

First-day enrollment nears record total

Iowa Park schools district recorded its fifth-highest ever enrollment for the first day of classes, which was last Thursday.

A total of 2,088 pupils were on hand, only two fewer than the fourth-highest first-day figure of 2,090 posted in 1972.

The district's record for first-day enrollment was established in 1970, with 2,292. Second-highest was the following year (2,188), and in 1973 there were 2,110 enrolled at the start of the year.

But new students have continued to register since Thursday. The total count recorded by Supt. Glen Mitchell at the end of Monday was 2,103.

Monday's report indicated the following increases over Thursday's: Kidwell Elementary grew from 461 to 465; Bradford from 483 to 486; junior high from 496 to 499 (it was 500 Tuesday), and high school from 648 to 653.

The freshman class had more students than any class in the district in the last 13 years, with 228 members.

Last year's eighth grade had only 175 in it on the first-day report.

By grades and campuses, the following enrollments were reported:

Kidwell - eight special education; 43 pre-kindergarten; 136 kindergarten; 144 first grade; 130 second grade. Bradford - 155 third grade; 165 fourth grade; 163 fifth grade.

Junior High - 175 sixth grade; 163 seventh grade; 158 eighth grade.

High School - 228 ninth grade; 149 tenth grade; 126 eleventh grade, and 145 twelfth grade.

City adopts new budget; tax rate lowered a penny

The city council Monday night adopted a $2.6-million budget for 1994-95, and then approved a tax rate that was one penny less than the 1993-94 rate.

City taxpayers will be assessed taxes at a rate of 79-cents per $100 valuation.

The drop in the tax rate was explained at an earlier meeting by Mayor Wayne House as being made possible by the growth in the city's tax base, which increased $2,608,495.

The new balanced budget calls for expenditures of $2,654,450, which includes $1,081,600 for the water and sewer department, and $1,771,850 for the general operating fund.

A delegation from the Friendly Door Senior Citizens Center requested the city proceed with its agreement to prepare the building site for a new center to be built next to the Recreational Activities Center.

After being told that commencement of the work would enhance the organization's fund solicitation activities, and being assured there were adequate funds available to pay for the concrete flooring once the work was completed, the council agreed to proceed with its obligation.

However, it was pointed out that most of the site preparation work would be done by the city's street crew, and that department's annual summer street improvement efforts would have to continue another three to five weeks.

The mayor announced that the city's fire department would receive additional funding from the county beginning this new fiscal year, and continue to increase over the next three years.

But the increase is based on the total number of rural fires to which the department responds annually, which was set at 100.

If the maximum number of fires is fought in the county, Iowa Park will receive $26,400 this next year, $35,000 the second year, and $40,000 the third.

The county has been funding only $14,400 annually over the past several years.

Mayor House appointed a committee of three to make a study of regulations concerning Lake Gordon, and recommend any changes it may feel should be considered.

He named Mayor Pro Tem Bud Mercer, Alderman Mark Raby and Administrator Mike Price, and told them there was no press for time, but sometime by next spring a report should be made.

A bid of $14,900 submitted by

Bowles Construction to extend a water main from the new water tower to the Shiloh Addition was approved. The line will complete a "looping" of service which is intended to greatly improve water pressure in that area.

A resolution authorizing the mayor to execute a deed of trust to purchase an entire block of property for girls' softball from Mr. and Mrs. E.L. French was approved. The price of the purchase was said to be $8,000.

An ordinance changing the zoning of Park Place Addition, at US 287 and FM 368, from R-2 to R-1 was also approved. The new rating prohibits mobile homes, multi-family residences and commercial businesses.

Completion of the new water tower may not be made until some time in September, it was pointed out.

The crew which does sandblasting and painting of towers is not expected to arrive here until sometime next month.

Concerning the city's street department summer project, House told the audience that 47 blocks have been worked on by the crew, either resurfacing or applying a slurry coating.

Arrests reported

Three arrests and one theft were reported during the past week by the Iowa Park Police Dept.

An officer on patrol Wednesday of last week saw a woman driving whom he knew had an outstanding warrant out of Montague County for her arrest.

Elaine Moore Briscoe, 41, was taken into custody on the warrant, which was theft by check.

She was taken before Justice of the Peace Bill Robinson where her rights were read and a $1,000 bond set, and later transported to the Wichita County jail, according to the police blotter.

George Hayden Cook, 23, was arrested in the 1000 block of West Highway at 6:41 p.m. Wednesday on a charge of public intoxication. He was released at 11:30 p.m. after paying a $280 fine.

Stephen Odus Kimball, 40, was taken into custody when officers responded to a residence in the 800 block of North Park at 12:37 a.m. Monday.

Kimball was charged with Class C assault to prevent family violence. He entered a plea and paid a fine of $81.50 and then released at 6:55 a.m., according to the blotter entry.

Police are investigating a reported theft of a .22 cal. pistol, valued at $45. The theft was reported Friday morning by a resident in the 800 block of South Bond.

Board hires personnel, completes budget study

Following their annual reception for new faculty members Tuesday night, school board members approved hiring of five more personnel and a special maintenance contract, and then launched into their final work shop on the 1994-95 budget.

The board also scheduled its required public hearing on the proposed budget for next Tuesday evening, to begin at 8 in the junior high school library.

Following that hearing, the meeting's agenda calls for amending the 1993-94 budget, adopting the budget on which trustees have been studying, setting of the tax rate, and then acting on a district-wide grading policy.

Supt. Glen Mitchell's proposed budget which calls for estimated expenditures of $8,047,606, suggests a tax increase of four cents. At 1.16 per $100 valuation, the district would generate $254,501,650.

The tax rates imposed the past four years have been: $.96 for 1990-91; $1.02 for 1991-92; $1.11684 for 1992-93, and $1.12 for 1993-94.

Increased faculty and support personnel, coupled with continually lower receipts from the state, have been blamed for the tax rate increases.

New personnel employed during Tuesday's meeting included: James Skeeler, high school history; Mary Baka, pre-kindergarten aide; Donna Wells, special education at junior high, and two yet-unfilled positions, including a monitor to work seven hours daily in the high school girls' physical education dressing room and a part-time in-school suspension officer at the junior high.

The special maintenance position was determined by bid, which was submitted by Gary Lyles, at $18,500 annually.

Supt. Mitchell encouraged all members of the board to visit each of the campuses, while classes are in session. "You'll see what you're paying for that way," he said.

In between the reception and the business session, each of the new personnel was introduced by their respective principals. They included:

High School - Allen Briggs, English/Spanish; Donna Brinlee, high school/junior high choir; Chris Ellis, geography/coach; Colleen Ellis, biology; Linda Goodgion, librarian; Rhonda Havins, world history/coach; Jeannie Lunney, high school/junior high band; Bruce Merrell, world history/P.E./coach; Vicky Merrell, special education aide; Weldon Nelms, athletic director, and Richard Smith, math/coach/junior high tennis/physical education.

Junior High School - Casey Nelms, reading/Texas history.

Bradford Elementary - Karen Smith, fifth grade; Linda Swan, Bradford/Kidwell librarian.

Kidwell Elementary - Brenda Davis, pre-kindergarten; Wyonna Hinkle, special education; Phyllis Hunter, kindergarten; Mary Baka, pre-kindergarten aide.

Friendly Door workers step up building drive

Directors of the Friendly Door, Iowa Park's senior citizen center, are stepping up their fund drive to build their own, new facility.

