Trustees agree to adjust tuition for CV transfers

In a relatively short regular session of the Iowa Park School Board Monday evening, trustees voted to accept payments received on a tuition agreement with the City View ISD for the 1992-93 school year.

Superintendent Glen Mitchell asked that the board accept City View's payment at fifty percent of the total tuition fee for the three City View students who enrolled at Iowa Park after January 1.

Apparently, there was a misunderstanding regarding the adjustment of rates for City View student transfers during the 1992-93 school year.

A written agreement for the 1992-93 school year that was approved by both school districts called for City View to pay Iowa Park CISD 60 percent of the tuition fee in January and the remaining 40 percent in June, plus any new students enrolled since January 1.

When City View ISD was billed by Iowa Park in June, the additional three students who had enrolled after January 1, were included. City View was billed the full-year amount of $1,500 per student. Delbert Mahan, City View superintendent, said he interpreted a portion of the previous contract to mean an adjustment would be made in the actual fee.

The board accepted the payments made by City View ISD as full compensation for the 1992-93 school year. The total amount of funds received from City View ISD for the school year was $105,750.

A new tuition agreement between the school districts has since gone into effect.

The new agreement entails actual tuition of $188.89 per student on the last school day of each month, from September through May. City View ISD will be billed from those figures at the end of each semester. An additional monthly fee of $26.98 will be charged for each period that a City View ISD student is enrolled in a special education class, and will be included in the final tuition billing.

In other business, trustees accepted a bid of $19,012 from Patton Education Specialists, Inc. of Wichita Falls for high school library card catalog and circulation system hardware.

The bid includes one file server, network wiring, one librarian workstation, six student workstations and two printers.

High school principal Richard

Davis told board members that this equipment will complete the high school library, with the exception of furniture.

Board members also accepted a bid of $5,850 from L.A. Environmental, Inc. of Dallas for the removal and disposal of asbestos-containing insulation from the junior high school gymnasium.

The job is to begin Dec. 20 and is expected to take one day.

During the superintendent's report, Mitchell announced that enrollment is down 12 students from this time last year. Kidwell Elementary reflected the only drop in enrollment in the district, down 37 students from this time last year.

Mitchell also announced a "Real World Forum," scheduled for 7 p.m. Thursday at the junior high library.

The forum is set up to exchange ideas on what high school graduates should know and be able to do in the work place.

Assistant Superintendent Robert Palmer told trustees that the new high school special education facility is 75 percent complete, and should be ready to move in to by the start of the second semester.

Iowa Park is growing

Iowa Park continues to grow. The city council Monday night approved annexation of a tract of land in the north part of town, and held the first of two public hearings after receiving a petition to take in three lots in the south part.

The first portion of the new Park Place Addition, north of Mary Drive, was approved for annexation. That tract measures 9.758 acres.

At the first hearing concerning Park Place annexation, some aldermen suggested a larger tract be brought in, cutting down on the number of future annexations as the project grew.

However, Tommy Key, one of two partners in the development, said it would "not be in the interest of either party" to bring in more property at this time.

As an example, he cited grazing rights for livestock on the unannexed part, as well as permitted hunting in the area, would conflict with ordinances.

The annexation was approved by an unanimous vote of the council.

Mark Studdard, who owns three lots on South Victoria which are not presently in the city, petitioned for his property to be annexed.

During the required public hearing on the proposed annexation, there was no opposition to the request. The second hearing will be held at the council's next scheduled meeting, on Monday, Nov. 22.

Aldermen accepted a letter from Parker Square Bank, which offered an interest rate of 4.98 percent to finance a $1 million bond which will be used for two major water and sewer projects.

The proposal, which would be financed over a 12-year period, would save the city as much as $5,000, aldermen were informed.

The money will primarily be used to construct a new water tower north of U.S. 287, on land just east of Park Tank Trucking Service, and also to lay larger sewer lines in areas where problems have developed due to continuing growth and flow demand.

Aldermen voted to accept the lowest of 13 bids submitted for the janitorial service at city hall, police station, library and Recreational Activities Center.

Pro Clean submitted a bid of $195 per week, with an alternate to charge $25 extra should the RAC require a third cleaning, instead of the usual twice-weekly cleaning the other buildings will receive.

The highest of the bids opened was for a weekly charge of $701, with $105 for the extra RAC cleaning.

Aldermen also agreed to again join with the City of Wichita Falls in a group purchase program to buy a new police cruiser. Four Star Motors of Henrietta was the winning bidder this year, and the cruiser, which was included in this year's city budget, will cost $12,953.

The city has purchased other motor equipment jointly through Wichita Falls, sharing in the volume-purchase savings.

Also approved was a proposal to advertise for the purchase of a brush chipper machine.

Street projects for next summer were tentatively approved by aldermen, including those where asphalt overlay will be applied, surfaces being coated with slurry, valley gutters installed and also alley returns built.

Those blocks designated to have asphalt overlays include the 500 block of West Texas, 100 through 400 blocks of South Jackson, and 600 and 700 blocks of Cornelia.

To receive slurry applications will be the 100-600 blocks of West Bank, 100-1000 East Bank, 100-800 West Cornelia, 100-400 South Colorado, 300-1400 West Smith, 100-400 East Pecan, 100-400 West Daisy, and 500-800 blocks of South Park.

Valley gutters, which are concrete replacing asphalt for drainage purposes, will be at Cornelia and Fourth, Louisa and Van Horn, Lincoln and Fourth, Sunset and Westridge and Rebecca and Third.

The alley returns, which surfaces alleys where they intersect with streets and prevent erosion on the slopes, will be on three locations on West Garden, two on West Valley, 1200 South Park, 1300 Emma, 900 Lincoln, 200 Joy, and two sides on North First.

Mayor Wayne House read and presented a copy of a resolution to Optimist Club president Lisa Bushfield, concerning Youth Appreciation Week, Nov. 8-13.

Sue Goodknight was recognized as the city's Employee of the Month for October.

Leader's delivery to be late this week

A change in which Veteran's Day will be observed has caused the Iowa Park Leader to be delivered a day late this week.

"We were not aware until after our Nov. 4 issue was printed that the holiday would be observed on a Thursday, rather than the usual Monday most other government holidays are observed," explained Bob Hamilton, publisher.

He said the paper normally is printed in time for delivery on Wednesday, whenever mails are not delivered on a Thursday holiday.

"We apologize to our subscribers for the inconvenience, as well as to our advertisers, who normally expect their ads to be read on Thursdays," he said.

The Leader will print a day early in two weeks, because Thanksgiving is observed on Thursday. However, next week's issue will not be affected and will be in the mail next Thursday.

Educators want opinions

What should high school graduates know and be able to do upon completion of their high school education?

Opinions of local school district patrons on those subjects is what district officials want to learn.

A public forum on the subject will be held at 7 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 18, at the junior high library.

Dr. Lionel "Skip" Meno, Texas commissioner of education, has asked that the meetings be held in schools throughout the state.

The information from the schools will be collected and sent to the Education Service Centers, which will compile the information and forward it to the state Board of Education.

Supt. Glen Mitchell explained that the meeting will last about two hours.

A 20-minute video tape prepared by the Texas Education Agency will be shown at the first of the meetings.

Following that, discussion groups will be identifying skills and knowledge they feel high school graduates should know and be able to do.

Near-centurion recalls past

By MYRNA SMITH

Almost three-quarters of a century have passed since a pretty, slender, dark haired school-marm set foot on soil in the busy little oil town of Iowa Park.

It didn't take long for Perle E. Burkhead Pace to know just what her daddy was talking about when he told her he didn't think she should seek a teaching position in an oil town.

He had told the "proper" young Dallasite of the wild, rough and inconvenient conditions she would find. He knew something about the ways of oil towns, he said.

Perle had graduated Southern Methodist University in 1919, with the first class to spend all four years at the new college.

She taught one year at Tulia and decided to return to SMU to begin work for her Masters degree. When school was out for the summer she returned to her parents' home in Dallas.

