Juvenile complaints add to load on police

As if local police don't have enough problems keeping up with thefts and disturbances caused by adults, this past week was especially busy with juvenile complaints.

This past week's blotter entries were heavy in number concerning juvenile complaints, juveniles in need of supervision and bogus calls on the 9-1-1 emergency telephone number.

There were several reports of fights

No new homes among permits

Though construction on some new homes is expected to begin this month, no construction permits for them were issued by city hall during September.

In fact, the September permit total would up being one of the lowest, $42,822, of this year.

So the year's permit total now amounts to $1,511,944.

at the football stadium during Friday night's game, but one of them evolved into more than a brief problem.

The radio dispatcher was called by the father of a young male at 10:54 p.m., while the youth was being treated in the emergency room at Bethania.

According to the investigation, youths involved in a dispute left the stadium area and went to a closed service station at Johnson Road, and began fighting.

The injured youth returned to the stadium, but began complaining of a severe headache, and was taken to the Wichita Falls hospital.

The case remains under investigation.

Wednesday evening of last week, a woman reported having seen two young males breaking out one or more windows at the junior high school.

The youths were later identified, and offered an opportunity to do work around the campus as their penalty. They failed to report at the appointed time, however, and police anticipate turning them over to the county juvenile probation department.

Several other entries were included in the blotter concerning juveniles, but in most cases discussions were held with their parents and the problems resolved.

Meanwhile, however, police were called out on several fights involving adults, as well as receiving criminal mischief reports.

Officers took Jimmie Maurice Wahl, 47, into custody on a Class B assault charge at 4:27 p.m. Friday, in the 100 block of James Drive. He was later taken to jail under a $500 bond.

The dispatcher was alerted at 2:55 a.m. Saturday that a fight was underway on the front porch of a residence in the 700 block of West Cornelia.

Upon arrival, they arrested Richard Owens, 33, and Albert Delago, 32, on charges of disorderly conduct. Both were released two hours later after posting $81.50 bonds.

At 11:09 p.m. Sunday, police were called to the scene of a domestic disturbance at Colonial Apartments. There, Bryan Dale Reader, 19, was arrested on a Class C assault charge.

Officers were called at 12:24 a.m. to a residence in the 900 block of East Cash, where a 36-year-old woman was reportedly throwing cookware at the residents.

Police took India Chaplain into custody, and it was noted "extra restraints" had to be used before she could be transported.

The woman was taken to the county jail, after having been treated by local volunteer medical personnel. However, according to the blotter notation, officers were sent from the jail to the hospital and back again before she would be accepted, the process taking from 3:24 a.m. until 5:05.

When an officer stopped Troy Douglas Ray, 26, in the 700 block of West Highway at 2:10 p.m. Sunday it was determined he was driving while his license was suspended. He was transported to county jail at 4:17 p.m., according to the blotter entry.

Two thefts and three cases of criminal mischief were reported during the past week.

The first theft report was taken Wednesday afternoon at the high school, where cymbals from the band hall were missing. They were valued at more than $200.

A resident in the 1500 block of Quail Valley told police Tuesday that some $180 worth of garden and yard tools had been removed from that address.

The criminal mischief reports included: vehicle being egged in the 200 block of West Garden; sprinkler heads broken off at ground level at the high school football field, and an air conditioner being damaged in the 300 block of east Garden.

Mayor asks commissioners to change funding formula

County funding to volunteer fire department was the major topic of a commissioners' court meeting Monday night at the courthouse.

At the center of the issue is the fact that a yet-to-be recognized volunteer department at Punkin' Center has requested a portion of the $100,800 commissioners' court has appropriated in its new budget to be distributed evenly among the departments.

No decision was reached by commissioners, but the fact is, if Punkin' Center is added to those on the list, which includes Iowa Park, Electra, Burkburnett, Wichita West, Wichita East, Kamay and Cameron Gardens, the per-share portions would be reduced from $14,700 to $12,600 each.

And while the discussion was underway about which department covers which district, Iowa Park Mayor Wayne House told the court he did not feel departments should be appropriated on an even number, but rather on the number of rural fires they fight.

"I don't feel it's the responsibility of our local taxpayers to pay to fight fires outside the city," said the mayor.

According to a report on activities of the eight departments during the past year, Iowa Park volunteer firemen answered a total of 139 fire calls, of which 103 were outside the city limits.

Fires fought outside the city limits of Burkburnett and Electra were 74 and 73, respectively, according to the report.

Rural department fire calls included: Cameron Gardens 120; Kamay 46, Punkin' Center 26; Wichita East 51 and Wichita West 169.

The all-paid Wichita Falls city fire department does not respond to fires outside the city, other than on mutual aid with other municipalities.

Yet, House contended, each received the same funding from Wichita County on an equal-share basis.

A suggestion was offered by Iowa Park city alderman Bob Hamilton, that the county might coordinate the creation of a fire fighting district, which would raise funds to fight rural fires, and taxes paid by the four municipal residents would not be spent to fight fires outside their city limits.

Hawks to host Lions in first district game

Over the past few years, all the teams in Dist. 4-AAA have gone into their seasons with the idea that they will be battling for the second-place playoff slot.

The Vernon Lions were just too strong, too dominating both offensively and defensively, and it was a foregone conclusion the crew from Wilbarger County would just walk through all conference opponents.

And since 1988, the Lions have had their way with Iowa Park.

But this is another year, and this edition of the Mean Green feels this is the year to knock off the big kids on the block.

Iowa Park hosts Vernon at 8 p.m. Friday in Hawk Stadium, in the district opener for both clubs.

It's true the club coached by Leo Brittain lost only one game last season, to eventual state champion Southlake Carroll, and was ranked through most of the early season as the second-best AAA club in Texas.

Water tower financing on city meeting agenda

The city council will begin the process to finance construction of a new water tower in the north part of town when aldermen meet Monday night.

According to the tentative agenda released Wednesday by Administrator Mike Price, the council will consider two items relating to financing of the project.

The meeting is to begin at 7 p.m. in council chambers.

At the council's last meeting, on Sept. 27, plans were discussed to construct a new overhead tower on Johnson Road, north of US 287, to improve water pressure in that area.

At Monday's meeting, the council will consider a resolution authorizing publication of notice of intent to issue certificates of obligation, and consider entering into a contract with Southwest Securities to handle the sale of general obligation bonds.

At the present, approximately $1-million will be needed for the tower and supporting equipment, as well as a main sewer line enlargement project.

Two leases of street right of way will be considered during the meeting, both relating to Smith Road.

Structures on property being purchased by X-Pert Weed Control and part of the residence owned by Bobby Ray Walker encroach into city right of way, and long-term leasing of the property apparently is the least difficult method of correcting the situation.

But two things have happened to make the touted Lions slightly more equal with other teams: graduation and injuries.

Gone are most of the skilled position holders from the 1992 season, with the exception of quarterback Chris Enloe. And because of that, Vernon has counted heavily this season on an unfamiliar tactic from the past, its aerial game.

The senior who has been a starter the past two seasons is an accomplished passer, and he has good receivers. And he also takes advantage of defenses that spread out to cover receivers by tucking the ball and becoming a carrier.

But Enloe has been injured the past couple of games, and is not as effective as he could be if he were not hurt.

In fact, it was his backup, Kyle Williams, who was pressed into service in the Lions' game last week against Hirschi, that threw the game-winning pass that saved the Lions from a loss.

Vernon had fallen behind the 1-4 Huskies and had to drive 74 yards in the final three minutes to score the winning touchdown, 22-18.

That was the fourth victory against one loss for Vernon, who knocked off Altus 20-7 in the season opener, 35-21 over Wichita Falls High, and shut out Burkburnett 37-0, before falling 14-6 to a talented Pampa Harvester team from Dist. 1-AAAA.

Vernon has beaten Iowa Park badly in their last five meetings, starting with a 28-7 decision in 1988 and followed by 48-14, 28-0, 21-7 and last year 44-0.

Thanks to that five-season skein, the Lions now hold a 13-9-1 record against the Hawks. The two clubs have played each other since 1970, and Vernon didn't pull even in wins and losses until that 1988 game, when the two clubs stood 9-9-1.

