

FOR RESTAURANT

City to sell lake property

The city council voted to take necessary actions that could lead to building of a new restaurant near the shore of Lake Gordon, during Monday night's meeting.

During the past few months, studies have been made on the best way to respond to a request from Paul Arrington to either lease or sell part of the city-owned land on the northeast corner of the lake.

Complicating the process was the fact that North Park Ave. had never been officially closed, though also never developed.

When a street's right of way is abandoned, half the land reverts to the owners of property on the sides of the right of way. In this case, the east side of the tract belongs to the Lakeview Church of God.

Arrington told the council he had met with officials of the church, and they had agreed to sell their portion of the street to him, if it were closed.

The city's land involved, including its share of the right of way, would be 200 feet from north to south and 37.8 feet wide, Arrington told the council.

Aldermen voted on the proposal, and it was passed on a 4-1 decision. Alderman Bob Hamilton voted against it.

Hamilton, prior to the vote, had asked "Are we sure the city will never need that tract of land in the future?"

Mayor Wayne House, after the vote, explained to Arrington that the city would have to advertise for bids on the land, because it was estimated to be valued at more than $5,000.

Arrington, a postal carrier, told the council he would like to commence construction within the next two months so it would be ready for business by spring.

He told the council his plans call for tables to be next to windows in the elongated structure, so they would have full view of the lake.

He said parking would be on the west and south sides of the building, and recognized the fact that he would be responsible for installing utilities, including a sewer lift station.

Administrator Gary Jones told the council of details from meetings held concerning the city's participation in a multi-city sanitary landfill project.

Other cities initially expressing interest in the project are Burkburnett, where the proposed landfill would be located, Vernon and Electra, with the possible addition of Henrietta.

Jones explained funds were necessary for the study's completion. He has completed the paperwork for a state grant to fund the study, and if it is not approved, the city's cost could run slightly over $6,000.

The study was not in the current year's budget, Jones said.

Council members approved a proposal to advertise and accept bids for the purchase of a dump truck.

The mayor read and later presented

Stolen pickup found at lake

A new pickup with an estimated value of $18,000 was found Tuesday at Lake Buffalo, almost completely demolished.

The 1993 Chevrolet truck was reportedly taken some time Saturday night or Sunday morning from the Herb Easley dealership in Wichita Falls.

Chief Ray Smock said he learned of the vehicle's whereabouts about the same time he was notified by personnel from the dealership that they had located it.

In fact, Smock said an unidentified woman had left the vehicle's keys at the police station, that same day.

Someone had driven the vehicle to the far north end of the lake, slightly more than a mile north of the lake entrance off Van Horn Road, Smock said.

Apparently not satisfied with having broken out all the windows, knocking off all knobs inside and out and otherwise defacing the vehicle, an attempt to set it afire was made, but the weeds around it were too green and wet, Smock said.

Because the theft originated in Wichita Falls, police from that city are conducting the investigation. Some students at Iowa Park High School are suspects, police said.

Three arrests made during the past week were listed on the police blotter. Two of them were on warrants issued by the Wichita County Sheriff's Office.

After stopping a vehicle in the 100 block of South Victoria at 12:29 a.m. Saturday, a criminal check was run on the driver.

It was determined the driver, Richard Allen Young, 34, was wanted by the sheriff's department for possession of marijuana. He was detained until being turned over to a deputy at 2:02 a.m.

Police and a sheriff's deputy took another man into custody, after learning the suspect had been seen at 4:10 p.m. Sunday in the area of the restroom in city hall park.

The suspect, Allen Little, was wanted on an outstanding warrant on a charge of retaliation, issued by the sheriff's department.

A third arrest also was included on the week's blotter.

When police responded to a reported civil disturbance in the 100 block of West Emerald Friday evening, they took Kristy Malinda Haynes, 21, into custody on a family violence assault charge.

She was later released after posting a $71.50 bond, police said.

A male juvenile was turned over to his mother Saturday afternoon after having been accused of shoplifting baseball cards at a local business.

Sales tax report glowing

Iowa Park is the only city in Wichita County that is experiencing double-digit increases in sales tax receipts, according to this month's report from the state comptroller's office.

The city's check from the state this month was $25,057.06, a 48.42-percent increase over the same month in 1991.

And, for the year, local businesses have generated 21.74 percent more sales taxes than for the same period last year: $193,018.41 as compared to $158,550.10, according to the report.

Burkburnett's check was 4.04 percent less than this month in 1991, and is showing only a 1.33-percent increase for the year.

Both Electra and Wichita Falls are on the plus side of the ledger for the year: 3.51 and 5.81 percent, respectively.

Neighboring Holliday continues to experience a decrease in sales taxes, when compared with 1991.

Trustees to consider request for transfer, waiver of tuition

The regular monthly meeting of the school board was re-scheduled from Tuesday to tonight, according to Supt. Glen Mitchell.

The meeting was originally posted to be held Tuesday, but because of a conflict with high school basketball, it was moved to 7:30 this evening, in the junior high library.

Highlights of the meeting agenda include an appearance by parents requesting a waiver of tuition, an executive session concerning personnel, and a report by the superintendent on the "Fair Share School Finance Plan."

Mr. and Mrs. Bennett Brookshire are asking that the tuition fee be waived and also approve a transfer so their three children can resume attending schools here.

The couple met with the board last month, but no action could be taken because it was not on the official agenda.

They explained they had rented a home just across the road that divides the Iowa Park district from City View, but were unaware they had left the district where their children had always attended.

School buses from both districts pass in front of their home, they explained.

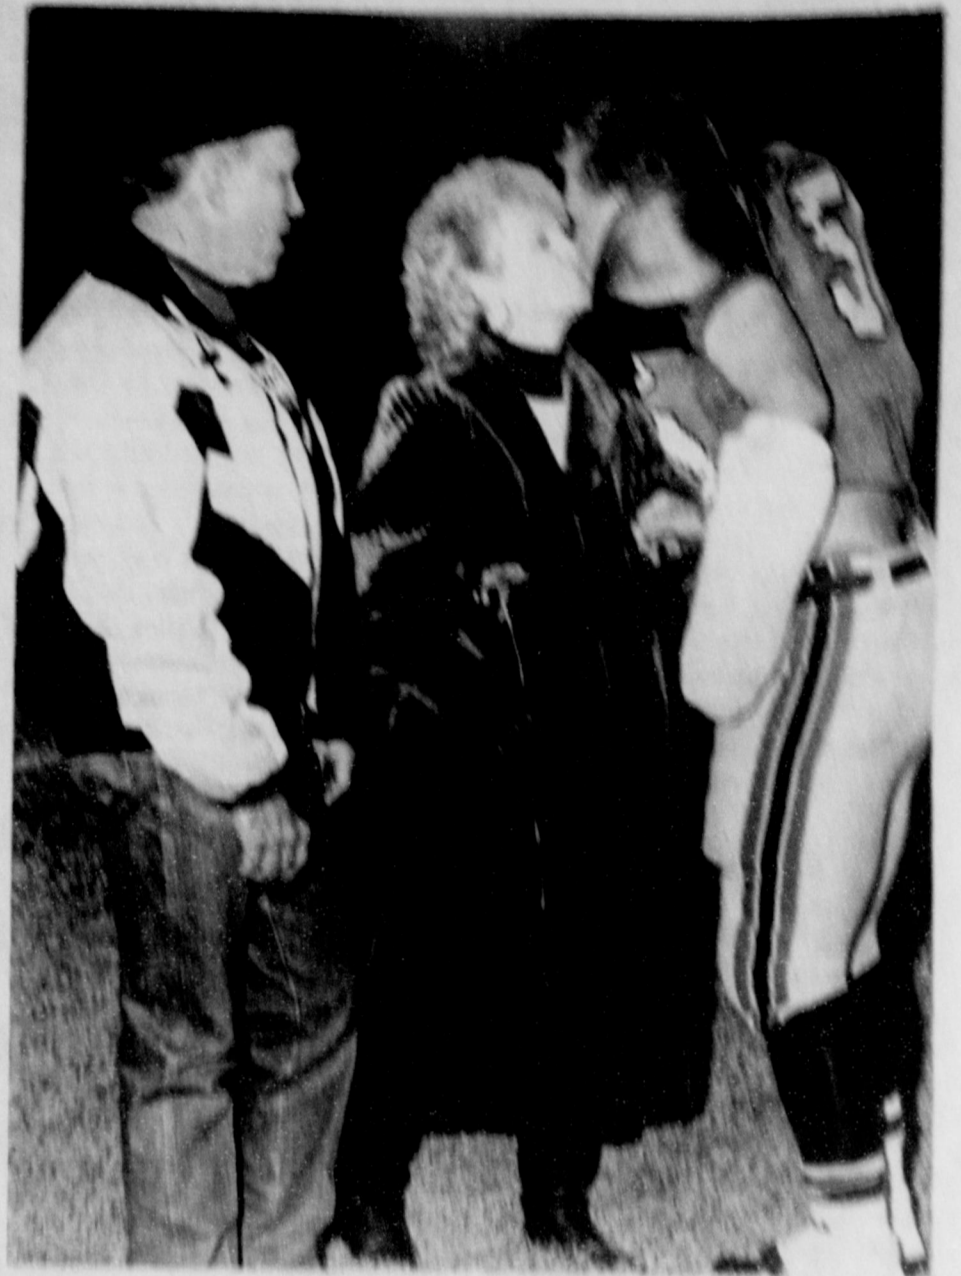

The district's policy has been to not accept transfers from any districts, other than City View which has no high school, except students who are children of school employees not residing in the district.