The 50x80 steel building is to be located on the north side of the Recreational Activities Center, facing Third Street.

Board members approached the city council Monday night and received assurance that the city's promise of preparing the site will be completed in time for the structure's concrete flooring to be poured.

Board member Tommy Key told the council the center's building fund could cover the plumbing and concrete slab, but still lacked enough to erect the structure's shell.

"We've been told by several who have made partial pledges that they would complete their donations once

Ex-Students make plans for annual homecoming

"Dancing through the Decades" was chosen for the theme of the 1994 Alumni Banquet, to be held in October, during a meeting of the Alumni Association officers Monday night.

The officers met to discuss plans for homecoming weekend scheduled Oct. 14 and 15. The banquet theme was selected by alumni president Gay Campbell Williams.

The celebration will begin with a parade on Friday afternoon. The Alumni Association will have cars carrying current officers and future alumni.

During the football game Friday night, a Coming Home Queen will be recognized. All ex-students should register and the queen will be recognized and presented with a mum from the association.

The weekend will culminate with the Alumni and Ex-Students Banquet on Saturday evening. Dinner will be prepared by the MuleSkinners and served at 7 p.m. The high school cafeteria will be open for pre-registration at 5:30 p.m.

Early reservations for the banquet is recommended, and can be made by returning the form that will be mailed to ex-students. If you have an address change, you are asked to notify Jo Ellis Patterson at (817) 592-9038, or Patsy Rogers Cope at (817)

592-4366, or mail the information to P.O. Box 223, Iowa Park.

As in years past, reservations can also be made during Whoop-T-Do by going by the Friendly Door between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m., where a come and go reception will be hosted. This gives ex-students an opportunity to visit and renew old acquaintances.

Reservations made prior to Oct. 12 are $8 per person. After that date they increase to $10.

News Briefs

Annual street dance Saturday on Cash Street

Members of the Iowa Park Volunteer Fire Dept. will sponsor their annual street dance Saturday night. The event will be in the 100 block of East Cash, and is to begin at 8 p.m.

No admission will be charged.

Music will be provided by Sheila Helton and her Texas Lawmen Band. The public is encouraged to take lawn chairs.

Hotter'N Hell riders to ride through town

Farm Road 368 through Iowa Park will again be used as an "escape" route for participants in Saturday's annual Hotter'N Hell bicycle ride.

A refreshment stand for riders will be on the west grounds of the Tom

Burnett Memorial Library, where it has been the past few years.

Cyclists who pass through the city will be those who "bail out" from the 100-mile route and take a short cut through here back to their finish line.

NO PAY... YOU STAY Judge adopts new course to collect traffic ticket fines

Opening of the new county jail annex in Wichita Falls may make it more desirable for those receiving fines in Iowa Park municipal court to pay up.

Due to overcrowding at the Wichita County jail, before the annex completion, prisoners were not being accepted for failure to pay fines set in the local court. The Iowa Park facilities have only been approved by jail commissioners to hold prisoners for 24 hours.

During an appearance at the city council meeting Monday night, Municipal Judge Dan Tompkins explained that with the opening of the annex, the county jail could handle those charged with misdemeanor offenses, where before only felons could be detained.

The mayor and councilmen individually voiced support of the judge's recommendations. Tompkins suggested that after a reasonable number of opportunities, if a person is not taking care of an obligation to pay a fine or fines (some have accumulated five or six tickets) they will serve time in jail.

This has been brought about by "a group of males, in their late teens and early 20s, who take lightly and make jokes about their fines," the judge said.

"Anyone who is able-bodied and employed will be given time to pay a fine," Tompkins said, "and anyone, able-bodied and unemployed, may be given the opportunity to work the fine off on a public project."

Judge Tompkins also noted that fines have been increased for some offenses.

Truckers can be fined $150 plus $30 court costs for driving their vehicles off the city's designated truck routes. For routine assault, the fine has been raised from $81.50 to $130, and goes higher for more serious assaults.

Regardless of the offense or penalty, the new policy should encourage offenders to show up at municipal court, and make some effort to pay their fines.

Barker, Walker wed Saturday in Wichita Falls ceremony

Angela Dyanne Barker became the bride of Jay Christopher Walker in nuptial rites performed Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in the sanctuary of Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Wichita Falls. Rev. Ivor Koch, pastor, was the officiant.

The bride is the daughter of Andrea Barker of Iowa Park and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Barker of Holliday. Walker's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jodie Walker of Wichita Falls.

The newlyweds left after the reception for a honeymoon in New Orleans and will return to Arlington where they will establish residence.

Susanne Underhill presided at the bride's wedding book that was placed in the front foyer of the church for guests to sign upon arrival.

For the recitation of double ring vows, the couple stood before the front altar of the church. The altar was flanked by two fresh arrangements of white larkspur, white gladiolas, and white lilies with accents of fuchsia.

Pews in the church were marked by silk stargazer lilies accented with fuchsia and teal.

As the mothers entered the sanctuary, Betty Bouchard, organist, played, "On Eagle's Wings". She presented Pachelbel's "Canon in D" as the attendants entered.

Mothers of the bride and groom were presented a bridal white silk rose by the bride on her way down the aisle.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of bridal satin designed with a fitted bodice overlaid with floral lace appliques embellished with pearls and iridescent beads. The low scooped neckline and keyhole back was edged in scallops of lace, and lace with accents of pearls and iridescents formed the pouf sleeves.

Lace appliques were repeated on the full skirt of the gown and down the back of the elegantly trimmed cathedral train. Pearls and iridescent beads were sprinkled throughout the designs.

The lace motifs also were used to trim the floor length veil of bridal illusion that fell from poufs of illusion and a floral headband dotted with iridescents.

A crescent shaped silk bouquet of bridal white roses, white casablanca lilies, white pearled stephanotis and baby's breath was carried by the bride. It was accented with pearled iridescent sprays and long ribbon streamers.

Her throw away bouquet was a colonial nosegay of bridal white silk roses, accented with the bride's chosen colors of fuchsia and teal and was finished with long streamers.

To carry out the bridal traditions, the bride wore a blue garter, her grandmother's wedding ring for something old, her sister's pearl necklace for something borrowed and her wedding gown served as something new.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Cheryl

Mrs. Jay Christopher Walker (Miss Angela Dyanne Barker)

Reed of Iowa Park, the bride's sister. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Stacia Haney of Lubbock, Mrs. Rebel Parker of Iowa Park, and Staci Sanders of Wichita Falls. Lindsay Barker of Holliday, sister of the bride, served as junior bridesmaid.

They wore identically styled mid-calf length fuchsia dresses that featured a scalloped peplum, straight skirt and a low back that was fastened across the shoulders with a bow.

The matron of honor carried a colonial nosegay of fuchsia and teal roses, stargazer lilies and white alstromeria, accented with silk baby's breath and ribbon streamers.

Bouquets of the bridesmaids were colonial nosegays which complimented the matron of honor's bouquet. The junior bridesmaid carried a miniature version of the matron of honor's bouquet consisting of the bride's chosen colors of fuchsia, teal and white.

Mothers of the bride and groom wore shoulder corsages of bridal white sweetheart roses and pearled stephanotis, complimented by white pearl sprays.

All other feminine participants in the wedding and reception wore shoulder corsages of fuchsia and teal with accents of white baby's breath.

Joseph Walker of Wichita Falls served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Tim Walker, Troy Walker, brothers of the groom, and Steven Bobo, all of Wichita Falls, and Jasyn Haney of Lubbock.