Injury-wise, Iowa Park does not have a player on the sideline, and it's been many seasons since that situation could be claimed.

After dropping their first three games of the season (the Hawks lost 18-14 in the opener to Burkburnett, a game they felt they should have won), Iowa Park lost 20-3 and 26-3 to Childress and Frederick, the third-ranked AAA club in Oklahoma.

But they got on track in their last two outings. Eventhough their competition was a pair of AA clubs, both were worthy opponents.

The Hawks feel they've developed both offensively and defensively, in beating Memphis 38-7 and Wellington 34-7.

In the other two 4-AAA openers, Graham, 4-1, hosts Henrietta, 1-4, and 2-3 Bowie travels to 3-2 Breckenridge.

Trash collection cut to once per week

A new schedule for trash to be picked up in Iowa Park will go into effect Monday.

All commercial dumpsters will be picked up only twice weekly, and residential bins once a week.

Should it appear some businesses will need more frequent pick ups, additional dumpsters will be added, Belvin Lytle, public works director, said.

Residents where rollout carts are used should remember that if they do not have enough room in their containers over the week's time, the extra trash can be put in plastic bags and set them beside the carts to be picked up.

Grass clippings also can be put in plastic bags and set beside the carts for collection.

Residents with rollout cart service will continue to have their trash picked up at previously-established times on Tuesdays, Lytle said.

Rural residents should continue to carry their trash to the convenience center at the landfill, and not put it in any dumpsters inside the city that are paid for by residents and businesses.

"This will cause a hardship on the people who are paying for their trash to be picked up," Lytle said. "Also, it is a violation of city ordinance to dump trash in a dumpster without paying for the privilege."

The city no longer picks up trash. That service was turned over Oct. 1 to Bell Trucking, when the firm purchased the city's landfill and related equipment.

50th class reunion draws 21 members

Members of the 1943 senior class of W.F. George High School held a reunion Homecoming weekend when 21 former class members gathered to mark the 50th anniversary of their high school graduation.

The reunion culminated Saturday evening at the annual alumni banquet held in the high school cafeteria.

Reminiscing with pictures, scrapbooks, and guessing "who is who" provided entertainment for the group when they met Friday at the Tom Burnett Memorial Library ballroom. They also recalled that due to gas rationing their senior trip was limited to Craterville, Okla.

This was the first meeting in 50 years for many of the members.

Special recognition was given 16 members of the 46-member class who attended the event from out of town. Of the 46, there are 10 now deceased.

Recognized from out of town were Mary Louise Powell-Williams of Garden City, Kans.; Theresa Beasley Blanco, Brooklyn, Ohio; W.A. Beavers Jr., Marlow, Okla.; Kenneth Battle, Arlington; R. Jean Weaver, Austin; B.A. Farris, Jr., Bridgeport; Dollie Steele Beuler, Dallas; Mary Helen Steed Proctor, Garland; C.W. Pettus, Hurst; Polly Faye Clark Moss, Missouri City; Roy Henson, Monahans; Forest Burnham, Round Rock; Martha Whistler Schiebel, Snyder; Faye Mixon Monroe, Spring; Evelyn Van Horn Jennings, Sweetwater, and Betty June Smith Harris, Wichita Falls.

Attending from Iowa Park were Dave Cole Bridgers, Annie Lee Jacks Hill, Mary Miles Hines Mixon, John Mixon and Nell Reaves Kimberlain.

The teacher sponsors, Mrs. Jessie Lee Spratt Brown of Denton, and Ruth Carney of Wichita Falls were unable to attend because of ill health.

Hors d'oeuvres, dessert and beverages were served by The Catered Affair.

Mary Mixon presided at the registration book, name tags were provided by Betty June Harris. The welcome address was given by the '43 class president, W.A. Beavers, Jr.

CLASS OF 1943 held their reunion Friday afternoon at the Tom Burnett Memorial Library.

Evelyn Jennings conducted a memorial service for the deceased class members and room mother sponsors.

These included Billy Joe Boswell, Billy Daniels, Erv Underwood, Edgar Johnson, Juandaline Davis Burton, Jeanette Van Horn Short, Edwina Wood Popko, Betty Faye Brown Guest, Ted Zeck, and Ruth Miller Hatfield, class members, and room mother sponsors, Mrs. Helen Clark and Mrs. W. A. Beavers, Sr.

Class members who were serving in the military at the time of graduation were C.W. Pettus, John Mixon, Forest Burham, Billy Daniels and Truman Manes. Others who had moved, or for other reasons did not graduate with the class were Opal Richter Blaylock, Theresa Beasley Bianco, Jeanette Van Horn Short and Don Steed.

Mrs. Harris introduced class members, Mrs. Mixon read the "class will," and "Senior Memories", a 1943-

1993 booklet prepared by Evelyn Van Horn Jennings, was presented to each class member. Resumes received from each of the members were included in the booklet.

Finnell Fish Fry slated Oct. 28

Keynote speaker for this year's Finnell Fish Fry in Holliday will be Pete Laney of Hale Center, who has served his first term as speaker of the house of representatives in Austin.

The event, which honors Rep. Charles Finnell, will be held Thursday, Oct. 28, according to Don Talley.

"It seems appropriate to me that the state's leading advocate of governmental economy and streamlining give the brief address in support of Rep. Finnell," Talley, treasurer for the Committee for Responsible Representation, said.

Pianist Dave Bridgers played favorite tunes from the '40s, a special treat for the group, bringing back many memories for them.

Class members also attended the Whoop-T-Do Saturday.

Pharm/alert Health Tips

Preventing Hoarseness and Protecting Your Voice

- Break the throat-clearing habit by taking sips of water regularly throughout the day.
- Seek medical attention if you think allergies are causing your hoarseness.
- If you smoke, quit. Avoid smoke-filled environments.
- If you live in a cold climate requiring indoor heat, be certain that you have a properly working humidifier.
- Don't use your voice nonstop; organize your schedule to include regular voice rest periods.
- Keep your voice down. Use abdominal and chest muscles (the diaphragm) to produce a forceful, but unstrained voice level.
- If you do become hoarse: soothe your irritated vocal cords by inhaling steam (run a hot shower) and use a humidifier when you sleep.
- If possible, rest your voice completely; if not, use your voice as little as possible.
- Use lozenges, gargles and hot tea to stimulate secretions in the throat which can help relax the vocal cords.
- Avoid excess alcohol, its uninhibiting effects may cause you to overuse your voice.
- Seek prompt medical attention if hoarseness persists for more than two weeks. Persistent symptoms may indicate a serious underlying medical problem.

ESA announces Whoop-T-Do king, queens

Members of the Epsilon Eta chapter of ESA met Tuesday in the home of Pat Bradley, where they heard results from the ESA Whoop-T-Do King and Queen contest.

In the 0-3 years division, Nicki Bowen and Foster Marshall were named queen and king, respectively; and Alyssa Pontician was named queen in the 4-6 year old division.

Chapter president Mary Lynn Boyd conducted the business meeting. An invitation to the District Six meeting and leadership seminar in Fort Worth Oct. 24 was read to members. Dee Dee Forney is chairman of the leadership seminar.

Members voted to provide a gift basket for the district ways and means project, and placed Barbara Hickman and Essie Johnson in charge of the project.

Information concerning "Hats for Hope" was discussed during the meeting. The project involves gathering warm hats, clothing and food to give to the homeless.

Pat Bradley presented the program for the meeting, entitled "A Perfect Rose - Scope of ESA."

She compared the parts of a rose with the many divisions of Epsilon Sigma Alpha, and how each are important to the well-being of the whole unit.

The next meeting will be a pizza social and movie.

As I See It

By Bob Hamilton

Our school board is apparently due recognition, for being one of the few in the state of Texas to be able to operate our district on less money than about 95 percent of the other boards in the state.

When the board voted to not raise the tax rate this year, and keep the same $1.12 per $100 evaluation rate that was used last year, the Iowa Park district has apparently become one of the most efficiently-operated districts in Texas.

