City's area expands again

Final action was taken during a called meeting of the city council Monday night to finalize annexation of a residence on Quail Valley.

The annexation followed the third and final public hearing required by General Laws charter and passage of an ordinance.

The main purpose of Monday's meeting was to hold the first in a series of work sessions on next year's budget.

Next Monday, a regularly-scheduled meeting will be held at 7 p.m. in council chambers, and during it, another work session will be scheduled.

Two public appearances are on the next meeting's agenda, as well as a request for authorizing the sale of surplus items.

The first appearance Monday was requested by Mrs. Anita McShan, who will present a request that a four-way stop be authorized at the intersection of Washington and Victoria.

Then, Danny Skinner, fire chief, will ask permission to close the 100 and 200 block of East Cash the following Saturday for a fund-raising street dance.

During the called meeting, the council passed a resolution approving the award of Texas Home Investment Partnership Program funds for first-time homebuyers.

A list of five applicants, all approved by the city's housing advisory committee, includes Tim Sidlauskas, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Webb, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Marshall, Karla Hopper and Rheana Floyd.

Also approved was the authorization of Administrator Mike Price to make a grant application to the Texas Dept. of Commerce for Texas Capitol Funds.

Bell's facility would be annexed into the city, aldermen were told.

During the budget work session, each council member presented lists of projects and improvements they proposed to be included into next year's budget.

Future sessions will be held to hear explanations from department heads on their funding requests, after which other sessions will be needed to cut requests to match anticipated funds available.

If approved, the funds would be used to upgrade Johnson Road between West Highway and Smith Road as a truck route.

Price explained Bell Processing is planning to construct a major facility on its property, which will eventually require 55 employees, and the state funding would make it possible.

Solomon enlists in Lord's work

By MYRNA SMITH

Though Bill Solomon has had three successful careers in his 73 years of living, he will quickly tell you, "The most important thing that ever happened to me was when I became a Christian about three years ago, and the most important job I've ever had is being a worker for the Lord."

Bill has gone into the business of being a Christian the same way he went into his careers---with enthusiasm, study and seriousness.

In 1922, at the age of six, Bill moved to the Waggoner Ranch with his parents, where his father was farm boss on the 1800 acres Waggoner had in cultivation by the head of Lake Diversion. "I don't have many memories before ranch life," Bill said.

There he played with ropes, bullwhips, and learned to ride horses becoming fairly proficient at each of these endeavors, especially with the bullwhip. "I never hit an animal or person with one, though," he is quick to make that clear.

But proof of his proficiency with the bullwhip, Bill could cut a candy wrapper out of his daughters' hands and never touch them. His daughters loved for him to do that.

He loved ranch life and would always go with the cowboys on the last day of roundup when they took the chuck wagon because it would take at least two days and nights. They would start out at 4 a.m. and go to the place where the cattle were shipped by rail, a place that at one time had been headquarters of the early-day Waggoner Estate.

In 1936 when Bill was 14, his family moved into Iowa Park and lived on Coleman Road. He still "played around" a little with ropes, bullwhips and rode horses some. But, mostly those interests fell by the wayside.

In 1942 Solomon began serving in the Coast Guard. He was sent to New Orleans for basic training and a battery of tests.

He was sent to steam engine school to train for a ship that was to be put into service. He was then sent to invasion and gunners school with plans to put him on an invasion barge. Those plans also were changed and he was sent to Lorraine, Ohio where he was stationed aboard the USS Alexandria which was to patrol most of the North Atlantic routes. He spent three years on that ship as Chief Machinist Mate and operated the main engine. He then was kept aboard the ship to take it to

BILL SOLOMON

Norfolk, Va., where it was put out of commission in 1946.

That year he returned home and in September, Friday 13 to be exact, he and his wife, Wanda, were married. He soon joined the active Naval Reserve that was stationed in Wichita Falls.

In 1950 he was called back into service in the Navy and was sent to Camp Elliott in San Diego to go into active duty aboard a destroyer.

When they looked over his credentials there and noted his experience with heavy equipment, it was decided they needed him to stay there and be liaison between the Navy and civilians in the transportation department.

He spent 18 months there before returning Iowa Park and going to work for Barbour Trucking as a mechanic. He had also worked some for Thompson Tool Co. After some time at Barbour Trucking he went to work as service manager for International Harvester.

