AT CHAMBER BANQUET

Cryovac officer agrees to be keynote speaker

A South Carolina man who can probably tell Iowa Parkans things about their community that they don't know will be the keynote speaker for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet on Saturday, Jan. 14.

Jack E. Powers, director of Human Resources for the Cryovac Division of W.R. Grace & Co., has held a keen interest in Iowa Park since his company's plant was first committed to be built here more than two decades ago.

His address will be one of the main features of the banquet. The other features will be announcements of annual award recipients, a steak dinner catered by the Iowa Park MuleSkinners, and installation of new Chamber officers.

The event will be held in Iowa Park High School cafeteria.

Open to the general public as well as Chamber members, tickets are now available at the Chamber office, Park Cleaners, Hughes Pharmacy and Iowa Park Leader. Their price is $10 per person when purchased in advance, and $12.50 at the door.

Powers' responsibilities encompass more than 4,000 employees located throughout two countries, in three separate profit centers, seven manufacturing plants, a packaging equipment systems center and the research/administration headquarters for North ...banquet speaker.

America which is located in Duncan, South Carolina.

He has 35 years business experience and has been a shift supervisor, industrial engineer, manufacturing superintendent, production control manager and has held Human Resources assignments both at the plant and division levels.

Powers is a native of Woodruff, S.C., a graduate of Furman Univ., and is an accredited senior professional in Human Resources.

He is active in civic and church affairs and has received numerous honors for his contributions over the years.

He was named Human Resources Professional of the Year in 1990 by the South Carolina Chamber of Commerce and the Society of Human Resource Management.

Powers is married, has three daughters, and lives with his wife, Audrey, in Simpsonville, S.C.

Cryovac, a recognized leader in the packaging industry, has positioned itself in the marketplace as a "Changer" and is known for its high quality products and service.

Within Cryovac, Powers has provided the leadership in developing strategies and implementing change in the management of Human Resources and in creating and applying innovative human resource concepts.

He is a leading authority in the design of jobs/organizations and employee motivation.

Powers has been an Adjunct Professor with the University of South Carolina and has lectured with the continuing education programs at Clemson and Furman universities.

Most recently, he has been a guest lecturer at the business schools of the University of Northern Iowa and at Eastern Connecticut State University.

DOING HIS PART - 10-year-old Jeff Henderson turns over his penny collection for the Friendly Door Building Fund to Sherry Wood, Friendly Door director. The youngster, a fourth grader, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Henderson. And besides giving his own money to help the senior citizens, Jeff also helps his grandfather, Dean Henderson, deliver meals on wheels.

News Briefs

City shredding Christmas trees

City workers are continuing this week picking up discarded Christmas trees and shredding them.

Residents wishing to dispose of their trees are requested to not attempt to put them in the trash dumpsters.

Trees can be put in the alley, away from dumpsters, or by the street curb, then calling the city hall at 592-2131 and telling them where the tree is.

Holidays to end here Monday

For the first time this year, Iowa Park students and faculty will be returning Monday to the classrooms.

Students will begin their spring semester when the tardy bells ring that morning.

.39 inch rainfall measured

Iowa Park received more than a third of an inch precipitation Wednesday night and Thursday of last week. Virgil Woodfin said he measured

.39 of an inch rainfall following the two-day precipitation period.

Though snow fell here Tuesday morning, not enough fell to measure.

Council meeting slated Monday

The city council will consider amending its solicitation ordinance during its first meeting of the new year, scheduled to begin at 7 p.m. Monday in council chambers.

If approved, a waiver of the solicitation permit would be allowed for new businesses in the community.

Two resolutions appear on the meeting agenda. One concerns support of minority/women owned businesses and the other would correct clerical errors in the police department.

Administrator Mike Price is to ask the council to approve the 1993 HOME Program Homebuyers guidelines, and will discuss requirements for the 1994 Texas Community Development Program.

Kamay area residents to start saving Jan. 25

Telephones in the southwest part of Wichita County will be ringing and the people holding them smiling, the last week of January.

GTE Telephone Operations will extend local calling for all customers in the Kamay telephone service area beginning Wednesday, Jan. 25.

Under the plan, all calls to and from the communities of Iowa Park, Holliday and Wichita Falls will no longer be long distance.

"Prior to the start of Extended Local Calling, each call between these areas was billed separately as a long-distance call, and customers would see a long-distance charge per call on their monthly bills," said Larry King, area manager-customer operations, for GTE's Plains district.

"Now, these calls are equivalent to local calls," King explained.

The action is a result of balloting which took place in the Kamay telephone service area under the rules of Senate Bill 632 and the Public Utility Commission Rule 23.49 (c).

Under those guidelines, certain communities were allowed to petition for extended toll-free local calling to nearby communities.

Ballots were mailed in June to all customers of the Kamay area, and their results evaluated in June.

Customers are not required to take any action to take advantage of the new service offering.

Once extended calling is operational, it will no longer be necessary for customers to dial "1+" before the number when placing calls between these communities.

A per-line increase in the total monthly bill of $3.50 for residential customers and $7 for business customers will be assessed to customers in the Kamay exchange for the added service.

Many residents have said their monthly bills range from $100 to over $250.

The new charges will be listed as "Expanded Local Calling" in the tax portion of the telephone bill. More information will be provided to affected customers in their monthly telephone bill as the service becomes operational.

Residential customers with questions about ELC service should call toll-free 1-800-762-1706, and business customers should call 1-800-483-5400.

GTE Telephone Operations is the largest U.S.-based local telephone company, providing voice, video and data products and services through more than 22 million access lines in portions of the United States, Canada, South America, the Caribbean and the Pacific.

GTE Telephone Operations, based in Irving, had total revenues of $15.8 billion in 1993. Its parent organization, GTE Corporation, is the fourth-largest publicly owned telecommunications company in the world.

New Year celebrators have quiet night here

The New Year arrived on an unusually quiet note, according to the Iowa Park Police Department.

Only one arrest for public intoxication was made during the New Year's weekend.

Police arrested Angela Marie Smirl, 34, at 1:16 a.m. Sunday in the 600 block of South Colorado on a public intoxication charge. She was released at 7:54 a.m. on a personal recognizance bond.

Three other arrests were made during the past week, but none related to drinking, according to the police blotter.

Jeremie Brashear, 18, was taken into custody Thursday on a charge of criminal mischief over $20. He was booked and transported to the county jail.