That is, from all I read in the dozens of newspapers I receive from all points of the Lone Star.

It's amazing how more efficiently Iowa Park can operate than does -- say Burk Burnett, with its $1.22 rate which just happens to be the same as Electra.

And they ought to kick those trustees out of office at Nocona, where the rate this year is $1.63. Lordy, that's 20 cents higher than last year!

And then you take a look up on the South Plains, at Brownfield and Slaton. Both those schools have enrollments very similar to Iowa Park, but Brownfield hiked its rate up to $1.40 and Slaton to $1.50.

And there's more of a story of inefficiency having to do with Slaton and Brownfield. Those higher rates were set after they had been notified by the Denver City school board that they were going to share some of their money with them.

Yeah, Denver City decided they would adopt at least those two districts, under the mandates handed down by the idiots in Austin. The Robin Hood bill encouraged Denver City to send half a million dollars to Brownfield, and $1.39 million to poor ole Slaton.

Graham and Decator haven't been adopted by one of their rich neighboring districts, so they decided they would spend their money by taxing their people $1.24 and $1.50, respectively.

And, what's so amazing about all this local situation is that our board developed a year's budget on the basis of using a $1.16 tax rate, and then decided the teachers, administration and support staff could do even better and operate on $1.12.

The majority of the board wasn't fazed by a comment that the little kindergarten kids in those temporary classroom buildings were missing out on instruction time because they don't have restrooms in their buildings.

Heck, all those young'uns need to do is just study harder when they're not traipsing off to the john!

And even though this same board has adopted a time frame for building more classrooms at Kidwell -- the need brought about when the trustees approved a proposal to teach kindergarten students all day instead of half a day -- the district won't need construction money until it is decided there are more students than classrooms, and then the money can be borrowed.

Why in the heck charge the taxpayers a higher rate now, put that money that will not be needed for another year or two in the back and let it earn interest, instead of paying interest for the same amount when it is borrowed?

That wouldn't make sense!

Nossir, we've got a school board that knows how to control spending by administrators, faculty and staff. Just make sure there's only enough in the till to get along with.

Hopefully!

Funding

After County Judge Nick Gibson said approximately 90 percent of the county's taxable wealth is inside the four municipalities, Hamilton pointed out that the burden of financing rural fire fighting would be borne by rural property owners, if the fire fighting district were formed and taxed.

Iowa Park has the highest budget for fire fighting of the eight departments on the report, having budgeted $98,040 for fiscal year 1993-94.

Burk Burnett budgeted $82,154, but that does not include the paid firemen on staff, and Electra's budget is $28,417.

Rural department budgets included on the report were: Cameron Gardens $16,374; Kamay $16,172; Punkin' Center $15,850; Wichita East $42,000, and Wichita West $53,068.

The Electra department is presently responsible to respond to all fires in the western part of the county, north of Kamay's district, which divides about FM 367.

Punkin' Center chief Maxie Collins said his department has been organized since 1985, has 10 members, but has been struggling financially until this year.

A spokesman from Electra, Greg Lynn, pointed out Punkin' Center did not have a certified firemen within its membership, and said that situation was unsafe, both for them and for any fireman fighting a fire along with them.

"We will be glad to assist them (Punkin' Center members) in their training," Lynn said.

Spokesmen for all departments pointed out they respond to requests for assistance from other departments. Some, who are located along county boundaries and state lines, said they also travel outside the county to assist when the need arises.

Attending the meeting, which packed the commissioners' court room, from Iowa Park besides House and Hamilton were alderman Bud Mercer, administrator Mike Price and fire chief Danny Skinner.

Worth Quoting

Before District Judge Scott McCown rules on the constitutionality of the current Robin Hood plan for public school financing, he might like to study education in four other states.

In view of a study issued this week by a group in Washington, the judge might take a look at North Dakota, South Dakota, Tennessee and Utah.

What do those states have in common?

Nothing except living proof that money doesn't necessarily spell quality education.

In the past 20 years, the country has experienced a 47 percent increase in spending on public education for grades kindergarten through 12 yet at the same time a seven percent drop in enrollment has occurred and a 35 percent decline in SAT scores.

In the study, none of the five states with the highest teacher salaries were among the 15 states with the top SAT scores.

North Dakota ranks 49th in pupil expenditures and 49th in teacher salaries but second in the nation in SAT scores.

South Dakota ranks dead last in teacher salaries but its pupils rank third in SAT scores.

Utah ranks 51st in pupil expenditures and has the highest pupil-teacher ratio with 23.8, but its students rank fourth in the nation in the test scores.

If money isn't a factor in quality education, then what is the key ingredient? What does North and South Dakota, Tennessee and Utah have the rest of the states don't have?

At first glance, you might think that perhaps those four states have fewer minority pupils or fewer illegal immigrants. And in some cases that's partially true.

But a closer study reveals that those four states have a higher portion of the traditional, two parent families than the others.

The District of Columbia ranks dead last on normal family composition -- and next to last in SAT scores.

Perhaps Judge McCowan and eventually the Texas legislature can drop the idea of robbing the rich to give to the poor and take a positive step to improve education in Texas.

Maybe what is needed is for the legislature to quit transferring financial assets and order up the transfer of more two-parent families.

It's parents -- not money -- that will bring quality education to Texas.

Last Wednesday the local daily paper headlined the drive-by shootings in Aransas Pass. We have been running stories on these shootings since they started several months ago and we certainly agree that these types of inidents should not go unreported. I just wonder why our shootings are front page news in Corpus Christi when their own shootings seem to find the inside pages.

I really wish they would do a front page story about the kids from A.C. Blunt School who are going to Washington, D.C. or about the scholarship fund set up for students of Aransas Pass schools by the Coastal Bend Foundation, or about the efforts to improve our town, to clean it up and get back on the map.

I realize these stories won't make headlines but they do happen and they point out that we have some residents here who are not hoodlums or drug dealers. Not everyone or everything in Aransas Pass is bad.

We found out Monday that we're listed among the deceased.

In that newsletter from former journalism classmates at Baylor we referred to in the last issue, we received one Monday that reported that someone had heard we passed away last year.

We spent most of the day trying to reach the author to correct the error and after a half dozen phone calls and busy signals, we finally got to leave a message on his answering machine. We said:

"Stuart, this is James Roberts from Andrews. We borrowed a quarter from St. Peter and we're calling from a pay phone just outside the Pearly Gates."

Mrs. Billie Brown

For many years, football has played a big part in the lives of Kay and Billie Brown.

They began dating while students at Hirschi High School in Wichita Falls. Billie was offensive tailback and defensive cornerback on the Huskies' football team, and received a football scholarship to the University of Southeastern in Durant, Okla.

When Kay graduated high school, she enrolled at Southeastern, and she and Billie were married while they were students at the university.

After Billie received his degree, the couple moved to Whitney where he was Parks Superintendent at Lake Whitney State Park. Later they moved to Wichita Falls and started Brown Maintenance Co.

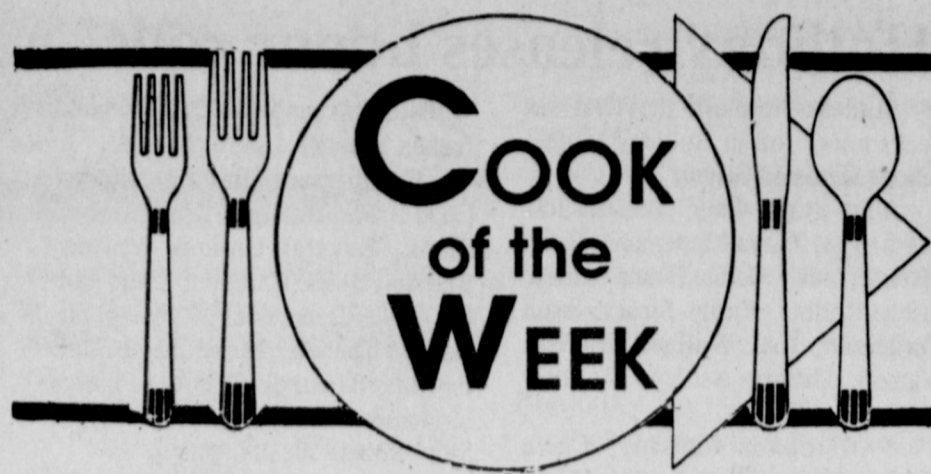

The Browns have lived in Iowa Park 10 years, where the family's football tradition continues. Both of their sons play all sports, but football is their favorite. Brent is a senior at Iowa Park High School, and is a running back on offense and safety on defense for the Hawk varsity football team. Brandon, a junior high student, plays the same positions as his father did in high school, tailback on offense and defensive cornerback, on the eighth grade football team.

