Graduation set Friday in stadium

Commencement exercises for Iowa Park High School graduating seniors are to begin at 8 p.m. Friday in Hawk Stadium.

There are 103 candidates for graduation this year, according to Richard Davis, school principal.

Should weather not permit the event to be held out of doors, it will be moved into the school's auditorium. Each member of the class has been issued tickets for family members and guests, because of limited space.

This year's commencement address is to be delivered by George Collins, high school English teacher.

Counselor LaRae Collins is to make the presentation of honors, and school board president Keith Fisher is to present graduates their diplomas.

The traditional school key will be handed over to Brent Brown, next year's student council president, by T.J. Bean, senior class president.

Bean also is to give the invocation and Jolene Hodges the benediction.

Davis will present the graduating class to Supt. Glen Mitchell.

The school song, processional and recessional will be played by the Hawk Band.

Eighth Grade promotion set tonight

The Eighth Grade promotional ceremony is to get underway at 7 this evening, in the high school auditorium.

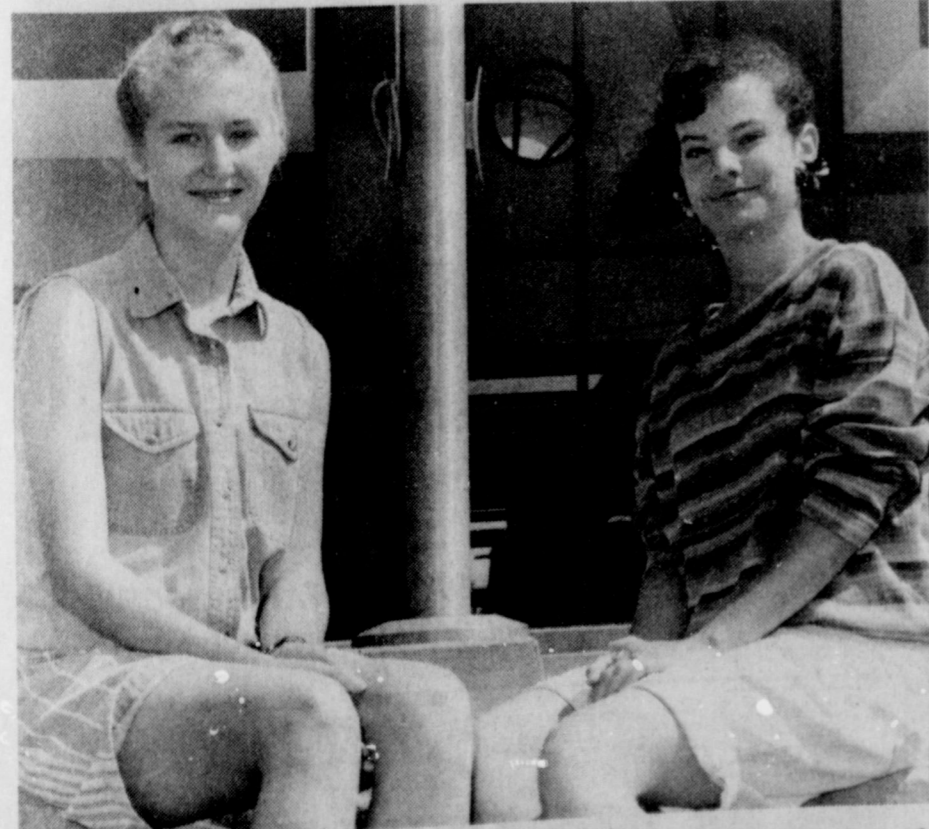

Cherri Halady, president of the student council at Iowa Park High School, is to be the guest speaker.

Principal Randy Lovelady is to present the class to Richard Davis, high school principal.

