Cook of the WEEK

Darla Olds

Darla and Ole Olds have shared most of their lives together, and that includes sharing a love of working for their church.

Ole is pastor of Lakeview Church of God, and Darla is church secretary, director of Children's Church, plays the piano and organ, and at times is known as "Watermelon the Clown."

Darla and Ole both grew up in Kennewick, Wash., where they were high school sweethearts. They both attended junior college in Pasco, Wash., and Ole graduated Kirkland Bible College near Seattle, Wash.

Following graduation, Ole pastored in Wapato, Wash. three years, then came to Texas and served as a state evangelist for the Churches of God. He was a pastor at Bonham four years, Amarillo four years, and national evangelist for the Southwest Region four years, before coming to Iowa Park 13 years ago.

The Olds have two children, Eric, 31, lives in Iowa Park with his wife Carol, and two daughters, Cayla and Courtney. He works at Cryovac and his wife teaches school in Electra. Their daughter Elayne is 28, and works as assistant business manager for Channel 6 TV in Wichita Falls. They are both actively involved in church activities.

When asked about hobbies, Darla said that she loves church work so much that we might consider that her hobby. She also said that the church had provided them with a beautiful parsonage, and she enjoys decorating her home and working with plants.

Darla likes children and loves to work with them, so she included in her recipes instructions for finger paint and play dough. She said these recipes are some she used for her children when they were small.

Homemade Finger Paint

- 1 1/2 cup laundry starch
- 1 quart boiling water
- 1/2 cup talcum powder (optional)
- 1 1/2 cup powdered laundry detergent

Small empty jars with lids

1/2 tsp. poster paint
Mix starch with a little cold water to form a creamy paste. Add to boiling water and cook until transparent. Add talcum powder to make mixture creamier. Let mixture cool a little and add soap. Stir until smooth. Let mixture cool and pour into jars. Stir paint into each jar.

When we celebrate Oktoberfest, many of us are following a tradition brought to this country by German immigrants.

First migrations started to America in 1680 and then between 1800 and 1900 many more came. Fredericksburg, Tx. was settled in 1846 by immigrant families from Germany. German pioneers came to Luckenbach in 1850, and many others found homes elsewhere in Texas.

It is said that one of every four Americans has a German ancestor, so maybe we can find a German connection among the 3.5 million who came to this country between 1800 and 1900.

Many Germans were influenced to leave their homeland because of crop failures after a very hard winter in 1816-17, and then too, there was a good deal of political and religious turmoil.

Most of the immigrants could only afford steerage and the sailing vessels were small and cramped. The trip to America took from six to 14 weeks, a grueling voyage, some left their small children behind with families and many perished on the trip.

New York was a major port of entry but our ancestors may have entered through Boston, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New Orleans or Galveston, during the 19th century.

There is no index to the New York ship passengers lists from 1847 to 1897. Unindexed records are most difficult to research, but if you can determine the period of time your ancestor may have come to this country, check naturalization records. They sometimes will contain the ship, port and date of arrival. The LDS Family History Library has some passenger lists of German emigrants. Some records in Antwerp, Belgium, were destroyed during WWI and then some were lost during the bombings of WWII.

Look for the reference by Maralyn A. Wellauer "German Immigration to America in the Nineteenth Century: A genealogist's Guide"; also for in depth information about Germany "German Genealogical Research" by George K. Schweitzer, 407 Ascot Court, Knoxville, Tenn. 37923-5907. It is available for $21 postpaid, and would be a useful up-to-date guide.

Still time to make arrangements to attend the Fall Workshop, Oct 21 at the Lawton Public Library, this will be an interesting workshop. Information and registration available at Tom Burnett Memorial Library.

Garden Club busy with Homecoming

Following a short business session, the meeting last Friday of the Iowa Park Garden Club quickly turned into a work day. Members were setting up the fellowship hall at First Christian Church in preparation for a flower show on Saturday.

In the business meeting, led by Bonnie Illingworth, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Carter were recognized as having the Yard of the Month for October. Members said that while the yard at 1001 Foley is currently decorated for the season, it is well maintained throughout the year.

Hostesses for the meeting were Joyce Short and Carolyn Cookingham.

During the flower show on Saturday, door prizes of flowering cabbage and pansies were won by Amber Daulton and Cindy Jordan. Mums were given to Betty Cole, Leverne Owen and Glenda Key.

It was noted that the club would be represented in the Homecoming Parade with a well-decorated red Mustang, driven by club member Joyce Short.

The meeting on Oct. 27 will be at the RAC, with Mrs. Peggy Nunn speaking on Wildflower Conservation.

4-H banquet set Saturday

The 43rd annual 4-H Achievement Banquet will be held Saturday evening at the Iowa Park Recreational Activities Center.

Theme of the banquet, which is to begin at 6:30, is "Under Construction."

"We will be saluting many 4-H youth, leaders and supporters for their tremendous efforts and achievements," said Avara.

Highlight of the evening will be presentation of the 4-H Gold Star Award, the highest achievement at the county level.

Former Iowa Park resident Ron Hill will be keynote speaker.

The program and dinner will be sponsored by State National Bank, Wichita Falls Production Credit Association, Red River Federal Land Bank and TU Electric.

As I See It... By Bob Hamilton

To describe how good last weekend was, I'd like to borrow a beer company's advertisement slogan and say, "It just doesn't get much better than this!"

I don't know how a homecoming weekend can improve. The crowds, the parade, the Ex-Students' banquet, the Whoop-T-Do, the weather . . . and, yeah!, that big win by the Hawks.

Truly, I guess Heaven would be the only improvement possible. And I'm not sure we didn't experience a little of that, over that fine, grand weekend.

I attended a luncheon of the Red River Valley Association's conference last week in Wichita Falls, to hear Cong. Mac Thornberry address the problems of controlling salt springs to the west of here.

That project, you may recall, has been halted for environmental concerns. More plainly, people around Lake Texoma are concerned about an affect on tourism and fishing at the lake.