Brashear and two juveniles were

Mrs. Dennis Dillard, Jordan and Bethany

Valerie (Mrs. Dennis) Dillard is a well-known resident of Iowa Park. The daughter of Joe and Evelyn Ward, she is a graduate of Iowa Park High School and Midwestern State University, and has been an elementary teacher nine years.

Valerie taught second grade for three years at City View, first grade at Kidwell Elementary one year, and has been at Bradford Elementary five years where she is a third grade teacher.

Her husband Dennis grew up at Kamay, and is also an Iowa Park High School graduate. He attended Midwestern State Univ. and Texas A&M, and is employed as a layout technician for Howmet.

They have two children, Bethany, six, and two-year-old Jordan.

The family is active in First Baptist Church, where Dennis is director of Adult II Sunday School Department and sings in the choir; Valerie is secretary of Adult II Sunday School Dept.; and Bethany sings in the Children's Choir and is a member of Mission Friends.

For relaxation, Valerie says she loves to read, and enjoys swimming and shopping. She and Bethany received roller blades for Christmas, and they are having fun learning how to skate. The family likes to play games, and having get-togethers with both sides of the family. Dennis and Jordan enjoy attending sporting events together.

Valerie credits her mother with teaching her to cook, and commented that her mother and mother-in-law, Ruth Dillard, are both excellent cooks. Valerie's recipe for "Curli-Roni Casserole" has been Dennis' favorite for a long time. It is one of the dishes her mother would prepare when Dennis came for dinner while they were dating.

Coconut Cake
1 box white cake mix
1 pkg. vanilla instant pudding
1/4 cup oil
Mix according to directions on box. Add 1 cup coconut and bake in 9x13 pan according to directions. Cool completely. Poke holes over top of cake with fork and pour 1 can cream of coconut over cake. Frost with medium size Cool Whip and sprinkle coconut over cake. Keep refrigerated.

COOK OF THE WEEK

Curli-Roni Casserole

1 pkg. Curli-Roni
1 lb. ground beef
1 small onion
1 can cream of mushroom soup
1/2 soup can milk
Grated Cheddar cheese
Brown meat with onion and drain. Boil macaroni until tender and drain. Mix all ingredients (except cheese) and place in casserole dish. Top with grated cheese and bake in 350 degree oven until cheese melts and is bubbly.

Olive Garden Soup

Brown and drain:
1 lb. hamburger
1 onion, chopped
Add:
3 tall cans Campbell's Homestyle Minestrone soup
2 cans ranch style beans
1 can chopped tomatoes
1 can Ro-Tel chopped tomatoes
Simmer 30-45 minutes.

Banana Pudding

2 small boxes French vanilla instant pudding
3 cups cold milk
1 can Eagle Brand milk
1 - 12 oz. ctn. Cool Whip
1 large box vanilla wafers
5-7 bananas
Mix pudding, milk and Eagle Brand with mixer for 2-3 minutes, then fold in Cool Whip. In large pan (9x13), layer ingredients beginning with pudding mixture and ending with vanilla wafers on top. (You can crush vanilla wafers and sprinkle on top if desired). Keeps well in refrigerator for 3-4 days. Best if made 1 day ahead.

Tortilla Roll-Ups

Mix together:
3 - 8 oz. pkgs. cream cheese
1 pint sour cream
1 Tbsp. picante sauce
Juice of 1 lime
Add:
10 fresh green onions, chopped
3-4 fresh jalapeno peppers (seeded and chopped)
Steam tortillas. Spread mixture on tortilla and roll. Chill then slice into bite-size pieces. Serve with picante sauce for dipping.

Gail's Never-Fail Chicken & Dumplings

1 whole chicken (I use 4-5 chicken breasts)
2 cans cream of chicken soup
1/2 - 3/4 pkg. flour tortillas
Salt & pepper to taste
1 stick butter
1 cup milk
Reserved chicken broth

In a 6-quart pan, boil chicken. Remove from broth and cool. De-bone and cut in bite-size pieces. Set aside.

Add the soup, butter and milk to the reserved broth. Cook on low heat, stirring several times. Cut up the flour tortillas into bite-size pieces and drop into the broth mixture. Add cut-up chicken pieces. At this time, add water to mixture to make approximately 4 quarts altogether.

You may add more water and milk if you want a thinner sauce when done. Cook until tortillas have puffed up and are done. Stir often to prevent sticking. Add salt and pepper.

Using an energy-efficient geothermal system this winter, your heating bills could drop 60% or more!

The answer to finding energy-saving, safe, comfortable and pollution-free heating for your home can be summed up in one word: Geothermal.

Compared to other forms of heating, a geothermal system is 300%-400% more energy efficient. That means a geothermal system provides 3-4 times more energy than what it uses. That's real-life savings of 60% or more on your monthly heating bills.

How a geothermal system heats your home.
Just a few feet under the ground, the earth's heat remains at an amazingly constant year-round temperature. A geothermal system collects this heat from the earth and moves it into your home during the winter. Not only does this geothermal system supply your family with constantly warm heat, but the process is quiet and pollution-free as well. Plus, there's no unattractive equipment that has to sit outside your home.

A geothermal system also heats your water and cools your home!
The ultimate in efficiency, heat generated by a geothermal system heats your home and provides you with supplemental water heating, too!

And when the hot summer weather arrives, one flip of a switch turns your geothermal heating system into a geothermal cooling system. The geothermal unit extracts heat from the air inside your home, and returns it to the earth. In the process, the heat removed from your home is used to heat your water... absolutely free!

In winter, liquid circulates through a closed loop of underground thermal plastic pipe. This liquid collects the earth's heat, and the geothermal system efficiently transfers it to your home. This process is completely safe and reliable. And, unlike electric resistance, propane, natural gas or fuel oil, a geothermal system moves energy rather than consumes it. That's a savings of energy and money.

Call today for more information.
For more information, call your WaterFurnace Authorized Dealer today. They'll be happy to supply you with more information on geothermal heating, cooling and hot water.

Frances George named Garden Club life member

Highlighting the recent covered dish luncheon and gift exchange of Iowa Park Garden Club members was the presentation of a Life Membership to Frances George from Texas Garden Club, Inc.

Mrs. George became the first member from the local Garden Club to receive the honor of a Life Member of Texas Garden Club. The presentation was made by Norma Fortner, president of the Iowa Park Garden Club.

Dr. Larry George, pastor of University United Methodist Church in Wichita Falls, and son of Mrs. George, was guest speaker.

reponsible for putting up the bronze plaque and rock memorial at Kidwell School in honor of the late Ethyle Kidwell, long time Iowa Park teacher and principal. At present Mrs. George is serving on the Clean and Green Committee that is doing great things to improve the overall appearance of Iowa Park.

