Family shares love of wood

By MYRNA SMITH

It's a family affair. The analogous enthusiasm for working with wood shared by Ernest, Marilyn, Steven, Amy, Richard and Susan Putthoff.

"Our house is usually in some stage of remodeling and one has to pick a path through pieces of lumber or sawhorses that are all over the place," Marilyn said. Right now the remodeling is outside the house where Putthoff is building a new front on the garage.

She laughed as she related that one time they invited several people to their home, so she improvised a decorative piece by placing the sawhorses and lumber together, covering the conglomeration with a cloth and adding a vase of flowers in the center.

Beginning her sixth year as a first grade teacher at Notre Dame school in Wichita Falls, Marilyn has been busy getting a head start on the impending school year.

She also has her husband busy building storage cabinets for her class room while he is building some larger storage units for the kindergarten room. Their younger son, Richard, who will be a junior at Notre Dame High School this year, is helping his father with this project.

Their oldest son, Steven, who will be returning Aug. 20 for his sophomore year at Notre Dame University in South Bend, Ind., is a building organizer and designer. He also is busy at the Notre Dame elementary school building, working on classroom organizers for the children. Steven is pursuing a degree in engineering.

The distaff side of the Putthoff family displays a special interest in doing the finishing work on the wooden projects when they are completed.

Marilyn is adept with brush and paint. Although her original utilization of those tools turned out beautiful landscapes and still life paintings with acrylic or oils (and still can), they more or less have been "placed on the back burner" for a while. She now spends more time with brush and varnish or paint, finishing pieces as they are completed by her husband.

"I have been painting with acrylics, my favorite medium, and oils for 20 years, but I've also been 'dabbling' in different media," Marilyn said.

Amy usually puts the decorative touches on the finished pieces. She also does small craftwork, such as photo albums that she completes in different and unique ways.

She graduated Midwestern State University with a degree in psychology. Amy is employed as a case manager in the Mental Retardation Department of The Helen Farabee Center in Wichita Falls.

Even the youngest of the family, Susan, who will be a freshman at Notre Dame High School this year, has the bent for painting and restoring. And she helps Amy put the decorative touches on pieces.

This summer Susan was hired by an individual to strip and sand furniture pieces, preparing them for refinishing.

She has done some beautiful work on various items of clothing, using the color point technique.

On the drawing board now are several ideas they will work on, with the thought in mind they will begin to make some of the arts and crafts shows in the future. They are beginning work on some reindeer.

MRS. ERNEST PUTTHOFF
... shows husband's handiwork in kitchen decorating.

Also Marilyn has in mind a special stool for small children. She is still working on her idea, but almost has it figured out. When completed each stool will take on the appearance of a different animal.

Marilyn explained that "this building thing" all started when they bought their first home in 1970. Her husband bought a table saw and started remodeling their house. He has kept adding to his building tools until he now has a room the size of a garage filled with almost everything he needs.

They moved to Iowa Park 10 years ago and bought their fourth house since they have been married--all of them in need of some repair or remodeling.

Their comfortable brick home here sits back from the road on a small rise where they have a vantage point to observe the surrounding area.

But, when Marilyn first saw the house, she thought, "Oh no, not this." By contrast, Ernest exclaimed, "Oh, this is wonderful, this is by far the best one we've had."

No doubt, his mind had already planned what all he could do and how much enjoyment he would get out of the refurbishing and remodeling he could see needed to be done.

It had been 18 months since the house had been lived in. In the meantime there had been a huge hail storm that had almost delapidated the roof, some of it had fallen in. The paper was falling off the walls and the house was generally in a bad state.

Marilyn didn't say so, but probably Ernest would not be happy at all to move into a new home where everything was perfect. He just wouldn't have anything to do.

He completely redid the kitchen, bathrooms, bedroom, built book shelves on either side of the den fireplace, and on one wall, tore out closets at the entryway and made more room there.

Now, he is planning to tear out some partitions and enlarge the combination living-dining area, and vault the ceiling. When he does that he will

Police catch youths

A police officer on patrol last Wednesday afternoon decided to check out three young boys who were beating on the wall of the concession stand at the Little League ball field on West Magnolia.

They hadn't gained entrance, according to the police blotter entry, but they were trying, the officer reported.

Apparently unable to force entry through a door, they had decided to go through the cinder block wall. And they had already made a starting hole.

The juveniles' bicycles were picked up by city workers and stored at the police station, and the boys transported right behind them.

All three were released after their parents were contacted and pledged to make restitution.

A resident of the 400 block of Valley Drive told police Friday that a gold "pinkie" ring valued at $500 was missing. Police are investigating.

The only arrests made during the week, according to the blotter, were all on Saturday, but not at the same time.

Officers were called at 2:56 a.m. to a residence in the 600 block of West

New principal sought for Kidwell Elementary Settlement prompts Hoover's resignation

Kidwell Elementary could have a new principal after a meeting of the Iowa Park school board this evening.

Trustees approved a "comprised agreement and release of Michael R. Hoover as prepared by the school district attorney," following an executive meeting Tuesday night.

Hoover, who was hired last year to fill the position, is to receive a total of $25,000, which includes $21,791.67 settlement for the balance of his current contract, plus $3,208.33 in earned salary.

A called meeting is scheduled at 8 this evening in the administration building. According to the agenda, the first portion will be closed to the public under the topic of personnel.

The agenda calls for "accept/reject resignations," "interview applicants for principal's position," and "employ personnel."

After the meeting is re-opened to the public, the agenda calls for action on topics discussed during the closed session, and then a continuing of reviewing the 1994-95 preliminary budget.

The Kidwell position wasn't the only personnel decisions to follow Tuesday's closed meeting. Three other resignations were accepted, and nine staff members were hired.

The other resignations besides Hoover's were those of Jayna Case, Lisa Brackeen and Pamela Innes.

New personnel hired, and their assignments, included: Ronda Havins, high school coach; Colleen Ellis, high school science teacher; Linda Goodgion, high school librarian; Allen Briggs, high school English/Spanish teacher; Donna Brinlee, high school/junior high choir teacher; Jeannie Lunney, high school/junior high assistant band director; Casey Nelms, junior high reading/Texas history; Karen Smith, Bradford fifth grade, and Linda Swan, Bradford/Kidwell librarian.