In 1965 Bill decided he was going to quit and do what he had wanted to do since he was a little boy --- fly airplanes. He began taking lessons at Cook Flying School and earned his pilot's license and then his instructor's license. He became chief pilot for the charter planes and then chief flying instructor.

Solomon taught more than 200 people to fly and earn different kinds of licences.

In 1972 Bill received the Flight Instructor of the Year District Award for Outstanding Performance in the profession of flight instruction and for dedication to the promotion of

... intersection traditionally has a problem following storms.

Storms punish area

Iowa Park residents were sent scurrying for shelter Sunday afternoon, when the sirens sounded a tornado warning.

Weather spotters notified the police dispatcher to sound the alarm at 4:38 p.m., when an active cloud was just outside the city, approaching from the southwest.

The spotters said they could not see a funnel extending to the ground, because vision was impaired due to heavy rains, but the action in the cloud and flying dust and debris indicated a possible funnel.

Besides producing 2.2 inches of rain and small hail, high winds accompanied the storm causing electrical problems over the city, as well as flooding, mostly in the southern portion of town.

Lightning struck at the Bud Thompson residence on Pacific, but no fire was ignited nor was anyone injured. Baracades were erected on Wall and Garden, where water reached well over the curbs.

A transformer was knocked out in the alley between the 900 blocks of Lincoln and Cornelia, causing a loss of electricity for more than an hour.

Runoff water gave motorists problems late Sunday and throughout Monday east of town, on the Old Iowa Park Road, as well as south of town where Farm to Market Roads 367 and 368 are joined.

Most of the flooding was eased by Tuesday afternoon, however.

In all, Iowa Park received 2.64 inches of precipitation over the two-day period, according to Virgil Woodfin.

The flooding, especially in the rural area, was expected because those rains followed an extremely wet month of May, during which Woodfin reported measuring a total of 9.46 inches.

As of mid-day Monday, Lake Iowa Park's level was just below the overflow stand, Lake Gordon lacked about two feet from overflowing, and Lake Buffalo had risen to a point that the road on the west side was under water.

The storms were devastating to some of the wheat crops in the area, according to reports.

Damage estimates caused by high wind, hail and water range from minor to total.

Combine crews had been waiting for the fields to dry enough so they could move their heavy equipment into the fields. And some had, Thursday and Friday.

But those fields where the wheat were observed being harvested were mostly north and east of Iowa Park.

Storms, arrests keep police busy

The radio dispatcher at Iowa Park Police Department was kept busy during the past week.

When they weren't receiving calls relating to the numerous storms and damages they inflicted, they were dispatching patrol officers which resulted in five arrests.

Sunday and Monday were especially busy for calls relating to the storms, as the dispatcher was authorized to sound a tornado warning alarm, report power problems, and related problems caused by flooding of roads.

A patrol officer took Ivy Vance Barnett, 26, into custody Thursday afternoon in the 900 block of South Colorado, when the officer knew of an outstanding warrant for Barnett's arrest.

The warrant, issued locally, was for operating a vehicle with an expired motor vehicle inspection sticker, failure to appear in municipal court, and disorderly conduct.

After being booked at the police station, Barnett paid $10 toward his fine total and signed a promise to appear in court on the charges, according to the police blotter.

School board sets meeting

Iowa Park school trustees will hold their monthly meeting Monday in the junior high school library.

The meeting is to begin at 6:30 p.m., rather than the customary 7:30, Supt. Glen Mitchell pointed out.

Following the recognition of teachers who have completed the M.O.S.T. Lab Academy, trustees will take action on two bidding subjects: purchase of a utility maintenance tractor and supplies and equipment for athletics.

A public hearing on Title II funds will be followed by a public report on the 1994-95 test scores, and then the board will consider a final revision of the 1995-96 school calendar.

Two executive sessions are listed on the meeting's agenda: concerning student transfer requests, and personnel.

Action is provided for on the agenda when both the closed sessions

An officer was called to the 700 block of Johnson Road at 4:12 a.m. Saturday, where a man was reportedly making considerable noise.

Barry Tant Gober, 25, was taken into custody on a public intoxication charge. He was released at 10:48 a.m. after paying a $130 fine.

