lead during the first half, but Iowa Park rallied after the midway rest period to pull to within one point with 1:17 left in the game.

Dusti Welch finished with a whopping 30 points, seven rebounds and three assists. Briana Stalker also had a double-digit contest, scoring 10 points and pulling down three rebounds.

Stalker led Iowa Park scoring-wise in the team's only win of the tourney, a 57-29 victory over Morton. She racked up 14 points and had four assists.

Jodi Young was close behind, scoring 12 points and pulling down nine rebounds.

In their final contest of the meet, the Lady Hawks were edged 51-41 by Denver City. Mandy Threet was the only Iowa Parkan in double figures, scoring 11 points.

Coach John Hoelter said one of his players was named to the All Tournament team, but he had not received word who it was. They left to return home before the final game and announcements.

Levelland, according to Hoelter, defeated host Slaton in a double overtime contest to win the meet title.

After returning home, the Lady

Hawks had one more road game on their non-conference schedule, and the outcome wasn't decided until the final minute of play.

Stalker canned a two-pointer with 10 seconds left on the clock, for a 48-46 win over Archer City.

The victory gave Iowa Park a 11-10 record, as they take on Graham at 8 p.m. Friday at Graham.

Iowa Park was trailing by six points with two minutes remaining in the contest. "But good defense by Mandy Threet and Christi Welch led the comeback," Hoelter said.

Dusti Welch scored 15 points and was credited with 11 rebounds and three steals.

Two other players also scored in double figures: Jodi Young, 13, and Stalker, 10. Young also had six rebounds, while Stalker had four steals and three rebounds.

The Junior Varsity and Freshman teams also racked up victories the same night.

The JV won, 42-32, led by Amanda Thompson, 17 points, and Mandy LaBrier, 16.

Belinda Terry had six points and Lori Wiggins five in the 27-24 Freshman victory.

HAWKS

The Hawks were leading by eight points early in the fourth period of their first-round contest at Aledo, but Springtown went on a scoring spree, canning 18 unanswered points, defeating Iowa Park 65-55.

Michael Stanford was the only Iowa Parkan in double figures, scoring 17, and pulling down six rebounds.

The Hawks knocked host Aledo in the next game, by a 78-40 margin. Five players scored double digits: Rudy Hawkins, 13; Nick Black and Stanford, 12 each; Michael Fallon, 11, and John Robert Ledbetter, coach and athletic director of Southlake Carroll High School, will be the guest speaker for this year's annual Iowa Park High School football banquet.

Ledbetter, whose Dragons have won the state AAA football championship the past three years, as well as in 1988, has accepted an invitation to speak at the banquet, which will be held at 7 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 15, in the high school auditorium.

Tickets are $8.50, and must be purchased by Jan. 13. They are available at Scobee's Mini-Mart, or from any of the Booster Club board members: Billy Brown, Randy and Billie Scobee, Sherry Rose, and Dennis and Jan Yeager.

Players on all three Hawk teams, varsity, junior varsity and freshman, will be recognized, and special awards announced for those who made outstanding contributions.

Happy 16th
