SCHOOL BOARD

Split vote decides no increase in tax

By a narrow, one-vote margin, Iowa Park school taxes will be raised only a fraction of a penny for 1993-94, to fund a $7,760,706 annual budget. The school board voted 4-3 Monday night to set the rate at $1.12 per $100 valuation. Last year's combined local and County Education District rate was $1.11684.

One trustee warned that, because the budget was predicated on a $1.16 rate, the district would not have enough money carried over to start the 1994-95 year without borrowing money.

Voting for the $1.12 rate were Wendell House, Keith Fisher, Randy Catlin and Dennis Yeager. Martha Dudley, Sheri Kennedy and Max Henderson voted against it.

The first vote on the issue was on a motion by Kennedy, to set the rate at $1.16. She, Dudley and Henderson voted for it, and House, Fisher, Catlin and Yeager voted against.

That failing, House moved to set the rate at $1.12.

Prior to the voting, each trustee individually explained their opinions about how they felt on what the tax rate should be and why.

Henderson declared the administrators would have to pull $140,000 out of the expenditures that were budgeted, in order to have a fund balance necessary to begin next year.

"Either that, or you're on a deficit budget," he said.

Supt. Glen Mitchell, who had at most of the meetings leading up to Tuesday night that were held on the budget, said schools of Iowa Park's size are recommended by the Texas Education Agency to have at least three months operating funds on hand to start a new year.

Explaining, he said there are bills and salaries that must be paid, before local tax money and funds from the state begin arriving in November.

The superintendent also told the board, the four-cent increase he was seeking would mean an increase of "only $30.22 for an owner of a home valued at $80,000."

"This past year we've added programs and people. I can't see any new needs we have this year. We're in better financial shape than this time last year," stated House.

Fisher told the board he had numerous personal contacts from taxpayers who said they didn't want higher taxes. "I heard mostly negativism on taxes. We're seeing our fund balance grow, and I can't defend an increase (in taxes). Maybe next year we'll have to go up six cents."

"I just assume that people don't want any (tax) increases," Yeager said. "We generated $30,000 more carryover this year. As I see it, we can meet all our objectives at $1.12."

Relating to the board's discussions about building more classrooms, especially to get kindergarten students out of temporary buildings, Kennedy told the board, "I don't see how we can possibly justify a bond issue, if we can't raise taxes four cents."

She said she had received only two negative comments on a four-cent increase from among all the people with whom she had talked in recent weeks. "We're growing in programs and personnel, but I'm tired of just getting along."

"I feel like Keith and Wendell," commented Catlin. "We'll make it fine. May not be a top-notch installation."

Dudley expressed concern over safety of students, relating to cuts in maintenance and construction in the new budget. "I feel we're shuffling too many things."

The superintendent explained his reason for seeking a four-cent increase was not only to increase the carryover for next year, but also to begin building a fund to construct additional classrooms, primarily at Kidwell Elementary.

Prior to the voting, when a few teachers in the audience voiced opinions about needing more money for the schools, the new principal of Kidwell, Mike Hoover, told the board kindergarten students were losing considerable instruction time each day, just because they have to go from the three temporary classroom buildings into the main building to use the restroom.

"You don't just turn a five year old loose to go to the restroom," he said. "So when one has to go, the entire class goes, because we don't have restrooms in those buildings."

OTHER BUSINESS

The board approved all requests for student field trips and fund-raising activities, as well as bids for purchase of computer hardware and software to be used in classrooms.

Also approved were requests of 11 new students from the City View district to attend high school here. That raises the total to 69 attending classes here on tuition, Mitchell said.

A request to lease the high school auditorium for a two-day Red River Area Talent Search, sought by Danny Parkerson, was approved. It will be held Nov. 26-27.

A request to use the junior high gymnasium again this year as a fund-raising project for the FFA Booster Club also was okayed. A donkey basketball game will be held Jan. 22.

Contracts for organizations to operate concession stands this year were approved. The Band Boosters will operate stands at the football stadium and Athletic Boosters at the gymnasium.

Though the board had given its okay on purchase of a new, 71-passenger school bus during discussions on this year's budget, trustees officially voted approval for that purchase.

Each of the campus principals gave their annual reports on the start of the new year, and each agreed this year had less problems than previous years.

Winless teams to meet Friday

The Iowa Park Hawks will return to the friendly confines of their own stadium Friday night, after being on the road the past two weeks, to host the Memphis Cyclones.

Unlike last year, when the two clubs met for the first time since 1969, tomorrow's game won't be between a winless club and an undefeated team.

Neither Iowa Park nor Memphis has chalked up their initial victory so far in 1993.

The Cyclones, who have lost all three of their games this season, were riding high at this time in 1992. They had rolled up 96 points while allowing only 31.

But Memphis was hit hard by graduation last spring. The Cyclones don't have all the skill people they fielded in 1992 when they knocked off the Hawks 37-27, but they are big and mature.

Memphis opened the season with a 20-7 loss to Childress, a team they had knocked off 28-9 in their '92 opener, and then fell 41-6 to Spearman and last week 12-7 to Happy.

Almost one-third of the 23 players listed on the Cyclone roster tip the scales at 200 or more pounds. And 14 of those 23 are seniors, with four juniors supporting them.

The Cyclone interior offensive line looks like that of a college, with center Shad Carroll weighing 180, guards Otho Dickerson 230 and Glen Ward 240, and tackles Dustin Blum 230 and Chris Johnson 235.

Junior quarterback Murphy Parks tips the scale at 190, and the two running backs are listed as Leo Lopez, 165, and Chris Yarbrough, 160.

The Cyclones' front four on defense is made up of Blum, Ward, Johnson and Nick Deaver, 180.

Hawk runningback Don Ellis has accounted for all Iowa Park's scoring thus far this season, except for one touchdown scored by the defense.

He scored Iowa Park's only touchdown of the season, a 65-yarder against Burk Burnett.

The other eight points Ellis scored were off his talented toe. He kicked two extra points in the season opener, and had a field goal in the second and third contests.

Ellis' field goals haven't been chip shots, however. He booted a 48-yarder at Childress, and cleared the bar from 44 yards out last week at Frederick.

The Hawk defensive platoon has held all three opponents most of the games, but has given up major yardage on big plays.

Frederick ran only 35 rushing plays in last week's game, but four of those produced 110 of the Bombers' 233 yards on the ground.

The Bombers' rushing total surpassed what both Burk Burnett and Childress had amassed together by two yards, 231.

Linebacker Bowie Farr had to leave the Frederick game after injuring an ankle, but is listed as a "probable" player for tomorrow.

Otherwise, the entire Hawk team is well and healthy, according to Coach Robert Clensay.

That was not the case last year, when the Iowa Park roster was riddled with players sidelined due to injuries.

Whoop-T-Do booth space still available

With almost two weeks remaining, booth reservations for the annual Whoop-T-Do were almost matching those of last year.