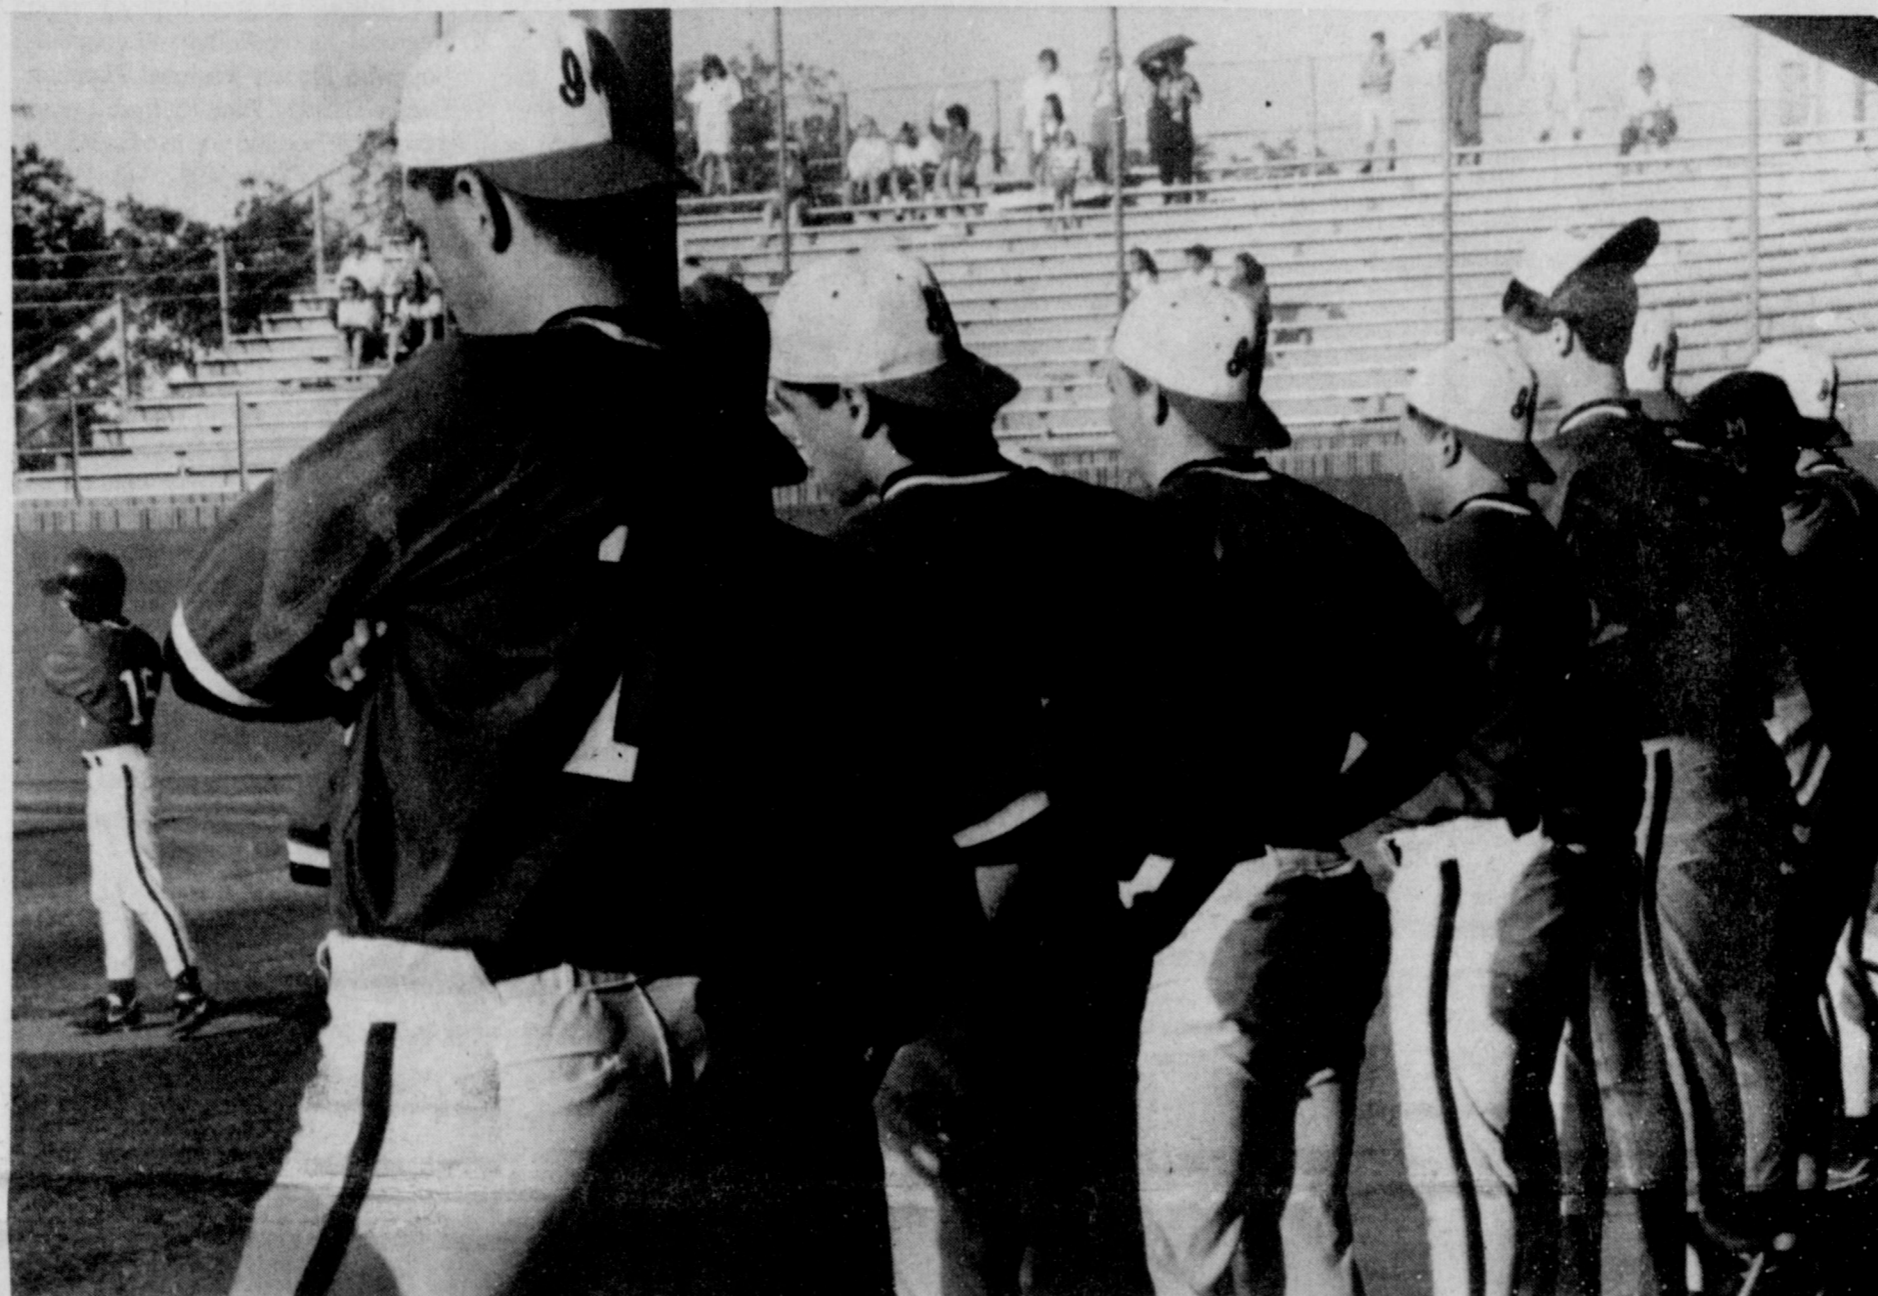

The top 10 scholastic members of the class will be announced by Pat Davis, junior high counselor.

Invocation will be given by Shannon Gafford, president of the National Junior Honor Society, and Camie Fischer, president of the junior high Student Council, will give the benediction.

Tanya Daume will play both the processional and recessional.

TOPS IN THEIR CLASS - The valedictorian and salutatorian of this year's Eighth Grade are Alora Foster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Foster, and Lori Wiggins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Wiggins.

RALLY CAPS WORK - Hawk baseballers put their caps on in turn-around fashion in the seventh inning Friday. They did it again in the 10th inning. And in both cases, it worked, as they

Hot air balloon makes forced landing here

Police are always called on to work unusual situations, but Iowa Park officers may have had one for the books Wednesday of last week.

How often does a peace officer have to report a hot air balloon "crash" inside a city?

A hot air balloon had been launched in Wichita Falls, piloted by Rick Kevin Boone, 42, of that city, with two passengers.

Boone reported he began experiencing problems with his "flamer," which is used to heat the air that keeps the craft aloft, and began losing altitude.

He skillfully maneuvered the west-bound craft over the electrical wires along Third Street, and sat it down on the playground of Kidwell Elementary, before it could have hung on lines along Fourth Street.

Boone and his two passengers were spilled onto the ground from the basket, but none was injured. It was reported to the police dispatcher at 7:34 p.m.