An Oklahoma man said scientists had sounded an alarm, that the lake could become dead if the salt water portion that flows from the springs into the Red River were cut off.

I can understand that. But for the life of me, any body of water that is fed by so many thousands of miles of water shed like Texoma plainly cannot become dead for lack of water.

And anybody who has ever had to drink salt-contaminated water will tell you tourists aren't going to pour into your area, and fish live in water not contaminated with salt.

Controlling the salt that reaches Lake Kemp and eventually is made available to the Wichita Valley will make irrigation water available, which was the purpose of that lake and Lake Diversion being built.

Our federal government needs to begin putting humans ahead of game and fish, because they are not the future of mankind.

A local business this month received some well-deserved recognition by a nationally-distributed trade

Hughes Pharmacy was among 50 pharmacies recognized for "Exceptional Pharmacy and Nonpharmacy Services" in the October issue of Drug Topics.

Four others from Texas were on the list, from Nocona, Austin, Sanger and Granbury (spelled Granberry).

Pharmacist Joe Hughes explained the listing is recognition for those who do more than counting pills, such as "service with a smile."

You won't find a picture in this issue from last week's dramatic standoff with the sheriff's department on South Coleman Park Road.

While I was well aware of what was going on, because of our scanner radio, I just don't go to such a scene.

My reason is plain and simple: peace officers have all they can handle with the situation at hand, and the last thing they need is a guy standing around with a camera in hand, asking questions.

Our story is complete, but we just won't have any pictures.

IMPROVING THE APPEARANCE of Gordon Lake this week are prisoners from the Allred Unit. The work was begun Thursday afternoon, under the watchful eyes of armed guards who were both afoot and riding horses. Such work is expected to continue until all three of the city's lakes are cleaned of trash, weeds and undergrowth.

We're not Wichita Falls!

Sir,
Is this place Iowa Park or Wichita Falls? We must endure the Hotter-N-Hell to block our roads, pay for the Wichita Falls EMPEC, have a Wichita Falls police officer patrolling our roads for litterers, have Wichita Falls license our local restaurants and be threatened by Wichita Falls taking over our City government through state legislation. I choose not to live in that city because of the way their administration shoves policy down the throats of its residents, crime, school system, gangs, taxes, and a lack of community pride.

I have "Talked-Up" Iowa Park to everyone I have ever met when I found they were looking for a good place to live and raise their children, NO MORE! When we moved to Iowa Park there was a learning curve to deal with for those in my family, including me. We had a mistrust for neighbors, police, local government, school administrators, and people in general. After getting to know the people and ways here; we found all those people and ways were the things we had moved here for. Now more and more people are moving here from Wichita Falls and other areas of the country and wanting to "change things to make it better." I work in an environment of change and assist that change, but not change for change sake. Let us all reflect in why we live in Iowa Park and not try to change "things" to be more like what we ran away from. Let us be more tolerant of those around us and work together to educate the new-comers as to what we have and why things are the way they are.

I'm not an isolationist, but I'm not ready to become another neighborhood of Wichita Falls.
Floyd D. Williams
P.S. Sorry Mr. Editor; We can't all attend council meetings so the local rag must suffice as a forum to express personal ideas. Keep up the good work!

Golf course said feasible; proposed site is concern

A consultant told the city council that a golf course in the Iowa Park area was needed and would be financially feasible, but he recommended a location other than land held under option by the city.

And a housing developer agreed. Larry Flatt, president of Flatt Golf Services, Inc., made his tentative feasible study report to the council in a called meeting Monday night.

He said his studies of golf facilities in the immediate area indicate the need of another 18-hole course.

Flatt said there are a minimum of 165,130 and up to a maximum of 204,017 rounds of golf played annually on the three 18-hole public courses within the Iowa Park primary market area.

"Of those rounds, 19,580 to a maximum of 57,467 rounds are presently not being accommodated in the primary market and are readily available to support additional regulation, quality and moderately priced public facilities," he said.

The city has taken an option on a

368-acre tract of land west of Johnson Road, known as the "Van Horn place," where a course is being considered.

Though the site's immediate proximity to the city has numerous advantages, including its exposure to traffic on US 287, Flatt said he would recommend finding another site which has more water, trees and slope.

Because the city has expressed the need of a housing development to be combined with the course, in order to provide most of the construction financing, the location has other drawbacks, one man said.

Keith Carnes, who is a building contractor from the Dallas area and was in Monday's audience, said the view of the railroad was a major distraction for higher-cost housing.

He added that the landfill on the other side of the tracks also could be a problem for such a development.

Mayor Wayne House explained to the audience that the council had discussed three requirements for its support of a course's construction: that it be taken into the city limits; be open to the general public, and green fees be priced reasonably.

Flatt estimated the cost to build and equip a course, not including land purchase, would be $3.8-million, and estimated it could break even by as early as the year 2009.

Monday's meeting was held exclusively for Flatt's presentation and general discussion. No decisions or actions were reached or taken.

in decent condition, but the newer building was in bad shape. The roof leaks and water is trapped in the ceiling and covers the floor of the office area. He said in the event of a heavy rain, he is afraid the roof might cave in.

He suggested they consider demolition after salvaging what they could, and selling everything that couldn't be used by the schools.

Police

Dossey was transported to the county jail two hours later.

Two of the three theft reports received during the week were reported Friday.

A clerk at Allsup's reported at 7:12 a.m. that a red pickup had driven off without paying for $20 worth of gasoline.

That afternoon, Belvin Lytle, public works director for the city, said three barricades had been stolen and apparently burned in the embers of the homecoming bonfire.

The barricades were valued at $30 each.

A resident in the 800 block of Vogel told police Tuesday afternoon that someone had cut a wire yard fence and taken a pet Doberman.

CHERISHED MOMENTS are shared each year at homecoming, when former residents return to Iowa Park and visit with others, such as this scene prior to the annual Ex-Student Association banquet at the high school cafeteria.