Supt. Mitchell is to report on a meeting he attended Monday in Austin, where the proposed new public school funding program was explained.

Also on the meeting agenda are: appointing a representative of the district and city to the county appraisal

Chamber election Monday

Election of officers and a talk by a noted North Texas economist will highlight Monday's all-membership luncheon meeting of the Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce.

The annual event will be held at 11:45 a.m. in the Recreational Activities Center.

Cost of the catered meal will be $5.75 per person, and reservations should be made at the Chamber office, 592-5441, by Friday.

Officers and directors are elected at the annual meeting. They will be installed during the annual banquet in January, according to President Gene Jordan.

Dr. Yoshi Fukasawa, economics professor at Midwestern State Univ. in Wichita Falls, will be the keynote luncheon speaker.

His topic reportedly will center on economic prospects of the area, primarily effected by the increase in personnel at Sheppard AFB and construction of the state prison. Entertainment will be provided by the show choir from Iowa Park High School.

Deadline nears for free turkeys

Shoppers have until Tuesday to register for free turkeys being given away for Thanksgiving by Iowa Park businesses.

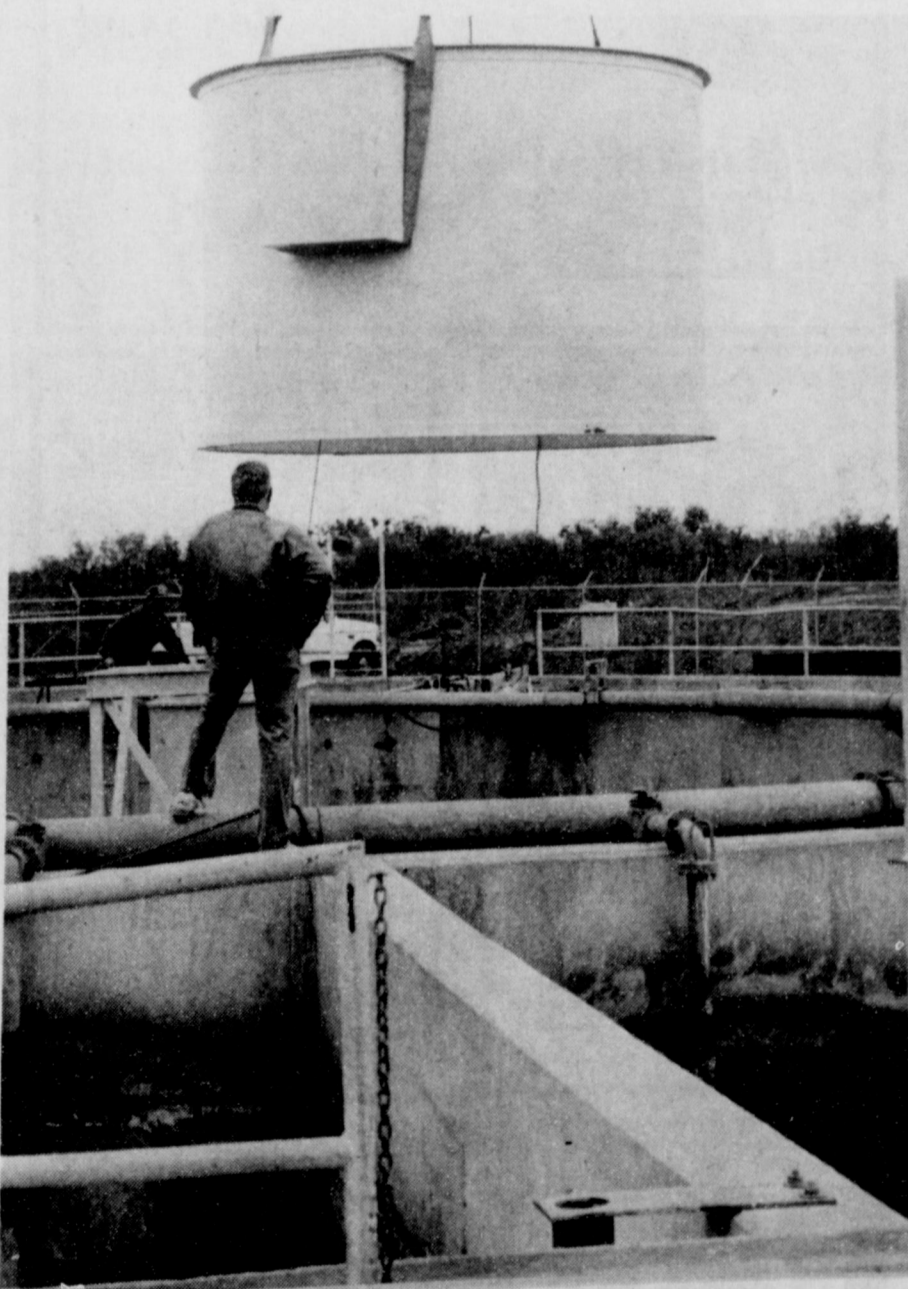

The promotion, sponsored for the first time last year by the Chamber of Commerce, proved to be so well received that it is being held again.

No purchases are necessary, and you do not have to be present to win.

The drawings will be held Tuesday afternoon, and a complete list of winners will be published in next week's issue of the Iowa Park Leader.

PROJECT COMPLETED - The city's sewage treatment plant renovations were completed Tuesday, and put into full operation Wednesday. Virtually all the metal working parts of the plant were replaced. Administrator Gary Jones is shown observing part of the process Sunday afternoon. This was the first time the plant was shut down for such work since it was put into operation 20 years ago.

More than 'sprinkle' needed

Iowa Park received "just a sprinkle" of moisture early Wednesday morning, but the forecast presstime had the hopes of everyone in the area raised.

The city has not received a measurable amount of precipitation since Sept. 3, when .34 was recorded, according to records kept by Virgil Woodfin.

Moisture -- or the lack of it -- has been as common a topic as politics in conversations the past month or more.

Farmers and ranchers are especially in need of precipitation. Besides their sown wheat reaching a critical stage, stock tanks for animals are almost empty.

Besides homeowners in the city being concerned about their fall gardens and yards, there is another major concern.

The soil has become so dry, it is constricting and pulling water and sewer lines apart, according to Mike Price, public works director. He says his crews have been kept extremely busy making repairs in every section of the city.

Cubs to collect food for needy

Cub Scout Pack 7 of Iowa Park will be participating in a community service project, "Scouting for Food."

The Scouts will be distributing food bags this Saturday, beginning at 10 a.m. Residents are asked to fill the bags with non-perishable food items for the Iowa Park Food Bank. All food donations stay in Iowa Park.

People making donations are asked to leave the filled bags on their doorstep by 10 a.m. on Saturday, Nov. 21, and they will be picked up by the Cub Scouts.

Dutton speaks at combined meeting of Study Clubs

Larry Dutton, vice president of the Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce, was guest speaker for the Federation Day joint meeting of the Amity, 23 and Philia Study Clubs Monday evening. The meeting was held at Tom Burnett Memorial Library.

Amy Brown, president of Amity Study Club conducted the business meeting. She introduced the Double Quarto of the North Texas Men's Chorus, who sang a medley of secular and religious songs.

Colleen Roberts of the 23 Study Club led the pledge to the American flag and Joyce Rentschler of the same club gave the meditation.

Pat Raby, a member of Philia Study Club led the club collect. Group singing of "God Bless America" was led by Raydean Mattis, a member of Philia Study Club.

Marilyn Hale of the Amity Study Club gave the Federation Counselor's Report on the project SOAR (Stories Offer Adventure-Read).

Dutton, who will serve as Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce president in 1993, spoke on "Needs and Goals for Iowa Park".

He covered past activities of the chamber; reviewed the City of Iowa Park brochure now in process that the chamber is sponsoring with local businesses and showed the new city map, and presented his goals for the coming year.

Among his goals is an increased membership. The chamber now has 49 businesses, two non-profit businesses, 13 individuals, and gained 10 new businesses this year.

Dutton said the State of Texas Comptroller of Public Accounts lists 262 business in Iowa Park, and that the list is not complete.

He said the chamber is proposing an increased 1993 budget to $13,726, which will constitute a 10 percent increase in dues, with projected expenses of $12,468. Currently dues are $120 per year for businesses and $24 a year for individuals.

Another goal is to have a full time chamber office, with hours from 9 a.m. until 4:30 or 5 p.m., instead of the current 10 a.m. until 3 p.m.

Dutton also wants to replace the marquee at the boulevard on Park Street that was removed by the City of Iowa Park.

Urging support of the chamber of commerce, Dutton said, "With the help of all clubs, organizations and citizens we can create a much more desirable place to live and have a chamber that really works for all."

"If everyone would support local businesses by purchasing everything they can here, they would in turn create more jobs and a better tax base for Iowa Park. Don't put Wichita Falls or any other city ahead of Iowa Park, your hometown".

