Former classmates reunited in Japan

By MSgt. G.D. Bieber
MCAS IWAKUNI, Japan -- Well I was born in a small town, and I live in a small town. Prob'ly die in a small town, oh, those small communities. All my friends are so small town. My parents live in the same small town...

John Cougar Mellencamp
April 17, 1985

We in the military can identify with this excerpt from Mellencamp's hit song "Small Town," but for two air station residents, a chance meeting after three decades helped renew that "small-town" spirit.

Senior Chief Hospital Corpsman J.E. "Ed" Rowntree, administrative officer, Naval Branch Medical Clinic here, was a member of the committee which handled the navy's 219th Birthday Ball celebration here Oct. 10, 1994 when their paths first crossed.

"We had rehearsed the ceremony several times prior to Oct. 10, but we weren't able to complete an entire dress rehearsal," remarked Rowntree. It all came together during a portion of the oldest Sailor's biography when the master of ceremonies announced that Cmdr. David L. Metzger, chaplain, Marine Aircraft Group 12, was married to the former Patti G. Brown of Iowa Park, Texas.

Immediately following the ceremony, Rowntree headed toward their table and struck up a conversation with Metzger's wife. "Excuse me," said Rowntree, "I couldn't help but hear that you're from Iowa Park." She replied, "Yes, and you?" From that moment on they discussed dates, teachers and family members' names, trying to place each other. After all, they both agreed that Iowa Park was one of those towns where everyone knew each other. "Our town is one of those 'one traffic light' towns," joked Metzger.

"Then it dawned on both of us!" exclaimed Rowntree. "She was Patti Brown and I was Eddie Rowntree. We were two adults not only from the same town, but we'd spent grades 1-7 together."

Both Texans have bumped into others from their school days, but the last time they had seen each other was the spring of 1964. Rowntree and his family had moved to Abilene, Texas, and the last time he'd seen the petite Metzger she was wearing "cat's eye" shaped glasses in the 7th grade. "She was always a little lady," recalled Rowntree, "who always wore a dress and was everybody's friend."

Metzger remembers a red-headed, freckled-faced Rowntree who was fun-loving. "Eddie was fun to be around, but trouble always seemed to find him," she smiled. "It wasn't like he was looking for it."

They recently got together to look at old photos and reminisce about their earlier days. A class photo of them with their 3rd-grade teacher, Mrs. Wolf, brought back quite a few memories. One key memory was that Wolf was the first pregnant lady either of them had seen or talked about at great length.

"Face it," added the thinning-haired Rowntree, "we were baby boomers. We attended church every Sunday and our families got together Sunday afternoons."

"Life was pretty simple 30 years ago," emphasized Metzger. "As a matter of fact, Eddie and I are a couple of the only folks who have actually left Iowa Park. Most folks are born, grow-up and die there," said the blue-eyed, 43-year-old. "I guess that makes us different. What I truly find hard to believe however, is that we both ended up in the Navy."

Both had gone on to college upon graduating from high school, but Rowntree's path would lead him to quit college in his sophomore year and head for Dallas. He worked for Texas Instruments until April 1975, when he saw an old Navy movie which inspired him to seek a Navy recruiter's office.

"And the rest is history," stated the 42-year-old veteran. His journeys include several Navy commands, sea duty aboard the USS Coral Sea and assignment to several marine bases. During his 20 years in the Navy, Rowntree has earned a bachelor's degree in health care management from Southern Illinois University and more recently, a master's in management from Troy State University.

The fact that Metzger ended up at bible college after high school came as no surprise to Rowntree. "Patti was always prim and proper," emphasized Rowntree, "my only surprise was that she married a minister who eventually became a navy chaplain."

Metzger met her husband at Lee College in Cleveland, Tenn. in 1970 and they married in 1972. "Some of my friends refer to us as a Gypsy family," commented Metzger, "and in a way I guess they're right." The Metzgers have been stationed up and down both coasts, separated during sea duty twice and spent some time in Hawaii. "As a military spouse," added Metzger, "I have to admit there were times when I wished all the moving would stop, but 23 years later I'm happy to be where we are today."

Ten years was the closest the two families ever came from crossing paths prior to Iwakuni. Rowntree was assigned to Naval Station at Great Lakes, Ill., in 1975 and Metzger was assigned to the Bluejackets Memorial Chapel at Great Lakes in 1985.

"Havin' traveled so much over the years, my only concerns are the little things that our children may have missed if we'd remained in a small town," said Metzger. Their daughter Christi married a Navy man and they're living in Norfolk, Va., and Jeremy, 16, attends M.C. Perry high school here.