A short business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Fortner. She expressed thanks to members for putting up the Christmas trees at the Tom Burnett Memorial Library and also for decorating the library. This is a Community Service Project that Garden Club members have been doing for the past 10 years.

Kay Cole announced the Yard of the Month for December was that of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. (Rusty) Rusk, 521 W. Clara.

Social Committee members were in charge of decorations for the luncheon. Members of that committee are Mrs. George, Bonnie Illingworth, Denise Gilmore, and Bernice Williams.

Kathy Price made the poinsettias, using red balloons, that each member and guest received. Seventeen members and five guests attended the luncheon meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack L. Lott

Jack L. Lotts celebrate 60 years of marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Jack L. Lott observed their 60th wedding anniversary Sunday.

Lott and Betty Ann Ayer were married Jan. 1, 1935 at the Methodist Church in Walters, Okla., a year after they had met on a blind date.

The couple lived a short time in Wichita Falls before moving to the Clara Community.

Lott was born in Miles County, Sept. 28, 1910, and grew up on a farm in the Clara Community with his father and mother, Marvin P. and Mollie Eggleston Lott. He was the oldest of six children.

Jack graduated Iowa Park High School the first year the old high school was in operation. Following graduation he attended Draughon's Business College in Wichita Falls.

Elizabeth Annette Ayer, who was always known as Betty Ann, was born March 6, 1916, on a farm near Winnsboro. She was the only child of Khiva Clifton and Angie Pearl Adams Ayer. They moved to Wichita Falls when she was about four years old.

Betty Ann graduated Wichita Falls High School in 1933. After graduation she went to work in Wichita Falls as a telephone operator.

After living in the Clara Community a while Jack went to work for Shell Oil Co., and began moving to different locations.

The couple's first child, Richard Jackson, was born Dec. 19, 1940 in Wewoka, Okla. It would be almost 13 years before their second child, Barbara Ann was born April 18, 1953, in Ft. Morgan, Colo.

Jack worked for Shell Oil Co., 27 years, until 1961 when he retired and the couple returned to Iowa Park to make their home.

After they returned to Iowa Park Jack worked a short time for Carl Sullivan and then built a Gulf service station on East Highway where he and his son went into business together. The station later became J&R Shell Service until the mid-70s when Lott retired the second time.

The Lotts have been members of First United Methodist Church 33 years. They both are avid fishermen and try to get out twice a year to catch their limit. Their favorite place to fish is Lake Fork. Jack makes some of his own fishing lures.

For pastime Betty likes to have a flower garden and do cross stitch.

Their son Richard graduated high school in 1959 in Scottsbluff, Nebr. He is married to the former Janie Erwin. They live in Wichita Falls.

Barbara resides in Huron, S.D., with her husband, CW2(P) Kevin J. Mitchell who is in the U.S. Army.

The Lotts have six grandchildren, Tammy June of Lake Possum Kingdom, Kevin, Christopher and Shelly of Wichita Falls, and Christy Adams and Becky Raschke, both of Huron, S.D. They also have one great-grandchild, Brandon of Lake Possum Kingdom.

Weight loss program offered

A Christian weight loss and health program will once again be offered by the First Baptist Church.

"First Place" has been found a very effective way to lose weight and develop a more healthy lifestyle, says Dr. Derrell Monday.

"It takes the best of diet programs and enhances them with a Christ-centered fellowship and support group," he said.

The program lasts 13 weeks with options of enrolling for continued support if wanted. The cost of $70 covers all materials and expenses. For those repeating, there is a $20 materials cost.

Individuals interested in the program are required to attend an orientation program which fully explains all the program and its requirements.

Two orientation meetings will be held: Sunday, Jan. 8, at 4 p.m., and Thursday, Jan. 12, at 7 p.m.

Both meetings will be held in the First Baptist annex building directly behind the sanctuary. Attendance does not obligate one's participation.

Dr. George read "The Year of the Perfect Christmas Tree", "The Mood of Christmas", by Howard Thurman, and "The Gift", by Arthur Fogartie, as published in Response, Dec. 1988.

Mrs. George is a charter member of the Iowa Park Garden Club that was organized in 1960. She has held every office in the club. She served as president in 1967-68, and again in 1981-82.

While serving as Community Service chair, Mrs. George was also working to obtain the Tom Burnett home for the library and was

HAND-TURNED AMERICAN STONWARE FROM ELLIS PRODUCTION POTTERY IN MARSHALL, TEXAS

Each piece is entirely made by hand, turned on a wheel by master potters and hand painted by experienced artists. A strong and durable clay body and a high fired, lead free glaze produces a product that is functional and food safe.

Use it in your dishwasher, microwave or conventional oven; however, we recommend that you use a cold oven and never place the vessel over a direct flame. Protect your wooden surfaces because of the natural abrasive nature of stoneware.

Slight inconsistencies are an unpredictable by-product of the clay and firing process. Tiny black specks, bumps, variations in color or even an occasional fingerprint contribute to the distinctive character of a product made entirely by hand.

Our goal is to produce the finest and most innovative stoneware available. It is important to our artisans that you, the customer, understand and appreciate the uniqueness and individuality of our products.

As I See It

By Bob Hamilton

Thank goodness the holidays are over.

Oh, don't get me wrong. I enjoy everything about Christmas and New Year's. This year was no exception to the past... it was great!

But life is not one elongated holiday, and I also enjoy my life's routine. Maybe it's my age, but I like going to bed, getting up, having my morning coffee, coming to the office and attending regularly-scheduled events and meetings.

I don't expect to ever fully retire, therefore I expect a more regulated routine life than we had the past couple of weeks.

One routine I've got to get myself into is walking for exercise, like a great number of folks around here do.

I know I'm supposed to walk regularly, I was aware of it even before the doctor told me to do it. But I've got two problems with establishing such a routine.

The first problem is adjusting my usual day's routine so walking will fit in. It worked out pretty well last summer, when I had plenty of time for both my coffee and to walk. With the sun rising as early as it does in the summer, the time is available.

But now that the sun is so late making its appearance in the mornings, there's just not enough time to drink my coffee, do my walking, and still get to the office by 8 a.m.

No, walking in the afternoon just isn't my cup of tea. After more than a half day's work here at the office, I'm just too tired to exercise.

Still wondering what my second problem with establishing a walking routine is?

