Thursday, July 18, 1996

The incident occurred at 8:45 a.m. Saturday, directly across the highway from the west-bound rest stop. No one was believed to have been seriously injured.

NAACP group meets with school trustees on employee complaint

Representatives from the Wichita Falls Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People appeared before the school board during a called meeting Thursday afternoon at the administration building.

The meeting was held to address a complaint of a former cafeteria supervisor.

The employee, Ilene Hill, was dismissed after working seven years for the school district, the past two as cafeteria supervisor. She was represented by Barbara Wesley, assistant secretary for the Wichita Falls NAACP Chapter.

Other members of that organization who accompanied Wesley to the meeting were Judge Smith, chapter president, and Claude Foster, chapter vice president. Mrs. Hill's husband, Douglas, was also in attendance.

The meeting, originally scheduled to be held in closed session, was instead held in open session. When Board President Keith Fisher confirmed with the parties that the meeting was to be closed, Wesley said they would like to have the meeting opened.

Wesley told the board that their records indicated Mrs. Hill had received satisfactory evaluations each year until this year when two of her supervisors gave her a "less than satisfactory" evaluation.

She told the trustees that Mrs. Hill had cooperated with her supervisors in correcting the problems cited in the evaluation, which included menus, serving portions, high turnover of supervised employees, and failure to keep accurate records.

Wesley said that Hill and a supervisor worked together on the menus and the serving portions met TEA standards. She explained that the problems with monthly reports came when the procedure was changed last March and it took Mrs. Hill a couple of months to catch on.

Wesley repeatedly asked the board, "What is the problem?" She said they have letters of support from employees Mrs. Hill had supervised, as well as a letter from her supervisor stating, "You are doing a good job. Keep up the good work."

Board President, Keith Fisher, told Mrs. Hill and her council that the board had copies of her evaluation, but not of the letters and other information that was presented. He requested copies be made and given to each trustee.

Wesley asked that the board look again at Hill's termination. She said that, ideally, Hill should be reinstated to her previous position. "If not," Wesley said, "we would ask that she receive an additional three years salary so she could meet her vestiture and draw retirement."

Fisher told Hill and Wesley that the board would need time to review the new information and would get back to them.

Wesley told Fisher that all further contact regarding the situation should be directed to the Wichita Falls NAACP representatives who would inform the Hills.

Following the presentation by Wesley, the school trustees went into closed session. No action was taken when the meeting reconvened.

The parents of two students who were placed in the Alternate Education Program for violation of the district's tobacco policy asked permission to address the board.

Perry Green and Donna Lively, who had appeared before the trustees at the June meeting, said they wanted to let the board know that they're not giving up on the issue. Both disagree with the form of punishment for the offense.

After taking a short break, Supt. Mike Caplinger, board members, and principals from the four campuses got together for a work session on goals and priorities for the 1996-97 school year.

Two public appearances on council agenda

Speeds at which railroad trains can travel and a request to rezone some lots are both subjects of personal appearances scheduled before the city council Monday night.

The meeting is to begin at 7 p.m. in council chambers.

Representatives of Burlington Northern Santa Fe Railroad are to ask that the council amend its ordinance, adopted some eight years ago, to permit the trains to pass through at a faster speed.

Actually, city officials have already been unofficially informed that they have no authority under state law to regulate the speed of trains.

The other appearance has been requested by Michelle Neves, asking that three lots fronting the 1000 block of West Highway be rezoned from general residential to convenience commercial.

A hearing was held on that request recently by the city's planning and zoning board, and the request was rejected by a split vote.

Neves explained she wants to establish a beauty salon there, and pointed out an electrical business had formerly occupied at least one of the lots.

Several residents of the area attended the commission's meeting to voice their opposition to the request.

Action can be taken following both public appearances, provided for by the posted agenda.

Aldermen also will consider approving a resolution which would lead to awarding of Texas Home Investment Partnership Program funds for a first-time homebuyer.

Administer Mike Price will ask the council for permission to close the 100 block of West Park the evening of Saturday, Aug. 10, so the police department can sponsor a "Night Out Against Crime" community concert.

Aldermen met last Monday to work on the 1996-97 budget, and set July 29 for another such session. It was indicated the series of studies could possibly be completed at the next meeting.

Merger involves two Grace units

Though no immediate changes are expected at the local Cryovac plant, a major merger within Grace was announced Friday of last week.