Another public intoxication arrest was posted on the blotter at 4:26 a.m. Sunday, when Melissa Ann Rowe, 22, was taken into custody in the 200 block of West Highway.

She was released at 9:45 a.m. after signing a plea and paying a $280 fine.

Officers responded to a domestic disturbance call in the 100 block of West Emerald at 4:46 a.m. Sunday, resulting in the arrest of Kristi Laura Beavers, 18.

Charged with a Class C assault to prevent family violence, Beavers was released at 9:15 a.m. after entering a plea and paying a fine of $130.

The fifth arrest was made at 1:11 a.m. Tuesday, in the 1000 block of Mary, when it was determined an outstanding warrant existed from Wichita County for the arrest of Bowie Lee Farr, 19.

The warrant concerned a charge of theft, according to the sheriff's office. He was released at 2 a.m. to a county deputy to be transported to the county jail.

Helwig, Spikes vows pledged in May ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Allen Spikes are making their home in Iowa Park following their marriage Sunday afternoon, May 21, at 3 o'clock, and after a brief wedding trip to Oklahoma City. They plan a longer trip to Branson, Mo., later in the summer.

The wedding took place in First United Methodist Church, with Rev. Glen Blackmon, minister, officiating.

Parents of the couple are Larry and Karen Helwig of Iowa Park, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Spikes of Wichita Falls and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kenyon of Lake Arrowhead.

Grapeleaf ivy dotted with spring flowers decorated the altar rail. Heartshaped candelabras with votive cups and grapeleaf ivy completed altar decorations. White bows served as pew markers.

Rick Patrick sang "Forever Is As Far As I'll Go" and "If There Hadn't Been You", accompanied by Vicki Seigler, pianist.

The bride was given in marriage by her parents. She wore a fitted gown of bridal taffeta and lace designed with a v-shaped neck and large puffed sleeves with lace trim.

Lace covered the bodice and dipped to a point into the skirt at knee length where it was attached to a deep floor length flounce of taffeta. A large bow marked the point in the back where a detachable chapel length train joined the skirt.

Motifs of lace scrolls and lace on the body of the gown were embellished with seed pearls and iridescent sequins, designed and sewn by the bride's mother. Her illusion veil was held by a headpiece of lace and flowers that also featured the seed pearl and sequin trim.

The bride's cascading bouquet was fashioned from white roses, daisies and daffodils with a mixture of spring flowers and English ivy, tied with white satin bows and lace streamers.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Laura Dawn Helwig of Oklahoma City. Bridesmaids were Jennifer Spruiell of Iowa Park and Jayne Jordan of Wichita Falls. The attendants wore ankle length princess style dresses of mauve moire fashioned with puffed sleeves and v-necklines with ecru lace trim.

Their matching bouquets were a smaller version of the bridal bouquet. They were formed of mixed flowers in spring colors and English ivy, tied with mauve bows and lace streamers.

Sasha McClurg of Lake Arrowhead, sister of the groom, and Keri Simmons of Iowa Park, cousin of the groom, served as flower girls.

Their dresses of mauve cotton floral print made with puffed sleeves, gathered skirts and v-necklines with a self-fabric rose and the point and a self-fabric sash marking the waistlines. They carried white baskets of spring flowers with lace and mauve bows.

Kurt Helwig, the bride's brother of Iowa Park, served as best man. Groomsmen were Trey Frie, Charlie Simmons, both of Iowa Park, Chris Brookins of Wichita Falls and Curtis Simmons of Iowa Park.

The reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church.

White lace over mauve satin covered the bride's table. The cloth was caught up at intervals with grapeleaf ivy and mauve bows.

The groom's table and food and gift tables were laid with white lace over white caught up with greenery and mauve bows.

Guest tables were covered with white and centered with variegated greenery and a cherub figurine in each.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of Iowa Park High School. The bride attended Vernon Regional College and is employed by Texhoma Christian Care Center.

The groom is an employee of United Electric in Wichita Falls.