Chamber of Commerce secretary Susan Dillard told her board of directors Monday that 28 non-profit organizations had reserved booths as had 18 arts and crafts displays.

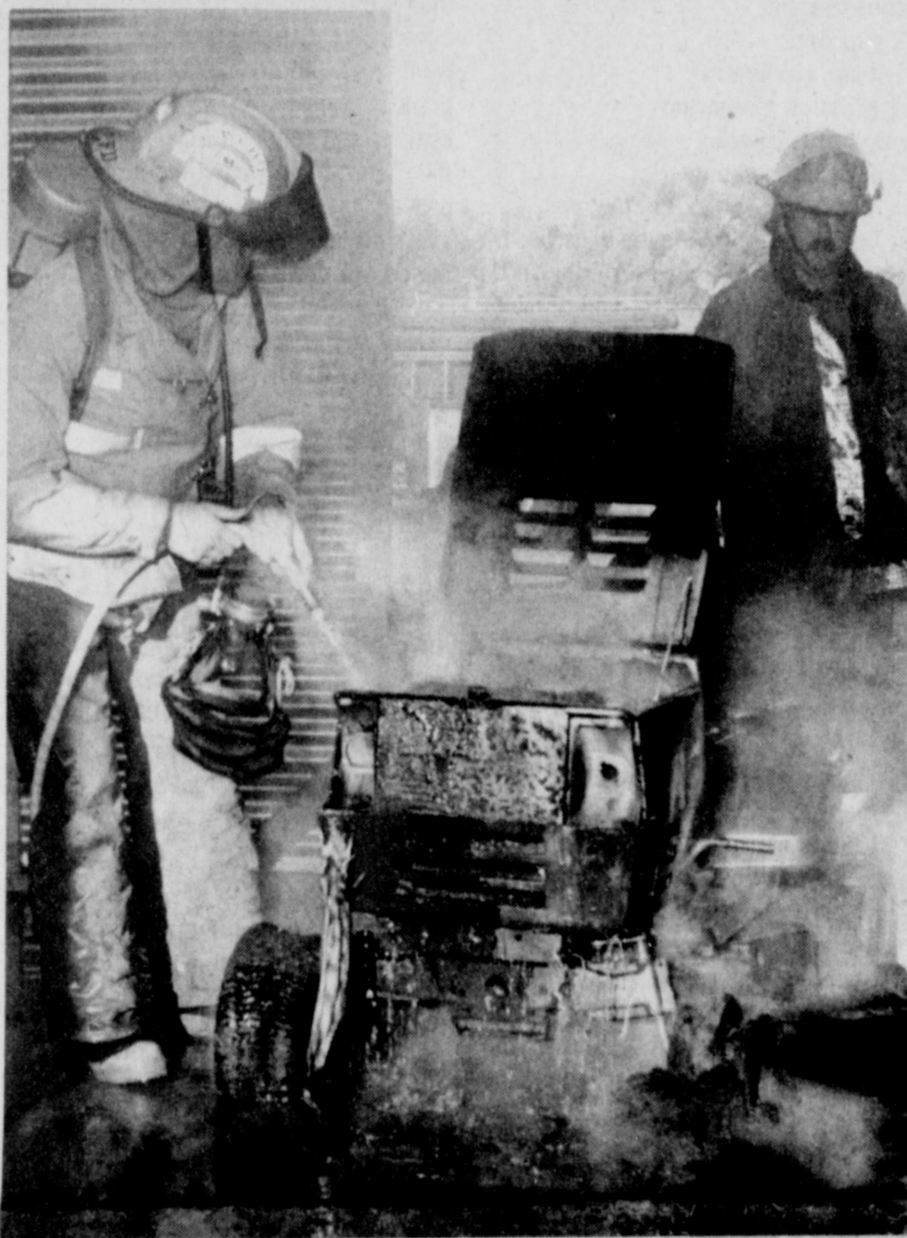

Last year's Whoop-T-Do featured booths of 31 organizations and 19 individuals.

Mrs. Dillard's report was made during the monthly meeting of Chamber directors.

The Chamber sponsors the annual event on the day following Iowa Park High School's homecoming football game.

It was devised to give those who return to Iowa Park for homecoming something to do between the ball game and Saturday night's Ex-Student Association banquet.

Additionally, non-profit organizations have an opportunity to stage their major fund-raising activities to benefit their budgets.

FLAMES ON THE REMAINS of Cecil Catlin's riding lawnmower are extinguished by an Iowa Park fireman. Catlin was working in his shop on North Texowa Thursday morning, when the mower's engine backfired and started a blaze that destroyed the machine. Flames also ignited in the rafters of the shop. Catlin was not injured.

Local stolen car found wrecked in Oklahoma

An automobile stolen in Iowa Park Monday was involved in an accident Tuesday in Oklahoma, and a 17-year-old suspect is being held by authorities.

Police received a report at 1:52 p.m. Monday that a 1983 Monte Carlo Chevrolet was missing from its parking space at 520 West Highway.

Local officials were notified Tuesday that the car had been involved in a one-vehicle wreck near Stonewall, and the driver, Jerrel Wayne Adams, had been taken to the juvenile detention center in Durant.

The car was described by Oklahoma officers as being "totaled."

Adams was handled by Iowa Park police a couple of weeks earlier. He was hanging around Allsups after midnight, and told officers he had no place to sleep.

When they told him he would have to leave, Adams reportedly complained of having a bad back and feeling ill. He was taken to the police station, attended to by medical technicians, and transported to Wichita Falls.

Residents in the 500 block of West Aldine were unnerved Tuesday evening, when a rock with a note attached to it was thrown through the front window of the home.

Police said the note contained a harassing, but not threatening, message. They were able to obtain finger prints from the paper, and expect to interview some suspects in the criminal mischief case.

A bicycle reported as being stolen Sept. 10 from the junior high school grounds was observed Wednesday of last week in the 300 block of West Bank.

An on-duty officer was contacted, who picked up both the vehicle and a juvenile. The juvenile was turned over to his mother, and the bicycle to its owner, according to the police blotter.

Police are keeping an eye out for a light blue automobile, make unknown, that reportedly was involved in attempting to persuade a young girl to get in it Friday.

The incident reportedly took place about 8:36 p.m. in the 700 block of West Louisa. Three males were said to be in the vehicle. The girl refused to do as was told by the driver, and told her mother, who alerted police.

Four persons were arrested here during the past week, two of them at the same time.

Police took a man and woman into custody at 3:13 a.m. Sunday in the 600 block of North Pacific, both on charges of public intoxication.

The two, Phyllis Turner Morris, 61, and Harrell Dwayne Tipton, 54, were determined to be intoxicated. They were released from jail at 8:30 a.m. after each paid $81.50 fines.

Also arrested on a public intoxication charge was David Chris Wilson, 44, at 2:57 a.m. Saturday in the 400 block of South Texowa. He was released at 9:13 a.m. after signing a personal recognizance bond, according to the blotter.

