Hawks look to final game

A victory Friday night at Henrietta would give the Iowa Park Hawks their best season record, 4-6, since 1991.

The season finale is to get underway at 7:30 p.m. in Bearcat Stadium.

Because the Hawks have won three of their nine games, and the Bearcats have only one victory to their credit, Iowa Park should be the favorite.

However, the Hawks are limping. They've lost reserve Jimmy Fallon for the season with a broken leg, two-way starter Clint Scobee missed all of last week and most of the game the week before with a badly sprained ankle, and tight end Tim Denton didn't play against Graham because of a leg injury.

An Iowa Park win is necessary to prevent their winding up with Henrietta in the bottom of the district standings.

The Hawks posted a dramatic 17-14 win over Vernon in their conference opener, but lost their three following games to Bowie, Breckenridge and Graham.

Henrietta has lost all its district games, including 34-0 shutout at the hands of the Breckenridge Buckaroos. The Bearcats' only mark in the win column came in the third game of the season, when they beat winless Whitesboro 37-14.

Though the Bearcats have had most of their offensive success this season with their passing game, they were frustrated by the Bucks last week, completing only four of 19 attempts, and suffering five interceptions.

When Iowa Park and Henrietta played last year, the two teams' records were just the opposite. The Hawks were 1-8 and Henrietta was 3-6.

Iowa Park won that game, 38-23. That gave the Hawks a 1-4 district record and the Bearcats 0-5, and sole possessor of the 4-AAA cellar.

This is Henrietta's second season in Class AAA. The Bearcats were moved up from AA when the University Interscholastic League posted its realignments.

Prior to 1992, Iowa Park and Henrietta had last met as conference members in 1970. The Hawks clobbered the Bearcats that time, 54-6, in a game played at Henrietta.

Mother, daughter arrested

Charged with beating 18-month-old child

A woman and her daughter were both arrested last week on charges of injury to a child.

The woman, Mary Ann Nelson, 31, was taken to the county jail under a $3,500 bond, and her 14-year-old daughter was placed in the county juvenile detention center.

Because the charge is a first degree felony, Mrs. Nelson's case is to be heard by the county grand jury. The daughter received an adjudicated sentence and placed outside the family home.

The case came to light when officers were summoned at 5:15 p.m. Wednesday of last week to a residence at 809 Van Horn. Their presence was requested by an ambulance attendant, who described the situation as an "unusual circumstances."

The ambulance was summoned because the child had "passed out."

The victim was 18 months of age, and said to have bruises and abrasions on the head, stomach, legs and arms and had lost consciousness.

Police said the mother admitted instructing the 14-year-old to use a belt on the child. While that beating was the cause of most of the injuries, some earlier-inflicted bruises also were suspected.

Investigators also determined the child was adopted, as well as another three year old, who also had multiple bruises on the arms and below the waist.

Both the adopted children were removed from the home by court order, and are in the custody of foster parents.

Mrs. Nelson has two other children of her own besides the 14 year old. They also were removed from the home that night by child protective services, but returned the next day.

Investigating the case were Iowa Park Police Chief Ray Smock, Detective Lynn Collins, Sgt. Mike Brewer and Officer Jimmy Eaton, as well as an investigator for child protective services.

Citations were issued to four juvenile boys and one male adult Saturday night.

Police responded to a telephone call from a citizen that the youths were riding in the back of a pickup and throwing "stuff" onto the road.

That "stuff" was three pumpkins they admitted to having stolen from homes on Wall and Valley.

When a patrol officer stopped Thomas Cecil Sims, 26, at 11:54 p.m. Saturday in the 1300 block of Johnson Road on a traffic check, it was determined a local warrant for Sims' arrest was outstanding.

The warrant was issued Oct. 20 when Sims was accused of retaliation, after having made a threat against a police officer.

It also was determined Sims had a warrant issued by the sheriff's office against him for driving while his license was suspended. And, because he was driving again that night, an additional charge was levied against him.

Sims was transported at 3:10 a.m. Sunday to the county jail. He reportedly posted a $5,000 bond and was released Sunday evening.

A 15-year-old boy was charged with reckless conduct Saturday night, after admitting he had thrown an egg that struck a young girl near the eye, cutting her.

The youth and two other were riding in a pickup when the egg throwing occurred.

A man called police to Mini-Con Storage on West Highway Saturday afternoon, to investigate a theft in one of the units.