I don't enjoy walking in the streets and having to dodge cars, the high school track is boring, and the little walking track on the west side of Lake Gordon is too short.

Picky, aren't I?

One of my goals for the next fiscal year on the city council is to try to get a lengthy walking trail that completely encircles Lake Gordon.

Such a trail was discussed first several years ago by the city council, but nothing ever came of it. A major problem was the north end, where the lake comes right up to the access road.

But I think that problem can be resolved by building an inexpensive bridge in that area, so walkers wouldn't be forced to use the access road.

If the city were to apply for a state grant, as numerous other cities across the state have as part of their parks improvement programs, the cost to our city surely would be very low.

And with all the people we now have walking in the streets, at the high school and trying to make do with that little trail now at the lake, such a facility certainly should be justified.

And well used.

Anyway, my number one resolution for 1995 is to somehow work a walking program into my daily routine.

ant dinner conversation, but working with only a few hours of sleep, I am sure that my tongue sounded like it was wrapped in molasses.

After the luncheon was over I briefly thought about taking a nap, but I was reminded that I had to pick up my tux for the wedding and make sure that it fit correctly. Also, the time of the wedding -- 7 p.m. -- only applied to civilians. The wedding party was expected to show up at the church at 5:30 p.m. for the required photographs.

Just before the ceremony started, it occurred to me that I had only four hours of sleep in the last 36 hours. No wonder the entire thing had kind of a dreamy feel to it.

No wedding is complete without a reception. Well, we had two. The first was all cake and champagne, but the second was in our hotel room. Family and friends dropped by to wish us well. They wished us so much well that it took nearly till midnight for the last guest to leave.

We stumbled into bed only to find that some of the more creative reception guests had loaded the sheets with breakfast cereal. Instead of cleaning up the mess, we ripped off the sheets and turned in underneath the blankets.

Of course a full night's sleep was not in the cards. I was getting used to the routine of sleeping fast, because there just wasn't much time for it.

Finally, I did get caught up on my sleep. During the nearly eight hour flight to Hawaii I discovered how comfortable an airline seat can be as I dozed away.

This is the last time I get married. I don't think I could stand the pace again.

Worth Quoting

It's always the truth -- things just seem to pile up when you are on an already busy schedule. That was the way my life went the last week before my marriage.

Since Lina Kay and I decided to take a week-long honeymoon, I needed to get a number of things done before I could take eight or nine days off. At the beginning of the week, I had carefully planned my days, but, as usual, a plan doesn't assure that all will go well.

On Monday, I had to rush to the airport for a reception for the Republican candidate for the Land Office, Marta Greytok. Of course that took a lot longer than I had planned.

The next day, I was busy doing some writing to get ahead and planned to work through lunch. Suddenly, I remembered that I had the program at Lions Club that Tuesday and rushed off to get my speaker and make the meeting.

That afternoon, I had to get ready for the Candidate Forum that evening. Though there were only four candidates involved, I did not get home until past 7 o'clock.

Besides the normal rush on Wednesdays getting the paper out, I had a meeting of the Chamber board at lunch. Rushing back, I did finish my stories for the next edition.

Probably the biggest hurdle was Friday night and Saturday morning. Friday night I covered the Tulia football game, then drove over to the office to develop the film shot during the contest. As it sat in the chemicals, I wrote the story about the game and transferred the statistics to the box that accompanied the story.

After sleeping for a few hours, I was back down to the office to print photos and write a couple of cutlines. Once I was sure everything was done, it was on the road to Amarillo for the wedding rehearsal.

With a little help from my radar detector, I barely made the 11 a.m. start of the rehearsal. I did manage to keep awake during the entire practice session, but I did have to be prompted a few times.

Following the rehearsal, we all drove over to the Amarillo Country Club for a special luncheon to honor the event. I did my best to make pleas-

Promise is broken AN OPEN LETTER TO MILITARY RETIREES

During our military service we were constantly told if we served 20 or more years that on retirement we would be provided with health and dental care for the remainder of our lives for ourselves and our wives. There was no mention of "space available" mentioned in the re-enlistment folders or lectures.

I, like many thousands of other retirees believed that good old "Uncle Sam" would not lie to us on such an important issue, so we did not buy medical insurance. Back then the premiums would have been low enough so that we could have possibly paid them by doing without something else, because we were told the promise of medical care and dental care for the rest of our lives was part of our benefits and should be counted as income, therefore lower pay. Now 40 years later, four Purple Hearts, triple by-pass and a lot of miles, the premiums will be so high there is no way.

On 14 Dec. 1994 I took my wife to Sheppard Air Force Base Hospital to get an appointment and to get request for lab work. Doctor (Captain) Miller told her she could no longer receive medical care and this also applies to all other retirees. The reason was they were short on doctors. If our government can find the doctors and money to treat and care for all the countries in the world such as Cuba, Haiti, Somalia, and Bosnia then it should be able to keep its promise and treat its retirees, their wives and widows of retirees. Some who even gave their lives to help keep our country free and make it the best country in the world.

I served two tours in Vietnam and wounded 4 times and require medication the rest of my life. Now I will have to pay for it out of my retired pay. Is this right?

When I received orders to go to Vietnam as a combat infantryman, I, like thousands of others did not question it. We went and did the best we could. It would have been very easy to run off to Canada or England or even Russia and protest our involvement in the war as some others did.

I feel as if the retirees are receiving a slap in the face by the very same people who did the protesting. What kind of message does this send to the young men and women who are thinking of making the military their career?

SAFB and the military are spending millions of dollars to enlarge the hospital. On 15 Dec. 1994 I ask why enlarge the hospital if they had no doctors to staff it? I was told that the new wings would be used to store equipment in. Does this make any sense? Why not build a warehouse at 1/50th of the cost.

I have written letters to both Senator Gramm and Senator Hutchinson on this matter. I urge all retirees to do the same. Also I urge you to join the Retiree Coalition which charges no dues and is working to restore and preserve our medical and dental care for retirees and wives and widows of retirees.

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams & Ed Sterling
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — A study released last week by the state comptroller's office and General Services Commission shows how $52 million can be saved over the next five years by tightening up the state's purchasing practices.

State Comptroller John Sharp said the current system encourages waste, makes state employees' jobs difficult, costs too much and fails to eliminate vendors who sell shoddy goods to the state government.

Some of the recommendations in the report include:

- Implementing automated ordering and invoicing.
- Informing vendors about pending contracts through a computer bulletin board.
- Training and certification of all state purchasers.

