Police report five arrests

It was an unusual week for the Iowa Park Police Dept., in that five persons were arrested on five different charges.

One arrest took place Wednesday morning, immediately outside municipal court.

Johnny Melvin Cole, 63, was taken into custody on a felony warrant issued by the sheriff's department, on a charge of indecency with a child.

A sealed indictment was handed down for Cole's arrest when the county grand jury met Feb. 17. The original complaint against Cole was filed early last May.

Cole was serving on a municipal court jury yesterday. The case, a civil trial, was later declared a mistrial.

James Daniel Harris, 18, was arrested Friday afternoon in the 300 block of East Jefferson, for allegedly stealing a dog.

The dog, however, was valued at $250, and was the property of Jim Sargent.

Harris' arrest took place less than two hours after it was reported as missing from Jim's Conoco.

Police took John William Johnson, 21, into custody at 3:56 a.m. Saturday near the intersection of Access Road and Louisa, on a charge of public intoxication.

Johnson was later released after paying a partial fine and promising to appear in municipal court.

Robin Lee Sparks, 31, was arrested on an assault charge following a reported incident at Woodbriar Apartments at 4:41 a.m. Sunday. He was released on a personal recognizance bond, according to the police blotter.

Police took Monroe Leon Reynolds, 28, into custody after he was stopped in the 100 block of South Victoria at 8:40 p.m. Sunday.

A local warrant had been issued for Reynolds' arrest for operating a motorcycle without a license and driving while driver's license was suspended.

He paid a partial fine and was released after entering a plea and being given a new court date.

Police took some juveniles and their parents before the justice of the peace

Thursday afternoon, in connection with a rash of automobile hood ornament thefts, burglary of a coin operated machine and other charges.

The juveniles were then referred to the county juvenile probation department.

A resident in the 300 block of East Ruby told police Monday that someone had taken a CB radio valued at $100 from a vehicle parked overnight at that location.

Two reports of low-hanging cable television lines were received Tuesday by police.

The first was shortly after 8 a.m., when a delivery truck became entangled with the cable at the intersection of Yosemite and West Park.

At 7:33 that evening, firemen told the radio dispatcher that a cable was hanging dangerously low over the roadway in the 200 block of North Bell.

Teacher contracts on meeting agenda

Contracts for all professional personnel, primarily teachers, for the 1993-

94 school year will be considered when the school board meets Monday.

The meeting is to get underway at 7:30 p.m. in the junior high library.

Trustees have for several years observed a schedule of extending contracts. Teacher contracts are called for at the March meeting, superintendent in January and administrative personnel in February. Support personnel contracts are usually on the April agenda.

Action on the contracts is to take place following an executive session that is closed to the public, according to the meeting's agenda.

Also under the topic of personnel, a letter of resignation is to be considered.

Other items on the meeting agenda besides regular department reports include:

- * Shared Vision Statements for the school district;
- * revisions to school board policy BED (local) open forums;
- * textbook committee report for 1993;
- * donation of 23 golf bags from Second Hand Sports;
- * use of both high school gymnasiums for summer basketball camps May 31-June 4 and June 7-11;
- * field trip for fifth grade to Fort Worth on May 17;
- * casting ballots for Region Nine Education Service Center board of directors.

RAC to commence outreach program

A new program for elementary students who need assistance in the areas of homework and/or peer relations is scheduled to begin March 23 at the RAC.

The sessions will be from 2:30 - 5:30 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays. If needed, the schools will provide transportation to the RAC, but parents will be responsible for their child getting home.

Applications for the program are available at the Kidwell and Bradford Elementary School offices and at the RAC office. There will be a limit of 30 children, and entry into the program

CITY EMPLOYEES PROMOTED TO KEY POSITIONS

Price succeeds Jones as city administrator

In a called meeting of the city council Monday night, aldermen voted to name Mike Price to succeed Gary Jones as city administrator.

The council also voted to promote David Collins to the position of public works director, a post held by Price.

Both changes are to become effective this morning.

Jones had tendered his resignation to the council, but asked in his letter that it become effective Friday, Mar. 12. He was not at Monday's meeting, because he explained in his letter he was using vacation time that day and the preceding Friday.

Tuesday was a holiday for city employees, in observance of Texas Independence Day.

Jones had explained in his letter of resignation that he had accepted the city manager's position at Seymour.

A motion to accept Jones' resignation effective Wednesday, rather than Friday, was approved by a 4-1 vote.

Alderman Bob Hamilton said he felt a somewhat longer transition time would be needed by whomever succeeded Jones, and cast the lone dissenting vote.

Action on naming Price and Collins took place when the council returned from an executive session that lasted almost three and a half hours.