Out of town guests for the wedding were Alton Chappell of Baytown;

Lyme Disease

- Lyme disease results from bacteria transmitted to humans from a deer tick.
- In its early stages, the disease is characterized by a circular rash and flu-like symptoms. If left untreated, Lyme disease can become severe, involving heart palpitations and arthritis.
- More than 1,500 cases of Lyme disease are reported annually, and the number is rising.
- The bacteria-infected tick is commonly found in wooded and grassy areas along both coasts, beginning in May and continuing through September.
- To lessen your chances of contracting Lyme disease, avoid tick-infested areas if possible.
- When hiking in the woods, protect extremities with clothing. Pull socks over the bottoms of pants so ticks don't have an entry onto the legs.
- Walk in the middle of paths.
- Check for ticks after every walk.
- To remove a tick, put some gasoline or kerosene on a cotton ball and tape it loosely over the tick for 15-20 minutes. If the tick does not back itself out, use a fine pair of tweezers and grasp the tick and pull it slowly straight out. Use a magnifying glass and make sure you've got the tick's head.
- Contact your doctor immediately if you are unable to remove the tick, or if you see symptoms of the disease.

interest in aviation.

After working for Cook Flying Service about 10 years he began flying for corporations and individuals. He had earned his licenses for ground instructor, advanced ground instructor, instrument ground instructor, flight instructor for single and multi-engine planes, instrument airplane and commercial planes and has logged 18,000 hours of flight time.

He flew for Charter Industries about three years, making many flights to the Bahamas for vacationers and to various places, taking people on fishing trips.

Bill then began flying for IHR Corporation of Wichita Falls, later teaching the owner to fly. Bill was put in the sales department for the company's security devices.

After a bill was passed in Texas that a company must have a certified technician in order to plan and install fire and security systems in buildings, Bill was the only one who was willing at the time to take the eight-hour test. He was about 68 at the time.

He took the test at the University of Texas at Dallas and passed it with high marks. He said, "I guess that is what I am most proud of in my working career is that I could go back at that age and become a certified associate of fire protection."

He received a certificate from the National Institute for Certification in Engineering Technologies that states he attained the grade of Associate Engineer Technician in fire protection technology for fire alarm systems.

In 1987 Solomon underwent a six-bypass heart surgery and that curtailed his activities some.

But he has still not retired and remains on the retainer list of IHR, going in sometimes three or four times a week to get in on the planning of security systems, because he still is the only certified technician the company has in their Wichita Falls office.

Now Bill spends a greater part of his time in study and visitation for Faith Baptist Church.

"I had gone to church quite a bit in by life, but I don't know why I had never accepted Christ into my life,"

Solomon said.

But, he began reading his Bible about four hours a day the first several months. He still reads every day, but not as many hours as he did at first. Every Friday morning at 9 he and a friend get together and study the Bible for two hours.

Solomon never misses a Sunday School class and is Departmental Outreach Chairman and class activities leader in Sunday School. He never misses Sunday morning or night or Wednesday night services, and each Tuesday night he does visitation.

So it would seem he has taken this on as another career—one that he enjoys more than he has any other.

Mrs. Solomon is active in church work from her home, but is not able all the time to work with her husband.

She worked 10 years as a secretary at Sheppard Air Force Base, but is now medically retired.

They have two daughters, Pat Butler of Dallas who works in the Credit Department of Ford Motor Co., and Donna Durham of Allen who operates her own accounting business.

They both are Iowa Park High School graduates and Donna was salutatorian of her graduating class.

The Solomons have one grandchild.

As I See It. . . By Bob Hamilton

Viewing the flooded roads, creeks and rivers early this week reminded me of "the great flood of 1971."

Those who experienced it likely don't want to be reminded of all the problems it caused, but it might be of some interest to "newcomers" of the community.

Actually, there were benefits from that big rain, which deposited almost 11 inches in a five-hour period.

It broke a multi-year drought that had dried up all three of our city lakes, which were our only sources for water supply. The salty water that flows in the valley irrigation system was all the city could put into the water system.

Anyway, a storm moved over the area at 4 a.m. on Aug. 15, 1971, and continued its downpour until 9 a.m.

The official Weather Bureau rain gauge at the old Texas Experiment Station on South Peterson Road collected 10.87 inches! In the previous 45 years of keeping records there, no storm had ever produced more than seven inches.

Most of the rainfall was concentrated over Iowa Park and eastward, according to measurement reports we collected.

For instance, Neil Johnson, six miles northwest, had only 1.5, Robert Wilcox 2.5, and C.A. Nipper 4.5.