■ Allowing the state to consider "best value" standard when considering purchases, rather than buying from the low bidder.

■ Allowing the General Services Commission to prohibit companies from doing business with the state.

If enacted, the list of proposals would be the "final link" needed to improve the state's purchasing and accounting practices, Sharp said.

Sub-Poverty Teacher Pensions

At least 6,000 of Texas' 138,000 retired teachers receive pensions at or below the federal poverty line, according to a study by the Texas Sunset Advisory Commission, and that's why the matter will be taken up in the upcoming legislative session.

The poverty line is $580 a month for a single person.

Although there are no estimates of the number of retired teachers who rely solely on their income from the retirement system, the study shows that 35,000 retired teachers and their survivors receive less than $1,000 a month in benefits, and thousands more would be close to the poverty line if the pension were their only means of support.

In a report by the Associated Press, Glen Porter, head of the Texas Retired Educator Dividend Association in San Antonio, made this point about the need for a pension boost: "If the free-lunch program were available to Texas teachers and school employees, 54,106 retirees would qualify."

The Legislature will consider raising the minimum monthly pension for teachers to $34 for each year they taught school. A teacher who taught for 30 years would receive at least $1,020.

Immunize or Else

Welfare recipients whose children are not immunized by age 2 may not receive some benefits under a proposal by the Texas Board of Human Services.

The board, which is the governing arm of the Texas Department of Human Services, has asked the federal government to withhold Aid to Families With Dependent Children (AFDC) benefits to recipients who ignore or otherwise do not comply with state guidelines for "age-appropriate" immunizations.

Withholding benefits was proposed by board member Bob Geyer, who said data from a November report showed little progress in raising immunization rates among children receiving state and federal assistance.

According to statistics maintained by the Texas Department of Health, about 42 percent of the state's 2-year-olds have been immunized, and according to the Texas Department of Human Services, about 225,500 children under age 5 are on the state welfare rolls. A maximum AFDC grant for a family of three (which usually consists of a mother and two children) is $188 a month. Under the board's plan, up to $92 could be withheld.

The board's proposal was criticized by advocates for low-income families, who said that withholding benefits would only hurt children.

Breast-Feeding Bill

Mothers would be entitled to breast-feed their infants in public places under a bill filed for the 1995 legislative session by state Rep. Debra Danburg, D-Houston.

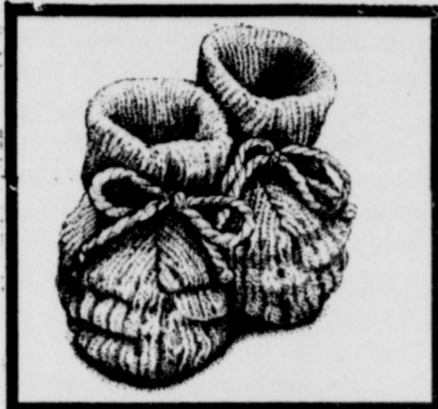

Danburg said the bill was inspired by an incident in which she and a friend were asked to leave an Austin restaurant because her friend was nursing her baby.

In addition to deeming that breast-feeding should be encouraged for the health of mother and child and for family values, the bill would launch a test project allowing Travis County employers who provide child-care services to promote themselves as "baby friendly."

Other Highlights

■ Gov.-elect George W. Bush has announced that his twin daughters will continue to attend private school when the family moves to Austin from Dallas. According to a Houston Chronicle report, Bush said a private school in Austin would give 13-year-old Jana and Barbara a "nurturing" environment and take some of the pressure off them from moving to a new city with a father who will be governor.

LOOK WHO'S NEW

Francis

Glenn and Kyle Francis of Iowa Park are the parents of a daughter, Kristen Michelle, born Dec. 27, in Wichita General Hospital. She weighed eight pounds and three ounces. The new baby has a sister, Kimberly, who is five years old.

Grandparents are Katherine Porter of Lovington, N.M., and Harry and Edith Francis of Bryan. Great-grandparents are Louis and Leona Strigel of Eunice, N.M. accused of spray painting the letters "IRA" in numerous areas of the city.

One of the juveniles was accompanied by his father before Justice of the Peace Bill Robinson Friday morning. The second youth reportedly is to be represented by an attorney, but has yet to appear before the judge, police report.

The other arrest was made Tuesday evening, following a domestic disturbance at a residence in the 700 block of North Jackson.

Howell Richard Green, 47, was taken into custody and transported to the county jail on a Class A assault charge.

Four theft reports were included on the week's blotter entries.

A formal complaint was filed Thursday concerning a Dec. 23 report of a $1,500 wedding ring missing from a residence in the 500 block of West Clara.

Police are investigating a complaint reported Sunday afternoon in the 900 block of West Highway concerning a 11-year-old male allegedly taking $140 from a cash register. The money has not yet been recovered, but police have a suspect.

An air ratchet was reportedly taken from a building in the 200 block of South Wall Saturday night.

Tuesday morning, a Wal-Mart representative told police someone had used a key to open the soft drink machines in front of the building, taking approximately $50.

A disorderly conduct complaint was filed Tuesday evening by Lupe Delarosa against Claude Morrow.

Q. How did the Kingdom of Oz get its name?

A. Although some biographers believe the story of Oz's naming to be as fanciful as the tales themselves, author L. Frank Baum claimed that he was inspired by a file cabinet marked O-Z. Other suggested derivations include: a variation on Uz, Job's house, a variation of children's Ohs and Ahs, and a variation of Boz, the pseudonym for Charles Dickens, one of Baum's favorite authors.

Windbreaks offer benefits

By PAUL L. BATA
SWCD Technician
Windbreaks greatly improve living conditions on the Texas plains, and if properly designed and maintained they can protect and beautify for a lifetime. Windbreaks slow the wind to protect farmsteads, crops, livestock and even urban homes.

A windbreak can reduce wind chill in the winter months and provide shade during the summer. Livestock are similarly protected, young crops in the fields are shielded from hot, dry winds and the sand blasting effect of blowing soil, and wildlife is supplied with food and shelter year round.

A windbreak should contain at least three rows of trees, two of which should be conifers. Conifers are the backbone of any planting because they retain their foliage year-round. Hardwood trees generally are faster growing than are conifers and provide a windbreak effect at an earlier age.

Windbreak and wildlife seedling orders are currently being taken by the Wichita Soil and Water Conservation District. The deadline for ordering seedlings is 2 p.m. on Feb. 16.

There are limited numbers of each seedling available and are sold on a first-come, first-serve basis; therefore, orders will be sent to the Texas Forest Service each Friday to insure species requests.