Grace Packaging and Grace Container have been merged.

Gary Kaenzig will serve as president of the combined organization, which will be called Grace Packaging.

Fred Lempereur and Bill Sturgis will report to Kaenzig and will serve as executive vice presidents of the new Grace Packaging.

"During the past year, we have been assessing the business environment, evaluating opportunities and planning for the future," Grace president A.J. Costello said.

"We've asked basic questions like: What is Grace? How do we become a high-performance growth company? How do we gain maximum leverage of our resources?"

"As a result, we are taking aggressive actions to focus our business strategies, strengthen our global competitiveness, enhance our financial performance and ensure our long-term growth.

"Grace is a packaging and specialty chemicals company. This is where our future lies, and we are not going to diversify into other unrelated businesses.

"We are leaders in our markets, and we intend to remain that way."

"The recent departure of Grace Dearborn and the spin-off of NMC in the near future are in line with our strategy to focus on high-performance core businesses. The proceeds of these transactions will strengthen our financial position by allowing us to retire debt, repurchase shares and invest in our ongoing businesses," said Costello.

Kaenzig stated the firm's goal is to become a $3.5 billion enterprise by the year 2000.

City gets rebate check

The month of May was not as good for business in Iowa Park as it was in 1995, according to the sales tax report filed by the state comptroller's office.

The city's sales tax rebate check of $16,984.69 that was received recently was 2.73-percent less than the $17,462.82 received at this time last year.

The rebate check was based on taxes collected on May sales and reported to the comptroller in June by businesses filing monthly tax returns.

However, collections for the year are still running above, 6.42 percent, this time last year.

For the year, Iowa Park has been rebated $153,103.48, according to the report.

The other three cities in the county also are showing gains over 1995: Wichita Falls 6.86%, Burkburnett 6.56% and Electra 0.68%.

Holiday also is showing a gain of 5.91%, having received $37,842.

Car stolen Monday

During a one-hour period Monday night, a locked vehicle was reportedly stolen while parked in front of the First Baptist Church.

Police received a complaint that evening from Paul Arrington, stating his wife's 1994 maroon four-door Honda Accord was not where it had been left.

Mrs. Arrington had reportedly left the vehicle there while she went to Wichita Falls with some friends.

No signs of broken glass or other indicators as to how entrance into the vehicle were gained were visible when police investigated.

Information concerning the missing vehicle was entered into the national computer used by law enforcement agencies.

Another theft also was reported during the past week, though property taken was of less value than the car.

A resident in the 400 block of West Clara told police ceramic lawn decorations had been taken from that location sometime Saturday night.

Broken water line fails to cut short city supply

All Iowa Park water customers were asked to not do any outside watering Thursday night, because of a break in a transmission line.

The break occurred in the transmission line which carries water from Wichita Falls to Iowa Park, according to Mike Price, city administrator.

Though the city's ground storage and overhead storage tanks were in "good shape," Price issued the request as a precaution.

The city processes most of the water it sells, but purchases water from Wichita Falls during high-usage periods.

The break in the line was found Thursday. A two-mile length of transmission pipe had to be allowed to drain before the line could be welded, due to pressure created by such a great amount of water in it.

Special issue planned to promote businesses

The Iowa Park Leader will publish a special section, Shop Iowa Park First!, in its Aug. 15 issue.

The purpose of the project is to educate Iowa Park residents on the benefits of shopping and doing business in Iowa Park, and to inform them of what services and products are available here.

Staff members are attempting to contact every business in Iowa Park to offer a free listing in this section. Any Iowa Park business that has not been contacted or received a questionnaire should contact the Leader office, 592-4431, or come by 112 W. Cash.

Deadline for returning the questionnaire, as well as advertising in that section, will be Aug. 5.

As I See It... By Bob Hamilton

I've marked my calendar for Saturday, July 13, 1996. It was a very special day I want to remember.

Earlier in the day, I observed a hole in one at River Creek Golf Course. And later that afternoon, I had a telephone call from a long, lost boyhood friend.

Don Hatcher, a former coach for a number of years at Hirschi and now a teacher at Rider, was in a threesome with Earnie Reusch and me.

Don felt he had miss-hit his shot on the par-three 13th green, and had turned his back in disappointment. However, Earnie and I watched it roll onto the surface and straight to the pen, where it disappeared.

