STORM DAMAGE -- High, straight winds Sunday afternoon took off the roof and east wall of a shed at the school's agriculture farm. The structure, which was open to the south, was located just to the right of the front entrance. Portions of the structure, according to Vocational Agriculture teachers

George Martin and Ray Dillard, were found as far north as the railroad track. Apparently the same wind followed a north-easterly path, knocking down a power line on Texowa, three large metal oil storage tanks, and damaging a roof at the mobile home park. No injuries were reported.

Resident jailed for threatening police officers

A 29-year-old Iowa Park man is in the county jail on a charge of aggravated assault of a police officer with a deadly weapon.

Jackie Wayne Malcolm is being held under a $10,000 bond as result of an incident Monday evening at his residence at 610 E. Lafayette.

An additional charge of class A assault was to be filed Tuesday, also.

Police received a telephone call at 8:20 p.m. from a woman in Holliday, who reported Malcolm had assaulted her earlier in the day at the house.

She was transported back to Iowa Park by an Archer County deputy sheriff to file the complaint.

When officers went to that address and knocked on the door, Malcolm allegedly walked out on the porch, holding his hands behind his back.

He was instructed to bring his hands to the front, and it was then police saw that he reportedly was holding a butcher knife in each hand.

Malcolm is alleged to have made a forward movement toward the officers with the knives, then brought them back close to his body, and later dropped them onto the porch.

The suspect reportedly had been sniffling paint.

The police department received a call at 2:20 a.m. Saturday from the Electra department, reporting an east-bound vehicle had almost been involved in an accident there and the driver should be intercepted.

The driver, Kevin Werner Gfeller, 26, was stopped at Johnson

Road, given a field sobriety test, and arrested on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

However, after waiting for a period of time at the county jail, his alcohol content reportedly had lowered to the point that he was returned here and charged with public intoxication.

Gfeller was released at 8:24 a.m. after signing a promise to appear June 25 in municipal court.

An officer on patrol at 5:02 a.m. Sunday decided to check out an unknown suspect who was hanging around Allsup's.

The computer return indicated Timothy Preston Belden, 19, was wanted on an outstanding warrant issued by the Wichita County sheriff's department, for theft $20-$200, with a bond of $1,000.

Belden was taken into custody and turned over at 10:04 a.m. to a county deputy to be transported to Wichita Falls, according to the police blotter.

Two female juveniles were taken into custody in the 300 block of South Jackson at 12:16 a.m. Sunday and taken to the police station.

Both were issued warnings for violating the city's curfew ordinance and held until being turned over to their parents.

The only criminal mischief complaint received during the week was from a resident in the 1300 block of Westridge, where a cheerleader sign was displaced in shrubs and five real estate signs placed in the yard.

Parents protest school's policy

Parents of two students, who were placed in the Alternate Education Program (AEP) for violations of the district's student tobacco policy, appeared before the Iowa Park school board Thursday night.

Perry Green, whose son was being punished for his second violation of the Tobacco Abuse Policy (snuff), was the first to address the trustees.

He said he is against the punishment phase, which is five days of In School Suspension (ISS) for the first offense and one semester (18 weeks) for the second offense.

Green thought 18 weeks out of the regular classroom was too long for any student, and that the punishment shouldn't carry over from one year to the next. He suggested giving "licks," or other appropriate punishment, and visiting with the parents.

He said his son, who was a B student, was having a hard time keeping up with his work being out of the regular classroom. In referring to students who are being punished in this way, Green said, "Don't take their education away, let them attend classes."

Donna and Mitchell Lively, who spoke next, said they also disagreed with the punishment policy. They believe their son should pay for his offense, but feel the AEP program is not the appropriate punishment.

The Livelys said they would like to see a broader policy with more input from the principals. They believe the punishment should fit the crime, and putting a student in AEP for any length of time is harmful academically, and destroys self-esteem.

Keith Fisher, president of the board, thanked the parents for coming and said the trustees would take the matter under advisement and get back with them.

Action taken following a closed meeting on personnel included accepting resignations, employing new teachers, and reassignment of teachers and aides.

The resignations of Shirley Alsop, Bradford secretary, Lori Bland, junior high English/Reading/Theatre Arts teacher, and Lyn Goodgion, high school librarian, were all accepted.

Two new teachers were hired. Julie Dietrichson will teach fourth grade at Bradford and Terry Peters will teach junior high math.

Peters will replace Janna May who was reassigned to teach third grade at Bradford. Other reassignments were Patricia Costello, from Kidwell kindergarten to high school librarian, Gayle Lyles from Title I Aide to Bradford secretary, and Patricia Smith from special education aide to Title I Aide.

No action was taken following a closed session for a grievance hearing for former cafeteria employees.

Several agenda items were approved under one motion. They included authorizing Michael Caplinger to act on behalf of the District as Chief Executive Officer from June 13 to June 30, 1996; approve the shared services agreement for the West Wichita County Special Education Cooperative; permission to use the high school auditorium and band hall for a dance recital on June 29; appoint the superintendent to the Regional Advisory Committee, Region IX Education Service Center; and accepted bids for athletic supplies and equipment.

In other action, the board approved an auction of excess equipment from the old bus barn and Valley View schools on July 13, with Southwest Auction Service in charge.

Keith Fisher was appointed delegate to the TASA/TASB Convention, Sept. 27-30, in Houston. Martha Dudley was named alternate delegate.

In the superintendent's report, Caplinger gave his ideas on use of revenue from the sale of school property.

He suggested putting the money aside, and using it to address the needs of the administration building. Allen Shewmake, school tax collector, said a total of $66,140.33 was received from sale of the Valley View property.