A "chase" vehicle arrived within 15 minutes, packed the equipment onto a truck, and returned to Wichita Falls.

There already was a large number of youth on the playground, but area residents said later it appeared more than 250 persons converged on and around the campus to witness the event.

Two thefts were reported to police during the past week, and both involved athletic equipment. In both cases, the reports were received days after the incidents were believed to have taken place.

The first report was received Thursday, when a citizen said four bats and some 20 softballs in a bag had been taken the evening of May 15, while his pickup had been parked at Woodbriar Apartments.

Friday, police were told that the lock on the Little League equipment building on West Magnolia had been damaged by someone apparently trying to force entry.

The entry attempt was unsuccessful, but police were told a theft had been committed four days earlier.

Taken in that burglary were two cases of Diamond Little League baseballs. Each case contains 12 balls, and the total value was set at $78, besides replacement of a new lock.

The owner of a pickup reported the vehicle had been criminally vandalized sometime Wednesday of last week, while parked on the west side of the high school building.

The owner said the vehicle's battery cables had been disconnected, and a cellular telephone antenna taken from the rear window.

Police were called to a residence in the 300 block of West Pecan Saturday afternoon, where a fight was in progress.

They arrested Randy Lee Gregory, 27, on a charge of Class A assault. He was taken to the county jail, where he later released after posting a $500 bond.

The alleged victim was treated at a Wichita Falls hospital for a mild concussion, according to police.

Saturday is 'splash day'

Saturday will be splash day at Iowa Park Bicentennial Swimming Pool, to open the facility for the season, and the gates are to open at 12-noon.

And it'll be half price swimming on the first day. General admission is regularly $2 for all except children three years and younger.

But Saturday, the price of admission will only be $1.

Regular hours this year will be 12-6 weekdays and 1-6 Sundays.

Full season memberships for families can be purchased for $75, while $25 will pay an individual's season pass.

To encourage more families to use the pool, which was opened in 1976 on the west side of Iowa Park High School, a special fee of $1 per member will be charged if they don't have a season pass.

The pool can be rented for private parties for $50, for a two-hour period.

The council accepted three bids for work and materials relating to street and alley work for this summer, but rejected a fourth.

Accepted was a bid of $12,643 from Luz Lerma Construction to construct concrete valley gutters; Lerma to construct concrete alley returns for $6,864, and Lewis Hillard Trucking to provide crusher run base material for street construction, at $7.75 per ton.

The only bid for asphalt materials was rejected, and the intended purchase will be re-advertised.

The council decided to hold a workshop the evening of Monday, June 7, to work on the 1993-94 budget. That meeting, open to the public, is to begin at 7 p.m.

During a discussion, administrator Mike Price told the council he would like them to consider naming a public works director sometime in June.

Price, who served in that position before being named administrator, has been doing both jobs since David Collins resigned as director.

Early voting turnout low

Only a handful of voters had cast their ballots early, as of Wednesday afternoon, in the runoff election for U.S. Senator.

Election day is June 5.

Tuesday will be the final day for early voting. Locally, ballots can be cast at the Wichita County Agriculture Building, 220 West Park.

As of 2:15 p.m. Wednesday, only 110 early ballots had been cast locally.

The runoff is between Kay Bailey Hutchinson and Bob Krueger.

Neither was able to capture half or are finalized.

The city would recoup its investment as each lot in the initial phase was sold. And, should all the lots not be sold within a three-year period, the balance owed the city for its investment would be paid off by the developers, aldermen were told.

Hammond was agreeable to a suggestion that only a portion of the first phase shown the council on a map be initiated, and interest of homebuyers could be realized before further investment was made.

That would include some 26 lots. Price range of homes is yet to be determined, Hammond said, but they could likely range from $70,000 to $100,000.

A contractual agreement will be drafted for consideration of both the developers and city, before work is begun. The city likely would have to borrow the money to do the work, it was pointed out.

Hammond told the council of interest in new homes in both Wichita Falls and Burkburnett. He said he has three projects underway in Wichita Falls, and at one of them, the houses

Child discipline topic of parenting program

"Disciplining Our Children" will be the topic of the parenting program at 7 p.m. today at the Iowa Park Recreational Activity Center.

Phil McLarty will present the program. Areas of discussion will include discipline, setting boundaries, punishment and motivation, geared to help with toddler-aged through elementary-aged children.

This monthly program is free of charge and offers free on-site child care, as well. The public is encouraged to attend.

are sold even before they are completed.

He said he expects a similar demand to continue the next few years. "I've never seen the demand this great in my years in the business," he said.

Key had a second request to present to the city, which also includes additional homes in the area.

He said he was representing the Moorhouse Ranch, formerly Triangle Ranch, west of the city, and the owners want the city to assume a three-inch water line that serves that location.

The purpose, Key explained, is that the ranch headquarters has been sold, and Moorhouse is intending to divide some property along the highway on the east side of Burnett Road into 10-acre plots for housing.

The water line would be turned over to the city for $1, but instead of one meter sales point, there would be 11 and possibly as many as 20.

Aldermen agreed, but with the reservation that a limit of 25 taps on the line eventually, and if all needed easements were agreed upon.

Mayor Wayne House appointed a committee of six to work with Mike Negri on a project to attract a company to build a golf course at Lake Iowa Park.

Interest of an Oklahoma developing firm that had previously indicated it would build one here has "dried up," aldermen were told.

However, Negri has been in contact with another firm, Golf West, Inc., which offers a plan to build courses for municipalities, operate them 30 years, and then turn total ownership over to the municipality.

Golf West does not get involved in residential development around the courses it builds, however, it was pointed out.

Negri is to chair the committee, which will include Bob Hamilton,

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Steger

The Stegers in 1943

Stegers celebrate 50th anniversary

By MYRNA SMITH
Mr. and Mrs. Bill Steger will be honored Sunday at a reception to celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary.

The reception will be at the Tom Burnett Memorial Library from 2 until 4 p.m. Friends are invited to attend.
Children of the couple, and their spouses, Jim Bob and Linda Kay Merrick, and Gary Ruff and Jean Steger will host the reception.

Dorcas Geraldine Hartness and William Ruff "Bill" Steger were married in Henderson, Ky. Eut, a couple "less in love" might have given up before they finally got all of the obstacles out of the way and reached their "unknown" marriage destination.

The couple first met while attending Sunday School in Oklahoma City. Bill's mother was the Sunday School teacher and his father was the preacher at the Assembly of God where they met.