FIRST PLACE entry in the city division of Friday's homecoming parade was a "newspaper office" built and manned by the Athletic Booster Club. Cub Scout Pack 7 placed second and 4-H Club third. School division winners were FHA, first; FFA, second, and Cosmetology, third. Observers said it was believed to be the longest homecoming parade, with more people in it, than any ever held in Iowa Park.

Voting gets underway on constitution changes

Early voting was begun Wednesday in the state-wide constitutional amendment election, which is to be held Nov. 7.

Additionally, the poll will be open 7 a.m. until 7 p.m. Nov. 1 and 2, as well as on Nov. 7, according to the county clerk's office.

They include:

Sewell records family history for grandchildren

By MYRNA SMITH

Due to the efforts of W.C. "Bill" Lane, worthy patron of the Iowa Park Eastern Star, to obtain a picture and some background information on the late Curtis Sewell of Iowa Park, he contacted his son Curtis Sewell, Jr. Sewell's picture will hang in the lodge hall, with other past worthy patrons. Along with information concerning his father, an outstanding citizen of Iowa Park from the time he moved here in 1920 until his death, Sewell's son also sent some interesting information about himself.

A 1941 graduate of W.F. George High School, he now goes by the name of Curt and is 71 years old. He resides in Livermore, Calif.

He wrote a Sewell "family history" 15 years ago in order that his own grandchildren would have a better idea of their ancestry.

The history contains information back to Henry Sewell, who came to America from England in 1620 and settled Sewell's Point, Va. It is interesting to note that Sewell's Point includes the land that is presently the city of Norfolk and the Norfolk Naval Base.

In stating his reason for writing the "family history" Curt points out "There was a time in America when the average child was born, grew up, married, had children, and finally died--all within a small geographical area. Most people remained where they began and family ties and roots were quite close. In this sort of atmosphere, knowledge of one's ancestors and background heritage was usually fairly complete. This heritage formed an important common tie to help preserve the family as a unit."

Other points mentioned by Sewell, a professional Electronics Engineer, was the fact that probably the largest single event which disrupted the family unit pattern was World War II in the early 1940s, to which, incidently, Curt contributed in its successful conclusion.

He wrote, "The necessity for women to turn to employment outside of the home. Prior to WWII, the "working woman" was relatively rare. Many women took jobs to supplement family income. As children grew up in homes in which there was not full-time mothers, it was natural that close family ties would not develop.

"The third major factor which mushroomed at about this time was the vast increase in technology, education, and transportation. Large scale commercial aviation brought remote areas of our nation within a few hours of each other. Radio news broadcasts became common and for the first time on a large scale basis people became familiar with what was happening elsewhere.

"There was a vast increase in the number of people who went on to higher education and then took up careers in a field different than their ancestors. The family business or family farm became a rarity, causing a cross-migration of people back and forth across the country".

In addition to Curt's father's active membership in the Iowa Park Masonic Lodge and Eastern Star, Sewell was involved in many other areas of local civic activities.

Born in Georgia, Curtis served in the Navy during the first World War. After moving to Iowa Park he was married to Louise Miller in 1922. They went into the auto service station business in 1923.

He was a longtime member of the Lions Club and served several years as secretary and also served as president.

Curtis served as director in the Chamber of Commerce many years and several terms on the city council, acting as mayor pro-tem. He was elected mayor in 1946 and was re-elected in 1948.

During World War II, Sewell headed three war bond drives. Sewell was active in the Methodist Church, was a member of the board of stewards, served as superintendent of the Sunday school, and was teacher of the men's class several years.

He worked with Boy Scouts 30 years, served as Scoutmaster and on various committees. He was presented the Silver Beaver award by Northwest Texas Council, which is one of the highest awards granted to adults in Boy Scout work.

Curt was born in Wichita General Hospital April 14, 1924. He attended Iowa Park grade school and says the recollection of grade and high school is a mixture of good and bad.

More from Curt's family history, "I took all of the math courses available--two years of algebra and one semester of plane geometry. I took all the science courses available--one year of general science and one year of biology. There was no physics, no chemistry, no trig, calculus, etc. Certainly there were no frills such as shop. I did not take any foreign languages. As I recall, I finished sixth in a class of 48.

"We had a football team, which always finished the season near the bottom of the league. I was on that team, and also was on the track team, which did somewhat better. I ran the quarter-mile and half-mile races. There was a basketball team, but I tried that and didn't like it.

"When I began writing this, I thought I would pass over most of my boyhood because there was nothing outstanding about it. But I realize that there were a number of differences between life then and life now that my grandchildren ought to know.

"What did I do as a boy? Well, I liked to read--I read a lot. Things like the Tom Swift series of books, the X-Bar-X Boys, the Banner Boy Scout series, various nature and adventure books. Also Boys Life Magazine, the Saturday Evening Post, etc. Of course, that's not much different from boys nowadays.

"I think the major difference could be that no one organized our activities for us. No one provided entertainment--we made our own. There was no such thing as television, and movies were too expensive to attend often. Adults were too busy trying to just survive to provide entertainment for kids.

"My dad, for example owned a filling station, and left for work before I got up in the morning. and came home about 7 p.m. then spent an hour after supper with his ledgers. This happened six days a week. He almost never took a vacation. This didn't leave much time for playing with me. Yet we had a good relationship.

"These were times of economic hardship such as people 50 years later can't know. The idea of a 48-hour work week was unheard of, except for a very few people. Money and jobs were each hard to come by, and government welfare was unheard of. The stock market crash of 1929 had badly hurt almost everyone.

"My dad, for example, had bought a filling station business, complete with a fairly large stock of tires and batteries, just the year before. When the market crashed, its value plummeted, but he still owed the price he borrowed. He was fortunate in that the bank allowed him to simply keep up the interest payments and delay the principal.