"Their grandfather always made it a point to take them to Iowa Park's ice cream parlor each time we visit," she added. "It's so important to me that they have the opportunity to share a bit of our town's kindred spirit."

As for Rowntree and his wife Marsha, the small-town spirit began in Kinston, N.C. where they met. "I can't speak for others," he said, "but there's a special bond formed with those we meet at each duty station. And when we cross paths at another base, it's always great to share memories."

The closeness which Rowntree and Metzger have renewed since last October however, has left both of them feeling as though they've never left home. They agree that Iowa Park's 5,796 residents and MCAS Iwakuni's population may have similarities, but it's not Texas.

Is retirement in either family's future?
Yes.

Woman arrested Friday on embezzlement charge

A woman wanted for felony theft of more than $100,000 in Fort Worth was arrested by Iowa Park police Friday.

Local officers received information that the suspect, Dana McDonald, 33, was wanted and possibly in Iowa Park, verification was obtained and she was taken into custody at a residence in the 300 block of West Alameda.

She was apprehended on a warrant issued by the Tarrant County Sheriff's Department at 3 p.m., booked, and turned over to a Wichita County deputy at 5:55 p.m. to be transported to Wichita Falls.

The woman is suspected to have embezzled more than $100,000 from a sea food restaurant in Tarrant County.

Two school buildings were subjects of criminal mischief during the past week, according to the police blotter.

The police radio dispatcher received a 9-1-1 hangup call at 10:08 a.m. Tuesday, placed from a pay phone in the south hall of Iowa Park High School.

The department's policy is to check out the origin of any such call, even if the dispatcher talks with the caller or not.

It was later discovered that the boys' restroom in senior hall was filled with smoke. Police reported that a cigarette and two expended matches were found on the floor, and one of the ceiling tiles was smoldering.

Damage was not extensive, but school officials reportedly continue to determine who was responsible.

Police were informed Saturday by a school official that two windows at Bradford Elementary had been broken out.

Monday, four fifth grade students and their parents went to the principal's office. The youths admitted to the breakage, and the parents pledged to make restitution, police said.

The police dispatcher was notified by telephone at 1:12 a.m. Sunday by a resident in the 400 block of West Pecan that a vehicle had pulled into the driveway three or four times, turned off the headlights, and drove off again.

An officer on patrol stopped a vehicle soon afterward in the 700 block of South Colorado, and found that its two occupants were female juveniles.

The juveniles were transported to the police station, where both received warnings for curfew violation and one a warning for driving without a drivers license.

Unable to contact the juveniles' parents, they were turned over to friends of the parents, according to the police blotter.

Building permits growing

The fact that no building permits were issued by city hall during March accounted for one of the lowest-month totals in a long time.

March's total was $94,921, which increased the year's sum to $957,646. Still, however, that is considerably higher than the $426,396 reported this same week in 1994.

Permits issued during March included:

School plant sale Saturday

Just in time for home gardeners, the annual bedding plant sale will be held by Iowa Park High School horticulture students from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday at the school's greenhouse.

On the list of items available this year are tomato and pepper plants, periwinkles, geraniums, petunias, impatiens, marigold, salvia, begonias, and a "few" hanging baskets.

Council facing short agenda

Monday's regularly-scheduled meeting of the city council could be one of its shortest on record.

Besides approval of the previous week's minutes as well as those of the April 3 Board of Adjustments, only

The plants are raised each year by students in the horticulture class as their assigned projects, and then sold each spring.

Another popular project of the school's vocational department is the pet vaccination clinic. Teacher Ray Dillard said that event will be held Saturday, May 13, at the Vo-Ag building.

two items are on the tentative agenda.

The council will consider authorizing Administrator Mike Price to purchase a tractor, and authorizing Price to purchase a Data Transmission Network Weather Center unit.

City's survey delayed a month

A survey of Iowa Park residents concerning the possibility of constructing a walking track around Lake Gordon has been postponed one month.

The survey, which will be printed on the backs of city water bill cards, was approved last week by the city council.

However, according to City Secretary Janice Newman, the survey will not be printed on the bills until the April billing is mailed.

Carol Patterson

Carol and Brent Patterson both grew up in Iowa Park and are graduates of Iowa Park High School.

They married a year after Carol graduated and moved to College Station, where Brent was a student at Texas A&M University. During the time they lived there, Carol worked on campus in the student activities office.

Brent is a veterinarian with Fellhauer & Morris Veterinary Clinic, and Carol teaches piano students, mostly beginners, in her home.

Carol says she is a lover and collector of music, and she likes to crochet and read.

She and Brent are active members of First Baptist Church where he is a deacon. Carol sings in the adult choir and is a G.A. director.