After receiving requests for additional teachers and aides at all four campuses, Caplinger said at this time he would recommend hiring one teacher at Bradford and a special education aide at the junior high.

He said that, at this time, Bradford is the only school for sure that exceeds the state-mandated 22/1 ratio, and at the junior high, special education students have increased from 30 to 51.

The school board doesn't normally meet in July, but they will get together on July 11 for a Priorities/Goal Setting Workshop. Forms have been given to principals and board members to fill out before that meeting.

In a special called meeting which preceded the regular session, trustees adopted a salary scale for hiring of new classroom teachers.

The scale, to be applied for the 1996-97 year, ranges from $20,953 for teachers without experience, to $35,655 for those with 22 and more years.

In addition, all classrooms teachers continuing from last year received an increase over their previous year's salary of $1,505.

"Some continuing teachers are paid more than these amounts," a comment notes on the adopted policy, and, "Future salary amounts cannot be predicted from this year."

Helpful rains fall in varying amounts

Rains which fell here in two days of the past week produced a variety of measurements, depending on which part of the city they were observed.

Virgil Woodfin, who lives just south of the railroad tracks, said he measured .70 from a Thursday night shower.

But Bud Thompson, who lives across the street from the library, reported his gauge caught 1.2.

Woodfin said Sunday's series of showers produced 1.15 at his home, which raised his week's total to 1.85.

One of the clouds Sunday apparently produced a line of straight winds which caused considerable damage in the southeastern part of the city.

The damage included a power line down on South Texowa, a shed at the school's agriculture area heavily damaged, three large oil storage tanks located south of the school property blown over, and the roof of a mobile home damaged.

No injuries were reported, however.

Sales tax report glows

After experiencing a disappointing month's sales tax rebate in May, Iowa Park is back on the desirable trail, according to a recent report from the state comptroller's office.

The city this month received its rebate check based on taxes collected on April sales.

It was for $18,649.08, which was 19.46 percent greater than the check received in June of 1995.

For the year, the city has received $136,118.79 in rebated sales taxes, which, according to the Austin office, is an increase of 7.69 percent over this time last year.

That increase for the year is greater than any other city is experiencing in Wichita County.

Burkburnett is up 7.33 percent, Wichita Falls 6.64 percent, and Electra is showing a 1.09-percent gain.

Holliday, having received a total of $32,925.87 in rebates, is also experiencing a healthy gain over this time last year, 6.55 percent.

Leader issue printed early

Though this issue carries a Thursday, June 20 dateline, it was actually printed Tuesday evening for distribution on Wednesday.

The early printing was necessary, so some of the Leader's staff can attend the annual summer convention in Galveston of the Texas Press Association.

That Thursday will fall on July 4th, in case you've not turned over your calendar.

deadlines and printing will be necessary in two more weeks, also. The paper has long followed a policy of printing a day early whenever a holiday falls on Thursday, and no mail can be delivered.

Council to meet Monday

The city council will consider authorizing a contract for replacing a major sewer line on West Alameda, when aldermen meet at 7 p.m. Monday in council chambers.

A portion of the line recently was reported as having collapsed, causing the action.

Council members also are expected to pass on a resolution permitting the setting off of fireworks

July 4th in a certain area at Lake Iowa Park.

Fireworks are prohibited within the city limits, including both the setting off or even the possession, by city ordinance.

Also on Monday's tentative meeting agenda are the consideration of supplying medical and transportation service for local varsity football games, and setting a date for the next budget workshop.

LIBRARY NEWS

READY-SET-READ

This year's summer reading program is winding down. If you are participating and have your blue sheet to record your books read; please turn it in by Thursday, June 27.

Our closing program will be held at the library at 6:30 p.m. to award reading certificates and prizes. Following the awards we will have ice cream sundaes. Join us Friday, June 28, for this program.

REPTILEMANIA

Join us Friday, June 21, for a reptile showing. There should be snakes, chameleons, lizards, etc., for you to see. This program is open to all ages, so come join us at 2 p.m. for this FREE program.

READ * WRITE * NOW

During the month of July we will have a special reading program sponsored by Pizza Hut and the Tom Burnett Memorial Library.

READ * WRITE * NOW is a national initiative to improve the reading and writing skills of America's children from pre-school to sixth grade. All that is needed to participate in this program is a child, a learning partner and a book. Children agree to read and write just 30 minutes a day five days a week. Families may read to or with children during this time. One day a week, children meet with a learning partner (as explained in the packet). Learning partners tutor children and provide extra help in reading and writing.

All of the materials needed are in a kit that will be given to each participant.

After you have met all the goals for the READ * WRITE * NOW summer reading and writing challenge, the Pizza Award Certificate will entitle you to ONE FREE PERSONAL PAN PIZZA from any participating Pizza Hut between Aug. 15 and Sept. 18, 1996.

What was the first chewing gum?
It was the flavorless Adams New York Chewing Gum--Snapping and Stretching, developed by New York inventor Thomas Adams and introduced in 1871. Flavored gum followed in 1875, and bubble gum a decade after that.

Graduates ETSU

Paula Mashburn Bodine received her Master of Education with a major in Educational Administration during spring commencement ceremonies at East Texas State University.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Mashburn, she is a 1984 graduate of Iowa Park High School and a 1987 graduate of Midwestern State University.

She teaches third grade, and her husband, Bart, teaches business classes. Their daughter Marka is in the first grade.

Risk factors for teens told

It's dangerous to be a teenager. Four leading risk categories make the teen years especially fraught with hazards said an adolescent medicine expert at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

"Drinking alcohol while doing other activities, failure to use safety devices, access to firearms, and sports are the big four," said Dr. Albert C. Hergenroeder, chief of adolescent and sports medicine at Baylor and Texas Children's Hospital.