This year Billie is president of the Iowa Park Athletic Booster Club, in which both he and Kay are very active.

Kay is a member of Alpha Sigma Tau, her college sorority, and a former member of Wichita Falls Junior League.

She likes to read and go to the movies, but her favorite thing to do is go to the beach. Kay said that Billie and their sons like to hunt and fish, but she goes to the beach. She has visited beaches on coasts of the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, and the Gulf of Mexico, and is wanting to visit the Cayman Islands.

Kay said that she enjoys cooking, but hasn't had much time lately. The recipes being featured are her family's favorites. The "German Sweet Chocolate Cake" is an old recipe that is not easy to find anymore, and for cheese cake lovers, Kay's recipe for this dessert is one you will have to try.

Cheese Cake
5 graham crackers
2 Tbsps. sugar
1 Tbsp. melted butter
2 1/2 lbs. cream cheese (5-8 oz. pkgs.)
3 Tbsps. flour
1 3/4 cup sugar
3 tps. lemon juice
1/4 tsp. vanilla
5 eggs
2 egg yolks
1/4 cup heavy cream

Preheat oven to 500 degrees. Soften cream cheese. Mix crushed graham crackers, sugar and melted butter and press into the bottom of a 9-inch spring form pan. Place in refrigerator until cold. Mix together the cream cheese, flour, sugar and lemon juice. Add eggs, one at a time, mixing after each. Mix in heavy cream and vanilla. It will be thick and custardy. Pour into the pan and place in 500 degree oven for 10 minutes. Reduce heat to 200 degrees and bake 1 hour and 25 minutes more. Serves 16-20.

Kay's Carrot Cake
1 cup sugar
3/4 cup oil
2 eggs
1 1/4 cup flour
1 tsp. soda
1 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup nuts
1 cup coconut
1 jar Gerber (junior only) carrots
Mix all ingredients with a spoon. Pour into greased 9x13 pan and bake 30 minutes at 350 degrees. Ice with cream cheese icing.

Cream Cheese Icing
1 1/2 cup powdered sugar
1 large pkg. cream cheese
1/4 cup melted butter
1 tsp. vanilla
Mix together and ice cake while it's still hot.

Kay's Homemade Pancakes
2 cups flour
1 tsp. soda
1 tsp. salt
2 Tbsps. sugar
2 cups buttermilk
2 eggs
2 Tbsps. melted shortening
Mix all ingredients - it will be lumpy - and don't mix all the lumps out. Pour in skillet with a little bit of grease in pan and cook until done.

Granny's Carmel Pie
1 cup sugar
1/2 tsp. salt
3 Tbsps. flour
2 egg yolks
2 cups milk
1/2 tsp. vanilla
1 cooked pie shell

Mix sugar, salt and flour together; add beaten egg yolks and milk and cook over medium heat until thick, and add vanilla. Remove from heat.

In a skillet brown 1/2 cup sugar and add to pudding mixture. Put mixture back on medium heat and stir until sugar dissolves. Pour into baked pie shell.

This was my grandmother's famous pie that she brought to every family occasion and on all holidays. We all loved it, and her too.

Chicken Spaghetti
5 chicken breasts
1 1/2 onions, chopped
1 large bell pepper, chopped
2 cans cream of chicken soup
1 stick of butter
1 pkg. spaghetti
1 1/2 lbs. Velveeta cheese
Boil chicken in water with 1 tea-spoon salt until done. Save the broth. Debone chicken and put in large bowl. Saute onion and bell pepper in stick of butter. Pour this into bowl with chicken and add soup and Velveeta cheese and spaghetti, which has been cooked in the chicken broth. Mix all together and pour into large baking dish and bake at 350 degrees, stirring occasionally, until all the cheese is melted.

My granny taught me how to make this, and served it with salad and homemade rolls.

German Sweet Chocolate Cake
1-4 oz. pkg. Germans sweet chocolate
1/2 cup boiling water
1 cup butter or margarine
2 cups sugar
4 egg yolks
1 tsp. vanilla
2 1/4 cups sifted flour (1 sift it twice)
1 tsp. soda
1/2 tsp. salt
1 cup buttermilk
4 egg whites, stiffly beaten

Melt chocolate in boiling water; cool. Cream butter and sugar until fluffy. Add egg yolks, one at a time, beating well after each. Blend in vanilla and chocolate.

Sift flour with soda and salt. Add alternately with buttermilk to chocolate mixture, beating after each addition until smooth. Fold in beaten egg whites. Pour into 3 - 9-inch layer pans lined with wax paper. Bake 30-35 minutes at 350 degrees. Cool.

Icing
1 cup evaporated milk
1 cup sugar
3 slightly beaten egg yolks
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 tsp. vanilla
Cool until thick enough to spread and ice cake. (This will just ice top of all layers and so I double the recipe to ice it all. So good!)

Add:
1 1/3 cup coconut
1 cup pecans

Cool until thick enough to spread and ice cake. (This will just ice top of all layers and so I double the recipe to ice it all. So good!)

Camp Fire recipe
The following recipe was inadvertently left omitted from the Cook of the Week column last week, which featured the Bradford Fourth Grade Adventures Campfire group.

French Bread Pizza
French bread
Spaghetti sauce
Pepperoni
Mozzarella cheese
Cheddar cheese
Lightly toast French bread. Spread spaghetti sauce on bread. Arrange pepperoni and sprinkle with cheeses. Bake until cheeses melt.

4-H Club News

Iowa Park 4-H Club

Iowa Park 4-H had its first meeting Sept. 8 with 20 members and parents, and nine new members joining. The members worked hard on their floats to place third with Calvin and Hobbes comic strip. Everyone had fun decorating the trailer.

The fruit drink at the Whoop-Do was a big success, thanks to everyone who worked and bought a drink from us.

The Club managers are Tim and Phyllis Hunter. Bryan Taylor is reporter.

The next meeting is going to be Oct. 13, at 7:30 p.m. at the new RAC. Anyone wishing to join should attend this meeting.

Valley View 4-H

A hot dog supper was served on Sept. 22 to 35 members and families of Valley View 4-H. This was the first meeting of the 93-94 year.

Plans were made for Adopt A Highway Trash Pickup Oct. 9th. Also craft ideas were discussed for Halloween.

New members were Lucy Gomez, Justin Martin, Luke and Zack Muse, Ashleigh Wright, Adam and Andrew Carroll, Amber and Ashley Brandt, and Bodie Yarbrough.

The next meeting will be Oct. 27. For information contact Brenda Edwards at 438-2479 or Donna Myers at 438-2212.

4-H CLUB WEEK ACTIVITIES

Wichita County 4-H members in clubs across the county have been preparing for promotional activities all this week, National 4-H Week, which ends Saturday.

Wichita County has some 4,443 youth who participate in 4-H Community Clubs, Curriculum Enrichment projects in the classroom and Special Interest projects led by 363 volunteers.

Adult volunteers work with members in the six community clubs of the county, including Iowa Park, Electra, Tejas, Valley View, City View and Explorers.

There are also four Special Interest, county-wide clubs, including Horse, Puppy People, Shooting Sports and Swine, which provide members an opportunity to learn more about an individual project and work with other youth who share the same interest.

GARDENING HINTS

By MARK TERNING, COUNTY AGENT - HORTICULTURE

By MARK TERNING
County Agent - Horticulture

Cooler fall weather signals homeowners to plant cool-season color and prepare landscapes and gardens for the winter season ahead.