Earnie had a hole-in-one last year, also at River Creek, but on the 16th green. Prior to that, my old friend and boss at Littlefield, Bill Turner, recorded the first I ever saw some 28 years ago.

What's the big deal about seeing a hole-in-one? Well, when you've been on as many golf courses as I've been over 50-some years, it's a real treat. And it's more special when a friend does it.

Now, for that telephone call out of the past.

A call for me had been taken by Dolores while I was out playing golf. The number and a familiar name were written down.

With trembling hands, I dialed the number, identified myself, and asked, "Is this really Pete Davis?"

Pete was among a fivesome of us who ran around together throughout school at Hereford. The other four were a year older than I, but that made no difference to me.

We weren't a gang, by today's standards. But we did everything together, from stealing cherries to playing chess to having rubber-gun battles.

Pete has lived the past several years in Fort Worth, and is retired from Bell Helicopter.

But Saturday wasn't the first time he surprised me by calling my name.

He did it 44 years ago -- just off the coast of Nome, Alaska.

I was a supplyman in the Air Force, stationed at Elmendorf AFB, Anchorage. I had been assigned to oversee supplies and equipment for the erection of the first automatic weather station, which was to be set on an island in the middle of the Bearing Sea.

The supplies and I were to reach the island by boarding a supply ship at Nome. With everything loaded aboard, began climbing up the side of the ship on a davis ladder.

After about a dozen steps on that ladder, I heard a voice call out, "Hey, Ham!"

I almost fell back into the sea. Ham was my nickname at Hereford, and no one in the military ever used it.

Looking upward and slightly to the right, Davis' familiar, smiling face was sticking out a porthole.

What made his being there even more unusual was the fact that his ship had for the past 18 months been transporting arms and supplies from Japan to Korea, and this was the craft's first run northward from Washington after returning from the war zone.

This was only a couple of days after July 4th, 1952. I hadn't seen Pete since the summer he graduated from high school, in 1947.

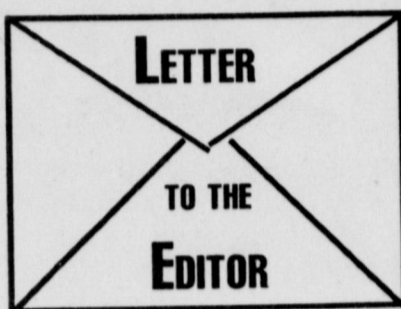

We were aboard that ship together for about a week, and since that departure, I've not seen nor heard Pete Davis.

However, as luck would have it, Dolores and I already had reservations to attend the annual convention of the West Texas Press Association this weekend -- in Fort Worth.

And I'll see my boyhood friend for the first time in 44 years!

Yep, July 13, 1996 will long live in my memory as a most pleasant day.

Seeking information

Dear Sir:

I am writing you concerning my grandmother, Mrs. Bettie Louise Ralston. She taught school in either Iowa Park or Wichita Falls for approximately 34 years before retiring around 1968. My grandma died in May of 1987. She was married to my grandfather, Jack Ralston, until he died in 1949. I am asking your readers to search their memories and write any recollections they might have from their associations with either one. I am putting together a scrapbook for my children and would appreciate any help your readers might give. Even nine years after her death this dear lady continues to teach me.

Please send your recollections to the address below:

WORTH QUOTING

A move to raise the federal minimum wage by some 90 cents an hour has been approved by the U.S. House of Representatives.

This bill was pushed hard by President Bill Clinton and most liberal Democrats. They were able to secure enough Republican votes in the House to get the bill passed.

Politicians whose primary aim is to continue to be reelected were fearful that a vote against the bill might result in a defeat at the next election.

I think pollsters had concluded that some 80 percent of the workers in this country favored the increase in minimum wage. And I feel sure they do.

I might add that you could conduct another poll among the same people and 80 percent of them would be in favor of raising the minimum wage to 50 dollars an hour.

Everybody wants more money. But it ain't always good for the country.

One radio talk show host that seems to be the unofficial spokesman for the liberal Democrats was talking about things like this. He said that many small companies complained that things like raising the minimum wage would force many small companies out of business.

His response to that was we should go ahead and put them out of business. Then the big companies could move in and take over. And they are efficient enough to afford these things.

