Council acts to help first-time home buyers

A resolution designating the month of April as Fair Housing Month and supporting fair housing activities within the city was approved Monday night during a regular meeting of the city council.

The resolution helps lay a foundation for the city to qualify for a for a state program grant that assists first-time home buyers with the purchase of a new home.

Under the program, a maximum of $10,000 will be provided to as many as five families, and can be used for down payment assistance and closing costs. Also in the program is the owner occupied housing assistance program which will loan up to $11,900 to 20 people to rehabilitate existing housing. Eligibility is based on income.

The city should know in the near future if it has qualified for the program.

The first public hearing to consider the annexation of property on South Victoria was held. The second hearing will be held during a called meeting at 7 p.m. next Monday.

Council members authorized City Administrator Mike Price to advertise for bids on grazing rights on a 6.25 acre tract of land on the southeast side of Lake Iowa Park. The property will be leased to the highest bidder, with the understanding that they will build a fence.

Mayor Wayne House was authorized to sign a contract with Governmental Service Agency, Inc. to provide administrative services for the 1993 Texas Community Development Program Project. The project will replace the sewer main on Chestnut Street from South Wall to the waste water treatment plant.

In other action taken, Laura Perkins, D.A.R.E. officer and Crime Prevention program officer for the Iowa Park Police Department, was recognized as Employee of the Month for February. Council members agreed to the use of council chambers for a defensive driving course.

Discussion was held on the adoption of a curfew ordinance, and the rate increase that the City of Wichita Falls is proposing for treated water.

Through the years with Grace Reaves

By MYRNA SMITH

It seems educators continue to teach and learn long after they leave the classroom.

Approaching her 95th birthday, Grace Mills Reaves, blessed with good eyesight, is still an avid reader, has an affinity for collecting, and can weave a tapestry of memories that takes you on a trip back to the early 20th century or on a vicarious journey almost entirely around the world.

Mrs. Reaves is possibly the oldest resident in Iowa Park who was born here, and is the member whose name has been on the rolls of First Baptist Church the longest--since she was 14 years old.

Grace was born on the Mills farm two and one-half miles northwest of Iowa Park, near what later became known as Wigley Park and is now a state rest stop. A portion of Lake Iowa Park was on their land.

Her father, George Mills, a teacher, came west in 1896 from Kentucky. He was teaching in Indian Territory when he met his future bride.

After their marriage in 1898, they came to Wichita County where they bought a farm. After Mills began farming he never taught school again. Grace, the oldest of three children, was born in September 1899.

She started to Harmony school on Harmony Road north of their farm. The Mills lived in a three room house, but the one teacher that taught at Harmony stayed with them. "I don't remember how we all slept there, but we managed some way," Grace said.

Grace attended Harmony school until she was in the sixth grade. She still remembers the white horse named Topsy that she and her brother Herman, rode to school.

Grace recalls that their closest neighbors were the Van Homs, Parkers, Halls and Mitchells.

She remembers how much fun she and her brother would have coming to town in the buggy after supplies. "Herman would drive and I would whip," Grace relates.

They would always take their horse and buggy to Butcher's wagon yard that was located near the corner of Yosemite, between Yosemite and Jackson Streets while they did some of their shopping.

But, as she remembers at that time the streets were not named. "They were just old dirt roads and we knew where everything was so we didn't need to know a name," Grace said, "they were just dusty or muddy, depending on the weather."

She recalls how chagrined she was one time when they went to buy groceries at Jim Hines Grocery Store. She had her hands full of supplies and as she started to get in the buggy her foot slipped and she fell.

"Groceries went in all directions and people came running to see if I was hurt, I wasn't, just my pride," Grace laughed. She added, "I guess I was pretty fortunate that I never had any broken bones until in 1990 when I broke my hip."

She reached the sixth grade in 1910 and her father bought a house in town so she and her siblings could go to school in Iowa Park. That was the house that is on the northeast corner of Alameda and Colorado Streets just west of what was then the Howard Hines house. When he moved to Wichita Falls Mills also bought that block of land.

Mills brought his horse and a cow to town with him, but left his other livestock on the farm. She related how all of the neighbors used to gather to help her dad at hog-killing time and then he would always help them when they butchered.

Grace said even after her dad bought a car he still rode his horse to work.

He had a real estate office with Bill Burnett in the early day First National Bank building.

Grace's mother died at an early age and Grace became the housekeeper until her daddy's parents came to live with them. His sister, who some people will still remember as Aunt Polly Hale, also came to live with them. Before long another of his sisters, Lucy, joined them and she eventually was married to an early pioneer here, John Bell, after his first wife died.

When the Mills moved into town, Iowa Park had no utilities. "We had two cisterns to catch rainwater, we used coal oil lamps and burned coal for fuel.

"This was all grazing land and a regular prairie dog town. They would eat up my dad's lettuce in his garden. We had to kill prairie dogs for several years.

"The Winfreys had a large home up the hill not far from here. It was the model home for Iowa Park at that time, until the Georges moved into town and built their beautiful homes and Tom Burnett built his spacious brick home near here," Grace reminisced. That home, built in 1922, is now Tom Burnett Memorial Library.

She said in the early days most of the businesses were built south of the railroad tracks. After a fire destroyed most of them they were rebuilt north of the railroad.

One of the early businesses she remembers real well was the Overbey - Troutman store. Around the time the Mills moved to town W.W. Overbey built several buildings at the west end of Cash Street on the north side and opened at general store.

Grace remembers their grocery store was very popular because they delivered groceries to the homes.

Overbey's daughter married Carl Troutman and he joined Overbey in the business. Both families later moved to Colorado, she recalled, and when Overbey's son, H. Reaves Overbey returned from World War I he took over the management of the Overbey property. A dry goods store was opened by the owners on the east side of the existing business.

"When we moved to town there weren't any sidewalks, oh maybe some wooden ones, but I remember when they built the concrete sidewalks," Grace related.

"There was only one barber shop in town and it belonged to Sam Williams. Later there were three. They were owned by Curtis Sewell, Homer Blalock and Forrest Bates," she recalled, and added that the barber shops stayed open late every Saturday night.

Mrs. Reaves entered the sixth grade in Iowa Park in 1910 when there were only 11 grades. She graduated at age 15 in 1915 with a class of 16 students. She said Ernest Birk was valedictorian and she was salutatorian of their graduating class.

Through high school Grace was best friends with Jean (Mitchell) Denny and Lottie (Denny) Lochridge. She remembered that some of the best times she had growing up were in the Denny home.

She commented with a touch of sorrow in her voice that the only one of the nine children of the L.C. Denny's still living are Earle and his sister, Marie Callon, both of Iowa Park.

L.C. Denny and his brother, S.L., like Mills, came to Texas from Kentucky. They came in the early days of Iowa Park when it was known as Daggett Switch, and settled southwest of town near what is now Valley View. That particular area became known as the Denny Community, Grace said.

As an afterthought, she said one of the L.C. Denny grandsons, Louie McCarthy, son of Marie Callon, now lives in that area where Bill and Maggie (Denny) Burnett lived in the early years of the area.

