City, school, state elections Saturday

Saturday is election day. And an unusual one, at that.

Making it unusual is the fact that a state-wide election is being held on the same day city and school elections are scheduled.

Because of that, voters in some precincts could be confused, because the polls are not necessarily the same for local and state voting.

Residents who want to cast ballots in Iowa Park will have to travel to two different polls.

Precinct 32 voters will be marking their city and school ballots at Kidwell Elementary School on Third Street, and then drive to the Wichita County Agriculture Building, 220 West Park, to vote on the state issues.

Precinct 33 voters will find the city and school poll at Bradford Elementary at 800 South Texowa, and the state's poll at Faith Baptist Church at 411 South Wall.

The West Wichita Co-Op Building at Valley View will serve as the poll for both school and state elections. That is Voting Precinct 34.

Precinct 35 voting poll for the state election will be at Chaparral Baptist Assembly on Church Camp Road.

Iowa Park school district voters will find their ballots easy to mark. There are only two trustee positions on the ballot, and neither incumbent has drawn a challenger.

They are Randy Catlin, Place Six, and Keith Fisher, Place Seven.

All three city alderman incumbents are seeking re-election, and two of them have single challengers.

Alderman Place One, Virgil Woodfin, is being opposed by Mike Sellers. Incumbent Bob Hamilton, in Place Three, is challenged by Chris Powell. Mark Raby is unopposed in his bid to return to Place Five.

There were 83 early voting ballots cast in the city election, according to Janice Newman, city secretary and early voting election judge.

Voters will be choosing their choices among 24 candidates for U.S. senator, as well as deciding the fate of three proposed amendments to the state constitution, all relating to public education.

Gov. Ann Richards appointed Bob Krueger to serve as interim senator for Texas, when long-time senator Lloyd Bentsen was named to head the federal treasury.

Twenty four at-large candidates have filed for a chance to be chosen to fill Bentsen's position, and because of the large number the possibility of a runoff election has been predicted.

The list of senatorial candidates, in order as they appear on the ballot, includes Jack Fields, Lou Zaeske, Clymer Wright, Roger Henson, Jose Angel Gutierrez, Thomas D. Spink, Rose Floyd, Charles Ben Howell and Billy Brown.

Also, Joe Barton, Rick Draheim, Herbert Spiro, C. (Sonny) Payne, Maco Stewart, Lous C. Davis, Don Richardson and Lottie Bolling Hancock.

Also, Kay Bailey Hutchinson, James Vallaster, Richard Fisher, Stephen Hopkins, Chuck Sibley and Robert (Bob) Krueger.

The three proposed amendments to the state constitution include:

Proposition One - "The constitutional amendment allowing limited redistribution of ad valorem taxes for schools, authorizing the legislature or local districts to set a minimum tax rate in county education districts, and placing a cap on the ad valorem tax levied by county education districts."

Proposition Two - "The constitu-

Arrests clear burglary

A recent "smash and grab" burglary of a local super market has been solved with the arrest of two young men, according to Chief Ray Smock.

Arrested on charges of theft were Michael Dean Cox, 17, and Jerome Koerth, 18.

Both men were transported to the county jail and later released after posting a $5,000 bond each. Cox was arrested Friday and Koerth Saturday, according to the police blotter.

The burglary of King's Food, now operated as Food Depot, at 300 West Bank, was discovered the morning of April 18.

The suspects reportedly had broken out a large front window, taken several bars of two brands of candy, some soft drinks, and possibly as many as 20 cartons of cigarettes.

Neither man has yet been implicated in a similar burglary of the same store that took place Aug. 13, however.

Two other arrests were made in unrelated cases during the past week.

Kathy Lynn Jones, 29, was taken into custody at 1:35 a.m. Saturday at a home in the 100 block of South Park, and charged with assault. She was later released after posting a $71.50 cash bond.

When an officer made a traffic stop at 11:40 p.m. Saturday in the 800 block of South Texowa, it was determined one of the vehicle's occupants had an outstanding warrant issued by the county sheriff's department.

Sheila D'Aun Jones, 30, was wanted for attorney off bond, with an outstanding bond of $5,000. She was turned over to county deputies to be transported to the county jail, according to the blotter entry.

An investigation continues into the reported theft of some money from a bank bag Friday at the high school.

Police were told that a single $20 bill was in the bag which was left on a secretary's desk for a few moments, while the employee was in another room. Upon return, the bill was found to be missing.

Group plans to beautify Iowa Park

An effort to improve the appearance of Iowa Park was begun last week when a group of local residents met at the Recreational Activities Center.

The purpose of the meeting was to organize the group, which will form as a committee of the Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce, and share ideas on ways to improve the appearance of the city.

Larry Dutton, president of the Chamber of Commerce, appointed Dolores Hamilton to chair the committee, and Frances George will be co-chairman.

The first objective of the group is to enter the city in a contest for the Governor's Community Achievement Award, co-sponsored by Keep Texas Beautiful, Inc. (KTB) and the Texas Department of Transportation.

The cities of Burkburnett, Electra and Wichita Falls are past winners of this award.

The contest covers a period of approximately 12 months, and communities compete within nine population categories. The Texas Department of Transportation provides $700,000 in highway landscaping to the nine cities named by KTB as winners. The prize for the winner in Iowa Park's population bracket is $40,000.

Mrs. Hamilton explained to the group the six different sections emphasized in the contest, and appointed a chairman for each. These include:

Cleanup - Susan Dillard, chairman. This involves clean-up and anti-littering campaigns, clean-up and mowing of vacant lots, etc.

Public Awareness - Kari Collins, chairman. Provides consistent communications designed to educate the public on solutions to its littering problems through the use of newspapers, radio, tv, talks to groups, displays, etc.

Education (Schools Program) - Sheri Kennedy, chairman. Activities of teachers and students in school projects involving litter prevention, solid waste management and beautification.

Solid Waste Management and Recycling - Mike Price and Marc and Janice Newman, co-chairmen. Involves finding the most effective way to address solid waste needs, such as source reduction (reducing the amount of waste generated that must eventually be discarded), resource recovery (extraction and utilization of materials into manufacturing of new products), recycling, composting, re-use and landfills.

Beautification - Steve Hammonds, chairman. Community involvement in the planting of trees, landscaping, xeriscaping, wildflowers, parks and park improvements, monuments, gardens, etc.

Illegal Dumping/Law Enforcement - Ray Smock, chairman. Enforcement of litter laws and city ordinances governing the proper disposal of solid waste at its sources, citizen awareness of litter laws, etc.

During the meeting many ideas were offered for ways to improve the appearance of the community.

Some of the suggestions made include planting wildflowers along the railroad tracks, plant trees in the ramp

Council hears request

While the city council took no action on a request to reduce traffic speed in Garden Valley during their meeting Monday night, the issue is expected to be on a future meeting agenda.

Mr. and Mrs. David McMahon, who live in the area, complained that drivers do not always observe the 30 miles per hour speed limit, and even when they do, parking curbside through the area creates a dangerous situation for children who may venture into the streets.

Most of the residents have two vehicles and, because the majority of the homes have single-car driveways, parking in the streets is common.

A traffic survey of all streets in the housing addition had been made by the police department, and in fact, 20 percent or more of the drivers were exceeding the speed limit, according to the report.

The McMahons asked the council to consider reducing the speed limit by five or 10 miles per hour, and post the limits at all entrances.

Some members of the council asked if speed bumps would accomplish what was needed to slow the traffic, since speed limits were not being regularly followed as it was.

However, the couple responded that speed bumps would only encourage acceleration after crossing a bump, and not slow traffic other than at the crossing.

The couple was told that if the majority of residents in the neighborhood wanted either slower speeds or speed bumps installed, a petition would insure the council what was desired.

The resignation submitted by David Collins, public works director, was received and accepted "with regret."

Collins, who was elevated to his position only a month earlier, explained he has accepted the position of fire marshal and emergency management coordinator for the city of Friendswood, south of Houston.

A successor to his position was not discussed.

The council approved a resolution nominating the Cryovac plant as an enterprise project, which will assist the company to undergo a planned expansion.

Trustees to meet Monday

Saturday's election results will be canvassed when the Iowa Park school board holds its regular meeting Monday.

Board meetings beginning next week will be held the first Monday of each month, according to Supt. Glen Mitchell.

Following the canvassing, the board will set a date for the winning trustees to be administered the oath of office. State election code prohibits the oath being administered until a report is received by the Secretary of State office in Austin.

Trustees will consider placement of teachers of Career Ladder levels two and three.

THEY'VE DONE IT AGAIN!

Band earns Sweepstakes

"They've done it again," reports Iowa Park High School journalism student Heather Krause.

She was referring to the school's Hawk Band.

The organization, for the 10th consecutive year, has earned the coveted University Interscholastic League's Sweepstakes Award.

Miss Krause says the band earned the award once again by earning Division One ratings in both segments of the spring Concert and Sightreading Contest, held recently in Vernon.