Fall tree installation, pansy planting, bulb selection and care, and winterizing the landscape are top priorities for the month of October.

Follow this garden checklist for a healthy and beautiful fall and winter landscape.

Planting

* Install cool-season color using pansies, ornamental cabbage and kale, snapdragons and dianthus. Local nurseries are packed with beautiful, colorful pansies for dressing up your home or business.

* Overseed warm-season lawns with rye for a green lawn all winter long.

* Fall is the best time for shade tree planting. Select hardy, recommended trees for the Texoma region from your local garden center.

* Bulb selection is great at this time of year. Plant narcissus, daffodils and grape hyacinth among others. Remember to cool hyacinth and tulip bulbs for about 45 days at 40 degrees before actually planting. The crisper bin on your refrigerator will work fine for this cool treatment.

* Caladium bulbs should be dug once the temperature drops into the 50s and leaves begin to wither. Store bulbs in a warm, dry area for replanting in the spring.

* Overseed garden areas with Elbon rye for a cover crop. Nematode control and soil improvement are the advantages of sowing Elbon rye.

Fertilizers:

* Incorporate a slow-release nitrogen lawn food or Osmocote in landscape beds or in container potting mixes prior to planting perennials and other cool-season bedding plants.

* Apply a lawn food such as 21-7-14, 16-4-8, or 15-5-10 to cool-season lawns such as Fescue. Use a slow-release nitrogen produce for best results.

* Test lawn and landscape soils for pH and nutrient levels. Check for phosphorous accumulations. Your local county extension office and local nurseries have information on soil test services.

Watering:

* Don't hang your garden hose up just yet. Regular watering will still be necessary for carrying your lawn and landscape into the winter season. Newly planted trees, shrubs, and flowers will require extra attention and irrigation during the fall. Remember

October can still produce some rather warm temperatures.

Insect, Pest and Weed Control:

* Apply a copper fungicide such as Kocide 101 or Bordeaux mix to peach trees in mid to late October to control peach leaf curl.

* Light brown areas appearing in St. Augustine lawns may be brown patch disease. Apply a fungicide such as Daconil 2787 if disease is confirmed.

* Broccoli, cabbage, or cauliflower plants with cabbage looper damage should be treated with a B.I. control such as Bioworm or Dipel.

* Spiders, roaches, fleas, and other unwanted guests tend to move indoors in fall. Contact a local pest control operator for treatment. Nurseries and pest control outlets also offer do-it-yourself products for indoor pest control.

* Follow all label directions when using any fertilizer, insecticide, herbicide or fungicide.

STATEMENT OF FAITH

One God in three persons - Father, Son and Holy Spirit.
The verbal inspiration of the whole Bible as God's infallible revelation to man.
Jesus Christ's deity, virgin birth, sinless humanity, substitutionary death, atoning blood, bodily resurrection, and ascension to heaven. Salvation by faith in Christ alone, without works, and solely by grace.
The need of works to express gratitude and give a living demonstration of God's transforming power.
The resurrection of the body: eternal glory for believers in heaven, and everlasting punishment for unbelievers in hell.
The one true church, the body of Christ, consisting of all believers, regardless of race or social standing.
The need for spiritual growth through Bible study, prayer, witnessing, and involvement in a Bible-believing church.
Obedience to our Lord's command to lead people of all nations to faith and maturity in Christ.
The imminent rapture of the church, and Christ's personal return to establish His kingdom on earth.

NEWS FROM THE HALLS OF THE HAWKS

BRADFORD

Focus on physical fitness

The Bradford physical education classes have been focusing on physical fitness tests.

The first few weeks were dedicated to work-up skills so that everyone would do well on the actual tests.

The events are sit ups, shuttle run, 50 yard dash, 600 yard dash, long jump, flex-arm hang (for girls), and pull-ups (for boys). Each event is timed and measured.

These tests are given again at the end of the year so students will be able to see how they have improved in each event.

Reading programs

Fourth and fifth grade students are working on the Book-It program sponsored by Pizza Hut.

For every 600 pages read, the students receive free pizza coupons.

Third grade students are trying to get a set of World Book Encyclopedias by enlisting sponsors and collecting money as their reward for reading.

Student savings accounts

The math students of Jan Yeager and Jo Ann Hale have started savings accounts.

The money deposited by the students must be money they have earned by doing chores at home. Notes were sent out to the parents explaining the procedure, and obtaining their permission.

One day a week is set aside for the students to turn in the money they have earned to their teacher. The money is deposited in an account at State National Bank and at the end of the semester the student will be able to withdraw it - just in time for Christmas shopping.

Counselor's Report Children of Divorce

Quick Facts from the research done about Children of Divorce taken from Linda Bird Francke's book "Growing Up Divorced," Fawcett Publisher, 1983.

1. Essentially it takes three years minimum for family members to work through the experiences and feelings that occur when parents divorce. The most critical period is the first year after parents have physically separated.

2. The worst time for parents to divorce is when the children are between the ages of 3 and 8.

3. Boys take divorce harder than girls, especially between the ages 3-5.

4. Girls whose fathers leave them at an early age most often become sexually promiscuous.

5. Children's contact with both parents lessens after divorce. A child is never too young to experience the distress of a divorce. Teachers and other adults that work closely with children will attest to this fact. Kindergartners whose parents divorced when they were babies still live with the aftermath of the divorce in the way of visitation (or lack of it), and often bitter feelings between the divorced parents.

Yet, an amicable divorce can be better for the children than chronic parental fighting. Children suffer the most in bad marriages and bitter divorces. What is important is that the adults in these children's lives not look the other way and hope that the child will rebound on their own. A lot can be done to prevent future problems by simply listening to these children and giving them some of our time. Children need a support group, just as adults, for helping them get through the traumatic first year. A support group may consist of friends, relatives that can be objective, pets, non-related adults such as a favorite teacher, the school principle and counselor, or a professional counselor.

Open discussion about divorce, prepares the children of intact families to be that special understanding friend to those children from divorced families. Even children from intact families suffer a divorce anxiety due to the commonness of divorce, and to be able to express their concerns helps.

KIDWELL

Field Trips

Kidwell kindergarten classes will visit the Iowa Park police and fire stations Friday as part of their study on "Community Helpers."

Thursday, Oct. 14, all kindergarten classes and second grade classes will travel to Memorial Auditorium in Wichita Falls to attend a production of "101 Dalmations."

Be Drug Free!

The GRIN program will focus on drug awareness during the month of October.

As part of the program, a film, "Cartoon All-Stars to the Rescue," will be shown to all the classes to encourage students to be drug free.

Angela Burnett of the Substance Abuse Council will present a drug program to the P.E. classes Oct. 12 and 19.

Red Ribbon Week will be Oct. 26 - 29, during which a host of activities encouraging drug awareness will be slated.

A Day Off for the Students

There will be no school Monday, Oct. 25. The day has been set aside on the school calendar as a "staff development" day.

Teachers of the Week

Leslie Henry, kindergarten teacher, has been selected as Teacher of the Week at Kidwell Elementary.

A native of Gilmer, she received her degree at Stephen F. Austin Univ. She has taught five years, two of those at Kidwell.

She and her husband, Scott, are expecting their first child in January.

Mrs. Henry's hobbies include dancing, reading and sports. She also collects ceramic birds.

Book-It

First and second grade classes, as well as Mrs. Costello's kindergarten class, will participate in Book-It, a five month reading program sponsored by Pizza Hut.

Teachers will set monthly goals for each child in their class, and when the goals are met, the child will get a pizza award certificated which can be redeemed for a free one-topping personal pan pizza. On the first visit, the students will also receive a button and a star. On each subsequent visit with a certificate, the student will receive an additional star to place on the button.

Every child who meets his reading goals all five months will have his name placed on the Book-It Readers Honor Rolls and will receive special stickers and bookmarks from Pizza Hut.

Free pizza parties will be given to the teachers and classes where all the students met their reading goals during four of the five months of the program.

Teachers are asking that parents encourage their children to read daily, and praise them each time a goal is met.

This program is offered to foster a life-long love of reading for young students.