Statistics seem to confirm what most of us already know--teenagers think they are immortal.

Consider that:
* Nineteen percent of teens rarely use a seatbelt.

* Forty percent fail to wear helmets while riding motorcycles; 95 percent don't use bicycle helmets.

* Twenty-two percent of teens carry weapons; nearly one-third are guns.

* Thirty percent of teens had at least five alcoholic drinks at one time recently, while 35 percent rode with a teen drinker. Besides the risk for car accidents, teen drinkers are more prone to engage in unsafe sex and other dangerous behaviors.

* Seventy-two percent of all teen deaths are due to violence or accidents; 19 percent are murders, 11 percent are suicides, and 12 percent are from injuries.

"It really is frightening," said Hergenroeder, himself the father of pre-teenagers. "But I'm surprised the statistics are not higher."

Hergenroeder partially blames a world that has become increasingly more violent.

In the 1940s, school "dangers" for teens included being caught chewing gum, running in the hallways or wearing improper clothing. Today's teen must contend with drug abuse, date rape and assault.

What's a parent to do?
Talk, inquire and wait, suggests Hergenroeder.

"Don't wait for them to talk to you," he said. "Talk with them first. Many parents fall for the 'not my child' myth, and fail to realize their teen could be engaging in risky behavior."

When talking, ask specific, sometimes blunt, questions: What do you do for fun? Do you drink and drive? Do your friends? If your teen's behavior is not risky, congratulate them.

Next, give it time. Behavior cannot be changed overnight. Also, don't try to solve the problem as it is occurring.

"Talking to your teen about the dangers of drinking when they are still drunk is useless. Approach them later," he said.

Hergenroeder urges parents not to give up.

"Even the best teenagers will do dangerous things," he said.

Card of Thanks

A heartfelt thanks to everyone who called, came to the hospital and sent cards and gifts for Jeremy and Mallorie after their accident. A special thanks for everyone's prayers; to Tammie Patterson who got us to the hospital, and to her family for taking care of Mallorie.

Also, a special thanks to the emergency room doctors and nurses, and the special way pediatric nurses took care of Jeremy.

We appreciate everyone and everything.

Lynn, Teresa, Jeremy and Mallorie Fulfer

Card of Thanks

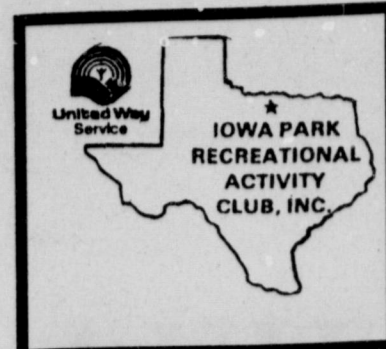

We would like to thank everyone for the kindness shown during David's hospital stay. He is better now and having so many wonderful friends, neighbors, and family helped him a lot. Thanks again. We love you.

RAC News

Bridge Results

With three tables in play, Lovella Hall had the high score of 4490 followed by Charlette Kennedy last Wednesday.

Monday's game had four tables in play. John Clapp had the high score of 3870 followed by Virgil Woodfin. There are 8 players registered for next Monday.

Thank You

We would like to express our thanks to Sonic for the free drink coupons which we give to our volunteers each week. Also, The Bake Shop for donating snacks to us for the children. The continued support from our area merchants help make our programs much more successful.

Volleyball

There was not enough response for the RAC to hold a spring league for Sand Action Volleyball. We will try again for a summer league. For more info call 592-4471.

Dance Recital Pictures

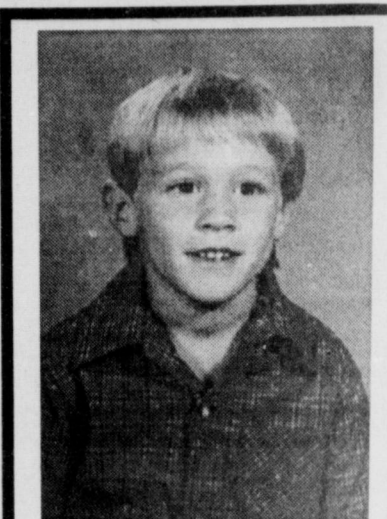

Recital pictures for the "Showstoppers" may be picked up at the RAC office. Please remember, if you have not paid class fees, recital fees or photo fees, they are past due. Payments may be left at the RAC.

Summer Programs

Summer is going great at the RAC! We've been having an average of 25 kids per day, but there is still room for more! Parents, if your kids are already chanting that all too familiar summer phrase "I'm bored," we would love to have them join us for bingo, crafts, movies, games, fun at the gym and all the specials.

Summer memberships are only $5.00 each and daily activities are just $2.00. This includes playing at the gym, snacks, games and prizes, program of the day, and most special events.

Next week's theme will be transportation and we are looking forward to exploring the different types of transport. Kids may bring bikes, tricycles, or other "wheels" on Wednesday for outdoor games.

As I See It...By Bob Hamilton

Everyone knows how "tight" with the money the Scottish are.

Maury and Wanda had been married 55 years when Maury died. Wanda called the local newspaper to place the obituary. She asked the editor how much it would cost to be printed.

"Two pounds per word," the editor replied.

"Okay," said Wanda. "Have it read 'Maury died.'"

"I'm sorry, Mam," the editor said. "There's a five-word minimum."

"Okay," Wanda responded, "Have it read, 'Maury died, Honda for sale.'"

Speaking of dry conditions, I was surprised when a group of us went down to Archer City Friday to play that golf course, and found the fairways greener than I'd ever seen them.