It was determined a tool box with hand tools, a baby bed and infant car seat had been taken. The storate unit renter said he had not been inside the unit for a month, so police could not determine when the break-in occurred.

A resident in the 200 block of West Pecan told police Friday that he had found both rear tires on his car had been slashed. They were valued at $40 each.

Voter turnout low

A virtual handfull of voters cast ballots in Tuesday's state constitutional amendment election, both locally and state-wide.

Of the 5,078 eligible voters in the four area precincts, only 518 took the time to give their opinions on the 16 proposed amendments.

The four boxes -- precincts 32, 33, 34 and 35 -- approved all the proposed amendments but four.

Those amendments failing included number 1, a bond issue; number denial of bail to certain criminals, 441-71; and number 4, prohibiting personal income tax, 405-101.

Total votes cast in the four area polls included 346 in precinct 32, 79 in precinct 33, 43 in precinct 34, and 50 in precinct 35.

State-wide, all the proposals were ratified by the voters except numbers 1 and 16, according to early results posted by the Associated Press.

Without a local issue, such as the school board election in Burkburnett

Iowa Park resident commutes 50 miles

It isn't just those who live in the metropolitan areas who commute 50 miles in the morning from their suburban homes to their jobs, and 50 when our daughters were growing up that when I came home they would run and hide in their bedrooms and the dog wouldn't stop barking," Himes joked.

Not only did he travel a lot, but miles to get back home at night.

John W. Himes has been doing that two years now. In November 1991 Himes went to work as engineering manager for Schlegel Oklahoma, Inc., located in Frederick, Okla. Four others from this area who work there ride with Himes.

Although he had spent 30 years in plastic engineering, consulting or plant management before taking the position with the Oklahoma plant, he says the processes are similar. Schlegel Oklahoma, Inc., is a rubber plant.

Whatever the differences, it took Himes less than two years to be promoted from engineering manager to plant manager. That change took place in August this year.

John and his wife Dottie live in the Pleasant Valley Estates, just east of Iowa Park. They moved here from Winnsboro.

The Frederick plant designs, develops and manufactures sealing systems for the automotive and construction industries, and 25 percent of their operation is textile. The plant employs 400 people.

Customers of Schlegel's nine manufacturing plants include Chrysler, General Motors, Ford, Saturn and Toyota. Plants are located over the United States, and in Spain, Germany, France and England. Himes says General Motors is their biggest customer.

Schlegel Oklahoma, Inc., is a division of Schlegel North American Automotive Operations owned by B.T.R.

When the couple made their move from Winnsboro, Himes was working as an engineering consultant for K-Tech Co., in Houston and did a lot of traveling.

As a matter of fact, he has done a lot of traveling for the 30 years he has been working in plastics engineering and consulting.

they moved around a lot. They moved from Ohio to Iowa, to Texas, to Kentucky, then back to Texas. "Now, we live in Texas and I work in Oklahoma," John said.

"We have always loved Texas," Dottie interjected, "when we lived in Graham and John worked for Graham Magnetics, we became pretty familiar with the Wichita Falls area."

John continued, "I really was tired of so much traveling and not being at home. I decided there was more to life than a motel room, so I began looking for something through a professionl search agency.

"When the job became available in Frederick, I accepted even though my field had been plastics." As an after thought he said, "We were just attracted to this particular area anyway."

He says he is very impressed with Schlegel Oklahoma as a company and with the working conditions.

Dottie added, "Since we had lived in Iowa eight years, we were always curious about the background of Iowa Park and how it came by its name."

John and Dottie remembered the first time they came to Texas that they missed the 1979 tornado by just about 10 or 15 minutes, and that later they were almost in the one that hit Vernon.

"We feel like we are 'naturalized' Texans now," John said.

When John first accepted the position with the Frederick plant he looked about two weeks there and in Lawton for a place he thought would be suitable for them.

Then he began looking in this area and found the place they have now. "It is just what we need with my hobby of restoring old cars," John said.

The Himes have lived in several small towns and like small town living. They think they have the best of both situations now, by living on the outskirts of a small town, yet only 10 minutes from Wichita Falls.

"This way we can be a part of the 'town of friendly living' and at the same time be close enough to a larger town to be able to take advantage of the cultural and social amenities Wichita Falls has to offer," Dottie said, and John agreed.

necessary.

Another factor that made the living location attractive to the Himes is that Dottie wants to find a job and they think it might be easier for her here than it would at Frederick.