The groom wore a bridal white silk rose accented with pearled stephanotis and baby's breath. The male attendants and fathers wore fuchsia roses with silk baby's breath accents.

The reception was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall. A fuchsia, teal and pearled white balloon archway with white lights was placed over the disc jockey's table.

Guests were seated at tables draped in pink with mirrored centerpieces decorated with teal, fuchsia, and pearled white balloons.

The bride's table was draped with a white lace double-tiered skirt and complimented with ribbons in the bride's chosen colors.

Her four tiered square cake was trimmed with cascading roses, teal hearts and fuchsia flowers.

The groom's table was draped in a white raw linen skirt. His cake was heart-shaped and was decorated with a heart and inscription "The Walkers". It also was trimmed with teal and fuchsia roses.

Members of the house party served at the bride's and groom's table. They were Kristi Curran, Paula Curran, Barbara Phillips, all aunts of the groom, Claire Martinez, and Susanne Underhill.

Parents of the groom hosted the rehearsal dinner at El Mexicano.

The bride graduated Holliday High School and is a graduate of Midwestern State University where she received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Criminal Justice.

Walker graduated Hirschi High School and received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Biology.

Special guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Barker of Electra and Mrs. Lou Grisham of Wichita Falls.

Look Who's New

Reece

A daughter, Aimee Michelle, was born Aug. 12 at SAFB Hospital to Clayton and Richelle Reece of Iowa Park. She weighed five pounds, 11 ounces. She has an older sister, Jillian, 12 years old.

Grandparents are Donald and Pauline Reece of Maplewood, Mo., and Mary Holly of Illinois.

Great-grandparents are Fred and Ruby Heideman of Maplewood, Mo.

1974 class reunion slated for homecoming weekend

The Iowa Park High School Class of 1974 will hold their 20th reunion during homecoming weekend, Oct. 14 and 15.

Tentative plans include: attending the football game together; a golf tournament Saturday morning; meeting at Whoop-T-Do, and concluding with a dinner at the Ramada Inn in Wichita Falls.

The planning committee will meet at 7 o'clock this evening at the Recreational Activities Center. Anyone with addresses of classmates is asked to attend, or contact Gisele Farmer Herron 767-8740; Carlette Kyle Kelly 855-1853, or Sheri Disselhorst Kennedy 592-5134.

McClure, Hammit vows exchanged in outdoor setting

Brandy Allen Hammit and his bride, the former Kristie Dawn McClure, are making their home in Iowa Park following their July 23 wedding and an undisclosed honeymoon trip.

The bride is the daughter of Katherine Denise Kerr of Iowa Park. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hammit of Dumas are parents of the bridegroom.

The couple pledged double ring vows in an outdoor setting arranged at the front entrance of Tom Burnett Memorial Library. Dean Dugan, minister of the Church of Christ in London, Ark., officiated.

White magnolia blossoms were arranged on the front stair rails. Black, white and teal bows accented the chairs at the ends of each row.

Background music was provided by tapes. "I Swear" was played at the close of the ceremony.

The groom's mother was escorted to her place by her son, Kelsey Hammit of Dumas. The bride's mother was escorted by J. L. Wisell, also of Dumas.

Don Eslick, maternal grandfather of the bride gave her in marriage. As they approached the improvised altar, the bride presented her mother a single red rose, tied with teal, white and black ribbons. Following the ceremony she gave an identical rose to the groom's mother.

She wore a dress and veil that she designed and was made by her mother and grandmother, Wanda Eslick. The straight line, above the knee dress was fashioned from rose brocade fabric with white background. It was styled with low scooped neckline and long sleeves and was enhanced with lace appliques dotted with pearls and rhinestones.

The dress featured a gathered, detachable semi-cathedral train and a bow tie belt. It was adorned with small white and pearl bows and a mid-thigh bustle.

Her triple tiered veil of bridal illusion, trimmed in rose design lace, was attached to a band of florets and fell to cathedral length.

She carried her Grandmother Eslick's bridal bouquet of white roses and teal and added white and teal satin ribbon.

Mr. and Mrs. Brandy Allen Hammit (Kristie Dawn McClure)

The bride wore new earrings and necklace given to her by her mother, and for something blue she wore a small blue teddy bear. Something borrowed was her bouquet and she wore floral and pearl combs from her grandmother. Something old was two pennies in her shoes minted the years of the couple's birthdates.

Attending the bride as honor attendant was her sister, Patricia McClure of Iowa Park, and the groom's sister, Shelly Hammit of Dumas.

They were identically attired in straight, knee length, sleeveless dresses of teal. They were designed with scoop necklines and a matching teal bustle edged with white rose design lace. A bow accented the center back.

Each wore a large teal bow and white rose in her hair, rhinestone earrings and necklaces given to them by the bride, and added long white gloves. Each carried a bouquet of teal roses and baby's breath tied with black, teal and white bows.

Crissy Dugan of London, Ark., cousin of the groom, served as flower girl. She wore a short, ruffled white dress with teal trim and teal rose wrist band. She carried a white and teal basket with white rose petals.

Ring bearer was Matthew Dugan of London. He wore black jeans with a white shirt, teal bow tie and cummerbund.

Kelsey Hammit of Dumas was his brother's best man. J.L. Wisell of Dumas was groomsmen. They also served as ushers.

The groom and his attendants wore black tails, black jeans and white shirts. The groom wore a black and teal bow tie and cummerbund. The attendants' ties and cummerbunds were teal.

The reception was held at the Iowa Park Recreational Activities Center and featured a country and western theme.

Small bales of hay, horseshoes, bullrigging, spurs, teal, white and black balloons with streamers decorated the reception area.

Tables were covered with white, teal and black cloths. Boots, filled with flowers were arranged on the tables.

Toylin Kerr, step-sister of the bride, presided at the bride's book.

The bride's triple layer cake was decorated with teal roses and pearls. It was topped with a cowboy and bride. The top tier was trimmed with roping and teal and white roses.

The groom's table was covered with a black cloth and an off-white lace overlay that belonged to his grandmother.

His chocolate cake was decorated with a chocolate fish. Gummi worms and fish as well as nuts, mints and black western ties added to the table decor.

The newlyweds opened numerous gifts at the reception.

Special guests were grandparents of the couple, including Ruth Pierce of Borger, great-grandmother; Dean and Dorothy Dugan of London, Ark., Carrie Martin of Dalhart and Don and Wanda Eslick of Iowa Park.

Other out-of-town guests were Charlene and Wayne More of Dalhart, Carol Dugan of Springfield, Mo., and Jeremy Hunley of Dumas.

For travel the bride chose a white teal and burgundy set with split skirt.

The bride will be a 1995 graduate of Iowa Park High School. The groom graduated Dumas High School in 1991 and attended TSTI in Amarillo

As I See It... By Bob Hamilton

Some folks have found a surer, more dependable way of getting a big pot of money than gambling on the state's lottery game.

It's called suing.
Case in point: a woman in New Mexico was recently awarded $2.9-million because she spilled some hot coffee on her lap.

Nope, she didn't sue the automobile manufacturer -- which is the usual target for a bunch of bucks -- nor the company that made the coffee cup -- nor the manufacturer of her dress which allowed the hot coffee to reach her skin.

She sued McDonald's.
As I remember the details, this 81-year-old woman picked up a cup of coffee at a McDonald's drive-through window. But she didn't get far, because she spilled the near-boiling java.

