If you decide you want to cool off from the triple-digit temperature forcast for July 4th, you'll have to go somewhere besides the Iowa Park

Bicentennial Swimming Pool. It won't be open that day. The reason given by Dianne Eiben, pool manager, is that very few people have turned out to use the pool the past three July 4th holidays.

"There would be periods when we (the staff) were the only people (at the pool)," she explained.

Hickey, Peden vows solemnized Saturday

Park was setting for the seven o'clock Saturday evening double ring wedding vows exchanged by Kelley Dawn Hickey and Barry Lynn Peden.

The bride is the daughter of Charles and Celley Hickey of Iowa Park. Parents of the bridegroom are David Peden of Joy and Laura Peden of Lake Dallas.

The altar area was aglow with illumination from tapers burning in spiral and standard candelabra and the unity candle. Greenery and floral arrangements completed the scene where Dr. Greg Ammons, pastor, directed the couple in their matrimonial promises. Pews were marked with bows of hunter green satin.

Vocal selections by Dennis and Sandra Neal included "In This Very Room", "Your Love Amazes Me.' and "Faithful Friend".

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a formal gown of white satin designed with a scalloped V-neckline accented with hand-beaded Schiffli embroidery and pearl clusters. The basque waistline featured a satin bow at the center back waist. Her puff sleeves featured beaded lace cuffs. The full satin skirt ended with a semi-cathedral train.

She wore her mother's pearls for something old, carried a borrowed handkerchief, added a blue garter and a six-pence in her shoe.

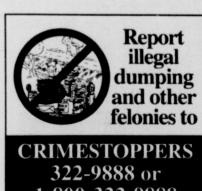

She carried a teardrop bouquet of silk white roses, carnations of hunter green and mauve accented with stephanotis adorned with pearls on a background of English ivy and satin ribbon.

Serving as matron of honor was Angie Lindsay of Ardmore, Okla. Bridesmaids were Laura Morath of Wichita Falls, Rhonda Weaver of Iowa Park, and Shonna Cruz of Wichita Falls.

They wore floral tea length dresses styled with sweetheart necklines and puff sleeves. Each carried a nosegay of white, green and mauve flowers accented with pearls, English ivy and satin stream-

Olivia Peterson of Iowa Park, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a dress of white silk organza over white satin, with imported lace trim sprinkled with seed pearls and crystal iridescents. She carried flowers like those of the bridesmaids.

Caleb Watson of Iowa Park, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer.

The reception was held in the church reception hall.

Focal point on the bride's table was a pure white cake with three heart shaped tiers separated by Grecian pillars and semi-circled by four smaller heart cakes stair-stepping down around the main cake. The three tiers were adorned with zigzag garlands and shell borders set off with strands of white pearls.

Between each tier was a cluster of white silk flowers with pearl sprays. Atop the first tier was a porcelain bride and groom set in white tulle and beaded leaves.

Strands of pearls encircled the top and bottom borders. On top of each heart shaped cake was a bridesmaid dressed in emerald green and a groomsman in a black tux. Greenery and baby's breath surrounded the bottom of the cakes.

The groom's chocolate sheet cake was topped with a horseshoe shaped cake, decorated to resemble a pair of cowboy boots.

Mrs. Barry Lynn Peden (Miss Kelley Dawn Hickey)

The bride attended Iowa Park High School and Midwestern State University. She is employed by LaCasa Dental Clinic.

Tatum attending Camp Sweeney

A unique camp eight miles east of Gainesville now has a special connection to Iowa Park.

Misty Tatom of Iowa Park has joined some 550 campers ages six to 18 at Camp Sweeney, a safe, active, and educational environment for kids with diabetes.

Camp Sweeney's 80-member staff offers medical attention around the clock, as well as training in such vital needs as blood-sugar monitoring and insulin injections.

In this monitored setting on 340wooded acres, children feel free to enjoy the camp's activities: horseback riding, soccer, crafts, swimming and canoeing on Lake Dealey.