The course manager assured me they hadn't been irrigating, and looking at the nearby lake's low level I believe him.

I guess they've been getting some showers because they are nearby to Windhorst, and that area always gets good rains.

As I arrived at the course, I ran into a locally-familiar face.

Former Iowa Park city administrator Gary Jones had just finished playing a round. He travels regularly to Archer City to play, from his home on Lake Kickapoo.

Gary was loading up a real nice personal golf cart, and I complimented him on the vehicle. He admitted it was his wife's, Shirley, who allows him its use from time to time.

And knowing what a fine golfer Shirley is, I'm surprised she'd ever allow Gary out of their driveway with her golf cart.

We've been complaining about how dry it's been around here all this spring and summer, but I've found another area where it's even worse.

Ruidoso, New Mexico.

Iowa Parkman Johnny Crawford recently returned from a visit there, and brought me a copy of The Ruidoso News.

Inside a page is a boxed announcement entitled "Don't get burned."

It explained, "All governments in the Ruidoso area have issued various types of fire restrictions because of the extreme fire danger."

I mean, it's so dry that no fires are allowed out of doors, including campfires, gas grills, charcoal grills, lanterns, propane stoves, petroleum stoves, coal stoves, woodstoves, etc.

The point is really brought to realization when, under the heading of Ruidoso Downs, that's the race track that has been the major attraction to the community. The article states:

"No smoking except in enclosed vehicles, buildings, developed recreation sites, or while stopped in area cleared to barren ground three feet in all directions."

Now, partner, that's dry!

WORTH QUOTING

Okay, all you political mavens out there. The summer of '96 promises to be a hot one, campaign-wise (and unwise).

Two guys, Bob and Bill, both want to be president (Bill is, having beaten George four years ago). Both Bob and Bill are looking over their shoulders, worrying about Ross. Bill's sidekick, Al, is trying not to be excess baggage, and everyone is guessing who Bob is going to pick for a running mate.

Being a Bob myself, I'm a Bob fan. The Bobs of the world have taken some hits lately, and I for one am ready for a Bob power surge. Which is why I offer this advice, on a Bob-to-Bob basis.

Here's a running mate, an issue, a catchy slogan and a few million votes in one whack:

Mom.
That's right.
Bob's running mate should be... Mom.
And the core issue on which he should base his campaign should also be... Mom.