The report I read didn't state whether the woman was driving or was a passenger. But she allegedly suffered third-degree burns on her legs.

I can understand her problem. If, at my age, my skin is so tender it tends to tear by only brushing against something, it surely will blister when and if I reach 81 and spill a hot liquid on it.

But, frankly, if it had happened to me, I'd be too embarrassed to admit I pulled that kind of dumb, bumbling stunt and hurt myself.

Frankly, I'm more upset when I buy a cup of coffee and it's not real hot, and stay pretty well that way until I'm through with it.

But I started to get the idea of how the woman was so fortunate, in her financial way, as I learned the close of the newspaper account.

One of the members of the jury -- this happened in Albuquerque -- was quoted as saying, "We wanted to send a message to all these fast food places that their coffee was too hot."

I'm tempted to make a run over there this weekend, when I have the time. Heck, I'd drive all the way to Albuquerque for a little scorching if I can pick up $2.9-million in change!

Worth Quoting

You probably noticed the article about the man in New Jersey who was charged with animal cruelty after killing a rat that had been eating his tomato plants.

The 69-year-old World War II veteran whacked the rat with a broom handle wrapped in newspaper. The Associated Humane Societies issued the man two summonses, each carrying a penalty of up to six months in jail and $1,250 in fines. The man had called the association to come get the rat after he killed it.

Great getting-up morning!
We can remember a time in this country, before television, talk-shows, and Sunday afternoon football, that a rat-killing around a dwindling feed stack was an exciting Saturday afternoon festival.

One of our most vivid memories of childhood concerned the invitation from an uncle of ours in Dawson county to come over on a late Saturday afternoon, bring a bat -- and our little terrier mongrel.

The whole family drove over and out to the farm where only a few shocks of feed remained in the once huge feed stack -- and rats had made their home there for two or three years.

As a precautionary measure, binder twine was tied around the lower pants legs of all the men and boys forming a big circle around the stack and everyone had a stick, club, bat, or broomstick.

When all was in readiness, the last few shocks of feed were removed -- and pandemonium reigned supreme.

Men and boys were swinging bats and clubs, dogs were darting in and seizing a rat and tossing it high into the air, rats were airborne all around as were the wildly swinging clubs and bats. The yelling and screaming, the rats squealing, and the dogs barking made the whole scene chaotic.

It was all over in nine or ten minutes and more rats escaped than were hit but it was exciting -- and barbaric.

We remember another occasion, here in Andrews, when bats and clubs were used on jackrabbits.

Following the completion of the Devonian Elementary School in northwest Andrews, Tommy Hendricks, the principal, worked most of the summer on his own time seeding and sodding the grounds, planting his famous rose bushes, and grafting favorite roses on root stock.

But just about the time the grounds turned green from the new lawn, the jackrabbits moved in -- in record numbers.

Tommy tried several suggested tricks to keep the rabbits off the lawn -- to no avail.

Finally a temporary four-foot hog wire fence was erected on the northwest corner of the Devonian grounds and word was passed around town asking for volunteers to show up late one afternoon with bats and clubs.

We went up with a camera to catch the action -- and it was action-plus. Men and teenagers formed a long line and gradually herded the jackrabbits into the fenced corner -- then bedlam broke loose.

It became a wild corner with bats swinging, rabbits jumping, dogs barking, everybody yelling -- we're sure some of the rabbits died more from fright than from bats. But the rabbit roundup solved the problem.

We captured some good pictures -- pictures of rabbits sailing through the air like home-run bound baseballs but after viewing some of the pictures, gentle Tommy asked us not to publish the action-filled ones -- just the herding scenes -- too barbaric.

Rats and jackrabbits may not be a current problem in northwest Andrews. Now it's foxes and skunks.

Numerous sightings of grey foxes in the northwest and red foxes in the southeast are reported almost nightly. And at least one resident has made pictures of a grey silver fox walking his backyard fence.

Shotgun blasts were reported Thursday night in the northwest section of town so some of the skunk problem may have been eliminated -- barbaric or not.

Progress is wonderful. We've moved from the barbaric killing of rats, skunks, and other pests because we're too civilized.

Now, we just kill each other.

You know I'm beginning to feel important. Two nights in a row last week I received phone calls soliciting money for some worthy cause. One would think I had received that check my Uncle Ed McMahon has been promising me.

The first call was a poor soul who was begging me to send money for the policemen. Bless his little heart, he reminded me of how many policemen had lost their lives in the line of duty. We owed them something, which I agreed. His plan was to help them by my sending them a donation. "But I'm a poor widow living on a set income" I told the nice fellow. "Well just $30, can't you send $30?"

Here was this nice fellow who was trying so hard to help our police force -- I felt ashamed. He went on to tell me that he would send me an envelope to send my donation in, even a bumper sticker for my car. How nice can you be?

The very next night I got another call, this time from some nice lady, who was calling on behalf of the Democratic Party. It seems they were in dire need too. Again it was just $30, however she was willing to settle for a smaller amount. "If you can't send $30, send $20." I told her I would give what I could, but I'd give it to the head of the local Democratic Party. She must have been in a powerful hurry, she forgot to wish me a nice day. Come to think about it, she didn't even wish me a good night. She hung up on me.

Now I don't know how far $30 would go toward helping the police, probably buy a can of oil for a gun, and I'm sure $30 or $20 wouldn't be too much help to the Democratic or even the Republican Party. Why not reach up there a little higher, say in the thousands? Thirty thousand might have got my attention, then I would have been more than happy to send them a measly 30 bucks.

Back when I was young and tender people worked for a living. If you didn't work, you didn't eat. We didn't think about sitting by the telephone and phoning every old naive widow woman in the county to ask for money tore-sod Sahara Desert. I was grown before I learned the telephone was used for something more than to call the doctor when someone was dying. Back then when someone called you, you could bet your bottom dollar it was for real. Now you wonder.

I'm also wondering, are these folks for real? Did they have mamas and papas, or did they just hatch out from under a rock?

One key to understanding what's wrong with our federal government might be found in a word count.

The Lord's Prayer contains 66 words. The Gettysburg Address uses 286 words. There are only 1,322 words in the Declaration of Independence.

Government regulations on the sale of cabbage takes 26,911 words.

Folks, there is a serious injustice going on in this land and I think it is my solemn duty as a member of the majestic Fourth Estate to bring it to your attention so that the purveyors of decency and cleanliness in this great country of ours are rooted out and destroyed.

Seems the Blockbuster Entertainment Corp., which owns Sound Warehouse Inc., had decided to infringe upon the rights of its employees and require them to maintain a certain standard of dress!

Yes, that's right, fellow Americans, Megacorp itself is leaning down and oppressing the Little Guy.

(Let me get my tongue out of my cheek and tell you the rest of the story.)

You see, Blockbuster Entertainment Corp. has instituted a dress code among its employees.

That's right, the company has told people who work for it that they have a choice -- either dress appropriately for work or work elsewhere.

Gee, isn't that a novel idea? But what's so expected (and disappointing) is that some employees are complaining.

Blockbuster has told male employees they cannot have long hair or earrings, that female employees may only have one earring per ear (!), that jeans, sneakers, bandannas and sandals may not be worn to work and that jewelry with "macabre-occult symbols such as skulls and pentagrams" are not permitted.

Gosh, that means men have to dress like men, they must cover themselves and cannot adorn themselves in the accoutrements of Satan worship or the like.