Later, Geraldine and her parents moved to Pennsylvania. But Bill, who was 18 at the time, knew he would soon have to go into military service and he wanted to make sure Geraldine didn't "get away".

In 1943 Bill called Geraldine and proposed marriage. She accepted and in a short time Bill was on a train headed for Pennsylvania.

The wedding was planned and Geraldine's mother had their wedding cake ready. Then, the problem started.

Since Bill was only 18, they could not get a license without his parents' consent and that would have to be with his parents present.

Geraldine's mother and dad said, "No problem, we'll find a place where you can get a license." They all got in her dad's vehicle, with the cake, and started out.

What they hadn't planned on was that they would have to stop in five states and spend seven days on the road before they found "that place" where they could get their license.

Finally when they reached Henderson, Ky., they were in luck. They could get a license. So, on May 26, 1943 Geraldine and Bill exchanged wedding vows. Needless to say, they couldn't eat their wedding cake. "It was as hard as a rock", according to them.

After their marriage they lived in Oklahoma City and both worked for Douglas Aircraft until Bill went into the Army.

When he returned in 1946 they lived in Pawhuska, Okla. That is where their children, Linda and Gary, were born.

The Stegers moved to Pampa in 1954 and Bill worked for Phillips

Oil Co. The couple moved to Iowa Park in 1966.

The Stegers also have five grandchildren.

Facts About Cholesterol

- A high level of cholesterol in the blood, over 240 mg/dl (milligrams per deciliter), could indicate the presence of heart disease.
- A cholesterol level of 200 to 240 is borderline for risk of heart disease. Half of U.S. adults have cholesterol levels of 200 or greater.
- If your blood cholesterol level is 200 or less, you can assume that as far as cholesterol goes, you are at a low risk for heart disease.
- Cholesterol contains HDLs and LDLs. HDLs are considered "good." It is believed that they take cholesterol away from the arteries and back to the liver where it can be removed. LDLs are "bad" because they may deposit cholesterol on artery walls.
- Cholesterol is an odorless, tasteless, white, powdery substance present in all foods of animal origin.
- The three major dietary influences on blood cholesterol are saturated fat, cholesterol, and polyunsaturated fat. Saturated fat and cholesterol raise the blood cholesterol level. Polyunsaturated fats lower it.
- A low-fat diet can lower cholesterol levels. To cut down on saturated fat and cholesterol, eat more fruits, vegetables, grains, and starches.
- Eat only moderate portions of fish, poultry, and lean meats. Remove skin from chicken before eating and fat from meats before cooking. Avoid organ meats, sausage, bacon, and processed luncheon meats.
- Use low- or non-fat dairy products. Eat fewer than three eggs a week.
- Avoid commercial baked goods and fried foods.
- With you doctor's permission, exercise. Aerobic exercise, in particular, has been shown to lower blood cholesterol levels significantly.
- Maintain a normal body weight and quit smoking.
- Your cholesterol can be easily measured from a small amount of blood. Follow you doctor's advice on how often to have it checked.

As I See It. . .

By Bob Hamilton

We don't ever pass up an opportunity to brag on our local school system. Consequently, we've got something about the quality of education taught here about every week.

Our newest point to make is that Iowa Park High's graduating seniors are far above the state's average for those who have passed all elements of the Texas Assessment of Academic Skills (TAAS) test required to graduate.

According to a story this week out of Austin, 7.5 percent of Texas seniors failed to pass all or part of the test this year.

The figure is less than one percent here, according to Principal Richard Davis.

With slightly more than 100 members of the senior class, only one did not pass all the elements of the test.

Over the state, 13,377 students could not pass the reading, writing and math exam portions of the test. And that's up from five percent last year, because the test is being toughened.

In Dallas schools, roughly 10 percent of this year's class failed.

Davis says he fears next year and others in the future, also because more and more tougher changes are being added annually to the test.

While Davis appreciates the fact that the local schools are well below the state's average of failures, he is among the first to say "even one is too many."

Also, on the topic of education, a very small blurb in the Dallas Morning News Wednesday edition caught my eye. It has to do with finances, but no, it's not about meeting a judge's mandate about equalizing public school funding.

The story out of Austin said, "The Legislature has approved a bill requiring the University of Texas and Texas A&M University systems to issue $352.4 billion in bonds for construction of projects at border schools."

I don't know if that figure was a typographical error or not, but billion?

Having seen a couple of college campuses on or near the Mexican border, I can agree they aren't up to par with most of our other colleges and universities.

Admittedly I know little or nothing about such building costs, but it would seem to me you could duplicate both the Austin and Bryan campuses for that kind of money.

$352,400,000,000 is a lot of money!

How much is it? Well, the 1992 taxable value of Wichita County was $2,904,937,247. That includes $2,515,079 for mobile homes, $84,837,580 for oil, $826,211,107 for personal property and $1,991,737,481 for personal property.

Like I said, $352.4 billion for college improvements is a lot of money.

Compliments park work

To whom it may concern:

I would just like to comment on how pretty Oscar Park is now. I was at a party there the other night and the new picnic tables and playground equipment are so nice. Someone has done a good job fixing it up and I just wanted to say thanks.

Linda Bowden

Worth Quoting

A busy weekend full of headlines has left some impressions and prompts some observations . . .

Governor Richards has a bad weekend.

She spent a lot of time and effort in pushing Proposition I, known as the "Robin Hood," it failed. She also watched her hand-picked candidate for U.S. Senator come up short in the election.

The "Robin Hood" plan for school finance fell hard all across Texas. I thought it would be a closer vote. And I thought it would pass substantially in certain areas of the state. It did neither, the proposition was soundly defeated by Texas voters in nearly every area of the state.

The entire agenda has changed in Austin. Politicians are putting many legislative goals on the back burner, it's school funding time . . . again, and this time the deadline is in 26 days.

State leaders must have been pretty sure of success during the election, because it is apparent they do not have a clue as to what action needs to be taken at this time. Seems to me that someone should have been hoping for the best while planning for the worst.

Sen. Krueger may well be in trouble. He had the advantage of holding the office due to appointment by the governor. He was also the beneficiary of the mud-slinging race on the Republican side of the ticket. Kay Bailey Hutchinson was the target of some pretty specific and dirty charges delivered by her own party-mates.

The mud was flung, but it apparently did not stick, at least not until to suit Gov. Richards and Sen. Krueger.

Somehow I don't think we have seen all of the mud slung yet. The Krueger vs. Hutchinson run-off contest may set new records in gutter techniques.

