Record turnout looms for general election

If the number of citizens continue to cast their ballots early, election judges may have a fairly easy time of it Tuesday, general election day.

Voters will be deciding on candidates ranging from the Precinct Three constable all the way up to president of the United States in the election.

As of noon Wednesday, a total of 571 ballots had been cast at the County Agriculture Building here in Iowa Park.

The number of voters had been gaining from 25 on Oct. 14, the start of early voting, to a high of 101 Tuesday.

Early voting in person will continue through Friday, during the hours of 8 a.m. to 12-noon and 1-5 p.m.

On election day Tuesday, all polls will open at 7 a.m. and close at 7 p.m.

Polls in the Iowa Park area include Precinct 32, County Agriculture Building; Precinct 33, Faith Baptist Church; Precinct 34, West Wichita Co-op Building at Valley View, and Precinct 35, at Chaparral Baptist Camp.

Employers are reminded that state law now requires providing employees time off from work to vote unless polls are open two consecutive hours outside the voter's working hours.

11th in a row Hawk Band earns 'one'

For the 11th consecutive year, the Hawk Band of Iowa Park High School has earned a Division One in the University Interscholastic League marching contest.

The unit is to compete in the regional competition Saturday at Pennington Field in the Hurst, Euless, Bedford area northeast of Fort Worth.

Iowa Park is to perform at 11:28 a.m. with 20 other Class AAA bands who make up UIL Music Regions two, five and seven.

The stadium is located near Highway 121 near Airport Freeway. General admission into the stadium will be $2.

The last time Iowa Park competed in the event was in 1990. The UIL has set up a program where classifications can advance in the state competition only on alternating years. Class 5-A bands also are advancing this year.

Directors Greg Miller and Ed Hefti said AAA bands are to commence competition at 9:08 a.m. Announcement of the day's results will be made promptly at 3:12 p.m.

Last Saturday's competition was held in Memorial Stadium in Wichita Falls.

Besides Iowa Park, bands from Graham and Vernon also received Div. One ratings, while Henrietta, Childress and Gainesville received Div. Two from the judges.

City joins neighbors in mutual aid

After adopting an ordinance Monday night, Iowa Park has joined the other four communities in the county as well as Wichita County in a comprehensive emergency management program.

Should a catastrophe of any type develop within the county, a response will be coordinated by Tommy Keese, Wichita County emergency coordinator.

Situations such as a tornado, a major chemical spill, major fire, anything natural or man-made would spring into action a mutual aid effort throughout the county, under the agreement.

At the same time as the ordinance was approved, a local plan of action that was developed some 10 years ago was adopted.

The local plan establishes a chain of authority and responsibilities designed to meet virtually every need. Meetings on that plan were held after initially developed, but the plan was never put into the ordinance book, and the plan was virtually forgotten.

Another ordinance that was to be considered, calling for abolishment of an ordinance requiring three key city employees to reside inside the city's limits, died for lack of a motion.

Aldermen at the last meeting had called for its abolishment, in response to City Administrator Gary Jones' request to establish his home at Lake Kickapoo.

However, Jones has since that time secured approval to lease the small apartment on the grounds of the Tom Burnett Memorial Library, which he plans to use as his residence. The structure is currently being renovated.

A resolution concerning the 1991-92 budget, which explained line item expenditures in excess of projections in both the general and water and sewer funds, was adopted.

The resolution also pointed out that the general fund ended with a surplus of $100,539, and the water and sewer fund a carryover of $10,473.

After the water and sewer surplus was read, and discussion developed between two members of the council.

Alderman Johnny Crawford suggested the council might want to reconsider a 10-cent rate increase adopted for the 1992-93 fiscal year.

In response, Alderman Bob Hamilton suggested that the surplus was

Hawks seek to break skein

The 1992 football season is winding down, and Iowa Park's Hawks have only two more opportunities to escape the worst won-loss record since 1988.

Iowa Park travels Friday to Graham, where they will take on their long-time rivals, the Steers. Kickoff is 7:30 p.m.

The last time the Hawks finished a season with only one win was in 1988. That year, Bridgeport was the victim. That was a conference victory.

Class AA Wellington is this year's sole victim of the year, thus far, for Iowa Park.

At the same time, Graham is having one of its better years, having lost only two games, one of which was to district bully Vernon.

There's not a player on the Hawk varsity who was at Graham last year who doesn't grimace when remembering the Steer's come-from-behind win.

Iowa Park held a 17-0 lead late in the third quarter. But the Steers, led by the throwing arm of quarterback Toby Dollar, emerged with a dramatic 26-17 victory.

Dollar is a senior this year. That win helped Graham finish in a three-way tie for Dist. 4-AAA runner-up with Iowa Park and Breckenridge.

Graham, which has the largest student enrollment in the district, returns 14 lettermen from that squad, including five starters.

Seven of Dollar's 42 pass completions in 1991 were against the Hawk defense, and they accounted for 137 of his 735 yards total aerial yardage.

The Steers showed indication that they are vulnerable this year, however, when they emerged with a scant 5-0 win over Breckenridge. The Buckaroos escaped a loss here last week when the Hawks failed to complete a two-point conversion pass that would have spelled a single-point for Iowa Park.

Iowa Park had considerable success last year with its ground game, by bruising the Steer defense for 170 yards.

The Hawks will be trying to spring converted tight end Mark Tatum loose again this week. He earned 103 yards rushing last week, and tacked on another 65 with a pass reception, en route to scoring two of Iowa Park's touchdowns.

Injuries have severely hampered the Hawks this year. They lost the services of Mark de la Rosa a couple of weeks ago.

But because he saw action in two plays last week, the coaching staff is counting on the full-time return of quarterback Jason Miller this week.