And it's not like Blockbuster is requiring suits and ties, either -- all the regulations say is that all sales employees wear blue shirts and khaki pants.

One employee quit, saying that, after "I made them a lot of money" he should be awarded by being allowed to dress like a slob on company time.

I wish there were more companies that took this stand. I don't think it's too much to ask for an employee of a company to dress his or her best while representing that company.

Norma Fortner

A love of life and good disposition are obvious character traits of this week's featured cook, Norma Fortner.

Although she is active in many things, Norma says her kids, grandkids and church keep her busy.

Her children are Larry of Iowa Park, and daughters Judy Erickson of Dallas and Sharon Cates of Fort Worth. Among them, they have given Norma three grandchildren.

She is a member of Iowa Park Church of Christ where she teaches Sunday School and sings with a group there each Tuesday. She has been a Sunday School teacher 40 years.

In addition, she has been a member of the Iowa Park Garden Club four years, serving as president this year.

She took time out to be our cook of the week despite the fact that she is preparing her home for a group of bike riders participating in the Hotter 'N Hell bike race this weekend. She said she has been offering her home as a place to stay to a group of racing friends from NASA nine years, and enjoys every minute of it.

She retired from Wichita Falls Production Credit in 1978.

Norma is no stranger to the Leader office. She was our 17th featured cook of the week July 22, 1971. At the time, her son was entering college. This time around, her grandson and one of her granddaughters are entering college.

COOK OF THE WEEK

Dough:
4 1/2 cups flour
1 tsp. baking soda
1 cup shortening
1/2 cup white sugar
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. cinnamon
2 cups brown sugar
3 eggs

Cream shortening and sugar until smooth. Add eggs. Stir in sifted dry ingredients.

Roll out 1/4 of the dough until 1/2-inch thick. Spread with 1/4 of the filling. Roll up jelly-roll style. Wrap in waxed paper and chill.

When ready to bake, slice 1/4-inch thick and bake on greased cookie sheet at 375° for 10-15 minutes.

These are good cookies to have during the Holidays.

Upside Down Cake or Cup Cakes

1 cup sugar
1/2 cup butter or margarine
2 eggs
1/2 cup milk
1 1/2 cups flour
1 1/2 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. vanilla

Cream butter and sugar, add eggs. Add dry ingredients alternately with milk.

For cake:
In heavy iron skillet, cook 1 cup brown sugar, 2 Tbsp. butter and 3 Tbsp. water. Add pineapple or other fruit, then add batter. Bake 35-40 minutes at 350°.

For cupcakes:
I bake plain and ice or add blueberries for breakfast.
Very versatile.

Cow Chip Cookies

B. Bo Burkett of the Ted Burkett Ranch in Archer County brought these into the office when I worked at Wichita Falls Production Credit Assoc.

2 sticks oleo
2 cups brown sugar
2 cups white sugar
6 eggs
1 Tbsp. white syrup
1 tsp. vanilla
4 tsp. soda

Mix these together and add:
2 1/2 lb. jar chunky peanut butter
1-22 oz. box quick oats
1/2 lb. chocolate chips
1/2 lb. M&M candy
1 cup chopped pecans
Mix in large bowl as this recipe makes a big batch of cookies.

Drop onto greased baking sheet and cook 10-12 minutes at 350°.

Easy Casserole

Christine Lester, a good friend, gave me this.

2 large potatoes, sliced
1/2 cup rice
1 lb. hamburger meat
1-16 oz. can corn, drained
1 can tomato soup or tomatoes
1/2 cup each, green peppers & onions
Salt and pepper to taste.

Layer in casserole and top with bacon slices on top. Bake 2 hours at 300°.

If you are interested in pecan orchard management; if you would like to learn more about marketing pecan crops; if you need to know more about pecan insect and disease control; then you should plan to attend the first-ever Red River Pecan Field Day.

It will begin at 10 a.m. today at the Clear Creek Pecan Plantation in Forestburgh. The orchard is located on the Montague County, Cooke County line.

Flyers which include a map on how to locate the orchard are available at county extension offices in Wichita, Clay and Montague counties.

Five counties have worked together to bring you this special event. Pecan specialists, entomologists, plant pathologists, and professional orchard managers as well as leaders in the pecan industry from Texas and Oklahoma will join forces to deliver the day-long seminar.

Topics will include marketing pecan crops, beneficial and destructive insects, disease considerations, pecan orchard management, and pecan weevil monitoring and control. Equipment viewing and demonstrations will be available courtesy of N.H. Savage Pecan Equipment Company.

Homeowners and orchard managers as well as any person with an interest in pecan production are welcome to attend.

Young Farmer annual picnic slated Saturday

Members of the Wichita County Young Farmers will hold their annual picnic Saturday at Harrell Park in Wichita Falls.

The event is to begin at 12-noon and continue until midnight. All members are encouraged to attend, and take desserts. The meal will be furnished.

First Baptist sets conference

First Baptist Church will host a one-day family-life conference Sunday.

Dr. and Mrs. John Drakeford of Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth will be leading the conference.

As a teacher and author, Dr. Drakeford has dealt with family issues in numerous ways. He and his wife have led family seminars and have developed the special one-day format.

The conference will begin at 9:30 a.m. with all adults meeting in the church sanctuary for a joint session led by the Drakefords.

The family will be the emphasis of the morning's congregational worship hour at 10:45.

During the evening worship time, at 6 p.m., the Drakefords will have a special presentation, portraying Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Edwards.

Jonathan Edwards, best known for his sermon "Sinners in the Hands of an Angry God," was a key leader in one of the greatest renewals in American history, according to Dr. Darrell Monday.

Having studied the life of the Edwards, the Drakefords have found some qualities they believe are critical to family life today. They will teach those qualities by portraying the couple from the past.

The conference is open to the general public, as well as church members. A nursery is provided for all services.

Services for Betty Rae Hodges, 66, were at 10 a.m. Wednesday at Dutton Funeral Home.

Rev. Ole Olds, pastor of Lakeview Church of God, officiated. Burial was in Highland Cemetery.

Mrs. Hodges died Monday in a Wichita Falls hospital.

Born Sept. 7, 1927, in San Antonio, she was married to M.L. Hodges June 16, 1955, in Wichita Falls. She had been a resident of Iowa Park 38 years, moving here from San Antonio. She was a homemaker and worked for Concepts of Care. She was a Protestant.

Survivors include her husband; one son, Johnny of Iowa Park, and one sister, Doris Peacock of Wichita Falls.

Mildred Metz

Services for Mildred Maxine "Susie" Metz, 84, will be held at 4 p.m. Saturday, at Dutton Funeral Home Chapel with Dr. Derrell Monday, pastor of First Baptist Church, and Dr. Philip McLarty, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, officiating. Burial will be in Highland Cemetery.

She died Monday in a Gullport, Miss. hospital.

Mrs. Metz was born Feb. 9, 1910, in Wichita Falls, the daughter of an area pioneer family, Robert Edgar and Bonnie Edna Carter. She lived on the Mitchell Ranch southwest of Iowa Park, where she met her husband, Charlie Lawson Metz. They were married March 27, 1926, in Iowa Park.

In 1928, they purchased the Jack Hoffman Cafe on Cash Street in Iowa Park. During World War II, while her husband was serving with the Navy Seabees, Mrs. Metz continued to operate the coffee shop. They operated the coffee shop until their retirement in 1975, when the cafe was sold. From 1951 until 1957, she and her husband also owned and operated Metz Appliance and Construction.