"I would rather be driving back and forth instead of her," John said. He laughed and said, "She gets antsy if she isn't working."

Dottie has worked as an administrative assistant and in law offices. She is currently working for Kelly Temporary Services, but is looking for permanent employment.

Both John and Dottie are natives of Dayton, Ohio. He graduated Fairmont High School in Dayton where he played football. Shortly after graduation he enlisted in the U.S. Marine Corp.

One time when he was on leave from the Marines, he and Dottie met. After his discharge in 1959 Himes decided he wanted to earn an engineering degree. In February 1960 he enrolled in the University of Dayton and in June he and Dottie were married.

John continued his college work at night school and worked days at Dayton Power and Light. In 1961 he started his plastics engineering career in the plastics laboratory with National Cash Register.

Besides confusion on the issues and the usual apathy concerning state constitutional amendments, rainy weather Tuesday morning also was blamed for the low turnout.

Earliest snow recorded

The earliest snowfall on record was the result of an arctic cold front that struck Friday.

A light dusting of snow flakes began falling shortly after noon, but only .05 of an inch of moisture was measured by Virgil Woodfin.

However, Tuesday's drizzle added .15 more to that, for a total of .20 of an inch.

Because the ground was still warm, icy conditions on roads did not develop Friday night, but northerly winds thoroughly chilled fans in Hawk Stadium.

Women's Y history told to Lioness Club Jeannette Box, program director of the Women's Y in Wichita Falls, presented the program for Evening Lioness Club members Thursday. She was introduced by Geneva McWhorter.

Mrs. Box introduced her talk by jogging the listerners' memory on the history of the Y, formerly called the YWCA.

She stated that it identified its roots nationally and internationally as the oldest and largest women's movement in the world. She said it has faithfully served the needs of women and girls for more than 130 years.

The Y started in Wichita Falls in 1919 and moved to its present location in 1944.

Mrs. Box said that interest in the Y had waned the past 10 years, but now there is fresh enthusiasm about restoring and revamping the old building, offering diverse programs, and continually searching for new programs.

Some of the current programs offered by the Y include women's financial information and legal issues, a variety of aerobics, preventing adolescent pregnancy, girls softball, swim lessons and classes for youth, women and men, workshops for job seeking and job keeping.

Among the other programs offered are PACT, designed for adolescents to address issues related to sexuality, physical conditioning, summer camps, puppets, clogging, round dance, intramural basketball and softball senior teams.

Mrs. Box announced a special three-hour Christmas piano workshop conducted by Terry Maddock Dec. 4, and a Christmas candy wreath class directed by Mark Lakert for Nov. 9 at 7 p.m. She also displayed "eyecatching" Halloween and Thanksgiving candy wreaths.

Preceding the program, Marion Cleveland presented the meditation on "Presidents and the Bible", referring to the place the Bible held in the administrations of Washington, Teddy Roosevelt, Eisenhower, Truman, Jefferson, John Quincy Adams, Wilson and Lincoln.

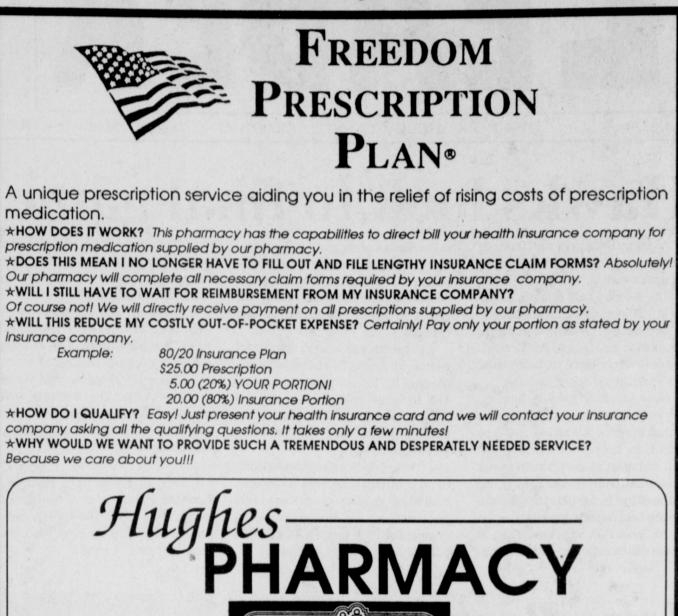

Mrs. Cleveland closed the meditation by reading an article that told how John Sander helped in the construction of the Vietnam Veterans Wall in Washington, D.C., and his current interest in it.