Carol didn't learn to cook until after she married, "because my mother didn't want me to mess up the kitchen," she said laughing. She likes to put the name on a recipe of the person who gave it to her. Many of her recipes were passed down by family and friends, and some are ones that her mother used often.

Respite: to relieve, temporarily, from anything distressing or trying; to provide an interval of relief.

The IHS Respite Program

Sometimes you need to take a break - for a vacation or just a few days off, away from home. Perhaps there's a wedding you'd like to attend, but it's out of town.

How can you go, when you need to be there for a friend or family member requiring special or constant care? A teenager with chronic illness, an aging parent...they need you.

Understandably, you're reluctant to entrust that responsibility to someone not familiar with all that's required.

For your own health and well-being, it's important to allow yourself occasional time off without worry or guilt. That's why we created the IHS Respite Program, offering quality, short-term care that relieves principal care providers of this important responsibility, when they need it most.

Our guests enjoy a comforting, safe, homelike setting. And you have the confidence of counting on our extensive experience and clinical capabilities for a weekend, a week, or even longer.

IHS facilities are staffed by caring professionals, fully committed to excellence. Our skilled nursing staff is experienced in basic medical care which is provided around the clock and carefully tailored to each individual's unique needs. We welcome guests of any age, and can accommodate a wide spectrum of medical and physical conditions.

Our facilities include equipment and resources that provide multiple levels of care, depending on the need. Our services are generally less expensive than round-the-clock home care; they include:

- Continuous, 24-hour nursing care
- Nutritional services.
- Social activities

So, for a temporary change of pace, call me today at 817-592-4139 to arrange a personal visit and find out more about the benefits of our program.

As I See It. . .

By Bob Hamilton

A question was asked during last week's city council meeting that kinda floored me.

"What does the Chamber of Commerce do?"

It's been nagging at me. Though I've heard it asked by others before, I haven't yet decided why or how such a question can be asked.

Maybe I'm just too close to the forest to see the trees.

To ask that question, one would have to: not like the organization; not ever read our newspaper; have a head buried in the sand; or ask the question in an effort to have the lengthy list of projects explained for everyone to hear.

Among a few of those projects our Chamber of Commerce does are:

- * promotes Iowa Park in a variety of ways including answering correspondence from prospective new residents and new businesses;

- * represents Iowa Park area with Sheppard AFB on civic matters;

- * provides a welcome service for new residents and businesses;

- * assists the local United Way campaign;

- * provides regular meeting place for Boy Scouts, Little League, Camp Fire and others;

- * organizes and holds the annual Whoop-T-Do;

- * holds ribbon cutting and ground breaking ceremonies to welcome new businesses;

- * sponsors annual clean up week;

- * sponsors city-wide yard sale;

- * instrumental in getting city brochures and newcomer guides printed;

- * prints updated city maps;

- * parent organization of the Industrial Development Corporation and Clean and Green Committee;

- * holds annual All-Iowa Park golf tournament;

- * sponsors annual giveaways and business promotions in November and December;

- * holds annual all-member meeting in November;

- * sponsors high school football playoff games;

- * sends information to Sheppard AFB and surrounding communities;

- * holds annual banquet and presents awards to deserving citizens and businesses.

Chamber Secretary Susan Dillard tells me she receives two or three contacts, by telephone, mail or in person, each day from people considering moving into the area. And she responds to each.

I've also learned that residents who get a new telephone listing here are told they can get their directory at the Chamber office. And that response is heavy, she says.

A lot of folks still don't seem to appreciate the tremendous success of the Industrial Development Corporation. That's the group that recruited Cryovac to locate here.

Cryovac, for your information, is the largest employer in the Iowa Park school district, and one of the largest in all of Wichita County.

The Chamber is unique in many ways. For instance, it's one of the few organizations you find where people are freely willing to pay dues so they can volunteer their time, experience and efforts to make our community a better place.

Surely, I'm missing other good points about the organization. But I thought what I've presented might go some of the way to answering "What does the Chamber of Commerce do?"

Worth Quoting

The Clintons, and a number of other liberal do-gooders, keep moaning about how cutting welfare and balancing the federal budget will do considerable harm to the children of this country. I wonder what they think is going to happen to the children of this country if we don't cut spending and get the federal budget under control.

Building a brighter future for our children is one of the primary reasons I'm in favor of balancing the budget. And we can't do it if we don't quit spending money we don't have. I don't care if it's for free lunch programs, illegitimate kids, or affirmative action, if we don't curb government spending we're going to create a national debt that will make paupers of our children and grandchildren for many generations.