Those ratings, coupled with the Division One from last fall's Marching Contest, completed the requirements for Sweepstakes.

Under direction of Greg Miller, the band performed three selections in Concert, including United Nations, Prospect and Fanfare Ode and Festival, according to Miss Krause.

Pet vaccination clinic Saturday

Iowa Park Vocational Agriculture students will hold their annual pet vaccination clinic Saturday for the public.

The event will begin at 8 a.m. and conclude at 3 p.m., and be held at the Vo-Ag building, on the corner of West Highway and Johnson Road.

A veterinarian will be assisted by agriculture students.

Shots and their costs for dogs include: rabies, $7, distemper for dogs under five years of age, $12; Parvo, $5.

For cats, rabies, $7; feline distemper, $5, and leukemia shots, $12.50.

Salvation Army explained to Evening Lioness Club

Capt. W.D. Owens described the Salvation Army as "a church that puts faith into action" Thursday as he spoke to the Evening Lioness Club. He described the programs offered and different ministries to meet both spiritual and physical needs. Owens and his wife, who accompanied him, are both ordained ministers.

Owens said that the Salvation Army was founded in 1865 and had been serving Wichita Falls over 85 years. He said that it received 15 percent of its budget from United Way, then had to raise the remaining 85 percent through donations, bell ringing during holidays, etc.

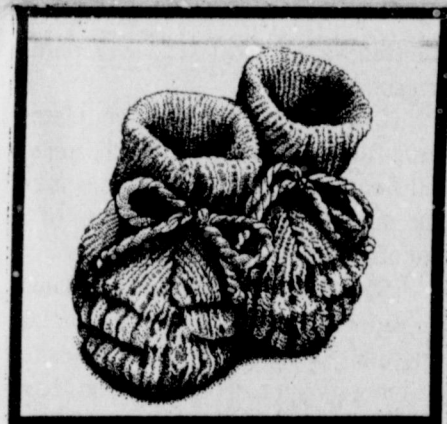

Captain Owens said that the organization assisted over 11,000 people last year through disaster relief, providing food, shelter, clothing, furniture, preaching the gospel, and visiting 14 nursing homes in the area once each week, taking bananas and other goodies to the residents. He said that many people were served delicious holiday meals each year.

The captain described the Thrift Store at the center and urged his listeners to save reusable clothing and furniture for donations. He said that someone from the headquarters would pick up the articles, many of which are given to the people who cannot afford to buy them. Others are sold to people on fixed incomes.

One of the most impressive parts of the captain's talk was his success stories which revealed how some people had got a new lease on life through the Salvation Army's ministry, and were now living helpful, constructive lives.

Mrs. Herman Daymude gave the meditation on "Prayer" enhancing it with a poem, "Take Time to Pray." She then presented members and guests with prayer rocks.

During the business, officers were elected for 1993-94. Mrs. Kenneth Via was re-elected president. Those serving with her will be Mmes. Don Jagger,

LOOK WHO'S NEW

A daughter, Rayna Lee, was born April 18 to Mr. and Mrs. Ronald McDonald of Seagoville. She weighed eight pounds, four and one-half ounces, and was 21 inches long. The new baby has a four-year-old sister, Rebekah. Mrs. McDonald is the former Rhonda Lee of Iowa Park.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Riley Thompson and Berry. Mrs. Don Wilson was a guest.

Garden Club tours local iris gardens

The lovely iris gardens, now in full bloom, didn't go unnoticed Friday morning when members of the Iowa Park Garden Club toured the gardens of Annetta Reusch, 42 Surrey; Charlette Kennedy, 14 Surrey, and Gladys James, 1425 FM 368 South.

The yard of Charlette Kennedy also had blooming azaleas and red bud trees which added to the beauty of the iris garden.

Following the tour, members met for refreshments at the Recreational Activities Center. Hostesses Denise Gilmore and Marie Wooten served the group from a table centered with a basket filled with fresh spring petunias.

LIBRARY NEWS

By Ardis Jensen

Adult Education Classes

Mrs. Kris Hines will be on hand to help with Reading, Writing, Math and Computer Application Classes each Saturday through the month of May, from 10:30-12:30.

Region IX Service Center and the library are sponsoring these classes FREE of charge.

National Library Week Thank You's

To our many patrons, we extend a special "Thank You" for making our Annual Book Sale a big success.

Without the donations received in books and the many library patrons who come to shop for that special book, we would not have the success rate that we do. You do make a big difference, and are very much appreciated. As of Tuesday of this week, we had not counted the amount taken in, so we cannot give you a total of contributions received.

Movie Dates

Our friends at the Friendly Door and Heritage Manor will be taking a trip down the "Atchafalya River Basin, In South Central Louisiana."

We invite you to come view this beautiful color documentary film. It will show us the ecological cycle of life structured around the river and its marshlands. The scenery is beautiful and the habitats of the birds, fish, and other animals are carefully examined. This is a multi-award winning film.

Iowa Parkans receive District PTA honors

Several Iowa Park individuals and groups received recognition awards at the district Parent-Teacher Association conference held here last week.

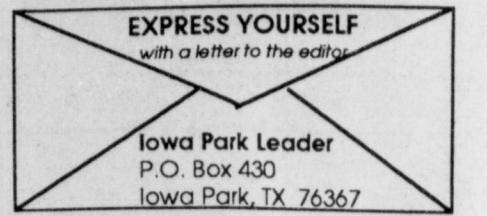

The district consists of 44 units in 11 area counties. The conference was hosted by the Kidwell, Bradford and Junior High P-TAs.

Dorothy Palmer, Anita McShan and Becky Lovelady were awarded TexasLife Memberships for their work in promoting P-TA objectives in physical, mental, social and spiritual education and welfare of children and youth.

District awards were given to youth who participated in the Cultural Arts and Environmental Poster contests.

First place winners in Cultural Arts were Mandy Collins and Jason Pelz, while Environmental Poster winners were awarded to Heather Moody, Ashley Brandt and Jennifer Turman.

The Bradford P-TA received awards for membership increase and enrolling 100 percent of the faculty. Cindy Collazo is membership chairman.

Mrs. Tim Rich and Bailey

Janna (Mrs. Tim) Rich loves to cook and sew. She began sewing when she was 10 years old, and when she graduated from Iowa Park High School, she used the money received as gifts to buy a sewing machine. Although she makes a lot of clothes for herself and daughter, Bailey, Janna's first love is custom interior sewing such as drapes, bedspreads, etc.

Janna and her mother-in-law, Helen Rich, an accomplished artist, participate in a lot of craft shows. Helen displays her paintings, and Janna's work includes baby blankets, quilting, stuffed animals and other craft items.

Janna and Tim, a carpenter, have been married 12 years. Their seven-year-old daughter, Bailey, is a first grade student at Kidwell. She is playing T-ball and is a member of a Girl Scout Brownie troop. Following in her mother's footsteps, Bailey is learning to cook, and sews clothes for her Barbie doll.

Janna's hobbies include collecting advertising tins and elephant replicas. She is troop leader for a Brownie troop and a room mother for Mrs. Martin's first grade class. She and Tim like to watch drag racing.

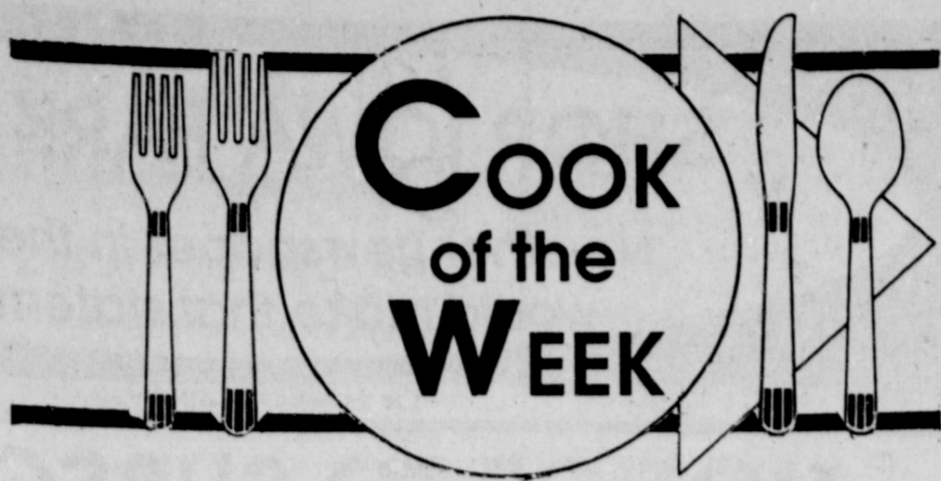

Janna said she has been cooking (mostly sweets) since she was eight years old. "After I married, I decided I needed to learn to cook something like meatloaf," she said.

She didn't include her meatloaf recipe for this week's column, but she is sharing many other good recipes that she has collected over the years. "Indians from Kentucky" is a recipe Janna got from a neighbor in San Antonio when she was 12-years-old. She entered it in a cooking contest and won fourth place. She said the "Chicken Spaghetti" is a good recipe to make in advance, and Tim's favorite is "Pepper Steak."