The meeting Tuesday night was at the home of Skeeter Clark, and the ceremonies were conducted by Sue Driskill, District VI President.

Mary Lynn Boyd presented an educational program on "Garden of Flowers in Bloom," and instructed the members on how and when to plant bulbs.

"Tulips did not come from Holland as we all thought," she said, "but from Turkey in the 16th century."

She said that bulbs should be planted in full sun with good drainage, and to use a four to five inch layer of peat moss. A bulb depth chart is very important, but not neccessary. Also, add one tablespoon of bonemeal for the roots and when putting dirt on top of the bulb, do not pack it down.

During the business meeting, plans were made for members to bring food to fill two gift baskets. The baskets will be given away during the holidays.

Members voted to check into a campaign, "Random Acts of Kindness - Breaking Out All Over." The purpose is to encourage the community to become more aware of the goodness within our area. Skeeter Clark is the chairman.

Thursday, Nov. 4, 1993

Though last weekend was loaded with some very pleasurable experiences, it still will not be among my favorites of the year.

Thank goodness there were some major pluses to offset some disappointing minuses.

Dolores and I had a ball opening the door Saturday night to almost 100 young trick or treaters. They were all very courteous, graciously accepting the handsfull of candy we dropped in their bags, and thanking us as they departed.

And we didn't have a single instance at the house of any vandalism! Also, we didn't have an interruption by any stragglers Sunday night, which as you know, officially was Halloween, according to the calendar.

And we enjoyed our fireplace, as I've often mentioned in this space. Besides the warmth provided by that facility, I seem to have a greater appreciation of home, when its burning.

But, gosh! Didn't we need the fireplaces and heaters? It was cold!

That cold made Friday night and Saturday afternoon miserable for everyone at Hawk Stadium.

I can't blame the cold weather or snow conditions for Iowa Park's loss to Graham. In fact, the pain of losing a ball game isn't any better if the weather is beautiful. But, because we lost, the weather was like rubbing salt in a wound.

The weather also had to be a factor for the very low attendance Saturday, when Hawk Stadium hosted its very first college football game.

And besides the cold, the crowd was held to about 10 percent of what was expected, because the game was shown live on local television, I suspect.

The forecast for more bad weather Friday doesn't make traveling to Henrietta too inviting. But when the Hawks wind up their season on a winning note -- and I'm sure they will -- it'll make it all better.

The two women have evidently shared a lot of tea sipping together.

Last month, during a question and answer period, Hillary Rodman Clinton, czar of the administration's health care plan, made a statement that raised the hackles of small business operators everywhere.

She was quoted as saying, in response to a question of how small businesses could afford health insurance, that it was not the responsibility of the administration to save small mom and pop operations.

Naturally, the storm of protest was so great across the country that the White House issued a statement that the first lady's answer "had been taken out of context."

It happened again this week with another Clinton appointee, Secretary of Energy Hazel O'Leary, who was Telegram following the hullabaloo. Dennis Johnson, chief operation officer for Henry Petroleum Corp. in Midland, said:

"As for independents being too feeble to salvage, there are more healthy and economically competitive independent oil companies today than major oil companies," Johnson said. "If Mrs. O'Leary can't think of a way to help independents, I would ask her to help promote reasonable environmental laws."

Wasn't it a cow owned by a Mrs. O'Leary that burned down the city of Chicago?

We suspect that until we appoint or elect men and women who have either met a payroll or been on the receiving end of a check from a non-tax supported institution, we'll continue to find little compassion, sympathy, or interviewed in London where she had gone to attend a finance conference.

She was quoted in an Associated Press story as saying that she had no firm ideas on helping independent oil operators stay in business. She suggested that the industry's smaller, domestic players "may be a dying breed too feeble to salvage in an era when Big Oil is setting its sights overseas."

As you might suspect, the response was immediate, loud, and prolonged from independents and their associations across the country.

The yelling was so loud in this country that the White House felt called upon to issue another statement that the Energy Secretary's remarks were "taken out of context."

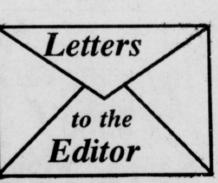

Congressman Larry Combest got into the act by inviting the Secretary to West Texas to see independents in action. And Mary Scott Nabers, Texas Railroad Commissioner, wrote a letter to O'Leary that nearly nine out of ten wells drilled today are drilled by independent producers.