In the meantime she learned the tuition and other costs had risen at the college and that she didn't have enough money to enroll, so she decided to teach another year.

One morning as she was reading The Dallas Morning News she noticed a classified ad for teachers of English, Math, History and Science in Iowa Park.

That was just what Perle wanted---to teach history and science, so she answered the ad. But, did she really want to come to Iowa Park after what her dad had told her?

She made her decision and told her dad she had run out of money and that she could not be choosy if she wanted to return to college and get her Masters degree, even if it did mean coming to an oil town.

Perle's eyes sparkled as she laughed and said, "In the early days I acquired the nickname, 'Spitfire'."

She received a quick answer from the newly elected superintendent of schools in Iowa Park, W.R. Bradford. He asked for her credentials and immediately after receiving them he notified her that she had been elected to teach. She was hired to teach four classes of history and one class of science in high school.

Perle possessed a rather adventuresome spirit and became thrilled at the prospect of teaching in an oil town, but primarily, she was thrilled because she could save her money and go back to college.

However, that plan never materialized because in her second year here she found something that interested her even more than the Master's degree. His name was Thomas J. Pace.

"I arrived in Wichita Falls on the Fort Worth and Denver train from Dallas in early September 1921, and was met by Mr. Bradford and several teachers," Perle said.

The teachers always attended a training session, known as the Teachers Institute in Wichita Falls, for a week before the beginning of school. By the end of the training session, "my excitement was at a high pitch," she commented.

As soon as the session was over, Bradford returned for the teachers. "That was the first indication I had of just what to expect of the roads around Iowa Park. He came to get us in his Model-T Ford sedan, but that was the roughest ride I ever had. It was always an ordeal to go to Wichita Falls until they got the road paved," Mrs. Pace continued.

She went on to explain that oilfield equipment had cut deep ruts in the country roads, making for a very rough and bumpy ride almost anywhere in or around Iowa Park.

There was not a lot of paving in the town of approximately 2,000 people in 1921. "And that included the men working in the oil fields and those who had come to make a 'fast buck'" Perle said.

"Mr. Bradford found good homes where the teachers could room and have their meals," Perle said.

It didn't take long for her to go through the learning process of living in an oil town. "I was beginning to feel like a real pioneer by the time I looked around our room. My roommate was Edna Rather, the English teacher.

"Now, remember there was no running water to the houses and no city sewer system. I found the landlord had already drawn water for us from the well in the back yard of the house and had poured it into a large two-gallon bucket. It even had a dipper," Mrs. Pace continued.

She said, "One of the first things I learned was to heat my bath water on the stove and carry it to my room

News Briefs

Free feed set for senior citizens

Senior citizens will be luncheon guests Saturday of the Iowa Park MuleSkinners.

A complete brisket lunch will be served free of charge to all senior citizens who reside with the Iowa Park school district.

The meal will be served from 11:30 a.m. until 1 p.m. at the MuleBarn, 111 West Cash.

USDA commodities here Nov. 18

U.S.D.A. food commodities will be distributed between 3 and 6 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 18, at the First Christian Church.

On this month's list for distribution are apple juice, corn meal, rice and butter.

Those families eligible to receive commodities also are eligible for a Christmas basket in December, according to Frances Park, coordinator.

Families that did not sign up in October to receive Christmas baskets can do so Nov. 18. No letters concerning the baskets will be mailed out this year.

Register for $850 in Yule Bucks

A group of Iowa Park businesses have coordinated a project that will lead to three families sharing $850 to be spent for Christmas.

Twenty businesses are participating in a drawing in which the first place winner will receive $500, second place $250 and third place $100.

The money, however, will be in the form of script, which can be redeemed only in Iowa Park.

Entry forms are available at each of the participating businesses, which are listed in a series of advertisements published in the Leader.

No purchase is necessary, but the forms must be marked when each of the 20 businesses is visited.

The drawing will be held at 9 a.m. Wednesday, Dec. 7, and the script must be redeemed by the close of business on Christmas Eve.

Sen. Carriker to be speaker

Guest speaker for Monday's annual All-Membership Luncheon of the Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce will be State Sen. Steve Carriker of Roby.

The meeting, open to all members of the Chamber, is to begin at 12-noon at the Recreational Activities Center.

Reservations should be made by Friday, by contacting the Chamber office. The cost is $6 per person.

One of the major events of the annual meeting is the election of new officers and directors. Those elected will be installed during the annual banquet in January, according to President Larry Dutton.

Eaves, Payton exchange vows in Saturday evening ceremony

Debra Shawn Eaves became the bride of James Lee Payton Saturday in a double ring ceremony performed at 6 o'clock in Lakeview Church of God. The pastor, Rev. Ole Olds, officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Alan Delton Eaves of Iowa Park and Mr. and Mrs. James Bruce Payton of Wichita Falls.

Attired in a gown of white bridal satin and lace, the bride was given in marriage by her father. Her Victorian styled gown featured a lace covered fitted bodice with a sweetheart neckline and yoke of illusion net that terminated in a high neckband. Lace puffs at the shoulders topped the long fitted lace sleeves that ended with points over the hands. The entire gown was accented with pearls and iridescent sequins.

Skirt of the gown extended to a chapel lace-edged train detailed with cut-out lace motifs. The train repeated the pearl and iridescent sequin trim.

The bride's illusion veil was fashioned by her mother. It was three tiered, with the final tier ending at the waistline. The veil fell from a headpiece of flowers, strands of pearls and iridescent beads.

For tradition, the bride carried a lace handkerchief that belonged to the groom's mother, for "something old", and wore her mother's pearl earrings and a blue garter for "something borrowed". Her wedding gown served as "something new".

She completed her costume by carrying a cascading bouquet of burgundy and mauve open roses and rosebuds accented with baby's breath and sprigs of ivy, made by the groom's mother.

Forming the backdrop for the exchange of vows were twin seven-branch candelabras decorated with ivy and velvet ribbon. An archway intertwined with ivy and highlighted with swags of burgundy and mauve open roses, rosebuds, and mauve eucalyptus.

During the ceremony "Til I Loved You", by Restless Heart, and "Like A River", by Steve Waimier, were played.

Cami Franke of Iowa Park was the bride's maid of honor. She wore a tea length dress of burgundy taffeta designed with dropped waist, long sleeves and a V back with bows accenting the waistline.

Shannon Eaves, Iowa Park, sister of the bride, and Joanie Payton, Wichita Falls, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids. They wore identical tea length dresses of mauve taffeta, styled like that of the honor attendant's. They each carried a spray of burgundy roses.

Misty Payton, Wichita Falls, cousin of the groom, served as flower girl. Her dress was fashioned like those of the other attendants.

Ring bearer was Brandon Miser of Iowa Park, also a cousin of the groom. He wore black denims, black hat and black tux coat with tails, mauve tie and cummerbund.

Brian Brown of Wichita Falls was best man. Groomsmen were Joey Davis, Scotty Fowler, cousin of the groom, both of Iowa Park. Chris Eaves, brother of the bride, and Wesley Fowler, the groom's cousin, both of Iowa Park, acted as ushers.

The reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church. On either side of the registry table were ficus trees intertwined with white lights. Sue Williams registered guests.

The reception area was decorated in the bride's colors of burgundy and mauve and pictures of the bride and groom. Floral arrangements in the chosen colors were placed at focal points in the room. All of the decorations were done by the groom's mother.

The bride's four-tiered cake was iced in white and decorated with silk mauve and burgundy roses.

The groom's cake was iced with chocolate and decorated with trophies and replicas of the groom's hobby, stock car racing. His cake was made by his aunt, Lennie Fowler.

Servers for the reception were Tracy Miser, Shannon Miser, Judy Grant, and Judy Ricks.

The groom's parents hosted the rehearsal party at Ken's Pizza.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of Iowa Park High School.

For their wedding trip to the Dallas, Fort Worth area, the bride chose a black fitted knit ankle length dress accented with gold buttons, and black suede shoes with gold accents.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of Iowa Park High School. They will make their home in Iowa Park.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were Tommie Steele of Chesapeake, Va., aunt of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wenger of Odessa, uncle and aunt of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grant of Seminole, Okla., great-uncle and aunt of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fowler of Wewoka, Okla., the groom's great-grandparents.