I have suspected for years that this was the primary aim of the liberal wing of the Democratic party. This, however, is the first time I ever heard a leading spokesman for them openly admit it.

Liberals, of course, have been in bed with big labor unions for many years, and labor unions don't like small businesses. It's too difficult and too expensive to organize their employees.

It has always been difficult for me to understand why so many generally good people in this country would favor more government regulations on private business. Basically it goes against everything they've always claimed to believe in.

Most all of us have known for years that any time we get the government involved in any private business, it screws that business up for everybody.

Almost everybody knows that, but we go ahead and do it anyway.

I was visiting with a friend from South Texas the other day, and as it usually does this time of year the conversation drifted into the weather and just how dry it has been for the past several months.

He didn't wait long before spinning a tall tale about how dry it is in South Texas.

He said a friend of his runs a catfish farm down there and it had been so dry that the owner had started spraying for ticks on his catfish.

What were the first frozen foods?
The first line of Birds Eye products, launched in the mid-1920s and named for their inventor, Clarence Birdseye, included individually packaged boxes of peas, spinach, berries, fish, and meats.

Birdseye had investigated the preservation of foods by ice while on U.S. government surveys of fish and wildlife in Labrador in 1912 and 1915. During the winter, he wrote, "I saw natives catching fish in 50 below zero weather, which froze stiff as soon as they were taken out of the water. Months later, when they were thawed out, some of those fish were still alive."

Couple observes 50th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Leslie were feted on their 50th wedding anniversary with a dinner at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Elaine and Ron Bunch, of Vernon. Co-hostess was their daughter, Karen Leslie of Nacogdoches.

Leslie and the former Lois Van Horn, daughter of the late J.W. and Ella Van Horn of Iowa Park, were married July 6, 1946, at the First Christian Church in Iowa Park by their brother-in-law, Dr. Wilbur Mindel.

The couple made their home in Wichita Falls until 1990 when they moved to Iowa Park.

Wayne is the son of the late L.L. and Effie Leslie. He is employed by S&J Oil Co. of Wichita Falls.

The dessert table was covered with an ecru lace cloth adorned with magnolias, greenery, and tall tapered candles held by brass candlesticks. The three-tiered white anniversary cake was decorated with gold and white roses, gold leaves, and white doves. A strawberry slush punch, gold-wrapped almond chocolates, and white chocolate covered pecans were also served.

Also attending the dinner were grandchildren of the couple, Aaron and Kelly Bunch.

School district seeking input

The Iowa Park Consolidated Independent School District is in the process of developing a Transition Plan to insure that disabled students, parents, employees, and citizens are able to fully utilize the facilities and programs of the school district.

Interested persons may provide their input by one of two methods.

A public meeting will be held Friday at 3:30 p.m., in the high school library. The meeting will be an open forum to hear and discuss actions the District should take to enable disabled people to utilize the District's resources.

People not able to attend the meeting may provide their input by contacting Assistant Superintendent Robert Palmer at 592-4193, or by going to the School Administration Building, 413 East Cash.

SOCIAL SECURITY NEWS

Too many brides forget to change their names with Social Security resulting in confusion when their earnings are reported for Social Security purposes under their new name.

Social Security authorities note that many brides put it off because they mistakenly think there's a lot of paperwork involved.

Actually, you can do most of it with a toll-free phone call. When you receive the application in the mail, send it back with proof of your old name and your new name.

Or you can stop by any Social Security office. It takes only a few minutes. The toll-free number is 1-800-772-1213.

AUSTIN — A proposal passed by the state Senate Education Committee would eliminate tenure — the lifetime guarantee of employment for some college professors and a "carrot" often used to attract the best faculty.

The proposal, which is only a proposal, could strip tenure from professors at public colleges and universities or fire them if they are rated poorly for two consecutive years by peers and students, the Austin American-Statesman reported.

Mary Burgan, general secretary of the Washington, D.C.-based American Association of University Professors, said that eliminating tenure would have "a chilling effect on Texas' faculty and a chilling effect on the state's ability to recruit."

An education committee member, Sen. David Sibley, R-Waco, disputed claims by educators' groups that killing tenure would hurt faculty recruitment.

"What this is saying is, if you're a bad professor, don't come to Texas," Sibley told the American-Statesman, adding that the proposal is not a response to abuses of the tenure system, but addresses a growing belief that tenure has outlived its purpose.