When Miller suffered his ankle sprain at Wellington, Tony Lozipone took his place under the center, and stayed there against Vernon and Bowie.

But last week, Coach Robert Clensay called on Brent Brown to take over the quarterbacking duties.

This will be the 21st meeting of the Hawks and Steers, who first played in 1925. Graham won that one, 64-0.

Other than three years, 1982-84, Iowa Park and Graham have met annually since 1970. Since that time, the Hawks have won more than they've lost, 10-8-1.

Iowa Park hasn't posted a win over Graham since 1989, when the Hawks earned a 12-7 victory.

The closest game between the two rivals was a bi-district clash in 1985, which ended in a 34-34 tie. But the Hawks led 6-5 in penetrations, and continued another week in the playoffs.

Juvenile caught stealing

A 13-year-old male juvenile picked up at the football game Friday night for stealing hood ornaments was delivered to the county juvenile detention center Monday, according to the police blotter.

Police observed two juveniles attempting to get into vehicles parked at the football stadium, and took both into custody.

It was then they determined the one had been the instigator and the other was only observing. They hadn't been able to get into any vehicles, but the one youth had the two ornaments in his possession.

The ornaments came from vehicles registered to owners in Breckenridge and Wichita Falls.

Police filed three complaints against the one youth, one each for the ornaments and another for shoplifting. He was taken before the justice of the peace and then transported to Wichita Falls Monday afternoon.

Though believed to have been unrelated to the two youths, the owner of another vehicle parked at the stadium complained Saturday of having a windshield broken out.

A citizen filed a complaint Thursday evening, that someone had taken bedclothing that had been left in a dryer at Davis Wash House.

NARROW SQUEEZE - This pickup just fit on its size in the deep ditch along the access road at Douglas Thursday night. The driver, Roy Dean Baron, 29, was not injured, but was cited for public intoxication. He paid a $270 fine and was released.

Mrs. Riddle feted on 90th

Mrs. Sallie Pearl Riddle was honored on her 90th birthday Oct. 17 with a dinner and birthday cake, and a reception.

Hosting the event were her children, Amaryllis, Evaetha, Helen, Bill, and Terry, and their families.

Following the dinner at Luby's a reception was held in fellowship hall of Faith Baptist Church.

Appointments focused on sentimental pieces. The registry table was covered with a pink cloth topped with a hand crocheted doily. A white and gold book inscribed with "Friends Who Came By" and a vase of pink roses and carnations centered the table.

An heirloom hand-embroidered and drawn cut-work linen cloth covered the refreshment table. The cloth had been brought back from England in 1934 by the honoree's late husband.

Pink roses and carnations were arranged in an heirloom vase that was received by the honoree in 1921, and a silver punch bowl and coffee service completed refreshment table appointments. Cookies made by the honoree's family, and punch were served.

A point of interest was a table where pictures depicting various stages of the honoree's life were displayed. Many guests brought pictures to share throughout the afternoon.

An authentic poster and letter from Barnum Animal Crackers was displayed, featuring the same month and year of birth as that of Mrs. Riddle.

Born in Kentucky, Mrs. Riddle moved to Texas at the age of four with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Logan Sherrill.

She lived in the Medicine Mound and Odell communities until 1965. At that time, she moved with her husband, the late Odis Riddle, to Holliday, and moved to Iowa Park in 1971.

"Mama Sallie", as she is affectionately called, has had a strong influence with young people through the years as a Sunday School teacher in the Odell Baptist Church. She also maintained an open house for the young people, or anyone who wished to call her home their home.

Lioness Club visits fitness center

Mike Sellers, owner of Iowa Park Athletic Center and a personal fitness trainer, gave the program Thursday for the Evening Lioness Club. He was introduced by Mrs. Lem Tate.

The program began with a trip to his fitness center where he showed club members and guests the Center's equipment which he said "is the finest."

Returning to the Lions building where the meeting was held, Sellers showed an acumeasure, an important part of the fitness program, and a number of supplements. He explained the benefits of each one.

Some of these supplements were Animal Pak, Orange Carbo Flex, Muscle Nitro, Egg Protein, and Heavyweight Gainer 900, for people who want to gain weight.

Sellers encouraged his listeners to participate in the Bodies in Motion program, and said that working out can prolong life and promote bone mass.

Preceding the program, Mrs. Kenneth Via conducted the business when future projects were discussed and First Step was voted upon for the current project.

Mrs. C. L. Thompson chose an appropriate theme in keeping with the season, with "Halloween" as the title of the meditation. She said that the festivity began with the Druids and has both a secular and religious history.

C.L. Thompson extended an invitation to club members and their spouses to be dinner guests of the Evening Lions Dec. 8. He said that a Chinese program would provide entertainment and asked each one to bring a gag gift for exchange.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mmes. Tate and Homer Blalock. They were assisted by Mrs. Milton McWhorter. Mrs. Clara Martin was a guest.

"Enviroshopping" is program topic

Barbara Fangman, a Wichita County home economist, gave a program on "Enviroshopping" for members of the Iowa Park Garden Club who met Friday morning.

She said that most of the waste that goes into landfills come from the home. The national average of three and a half pounds of garbage per person each day could be reduced if consumers would follow the five Rs of Enviroshopping. They are: Reduce the amount of packaging you buy and throw away; Re-use and Recycle whenever possible; Reject packaging that is unsatisfactory, and Respond to producers and retailers to let them know how you feel.

Thirty percent of our household waste is packaging. Packaging is an essential part of our marketing and distribution system, but some packaging is wasteful and serves little purpose. Mrs. Fangman stated that you may think that your part won't be enough to matter, your garbage in itself is not a problem. But when you add it to the garbage of your neighbors, your town, your county, the whole state, then the problem has grown to huge proportions.