Other actions taken Tuesday included approval of two City View transfers, a proposal to waiver final exam exemptions at high school, a request to rent the high school auditorium, and bids for cafeteria foods and supplies as well as athletic medical supplies and equipment.

The latter portion of the lengthy meeting was dedicated to the board's first look at the proposed 1994-95 budget.

High school principal Richard Davis, after explaining how successful the exam exemption had been during the past year in encouraging regular attendance of junior and senior class members, asked that the waiver include freshmen and sophomores, on a limited basis.

To earn the semester exemptions, juniors and seniors had to maintain grades of 80 or better, 90 on citizenship, and have perfect attendance. For that, the students were exempted from all semester tests.

He proposed that freshmen and sophomores who met the same requirements be exempted from all but three tests, and the students themselves could select which subjects on which they would be tested.

The request to rent the high school auditorium was from Tammy Joyce Gann, who, similar to last year, asked to hold a dance recital in the facility on Wednesday, Aug. 27.

Trustees held a called meeting last Thursday, during which time they met behind closed doors from 7 to 8:47 p.m. to discuss personnel.

No one other than board members and Supt. Glen Mitchell were in the room, except when Hoover walked in at 8:38 with a sheet of paper in his hands, and left about a minute later, still carrying a sheet of paper.

City council to consider eliminating department

When the city council meets at 7 p.m. Monday in council chambers, aldermen are to consider contracting the maintenance of the water and sewer system.

Council members are to consider a format for contracting the work to private business, rather than continuing to do the work with city employees.

Already shorthanded in the department, Administrator Mike Price says, the employees still on staff would be placed in other departments.

Also to be considered will be authorizing Price to execute a contract for a sewer trunk main improvement project on West Highway. Bids were opened from four contractors Tuesday on that project.

The 1995 budget for Nortex 9-1-1 Communications District is to be considered by the council.

Aldermen are expected to authorize Mayor Wayne House to execute a lease agreement with Rusty Rusk, concerning laying a water line across Park Tank property from the new water tower so it can be connected to an existing line.

Two public appearances are on the meeting's agenda, one by Bud Thompson, concerning application of the city's code of ordinance, and the other by Sammy Bates, requesting water service outside the city limits.

Action by the council following the appearances is possible, according to the agenda.

Aldermen met Monday evening for their third work session on the 1994-95 city budget, which includes expenditures of $1,738,320 from the

The meeting, as well as another held before then, concerned a grievance filed by a group of personnel at the Kidwell campus, several of whom were at that meeting as well as Tuesday's.

Details of the grievance have not been released.

However, the agreement reached Tuesday night stated:

"This agreement is made and entered to be deemed effective on July 14, 1994, and is made by and between Michael R. Hoover ('Hoover'), and the Board of Trustees of the Iowa Park Independent School District, as follows:

"1. Purpose: The purpose of this agreement is to fully and finally comprise and settle a bona fide dispute between Hoover and the District with regard to whether Hoover's present employment contract with the District should be terminated.

"2. Consideration: For and in consideration of the sum of Twenty-Five Thousand Dollars ($25,000) cash in hand paid by the District to Hoover, the receipt of which is acknowledged, Hoover resigns his contract of employment with the District, which resignation is accepted, and agrees to fully and finally release, acquit, and discharge the District from any and all claims arising out of or in any way pertaining to his contract of employment.

"3. Compromise and non-admission: The sum herein recited is paid in compromise settlement only, and Hoover's resignation is made in compromise settlement only, and no actions herein shall ever be deemed as an admission against interest on the part of either party.

"4. Advice of counsel: Each of the parties of this agreement acknowledge that they fully understand the same, and have either had the advice of their own legal counsel."

AMERICAN HISTORY TRIVIA

When did the motto "In God We Trust" start appearing on U.S. coins? It has appeared on most American coins since about 1864. During the Civil War, rising popular religious sentiment prompted Secretary of the Treasury Salmon P. Chase to put the country's faith where its money was. Other slogans suggested were God Our Trust and God and Our Country. The motto is not required by law.

COOK OF THE WEEK

Michelle Byrne

With summer more than half over, this week's featured cook, Michelle Byrne, has her mind on school.

A third grade teacher at Bradford Elementary, Michelle said she is already thinking of what she needs to do in her classroom before school starts on Aug. 18. Ironically, she is going into her fourth year teaching for the school systems that she attended all her life.

Michelle graduated Midwestern State Univ. with a bachelor of science in education degree with a math minor.

Her husband of three and a half years, Bobby, is also a graduate of Iowa Park High School. He is an automotive technician for Patterson Auto Center in Wichita Falls.

The couple attend Christ the King Catholic Church. Michelle is a member of the Association of Texas Professional Educators.

She lists her hobbies as crafts and walking, and said her husband races dirt bikes in Dallas and Lawton.

Michelle says she likes recipes that are quick and easy, and also tries to keep a low fat and sodium content in what she cooks.

Art Assoc. members make memory frames

The July meeting of the Iowa Park Arts and Crafts Association was led by Cindy Lane, president.

The door prize was a "goody bag" donated by Sheri Kennedy. Pat Ikey was the lucky winner.

Susan Scott showed members how to make "memory frames". She demonstrated with mementos from her own wedding. A variety of types of memory frames were created.

Next month Pat Ikey will be showing club members how to make poinsettias from balloons and pinecones. Kits will be prepared in advance.

The Iowa Park Arts and Crafts Association meets at 7 p.m. the second Tuesday of each month at the RAC. New members and guests are always welcome.

As I See It. . .

By Bob Hamilton

How would you have voted, if you had been asked whether you wanted all highway distance signs in the United States to be changed to the metric system?

Or were you aware that those same signs were to have been switched, this month, from miles to kilometers?

It seems that the highway department decided to call for a response from the public, on whether they wanted the change or not, and some 80 percent of those responding were against the metric method.

I was aware that the change was supposed to come some day, but somehow missed a call from those folks about my opinion.

Obviously, I would have been very happy to express it.

The argument is made that the United States is the only industrialized nation in the world not using metrics.

Well, by gosh, we should all be red faced because we aren't keeping up with the rest of the world!

But in our ignorance, we still know how far it is to some place down the road when we are traveling, and don't have to carry a handy conversion chart to figure it out.