David Merkwitz, spokesman for the American Council on Education, said an "extreme intervention" like eliminating tenure "can do extraordinary damage to Texas universities."

Presently, the Texas A&M University System is under a regents' directive to revise policies so tenured professors could be removed for poor performance. University of Texas President Robert Berdahl said he favors a post-tenure review that would help professors identify their strengths and improve on their weaknesses.

Reform Party Ballots Mailed

The Reform Party sent out a million presidential nominating questionnaires last week naming Dallas billionaire H. Ross Perot and former Colorado Gov. Richard Lamm as "the potential candidates most frequently mentioned," but Reform Party members can write in any name they wish. Lamm formally announced his candidacy on July 9.

The questionnaires were mailed to people who signed petitions to get the Reform Party on the general election ballot. Party members will have until July 20 to mail in a response.

Candidates who qualify for nomination will be allowed to speak to a Reform Party convention Aug. 11 in Long Beach, Calif.

The name of the nominee will be announced Aug. 18 at a Reform Party meeting in Valley Forge, Pa.

Ruling: Adultery Not Protected

Adultery is not protected by the constitutional right to privacy, the Texas Supreme Court declared last week.

The ruling was against a Sherman police officer who was denied a promotion because of an affair with another man's wife.

The majority opinion, written by Justice Greg Abbott, concludes that the right to privacy "does not include the right to maintain a sexual relationship with the spouse of someone else" but stipulated that the court's decision does not mean that the government is free "to engage in intrusive investigation methods to determine the sexual practices of individuals."

Uribe Vows to Dissolve RRC

Texas Railroad Commission candidate Hector Uribe of Brownsville says he intends to work on dissolving the three-member panel if he is elected Nov. 5.

He said the offices of the three commissioners are "historical anachronisms" that need justification.

Uribe, who is running against Republican commission chairman Carole Keeton Rylander, acknowledged the passage of a constitutional amendment would be necessary to close the agency, but he said the commissioners' jobs could go unfunded in the meantime.

He also said, if elected, he would accept a fraction of the $79,000 annual salary while trying to transfer the agency's duties to the Department of Public Safety, the Transportation Department and the Public Utility Commission.

Uribe, a Democrat, served in the Texas Senate from 1981 to 1990 and in the Texas House from 1978 to 1981.

Other Capital Highlights

■ A report released last week by the state Senate Economic Development Committee says school property tax abatements granted to businesses are hurting both poor and wealthy school districts. The committee adopted a recommendation that will encourage the 1977 Legislature to find alternatives to the abatements as a way to attract business to Texas. Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock, who presides over the Senate, has never been a fan of tax abatements.

■ Literacy projects in Houston, Bryan, Beaumont, Bastrop, Decatur, Mount Pleasant, Devine, Midland, Marble Falls and Paris will share $150,000 in grant money from the Barbara Bush Foundation for Family Literacy. Gov. George W. Bush and first lady Laura Bush said the grants were part of their campaign to improve literacy in Texas.

■ An Austin state district judge has granted a temporary injunction to prevent the "Republic of Texas" group from filing bogus liens. Attorney General Dan Morales has said bogus liens filed by the group are clogging the state's property record system. One lien, filed in February, was filed against all state property, the Associated Press reported.

NEWS OF THE IOWA PARK GENEALOGICAL & HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Iowa Park Genealogy and Historical Society members continued their documentation of tombstones at Highland Cemetery. Several members arrived at the cemetery early Friday to continue this task. Included in the work crew were Sandi Koonce and Fil Spangler.

With completion of the work done that day, approximately 47 percent of the documentation of the 223 sections of tombstones in Highland Cemetery has been completed.

More workdays have been scheduled Saturday, July 20, and the following Friday, July 26. Those interested in helping with the documentation effort should arrive at the cemetery office at 7 a.m. to pick up their assignments.

In our last article we asked for the help of the community in acquiring a metal detector to use in locating lost grave markers at Highland Cemetery. We want to thank Taylor George of Iowa Park for coming to our aid in providing a metal detector for our society to use.

We have made several trial runs over the cemetery area and have determined that some grave sites may be either completely unmarked or marked with concrete markers that have sunken into the soil. In either case these graves remained undetected after the use of the metal detector and will require further searching to locate. The metal detector should aid our effort greatly and its use is truly appreciated.