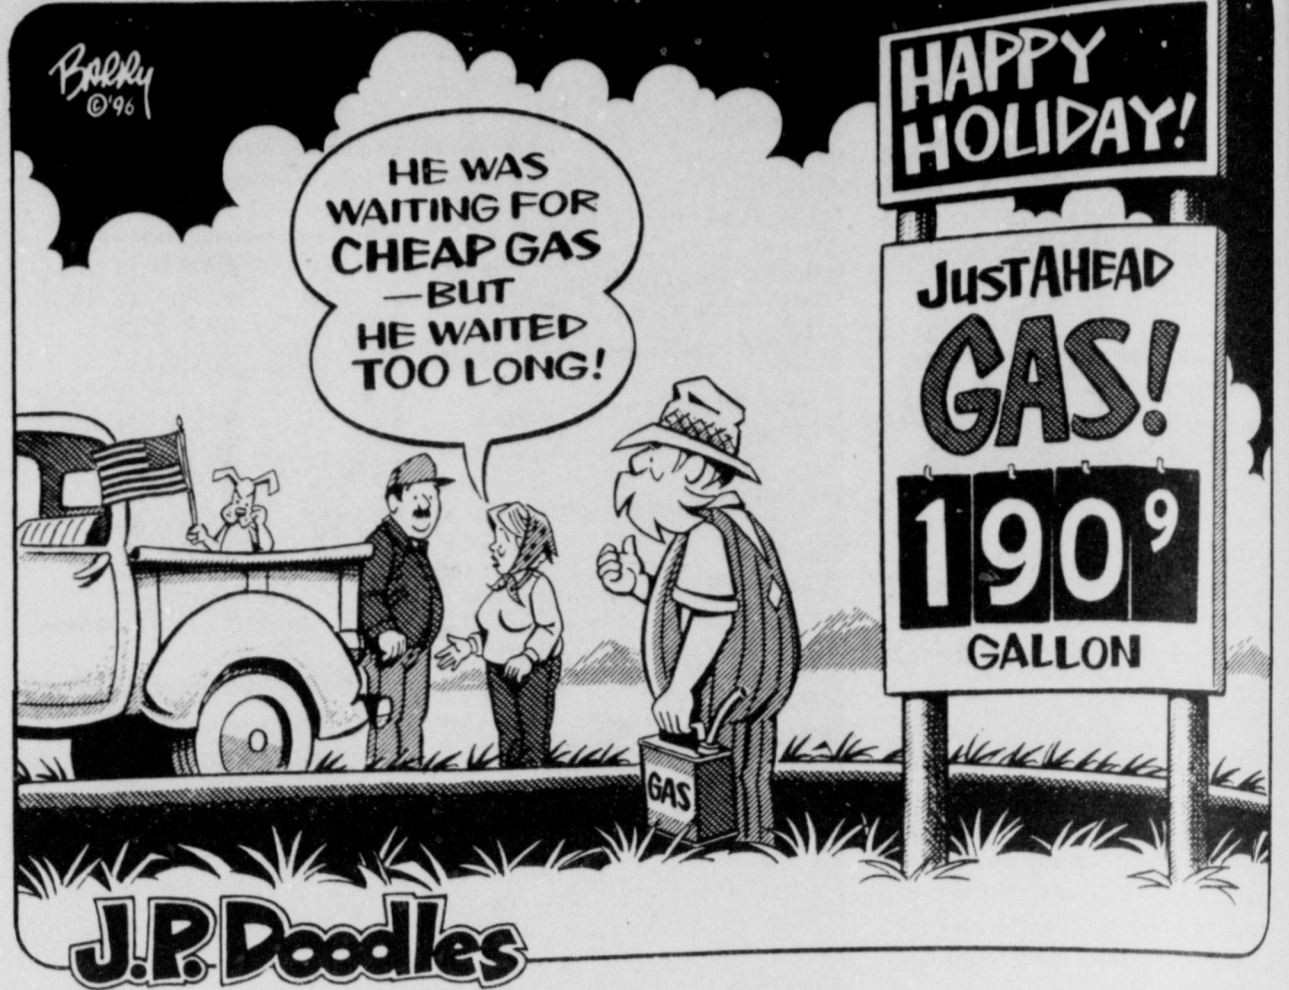

His campaign slogan could be something really catchy like "BOB/MOM IN '96: It's the same forwards or backwards."

Okay, I'm still working on the slogan.

I just heard on the radio that the economy is doing so well that Bill's spokesman (Mike) says Bob won't be able to make an issue of the economy, so he'll have to resort to nastiness, like ads where he sneers at Bill saying, "Liar, liar, pants on fire!"

To which Bill's people will, of course, sneer back, "So what? Nyah, nyah, nyah!"

Mom as a candidate would raise the level of political discourse in this election immensely. Bob, Bill, Al, Mike and whoever else gets involved (Newt, perhaps) would have to straighten up or Mom would lead them from the room by the ear and give them a piece of her mind (which, in most cases, would vastly multiply what they currently possess).

Mom as a candidate would bring in (say it like Carl Sagan) MILLIONS of votes. The mom vote could carry the election for either side. Bill knows that -- that's why his wife is out pushing that new book on how it takes a child to raise a village idiot or something like that. He's got advisors, he knows how the wind blows.

I'm telling you, it blows for Mom. Mom as an issue? Are you kidding? What's more important than Mom?

If America has any hope at all, it's because Moms is out there every day, fighting the battle to raise children who aren't total morons -- children who will someday grow up potty-trained, with two good eyes, all limbs intact, having eaten whole vegetables and finished enough homework to realize it's their turn to run the country.

And if they do a decent job,

To Whom It May Concern:

We don't know you but you will know what we are referring to. We hope you like and (evidently) you did. You stoop so low to take it off of our Dad's grave. It took two days to paint and put P.P.G. decals on the small 18-wheeler truck you took when we put it on his grave for his birthday. That is two trucks and other items that have been taken. Did you take them too? If you wanted one like it all you had to do was ask but no, you felt better taking that one. If you have trouble sleeping at night maybe you will take it back where you got it. We didn't see you get it but the one that really counts saw you and he is the one you will have to deal with. Hope you enjoy it too.

Letters to Editor policy explained

The Leader receives numerous letters which cannot, for one reason or another, be published.

Letters will not be printed unless they are signed. A typed name will not do. And, for the sake of verification, the writer's telephone should be included.

Should the writer not wish his/her name printed, it will be omitted upon request. However, the letter will be kept on file to be read upon request.

Letters also must be free of libel. If not, they will not be published, because we will not edit the content of any letter.

In letters supporting political candidates or issues, the Leader reserves the right to limit their lengths.

We encourage your Letters to the Editor, and offer the paper space as your forum for discussions of ideas and observations.

they'll owe it all to Mom.

Moms are the front-line troops in everything important that's going on in this country. Even this "men's movement" is just an effort to get men back in Mom's good graces. If men get all sensitive and become good dads and husbands and learn to cook and bond and share -- all they're doing is getting back to the way Mom raised them to be, before they started listening to their buddies, driving fast, staying out late and wiping their noses on their sleeves.

I've always heard the way to get votes is to come out for Motherhood and against Sin. Seems redundant to me. If you're for Mom, you're against misbehavior of any and every kind.

And you get all the baseball and apple pie you want. What could be better?

Yes, all Bob needs is the Mom vote. All he has to do to get it is put Mom on his ticket, make Mom his own personal issue, and figure out a good campaign slogan.

And of course, eat his peas.

And it wouldn't kill him to call now and then, would it?

BOB BUCKEL
Springtown Epigraph

Is there anybody sorer than a thief?

Well, yes, a murderer obviously. But today a thief is at the top of my hit list.

Crying on your shoulder is ill-mannered, but the situation surrounding the theft of one of our company vehicles Monday is proof positive that something is terribly wrong in society.

Gay Read, who runs our Hallmark shop, had gone to the Dallas Market Center on one of her frequent buying trips. When she came out at the end of a long day, on the spot where our 1990 GMC Suburban once sat was only a pile of glass. The vehicle, or pieces of it, is probably already in Mexico.

It took the Dallas Police Department three hours to answer Gay's plea for help, and by this time it was dark and she was alone standing outside the market center on Stemmons Expressway. Two of her co-workers had driven to Dallas to pick her up, and the police still hadn't come.

By midnight, people were calling Gay at home to tell her the thieves were using her credit cards all over Dallas. By early Tuesday, a major oil company called to say that the thieves, by this time driving an old van, were trying to buy gas on one of our credit cards.

I looked at the insurance policy. They'll pay for the stolen Suburban, but they won't pay for its two-way radio or police scanner or any of the merchandise that was loaded in it.

I'm already gearing up for the arm-wrestling over how much the Suburban was worth. I'm armed with good information from my old friend Richard Flynt, truck sales manager at James Wood Motors, who sold me the Suburban in 1990 and who has sold more Suburbans than just about anybody I know.