After showing a video on enviroshopping and passing around some examples of new building materials on the market today that are made from recycled products such as milk jugs, she closed by saying, "you have this opportunity to do your part by being an Enviroshopper."

During the business session, 14 members answered roll call with an item they had purchased recently that was made of recycled material. Rete Spruiell and Jimmie Ashton were welcomed as new members.

Ginger Young gave the thought for the day entitled "I Didn't Take Time."

Stormy Mikkelsen encouraged members to be gathering their materials for the annual flower show to be held Nov. 14, at the RAC. This year's theme is "Beautify." Denise Gilmore, vice-president, announced that the club's yearbook and scrapbook had been sent to the district awards chairman to be judged.

Pam James and Nell Copening displayed examples of wreaths that members will be making at the next meeting. Members have a choice of using fabric or evergreen materials to construct the wreaths on a wire wreath form.

Mrs. James also brought a vase filled with cut roses from her yard for the horticulture display.

Hostesses for the meeting, Bonnie Illingworth and Gladys James, used a Halloween theme to decorate the serving table. It held ceramic pumpkins, ghosts, and a scarecrow standing beside a miniature bale of hay.

GO MEAN GREEN MARCHING MACHINE ON TO STATE!

As I See It

By Bob Hamilton

I was intending to continue my comments about the proposal that Iowa Park's city council and Chamber of Commerce assist with construction of the new County Agriculture Building planned here, but because Tuesday is general election day, I'll save most of it until next week.

However, I must report it has been found that the county paid $1,000 to Curtis Hill in January of 1951 for a lot. More on that will come.

Also, Commissioner Gordon Griffith indicated an agreement had been reached to purchase a new site, on the northwest corner of Wall and Bank, for the new building and a title search was nearing completion as of Tuesday.

Now then, back to the general election.

It should come as no surprise to anyone who follows this column that I am supporting President George Bush. But I've got a lot of reasons other than being a declared Republican.

I remember well the last time a Democrat governor moved out of his office into the presidency: Jimmy Carter.

Among the many things I remember about that situation is the fact that during his final month as president, the stock market was just about to break below the 700 average mark.

It is, and has remained for a long time, well above 3,200 now.

Okay, you might ask, what has the stock market got to do with how the nation is going?

Well, that same stock market reflects the public's investment in corporations, and it's those businesses that provide a large percentage of jobs in this country.

It also reflects confidence in the economy and future of the United States.

Alright, you come back to ask, look at all the reports about the millions who are currently unemployed, and how much confidence is being shown by the public in major item purchasing, such as homes, cars, etc.?

You probably will lack on quotes from the national media that say President Bush is the major blame.

Folks, things are tough in every nation of the world. Not just here in the United States. Is our president also to blame for those problems?

I'm aware of dozens of bills that have been vetoed by the president during his four-year term. And I'm likewise aware of how many, if not most, of those bills had pork barrel riders attached which were completely unacceptable to Mr. Bush.

He did right to veto them.

He would not have to veto as many, if the congress would only give him, and presidents to follow him, the right to a line item veto. That would do away with most of that trash that is attached to worthy legislation.

I've stuck to my previous pledge. With the exception of President Bush, I voted against every -- every -- incumbent in the national and state governments who were on this year's general election ballot.

very minor - less than one percent of the annual budget - and said he felt the staff had done an exceptionally good job of managing the budget to finish that close.

Additionally, some $300,000 in interest realized from a long-term investment had been utilized during the year in that department, which had not been budgeted.

A point also was made, that should the council determine any time during the year an excess of revenue was being generated by the rate increase, the rate could and should be lowered.

At the request of Paul Arrington, who is proposing to either lease or purchase a tract of land on the northeast corner of Lake Gordon for a restaurant, any consideration was tabled on the issue until next meeting. Arrington was unable to attend Monday's meeting.

A resolution establishing Red Ribbon Week Oct. 24 through Nov. 1 throughout the community was read by Mayor Wayne House. A similar resolution was adopted last week by the board of trustees.

Red Ribbon Campaign calls for participation in drug education.

The council held a grand prize drawing for a console television, among those who had been named Employee of the Month during the previous fiscal year.

Each month's honoree drew a number, and a corresponding set of numbers then was placed in a box.

The winner was Tammie Coats, who works in the utility billing office. She had been recognized during the month of July.

Other nominees, with the exception of one who was no longer employed by the city, were Lynn Stone, Troy Thaman, Lester Kasparek, Billy Reck, Sue Hatcher, Laura Perkins, Robert Snyder, Sue Goodknight, Michael Frazier and Charlie Wright.

Correction

The Leader incorrectly reported last week that a citation had been issued to Harry Alfred Halstead, 37, following a two-vehicle accident. We regret the error.

Three hurt in accident

An Iowa Park woman and her two young daughters remained in a Wichita Falls hospital yesterday morning after being injured in a one-vehicle accident Tuesday evening in Wichita Falls.

Angela Wright, 24, and daughter Christina, two, were listed in stable condition, while three-year-old Jessica was said to be in critical condition.

The family reportedly lives in the Country View Mobile Home Park.

According to Forrest Murfield, of the Wichita Falls Police Dept. traffic division, Mrs. Wright was travelling north on Loop 11 in the left hand lane when her wheel struck the curb.

Mrs. Wright turned the car to the right and lost control. It jumped the right-hand curb, went across Industrial Drive, and hit a concrete embankment.

Police believe the car then flipped more than once. Both children were ejected from the vehicle and Mrs. Wright was found in the back seat.

Police, when contacted Wednesday morning, had not determined if seat belts had been in use.

Worth Quoting

I wish every reader of this newspaper could see the mountain of mail we get every day from candidates for political office. I say "I wish" because the only way you'll see it is if you come look in my trashcan, and most of you don't feel a need to do that.

I don't blame you.