"We didn't catch up until World War II. Most folks were not so lucky. They lost homes, farms, jobs, etc. While at my dad's station, I saw maybe a dozen cars a day, loaded to the rafters with all the household furnishings they could pile on, headed for the promised land--California "And the weather made it worse. For several years, there was a drought. The land dried, crops failed, and when the wind blew (which was most of the time) the land just took to the air. Unless a person has lived through the dust bowl, he can't imagine what it was like.

"Many times, I've seen the dust so thick, I could not recognize a person six feet away. And at home, you could see the dust blowing in around the edge of the doors and windows, and making a pile on the floor. You couldn't walk outside during a sand storm, because the particles stung your face.

"But life goes on--and I thought all this was normal, since I'd never remembered much that was different. After I was about 10 years old, I worked after school at Dad's station, doing a full man's work. I felt very lucky, because he paid me a nickle an hour. A grown man might earn three times that much. One of my friend's father worked in the oil field as a driller. He made a dollar an hour--we thought that was a fortune!

"But still I found time to do things--like Boy Scouts. We couldn't find a man who had time to be scoutmaster, so we had a scout troop with no adult leadership. There was a sponsoring organization, and a few men as committeemen, but they didn't come to troop meetings.

"We'd hike over to the river and camp overnight, learning to gig frogs and burn our own potatoes. That was great fun. The river had so much oil scum (from the oil field) that there were no fish, but we found dirt tanks (mud ponds) in the cow pastures, where we could catch crawdads.

"Another pleasure was hiking cross-country to the Wichita Falls airport. There were two hangers, with planes from World War I era parked inside. We'd crawl all over them, sit in the cockpits, wiggle the stick, and pretend we were pilots. It's interesting to me now that no one seemed to object to kid's messing around like that.

"Which brings to mind another major difference between the 1930s and the 1980s." (and 1990s).

"Vandalism, juvenile delinquency, etc., were completely unheard of then. Adult crime was very rare. No one locked their house or car. To me, this is good proof that poverty is not a cause of crime, regardless of what our learned psychologists expound.

"In about 1935 (more or less) I remember walking over to the airport to see the brand new airplane that Braniff was bringing

Thank You

I would like to thank all of the RAC Board volunteers who worked at the RAC booth at Whoop-T-Do this weekend, and also the patrons who supported us. We had a good turnout and it proved to be a good fund raiser.

United Way

Did you know that the Iowa Park RAC is a United Way agency, and that your United Way donations are hard at work in our own community? Although most people are aware that it is United Way campaign time, many are not aware that they can make a designated donation to a specific agency. During the next two weeks, you will surely be approached in some way for a United Way donation. When this happens, please remember that your help may mean the continuation of a child's favorite program or insure the availability of a safe place for kids and adults as well to meet and enjoy fun, fellowship, and a sense of belonging. If you have given in the past, we thank you! If you plan to give this year and would like more information, please feel free to contact us. If you haven't realized that your money can and will be used here, please think about it. We appreciate your support!

Food Handler's Course

We are still planning to schedule a food handler's course at the RAC in the near future. At least 10 students must be registered to hold the course. There are four registered at this time. If you would like to register, please call the RAC at 592-4471.

RAC PAC begins soon

The RAC has received clearance from the state Department of Human Services to begin our after school program. The program will be called the RAC PAC Club, and will be open to students in kindergarten through age 12. Cost will be $1.50 per hour. Enrollment will be limited to the first 15 students to register. There are currently three names on the waiting list. Program start date will be postponed till the minimum 10 students are registered. Parents may call 592-4471 to have a child placed on the list or for more details.

Tour of Homes

Our annual Christmas Tour of Homes is coming together nicely. We will still take suggestions of homes for the tour through next week. If you would like to have your home on the tour, or would like to suggest another home, please call the RAC office, 592-4471, as soon as possible.

Reminder

If you are planning a meeting at the RAC next week (Oct. 23-27), please remember that we will have to do some rearranging on schedules due to two large meetings which will be held throughout the week. All leaders should have received a letter of explanation. If you have not received one, please contact the office at 592-4471.

in. The Douglas DC-3 was coming to replace the old Ford Tri-Motor planes that had flown that route. It was a beautiful bird.

"In later years, maybe 1939, the Air Corps took over that airport, named it Sheppard Field, greatly enlarged it, and began a training program for military glider pilots. They were used in the war to carry troops over enemy territory, and land them behind enemy lines silently at night.

"During the height of the depression, I remember that the roofs of the freight trains always were silhouetted with hobos. The railroad track was about a block from our house, and when a train stopped, the hobos would spread out, go to nearby houses, and ask for some job to do in exchange for food. We didn't usually have any work for them to do (I kept busy with chores), but Mother never turned them away hungry. She could always find something for those less fortunate than we.

"People passing through with their cars loaded with furniture would run out of money, and would trade some item for a tank of gas. The barter system was very widely used. Farmers would bring eggs to the store, and trade them for grocery staples. I remember the man who delivered milk in his horse-drawn cart. We paid him with gasoline for his car.

"I guess the thing which really brought an end to the depression was the onset of World War II. Government programs like the WPA and the CCC (Works Progress Administration and Civilian Conservation Corps) helped some. These people did work for the government in exchange for money. There was practically no welfare of the sort which is common now, where they just gave people money. These guys built bridges, highways, etc. They did a lot of good.

"I remember during the early 1930s we would go to my Granddad's house, 165 miles away. The trip took maybe 12 hours, because of all the mud and potholes in the highway. Most of that main highway was completely unpaved. By 1940, it only took about five hours."

On Dec. 7, 1941, the event occurred which changed Curt's and everyone's lives. He did not immediately enter the Army, instead he was advised that since he showed an aptitude for science and mathematics, he could be of more overall service to his country by continuing in school a while, which proved to be true.

He entered Texas Tech. At the time an EE major had only two options, power and communications. There was no field called electronics. Transistors or integrated circuits were yet unheard of. The vacuum tube was the thing.