Mrs. Metz' interests leaned to the religious and aesthetics. She made prime contributions to the area in these activities and through social organizations and business contacts. For over 65 years she was very active in the First Baptist Church. For many years she was Junior Department Sunday School Superintendent and was Girls Auxiliary leader. She presented numerous chalk talks for church events, organizations, and the Wichita Falls State Hospital.

She was a talented artist who shared those talents with many people in the area. She did oil paintings, china paintings and ceramics and presented programs about her art work for clubs and organizations.

She was a member of Iowa Park Easter Star over 50 years and was past Worthy Matron. She was a charter member of the Iowa Park Garden Club, and was a member of the 23 Study Club since 1950, and was a past president. She also belonged to the Porcelain Club of Wichita Falls and was a member of the Iowa Park Arts and Crafts Association and the Wednesday Lunch Bunch.

Mrs. Metz was preceded in death by her husband on Dec. 2, 1992.

Survivors include two daughters, Bonnie Medlinger of Iowa Park, and Charlene Tate of Pass Christian, Miss.; six grandchildren; and 11 great-grandchildren.

The family suggests memorials to Hospice of Wichita Falls, or the First Baptist Church of Iowa Park.

The family will be at 1509 Johnson Road.

Mildred May Drury

Services for Mildred May Drury, 76, were at 1 p.m. Monday in Crestview Mausoleum Chapel in Wichita Falls.

Rev. Howard Chapman, associate pastor of First Baptist Church of Wichita Falls, officiated. Burial was in Crestview Memorial Park under direction of Owens & Brumley Funeral Home.

Mrs. Drury died Thursday in a Wichita Falls hospital.

Mrs. Drury was born June 10, 1918, in Mooringsport, La. She had been a resident of Iowa Park since 1970. She was a homemaker.

She is survived by one brother, Clarence R. Andrews of Chandler.

Thomas H. Skinner

Last rites for Thomas Herbert Skinner, 58, were Tuesday at 2 p.m. at Owens & Brumley Funeral Home in Wichita Falls.

Rev. Ed Lane, pastor of Lakeside City Baptist Church, officiated. Burial was in Seymour Cemetery.

Mr. Skinner died Sunday at his home in Wichita Falls.

Born Nov. 6, 1935, in Florien, La., he had lived in Wichita Falls since 1960.

Skinner was employed by Ninth Street Food and formerly owned H&S Food Store in Iowa Park and Herb's Conoco on Jacksboro Highway.

He is survived by his wife, Mary L.; one son, Bryan of Portland, Ore.; one daughter, Pamela Shipman of Seymour, and three grandchildren.

Joe Earnest Wood

Joe Earnest Wood, 49, a former Iowa Park resident, died Sunday in an Imperial, Pa. hospital.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. today at First Baptist Church in Lindsay, Okla., with Rev. Philip McLarty, pastor of First Presbyterian Church in Iowa Park, officiating. Burial will be in Green Hill Cemetery at Lindsay.

Wood was born Sept. 2, 1944, in Lindsay. He was a 1962 graduate of Lindsay High School and attended Oklahoma State Univ. at Stillwater, Okla. two years. He and Carol Prather Wood were married Feb. 22, 1994. He was owner of Western Equipment Company, with branch offices in Pittsburg, Pa. and Minnesota, and International Boring in Wichita Falls. While living in Iowa Park, he was an active supporter of FFA and 4-H programs. He was a member of Air Craft Owners & Pilots Assoc., Rocky Mountain Pipe Line Assoc., University Club in Wichita Falls, a lifetime honorary member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon at Stillwater, and a member of First Presbyterian Church in Iowa Park.

Wood was a lover of the land, and always said to leave it in better shape than you found it.

He was preceded in death by a son, John Fulton Wood, on April 1, 1991.

Survivors include his wife; two daughters, Beth Sweet of Wichita Falls and Kristi Neal of Houston; one step-daughter, Susan Phillips of New Orleans, La.; his parents, Clyde and Frances Wood of Lindsay; one sister, Mary Wilson of Iowa Park; one grandchild; and two step-grandchildren.

Claud "Jack" Waggoner

Services for Claud "Jack" Waggoner, 90, of Vernon were at 10 a.m. Monday at Sullivan Funeral Home in Vernon.

Rev. Derrell Patterson, pastor of First United Methodist Church, officiated. Burial was in Eastview Cemetery.

Mr. Waggoner, brother of Bertha Bradstreet of Iowa Park, died Friday in a Vernon nursing home.

Born Nov. 25, 1903, at Emblem in Hopkins County, he was married June 22, 1927, in Vernon to Pearl Smith.

Waggoner had lived in Wilbarger County since 1906 and was a member of the Methodist church. He was a retired employee of the City of Vernon and a member of the Volunteer Fire Department Association.

Additional survivors include his wife; one son, Bennie of Corsicana; one daughter, Linda Bills of Arlington; one brother, J.L. of Electra; six other sisters, Clara Ford of Livermore, Calif., Lee Griffith of Lovington, N.M., Lillian Schell of Eugene, Ore., Bonnie Sanford of Lamesa, Sue Russell of Vernon, and Faye Zinser of Lubbock; four grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Card of Thanks

We want to gratefully thank all of our friends and family for their many thoughtful expressions of deep concern and sympathy during the weeks in the hospital and subsequent loss of Jesse. Our special appreciation is extended to Rev. Glen Blackmon of First United Methodist Church, the United Methodist Women, Rev. Philip McLarty, the Masonic Lodge and Dutton Funeral Home. It is at a time like this when we realize the love and support that only a small community, like Iowa Park, can provide. We will continue to need your prayers and friendship and do so cherish both. Our memories will be treasured forever.

Sincerely,
Carolyn McCullough and Family

Kamay firemen have busy week

Kamay volunteer firemen had a busy week, assisting area units, as well as answering local calls.

Wednesday and Thursday, firemen were called on to assist Holliday firefighters at two different grassfires on the Ferguson Ranch south of Kamay.

Thursday, Kamay units were dispatched to another grassfire call on Highway 258 and Lucy Road. Assisted by Iowa Park, Electra and Holliday departments, they were able to save a small mobile home from burning when flames got dangerously close.

They were called out Thursday and Friday nights to grassfires on River View Estates, better known as River Rat Road. Iowa Park assisted in fighting both of these fires.

A trash pit on fire on Lucy Road called them out for the last time during the weekend late Friday night.

Shortly before noon on Wednesday, firemen were called to fight a small grass fire on 367 and Lazy J road.

BRADFORD

Positive Math Program

Fifth graders at Bradford began using the Saxon Math Program this week.

The program is based on daily repetition and re-enforcement of math problems and skills. Bradford Principal Pat Cravens said the program makes children feel more confident about their math skills.

Third and fourth graders at Bradford have utilized this system in the past, but this is the first year it has been used in fifth grade math.

Homework on Time justifies reward

Having your homework in on time means being rewarded for fifth graders.

The H.O.T. (Homework On

Time) program rewards fifth grade students each Friday for turning in their homework on time each day that week.

Students are given "HOT" time, to visit and purchase a soft drink or candy.

D.A.R.E. begins

Laura Perkins, Iowa Park Police Dept. D.A.R.E. (Drug and Alcohol Resistance Education) officer, began her Bradford program this week.

She will give a program during fifth grade science class once a week for 18 weeks.

Third graders to learn "All About Me"

Third graders will learn "All About Me" during an ongoing social studies lesson.