Incumbents and challengers have set records this year. We get endorsements, charges, countercharges, open letters, documents to back up charges, polls, reprints of articles that ran in other publications, rebuttals to reprints of articles that ran in other publications, whirlwind schedules that don't include our town, announcements of press conferences we couldn't attend if we wanted to, which we don't.

Entire forests of trees have given their lives during this campaign only to improve the quality of paper my five-year-old plucks from the trashcan and doodles on every time she visits my office.

This stuff isn't news. It's campaign literature designed to keep candidates' names in the newspaper while they spend their advertising budgets elsewhere.

When we tell campaign managers we won't run their "news releases" they always sound shocked and hurt. They imply we're ducking our responsibility as reporters if we don't publish every poll, endorsement, charge and countercharge they see fit to send out.

Being so highly ethical, themselves, it grieves them to have to deal with such sleazeball media types. They ask, "Aren't news and advertising departments separate?"

Yes, we answer. News and advertisements are separate. Your releases don't run because they ain't news. The fact that you're not advertising just makes us grouchier.

Last week a campaign manager called to remind us that a certain big-name politician would be landing at an airport in another city to endorse his candidate. It would be a great photo opportunity, he said.

(If endorse meant he was going to turn the candidate over and sign his back, now THAT would be a picture!)

If we came, he said, we could snap a picture and he would have a news release ready to PUT IN MY HAND detailing the entire event.

No kidding? A NEWS RELEASE? You're willing to give me a NEWS RELEASE? How can I thank you?

(I know sarcasm is unbecoming, but we've had more releases this year than the Texas prison system.)

I get a story from Bill Clinton every week, complete with a photo of him doing something like carrying Mother Theresa's robes as she blesses inner-city children. And President Bush recently left his White House job and became a columnist. That's right. His column is sent FREE to all the newspapers in the known world.

A COLUMN? FREE? Oh, thank you! Thank you, sir!
(Opps. There I go again. It's been a long year.)

Around election time, candidates would write our entire newspaper for us if we'd let them. Some even hire newspaper writers to churn these things out. Apparently the possibility that a paper, somewhere, will print this tripe is worth the huge salary it takes to lure a journalist away from his craft.

(There goes that sarcasm again. Sorry.)

It seems to me they could hire an ad person instead, forget the news releases, put their budget into newspapers and get a lot more ink.

Some candidates do advertise in newspapers, of course. I suggest you give them serious consideration. The fact that they advertise in print at all tells you some important things about them.

For one, it means they have something to say that won't fit in a 20-second TV ad or a radio spot. It tells you they want thinking, reading voters instead of somebody who's just zapping the beer commercials during a football game.

It tells you they've got something to say, rather than just something to sell.

And an ad in your local newspaper tells you they care about your concerns -- want your vote -- instead of writing you off and depending on metropolitan voters to carry them into office.

So far, they're making my mind up for me. I can't help believing that the way they treat you before the election indicates how they'll treat you after the election, when they're off in Austin or Washington spending your money.

For further information, see my trashcan.

BOB BUCKEL
Springtown Epigraph

I know there are Ross Perot supporters still around, and at one time I counted myself among his lukewarm fans at least, but now his actions have come to the point of being purely ego driven. All this about the "volunteers" deciding is hokey. You know what they are going to say -- "Run Ross Run." They were saying it when he quit the race the first time.

I just can't imagine the leaders of the Republican and Democrat parties groveling at his feet this week in Dallas trying to get his support.

They must have gone to the restroom and gagged after the meeting.

I'd be willing to bet this about the presidential race. The minute it's over, regardless of who wins, you will not see Ross Perot on any Washington invitation lists.

People are tired of hearing from him.

His most cruel act is to keep dangling hope in front of families of missing Prisoners of War in Southeast Asia and then never coming through with any action.

Talk is cheap, but action is where the rubber meets the road, as Perot is fond of saying, and action on the POW issue from Perot is nothing but talk.

And that's cruel for the thousands of POW families who place their hopes and dreams in him.

ROY EATON

Sometimes a person needs to watch how they string words together to form a sentence.

An area weekly newspaper ran a personal ad last week that was brief and to the point.

"I wish to thank everyone who so kindly assisted in the death of my husband."

Work with Palestinians told

Esther Segler, retired colonel of the Army Nurses Corps, presented a program of narration and slides for the evening Lions Tuesday. She was introduced by Lem Tate.

Mrs. Segler spent two weeks in February of this year in Jerusalem and Bethlehem working with the Palestinians sponsored by the Bethlehem Bible College. She introduced the program with a very interesting B.C. history until the present time when they are living under extreme conditions in the occupied territory that is leading to the breakdown of family life.

She told heart breaking stories related to her by some of the Palestinians of how they and their family members had been imprisoned, denied privileges and necessities without any explanation. Some of her slides attested to that, one of these being a refugee camp on the outskirts of Jerusalem, and also living quarters and environs of many others.

Fortunately, Mrs. Segler had the privilege of visiting some of the places of historical interest. Some slides of special interest were the places where Christ was born, lived and ministered, the Garden of Gethsemane, the tomb where he was buried. Others included Church of All Nations, Kidron Valley, Golged Gate, Jewish burial places, Wailing Wall, Temple Mount, Dome of the Rock, Active Mosque, a nomad village, and many more. One of the unusual things that she saw was a desert in bloom, which is reputed to be a very rare occurrence.

Her husband Lester Segler, a retired Navy officer, was a special guest.

HOW MAY I BECOME A CHRISTIAN?