In Dec. 1942 Curt joined the Army Reserve. Near the end of the basic training period, he was selected for ASTP (Army Specialized Training Program). He was sent to Durham, N. H. for more technical courses and then to Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

In 1944, near the completion of his time at VPI, he was interviewed and ended up being assigned to Oak Ridge, Tenn. beginning a totally new phase of life for Curt.

Curt had been very interested in the subjects he had learned in the ASTP, especially electronics, and by this time he was "itching" for some sort of action. He wanted to do something to contribute to the war effort.

After about a week and a half at Oak Ridge, he and five others were given a sealed envelope to a secret destination. They were told not to open the envelope for eight hours. When they opened it they were given directions to a place called Lamy, N.M. which they found to be almost non-existent.

There was a small train station building, about six dilapidated houses, and "at least a million miles of sand in every direction, plenty of tumbleweeds and sagebrush, but no trees". Curt wondered, "Is this where we are to spend the rest of the war?"

Their envelope had a phone number to call, which turned out to be a building in Santa Fe, some 25 miles away. They were told to wait and someone would pick them up. While they were waiting they talked to a railroad man. He told them they must be headed for "the hill." He didn't know what it was, but he had handled a shipment of radium bound for there. At that time Curt had only a vague idea of what radium was.

About five hours later a master sergeant came after them. They drove through Santa Fe and beyond. It was dark and they couldn't see much country, but knew they were climbing a mountain.

When they arrived it looked like another temporary Army base. Curt was assigned to work with a group of people, a mixture of Army and civilian, that were doing electronics work, which he found "absolutely fascinating". His group often worked 20 hours a day.

Before long he was in charge of one of the electronic fabrication shops. For several months he had no idea what sort of place he was in, except that its name was Los Alamos.

During the spring of 1945, Sewell says the busy work week became busier. Everyone needed more equipment built and the word "Trinity" began to be common.

This was obviously the big test, to see if all of their work was to be worth anything or if it was in vain.

This was to be the detonation of the first atomic bomb. It was to be on an Air Corps bombing range in southern New Mexico, not far from the town of Socorro. This was the time they began working to the point of exhaustion.

They were all aware of the extreme importance of the coming test. Sewell and some of the others who had worked so hard were allowed to go to the test site. The big moment came July 16, 1945. He was stationed about 18 miles from the test site. Even at that distance the light was extremely bright and the sound reverberated in the mountains for a least five minutes.

Sewell served three and a half years in the Army and in the Scientific Laboratory at Los Alamos 11 years. In 1957 he and his wife and family moved to New York where he became chief engineer of Isotopes Inc. and held the same position at Lawrence Livermore Laboratory 25 years, retiring in January 1988.

Although raised in a Christian home Curt did not believe all of the Bible to be literally true. After his association with Isotopes Inc. where radiometric dating was done and he learned the tenuous basis for all of the dating methods for "proofs" of the ancient age of the earth, his faith in "absolute scientific truth" was shaken, but he still doubted the historicity of the early parts of the Bible.

In the late 1960s Curt began a study of the scientific evidences on both sides of the picture. By 1970 he became convinced that God's creation, as outlined in early Genesis, was literally true, and since he has continued his studies.

He now is convinced there is more physical evidence favoring the Biblical account of creation than evidence favoring evolution.

Sewell studies as much as he can on both sides of the scientific and religious evidences involved in the Creation-Evolution controversy. He has lectured, written and taught on this subject and has a book in preparation, "Compare: Creation vs. Evolution."

He also studies, writes and teaches about the Bible, with emphasis on the historicity of the early portions. He has a book in preparation, "The Early Bible and World History."

He has published a number of instruction manuals and technical articles in various professional electronics journals, as well as many Bible and Science articles.

Sewell became a Christian in 1945 and has been active in churches, mostly Baptist since. He has served as a deacon, youth leader, Sunday School teacher, occasional pulpit substitute and choir member.

He is listed in Who's Who in Technology and in Biographical Directory of American Men and Women of Science.

He and his wife, Wanda, have three sons, Eugene, Jack and Bill. They have seven grandchildren.

IOWA PARKAN Michelle Hall, 18, is prepared by emergency medical personnel to be transported by ambulance to a Wichita Falls hospital, as result of a 2:54 p.m. accident Tuesday on FM 369. She was driving north, when an east-bound car driven by Jacquelin McMullen, 19, of Burkburnett apparently failed to stop at the Bacon Switch intersection. McMullen was not injured.

TIPS ON STAYING SAFE AND SOUND WITH NATURAL GAS.

For more than 80 years, Lone Star Gas has been providing safe, dependable energy to its customers. By following a few simple rules, you can help make sure you and your family stay safe and sound with natural gas:

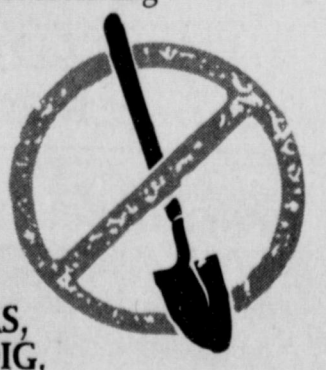

- Always have qualified service people install, regularly check and maintain all gas heaters and appliances, following the manufacturer's instructions for installation, ventilation, and operation.
- Always use a gas appliance only for its intended purpose. An oven, for example, should not be used to heat a room.
- Always keep flammable materials and substances away from gas heaters and appliances. Remember, a pilot light is constantly burning.

IF YOU SMELL GAS in your home, or know you have a gas leak, follow these rules:

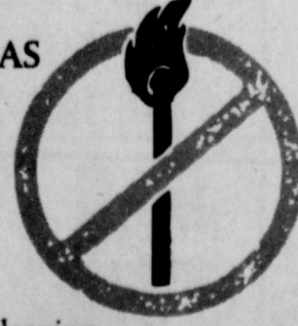

- 1 Everyone should leave the house immediately, leaving the doors open for ventilation.
- 2 Do not switch anything electrical on or off.