Chicken Spaghetti

- 1 whole chicken, boiled and boned
- 1 stick butter
- 1/2 lb. grated American cheese
- 1 onion, chopped
- 2 jars Kraft Old English cheese
- 3/4 cup flour
- 1 qt. milk
- 1 can mushrooms
- 1 green pepper
- 12 oz. spaghetti

After boiling chicken, remove from broth and debone. Use broth to cook spaghetti. In saucepan, melt butter, saute onion and pepper. Add flour, mix well, and slowly add milk. Stir until slightly thick. Add cheeses and mushrooms. Mix in chicken and spaghetti and put in 12x12 glass pan. Bake at 350 degrees 30-40 minutes.

Indians from Kentucky

- 1 lb. brown sugar
- 1 1/2 sticks butter
- 2 eggs
- 2 tsps. vanilla
- 1 3/4 cup flour
- 3 tsps. baking powder
- 1 1/2 cup pecans

Melt butter and brown sugar in saucepan. Cool and add slightly beaten eggs and vanilla. Fold in flour, baking powder and pecans.

Pour mixture into 9x13 pan and bake 30-40 minutes at 350 degrees. Cut while hot and roll in powdered sugar.

Pepper Steak

- 1 1/2 Lbs. round steak, cut 1/2-inch thick
- 1/4 cup flour
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/8 tsp. pepper
- 1/4 cup cooking oil
- 1 - 8 oz. can tomatoes
- 1 3/4 cup water
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 1 small clove garlic, minced
- 1 Tbsp. beef flavored gravy base or soy sauce
- 1 1/2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
- 2 large green peppers, cut in strips

Hot cooked rice, noodles or macaroni. Cut steak in strips. Combine flour, salt and pepper. Cover meat with flour mixture. In large skillet, cook meat in hot oil until browned. Drain tomatoes, reserving liquid. Add tomato liquid, water, onion, garlic and gravy base or soy sauce to meat. Cover and simmer about 1 1/4 hours until meat is tender. Stir in Worcestershire and add green pepper strips. Cover and simmer 5 minutes. If necessary, thicken gravy with a mixture of a little flour and water. Add tomatoes and cook 5-15 minutes longer. Serve over rice, noodles or macaroni.

Ice Box Cookies

- 2 cups brown sugar
  - 1 cup margarine, softened
  - 2 eggs, beaten
  - 3 1/2 cups flour
  - 1 tsp. soda
  - 1 tsp. cream of tartar
  - 1 cup chopped pecans
  - 2 tsps. vanilla
- Cream together brown sugar and margarine. Add eggs. Sift together flour, soda and cream of tartar; stir into first mixture. Add pecans and vanilla. Roll into 3 or 4 long rolls; wrap in waxed paper and freeze. Slice and bake in 400 degree oven 6-8 minutes.

Spinach Madaline

- 2 - 10 oz. pkgs. chopped spinach
- 1/4 cup butter
- 2 Tbsps. flour
- 2 Tbsps. chopped onion
- 1/2 cup evaporated milk
- 1/2 cup spinach liquid
- 1 - 6 oz. roll Kraft jalapeno cheese, grated
- 1/2 tsp. pepper
- 3/4 tsp. celery salt
- 1/2 tsp. garlic salt
- 1 Tbsp. Worcestershire sauce

Cook spinach, drain and save liquid. Saute onion in butter; add flour, milk and spinach liquid. Cook to thicken. Add cheese, seasonings and spinach. Serve hot with Fritos.

Poppy Seed Bread

- 2 eggs
  - 1 1/2 cups sugar
  - 3/4 cup oil
  - 1 tsp. vanilla
  - 1/4 cup poppy seed
  - 2 cups flour
  - 1 tsp. baking powder
  - 1 tsp. salt
  - 1 cup orange juice
  - Grated rind of 1 orange
- Beat eggs, add sugar and oil and mix well. Add vanilla, poppy seed, and grated orange rind. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together and add to above mixture alternately with orange juice. Bake in 2 greased and floured 7 1/2x4x2 loaf pans at 325 degrees 1 hour and 15 minutes. Remove from oven and let stand 5 minutes. Remove from pans and cool on wire rack.

Cheese Garlic Biscuits

- 2 cups biscuit mix
  - 2/3 cup milk
  - 1/2 cup (2 oz.) Cheddar cheese, shredded
  - 1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted
  - 1/4 tps. garlic powder
- Mix biscuit mix, milk and cheese until soft dough forms. Beat vigorously 30 seconds and drop dough by spoonfuls onto ungreased cookie sheet. Bake in pre-heated 450 degree oven 8 to 10 minutes or until golden brown. Mix margarine and garlic powder; brush over warm biscuits before removing from cookie sheet. 10-12 biscuits.

City-wide prayer date slated

A city-wide prayer meeting will be held at 12:20 p.m. Thursday, May 6, in City Hall Park. The event, which is scheduled to last 30 minutes, is part of the National Day of Prayer observance. Iowa Park Mayor Wayne House issued a proclamation Monday concerning the day. The non-denominational program will feature special music and prayers offered by several different persons.

Similar prayer sessions are to be held that day over the nation.

Officer prove apt with paddles

Two officers of the Iowa Park Police Dept. proved they won't have a problem if they find themselves up a creek with a paddle.

They placed second in their division of a canoe race last weekend in the Spring Fling at Wichita Falls.

Officers Jimmy Eaton and Tim Bay beat all competition except a team from Electra, which not only won the law enforcement division but also the overall competition.

sion project that will lead to an additional 115 employees.

Administrator Mike Price received authorization to advertise and accept bids for concrete work as well as materials to be used on street improvement projects this summer.

A decision was made to hold a called meeting Monday night, to canvass Saturday's election results. The regular second-Monday meeting date will be observed, at which time the election winners will be sworn into office.

Mayor Wayne House read a proclamation declaring May 6 as "National Day of Prayer for America in Iowa Park."

A program explaining the police department's D.A.R.E. program, which stands for Drug Abuse Resistance Education, was given by police officer Laura Perkins, who oversees the local program.

She told of her activities with students at all levels in local schools, primarily in the elementary grades, that was begun locally by former officer DeeDee Alderman during the 1991-92 year.

Regular classroom courses are taught in the schools, including: the use of drugs and the consequences involved; resisting the pressure to take drugs, and always say "no;" recognizing stress and ways to cope using alternatives to drugs; the importance of using positive role models, and the building of self-esteem.

She says she spends approximately eight hours each week in classrooms, and "I also try to spend some time with the students in the cafeteria and on the playground."

Mrs. Perkins told the council a major part of the program is funded with $1,100 out of the school's drug education fund.

Kindergarten gives PTA program

The kindergarten classes of Kidwell Elementary presented a program, "Sing in the Spring," for the PTA program Monday night at the Iowa Park High School auditorium.

The presentation, directed by Nancy Thompson, featured a collection of spring songs and poems.

The Kidwell PTA executive board met prior to the program. Pat Pelz, president, announced that over $8,000 had been collected for Fun 'N Fitness.

It was decided to purchase playground equipment with the proceeds from the fundraiser. A committee was appointed to meet with a playground equipment manufacturer to decide on future additions to the playground.

Fun 'N Fitness Day, a full day set aside for fun and games for Kidwell students, will be Friday. Any parents interested in helping with the events are encouraged to participate.

In other business, members agreed to provide a salad luncheon for teachers Wednesday, in observance of Teacher Appreciation Week.

The PTA will also sponsor a book fair beginning Wednesday through Tuesday, May 5-8, at Kidwell. Proceeds from the fair will fund a CD-ROM for the computer room at Kidwell.

The next meeting of the Kidwell PTA will be May 18 at Kidwell Elementary, and will feature the installation of officers for the 1993-94 school year.

Iowa Parkan is recognized

An Iowa Parkan was among members of the Corps of Cadets in East Central University's Army ROTC Battalion to be honored in its annual awards ceremony.

He was Cadet Christopher W. Cook, who received the Military Order of the World Wars Award and recognized for membership in the Tiger Battalion Ranger Challenge Team, the Tiger Battalion Cannon Crew and the Tiger Battalion Color Guard.

Also, landscaping Oscar Park, parking city trash trucks in neighborhoods for residents to dispose of large objects, etc., enforcement of ordinances, youth involvement, using wood chips for trails in the parks, and since Iowa Park is a bird sanctuary, planting trees that can be used for nesting.

The next meeting is scheduled at 5 p.m. today at the RAC. Mary Lou Wolf, co-chairman of the project at Burkburnett and Keeping Texas Beautiful District 3 governor, will show a video and explain some of the projects her city undertook. Anyone interested in the beautification of Iowa Park is welcome to attend.

A criminal mischief report was filed Wednesday evening when it was learned a window at the Cornerstone Pentacostal Church had been broken out.

An on-going problem reoccurred Tuesday afternoon, when an officer spotted a juvenile on top of the gymnasium at Bradford Elementary.