In the sport of track and field, metrics have been used in running events, all the way from the Olympics down to the junior high level. But only a few university conferences use metrics for heights and distances.

Virtually every man I know who was graduated from high school before 1960 still uses the term 440 yards for the quarter of a mile, which is 400 meters.

The first I remember of hearing a metric term was in a cigarette advertisement. Remember when the manufacturers started lengthening cigarettes and one ad kept referring to "one silly millimeter longer."

Yes, it was silly, both the ad and the metric term of how much longer it was than the standard variety.

Oh, there's another change handed down by the government that already is in place.

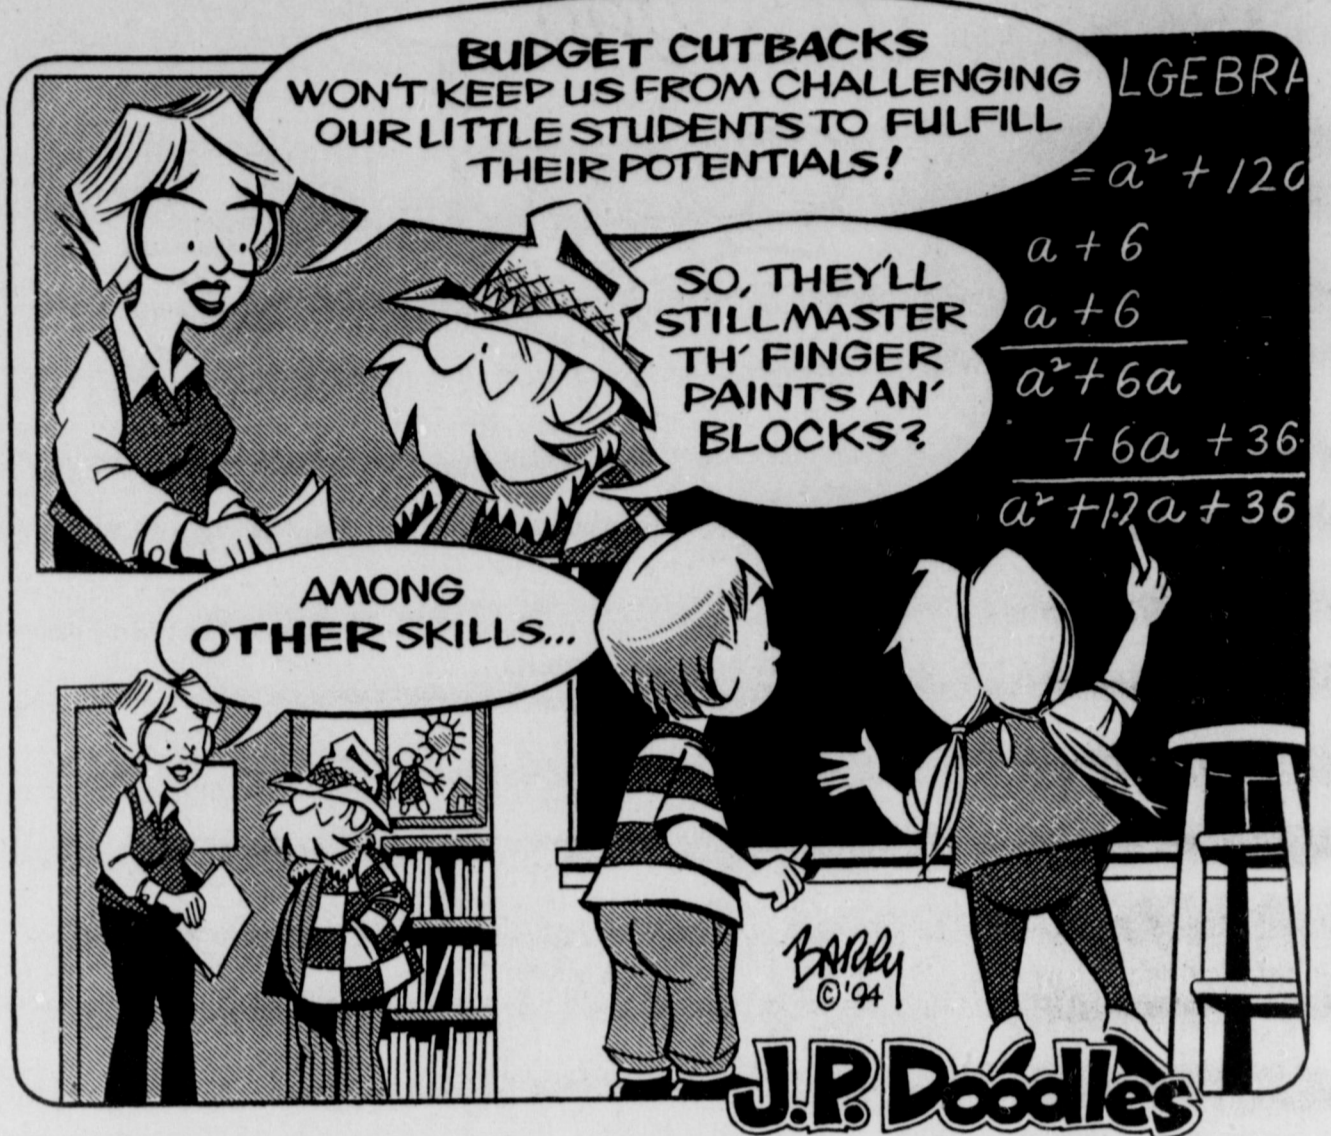

Did you know that if you were born in 1938 or later, that your working years probably are extended beyond those of your parents?

Yep, starting in the year 2000, the clock starts ticking as to how many more months and years it will be before you qualify for Social Security retirement.

It keeps extending to the point where, if you were born in 1960 or later, full retirement will not be paid until you are 67 years of age.

That's 65 now, by the way.

Yep, let's let the government take over all our health care worries. Then we can all sit back and watch what and when the next changes will come.

Letters to the Editor

Thanks for assistance

We would like to offer our special thanks to every person who helped us on Tuesday, June 21, 1994, when our barn burned to the ground. Many people stopped to help, some we knew, many we did not, so to thank each person individually would be impossible.