Nabers might have also added the words of another Railroad Commissioner, Barry Williamson, who said "independents typically drill 85 percent of all the wells in the U.S., produce 80 percent of the oil, while spending $11 billion annually for exploration and development."

But we liked the statement made this week in the Midland Reporter-

Maria Whittmeyer

Our featured cook this week, Maria Wittmeyer, was born in El Paso and, while she was growing up, had the advantage of living in several foreign countries.

Her father was in the Army, and the family lived in many locations including France and Germany. When he retired from the service, the family settled in Forestville, N.Y. which is surrounded by dairy country. There, Maria graduated high school, and received a degree in social sciences at Jamestown Community College.

Maria moved to Iowa Park in 1985. Her parents had moved to this area earlier, and live on Huntington Lane. She says the towns in New York and Texas are a lot alike, but the weather here is better and she prefers to live in Texas.

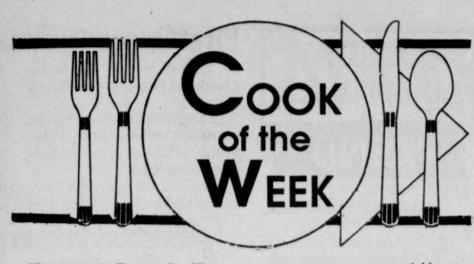

Maria has three children. Her 11year-old son, John, is in the fifth grade at Bradford. He is an avid deer hunter and is looking forward to hunting with his grandfather this year. Her two daughters, Amanda, eight, and sixyear-old Danyel, are in the second and first grades respectively. The girls like to read and play with their Barbie dolls. The entire family likes to bowl. Maria said that bowling and dancing are her favorite pastimes.

Currently Maria is employed at City Cafe, but she is a certified nurses aide and plans to work toward an RN degree and continue her career in nursing.

Maria likes to cook, and her recipes are the ones her mother prepared when she was growing up. Many of the recipes, such as "Homemade Bread Stuffing," are good for holiday meals, a favorite time for Maria and her children. Her brother comes in from Ft. Benning, Ga., and a nephew arrives from Florida, and they gather at her parents home to celebrate.

Oatmeal Spice Cake

Homemade Bread Stuffing 1 1/2 loaves of bread 2 tsps. salt 2 tsps. pepper 1 Tbsp. poultry seasoning (more or less to taste) 1 medium onion, sliced longways

Wet bread under running water and squeeze out excess. Break into pieces and heat in skillet with remaining ingredients until onion is soft. For more moist dressing, leave bread wetter.

Stuff in bird or wrap in foil and bake 1 1/2 hours or until desired dryness is reached.

This is also great fried up as a leftover. The more poultry seasoning, the spicer the dressing.

Appaloosa Rice

Great for trail rides and camping trips. The more you reheat this dish, the better it tastes. 1 1/2 lbs. hamburger 1 medium onion 4 green peppers 1 small box Uncle Ben's wild grain

rice

1 small box regular rice (not instant) 4 cans beef consomme 1 stick margarine

Cut onion and peppers into chunks and cook in 1 stick of margarine. Brown hamburger and drain. Mix all ingredients together and bake at 350 degrees 45 minutes - 1 hour, or until beef consomme is absorbed.

Spaghetti Sauce

This sauce is also geat for lasagna 3 - 12 oz. cans tomato paste 1 small onion, diced 1 small green pepper, diced 1 1/2 lb. hamburger meat 2 tsps. salt mixture to tomato paste. Add water and remaining ingredients. Simmer on low heat at least 2 1/2 hours. Serve over spaghetti.

2 tsps. pepper

This dish is great heated in a skillet as a leftover.

Tip: After sauce has cooled, about 1 hour, add 1 teaspoon of baking soda to remove acid from tomatoes to avoid heartburn and indigestion.

New York Style

Chicken Wings 1 bag frozen chicken wings 1/2 to 1 bottle regular hot sauce 1/2 lb. margarine

Melt margarine and hot sauce together. Deep fry chicken wings until crispy. Shake chicken wings in sauce. The longer you shake, the hotter the wings. Remove wings from sauce and serve with celery salks and blue cheese dressing.

Himes' only hobby now. "I gave up golf for fishing and finally had to give up fishing because of lack of time for more than one activity for relaxation, so I chose cars," he said.