The youth's parents were contacted and the youngster cited for criminal mischief.

School authorities over the years have complained about youngsters climbing atop both elementary school buildings, often causing damage.

Ruth Reaves

Services for Ruth Belote Reaves, 89, were held Wednesday afternoon at First United Methodist Church with Dr. Jim Farris, her grandson, and Rev. Karl Klaus, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Highland Cemetery under the direction of Dutton Funeral Home.

She died Monday in a Wichita Falls hospital.

Mrs. Reaves was born May 1, 1903, on the Ferguson Ranch in Archer County. She had lived in the Iowa Park area all of her life. She and George Swan Reaves were married March 27, 1921, in Iowa Park. He died Jan. 23, 1988. She was a member of Friendly Door Senior Citizens and First United Methodist Church. She was a pioneer member of Valley View Methodist Church and a past member of the Women's Missionary Society and Home Demonstration Club of Valley View. She was a homemaker.

Survivors include a daughter, Mary Frances Farris of Houston; three sons, J.L. of Lake Kickapoo, and Buster and Glen, both of Iowa Park; six grandchildren; nine great-grandchildren; and three great-great-grandchildren.

Memorials may be made to First United Methodist Church of Iowa Park, or Highland Cemetery Association, P.O. Box 12, Iowa Park, Texas 76367.

Berry Bonds

Services were held for Berry "Junior" Bonds, 67, Monday afternoon at the Pavilion in Highland Cemetery with Rev. Charles Hensley, pastor of First Assembly of God Church, officiating. Burial was in Highland Cemetery under the direction of Dutton Funeral Home.

He died Friday in a Wichita Falls hospital.

Bonds was born Feb. 4, 1926, in Idabel, Okla. He retired from Foster's Nursery in Wichita Falls as a nurseryman. He had lived in Iowa Park since 1962. He was a Baptist, a member of American Legion and a life member of Disabled American Veterans and Veterans of Foreign Wars. His wife, Wanda Jean Bolin, died in 1982. His son James, died in 1988.

Survivors include three daughters, Shirley of Lancaster, Mary of Lubbock, and Peggy of Mississippi; a son, Danny of Henrietta; a sister, Zelma Faux of Iowa Park; and 12 grandchildren.

THE EDUCATION OF JOHN C. MUDDLE
When this young man was six years old, he was with his father when his father was stopped for speeding. His father handed the officer some money with the driver's license. "It's okay, Son," as the father continued happily on the journey with his son, "everyone does it."
When the young man was eight, he was party to a family conference presided over by his uncle on the surest way to cheat on the income tax return. "It's okay," declared his uncle, "for everyone does it."
When the young man was twelve, he broke his glasses on the way to school. His aunt persuaded the insurance company the glasses were stolen and collected the money for this loss. The aunt stated, "It's okay, everyone does it."
When the young man was fifteen he made right guard on the high school football team. His coach showed him how to block and at the same time, grab the opposing end by the shirt so the official couldn't see it. From the coach came the words, "It's okay, everyone does it."
When the young man was seventeen, his older brother, Lance, who was just under seven feet tall, studies scholarship offers from two universities that offered the biggest down payment on a new car and gave a scholarship to his girlfriend. The recruiter assured, "It's okay, everyone does it."
When the young man was eighteen, he and a neighbor applied for the opening at a service academy. John was a marginal student and the neighbor was in the upper three percent of his class. John received the appointment. Again the reply, "It's okay, everyone does it."
When the young man was nineteen, John was approached by an upper-classman who offered to sell him the answers for an upcoming test. The seller said the magic words that John had heard often before, "It's okay, everyone does it."
John C. Muddle was caught and sent home in disgrace. At home greeted by his parent and kinfolks he was asked, "how could you do this to us? You never learned anything like this at home."
May we ever learn wisdom from the mistakes of others! The Scriptures declare, "providing for honest things, not only in the sight of the Lord, but also in the sight of men." (2 Cor.: 8:21). The Scriptures also state, "train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old, he will not depart from it." (Proverbs 22:6).

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
and Ed Sterling

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — A proposed constitutional amendment endorsed by Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock would prevent the Texas Legislature from getting a wild hair and passing a state income tax, without giving voters the final say-so.

Under the proposal, a simple-majority approval in a statewide election vote would be required before any income tax could take effect.

With anti-tax sentiment registering a "9" on the Richter scale, to put such a decision squarely in the hands of Texas voters would seem to absolve lawmakers of any blame, should an income tax be imposed.

The proposed amendment specifies that revenues from a state income tax would go directly into public education and enable some school property tax relief; it also would subject any income tax rate increase to voter approval in a statewide election.

Two-thirds Vote Needed

If the measure gets two-thirds approval in the Senate and House — and it appears it will — voters will find it among other proposed constitutional amendments on the Nov. 3 ballot.

Bullock scoffed at speculation by GOP members that his endorsement of a plebiscite is merely a smokescreen to take attention away from Proposition 1 on the May 1 special election ballot. Prop. 1 is the constitutional amendment known around the state as "The Robin Hood Amendment," which would allow the state to transfer ad valorem revenues from property-rich districts to property-poor ones.

Ford Endorses KBH

Still reeling from accusations that she once pummeled an employee with a loose-leaf notebook, state Treasurer Kay Bailey Hutchison received the blessing of former President Gerald Ford last week.

Ford endorsed Hutchison for the U.S. Senate race. Hutchison, a Republican, served in the Ford administration as vice chairman of the National Transportation Safety Board in 1976.

As the May 1 special election nears, polls show Hutchison leads GOP candidates, U.S. Reps. Joe Barton of Ennis and Jack Fields of Humble, but trails the governor's appointee Sen. Bob Krueger, D-New Braunfels.

Meanwhile, Hutchison said last week she took (and passed) a "demeaning" lie detector test to dispute allegations that she hit a former employee.

Mauro Heads Task Force

President Clinton has appointed Land Commissioner Garry Mauro to head a national task force on converting the federal vehicle fleet to natural gas and other alternative fuels.

Mauro said the task force's goal is to demonstrate that using such fuels will save money, reduce pollution, cut dependence on foreign oil and pave the way for converting thousands of private and public vehicles nationwide.

In appointing Mauro, Clinton cited Texas' efforts to convert school buses and other public vehicles to alternative fuels.

Vaccination Bill Passed

Gov. Ann Richards is expected to sign legislation that would require preschoolers to receive immunizations against childhood diseases. The Senate gave final approval to the bill last week.

"This bill is very important because in some parts of the state, the level of immunization is lower than in Third World countries, said the bill's sponsor, Sen. Judith Zaffirini, D-Laredo. She said the bill would help prevent outbreaks of measles and other preventable diseases.

Zaffirini said the vaccinations will cost $55.6 million, a fraction of the expense of treating the diseases.

Bills Salute Veterans

Under legislation passed by the House and sent to the Senate:

■ Children of U.S. Military personnel killed or missing in action wouldn't have to pay tuition or fees at state universities.

■ State agencies must continue to give veterans preference over equally qualified job applicants.

Other Highlights

■ The state's public utility counsel, Luis Wilmoth, has recommended that Texas Utilities Electric Co.'s proposed $760 million rate increase be slashed by 83 percent. He recommended a $129 million, or 2.5 percent rate hike. TU's request would increase rates 15.3 percent.

■ The Senate put to rest an earlier controversy and confirmed the reappointment of Amy Johnson to head the Office of Public Insurance Counsel, which represents Texas insurance consumers. Earlier, several senators said she was too aggressive against insurance companies. The vote was 27-2.

■ President Clinton's choice for secretary of the Navy is San Antonio investment banker John Dalton. A graduate of the Naval Academy, Dalton, 51, said he will be "firm, fair and sensitive" in handling reports of sexual harassment at the 1991 Tailhook convention.

TO THE CITIZENS OF IOWA PARK

This Saturday, May 1, you will have the opportunity to vote for the Political Candidate of your choice. Most of the people in Iowa Park know of my concerns and goals for our city. I would like to take this space to reiterate on just some of those concerns.

- Promote a better relationship between Police Officers and the people of Iowa Park through Awareness Programs.
- More interaction between citizens and Crime Prevention on the Neighborhood Watch Programs available.
- Incentives for new small businesses to locate in Iowa Park and Incentives for established small businesses to remain in Iowa Park.
- Aggressive Recycling Programs such as: Even Day pick up for trash-paper goods and Odd Day pick up for glass, plastic, and cans. Included would be residential, commercial and schools. The residential and commercial money received would be designated for "Street Improvement Projects." School money received would be designated to "Career Ladder Promotions."
- Public Programs for Parents and Kids using "Guest Speakers" to talk about the importance of staying in school and furthering your education and how the wrong choices now can affect the relations with others around you, your finances, and even your health.

FOR THOSE OF YOU WHO MAY NOT KNOW ME!