W.I. Lynn reported 9.5 inches on the south edge of the city, and the late Dr. D.C. Bondurant, who lived 2.5 miles east, recorded 10.03.

The Wichita Valley area was one big flood. The only thing those folks didn't have was Noah's Ark.

I caught a ride in a boat just east of FM 369, and we toured the low areas along FM 367, but didn't attempt to float any further south because the force of the flow was too great to risk.

But I took pictures of homes near the intersection of Huntington and 367 that had water up to the windows. So you can imagine what was happening.

Another picture I took made the DPS state magazine. It was two troopers sitting atop their cruiser, which had flooded out on 367, waiting for help.

After taking their picture, they passed up a ride back to dry land, however.

That rain didn't help our lakes, especially Buffalo and Iowa Park, very much. They only collected two or three feet of water.

But the storm broke the weather pattern, and more rains -- of less volume -- followed, and around mid-September the city began pumping fresh water from them again.

An oddity connected with the big rain occurred. As the heavy rain subsided, smoke was detected at 9:20 a.m. coming from the former White's Auto Store, at the corner of Park and Yosemite.

The business, owned by the Mr.

and Mrs. Don Schram, was gutted. They later built in Park West Shopping Center, and that structure is now B&R Thriftway.

During the drought which dried up our lakes, our city government began negotiating with Wichita Falls, and those talks culminated with a water line and ground storage tanks which now gives us a backup supply, therefore assuring us that we won't have salt water in our lines again.

Hopefully.

So, the next time your yard is flooded and the roads are awash following a four- or five-inch rain, don't complain.

It can get worse. . . and deeper.

Letters to the Editor

Let Congress 'share the pain'

Dear Sir:

Now that the "less government Congress" have their balanced budget bill, Bob Dole, Newt Gingrich, Pete Domenici, Phil Gramm, and "Whats his name Kasich" should be happy.

These politicians have mouthed statements about "LEADERSHIP" in government. Leadership means going first and showing the way. It is most effective when it is done by example. They propose to reduce or eliminate programs they don't like such as Medicare, Medicaid, Social Security, welfare, education, job training, aid to dependent children, agriculture, foreign aid, and a host of other programs. Yet it is quite cynical and hypocritical that they do not mention reducing the cost of Congress.

I propose that Congress discipline itself as the first step in balancing the budget. They should cut their salaries by 20%; eliminate all congressional "perks"; and reduce their paid staffs by 50% to 60%. By so doing they demonstrate their willingness to "share the pain" and govern by example, and that is leadership.

Until about 1939 or 1940, the total Federal expenditures were less than one billion dollars. Today Congressional expenses are about one billion dollars per year. At that time, congressmen were allowed only one office in his home district.

Presently one member of Congress has seven offices in Texas, and that is pure "pork barrel" in this era of western union, telephone, radio, television, fax machines, E mail and other means of communication. Reducing the staffs by 50% to 60% will reduce the effectiveness of paid lobbyists who will have to compete with one another for the "ears" of staffers who influence the votes of congressmen.

I propose the paper, taxpayers, and all concerned citizens get behind a campaign demanding congress reduce the congressional budget and staffs, reduce the cost of Congress for the next fiscal year before they enact any other appropriation bills for the 1996 fiscal year.

Swamp Congress with phone calls, visits, faxes, E Mail, letters, TV commercials, newspaper advertising, and demand that Congress lead and "share the pain" before asking the public to do so alone.

Sincerely,
Roy D. Thompson Jr.

WORTH QUOTING

Vandalism is not only a problem in Lamesa, but in every town you can name in the United States. What's the solution? I wish I knew. You see various degrees of punishment being used when the vandals are caught, but up in Tahoka one form of punishment caught my eye.

A 15-year-old, a 12-year-old and two 11-year-old boys admitted to writing graffiti on the driveways of a bank. They were sentenced to pay restitution of $50 and to perform community service. The community service consists of getting on their hands and knees with a piece of sandpaper to remove graffiti written on sidewalks.

Continuing with "Getting Started With Family Research".

Having gathered all the "bits and pieces" of family information to be found around home plus writing down or tape recording everything you could learn from family and friends, you are off to a good start. This activity will be on-going as you meet with family members who are glad to share and help identify pictures and stories that add interest to your genealogy and family history.