Benny J. Martin, 29, was taken into custody at 10:43 p.m. Monday in the 500 block of West Highway after it was determined the county sheriff's office had an outstanding warrant out for his arrest. Martin, wanted for capus pro fine on a DWI charge, was turned over to a county deputy.

As I See It... By Bob Hamilton

There is a movement afoot to kill a tax very few people know about, and now is the time to get it done.

Did you know that if you let your neighbor have a pound of pecans your one tree in the back yard produced last year, and charge him half a dollar for them, you violated the law if you failed to pay a tax on that sale?

No, I'm not spoofing you. It's been a law since congress passed it in 1990. That 50-cent sale could cost you $1,000 if you failed to report it, and the government finds out about it!

A referendum is being held, whether to continue the program. The ballots are at the local ASCS building, and information concerning it is included in a front page story of this issue.

I almost dropped my morning coffee when I read about the new law back after it was enacted. But I soon forgot about it, because Dolores and I have enough family and friends that we can give our excess pecans to, I'll never have any to sell.

But, just the fact that a small group of producers thought it would be a good method of generating money for the promotion and research programs.

And they got the support of some vote-hungry congressman, who got the bill passed.

Yep, you violated the law if you failed to declare and pay one half a cent on that 50-cent sale you made.

And the penalty is a minimum of $1,000 per violation. Then, if you fail to pay up after being caught, you could wind up facing five years in prison.

Actually, the tax could be raised to two cents per pound, as provided by the law.

As an administrator from Agricultural Marketing Services in Washington D.C. explained, "This program is a (pecan) growers assessment, but the first handler has the responsibility of remitting the funds to the (Pecan Marketing) Board. As a first handler... you should deduct the amount of assessment (tax) from your payment to the grower."

The first such project to raise marketing funds for any type of farm product I ever heard of was a voluntary program initiated back in the 1960s by the National Grain Sorghum Producers Assn. Other groups, such as the wheat people, soon joined in.

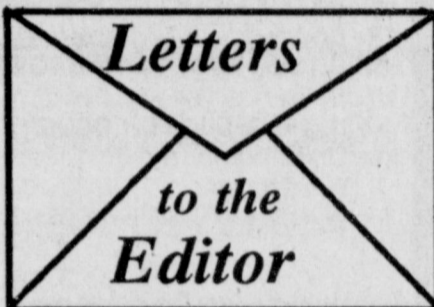

But those programs were voluntary, as I recall, and did not have the power of the federal government to collect the money.

I'll admit I don't read everything I receive in the mails, but I don't believe I've ever been contacted by the Federated Pecan Growers Assn. to join their group, let alone ever even knowing of their organization.

And for them to involve me, with my two little trees in the back yard and what I might choose to do with the few pounds of nuts they produce, flatly made me angry.

As far as I'm concerned, that was just plainly taxation without representation.

No, I've not sold any of my prized pecans. But I might declare I have, so I can vote to abolish that stupid program.

Waiting for Homecoming

Dear Mr. Hamilton,

I finally was able to contact my sister. She most definitely wants to renew "The Leader." I'm looking forward to Homecoming Oct. 2nd to see how everyone else has gotten "older."

I wish everyone could have experienced the Iowa Park I grew up in. That spirit is still there, I think.

To many more years of reading our paper - Sincerely Anne Ralston Shawver Class of '51

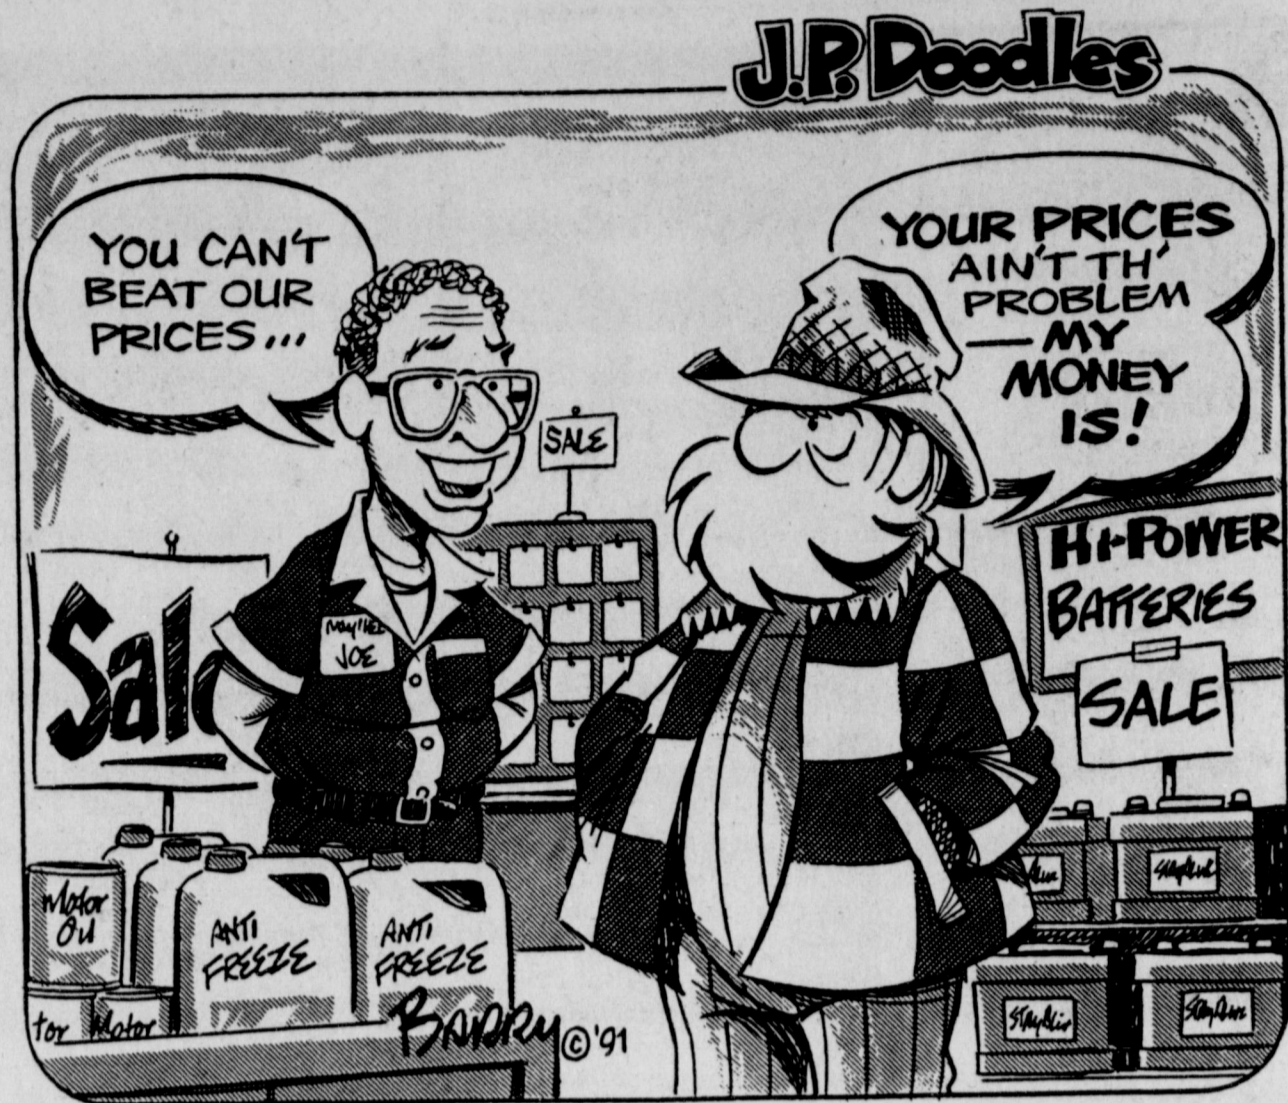

Agrees with writer

Dear Bob:

Upon reading the "Letter to the Editor" in last week's paper I really became concerned about the accusations that the parent had made about the sixth grade teachers.

My child is in the sixth grade and has complained about the attitudes of the teachers to the extent of faking illness. I just thought it was "schoolitis" and it would pass. But after hearing that not only does my child complain, but others also, maybe this is something that needs to be addressed.

Teachers as well as parents need to realize that going from Elementary school to Jr High school is a huge transition for all children. Not only are they changing schools, but they are changing mentally, physically and emotionally. This is a milestone in these kids lives, and needs to be taken seriously. Children at this point in their lives need even more understanding and support. So, parents and teachers we need to be just a little more patient with our kids, give them a little more time and listen just a little more carefully. If we don't, we will have more trouble later!! Thank You, Please withhold my name

Water, sewer improvements top council meeting agenda

Trash and improvements in the city's sewer and water system highlight the tentative agenda for the city council meeting Monday night.

Prior to the 7 p.m. meeting in council chambers, however, a public hearing will be held at 6:30 at the waste water treatment plant.

The hearing relates to the city's seeking of grants to improve some of the sewage transmission systems in the south part of town.

Concerning trash, an ordinance will be considered to amend prices charged for landfill fees, stickers and permits.

Also, a resolution will be presented seeking authorization for the mayor to execute a deed of trust for the sale of the landfill to Bell Processing.

The council approved a bid last two weeks ago from Bell to purchase the 53-acre tract. That changeover, if approved by the state, is expected to take place Oct. 1, according to Mike Price, city administrator.

Concerning utility improvements besides those to be funded by grants, the administrator will ask authorization to advertise for bids to construct a 300,000 gallon elevated storage tank, a water pump station and a 12-inch water main.

The proposed new water tower would be located north of US 287, near Johnson Road, and is intended not only to improve service to residents in that part of the city, but also to adequately serve additional housing to be built in that part of the city.

At the same time Price is seeking authority to advertise for those items, he also will ask the authority to secure financing for the water and sewer improvement projects.

Authority for two leasing projects also are on the agenda. One is for land next to the Recreational Activities Center, for a new senior citizens' center. The other concerns property owners in the 300 and 400 blocks of West Smith Ave.

A second ordinance included on the agenda would amend the code concerning authorization to place traffic stop signs at certain locations.

Also on the agenda, a resolution will be considered, authorizing write-off of bad customer debts, and a discussion of the city's Employee Benefit Trust Fund.

Worth Quoting

Something was unsettling about the universal acclaim by radical environmental groups for the decision by the Interior Department to raise grazing fees on federal lands. The proposal, announced last week, would increase the per animal fee from $2.40 per month to $4.28 per month over the next four years.

Listening to the environmentalists praise the plan, I started to get an inkling of their true agenda. They painted the ranchers that use federal lands to feed their cattle as greedy exploiters of the land with little regard for the future.

The connotation was that all ranchers abuse the land. The environmentalists said over-grazing was a major problem and wanted even higher fees to stop the destruction of public land. Their idea was to completely stop grazing on the public lands, returning the areas to a "natural state."

That sounds much like the proposal put forth a few years ago to make the area of the United States between the Rocky Mountains and the 100th parallel a huge national park. Ranching and farming would be outlawed and only buffalo would be allowed to roam in the area, aptly called the "Buffalo Commons."

To the environmentalists that live along the Eastern seaboard, the "Buffalo Commons" may sound like a good idea. But, to the people that actually make their living from land it is based on a false promise.

The best protectors of the land are the farmers and ranchers. Their entire livelihood depends on sound management practices and the future productivity of the land. They would be the last to do something that would harm their future.

Unable to close federal lands through Congress, the environmentalists may be using the Interior Department to make the use of federal grasslands unprofitable. By steadily increasing the grazing fees, it will cost more to use federal lands than a rancher can afford to pay.

It is hard to compare the grazing fees of federal lands with those on private land. Users of federal lands must provide water, fencing and sometimes roads on the property.

We must be aware that there are two competing views on land use in this country. In our area we view land as a productive resource to be used to grow cattle, wheat and other products. It is to be husbanded and cared for, to be used for generations to come.

The other view is that all the open spaces in this nation are to be locked up and preserved. The land is not to be used, but admired like a painting in a museum.

Just the existence of the environmental preservationists shows how far this nation has drifted from its rural roots. If we are not watchful, our farmers and ranchers in the future could be nothing more than caretakers of the "Buffalo Commons."

After one year's operation of the instant games and seven months of Lotto, local folks spent a total of $1,421,724 on the gambling.

That from a county where 37% of the student population qualifies for free lunches at school.

We came into a report that shows for the first full year of operation, ending May 29th, the instant or scratch off games yielded $1,086,280 and in the seven months of the lottery, sales totaled $335,474 for the $1.4 million total.

Statewide, instant game sales totaled $1,362,107,586 and total Lotto sales hit $471,600,125 for a grand total of $1,833,707,711. Gross sales of $1.8 billion ain't bad for a state that's supposed to be in recession.

Gambling fever must have really been contagious down at Houston. Harris county led the state with sales of $345 million followed by Dallas with $198 million, and Tarrant county with $128 million.

That stronghold of poverty and home of the suit-happy Edgewood school district in Bexar county and San Antonio managed to wager $125 million on lottery tickets.

Three counties in the state qualify for the single honor of recording zero sales of lottery tickets: Loving, Glasscock, and Terrell counties.

Gaines county made Andrews look like country cousins when it came to gross sales of both instant and lotto tickets. That county, with its proximity to New Mexico, racked up total sales of $4,629,855.

Ector county didn't do bad as far as sales are concerned, tallying $14.5 million while Midland sold $11.1 million.

And just think, all we need to equalize school funding in the state of Texas is $400 million.

Sunday School Revival begins Sunday at FBC

First Baptist Church will host a unique revival experience, starting Sunday, Sept. 26. It is called a Sunday School Revival.