In reviewing the 1992 year Dutton said the chamber promoted Iowa Park in a variety of ways including answering correspondence from prospective new residents and new businesses; maintaining a welcome service for new residents; helping the local United Way campaign; organizing and holding the 21st annual Whoop-T-Do; holding ribbon cutting and ground breaking ceremonies to welcome new business, and sponsoring annual Clean-up Week, among many other activities.

Club members brought food for the Iowa Park Food Bank.

Philia Club members served sandwiches, cookies and punch.

Friendship Class installs officers

The members of the Friendship Class of First Baptist Church held a salad supper and installation service Tuesday evening at the church. Pink and purple, the class colors, provided inspiration for the table decor of runners, flowers and candles.

Mrs. Eleanor Bell, class teacher, conducted the installation service using "I Have A Vision" for the theme. She was assisted by Mrs. Carl McKinnon, assistant teacher. Each one installed received slips of paper marked with "I Have A Vision" pin that contained her duties, then reminded her to really have a vision and a place to help as God's servant.

Those installed included Mmes. O.S. McLemore, outreach-evangelism chairman; Roy Smith, assistant outreach - evangelism chairman; J.T. Parker, secretary; E.T. Patterson, treasurer and prayer leader; Miss Helen Reed, corresponding secretary and fellowship leader.

Others installed were Mmes. Homer Blalock, reporter; C. Davis, Parker, F.L. McCoy, M.E. Goforth and Blalock, care group leaders.

Following the service, Mrs. Patterson read an article "Much Obligated Lord," distributed new year-books and presented Mrs. Bell with a book "My Utmost For His Highest."

Mildred and Charlie Metz

Metz' receive 50-year pins

Charlie and Mildred Metz were honored Monday when they were presented with 50-year pins and certificates by Iowa Park Chapter 42, Order of the Eastern Star.

Avis Wilson, a member, made the presentation at the home of the couple.

Mildred was initiated on April 24, 1941, and participated in the ceremony when Charlie was initiated on July 14, 1942.

Mildred was Worthy Matron in 1947-1948, and there were 13 initiation during that year. During the time of the Texas City disaster, the Chapter responded with contributions. As one of her projects, she and the membership sold lunches at the Texas-Oklahoma Fair in Iowa Park. She and her officers conducted an Eastern Star funeral for Julia Cain, The "Mother of the Chapter." Mildred welcomed and provided the program for the Worthy Grand Matron and Worthy Grand Patron of the Grand Chapter of Texas.

Mildred has been an active member of the 23 Study Club for many years, and is well known for her porcelain paintings.

Charlie has been Worshipful Master of Iowa Park Lodge #713, A.F. & A.M., three times, in 1943, 1944, and 1952. He was honored with a 50-Year Award, presented on April 12, 1990. In 1991, the Grand Lodge of Texas presented him with the Golden Trowel Award for exceptional service.

He was a member of the Iowa Park City Council from 1949 until 1957, and was Mayor from 1960 to 1968. He was named Senior Citizen of the Year in 1979, during the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet. Charlie also served in two wars. He was in France in 1918, and was a SeeBee in 1942. He was the owner of Metz's Cafe, a memorable part of Iowa Park's history.

The Metz's have two daughters, Bonnie (Mrs. Jim Medlinger) of Iowa Park and Charlene (Mrs. Doyle Tate) of Pass Christian, Miss. They have six grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Card of Thanks

Our family would like to thank everyone who showed such concern when Clint was injured. All the prayers, calls, cards, donations and acts of kindness will long be remembered.

Special thanks to Mark Mitchell and Kamay Baptist Church, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Williamson, Larry and Jackie Godwin, Larry Dutton and State National Bank.

Also those who organized the benefit for Clint: Pete and Marlene Ermis, Larry and Ginger Beisch, Ray Gholson, Lyn Gilmore and Jimmy Howell. Also the Yellow Rose Band, Valley View 4-H and all the others who worked so hard to put it all together.

Our hearts have been deeply touched by the good people of Kamay, Valley View and Iowa Park, our family, friends and neighbors. We will remember your thoughtfulness always.

Mrs. Dwain Holmes

Winnie Joe and Dwain Holmes have traveled all over the United States and the world, and have lived in many interesting places, but they always feel like they have come home when they return to Iowa Park.

Both of them grew up at Kamay and graduated from school at Valley View. Winnie's dad worked for an oil company, and Dwain's dad owned the telephone company at Kamay.

They married in 1944 and while Dwain was serving in the Navy, Winnie lived in Wichita Falls and sold ladies' shoes at the Patricia Shop. When they moved to Iowa Park in 1950, Dwain was working for his father at the telephone company. Then he went to work as an engineer for REA when they changed to the dialing system. In 1960, Dwain opened the Western Auto Store in Iowa Park and ran it until 1965, when he went back into engineering.

Winnie has had a number of interesting jobs. She has worked as a customer service representative in the BX at Sheppard AFB; worked for attorneys in East Texas and at Andrews in West Texas; was secretary for the Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce, and worked for a trucking company in Oklahoma.

While they were living in San Antonio, Winnie attended San Antonio College and received her realtor's license. She has worked two years as a full-time realtor for Regency One in Iowa Park.

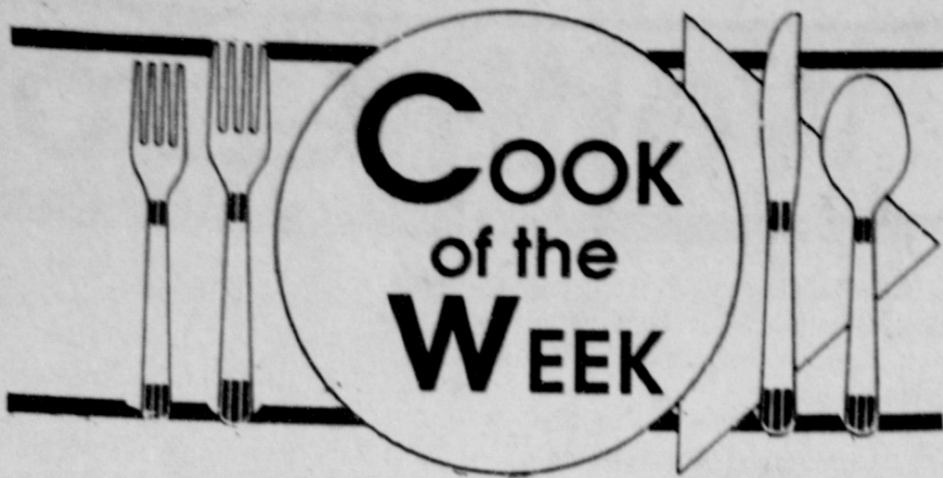

The Holmes have two daughters, Judy who lives in High Point, N.C. and has two sons and a daughter, and Diane, who lives in McKinney and has a daughter.

Dwain's work has taken him all over the world to such places as Oman, Saudi Arabia, Guam, Saipan, Hawaii and Alaska.

Winnie lived in Oman five years while Dwain was working there. They traveled to India, Holland, France and England. She said that India is the most beautiful country she has ever seen, but Holland is her favorite.

In her spare time, Winnie likes to sew - she does a lot of sewing for her granddaughters, and she likes to work in the yard.

While her daughters were in school, Winnie was president of PTA, a member of the library board, and the Jaycettes, but now she prefers to take it easy and doesn't belong to any organizations. She is a member of First Baptist Church.

Many of Winnie's recipes are from a cookbook she purchased while living in Oman. She said that many food items she was used to cooking with could not be found, and the recipes called for ingredients that were available.

She said that "Hummus," a dip used with pita bread was very popular when served at parties in Oman, and the recipe for "Chicken Breast" is good for dinner parties. The "Mayonnaise Cake" is one of her family's favorite desserts.

Hummus

(A dip for Arab or Pita Bread)
1 cup chick peas, cooked soft
1/2 cup Taheeni (sesame oil) or corn oil
3/4 Tbsp. lemon or lime juice
3/4 tsp. salt
2 cloves garlic

Pour lemon juice into blender. Slowly add oil, crushed garlic and salt. Gradually add chick peas, a few at a time, and blend very smooth. Serve from small bowl and garnish with parsley leaves. Cut Pita bread into pieces.

Dhall

1 med. onion
8 ozs. lentils
4 Tbsps. margarine
1/2 tsp. chili powder
1/2 tsp. turmeric
1 chicken bouillon cube
Boiling water
Salt

Peel and chop onion. Wash lentils. Melt margarine in a medium-sized saucepan. Add onion and fry 3 to 4 minutes, until soft. Stir in chili powder and turmeric; cook 1 minute. Add lentils.

Dissolve bouillon cube in 1 1/2 pints boiling water and add to saucepan. Bring to boil; cover and simmer 1 to 1 1/4 hours, until lentils are tender and stock is absorbed, occasionally adding a little extra boiling water, if necessary.

Note: The Indians serve this with curries, but in Muscat it is eaten over rice as a main dish with salad and flat bread. Serves 6 to 8.

Chicken Breast

Grease casserole and line with thin sliced ham.

Wrap chicken breasts with bacon and lay on top of ham slices.