If all the information is filed for ready reference it is a great help as you move along in your search. Use notebooks or printed forms, and it is a good idea to use a pencil at first, especially on unproven data.

Now, you're ready to begin your genealogy record. Begin with yourself, and always go from the present to the past. First your name, place and date of birth, marriage and residence.

Then you proceed and record the same information about your parents, then your grandparents, and on through as many generations as possible. You probably won't be able to fill in all the data, the missing names and dates will be found as you search further. Interview as many relatives as possible. Many times distant cousins have bits of information that is useful.

Family group sheets are added later. The first direct line is recorded as a starting point. Write everything down in a notebook that may be helpful in research. Misspell your surname as many ways as possible, write it down as it sounds and note nicknames as well as first names.

Group sheets come next, each sibling of the researcher and of parents, grandparents, etc., with all the known information--children, grandchildren, nieces, nephews, aunts and uncles, all a part of the whole.

Due to interest, the Iowa Park Genealogical and Historical Society will continue to meet during the summer. The next meeting will be Saturday, June 10 at 2 p.m. at Tom Burnett Memorial Library.

Fillmore Spangler will go to Fort Worth Tuesday, June 13. He will take a group with him for genealogy research. This is a great opportunity, as Fillmore is a genealogist with many years experience. Final plans will be made for the trip at the next meeting.

The response to the BOOK has been so great that more copies have been ordered from the printers. Call John Chapman to order your copy. If no answer, keep calling.

PETTING FARM, TOUR

Nearly 300 Sheppard Elementary students, teachers and parents participated in the 4-H Petting Farm and Tour held recently in Iowa Park.

The activity was planned and conducted by Wichita County 4-H members and leaders who were assisted by the Iowa Park agricultural education staff and FFA members.

4-H members brought out numerous livestock animal projects, many of which the Sheppard students had never seen before. The 4-H'ers told the youths about their projects, and the students had hands-on experiences.

Included in the day's activities were dairy goat milking and sheep shearing demonstrations to illustrate agriculture's role in all their lives.

Members and leaders also conducted a dog show to demonstrate their work in this area of 4-H project opportunities.

"Of course animal projects are only part of 4-H opportunities. Youths can also develop life skills in the areas of food and nutrition, clothing, record keeping, photography, public speaking and comparison shopping," says Laura Avara, County Extension Agent for 4-H and Youth.

"Involvement in a 4-H club gives a sense of belonging, and a chance to develop positive attitudes, leadership and a genuine concern for others and the community."

Special thanks are given to the helpful FFA members, Iowa Park High School and Sheppard Elementary school staffs for their assistance and cooperation.

Most importantly, thank you to all of the 4-H members, leaders and parents for the time and hard work put in to make the 4-H Petting Farm and Tour a success.

Wins Scholarship

Rusty Downs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Downs of Kamay, was named the 1995 Ray Hicks Memorial Agricultural Scholarship winner.

This scholarship is sponsored in memory of Ray Hicks who was a farmer and rancher in the Iowa Park community. Ray helped to organize the Wichita County Young Farmers as well as served on the Iowa Park CISD school board.

This scholarship is given each year to an outstanding agricultural student at Iowa Park High School. Rusty has been FFA chapter president for the past two years. While in agricultural science, Rusty was on the area Junior Chapter Conducting team and state Nursery Landscape team his freshman year. His second year found him participating on Senior Chapter Conducting and Livestock Judging while serving as a Wichita District FFA officer. His third year was highlighted with his third place turkey at the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo, along with judging livestock at Texas A&M University in the State Livestock Judging Contest.

His four years in agricultural science saw Rusty qualifying, for the third year in a row, as a state finalist in forage production. During the past four years, Rusty's travels have carried him from Lubbock as runner-up state star greenhand to the National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Mo.

Head Hawk looks toward '95 season

By DON YOUNG

Iowa Park is no different than any other town its size in that just about the time the school year ends people start asking that same old question that they ask every year.

What do you think this year's football team is going to look like?

Most of you've already asked that very question and can't wait until this year's team runs on to the field for the first time.

But for now all we can do is look at what we've got coming back and try and fill the spots from the graduating seniors. And with 23 players leaving, there will be plenty of holes to fill.

Despite playing much better than their record of 0-10 last year, the Hawks will be trying to pick up their first win for head coach Weldon Nelms who will be starting his second season as head coach.