Leading the revival will be Leon Kilbreth, known across America as Mr. Sunday School U.S.A.

The services will begin with all of the adults meeting together in the auditorium at 9:30 a.m. Sunday. The morning worship will follow at 10:45.

Adults will meet at 5 p.m. Sunday, with the main worship time at 6. Monday through Wednesday services will begin at 7 p.m.

Kilbreth is America's only full time Sunday School evangelist. He is used widely in many churches of all denominations. The evangelist had conducted more than 3400 Sunday School Revivals in churches across the land.

Dr. Derrell Monday, pastor of First Baptist Church, said, "God has called, trained, and prepared this layman, given him a stirring message and thrust him forth into the main stream of the greatest need among His churches today."

Kilbreth comes from a rich background of 40 years experience. From a rural country church with 65 in Sunday School, he has been used to lead some of the largest churches in America in a fantastic over-all church growth and development.

A man of various talents, abilities and experiences, Kilbreth has been a successful business man, a top flight athletic official, president of a professional baseball league, mayor of a city, a civic leader and president of a Board of Education. He has been a Baptist deacon 35 years, a faithful leader in Southern Baptist churches and his denomination.

Hundreds of pastors and Christian leaders give testimony today that perhaps there is no man in America that is speaking to the needs of churches like Leon Kilbreth.

A super-motivator, Kilbreth is equipped with natural humor and with which adds to his message and gives him the ability to hold the attention of his audience.

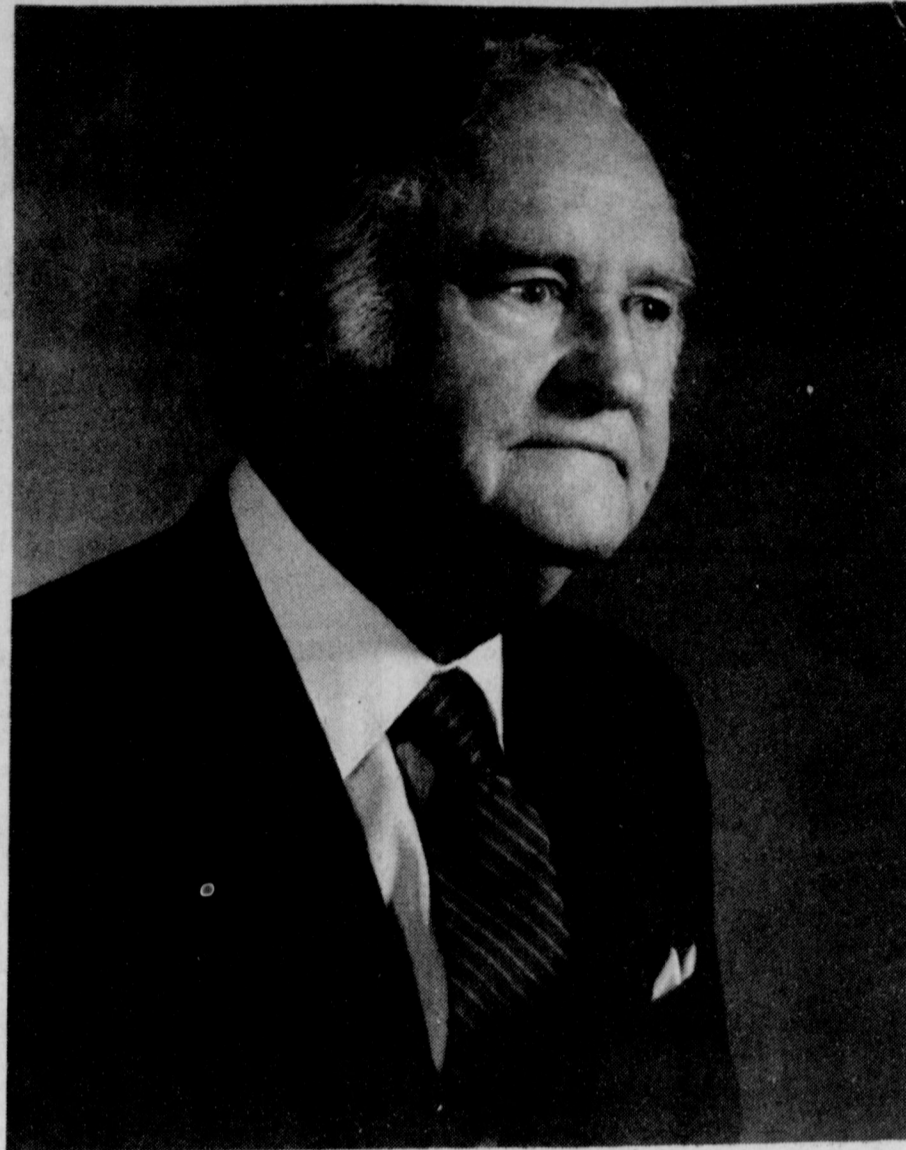

First Baptist Church extends an invitation to the public to attend the revival Sept. 26-29.

STATEMENT OF FAITH

One God in three persons - Father, Son and Holy Spirit.
The verbal inspiration of the whole Bible as God's infallible revelation to man.
Jesus Christ's deity, virgin birth, sinless humanity, substitutionary death, atoning blood, bodily resurrection, and ascension to heaven. Salvation by faith in Christ alone, without works, and solely by grace. The need of works to express gratitude and give a living demonstration of God's transforming power.
The resurrection of the body: eternal glory for believers in heaven, and everlasting punishment for unbelievers in hell.
The one true church, the body of Christ, consisting of all believers, regardless of race or social standing.
The need for spiritual growth through Bible study, prayer, witnessing, and involvement in a Bible-believing church.
Obedience to our Lord's command to lead people of all nations to faith and maturity in Christ.
The imminent rapture of the church, and Christ's personal return to establish His kingdom on earth.

GARDENING HINTS

By MARK TERNING, COUNTY AGENT - HORTICULTURE

Landfill regulations which could certainly increase the costs of solid waste disposal are soon to come.

In October of this year certain regulations referred to as Subtitle D or the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act will have an impact on landfill operations.

The impact will be in the form of increased disposal costs due to substantially tougher landfill operation guidelines.

In 1990, the Horticulture and Turf Committees with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in Wichita County initiated the "Don't Bag It" lawn care plan. The concept was to promote the benefits of mulching grass clippings as opposed to bagging for landfill disposal.

The eye-opening fact that 20 to 25 percent of urban solid waste is yard waste fueled the development of the extension service "Don't Bag It" plan. Forecasts of soon to come landfill cost increases also provided a need for innovative recycling efforts.

Pay attention to some of the data collected from surveys during a two-year study of trained volunteers who practice the "Don't Bag It" plan.

These 75 Wichita County citizens were educated on using slow-release nitrogen fertilizers, proper watering, and of course not bagging their grass clippings.