Grace had a mischievous glint in RESERVE BREED CHAMPION - Barry McCord, a junior at Iowa Park High School and FFA member, took home the Reserve Breed Champion title early this month at the Houston Livestock Show Junior Market Barrow Show with Butch, a 223-pound Berkshire barrow. This was the first time McCord has exhibited swine at the Houston event. He is the son of Craig and Dana McCord of Iowa Park.

according to Virgil Woodfin.

The moisture fell primarily in the form of a light drizzle.

Mrs. Kevin Alton Armstrong
(Chasti Gay Hrcirik)

Hrcirik, Armstrong wed in double-ring ceremony

Miss Chasti Gay Hrcirik became the bride of Kevin Alton Armstrong of Wichita Falls in a double ring ceremony performed Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

Justice of the Peace Janice Sons of Wichita Falls directed the recitation of vows at First Christian Church of Iowa Park.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rocky Morris of Iowa Park and Bill Hrcirik of Wichita Falls. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Polvadore of Wichita Falls and Mr. and Mrs. Allan Armstrong of Colorado Springs, Colo.

Twin all-white floral arrangements accented either side of the altar. Traditional wedding music was provided by Dave Bridgers.

The bride's father presented her for marriage. She was attired in a full length gown of ivory, embellished with brocade lace sprinkled with teardrop pearls. Her matching full length train of brocade lace repeated the teardrop pearl trim. She carried a bouquet of ivory roses and greenery nestled in a bed of net and lace ribbons accented with sprays of pearls.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Misti Hrcirik of Wichita Falls. Bridesmaids were Patricia Ensey of Burkburnett, and LeeAnn Compton of Wichita Falls. They wore identical full length, straight line gowns of black.

Ashley Grant of Wichita Falls served as flower girl and Macey Ayres of Holliday was ring bearer.

Mike Burnett of Wichita Falls was best man. Ushers and groomsmen were Scott Jones and Glenn Chitwood, both of Burkburnett and Nash Gann and Timmy Polvadore, both of Wichita Falls.

The reception was held in fellowship hall of the church. Tagan Gunn and Carrie Polvadore, the groom's sister, secured signatures of guests in the white lace covered bride's book that was trimmed with ribbons and pearls.

A three-tiered bride's cake was set on each side with heart shaped cakes that were connected by black and white ribbon extending from the top tier. The cakes were accented with black flowers.

Presiding at the bride's table were Tammy Gann, B Kay Mummert, Vickie Duffey, Stacie Grant, Bonnie Blossman, and Tonya Woods.

The groom's double layered chocolate cake was accented with chocolate covered strawberries.

The groom's parents hosted the rehearsal barbecue dinner Thursday in fellowship hall, catered by Stanley's.

Mrs. Armstrong is a 1992 graduate of Iowa Park High School and Vernon Regional Junior College.

Armstrong graduated Wichita Falls High School in 1988 and Midwestern State University. He is an alumnus of Kappa Sigma fraternity. He will graduate from MSU in May with a chemical technology degree.

The couple will make their home in Iowa Park and will take a wedding trip at a later date.

GENEALOGY WORKSHOP

Monday, March 21, is the date for our next workshop. Robert Hyde will present our program, entitled "Mormon Family History Library". He will fill us in on the information available at the library, that is now located in Wichita Falls. Make plans to join us from 7-8:30 p.m.

TAX FORMS

The deadline for filling out tax forms is drawing nearer. If you are needing a form that is not in your booklet; check with the librarian for a master copy. Copies can be made for 15 cents.

THANK YOU

To everyone who participated in our special Spring Break Storytime by the Silly Sneakers group, we would like to say "Thank You". It is always hard to plan extra programs, because we never know what the attendance will be. These programs are free to the public, but there is an expense to the library, so we truly appreciate your participation.

NEW NEIGHBORS

To our New Neighbors in Iowa Park, we would like to share a little information with you. If you have not been by the Tom Burnett Memorial Library to receive a library card, we invite you to do so soon. You will find that the library is a very relaxing place to come.

Our hours are Tuesday and Thursday 10 a.m.-8 p.m.; Wednesday and Friday, 10 a.m.-5 p.m., and Saturday 10 a.m.-2 p.m.

To receive a library card, we ask that you have an Iowa Park mailing address, work or go to school here.

If you have pre-schoolers at home we offer several storytime classes. On Tuesday there are two classes, 9-9:30 a.m. and 10-10:30 a.m.; Thursday 1-1:30 p.m. and Friday 9-9:30 a.m. If you have any questions please call 592-4981 for more information.

Dietary guidelines given

The social aspects of eating are important. Let's not forget that eating is fun and keep it that way says Barbara Fangmann, Wichita County Extension Agent. Take time to enjoy meals with your family and friends. Try new foods and preparation methods--you may discover new favorites! Making eating pleasurable as well as healthful promotes a feeling of well being.

Some points to keep in mind when using the dietary guidelines are as follows:

■ The Dietary Guidelines apply to your total diet, not just one food, one meal, or even one day, but all food choices over time;

■ The dietary Guidelines work together to help you choose a healthy diet. Choosing a diet with plenty of vegetables, fruits and grain products will help you lower your fat intake.

A diet low in fat and moderate sugars (and alcohol, if you drink) will help you maintain a healthy weight. Choosing foods with less fat will make room for calories from the variety of foods you need to get enough protein, vitamins and minerals;

■ You don't have to give up favorite foods. No single food is "good" or "bad" by itself. It's how it fits into your total diet that counts;

■ Balance your choices. Here's an example of balancing fat. If you choose whole milk rather than skim, you can balance your fat intake by saving the calories from two teaspoons of fat in your day's meals.

For instance, skip the sour cream or butter on a baked potato. If you enjoy ice cream, have some; just remember to eat lower fat foods at another meal to balance your fat intake.

Other options are to eat less of the high-fat choice or eat it less often or choose a lower fat alternative such as frozen yogurt instead of ice cream.

The running or roaming at large of any dog, cat or other animal within the city has been declared a nuisance and positively prohibited, and it has been made unlawful and deemed a Class C misdemeanor for the owner or keeper of any dog, cat or other animal to allow the same to run or roam at large within the city.

LOOK WHO'S NEW

Pierce

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Pierce of Iowa Park are the parents of a daughter, Nicole Leigh, born March 9 at Wichita General Hospital. She weighed seven pounds, two ounces, and was 20 and one-fourth inches long. Mrs. Pierce is the former Michelle Branscum.

Grandparents are Lee and Sharon Branscum of Iowa Park and Carolyn Souther of Electra.

Great-grandparents are Raymond and Jewell Holley of DeQueen, Ark., and Wanda Bowen and the late J.M. Bowen of Iowa Park.

Carter

A son, Kase Dalton Carter, was born March 12 to Kaye Carter and Danny Ainsworth. He weighed five pounds, 11 ounces and was 17 1/2 inches long.

Grandparents are Ken Carter and the late Pat Carter, and Dan and Earlene Ainsworth. Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Carter and Faye Cato.