- I am 40 years old and a 16-year resident of Iowa Park.
- I have been married 21 years to my wife, Brenda.
- I have 2 children-Michelle, 20, attends W.T.S.U at Canyon; and Jeremy, 16, a sophomore at Iowa Park High School actively involved in Football, Track and American Kenpo Karate.
- Past President and current member of Iowa Park Optimist Club.
- Former Executive Secretary Mothers Against Drunk Driving-Wichita County.
- Past Vice President of Non-Traditional Student Organization - MSU.
- Involved with Iowa Park Bloodmobile 7 years.
- Business Owner of Iowa Park Athletic Center.
- Versed in City Government and attend council meetings regularly.

IF your concerns are the same as mine and you feels that I'm the right man that might be able to make a difference, then you need to reflect it at the polls by Voting this Saturday, May 1st for City Councilman, Place 1.

Thanks for your support,

Kindergarten screening scheduled next week

The annual screening and registration program for Iowa Park kindergarten-age children is scheduled Tuesday and Wednesday of next week at Kidwell Elementary, according to Ron Woods, principal.

All children who will be five years of age on or before Sept. 1 are eligible to be screened. Parents who have not received an appointment time through the mail are asked to contact the school at 592-4322.

Special education for the three and four year old children with a physical or learning deficiency is available. That is determined by sight, hearing, speech, mental maturity or a physician's diagnosis.

Parents who have a child believed to be eligible for the special education program are asked to contact Kidwell Elementary for an appointment time for screening.

Higher education--funding problem or investment in the future?

Today's high school dropout can expect to earn an average of only $18,633 a year during his working life; a high school graduate $22,985.

A college graduate, however, can expect to double the dropout's earnings and take home $36,000.

These recent figures from the U.S. Census Bureau are causing Texas business leaders, educators and the taxpayers to ask a penetrating question about future support of higher education:

Is adequate funding for Texas colleges and universities a budget problem, for the next Legislature--or a challenge to invest in the state's economic future?

With Texas once again facing a revenue shortfall, appropriations for universities and colleges are getting careful scrutiny.

Anticipating budget problems, the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board last January passed a resolution advising the 35 senior colleges and universities, 49 community and junior colleges, seven medical schools, four technical colleges and the specialized institutes under its jurisdiction that they should set up immediate plans for no growth and re-trenchment.

The Coordinating Board said the schools should prepare for the possibility of cuts of up to 10 percent of current budgets. If necessary, they are to admit fewer students, close programs or even entire departments.

Chancellor William H. Cunningham of The University of Texas System says: "If deep cuts are sustained over a long period, the System would have no choice but to consider changes in our admission policies, the consolidation of departments or the elimination of programs."

President William H. Mobley of Texas A&M University argues that appropriations for higher education should be regarded as an investment, not a financial burden.

"Education too often is viewed as a funding problem or a source of society's ills" he says. "It should be viewed as a solution to major problems such as crime, welfare, unemployment and an under-educated work force in the emerging knowledge-based society."

It is easy to substantiate the claim that funds for higher education are an investment that pays high return to the state far above its costs, Dr. Mobley says.

Studies show that education today accounts for 15 percent to 20 percent to 40 percent of that growth results from the improvement and application of knowledge.

"Against the $944 million appropriation in 1987-88 for the universities included in this study," Dr. Mobley says, "there was a net gain of $1.1 million in state income, a net gain of $345 million in state payrolls and a net gain of 13,779 jobs. In other words, the state received an additional $1.13 in economic activity for every dollar invested in public higher education."

Dr. Mobley's arguments are supported by insurance executive Bernard Rapoport of Waco, a UT System regent and long-time supporter of higher education as a sound economic investment for Texas.

Writing in a recent issue of the Texas Observer, he points out that the state's economy is suffering because funds needed for higher education are being spent elsewhere.

"The highest increases in state spending have occurred in two categories--public safety and corrections, and health and human services," he writes.

"Spending for new prisons has increased 207 percent--or 107 percent adjusted for inflation. Spending for health and human resources increased 173 percent, or 101 percent adjusted for inflation. For higher education, revenue appropriations have increased only three percent, or only one percent adjusted for inflation."

The question taxpayers are asking is this: It costs about $20,000 a year to keep a criminal in jail and $3,500 to keep each student in a public college. Which is the best investment for the future?

'Totally Texas Menu' served to business leaders

When business leaders met in San Antonio in October for the initialing of the North American Free Trade Agreement, they were treated to a "Totally Texas Menu" luncheon--not steak and barbecue but a mixed grill of Gulf shrimp, Hill Country venison and quail.

Every food item on the menu--from the crumbled Blanco goat cheese to the Medina apple pandowdy--while not typical Lone Star fare, was authentically Texan.

Most people know Texas is famous for beef and Tex-Mex cuisine, but many don't realize that we produce so many other mainstream and specialty products that it's possible to plan every meal around them.

The "Totally Texas Menu," a comprehensive Texas Department of Agriculture marketing campaign, aims to spread the word about this diversity and quality.

Agriculture is this state's second largest industry, a $13 billion annual business that pumps $36 billion into the Texas economy.

The goal of "Totally Texas Menu" is to help the state's farmers, ranchers and food processors expand their markets by selling more products to restaurants, hotels, caterers, supermarkets and other food and beverage outlets.

Texas restaurants alone spend $4 billion each year on food. Capturing a larger share of this market would bolster producers' and processors' earnings considerably.

In return, food service retailers have the option of serving fresh Texas products raised close to home, as well as processed foods with a true Texas flavor.

To promote these items, restaurants might feature a "Totally Texas Menu" daily special or use menu descriptors to point out the origins of particular products such as Rio Grande Valley grapefruit or Winter Garden spinach.

The "Totally Texas Menu" concept is not limited to restaurants. Chambers of commerce, civic clubs and charitable organizations can feature "Totally Texas Menu" events to emphasize local pride and the importance of buying close to home to promote economic growth.

The "Totally Texas Menu" campaign encourages all buyers of food products, whether they be the largest institutional buyer or a single member household, to choose Texas products whenever possible.

Considering the millions of dollars spent on food in Texas each day, buying more Texas products will expand Texas' economy and put more Texans to work.

TDA unveiled the marketing campaign in November 1991, at the Simon David food store in Austin. A week later, a "Totally Texas" Thanksgiving was served to Gov. Ann Richards in the chamber of the Texas House of Representatives.

Since then, the concept has been promoted at a variety of activities statewide. For example:

An International Mchair Council reception catered by Don Strange of Texas, Inc., was held at the Institute for Texas Cultures in San Antonio. Guests sampled grapefruit margaritas, Texas wine, beer and sparkling mineral water, as well as regional and ethnic Texas cuisine;

"Totally Texas" Cooking Classes were held in October and November at the HEB Marketplace in San Antonio. The classes featured local chefs who prepared their own Texas specialties and taught menu planning with Texas products.

Curbs the 'Craving' Chain Herbal Formula Reduces Desire For Sweets

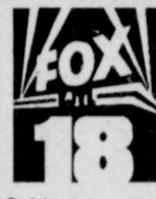

TALLAHASSEE--Researchers at Florida State University have published findings determining that consumption of sweet foods are habitual; initial intake of sweets actually increases the desire for more sweet food. This vicious craving chain was curbed by the FSU researchers with an herbally derived taste modifier which reduces the desire for additional sweets without changing the flavor of food.

In taste perception trials, subjects using the herbal derivative gymnemic acid, ate less than those not using it. The decreased desire for additional sweets resulted in an average of 20% fewer calories consumed. Carbohydrate and fat consumption also declined, resulting in weight loss. Published in Physiology and Behavior, the study demonstrates the herb's control of sugar consumption results in better appetite management, often generating substantial weight loss.

This safe and effective herb is now available in an all natural fiber tablet called Beta-Trim. Rapidly gaining acceptance in pharmacies nationwide, Beta-Trim has become a tremendous discovery for dieters. An Oklahoma resident writes, "Beta-Trim helps me maintain my weight and I feel much better about myself." Another in Arizona, "noticed results right away...My friends at work noticed the weight loss, now three of them are taking it."

Control your sweet tooth, naturally with Beta-Trim. Now available at:

This May Be Your Last Chance To Stop Southwestern Bell From Exploiting You.

For years, the regional Bell telephone companies have forced residential and business telephone users to pay inflated telephone bills.

According to the Consumer Federation of America, the Bell monopolies not only have overcharged telephone users by $30 billion since 1984, they're now trying to force ratepayers to pick up the tab for up to $400 billion of extravagant changes to the telephone network.

Today, Southwestern Bell and other Texas telephone companies are trying to get the Texas legislature to deregulate them even more, so that they can set their own rates and policies. They claim that they aren't making enough money from ratepayers in Texas to invest in changes in the telephone infrastructure.

The fact is, they had record profits last year. And with those profits they invested across the border in Mexico's telephone system, bought an overseas cable company, and became one of the new owners of the San Antonio Spurs basketball team.

Fortunately, you can do something about this exploitation.