Tree seedlings offered are conifers and hardwoods. Conifers include evergreen varieties such as Afganistan and Austrian pines, Arizona cypress and Red Cedar. Hardwoods include Aromatic Sumac, Catalpa, Desert Willow, Russian Olive, Sandcherry, Honeylocust, Flameleaf Sumac, Nanking cherry, Green Ash, Little Walnut and Shumard Oak.

Wildlife packets are also available again this year. The packages for wildlife planting include packets for deer, turkey, squirrel, and quail and pheasant. These packages contain four varieties of hardwoods best suited for the described wildlife.

Anyone interested in ordering seedlings should contact Paul Bata at 592-4176 or come by the Natural Resources Conservation Service office at 402 North Wall, Iowa Park.

GARDENING HINTS

By MARK TERNING, COUNTY AGENT - HORTICULTURE

Another gardening year has concluded. Gardening in the Texoma region is nothing short of tough business most years and 1994 was no exception. Despite difficult growing conditions, I still contend that many of the best gardeners in the state are located right here in Wichita County and nearby areas.

The following garden checklist will help you through the first month of garden season 1995.

PLANTING:

- Plant asparagus roots during January. Check with local nurseries and only use recommended varieties such as Jersey Giant or UC-157.
- Plant cool-season colorful annuals such as pansies and dianthus to brighten the winter landscape.
- Select and plant bare-root fruit trees, pecan trees and berries.
- Complete bulb planting with pre-chilled tulips and hyacinths.
- Plant onions in later part of January.

FERTILIZERS:

- Fertilize houseplants every four to six weeks using a water-soluble houseplant food.
- Apply a high-nitrogen fertilizer to asparagus beds later in month.
- Have soil analyzed for pH levels and nutrient needs. Watch out for phosphorus accumulation.

PRUNING:

- Prune shade trees to eliminate weak and/or dangerous limbs and to improve shape. Do not top shade trees!
- Prune peach and plum trees to an open-center form in late January to February. Your local county Extension office has fact sheets and diagrams available.
- Prune grape vines by 80 percent in later January.

PEST CONTROL:

- Apply dormant oil sprays in late winter to prevent scale insects on scale prone plants and pecan phylloxera on pecan trees.
- Apply control products for aphids on bedding plants and other ornamentals.

- Have a happy and prosperous New Year.

Cemetery Association slates Jan. 8 meeting

Highland Cemetery Association will meet Sunday, Jan. 8, at 2:30 p.m. at the Iowa Park Recreational Activities Center. Officers and board members for 1995 will be elected at that time.

Highlights of the past year also will be presented during the meeting. Plans are in the making for water lines to be laid on the east side of the cemetery.

Those who have decorated graves at the cemetery for the Christmas season are reminded that the decorations must be removed by Jan. 15. If they are not removed by the owner of the lots they will be removed by the caretaker who will dispose of them.

Anyone who does not have a copy of the rules and regulations can call the cemetery office to have a copy mailed to you, or go by the office and pick up a copy.

Those who make a donation to the cemetery are reminded that they should let it be known exactly what they want the money to go for, otherwise it will go into the maintenance fund for general upkeep of the cemetery.

Memories of the little girl and the big, green-top house

By ANNE LOWE STROME

In the mid 1930s, I was three going on four, and one of the highlights of my life was watching my dad wash and wax Mr. Burnett's cars (the late Tom L. Burnett). Tom was the son of Samuel Burk Burnett for whom the town of Burkburnett is named.

Dad (the late Lloyd D. Lowe) had been Tom Burnett's private chauffeur, a job he enjoyed -- no, loved!

Dad was often given the liberty of selecting and making the purchase of Tom Burnett's cars. "Go over and buy me a new Cadillac, Lloyd," he'd say, or "go over and get me that Packard we looked at last week."

I remember dad saying that Mr. Burnett once had a 1934 LaSalle automobile with only 18,000 miles on it when the water pump started squealing. Instead of replacing the pump, Mr. Burnett had said, "go trade the thing off and just bring me a new one (car)."

Also as caretaker at the green-topped mansion (presently the Tom L. Burnett Memorial Library), mowing, raking and bagging grass in pre-rider/bagger days had been a job indeed for dad. But, coming from hard times and struggling to make a living for us, he was grateful for the work.

Mr. Burnett had liked dad and hired him right away. We lived in the servant's quarters, a fine looking little brick house directly behind the stately mansion. The "little house," we called it, is still there.

It was fun growing up in Burnett surroundings. Occasionally, I got to go upstairs to the (then) ballroom and play the baby grand piano. I loved the ballroom and recall mother and I sitting out on our little front porch listening to the music being played by a band when Mr. Burnett entertained with lavish parties.

I also loved the big yard as there had been lots of room to play. I wasn't, however, allowed to play in front of the "big house" for fear that I might be mistaken as part of the millionaire's family and kidnapped for ransom. I did, many times though, nonchalantly sneak around there as the spacious front porch had been an ideal place to sing and dance . . . and pretend. My mother, upon finding me, would paddle my hind side all the way to the back yard.

Mr. Burnett's kitchen always intrigued me. Richard, the cook, often lifted me to the kitchen center work counter, hand me a big wooden spoon and let me play a tune on the bottoms of all the pots and pans hanging overhead. He would dance around the kitchen while I beat on the pots and pans.

I also vividly recall the frequent visits to the mansion by Mr. Burnett's various American Indian friends. I always anticipated their arrival. I knew, too, that eventually they would come around to the back yard to see us. My mother would always make a big pitcher of lemonade for them. They never spoke a word but would sit on the lawn (usually six to eight of them) and patiently wait until she served them. And, although she always brought enough glasses to go around for them to drink from, they instead passed the blue crock pitcher around and drank from it.