There were no dissenting votes cast on the hiring of either men.

Price, 37, has served as public works director since that position was created in 1985.

He will complete 21 years with the city Mar. 28, having started as a street laborer. "They put me to work painting street signs, and wouldn't even let me go out to put them up," he recalls with fond memories.

Though he has never worked as a water or sewer treatment plant operator, Price is described as being the most knowledgeable person of the city and its facilities.

He holds certifications in solid waste management and flood plain administration.

A 1973 graduate of Iowa Park High School, he and his wife, Cathy, have three children: Jana, 15; Mike, 14, and Billy, eight.

Collins began working for the city four years ago as code enforcement officer. His duties have since been expanded to include fire marshal, employee safety training and flood plain administrator.

The 36-year-old was graduated from Iowa Park High School in 1974. He and his wife, Cindy, have two daughters, Michelle, 11, and Amanda, seven.

Price's base salary was set at $37,000 annually, in addition to a car allowance. Collins' base salary will be $29,000.

REGULAR MEETING MONDAY

The council's regular twice-a-month meeting is to begin at 7 p.m.

Monday in council chambers.

The meeting's agenda includes an appearance by Jones, concerning "grievance filed for council action on termination proceedings for city administrator."

Two ordinances will be considered. One would make it unlawful to park in any property-marked handicapped parking space. The other would standardize permit and inspection fees. Bids for a 1.85-acre tract owned by the city at the intersection of Third and West Highway will be considered.

Authorization for the city administrator to advertise and accept bids for concrete work in the 400 block of West Park also will be considered. That is part of the city's project to open a street through Park West Shopping Center.

Action on a resolution to accept the 1991-92 city audit will be considered.

Also on the agenda, a date is expected to be set for a council work session for development of a chapter in the city's code of ordinances.

News Briefs

Hawk Relays slated Saturday

schools participating from AAA classification and smaller.

A call has been issued for anyone wishing to volunteer to help officiate. Volunteers are to meet at 8 a.m. in the fieldhouse, where they will be issued their assignment areas.

Annual Project Show next week

The annual Iowa Park 4-H and FFA Project Show will be held Tuesday and Thursday nights next week, at the school's project barn on East Ruby.

Judging Tuesday is to begin at 6 p.m., with horses, and followed by rabbits, dairy and market goats, breeding sheep, market lambs, breeding heifers and market steers.

Thursday's judging, also to begin at 6 p.m. will be broilers first, followed by turkeys, breeding gilts and market swine.

Gates to the facility will be open from 4 to 10 p.m. Monday and Wednesday, to allow exhibitors access in preparation for show nights.

Bloodmobile to be here Monday

The Red River Red Cross Bloodmobile will make its regular monthly stop at Iowa Park's Optimist Club Building Monday.

The unit will be at the West Highway and Magnolia location from 3:30 to 7 p.m.

Several residents reportedly have indicated they would like their donations to be credited for use by an eight-year-old Wichita Falls girl who is to undergo surgery in Fort Worth.

The child, Ashley, is the daughter of Cheryl Muller.

Although the Red Cross does not provide blood for Fort Worth Children's Hospital, when possible they work with other blood centers to assist with blood replacement needs.

Those wishing to donate in the youngster's name should sign a card at the reception desk Monday.

City receives 2.21 over weekend

Virtually no one wanted, or needed, more rain, but Iowa Park underwent a thorough washing over the weekend.

Virgil Woodfin reported a total of 2.21 inches, explaining he measured 1.46 Sunday and another .75 Monday.

IOWA PARK RAPIDS - Weekend rains continued to overflow Tuesday from Lake Iowa Park, creating an area of white water rapids where the creek passes under the Access Road next to the highway rest stop.

Cancer detection topic of Lioness Club program

Susan Grauerholz and Connie Swartzell provided the program for the Thursday meeting of the Evening Lioness Club. They were introduced by Mrs. Kenneth Via, president.

The two are trained professionals in mammography at the Women's Imaging Center in Wichita Falls.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. C.L. Thompson and Gerry Thurlo.

Mrs. V.I. Woodfin presented the meditation on the Thorncrown Chapel in the Ozarks. This featured a meaningful story about a peacock called Caleb, and how it reduced the spider population in the chapel after it was built. She used Romans 11:33 for the scriptural basis.

Mrs. Grauerholz discussed mammography, which she described as the wise choice for discovering breast cancer. She said that one out of every nine women in the U.S. will develop breast cancer during her lifetime, and one out of three women diagnosed as having breast cancer will die.

Mrs. Grauerholz said "as your age increases beyond 20, the greater the risk of you becoming a one in nine breast cancer statistic."