What are those things which the Lord requires of those who will be saved? The first of these is faith. "Without faith it is impossible to be well-pleasing unto Him; for he that comes to God must believe that He is, and that He is a rewarder of them that seek after Him." (Hebrews 11:6). Christ said, "For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have eternal life." (John 3:16)

A second positive requirement is repentance. In Acts 2:38 Peter said, "Repent and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ unto the remission of your sins, and you shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit." Similarly, Paul said to the Athenians, "the times of ignorance God overlooked; but now He commands men that they should all everywhere repent." (Acts 17:30).

This is the most difficult part in becoming a Christian. Man must bring his stubborn will under control and give his allegiance to God. It involves turning away from all past sins. It involves a positive commitment to follow the Lord wherever He leads. It is relatively easy to do the other commandments that enable God to save one's soul, but the act of turning away from sin is an act that requires tremendous willpower.

A third requirement is that one confess the name of Jesus. Notice that this is not a confession of one's own past sins. Man repents of his past sins, but confesses the name of Christ. Notice also that this is not, as the manual of one of the large churches of our day suggests, the confession "that God for Christ's sake has pardoned your sins." No, this is merely a confession that one believes that he is already saved. Rather the confession required in the New Testament is a confession that one believes in Christ as the Son of God. (Romans 10:8-10; Acts 8:37).

There is one last requirement before one can consider himself a Christian. It is baptism. In Mark 16:16 Jesus said, "He that believes and is baptized shall be saved." Notice that it does not read, "He that believes is saved and should be baptized." To read it in such a fashion would be to change the teaching of the Bible.

Next week we will be looking at action in baptism and the church of your choice.

AUSTIN — Two of the governor's top confidants scrapped publicly over ethics last week, and Texas legislators facing re-election learned they'll face a $3 billion deficit in January.

Senate Finance Committee chairman John Montford, D-Lubbock, told a taxpayers group that despite a $2 billion increase in state revenues, it will take at least $3 billion more to fund other needs.

Meanwhile, former congressman Barbara Jordan, now the ethics advisor to Gov. Ann Richards, stunned everyone when she advised embattled Lena Guerrero to resign if she wins the Railroad Commission election next week.

Guerrero resigned from the commission after she was forced to admit that she had lied for years about having a bachelor's degree from the University of Texas.

"Ethical High Ground"

Richards gave protege Guerrero the first political plum in her "New Texas" administration by appointing her to an unexpired term on the Texas Railroad Commission.

Likewise, the governor honored Jordan by naming her ethics advisor; In 1966, Jordan became the first black woman to serve in the Texas Senate, and later the state's first black woman to serve in Congress.

"In my opinion, if Lena Guerrero is elected, the high ethical ground position would be for Lena Guerrero to resign that seat and allow the governor to have a new appointment," Jordan said.

In a prepared statement, Guerrero said "I have great respect for Barbara Jordan, but I believe that since I have already resigned my seat on the commission, I have placed this matter before the people of Texas."

Hispanics Denounce Jordan

Hispanic leaders across the state criticized Jordan for her anti-Guerrero statement, which came only a day before top independent oil industry leaders endorsed her election.

The timing of Jordan's remarks — and her motivation — had political advisors spinning.

Was Guerrero hurting Clinton in Texas? Was Richards damaged by their friendship? Were black Democrats angling to get one of their own appointed to the railroad commission?

Probably none of the above. Jordan was responding honestly to a reporters question at a press conference on an unrelated matter. She is the ethics advisor, she was asked about ethics, she was doing her job.

Asked if she still supports Guerrero, Gov. Richards said: "I looked down the list and didn't find any attractive alternatives."

Bullet Train Torpedo

The ballyhooed Texas bullet train project, already in financial trouble, faces more hurdles from a coalition of rural lawmakers next session.

One of its leaders, state Rep. Dan Kubiak, D-Rockdale, has drafted a bill to strip the project of its power of eminent domain to condemn farm and ranch land for the track right-of-way.

It would also abolish the high speed rail authority and put the project under the Texas Railroad Commission.

Judicial Campaign Reforms

Chief Justice Tom Phillips of the Texas Supreme Court proposed that basic changes be adopted in the way Texans elect their judges.

Included: limit campaign contributions, such as those imposed on lawmakers and top officials; shorten the campaign season to allow judges to spend more time deciding cases; and tighten financial disclosure requirements and strengthen their public access.

Influence Peddling Charged

Former state parole board chairman James Granberry — now a parole consultant — is reported to be under federal investigation for alleged influence peddling, taking money from prisoners' families for promises of early release.

Granberry denied the charge.

A few weeks ago, he was questioned by a state Senate panel wanting to know if he solicited clients from a confidential list of potential parolees leaked by prison system employees.

Early Voting Double

The pace of early voting in the 1992 election is about double that of the first seven days of extended voting in 1990 in the state's metropolitan counties, figures from the Texas Secretary of State's Office show.

Early voting began Oct. 14. During the first seven days, the number of ballots cast in person (as opposed to mail-in ballots) was more than double the number cast during the same period in 1990 in Houston, Fort Worth and San Antonio.

Other Highlights

■ Sometime after the election, the 15-member State Board of Education will decide whether to approve proposed rules allowing girls to play high school football next year.

■ Houston oil industry giants Oscar Wyatt and J. Patrick Collins endorsed Guerrero in a direct mailing to 8,000 independent oil and gas producers.

■ In preparation for a Nov. 10 special session, Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock last week briefed state senators on a newly-developed plan that would redistribute about $400 million from property-rich school districts to property-poor ones.

To achieve this objective, WTB creates and utilizes a fun atmosphere. Vibrant teaching punctuated with hand movements and laughter, group recitations, and auditorium floors turned into "maps", gives people an overview of the flow of God's Word never before experienced.

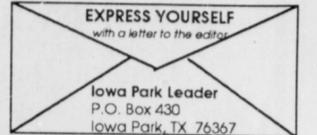

It has been found that its unusual seminars attract even those who have never read the Scriptures.