If the insurance company tries to chisel me, I'll have Richard's expert opinion to rely on.

I know that our experience is no different than many of you have gone through often. Harlan Bridwell, publisher of the Bridgeport Index, wrote recently that his wife Rosemary had been involved in a minor accident and the insurance company cancelled the policies on all their vehicles.

The theft of our Suburban in Dallas was probably one of about a hundred car thefts in Dallas on Monday. After all, it was the deadline for income tax filing, and maybe the thieves needed some quick cash to pay the IRS.

But I doubt it. Probably they needed the quick cash to buy some dope or booze.

I hope they enjoy the Suburban. It was a fine vehicle, and we wanted to keep it a few more years for ourselves.

Since the concealed handgun law went into effect Jan. 1, two permit holders have fatally shot other people, and there have been two suicides by permit holders.

A total of 51 shots have been fired from lawfully carried handguns, 40 of them fired by an individual at a tree in a public park.

As of last week, 83,000 applications for concealed handgun permits have been received by the DPS and some 67,000 permits have been issued.

Bush Wants Thorough Checks

Meanwhile, Gov. George W. Bush said he would like to see more thorough mental background checks on people applying for concealed handgun permits, the Houston Chronicle reported.

Wilson told the committee that mental health background checks have been run on less than 1 percent of the 83,158 Texans who have submitted applications, due to rules regarding confidentiality.

Bush said he would like to "be practical about it" but see if there is a way to conduct more thorough checks within legal limitations.

Bush said he believes the handgun law has made Texas safer and indicated there may be a correlation between the drop in violent crime and the new law.

Contractor Suing TDCJ

An Alabama company has filed a lawsuit in Lamesa claiming the Texas Department of Criminal Justice's construction program was so mismanaged the company lost millions of dollars building three prisons.

Harbert International seeks $12.3 million for expenses allegedly incurred because of the state prison agency's "confusion, disorganization, mismanagement and... uncooperative approach," the Houston Chronicle reported.

The firm signed contracts in 1991 to build 1,000-bed units in Hondo, Lamesa and Pampa.

Carl Reynolds, general counsel for the Texas Board of Criminal Justice, called Harbert's lawsuit "frivolous litigation" and said the TDCJ pays its debts and settles claims "where money is owed."

Under Texas sovereign immunity law, any party who wants to sue the state must get the state's permission to do so.

Other Capital Highlights
A federal judge ruled all Texas polling places and voting booths must be accessible to voters who are blind or physically disabled before elections in the year 2000. After hearing a 1994 class action suit brought by six El Paso voters, U.S. District Judge David Briones ordered Secretary of State Tony Garza's office to ensure voting places are accessible.

Gov. Bush was presented a lifetime membership in the Girl Scouts after speaking at an awards program in the Capitol's House Chamber. At the event, more than 200 young women received the Girl Scout Gold Award, the group's highest honor.

AUSTIN — Tobacco industry lawyers last week formally denied charges in Texas' $4 billion lawsuit seeking reimbursement for Medicaid money spent on the treatment of tobacco-related illnesses.

Lawyers for Philip Morris, R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., the Tobacco Institute and other firms also filed motions that the lawsuit be either dismissed or moved from federal court in Texarkana to Austin, where they say many of the witnesses and documents are located, the Dallas Morning News reported.

But Ron Dusek, a spokesman for Attorney General Dan Morales, said the request for a change of venue was only a delay tactic.

"We are in a court right now where we can put this case on a fast track and get the issue resolved," Dusek said.

Tobacco lawyers also challenged Morales' hiring outside law firms to help prosecute the state's case and receive a share of any damages awarded in the case, and claimed that the state is seeking more money than it spent on tobacco-related illnesses.

Handgun Incidents Are Few

Col. James Wilson, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, says he is "impressed" with the responsible behavior of concealed handgun permit holders.

At a Senate Criminal Justice Committee hearing on concealed handguns in Houston last week, Wilson, who heads the agency in charge of background checks for permit applicants, said, "So far, it has impressed me how remarkably responsible the permit holders have been."

Cook of the Week

Sue Bradberry

"The old couplet, 'Man's work, from sun to sun, Women's work is never done,' is illustrated by the declaration of a housekeeper as to the amount of work she did in one department of housekeeping during the last year. She has made and baked 1,038 loaves of bread, 421 pies, 152 loaves of cake, 105 puddings, and 2,140 doughnuts. She has cooked 2,000 pounds of meat, 100 bushels of potatoes, takes care of the milk and butter of five cows, and looked after the thousand and one things which require attention from the housekeeper."

The above was taken from "A Pinch of This and a Handful of That, historic recipes of Texas 1830-1900, compiled by the Daughters of the Republic of Texas.

Maybe looking after the "1001 things" required of a "housekeeper" fits our Cook of the Week, Sue Bradberry, but when it comes to the care of five cows she contends that she is an "udder" failure. She says the best inventions for the kitchen have been the bread machine and the microwave which is used for today's "5-Minute Fudge" recipe.

Sue Bradberry, a native Iowa Parkan and a fifth generation Texas, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W.D. Vestal, Jr. She graduated as Salutatorian of her 1967 W.F. George High School class and married her high school sweetheart, Jim.

They have four children. Tim and his wife Carisa reside in Frederick, Okla., where he is the junior high and high school band director, and she will be teaching elementary music there this fall. Charles, a junior, and Penny, a freshman, are students at Midwestern State University. Cherry will be a junior at Iowa Park High School.

Music plays an important role in the Bradberry's life. All of the children have won numerous honors in their endeavors.