But, somehow even this important election is sure to take a back seat in this state with education funding on its mind. It's gonna' get messy in Austin.

Mrs. Mark McFann

Although Linda (Mrs. Mark) McFann claims El Dorado, Kansas as her hometown, she attended elementary school in Naples, Italy, where her father was stationed in the Air Force. She said that Italian was the first language she learned to write, and could speak the language fluently.

Linda and her husband Mark, who is supervisor for Attico Pipeline at Punkin Center, moved to Iowa Park a year ago in June.

They have three children, Brooke, a 12-year-old seventh grade student, Keeley, eight years old and a third grade student at Bradford, and seven year old Nash who is in the first grade at Kidwell.

The children play softball and basketball, and their father coaches their recreational league teams.

The family share a love for animals, and they have three Siamese cats, two dogs, and a turtle.

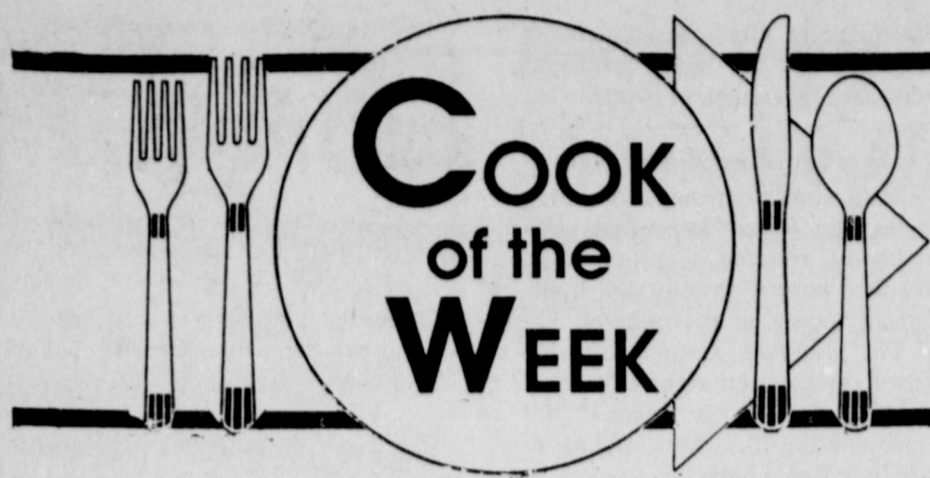

Linda works part-time at B&R Thriftway, but considers herself a "domestic engineer."

Her hobbies include walking, and listening to music. Linda said that when they go back to Kansas for visits, she and her husband like to hike in the Flint Hills.

A major interest for Linda now is a 50-piece collection of African artifacts she acquired from her late grandfather. They were gifts to him from a tribe in Somalia, with whom he lived 12 years while he worked in the oil fields in that country.

Linda has shown the collection to youth groups in Wichita Falls, and will take the collection to Bradford Elementary this week.

Linda says her goal is to preserve the collection and use it for education. She also is considering writing children's books.

Linda also has a collection of Coca Cola memorabilia. Her recipes reflect that interest, with Coca Cola being called for in all of them. The novelty recipe for "Elephant Stew" was given to her by an elderly friend.

Sweet and Sour Cabbage

- 1 1/2 lbs. red or green cabbage
 - 2 medium apples
 - 1/2 cup Coca Cola
 - 2 Tbsps. vinegar
 - 2 Tbsps. brown sugar
 - 2 Tbsps. bacon drippings
 - 1 tsp. salt
 - 1/2 to 1 tsp. caraway seed
- Coarsely shred or cut cabbage (should measure 3 cups). Core and peel apples. In pan, toss together all ingredients. Cover and simmer until cabbage is tender, about 25 minutes, stirring occasionally. Make 4 - 1/2 cup servings.

Matchless Meat Loaf

- This loaf will be moist and tender if you mix it lightly with a fork.
- 1 1/2 lbs. hamburger
 - 1 1/2 cups fresh bread crumbs
 - 1/4 cup minced onion
 - 2 Tbsps. finely cut parsley
 - 1 egg
 - 1/2 cup Coca Cola
 - 2 Tbsps. catsup
 - 1 1/2 Tbsps. mustard
 - 1 tsp. salt
 - 1/2 tsp. basil leaves
 - 1/8 tsp. pepper

In a bowl, break up meat with fork; add bread crumbs, onion and parsley, mixing well. Beat egg and mix with remaining ingredients. Pour over meat. With fork, toss lightly to blend thoroughly. Mixture will be soft. Turn into a 9x5x3 loaf pan. Bake 1 hour in 350 degree oven. Let sit 10 minutes before slicing. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Thick Barbecue Sauce

- 2 medium onions
- 3/4 cup Coca Cola
- 3/4 cup catsup
- 2 Tbsps. vinegar
- 2 Tbsps. Worcestershire sauce
- 1/2 tsp. chili powder
- 1/2 tsp. salt

Chop onions fine and all ingredients. Bring to a boil and let simmer 45 minutes. Stir occasionally.

Elephant Stew

- 1 Elephant (medium size)
 - 1 Rabbit (optional)
 - Salt and pepper
- Cut elephant into bite-size pieces. This takes about 2 months. Add enough brown gravy to cover and cook over kerosene fire at 465 degrees. Serves 3,800 people.
- For those who do not like elephant, the rabbit may be added, but after all most diners don't like to find a hare in their stew.

Memorial Day service slated Sunday

Highland Cemetery Association will have a memorial Day service at the Cemetery Pavilion Sunday at 2:30 p.m. The speaker will be Rev. Reuben Green, pastor of Pacific Avenue Baptist Church and there will be special music presented.

This program is an annual event and everyone is invited. United States flags will be placed at the gravesites of all veterans this weekend.

Garland Lehman serves as president of the Association. Other officers are Lowell Short, vice president and Reat Spruiell, treasurer.

Members of the board of directors are Larry Dutton, Herb Adcock, Sam Fairchild, Harold Phillips, Don Richter, Robert Wilcox, Pat Aulds and Erna Mahler. The directors meet the last Sunday of each month at the cemetery office.

General membership meetings of the Cemetery Association are held the second Sunday of January, April, July and October at the RAC. The next meeting will be July 11.

Membership is voluntary and no dues are required. To add an individual's name to the membership list and receive a newsletter, call 592-4412. Attendance at the meetings is encouraged.