Campers also learn about exercise and nutrition, and perhaps most importantly, they meet other children learning to cope with diabetes.

Summer camps often turn away children with diabetes because of their medical and dietary needs. But to

As I See It.

The lies being handed down concerning the Multi Purpose Event Center in Wichita Falls continue to be magnified.

Remember how, when all of us in communities outside Wichita Falls were told about all the marvelous things that were going to happen for us?

That, of course, was in the days leading up to the county-wide election concerning the $9-million funding that came from Wichita County taxpayers.

Boy howdy, everyone and their dogs were going to see great things happen for us, including "spin-off" business from folks coming from all over the nation to that fine facility.

Thus far, the only spin-off I've observed were the Hotter 'N Hell bikers who began their ride at the MPEC came through town, non-stop, and prevented anyone from going to businesses located on the Old Iowa Park Road until they had passed.

The lies to which I referred are in the form of printed materials made available to everyone who goes to the MPEC.

Folks, the three different publications are 100% Wichita Falls. That includes the businesses which might be patronized, the events taking place, and the MPEC itself.

Even the maps in all three publications fail to mention that any other community exists in the area.

Oops! Iforgot. Iowa Park's name is in fact mentioned. They failed to erase the name of that old roadway called "Old Iowa Park Highway."

I've never figured out how so many people living outside Wichita Falls could have been so gullible, as to accept what they were told back during that pre-election campaign.

Remember the statement that your county taxes wouldn't be raised, because the county had $9-million it could afford?

I still say the project was in fact an urban renewal program which allowed Wichita Falls to rid itself of some older homes that some felt were

Worth Quoting

As if junk mail wasn't enough of a problem, there's a new category of junk out there.

Junk faxes.

We got a fax machine about three years ago. We hadn't had it six months when it saved me a trip to Vernon after we left a big photo of Pete Geren out of the box when we sent the paper to press. It was in a paid ad, the last issue before the election -- it had to get there.

My choice was to drive to Vernon on about three hours' sleep, or to try to fax the photo. I faxed it, it ran in the ad and looked just fine.

I thought the fax was the greatest thing since fajitas. Then THEY got our number.

At first, when they would call for our fax number, I'd ask them what news release about the yogurt shop not interested." I'm opening in Dallas," I just wouldn't tell them. It made them mad, but honestly -- it's hard enough trying to be liked here. I truly don't care whether somebody in Dallas likes me or not.

But the press associations of which we're a member decided to list fax numbers in their directories. At first I wrote, "available upon request," but that seemed snooty.

Once the number got out, why fight it?

The Scientologists, somewhere out in California, began faxing huge raving diatribes about psychology and shock treatments. One was 21 pages long -- and I guess they weren't sure it went through, so they faxed it again.

A few months ago, Steve Forbes began faxing news releases on his run for president -- two or three a day. He faxed everything from his position on free trade to when he was scheduled to speak to the Kiwanis Club in Winnewasockett, New Hampshire.

Now, there are boiler rooms full of fax machines out there, autodialing numbers by the thousands, spewing useless information. It's the stuff nightmares are made of.

As it turns out, the fax machine's one huge, glaring flaw is that it allows someone to come into your office UNINVITED and WASTE your fax paper against your will.

Responding to the mass-faxers is time-consuming. I try to set aside some time on slow days (there aren't many) to call and explain that we're a weekly newspaper in Springtown, Texas. We're not interested in whether the Trilateral Commission has taken over psychology, or that an Earthworm Festival is being held in Gun Barrel City, or that an outlet mall in Gainesville is celebrating Valentine's by pouring chocolate off the overpass onto cars travelling I-35.

We cover our community and people from our community. Otherwise, we're not interested. Fax ABC News. They claim to cover the world. We don't.

And anyway, I add, since we only come out once a week, there's plenty of time for you to stick that news release (careful!) in an envelope and mail it to us. Then the only expense we're out is the labor of throwing it away -- and we recycle it.

Most of them sound really

"But, this will help fill your pa-

"We don't NEED help filling our paper," I answer. "You should see how many kids make the honor rolls at our schools!'