Continuing, she mentioned the factors which can contribute to the increased risk of breast cancer as: a history of breast cancer in the family, having the first child after 30 years of age and having no children. She stressed, "but the greatest risk of all is assuming you will not become a victim of breast cancer".

The two trained professionals in mammography at the hospital used a view box as they showed how x-ray examinations can detect cancer cells that are microscopic in size and too small to be felt under self-examination.

They stressed the three parts of fighting breast cancer were the routine examination, the doctor and monthly breast self-examination.

The next meeting of the club will be March 25. Highlight of the meeting will be a program given by Mrs. Via on her Russian trip in the summer of 1992. Hostesses will be Mmes. Woodfin, Don Jagger and Charlotte Kennedy.

Iowa Park area residents recognized at banquet

Several Iowa Park area residents were recognized at the recently-held annual Extension Program Council and Wichita Soil and Water Conservation District banquet.

They were Mary Helen Schell, Outstanding Conservation Teacher; Judy Wells, Outstanding Conservation Homemaker; David Springer, Outstanding Rancher, and Dennis Yeager, Outstanding Business/Professional.

Mrs. Schell currently teaches first grade at Kidwell Elementary, and continues to incorporate conservation issues into her curriculum.

She was born and raised in Lawton, Okla., and obtained her teaching degree from Oklahoma University of Sciences and Arts.

For the past six years, she has included soil and water conservation in her studies, and her classes have participated in the district conservation coloring contest.

Mrs. Schell says she hopes this new understanding of saving the natural resources makes an impression on the children, so they will tell others in their neighborhoods and communities.

Mrs. Wells and her husband Rex live on their farm southwest of Iowa Park, where they farm wheat and cotton as well as raising cross-bred cattle.

Mrs. Wells not only handles the homemaking duties, but also keeps the farming business running by keeping in constant contact with her husband and their two sons, Kevin and Kyle.

She says besides collecting antiques handed down by her family, she enjoys all outdoor activities such as Jeep riding and snow skiing in Colorado, and feeding the various species of birds around the farm.

She is also very active with the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, where she teaches Sunday school.

Springer is operating rangeland located in Wichita and Archer counties, consisting of native grasses such as Sideoats Grama, Big Bluestem, Little Bluestem and Indiangrass.

He has been working with the Wichita SWCD since 1977. Before then, he was employed 15 years by the Soil Conservation Service.

Through management practices such as proper grazing use and deferred grazing, Springer has been able to maintain excellent stands of all his grass species. He has been able to produce adequate forage for his livestock to get them through the winters with minimal hay and cube supplements.

He has incorporated a brush control plan consisting of aerial spraying in patterns to control the mesquite, while leaving enough cover for Bobwhite quail. His cropland fields are planted in millet and sorghum to provide even more food for quail.

Yeager and his wife, Jan, live in Iowa Park with their two children, Jason and Todd.

He was born and raised in the hill country of south Texas and attended Texas A&M Univ., where he earned his degree in Agricultural Economics.

In 1984, he began work in the trust department of Ameritrust. He currently serves as vice president of real estate management.

Yeager began working with the Wichita SWCD and Soil Conservation Service in 1987, and since has developed several more conservation plans on farms totalling over 7,000 acres.

Utilizing government programs and assistance, Yeager has constructed 21 acres of waterways, which provide outlets for nearly 74,000 feet of parallel terraces and diversions, and an additional 60,000 feet planned for the future.

In addition, he has set up aerial spray programs on the rangeland to control mesquite, and a follow-up deferment period to help improve the native grasses.

ADD program slated

The Kidwell, Bradford and Junior High PTAs will sponsor a program on Attention Deficit Disorder (ADD) at 7 p.m. tonight at the Iowa Park High School Auditorium.

The program will include a panel discussion, video, and a question and answer session with school counselors, a doctor, a member of the ADD Center, as well as a member of the local school district's committee on ADD.

The public is encouraged to attend this program. For further information, contact Sandra Hehman, 592-5896, Sherry Rose, 592-9675, or Pat Pelz, 855-4241.

Terning gives Garden Club program

Mark Terning, Wichita County Horticulture Agent, gave a slide presentation for the Friday morning meeting of Iowa Park Garden Club members at the RAC.

The presentation was entitled "New Plants and Discoveries".

Bernice Williams gave the thought for the day, titled "The Bend In The Road," by Helen Steiner Rice. Seventeen members answered roll call to the question, "Have you attended a County Extension Seminar?"

Terning showed slides of the new Texas Gold Columbine and the Saxsuma Orange, two plants which have been developed for this area.

Terning said the Texas Gold Columbine, with its bright yellow spurred petals, grows 18 to 24 inches tall in a shaded area. The Saxsuma Orange, which can withstand temperatures as low as 28 degrees, should be grown in a container in this area, Terning explained.