If you look behind the political gobbledygook I think you'll find that most of the welfare money in this country is not used to any great extent to help poor people. A big part of it, and probably most of it, is paid to fat bureaucrats who act as administrators of the various welfare programs. And very little of it trickles down to the people who are truly in need.

And, of course, political office holders learned many years ago that welfare funds provide a safe and easy way to get lucrative jobs for their friends and supporters in the chain of administrative offices through the states and congressional districts to help assure their re-election when the next vote comes up.

Everybody is in sympathy with poor people and kids, but I think most people are finally beginning to learn that raising taxes to help the poor, and giving the money to somebody else, is not going to solve the problem.

stopped a vehicle in the 700 block of South Bond on suspicion of using a public address speaker believed to have been stolen from a residence south of the city limits.

The theft case continues to be investigated by a county deputy, but an occupant of the vehicle, Dale Kenneth Turner, 22, was determined to have an outstanding warrant issued by the sheriff's department for violation of probation on a burglary charge. He was taken into custody and turned over to the county.

Police received a report Tuesday that a grain auger had been stolen from the 400 block of South Jackson, sometime during the last three days of January.

Award for Lochridge

Bob, was shocked to be informed of award during yesterday's Tarrant County Historical Commission meeting at the Tarrant County Courthouse. I called Lita Watson to let her know, since she understands exactly what is involved here. She suggested I let you know, so I am doing so. Here is what is involved: There are 237 cemeteries in Tarrant County. Many of these, similar to our own beloved Highland Cemetery, have been inventoried, documented, etc. However, some have not. Having been appointed to the commission in Jan. 1992, I was assigned to the cemetery committee. It became apparent that many of the uninventoried cemeteries were extremely vulnerable to devastation. In the event of vandalism, they should have no idea where stones were located on what grave. I know, this is a constant hazard to the present day society. I have personally inventoried 5 of these cemeteries. This involves measuring every stone as to relative location in the cemetery, giving it a numbering system, recording the wording on the stone, and drawing a detailed map, putting all together in a bound report, preparing copies of this to the Cemetery Commission for their records and providing a copy for the Tarrant County Clerk's office. The first one had about 6 or 8 stones in it, involved me walking into the brush, gullies, and hardships to get to it. The last one involved the largest and oldest cemetery in Tarrant County. It is Mosier Valley, a community founded by freed slaves in 1865, and containing 210 marked gravestones, many unmarked. The latest was the Oak Cemetery (Formerly Oak Cemetery) in south Tarrant County which involves about 1,000 stones and 539 stones, some double, some triple stones.

The reward comes in the appreciation shown by the people of the community involved. Our efforts and expenses are totally financed by donations, with no monetary reimbursement, but with a deep feeling of accomplishment. I am not a fisherman, but I feel as though I just made a hole-in-one and set the world's largest bass all at one time.

Lochridge

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is a letter from Frances Richard, Director, Local History Programs of the Texas Historical Commission, to Susan Pritchett, Chair, Tarrant County Historical Commission in Fort Worth. Mr. Lochridge is a native Iowa Parkan.)

Dear Susie:

I am delighted to inform you that your nomination of H. Oscar Lochridge for the Texas Historical Commission's Outstanding Volunteer of the Year Award has been accepted. Mr. Lochridge will be announced as one of two recipients of this award at the THC's annual conference in Austin. The award will be presented on Saturday, April 22, at the 8:00 a.m. awards breakfast in the Crystal Ballroom of the Driskill Hotel (Sixth and Brazos).

I am notifying you as the nominator so that you may have the opportunity to notify Mr. Lochridge. I hope that he can be present with us at the conference to receive the award. Please let me know at your earliest convenience whether that will be possible. A complimentary meal ticket will be waiting for him at the registration desk. If he cannot be in attendance, please let us know who can accept the award in his place.

I am also enclosing an extra annual meeting brochure in case Mr. Lochridge would be interested in attending other parts of the conference.

Congratulations on a fine nomination. We look forward to hearing from you as soon as possible and to seeing you in Austin.

Development plans to be told at cemetery association meeting

Plans to develop land south of the cemetery donated by the George family will be presented Sunday at a meeting of the Highland Cemetery Association. The meeting will be at 2:30 p.m. at the Iowa Park Recreation Center.

Pat Aulds, chairperson, Frances George, Aretas Spruiell and Erna Mahler serve on a committee to develop a plan for expansion of the cemetery onto the donated property.

Also, plans to expand onto property north of the present cemetery site will be presented.

All property owners and others who are interested are urged to attend this very important meeting of the association.

Persons who water their cemetery plots are asked to limit watering to one hour twice a week and to be present when watering, unless a timer is used.