Mix one can cream of mushroom soup with same amount of sour cream and pour over chicken breasts.

You can use any amount of chicken breasts. I usually start with four or five. To cook more, add more soup and sour cream.

Wrap casserole completely with foil and cook 3 hours at 300 or 325 degrees.

Serve with rice.

Mayonnaise Cake

Mix until completely blended:

1 cup mayonnaise
1 cup water
2 tsps. vanilla
Add:
2 cups flour
1 cup sugar
1/4 cup cocoa
1 1/2 tsp. soda
1 1/2 tsp. baking powder

Bake in layers or long cake pan in 350 degree oven until toothpick comes out clean.

I use chocolate powdered sugar icing and put it on while cake is warm.

Chicken Curry

A favorite of Mrs. Yasmeen Gilani from Pakistan

1 large chicken skinned and cut into pieces
2 thin-sliced onions
1-inch piece ginger, crushed
6 flakes garlic, crushed
2 tsps. curry powder (I usually add more curry to taste)
Freshly ground cumin and coriander seeds
Salt to taste
Red chilies to taste
2 skinned tomatoes
6 Tbsps. ghee (cooking oil)
1/2 tsp. saffron soaked in a little hot water

Fry the onion light brown in ghee. Add ginger, garlic and spices. Cook 3 to 4 minutes until the spices smell, adding a little water when necessary. Add the tomatoes which have been cut into pieces. Fry for 2 minutes. Add the chicken and the salt; brown. Add enough water to tenderize the chicken and leave 1 cup gravy. Add the saffron and let the whole simmer on a low heat. Serve hot, over rice.

Copper Carrot Pennies

2 lbs. carrots or 2 cans carrots
1 green pepper
1 medium onion
1 can tomato soup
1/2 cup salad oil
1 cup sugar
3/4 cup apple vinegar
1 tsp. mustard
1 Tbsp. Worcestershire sauce
Salt and pepper to taste

Slice and boil carrots until tender, cook and drain. Mix alternate layers of carrots, bell pepper and sliced onion rings. (Bell pepper is sliced in rings.) Make marinade of remaining ingredients; beat well and pour over vegetables. Refrigerate. Best when prepared one or two days before serving. This will keep as long as a month in the refrigerator.

As I See It

By Bob Hamilton

From everything we have heard, seen and believe, the special session of the state legislature that got underway Tuesday will produce nothing, as far as a new funding measure for public education.

Supt. Glen Mitchell, who attended a meeting in Austin on the subject, said Tuesday, "This is not going to pass."

"This" is the "Fair Share School Finance Plan" drafted and underwritten by Gov. Ann Richards, Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock and outgoing House Speaker Gib Lewis.

The primary reason, Mitchell says, is that an amendment to the state constitution must be passed to put it into effect.

Three times now, the state supreme court has ruled public school financing is unconstitutional. A judge gave the legislature until June 1, 1993, to come up with an acceptable formula.

"The same old stuff all over again," Rep. Fred Hill of Richardson said of the new finance plan.

That's because the whole basis is more of the "Robin Hood" formula of taking money from those school districts with high tax values, not paying them any funds from the state, and sending the excess local tax funds to those schools who don't have it.

The first reason Mitchell says the proposed legislation will not pass is the fact that a two-thirds majority of both the house and senate must approve a constitutional amendment.

Then, the amendment would need to be voted on and approved by the people of the state.

Queen Ann -- the governor -- is counting on the threat given by a state judge who heard the school finance case, as her trump card.

She's reminding legislators and everyone else that the judge vowed to close public schools if a measure that can pass the constitution test is not passed by the legislature to meet his deadline.

Mitchell and about every school superintendent who attended Monday's meeting, said the governor disappointed those in the audience when she spoke.

Her delivery was almost in the form of a reprimand, from what I've read.

Each attending received a printout of the proposal's content, which also included a printout showing what was supposed to be the figures on what each district now generates in taxes, what they receive from the state, and what those taxes and funds will be the next five years.

The only problem was, those figures concerning Iowa Park were inaccurate, Mitchell said. And the same was true with other superintendents with whom he spoke.

For instance, it stated Iowa Park's tax rate last year was 96 cents, when it was $1.02. And this year's rate was $1.06, when it is $1.13.

Interesting was the fact that, based on those two inaccurate rates, the printout has Iowa Park's rate climbing next to $1.19 and then $1.27. If the first two rates were so wrong, and low, what would the correct projected rates be?

The main problem most school districts for the past decade have been experiencing is -- in the words of State Board of Education chairman, Monte Hasie -- "mandates without funding."

After the legislature mandated such things as the 22-1 pupil-teacher ratio in the lower five grades, career ladder and annual classroom teacher salary increases, the state began reducing the amount of money it was providing to local districts.

In effect, the legislators could tell their voters they weren't raising taxes over the state, and the folks at home began blaming their school boards.

I find it interesting that the governor chose to hold the special session at this particular time -- right after the general election and before newly-elected representatives and senators take office in January.

That way, those lame duck legislators can do whatever they want to follow the governor's lead, and not worry about re-election.

Another thing I find interesting, has to do with some of the leadership of an organization that got this finance situation before the courts in the first place.

The organization, called Equity Center, is made up of low-revenue school districts that joined to get money from the high-revenue districts.

The Equity Center has directors from each of the education districts of the state.

The Region Nine director is Don Windham, superintendent at Electra.

As best I can figure, the future of financing public education in Texas will wind up in the hands of the court.

I don't figure that's going to be any more appealing than what the legislature has done so far.

But, at least, it should be constitutional.

Oh, that reminds me of one other point.

Remember I said the state funding had been declared unconstitutional three times?

It's interesting that those funding formulas have been drafted by the legislators, of whom about 60 percent are members of the legal bar.

And add to that, the bills apparently weren't turned over to any of more than 1,000 attorneys employed by the state, to see if they would stand the test of the constitution.

So, maybe it's time for the judges to be the juries, and get this situation settled, once and for all.

City

a copy of a proclamation calling for "Youth Appreciation Week," to Dale Thompson, a member of the Optimist Club.

During a general discussion period, Alderman Bud Mercer suggested that the city identify and advertise all city-owned property which is not needed or developed for sale, and initiate a request to the state to permit two-way traffic on US 287 access roads inside the city.

The mayor told the council he has invited former alderman Bud Burch and other representatives of Lone Star Gas Co. to discuss the costs and possibility of replacing the electric street lights on the three-block boulevard of West Park.

He said those lights create 10 percent of the city's electrical utility bill each month.

House also encouraged the council to consider assuming ownership of what would be the 400 block of West Park, which runs through the middle of Park West Shopping Center.

Worth Quoting

I am real happy I grew up during the heyday of television. I'd be miserable if television's halcyon era was taking place now.

But since what's on the network boob tube these days is basically trash, I don't feel bad at all about missing it to cover sports three to four nights a week, plus traffic accidents, fires and meetings of governmental bodies.

For years, I've been telling my friend who works in cable television that this day would come. Actually, it came a long time ago. But, from what I've seen of the previews of this fall's shows, the networks may have hit bottom (it'll probably be worse next year).

American society has become illiterate, and I believe it is in large measure to that hypnotic, glowing screen. Why can't we pick out a night - even two nights, or more -- when television is really at rock bottom (maybe every night?) and turn it off and read. It would really help our kids. We would be setting a positive example for them. We old folks might learn something, too.

Or, why not join me at a sporting event or a school board or city council meeting? Each of these happenings has the potential to be much more entertaining than the networks.

Lots of people call the Messenger newsroom and vent their frustrations over increased taxes and decreased test scores. I can usually hear a television chattering in the background while the callers gripe. It makes me wonder who must accept ultimate responsibility for all the maladies.

It's easy to blame someone else, but the power to take the first step toward solving the problems is in our hands -- literally.

It's called a remote control and an "off" button.

Paper not supportive

Dear Mr. Hamilton,

Let me get right to the point. When you said a few weeks ago about the Hawks being out there just for pride was bad enough and uncalled for, but when I read your headlines in last weeks paper "Which team will finish in the district cellar?" CELLAR - HOW RUDE.

What a choice of words. I'm sure that made the coaches and players feel real good about themselves. Think about it. We should support our kids whether (sic) they win or lose. We should be giving them words of encouragement and be proud of the accomplishments they made and not discourage them because of their win loss record. We should be proud of our kids in our schools because they represent our school and community despite (sic) winning or losing. We're proud of the coaches and players and thank them for there (sic) courage and fortitude throughout their football season.

Roger & Cheryl York

(Editor's Note: We try as best we can to state the facts, not opinions, in our news stories and headlines. Our opinions are limited to column and/or editorial. As to supporting the Hawks, despite the fact we could have hired someone to cover the games, I have attended 266 of the 267 varsity football games the Hawks have played since starting this newspaper. That's a fact, not an opinion.)

Congratulates cheerleaders

Dear Mr. Hamilton,

I just wanted to comment on what a great job I thought the High School cheerleaders and sponsors did this past football season. I went to all the games and our cheerleaders were either doing a cheer or a chant every few minutes. I also noticed they were always dressed exactly alike which really made them stand out.