Birdwatching encouraged by speaker

Mrs. Sam Hunter spoke to members of Amity Study Club about Birding at a meeting Monday in the home of Mrs. Gary Rusk, encouraging them to be birdwatchers.

A member of the North America Bluebird Society, Texas Ornithological Society and North Texas Bird and Wildlife Club, Mrs. Hunter showed slides of birds found in Wichita County.

She reminded members that Iowa Park is classified as a bird sanctuary and that 60-65 species of birds can be found here year-around. Many of the birds are on the protected list, she said.

Mrs. Hunter, who has been a bird watcher all of her life, said she recognized the bird songs before she recognized the birds they belonged to.

She especially is interested in promoting protection education and methods to encourage bluebirds to this area through Bluebird Trails and nesting boxes.

Birding can be just as much or just as little as you want it to be, Mrs. Hunter said.

Amy Brown, club president, read the meditation, "Heaven's Grocery Store" and led the business meeting.

Marilyn Hale reported on the Santa Rosa Convention to be held in Iowa Park March 26 at First United Methodist Church.

She also reminded members to bring hose for M.D. Anderson and items for the Country Store. Hosting the convention are the three Iowa Park clubs, Amity, Philia and 23 Study Club.

Officers nominated for the next biennium are Cheryl York, president; Linda Crumbliss, vice president; Mrs. Hale, secretary; Valarie Dillard, treasurer; Mary McIlroy, parliamentarian, and Dorothy Palmer, historian.

Co-hostess with Mrs. Rusk was Mrs. Phil Welch. They served cheese cake, chocolate dessert, coffee and tea.

Cummings presents program for Arts and Crafts Association

Ruby Cummings presented the evening's program for the March meeting of Iowa Park Arts and Crafts Association held at the RAC.

Mrs. Cummings taught the members how to make a Renuzit bunny or bear.

Margaret Denton presided over the business portion of the meeting. Sheri Heidrich joined as a new member.

Freddye Skinner won the door prize, a "pocket pal" made by Susan Scott. Mrs. Skinner also has the display this month at Tom Burnett Memorial Library. She is displaying an Easter basket.

The Association's next meeting will be April 12 when Cathy Price will present the program.

New members and visitors are welcome.

Worth Quoting

When our government learns to penalize those who abuse a privilege, then I'll start enthusiastically supporting programs for the economically disadvantaged.

Sometimes though it's hard enough just trying to be a little bit sympathetic.

Driving through a small West Texas town a few weeks ago I stopped off at a convenience store for a soft drink. As I waited in line I noticed that the woman in front of me had her hands full.

In one hand, she had a large fountain soft drink. In the other hand, she had Gummie Lifesavers, a Butterfinger, and a pack of gum.

When it was her turn, the cashier rang up a total of $2.25, and the young woman handed over three dollars worth of food stamps. The cashier sacked up the "food," took the stamps, and then gave the lady 75 cents in real money.

It was my turn next and I was a little angry. I stared at the young woman leaving the store and then I glared at the cashier for a few seconds, admittedly, with a look of disgust.

She stared back at me as if to say "so what mister, it's none of your business."

No words were spoken. As a matter of fact she didn't even say "thanks, come again" ... which she had said to the lady in front of me.

Tax dollars for Gummie Lifesavers, candy bars, bubble gum and 75 cents in change which could now be used to buy literally anything.

During the presidential campaign, President Clinton said over and over "government is broken, and we intend to fix it."

Well I certainly know of one area that needs to be fixed and I don't mean pumping another billion dollars into it either.

America is a very compassionate nation and Americans don't mind helping poor people in their time of need, but at the same time, we don't like being ripped off.

Let's help the poor. Let's help the homeless. Let's help anyone who really needs the assistance.

But let's stop the daily abuses and make every citizen accountable for their actions. If everyone plays by the rules there's no telling how much fat could be cut from the federal deficit.

I'll happily put in my share of money for milk, meat and bread but I don't want to pay for anybody else's soft drink, candy and gum.

Last week's uproar over Gary Parrish's contract was the result of the public's reaction to irresponsible TV journalism.

Talk on the street was that the school board planned to fire Parrish as Henrietta's athletic director because the Bearcat football team has been losing more games than it has been winning. Another story being circulated was that Parrish would be reassigned next year as school janitor.

KFDX TV-3 aired advance reports about the school board's pending action regarding Parrish's contract which prompted a crowd of students and parents supporting Parrish to attend the school board meeting. The TV station had a cameraman at the meeting. On the night's 10 o'clock broadcast, the TV station showed pictures of people signing the meeting's guest register and reported it as a signature petition being circulated in support of Parrish.

The TV reporters obviously based their reports on rumors and assumptions without ever checking the facts. Parrish nor Superintendent Ron Preston were contacted by the television station's sports director until the day after the school board meeting when Parrish and Preston finally set the record straight by informing the reporter that there was, in fact, not much of a story to report since the school board took no action.

A year remains on Parrish's contract which means he's still the athletic director, head coach and assistant principal at Henrietta High School.

In the words of Gary Parrish, "It was blown out of proportion." Rather than being upset, Parrish expressed appreciation to the superintendent and school board for working with him regarding his goal of someday making the transition from coach to administrator.

Our banker, or your's, would laugh us out of town if we carried him a budget similar to the one President Clinton carried to Congress yesterday.

The new federal budget has been labeled as "bare-bone," "tough and lean," and "no-frills."

Those are Washingtonian words designed for the electorate. They have little in common with reality.

According to the figures, in the upcoming fiscal year, Uncle Sam is going to take in $1,342 trillion and spend $1,518 trillion. That means the federal treasury will go in the hole $176 billion.

So the $176 billion is added to the four trillion debt -- a debt that already requires $213 billion a year in interest payments or about 14% of the entire budget.

Remember last year during the battle with Congress over tax increases? The spending cuts were to come later -- much later. Taxes went up, retroactively, $25 billion but cuts amounted to less than $8 billion.

And the tax increases were to be paid only by the upper two percent of the rich and the pocketbook of the wage-earner or the poor would not be affected. Remember?

Well, in Clinton's proposed budget for 1995, Medicare is cut about $2.1 billion, help for the poor with heating costs is cut, public housing is cut, 114 other small programs are cut, energy programs are cut and defense spending is slashed by $33 billion.

But we get spending increases in AIDS research and care, in environmental programs, and for the homeless.

With increases in user fees and new taxes, the government will take in about $93 billion more next year than currently and still wind up $176 billion in the red with the largest budget in American history.

As I See It

hospital bed. The other times, all before my 26th birthday, were all because of accidents, not illness.

But the system is still the same. Smiling, friendly nursing personnel coming around to check blood pressure and temperature day and night, basically tasteless food, and caring family and friends.

I was ready to check out of the hospital on Sunday, but Dr. Soell wanted to start me on medicine to control high blood pressure, which was very apparent with the frequent checks made there. That problem apparently was the cause of the stroke.

This issue is made possible because our regular staff -- Dolores, Kari and Myrna Smith -- have been supplemented by our son Kevin. A veteran newsman, he has taken a week's vacation time from his job in Fort Worth, to do most of the things I normally do.