- 3 Do not use your telephone (telephones use small amounts of electricity).
- 4 Do not strike a match or do anything else that might cause a spark.
- 5 Go to the nearest telephone and call Lone Star Gas Company. Wait until we have found the cause of the gas leak before returning to your home.

If you smell gas while you're outside, contact Lone Star Gas immediately.

CONTRACTORS, BEFORE YOU DIG, call for pipeline locations to avoid any potential problems: 1-800-344-8377 (1-800-DIG-TESS).

We're not 'O-for" anymore!
Hawks thump Tigers, 27-14

It's over. Forget about Friday the 13th. Forget about Jacksboro's 5-0 record. Forget about the possible distractions caused by the homecoming festivities. It's over.

Friday night, Iowa Park laid to rest the 15-game losing streak that has haunted the Hawks for almost two years by beating previously unbeaten Jacksboro 27-14 before a packed house at Hawk Stadium.

The fact that it was homecoming and that it avenged a hard-to-swallow loss to the Tigers last year made it even more special.

The Hawks got off on the right foot when Corky Petty broke through and blocked a Jacksboro punt on the Tigers' first possession giving Iowa Park excellent field position at the Tiger 28. But after moving the ball to the eight, the Hawks came up just short on a fourth-and-one and were forced to turn the ball over on downs.

The Tigers managed only one first down and were forced to punt for the second time with Iowa Park taking over at it's own 48 with 5:19 left to play in the opening period.

After an incomplete pass to start the drive, quarterback Todd Yeager broke free around the left end and out-raced the Tiger defenders 52 yards into the endzone to put the Hawks on the board. John Woods added the first of his three extra points to make the score 7-0.

The score remained 7-0 until late in the second quarter when Jacksboro took advantage of a big 46-yard pass play on which the Iowa Park defender slipped to move the ball to the Hawks 12. Yancey Laake scored on the next play to cut the lead to 7-6. On the ensuing extra point, the middle of the Iowa Park line broke through and smothered the kick to preserve the slim lead at the half.

That would be the closest the Tigers would get for the rest of the game as Iowa Park exploded for 20 unanswered points in the third quarter to built it's lead to 27-6 with the defense and special teams leading the way.

Michael Fallon got the Hawks going in the third quarter with his interception and 29-yard return giving Iowa Park the ball at the Tiger 37. Seven plays later, on a fourth-and-two from the seven, Petty found a nice

Hawk defenders make sure this punt isn't returned hole to his left and charged in for the touch-down to give his team a 14-6 lead with 6:03 left in the period.

On Jacksboro's next possession, the Tigers were unable to make a first down and had to punt. Shane Bagley fielded the ball at his own 41 and just missed scoring when he was tackled at the Tiger 13. Three plays later, Todd Yeager made it 21-6 when he scored from 10 yards out with 3:22 left on the clock in the third quarter.

The Tigers were again unable to move the ball this time fumbling with Fallon picking up the loose ball for Iowa Park at the Jacksboro 21. Two plays later Yeager threw a perfect pass to David Waterbury, who made a nice over-the-shoulder catch on a 23-yard fade pattern to boost the Hawks lead to 27-6 with 1:04 left in the third.

Jacksboro added a late touchdown in the final period on a 33-yard pass from Matt Fryar to Stewart Chalmers to make the final 27-14.

"I think this was really good for everyone involved including the school, the kids and the community," head coach Weldon Nelms said. "I felt like our kids dominated the game in all phases right from the get-go starting with the blocked punt. I can't say enough about the total effort from everyone. We did what we needed to do and we got the job done."

NEWS FROM THE HALLS OF THE HAWKS

JUNIOR HIGH

Choirs entertain PTA

The Iowa Park Junior High choir provided entertainment for the PTA meeting last Monday. Directed by Donna Brinlee and Debbi Walters, a group of approximately 60 sixth graders made their debut performance. The show began with an enactment of waking up to an alarm, followed by a song denoting early rise only to find out "It's Saturday," which was the group's first selection. The Sixth Grade Choir sang two more songs and then the Honor Choir took the stage.

Approximately 60 seventh and eighth grade students made up the Honor Choir presentation and entertained the crowd of nearly 200 in attendance. They sang three songs including one medley of patriotic songs which required audience standing participation. Also included in the performance was a preview of a song, "Cantante Domino," which will be required of the students for competition this year.

Prior to the performance, PTA President Jo Lynn Cockrum gave a financial report of the PTA and encouraged all who have not paid membership dues to join.

The next meeting will be Nov. 20 at the high school. The Junior High Band will provide the entertainment.

Volleyball

The 7th & 8th grade A teams will play Harrold there, starting at 4:30 p.m., next Monday.

Football

On Tuesday, the 7th & 8th grade A teams will play Bridgeport here, beginning at 5:30 p.m.

A great big thank you to everyone who stopped at our booth at Whoop-T-Do, to the parents and the Bake Shop for their donations of baked goods, to Faith Baptist for the use of their tables, and Total Petroleum for loaning us a trailer for our float. A special thank you goes out from the sixth grade club to everyone who stopped at our Kids Kraft table. The girls raised enough money to go on a trip to weekend camp at Lake Murray State Park.

Thursday, Oct. 19 - "Let's Be Drug Free." Artie Woods with the Sheriff's Dept. will present a drug program for grades 3 and up at 4:00 p.m. at Harrell Park.

Monday, Oct. 23 - Song practice for all clubs with their leaders. 4:00 - 5:00 p.m. at Harrell Park.

Thursday, Oct. 26 - Leaders meeting, 12:00 p.m. at Cheryl's home.

CUB SCOUT NEWS

Our Pack Meeting will be Oct. 30 at the RAC.

There is still time to go to Lad and Dad, just go to the BSA office and sign up. Lad and Dad is Oct. 27 and 28, from 5-5. The Haunt-o-ree is Oct. 28 and 29 at a cost of $10. This is a family activity.