Donations are always welcome. They may be sent to Highland Cemetery Association, Box 12, Iowa Park, Tx., 76367, or taken by the office in the Pavilion at the cemetery. Office hours are from 9 a. m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Donations of $100 or more can be noted on individual plaques with the person's name engraved on it. These plaques are arranged inside the Pavilion, and form an impressive display on the north wall. Many families specify donations to the cemetery association as memorials at the time of death.

The cemetery office recently has been enlarged and remodeled. A computer system has been installed for greater efficiency. Participation in the association by the officers and board of directors is strictly voluntary and every effort is made to improve the operation, efficiency and appearance of the cemetery.

Plans for the future include laying of additional water lines and further beautification. Some of the work is donated by association members and individual families. This keeps expenses down and makes a prettier cemetery.

Study series offered at Faith Baptist

The study, "Lord, Where Are You When Bad Things Happen?" will be presented June 7 from 7 to 9 p.m. at Faith Baptist Church, 411 S. Wall.

There will be both men's and women's classes.

The "Lord" study series is being used across the states and internationally. It is a practical, thorough study involving the student in homework, group discussion and a lecture time.

Dr. Greg Ammons, pastor of the church, said the "Lord" study series is designed to meet the everyday needs of people who are sincerely looking for practical Biblical answers to life's toughest questions.

The series, written by Kay Arthur, well-known speaker, broadcaster, and author of 17 books and more than 25 Precept Upon Precept inductive Bible study courses, and her presentation has made this study an effective tool for helping busy Christians, Ammons said.

AUSTIN — After more than eight hours of debate, the Texas House last week tentatively approved a multiple-choice school finance bill loaded with amendments unrelated to funding. The vote was 89-44.

Lawmakers repeatedly rejected attempts to use state money to establish voucher programs. They also defeated an attempt to dedicate state lottery proceeds to education.

The House measure attempts to satisfy a court order to equalize per-pupil funding by requiring the 109 districts with the highest property wealth to use any of five options to reduce the wealth to $280,000 per pupil.

- The districts could:
- Consolidate their tax base with other districts.
 - Lower the wealth by sending a check to the state.
 - Pay to educate children in other school districts.

De-annex property and transfer the tax rolls to a property-poor neighboring district.
The Senate, which earlier passed a business transfer tax plan, is expected to reject the House bill.

Party Host Not Liable
People who host parties have no legal responsibility for the death, injuries or property damage caused by guests who depart drunk, the Texas Supreme Court said in a 6-2 ruling last week.

In the majority opinion by Justice John Cornyn, the court said legal liability will remain with guests at social gatherings and not be extended to their hosts.

"The guest is in a far better position to know the amount of alcohol he has consumed, his state of sobriety, and the consequential risk he poses to the public," Cornyn wrote.

Dissenting Justices Bob Gammage and Lloyd Doggett said the majority was letting a "rattlesnake loose on the public streets and highways."

"The television commercial says, 'Don't let friends drive drunk.' Gammage wrote. "But today the majority says, 'Intoxicate your friends and send them out upon public streets and highways to drive drunk. Don't worry, you won't be liable."

Senate OKs Gun Bill
After a five-hour filibuster last week, the Senate approved a bill that will allow voters to decide whether Texans should be allowed to carry handguns.
Adopted by a 23-8 vote, the Senate version of the controversial measure includes a provision that would allow only registered voters who pass a drug test to get licenses to carry a concealed weapon.
Although the House is expected to approve the Senate bill, Gov. Ann Richards says she will veto the measure after the Legislature adjourns May 31. Thus, lawmakers will have no chance to override her veto.

Abortion Amendment Fails
With women casting the deciding votes, the Texas House last week narrowly rejected a proposal to require women to wait 24 hours before getting an abortion.
The proposal, a surprise show-down on abortion rights, came as an amendment to a "sunset" bill reauthorizing the State Board of Medical Examiners.

The amendment by Rep. Warren Chisum, D-Pampa, which failed 71-68, also would have banned abortions because of the sex of the fetus.
The House tally showed that 62 men voted for the amendment and

Children Bills to Governor
The Senate sent Gov. Richards two bills dealing with children.
Under one bill, employers violating the state child labor law could face civil fines of up to $10,000 and criminal penalties of six months in jail and a $1,500 fine.

The other bill would expand a food program for poor women and children.

CONGRATULATIONS GRADUATES!

Our congratulations to the 1993 graduates! You have reached a milestone in life! I commend to parents and graduates the following thoughts from a parent to a graduate.

"I cannot buy you a set of morals; I cannot build you a sense of responsibility; I cannot hand you appreciation of beauty; I cannot manufacture for you concern and compassion; I cannot make yours a compelling faithful, loyal spirit; I cannot give you ability to love.

I have no fortune to will you with which to gain popularity, make you a philanthropist, or help you leave a memorial for charity.

I own no secret formula for success nor any new philosophy. I have never written a book or claim to have great wisdom.

I cannot send you away into the world on your own with only beautiful pictures in your memory, for you have seen me cry faithless tears of despair; you have seen me shake my fist in anger; you have witnessed ugliness in my time of weakness.

The things which I cannot give you are all yours in Christ Jesus.

As you accept your diploma, you step into new relations with friends, and the world. The "apron-strings" that have been lengthened as you matured must soon be cut. You have earned more than freedom from school. You have proven yourself trustworthy, dependable, and mature enough to try your own wings, but I will be "on call" - throughout my life."

Rotary gift to benefit Friendly Door building

The Iowa Park Rotary Club yesterday presented former Friendly Door manager Myrna Robinson a $1,000 check to be used for the organization's building fund.

Mrs. Robinson, though having recently retired as director of the senior citizen center, was asked to accept the donation because of her many years of dedicated service.

Sherry Wood is the new director and Rev. Michael Grubbs is president of the center's board of directors.

Plans reportedly are being finalized for construction of a new center building, according to Rotary spokesman Jim Smeaton.

Most of the funding for the new facility is anticipated to come in the form of grants, but the project will also require matching funds from local organizations and individuals, Smeaton said.

The new building is necessary for the organization to continue functioning, as well as to comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act.

The Friendly Door serves local senior citizens by providing over 70 congregate and home-delivered meals each weekday.

In addition, the center serves as a site where residents can meet, take part in structured activities, and also provide transportation and medical screening by staff and volunteers.

Perkins D.A.R.E.'s to keep kids off drugs

By MYRNA SMITH

Attractive, vivacious, and looking sharp in her uniform of the Iowa Park Police Department, Laura Perkins isn't in that uniform to patrol the streets looking for law offenders. Rather, she is D.A.R.E.-ing to keep kids off drugs, and to prevent criminal acts.