Dolores, Kari and Myrna have shouldered additional work and responsibilities that naturally come from this type of situation. And, of course, my wife has to put up with my helplessness at home, as well as figuring out what foods I can and can't eat.

I've come through all this very lucky. Unlike many stroke victims, I have no paralysis or other problems, such as speech and that kind of thing.

I've attempted to come up with my explanation of what it is like to have a stroke. First of all, I'd have to say it's life-extending. Frightening. Enlightening. Painful. Humbling. Educating. Expensive. Confusing. Unsettling. Debilitating. Frustrating. Challenging.

On that life-extending point, let me explain. I was told many years ago by a friend that often times, one who has a stroke or heart attack, and comes out of it with no major disabilities, very likely will out-live one who hasn't had the same problem.

He explained, one will do everything he can to correct whatever caused the problem, because he knows what it's like and will do what is necessary so as to not go through it again.

So, maybe my life has, in fact, been extended. I know I'm perfectly willing to make whatever changes are necessary.

And during that hopefully extended lifetime, I can more fully enjoy a greater appreciation of family and friends, all of whom have given me encouragement, love and courage one needs at a time like this.

I learned something Thursday I, thankfully, had never had the opportunity to really know. I learned how to be ill.

Unlike the common cold or flu, which is the only illness I had ever experienced, this one really brought me to my knees.

I experienced a stroke.

Lying in the hospital, after hours of tests and all that kind of stuff, it occurred to me: can you readers abide with two consecutive columns concerning my health. You may remember, last week's article had to do with a deep chest cough. So, I hope this one doesn't bore you too much.

The day started out pretty much as usual, other than the hour Dolores and I got up. I heard her making coffee about 5 a.m., and decided I'd join her.

But when I attempted to stand, I lost my balance, braced against the wall and sat back on the bed. Though confused, I made my way to the dining room, sat down and asked Dolores to pour my coffee for me. My joking about my lack of balance changed, however, when I began feeling strange sensations in my face.

She called Dr. Erwin Soell, and my old friend was prompt in arriving at the house very shortly. It was obvious to him, I guess, what had happened, and he said I had a choice of either Dolores driving me to the hospital, or he would call an ambulance. And my suggestion to put it off a couple of hours, so I could get the papers out on the newsstands, brought a stern rebuke that time wasn't to be wasted.

The better part of the day was spent in various parts of Wichita General, where tests were administered to determine the cause and effect of the problem.

Quite frankly, the stay in the hospital -- I was released Monday morning -- is pretty much a blur, though I am fully aware of the presence of all our children being there, day and night, and all the friends visiting and calling.

I was amazed how quickly word spread about my being hospitalized. In less than four hours after I checked in, long distance calls were made to the Leader office from as far away as Austin and San Antonio!

I made the comment earlier that I didn't know how to be sick. This was only my fourth time to have been in a

Wednesday filing deadline

Candidates wishing to file in either the city or school May 7 elections must do so by 5 p.m. next Wednesday.

There are three places on the city council which expire this spring, and four on the school board.

The school administration building is where trustee candidates file, except this week only. The city hall has served all this week as the temporary filing place for the school election, because the administration building has been closed for spring break.

Monday through Wednesday of next week, any trustee candidates will get their filing applications at the administration building.

All incumbents on the school board have filed for the election. They include Martha Dudley in Place One, Wendall House, Place Two, and Sheri Kennedy, Place Three.

The fourth incumbent in the board race actually wasn't elected by the voters. Dennis Yeager was appointed to fulfill the full year of Robert Cook's tenure in Place Five, and now is asking to complete the two-year term.

Cook was required to resign after he moved outside the district.

Two board incumbents are being challenged this year. Larry Dutton has filed for the same seat held by House, and Bert Williamson is contesting Kennedy.

None of the three city council incumbents has yet drawn opposition.

They include Wayne House, mayor, and aldermen Bud Mercer and Johnny Crawford.

Early voting in the election will begin April 18 and close May 3.

Police have light week

Police experienced an unusually light period of activity during the past week, according to the police blotter.

The only arrest in the report was that of Jason Ashley King, 22, who was taken into custody at 4:01 p.m. Wednesday on a public intoxication charge. He was later released after promising to appear in municipal court.

Police received a complaint Friday afternoon that a 14 year old boy made an obscene gesture toward a school bus loaded with students.

Instead of pursuing a charge, however, the youth was turned over to school officials to be disciplined.

Also involving schools, police received a complaint concerning an 18 year old male around the high school campus during the noon hour Thursday.

Michael Dean Cox was issued a criminal trespass warning, prohibiting him from going onto the campus in the future, according to police.

Through the years . . .

her eye when she related that the Rexall Drug Store on Cash street, operated by Fenton Dale and his brother-in-law T.M. Clark, was the hanging out place for all of the teen-agers.

"We girls would go to the store around Christmas time and pick out what we wanted for Christmas and tell Fenton. Then, when our boyfriends would come in looking for presents, he would make his suggestions to them, according to what we had picked out," Grace said.

When she graduated high school, Miss Bess Sherrod (later Mrs. Bob Brubaker) was principal. Another teacher she remembers was Nell Musgrave, who taught elocution. Grace would leave after school and go to Miss Sally Harvor's where she took music lessons.

Charlie Metz Cafe and Scott Ralston's Confectionary were two of the early eating places that she remembers.

Grace's daddy bought one of the first cars in town, a Dodge coupe, then in about two years he bought a Dodge touring car.

The road between here and Wichita Falls was not paved, and "it was rough and dusty," Grace said.

Then, you didn't have to be a certain age or have a driver's license to drive a car.

Grace and her friends would take her daddy's car after church on Sunday and drive to Wichita Falls, just to buy an ice cream cone and then come back home. "The dust was so terrible we would put the curtains on the car to keep out some of the dirt," recalled Grace.

Telephone lines were laid into Iowa Park pretty early after the turn of the century, and about the time Grace graduated from high school Wichita Falls Electric received a franchise for electric lights here, but it was 1928 before there were any street lights. About the same time gas lines were laid into town. Streets were not paved with concrete until about 1925, after Grace was married.

Grace's brother, Herman, was a cashier at the old First National Bank and after its consolidation with the First State Bank to become State National Bank. She recalled the bank would hire a lot of the young men just out of school.

Some she remembers that worked there were Herman Mitchell, Carl Hoffman, and she believes that Kelly Denny was one of them. Tom Corridon and Frank Boyd were cashiers.

She told how she helped her brother install the first radio her dad bought and how thrilled they were to sit with headphones and be able to listen to the "far-away" places.

After graduation Grace attended college in Denton while and then went to what is now West Texas State University in Canyon.

She attended college two years and then returned to Iowa Park and began teaching at Deep Creek school southwest of Iowa Park when she was 18 years old. When it rained she had to cross the creek on horseback.

After two years she returned to college for her degree in social studies. She did her graduate work in Denver and Boulder.