Hawks blast Skyrockets, 34-7

The Hawks delighted a homeside capacity crowd Friday night by winning their first homecoming game since 1987, and doing it in a most unusual way.

By unusual, how often does a team score five touchdowns in a contest, and only two of them are from the line of scrimmage?

The Mean Green outscored the Skyrockets of Wellington 34-7 on two running plays from scrimmage, a blocked field goal, a kickoff return and then a punt return.

Not since Iowa Park outscored Decatur 24-21 back in 1987 had a Hawk club triumphed before their homecoming crowd. And the only time the noise on that north side of the field quieted was long after the big hundreds of fans had left the area.

Neither team was able to light up the scoreboard until 6:18 remained in the second quarter. That was when Scott Byrd crashed over the goal line from a yard out, to cap an 84-yard drive that was highlighted by a 49-yard pass from Tony Lozipone to Mike Frazier. Lozipone then attempted to pass for the two-point conversion, but failed to connect.

The Skyrockets didn't take long to get back into the game. In fact, the visitors ran only three plays to cover 65 yards. They picked up five on a run, hit a 43-yard pass, and then completed a 23-yard pass to score. And with 4:26 still left before the midway rest period, they kicked the extra point to lead 7-6.

It looked like Wellington might take a greater cushion to the dressingroom at the half, too. The Rockets stopped a faked punt by Iowa Park on their own 40, and marched steadily to the Hawk 13, with less than 20 seconds remaining.

Wellington then called for a field goal. The ball was snapped to the holder on the 20. But Lozipone broke through the middle of the line and blocked the kick. Jayson Houston scooped up the ball and outran everyone for a toucheown. The time on the scoreboard had expired before he crossed the goal line. Lozipone ran for the two-point conversion to make the score 14-7.

But Iowa Park extended its lead to 21-7 only 12 seconds into the third period. Brent Brown let the kickoff bounce off the 25 yard line, took it on the 21, and ran straight up the field. At the Wellington 45, he neared a wall of four blockers who had zeroed in on the safety, veared to his right, and easily scored. Don Ellis tacked on the extra point.

Ellis got the call later in the same quarter, and plunged over from the five to make the score 27-7. Michael Seigler set the play up by covering a Skyrocket fumble on the visitors' 19 yard line. A high snap snuffed Ellis' chance to kick the extra point, with 2:06 remaining in the third quarter.

Wellington got off a 67-yard run before the teams exchanged ends of the field for the final period, and reached the Iowa Park six yard line. But on the next play, Clint Scobee covered a bad pitch on the 16.

The Hawks reached Wellington's five on their next series, primarily off a 54-yard run by Jason Young.

The drive stalled on Wellington's five, however. And three plays later, the Skyrockets punted from the nine. But the punter shanked the ball, apparently seeing Scobee bearing down on him, and the ball bounced to a stop on the 15 yard line.

Everyone appeared stunned that the ball went no further. Everyone except Lozipone, that is, who scooped it up and dashed untouched across the goal line for the final touchdown of the evening. Ellis added the extra point.

Wellington threatened once more, as the final seconds ticked off the clock. The Skyrockets got as far as the Hawks' 19, thanks to a 50-yard penalty for pass interference. But Scobee sacked the last runner of the night for a six-yard loss, and time ran out with the ball on Iowa Park's 25 yard line.

Picking up most of Iowa Park's 228 yards rushing in the game were Byrd, 84; Young, 55; Lozipone, 45, and Ellis, 41.

Frazier caught two passes for 55 yards, Byrd had a pair for 28, Brown one for 34 and Tim Denton one for six yards.

10 reasons why you should maintain and increase your newspaper advertising when business is slow.

- 1. Whether business is good or slow, you have to get your share of whatever business is around. Cutting back your advertising puts you at a disadvantage at the very moment when you need an edge. Increasing your advertising gives you the edge.
- 2. In times of uncertainty, consumers are careful and a little reluctant to spend. They want to be sure before they buy; they want information about products, services, prices and values from newspapers. Yours-or somebody else's.
- 3. Maybe you figure other retailers in your line are going to cut back their advertising, so it's safe for you, too. Right? Wrong. You're in competition for the customer's dollar with every other retailer in town, no matter what he or she sells. People have only so many dollars to spend and if they don't spend them for what you sell they'll spend them for something else.
- 4. There are more people working now than ever before. More women working too, adding to the family income. People still need and want goods and services and will spend for them. There is plenty of business out there. Your competitors will be bidding for their share - and yours.
- 5. You can't do much about most factors in the marketplace rent, labor costs, price of merchandise, what the competition will. But one thing you do control is your own promotion. Remember that newspaper advertising is not just a cost of doing business. It's a proven sales tool that returns many times your investment in store traffic and sales.
- 6. Remember how long it took you to get started? Once you build up a business you can keep it going with a moderate, consistent advertising program. But if you cut your advertising and lose your hold on the public's awareness you'll find it's much harder to build it up again. It's sort of like starting all over.
- 7. Your advertising is a part of your sales force. Newspaper ads help to pre-sell customers and help you close the sale faster. What saves you time saves your money.
- 8. You say your customers know you and for a while, at least, they'll keep coming in even if you don't promote? That's partly true, but shortsighted. Remember, one out of five Americans moves every year. So there's a steady flow of your customers out of your market, and a corresponding influx of new folks who don't know you at all. Tell them about yourself.
- 9. Here's hard fact to chew on. Over any given period, a business that advertises below the industry average has sales that are below the industry average.
- 10. Advertising is "news" - about products and services. Your customers look for this kind of news in the pages of this newspaper. In plush times, retailers often experiment with other media, but when the going gets tough, they concentrate their efforts in the weekly newspaper because it provides and immediate payoff at the cash register.

Give us a call. We can help you plan a professional advertising program that will increase store traffic while helping increase sales.

JV, Frosh to Vernon

Iowa Park High's Junior Varsity and Freshman football teams open their Dist. 4-AAA play tonight at Vernon.

The Frosh are to kick off conference competition at 5:30 p.m. and be followed by the JV contest at 7:30.

Fans should note all Frosh and JV games begin 30 minutes later against district opponents than they did in the nonconference schedule.

The Junior Varsity last Thursday jumped out to a 6-0 lead in Hawk Stadium against the Wichita Falls High Rowdies, but had to settle for a 21-6 loss to the Class AAAA opponents.

Corkey Petty scored for Iowa Park on a four-yard run in the first quarter. Wichita Falls scored seven points in each of the following three periods.

ROTARY FISH FRY

The 26th annual fish fry sponsored by Southwest Rotary Club of Wichita Falls will be held from 5 to 8 p.m. Friday, Oct. 8, at the 4-H Barn on Southwestern Parkway. Tickets are $6 for adults at the door, $3 for children ages five through 12, and four or younger get in free.

UW report meeting set

A report meeting on the United Way fund campaign now underway will be held at 12-noon Friday at Luby's Cafeteria banquet room.

The meeting is open to the public, and the meal charge will be $8.

SPORTS

Jensen busy with church, family and children

By MYRNA SMITH

Though her interests are many, activities with church, family and children transcends all the rest in the busy life of Ardis Jensen.

Each Monday she has a day off from her job at Tom Burnett Memorial Library, but she isn't idle. Ardis can be found at Our Redeemer Lutheran Church in Wichita Falls.

She devotes approximately three hours that day to the Lutheran Braille Workers. She has been volunteering with this program two and a half years. She also serves as president of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League.

Until recently she and her husband, Roger, served as co-superintendents of the Sunday School department.

Monday afternoons, after her volunteer work, many times finds Ardis busy with some other activity in which she is involved, as she was Monday of this week. A Red River Optimist Club committee was meeting in her home. Ardis serves as secretary-treasurer of that organization.

They were meeting to discuss a charter banquet for the Helping Hands Club, a new club that has been formed for the hearing impaired by the Red River Optimists.