The orange plant will produce about a dozen regular sized fruit. These plants should be available at local nurseries around the end of March.

Terning gave members a list of "Recommended Landscape Plant Materials for North Central Texas, and a pamphlet from the Texas Agricultural Extension Service on "Soil Test."

The horticulturist recommended that members have their soil tested to help insure that only needed nutrients are added to the lawn and in quantities that don't adversely affect environmental quality. He closed the program with a question and answer session.

The serving table held an antique measuring jar partially filled with pearl white marbles and an arrangement of dusty blue and pink silk flowers. It also featured a wooden tote painted girl with a crocheted bonnet and a bouquet of dried flowers.

The officer's table held a miniature tree formed from dried baby's breath and decorated with small silk flowers and a string of beads.

As I See It. ■ By Bob Hamilton

Because the standoff continues in the Waco area, between the "religious" cult leader and agencies of the law, I'm going to hold off any comment on that situation at this time.

I'm sure the situation will be resolved by next week, and there's no telling what will happen between now and then.

My greatest concern, having heard parts of the noontime Wednesday news conference, is a reenactment of the Jonestown massacre.

So, I'll comment on the tax increases proposed by our new administration in Washington, D.C.

Naturally, that case also is a long way off from being solved. Primarily because it all must go first through the congressional committees before ever being voted on. Therefore, a lot of changes could be made, and often are, based on past situations of this sort.

But, my greatest concern is the fact that the tax-and-spend Democrats are feeling their oats, now that they've got one of their own in the White House, and the party's leadership appears to be ready to adopt anything the president wants.

Those income tax amounts that have been bantered around -- you know, the ones where the rich and corporations are to pay the brunt of the increases -- are actually just the tip of the iceberg.

If you start looking deeper into all the programs being put on the table, including the very expensive health care consideration, you will begin to notice that businesses are going to take a big portion of the money hit.

What's the problem, you may ask, considering that the big corporations and businesses can afford it?

Simple. They sell their goods and services to everyone, regardless of income. And those increases will only be added to the cost of doing business, by increased prices passed on to the public.

I'm also casting a cautious eye toward the president's proposal to allow people "earn" their college education through public works projects and that sort of thing.

Admittedly, I was able to attend college through the GI Bill. But that was for service during a time of war, not in peacetime.

While I can appreciate the fact that a lot of young people will gain a higher education through such a program, I've got to be concerned about a "busy-do" program that could cost the taxpayer millions and millions of dollars to finance something like that.

Other taxes that have been put on the table include those for us "sinners" who smoke, additional taxes on gasoline, and that "BTU" tax.

When all this stuff is finalized, don't be surprised if I come back and remind you of my warning back in the presidential election campaign.

I just don't know if we can afford all this "charge" Bill Clinton wants us to experience.

Worth Quoting

We are in for a big vote May 1 concerning the state's school finance crisis. In case you haven't heard Texas voters will decide on a proposed constitutional amendment permitting the state to recapture funds from the wealthiest school districts in order to redistribute them to all other school districts. This plan, according to many of our political leaders, is the long-awaited answer to our school funding problems.

If you think this plan sounds similar to the Fair Share plan proposed and defeated by our lawmakers at the end of last year, then you are pretty smart. In fact it's the exact same proposal that lawmakers, after hearing from the public, rejected by a good margin just a few months ago.

Only this time they didn't call it the Fair Share plan. I guess they thought this might alert everyone to the fact that it's the same proposal which most people hated.

In typical fashion the powers-that-be simply rammed the proposal through the House and Senate using their usual strong armed tactics. Now they'll turn their attention to the general public in an effort to get it approved. Get ready for the "if you vote no, you're voting against the kids" guilt trip campaign they'll be starting soon.

As I said in an earlier column this Robin Hood plan is an unfair proposal, and it's still unfair. And more to the point -- I resent being threatened to like something I don't like.

Know the Supreme Court has given lawmakers until June 1 to pass a constitutional plan to equalize funding available to school districts or face a cutoff of state public education money. I also know that lawmakers did absolutely nothing to develop a new proposal that the public would accept.

And not it's on our shoulders. I agree with Rep. Tom Craddock, of Midland, who predicted that the measure will fail in a statewide vote. Texans simply do not like to be blackmailed and railroaded.

I also find it funny that authors of this Fair Share proposal hated it when it was nicknamed the "Robin Hood" plan. Now they're using the name to help promote it, saying "Robin Hood was a hero!"

But when you really get right down to it, Robin Hood was a thief, a robber. No matter what his excuse was... he took money that wasn't his.

President Clinton has signed the family leave bill into law and it will go into effect in six months.