Our articles, in the Iowa Park Leader, about the documentation project have reached beyond the limits of Iowa Park as we have received letters from as far away as Los Angeles, CA., in support of our effort. For all those reading this article, it is important that from time to time you pay not only your respects to your ancestors who have departed and are buried in a local cemetery, but it is equally important that you check up on the condition of the cemetery in which your relatives are buried.

Highland Cemetery has an onsite staff and association monitoring the condition of the cemetery, but many cemeteries in our area do not, and many desperately need your attention. One such cemetery needing attention is the Clara Cemetery.

On a recent research trip John Chapman and I visited the Clara Cemetery, which is located seven miles west of Burkburnett on TX Hwy 240. The cemetery was laid out in the late 1800s and is occupied by the German families who took part in the development of the former city of Clara.

Since the city of Clara has become a ghost town, the Clara cemetery has been mostly unattended more than 30 years. Much of this cemetery has been taken over by waist high prairie grass, leaving many of the graves difficult to locate. Many tombstones have fallen over, and others have been broken due to weather or vandalism.

It is a sorry sight to see the condition of the Clara Cemetery and many of the grave stones are large and ornate, indicating the concern and expense that was originally taken in the property.

It should be further noted that the Iowa Park Genealogy and Historical Society is looking for other grave and cemetery sites in the Wichita County area.

If you know of a private grave site or have a family plot on your property, we would be interested in documenting the location of the site as well as detailing the information found on the included graves.

With the decay of the early stones placed by the early ancestors of the North Texas area it is important that these all be recorded as soon as possible. With the help of the community, not just members of the Iowa Park Genealogy and Historical Society, this is a true possibility.

Our next regular meeting will be Saturday, Aug. 10 at 2 p.m. in Tom Burnett Memorial Library. All are welcome to attend who are interested in discovering their ancestors, or participating in our service project.

Football fever begins to rise

Circle August 7 on your calendar, or maybe you should just set your alarm clock if you plan on attending the first practice for your 1996 Hawk football team.

This year's first practice will be held under the lights starting at 12:01 a.m. Wednesday morning Aug. 7, as the '96 season kicks off with Midnight Madness at Hawk Stadium.

"We thought it would be something unique and exciting," said head coach Weldon Nelms, who's team rallied from an 0-5 start last season to reach the playoffs for the first time in eight years. "We'll get started at 12:01 and practice for about an hour and a half, then come back at 10 in the morning. We'll be back on the field at 5 that afternoon and then get back on schedule Thursday morning at 8 a.m."

Festivities will begin at 11 p.m. Tuesday night with a pep rally that will be held at Hawk Stadium, complete with band and cheerleaders.

There will be a parents meeting for all parents of athletes in the High School Auditorium beginning at 7 p.m. in which coach Nelms will introduce his staff and speak about the upcoming year.

Things will really get going on Aug. 12 when players get to put on the pads for the first time since last year's playoff loss to Boyd.

"We had a real good spring and that was a big plus for us," Nelms said. "A lot of our kids have been working real hard on their own to get ready for the upcoming season and we are definitely looking forward to getting things kicked off."

The Hawks coaching staff will have it's work cut out as they have to replace the entire offensive line and come up with a new fullback after losing last year's line and fullback to graduation. The Hawks will also have to replace their starting split end.

"That first week in pads will go a long way in determining which kids make the varsity squad," Nelms added. "There are going to be a lot of positions to be won and we have a lot of kids that are real close at a lot of spots."

The Junior High teams will get started on Monday, Aug. 19 but will have to pick up their pads on the previous Thursday and Friday. The seventh grade players will practice at 7 a.m. while the eighth grade players will practice after school.

Other key dates early in the '96 season will be on Wednesday, Aug. 14 which will be picture day with the varsity squad getting started at 8 a.m., with the JV to follow at 9:15 and the freshmen at 10:15.

Friday, Aug. 16 will be a cake sale at Hawk Stadium to raise money for the Booster Club, getting started at 8:30 p.m. At 9:30 the next morning the teams will divide and play in an intra-squad scrimmage.

The first regular scrimmage will be Aug. 23 at Hawk Stadium against Hirschi beginning at 4 p.m. for the freshmen, 5:30 with the JV with the varsity to get started at 7:30.