In 1921 Grace was married to Bratton Reaves, whose family moved to Texas from Tennessee. Bratton built them a home across the street from her dad's home, where she still lives today. He was working for Smith-McDaniel Oil Co., at that time.

Grace began teaching in Iowa Park in 1921 and was principal until 1930, when it was decided that married women could no longer teach in the school system.

After two years she began teaching and serving as principal in Valley View where she remained 14 years. She related that while she was teaching there that Maggie (Denny) Burnett was one of her trustees.

She returned to the Iowa Park school system and taught and served as principal until she retired in 1966 from public school teaching.

Grace had taught sixth grade during her 45 years of teaching public school. A short time after she retired she received a call from Sacred Heart Queen of Peace Catholic School asking her if she could help them out for three weeks teaching fifth grade.

She was through teaching, but she did not want to refuse them for three weeks. That tenure lasted seven years. She retired the second time in 1973.

Bratton worked for the State Highway Department while Miles Hines was county commissioner, and then went to work at Sheppard Air Force Base where he retired.

Grace had always wanted to travel to the places she had taught about for so long. She and her husband had traveled in most of the United States, including Hawaii before their retirement. They eventually made three trips to Hawaii, took the Inside Passage Cruise to Alaska, crossing the Artic Circle.

After their retirement almost every year they took a trip by land, air, or boat, experiencing the joy of seeing the imposing structures of antiquity the rugged beauty of mountains, pastoral landscapes, and learning more about the countries Grace had taught to three generations in 52 years.

In 1974 they made their first trip to Europe, visiting 14 countries. The next year they traveled to Spain and North Africa.

One of the outstanding things she remembered on their trip to North Africa was in Tangiers where she saw the men riding the mules and their wives walking behind carrying their children and the produce for market.

One year they went to Japan, Singapore, Malasia, Taiwan and Thailand. The place she enjoyed most was Singapore on that trip.

They toured Russia, Norway, Sweden and Denmark, Germany, Nova Scotia and Newfoundland. They made three trips to Mexico and to Canada and toured the Holy Land.

Grace has almost wall to wall mementos of their trips. She has numerous framed pictures such as the dogs they used in Alaska, carved camels from the Holy Land, unique nesting doll from Russia, a miniature lobster trap from Nova Scotia, a beautiful picture of the Eifel Tower.

Shelves throughout her house are filled with either mementos or books.

Collections she is most proud of are her large collection of Norman Rockwell plates that she has collected over the years and of her silver spoons

Hi! I'm Troy Murray, Doctor of Chiropractic. I would like to take this opportunity to introduce myself and my family. My wife, Christina, who is expecting, and our two daughters have recently moved here from Gainesville. I would like to say how thrilled I am to have a chance to serve you. I attended Cooke County College. I graduated from Texas Chiropractic College in 1983 and opened a solo practice for 10 years. I have concentrated studies in X-ray, Orthopedics and Neurology. I look forward to serving you. Please do not hesitate to visit our office. Have a super day!

Chiropractic has been highly beneficial for millions of people suffering from:

- Back Pain
- Headaches
- Shoulder Pain
- Painful Joints
- Neck Pain
- Arthritis
- Arm/Leg Pain
- Numbness
- Hip Pain

she has collected on her trips.

But Grace has never had a doubt in her mind about where is the best place to be. "I know Iowa Park people are the nicest and most considerate there are anywhere," she said. She has not traveled much since the death of her husband in 1984.

She says, "I've spent my almost 95 years in Wichita County, made it my home, moved just across the street when I married, and still live in the same house, so you know where my heart is."

Thank You

We would like to express our sincere gratitude to the following parents for their assistance at the Junior High Dance: Laura Landers, Lynn Morgan, Cathy Stewart, Dianna Miller, and Laura Perkins. We could never host these dances without the volunteers who so graciously help us each time. Also, thanks to Food Depot for their generous donation of drinks and cups for the dance, and to Pizza Hut for continuing to supply us with ice. Your support is greatly appreciated!

Mother's Day Out

There will not be a Mother's Day Out class this Friday. Cara will be back on March 25th and is looking forward to seeing all the children then. If you would like to bring your youngster to the RAC on Fridays for interaction with other children, you will find our program to be ideal. For a minimal fee of $1.50 per hour, your child can enjoy songs, arts, games, movies, and lunch with other little people. The program is supervised by Cara Lasater who is absolutely wonderful at working with children! For more information or to make a reservation, please call the RAC office at 592-4471.

Bridge

This week's winner at bridge was Ann Guthrie with a score of 4600. Billie Dowell had a close second with 4510. There were three tables in play this week.

We still would like to offer bridge lessons at the RAC, but have not had enough interested persons to make up a consistent class. If you would be interested in learning the game, please call the RAC and we will place your name on our list.

Dog Obedience Class

The RAC will be offering a dog obedience course on Tuesdays from 7 to 8 p.m. beginning March 22. Course fee for RAC members will be $30, and $35 for non-members. All dogs will be required to have proof of rabies vaccinations. Interested persons are encouraged to contact the RAC office (592-4471) prior to the first course for registration information.

Senior workers are recognized

This week has been proclaimed Older Worker Week to recognize the accomplishments of the thousands of older Texans who offer employers the experience and wisdom of a lifetime of hard work and dedication.

For more than 20 years, the Senior Texans Employment Program (S.T.E.P.), administered by the Farmers Union Community Development Association, Inc. has provided older workers the opportunity to apply life-long skills and abilities to many local projects while receiving training for employment.

Locally Loraine Via has been working with the S.T.E.P. program nine years at the Friendly Door Senior Citizens Center.

Loraine works in the kitchen, gives information on the nutrition program, doing light bookkeeping and providing referral information.

One of the S.T.E.P. programs for older citizens is with Senior Citizens Centers and currently provides enrollment opportunities to 871 older Texans in 131 counties.

Mrs. Via has been a resident of Iowa Park since 1930, starting to school here in the fourth grade. She has worked many years either in Iowa Park or Wichita Falls, primarily with food services.

Loraine Via

First Methodist sets month-long campaign

"Church life. Be a part of it!" is the theme for a month-long evangelism campaign for First United Methodist Church.

The campaign is to culminate with an event called "Bring a Friend Sunday" March 20. United Methodist Churches through the area are taking part in the program designed to reach the "unchurched."

The theme's emphasis includes the value of sharing worship experiences in teaching, singing and fellowship with others. Leader have been working on the effort six months.

Mrs. Kenny Graves and Tia

Kelsy (Mrs. Kenny) Graves would make a good study in "time management." This young mother of three is the assistant manager at Ken's Pizza, and is a full-time junior student at Midwestern State Univ. majoring in elementary education.

Youngest of the four daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Corless, Kelsy was born in Japan while her father was stationed there with the United States Air Force. The family moved from Japan to Iowa Park when her father was assigned to Sheppard A.F.B. Kelsy attended school in Iowa Park until her freshman year when they moved to Seymour.

Kelsy and her husband Kenny have three daughters: Brooke, seven, Paige, who is four, and two and a half-year-old Tia.

Kelsy said that her husband, who works in construction, does a lot of the cooking now, and is a pretty good cook.