Seminary graduates find the chronology, events, and people of the Old Testament falling into place in a new easy to understand and easy to remember pattern.

Coordinated from WTB's International Headquarters in Atlanta, Ga., these seminars are in demand and are being taught all over the United States, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, Singapore, Spain, Germany, England, Brazil and Spanish-speaking Latin America.

Dear Friends:

I firmly believe that public office is a sacred trust...a contract between the office holder and the people that requires the elected official to honestly and effectively represent the people's interest.

In 1988, the people of District 30 placed their trust in me and I have honored that trust by working hard to represent our district to the best of my ability.

In just four short years we have accomplished a lot by working together. Together, we have improved access to health care. Together, we have brought new prisons to the 30th District and have become leaders in the fight against crime. Together, we've helped create jobs and economic opportunities and worked to improve the quality of life for our senior citizens and our children. Together, we have made a good start toward a better tomorrow. But the job is not finished. We must continue to make our best case in Austin on the issues most vital to us.

As state senator, I'll continue to listen to the needs and concerns of our district and I'll keep on fighting to claim our fair share.

I want to keep working as your Senator. I ask for your vote, your support, and your prayers in this effort. Together, we can build a brighter future for all Texans.

Sincerely,
Steven A. Carriker

Friday's 21-20 conference loss indicates how closely matched Iowa Park and Breckenridge were. The closeness was also carried out in the final statistics. And in such close contests, it's usually the breaks that spell the difference. In this game, played between two long-time rivals who were 1-6 before the opening kickoff, it was a blocked punt and a dropped pass.

Turnovers in the opening quarters earned the Buckaroos a 14-0 lead before the teams switched ends of the field. The first lighting of the scoreboard was set up by a fumbled handoff, covered by the Bucks on the Hawk 39. Seven plays later, Breckenridge was on top, 6-0, thanks to a missed extra point kick.

The other TD came less than two minutes later, when Breck's Klifton Boggs blocked Tony Lozipone's punt. He hardly broke stride as he scooped the ball up and dashed about 40 yards to the end zone. A pass accounted for the two additional points.

The dropped pass play was on a two-point conversion attempt, after Iowa Park scored its third touchdown with only 3:26 remaining in the contest.

Jason Miller, who had remained on the sidelines until two plays earlier, was at quarterback. On the extra point attempt, he took the snap from center, rolled to his right on a pass-run option play, and spotted tight end Jason Dudley with no defender nearer than five feet. He launched the aerial straight toward Dudley's jersey numbers. But the big senior bobbled the ball and it fell to the turf.

Iowa Park was quick to respond to the visitor's 14-0 lead. Five plays after Don Ellis had returned the kickoff to the Hawk 44, the starting quarterback, Brent Brown, started to his right, stopped, looked back across the field and hit runningback Mark Tatum. The speedy senior exhibited some nifty running and quickly covered the 65 yards needed to get Iowa Park on the scoreboard.

Ellis kicked the extra point to end the scoring in the first half.

Ellis' kickoff to start the second half was intentionally high and short. It was bobbled by a Breck lineman, and Jason Hudson claimed it on the Buck 35.

Ellis picked up five, Brown skirted his right end 21 yards to the nine, and Tatum added another yard. Then, Brown sprinted around his left end to score, and Ellis' kick tied the game at 14-14.

Breckenridge threatened to score on its next possession, but the Hawk defense stiffened, allowing only two yards on four attempts from the five yard line.

An interception early in the final period set Breckenridge up for its final score of the evening, at Iowa Park's 46. A seven-play drive, highlighted by a 25-yard pass, was capped by a one-yard dive. The extra point kick was good, giving Breckenridge a 21-14 lead.

The Hawks again responded quickly. Starting from their own 22, Scott Byrd ran three consecutive plays, picking up 11 yards.

Miller then was injected into the contest, and was run out of bounds after a six-yard gain. The officials ruled he was hit out of bounds, and a 15-yard penalty took the ball to Breck's 47.

On the next play, Tatum shook off two or three tacklers after breaking over the line of scrimmage, and outran the defense to the end zone, for his second TD of the night.

Tatum, who had carried only five times before -- and that was in the season opener against Burkburnett before he was injured -- was handed the ball 15 times against the Buckaroos. He finished with 103 yards rushing. His TD reception was the only pass completed by Iowa Park in the game.

Breckenridge picked up a couple of first downs after Iowa Park's last score, to run out the remaining 3:26 of the contest.

PEE WEE EAGLES 46 SHEPPARD COWBOYS 18

Holliday's Pee Wee Eagles won an offensive struggle Saturday in a game highlighted by long touchdown runs and turnovers.

The Eagle victory earned them a share of the Top 'O Texas League championship with Quanah and Sheppard. Each team finished with 6-1 records.

Holliday will play Quanah, the only team to best them all year, at 2 p.m. Saturday at Griffith Field in Iowa Park, in the first round of the playoffs.

The Cowboys opened the scoring after recovering an Eagle fumble at the Holliday 40. A 25-yard scamper on the second play did the trick. The extra point attempt failed.

But Holliday quickly countered, when Cody Leggett capped a 45-yard drive with a two-yard plunge. The two-pointer was scored by B.J. Szymanski, giving Holliday an 8-6 lead.

That was shortlived, however, because Sheppard racked up a 58-yard touchdown run. Again the extra point failed.

Sheppard successfully executed an on-sides kickoff, but the half expired before the Cowboys could score again.

Szymanski erased the Cowboys' lead at the opening of the second half, when he raced 78 yards for a touchdown, and then tacked on the two-pointer.

But the Cowboys went ahead 18-16 on a 50-yard run, but again missed on the extra point.