Our special thanks goes to every member of the Burk Burnett, Iowa Park, Cameron Gardens, Wichita East and Sheppard Air Force Base Fire Departments. Because of their quick response and untiring efforts, the fire was contained to one barn, with only minor damage to an adjoining barn and no damage to our home or other property.

Once again, please accept our sincere thanks!

Support is encouraged

To Whom It May Concern:

Did you know that you presently stand to lose your rural fire protection from the Burk Burnett and Iowa Park fire departments? Did you know plans are to discontinue rural fire protection from the cities of Burk Burnett and Iowa Park effective January 1995 unless the county and cities come to an agreement on additional funding from the county?

On June 30th, eighty-three citizens concerned about rural fire protection met and formed a steering committee to lead in an effort to ensure continued rural fire protection from the city of Burk Burnett. It was decided that all interested persons should meet with the County Commissioners' Court on Monday, July 25th at 9:30 a.m. You are encouraged to attend and notify anyone else you feel would want to support this cause.

County Judge Nick Gipson has said that a solution will depend on the availability of county tax money. We say we, as rural property owners and county tax payers, will see a depletion in service if the remaining county fire departments divide up our areas formerly served by the cities of Burk Burnett and Iowa Park. There will be a major difference in response time if this materializes.

We feel that a large attendance at the Commissioners' Court meeting will show our concern and degree of interest in this matter. If additional funding is denied, the consequences could be loss of life or property. Any agreement between the city and county must be reached very soon, because the county budget will be completed in August. Any additional funds for rural fire fighting must be in that budget!! We must act quickly, and you are again encouraged to attend the Commissioners' Court meeting July 25th at 9:30 a.m.

With your support and attendance at the court meeting, we stand a better chance to retain our present rural fire protection. May we count on your attendance?

To a 'truckload' of people:

Dear Mr. Hamilton,

I have had the pleasure and challenge of being the President for the Girls Softball League this year. The only way a program like this can grow and work is by having committed men and women behind it. I've been blessed with a whole truckload of wonderful volunteers. I would like to first thank all the coaches for your time and patience. You all did a great job. I would like to thank my fellow officers and board members for all your help to make my job easier. As you all know we had the privilege of hosting the Senior All Star District Tournament this week. I want to thank everyone who pitched in and helped to make it a success. There are some men I would like to mention who put in several hours of hard work to make the fields look excellent. A big thank you goes to Murray Shook, Leroy Threat, Wayland Steward, and Skip Sheets. If you thought the fields looked great be sure and tell one of these men what a wonderful job they did. I would also like to thank Mike Price and the city for their help and constant support and also the Volunteer Fire Department's E.M.T.s. Without the support of the town and parents there couldn't be a softball program -- so thank you. I hope as the girls softball league grows so does the commitment of more and more men and women.

Thanks for support

Dear Editor:

We want to thank the Iowa Park Leader and your area for the tremendous support during our annual Rehab Auction for North Texas Rehabilitation Center.

As of today (July 19), over $200,000 has been raised -- and we know that more will come in over the next few weeks. Historically, ranchers and farmers continue to donate cattle and individuals send cash donations for several weeks after the event.

All of this means that over 4,000 charitable treatments will be provided to children and adults who need the service. It also means that North Texas and Southern Oklahoma citizens have developed a wonderful way for themselves; we support the service for which we all have need. Most families have been or will be touched in some way by the Rehab Center -- either a family member or a friend has benefited.

Congratulations for the great work -- and thanks to all from the clients, staff and board of directors.

Sincerely,
Mike Castles

Worth Quoting

Every week in this office, I must get a couple dozen newspapers. If I took time to read them all, you'd never get this one.

One paper I always scan is the Muenster Enterprise -- a weekly as unique as the community it serves.

My wife and I lived in Muenster too briefly in 1986, just before and after the arrival of our first child. Coming from barren Andrews to the green, flower-bedecked community, we thought we were in the Garden of Eden.

Muenster is a German settlement, built around Sacred Heart Church, where roughly 90 percent of its citizens are members. Its wide streets, solid houses and well-kept yards beckon cityfolk to Germanfest each spring, and year-round just to soak up the atmosphere, step back in time, eat sausage at Fischerhaus or sample apfelstrudel from Kolonialwaren.

When you live there, you discover treasures visitors rarely see: the community garden below the dam where neighbors gather on summer evenings to pick tomatoes and swap stories; the green parks where little leaguers and scouts find adventure; the state-of-the-art cheese plant; the dozens of dairy farms operated by third and fourth generations of the same family; the mini-parks full of flowers along a Main Street that is the envy of towns twice its size.

The Enterprise is one of those treasures.

I'll never forget the first time I walked into the office. The white stucco building has high casement windows that let in lots of light and give a generous view of the flowers and trees that surround it. As you walk in your eye rests on a huge oak type cabinet that would make the most jaded antique collector weep openly.

It was not there for show. The printer, Alvin Hartman, used it almost every day. And when this cheerful, energetic grandfather wasn't running the sheet-fed Heidelberg press, he was the ad salesman. In a corner sat another antique, the Linotype machine that got cranked up every two weeks to clatter out lines of type cast in hot lead.

At a rolltop desk in another corner, under a poster of Ronald Reagan, sat the owner and editor of the newspaper, R.N. "Ramie" Fette. Mr. Fette, who has since passed away, founded the paper in 1936 and ran it for over 50 years. He was writing his column in longhand on a legal pad when I met him. He had no typewriter, much less a computer. A little man with a sharp eye and a biting sense of humor, he gave the Russians hell every week and never missed mass.

At the front desk sat his wife, Elfreda, the heart and soul of the Enterprise. She knew everyone in Muenster and made sure not only that they got a paper every week, but that they got in the paper when anything newsworthy happened in their lives.

In Muenster that means births, baptisms, birthdays, first communions, weddings, graduations, babies, reunions, funerals and whatever else Freda gets wind of. Weddings and obituaries -- routine stuff in most papers -- are works of art in the Enterprise. It is literally the town's family newsletter, its pages filled with the lives of its people.

My job was to bring in "hard news" to fill out the front page -- school, city, county, farm and the rare crime story. But that was minor. The real news belonged to Freda.

The guy who hired me was their son David. A big, blonde, cheerful Aggie and former Army Ranger, he was and remains committed to keeping this family newspaper alive and serving its community. He has earned the town's support through sheer hard work.