When time allows, Kelsy likes to read, and she likes to cook. She and Kenny also enjoy playing golf.

Most of Kelsy's recipes were given to her by family members and friends. She said that she enjoys getting together with her mother and sisters to try new recipes. Some of the recipes we are featuring this week are a result of these sessions.

COOK OF THE WEEK

Chicken Fettucini

- 1 pkg. boneless chicken
- 1 can cream of chicken soup
- 1/4 cup sour cream
- Diced onion
- 1 box fettucini

Saute onion in 2 tablespoons butter. Add cut-up chicken and cook until chicken is done. Add cream of chicken soup and milk; stir until creamy.

Cook noodles; drain and add to chicken mixture. Add sour cream and stir in with noodles.

Spanish Rice

- 1 lb. ground beef
- 4 green peppers
- 1 can V-8 juice
- 5 cups rice, cooked
- Salt, pepper, onion salt, garlic salt

Brown ground beef and drain off excess grease. Add V-8 juice and spices for taste. Cut tops off green peppers; wash and slice each into 4 large pieces. Add green peppers to meat mixture. Let mixture cook until green peppers are tender. Add cooked rice.

Chicken Fajitas

- 1 pkg. boneless chicken
- 1 small can tomato sauce
- 2 large green peppers
- 1/2 onion
- 1 Tbsp. catsup

In frying pan, saute green peppers and onions in 2 tablespoons vegetable oil. Add sliced chicken and cook until green peppers and onions are tender. Add tomato sauce and catsup and stir. Season with salt, pepper, onion salt, garlic salt and cumin. Cook until chicken is done.

Chuck Wagon Beans

- 1/2 lb. bacon slices
- 3 lbs. ground beef
- 3 cups finely chopped onion
- 1 cup finely chopped celery
- 2 beef bouillon cubes
- 2/3 cup boiling water
- 1 1/2 cup catsup
- 1 1/2 cloves garlic
- 3 Tbsps. prepared mustard
- 1 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. pepper
- 2 (29 oz.) cans molasses style baked beans

Heat oven to 375 degrees. Fry bacon until crisp; set aside. Drain fat from pan. In same pan, cook and stir ground beef, onion and celery until meat is brown and onion is tender. Dissolve bouillon cubes in boiling water. Stir bouillon and remaining ingredients into meat mixture. Cover and bake 1 hour and 15 minutes, or until hot and bubbly. Crumble bacon over beans. 12 servings.

Chili-Cheese Dip

- 1 large can chili (no beans)
- 1/2 block Velveeta cheese
- 1 small can green chiles
- 1 small jar picante sauce

Combine all ingredients in a crock pot and cook on high. When cheese is melted, turn crock pot to low. Serve with tortilla chips.

Church Life. Youth Style.

"What's wrong with kids these days?" You've probably heard that question -- or even asked it yourself.

Of course, it wasn't so long ago that another group of adults was asking that same question -- about a different group of kids. Kids like you and me.

There's not a simple answer to helping young people stay out of trouble. But there's a simple way to get started.

Bring your kids to church.

Church life. Be a part of it.

County junior livestock show a success

Iowa Park entries help give annual sale its best-ever totals

Monday night's 25th Annual Wichita County Junior Livestock Show, held most likely for the last time at the 4-H Barn on Midwestern Parkway in Wichita Falls, saw a record amount taken in during the premium auction, said Howard Hinkle of the Wichita County Young Farmers (WCYFA).

Over 177 FFA members and 4-H'ers from Iowa Park, Wichita Falls, Electra and Burkburnett combined to take in over $190,341 in sales, Hinkle said. "It was probably the best sale we ever had," commented the Burkburnett businessman who has been responsible since 1976 for keeping the books.

Hinkle said the sale included 278 swine, 16 steers, 144 sheep, 22 market goats and "lots of rabbits, turkeys and broilers."

"We all have a lot of fond memories since we were little kids of the place," he noted, referring to the 4-H barn that has been the site of the livestock show for the past 25 years. Plans are to hold the event next year at the new multipurpose center to be constructed in Wichita Falls. "We have just kind of outgrown it."

Iowa Park was represented by 106 of the 177 entrants in the sale, a figure Dennis Brooks of the WCYFA says is consistent with past sales.

Joshua Johnson of the Iowa Park FFA was awarded the John Wood memorial belt buckle for Showmanship in steer.

Iowa Parkan Kevin Tucker, exhibiting the reserve champion steer, received $2,300 in the sale from Waurika Livestock Auction of Waurika, Okla. Fellow Iowa Park FFA member Brandon Scott took home $950 for the grand champion turkey hen from Western Equipment Co., International Boring Co.

Other local exhibitors and buyers of grand champions and reserve champions include Kaylee Baumer, $1,000 for the grand champion turkey tom from Raymond's Welding; reserve champion hog, Sandi Rusk, $1,200 from Bluebonnet Feed; Corlett, Probst and Boyd Inc.; Waters Ag Commodities, Wichita County 4-H Pig Club.

Also, Robert Baumer, reserve champion turkey hen, $800 from Bert Williamson; and, Rusty Downs, reserve champion turkey tom, $900 from Wichita County Young Farmers Association.

The overflow crowd at the 4-H barn arrived early for a chili and beans supper provided by the Iowa Park MuleSkinners.

An unofficial list of Iowa Park members exhibiting in Monday's sale and their buyers are as follows:

Stella Gilbert

Graveside services for Stella Gilbert, 72, of Stoneburg, sister of Lenore Gee of Kamay, were at 2 p.m. Tuesday in Hopewell Cemetery near Stoneburg.

Mrs. Gilbert died Sunday in a Nocona hospital.

Born March 20, 1921, in Iowa Park, she was a retired seamstress of Haggard Slack Co., in Bowie.

Survivors include two sons, Steve of Bellevue and Gene Jackson of Beaumont; two daughters, Sammie of Stoneburg and Pat Harper of Azle; another sister, Wilma Hall of Ryan, Okla.; one brother, Robert Lee Jackson of Huntington, Ark.; nine grandchildren, and six great-grandchildren.

Arnold McClure

Arnold McClure, 62, of Wichita Falls, brother of Jack McClure of Iowa Park, died Wednesday, March 9.

Memorial services will be held at a later date.

McClure was born in 1932 in Charlie. He had lived most of his life in Wichita Falls. He was a retired salesman for August Pies. He was a Navy veteran and served in the Korean War aboard the USS Porterfield.

He is survived by his wife, Johnnie; one son, Carl; one daughter, DeLinda; another brother, Randy of Wichita Falls; one sister, Mary Sue of Wichita Falls, and five grandchildren.

Suvilla Matthews Wallace

Services for Wichita County pioneer, Suvilla Matthews Wallace, 98, were held in Brook Chapel March 1, with burial in Dreamland Cemetery in Canyon.

Mrs. Wallace died Feb. 25 in Mesa, Ariz.

She was born in Beaver Creek, Aug. 7 1896, to Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Matthews. The Matthews family moved to Iowa Park in 1900.