Tim attended and graduated with honors from Cameron University in Lawton, Okla., on a four year music scholarship. Carisa was awarded the Plus scholarship for four years at CU where she received her degree in music education and piano performance. Charles is a member of the Wichita Falls Symphony, and Penny received a gold medal and Cherrie a silver medal at the state level of solo competition this past May in San Marcos.

Sue's hobbies include the collection of unusual teacups, Southwestern Indian art, pottery, and Navajo rugs. She enjoys making "Jazz Jackets" in her spare time which are truly works of art. Her two newest jackets won blue ribbons at the Texas-Oklahoma Fair this past fall. Collecting and reading unusual cookbooks is another pastime she enjoys.

Sue has been bookkeeper for her dad's and Jim's oilfield businesses for the past 28 years. She is also a junior student at MSU where she is working toward her Bachelor of Science degree. She and her family are members of the 10th and Broad Church of Christ in Wichita Falls.

Sue has been a member of the Daughters of the Republic of Texas for several years. To be a member, one must have documented proof of ancestry living in Texas during the Republic, from 1836 to 1845. She really enjoys reading about Texas history and going to the Texas Archives at the University of Texas in Austin to do geneological research.

The recipe for "Canning Jar Bread" is one of her favorites. But, when she made it for the Texas-Oklahoma Fair, the "canning process" was frowned upon by the judges as being unsafe, as they had never heard of such. "However," Sue emphasized, "if done right, it is perfectly safe and wonderfully delicious." "This recipe is so easy to do and to give away as housewarming gifts or as Christmas presents," she said. "The jars can be decorated with colorful swatches of material and tied with ribbon."

Sue said that Jim got a good laugh out of her being asked to be cook of the week. "With the end of school and the children's schedules being so hectic, it has been the rare occasion for the whole family to be seated together for a meal," she said. And, unless it is "meat, beans, and taters," one son mutters something about it being time to "run for the border." But Sue said, "I do have a few very favorite recipes and they are easy, fun, and quick to prepare."

Canning Jar Bread

From the cookbook More Calf Fries to Caviar by Janel Franklin and Sue Vaughn.

(This is an absolute must for you to try if you never try anything else.)

Wash and dry 8 pint-size (wide-mouth) canning jars. Grease well. Preheat oven to 325 degrees.

Cream:
2/3 cup shortening
2 2/3 cups sugar

Add:
4 eggs
2/3 cup water
Beat well and add 2 cups pumpkin

Add with spoon:
3 1/3 cups flour
1/2 tsp. baking powder
2 tps. soda

1 1/2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. each cinnamon and cloves
1 cup chopped pecans, optional

Fill jars 1/2 full. Bake in preheated oven 45 to 55 minutes. When done, remove one at a time from oven. Put scalded lid on and seal. (As it cools, you'll hear it seal.)

Variations: Omit the pumpkin and substitute any of the following:
2 cups applesauce, 2 cups shredded

zucchini, 1 can whole cranberry sauce, 2 cups shredded apples, 2 cups shredded carrots, 2 cups mashed bananas, 1 cup shredded apples plus 1 cup shredded carrots.

Flan

"The absolute perfect way to top off your favorite Tex Mex dinner."

Caramelize 1 cup of sugar in a nonstick pan and pour into a 9" or 10" pan. Don't worry if it hardens before adding the following ingredients.

In a blender (not mixer) place:
3 eggs
3 egg yolks
1 tsp. vanilla
2 ozs. cream cheese
1 can sweetened condensed milk
14 oz. milk

Blend on high for exactly 7 minutes. Pour this mixture over the caramelized sugar and place into a larger pan. Add water in the larger pan to the fill line of the smaller pan.

Cook 70 minutes or until a knife inserted into the middle comes out clean. Carefully remove from the oven and use big flat spatulas to remove inner pan. Invert onto a platter.

24 Hour Coleslaw

1 med. head cabbage
1 med. onion
1 med. green pepper
2 or 3 carrots
Shred, dice, and toss in bowl. Sprinkle with 1/2 cup sugar.

In saucepan mix:
1/2 cup salad oil
1 cup vinegar
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. celery seed
1 tsp. dry mustard

Bring to a boil. Boil 3 minutes stirring constantly. Pour over vegetable mixture. Toss to mix well. Cover bowl tightly and refrigerate 24 hours.

Hot Spiced Tea

1/2 cup instant tea
2 cups Tang
1 tsp. cloves
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 pkg. lemonade mix
2 to 2 1/2 cups sugar

Combine and store in a tightly covered jar. For one serving, place one rounded teaspoon in a cup. Add boiling water. Stir and enjoy. This is especially good after a long, tiring day or while staying up late reading a book.

Garlic-Cheese Biscuits

(a la Red Lobster type. Judith McGinnis recipe.)
2 cups Bisquick
2/3 cup milk

1/2 to 1 cup (2 to 4 ounces) shredded Cheddar cheese, or to taste
1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese
1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted
1/2 tsp. garlic powder, or to taste
1 tsp. parsley flakes

Stir together the baking mix, milk and cheese until a soft dough forms; beat vigorously for 30 seconds. Drop dough by spoonfuls onto ungreased cookie sheets. Bake about 10 minutes at 450 degrees or until lightly browned.

Mix butter, garlic powder and parsley and brush over warm biscuits before removing from the cookie sheet. Serve warm. Makes 12 biscuits.

Texas Best Homemade Ice Cream

Simple but rich!

4 eggs
3 cups sugar
6 cups whole milk
1 pint whipping cream
5 tps. vanilla

In one large bowl combine and beat eggs, sugar, milk, and vanilla. In a separate bowl whip the cream until very stiff. Fold and stir the cream into the first mixture until well blended. Pour mixture into the ice cream maker and proceed as usual.