"But, isn't Springtown close to

"Yeah, way TOO close for me! But there's plenty going on here -- we don't have to cover a city 40 miles away. That's why THEY have a paper -- and it doesn't cover us, either."

The Scientologists finally got it. At least they mail stuff to us now.

The Steve Forbes people got really testy and implied I was Un-American to not be interested in their man's every move.

"If Steve comes to Springtown, for. If they said, "So I can fax you a call me," I said. "Otherwise, we're

> We got two more faxes that day. I faxed them back.

"Now I'm not only NOT going to print your news releases and NOT vote for Steve Forbes, I'm going to go out and ACTIVELY CAMPAIGN AGAINST HIM because he's either too STUPID to be president or he has surrounded himself with IDIOTS who think a newspaper in Springtown, Texas gives a HOOT that he's speaking to a Rotary Club in NEW STINKIN' HAMPSHIRE!!"

They took us off the list.

I can't wait for the Internet to make fax machines obsolete. BOB BUCKEL

Springtown Epigraph

Robert Moody says these socalled experts who say there have been no instances of mad cow disease in the United States are full of Robert claims he has had mad cow disease in his herd for nearly a

"My cows are mad because I quit feeding them," he said.

Some of my old cows were getting pretty mad last week when they had to bog down to their knees in mud to get a few swallows of water from a couple of mud puddles that used to be stock tanks before it quit raining.

Fortunately, we've got good wells on three places and have rigged up PVC pipe from the wells to metal stock tanks and hope to be able to get by that way until it rains enough to put water in the earthen tanks again.

Mad Cow disease, of course, is not the only problem ranchers have these days. If cattle prices keep dropping at the same auction barns I think we're soon going to have an epidemic of Mad Ranchers disease.

This reminds me of another time several years ago when cattle prices hit the skids. During that time I heard about a man in Chico who loaded up a small calf in his two-wheeler trailer and started to the Decatur Livestock Auction with it. He had a flat tire on the trailer before he got halfway to Decatur. He unhooked the trailer from his pickup, took the wheel off and come home.

Falke, Jolly marry in June 1 ceremony

Charles Leland Jolly and his bride, the former Randa Jence Falke, Ushers and groomsmen were Chris are making their home in Dallas following their wedding June 1 and a honeymoon in Puerto Vallarta, Mexico.

The bride is the daughter of Greg and Sherry Wood and the groom's parents are Harm and Brenda Jolly, all of Iowa Park.

First Baptist Church was scene of the wedding ceremony, with the pastor, Dr. Darrell Monday, directing the recitation of matrimonial vows.

Glena Via, organist, presented a program of music preceding the ceremony and provided accompaniment for a solo, "Noboby Loves Me Like You Do," by Christy Duggins. A tape, "Look At You Girl,", recorded by Chris Le Deaux was played, "Keeper of the Stars" was sung by Patrick Robertson, and Raychel Owens sang, "The Lord's Prayer", both accompanied by Mrs. Via.

The bride was presented for marriage by her father, Greg Wood. She was attired in a full length gown of tulle. It was styled with a fitted bodice featuring a square neckline and short puffed sleeves, embellished with pearls and sequins. The full skirt formed a chapel train. Her layered veil of tulle was attached to a crown of tulle. She carried a cascade of calla lilies.

Mendy Franke of Wichita Falls served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Claudia McCraw and Tracy Seaborn of Abilene, and Julie Wasinger of Wichita Falls. Valerie and Whitney Wood of Iowa Park were junior bridesmaids.

Their dresses were designed with white lace empire styled bodices and straight, black full length split skirts.

Flower girl was Amy Seaborn of Abilene. Garrett Baldin of Vernon acted as ring bearer.

Jason Young was best man. Jolly, Chad Jolly, Johnny Duggins, Scott McNeely and Patrick Kennedy, all of Iowa Park.

The reception was held in the church fellowship hall.