Sometimes we don't realize how much time and work these girls put in but I just wanted to say "thanks" for a job well done.

Cindy Sargent to perform at national FFA program

Talented Iowa Park High School student Cindy Sargent will be performing before the largest audience of her young life this weekend.

She will be participating in the national FFA talent program at the 65th national FFA convention scheduled to begin today and continue through Saturday in Kansas City, Mo.

Talent participants are recommended by their local chapter and their state association. The vocal soloist, who specializes in country-western music, will be appearing with other vocal groups, jazz and square dancing, magic acts, rock, country/western and bluegrass music performers.

Talent acts entertain several audiences during the convention, which is expected to attract 24,000 this year. In addition to the sessions and sponsored meal functions, they perform at service club luncheons.

Helpful Facts

Persons other than the property owner doing work on a residence must be a licensed building contractor, plumber, electrician, or heating and air conditioning contractor with the City of Iowa Park, and carry a performance bond.

DWI awareness program presented to IPHS students

A program using a unique and hard hitting approach to the issue of Driving While Intoxicated (DWI) was presented last Thursday for students at Iowa Park High School.

Sponsored by the Wichita County Chapter of MADD (Mothers Against Drunk Driving), the EMS/STAR Flight DWI Awareness Program was presented by Austin Emergency Medical Service paramedics Bonnie Liles and Ed Strout. Myrna Sharpe of Iowa Park is president of the county's MADD chapter.

The program is a graphic audio/visual presentation utilizing actual crash scenes. The students are given a look at the usual day for EMS, and an audio tape of an EMS call involving a head-on crash accompanies the slides. A one-on-one question and answer session concluded the program. The paramedics told the students that alcohol-related crashes are the number one cause of injury and death to teenagers. Nationally, more than 4,000 teenagers are killed, and another 110,000 badly injured each year in car crashes involving alcohol. Not all have been drinking, but have instead been passengers or innocent targets of people who drink and drive.

Bonnie Liles, program coordinator, said "We want our audience to see, through the eyes of a paramedic, the end result of someone's decision to drink and drive, or to ride with someone who does."

The program, first presented in the spring of 1987, has been seen by over 150,000 students and adults in the Central Texas area.

Former resident honored posthumously recently in Conroe

John Monroe, former resident of Iowa Park and a graduate of Iowa Park High School, was honored posthumously at a banquet held recently in Conroe to mark the Y's 25 years of service to the community.

Monroe, who was killed in an automobile accident in May 1970 near Conroe, founded the YMCA there in 1967.

A special plaque, with a bronze likeness of Monroe emblazoned on it, was dedicated to the racquetball courts at the facility, named the John Monroe Racquetball Courts in his honor.

Monroe decided more than 25 years ago that the Conroe area needed a YMCA of its own. He approached the Southwest Council of YMCAs in Dallas to see if one could be established in Conroe.

The following year, the Y was operating out of the Conroe Independent School District's recreation building, which was not being used at that time.

By the time the Y had exhausted and outgrown its use of the recreation building and money had been raised through donations, including a large one from Monroe, it was decided to build a new facility.

The new facility, excluding the tennis and racquetball courts, was built on a six-acre tract of land at a cost of about $150,000.

Four years ago that building also had outgrown its usefulness and a new one was constructed at a cost of nearly $3 million, including $1 million received from the sale of the other building and $1.3 million from the Greater Houston Area YMCA.

The Y continues to support the myriad activities begun by Monroe

25 years ago. In addition it supports many activities for children, families, and senior citizens, with an annual budget of about $900,000.

The Catholic Church recognizes that there are many good people outside its membership, that other religions can and do bring their members closer to God and to their fellow human beings. But we as Catholics have indeed found something very special and we would like to share our Church, our Faith, our Way of Life with you. If you are interested in more information about the Catholic Church please call the church office.

NEITHER CATHOLIC, PROTESTANT, NOR JEW

People will spend much time talking about other people. It is almost impossible to keep personalities out of conversation. When Jesus became a public figure, He was talked about as no other person of His day. (Matthew 16:13-18). Wherever Jesus went working miracles and teaching, they thought of Him as great. In spite of unintentional compliments implied in their discussions, the people did not recognize Jesus as the Son of God.

Jesus spoke many things difficult for people to accept because it would require a dramatic change in their lives. The tendency was to give Jesus a label and dismiss Him from their thoughts. Jesus was unique and did not fit into any labels that had ever been made. Jesus faced the problem of being too lightly considered. Note Jesus' statement in Matthew 9:16, 17. Jesus was simply stating the teachings He brought and life He lived before the people could not be put into old forms. Jesus fought against the tendency of people to consider Him too quickly and too lightly.

Many people consider the church of Christ too quickly and label it as simply another denomination of the Protestant group. In the next few weeks I would like to write about this theme of being neither Catholic, Jewish, or Protestant. Even the military label people in one of the above groups. When people seek to classify the church of Christ as Protestant, they are of the same type of thinking that caused the people to reject Jesus. Those who seek to follow Christ may possess some of the characteristics of Catholics, Protestants, and Jews; however we are not members of any ecclesiastical group. We are simply Christians only, members of Christ's church.

Is the church of Christ Jewish? Those who seek to follow Christ today without a human creed are related in a remote sense to the Jews. We worship the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. We read from and believe in Old Testament Scriptures. We believe in the same basic principles of morality. Nine of the ten commandments have been incorporated into the law of Christ. Only the one commandment concerning the Sabbath has been left behind. Many of the other great principles of the Old Testament have been incorporated into the New for we share with the Jew his faith that the Old Testament is the inspired Word of God. Yet, the church of Christ is not a follower of the Jewish religion.

The differences which keep the church of Christ from being Jewish are numerous and significant. The Bible presents Christ as the divine Son of God and upon Christ is Christianity based. The New Testament is also an inspired part of God's Word. (1 Cor. 2:13). We are no longer under the law of Moses for the apostles by inspiration taught that it had been nailed to the cross, fulfilled and done away. (Col. 2:14). Obviously the church of Christ does not fit into the label marked Jewish. Next week we will examine the topic "NEITHER CATHOLIC, PROTESTANT, NOR JEW" PART TWO.

Hawks humble Bearcats in season finale

The Hawks ran over, through, around and away from Henrietta Friday night, leaving the Dist. 4-AAA newcomer in the conference cellar for 1992.

The 38-23 victory was the team's only district win of the season, and gave the Hawks a 2-8 final record. Henrietta finished 0-5 in district, and 3-7 on the season.

Senior quarterback Jason Miller, who missed one district game and was played sparingly in two others because of an ankle injury, turned in his best -- as well as the team's -- single game of the season. He carried the ball 21 times for 147 net yards rushing, and scored a pair of touchdowns on runs of seven and 50 yards.