Clubs observe Federation Day

Federation Day was observed at the 31st annual combined meeting of the Amity, Philia and Twenty-three Study Clubs Monday evening at Tom Burnett Memorial Library.

The three clubs are affiliated with General Federation and Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

Joyce Rentschler, president of 23 Study Club and leader for the evening, opened the meeting by stating, "Union gives strength, working together strengthens our philanthropic endeavors."

The Pledge of Allegiance to the American flag was led by Sue Tate, president of the Philia Club and selected poems were read by Valeria Dillard and Linda Crumbliss of the Amity Club for the meditations.

Special recognition was made of the 70th birthday of the 23 Study Club. Wanda Singer presented a short history of the club, telling how on Oct. 18, 1923, Mrs. J.B. Sisk called a number of friends to meet at her home.

The meeting was for the purpose of organizing a study club. The club adopted the name of '23 Study Club in honor of the year and the proposed number of members.

Meetings were held at the Park Hotel at 3 p.m. each first and third Thursday of the month.

"American Citizenship" was the name of the course of study pursued during the first year. The course of study for the second and third years were "Contemporary American Writers" and "The Life of Shakespeare".

Charter members of the club were Mrs. Frank Clark, Mrs. C.W. Coppock, Mrs. Walter Denny, Mrs. Carroll Duke, Mrs. T.F. Lynch, Mrs. John C. Murphree, Mrs. W.B., Murphree, Mrs. H. L. O'Brian, Mrs. J.R. Sherwood, Mrs. May Turner, and Mrs. G.W. Webb.

Special music was presented by members of the honor club, featuring songs from each decade since 1923.

Refreshments were served by the Amity Study Club from a table that featured a fall theme. Focal pint as a large birthday cake in honor of the '23 Study Club's 70th anniversary.

As I See It... By Bob Hamilton

Normally, I try to confine my column to one topic. But this week, with so much going on and being so important, I'm gonna take short shots at four.

The topic receiving the most attention of late has been the North American Free Trade Act, NAFTA.

With congress supposed to come up with a vote on the issue next week, and knowing full well not a one of them reads this space, I'm still going to make a couple of observations on the subject.

First of all, I believe what I heard from an authority, namely Bill Sturgis, president of Cryovac. In a meeting here, he said if NAFTA does not get approval, the effect will most likely be that some jobs will be lost at the local, and other plants.

He explained Mexico has become a major purchaser of bagging and other products produced by Cryovac. If the act is not approved, and the border closed to their product, the company will have to build a plant in Mexico. That will mean those jobs will be lost here. There's that much market there!

Unlike Ross Perot said on television Tuesday night, not all Mexicans are living in mud huts without modern conveniences. They do have major markets for products in that nation.

There's been little that Pres. Bill Clinton has proposed that I could support. But I'm with him on this one. And you can put that in your book.

Isolationism does not work, and we have proof as result of the Monroe Doctrine. Look it up in your American history book.

One of Clinton's issues I definitely do not agree with is his proposed national health care plan. That is, as it now stands.

Before Hillary made her announcement of the plan, I had been actively looking for an additional employee.

Not now. At least, not as the plan now stands. I could not afford the additional salary and all that goes with it, and then have the cost of health care tacked onto it.

And there's another point that bothers me. That's the fact that the federal government would be in charge of it.

As one of my fellow columnists recently pointed out, the health plan would be in the hands of the same government that was in charge of the Super Collider program.

That's scary!

Remember all the heart-rending reasons Southwestern Bell Telephone has given, during each of its past rate increase requests? In effect, the corporation just had to have more money.

Well, did anyone notice that our own Southwestern Bell Telephone is on course to put up $1,000,000,000 (that's a billion bucks) to merge with Cox Enterprises of Atlanta, for a share of the cable television business?

I guess that showed me where those extra bucks I'm paying on my monthly phone bill will be going.

Ever hear of a state's attorney general who wanted to be a surgeon general?

That's what we apparently have in Dan Morales, the Texas attorney general, who is recommending that all fast food establishments in the state ban smoking in their establishments!

For anyone to tell a business owner what he should or should not do, if he is a legal operation, is wrong. Anything like that should be left up to the owners who are paying the bills and know what their customers want and don't want.

True, there already are those businesses that don't allow smoking on their premises. But that was the owners' decision, as it should be.

As far as I'm concerned, that little shyster needs to go back to ambulance chasing.

Quiet week for police

Last week was an unusually quiet period for Iowa Park police, when compared with the three previous weeks.

Probably the most serious case officers worked was the burglary of a home in the 300 block of West Emerald.

A resident called police at 11:56 p.m. Saturday to report someone had during the past hour burglarized the residence.

An investigation indicated that someone had pried open the front door to gain entry, and then removed three rings, earrings, two cameras, a blood monitor, syringes and $60 in cash.

Though the items were all taken from a bedroom, evidence showed that the intruder had ransacked the entire home.

Friday afternoon, police were informed by a Wal-Mart manager that a woman had just left with a pair of shoes she had not paid for.

An officer stopped the Electra resident at West Highway and Washington, where the subject reportedly admitted taking the items.

Police arrested Darla Diane Thacker, 40, and she was transported to the county jail.

Two arrests were listed on the week's activity blotter.

John Edward Williams, 26, was taken into custody Friday evening in the 300 block of East Washington, on charges of assault and public intoxication. He was released at 3:05 the next day, according to the blotter entry.

Sunday afternoon, Alton Lee Hawkins, 44, was arrested on a charge of public intoxication, and released seven hours later, after paying a $280 fine.

Traffic citations were issued Tuesday afternoon to Christopher David Lee, 17, after having been cited for driving with an expired license and having no insurance coverage.

Police stopped Lee near West Highway and Magnolia, after having received reported he had been driving at an unsafe rate of speed on Park Plaza.

BEAUTIFICATION DONATIONS - George Roy, owner of Iowa Park Recycling Center, stands by more than 40 pounds of bagged aluminum cans that were taken to his business Saturday. The donated cans will be credited for payment to the Iowa Park Clean and Green beautification project. The organization has established this as an on-going fund-raising project.

NEWS FROM THE HALLS OF THE HAWKS

BRADFORD

Pig-out results

"Pig-out on Books" was the theme of a reading contest held between the fifth grade classes, and goes along with the schoolwide "Book-It" program.

Following is a list of the classes and the total number of pages read: Kasperek, 17,000; Fredrick, 15,000; Cribbs, 10,500; Cain, 10,000; Jordan, 9,000; Alsup, 8,500, and McClure, 5,000.

Students who read 600 or more pages will receive a free pizza from Pizza Hut.

Performances slated

The fifth grade choir already has two performances scheduled for December.

On Dec. 8, they will sing at 11:30 a.m. at the Friendly Door, and at 2 p.m. on Dec. 10, they will perform for the residents of Heritage Manor.

To visit Santa House

Bradford's third grade students will visit Santa House in Wichita Falls on Dec. 6 and 7.

Half of the students will go on Monday morning, and the other half on Tuesday morning.

Mickey Mouse Day

Billy Reck and S.D. Lawrence will dress up like clowns and entertain the students when they celebrate the birthday of Mickey Mouse on Nov. 18.

They are members of the clown unit from the Maskat Shrine Temple in Wichita Falls.

During the lunch hour, birthday cake will be served, and the clowns will be making balloon sculptures for the students.

Report Card Day

Bradford students took six-weeks tests last week, and report cards will be sent out today.

Teachers attend reading conference

Seven teachers from Bradford attended a reading conference on Saturday at Midwestern State University.

Taught by Bill and Phyllis Halloran, who have conducted workshops all over the world, the theme of the conference was "Children's Literature - The Foundation for Reading."

They taught a variety of motivational techniques and strategies for using good books to get students reading, writing, and thinking in all subjects.

Bradford teachers attending were Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Byrne, Mrs. Horton, Mrs. Fougeron, Mrs. Kasperek and Mrs. Schneider.