The bride's cake was a four-tiered Artistic Elegance rich butter cake with ivory basket-weave icing decorated in all-white hand molded sugar calla lilies, carnations, roses and forgetme-nots. Sugar flowers began at the top of each tier and cascaded down the sides and off the cake. Votive candles were interspersed throughout the bouquets on each tier.

The cake was topped with a spray bouquet of white sugar flowers. The cake rested on a mirror surrounded by burning votive candles.

The groom's cake was chocolate fudge with a basket weave design. The cake was made like a basket with a "well" filled with strawberries dipped in dark chocolate cascading down the side. They were accented with white chocolate dipped pretzels.

Both the bride and groom graduated Iowa Park High School and both attended Midwestern State

The bride is now attending the University of Texas at Arlington. Jolly is employed by Overhead Door in Arlngton.

Out-of-town guests here for the wedding included the bride's family from Abilene, Amarillo and White Oak, and the groom's family from Vernon.

Fleming is noted speaker

The grandson of an Iowa Park woman has become a noted speaker on the scientific level.

Steven Fleming, grandson of Mrs. Florence Fleming and the late W.C. Fleming, recently gave a presentation at the American Society of Limnology & Oceanography's annual meeting at the University of Wisconsin - Milwaukee's Center for Great Lakes Studies. , Fleming is the son of Jerry Fleming, a resident of Belton, who was attending Midwestern State Univ. when his parents moved here some 36 years ago.

The younger Fleming's presentation was entitled, "Effects of The Exotic Cladoceran Daphnia Lumholtzi On Native Zooplankton in a Central Texas Reservoir."

Daphnia Lumholtzi is a small inverterbrate native to Asia, Africa and Australia that, in the past four years, has invaded lakes and reservoirs across the Southwestern United States.

The presentation was a summary of work done during the past year on Belton Lake and Lake Waco as a part of a master's degree in Limnology at Baylor Univ. in Waco.

Fleming will continue research this summer on pollution and plankton at Lake Chapala, Mexico's largest lake, which in the past 10 years has been impacted by industrial pollutants.

Fleming is a graduate of Belton High School. He did his undergraduate work in the school of biology at Sul Ross State Univ., Alpine.

The Iowa Park Genealogy and Historical Society continued their documentation of the tombstones at Highland Cemetery.

Several members arrived at the cemetery early last Friday to continue this task. Included in the work crew were Charlene Parks, Sandi Koonce, Lita Watson, John and Etoy Chapman, Marita Holdsworth, and Fil Spangler.

With completion of the work done that day, approximately 28 percent of the documentation of the tombstones in cemetery has been completed. More work lies ahead for those interested in the preservation of cemetery records for future genera-

Another workday is scheduled for Friday, July 5. Those interested in helping with the documentation effort should arrive at the cemetery office at 7 a.m.

Members participating in the project have discovered there are numerous tombstones that have been lost to time and decay. One proposed effort for future work will involve the use of metal detectors to locate the small metal marker placed on graves by the funeral homes, where no permanent stone markers were placed.

We are currently soliciting the effort of the community in locating a metal detector for use in this project. If you have or know of a metal detector that we could use please contact the cemetery secretary, Sandra Forsythe, at 592-4412 or the society president, Fil Spangler at 592-2447.

Many members of the Iowa Park community can trace their heritage to a native American ancestry. Here are a few thoughts that might prove useful. At the time of the first European contact, there were probably close to 1,000 American Indian languages spoken throughout the Americas.

Those numbers were reduced to around 700 amidst pressures on the Indians to adopt English, Spanish, and other European languages, now referred to as Amerindian languages.

In North America alone, there were around 300 languages spoken then, now about 200 still spoken by 300,000 people.

In Central America, there are about 500 different languages still spoken with about 14 million speakers. The various languages of the Quecha group alone have 5 million speakers

Trying to research your American Indian heritage is going to be a difficult one. Notwithstanding the reality that few American Indian languages have more than 100 years of written history, the documentation of their family histories is almost non-existent.