In a city with a population of 1,287, the Enterprise has a circulation of 1,866. We should all have such market penetration.

Readers buy the Enterprise because it's interesting reading. Merchants in Muenster and throughout the area realize that if they want to reach that affluent market, an ad in the Enterprise is a good buy.

But they have realized something else: that the survival of the town and the survival of the Enterprise are inseparable. If they don't buy the paper, if they don't buy ads, Muenster has no paper, and everybody loses.

Muenster knows what a lot of communities have learned the hard way over the last decade or so: a town's identity is carried on from generation to generation through its newspaper. No out-of-town or chain operation could ever replace Freda at the front counter, Alvin at the type cabinet, or Dave out planting tulip bulbs beneath the windows.

On the Enterprise's banner is an American flag -- put there during World War II when some questioned the patriotism of this German enclave. The paper is fiercely patriotic and solidly local, serving a unique community.

Long may it wave.

Family loves wood

build plenty of shelves for Marilyn's large collection of plates.

Ernest tore out a snack bar in the kitchen and replaced it with an island, redid the cabinets, making them more convenient. He put in skylights in the kitchen and one bedroom. Every room in the house has had something done to it.

Putthoff graduated the University of Kansas with a degree in business accounting and finance. He worked for Certain-Teed in Kansas and was transferred to Kentucky and then to Wichita Falls 10 years ago.

The Putthoffs chose to live in Iowa Park. After working for Certain-Teed 25 years, six months ago he began working as an accountant for Production Essentials of Iowa Park.

One of the reasons he likes to build and work with wood is that it affords a relief from sitting at a desk all day. Marilyn says he comes home from work and goes straight to his workshop.

Mrs. Putthoff graduated St. Mary College in Leavenworth, Kans., has done some graduate work at the University of Kansas, and has attended some classes at Midwestern State University. She has been teaching 13 years.

She also has taken some special painting classes.

She said she learned a lot of finishing and refinishing techniques from an aunt of her husband. One of his aunts liked to collect antiques and the other one liked to refinish them. He also is interested in collecting antiques and has fallen heir to some that his aunt had.

Marilyn also likes to garden and most of the time she puts up a lot of vegetables. This year she also made blackberry jelly, and with her tomatoes she made barbecue and spaghetti sauce. She usually makes pickles, but she said their cucumbers did not do well this year so she didn't put up pickles with the few she had.

She also loves to bake and make yeast breads and cinnamon rolls. She uses some recipes that were handed down from her grandmother who came to America from Switzerland.

Another hobby she has is sewing. She and Amy are currently working on re-cycling blue jeans into vests.

The Putthoffs are members of Christ the King Catholic Church. Marilyn is in charge of the Religious Education program at the church and Ernest is a member of the Men's Organization. He was a member of the Knights of Columbus until they disbanded here, but he is a member in Wichita Falls.

It seems Amy summed up the entire family pretty well, although she was speaking about her father. "He starts something and then begins another and another--it just goes on and on."

But a good thing about them staying so busy all of the time, they stay busy as a family most of the time.

Williamson state winner

Clay Alan Williamson of the Iowa Park FFA Chapter was named a state winner for the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association Award at the 66th annual state FFA convention last week in Fort Worth.

Williamson, Mindy Atchley and Kevin Tucker represented the local chapter at the convention, along with advisors Ray Dillard and George Martin.

Williamson's award is given to the student who displays proficiency in beef cattle production, leadership and youth activities.

Food safety precautions for picnic, cookout season

By BARBARA FANGMANN
Wichita County CEA-HE

Consumers should be very aware of food safety precautions during the summer when outdoor activities such as picnics, campouts and cookouts are popular.

Often these activities involve food. Unfortunately, the incidence of food borne illness also seems to rise during these months.

Bacteria that cause food borne illness grow best at warm weather temperatures, specifically at "danger zone temperatures" between 40 degrees Fahrenheit and 140 degrees Fahrenheit.

Foods that are most perishable are called "red flag" foods. They are moist protein-containing foods such as poultry, meats, eggs, milk products, seafood, cream pies and custards.

Red flag items also include such foods as fried chicken and hard-cooked or deviled eggs--foods that are sometimes misunderstood as being non-perishable.

It's important to follow the "hot food-cold food rule" for perishable foods. "Keep hot foods hot (over 140 degrees) and cold foods cold (below 40 degrees)." The combination of these foods plus temperature in the danger zone spell trouble.

Prevention of food borne illness starts with the planning of the menu. Do not include "red flag" foods unless you can keep them either "hot or cold".

If refrigeration is needed, but not available, foods can be packed in an ice chest. It's important not to pack the ice chest too full and use adequate ice or ice packs to keep the foods at 40 degrees. Use shallow containers so food will stay chilled throughout. Also, keep the ice chest in the shade.

Some foods do not require refrigeration until opened and may be better to take on a picnic. These include canned meats, peanut butter and jelly, breads, crackers, cereal and nut mixes. Dried and fresh fruits are another option.

Plan to eat as soon as possible after you arrive at the picnic site. Store any leftovers promptly and properly, or throw them away. It is best to carry only what you plan to eat.

Don't leave foods out for more than two hours. In hot summer temperatures, one hour is a better rule to follow.

If you pick up deli or fast food items, either pick them up immediately before the event and eat as soon as you arrive, or buy them the night before and refrigerate.

Cleanliness is very important to prevent the spread of bacteria. Avoid handling foods more than necessary. Never handle raw foods and cooked foods together. Do not reuse any utensil that touched raw food without washing them.

Spread a clean tablecloth on the table before serving the food. Use disposable since adequate hand-washing or dish-washing facilities may not be available.

IT'S OFFICIAL - Chamber of Commerce representatives assisted Betty Guyette in a ribbon-cutting ceremony Thursday, officially marking the opening of her travel agency, Betty's Dream Travel, at 607 West Bank. It is believed to be the first of its type in Iowa Park. Mrs. Guyette says she will hold a drawing in August for free tickets to Six Flags Over Texas.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Republican gubernatorial candidate George W. Bush, in a television interview last week, criticized the Texas Insurance Commission's fining of Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. $1.2 million for deceptive sales practices, but he later told The Associated Press he believed the case against the insurance company was handled fairly.