The unit, which will progress during the year, will include students learning about themselves, their families, community and state.

RAC NEWS

Bridge Club

With three tables in play this week, Frank Mayfield reported the high score of 4320. John Chapman had the second high of 3535.

Persons interested in playing in the upcoming bridge tournament at the RAC are encouraged to register early by calling the RAC at 592-4471, John Chapman at 592-4952, or Dolores Hamilton at 592-4431. Entry fee for the tournament is $5 per person and may be paid in advance at the RAC office (806 N. Third) or at the door. Persons paying at the door the day of the tournament are requested to pay in cash.

Class Openings

Although initial fall registrations have been held for all of our classes, there are still openings. Anyone wishing to register for taekwondo, tap, jazz, & ballet, or gymnastics may still do so by calling the RAC.

Taekwondo lessons are held on Monday and Thursday evenings from 7:00 - 8:30 for a cost of $30 per month. Dance lessons are held on Tuesday afternoons from 4:00 - 5:00 or 5:15 - 6:15 for a fee of $25 per month. Gymnastics lessons are offered on Thursday afternoons at five different time slots for a fee of $30 per month. All class fees listed are for RAC members; non-members add $5. RAC memberships are available for $6 per year (single) or $15 (family).

Aerobics

Did you know that low-impact aerobics with child care provided is available at the RAC? Each Monday and Thursday morning from 8:30-9:30, Cara Lasater leads the classes in a great workout. Monthly fee for aerobics at the RAC is only $20, so there is no excuse not to join us for some fun and exercise! For more information, or to register, call the RAC at 592-4471.

After School Programs

Fall schedules have been delivered to the schools, and we are ready to begin our after school activities. If your elementary student did not receive a schedule, feel free to call us and we will mail you one. Activities are offered for approximately one hour each Monday through Thursday, with the majority being free of charge.

Friendly Door building drive

they see the building underway," Key said.

The Friendly Door for the past number of years has been leasing its meeting space at the corner of Wall and Cash from the Evening Lions Club.

Most of its operational funds are received through the United Way, but no monies for capitol outlay are available from that source.

According to the fund's latest figures, $63,154 in monies on deposit, a grant and in-kind donations from the city have been accumulated toward the building's projected cost of $158,799.

Of that amount, $20,405 is on deposit; the city's donation of land, site preparation and parking lot is $32,110, and a grant for $10,639 for the kitchen is promised, if the building is completed by this time in 1995.

Broken down, besides the city's contribution, the building's costs include $110,500 for the structure, $10,639 for the kitchen, and $5,550 for furnishings.

Donations can be made to the Friendly Door at 100 West Cash, or directly to the Friendly Door Building Fund at State National Bank.

In an effort to help the Friendly Door reach its building fund goal, the Iowa Park Leader will publish an update once a month on the financial status, as well as listing from whom the donations were received during that period.

Hawks hold own against Coyotes

The Iowa Park Hawks got their first chance to hit someone other than themselves Friday night in a scrimmage against the Wichita Falls High School Coyotes and even though the home team came out on the short end of a 4-2 decision, the coaching staff liked what they saw on the field.

The team's final tunc-up game will be today when they travel to Crosbyton to take on Plains High School at 6:30 p.m. before opening the regular season against Burk Burnett Friday night Sept. 2 at 7:30.

Senior fullback Chad Simpson led the Hawk attack against the Coyotes grinding out 110 hard earned yards on 17 carries to lead all rushers and Greg Sullivan hauled in an 11 yard touchdown pass from Brandon Campbell for the first points of the year to tie the game at 1-1. Tailback James Armstrong added the second score on a nine yard run on the team's final offensive play of the scrimmage to cut the Coyote advantage to 3-2. WFHS added another touchdown late in the contest to make the final 4-2.

"Overall, I was real pleased with our effort," head coach Weldon Nelms said. "I think we hurt our self offensively by missing a block here and there, and our backs missed the hole a couple of times but that's why we have these scrimmages, is to get the kinks worked out. We know we're going to have to run our offense well because we're not a big play type team. We're going to have get our three or four yards, get back to the huddle and do it again."

After struggling offensively on their first series of plays, the Hawks turned the job over to their defense which stepped up and held the Coyotes to a mere 25 yards rushing on 10 carries. WFHS completed only 4 of 10 passes for 81 yards with 43 yards coming on a catch and run by one of the wide outs that resulted in a touchdown.

Trailing 1-0, Iowa Park took over offensively and proceeded to mount a 14-play drive capped by Campbell's 11-yard TD pass to Sullivan on fourth and goal. The Hawks' biggest gain in the drive was an 18-yard run by Simpson.

The Coyotes added a pair of scores on their next series of plays to take a 3-1 lead on a pair of short runs.

"Defensively I thought we did an outstanding job," Nelms said. "Our linebackers ran to the ball and hit real well. When you play against a team that zone blocks like the Coyotes, your backside end and linebacker have to make a lot of plays and we did. We found out we have a lot of kids that can play defense and that depth will help us down the line."

The Hawks added a touchdown on their third series of plays to cut the lead to 3-2 covering 70 yards on only six plays. Simpson picked up 30 of that on two runs and Robert Klinkerman completed both of his attempts for another 30 yards before Armstrong carried it over from the nine.

"Offensively I thought our timing was better this week and it will be even better next week," Nelms added. "It's like writing your name. It doesn't look pretty the first day or even the first week, but when you keep doing it over and over you can finally do it with your eyes closed. I thought we finished on an up-beat where the Coyotes seemed to be down a bit toward the end of the scrimmage. We had 34 kids that gave an outstanding effort and I'm real proud of all of them."

The Hawks' final chance to make adjustments before the games start to count will be against Plains High School which is located 16 miles from New Mexico just west of Brownfield. Plains was an early pre-season top 10 team in Class 1A.

"We're still looking at individual efforts and still trying to find just the right combination," Nelms said. "We still intend to look at a lot of people. We're going to use this scrimmage and the non-district games to make sure we're ready to play when we start district play."

Going into today's contest, the Hawks are fairly healthy with the coaching staff optimistic about getting Clint Witherspoon back and still not knowing when Jimmy Fallen will be able to resume play. Coaches don't expect Plains to be nearly as big or physical as the Coyotes were but they do expect to throw the ball as much.

"We're going to run pretty much the same things we did against Old High," Nelms said. "We've added a couple of wrinkles and we are going to try to add more of our passing game. We may get into some game type situations late in the scrimmage to give both teams a look at some different things but other than that, we're going to do basically what we did last week. Look at a lot of kids and try to come up with the right combination to put on the field."

Creel surveys helpful

By SCOTT ROBINSON
Texas Parks and Wildlife Dept.

The Inland Fisheries branch of Texas Parks and Wildlife Department (TPWD) gathers many types of information about fish populations and the anglers who use them.

One very useful source of information is the creel survey.

Creel surveys are angler surveys conducted by TPWD on selected lakes throughout the state. Anglers are asked for information about their fishing trip such as which species they are fishing for, how they rate the day's fishing on a particular lake, how far they traveled to fish that day, and how often they fish.

Fish that have been harvested are weighed and measured and the number and size of fish caught and released is recorded. This information is important to fisheries biologists for a number of reasons.

Angler success, measured in terms of catch rates, can be used to measure the success of fisheries management programs. Harvest is monitored to insure that the appropriate length and bag limits are in place on a reservoir and that fish are not being under or overharvested.