"We're really looking forward to the upcoming season," Nelms said. "We had a real good spring and the kids have worked real hard in our track program and our powerlifting which has shown up in our improved strength and quickness. We as a coaching staff, after working together for a year and after going through some hard times last year, can't wait to get back on the field and I know the kids feel the same way. It's going to be a challenge to battle back from where we were last year but I think the kids are up to the challenge.

"During the spring, we were able to get in all our offense including updating our passing game and putting in some different formations," Nelms added. "We will be running many of the same plays we ran last year but with our motion and different looks we will be giving teams, I think it will give us an advantage to where teams can't always tell what's coming at them. Another thing is that we will always have a split end this year that will force teams to split out there and cover us. I know it's real easy to look good in shorts in the spring but we feel like we've gotten a lot accomplished and with that year of work under our belt we are very happy with the progress the kids have shown."

The Hawks will have plenty of holes to fill this year as 23 seniors graduated leaving only five offensive starters and four on the defensive side of the ball.

"Our offensive line should be one of our strong points this year," Nelms said. "Tyson Spruiell, Keith Hoover, Tony Galliton, Keith Norris and Todd Yeager all played a lot for us last year and we feel like we have a solid group of young kids coming up that can provide some much needed depth. Last year was a new system to these guys and with a year's experience behind them, they understand what we're trying to accomplish."

At tight end, the Hawks will be looking at both John Woods and Jed Taylor to start the season but the biggest battle could be shaping up at the quarterback slot where as many as three players could see time as the signal caller.

Both Brandon Campbell and Robert Klinkerman return after spending time as the Iowa Park starter last year and Chris Norris is moving up from the JV and is expected to challenge for the spot. At the running back position, Corky Petty, Jimmy Fallon and Shane Bagley are all returning players who saw plenty of playing time last year. In the absence of full-back Chad Simpson, the Hawks have moved Dusty Owen and Clint Witherspoon into the vacated spot. And finally at the split end spot, both Toby King and Shawn Fulfer should see plenty of playing time.

Defensively, the Hawks will use a lot of packages with a lot of different people depending on the situations. One of the new kinks will be a "Force Package" which will utilize some of the quicker and stronger people to free up some players to put some added pressure on teams.

"We're going to have to try and keep teams off balance," Nelms said. "We don't have the type of personnel to line up and play straight up against some of the teams we'll be playing so, we're going to try to adjust and move some people around to give us a better chance to make big plays on defense."

With the first day of practice being Aug. 9, the upcoming season is just around the corner and the Hawks will once again have to play the same 10 teams that they played last year. But the good news is that there will be only four road games and one of those will be the season opener in Burkburnett.

"Our non-district schedule I think will be as tough if not tougher than it was last year," Nelms added. "Electra might be the only team that might be down a little. Southlake was a young team that went two rounds in the playoffs and so did Hamlin and Springtown and I don't see any of those three being down so we'll have our work cut out for us.

"But in district, I think any of the six teams could be in the thick of it when the season ends," Nelms said. "Bowie and Graham lost a lot of skilled people and shouldn't be quite as strong and Vernon will be going through a coaching change and even though the coach has been there it will still be a transition period. Bowie will also be playing under a new head coach this year. Bridgeport was a real young team last year and should be improved while Jacksboro will have to replace their whole offensive line. The good thing is that we will play three of our district games at home and that should be a big plus for us."

Maybe this will tide you over until the ninth of August rolls around, if not I bet you can ask just about anybody around town and they will be happy to talk Hawk Football with you for a while.

Bennett tourney champ for 3rd time

Earl Bennett was the low-score winner for the third time, when results of the Fifth Annual All-Iowa Park Tournament were tallied Friday afternoon.

Low handicap winner was Ron Needham, and Kathy Woods had the low score of the three ladies who played in the tournament which is sponsored by the Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce.

Needham had a gross score of 91, but after the Callaway handicap system was applied, his net was a 68. Mrs. Woods carded a gross 92.

Bennett demonstrated how consistent a golfer he is, by matching his 1993 score of 72. He shot a 71 for the title in 1992.

Last year's gross score winner, Carmen Lozipone, was not available to defend his title. He was in Colorado.