* 75 homeowners prevented 441,000 pounds of grass clippings from entering landfills during the two-year study. Most of these people are still not bagging their grass clippings today.

* Lawn mowing time was cut by 33 percent when not catching grass clippings. Average intervals for mowing were every five days.

* Lawn quality ratings based on color, density, and aesthetic value were rated as good to excellent when compared with the same lawns being bagged or collected. Remember that some of our highest quality turf areas in the nation are golf courses which by the way do not catch their grass clippings.

* Participants in the study used both traditional rotary mowers as well as mulching mowers. Both types of lawn mowers worked fine with the "Don't Bag It" plan, however, mulching units are now widely available and are the machine of the future.

* Water needs on turf which is mulched also appear to be decreased due to minimized evaporative water loss.

* Thatch development and weed invasion were not an increased problem in lawn areas where participants were not bagging. Responsible use of pre and post emergent control products are part of the "Don't Bag It" plan.

* Slow-release nitrogen fertilizers were preferred over quick release fertilizers in the "Don't Bag It" program.

In the future we will probably see more cities ban grass clippings collection due to the increased costs of landfilling. The good news is you can have a beautiful lawn while not bagging.

You will also see the increased use of turf growth regulators which slow down the rate of lawn growth.

Composting is also a viable option to disposal if it can be done economically.

Faith Baptist to host "Church Family Reunion"

Faith Baptist Church will host a "Church Family Reunion" Sunday morning, Oct. 3.

"Just as families get together on occasion for reunions, so Faith will be having a reunion for its family of members," said Dr. Greg Ammons, pastor.

All members of the church are encouraged to gather on that Sunday morning for a wonderful time as a church family.

The day will begin with a lesson in Sunday School from the book of Isaiah 40. The lesson concerns God's unchanging message for a changing world.

All members are encouraged to attend Sunday School at 9:15 a. m. as classes and departments are planning for a great day.

The morning worship service will begin at 10:30 a.m. Royce Dowell of Richardson will be supplying the music. Dowell will be here for this special day only as the church continues to search for a minister to lead its music program.

Following the music worship time, Dr. Ammons will present the message for the morning.

Faith Baptist Church now totals

1,401 members with 1,000 of them currently residents of Iowa Park and the immediate area.

"The church is looking forward with excitement to the addition of two more staff members in the immediate future," Dr. Ammons said.

All members and any guests interested are encouraged to attend the Church Family Reunion Oct. 3

New directors named

Two new directors were named by directors of North Central Texas Bancshares, Inc. of Iowa Park during a recent meeting.

They were W.L. "Rusty" Linderman and Larry Berend.

Linderman is an independent oilman and rancher who offices in Wichita Falls. A former board member of First Wichita National Bank, he is a member of North Texas Oil & Gas Assn. and on the board of Bethania Hospital.

Berend is co-owner of Berend Brothers of Wichita Falls, Burkburnett, Windthorst and Bowie.

Active in agricultural programs through the county Extension office and a member of the Wichita County Livestock Committee, Berend has served as director of Wichita County

Junior Livestock Assn. and the Farm and Ranch Club.

He currently serves as president of Rotary North and president-elect of the Texas Egg Council. He has also been appointed to the governor's Egg Advisory Board.

State-ranked Bombers too much for Hawks

Iowa Park's Hawks stayed in contention with the Frederick Bombers through the first half of their game Friday night, but the state-ranked Oklahomans' size and speed finally wore them down to a 26-3 decision.

Don Ellis' 43-yard field goal in the second quarter pulled the Hawks to within three points of the Bombers, who were playing before a capacity-packed stand of homecoming celebrators.

Long plays accounted for Frederick's second and third touchdowns. The fourth was a trick play that Hawk coaches heatedly contested, but to no avail.

The Bombers scored on their first possession, an eight-yard run that was set up by a 22-yard run to the Iowa Park four yard line. On the next play, Josh Johnson tackled a runner for a four-yard loss. But Bomber quarterback Jay McCullough put the hosts on the scoreboard on the next play.

Iowa Park attempted a faked punt at mid field on its next possession, but failed to pick up the first down. But on the next play, linebacker Jason Maxwell intercepted a pass. Unable to gain a first down, Frederick took over at the Bomber 40, as the first period closed out.

Frederick drove inside the Hawk 20 yard line twice during the second quarter, only to give up possession on the 11 and 14 on downs.

The Hawks drove from their 14 to the Bomber 17. But Ellis' first field goal attempt, from the 23, was wide left.

But, with 30 seconds remaining in the first half, Frederick's pass was intercepted by Tony Lozipone, giving Iowa Park one more shot from the Bomber 26, and 10 ticks left on the clock.

Ellis' kick this time was true, and Iowa Park was within three points of the Bombers, who are ranked third among AAA schools in Oklahoma.

SCOTT BYRD PICKS UP 10 YARDS, BEHIND GOOD BLOCKING

Frederick needed only two plays to score on their first possession of the third period. After returning Iowa Park's punt to the Hawk 44 and gaining six yards on a pass, the Hawks were hit with a five yard penalty and then Bomber Ryan Benn broke on a 33-yarder to take a 13-3 lead.

A 29-yard run set up Frederick inside the Hawk 10 on the Bombers' next possession, and that drive was capped with the shortest score of the night, a four-yarder.

On their next possession, Frederick pulled a "hidden" ball act. The ball was snapped to the quarterback, who dropped the ball and began running to his left with the rest of his backfield on a sweep-like play. But all of a sudden, guard Donell Lax broke to the right, with the ball, and scored from 26 yards out.

Hawk coaches tried to convince the officials the ball was dead, because the center had sat on it and Keith Hoover had been atop him, supposedly killing the play. The officials apparently didn't see the ball the way Hawk mentors did, however, and the play was allowed to stand. The kick for extra point failed.

Scott Byrd, playing his first full game of the season, led Iowa Park in net yards gained, 41 on 12 carries. Jason Young, a junior, played the entire game at quarterback, and gained 37 yards, as well as completing seven of 18 passes for 59 yards. Ellis was the workhorse, carrying 17 times for a net 33 yards.

Tight end Tim Denton had three catches for 29 yards. Jayson Houston caught a pair for 19, and Brent Brown and Byrd each had one catch.

JV goes for win, loses

The Hawk Junior Varsity went for a win, rather than a tie, Tuesday night, but the two-point conversion attempt failed and Frederick won, 14-13.

The Oklahomans also won the earlier game between the two Freshman teams, 36-6.

Iowa Park dominated the game right up until the end. The Hawks led 7-6 at the half, with James Armstrong scoring the first TD and Corkey Petty kicked the extra point.

The Bombers came back with seven points of their own, and added two points on the PAT.

Then, Petty burst over the goal line from three yards out, pulling to within a point of a tie or two points for the win.

Frederick's lead was only 14-0 at the half of the Frosh contest.

Matt Rose made a game of it in the third period, when he set up his own two-yard touchdown with a 60-yarder on a trap play.