Individuals must supply their own hoses and timers. The hoses need to be rolled up next to the hydrant so they will not be in the way of the mower. Floral arrangements are limited to two per grave and should be placed at the ends of the monument.

Mark your calendars for Sunday, May 28, for the Memorial Day service sponsored by Highland Cemetery Association. It will be in the Cemetery Pavilion at 2:30 p.m.

Texas clean-up campaign anticipating good results

The 1994 Texas Country Clean Up campaign by the Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission (TNRCC) was a resounding success, recycling hundreds of tons of waste material from rural areas across the state.

This year, TNRCC officials are predicting even more impressive results.

"Texas Country Clean Up was a huge success last year, but this year we expect it will get even better," said TNRCC commissioner Peggy Garner. "Now, people will be familiar with what we're doing when we come to town, and they'll know it won't cost them anything to participate. We expect collections could potentially double."

During 1994, more than 2,000 participants in rural communities throughout the state recycled 77,814 plastic and metal pesticide containers; 27,804 used tires; 36,072 gallons of used oil; 41,913 used oil filters; and 6,188 batteries.

Some of the material had been accumulating on farms and ranches for decades.

A special date to collect pesticide containers in Wichita County has been scheduled. It will be Aug. 15 in Burkburnett. County Agent David Finley has the time and place, according to the TNRCC news release.

The purpose of the program is to allow rural residents the same recycling opportunities as those found in metropolitan areas, where recycling has become a way of life.

Pharm/alert Health Tips

The Often Chronic Discomfort of Allergies

- Each year, more than 40 million Americans suffer from allergic rhinitis, also known as hay fever.
- These "allergic bouts" of a stuffy head and watery eyes can occur one or more times a year, or they last practically all year round.
- Three million work days and two million school days are lost each year to allergy attacks.
- Normally harmless substances can cause allergic reactions in sensitive people. These substances commonly include: pollen from plants, dust, mold, foods, and dander (skin particles) from animals.
- Americans spend an estimated $500 million each year on allergy treatments. Although there is no cure, there are a number of ways to fight allergies.
- Over-the-counter medications and prescription medicines are the most common forms of treatment. Immunotherapy, or injection therapy, is both expensive and time-consuming, so it is generally used only in severe or chronic situations.
- Avoidance, in principle, is the simplest therapy. Once the allergen has been identified, the sufferer can try to avoid it.
- Some of the most common allergy symptoms are:
Eyes - itching, tearing, reddening, or swelling
Nose - sneezing (often repetitive), itching, congestion, or runniness
Skin - a rash develops that is almost always itchy and consists of spots that are raised, flat, red, or white, hive-like, or raw and oozing
Digestive tract - nausea, vomiting, cramps, loose stools, or diarrhea from eating a particular food.

GARDENING HINTS

By MARK TERNING, COUNTY AGENT - HORTICULTURE

Spring has brought out the gardener in almost everyone. Landscaping projects, vegetable gardens and developing a lush, green lawn are top priorities now.

Follow this special garden checklist to keep on top of your April lawn care, landscaping and gardening activities.

PLANTING

* Install container grown trees, shrubs, vines and groundcovers. Local nurseries have good selections to pick from.

* Plant warm-season annual flowers in beds and containers for a colorful display all summer.

* Establish warm season lawn including Bermuda and St. Augustine late in April. Use seed, sod and plugs.

Zoysia turf will perform well in Texoma, however, it should be solid sodded for best results.

* Install warm season vegetables including tomatoes. The varieties Celebrity and Carnival have been good performers in the home garden. Protect young tomato transplants by using cages and floating row covers or clear plastic.

* Plant herbs in prepared beds and containers.

* Select and install summer and fall blooming perennials.

FERTILIZATION

* Apply a 3-1-2 or 4-1-2 ratio lawn food with slow-release nitrogen to Bermuda and St. Augustine turf by mid-April.

* Same 3-1-2 or 4-1-2 ratio fertilizers are adequate for trees, shrubs, vines, groundcovers and flowers.

* Fertilize tomato plants with a 21-0-0 fertilizer beginning when fruit is dime sized. Use one tablespoon per plant as a side-dress application and repeat every three weeks. Water after applying.

* Test soil for fertility requirements. Watch out for phosphorous accumulations and adjust fertilizer requirements as needed.

PRUNING

* Prune spring flowering shrubs and vines soon after flowering.

* Remove water damaged tissue on landscape plants and groundcovers.

* Begin a regular mowing schedule on warm season lawns.

PESTS, DISEASE AND WEEDS

* Leaf spot on Photinia and Indian

Hawthorne can be controlled with Daconil on Funginex used every 10-14 days. Rake and remove leaf litter from under plants. Avoid wetting foliage when watering.