Laura is D.A.R.E. Officer/Crime Prevention for the Iowa Park Police Department.

She has just completed teaching a 17-week D.A.R.E. session to fifth graders at Bradford Elementary School. More than 160 students have been involved in the program.

To be certified to teach the Drug Abuse Resistance Education sessions, Laura took an 80-hour, two week intensive training course at Kerrville.

This week she is in Dallas where she is taking a one week 40-hour course in Crime Prevention at the Dallas Police Academy.

Laura began working for the Police Department in November 1988 as a part time dispatcher, later going into full time and then to communications supervisor.

She has never been on patrol. She says, "I have always preferred public relations."

The Wichita Falls native has lived in Iowa Park 12 years and is married to Jackie Perkins. He is an employee of Associated Milk Producers in Windthorst. They have two children, a son Jacob, 12, and a daughter, Lynette, 8.

"Last year when DeeDee (Alderson) was going to quit teaching the D.A.R.E. program, I was beginning to get tired of dispatching. I wanted to do more, so I applied for her job," Laura said.

She admitted another factor that sparked her interest to teach the program was that Jacob would be in the fifth grade the current school year.

The Perkins family is active in Floral Heights United Methodist Church in Wichita Falls. Their children are involved in sports, and Lynette sings with the Youth Choir. Laura also is active in the Student Outreach Program sponsored by the Iowa Park RAC.

Laura loves the job she is doing, just like she thought she would.

When she returned from her training in Kerrville, which included the study of the D.A.R.E. curriculum, classroom management and public speaking, she began planning for the classes and the materials she would need.

"Actually," Laura said, "it was more of a 'wish list' because I felt sure I could not have it all.

Laura Perkins

"I believe incentives are extremely important for children, so I filled out an order form that included T-shirts, workbooks, diplomas, rulers, bookmarks, bumper stickers and ID bracelets."

In a report Laura gave at a recent City Council meeting, she told council members she was given a check for approximately $1,100 from the school board's Drug Education Fund.

The D.A.R.E. education program is unique in that it is taught in public schools by a uniformed law enforcement officer. It began in the Los Angeles Unified School District and is now nationwide.

D.A.R.E. program training for police officers is provided by the school district in conjunction with the police department.

Lessons for the program are structured by the national organization. The curriculum teaches students the skills necessary to resist drug experimentation.

Laura explained that the officer must follow guidelines on how to present the curriculum, or the program cannot be taught. A classroom teacher must stay in the room with the D.A.R.E. officer, a requirement of the state.

Although there is a D.A.R.E. program curriculum designed for K through fourth grades, it was thought best at this time to target fifth grade students, nearer the time they will be facing peer pressure in the higher grades, Laura said.

During the school year she spent about eight hours each week in the classroom during the Health and Science class periods.

She also spent time with the students in the cafeteria and on the playground, helping to encourage a friendly relationship between the students and the police department.

Students also are allowed to discuss their feelings with their peers and there is a relationship of trust built with the officer.

She said, "Drug peddling and the number on drugs is not as bad here as places with a larger population, but the kids WILL BE approached to try drugs, not MIGHT BE."

Laura added "I believe I can safely say there is no drug use here among fifth grade students."

Those familiar with the D.A.R.E. program seem to agree with the LA police department where it started, that it is the most promising long-range solution, and "holds great promise for producing future generations of young adults who not only have no appetite for drugs, but who also have strength of character to dissuade others from drug abuse."

They also agree that the most important partners in this effort are the children's parents to achieve the promise that D.A.R.E. makes.

Laura said, "The D.A.R.E. program is a substance abuse prevention education curriculum and focuses on accurate information about tobacco, alcohol and other drugs; decision-making skills; ways to resist a drug offer; negative peer pressure resistance; alternatives to drug use; using positive role models; life-coping skills, and building self-esteem."

The D.A.R.E. officer is adamant on the subject of building self-esteem. She says it is one of the biggest issues with children and drug abuse as well as to keep them from joining gangs. "Children and teen-agers definitely need a support system working for them," Laura said.

In discussing the "support system" Laura explained "It is much easier for a child to be a confident and assertive person when one feels good about himself.

"When it is all wrapped up, D.A.R.E. teaches that everyone needs affection, a feeling of belonging and recognition.

"The sense of belonging is simply the need to be treated with dignity, regardless of differences in viewpoint, dress or background. Parents need to recognize their children need to be noticed for the things he or she does right as well as what they do wrong, and they need to have affection shown under adverse conditions," she continued.

Laura suggests that along with their parents, a child's support can also come from a Sunday School teacher, their classroom teacher, a coach, an older role model, or through family activities, and from family members.

"If a child, or anyone, but particularly a child or young person constantly has his self-esteem knocked down, is not recognized for good achievement, constantly is told he is no good, or compared to others and asking why they can't be like them, whether it is a sibling, or some other child, before long his self-esteem will be gone," Laura continued.

"If kids belong to a gang, or join some of their peers in drugs, they are made to feel good about themselves, "because you are one of us", she added.

Along with the D.A.R.E. program there is a guide book for parents which presents the concept that "it is difficult being a parent today, but so is being a kid."

The booklet has three sections, "Recognizing Drug Use", "Prevention" and "Parenting Skill Tips".

Many parents may not recognize the signs and symptoms of drug use in their children, or even in their spouses. The booklets list some of the signs and symptoms that go along with substance use and abuse, such as behavioral changes and school changes as well as physical evidence.

It also lists 15 ways to help children like themselves and have self-esteem.

The D.A.R.E. officer, committed to her job, is already beginning to work on her classes for next school year.

The essence of a speech made in 1986 by former First Lady Nancy Reagan to Just Say No Clubs is as true today as it was seven years ago, and is as necessary for children facing the problems today.

She said, "There is a drug-abuse epidemic in this country, and no one is safe from it—not you, not me, and certainly not our children.

"Drugs steal so much. Every time a drug goes into a child, something else is forced out, like love and hope and trust and confidence. Drugs take away the dream from every child's heart and replace it with a nightmare.

"That courage needs our encouragement. Each of us must put our principles and consciences on the line whether in social settings, or in the workplace—to set forth solid standards and stick to them. Where drugs are concerned, there is no moral middle ground. Indifference is not an option."

"So how does it heat and cool?"