However, Iowa Park turned over the ball three times in the fourth period, and the visiting Bombers turned each into touchdowns.

Cheerleaders' Point of View

We would like to give a big thanks to the parents and student body on a job well done at the game and the pep rally. You guys never got down and ya'll cheered the whole game. Thanks a lot on your willing to help out.

This week is a home game and we would like the spirit to be with you again. The Hawks are looking for their first victory so let's cheer them on to it. Let's show the Cyclones the true meaning of Hawk pride.

This week the Cheerleaders have passed out spirit squares to the student body. We ask everyone to wear them to support the Hawks. Then at the pep rally we will put them together to make a spirit chain.

Also, we would like to remind everyone that at 3:15 on Thursday we will still decorate the gym. Please remember to bring the duct tape because the other does not work. Let's see if we can't make the gym even better than it did last week. We would also like to see some from the sophomore class. This would make the second week in a row that ya'll did not make any signs. Come on guys let's get with it and show some spirit.

Let's get fired up for this game because when the Hawks hit the field this week everyone is going to see a change. The change is going to be the Cyclones going with one more loss on their hands not the Iowa Park Hawks.

Good Luck Hawks,
We love you guys,
Beat Those Cyclones!

Runners 2nd at Azle

Iowa Park High cross country teams both placed second among AAA schools in a meet Saturday at Azle.

The girls finished with 59 points behind winning Decatur's 37, while the boys had 54, as Bowie won with 41.

Christi Welch and Randi Tigrett were fifth and seven individually in the girls' competition. Top 10 runners in each division received awards.

Other finishers for Iowa Park were Dusti Welch, 14; Lori Spruiell, 15;

Junior Hawks sweep City View

Both Iowa Park Junior High football teams romped to impressive victories Tuesday night against City View.

The Eighth Grade shut out the neighboring school 36-0, while the Seventh Grade posted to a 26-18 win.

All five of the Eighth Graders' touchdowns were scored by different players, though quarterback Todd Yeager figured in three of them.

Iowa Park racked up 14 points in each of the first two quarters, and tacked on the final in the third, before coasting the rest of the contest.

Brandon Brown lit the scoreboard first, on a five-yard run, and Yeager tacked on the next from 12 yards out. Brandon Holley followed both with extra point kicks.

Yeager connected with Clint Mathis on a 17-yard pass in the second, before Michael Swenson posted his TD for the evening on a 12-yard run. Holley's talented toe tacked on the extra points, making the score 28-0 at the half.

Yeager hit Chad Wright for 10 yards and the final touchdown of the evening, and the quarterback then hit Brown for the two-point conversion.

The Seventh Grade contest was much closer than the Eighth, however, as the young Hawks led only 20-18 going into the fourth quarter.

Tommy Duerson, who electrified the crowd by returning the game's opening kickoff 60 yards to light up the scoreboard, was the offensive star for the Mean Green.

Duerson scored all four Iowa Park touchdowns, on runs of 20, three and 30 yards, besides the kickoff return.

Jimmy Smith ran for a two-point conversion.

All three of City View's touchdowns were on big plays, including a kickoff return of their own. They first scored on a 50-yard pass, a 50 yard run, and then just before the halftime break, the kickoff return to narrow the Hawk lead to only 20-18.

JUNIOR HIGH

Outstanding Students

Thirteen seventh grade students at Iowa Park Junior High School have been identified as eligible to participate in a Talent Identification Program (TIP) sponsored by Duke University.

Eligible students must have scored in the upper three percent on the Norm-Referenced Assessment Program for Texas (NAPT) test taken in the spring of their sixth grade year.

Top students include Lydia Adams, Julie Billington, Carrie Evans, Joey Gauthier, Dustin Hicks, Carl Hogan, Kyle Love, Bryan Lyons, Stephanie Morris, Josh Parker, William Parker, Ronald Sanders, and Sarah Trotter.

This Talent Search for mathematically and verbally advanced students identifies highly able seventh graders from a 16-state region in the south, southwest, and midwest.

TIP, established in 1980, has provided thousands of students with information about their abilities and educational options.

Purposes of the program are to help academically bright students develop their special abilities, assist schools in working with these students, and to understand the nature of exceptional mathematical and verbal ability.

Primary goals of TIP are the identification and development of this group of extremely able youths. Eligible students may take the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or the ACT Assessment (ACT) later this year.

These are normally administered only to high school juniors and seniors. If the students score high on these tests, they will receive special recognition in ceremonies in Austin.

A Grand Recognition Ceremony will be held in May at Duke University for those with exceptional scores on the SAT or ACT.

BRADFORD

Bradford has HOT program

A new program for fifth graders called HOT (Homework on Time) was begun at Bradford this year.

Fifth grade students who have completed all of their homework during the week, get to do something special during the last 30 minutes of school on Friday.

The intent of this program is to encourage students to get their homework done, and reward the ones who have it in on time.

On the last two Fridays, the HOT students have held pep rallies for the Top of Texas football teams.

The teachers have candy bars and cokes that the students can buy during this time, and the proceeds will help fund the fifth grade field trip in the spring.

For their field trip last year, the fifth graders went to Casa Manana and the Omni Theatre in Fort Worth.

First report cards out next Thursday

Students are taking their six-week tests this week, and report cards will go out next Thursday, Sept. 30.

School pictures

Students might want to spend a little more time dressing and combing their hair next Wednesday morning.

At Bradford, school pictures will be taken Wednesday, Sept. 29, from 8:15 - 10:30 a.m.

KIDWELL

Teacher of the Week

Lynette Ann Husted, pre-kindergarten teacher, has been selected as "Teacher of the Week."

A native of Michigan, Lynette says she enjoys living in Texas. She received her degree from the Univ. of Michigan and has 14 years teaching experience.

Mrs. Husted and her husband, Clint, have two children, Kara, a fifth grader, and Chad, a second grader.

Her hobbies include sewing, needle work, reading and watching her children's hobbies.

To Be "Thumbody"

The Mental Health Assoc. will be in the first grade classrooms Monday and Tuesday to deliver their "Thumbody" program.

The association developed the program to boost children's self-esteem.

Sucker Day

Every Tuesday will be Sucker Day at Kidwell. Suckers will be sold to students for 50¢ a piece after lunch. Profits from the sales will benefit the Accelerated Reading Program.

PTA meeting

The Kidwell PTA board of directors met Tuesday evening just prior to Kidwell's Open House.

Tentative plans for "Be Drug Free" week, scheduled for Oct. 23-31, were discussed. A week-long slate of activities was discussed and will be finalized during the next meeting.

Board members approved to again appropriate $2 per child for field trips.

Plans were finalized for "sucker day," when Teddy Bear suckers will be sold for 50¢ a piece to Kidwell students.

The first graders will present their program Oct. 19 at the high school auditorium. A board meeting will precede the program.

It was announced that the State PTA convention will be held Nov. 19-21 in San Antonio.