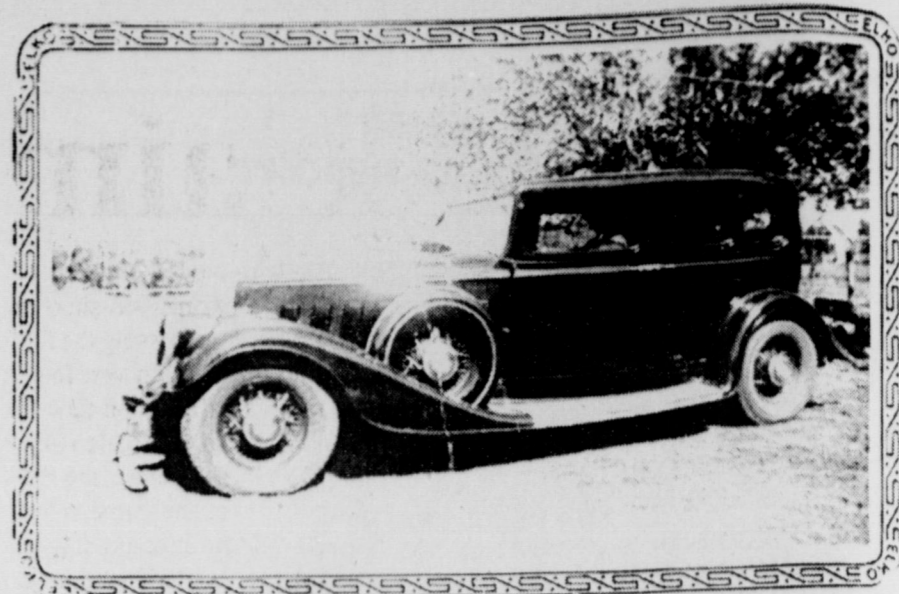

Also, several of the squaws took turns carrying me around on their hip like a sack of potatoes while others seemed to enjoy poking me in the belly or pinching and shaking my chin. They must have thought me a peculiar sight with my cotton blond hair and blue eyes. While most children might have cringed from such a setting, I, on the contrary, was elated by all the attention and was a bundle of giggles.

After Mr. Burnett's death in December 1938, his daughter, Ann Burnett (after whom I was named), retained my dad to look after her father's home. It would be several more years before it would be sold. We continued to live there until the house sold in the spring of 1941 to Will Burnett, a cousin.

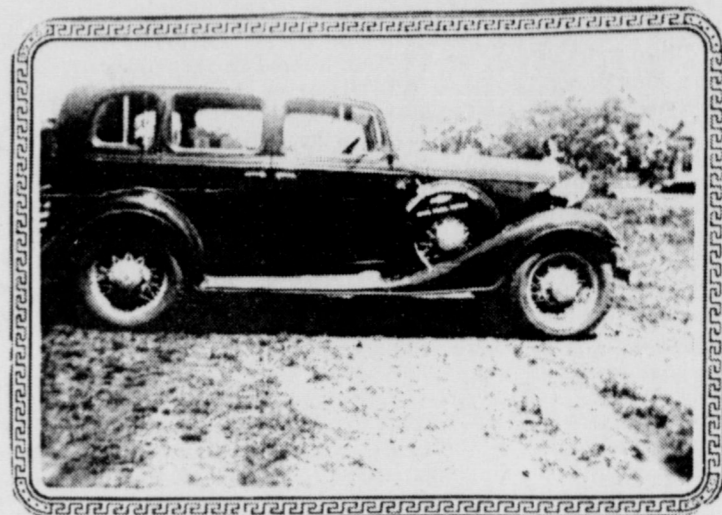

Many other childhood memories of living there are recorded in vivid detail forever embedded in my mind. The childhood birthday parties mother gave me there are especially memorable.

Dad would receive a notice from the Burnett estate in Fort Worth that we had to vacate the premises immediately and that his services " . . . would not be needed after June 1, 1941."

It is now more than half a century later. As I look at the big green topped house now, I see far beyond a library. Mother and dad are gone but memories from the pictures and clippings I have found will live forever . . . tear stains and all.

Hawks claim second tournament trophy

From a 69-point blow-out to a buzzer-beater, Iowa Park did it all last week on the basketball court as the Hawks saw their winning streak grow to 11 games.

The Hawks also claimed their second straight tournament win by winning the Bridgeport Holiday Tournament last Friday.

Iowa Park opened the tournament against Whitesboro and had no trouble at all as they raced to a lopsided 109-40 win. The Hawks could have won the game by using their second quarter score alone as Iowa Park put up 45 points in the period.

Six different Hawks scored in double figures including Michael Fallon who finished with a game high 23 followed by David Waterbury who finished with 17. Rylan McNeil finished with 15, Jason Young added 13 and Corky Petty and John Lucas had 12 and 11 respectively.

In the semi-finals against Springtown, things got a whole lot tougher as the Hawks had to rely on a Nick Black three-point bomb at the buzzer to pull out a 60-59 thriller over the Porcupines to advance to the finals.

Springtown took its first lead of the game early in the final period and grabbed a 5 point advantage at 57-52 with 2:52 left in the game. But the Hawks answered right back when Fallon drained a big three pointer and McNeil followed a miss with a layup to knot the game at 57-57 with 1:37 remaining.

The Porcupines went on top 59-57 with 1:20 left as Iowa Park worked on the final shot to tie the game. But a turnover and a foul put Springtown at the line with 12 seconds left shooting a one-and-one. After missing the first, the Hawks came down and were fouled with 2.2 seconds left. Fallon took the inbounds pass and got the ball to Black who released it just before the final buzzer sounded for the game winner from well behind the three-point stripe.

The Hawks were led in scoring by Black's 20 followed by Fallon with 13, and McNeil who finished with 10.

In the finals against Bridgeport, Iowa Park jumped out to a 26-17 first quarter lead and went on to win all four quarters and take an 87-63 win over the Bulls for the first place trophy.

McNeil led the Hawks in scoring with a game high 25 with 21 of those coming in the first half. Lucas added 13 while Young finished with 12 and Fallon chipped in 10.

Three Hawks were named to the

All-Tournament Team including Fallon, McNeil and Hawkins.

Iowa Park finished the week with a perfect 4-0 mark by beating Byers 82-64 Tuesday night to improve to 16-3 overall for the season with only one game against Hirschi remaining before the Hawks start district play.

After a 14-14 first quarter tie, the Hawks opened it up and took an 8 point halftime lead and never looked back as Lucas had a big night inside finishing with 26 points to lead the team.

Joining Lucas in double figures, were Hawkins who finished with 14 followed by Black who added 12 while McNeil chipped in with 10.

The Hawks will put their 11 game winning streak on the line Tuesday night when they play host to the Huskies in a final tune up game before the games start counting for real.

Iowa Park will open district play on the road Friday of next week when they travel to Jacksboro.

- BASKETBALL ROUNDUP -

HAWK FROSH

The freshmen Hawks finished the week with a 2-2 mark which saw the team play up and down according to the coaching staff.

In the opening round of the Graham Tournament, the Hawks defeated Jacksboro 49-40 to improve to 10-2 for the season. Clint Mathis led the team in scoring with 10 points followed by Todd Yeager who finished with 8 and Michael Swenson who added 7.