How? By joining thousands of telephone users, and consumer and business groups who are rising up to support a legislative study that will help ensure that the telephone companies treat Texans more fairly.

Urge your legislative representative to vote in favor of the two-year, fact-revealing study that will protect Texans from the monopolistic whims of Texas telephone companies. This could be your last chance to stop the exploitation. Support the two-year study and protect your pocketbook.

Craft Show
The spring arts & craft show scheduled for May 1st has been cancelled due to lack of response. If you paid a booth rental fee and have not been contacted, please feel free to call the RAC and your money will be refunded. We regret that the show could not be carried out as planned. Plans are still in line for the November show.

We feel that this is a very worthwhile and fun event for our youth and hope that you all had a great time. The amount of effort put into this project by the IP Little League and Auxiliary made it a real success and I would like to thank each and every one who had a part in it.

End of School Party
The RAC will host a "Hawaiian" party for all elementary age students to celebrate the end of school. The party is tentatively scheduled for Friday, May 21 at 3:45. Persons who would like to assist in making plans for the party are encouraged to contact Jo Lynn or Candace at the RAC (592-4471). Further information will be available in this column soon, so be watching!

Bridge Club
The two top scores were close at Bridge Club this week, with Raydean Mattis holding the high score of 3,940, and Dorothy Ward turning in a close second high of 3,850.

Summer Schedule
We are planning a full schedule of activities and events at the RAC for the children this summer. If there is something you would like to see offered, we are always open to suggestions. We are hoping that the activities planned will cover the interest areas of all children, so please don't hesitate to let us know if there is something missing.

Volleyball
Attention volleyballers... this is the deadline week for registering your team to participate in the spring league at the RAC. There are leagues for 6-player recreational, 4-player power, and 6-player youth teams. Entry fees are $100, $60, and $60 respectively and are due by 5 p.m. Friday, April 30. Games for the recreational league will be played on Tuesday and Friday evenings. Power league games will be played on Monday and Thursday evenings. Youth games will be worked into the schedule on the nights that have the least number of teams.

The tentative schedule includes Summer Youth Theater, youth volleyball, mousercize, game & movie day, Student Outreach Program, crafts, and various specials. Special events being considered at this time are Story Patch Players presentations, a teddy bear picnic, water volleyball, ice cream day celebration and monthly Mother's Day Out sessions. We would also like to offer clothing design for the 4th of July and maybe other themes.

Budget Management Workshop
The budget management workshop to be presented by Lisa Ezzell will begin at 7:00 p.m. tonight. Free child care will be available for those who wish to attend. If you know you are coming and have not made reservations, please call the RAC at 592-4471. Reservations will help us to provide the proper amount of child care personnel.

The success of any of the above events will be greatly determined by the amount of interest shown, so please let us know as far in advance as possible if you plan to participate in summer activities. We are certainly looking forward to seeing you at the RAC!

Thank You
Thanks so much to all of the boys and families who participated in the recent Mid-America Baseball School.

We now offer a FULL LINE OF SUPPLEMENTS
use for weight loss, weight gain, energy loss, sore muscles, sore joints, fat burning, 2nd wind, muscle gain, etc.

TOP 10 EXCUSES FOR NOT EXERCISING

- "I WORK AND I'M TOO TIRED" - Working out will put the bounce back in your step after a long day at work.
- "I'M TOO EMBARRASSED TO WORK OUT AROUND OTHER PEOPLE" - I.P.A.C. is not a fashion show and has a reputation for friendly and courteous members and we're all in it for the same reasons - getting into shape.
- "I'M TOO FAT" - You're not going to change the way you look unless you both exercise and diet. No one is too big or too small.
- "I'D RATHER WATCH T.V. ON MY TIME OFF" - Most people eat while watching T.V.; thus the couch potato develops due to a slowing down of the metabolism.
- "I DON'T HAVE THE TIME" - Quality workouts can last one or two hours - you set the time limit. Workouts are more time effective than doctor's visits.
- "I DON'T WANT TO GET TOO BIG" - At I.P.A.C. we tailor workouts for your goals (weight loss - muscle gain, etc.)
- "I DON'T HAVE THE ENERGY" - And you never will unless you take the time to build up some endurance to promote energy by working out.
- "I DON'T HAVE THE MONEY" - Working out at I.P.A.C. costs less than $1.00 a day per person for an adult and even cheaper for a student or senior citizen - about 75c a day.
- "I'M AFRAID WORKING OUT WILL HURT ME" - Here at I.P.A.C. we don't like pain either. So if a certain exercise doesn't feel right, then don't do it.
- "I WOULD RATHER WORK OUT AT HOME IN MY GARAGE" - Working out at home is not a good idea because you have a motivation problem, a full refrigerator and a comfortable bed so close by. Also you need other people around in case you need help on a routine. Remember when you pay dues you are more likely to show up and workout. Also we provide the professional workout atmosphere and can answer your questions on workouts, etc., to meet your goals.

TOP 10 BENEFITS OF WORKING OUT

- "KEEPS YOUR WEIGHT DOWN" - Lowers cholesterol count and lowers resting heart rate.
- "UPS YOUR HEART RATE" - To provide more oxygen via increased blood flow to your arteries and muscles which slows muscle atrophy.
- "INCREASES BONE MASS IN ELDERLY" - Helps keep bones from becoming smaller and brittle thereby decreases breakage.
- "STRENGTHENS TENDONS LIGAMENTS & MUSCLE TISSUE" - Which connects and supports joints to make them stronger and more stable to support our body.
- "MORE YOUTHFUL APPEARANCE" - Working out increases the oxygen to skin cells for a more pliable youthful look.
- "WORKING OUT INDOORS IS SAFER" - When supervised and does not have the problem with U.V. rays that damage the skin cells and cause skin spots or dead pigmentation.
- "INCREASES MUSCLE SIZE" - Which makes you stronger and gives you a better overall shape.
- "STRESS RELEASE" - Working out releases endorphins which relieves everyday stress & depression - jobs, bills, kids, etc., and will help you sleep better at night.
- "LOWERS MEDICAL COST" - Less trips to the doctor for medications and less time spend in the hospital due to illness.
- "SELF CONFIDENCE" - Via the way a person look, feels and acts. He or she can use this confidence to succeed in the job market - a good presentation. To secure a better relationship with your spouse. To become a leader and not a follower. Promote self-worth. People that have confidence are more personable, set higher goals, and are respected by others.

Worth Quoting

We've expressed in this space our feelings about Proposition 1 on the May 1st ballot.

We sympathized Monday night with Supt. Ervin Huddleston and his neutral role in explaining at the town hall meeting the pros and cons of all three proposed amendments.

During his explanation, he commented on the effect of the recaptured funds of Robin Hood during the previous two years. Recapture has not made all that much difference to the schools receiving -- or the ones giving.

His comments bear out the results of studies conducted by two professors at SMU and a study of Texas school financing conducted by the University of Southern California.

Along the same line, we thought the comments interesting by the recipient of aid from Andrews in '91 and '92, the schools of Midland.

Gary Willis is vice president of the Midland Independent School District board of education and served on the 1992 special committee on public school finance along with three dozen other school trustees from across Texas.

He recently wrote in the Midland Reporter-Telegram:

"Voters often vote their pocket-books. That being true all of Midland County should unanimously vote yet.

"The constitutional amendments when passed will allow a strictly limited "Robin Hood" arrangement to pay for public schools in Texas.

"It is that Robin Hood arrangement of County Education Districts that directed the taxpayers of Andrews County to send Midland public schools $10 million each of the last two years.

"The state kept back $2 million, leaving a net of $8 million. Greenwood ISD got $2 million and Midland got $6 million net new money courtesy of Andrews County. Because of Robin Hood, the Midland board of education did not raise your local schools tax 20 cents.

"I respect those individuals who philosophically oppose the Robin Hood concept, but I do insist that they understand that to oppose Robin Hood in Midland means favoring massive Greenwood and Midland ISD tax hikes."

And from another Midland viewpoint, the Midland Reporter-Telegram, this past Sunday urged its readers to vote no on propositions one and three, and yes on proposition two, the ban against state mandates in education.

But we agree with Superintendent Huddleston: currently, the fate of proposition one and the Robin Hood is too close to call. It could go either way.

And there's one other fact that is undisputable. No one knows what is going to happen if the amendment passes. And conversely, no one knows for sure what will happen if the amendment fails.

But that's normal in Texas when dealing with public school financing.
JAMES ROBERTS
Andrews County News

You may have noticed an item in the news yesterday about Texas' largest school districts going on record in support of the May 1 ballot proposals about school funding.

Hal Guthrie, superintendent of Houston's Spring Branch Independent School District and president of the Texas School Alliance said:

"We believe that they will help to bring some stability to Texas school finance."

The alliance which he heads includes the school districts of Abilene, Amarillo, Arlington, Austin, Corpus Christi, Cypress-Fairbanks, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Houston, Garland, Irving, Lubbock, North East in San Antonio, San Antonio, Waco, Wichita Falls and Ysleta.