We understand that a heat pump can be misunderstood. But once you know how it works, it makes good sense the year around. In summer, the heat pump pumps heat out of your house and replaces it with cool air. In winter, it uses the solar heat trapped in the earth's atmosphere to keep your house warm and comfortable, even on the coldest days. Which means you save on energy, natural resources and your monthly bill. Any more questions? Your heat pump dealer has the answers.

IOWA PARK
LEADER

IN 11 INNING MARATHON

Hawks rally past Denver City, 7-6

A gutsy performance Friday by the Iowa Park Hawks earned them a shot against the state's top-rated Class AAA ball club, the Canyon Eagles.

The game was played at Hardin-Simmons Univ. in Abilene.

The Hawks rallied two times in the bi-district clash Friday against Denver City, finally winning 7-6 in an 11-inning marathon in Abilene.

Iowa Park, 15-8-1, will taken on the undefeated Eagles, winners of all 28 games this season, at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at Lubbock Christian College.

To reach the LCC campus from Iowa Park, fans entering Lubbock by way of Idalou should take the loop on the East side of the city and exit at the Levelland highway on the West side. The campus will be about half a mile or more west of the loop, on the South side.

Canyon advanced into the area contest with a 10-0 one-hitter over Friona behind strong pitching by Michael Gains and the three-for-three hitting of Isaac Padilla, who smashed a two-run homer in the contest.

The Eagles scheduled mostly AAAA teams in their non-conference schedule, such as Borger, Brownfield, Pampa, Lubbock High, Levelland, Hereford and Canyon Randall.

Only two clubs held Canyon to one-run victories: Hereford, 12-11, and Childress, 8-7.

To become the first high school baseball team ever in the entire Panhandle to complete its season undefeated, according to the Canyon News, Canyon has outscored its opponents 308-76.

HAWKS SHOW CHARACTER

Iowa Park had to rally in the bottom of the seventh and 10th innings to pull into ties with the Mustangs.

Denver City had scored once in the first inning and tacked on a pair more in the sixth. Iowa Park didn't get its first run on the board until the bottom of the sixth, and tied the score at 3-3 in the bottom of the seventh and final regular game frame.

Denver City went on to take what seemed to be a winning 6-3 lead in the top of the 10th, but Iowa Park rallied with three of its own to send the game into the 11th inning.

Coach David Fuhrman couldn't have written a better script for his club as the Hawks, after having held the Mustangs scoreless in the top of the 11th, had the top of the batting order at the plate.

The large delegation of fans from Iowa Park had their finger nails well trimmed, after Jason Miller and Chad Thompson grounded out.

But Tony Lozipone smashed a single down the third base line.

It was then that Patric Kennedy crunched one of the most important hits of his career. The ball sliced away from the center fielder and bounced against the outfield wall at the 345-foot mark for a double.

That sent Lozipone home, and the Hawks had their first bi-district victory in several years.

While it was a team victory, three players had outstanding performances in the contest. They were Lozipone, Kennedy and Ralph Dillard.

Besides his two hits, junior short stop Lozipone was involved in three double plays. The first of those defensive gems was in the second inning, when he fielded a low line drive to his right and picked off the leadoff batter who had walked.

Besides that game-winning double, Kennedy, a senior, had two singles. He played an important part in the third double-out play with Lozipone in the 11th, that picked off the leadoff batter who had reached first base on an error.

Senior pitcher Dillard exhibited an iron-man performance on the mound, working 10 complete innings. He gave up eight hits to the talented Mustang batters, before being relieved by Thompson, a lefty who didn't allow a hit in the final frame.

When the Hawks tied the score in the seventh, David Hollis lead off the inning reaching first base on an error, one of six committed by Denver City in the game.

Then, with two outs, Thompson walked. Hollis scored on a Lozipone single, and Thompson crossed home plate on a Kennedy single.

But the victory was delayed, when Lozipone and Kennedy were stranded on the bases after Scott McNeely struck out.

Lozipone led off the 10th inning by reaching first base on an error, and then stole second. He scored on one of Kennedy's singles.

Kennedy reached home on a hit by Clint Scobee. And an error on a hit by Hollis brought the Hawk catcher home to tie the score.

Denver City had advanced into the playoffs by crushing Brownfield, in a Dist. 3 playoff game, 15-8.

GRAHAM CONTINUES

The Graham Steers, Dist. 4-AAA champs, easily defeated Brownfield, 3-AAA runner-up, 7-0, and takes on Childress today at Vernon.

Their bi-district game also was played in Abilene, at Abilene Christian Univ.

HERE'S WHY WE RECOMMEND A PRE-NEED FUNERAL PLAN FOR EVERYONE - RICH OR POOR.

If you're wealthy enough to be concerned about inheritance and estate taxes, you'll see that our pre-need funeral plan is just good business. The benefits of this plan do not become part of your estate, and your family will receive them tax free.

But, if just being able to meet each month's bills is a bigger concern for you, it makes even more sense for your family to be protected by our pre-need funeral plan. You can't afford to be without it, so we've made it especially easy for you to own it.

We've outlined only a few of the plans most important benefits in the list below. For your family's sake, whether you're rich or poor or in between, we hope you'll consider them carefully - then contact us for the additional information you need to make a cool, calm and unemotional decision.

It's a decision you'll never regret, because this plan solves in advance many of the major emotional and financial problems that all families must one day face with absolute certainty.

By selecting in advance the funeral service you'd prefer, and by paying for it in advance a few dollars each month, you will have done your family a great service. We know, because we've watched far too many families suffer through the agonizing decisions when they were overcome with grief.

At Dutton Funeral Home you can spare your family these problems with our preneed funeral plan. And you'll never find a better day to do it. Call or come by our office while this important matter is fresh on your mind.

The plan is inflation-proof. The cost of the funeral service you select is frozen at today's cost - regardless of length of time before the service is required.

The plan becomes paid in full. You do not pay endlessly, the way you do with most insurance.

You are eligible - Regardless of age or physical condition.

You never lose the money you pay in - even if you are forced by circumstances to discontinue the payments. The money is held in trust for the day your family needs it.

You get the big advantage of being able to transfer this plan to any member of your family - a feature insurance policies cannot give you.

You can make a small down payment and take up to 60 months to pay - with no interest or carrying charges. Every dollar counts against the balance.

The choice is yours. We'll conduct the service anywhere in the Iowa Park area (Burkburnett, Electra, Holliday, Kamay or Wichita Falls - up to a 50 miles radius of Iowa Park - at no additional charge) in any chapel, church, cemetery, or arrange for an out-of-area service.