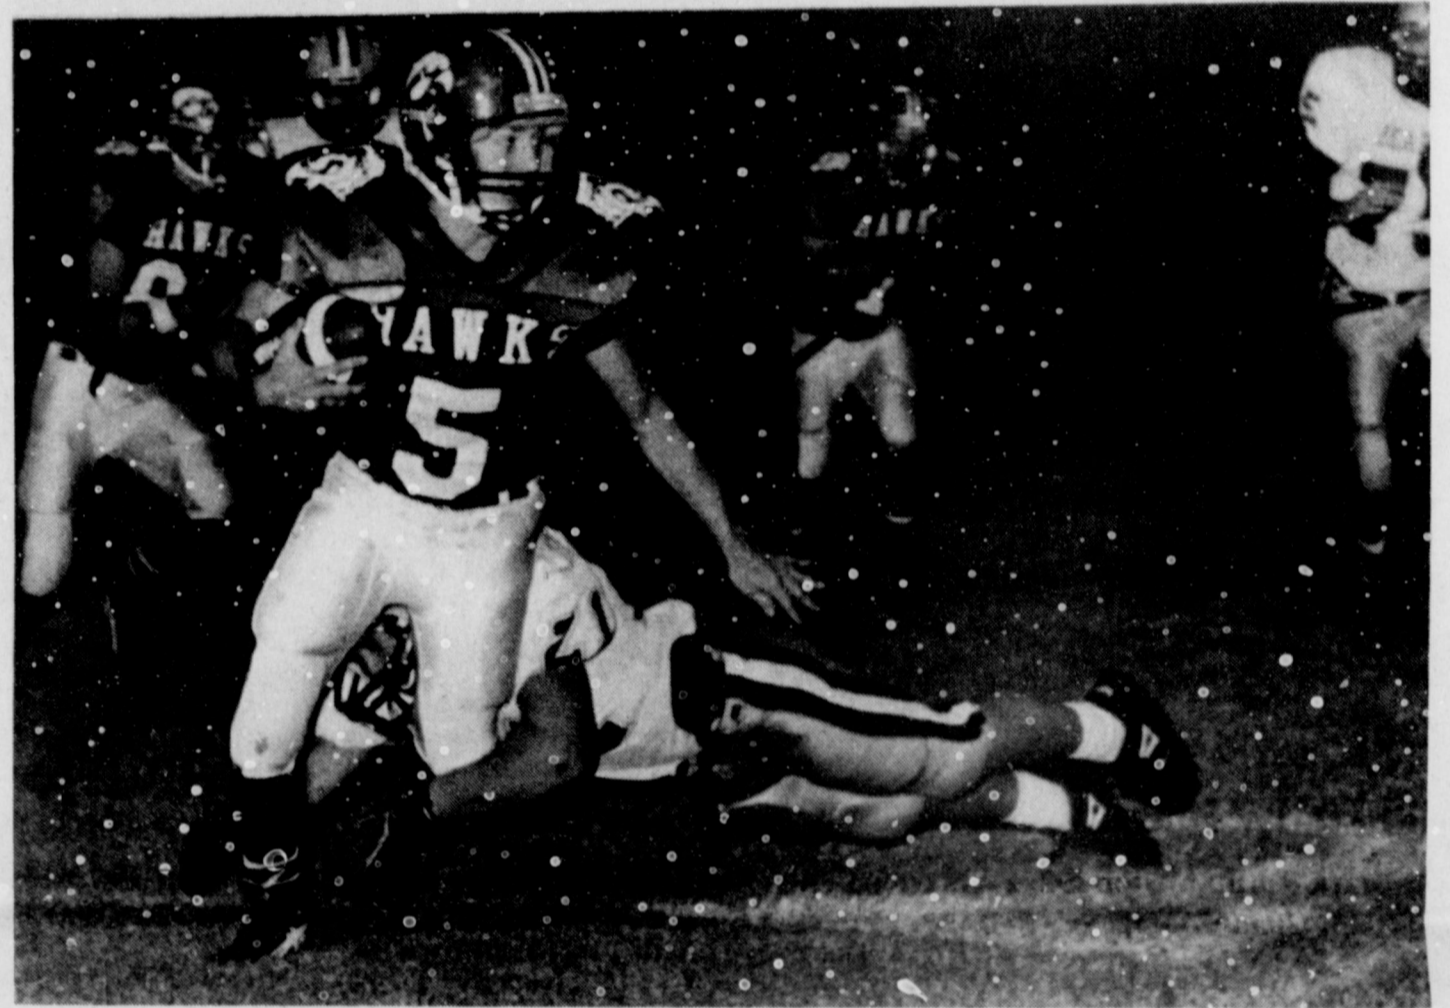

Junior runningback Don Ellis scored two touchdowns also, the longest a 36-yarder, kicked all five extra points and tacked on a 28-yard field goal. Ellis, who carried 14 times for 67 yards, actually split the uprights on a 39 yard field goal attempt, but a penalty against Henrietta gave Iowa Park a first down, so they accepted it and scored the game's first touchdown three plays later.

The fifth touchdown was recorded by senior Mark de la Rosa, on a one-yard plunge. In only the fifth game he was able to play this season, because of lingering injuries, de la Rosa picked up 59 yards on 12 carries.

The game was marred by penalties. Each team was flagged 10 times, Iowa Park for 102 yards and Henrietta for 91. One Bearcat was ejected midway through the second quarter for a flagrant violation.

Iowa Park's defense was effective, holding the visitors to 191 yards rushing. Had it not been for an 85-yard run in the third period, Henrietta would have wound up with a net minus four yards rushing in that quarter.

Forced to take to the airways, the Bearcats suffered four interceptions, by Ellis, Coy Witherspoon, Ken Cooper and Michael Frazier, out of the 23 attempted passes. Seven were completed, one for the game's final touchdown.

QUARTERBACK JASON MILLER RUSHES FOR BIG YARDAGE

Henrietta didn't light up its side of the scoreboard until the third quarter, and that was on an Iowa Park mistake. The Bearcats were trailing 21-0, when Miller was sacked in the end zone. The period ended with the Hawks leading 28-9.

After scoring early in the fourth quarter, making it 31-9, the Hawks pulled off one of their patented kickoffs. Kicker Ellis sent the ball high, short and to his left, and Brent Brown caught it on the Bearcat 45 yard line. Three plays later, Ellis scored on his longest run of the evening.

That's when assistant coach James Skeeler instructed the team managers to pour out the contents of the ice water cans.

Henrietta scored again with 2:41 left in the game, and that's when coach Robert Clensay allowed the Hawks to have some unconventional fun. He let linemen Patric Kennedy and T.J. Bean (who had been out the better part of the season with a broken arm), carry the ball. Each picked up two yards.

The fourth Hawk back who also had several carries, Stan Tigrett, picked up 46 yards on his nine attempts.

The Hawk line was so dominating, Iowa Park attempted only three passes. None was completed.

Henrietta's fifth turnover was a fumble in the second quarter, which was covered by tackle Ralph Dillard.

Life of family, work has been her blessing

By MYRNA SMITH

"I really haven't done anything except work all of my life," said Grace Roberts.

But it would be a safe bet that those with whom she has worked have gleaned a new look on life as recipients of her plain spoken, homespun philosophy. If they haven't they at least know how she thinks.

And work she has...in addition to working on jobs, many of her 78 years she has worked with children, with the sick, with babies and with the elderly.

One is reminded of a quote from William Osler, "We are here to add what we can to life, not to get what we can from it."

Grace has lived in Iowa Park since she was four years old. Born in Jack County at Avis, her mother died when Grace was nine months old. Her father, D.W. "Tut" Catlin came here and "put down" an oil well in a creek north of Iowa Park on the old Goetze farm and for a while they lived in a tent.

Later they moved into Iowa Park on the old Lochridge farm on what is now FM 368. Her father pumped wells on the Zink farm. She and her two sisters and a brother walked to school.

Grace said when they "moved to town" there wasn't much town here and what there was was on the south side of the tracks. There was no pavement and she remembers how the wagons and teams had to "pull the mud" when it rained.

She recalled that the first and high first grades were located in a white frame house across the street from the old W. F. George school which then was a three story building, with all other grades housed in it.

"While we went to school in the white house, we used a wood and coal stove. Tom Burnett, (well known rancher in the early days here) always brought candy and other goodies to us children at Christmas. I guess he took pity on us. You know in those days we were lucky to get an apple and orange for Christmas," Grace said.

"When Texas went to 12 grades instead of 11, the old three story school building was torn down and the new one (now junior high school) was built. A breezeway was built between the part that was used for the upper grades and the part that was for elementary grades," she said.

Grace went to school to the late Miss Ethyle Kidwell, for whom Kidwell Elementary school was named. She said Miss Kidwell taught three generations of the Roberts family.

"I'll always remember that she told me nearly every time she saw me she thought about how I was always smiling when I came to school," Grace commented.

Grace was married to Clifford

Roberts in 1931. They lived in Archer County two years before moving back to Iowa Park.

In 1940 he began working for the Iowa Park Water Department when Scott Ralston was superintendent. When Ralston retired, Clifford became water superintendent.

Grace remembers that when her husband started working for the city there were 250 water meters and three employees. Now there are 2,728 water meters, 2,554 active.

He also was a member of the first volunteer fire department of Iowa Park and remained an active fireman 19 years.

When Roberts began working for the city, they lived in the house that was on the property at the city lake, now Lake Gordon. Grace has a painting on her wall of the lake and house that one of her daughters painted from a kodak picture.

"There was a saddle shop just across from us. The rest was cow pasture and the closest houses were the McDonalds and the Overbeys," she recalled.

Roberts retired from the city water department in 1957. He went to work for the state at Wichita Falls State Hospital water works where he stayed five years.

He suffered a heart attack and died in 1963 while he and Grace were helping take care of one of their grandchildren. "We always packed our bags and went to help out as long as we were needed when one of our children had a new baby," Grace explained.

In 1943 Grace began working for the school cafeteria and was there seven years, the last two as cafeteria manager. She said they baked 40 pies every day.

She enjoys seeing former Iowa Park students when she worked in the cafeteria and when her children were in school. She usually attends their reunions. She said she still has some to come up and hug her and tell her "I can still taste your chicken pot pies," or "I remember how good your pies were."

Some of those are ones she baby sat with, or kept when they were small children. In fact, Grace seems to have had a hand in helping to raise several residents or former residents of Iowa Park.

When her son, Clifton, was young, she worked with the Cub Scouts and when her three children were in school they were in the band and she always helped out with their activities.

One of the ways a lot of people remember Grace is by her work with alterations. She has done alterations most of her adult life. She sewed for herself and her daughters when they were home, but she has never sewed for the public. She does not consider herself a seamstress, just an "alteration lady".

After her husband's death she

went to work in alterations at Sheppard AFB. She did alterations for Tommy Key 11 years when he owned the City Cleaners. She worked as an aide two years at the nursing home and has taken care of many elderly and sick people. She took care of a cousin who was in the nursing home four years. He had no family of his own. She also took care of her husband's mother.

"I just like to do things for people," Grace said. Several times she commented, "The Lord has blessed me over and over."

Everyone to her is a "dear," or "a darling person". In 1978 Grace was presented an award from the Humane Society of Wichita County for her work in caring for people. She also served as a member of the Highland Cemetery Association board.

Grace continues to do alterations in her home. She said, "One day it dawned on me that I should be able to live on the income I have, supplemented by doing alterations in my home. That's when I quit working for the other person and began working for myself."

She still charges the same that she has for years. "I know most other people charge a lot more, but I don't think it is right and I just have never done it. I haven't lost anything by doing that."