You may not be affected directly if you work for a firm with less than 50 employees, but your pocketbook will.

We called Congressman Larry Combest's office in Washington Friday to ask the specific question: are city and county governments covered, are school employees covered, and are hospital employees covered.

The answer is: yes, indeed. Consequently, the city of Andrews is not affected since it has less than 50 employees, but the county, school, and hospital are included in the bill's coverage. Few employees can take off three months without pay to attend to family sickness, births, or the like, but the stinger in the bill is the fact that benefits for those employees continue during their absence.

According to Combest, teachers, because of the nature of the school year, are covered differently as to the timing and guidelines of their leave, but they are covered.

Immediately after President Clinton signed into law the bill that was twice vetoed by President Bush, a Washington Democrat said: "The bill was important because it sends a message that finally we have a government and a president who understand the problems so many of us are living with today."

Hogwash! The bill is simply another nail that makes it difficult to do business in this country. Some businesses will have a tough time guaranteeing 12 weeks of unpaid leave to workers who want to care for a new baby or to tend to a close, ailing relative.

The hiring of temporary workers -- and at the same time -- continuing to pay for benefits for the excused worker, will cut into productivity and put additional load factors on fellow workers.

Like a lot of things coming out of Washington, the idea is wonderful in principle, but lousy in practicality.

Most firms, large and small, have family-leave policies -- an informal arrangement where the employer makes arrangement for a good employee to take off for urgent family business.

But dictating such actions into law is an entirely different matter and one that will ultimately cost all of us.

And guess who is exempted from the new law?

Remember we've turned over a new leaf in Washington! It couldn't be, but it is.

Exempted under the new law are employees of Congress and the Executive branch.

It's some more of that "do as I say, not as I do!"

Searching for relatives

Dear Sir;
We are searching for some family in your area. My dad, Loy Farnsworth, had a favorite aunt living at Iowa Park. Her name was Tina Morgan. She and her husband had some children who may still live there. We are doing genealogy on our family.
We would like to hear from them.

These are the names of the children: Leroy, Clinton, Pauline, Inez and Ray. If you could put this note in your paper one of them may see it.

Thank you kindly for any help you can give me.
Sincerely

Mrs. Mark Wicks

Suzanne and Mark Wicks turned a hobby into a business last year when they opened Wicks' Acres. They bought six acres on which they grow vegetables organically. They sell the produce, along with plants and seeds, from their building on South Wall St. Suzanne, who grew up and graduated high school in Wichita Falls, said that she had never done gardening until she married Mark. She said that Mark, a native of Long Island, NY, has always worked with a garden. Together, they have been doing organic gardening 15 years.

COOK of the WEEK

In addition to their local business, Mark works as a fireman in Wichita Falls. Suzanne was employed by the City of Iowa Park five years, and worked for Wal-Mart eight years before she quit to devote full time to their vegetable business.

The Wicks have two daughters, Valerie, 10, who also loves gardening and helps her father with the planting, and eight-year-old Chelsea who is playing on a Little Dribblers basketball team.

Suzanne likes to sew, do needlepoint, and cook. She said that she has been cooking since she was five years old. With her grandmother as a teacher, Suzanne said that she learned to cook from scratch, and hardly ever uses a boxed mix.

Her recipes we are using feature different ways to prepare vegetables. She said the recipe for "Spinach" pie is especially good, and sometimes she substitutes broccoli for the spinach.

Salt and pepper to taste
Mix together and pour into unbaked pie shell. Add more grated cheese on top and bake 1 hour at 350 degrees.

Grandson stage manager for touring production

"Phantom of the Opera" officially opened Wednesday for a seven-week run in Dallas Fair Park Music Hall, with previews on Sunday and Tuesday.

But, before the show could open there were two weeks of preparation. Assisting with that was David Hansen, grandson of Mrs. C.E. Birk of Iowa Park. He is the son of Calvin and Bettye (Birk) Hansen of Wichita Falls. Hansen is one of three stage managers for the touring production.

Mrs. Birk, accompanied by her son, Bob, plan to attend a matinee performance of "Phantom of the Opera" soon.

The largest portion of the set, moved in 11 trailers, was accompanied by Hansen, who was responsible for checking hundreds of objects, machines and materials and seeing they were in place at the Music Hall.

Hansen studied acting at the University of North Texas, but later changed to stage management. After graduation in 1979 he took a job with Dallas Summer Musicals. In 1982 he toured with Carol Channing in "Hello Dolly," Herschel Bernardi in "Fiddler on the Roof" and two national companies of "Les Miserables."