If you would like to add a favorite fruit or flavoring (peppermint, strawberries, peaches, etc.) cut the sugar to 2 cups, and vanilla to 3 tps. Add the fruit into the ice cream halfway through the freezing process, when the ice cream is thick enough so that the fruit will not immediately sink to the bottom.

Aunt Susie's Broccoli-Rice

1 sm. chopped onion
3 stalks chopped celery
1 pkg. frozen chopped broccoli
1 can cream of mushroom soup
1 sm. jar Cheese Whiz
2 cups cooked rice

Saute onions and celery in 1/2 cup of butter or margarine. Add frozen broccoli and 2 tablespoons water and simmer over low heat until broccoli thaws. Add soup and cheese and stir. Add rice and pour in casserole dish. Bake at 350 degrees until bubbly.

5-Minute Fudge

Guaranteed

1 lb. sifted powdered sugar
1/2 cup Hershey's powdered cocoa
1/4 lb. (1 stick) butter or margarine
1/4 cup milk

2 minutes full power in microwave.

Add:
1/2 cup chopped pecans (opt.)
1 T. vanilla

I use a 4-cup glass measuring bowl to make this. Just sift the sugar into the bowl, add the cocoa on top, cut up the butter (butter gives a much richer flavor and texture) and spread over the top. Then pour the milk over the top.

After 2 minutes in microwave, stir well and then add the pecans and vanilla. I use the butter wrapper to grease a plate before pouring the mixture.

Key Lime Pie

1 can sweetened condensed milk

1 - 10 oz. can drained, crushed pineapple

Very few drops green food coloring
1/2 cup fresh lime juice (but can use bottled if in a hurry.)

Mix well and place in a graham cracker pie shell. Refrigerate for 3 hours. Top with whipped cream or Cool Whip. Sprinkle with candy garnish or lime wedges.

NEWS OF THE
IOWA PARK GENEALOGICAL & HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Iowa Park Genealogy and Historical Society began a new project this past week. This effort was begun to document the tombstones at Highland Cemetery before the ravages of nature overtake the legibility of the tombstones themselves.

This survey is an effort to document all of the existing graves and record any information found on the tombstones.

Several members arrived at the cemetery early Friday to begin the task. Those included in the work crew were Shirley Banks, Charlene Parks, Sandi Koonce, Lita Watson, Margaret Soell, and Fil Spangler.

Members soon discovered numerous tombstones have been lost to time and decay. The work crew searched for grave markers and dug many out of the dirt.

Other tombstones were marked for further work. Some may need brushing or rubbing to bring out the faded markings which time and weather have almost destroyed or made unreadable.

On special calendar days, Highland Cemetery marks the graves of those who served in any of the military branches. In some cases the only record of past service of interred veterans is a comment engraved on their tombstones.

This kind of information and the recorded data found on the tombstones will also aide genealogists and family members who regularly contact the cemetery. Our society is working with Highland Cemetery Association and its secretary, Sandra Forsythe, who has provided encouragement and computer printouts of current grave information.

Once gathered and entered into the Highland Cemetery records, new data will be added to the cemetery computer record keeping program.

Two weeks ago several members of the Iowa Park Genealogical and Historical Society made a research trip to the Fort Worth Public Library's genealogical section.

This trip was for members to search the family files and to review the book listings found in the Fort Worth library's collection. Those making the trip were Medrith Collins, Shirley Banks, Sandy Koonce, and Fil Spangler. Despite the distance and the time required in getting to the Fort Worth library, much information was found by all who attended.

Texas is truly lucky to have three of the top genealogy research collections in the country. These can be found at the Houston, Dallas, and Fort Worth public libraries. A visit to any of these libraries may provide that missing link to one's ancestry. Each library has an extensive genealogy collection.

Plans for our next society field trip later this summer has yet to be finalized and suggestions would be appreciated.

The next cemetery work day will be Friday, June 21, beginning at 7 a.m. Our next regular meeting will be Saturday, July 13, 2 p.m. at Tom Burnett Memorial Library.

Exercise key to health

Do you want to increase your chances of living a long, healthy life? Stay active and "connected."

"Exercise can help older people stay strong and guard against frailty. Even an activity as basic as walking maintains muscle mass and strengthens bones," said Dr. Robert Roush, an associate professor in the Huffington Center on Aging at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston. "Staying 'connected' to other people is another vital component of longevity."

Roush says that Americans are living longer than ever before and that focusing on "functional age" is the goal.

"This means we are staying active longer and increasing the quality of our lives as we get older," he said.

Advances in public health, breakthroughs in medical technology and better preventive health care are cited by Roush as the major reasons for improved health later in life. A change in attitudes among the general public and those in the medical profession have contributed as well.

"People in their 70s and 80s are running and playing golf and tennis on a regular basis," Roush said. "These are not the types of things we always thought older people should be doing. But now it's clear that an active lifestyle is one of the keys to enjoying a long, healthy life."

Roush also advises not becoming isolated.

"Having a circle of friends, taking the time to talk with people and interacting with others builds emotional ties while exercising the brain," he said. "This may also help you to avoid depression."

While the life span of human beings may never change much, steps can be taken to improve the quality of life during the later years.

"Research has taught us a great deal about aging, and we will continue to learn more in the future," Roush said. "We are already beginning to see that old age can be enjoyable."

Helpful Facts

Regular meetings of the Iowa Park city council is at 7 p.m. on second and fourth Mondays, in council chambers at 103 N. Wall. All meetings are open to the public.

Helpful Hints

It is unlawful to trap, hunt, shoot or attempt to shoot or molest in any manner any bird or wild fowl or to rob bird nests or wild fowl nests.