* Fleas and ticks in lawn areas can be suppressed using Dursban, Diazinon or Yardex.

* Continue regular cover sprays on fruit trees using a multi-purpose fruit tree spray such as Tripleacotion every 10 to 14 days.

* Control broadleaf weeds in lawn area using broadleaf weed control such as Wipe-Out and Weed-B-Gone.

* Begin regular fungicide applications to control black spot on roses. Funginex is an efficient blackspot control.

Always follow all label rates and directions when using any pesticide or fertilizer.

Dwyer elected to Wheat Producers Board

A Wichita County farmer was elected Mar. 28 to a six-year term as a director of the Texas Wheat Producers Board of directors.

Among five directors elected, four of whom were incumbents, was Fred Dwyer, who lives on Bacon Switch Road near the PPG plant.

Dwyer will represent District Three, which is the Rolling Plains area. The incumbents included Cagle Kendrick of Stratford, Tommy Womack of Tulia, Jack Norman of Howe and Billy Vinson of Abilene.

Wheat producers fund TWPB with one-cent self-assessment on their deliveries of wheat to commercial handlers, principally at country elevators and feedyards.

The new and re-elected board members will be seated at the organization's next meeting, which will be May 3 in Amarillo.

Dedicated to the Education of Youth

PLACE 4 - IOWA PARK SCHOOL BOARD
FD. BY COMMITTEE TO ELECT JEFF WATTS
IOWA PARK SCHOOL BOARD
JEFF WATTS - TREASURER

Dear Friend:

I am running for the Iowa Park School Board because I am dedicated to our children's educational future. As finances, programs, regulations and paperwork continue to be an issue which must be addressed, I intend to be a steward of our school budget so that our young people can have the best possible education.

Our country only has a few vital and renewable resources. Our children are one of the most important. We cannot afford to give them anything but the best educational opportunity. I am committed to this end.

I am asking for, and would appreciate, your vote on May 6, 1995.

Sincerely,

Jeff

Strawboard plant would benefit area

By David Finley

Wichita Agricultural Agent

You've read and heard a lot about Agriboard Industries and the fact that they may well put a strawboard manufacturing plant just west of Electra.

If this comes to pass, the economic benefits for that small community and the surrounding area, including Wichita Falls, will be significant. In addition the "shot in the arm" that this will have on agriculture would be tremendous.

Work continues on a daily basis to lure this revolutionary building process out of Iowa and into Texas.

Entities such as the Department of Commerce, Texas Department of Agriculture, Senator Tom Haywood and State Representative John Hirschi have been and are going to be in the future, a strong influence and aid on getting this industry in this part of Texas.

Certainly, a lot of work has been done to get this far with the company. However, there still must be a lot done to secure their commitment.

As I look at the offshoot businesses that this manufacturing company can produce, it sure becomes more exciting. Farm equipment manufacturers such as Case and John Deere will be able to sell more tractors, balers, and loaders to be used in this endeavor.

Trucking companies will be utilized to move the large square bales from the field to the plant site. Income will be generated by baling these and stacking in the field.

Some individuals will be hired to contract with producers, coordinating movement of the straw to the plant. This will in itself be an industry of its own.

What will it take to finalize the deal with Agriboard?

It's all in one word, commitment. Commitment by banks to secure some loans. Commitment by interested parties to provide tax abatements at the local and state level. Commitments by farms to sell straw to the plant and finally commitment by some interested investors that believe in the concept and process.

If you'd like more information on this company and what they do, I'll be glad to provide that information to you. Call me at 766-0131 for a copy of anything that I have. Let's support something positive for agriculture and not let this opportunity slip away.

I guess in the final analysis, we have the ball in our court. Local people will make or break this deal.

Let me tell you there is not a more organized company anywhere in this country with as strong a management team or business plan than Agriboard Industries. They have history behind them and a plan for the future that is unsurpassed.

Hawks to open district Friday

Up until now the games haven't really started counting, but come Friday afternoon in Bridgeport, the Hawk baseball team will be playing for keeps when they open District 3-3A play against the Bulls at 4:30 p.m.

The Hawks are coming off a tough loss to the Frederick Bombers, a 4-3 loss in extra innings on Friday, and are looking to start off district play on the right foot. According to head coach David Fuhman, his team has been playing solid baseball despite their 5-8 record and is looking forward to district play.

"I don't think the caliber of teams in our district are anything like the teams we've played so far this year," Fuhman said. "Seven of the teams that have beaten us are pretty good teams. I don't think any 3A school has played as tough a schedule as we have, and that should work to our advantage in district and in the playoffs if we should get that far."