KIDWELL

Teacher of the Week

Lisa Thomson, resource teacher, is Kidwell Elementary's Teacher of the Week.

A native of Childress, Mrs. Thomson received her degree from West Texas State Univ.

She has taught seven years, four of those at Kidwell. She and her husband, Mike, have two children, Kara, 12 years old, and Megan, 11.

Mrs. Thomson said she enjoys reading and crafts as well as doing things with her husband and children.

Aide of the Week

Darlene Phillips, resource aide, has been named Aide of the Week at Kidwell.

She is a graduate of S.H. Rider High School in Wichita Falls, where she was raised. She has worked at Kidwell Elementary 11 years.

She had her husband, John, have two sons, Mike, 22, and Mark, 19, and a grandson, Justin, 1 year old.

Mrs. Phillip's hobbies include crossstitch, sewing and reading.

B&R Thriftway taking Labels for Education

B&R Thriftway will now be collecting Campbell product labels for Kidwell.

First graders visit nursing home

Mrs. Rinehart's first grade class visited Mrs. Ida Allen of Heritage Manor recently.

The students recited a poem about the turkey gobbler and sang the song "A-hunting We Will Go."

The class plans to visit Mrs. Allen on Wednesdays.

Book-It Goals Met

Mrs. Brandt's and Mrs. Hefti's second grade classes met their Book-It goals for October.

SWAPPERS - Students of the Second Grade at Kidwell Elementary last week got a lesson in trading. Each took one of their possessions, which was put on display in the cafeteria. Then, in small groups, each was allowed back into the room, where they determined which item they wanted for their own. These two swappers are Alisha Horsky, left, and Heather Anderson.

Mrs. Brandt's class read a total of 386 books and Mrs. Hefti's class read a total of 266 books.

Second Graders to visit Iowa Park Leader office

All of the second grade classes will visit the Iowa Park Leader Friday.

The students will take a tour of the office to find out first-hand how a "hometown paper" is put together.

Free turkey deadline near

Area shoppers have until Tuesday to get their names in 41 different pots for a free Thanksgiving turkey.

There are 41 different business firms in Iowa Park who are participating in the second annual free turkey promotion, coordinated by the Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce.

Each of the businesses has its own registration slips and drawing boxes, and shoppers are encouraged to register each time they are in the businesses.

Winners will have plenty of time to pick up their free frozen turkeys and thaw them out in time to be cooked for Thanksgiving.

Drawings will be held Tuesday afternoon, and the names of all the winners will be published in next week's issue of the Iowa Park Leader.

A complete list of participating businesses is as follows:

- All Occasions Flower & Gift

NATIONAL CHILDREN'S BOOK WEEK NOV. 15-20

Next week we will be celebrating this special time of the year by sharing in our American Indian Heritage. John Chapman will share with the children the art of making an item out of clay.

We will learn how our Indian ancestors created needed items with the use of clay, and the First Thanksgiving with the pilgrims.

A special program during this week will be Friday, Nov. 19 from 3:30-4:30 p.m.

Jim McNeely will share with us his program on being "Thankful". He will share how to be thankful for a lot of things you may never have thought about. This program will provide entertainment for all ages. There will be NO CHARGE for the program.

GENEALOGY WORKSHOP

Our workshop will be presented Monday, Nov. 15 by Mila Altom from 7-8:30 p.m. She will share with us her knowledge in researching the American Indian Heritage.

Subjects to be covered include: Genealogical Research to Prove Indian Bloodlines; Certificate of Degree of Indian Blood; Documentation Necessary; Where To Locate It and Problems Which May Arise; What to Do With It Once It Is Located; How and Where to Apply For a CDIB Card, and How It Can Be Used.

EVENTS COMING UP IN DECEMBER

Santa's Castle will be held Wednesday, Dec. 15. Reservations will be taken during the first week in December. Fee will be a book or a canned item in order to participate. Our theme will be "Santa Mouse".

Byrd leads Hawks past Bearcats

Iowa Park's Hawks closed out the 1993 season with a 55-6 drubbing of the Henrietta Bearcats.

And, for senior tailback Scott Byrd, it will be a game he'll always remember. After missing all of his junior year and the first two games this season with reoccurring broken bones in his feet, Byrd scored touchdowns on five of the 13 times he was handed the ball, and accounted for 145 net yards rushing.

Actually, when the game was less than two minutes old, it looked like the Hawks were going to have 55 points before halftime.

The Bearcats took the opening kickoff, and on the third play from scrimmage, Bowie Farr and Josh Johnson hit the quarterback hard enough to send the ball bouncing into Henrietta's end zone. A Bearcat covered it for a safety, giving the Hawks a 2-0 lead only 1:18 deep in the game.