Gov. Ann Richards campaign reacted to Bush's statements, accusing Bush of "an outrageous conflict of interest" for criticizing the fine while serving as a paid board member of Tom Brown Inc., a Midland oil and gas company in which Met Life owns stock.

Bush said he did not know Met Life owned stock in the company, but according to the Richards campaign, Met Life has owned between 6.5 and 9.9 percent of Tom Brown Inc. since Bush has served on its board.

According to Securities and Exchange Commission documents, Bush earns $12,000 a year from Tom Brown Inc.

The insurance commission ordered Met Life to make refunds totaling $1.2 million to 76,000 policyholders in Texas.

Prison Medical Report Ordered

U.S. District Judge William Wayne Justice has ordered officials to give him a report on the condition of medical facilities in the Texas Criminal Justice System.

In his order, the Tyler-based judge said he had received more than 400 letters and legal pleadings in the past three months from prisoners who allege they have had problems with health care in the prisons.

"Although at this point these complaints are only allegations that have not been investigated, the unusual number of complaints troubles the court," Justice wrote.

Audit Rips Tire Shredders

Five tire-shredding plants have overbilled the state $2.1 million, according to a preliminary audit by the Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission.

Twenty-one plants in Texas process old tires for recycling under a state program funded by the $2 per new tire fee paid by consumers. Almost $300 million in new tire fees is collected annually.

The five plants have until early August to reimburse the state or explain the discrepancies. Susan Potts, a lawyer for the Texas State Tire Recyclers Association, said she believes the company records will show the five plants do not owe money to the state.

More Felons to Get Probation

A new law goes into effect Sept. 1 that lowers penalties for dozens of property and drug offenses and doubles the amount of time most violent offenders will have to spend in prison before becoming eligible for parole.

State District Judge Larry Gist of Beaumont told the Texas Board of Criminal Justice, "It's going to be a tough year, but everyone I've talked to is committed to making this work."

According to a report in the Houston Chronicle, people convicted of a felony will have to be given probation, unless they use a weapon or have a prior aggravated offense. In that case, they will be sent to prison.

Dropout Rates Decline

The Texas public school dropout rate is half what it was six years ago, Texas Education Commissioner Lionel "Skip" Meno said last week.

Meno said the state dropout rate for seventh through 12th grades has fallen from 34 percent in the 1987-88 school year to 18 percent in the 1993 school year.

Meno attributed the improvement to legislation that reformed indifferent attitudes toward students who leave school before graduating.

Meno denied that recent announcements of good news about public schools were linked to Gov. Ann Richards re-election campaign. "I have enough work to do to just be commissioner, let alone get involved in politics," he said.

Alternative Schools Proposed

Meanwhile, Meno offered suggestions for how the state Legislature should rewrite the education code to place "at-risk" students in alternative schools rather than face expulsion.

Unless the Legislature pays for the alternative schools, local school districts would have to foot the bill to keep violent or disruptive students in school but out of regular classrooms.

Lawmakers will consider Meno's plan, which met the approval of state teachers' groups, in the 1995 legislative session.

Officials for Texas State Teachers Association and Texas Federation of Teachers, however, called Meno's proposal inadequate for an across the board 5 percent raise in teachers' minimum pay, which could affect only 2,000 teachers statewide.

Ex-senator Released on Bond

Former state Sen. Tati Santiesteban, an El Paso lawyer, was arrested last week after sheriff's deputies said they found about 2 ounces of marijuana in his briefcase during a routine search conducted as he entered the jail. Santiesteban, who was released after posting a $1,500 bond, said he doesn't know how the marijuana got into his briefcase.

Toll-Free Campaign Hotline

Texas voters can learn more about the candidates, their voting records and issues in the Nov. 8 statewide election by calling Oregon.

The toll-free hotline, 1-800-622-SMART, is financed by the Center for Independence in Politics in Corvallis, Ore.

"We grew out of a need to counter a climate of mudslinging and manipulative campaigning that candidates run to get elected," explained Adelaide Elm, a founding board member of the nonprofit, nonpartisan group.

Since it was formed two years ago, a trained hotline staff has fielded 209,000 calls. The staff surveys candidates and officeholders. Elm said she expects 80 percent of more than 2,000 state and federal candidates to respond.

ALZHEIMER'S INFORMATION MEETING IN IOWA PARK

At some time, everyone forgets house keys, where a car is parked or the name of an acquaintance. Most often the information will be remembered, just the minor memory difficulties that occur with age. But when the problems result from Alzheimer's or another related disease, they are no longer minor. Approximately four million Americans have Alzheimer's disease, and it is the fourth leading cause of death among adults.

The Alzheimer's Association provides assistance which helps families cope with this irreversible disease. Over the years the Alzheimer's Association has learned support groups are one of the main ways caregivers can get the help they need, not only to cope with immediate problems, but also to prepare for situations they will face in the future.

You are invited to hear Tamera Gillispie, Executive Director of the Wichita Falls Chapter of the Alzheimer's Association, discuss Alzheimer's disease and the benefits of support groups. The meeting will be Thursday, July 28, at 7 p.m. in the dining room of Heritage Manor at 1109 N. Third in Iowa Park. One of the purposes of the meeting is to determine if enough local interest exists for regular support meetings in Iowa Park.

REFRESHMENTS WILL BE SERVED

Please contact Heritage Manor of Iowa Park for more information or to show interest for future meetings. The number is 592-4139.

Loughry to address support group

Mrs. Beth Loughry, director of Creative Education Institute (CEI) in Wichita Falls, will address the Attention Deficit Disorder/Hyperactivity Support Group at 7 p.m. Wednesday at the Iowa Park RAC.

CEI opened in 1990 as an educational therapy clinic to aid students with learning differences.

CEI offers tutorials in core subjects, such as math, and also help students prepare for TAAS, SAT, GRE and other standardized tests.

More recently the institute has begun offering to school systems computer software programs that aid students who have difficulties learning from traditional methods.

Mrs. Loughry said the programs can be instrumental in increasing standardized test scores, meeting the individual needs of students and providing individualized instruction for at-risk, ADD, dyslexic, special education, I.D. and visually impaired students.

Some of the school districts currently contracted with CEI include City View, Lubbock, Crowell, Childress and Harlingen.

The American Academy of Dermatology recommends the following precautions to lessen the chance of developing skin cancer.