We imagine it's pretty easy to get a consensus among the alliance members to support the Robin Hood proposals when you're gettin' rather than givin'.

None of the alliance members listed above will give up funds -- all will receive funds under the proposals.

Doesn't your heart bleed over those big old poor school districts?
JAMES ROBERTS
Andrews County News

I think you ain't seen nothing yet if we allow passage of Proposition 1 of the so-called Robin Hood Amendment.

As it is presented to us now it just puts another layer of bureaucracy which will collect taxes and spend money. We already have too many layers of administration between us and the kids' well being.

Can't say enough about this now, but I sure hope you will consider a no vote to Amendment 1 on May 1.

Don't worry, the schools won't automatically shut down.
DICK RICHARDS
Aransas Pass Progress

In one month voters across the state will go to the polls to decide the fate of three proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution. The first amendment on the list will generate the most controversy and should be carefully studied by the voters.

Governor Ann Richards and a number of other Democrat leaders will be stumping the state in the next few weeks gathering support for the amendment commonly called "Robin Hood" school financing. They will loudly and frequently proclaim that to keep Texas schools open the amendment must pass.

Behind all the smoke and fury is the actual effect of the "Robin Hood" amendment. Voters need to be aware that the amendment makes very serious changes to our state constitution. Those changes overturn over a century of accepted state law.

The most obvious change is that the "Robin Hood" amendment allows the state legislature to set a statewide property tax rate. For years the Texas Constitution has prohibited the imposition of a statewide property tax.

Another fundamental change is that the "Robin Hood" amendment, for the first time in Texas, allows a body, the state legislature, to set a tax rate without the authorization of a vote of the people that will be taxed. That requirement that the voters authorize any tax rate is fundamental to the workings of our democratic form of government.

Contained in the amendment is the potential for a massive increase in property tax rates. Currently, the maximum rate that can be charged by a school district in property taxes is $1.50 per $100 of evaluation. In the "Robin Hood" amendment that ceiling is increased by allowing the County Education District (CED) to collect an additional $1.00 per $100 of evaluation for a total tax cap of $2.50. That change has the potential to raise property taxes over 66 percent in the state.

The argument made by the supporters of the "Robin Hood" amendment that the schools will close if it is not passed is simply a scare tactic. If the amendment fails, then the legislature has nearly a month to find another solution that does not require constitutional amendment imposing a statewide tax rate. Even if a solution is not found before the end of the legislative session, the appeals process in the state court system would tie up any court action for years.

If you favor giving up local control of property tax rates and a potential to have your property taxes raised by two-thirds, then you should be in favor of Amendment One on the May 1 ballot. However, if you want more, rather than less, local control and the present caps on school property taxes you should reject Amendment One.

JIM HUDSON
Perryton Herald

A couple of years ago, Southwestern Bell lobbied hard for relaxed regulation by the Public Utilities Commission.

The plan was called Texas First, and the phone company said that if it got the help it wanted, it could provide the telecommunications infrastructure that the state needed for economic growth. Give us Texas First, they said, and we'll also freeze our residential rates. Bell got a lot of support, and Texas First was adopted with a signed agreement that runs until near the end of 1984.

Now Bell is back, with other phone companies, even though Texas First has almost two years to run. Give us more relaxed regulation, they say, and we'll give you the kind of infrastructure the state needs for economic growth. If you do, they say, we'll freeze local residential phone rates (which already are frozen).

Bell liked Texas First at first, but now wants Texas Second, an even better deal, even though its profits are at record levels, its return on investment is double that of other regional Bell companies and even though it has billions to invest in Mexico, Israel, Great Britain and Washington.

Cut through the Texas Second jargon, and what remains is a scheme to extract hundreds of millions of dollars a year in additional rates from Texans, with regulation weakened to a point where there virtually would be no oversight or enforcement.

We and others have recognized that some limited regulatory relief may be appropriate, particularly for the small companies which don't have the massive resources of Southwestern Bell or GTE, who together control 93 percent of the state's telephone business.

But we also recognize that the issues concerning the setting of prices and the appropriate level of profits for the monopolies are complex, and that many groups have an important stake in seeing that such decisions are made fairly and equitably.

The immediate choice for the Texas Legislature is not so complex:

Should the Legislature give phone companies carte blanche to use their monopolies to punish competitors and to charge customers hundreds of millions of dollars in additional rates?

Or, should the Legislature take a reasonable amount of time to study the proposals to see what makes sense and what doesn't, and to ensure customers and other businesses and competitors have their say and don't get ripped off or put out of business?

Many Texans, including Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock, the Texas Senate leadership, consumer groups, business competitors -- and publishers -- believe that such an enormous rate raid ought to undergo some serious study.

Bullock has proposed, and the Legislature is considering, a two-year, blue-ribbon study of the Texas telecommunications policy. The study would permit all sides to be heard and would include full discussions of the merits of the phone company proposals.

We endorse the study and urge its approval by the Legislature. The best course is to look before we leap.

ROY EATON
Wise County Messenger

Too often the "media" becomes about as newsworthy as the news event itself.

Only in rare cases should the media deserve more attention than the event that was reported. The reporters should be the ones reporting the news, not the ones making it.

The job of newspapers, radio and television is to report the news in a fair and unbiased presentation, and then get the heck out of the way.

The highest compliment to a reporter or announcer is when the readers and listeners discuss the item that was reported, never mentioning HOW the item was presented.

But too much attention has been focused on the media the last few years because some would rather criticize the media than face the real and more important issues. It's sorta like the "kill the messenger" theory where the innocent announcers of centuries past were executed for revealing dreaded news.

Of course the media should be subject to scrutiny and journalists should welcome negative and positive feedback. (We like to think we do. We don't hesitate to run critical letters to the editor about our job performance.) But some readers are too quick to blame the media for their problems and the world's shortcomings. And, the truth is sometimes painful.

I was cornered recently by a reader who was complaining about our coverage of the Granbury school district. Stick to the issues, he argued. But I thought hefty salary increases, review of public documents in closed session and spending taxpayers' money out of town are issues that warrant public debate.

Others, usually the guilty ones, immediately pick up the phone upon reading the latest edition and give us an earful of explicit about how we wrongly accused them and ruined their lives forever. When we press them about how we did that, they say things like we printed their middle initial as "D" and by gosh, it's an "E!"

Some readers also complain loudly about the emphasis on "negative" news. They say the world's too depressing enough without us having to remind them.

We take that input seriously, but we also have to realize that it's our job to report the news events -- good and bad. Our world's not a perfect one, and our pages would not be reflecting the real world if only "happy" news was reported.

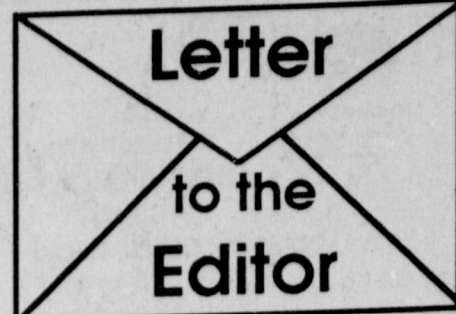

That's not to say we can't become more sensitive and place more emphasis on a variety of stories. We can.

However, I've found that when we publish a large "good" news story, very few readers tell us they enjoyed it. Perhaps that's an indication that "negative" news is really what interests society the most.

Because of freedom in our country, the media has the privilege and challenge to present the news in a way that can truthfully describe the event that occurred.

But the process of trying to obtain that elusive truth can be almost impossible at times. A multitude of stumbling blocks occur, most of which include people refusing to talk, sidestepping the actual facts or giving us the wrong information by mistake.

In that painful process most in the media strive diligently for the truth.

Questions 'Big City' ad

Dear Iowa Park Leader,
In the several years I have been reading your paper, you have always stressed your independence from the "Big City Papers". Why did you run the same ad about the telephone companies that the "Big City Papers" ran? Did you research the "facts" stated in the ad for accuracy? Did you check to see if what was being proposed in the ad as possible by the telephone companies was even legal? Have you ever heard of the "Telecommunications Act of 1934"?
Sincerely,
Jim Goodwin

Pol. Adv. Pd. by Bob Hamilton

There are those who believe any elected body, such as the city council, should at all times demonstrate harmony from within. Thus, strength and confidence in whatever actions are taken can be considered to be correct for those the body represents.

There is merit to this line of thinking. But unless each member has the same thought process, it is impossible. That is, unless the Texas Opening Meetings Law is violated, and decisions are reached before a meeting is held.

When I sought the position of city alderman, I pledged to vote my convictions, based on my understanding of the subject from whatever evidence is available to be considered, and what I felt was best for Iowa Park, its residents and taxpayers.

I have been out-voted on some issues, such as the gas lights on West Park, the sale of land on the northeast corner of Gordon Lake, and others. In each case, I voted the way I felt was best, and not just to go along with the rest of the council.

If re-elected to another two-year term, I don't plan to change. I'm not a "rubber stamp." I'll say what I believe is best for my community, and I'll vote the same way.