"There are those who if they like the job I have done and they can afford it they usually give me more. And, if they can't afford it then I shouldn't charge it. It would not be right to charge anyone more or less for the same kind of alteration," she continued.

"I have had a lot of work and I do not believe I will lose anything by charging like I do," she added convincingly.

Grace says sometimes when she is pinning hems, the person will tell her they hate her for her to stoop down that way, and couldn't they stand on something. Her answer, "When I get to where I can't stoop to pin a hem, that is when I will sign off."

Those who have complaints about their life not being worth living after they have lost loved ones, do not get a lot of sympathy from Grace.

She just tells them, "Don't even talk like that. Your number is not up yet, or you wouldn't be here and all that kind of talk and feeling sorry for yourself won't bring back your loved one. There is a lot you can do if you set your mind to it."

She is very straightforward, as she comments "I know how old I am, but I don't sit around and worry about it."

"There are times I will know faces but don't always remember the names, but there is no use in beating around the bush about it, I just say, I'm sorry, but I can't call your name right now."

"There are times I can't think how to spell cat or fruit, or maybe some other word, but I don't let myself worry about that either, because probably the next time I want to spell it, I can."

Grace is a very self-sufficient person. She does not want anyone to tell her what she ought to do, not even her daughters.

"When I get to where I can't do for myself, it will be time to do something else, but that will be my decision."

Grace is a member of First Baptist Church. She first began going to services when the church met in a little white frame building before the present structure was built on the corner of Yosemite and Bank Streets.

She does all of her own yard work and is especially proud of a large pecan tree in her back yard that grew from a cutting her husband set out that he got from the State Hospital. The only thing she doesn't like about it is raking the leaves this time of year.

Grace says if she has a hobby she guesses it is embroidering pillow cases, or crocheting afghans. One of her daughters showed her how to crochet a "Granny Square" and she enjoyed it so much that she has crocheted all of her grandchildren an afghan.

Grace lost her son, Clifton, about 13 years ago. One daughter, Helen Rich, lives in Wichita Falls and works for Hampton-Vaughan Funeral Home in their flower shop. She is an artist.

Another daughter, Mary Ellen Bass, lives in Pittsburg, Tx., where her husband is a school principal. She said both of the girls paint and play the piano. "But I don't have any of their talents", Grace quickly added.

She has seven grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

She laughed as she said, "You know sometimes your grandchildren have a hard time understanding some of the things you tell them about the 'olden days'. Some of mine even have a hard time understanding things about the present days."

"One of my grandsons told me I should have a central heating and cooling unit installed. When I told him my stoves would keep me warm and my air conditioners would keep me cool, beside, I couldn't afford it, he sort of looked at me as if to say, 'I give up, that's the way old people get.'"

Scrimmages are prelude to basketball seasons

The Hawks and Lady Hawks both have scrimmages scheduled before their regular season opens Tuesday night.

Actually, the Lady Hawks were in action here Tuesday night, when they hosted Electra in a triple-header. Their second scrimmage will also be here, with Childress, beginning at 11 a.m. Saturday.

A team composed of coaches and teachers will take on the Hawks, at 7 this evening in the gymnasium.

For their season openers, the Lady Hawks will travel to Wichita Falls High, where the Freshmen are to play the first of three games at 4:30 p.m.

Munday has been drawn as the Hawks' first opponent. That game is to be played at Munday. The Junior Varsity is to play the first game at 6 p.m.

Freshman Hawks are to host Burk Burnett in a doubleheader the same day. The "B" team game is slated at 5 p.m. with the "A" game following.

The Lady Hawks displayed depth, height, speed and talent fans can expect this season during their first scrimmage here Tuesday against Electra.

Those four elements were evident in all three teams, as the varsity more than doubled the visitors, 67-29, while the Junior Varsity outscored Electra 45-29 and the Freshmen eased past their opponents 31-26.

The varsity was never pushed by the Lady Tigers, winning all four quarters of the contest, 18-6, 17-7, 14-8 and 16-8.

Coach John Hoelter continued to substitute his 11-member squad with no apparent loss of power and talent.

The Lady Hawk varsity is mature, with only one sophomore on the squad as the season opens. Six are returning from last year's varsity.

Returning, their grade classification and height, include: Gina Inman, 11, 5-5; Christie Catlin, 12, 5-8; Misty Cook, 12, 5-11; Michelle Robertson, 12, 5-7; Cheri Halady, 12, 5-8, and Jennifer Ricks, 11, 5-11.

Newcomers to the varsity include: Christie Welch, 11, 5-5; Brande Overman, 11, 5-5; Mandy Threet, 11, 5-6; Christal Goad, 11, 5-9, and Jayne Roberts, 10, 5-6.

Coach Tim Clark has only two players who were regulars on his varsity squad last year, and three who played both on the varsity and Junior Varsity.

Young Farmers meet

Wichita County Young Farmers met last Tuesday.

Among topics discussed were the Christmas party and assisting the Wichita County Junior Livestock Board at validating animals for the spring livestock show Dec. 12 at 8 a.m. until 2 p.m.

John Phillips assigned committees on the fund raisers.

All members are urged to attend the Christmas party Saturday, Dec. 5 at 7 p.m. in the Iowa Park Vocational Building. The monthly meeting will be held at that time.

Of the 14 players listed on Clark's roster, 10 are seniors, three juniors and one sophomore.

SPORTS

50-3 was the final score of Thursday's Junior Varsity Hawks' game with Henrietta's JV. The Freshmen had to play Electra's JV, because Henrietta does not field a Frosh team, and lost 28-8.

Dist. 4-AAA champion Vernon takes on Brownfield in bi-district Friday at Shotwell Stadium in Abilene. The same evening, runner-up Graham will play Denver City at Snyder.

ss ss ss ss ss

Breckenridge only won three games this season. But they were all against district opponents, and the Buckaroos wound up in sole possession of third place in the conference. Bowie was fourth, Iowa Park fifth and Henrietta sixth.

Holiday plays Nocona in bi-district today at Jacksboro, while Electra takes on Boyd, also tonight, at Bowie.

ss ss ss ss ss

Other opponents Iowa Park faced this year also are in the playoffs. They include: Memphis vs. Stratford Friday at Canyon; Frederick vs. Perry, date and place unknown.

One of his newest players is 6-5 senior Yusef Garland, a senior who has not played organized ball, whose family moved from Mississippi to City View. He is listed at the center post.

The other seniors and their heights are: Mark Childs, 6-2; Dave Panas, 6-0; Mark de la Rosa, 5-11; Chad Thompson, 5-8; Mark Tatum, 6-0; Darrin Langford, 6-1; Lane Holloway, 6-0; Len Holloway, 6-0, and Ken Cooper, 5-11.

Juniors are Michael Stanford, 6-3; Randy Schmidt, 5-10, and Chris Campbell, 5-5. Brandon Ashlock, 5-11, is the only sophomore on the roster.

Childs and Thompson were both regulars on the varsity last season, while de la Rosa, Stanford and Cooper saw competition on both levels.

Junior Lady Hawks win two scrimmages

Both the Seventh Grade and Eighth Grade Lady Hawk basketball teams won their scrimmages Monday with McNiel Junior High of Wichita Falls.

The Seventh Grade, led by Wendy Bridwell's 17 points, won 29-24.

Randi Tigrett had eight points while Kim Scobee, Belinda Terry and Shannon Gafford each had six in the Eighth Grade's 32-28 win.

The Seventh and Eighth "B" teams are to meet McNiel twice in a four-day period. They will scrimmage here Monday, starting at 4:30 p.m., and host the same teams for their regular season opener Monday, also at 4:30.

The "A" teams will open their regular seasons next Thursday, when they host City View. First game will be at 4:30 p.m.

That same day, the boys' Seventh and Eighth "A" teams will open their season schedules at City View. First game is to get underway at 4:30 p.m.

CHERI HALADY PULLS DOWN REBOUND ... during Tuesday's scrimmage with Electra.

Boosters slate two big events

Two major events sponsored by the Athletic Booster Club are approaching.

The first will be Saturday, when parents and fans will have an opportunity to "meet the basketball teams."

At 5 p.m. in the high school gymnasium, players on all basketball teams, including junior high and high school, will be introduced.

Refreshments also will be served. The Boosters' regular weekly meeting on Monday will also be held in the gymnasium.

Primary event of that meeting will be the election of officers for the 1992-94 school year.

10 reasons why you should maintain and increase your newspaper advertising when business is slow.