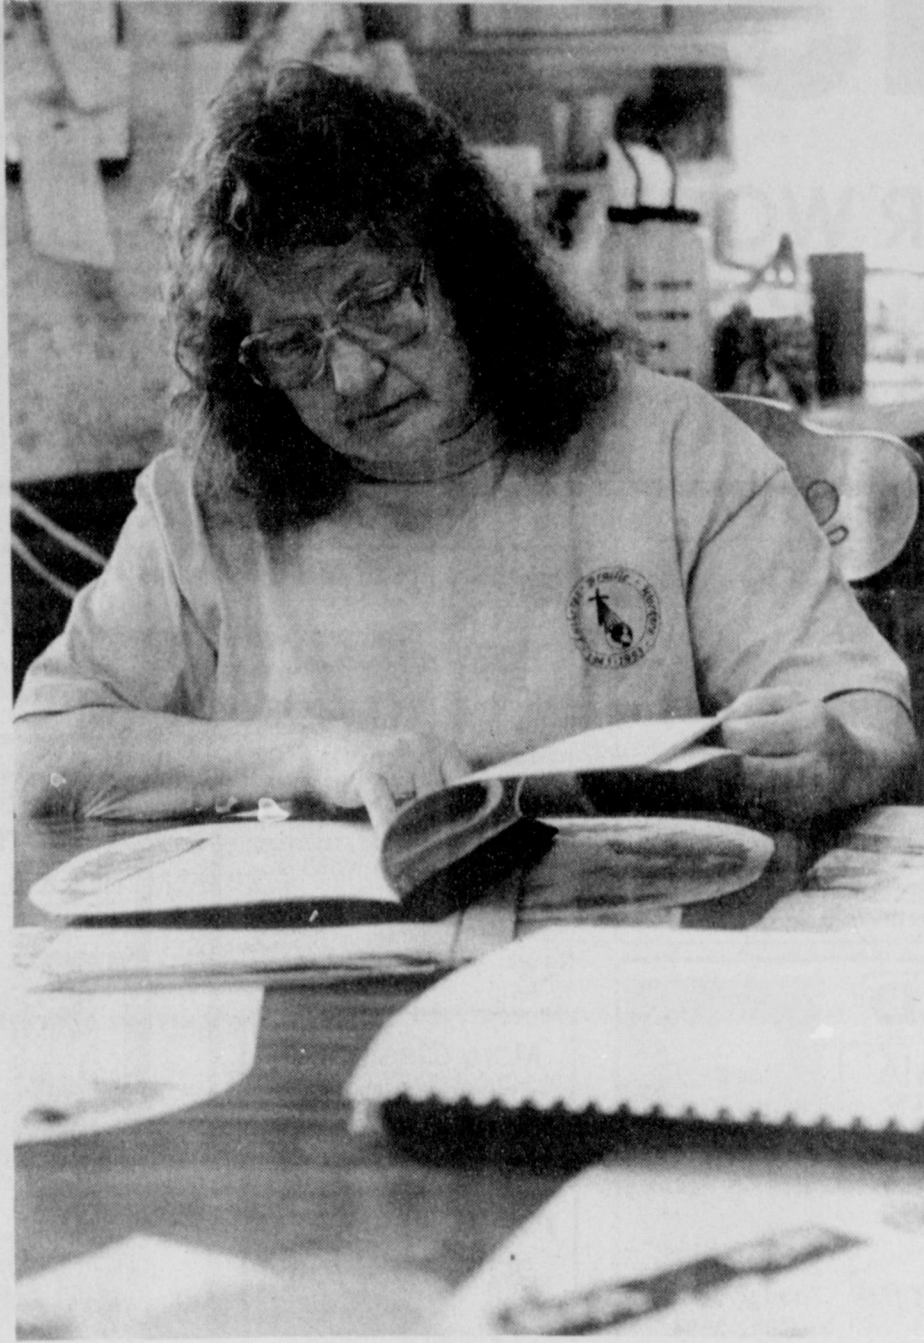

There is no question about Ardis' dedication to any job she agrees to do. Whatever is next on her agenda is what she gives her time to. "Housework was never a hobby of mine anyway, or perhaps I should say it is my hobby. That's usually all it gets is my spare time," she will tell you.

Ardis is especially interested in the Lutheran Braille program, because she says the program that is operated by the Lutheran Braille Workers, Inc., is a non-profit corporation that helps the blind to "see with spiritual eyes" through the biblical books that are printed in braille.

The Braille Center at Our Redeemer Lutheran Church was opened in 1985. Before that volunteer workers went to Harrold for four years and worked when it was located there.

In 1985 the pastor at Harrold retired and the press, binder and all materials the braille workers needed were moved to the Cunningham mansion in Wichita Falls, located next to Our Redeemer Church.

Workers are given orders by the main office of LBW located in Yucaipa, Calif., as to what the contents of their books will be and where they will be sent.

The corporation is celebrating its 50th year of ministry to the blind. It began with five volunteer workers and now there are 7,000, and from one work center to 200 centers in the United States and Canada. Free-will offerings pay for supplies and expenses. Only the Bible and devotional materials are produced.

Zinc braille printing plates of the books of the Bible in different languages are sent to the centers where the books are printed, assembled and then shipped to designated countries that have requested them.

From braille books of the Bible printed in one language, they are now produced in 42 languages and are distributed free to the blind and visually-handicapped in 120 countries.

Braille books are produced on special paper which can be read approximately 100 times before having to be replaced. The pages can be read on both sides. It has fibers that will not cut sensitive finger-tips. The large type for the visually-handicapped is not enlarged type but a specially developed type spaced for ease of reading.

Earlier this year Lutheran Braille Workers, Inc., received requests for the Bible in languages for countries such as Mongolia, Lithuania, Latvia, Estonia and the Philippines, in addition to maintaining their daily production in the more than 40 other languages.

Ten volunteer workers at Our Redeemer church Monday completed in assembly-line fashion 21 books in a two-hour time frame. The books were translated into the Swahili language. They recently completed books of the Bible in the Korean and German languages.

Ardis and her husband, Roger, are both from the Tall Corn State of Iowa. They moved to Iowa Park six years ago from Cherokee, Iowa.

They were married 36 years ago and for six years they lived in California.

"When it was almost time for our daughter to start school, Roger came in one day and asked me how I would like to move back to Iowa," Ardis said. She added, "I immediately started packing because I did not want to have my child in school in California."

They returned to Iowa and Roger went to work for Wilson Packing Plant in Cherokee, where he stayed 20 years.

Ardis operated a day care in her home 12 and half years. She was secretary of her church two and a half years before they moved here.

She was raised in Cherokee and attended a country school from kindergarten through the eighth grade. A lot of the time some of the teachers at the country school stayed in her parents' home.

She also remembers that she had to shovel coal into their basement. Most houses in Iowa have basements. She said they still use them as cellars to store food products. Many people use them now for family rooms because they are so much cooler.

Ardis likes Iowa Park, but misses Iowa. She says she misses family and friends and watching all of the different agriculture crops grow.

She briefly reminisced her old home area. She told of a relative who lives only three-quarters of a mile south of Cherokee, yet they have to drive 32 miles to get into town because of the Little Sioux River they cannot cross.

"Roger decided he was tired of working at the packing plant. My sister and her husband, Joan and John Frederick, live in Iowa Park and wanted us to move here. We visited and liked it, so here we are," Ardis said.

"We have a home here and one in Cherokee, so Roger says when we retire we can live here six months close to relatives and six months in Cherokee where our daughter and family and other relatives live.

Roger has worked six years for Stanley Proto Industrial Tools. He is receiving clerk and works with raw materials.

Although Ardis stays busy with activities outside the home, she tries to keep some time free every day so she can be with her two grandchildren, who live here.

Some other of the active lady's interests include house plants and a relatively new hobby of birdwatching.

She was thrilled when she recently saw a painted bunting, which she has been told are really not rare around here, but it didn't daunt her excitement, because it was the first she had seen. She has a thick bird book that she goes to every time she sees a different bird so she can identify it.

She is especially proud of a Christmas Cactus, which she now gets to bloom every year. It was started from a slip given to her mother by her dad's mother and had been started by his grandmother.

Ardis also has the hobby of collecting bird figurines and bells. She has an entire shelf wall unit filled with bells.