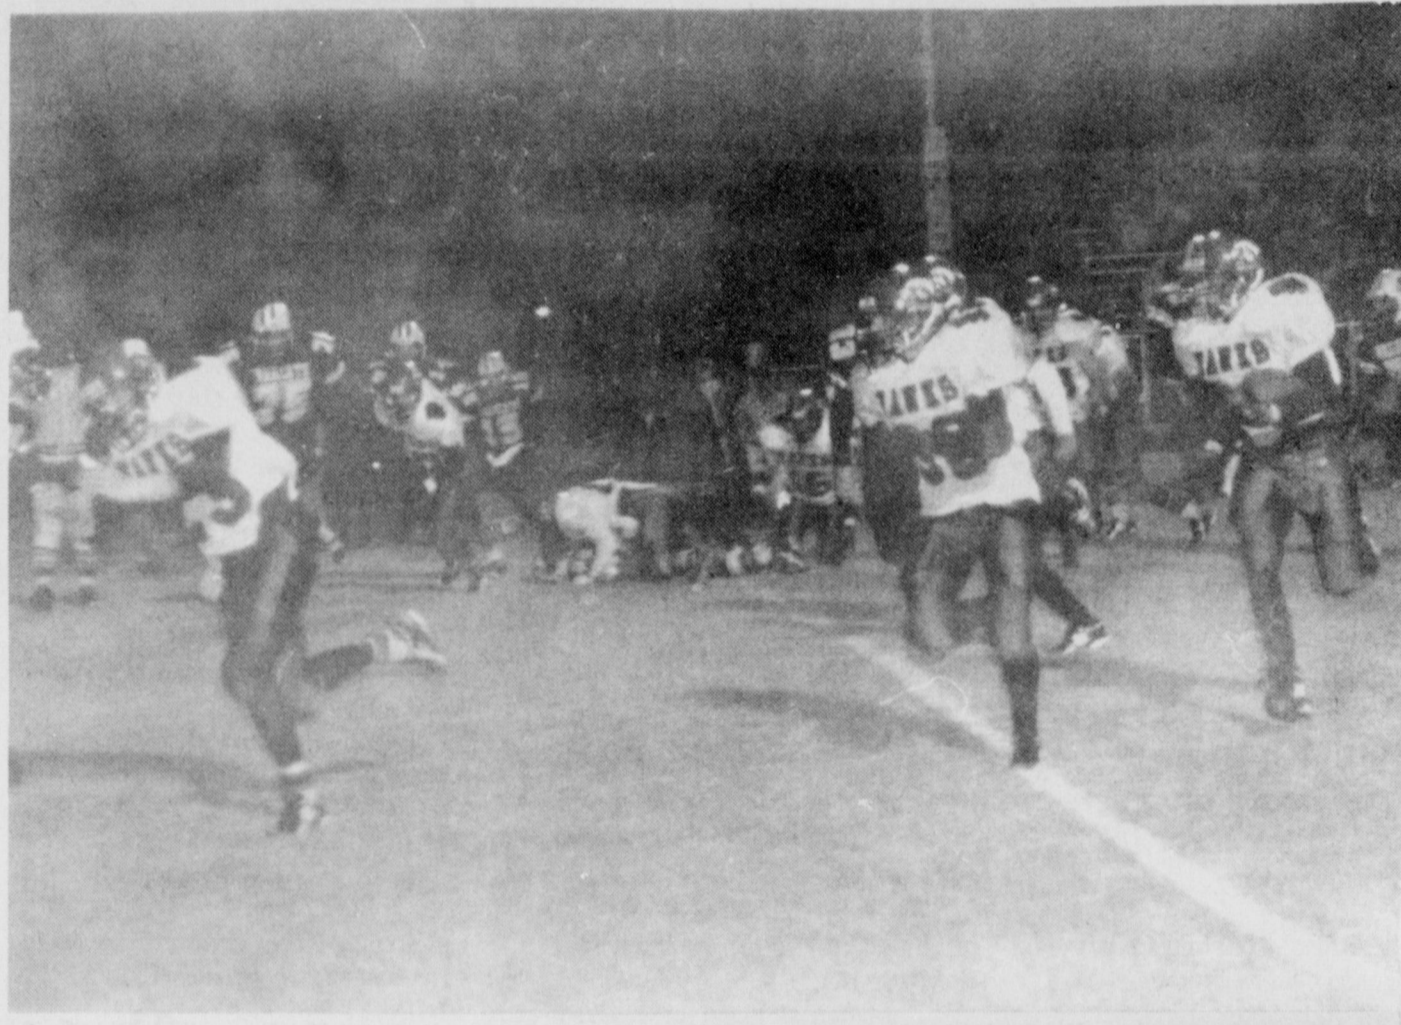

Then, after Michael Frazier had returned the following kickoff to the 'Cats' 43, Don Ellis bounced outside left end and raced untouched into the end zone. Jayson Houston's attempt to run for a two-point conversion failed, but Iowa Park held an 8-0 lead with 10:27 remaining in the first period.

But the Hawks wouldn't score again until the final 29 seconds of the opening quarter. Tony Lozipone set the touchdown up by intercepting a Bearcat pass on Henrietta's 46, and returning it to the 26. On the next play, Byrd rounded the left end and scored. Don Ellis' kick for the extra point was good, making the score 15-0.

Neither team was able to mount a sustained drive in the second quarter.

But the Hawks sent Byrd into the end zone four plays after the second half's kickoff, from 15 yards out. Brent Brown had returned the kickoff to the 50, and Houston advanced the ball 15 yards on the first play. Henrietta was assessed a 15-yard penalty at the end of Houston's run. Three plays later, Byrd's run and Ellis' kick raised the score to 22-0.

Byrd was to score twice more before the third quarter ended, on runs of 22 and 24 yards. After his 22-yarder, Ellis suffered his only missed extra point kick attempt of the entire season, when it sailed to the right of the standard. His kick was sure after the third, however, and the Hawks led 35-0 with 13:59 remaining in the game.

SCOTT BYRD FOLLOWS A CONVOY OF BLOCKERS TO HIS FIFTH TOUCHDOWN

The following kickoff brought about a frustrating situation for Brown, the team and fans. Henrietta's receiver allowed the ball to bounce off his chest, hit the ground and up into Brown's hands. He raced into the end zone, believing he had scored an easy touchdown. But an inadvertant whistle by an official, who explained he had made a mistake, gave Henrietta possession at the Bearcat 30.

Henrietta made its only series of pass completions, and marched steadily down the field, capping the drive with a 12-yard pass. The extra point failed.

Frazier returned the following kickoff to the 'Cat 38, and four plays later, Lozipone raced 28 yards around right end for his evening's touchdown.

Four plays after the following kickoff, Byrd intercepted a Bearcat pass, and five plays later, racked up his fifth TD of the evening. All five were around left end.

Ellis capped his final game as a senior with his second touchdown of the game, a four-yard scamper over left tackle.

Hawk coaches gave a couple of their seniors their wish. Linebacker Jason Maxwell was allowed to carry the ball on one play, and picked up a yard. Then, after Byrd's final touchdown, Lozipone was told he could attempt the extra point kick. But it hardly got off the ground.

For the second consecutive week, the game was played in cold and windy conditions. But, unlike the previous week, Friday night was at least snowless.

The win gave Iowa Park a season record of 4-6, and 2-3 in district, while Henrietta finished 1-9 and 0-5.

The Leaders In Excellence

Lady Hawks 11th at Lubbock

The Lady Hawk crosscountry team finished in 11th place Saturday in Lubbock, where the Region One championships were held.

Though Iowa Park earned first place in Dist. 4-AAA, runner-up Breckenridge placed 10th, with 226 points. Iowa Park had 285.

First place went to Canyon, with five finishing first through sixth places. Sanford-Fretch was second.

The top two teams and 10 individuals advance to the state meet.

Christi Welch was Iowa Park's top placer. Her 14:09.2 time was good enough for 50th among the contestants.

Randi Tigrett was 58th with 14:27.7; Brandi Catlin 61st, 14:29.9; Alora Foster 65th, 14:32.8; Dusti Welch 83rd, 15:15.6; Lori Spruiell, 15:18.4, and Briana Stalker 87th, 15:46.6.

Breckenridge's Christy Wells placed 29th, running the course in 13:28, and Tori Bradford 42st, 13:52.6.

Others from the school included: 55, Misty Chaney, 14:17.2; 63, Shelle Tongate, 14:32.1; 64, Jennifer McMillan, 14:32.4; Misty Blue, 73, 14:52.8, and 86, Misty York, 15:25.4.

Vernon's Malinda Fullerton placed 19th in 13:06.9, and Henrietta's Emily Horn 60th, 14:28.5.

In the boys' competition, Bowie placed ninth with 225 points and Henrietta was right behind them, in 10th place, with 273.

Title games slated Saturday

Round three of the Top 'O Texas playoffs for Pee Wee and Midget leagues will decide champions for 1993.

Playing Saturday in Hawk Stadium will be Henrietta Cubs vs. Burkburnett Bulldogs for the Pee Wee title at 1 p.m., followed at 3 by Quanh Braves and Burkburnett Bulldogs for the Midget crown.

Admission to the championship games will be $2 for adults and $1 for students.

Results from last week's second round included: Henrietta Cubs 26, Sheppard Cowboys 12; Quanh Braves 34, Sheppard Redskins 22; Burkburnett Bulldogs 8, Quanh Braves 0, and Burkburnett Bulldogs 22, Iowa Park East Hawks 6.

Junior High Report Card Dance

This Saturday will be the date for the second of our junior high report card dances. This is a RAC sponsored event to encourage young students to make better grades and offer them fun local entertainment. Students who make the honor roll will be admitted to the dance free. All other junior high students will be admitted for a cost of $1.50 each.

DJ and light show will be handled by Young Country Productions featuring music of all types and various prizes to be given away. The dance is to be chaperoned by parents of junior high students, staff and board members of the RAC. Any parent wishing to assist with the dance by chaperoning or bringing refreshments are encouraged to call the RAC as soon as possible. We would also be glad to answer any questions which parents may have if you will give us a call at 592-4471.

With parent and community support we can make this a very successful event for our children, and that is our goal. Thanks to all of you who have already shown your approval by working the last dance or by offering to help in the future!

Lost & Found

There has been a ladies purple jacket and a red toboggan found at the RAC. Also, a Cub Scout belt was left after the meeting of Den 6 on Tuesday. These items may be claimed in the office.

Bridge Club

Once again the bridge club played two tables this week and the high score was reported by John Clapp with 3,920 points. Louise Clapp had the second high of 3,760.

We have been missing the other club members and are hoping to see them next week.

First Aid Course

The standard first aid course has been rescheduled for Tuesday, November 16th at 7:00 p.m. The course will qualify for daycare certification and will include a challenge/refresher session in adult CPR. Cost for the course is $20 per person. Please contact the RAC to pre-register by calling 592-4471.

Food Handlers Course

The Wichita County Health Department will be doing food handlers certification at the RAC on Tuesday, November 16th at 8:30 a.m. and at 5:30 p.m. Courses will last approximately two hours and will include ID cards. Cost per person will be $10 and pre-registration is requested.