- 1. Whether business is good or slow, you have to get your share of whatever business is around. Cutting back your advertising puts you at a disadvantage at the very moment when you need an edge. Increasing your advertising gives you the edge.
- 2. In times of uncertainty, consumers are careful and a little reluctant to spend. They want to be sure before they buy; they want information about products, services, prices and values from newspapers. Yours-or somebody else's.
- 3. Maybe you figure other retailers in your line are going to cut back their advertising, so it's safe for you, too. Right? Wrong. You're in competition for the customer's dollar with every other retailer in town, no matter what he or she sells. People have only so many dollars to spend and if they don't spend them for what you sell they'll spend them for something else.
- 4. There are more people working now than ever before. More women working too, adding to the family income. People still need and want goods and services and will spend for them. There is plenty of business out there. Your competitors will be bidding for their share - and yours.
- 5. You can't do much about most factors in the marketplace rent, labor costs, price of merchandise, what the competition will. But one thing you do control is your own promotion. Remember that newspaper advertising is not just a cost of doing business. It's a proven sales tool that returns many times your investment in store traffic and sales.
- 6. Remember how long it took you to get started? Once you build up a business you can keep it going with a moderate, consistent advertising program. But if you cut your advertising and lose your hold on the public's awareness you'll find it's much harder to build it up again. It's sort of like starting all over.
- 7. Your advertising is a part of your sales force. Newspaper ads help to pre-sell customers and help you close the sale faster. What saves you time saves your money.
- 8. You say your customers know you and for a while, at least, they'll keep coming in even if you don't promote? That's partly true, but shortsighted. Remember, one out of five Americans moves every year. So there's a steady flow of your customers out of your market, and a corresponding influx of new folks who don't know you at all. Tell them about yourself.
- 9. Here's hard fact to chew on. Over any given period, a business that advertises below the industry average has sales that are below the industry average.
- 10. Advertising is "news" - about products and services. Your customers look for this kind of news in the pages of this newspaper. In plush times, retailers often experiment with other media, but when the going gets tough, they concentrate their efforts in the weekly newspaper because it provides and immediate payoff at the cash register.

Give us a call. We can help you plan a professional advertising program that will increase store traffic while helping increase sales.

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — The Texas Senate will be more conservative when four new Republicans sit in the chamber in January, but this week a share of the reins is still in the hands of a handful of retirees and defeated members.

Texas legislators trooped back to the Capitol this week for a special session on school finance, namely to remedy their plan which the Texas Supreme Court struck down for illegally levying property taxes.

Meanwhile, several Texans may troop off to Washington, D.C. with the Clinton administration, some even mentioned for Cabinet posts.

Texans on Cabinet List

Top names are U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro, and former

San Antonio mayor Henry Cisneros.

In one of those whirlwind reversals which sometimes occur overnight in politics, Mauro's future in Washington may have been damaged by late-breaking news of his impending bankruptcy.

In a copyright story, the Houston Chronicle reported Mauro is on the brink of personal bankruptcy and potentially liable to the federal government for more than $4 million in bad loans.

Mauro confirmed much of the story, saying he had been stuck with the debt by three business partners who had already declared bankruptcy.

He said he planned to remain land commissioner and to act as an energy advisor to President-elect Clinton, a long-time friend from their McGovern campaign days.

Bad Debts, Campaign Phones

The news was especially bitter for Mauro's political team: he was Clinton's campaign manager in Texas and speculation placed him in position to be secretary of energy, interior or even agriculture.

Sources in Washington said last week it was more likely that Clinton would not appoint Mauro to any job requiring Senate confirmation.

Exposing Mauro to hostile senators was risky, not only because of his debt problems and a past probe of his agency by the FBI, but because it would reopen complaints that Mauro and his staff used state phones and equipment to campaign for Clinton.

School Reform Plan

Lawmakers in Austin are studying a proposal to replace the "Robin Hood" plan with the "Fair Share Plan," that would redistribute $400 million in local property taxes.

Gov. Ann Richards and Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock are pushing a proposed constitutional amendment, which will send more money from the wealthier districts into the Teacher Retirement System.

State money to the retirement system would be reduced by the same amount, and those funds would be used to guarantee a basic grant of about $2,850 per student at a tax rate of $1 per $1,000 of property value.

For example, if a local district set a tax rate of $1 and that brought in $1,500 a student, the state would guarantee aid totaling $1,350.

Republican leaders call the plan "a money laundering scheme." Other observers say the hidden agenda for the special session is to:

- Allow House Democrats time to build a consensus for a new speaker in the next regular session in January; and
- Allow current senators the opportunity to approve Gov. Ann Richards' pending appointments before new members join the club in January.

New Legislature Tally

Republicans gained four seats in the Texas Senate, giving them 13 — more than the one-third bloc needed to scuttle bills under current Senate rules.

Not surprisingly, Democrats plan to change those rules to void the new GOP advantage.

Republicans claimed a 58th seat in the 150-member Texas House, saying that a late count of 41,000 write-in votes made Robert E. Talton the winner of the 144th district in Harris County.

But Democrats said their nominee, Donald Fogo, was still the winner and began talking about a recount and legal action.

Consolidation of Funds

State Comptroller John Sharp announced that 278 special government bank accounts — including the Barber Examiners Fund and the Confiscated Liquor Fund — are being consolidated for a one-time savings of $540 million.

The plan, authorized by the 1991 Legislature as a budget-tightening measure, will help unravel a costly hodge-podge of special accounts, Sharp said.

Other Highlights

■ Defeated former Texas Railroad Commissioner Lena Guerrero said she will return to college to finish her degree. Guerrero, defeated after public outrage over her false degree claims, said she would write about the experience in an academic thesis.

■ Sen. Judith Zaffirini, D-Laredo, says she will make a fourth attempt to pass a bill to automatically suspend the drivers license of anyone who is arrested for drunken driving and fails or refuses to take a blood-alcohol test.

NATIONAL CHILDREN'S BOOK WEEK

During the week of Nov. 15-21, we will have special guest storytime readers.

Tuesday at 9 a.m., Geneva House will be our guest reader. For our Tuesday 10 a.m. storytime, guest reader will be Gary Jones. During our storytime class Thursday at 1 p.m. Dr. Larry Stutte will be our special guest reader, and on Friday at 9 a.m. our guest will be Ray Smock.

Our subject for our storytime classes, will be on THANKSGIVING.

MOVIE WEEK

We will show the movie at the Friendly Door and Heritage Manor this coming week, instead of the last week as usual, with the Thanksgiving holiday.

The movie "Texas Style: Traditional Folk and Fiddle Music of Texas", will be shown Thursday at 11:15 a.m. at the Friendly Door and at 10 a.m. at the Heritage Manor.

This movie will take us to Gustine, Texas to a fiddlers contest. It wanders through a hog calling competition and an armadillo race and walks you into a canvas tent where some of Texas' finest fiddlers have come to see who is best.

"ELECT TO READ"

We had a few voter's fill in their ballot, when they have returned their book. This program is for Adults, High School and Junior High age groups, with library cards.

When you return your book, just take a few minutes to fill in your ballot. Then on Nov. 27 when the promotion ends we will draw three ballots in each category, and Iowa Park Script Monies will be awarded.

UPCOMING EVENTS

Final plans are being made for our annual Christmas Open House Dec. 3 and for Santa's Castle on Wednesday, Dec. 16. Mark your calendar for both of these events.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Contel of Texas, Inc. has filed an amendment to its application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas for approval of its Universal Emergency Number Service 9-1-1 tariff. The proposed tariff establishes rules, regulations and rates including the provisioning of the Bu-1-1, C9-1-1, and E9-1-1 services; optional services, such as Selective R-uting and Data Base Administration; additional services, such as Forced Disconnect, Called Party Hold, Emergency Ring-back, Switched Access System; and Public Safety Answering Point Equipment.

Customers affected are either 9-1-1 districts or councils of government with 9-1-1 responsibilities. The application does not propose changes to emergency fees charged to end-user customers.

Twenty-three customers would be affected by the Universal Emergency Number 9-1-1 tariff, which would increase annual revenues by $10,107.12, a 2.92% increase in the revenues generated by the contract rates of the current customers. Customers will have the option, however, of continuing the rates under their contract for up to one 12-month renewal term.

The deadline to intervene in this proceeding is December 24, 1992. Correspondence or any other communication regarding this matter should reference Docket No. 10929.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in this proceeding should notify the Commission. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information, should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Information Division of the Public Utility Commission at (512) 458-0246 or (512) 458-0221, teletypewriter for the deaf.

TIPS ON STAYING SAFE AND SOUND WITH NATURAL GAS.

For more than 80 years, Lone Star Gas has been providing safe, dependable energy to its customers. By following a few simple rules, you can help make sure you and your family stay safe and sound with natural gas:

- Always have qualified service people install, regularly check and maintain all gas heaters and appliances, following the manufacturer's instructions for installation, ventilation, and operation.
- Always use a gas appliance only for its intended purpose. An oven, for example, should not be used to heat a room.
- Always keep flammable materials and substances away from gas heaters and appliances. Remember, a pilot light is constantly burning.

- IF YOU SMELL GAS in your home, or know you have a gas leak, follow these rules:
- 1 Everyone should leave the house immediately, leaving the doors open for ventilation.
 - 2 Do not switch anything electrical on or off.
 - 3 Do not use your telephone (telephones use small amounts of electricity).

- 4 Do not strike a match or do anything else that might cause a spark.
- 5 Go to the nearest telephone and call Lone Star Gas Company. Wait until we have found the cause of the gas leak before returning to your home.

If you smell gas while you're outside, contact Lone Star Gas immediately.

CONTRACTORS, BEFORE YOU DIG, call your local Lone Star Gas Office, and we'll help you avoid any potential problems.

SAFETY TIPS. We've put together a brochure that includes safety tips designed to educate your whole family about the proper usage of natural gas. For a copy, or if you have any questions, call us at 1-800-545-3427.