Sheppard again covered its on-sides kickoff, but quickly fumbled possession. That set up Leggett's second TD of the game, when he scored from 29 yards out. The extra point failed, leaving the score 22-18 in favor of the Eagles.

Derrick Watson sent Holliday further ahead with a run from the 11, and Leggett tacked on the conversion to send the Eagles to a 30-18 advantage.

Szymanski scored once more, on a 46-yard run, and Adam Getts caught a pass for the two extra points.

The final points were scored by Leggett, who ran 27 yards into the end zone and then scored the PAT.

EAGLE MIDGETS 30 SHEPPARD REDSKINS 6

Holliday's Midget Eagles advanced to the playoffs for the first time in six years, by defeating the Sheppard Redskins Saturday, 30-6.

The passing of Jeremy Crouch and a stingy defense were credited for the victory.

Holliday will take on undefeated Quanah at 4 p.m. Saturday, also at Griffith Field.

Cheerleaders' Point of View

This week the Hawks travel to Graham to take on the Steers. We would like for everyone to come and support the Hawks Friday night at 7:30.

The cheerleaders invite everyone to the gym at 2:50 this Friday for the pep rally. This week's theme is crazy hat day. The student body is asked to wear a hat to show their Hawk Spirit.

Good luck to the band this Saturday, as they travel to Fort Worth for the UIL Area marching competition after receiving a I last Saturday at Memorial Stadium.

BIG CAT - Clarence Pipes said he caught this 40-pound catfish on a rod and reel while fishing off the dam at Lake Buffalo Tuesday. Because it took him about two hours to land it, Pipes believed his line was hooked on a stump. Witnesses were Toby Whitaker and James Frazier.

JV, Frosh sweep Bucks

Iowa Park's Junior Varsity and Freshman Hawks swept Breckenridge in a doubleheader last Thursday.

The JV racked up three touchdowns in the second quarter and coasted to a 26-22 decision, while the Frosh shut out their hosts by a 12-0 margin.

Iowa Park actually had to come from behind in their winning effort, as Breckenridge led 7-6 going into the second period.

Chad Simpson had Iowa Park's initial quarter touchdown. He scored again in the second, as did Jason Young and Bowie Farr.

Shane Bagley posted Iowa Park's first touchdown in the Freshman game, in the second quarter.

Then, in the fourth period, David Cantu broke through the Buckaroo defense, blocked a punt, picked it up and ran it in for the other touchdown.

The teams will host Graham today in Hawk Stadium, with the Frosh kicking off at 5 p.m.

Beef checkoff program gaining in participation

Total dollars collected by the Texas Beef Industry Council (TBIC) in 1990-91 for the $1 per head beef checkoff program are lower than in any fiscal year since the checkoff program began.

Yet more Texas beef producers reported checkoff dollars paid to TBIC in the same period.

That's one interesting bit of information contained in TBIC's recently released annual report for the fiscal year ending Sept. 30, 1991.

The annual report also lists total checkoff dollars paid by Texas beef producers to fund national programs of research, education and promotion of beef. It summarizes national expenditures. It reports on national programs that TBIC extended into Texas in the last fiscal year.

But outside the facts and figures, the TBIC annual report offers important information about the state of the Texas beef industry. An example is the disparity between record high compliance and record low collections of checkoff dollars in the 1990-91 fiscal year.

"Reporting of checkoff dollars by individual beef producers increased 11 percent this year," says TBIC Executive Director Anne I. Anderson. "Required reporting by collection sites (packers, dealer/order buyers, auction markets and feedyards) also increased by 15 percent."

TBIC further verifies compliance through TBIC's random audits of collection sites. These audits are required by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the Beef Board, the national organization that administers the beef checkoff program.

The 1990-91 audits were conducted on three dealer/order buyers, two feedyards, two packers, two auction markets and one sales manager. Each company was randomly selected through a computer program.

The results of the audit showed overall high compliance with the checkoff program. Only one audited site proved to have a significant amount of delinquent checkoff dollars. Texas BIC collections and compliance staff members are working with the management of this site to collect the checkoff dollars owed.

Ironically, though, despite record high compliance, the annual report shows collections in 1990-91 were down two percent from a year earlier. They were down 12 percent from 1986-87, the first year of the checkoff program.

The difference, Anderson said, suggests that producers have begun keeping cattle for longer periods of time.

When marketing conditions favor retained ownership of cattle through the feedyard, the average head changes ownership less frequently. Beef producers check off only when they sell or trade cattle.

Lower collections also may indicate Texas producers are placing more heifers in the breeding herd. A buildup of heifers is a key sign that Texas' cattle population will increase within the next two years as these heifers give birth.

For the checkoff program's immediate future, these marketing trends mean producers will sell fewer cattle or retain ownership for longer periods of time. That may mean a few more years of lower checkoff revenues in Texas.

Beef producers will discover additional surprising facts in the latest annual report.

Did you know Texas falls below the national average in the percent of beef offered for sale in retail meat cases? Yet it is above the national average in the percent of beef offered as entrees on Texas restaurant menus.

That information is contained in the TBIC foodservice/retail benchmark study that is reviewed in the annual report.

The benchmark study may indicate Texas consumers are ordering their beef through menus more often than they are preparing it at home.

Anderson said producers will find the report easy to read because it categorizes checkoff activities in Texas by the month.

This format allows producers to observe the broad range of activities conducted by the TBIC during a fiscal year.

New air quality rules affect small businesses

Tens of thousands of small businesses (less than 100 employees) which previously were exempt from air pollution may now be required to undergo air quality permitting.

This is one of the findings in a report released recently by the Texas Research League.

The report, the first in a study requested by Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock, says, "Although some small businesses may be big polluters, the new requirements probably will come as an unpleasant surprise for them."

The Austin-based public policy research organization says the new requirements are mandated by the Federal Clean Air Act Amendments of 1990 (CAAA).