Dist. 4-AAA's two representatives in the state football playoffs will both see action Friday night. Champion Vernon will take on 9-1 Slaton at 7:30 p.m. in Slaton, and runner-up Graham will meet 6-3 Brownfield at Snyder.

ss ss ss ss ss

JBC Pigskin Picks predicts Vernon will win by nine points and Graham by 19.

ss ss ss ss ss

Vernon's only two losses this season were 14-6 to the Pampa Harvesters, who take on Plainview Friday in the Region 1 Class AAAA playoffs, and, of course, 17-14 to the Iowa Park Hawks.

ss ss ss ss ss

Bridgeport, a team that never came closer than 14 points to beating Iowa Park in the eight games they play, 1984 through 1991, made it to the playoffs this season as runner-up to Southlake Carroll. The Bulls, 9-1, play Ballinger Friday night at Stephenville.

ss ss ss ss ss

One of the teams in the Region Two playoffs is Atlanta. Believe it or not, that team lost to winner Jefferson in the final game of the season, but still advances with a 4-6 record.

ss ss ss ss ss

Holliday and Boyd will play at 7:30 tonight in Wichita Falls' Memorial Stadium.

ss ss ss ss ss

The McGregor Bulldogs are back in the playoffs again, but in Region Two Class AA. It was the Bulldogs, back in 1987, that knocked Iowa Park out at the Area level, 21-17, after trailing by a 17-0 halftime margin.

Cheerleaders' Point of View

The Cheerleaders would like to tell everyone what a great job they did this year in supporting the 1993-94 Hawks. From the Student Body involved to the Booster Club helping, to the Faculty who got a pie in their face each week. The pep rallies seemed to be a great success and that needs to go to the Student Body and what a great job you did do. Well, now that football season is over basketball is now upon us and the spirit and the support still needs to be there. Boys or girls, it doesn't matter. Freshman, Junior Varsity or Varsity. Let's keep up the good job and keep the spirit up just like you guys did in football. Good luck everyone in basketball, track, tennis, powerlifting, baseball and golf, we'll be here cheering you on. Good Luck!

1993-94 HAWK VARSITY BASKETBALL TEAM - Coached by Tim Clark, this year's edition of the Hawks is made up of six seniors, seven juniors and two sophomores. They include Jeff Fortner, 10; Derek Shewmake, 11; Brandon Ashlock, 20; Randy Schmidt, 21; John Lucas, 22; Michael Fallon, 23; Scott Graham, 30; Latham Dickens, 31; Tim Denton, 32; Rylan McNeil, 33; Brent Kotulek, 34; Brandon Black, 35; Rudy Hawkins, 40; Michael Stanford, 42, and Jason Young, 44.

Basketball season to begin

With the 1993 basketball season to get underway next week, both the girls' and boys' teams will be scrimmaging Saturday.

The boys will host Hirschi here, while the girls, who held their first scrimmage Tuesday afternoon at Electra, are to travel to Childress.

While the Hawk Freshmen are holding their scrimmage in the south gym Saturday, the Varsity and Junior Varsity will be alternating periods on the main gym's floor. That is all planned to get underway at 9:30 a.m., according to Coach Tim Clark.

The Lady Hawks will have to leave early Saturday, in order to begin their scrimmage at Childress by 10 a.m., Coach John Hoelter said. The Freshmen, Junior Varsity and Varsity all are to see action.

First regular-season game for the three girls' teams will be Tuesday, when they travel to Wichita Falls High. The Frosh are to begin at 4:30 p.m.

The Hawk Varsity will wait until Friday of next week for their season-opener. The Varsity and Frosh are to travel to Nocona, as will the Varsity and Junior Varsity Lady Hawks. First game of the trip is scheduled at 4 p.m.

The Hawk Freshmen are to get an early start on the Varsity, however. That group is to host Burkburnett at 4 p.m. Tuesday.

The Hawk JV will open the season in tournament play, when they travel to Seymour. Dates of that meet are next Thursday through Saturday.

Boosters to observe basketball's start

In recognition of the beginning of the basketball season, the Athletic Booster Club will meet Monday in the high school gymnasium.

To begin at 7 p.m., those who attend are asked to enter through the west doors nearest the swimming pool.

A special encouragement for all parents of players to attend has been made.

Mrs. Pace recalls the past Continued from page 1

without burning myself. And, to pour it into the large white china bowl on the washstand, using water from the nearby pitcher, if it needed cooling. With the handy bar of soap near the wash bowl, everything was ready for my 'sponge bath'."

She looked around the room and saw they had been furnished a "white American vessel", more commonly called a "slop jar", which they could use at night.

Perle was amused as she related that she and her roommate took turns singing while the "vessel" was used at night, because of the thin walls between the bedrooms.

The little wooden privy, located at the far end of the lot, that was furnished with a Sears Roebuck catalog, was used in the day time. But, Perle said, "My roommate and I could adjust very well to these primitive conditions and look forward to the next year when Iowa Park would have running water in the house and a city sewer system."

Perle remembered that at their first faculty meeting they learned the high school must attain its affiliation or accreditation. At the time they did not realize how much work by the teachers and high school students would be required.

They signed to teach a nine-month school term for $125 per month. They were also required at that time to sign another agreement.

"We were required to sign not to take more than one night 'off' during the school week, to spend our time preparing lessons, grading papers, attending school meetings or programs. We also had to promise we would not dance," Mrs. Pace said.

They soon found out they didn't have any spare time because it was taken up with the work of obtaining accreditation. That may have been a built-in way of being sure they weren't able to go anywhere on school nights.

On the weekends the teachers had a variety of things they could do. But, teachers activities were closely watched by Bradford and school board members.

One weekend in particular stands out in Perle's mind. She related the incident, "All eight teachers in the school system and their dates were invited to attend a party at Sunshine Hill.

"When we arrived at the party we found beer iced down in tubs and the guests were 'wild oilfield' dancing. Since we had signed our agreement not to dance, we did not tarry long after we realized this was not our kind of entertainment."

They found out news traveled fast. Perle said the board had an early session the next morning and the teachers were all called into Bradford's office.

"But, Mr. Bradford told us he knew we didn't know the kind of event that party would be, but that in the future we must be more careful about the invitations we accepted," Perle said.

Perle has good reason to remember the first PTA meeting after she came here. It was a pie supper and in those days people parked their cars near the school building. "I noticed that many of the young men were buying pies and then I noticed they were slicing them and throwing them on the cars," she related.

The next morning she was called to Bradford's office to witness punishment he was to give 14 of them who had thrown pies. He used the strap on them.

She had been asked to be "acting principal" the first year. In that capacity she was asked to witness the application of the strap. "It seemed awful for him to have to do this. But he had to do some things he didn't want to do because he had to enforce good discipline (almost unheard of now). That was one of the things that our affiliation depended on," Perle explained. "Believe me, we had good discipline, which is absolutely necessary if one is to teach effectively."

The teachers were expected to behave properly, but so were the students.

Teachers had to arrive promptly at 8:15 a.m. and worked until nearly dark. "After classes dismissed at 3:30 p.m. we stayed in our rooms to plan the next day's lesson and help those students who were there to receive help, and to 'keep in' those who had caused discipline problems. After supper we worked at home on grading papers and notebooks until 11 o'clock or after," Perle said.

Because they were working for affiliation, many notebooks, themes, test papers and semester exam papers were sent periodically to the committee on affiliation at Austin.

"Most of the students cooperated with the high school teachers. We had to make hard assignments. It was tense times for both teachers and pupils, but the students realized what was at stake. We all dreaded the unexpected visits several times a year from the state committee," Perle said.

She said her greatest problem was teaching physiology without a well equipped laboratory. "I would send two boys out to kill rabbits and bring them to the lab so the students could dissect them, study their organs and compare them to those of humans. Because of the dissecting, my class was very popular with the boys. Some of the girls would get sick and some just said, 'I can't take this,'" Perle said.

"I received affiliation in my three history classes and two science classes. By the end of two years we had received 16 units of affiliation. This meant Iowa Park High School graduates would receive diplomas which would entitle them to enter any state college or university in Texas without having to take entrance exams," Perle said, adding "there was a lot of celebrating among students, teachers and Mr. Bradford."