- ✓ Minimize Sun Exposure, especially during the peak sun hours of 10:00 AM and 2:00 PM when the sun's rays are the most intense.
- ✓ Apply a Sunscreen liberally and frequently, and reapply every two (2) hours when working, playing, or exercising outdoors. Sunscreens with a Sun Protection Factor (SPF) of at least 15 are recommended for protection against skin cancer and premature aging of the skin. Even on cloudy days, these precautions should be followed.
- ✓ Wear Appropriate Clothing during prolonged periods in the sun, including a hat, long-sleeved shirt and pants.
- ✓ Beware of Reflective Surfaces. Sand, snow, concrete, and water can reflect up to 85 percent of the sun's damaging rays.
- ✓ Avoid Tanning Salons and Sunlamps since the ultraviolet rays emitted by these artificial sources are similar to those in sunlight and can cause sunburn, premature aging, and increased risk of skin cancer.
- ✓ Protect Children by keeping them out of the sun or minimizing sun exposure and applying sunscreens beginning at six months of age.
- ✓ Teach Children and Teenagers sun protection, since sun exposure damage accumulates over the course of a lifetime. One severe childhood or adolescent sunburn will double the risks of developing skin cancer.
- ✓ Examine Your Skin and your children's regularly for any changes in moles, freckles, or skin discoloration.

GARDENING HINTS

By MARK TERNING, COUNTY AGENT - HORTICULTURE

Every year many pecan trees shed a portion of their crop before the nuts reach maturity. This year is no exception.

A certain amount of premature nut drop is unavoidable, but much of the dropping can be prevented by good management. Some of the reasons for premature nut drop are discussed below:

Lack of Pollination - The female flower (nutlets) and male flowers (catkins) are borne separately on pecan trees. Nutlet receptivity and pollen shed often fail to overlap within a variety and cross-pollination between varieties is necessary to assure good pollination.

Pollination usually occurs in early May and unpollinated nutlets will drop with two to four weeks. Smaller numbers of nutlets will pollinate without embryo fertilization occurring and these will stay on the tree longer but usually abort and drop in June.

Shortage of Nutrients - This can cause pecans to drop at any time during their development, but most of those drops occur in August and early September as the nuts are rapidly growing and filling.

Drops due to a shortage of nutrients will always be greatest on heavily loaded trees. In many cases, the nutrient deficient nuts that drop will be abnormally small on the basal end. Nitrogen and zinc are the most commonly deficient nutrients in pecans.

Soil Moisture Stress - Pecans require a large amount of soil moisture to mature satisfactory crops of nuts. A shortage of water in the late spring or summer will result in small pecans that will shed in large numbers in July and August. Soil saturation from excess rains can also cause stress symptoms and related nut drops.

Regular soaking irrigations (preferably at least weekly) are needed to avoid stress-related drops. Apply at least one to two inches per watering when using a sprinkler (measure with a rain gauge, tin can, etc.) or water for eight to 10 hours per application with a drip system.

If drip irrigation is used, there should be enough emitters to water at least one-half the tree's root system. Typically, the root system is one and a half times the diameter of the tree canopy.

Nuts of certain tightly filled varieties, notably Wichita, will split and drop in August and September if stressed excessively between irrigations. Numerous varieties including Wichita and Burkett are prone to sprout on the tree if the trees are overly stressed for moisture in September.

Other reasons for pre-mature nut drop is disease or pest-related. Major insect and disease problems that cause nut drop are:

Pecan nut Casebearer - This tiny worm bores into the base of the nut and hollows it out. The major attack is usually in late May, but later generations in July and August can also cause nut drop. First generation damage was light in most local orchards and yard trees.

Pecan Weevil - This pest usually begins to attack nuts in late August. The adult weevil punctures the nut and lays eggs inside. Nut punctured while still watery inside (generally before the last week of August) will abort and drop. Nuts punctured later do not drop prematurely, but the weevil larvae will hatch and hollow out the nut between early September and harvest.

Hickory Shuckwork - This insect causes nut drop in July and August. The worm tunnels between the inside of the shuck and the outside of the shell. Nuts infested after the shell begins to harden, in mid-August, usually remain on the tree until harvest. The optimum spray time is when the shells of most nuts are half-hardened (hardened halfway down the nut).

Stink Bugs - These as well as related plant bugs suck sap from the nuts. They can be a continual problem through out the spring and summer.

Pecan Scab - This fungus disease causes dark spots or lesions on leaves, twigs and the shuck of pecans. A severe infection can cause premature nut shed, particularly in August and September.

Other insects and disease problems also occasionally cause nut shedding. Not all nut drops can be avoided, but a good management program focusing on pest control, water and nutrition will avoid much of the problem and usually will assure a good harvest.

Sleep deprivation common problem

From the classroom to the boardroom, American are "nodding off" due to one of the most prevalent sleep problems--insufficient sleep.

"People try to do too many things in 24 hours. When push comes to shove, sleep gets shoved," said Dr. Max Kirshkowitz, a sleep researcher for Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

"Whether it is studying, work deadlines or partying, it is common to hear talk of "pulling an all-nighter," he said.

This sleep loss accumulates from one night to the next. "At some point the sleep debt has to be paid," said Hirshkowitz, who directs the sleep center at the Houston Veterans Affairs Medical Center. "Eventually, the brain will demand sleep."

It may be only a couple of seconds at a time, here or there, he says, but "depending on what you are doing, that might be too much." And, when sleep hits a sleep-deprived person, there is no warning. "Three seconds of sleep behind the wheel of a car going 60 mph could be disastrous."

Problems attributed to sleepiness can range from reduced productivity and diminished mental and physical health to increased accidents and risk of death.

The National Commission on Sleep Disorders Research estimates the cost of sleep-related accidents to be $45 billion annually.

To avoid sleep deprivation in the first place, Hirshkowitz recommends that adults get a minimum of seven hours sleep. Additional ways to promote good sleep include:

- * A comfortable mattress that is not too old.
- * Going to bed when sleepy instead of fighting sleep.
- * Maintaining a regular sleep schedule.
- * Exercise, but not right before bed.
- * A light snack before bed if you awake hungry in the night.
- * A regular bedtime ritual, like having decaffeinated tea each night, gives a person a chance to unwind and think about things before going to bed," Hirshkowitz added.