Teens not getting enough exercise

MTV teenagers of the 1990s are simply not getting enough exercise, says an adolescent sports medicine expert.

"The message any teens receive both at school and at home is that exercise is 'not that important,'" said Dr. Albert C. Hergenroeder, chief of adolescent medicine and sports medicine at Baylor College of Medicine and Texas Children's Hospital in Houston.

Hergenroeder, who regularly does pre-season examinations of high school athletes, has studied exercise among teenagers. He believes schools and parents can do more to encourage physical activity among students of all ages.

"Physical activity levels among teens in school are inadequate," said Hergenroeder, a member of Project PACE (Physician-based Assessment and Counseling for Exercise), a national program examining physical activity guidelines for teenagers. "There are no established national policies on minimum levels for student exercise."

PACE is expected to recommend minimum levels when its findings are completed. Hergenroeder feels personally that adolescents should participate in three or more moderate to vigorous exercise sessions per week.

Hergenroeder also believes that many adolescents find little encouragement at home.

"Some parents take no interest in exercise or perhaps spend more time pursuing their own interests than they do that of their children," he said.

Studies have suggested that parents who exercise provide positive role models that can influence a child's desire to exercise. Hergenroeder recommends that family activities emphasizing exercise begin early in life.

"Choose fun activities--swimming, walking, bicycling," he said. Even dance or martial arts can be fun, provided the emphasis is not on competition.

"Children and teenagers should have time for unstructured activity outside the house. Adults can sometimes take the fun out of games by overly organizing them."

Hergenroeder says children are never too young to have fun.

"For example, if they wish, kids can begin lifting weights as early as age 8, as long as there is supervision.

In children, this builds self-confidence, not bulk," he said.

Parents can encourage their teens in athletic or physical activities for which they show aptitude but he discourages parents from pressuring younger children unnecessarily.

"Exposure to many activities early on is healthy," he said. "But too much parental pressure, such as overexposure to exercise or over indulgence in one sport is a huge mistake."

Hergenroeder adds that even for teenagers, it may be wise to pursue a variety of activities.

"Some of the best professional athletes--Dan Marino, Joe Montana, John Elway--were involved in several sports before they focused on one. Variety helps you gain different skills and avoid injuries related to overuse and repetition."

Whether children and teenagers engage in physical activity at school, with the family, or through community programs such as the YMCA or Boy's Club, Hergenroeder believes exercise can help build healthy lifestyles.

"If you offer them enjoyable opportunities for physical exertion, they will be more likely to pursue it on their own," he said.

Finnell backs amendment

State Rep. Charles Finnell, vice chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, says he backs a proposed state constitutional amendment which would provide up to $100 million for Texas agri-business.

The proposition, Finnell noted, will be Number 16 on the Nov. 2 ballot of proposed amendments to the state constitution, and may be difficult for some citizens to find it on the crowded ballot. It's at the bottom of the list.

"Farmers and ranchers across our district and Texas support this proposition," Finnell said. "This is truly a case of the Secretary of State saving one of the best propositions for last."

Ballot position for propositions is determined by blind draw in the Secretary of State's elections office.

Proposition 16, if approved, would authorize up to $100 million in bonds to finance the Texas Agricultural Fund. The dollars would be allocated to develop, improve, expand production and enhance marketing of Texas agricultural products.

Finnell was a strong advocate in the House of Senate Joint Resolution 44, which placed the farm and ranch enhancement measure on the November ballot.

Early voting is scheduled to start Oct. 4, 30 days before election day.

"Agriculture is a keystone of the Texas economy," said the Holliday resident. "Proposition 16 will enable our farmers and ranchers to accelerate the state's already strong presence in national and international markets."

McCarter back in states

Navy Airman Kenneth C. McCarter recently returned from a six-month Mediterranean and Red Sea deployment aboard the aircraft carrier USS Theodore Roosevelt, homeported in Norfolk, VA., the lead ship in its battle group.

The ship, with its 5,200-man crew and embarked air wing personnel, as well as its Special Purpose Marine Air Ground Task Force of 600 Marines, supported Operation Deny Flight, enforcing the U.S. sanctioned "no-fly" zone over Bosnia Herzegovina.

Aircraft from the Roosevelt also supported Operation Provide Promise by monitoring humanitarian air-drop missions into the troubled former Yugoslavia.

Additionally, the carrier demonstrated its value as a tool of foreign policy following a U.S. missile attack on the Iraqi intelligence-gathering facilities.

The ship transited on short notice from the Adriatic into the Red Sea to assist in Operation Southern Watch, enforcing yet another "no-fly" zone over Southern Iraq.

McCarter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Shewmake and a 1990 graduate of Iowa Park High School.

TAX TIPS

by Lori M. Shierry, CPA

FARMERS AND RANCHERS - Are you paying the Internal Revenue Service more of your hard-earned profits than is necessary? With the increasing spread between the capital gains rate of 28% and top ordinary tax rates of 39.6%, along with the self-employment tax of 15.3%, as much as 27% of every $1.00 of your profits may be going to the IRS. Taxes, that can be saved with proper planning of breeding herd sales and acquisitions.

TIME FOR YEAR-END PLANNING - September, being the end of the third quarter of 1993, is the ideal time to determine your potential tax liability for 1993. You must first know where you are to plan for where you would like to be. December 31st will be too late for tax planning to escape any undesirable tax effects. Consider to a tax projection and explore possible tax planning techniques with a CPA knowledgeable in income taxes before December 31. Congress can retroactively make changes in the tax laws, but retroactive tax planning does not exist for you, the taxpayer. Plan now or you may pay later!

HIGHLIGHTS

 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Gov. Ann Richards' re-election campaign was kicked off last week after her coffers were enriched by $2 million at a fund-raising birthday party that featured Texas' top musicians.

Willie Nelson opened the party singing "Waltz Across Texas," and ended it with a speech in which he praised Richards' record and promised to work for her re-election.

More than 2,700 people bought tickets ranging from $25 to $10,000 for the fund-raiser billed as "Ann at Sixty Birthday Celebration."

"Being governor of Texas is the best job in the world," Richards told the crowd. "And with your help and the consent of the voters of Texas, I intend to keep it."

Bush Declares Candidacy
 Meanwhile, Republican George

W. Bush ended months of speculation by declaring his candidacy for governor.

In a two-page press release, Bush for the first time said he definitely will run and will make job development the main issue in the campaign to unseat Gov. Richards.

Citing his business background and devotion to Texas, Bush said, "I will run because of my commitment to Texas and my concern for its future. My business experience will enable me to provide the strong, independent leadership our state desperately needs."

Bush, 47, eldest son of the former president and managing partner of the Texas Rangers, said he had filed documents with the Texas Ethics Commission establishing a campaign committee.

October Is Wine Month
 October is being declared Texas Wine Month, and Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry says the event should be toasted.

"Last year, Texas produced 1.5 million gallons of wine and contributed $107 million to the state's economy," Perry said.