Dottie said, "We each had a set of golf clubs and never had time to use them, so we finally sold them."

Now, since John is at home more, when he is not on the job he can be found working on his restoration projects.

He has a nice large area now in which to work. He is completing restoration of a 1970 Mach I Mustang, and is looking forward to begin renovation on a 1954 Ford truck. "Every time I get one about done, it seems two more show up," John said. And, that suits him fine.

Dottie enjoys crochet and cross stitch, but she has a fascination with tracing her genealogy. She has an interesting ancestry.

Dottie has traced her family back to 1066 and William the Conqueror. Her mother got Dottie started on her family tree.

Also in her bloodline is George Calvert, (Lord Baltimore), the founder of Maryland. Lord Baltimore owned property, a large house on a hill and some land, where Washington, D.C. was built. He would not sell, and the property still is in the family ownership.

Dottie hopes to start soon tracing John's ancestry. His roots go back to Germany, they think to the Black Forest area in West Germany.

She is a patron of Tom Burnett Memorial Library and attends the genealogy workshops that are held there.

Dottie enjoys decorating their home for each holiday of the year. "I always decorated that way when the girls were at home and it just comes natural to want to keep doing it," she said.

John and Dottie are members of Christ the King Catholic Church.

Two of the Himes' daughters live in Breckenridge, one lives in Indianapolis and one is in Hawesville, Ky. They also have five grandsons and three granddaughters.

And, included in their family group is Bear, the dog, and Buttons, the cat, who are friendly with each other and with those who come to the home.

IN FAMILIAR SURROUNDINGS AGAIN -- Two former Iowa Park Hawks saw action Saturday as Midwestern State Indians, when the first-ever college football game was played in Hawk Stadium. They were quarterback Robert Denton, left, and wide receiver Bruce Palmer. Shown here in their pregame warmup on the sideline, the two connected on one pass play during the game. Playing before a disappointingly-sparce crowd of some 1,500, Midwestern was edged 25-20 by the McMurry Indians. who went into the game ranked 23rd in the nation.

MORE THAN 350 persons attended the Finnell Fish Fry Thursday night in Holliday, where the spotlight was on this foursome. They are, from left, Kay Finnell, Attorney General Dan Morales, State Rep. Charles Finnell and House Speaker Pete Laney. The meal was catered by the Iowa Park MuleSkinners.

Council slates Monday meeting

Annexations, bond sales and purchases highlight the tentative agenda for Monday night's meeting of the city council.

The meeting is to begin at 7 p.m. in council chambers.

The second required public hearing concerning annexation of land in the north part of town for a housing addition will be held.

A 9.758-acre tract has been petitioned to come into the city. It is a small portion of what is to be Park Place Addition.

Another tract of land, in the southeast part of the city, also has been petitioned for annexation.

Owner of three lots in the 600 block of South Victoria has requested to be brought inside the city limits, and this will be the first of two hearings on that request.

The only ordinance on the agenda is a follow-up on the Park Place Addition annexation.

Authorization to sell certificates of obligation to Parker Square Bank, to finance water and sewer projects, will be requested.

The council has been discussing raising $1 million through the sale of the bonds to construct a new water tower North of US 287, as well as replacing a main sewer line between West Highway and the treatment plant with larger pipe.

Aldermen will consider authorizing the city administrator to purchase a new police cruiser, utilizing an interlocal agreement with the City of Wichita Falls, from 4-Stars Motors in Henrietta.

There is still time to plant one of the best medium sized shade trees for the Texoma area.

The tree which knowledgeable horticulturists across Texas and Oklahoma have been raving about is the beautiful Chinese Pistache.

This tree has a different type of name, but it's growth rate, fall color, and deep root system are excellent by all standards.

Chinese Pistache will reach a height of 40 to 50 feet with a canopy spread of 30 feet. Growth rates have been as much as two to three feet per year with proper management (watering and fertilization).

This tree is cold hardy to central Kansas with a high tolerance for alkaline soils common to many areas in the Texoma region.

Foilage remains an attractive, deep green color during the growing season. Fall weather brings out a spectacular orange to red-orange and crimson foilage color on Chinese Pistache. This brilliant fall color will rival the show of sugar maples in the northeast.

Chinese Pistache has extremely durable, hard wood which resists decay and protects the tree from ice, wind and vandal injury.