Heat, noise, alcohol and stimulants like caffeine, chocolate and nicotine destroy sleep as will chronic sleeping pill use.

"If you have a sleep problem that begins to interfere with your daily function, seek professional help," Hirshkowitz said.

Football practice starts in 2 weeks

Summer vacation ends in less than two weeks for Hawk football players.

Two-a-day practice sessions will begin Wednesday, Aug. 3, to prepare for the Sept. 2 season-opener against Burkburnett. Coach Weldon Nelms has announced.

The first morning will partially be consumed with the issuing of equipment. Seniors will be first, at 7 a.m., juniors at 7:15, sophomores at 7:25 and freshmen at 7:30.

Daily practice sessions will be at 7 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. Workouts will be in shorts the first week, and full pads will be used starting Aug. 8.

The players have been instructed to take sack lunches with them each morning.

The players will hold an intra squad scrimmage on Aug. 13, and Aug. 19 they will scrimmage against the Coyotes of Wichita Falls High.

Three of the non-conference games and three conference games, six in all, will be on the road for this year's varsity Hawks.

After hosting Burkburnett in the Sept. 2 opener, Iowa Park will travel two consecutive weeks to meet tough AA competition -- Electra Sept. 9 and Hamlin Sept. 16.

The Hawks will host the two-time defending state AAA champ Southlake Carroll, now moved up to AAAA, on Sept. 23, and then hit the road again to Springtown on Sept. 30, to close out the non-conference schedule.

The district opener (now Dist. 3-AAA) will be Oct. 7 at Jacksboro. This year's homecoming game will be Oct. 14 against Vernon, followed on the 21st with a road trip to Bridgeport.

Closing out the regular schedule will be hosting of Graham on Oct. 28, and then back on the road again Nov. 4 at Bowie.

The Hawk Junior Varsity is scheduled to play only two games on the road this year, but the Freshmen are slated to play five of their contests away from Hawk Stadium.

The schedules are as follows:

Senior All-Stars to play in sectional at Lubbock

Iowa Park's Senior League boys' baseball team is the Dist. 6 champion, and will play the Dist. 4 winner today in Lubbock.

Playing at Burkburnett, Iowa Park was knocked off by the host team 2-1 Thursday in seven innings, but came back Friday with a 17-3 dumping of Electra.

Iowa Park and undefeated Burkburnett went a marathon 13 innings Saturday, with Iowa Park finally edging out the Burk 3-2.

Then Monday night, the same two clubs met once again for the tournament title, and again, Iowa Park won by a whopping 13-3 margin.

Today's game in Lubbock is to start at 5:30 p.m. at Lowry Field.

Iowa Park's 13-year-old girls softball all-star team, Dist. 6 champs, are to play in the sectional tournament at 8 p.m. Saturday in Weatherford. If they win, they will play again at 6 p.m. Monday, but a loss would take them back in competition at 6 p.m. Sunday.

The Following is a list of dissatisfied Leader Classified Advertisers:

Richards elected president of TPA

Richard P. "Dick" Richards

Richard P. "Dick" Richards, publisher of the Aransas Pass Progress and the Ingleside Index, was elected president of the Texas Press Association at the group's 115th Annual Summer Convention in Fort Worth, June 30 through July 2.

Richards follows James R. "Jim" Hudson, publisher of the Perryton Herald, who took over as chairman of the association's board of directors.

Founded in 1880, Texas Press Association includes 509 weekly, semi-weekly and daily newspapers. Richards has been a member of the association since 1963 and served as director, treasurer and vice president before being elected president. He is also a past president of South Texas Press Association and served as a director of Texas Gulf Coast Press Association.

Richards started in the newspaper business selling newspapers door to door in the early 1940s. He eventually worked in the backshop of the Aransas Pass Progress casting mats, sweeping floors and running the old flatbed press and folder.

Richards says he never intended to be a newspaper man, and that in his youth he was already well aware of the long hours and never-ending struggles with Linotype operators and printers.

After a 3 1/2 year stint in the U.S. Navy as an EOD (Explosive Ordnance Disposal) officer, Richards stopped at Aransas Pass to drop off some of his belongings on his way to Hawaii. As was often the case, his father, "Scoop," was shorthanded and needed a little help. Dick stayed to help and the business quickly became a family affair.

The Progress made the transition school in Indian Head, Md. After graduating from these schools, Richards was assigned to the aircraft carrier USS Shangri La, on which he served as EOD officer and G Division officer.

Richards married Sally Jarrett of Corpus Christi in 1968. The couple has two daughters, both graduates of Texas Tech University in Lubbock. Erin, 24, is employed by Bozell Jacobs Advertising in Dallas and Leslie, 22, will be a student at St. Mary's School of Law in San Antonio this fall.

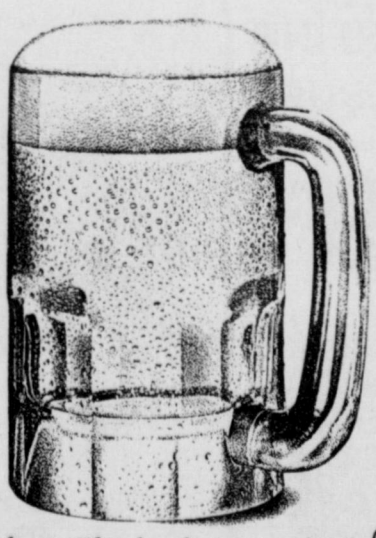

Active in community affairs, Richards has served as director and is past president of the Aransas Pass Area Chamber of Commerce and the Aransas Pass Rotary Club, where he is a Paul Harris Fellow. He was an organizing director for Aransas Pass Crime Stoppers, an organizing director for the Area Business Council which evolved into the San Patricio County Economic Development Corporation, and was an organizing director for the Ingleside Area Navy League.

The Richards are members of the First United Methodist Church of Aransas Pass.

An interesting sidebar is that as Dick Richards was elected president of TPA, Scoop celebrated 50 years in the newspaper business and received the Golden 50-Year Award at the same convention.

Another point of interest is that when Scoop Richards was president of South Texas Press Association, Hondo Anvil Herald publisher Bill Berger was president of TPA. Now, with Dick Richards as president of TPA, Berger's son, Jeff, the editor of the Anvil Herald, is president of STPA.