... as a teacher here in 1921.

Perle mused, "Since then the ideals of these diligent and dedicated predecessors have been perpetuated by those who have come after."

The second year Perle taught in Iowa Park she stayed with Lottie Lochridge and her husband.

"As we were sitting on her front porch one evening, we saw a Mr. Tom Pace drive by. Lottie exclaimed, 'There goes the most eligible man in town,'" Perle related.

I had known his brother, Caperton, at SMU, but he was called into service in WWII.

Perle had never had to sit and wait for someone to call her for a date. There were so many men in town that sometimes they would go to the school to get a date with the teachers to beat someone else having a chance to ask them out.

She remembered that Edna Love first introduced her to Thomas Pace and he became one of her "boy friends". "But I 'played the field' before I settled on Tom," Perle laughed. She commented that she dated the late Carroll Duke who old-timers here will remember. "But I was very particular who I dated."

After Perle and Tom started going together he began taking her to school, especially during inclement weather. "I enjoyed going out with many available young men, but my school work always came first.

"I soon found out I had a lot in common with Tom. He was a member of the Methodist Church as was I, and he was close to his brother Caperton, he had taught school, and the way things worked out, I gradually went with Tom more than any other man".

She recalled one time when the teachers and their boy friends went for an outing to Medicine Park, accompanied by Mamie Dale as a chaperone.

Laughing, Perle said, "It began raining on us before we got to Lawton. The old Model-T Ford truck Tom was driving would hit 'high center'. The other men would get out and pick the truck up off high center by the four fenders. We finally spent the night in Lawton."

Perle said, "Tom finally asked me to marry him, and as was the custom in those days, he went to Dallas to ask my parents for me. They were pleased with my choice, so we were married a year later, on Dec. 26, 1923."

In addition to Perle being called a "spitfire", whether she deserved the moniker or not, she also displayed a certain dauntlessness (which she still shows today) when she decided to have a tonsilectomy during the Christmas holidays from school. She had her tonsils out on Tuesday and was married on Thursday.

She went back to teaching, but needed more rest and Tom thought she should resign, so she did after finishing that semester.

Pace was a native of the Valley View area, his first home was a half-dugout on the Pace farm near the Big Wichita River.

His parents encouraged their children to receive as much education as possible to prepare for life. Tom received his degree from Southwestern University.

After receiving his degree he was principal and coach of Belton High School three years. He also served in WWII and was commissioned second lieutenant. When the oil boom hit Iowa Park, Tom purchased a drilling rig and was in the oil business several years and continued to farm.

When Perle and Tom built their frame home on Jackson Street, which is the one she still lives in, it was still pasture land and was called "prairie dog town". Magnolia which is the cross street just north of their property was not a street at that time.

They later bricked the home and added a den and a second bath. She now has a rent house and garage apartment west of her home.

Pace had been mayor of Iowa Park and Perle said at one time there were former mayors living on the four corners of their block. They were Pace, Dr. Gordon G. Clark, Fenton Dale and Noel McKinney.

Tom and Perle's first child, Thomas, came along five years after their marriage, and in another five years they had a son, Bob. When the boys were older they built a tennis court and a croquet court on their lots. "Many of our sons' friends would come to our house to play tennis and croquet. We also had a pony they rode until he bucked them off," Perle remembered.

Mrs. Pace grew up in a very happy home and wanted her boys to have the same kind of home she had.

Her own father died when Perle was only six weeks old. He had gone hunting with friends when they lived in Cooke County. He picked up a gun and it accidentally fired the shot that proved fatal for him.

Her mother later married a Methodist minister, O.P. Kiker, whose wife had died. At one time he was minister of the Iowa Park Methodist Church.

Perle's mother was a milliner (for readers who may not be familiar with the early-day term), she designed, made, trimmed and sold hats. Perle remembers all of the beautiful ones she made and the ones she wore.

When her sons were in school, Perle was active in school activities. "Our lives in those days were built around our family, church and school," she said. She remembered that she and the late Gladys James raised the money for Iowa Park's first school band.

She had a lot of praise for the Wichita County Fair (later Texas-Oklahoma Fair). "It certainly was a success. The fair was closely connected with the school. The juniors and seniors always had concession stands at the fair and the seniors made money for their trip to Mexico.

"I remember working with other room mothers in the senior's booth until 2 in the morning. One week we sold 2100 hamburgers. Those seniors probably have never forgotten their trips," Perle said.

She believes the fair here was superior to any she knew of because the whole town cooperated, and people were willing to give of their time to make it a success.

Mrs. Pace was a member of the Lioness Club and among the first members of the '23 Study Club that has just observed its 70 anniversary. She also served on the TB board for a number of years. At one time she managed nine rent houses they owned. She loved to work in her yard as long as she could.

In her conversation Perle continually thought of something else that "makes Iowa Park such a wonderful place to live". She mentioned a number of things she says Iowa Park can boast about that so many towns of its size does not have.

She says she is so thankful for "our good schools, our wonderful churches, the Friendly Door for senior citizens, and for the Park Clinic and its staff, and all of their capabilities to serve our city. So many smaller towns are not so fortunate. We certainly should count our blessings."

"Many older citizens of Iowa Park remember Mr. Bradford, Miss Ethyle Kidwell, Grace Reaves and others who 'gave so much of their lives in support of our school system, which we are so proud of. I am now 96 years old and I certainly remember what they contributed to our schools and community.

Both Perle and her husband through the years have done many philanthropic deeds also, which she continues today. They were always interested in helping those who were deserving and assisting others to get an education.

Perle is thankful for her good health. She no longer takes blood pressure medicine and she attributes that to eating many fruits and vegetables. "I also ride a stationary bike for 30 minutes each day."

She does a lot of reading and is especially interested in scientific articles. She took a pre-med course in college and comes from a family of doctors.

Pace was a charter member of Wichita County Farm Bureau. He was on the Board of Directors of the Hardin Foundation that made it possible for needy and worthy students to receive assistance in attending Midwestern State University. He served as general manager of Wichita County Water Improvement District #2 from 1936 until 1949, and was instrumental in District #2 receiving a loan from the Reconstruction Finance Corp., to call in outstanding indebtedness, and was cited by the board of directors for "saving and redeeming the District"

He was chairman of the Wilbarger-Wichita Soil Conservation District Board of Directors. When the need arose for a soil conservation building, Pace raised most of the money for it from friends. After his death the senate in session gave him a "Standing Vote of Recognition" for his outstanding work in the agricultural development of the area.

His son, Thomas, was salutatorian of his class and got his degree from Southwestern University where his dad graduated. He taught high school two years, then several years at Midwestern University.

He got his PhD in Denver and while there met a professor that took a special interest in him and had him teaching classes under him. The professor changed to Southwestern Illinois University and took Thomas with him. He has taught there 24 years and will retire next summer.

Bob lives in Wichita Falls. When he was a senior he was manager of the high school annual and had a dark room back of their garage. He made many pictures for the annual and for his friends.

Bob went to SMU, his mother's alma mater, and received his law degree. He was a member of the staff of Southwestern Legal Foundation. Bob is a member of the Sherrill and Pace law firm and has his office at Parker Square Bank where he is president of the bank board.

Perle's 96 years have taken some toll on her body, but not on her mind. She has a great memory, is still in control of how she wants to live her life and as the years pass, she is even more thankful than ever for the 72 years she has been able to call the former little oil town with its dusty or muddy roads, home, and the 54 happy years she had with "the most eligible man in town".

PUBLIC NOTICE

There are not any certified Black Belts in the Tracy System of Kenpo Karate teaching in Iowa Park, Texas. Nor are there any instructors of any rank authorized to teach the Tracy System in Iowa Park.

BUYER BEWARE: When choosing a karate instructor, be sure to look for the following:

1. Certification - there are many self-proclaimed "black belts." Always check credentials.
2. National organization - don't be fooled by someone with little or no experience who has only made-up their own "system," or is illegally teaching another.
3. Reputation and reliability - check with other students who have taken lessons for a while.