Thanks to Karla Hopper for our 2nd place Whoop-T-Do float, and Gary Smith for the booth. You both did a wonderful job.

Everyone should have their popcorn sales papers and be out selling our popcorn. You have until Nov. 10 to sell. There are a lot of cool prizes to win this year, so do your best.

Everyone who worked this weekend on the float or at the booth, thanks. We couldn't have done it without you.

FRIENDLY DOOR NEWS

Congratulations to Carol Lunney for winning the quilt at Whoop-T-Do.

United Way Kick Off for Friendly Door members. Our goal is to raise $300, just from our senior citizens.

Last week we had two programs to help inform our senior citizens. A nutrition program, provided by Barbara Fangman, and a volunteer from Hospice came to tell of the services they provide.

Card of Thanks

I would like to take this time to say thanks to the many people who were responsible for helping me with the IHS float. First, to Mr. Bob Greenwalt, the Administrator, for allowing us to participate in the parade. To my wonderful residents for agreeing to go with me. They include Mr. William Pirkle, Sidney Dalrymple, Allie Girard, Elsie Porter, Henry Duran, Jackie Gee, Jettie Sampley, and Virginia Calvin. Special thanks to my dad, Jack Headings for the great posters he drew and the time he spent detailing the vehicles. Barbie Johnston, my sister, for the hours of decorating and making bows. To Mr. and Mrs. Dean Simmons for the loan of the trailer and Brenda Kenyon for the beautiful truck. To Charlie Simmons for getting us to the parade and back in one piece. To the Energizer Bunny, Kristi Lane, LVN, who endured the heat under that costume. To her mother, June Lane, and her brother Brandon Lane for volunteering their time. It was a great success and a lot of fun. Thanks again for volunteering. I couldn't have done it without you.

PEE WEE WEST HAWKS

The Pee Wee West Hawks just keep winning and winning. Iowa Park remained undefeated at 6-0 for the season by romping over Quannah 22-6 Saturday to improve to 5-0 in conference play.

Nash McFann scored a pair of touchdowns on runs of 29 and 25 yards and added a two point conversion to fuel the Hawks' attack. James Rowland added another touchdown and two point conversion for Iowa Park to make the final score 22-6. Nic Scoughter also had a good game offensively for the Hawks.

Defensively for Iowa Park, players for the game were Kyle Hayley, Michael Fulkerson, Chris Trevino, Matthew Carrizales, and Toby Brown who recovered a fumble.

MIDGET WEST HAWKS

The Midget West Hawks got started on the right foot Saturday night but came up short when the evening was through, falling 22-8 to the Quannah Indians to drop to 1-5 overall and 1-4 in conference play.

Trey McKnight opened the game with a perfect outside kick recovered by Jared Davis for Iowa Park at the Indian 48. Jared Horsky and Cory Sosbee's running moved the ball to the Quannah 7 before Will Clapp connected with his fullback Andy Simpson for the 7-yard touchdown pass. Horsky made it 8-0 when he scored on the two point conversion.

But those were all the points the Hawks could come up with as Quannah ran off 22 unanswered to take the 22-8 win.

Leading rushers for Iowa Park were Horsky with 56, Sosbee with 25 and Simpson with 18.

Defensively the Hawks were led by Davis, Horsky, and McKnight.

Iowa Park will play it's final conference game of the season Saturday when they travel to Burk to take on the Bulldogs.

MIDGET EAST HAWKS

The Midget East Hawks kept their winning streak alive Saturday by beating Archer City 14-6 to improve to 3-3 overall and 3-1 in conference play.

The win, the third in a row for the Hawks, was by far the most exciting of the season.

Iowa Park took a 6-0 lead when Brandon Gentry hauled in a 21-yard touchdown pass from Kyle Young. Gentry finished the game with 61 yards receiving on three catches. Young finished three of four for 59 yards from the tailback spot and quarterback Nick Kennedy finished one for one for 10 yards.

Leading 6-0, the Hawks defense dozed off allowing the Wildcats to tie the game at 6-6. Michael Hopper and Young made sure Archer City didn't take the lead on the two point conversion as the two defensive ends sandwiched the quarterback.

With the game headed for overtime and only 37 seconds remaining, Young sacked the Wildcat quarterback forcing a fumble that was recovered by Gentry.

On the Hawks' first play from the Archer 15-yard line, Jeremy Fulfer moved the ball to the five with only 6 seconds left on the clock. Kennedy spiked the ball with one tick left on the clock setting the stage for the big finish.

Fulfer broke a tackle at the one and dove into the end zone for the winning touchdown with the final buzzer still sounding. Gentry added the two point conversion to make the final 14-6.

The Hawks were led in rushing by Fulfer who picked up 56 yards on 17 carries followed by Young who finished with 53 yards on 10 tries. Ryan Shierry added 24 yards on 2 attempts.

Defensively, Fulfer, Shierry and Hopper led the way with Fulfer and Gentry picking up fumble recoveries for Iowa Park.

The Hawks will be looking to make it four in a row Saturday when they play host to Holliday at 7:45 p.m.

PEE WEE EAST HAWKS

The Pee Wee East Hawks won a defensive battle Saturday by defeating Archer City 6-0 to improve to 5-1 for the season and 4-1 in conference play.

Iowa Park took the opening kickoff and following a pair of runs by Cory Bosley, Justin Swenson took a handoff and raced 50 yards untouched thanks to the excellent blocking of Sam Martinez, Darryl Landers and Joseph Cockrum.

Defensively the Hawks were led by Matt Glasgow, Grant Miller and Bosley. Offensively, Wade Havins finished with 40 yards rushing on only 5 carries. The Hawks will square off against Holliday Saturday.

JV thumps Jacksboro, 24-8

The Iowa Park JV Hawks broke an 8-8 first half tie by scoring 16 unanswered second half points to down Jacksboro in the district opener for both teams Thursday night.