Mrs. Wallace graduated from Iowa Park High School and attended West Texas State College. Her husband preceded her in death in 1959. A son, Harold, a brother John and sisters, Zula and Ruth also preceded her in death.

She is survived by a daughter, Alice Black of Logan, Utah; one sister, Thelma Gay of Graham, formerly of Iowa Park; two granddaughters, and seven great-grandchildren.

Charles H. Neuhardt

Services for Charles Henry Neuhardt, 72, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Earle Denny of Iowa Park, were at 9 a.m. Saturday at First Baptist Church of Midland with Dr. James Denison, pastor, officiating.

Graveside services were at 5 p.m. Saturday in Highland Cemetery in Iowa Park. Local arrangements were under direction of Dutton Funeral Home.

Neuhardt died Wednesday, March 9, in a Midland hospital.

Born July 25, 1921, in Sistersville, W. Va., he was married to Billye Faye Denny Aug. 22, 1946 in Iowa Park.

Following graduation from Sistersville High School, Neuhardt moved to Texas and was a graduate of Texas A&M School of Architecture. A veteran of World War II, he served in the Navy as a lieutenant junior grade in the submarine service. After the war he returned to Texas.

Neuhardt received a master of architecture degree from Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1947. He returned to teach architecture at Texas A&M.

He and his wife moved to Midland in 1948. He worked with Cool & Stilley Engineers. He and Bill Babb established the architectural firm of Neuhardt and Babb. The firm designed the original Midland Library, the Midland Country Club, the Federal Building, the First United Methodist Church and the Glass Chapel. He retired in December 1990.

Neuhardt was a member of American Institute of Architects, the Midland Rotary Club and First Baptist Church, where he had taught a 10-year-old boys Sunday school class since 1948.

Survivors include his wife, two daughters, Katrina of Arlington and Kerry of Fort Worth and one sister, Dorothy A. Smith of Dallas.

Hawks take Classic co-championship

CLINT SCOBEE reacts to being hit by Coyote pitcher Jody Richardson in Tuesday's 3-2 loss to Old High. Scobee was forced out of the game with a bruise to his knee.

Iowa Park's Hawk baseball team extended its unbeaten string to six games over the weekend in taking co-championship honors along with Rider in the Wichita Falls Spring Classic Baseball Tournament at Hoskins Field.

Tuesday, however, was a day for coach Wendell Carroll's WFHS Coyotes to avenge a 6-2 tournament drubbing by the Hawks with a 3-2 squeaker to drop Iowa Park to 7-1 for the year.

SPRING CLASSIC TITLE

Saturday's rain spoiled the potential for a dynamite tournament finale between Iowa Park and the Rider Raiders.

forward to.

"We would have liked to have played Rider just to see where we really stand right now," Fuhrman commented. The Raiders reached the finals with a 9-3 win over Lawton and 13-1 rout over Graham in the semifinals Friday.

Iowa Park, meanwhile, opened with a come-from-behind 13-4 win over Burkburnett before facing the defending champ Coyotes in the semifinals, where the Hawks took a commanding 6-3 win with a balanced offensive and defensive attack.

In the Burk game, the Bulldogs surprised the Hawks with a four-run first inning before being shut down the final four frames before the time limit expired.

After being held scoreless through the first, the Hawks exploded behind the bat of Tony Lozipone, Jeff Fortner and Charlie Bradberry to score two runs in the second, one in the third, four more runs in the fourth inning before adding six runs in the fifth in a

Lady Hawks ninth at Clyde

Spring Break took its toll on the Lady Hawk track team Saturday in Clyde with several team members on vacation. But coach John Holter's girls still managed a ninth place finish in a field of 12 teams.

Abilene Wylie captured the team trophy with Breckenridge finishing a close second.

The Lady Hawks will travel to Graham for the annual Possum Kingdom Relays this Saturday, with Holter expecting a full squad once again.

Mandy Threet fared well among Lady Hawk qualifiers, placing third in both the 100-meter hurdles (16.79) and triple jump with a 32.9.

Dusty Welch took second place in the high jump with a 5'2 leap, and Christy Welch finished sixth in the 800-meter dash with a 2:36 clocking.

The mile relay team of Dusty and Christy Welch, Randy Tigrett and Lisa Halady placed fifth with a 4:41 showing.

12-hit attack.

Lozipone equalled three hits with three runs scored and three RBIs to lead the charge. Fortner went two-for-three at the plate with a double, two runs scored and three runs knocked in. Bradberry added two hits in two appearances and scored twice.

Iowa Park put three pitchers on the mound against the Bulldogs, with Jeff Taylor, Chris Norris and Rudy Hawkins combining on a four-hitter.

Friday against Old High, Brent Brown (2-0) scattered six hits through seven innings and the Hawk batters again came to life with 10 hits to outduel the Coyotes 6-3.

Despite stranding nine base-runners, Iowa Park still managed to score two runs each in the first, second and sixth innings behind the hitting of Brown (two-for-three and one run scored), Hollis (two-for-four, two doubles and one run scored), and Clint Scobee (one-for-three, three RBIs) off of Ryder starter Ryder Hoffman (1-1).

"We hit the ball really well and played good defense," Fuhrman noted. "Brent pitched a good game for us."

Brown, Lozipone and Rudy Hawkins were named to the all-tour-namment team.

In other large school games, the Coyotes downed Graham 5-2 for third place, Lawton beat Duncan 9-1 for consolation, and Burkburnett slapped Hirschi with an 8-2 win for seventh.

In small school action, Iowa Park's JV Hawks opened Thursday with a 13-6 win over the Hirschi JV squad behind the hitting of Klinkerman, Owen, Galliton and Waterbury. In the second game Thursday, the JV Hawks were nipped by Seymour 7-4 in six innings.

Friday, the Iowa Park JV faced the Rider JV (Gold) team, losing 12-3.

Waterbury and Petty each had doubles in the contest.

FIRST LOSS

Tuesday's rematch between the Coyotes and Hawks saw Old High's ace hurler Jody Richardson extend his record to 4-0 with two hits scattered through six innings. But it took a bases-loaded suicide bunt in the bottom of the seventh to top the Hawks 3-2.

Richardson ended with a four-hitter while striking out three, but the big pitcher also walked three and hit three Hawk batters, including one hit to catcher Scobee that put Iowa Park at a defensive disadvantage going into the final frame.

HAWK PITCHER Jason Young looks for the ball as a Coyote runner scores the tying run in the bottom of the seventh Tuesday.

pitcher Jason Young's stretch, and the junior hurler was called for a balk, scoring the WFHS runner from third.

Iowa Park had an opportunity to tie the game in the next at-bat when Fortner singled to right, stole second, and rounded third on Brown's slow roller to first. He was caught short of homeplate, however, and put out in a rundown.

After adding another run on a passed ball in the fourth, WFHS took the 2-0 lead into the final frame, when the Hawks rallied to go ahead 3-2. Brown singled to center to score Fortner, Hollis blasted a line drive to left centerfield to score two more and give Iowa Park its first lead of the ballgame.

Young walked the first two Coyote batters in the bottom of the seventh, and a bunt single by the third Old High batter loaded the bases.