REMEMBER: Anyone can strap on a black belt and claim to be a karate instructor. They can even order karate supplies and mail-order certificates to appear legitimate. It's up to you to protect yourself from fraud. DON'T BE CONNED!

Come by to see our studio and talk to trained instructors. We'll be happy to answer your questions and make it worth the drive.

Mrs. Morris Commander

Talking with this week's featured cook, Robin (Mrs. Morris) Commander, it becomes evident that she is an active, vivacious woman with a love for cooking, among other things. She and her husband of six and a half years moved to just east of Iowa Park almost a year ago.

Both appear to have many irons in the fire, and seem to love it. At their home here, they have an orchard for fruit production, including pecans, peaches and apples. They also have a catfish farm in Elkhart.

Mrs. Commander is owner of Commander Quality Products, which includes a line of security products as well as a ceramic studio. Morris is a certified public accountant and vice president of United Electric.

Robin is originally from Scranton, Pa., where she lived 25 years.

She said she loves to cook, which apparently runs in her family. Many of her recipes come from family and have stories that go with them.

The recipe for Chalah, for instance, is a bread taken with wine on Fridays, the Jewish Sabbath. That recipe won Robin an award for Best All-Around Food at the Crockett County Fair.

The recipe for Mom's Chicken Soup (or Jewish Penicillin) is obviously one of her favorites. She said the recipe has been in her family for a long time, and she remembers her grandmother making it for the sick. It is also quite healthy otherwise. With a clear broth, since the fat is skimmed off, it is a low fat dish.

Together, the couple enjoys cooking, deer hunting, camping, fishing and hiking.

Robin said she also enjoys romance novels and doing ceramics.

Chalah

- 3 Tbsp. sugar
- 1 pkg. yeast
- 1/4 cup warm water
- 6 Tbsp. oil
- 2 large eggs
- 3 1/4 cup flour
- 1 1/2 tsp. salt
- Sesame seeds

Stir 1 tsp. sugar, yeast and 1/4 cup warm water. Let rise for 10 minutes.

Mix with wisk, 1/2 cups cold water, oil and 1 egg. Mix into yeast mixture back and forth.

Mix flour salt and sugar. Add wet ingredients slowly.

Let rise 90 minutes on hot dryer. Cover bowl with very hot damp Turkish towel. After 90 minutes, punch. Repeat covering and let set 45 minutes and punch. Set again for 45 minutes. Roll out dough, but not too thin.

Cut into three strips and braid.

Take egg with pinch of salt and mix. Brush on dough. Cover with sesame seeds. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes on greased cookie sheet. Some bake at 375 degree for 35 minutes.

Steamed Carrots

- 1 Tbsp. oil
- 2 Tbsp. water
- 1 onion, chopped
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. pepper
- 1 tsp. parsley flakes
- 1/2 tsp. garlic salt
- 2 Tbsp. margarine
- 1 pkg. carrots

Prepare carrots and slice diagonally. Use pot with a lid. Cook carrots and all other ingredients in pot at low-est setting for one hour. Stir frequently. When stirring, hold lid over carrots so the moisture can stay in pot.

Mom's Chicken Soup or Jewish Penicillin

- 8 cups water
- 1 whole chicken breast
- 2 or 3 carrots (peeled)
- 1 celery stick
- 1 parsnip (peeled) looks like white carrot
- 1/2 bunch of parsley or cilantro, tied together
- 1 small onion, peel but don't cut bottom
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 1 pkg. thin egg noodles

Put chicken and salt in water and bring to a boil. When it boils, fat comes to the top. Skim off fat and throw away.

Add carrots, celery and parsnip, then onion. Add a little bit of pepper and parsley on top. Cover and simmer about two hours.

Remove all vegetables except carrots and throw away. Cut up carrots.

Break up the chicken meat and either return to broth or use for a second meal. (Very good heated in a little oil with diced onions or for sandwiches.)

Cup the noodles, but do not put them in the soup. Put noodles in the bowl then add soup when ready to eat. Never put the noodles directly in the pot of soup.

Joan's Cheese Cake (New York Style)

- 4-8 oz. bars cream cheese
- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 6 beaten eggs
- 1/4 lb. melted butter
- 3 Tbsp. corn starch
- 3 Tbsp. vanilla
- Juice of 1 lemon
- 1 1/2 pints sour cream
- 1 can drained cherries

Butter 10-inch spring form pan. Spread the very well-drained cherries on the bottom and set aside.

Combine cream cheese and sugar in large mixing bowl. Add remaining ingredients, mixing thoroughly after each addition.

Pour into pan and bake in 350 degree oven one hour. Turn off heat and hour and leave in oven overnight.

Jimmy Carter Cake

- Crust:
- 1 cup flour
  - 1 stick butter, melted
  - 2/3 cup chopped nuts
- Mix together. Press into greased 13 1/2X9X3-inch pan. Bake 20 minutes at 350 degrees. Cool.

- 1st Layer:
- 1/3 cups peanut butter
  - 1-8 oz. pkg. cream cheese, softened
  - 1 cup powdered sugar
  - 1 cup Cool Whip

Mix first three ingredients. Fold in Cool Whip. Spread on cooled crust.

- 2nd Layer:
- Mix 1 1/2 cups milk and one small package of instant chocolate pudding. Let set.

- 3rd Layer:
- Mix 1 1/2 cups milk and one small package of instant vanilla pudding. Layer second and third layers on first. Top with Cool Whip and grated chocolate. Refrigerate.

Pickled Peppers

- In a one quart container put:
- 6 garlic cloves
  - About 1/2 small onion
  - 1/4 tsp. salt
  - 1/4 tsp. pepper
  - 1/4 tsp. tumeric
  - 1/4 tsp. powdered alum
- Put in peppers, (I use sweet banana peppers) and fill with vinegar. Seal the container and bathe it.

Young Farmers taking Thanksgiving orders

The Wichita County Young Farmers have come up with an idea on how to make cooking for Thanksgiving a little easier, and at the same time raise funds they expend on youth of the county.

They will be taking orders for all kinds of meats to be smoked for family Thanksgiving meals. The meats will be cooked Saturday, Nov. 20, to be picked up that afternoon.

Several Young Farmer members will have their smokers at the corner of Yosemite and Bank, where the cooking will be done.

The organization is publishing two different advertisements in this week's issue of the Leader, listing the meats, which include turkey, ham, brisket, chicken and pork ribs, and prices.

PRESENTS BANNER - Iowa Parkan Jim Grove presented Iowa Park Optimist Club president Lisa Bushfield the banner which declares the organization of the home club of the district governor, a position Grove accepted recently.

Boy Scouts to begin food drive

Boys Scouts will begin their drive to collect food for the Iowa Park Food Bank this week.

The scouts will drop off bags at homes in Iowa Park Saturday morning for residents to fill with non-perishable food items.

They will return to pick of the bags next Saturday morning.

Karla Hopper, food drive chairman, said boxes will also be put out at both grocery stores in Iowa Park for those who wish to donate there.

Any resident who does not receive a bag and would like to should contact Mrs. Hopper, 592-2648, or Richard Hicks, Cubmaster.

All food donated will go to the Iowa Park Food Bank for needy families during the holiday season.

RETIREMENT PLANS - Last week I discussed two types of retirement plans available to self-employed persons. Here is a little more information on each.

SIMPLIFIED EMPLOYEE PENSION (SEP) PLAN is similar to an IRA but allows for contributions up to 15% of compensation or $30,000. The contribution is determined annually by the employer and is made on behalf of both the employer and the employees. Usually all employees over 21 participate in the plan, including part-time employees. The plan must be established and funded prior to the tax filing deadline.

KEOGH QUALIFIED RETIREMENT PLAN is more complex and allows for possible tax benefits upon distributions at retirement. It also allows for contributions up to $30,000 based on a percentage of income depending on how the plan is established. Usually all employees over 21 participate in the plan; however part-time employees may be excluded. The plan must be established prior to the close of the business tax year (usually December 31), and funded before the tax filing deadline.