COMMITMENT TO THE LORD JESUS

Commitment to the Lord Jesus Christ is the most important decision in life a person can make. This theme of "COMMITMENT TO THE LORD JESUS" is the theme for the gospel meeting for the Iowa Park Church of Christ. When we speak of commitment, we are talking concerning pledge, trust, and loyalty to Lord Jesus.

Too often in our modern times, people neglect and fail to realize the obligation we have to a Savior who loved beyond measure. Whether by accident or design people by actions have sought to be released from commitment to Lord Jesus. People desire the blessing of Jesus without the responsibility of commitment. Frequently people desire "cheap grace without a thought entering the mind of taking up the cross and following Jesus.

Gil Peters of Holiday, Texas, will be bringing a series of lessons designed to make people aware of the responsibility of commitment. Friend to all, a faithful Christian, a man who cares about his community are words that describe Gil Peters. These lessons will be presented March 21-24. Worship opportunities will be at 9:30 a.m. and 6:00 p.m. on Sunday. Opportunities for further worship and study will be at 7:30 p.m. Monday through Wednesday.

Consider this your personal invitation to come an study with us "COMMITMENT TO THE LORD JESUS."

SCHOOL SCENE

Information Prepared by Iowa Park School Counselors

(Editor's Note: This article is written by Diane Granbery, or as the kindergarten children call her, "Mrs. Cranberry." Mrs. Granbery is the counselor for Kidwell and Bradford elementary. She addressed children having academic difficulties.)

What's Wrong With This Kid?!

By DIANE GRANBERY

A child having academic difficulty is a concern for all those involved. The search for the cause of the difficulty usually begins with a conference between the parent, teacher and school counselor. Once it is determined that the difficulty is not the result of home problems or stress, or a problem of motivation, the child may be referred to the district's diagnostician for testing. These tests are designed to assess the child's academic abilities and determine areas of strength and weakness. A child will qualify for special services if the results indicate a level of ability that is significantly higher than his or her classroom performance (grades). Such a discrepancy points to the possibility that is interfering with either the acquisition of knowledge, or the processing and demonstration of learned skills. Special services include a teacher that is trained to work with a child with learning disabilities and help the child learn ways to compensate. The child will get more of the teachers' attention, as the pupil-teacher ratio is much smaller in the resource classroom than in the regular classroom. The goal is to help the child catch-up academically, and learn ways to function effectively in spite of the learning problem.

For the child whose classroom performance is about the same as the diagnostic tests show his or her academic ability, there is no special services available currently under Special Education guidelines. This is often frustrating for the parents and the classroom teacher who watch the child continue to struggle. Now is the time to look for other factors that may be the cause of the academic difficulty. These factors may include a mental impairment, a chronic illness such as diabetes, asthma, depression or AIDS. Also conditions such as Attention Deficit Disorder with or without Hyperactivity, Dyslexia, a physical handicap or an identity or conduct disorder may impede the ability of this child to function effectively in the classroom. A qualified physician or other trained specialist must be the one to make such a diagnosis.

sis. Once a diagnosis has been made, the child may now qualify under Section 504 of the Vocational Rehabilitation Act of 1973. The parents, teacher and the school counselor may now collaborate on an individual education plan for this child that may specify modifications that need to be made so that the child will experience success in the regular classroom. Recommendations by the doctor and others are often also taken into consideration in formulating this plan. Such modifications may include preferential seating, oral tests, shortened assignments, and the use of special equipment such as colored overlays and calculators to name just a few.

The individual plan then becomes an official part of the child's academic records and are meant to be passed on from grade to grade, and campus to campus. Each year the plan is re-examined and necessary changes made by a committee composed of the parents, teachers and school counselor. If at some point, the child can function effectively without the need of modifications, the child can be exited from the program.

The key to the solution of any academic problems is early intervention. At the first sign of trouble, the teacher should request a conference with the parent or vice versa. Most children do not outgrow these difficulties. In fact, the difficulty may worsen with time as the child falls further and further behind. Take advantage of the trained professionals in the school system. There is no need for a child to struggle in vain.

Boxing meet results

Iowa Park High School athletes may not have returned home with many trophies from last weekend's Golden Gloves Boxing Tournament in Wichita Falls, but one they earned was significant.

They were awarded the All-Sports Participation Trophy for having the most entries in the All-Sports Division -- 21.

Boxing has not been an active sport in Iowa Park in several years, but the past several years, athletes from the school have been participating in the division for those who do not specialize in boxing.

Athletic Director Robert Clensay accepted the trophy the final night, Saturday, of the three-night event held at Hirschi High School. Judging from the amount of green and vocal support in the audience, Iowa Parkans appeared to be dominant in the stands and around the ring.

Night-by-night results included:

Sisters compete in pro-am

Iowa Park Junior High students Lacey and Lindsey Blackney recently competed in the Quaker State Pro-Am Bowling Tournament in Grand Prairie.