Established Chinese Pistache shade trees are also very drought tolerant during our summer periods of wind and high temperatures.

Beautiful specimens can be seen growing from Amarillo to El Paso to even Houston. Chinese Pistache has performed well in all areas of Texas with the exception of the Rio Grande Although considered by many horticultural experts to be a near perfect tree for this part of the U.S., the Chinese Pistache does have a couple of minor faults.

First, young trees in five-gallon containers (a good size to buy) are sometimes rather awkward or leggy in appearance. Normally after five to six years of tender loving care, this tree will develop into a nicely-shaped shade tree.

Secondly, shaping and pruning your tree when it's young may be necessary to encourage proper crown development. The vast majority of Pistache purchased will eventually make a very nicely-shaped tree on their own.

Taking Care of Your Pistache:

Fall planting (through November) is the ideal time. Select a site in full sun, and at least 15 feet from your home to provide space for future growth.

* Plant the tree in an area with good drainage. Avoid low spots or areas where water tends to collect during heavy rainfall.

Check the soil moisture level with your fingertip weekly. Water only when the top inch of soil is dry.

* Mulch the area around the new tree with leaves, bark chips, compost etc. in about a four-foot diameter circle. This reduces grass competition and protects tree roots.

* Early next spring, make light but frequent applications of fertilizer.

Check your local garden center or nursery for Chinese Pistache today. This tree is a shade tree superstar for Texoma

TU Electric considering alternatives

As part of its plans for meeting the future needs of its customers for electricity, TU Electric is considering the use of renewable resources and expansion of programs to limit increases in demand.

The company is requesting proposals from suppliers of electricity generated by wind turbines and solar photovoltaic technologies, as well as companies interested in providing "demand-side managment" services or technologies.

Tom Baker, TU vice president, said the options are being considered, in addition to other alternatives, as part of the company's integrated resource planning process.

Through the process, the company annually assesses needs for electric energy by its customers over approximately the next 10 years and plans the most reliable and cost-effective resources to meet those needs.

A new service area advisory group, made up of about 30 representatives of many diverse customer interests, has been formed and is participating in the development of the company's plan.

TU Electric is the first investorowned utility in Texas to include formal input from a wide cross-section of customer interests in its integrated resource planning process.

In addition to the demand-side management proposals, the company also is soliciting proposals from suppliers of renewable energy technologies that can generate electricity using the wind and sun.

"In the future, these new technologies potentially can help us further diversify the resources available to serve our customers," Baker said.

"By acquiring some renewable generation for demonstration purposes, we hope to contribute to the ability of supplies to build generating installations, which could encourage mass production and lower costs.'

SELF EMPLOYED PERSONS: Planning for your retirement is important and necessary; however being limited to contributing $2,000 annually to an IRA may not allow you to reach your retirement goals. Self-employed persons as well as farmers and ranchers have other retirement plan options available including a Simplified Employee Pension (SEP) Plan or a Keogh Qualified Retirement Plan.

Generally, a SEP Plan is structured similar to an IRA, but contributions can be significantly larger. It is designed for employers with no employees or a small numbers of employees, who do not want a complex retirement program. Keoghs allow even larger percentages to be contributed each year and offer more customized or versatile plan features, along with more options for employees. I will discuss these plans in more detail next week.

IT'S OFFICIAL -- A ribbon-cutting ceremony to formally open Glenn's Kempo Karate, 103 West Park, was held by directors of the Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce Saturday. On hand while owner Danny Glenn cuts the ribbon are some of the studio's students.

AUSTIN - U.S. Sen. Kay Bailey Hutchison dismissed Washington, D.C. lawyer John Dowd last week, and Nov. 29 has been set as her trial date in state district court. Hutchison has hired two Texas lawyers to defend her against the charges which allege wrongdoing during her tenure as Texas state treasurer.

Replacing Dowd are Houston at-indicted Hutchison and two former treasury department aides on Sept. 27 on criminal charges after an investigation that lasted more than three months. The aides have requested a separate trial and will be given a later court date.

School Lawsuit Under Way

When the fourth school finance lawsuit got under way in Austin last week, District Judge Scott McCown ruled that the suit will not be expanded to include whether Texas spends enough money on its public schools.

McCown said for now he would consider only equity issues: whether Texas fairly distributes more than $15 billion a year in state and local revenue to school districts.

He said he would wait until the end of the trial, which could last two to four weeks, to decide whether to convene a second trial on adequate funding.