After a fly out, the runner at third scored on a passed ball to tie the contest.

Coyote batter Joseph Golding took the plate, and swung at air the first pitch. On the second throw by Young, however, the WFHS senior laid a perfect bunt on a squeeze attempt down the first base line, scoring the winning run.

SCHEDULE AHEAD

The Hawks now look ahead to the three-day Boomtown Classic Baseball Tournament starting tonight at 8 with a game against Holliday.

Next week, the Hawks will host Burkburnett here starting at 4:30 p.m., then the Coyotes in a rubber match Friday afternoon at 4:30 in Iowa Park.

The Hawk JV will play Old High Monday in Iowa Park at 4:30, then travel to Graham Friday for a 4:30 p.m. contest.

TROY RADFORD competes for the Hawks in the Region Six Powerlifting Meet, held Saturday morning in the Iowa Park High School Gymnasium.

Former Iowa Parkan to be inducted McMurry's athletic ring of honor

Longtime school administrator and coach Gerald Combs, a graduate of Iowa Park High School, will be inducted in the McMurry University's Athletic Hall of Honor March 26 in Abilene.

Following his graduation from Iowa Park in 1955, Combs attended Navarro Junior College for two years under a football scholarship, then transferred to McMurry in 1960 where he became one of the all-time greats there as an offensive and defensive halfback.

While at Navarro, he was all-conference as a junior and Junior College All-American and the team's captain and most valuable player on the 1956 team. At McMurry, Combs earned All-Texas Conference and All-City honors while being nominated for the NAIA Little All-America team. The Iowa Parkan also managed to earn a master of education degree in the classroom at McMurry.

Combs served as assistant coach for nine years after graduating from college, first in Abilene and then under Hawk head coach Tommy Watkins.

In 1969, Combs took the head coaching job at Nocona, leading his squad to a bi-district championship in 1971 and district championship in 1972.

He became an assistant high school principal at Burkburnett in 1979 and in 1984, he became principal at Hardin Elementary School in Burkburnett, a position he held until retiring in 1990.

Combs was a member of the Texas High School Coaches Association, the Texas State Teachers Association and the National Education Association. Combs and his wife, Peggy, have two children and three grandchildren.

He will be inducted along with six other McMurry University athletes during ceremonies March 26 in the Mabee Room of the United Methodist Campus Center.

Other honorees this year include Randall Caussey, Charles Fornes, Freddie Fox, J.E. Garrett, Vernon Townsend and Melissa Vickers.

Kidwell now pre-registering

To aid in planning the total school program for the 1994-95 year, Kidwell Elementary is now pre-registering children three to five years of age on or before Sept. 1, 1994, according to Kidwell School principal, Michael Hoover.

The forms have been sent home with the students attending Kidwell. However, those needing forms and did not receive them should call Kidwell Elementary School, 592-4322.

Children who are five years of age on or before September 1, 1994 will be eligible to attend kindergarten during the 1994-95 school year.

Kamay Fire Dept. fights grass fires

The Kamay Volunteer Fire Dept. stayed busy Friday fighting two grass fires, one in the afternoon and the other later in the evening.

According to Barry Tyler, the department answered two calls Friday, both of which had begun as controlled burns.

Tyler asks that Kamay residents planning to have controlled burns contact the fire department, 438-2200, so the department will be aware.

Lupus support group slates meeting today

A Lupus Support Group meeting is scheduled for today from 6:30 - 8p.m. at the Wichita Falls Rehabilitation Hospital.

Dr. Guthrie, Ph.D. will be guest speaker, focusing on stress management. According to Kathleen Pirtle, spokesperson, the group will be self-supportive, but a representative from the nursing department will be on hand to field questions.

The meeting is free of charge. Sandwiches will be provided, so those wishing to attend should call ahead of time to Pirtle at 1-800-452-9578 or 720-5756 to reserve your attendance.

A second support group meeting is also scheduled for 6:30 p.m. April 7 at the Rehabilitation Hospital.

"Making Strides" set for March 26

Teams are forming for the fourth annual "Making Strides" event to be held at 9 a.m. March 26 at Hamilton Park in Wichita Falls, sponsored by the American Cancer Society's Wichita Unit. Runners, joggers and walkers are invited to participate in the five-mile run, 5K (3.1) mile walk and one mile run.

Registration fee is $10 prior to March 19, then will increase to $12, according to representative Sherry Cannedy.

Contributions will directly benefit the patient services, public education and research programs at the Cancer Society's Wichita Unite, says Cannedy.

For more information, contact Cannedy at 691-7201.

Kirk New Secretary of State
Secretary of State John C. Hannah will be replaced by Ron Kirk, a Dallas lawyer and chairman of the state General Services Commission.

Gov. Richards picked Kirk to fill Hannah's unexpired term, as Hannah has been nominated by President Clinton for a judgeship for the U.S. District Court Eastern District.

Kirk, a former Democratic assistant city attorney of Dallas and a registered lobbyist, has been involved in studying ways to make government more efficient as a member of a legislative panel, the Council on Competitive Government.

Following the footsteps of Austin lawyer Myra McDaniel in 1984, Kirk is the second black to be appointed to the post. He is a native of Austin and is a partner in the Johnson and Gibbs law firm.

Other Highlights

Gov. Richards has appointed McAllen lawyer Ruben R. Cardenas to the Transportation Commission. Cardenas, former chairman of the Texas Public Safety Commission, will complete the unexpired term of Henry Munoz III, who resigned citing personal reasons. The appointment is subject to Senate confirmation.

U.S. Rep. Craig Washington, D-Houston, became the first incumbent defeated in the nation's mid-term congressional elections. Houston City Councilwoman Sheila Jackson Lee ousted him from the seat once held by Barbara Jordan and Mickey Leland.

A new study by Donald Huddle, a Rice University economist, says immigrants — both legal and illegal — cost Texas $4.68 billion more in 1992 than they paid in taxes. The study shows illegal immigrants cost the state $1.02 billion, while legal immigrants cost $3.6 billion.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — As expected, Gov. Ann Richards won nomination for a second term in the Democratic primary March 8 and will face George W. Bush, eldest son of the former president.

Meanwhile, Sen. Kay Bailey Hutchison — who earlier faced trial on ethics charges — easily defeated six Republican opponents. The outcome of an April 12 runoff will determine her Democratic challenger.

Hutchison, who won a special election in June to fill the seat vacated by Lloyd Bentsen when he was appointed treasury secretary, will face either former Attorney General Jim Mattox or Dallas investor Richard Fisher.

Running a distant third in the Senate race was U.S. Rep. Mike Andrews, who gave up a safe House seat to make the race.

Mattox and Fisher squared off immediately for what is certain to be a bloody runoff battle.

"I challenge voters to come up with anything positive to remember Jim Mattox by. This guy represents slash-and-burn negative politics. Mine are the politics of change and optimism," Fisher said.

Mattox, noting Fisher's past support of Ross Perot, said his opponent was "not the kind of Democrat that ought to lead the troops into battle." Mattox also