Lacey took first place in high scratch series with a 569, competing in the Prep Division.

The Quaker State Pro-Am is one of the largest tournaments held in Texas annually, and always draws a large number of entries.

This year's event attracted a field of some 1,300 youngsters from both Texas and Oklahoma. Each had the opportunity to bowl with professionals.

The sisters are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Blackney.

Both Blackneys were invited to return to Forum Bowl to receive their trophies.

3-0 start ranks Hawks

Winning their first three games of the season, against larger schools, has apparently impressed baseball coaches across the state with the 1993 Baseball Hawks.

In their initial poll, conducted by the Houston Post, coaches contacted felt the 3-0 Hawks should be ranked among the top 10 AAA clubs.

After their 15-5 shelling of the Hirschi Huskies, followed by Friday's twin wins over the Huskies and Wichita Falls High Coyotes, the Hawks were ranked seventh in the state.

Friday's unusual doubleheader started off with a 12-6 victory over the Coyotes. That was followed by an eight-inning 11-8 come-from-behind win over the Huskies.

Defending Dist. 4-AAA member, Graham, is ranked one place ahead of Iowa Park in the standings.

Friday's contest with the Coyotes was moved from Hoskins Field to the WFHS field, while workers were drying out Hoskins for the latter game between the Hawks and Huskies.

The Coyotes took an early two-run lead in the bottom of the second inning, but Iowa Park bounced right back with three runs of their own in the third. The Hawks added five more in the fourth, but the hosts narrowed that lead with four of their own, to lead 8-6.

Iowa Park assured the victory with three more in the fifth and one in the seventh.

The Hawk bats were busy against Coyote pitching -- and long, too.

Chuck Thompson, who relieved winning pitcher Ralph Dillard on the mound in the sixth, pounded out a home run that easily cleared the right field fence, and added a triple and double.

Though Patric Kennedy's long shot was credited by the official scorer as a triple, Hawk fans unanimously agreed the hit was an inside-the-park homer that bounded off the bottom of the fence in center left field.

Jason Miller was three-for-four and Tony Lozipone collected two hits in four at-bats.

Hirschi jumped all over Hawk pitchers Jason Dudley and Jason Young in the first inning, scoring all eight of the Husky runs before finally retiring.

Young relieved starter Dudley midway in the inning, and picked up the win for the record.

The Hawks began chipping away at Hirschi's lead, scoring twice in the second, one in the third, two more in the fifth, one in the sixth, and tying the score in the seventh with two more.

They collected the remaining three runs in the top of the extra inning, and Young with the support of his defense closed out Hirschi's scoring.

Scott McNeely connected with the longest hit of the game, a home run, for his only hit in four at-bats.

Kennedy had two hits in four at-bats, but scored three runs.

Iowa Park is scheduled to host Burkburnett at 4 p.m. Friday, and Tuesday, Olney is slated to visit here.

The Hawk Junior Varsity has a game scheduled here today with Burkburnett, and Monday the club is slated to host Olney.

Linksters 7th at Burkburnett

The Lady Hawk golf team continues to improve, with a strong showing in the Burkburnett Boomtown Girls' Golf Classic played Tuesday.

The Green team, made up of Jodi Young, Terri Bauer, Briana Stalker, Gina Inman and Sarah Kennedy, posted a 360 total to finish seventh in a field of 20 teams.

The White team, Karey Gray, Emily Monday, Aimee Trantham, Brandi Overman and Nikki Williams, finished 11th with a 411.

Medalist for the Green team was Young, with an 81. Stalker had an 86. Gray led the White team with 97 and Monday had a 102.

Against district opponents, the Green team lost to Graham's "A" team, the tournament winner, and tied Henrietta's "A", but defeated the Bowie "A".

The Lady Hawks are in their second season to field a team, and are laying the groundwork for an extremely strong future, according to Robert Palmer, who coaches the team.

The 13-member competitive team consists of three juniors, eight sophomores and two freshmen.

The team's next action will be at the Wichita Falls Girls' Golf Classic, to be played Friday, Mar. 12, at Weeks Park.

Powerlifters place third

In their final competition before the regional meet, Hawk powerlifters placed third in a field of 14 teams last week at Sanger.

Two Hawks equaled record, one a state and the other a school, during the competition.

Host Sanger, long a power center of the sport, racked up 48 points for first place in the meet. Whitesboro edged out Iowa Park by a scant three points, 27-24.

Jason Miller won first place in the 132-pound class, and tied the state record in his weight in the bench press, lifting 240 pounds. His total of 1,010 included a 375 squat and 395 dead lift.