To those who voted for me two years ago, I appreciate your support. I ask for another term of office, pledging to continue an open door to all citizens, an interest in what you may have to say, action in response to the best of my ability if needed, and to continue to think for myself and vote the way I believe is best for you, the citizens, and our community.

Hawks romp to victories

Allow only two hits in two games

The baseball Hawks earned second place in the first half of Dist. 4-AAA round robin play with a win Friday over Henrietta, and started the second half in fine form with a victory over Vernon.

In those two outings, which required only 10 innings, Iowa Park outscored the opponents 21-1.

Pitching was a key in both contests. Starters Brent Brown and Ralph Dillard went the distance Friday and Tuesday, respectively, limiting their opponents to only one hit each.

Graham's Steers went undefeated through the first half of district play, and the Hawks, with a loss to Graham and a tie with Vernon, was second.

Tuesday's 11-1 win over Vernon was sweet revenge for Iowa Park. In their first meeting, at Vernon, play was called because of darkness on the unlighted field. The Hawks led 18-16, but Vernon was at bat and with only one out, had two runners on bases.

Dillard allowed only five Lions to reach first base.

He walked the second batter in the third inning. In the fourth, the umpire gave the second batter a base who claimed to have been hit, but in fact the ball hit his hand holding the bat, which observers said should have been a strike. That was to no avail, however, when he was a double-play victim soon afterward.

The Lions scored their unearned run in the fifth on a sacrifice fly, which followed the only Vernon hit, a double.

In the bottom of the fifth, the Hawks loaded the bases on an error, a walk and a bunt single, when Tony Lozipone singled scoring Charles Bradberry, ending the game on the 10-run rule.

Iowa Park scored seven of its runs in the second inning, and tacked on one in each of the other frames.

Jayson Maxwell, Chad Thompson and Jason Miller each had two hits against Vernon pitchers. Both of Miller's were high hitters over third base.

The Hawks broke open a scoreless game against Henrietta in the third inning, racking up five runs. They tacked on three in the third and two more in the fifth for their 10-0 shutout.

Thompson led Iowa Park's stick swingers, going three-for-three at the plate. One of those was a double. Maxwell was two-for-three, and David Hollis had a double.

The Hawks hit the road for their next two games.

They meet the Jackrabbits, considered to be their most serious threat for a regional playoff slot besides Graham, Friday.

Tuesday, they play at Breckenridge, before hosting Graham the following Friday.

All conference games are slated to start at 4:30 p.m.

Seven going to regional

Seven Iowa Park High athletes will be competing this weekend in the Region One track and field meet at Odessa.

They include six Lady Hawks and one Hawk, who placed either first or second in the district meet to qualify for the regional.

Jennifer and Julea Ricks will compete in the discus; Christi Welch in the 800 meters; Dusti Welch in the high jump; Brandi Catlin in both the 3200 and 1600 meter races, and Mandy Threet in the 100-meter hurdles.

Back for his second trip in the pole vault with be Scott Byrd.

The 3200-meter run final and all running preliminaries will be held Friday, and everything else Saturday.

Breckenridge schools were forced to permit an athlete, Klifton Boggs, to participate in a restraining order issued by a district judge, after Boggs had been declared scholastically ineligible. He won both hurdle events. A ruling apparently had not been issued in the case a week later, because he competed in the regional qualifiers' meet. If found ineligible, Graham and Vernon hurdlers will represent the district in this week's regional meet.

IPHS HAPPENINGS

Staff chosen for newspaper, yearbook

by Chondra Bills

Students who will be on the yearbook staff and newspaper staff for the 1993-'94 school year have been chosen. The yearbook staff will consist of eighteen students. They are Amber Atchley, Dennie Atchley, Chondra Bills, Brandon Black, Holly Burroughs, Zach Burroughs, Chris Campbell, Christina Duggins, Michael Fallon, Blaine Hefner, Joshua Johnson, Melinda Lovell, Amanda Marchand, Brande Overman, Emily Monday, Chris Schlaud, Christi Welch, and Nikki Williams.

The newspaper staff will consist of thirteen students. Students selected for newspaper are Chondra Bills, Brandon Black, Chris Campbell, Christina Duggins, Michael Fallon, Heather Hincks, Joshua Johnson, Heather Krause, D'Aun Morgan, Aimee Trantham, Amy Turner, and Lisa Walsli.

In state competition

Senior Mistie Williams qualified for state competition by placing third in Newswriting at the regional UIL meet in Odessa, Texas, on April 24. The state competition will be held May 7 at the University of Texas in Austin.

The topic Williams was asked to write about involved a student who brought a gun to school for a demonstration in his history class. In the prompt, the teacher allowed the student to shoot the gun on the football field, and as a result the school board was forced to decide on a proper punishment for the student and teacher.

Journalism adviser Linda Wickersham will accompany Williams to the state meet.

Literary magazine to be published

by Chris Campbell

A literary magazine is being published at Iowa Park High School for the first time since 1989.

The magazine consists of drawings, poems, short stories, and children's stories. Anyone enrolled in the school may submit work, however submitted artwork must be smaller than 8x10.

"We have a lot of talent in our school, and we feel that a literary magazine is the best way to share the talent with other people," said Mrs. Linda Wickersham, adviser. The magazine will have between sixteen and twenty-four pages, and will be circulated May 14.

Texas traditions likely to cross borders

"Gig'em Aggies" may soon be a new term in the Russian language.

And it's possible, but unlikely, that when the Kingdom of Morocco opens its first American-style institution of higher education this fall, students will adopt "The Eyes of Texas" as their hymn to their alma mater.

Meanwhile, if the 32 attorneys--16 each from the U.S. and Mexico--who recently completed a course at San Antonio's St. Mary's University decide to sing about it, their choice will probably be "Hands Across the Border."

Athletic cheers and music aside, Texas colleges and universities, both public and private, are attracting international attention. These are but three examples of how they're expanding their influence in innovative ways around the world.

Take Texas A&M University's new Center for Russian Petroleum Studies. Its mission is to help the former Union of Soviet Socialist Republics get its oil and gas industry producing at top capacity again. If it succeeds as planned, the economy of both nations will benefit.

The unusual challenge to Aggie petroleum engineers began last year. The Russian oil industry was in trouble. Plagued by a lack of funds for development and maintenance, petroleum production in the former Soviet Union plummeted.

This concerned Global Natural Resources of Houston, whose subsidiary operates some oil fields in Tartarstan as a joint venture with Tatneft, a Soviet producer. Managing the project is Tatex, a Russian group.

Both the Russians and their American partners were aware that they needed help, and Texas A&M already was name-known in Central Russia.

In 1991, Aggie veterinarians and agricultural scientists had been enlisted to improve food production in Tartarstan. If the Texans could lend a helping hand in farming, why not in petroleum, too?

With an initial grant of $385,450 the Aggies founded the Center for Russian Petroleum Studies. The resulting petroleum engineering contract signed by A&M with Tatex made history. It was the first U.S.-Russian enterprise licensed to conduct a for-profit energy business in the former Soviet Union.

A&M officials believe theirs is the only university-based center set up to give the Russians advice and counsel in oil and gas reservoir management.

While the Aggies were busy with the Russian project, the Texas International Education Consortium turned its attention to Morocco. TIEC is made up of 27 state-supported colleges and universities, including A&M.

Morocco, a former French colony, has 13 universities, all modeled after those in France. This 14th institution will have English as its language of instruction and will use the principles of the American educational system as its framework. And because of its sponsoring institutions, it will have more than just a touch of Texas.

Texas began looking toward ways it could aid education elsewhere in 1958. TIEC was organized informally that year. Later it was incorporated to develop, coordinate and implement international education projects on behalf of its affiliated institutions.

While the Aggies were busy in Russia and the TIEC consortium was helping to build the new university at Al-Akawayn, a Moroccan resort city, St. Mary's University, a major Catholic institution in San Antonio, turned its attention to Mexico.

In anticipation of increased business ties between the U.S. and Mexico because of the proposed North American Free Trade Agreement, St. Mary's School of Law decided to train lawyers in cross-border transactions. It offered the three-semester program jointly with the University of Monterrey.

Beginning last September, the 32 lawyers--16 from each country--met three days a month and will continue over three semesters. The course is taught in English because that is the main language of international business.

Enrolling in the course were lawyers from Monterrey, Saltillo, Guadalajara, Austin, San Antonio, Houston, Dallas, Corpus Christi, Pearsall and Washington, D.C.

As Professor Wayne Fagan, who teaches the course, said: "We are the living vision of the North American Free Trade Agreement."

Church to celebrate 19th anniversary

The congregation of Northside Baptist Church, 800 N. Wall, will celebrate the church's nineteenth anniversary Sunday.

Sunday school begins at 10 a.m., and following the 11 o'clock worship service, lunch will be served.

The pastor, Earl Correll, extends a welcome to anyone who wants to attend.

Mexico, Morocco, Russia! The influence of Texas education is circling the globe these days.