In the semi-finals, Iowa Park played its best game of the season so far according to the coaching staff as they edged Graham 58-56 to move into the finals. Chad Wright led all scorers with 25 points including 5 three-pointers in the game. Yeager also reached double figures with 12 points.

In the finals the Hawks just couldn't get things going as they fell 59-38 to Burk Burnett and had to settle for second place in the tournament. Yeager led the team in scoring with 11 followed by Wright and Swenson who each finished with 6.

Iowa Park dropped its second game in a row and fell to 11-4 overall Tuesday night as they came out flat and were beaten 64-26 by Rider. Wright finished with 11 points to lead the Hawks while Brandon Holley added 6 points.

The freshmen's next action will be Friday when they get a rematch against Burk Burnett at 4:30 p.m. in the Junior High Gym.

HAWK FROSH B

In only their fourth game of the season, the freshmen B team fell to Rider Tuesday night 70-29 to even its record at 2-2.

Brandon McLemore led the Hawks in scoring with 9 points followed by Tres Beisch who finished with 6.

JV LADY HAWKS

The JV Lady Hawks improved to 11-6 overall with a 45-23 win over the Wichita Falls High School JV Lady Coyotes Tuesday night by winning all four quarters of the game.

Iowa Park, which outscored the Lady Coyotes 25-8 in the second half was led in scoring by Jodi Henderson who finished with 10 points followed by Alora Foster and Kim Scobee who each added 8 points.

Lady Hawks will host Bowie in district opener

The Iowa Park Lady Hawks have put together a nice little winning streak of their own by winning four straight games heading into the West Texas Invitational Tournament in Slaton last weekend.

And the Lady Hawks' winning ways continued in their opening round game against Lockney as Iowa Park came away with a 51-45 win to run its winning streak to 5 in a row.

Dusti Welch led the Lady Hawks in scoring and Randi Tigrett took time away from her solid defense to add 9 points to help Iowa Park advance to the quarter finals.

The Lady Hawks' sixth victim in a row was Monahans who fell 47-32 to Iowa Park. Again it was Welch who led the team in scoring with 17 followed by Jodi Young who finished with 10. The win lifted the Lady Hawks record to 10-7.

Iowa Park ran into a Slaton team in the semi finals that opened the first half of the game shooting lights out as it hit 16 of its first 18 shots from the floor and went on to defeat Iowa Park 74-24. Welch and Young led the Lady Hawks in scoring with 7 and 6 points respectively.

In the third place game, Iowa Park went up against 5A Abilene Cooper and used a 17-3 third quarter advantage to go on to claim the third place trophy with a 66-45 win.

Welch, who was named to the All-Tournament Team, again led the Lady Hawks in scoring with 23, followed by Monica Merrell who finished with 14 and Briana Stalker, who won the Free Throw Shooting Contest

THIS WEEK IN BASKETBALL

Friday - 1/6 - Bowie vs. Iowa Park Lady Hawk freshmen, JV and Varsity first game 5 p.m.

Monday - 1/9 - Hirschi vs. Iowa Park Hawk freshmen, JV and Varsity first game 4:30 p.m.

Tuesday - 1/10 - Iowa Park Lady Hawks at Graham, freshmen, JV and Varsity first game 5 p.m.

Friday - 1/13 - Iowa Park Hawks and Lady Hawks at Jacksboro, freshmen JV and Varsity boys and girls first game 4 p.m.

by making 20 straight, finished with 13.

The Lady Hawks lost a heart breaker Tuesday night against Wichita Falls High School 47-46 in their final non-district game of the year to drop to 11-9 for the year.

With the score tied at 37-37 and 2:39 remaining, Iowa Park's Amanda Thompson drained a huge three pointer to give her team a 40-37 lead. The two teams traded baskets until the 39 second mark when Iowa Park held a 46-45 advantage.

The Lady Coyotes scored with 21 ticks left on the clock giving Iowa Park one last chance to win the game, but a shot with 4 seconds left came up just short, giving WFHS the 47-46 win. Welch led the team in scoring with 23 followed by Young who finished with 9 points.

The game, a rematch of the season opener in which the Lady Coyotes won 63-45, was a good one for the Lady Hawks despite the loss.

"This shows how much we've improved since the first of the year," coach Ronda Havins said. "We've come a long way from that point and we're starting to shoot the ball with a lot more confidence now. I think the girls are getting used to winning and we are looking forward to starting district play. We intend to surprise some people this year."

The Lady Hawks open district play Friday night against the Bowie Lady Jackrabbits who are ranked No. 2 in the state in Class 3A. The varsity game will follow the freshmen and JV games that are scheduled to start at 5 p.m.

Card of Thanks

I would like to thank everyone for all the hard work that took place to secure extended local calling for customers in the Kamay telephone service area.

Many people have said they would believe it when they saw it. Now you can believe it, because it is a done deal. Now our children can call home from school at no charge.

Kamay-Valley View is more than just oil and farms. It is a community very alive with businesses and is an asset to Wichita County.

NEWS OF THE IOWA PARK GENEALOGICAL & HISTORICAL SOCIETY

With the beginning of 1995, we have great expectations for the growth of the Iowa Park Genealogical and Historical Society.
In addition to regular meetings which are scheduled the second Saturday of each month at Tom Burnett Memorial Library, we have planned several mini-workshops.
Brent Chapman has agreed to conduct a workshop to cover the detail "How to Use the Computer" as a means of compiling your family history.
The computer at the library has Brothers Keeper and Kinfolks available to the public. These software programs allow for the use of 3.5 diskettes for storing individual family histories.
Depending on response, there may be a need for several of these computer workshops. The need for small group encounters, when participating in this type of personalized instruction, will require pre-registration. For scheduling purposes, we ask that you contact the Library to add your name to the list of interested students.
Further information will be available at the Library and in this column as details unfold. Chapman is not charging for his services, but the Society is suggesting that donations be made to him for his expertise.

Does your subscription expire this month? Check the list on page 4.

Dr. Troy Murray

Clearly, we can see that eye surgery in a hospital is beneficial because...

- there are specially designed eye surgery suites for in and out convenience.
- anesthesia is performed by a M.D. anesthesiologist with a special interest in providing comfortable pain free cataract surgery.
- a staff of experienced Registered Nurses are dedicated to your safety and comfort.
- the eye surgery suites are equipped with state-of-the-art eye surgery equipment.