T.J. Bean placed third in the 220-pound division with a 1,160 total that tied the school record held by Charles Jolly.

Other Hawks placing, their weight classes and totals, included:

- Chris Norris, 3rd - 114 - 560
- Shane Bagley, 3rd - 132 - 675
- Jason Houston, 3rd - 148 - 880
- Brandon Campbell, 4th - 114 - 550
- Jacky Miller, 4th - 123 - 590
- Cody Witherspoon, 4th - 148 - 850

The regional meet will be Saturday, Mar. 13, at Cedar Hill, according to Coach Steve Stewart, who said a dozen or more Hawks possibly will be qualified to compete there.

AUSTIN - Texas lawmakers passed a controversial bill limiting businesses' liability for damage caused by various products including tobacco and alcohol and advanced another bill tightening paroles for convicted murderers.

Meanwhile, Ross Perot entered the U.S. Senate arena by calling all candidates to meet with his citizens watchdog group, United We Stand America, possibly to endorse a candidate, but certainly to influence the outcome.

Under the products liability bill, tobacco and alcohol companies could not be held liable for damages because consumers already should know their products are classified as unsafe.

Consumer groups oppose the bill, which supporters say would improve Texas' business climate.

A spokesman for Gov. Ann Richards, said the governor is planning to sign the bill.

The House passed and sent to the Senate a measure that will require the entire 18-member state parole board to review the parole request of a prison inmate convicted of a capital felony.

The bill by Rep. Allen Place, D-Gatesville, requires two-thirds of the board members to approve a parole of a capital felon. The current policy requires a simple majority vote.

Perot Summons Candidates
Perot asked all candidates in the May 1 Texas U.S. Senate race to meet at his office last week; most sent representatives, while former Attorney General Jim Mattox was expected to attend himself.

Perot then started a statewide speaking tour to rally new members to his organization with appearances in Austin, San Antonio and Houston.

Perot is holding out the possibility that the group may throw its weight behind an anointed candidate in the crowded U.S. Senate race.

Some supporters hope Perot will decide to become a candidate himself.

self; some Texans are surprised he isn't a candidate already, based on his 21 percent Texas showing in the presidential election and his personal wealth to finance a campaign.

Common wisdom has it that Perot simply wants to shape the victor's approach to solving crucial problems, but the speculation that a grassroots Perot draft could develop at any time is too powerful to ignore.

Clinton Endorses Krueger
President Clinton, meanwhile, sent a letter to Texas Democratic Party movers and shakers endorsing interim Sen. Bob Krueger.

"To demonstrate our loyalty to the party, we must rally around Bob Krueger," Clinton wrote in the letter being widely circulated.

Krueger, however, failed to get the endorsement of the Mexican American Democrats convention delegates last week; Dallas attorney Jose Angel Gutierrez won enough delegate votes to keep Krueger from the two-thirds needed to endorse.

Senate OKs Savings Bill
The Texas Senate has approved $1.4 billion in savings and book-keeping tricks recommended by Comptroller John Sharp as part of a plan to balance the state budget and provide the current level of services without raising taxes.

Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock commended Sharp "for giving us a blueprint for action."

"Comptroller Sharp's recommendations are a combination of new efficiencies for state government and bookkeeping actions which serve this state well," Bullock said.

The Senate passed nine bills totaling $1.4 billion in savings. Another 10 bills to save an additional $900 million are pending.

Inmates Should Work
Attorney General Dan Morales says criminals should work while in prison. He made the remarks while seeking support for a legislative package on criminal justice.

"I think it should be a requirement that they (inmates) work," Morales said. "Their salaries could go into a trust fund for restitution to crime victims or child support."

More College Money
The Senate Finance Committee has endorsed a $254 million package for higher education in the border area.

"This is a giant step forward," said Sen. Judith Zaffirini, D-Laredo.

She is among those who have led the fight to boost funding for Texas colleges and universities in the region of the state that borders Mexico.

Other Highlights

■ Sen. Teel Bivins, D-Amarillo, has introduced legislation that would suspend the driver's licenses of anyone convicted of a drug offense. Current state law requires licenses to be suspended only for felony drug offenses. If the law is not expanded by April 1, nearly $40 million in Texas' federal highway funds could be withheld, Bivins said.

■ Texas government's chief appraiser, Sam McAnally, received yet another honor recently, the CRE (Counselor of Real Estate) designation. Membership in the elite group, which counts 925 members worldwide, is by invitation only to recognized authorities on land and property matters.

■ The name of Texas A&I University in Kingsville would be changed to Texas A&M University at Kingsville under a proposal by Sen. Carlos Truan, D-Corpus Christi. Truan attached the proposal as a rider to an appropriations bill endorsed last week by the Senate Finance Committee.