The Hawks' first touchdown was set up by Brian Casey's fumble recovery and return to the Tigers 14. Jacob Robertson found the end zone from 2 yards out to put Iowa Park on the board. Michael Swenson added the two point conversion to make the score 8-0.

But the lead was short lived as Jacksboro returned the ensuing kickoff for a touchdown to tie the game at 8-8.

The score remained tied until the third quarter when Clint Mathis forced the Jacksboro punter to recover his own fumble in the end zone for a safety to make the score 10-8.

Calvin Galliton later scored from 14 yards out to cap a 65-yard drive and Jonathan Clubb tacked on the two point conversion to make the score 18-8.

Clint Thompson rounded out the Iowa Park scoring on a 1-yard sneak to make the final 24-8.

The Hawks' defense held Jacksboro to only two first downs the entire game with one coming on a pass play and the other on an interference penalty.

Both Brad Green and Toby Catlin had fumble recoveries to help the cause.

Players of the game were, Bo Vernon, Brandon McLemore, Chad Graham and Clubb.

determine what would happen the rest of the season. If we lost, we would be down, but with the win, the whole team is upbeat.

"The Hawks have been ridiculed all of last year and the first part of this one," Yeager added. "But we took a big step to gaining some respect by beating Jacksboro. For us to beat Vernon, we have to play mistake free and we can't afford to go three and out offensively. We're going to have to block better because their linemen read and run to the ball and if we do that I think we'll come away with a win."

Friday night's game gets under way at 7:30 p.m. in Vernon.

Junior Hawks split games

The 7th grade Hawks kept their unbeaten streak alive Tuesday night by blanking the Vernon Lions 22-0 to move to 5-0-1 for the season.

Aaron Thomas put Iowa Park on the board with a 60-yard run set up by an Aaron Clubb fumble recovery.

Chase Wright and Chris Simmons hooked up to give the Hawks their second touchdown and Nathan Creekmore added another on a 54-yard TD run. Wright and Ryan Bess each added two point conversions, Bess' coming on a pass from Simmons.

Other fumble recoveries went to Jimmy Miller, Brandon Lane and Wright. Leal also picked off a pass to help the Iowa Park defense.

Other players with standout performances included, Heath Hodges, Steven Gray, Donny Johnson, and the entire offensive line.

The 8th grade Hawks suffered their second loss of the season Tuesday night by falling to the Vernon Lions 7-0 and now drop to 4-2 overall for the season.

Tyler Pulley's blocked punt gave the Hawks good field position early, but Iowa Park couldn't punch the ball in the end zone.

Offensively Ryan Huff and Scotty Mitchell were the workhorses while on defense, Shane Dunn, and Jeremiah Stevens. Mitchell also had an interception at the goal line to end another Vernon drive.

The Hawks will be looking to get back in the win column Tuesday against Bridgeport.

Frosh fall

Things didn't get any easier for the Iowa Park freshmen Hawks Thursday night as they lost 23-8 to the Henrietta Bearcats to fall to 1-5 for the season.

After a scoreless first quarter, Henrietta scored on a one yard plunge to cap a 64-yard drive to jump on top 7-0. On the Hawks' next possession a fumble killed a drive, giving the ball back to the Bearcats. Henrietta scored on a 9-yard pass to cap a 41-yard drive to take a 14-0 lead into the locker room at halftime.

Henrietta made it 21-0 in the third quarter by scoring on a 68-yard sweep. The Bearcats also recorded a safety when the Hawks snapped the ball out of the end zone on a punt to make it 23-0.

Iowa Park's touchdown came on a 8-yard TD pass to Chad Davis from Ross Dillard. The duo also hooked up on the two point conversion to make the final score 23-8.

LIBRARY NEWS

Guessing Game!

Have you taken the time to make your guess as to the amount of candy in the container on the circulation desk?

Write your guess down, along with your name and phone number. 1st, 2nd and 3rd place winners will be announced on Oct. 27, with prizes awarded at that time.

Jack-o-Lantern

Some of our entries have been received and we are looking forward to a lot more. Entries will be received until Saturday, Oct. 21. Prizes will be given in all the different categories. Judging will be done by library patrons, with the winners being announced on the 27th. We would ask that all entries be picked up by the 31st.

Jumpstart Reading Program

Attention all parents. This is the last week in which your child can participate in the Prudential Jumpstart Reading program. If you have been putting off bringing your first, second or third grader to the library to obtain their very own library card, now is the time to do so.

All entries will be mailed to the headquarters on the 28th of October. Take a few minutes to check back through your child's school papers to find a newsletter with the registration form in it. This was handed to the child in late August. If you don't find it, ask them to check their desk to see if it could still be there. Out of a possible 446 entries, we have only received 38. That is not a very good response for something that costs only a few minutes of time.

All entries will be added to those from across the states and one child will receive a $50,000 scholarship, plus $1,000 for their public and school libraries. Three second place prizes of Apple Macintosh Performa computers; five third place prizes (22 vol.) World Book Encyclopedias; five regional prizes of the How and Why Childcraft Library with 15 volumes; and 25 runner-up prizes of Readeroo and Joey plush stuffed animal/hand puppet.

Thank You

A special "Thank You" to Kent Chapman, Archie Layfield, Lee Uhren and Danny Skinner for taking time to bring the fire truck to the library for our National Fire Prevention Week storytime classes on Tuesday and Friday of last week. With all of your help, the children learned more about Fire Prevention. As they looked through the coloring book you gave them, they were spotting different items they saw on the truck. Again, I wish to say thanks for assisting me.

Card of Thanks

The other day we needed some lumber for our float and seeing how expensive lumber is now-a-days, we wanted to see if we could get it donated. Larry Scott, at Builder's Lumber, was more than willing to help out. The Pack 7 Cub Scouts would like to take a minute to tell him thanks.
Sincerely,
Pack 7