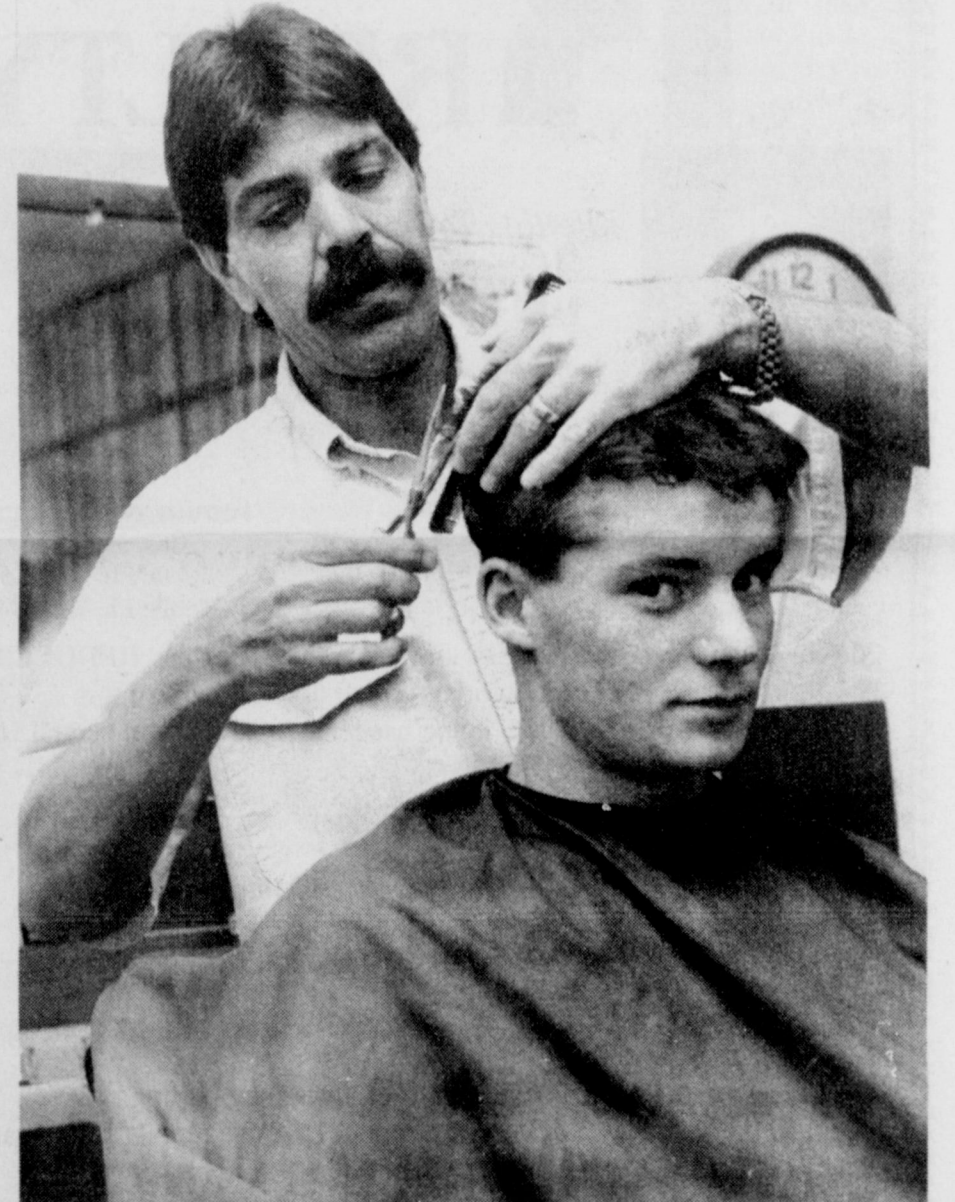

One shelf has Christmas bells, one shelf that features bells with nativity scenes and one of religious related scenes. On one of the shelves are many crystal bells with silver handles that were given to the couple on their 25 wedding anniversary.

Most of the bells and birds have been given to her by family or friends.

The Jensens' son Michael and his wife Lisa live here. They have two children, Jennifer and Guthrie. Michael works for Vector Engineering and Lisa works for Dooley Fitness Center.

Their daughter, Donna, and husband, David Lucas, live in Cherokee. They have two children, Amber and Austin. David is in the heating and airconditioning business and Donna works for R.J. Thomas Manufacturing. Ardis proudly mentions that one of the picnic tables the company manufacturers is located in Valley Park here.

AUSTIN - A federal court jury last week found in favor of Gov. Ann Richards and other defendants in a lawsuit filed by three former Texas Commerce Department employees who contended that they were fired because they were Republicans.

The governor, who attended the seven-day trial, said she was relieved and happy it's over. "I thought this was really a tough thing to go through."

The former employees contended that Richards, a Democrat, ordered a political purge at the Commerce department after her election in 1990.

But the governor's attorney, Roy Minton, described it as a case of employees being dismissed - as warranted - in the reorganization of an agency that was "in chaos."

After the jury verdict, one of the former employees, Jim Mikus, said, "It's open season on state jobs."

The former Commerce workers - Mikus, Eddie Aurisupa and Ray Barnes - said they were fired in 1991 because of their Republican affiliation to make room for Richards' Democratic supporters.

Ethics Complaint Filed
Republican gubernatorial candidate Luis Podesta of San Antonio last week filed an ethics complaint against Gov. Richards, claiming that her "capital for a day" program is nothing but a campaign tactic in disguise.

In the program, Richards and an entourage of state agency heads fly to cities around Texas, where citizens are given the opportunity to meet officials and discuss their concerns face to face.

But Podesta said he saw the program as "a blatant use of state employees and state funds and misuse of the press and their good nature to campaign for re-election."

"We just had a United States senator indicted for allegations that state employees on state time (were working) on her campaign and we've got a governor tomorrow in Paris, Texas, showing up with 40 or 50 state employees, doing the same thing," Podesta said at a news conference.

Richards spokesman Chuck McDonald said two state-owned planes were used to transport the officials, and the only extra cost to taxpayers was a charge of $2,000 per plane. About 900 people attended an earlier "capital for a day" event in Carthage, according to McDonald.

Hutchison Draws Opponent
Republican Stephen Hopkins of Burnet, who finished seventh and received one percent of the vote in the U.S. Senate special election in May, has announced plans to seek the GOP nomination in 1994.

Hopkins predicted he would be the only Republican to challenge Sen. Kay Bailey Hutchison in the March primary.

Obituaries

Lee W. Boucher

Services for Lee W. Boucher, 84, were at 11 a.m. Wednesday at Colonial Baptist Church, in Wichita Falls. Rev. Rick Thomson, pastor, Dr. Ron Irons, pastor of Highland Heights Baptist Church and Rev. Clinton Eastman, pastor of First Baptist Church of Veribest, officiated. Graveside services were at 4 p.m. in Rose Hill Cemetery in Ardmore, Okla. Arrangements were under direction of Hampton-Vaughan Funeral Home.

Boucher, father of JaNelle Savage of Iowa Park, died Sunday in a Wichita Falls hospital.

Born April 20, 1909, in Clovis, N.M., he was married May 25, 1930 to Olive BeSaw in Tishomingo, Okla. She died Nov. 11, 1976.

Boucher was educated in Ardmore public schools. He had lived in Wichita Falls since 1943, moving there to instruct civil service at Sheppard AFB. He worked as a chemist during World War II for Haliburton Oil Co., in Duncan, Okla.

Following the war Boucher taught refrigeration at Hardin Junior College in Wichita Falls. He owned and operated Boucher Refrigeration. He also served as a member of the managing staff at Sears from 1959 to 1971. He was a member of Highland Heights Christian Church.

Also surviving is one son, Bill of Wichita Falls, four grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

TWO-YEAR-OLD Roger Dale Burditt Jr. had the winning entry in this year's Whoop-T-Do Turtle Trot. And while he liked the cash prize awarded by Dutton Funeral Home and the fact that R-2, his turtle, won, he wasn't about to kiss him, or even hold him.