The League report says that many small firms in Texas are unaware of the new rules and that they do not understand the regulatory structure and how it affects them.

The league points out that the CAAA directs the states to establish small business assistance programs to help small companies (SBAP) comply with the new rules.

Texas is among the first states to develop a SBAP with the creation of the Texas Air Control Board's (TACB) new program.

The report notes that in addition to the SBAP, the TACB has established an ombudsman's office to aid small businesses in coping with the rules and dealing with the agency.

A toll-free small business assistance hotline (1-800-824-7247) is now available.

TBIC mailed approximately 5,000 annual reports to individuals and companies who work with producers. These include collection points, county extension offices, and selected radio, television and print media.

Individual Texas beef producers who would like a copy may request it from the Texas Beef Industry Council, Attn. Richard Wortham, 8310 Capital of Texas Hwy. N., Ste. 440, Austin, Tx.

AARP seeks tax aide

The American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) Tax Aide volunteers are trained in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.

From Feb. 1 through April 15 each year, more than 27,000 volunteers help over 1.3 million people file tax returns at 9,500 sites.

In preparation for the coming tax season, volunteers interested in helping the elderly with their income tax are being recruited by AARP. Adults of all ages can volunteer in this program.

Membership in AARP is not a criteria, only an interest in helping older persons. Volunteers' minimum time requirement is only four hours weekly during February, March and April.

Three volunteer positions where you can be a part of Tax Aide success: Counselor, to provide one-on-one help to older taxpayers; Instructor, to train counselors about income tax information and tax return preparation, Coordinator, to supervise and direct Tax Aide program activities at local levels.

AARP is the nation's leading organization for people age 50 and over. It serves their needs and interests through legislative advocacy, research, informative programs and community services provided by a network of local chapters and experienced volunteers throughout the country.

The organization also offers seniors a wide range of special membership benefits, including Modern Maturity magazine and the monthly Bulletin.

To apply for an AARP Tax Aide volunteer position, write Arthur Baker, 1526 Mesquite, Wichita Falls, Tx., 76302.

Social Security trying to get the message out

Social Security is trying hard to get the word out about a program that can save some people hundreds of dollars each year in Medicare premiums and other expenses. These people are low income Medicare beneficiaries and the program is called Qualified Medicare Beneficiary, or the QMB program. Under a two-year-old federal program, elderly Americans living at or near the federal poverty level are eligible to receive all Medicare programs free. The QMB pays the monthly premium for Medicare (Part B) medical insurance coverage, which is currently $31.80 a month, and may help pay for other out of pocket Medicare costs. You could be eligible for QMB if you have (or are eligible for) Medicare hospital insurance, and if your income and resources are low enough to meet state requirements for "Medicaid," the health insurance program run by state welfare agencies for low-income people. There are a lot of people who do not know they are qualified, said Gregory White, Social Security District Manager, in Wichita Falls. In general the requirements are that your annual income is near or below the 1992 national poverty guidelines of $6,810 for one person, or $9,190 for a family of two; and That your resources, such as bank accounts or stocks any not exceed $4,000 for one person or $9,190 for a family of two. White said that "resources" does not mean everything you own. For example, the house you live in doesn't count as a resource, and in most cases, you car doesn't count either. Only the Department of Human Resources can determine if you are eligible for help from the QMB program.

Card of Thanks

Our heartfelt thanks to all of the people who gave prayers, visits, food and flowers to our family during our time of sorrow and loss of our beloved husband, father, grandfather and great-grandfather, Emmett W. Wood.

To all our friends who helped us get through this difficult time. This sadness was a lot easier to bear knowing there were people like you that took time to say how much you cared.

A special thanks to Pastor Mark Mitchell of Kama Baptist Church, to Ronnie and Shirley Cravens, to all the crew of Lifeline Ambulance, who gave all their effort. Also a very special thanks to Officer Jessie Frazier of Iowa Park Police Department, who took the time to remember us with a visit. May God bless you all.

Toll-free hotline for public input

A state-wide toll-free citizen hotline has been expanded for citizen input in general audit areas, according to Larry Alwin, state auditor.

Citizens can use the number to provide information and ideas regarding the operations of state agencies and universities relating to waste, abuse and inefficient operations.

1-800-TX-AUDIT was installed in June to receive citizen input on the Management Audit for Public Schools (MAPS) in Texas.

Alwin said, "Citizen tips on the MAPS project were of tremendous benefit, and we plan to use 1-800-TX-AUDIT to benefit other audit projects and to assist in identifying new areas of concern to citizens and legislators."

The auditor's office is an agency of the legislative branch and serves as the independent auditor for Texas state government. It provides citizens, legislators and management with useful information about the operations of state government.

The new hotline will be staffed from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. An answering machine will record detailed messages after regular office hours and on weekends.

SNB recognizes employees

Participants in the summer physical fitness program at State National Bank were recognized at a recent presentation during a staff conference. President Gene Jordan presented seven staff members with screen printed sweat shirts in recognition of their completing three months of aerobic exercises. The minimum level of exercise was three times per week, with a duration of 20 or more minutes. Special recognition went to Lorene Callahan, for being the top "fitness achiever." Mrs. Callahan, who clocked 110 miles walking at an average rate of 13.5 minutes per mile during the 12-week program, received a plaque. Other employees receiving recognition, and their exercises, included:

Violet Myers, biking and walking; Janis Latimer, walking and stationary biking; Shirley Reeves, walking; Billye Shook, treadmill, walking and stationary biking; Michelle Wells, walking, and Don Decker, biking and jogging. The fitness program was aimed at boosting morale by developing a healthier workforce with positive feelings about themselves and what they are doing. All participants indicated they have continued with their exercises, after the summer program ended.