The Hawks' first test will be against a Bridgeport team that comes into the game riding an impressive 10-3 record with a couple of wins over Lake Dallas and Springtown. "Their top four hitters are real good but they seem to drop off a bit after that," Fuhman added. "I've told our kids that the first two games of District were going to be the most important ones and if we could win against Bridgeport at their place on Friday then turn around and beat Vernon here on Tuesday, we would be setting in good shape. Vernon is a hot and cold team, they've beaten some real good teams but on the same hand, they've lost to some teams they should have had no trouble with."

The Hawks are in pretty good shape physically as two of the players who have missed a couple of games, Jason Young and Rudy Hawkins, are due to return this week.

"We just want to continue to play solid defense and get strong pitching, and I think we will be alright," Fuhman said. "We're a lot better team than our record indicates and we're going to keep doing what we've been doing and hope we improve each game."

Lozipone having good year

Former Hawk Tony Lozipone is apparently having a banner season as a freshman on the Odessa College varsity baseball team.

According to a Mar. 5 newspaper story from that city, he is leading the Wranglers in a number of statistics.

"But the most amazing stat for OC belongs to new leadoff hitter Tony Lozipone, who recently replaced Jeremy DuVall at the top of the lineup," stated the article. "Lozipone has yet to strike out in 21 at-bats, and he plays on a team that has 166 strikeouts in 25 games -- an average of 6.6 per game.

House, Radford earn medals at state

Iowa Park's two-man powerlifting team not only returned with individual medals, but earned for the school third place in the state powerlifting meet held Saturday on the campus of Texas A&M Univ.

Philip House placed first in the 220-pound weight division, and Troy Radford placed second in the 181 division.

And for winning first in his division, House also earned a $750 college scholarship from the Texas High School Powerlifting Association.

The two Hawks compiled 12 points, the same as did Sterling City's two competitors.

Frisco won first place among the 75 schools competing in the meet, and Cold Springs placed second. Both finished with 16 points, but Frisco had two first-place finishers, which was the deciding factor to break their tie.

All three lifts and total by House were personal bests. He posted a 550 in the squat, 345 in the bench press, and 560 in the dead lift for a 1,460 total.

Radford had a personal best in the squat with a 525, tied his best in bench press with 315, and had a 520 in the powerlift, all contributing to a personal best 1,360 total.

Raymond Thomas of Newton placed first ahead of Radford with a 1,415 total.

Two lifters tied for second place behind House with 1,450 totals.

Competition in powerlifting is not broken down by class, such as the University Interscholastic League does

Scientists to 'weigh' benefits of program

Scientists will "weigh" the benefits of obesity prevention in a study to begin in May at Baylor College of Medicine and Texas Children's Hospital in Houston.

The obesity prevention program targets 11-12-year-olds, normal weight daughters of women who are 10 or more pounds overweight.

"Children of an obese parent, particularly the daughters, often become obese themselves and sometimes develop eating disorders.

"We want to see if we can prevent that," said Dr. Jennifer H. Cousins, Baylor assistant professor of medicine and director of health promotion.

Cousins and Dr. Carmen Mikhail, Baylor assistant professor of pediatrics and director of the Texas Children's Hospital Eating Disorders Clinic, will team with dietitians to conduct the prevention program.

Mothers and daughters will meet together and separately to learn new lifestyle and healthy eating behaviors. Their goals are to reduce the amount of fat and sugar they consume daily, to increase physical activity and to decrease inactivity.

"Both mother and daughter will be taught how to resist social pressure to be too thin or to diet," according to Dr. Miriam Schuman, director of the obesity prevention program.

"Daughters of overweight parents tend to be sensitive to their appearance and may be at risk for developing an eating-purging disorder," Mikhail said.

"We think this prevention strategy will also keep these girls from falling into a purging habit or from developing another eating disorder."

Mothers and daughters who complete the 10-week program will return six and 12 months later for follow-up consultations so researchers can measure long-term results.

Researchers believe the prevention program will enable both mothers and daughters to adopt lifelong healthy eating and exercise habits to replace the high-fat, high-sugar diets and the sedentary lifestyles that usually characterize families with obesity problems.

The prevention program, Cousins said, has evolved from 20 years of research in Baylor's DeBakey Heart Center.

Mothers and daughters interested in the pilot Obesity Prevention Program may call (713) 798-5551.

HIGHLIGHTS

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — The Texas Senate passed a sweeping education reform bill on a 28-2 vote last week and sent the measure on for consideration by the House.

Senate Bill 1, sponsored by Sen. Bill Ratliff, R-Mount Pleasant, would:

- Slacken state control over local school districts;
- Revise the 10-year no-pass, no-play rule;
- Raise the minimum salary for teachers to $18,500 per year;
- Allow charter school pilot projects; and
- Set up an experimental education voucher program for disadvantaged students.