During the early days of our country, most people ignored their ancestral background. It was thought to be snobbih to keep track of your heritage. Many people couldn't read or write to keep a family record.

You need at least one family member to start your search. When you find a name in some journal or list, track it down for it may be yours, and if not you can share the information with others you meet along the way in search of the same surname.

If you know the area where some of your family members lived, visit all the local cemeteries you can find. Cemeteries are a great source of names and dates.

Finally search the Library of the Church of Latter Day Saints, with its extensive lists of American Indian names, listed by tribe and date.

Our next meeting will be Saturday, July 13 at 2 p.m. in the Tom Burnett Memorial Library.

Finnell joins call to use lottery money for schools

State Rep. Charles Finnell recently proposed relief from rising school property taxes by using more than $500 million in otherwise unobligated lottery income, an idea suggested by Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock.

"I hope we can relieve pressure on local school taxes by turning excess state lottery proceeds into winnings for Texas ad valorem taxpayers," said the legislator from Holliday.

"The extra money should be used to simultaneously improve public education and cap runaway school property taxes," said Finnell, ranking member of the House Ways and Means committee.

The money for local property tax relief can come from the difference between what the legislature has appropriated for the lottery to operate, and the actual cost of running it, as well as recent extra earnings from its growth, Finnell noted.

Bullock suggested permanently cutting the lottery's standard 10 percent allocation for administering the game to the current actual cost of seven percent of its earnings.

He also suggested using funds raised by the lottery that may exceed state revenue estimates.

The difference between the amount allocated for administering the lottery and the actual cost of running it is expected to total $176.5 million in the current biennium and could increase another $247.5 million in the next two-year budget period, as Bullock's office outlined.

Cook corn meal and water until stiff and it begins to roll into a ball about 6 minutes. Remove from heat; add milk, oil and onion. Stir until smooth. Gradually stir into beaten eggs, in a 2-quart bowl.

Chicken for the Grill

Cut 4 boneless chicken breasts into large cubes. Alternate chicken with large pieces of green pepper and chunks of fresh pineapple on skewers. Marinade:

Beef Brisket

REMEMBER: Never trim off fat of brisket until later. Don't buy skinny, thin, or trimmed briskets, as they tend to dry out. SLOW cooking is the secret to tenderness.

Use an outdoor smoker that has indirect heat and a water pan. Build a good medium fire with water-soaked hickory or pecan chips for smoked flavor. I also use mesquite, but I remove the bark from the wood because it makes the smoky flavor just too strong.

Cover brisket with dry rub (recipe follows) and place on grill, fat side up. Cook 8-12 hours over medium heat. Remove and cover brisket with aluminum foil. Bring indoors and put brisket in roaster pan and cook in oven at 225 degrees another 6 hours, or 1 hour per pound. Remove from oven, trim off fat, and slice brisket across the grain. Serve on tray separate from barbecue or meat sauce.

Secret Dry Rub

1/2 tsp. cracked black pepper 1/2 tsp. red pepper

Cover brisket generously with mixture. Rub into brisket with hands. Keith Fisher

GARDENING HINTS

By MARK TERNING, COUNTY AGENT - HORTICULTURE

Texoma gardeners should brace themselves and their lawns, landscapes, and gardens for the blistering heat of July.

Special attention to proper watering, fertilization and planting will help keep your lawn, landscape and garden green and healthy during the hot days ahead. The Agricultural Extension Service in Wichita County provides this garden check list to help keep you informed.

Planting: * Still time to plant warm-season colorful annuals. Check with local nurseries and garden centers for special sales on bedding plants. Try the all-new Super Sun Coleus "Bur-

* Complete warm-season lawn establishment. * Plant "Surefire" or "Heatwave" tomato varieties for a fall harvest. * Install a water garden in your back yard to help beat summer's heat. Fertilization:

* Apply a 3-1-2 or 4-1-2 ratio lawn fertilizer with slow-release nitrogen to warm-season lawns every six weeks. Use lawn foods with 21-7-analysis, is on the front of the bag. * Use water-soluble plant foods for container plants and house plants or incorporate an extended release plant food such as Osmocote in container potting mix before planting. These fertilizers can last up to

* Organic gardeners can use Bloodmeal as a vegetable or bedding plant fertilizer as well as around shrubs and vines. Bloodmeal has an analysis of 12-0-0. 12% nitrogen is relatively high for an organic plant food.