That total number of angler days spent fishing on a lake is also important information that can be used to help calculate the economic impact of a lake or a particular fishery on the local economy. This information is often valuable for justifying management programs such as stocking and habitat enhancement.

Creel data can be correlated with other data gathered on fish populations to give biologists a more complete picture about what is happening with a fish population.

For instance, fall crappie population surveys on Lake Arrowhead have shown an increase in crappie over the past three years, both of young fish and legal fish over 10 inches.

These increases in population were subsequently reflected in an increase in angler harvest during the spring of 1994. During the 1993 spring creel surveys at Arrowhead, 159 anglers were interviewed who harvested a total of 15 crappie.

During the spring of 1994, 581 anglers were interviewed with a total of 223 crappie. This shows considerable increases in both the number of people fishing and the number of crappie caught per person, which is exactly what we expected based on the results of the fall population surveys.

Creel surveys are also used to obtain information about the attitudes and preferences of anglers fishing a lake. If anglers are targeting one species of fish more than any other species at a lake, then TPWD may focus more of its management efforts towards the anglers' preferred species.

The creel survey not only provides scientific data about fish populations, it also is helpful to biologists because it puts us in touch with our angler customers and allows us to get feedback from them about the management of Texas lakes.

Anglers fishing on area lakes may be approached by TPWD employees conducting creel surveys. By participating in the creel survey you are helping TPWD to better manage our states' fisheries and serve our customers, the anglers of Texas.

At least two schools on Iowa Park's varsity schedule have slated the Hawks for their homecoming opponent. They are Electra, on Sept. 9, and new district member Jacksboro, in the conference opener Oct. 6.

HIGHLIGHTS
By Lyndell Williams & Ed Sterling
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Cost overruns at a youth corrections facility under construction on sinking ground near Beaumont sparked a blame-game between lawmakers and other parties responsible for the project, after a seven-hour hearing last week.

According to Texas Youth Commission officials the half-finished Golden Triangle State School project's cost has tripled from the original figure of $126,805 per bed to $380,417 per bed.

Youth Commission officials blamed the Legislature and Beaumont Democratic Rep. Mark Stiles, and Stiles, in turn, blamed architects who planned construction on the 35-acre site in a former rice paddy.

The Youth Commission already has spent $18.2 million on the project and is seeking another $10.6 million to complete it, according to a report in the Austin American-Statesman.

Sen. Chris Harris, R-Arlington, chairman of the Joint Interim Committee on the Family Code, (which conducted the hearing) referred to the land as a "swamp," and suggested that the Legislature close the Youth Commission and give its responsibilities to others "who can do the job right."

Stiles, whose concrete company is a contractor in the project, said his company got the contract through competitive bidding. Jefferson County Judge R.P. LeBlanc Jr. said the county spent nearly $10 million building roads and routing utilities to the site. "That's not a swamp," he told the American-Statesman.

Republican gubernatorial candidate George W. Bush pointed to news of the bungled project, accusing Gov. Ann Richards of "monumental mismanagement" of the project and noted the Youth Commission is overseen by a board controlled by her appointees.

But the Richards campaign said Comer Contrell, a business partner of Bush in the Texas Rangers baseball team, oversaw the project while a member of the Youth Commission.

However, Ron Jackson, who resigned in December from his post as executive director of the Youth Commission, said he would take the blame for going ahead with the plans for the downsized facility.

Baseball Strike Assistance Meanwhile, Gov. Richards has asked the Texas Department of Commerce to lead the Texas Rapid Response Team in assisting stadium and team employees affected by the Major League Baseball strike.

The Department of Commerce contacted employee representatives of the Houston Astros and Texas Rangers, offering workers financial management assistance, retraining, resume writing, interviewing workshops, labor market information.

Representatives for both teams said no workers are immediately impacted, according to the commerce department.

Lotto Sales Lead Nation At 26 and a half months old, the Texas lottery topped $5 billion in sales last week, making it the fastest-growing lottery in the nation.

Texas reached the $5 billion plateau half a year faster than its closest competitor among lottery states, Florida, which reached the $5 billion mark after 32 months.

About $1.7 billion of the lottery's proceeds have been received by the state treasury, according to Texas lottery spokesman Steve Levine.

Costly: Jailed Foreigners Texas taxpayers are forking out $74 million a year to feed, clothe, house and supervise 4,760 non-U.S. residents in state prisons, according to a study released by the Criminal Justice Policy Council.

Those costs were included in the immigration lawsuit filed by Texas Attorney General Dan Morales against the federal government. The suit seeks reimbursement to the state for the health care, education and criminal justice costs of undocumented residents.

According to the CJPC study, costs would be reduced if the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service could deport foreign prisoners to their native countries, but noted that the INS does not have the capacity to conduct deportation hearings for the thousands of prisoners. Insurers Must Fix Roofs Insurance companies last week were ordered to pay for the removal of multiple layers of shingles when replacing hail-damaged roofs.

Insurers who refuse to pay for the tear-offs could face disciplinary action under the order issued by state insurance commissioner Robert Hunter.

"To deny payment for the removal of all roofing materials after a storm is an unfair practice," Hunter said.

Complaints by consumers were filed when some companies refused to pay for a complete tear-off, contending that they were only obligated to remove only one layer.

In a Dallas Morning News report, Jerry Johns of the Southwestern Insurance Information Service said the order would affect "only a handful of insurers."

Teachers Feel TAAS Pressure Texas State Teachers Association has found that some of its members spend an average of 11 hours a week preparing students for the Texas Assessment of Academic Skills, or TAAS, and feel pressured to do so.

Adopted by the state Legislature in 1985, TAAS measures reading, writing, math, science and social studies skills. The Texas Education Agency rates schools and school districts based on TAAS scores.

Richard Khouri, president of TSTA, called TAAS a "high-stakes test" and said the state is placing "too much emphasis on a single number produced by the TAAS."

He urged the state to find other ways to measure student achievement, such as portfolios of their work.

Other Highlights Campaign finance records show that Don Wittig, GOP candidate for attorney general, has received a fourth of his campaign donations from lawyers and law firms with cases pending in his court.

LIBRARY NEWS

REMINDER

To our Summer Readers, time is running out to pick up your reading certificates. The coupons from Pizza Hut and Sno-Ball Hut will expire Labor Day. Take a few minutes to stop in before Sept. 3 to them up. Thanks!

STORYTIME CLASSES

As we settle in to the new school year, we also find our number of participants in our Storytime Classes increasing. Perhaps you are new to the Iowa Park area and have not taken time to check out our library and the programs that are available.

We invite you to stop by during our regular hours, pick up a calendar from the circulation desk and it will give you the times for each class. Also, it will give you any extra events that will be taking place.

Current classes are being held on Tuesday from 9:30-10 a.m.; Thursday from 1 until 1:30; and Friday our program is for 2 and 3 year olds. If you have any questions please feel free to contact Ardis, at 592-4981.

LABOR DAY HOLIDAY

The library will be closed Saturday, Sept. 3 in observance of the Labor Day Holiday.

LIBRARY HOURS

Tuesday and Thursday, 10 a.m.-8 p.m.
Wednesday and Friday, 10 a.m.-5 p.m.

TRIVIA

What is the oldest letter in the alphabet? The most recent?

The oldest is o--first used by Egyptians in about 3000 B.C. The newest letters are j and v. The consonant j was not distinguished from the vowel i until the 1600s, and not until the Renaissance was the consonant v distinguished from the vowel u.