Sens. Carlos Truan, D-Corpus Christi and Greg Luna, D-San Antonio, voted against the bill.

Ratliff, chairman of the Senate Education Committee, calling the bill "the most major revision of the public education code in this state since the 1940s," commented "The public, our educators and schoolchildren are depending on us to make a difference."

An amendment to the 1,200 page bill killed a provision that would have taken away the State Board of Education's duty to select public school textbooks.

Also among its many provisions, the bill requires that each of the state's 1,000 school districts adopt a charter to classify it a home-rule, special-purpose or general-law district. Home-rule and special-purpose districts would hold local-option elections exempting them from many state regulations, while general-law districts would be required to adhere to the education code.

Home-rule districts and more local control were main planks in Gov. George W. Bush's election campaign.

Pay Hike for TEA Chief

Texas Education Commissioner Mike Moses of Lubbock hadn't been in office for a week before his state senator proposed to increase his annual salary from $137,917 to $156,014.

Moses' salary and benefits at his previous post as superintendent of Lubbock Independent School District totaled $170,800, according to the governor's office.

Sen. John Montford, D-Lubbock, sponsored the bill for Moses' pay raise at the request of Gov. Bush.

House Approves Budget
The House voted 118-18 to approve a $77.6 billion proposal for the 1996-97 state budget.

Of the $77.6 billion total, $32.6 billion would go to public and higher education; $25.9 billion to health and human services; $8.7 billion to business and economic development; and $6.4 billion to criminal justice.

State Rep. Robert Junell, D-San Angelo, said he and other budget writers were ever mindful of four items as they carried out their work:

- Full funding for public schools;
- Money to operate state prisons;
- Growth in the number of Texans eligible for Medicaid and assistance programs; and
- Reduction of the state bureaucracy.

This bill has been referred to the Senate, where it is expected to be rejected in favor of a Senate version, which is almost $2.6 billion larger than the House version and allocates $1 billion more for human services.

Castration Bill OK'd

The state Senate approved Sen. Teel Bivins' bill to legalize voluntary castration of child molesters who have been convicted two or more times.

Bivins, R-Amarillo, who said the bill would make castration a means to reduce an offender's sexual urges, added, "It's meant to be 101 percent therapeutic, and it's not meant to be punishment."

If the bill is approved by the House and signed by the governor, Texas would become the only state to perform surgical castration of inmates.

Helmet Proposal Crashes

An attempt to overturn the mandatory helmet law for motorcycle riders was defeated 18-12 in the Senate last week.

The bill by Sen. Jerry Patterson, R-Pasadena, would have exempted motorcycle riders 21 years or older from wearing a helmet, provided they could show they were covered by $50,000 in accidental injury insurance.

Sen. Greg Luna pointed out that Texas would have lost $19 million in federal highway funding had the bill passed.

Other Highlights

■ Gov. Bush has nominated Jim Francis of Dallas to serve on the Public Safety Commission. Francis, a partner in an oil and gas company, served as a special assistant to former Gov. Bill Clements.

■ More than 71,000 Texans have been added to the voter registration rolls since the National Voter Registration Act went into effect Jan. 1, according to Secretary of State Tony Garza.

■ House and Senate committees last week approved welfare reform bills by Rep. Harvey Hilderbran, R-Kerrville, and Sen. Judith Zaffirini, D-Laredo. Hilderbran's bill would cut off benefits to families on welfare in as little as six months. Zaffirini's bill is considered less punitive.

Completes basic training

Airman Clyde W. Alderman IV was graduated in February from Air Force basic training at Lackland AFB. He is the son of Clyde W. Alderman III of Iowa Park and Rebecca L. Hallmark of Arlington.

The 1991 graduate of Iowa Park High School is married to the former Christy McCoy of Wichita Falls.

THEN - Ed Rowntree and Patti G. (Brown) Metzger, circles center and right, pose with classmates from their 3rd-grade class in Iowa Park. Rowntree and Metzger were reunited in Japan after three decades of separation.

Classmates are reunited

Do they plan to return to Texas? "We're looking at Georgia or Tennessee," replied Metzger.

"We want to raise Evan and Elizabeth in North Carolina," said Rowntree.

One thing that these two friends are confident about is that neither one of them will ever lose that small-town spirit.

Each has received invitations over the years to return for class reunions. Metzger recently shared a package and booklet of her school's 15-year reunion with Rowntree. After laughing at a few photos and wondering about the whereabouts of those who didn't make it, the two agreed that they'd both attend their 25th.