* Apply an inch of water each week to lawns in the absence of rainfall. St. Augustine and fescue require even more (perhaps 2 inches of water a week). Learn to watch for leaf wilting as a signal to water.

* Watch out for marginal leaf scorching and defoliation of tree leaves. This is a signal of drought stress. Water at the dripline of your tree, not at the trunk. Apply enough water to penetrate the soil about 10" to 12" deep. Your trees will appreciate the supplemental moisture. * Use mulch around bedding plants, shrubs, and in the garden to conserve moisture and moderate soil temperatures.

By Lyndell Williams & Ed Sterling TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION AUSTIN — Texas Attorney

General Dan Morales filed suit last week against the "Republic of Texas" accusing the group and 25 of its members of filing fraudulent liens, tampering with government records, interfering with property sales and restraining trade.

State District Judge Paul Davis of Travis County signed a temporary restraining order prohibiting the Republic of Texas or the 25 members from breaking the law or filing false claims.

The restraining order also allows the attorney general's office to undo liens without going to court.

The Republic of Texas members believe the state and its officials are acting without authority, and the group has created its own commonlaw courts, filed "charges" of sedition against Morales, Gov. George W. Bush and others.

Morales said members of the group "are not free to misrepresent their organization as an official government" and he spoke of the havoc group members have caused, costing time and money of public clerks, title companies and property owners trying to sell their land.

The Republic of Texas' chief ambassador, Richard McLaren of Fort Davis, has been arrested on federal charges connected with filing false documents.

District-Shuffle Hearing Set

A July 11 federal court hearing has been set for the changing of congressional district boundaries in Dallas and Houston.

The changes were required following a June U.S. Supreme Court ruling - in favor of Republican plaintiffs - declaring two districts in Houston and one in Dallas illegal because of racial gerrymandering.

Because so little time separates the scheduled hearing and the Nov. 5 general election date, Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock and the districts' congressional representatives - all of whom are Democrats - want the court to put off the changes until the 1998 mid-term election.

But Attorney General Morales said, "I think it is wishful thinking to believe that this court will allow us to go through the 1996 election cycle with unconstitutional districts."

If the boundaries are changed, new elections would be required in each district in which boundaries change, even though voters selected nominees from the two major parties in the March and April primaries and runoffs, the Houston Chronicle reported.

Secretary of State Tony Garza listed three ways the scenario could play out in the redrawn districts, in which the court could:

 Order new primaries, to be conducted by Sept. 6; or

 Order a special election on Nov. 5 that is open to candidates from all parties; or

• Order the precinct chairman in each party to select new nominees without primaries.

Land bought by the federal government for the Superconducting Super Collider project - which lost its funding in 1993 - is going to be resold to the public.

SSC Land to Be Resold

The Texas Natural Research Laboratory Commission and the Texas General Land Office are coordinating the resale of about 10,000 acres of land in Ellis County, southeast of Dallas. The federal government eventually gave the tracts of land to the state of Texas after the project was suspended. General Land Office spokesman

Ron Calhoun said the land sales will be done in a "systematic, prudent way" but people who lived on the land before it was taken over by the federal government will get no special privileges.

Official Wants Tobacco Dumped

State Board of Education Chairman Jack Christie sent a letter dated June 17 to the managers of the Permanent School Fund asking that they sell off any holdings in tobacco-producing companies.

"This is to let them know how a few of us feel," Christie told the Dallas Morning News.

"I find it incredible that we generate funds through investments in tobacco, which have to be used to educate students to avoid the very product that our investments support," Christie said in the letter. The state filed a lawsuit March 31 against major tobacco companies, seeking $4 billion for money spent on treating tobacco-related