In limiting the extent of the trial, McCown set aside a legal motion filed by the Texas Association of School Boards on behalf of 60

"He has turned the Texas Land Commission into an annex of the Clinton White House," Greytok said.

Mauro, first elected in 1982, is expected to seek re-election in 1994.

Caucus Funding Halted

A Texas House committee last week halted public funding of House legislative caucuses and recommended that the groups be barred from fund raising during a legislative session and be required to disclose expenditures and contributions.

"It had been perceived, rightly or wrongly, that caucuses are able to go outside the bounds of an elected official in their raising money and their expenditures, and we certainly do not agree with that," said Layton Black, D-Goldthwaite, chairman of the House Administration Committee.

torney Dick DeGuerin and University of Texas law professor Michael Tigar. DeGuerin is to serve as Hutchison's lead counsel and Tigar will file legal briefs. Hutchison spokesman David Beckwith said the decision to hire Texas lawyers was made because the trial will be taking place in Texas.

DeGuerin was legal counsel to Branch Davidian cult leader David Koresh. who died April 19 in a fire that incinerated the cult's compound in Waco. Beckwith said Tigar will concentrate on "whether the legal process is being abused in a political way."

Hutchison is charged with three counts of official misconduct, one count of tampering with governmental records and one count of tampering with physical evidence. If convicted, she could serve up to 61 years in prison or jail and pay fines up to $43,000.

In addition to the Nov. 29 trial date in Travis County, an Oct. 18 deadline has been set for pretrial motions to be filed for a pretrial hearing scheduled for Oct. 28. A Travis County grand jury school districts of varying size and property wealth.

Both property-poor school districts and property-rich districts are challenging the legality of the new school finance law but for different reasons. Property-rich districts say the law is unconstitutional because it relies on local school property taxes, in essence creating a statewide property tax.

Greytok vs. Mauro

Marta Greytok, a Public Utility Commission member for the past six years, will seek the Republican nomination to challenge three-term Land Commissioner Garry Mauro, a Democrat.

She will face state Rep. Robert Eckles, R-Houston, who is stepping down from the Legislature, in the GOP primary.

Greytok called Mauro "part of the entrenched political class that has created so much hate for politics and distrust of government among the people."

She criticized Mauro, who headed President Clinton's campaign in Texas last year, for using state phones to do campaign work.

drew him a 42-month prison sentence, his attorney announced.

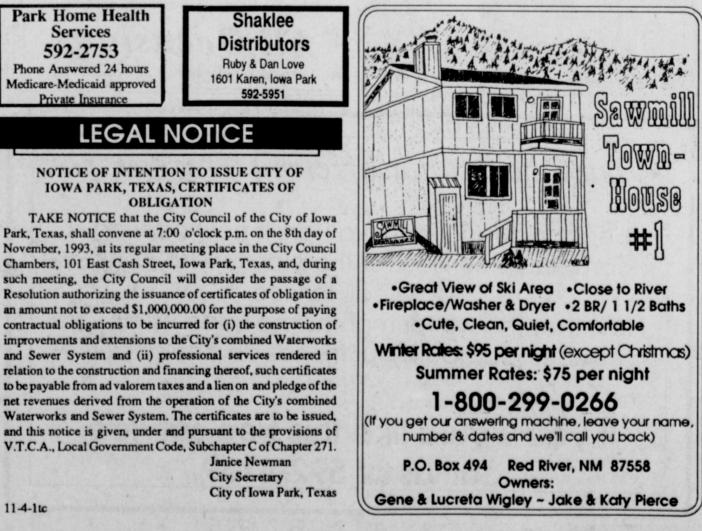

"Absolutely, there will be an appeal," said A.L. Herndon, one member of the defense team that represented Bustamante on racketeering and bribery charges in July.

U.S. District Judge Ed Prado also ordered Bustamante to pay $55,100 in fines and court costs, and sentenced him to two years for a conviction for accepting an illegal gratuity.

Other Highlights

. The Texas Supreme Court has upheld the state public higher education funding system by ruling it does not discriminate against Mexican Americans in South Texas. The decision overturns last year's ruling by state District Judge Ben Euresti Jr., who declared the system was unconstitutional.

Almost 18 percent of Texas' population lived below the poverty line last year -a rate significantly higher than the national average of 14.5 percent, the Census Bureau reported. Eight states, led by Louisiana and Mississippi, reported higher averages.