Bennett "edged" out Joe Patterson for low gross. Patterson carded a 79, and Robert Palmer was third with 80.

Actually, the third-lowest score of the tourney, which was played at River Creek Golf Course, was posted by John Woods. Because he will be a senior at Iowa Park High School, Woods was not eligible to receive any of the prizes.

Needham edged out Pam James for second place handicap score. She also had a net 68, but the tie was broken by scorecard. Weldon Nelms was third with a 69.

Each of the first three players in gross and net received IP Bucks, which can be redeemed with purchases at any business which is a member of the Chamber.

In the closest to the pin competition, Pam James won the ladies prize and Dick Bennett the men's. Each received putters provided by Second Hand Sports and Robert Palmer.

Earl Bennett also earned two dozen golf balls for winning the longest drive competition.

All golf balls awarded as prizes were donated by Cryovac.

Though he didn't post one of the lowest scores, or win any prizes, Chris Ellis was the talk of the players while the scores were being posted.

Ellis carded an eagle two on number 17, the highest-handicap hole on the course at 445 yards in length. But it was the way he did it that caused all the comment.

Using his driver, he holed out a 250-yard shot from the right rough, according to the other players in his foursome.

No player has ever repeated as the handicap score winner in the five years the tournament has been held.

Rick Hanson won last year with a net 69, Jeff Brookshire the year before with 68, Vern Mikkelsen's 69 won in 1992, and Dick Bennett had a 68 the first year.

In all, 42 golfers competed in near-perfect weather conditions.

Players eligible to compete must either live in the Iowa Park school district, or be employed full time in a business located in the district.

Complete results of the tournament are as follows:

HIGHLIGHTS
By Lyndell Williams & Ed Sterling
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN - The days following adjournment of the Legislature belong to the governor, who signs bills alone in the spotlight because weary lawmakers have gone home after 140 days of lawmaking.

Last week, Gov. George W. Bush took the microphone in a news conference to declare the 1995 legislative session a success.

The first-term governor, who focused on four goals - education reform, welfare reform, juvenile-justice reform and tort reform - said he is ready to tackle another tough issue.

"We must look carefully at property tax relief, at relieving property owners of a high burden," Bush said. But he emphasized that property tax relief does not have to mean the onset of a state personal income tax.

"I am personally against an income tax," Bush said. "I believe - and hopefully we'll find a way to have property tax relief without an income tax."

Under a constitutional amendment adopted by voters in 1993, Texas cannot have a personal income tax without it first being approved in a statewide referendum.

Abolish State Treasury?

One of the 14 proposed constitutional amendments on the Nov. 7 ballot will allow voters to decide whether to abolish the State Treasury. If they do, the comptroller's office would take over the agency's functions.

Other bills signed by Gov. Bush would:

- Allow licensed individuals to carry concealed handguns beginning Jan. 1, 1996, which Bush labeled another "weapon to keep law-abiding citizens safe."
- Begin deregulation of the telephone business and open local service to competition and provide $1.5 billion over 10 years for high-tech equipment for schools, libraries and hospitals.

COOK OF THE WEEK

School's out. The days are getting warmer. Summer activities are in full swing. During this time of the year, cooks begin looking for recipes that take little preparation time. A large amount of the cooking is done outdoors over the grill.

This week we are featuring some of the recipes that have appeared in this column over the years that lend themselves to a "lazier mode" of meal preparation.

Brisket

6-8 lb. brisket
Boil for approximately 2 1/2 hours in water with 1 small bottle of pickling spice and 1/2 tsp. red pepper.
Coat with following mixture:
2 lbs. brown sugar
2 cans paprika
Garlic powder
Lowery's seasoning salt
Black pepper to taste
Roll and charcoal for 30 to 45 minutes.

Mrs. Mike Jackson

BBQ Chicken Breasts

4 boneless chicken breasts
Marinade:
4 Tbsps. oil
4 Tbsps. soy sauce
2 Tbsps. lemon juice
1 Tbsp. brown sugar
2 cloves garlic, minced
1 tsp. thyme or basil
Dash pepper
Blend together oil, soy sauce, lemon juice and brown sugar.
Place chicken in a single layer in glass dish. Sprinkle with garlic, pepper and thyme. Pour marinade over chicken. Let stand in refrigerator for at least 4 hours, turning breasts from time to time.