The Hawks will travel to Electra for the final scrimmage the next week, before the season opener at Burk on Sept. 6.

"We're excited coming off a good year," Nelms said. "We think the tradition is back. That was our battle cry in the spring. The kids are not content. They expect bigger and better things for this season. We have a lot of athletic ability and we feel like we can play with anybody."

"Last year we started at the bottom," Nelms added. "We came out and played well but we still came up empty. Our slogan last year was 'Hawks Come Alive in '95' and that's just what we did in district. This year it's 'Hawks the Pick in '96'. Our kids are expecting to be in the playoffs again this year and we feel if we can stay healthy that's where we will be."

All-Stars breeze to title

The Iowa Park 11-12 year old girls All-Star team breezed through the District Tournament in Jacksboro last week, winning all four games they played to earn the right to advance to the Sectional Tournament in Graham which begins today.

The Lady Hawks opened the Tournament with a 13-0 blanking of Olney as Megan Cerveny pitched a one-hitter while striking out eight. Leading hitters for Iowa Park were: Kelley McFann, 2 hits and 2 runs and Tori Crawford, 2 hits and a run. Andrea Murray also had 2 runs and a pair of hits while Heather Moody added a pair of runs.

Iowa Park continued it's dominance in game two as the Lady Hawks drilled Jacksboro 22-5. Bobbie Gilmore picked up the win with a 3-hitter. Lucie Gomez, Gilmore, Jessica Sales, Crawford, Murray, Mindy Justus, Shelia Looney and Dana Smith all had key hits to help pace Iowa Park at the plate.

Game three matched up a pair of unbeaten teams in Graham and Iowa

Park. The Lady Hawks again got a strong pitching performance from Cerveny, who tossed a 1-hitter as Iowa Park advanced to the finals with a 7-4 win. Moody and Justus led the Lady Hawks at the plate.

Game four was a rematch between the two teams with the same results as Iowa Park grabbed the title with a convincing 16-5 win in four innings as Gilmore posted the win with Sales, Crawford, Looney and Smith leading the way at the plate.

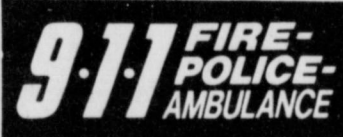

The Sectional Tournament begins tonight in Jacksboro.

Joyce Baccus, who has lived in Iowa Park since 1969, was born in Maude, Okla., and grew up in Sunnyvale, Calif.

She recently retired after working 18 years at Wichita General Hospital, where she was supervisor in environmental services.

Joyce has three married daughters, Cathy Blair, Pamela Listrude, and Robin Duran. Cathy lives in Wichita Falls and is vice-principal of Cunningham Elementary. She has a 14-year-old son, Bryan. Pamela lives in Shakopee, Minn., where she owns a day care center. She has two children, Toby, 17, and Jaymie, 14. Robin lives in Iowa Park and has two children, Aaron, 14, and Leanna, 13. She is employed by a firm in Wichita Falls.

Joyce enjoys doing stained glass, making silk flower arrangements and silk trees. She also gets a lot of pleasure from working in her yard.

Joyce said she really likes to cook, especially for her children, and having them over for dinner.

Her recipe for "Picante Sauce" is a hit with family and friends alike. The "Biscuit" and "Cornbread" recipes call for sour cream and gives them a very pleasing taste. For those of you who are watching the fat content in foods, Joyce said the low fat sour cream works just as well as the regular product.

Picante Sauce

3 or 4 jalapeno peppers
1 med. bell pepper
1 med. onion
1 garlic pod or 1 tsp. garlic powder
1/2 tsp. cilantro powder

Chop up and put in blender. Add 2 cans diced tomatoes. When blending, use your chop button - do not make it puree - it's better chunkie. If the mixture is too hot, add fresh tomatoes.

Chips

I take flour tortillas and brown them in my toaster oven. After they have browned, break the tortillas into smaller pieces and serve them with dips.

Devil's Food Cookies

1/2 cup pitted prunes
1/2 cup hot water
1 1/2 cups sugar
1/2 cup plain nonfat yogurt
1/4 cup canola oil
2 egg whites, slightly beaten
1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
1 cup unsweetened cocoa powder
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. baking soda
1/2 tsp. instant coffee granules
Heat oven to 350 degrees. Spray two baking sheets with vegetable oil cooking spray.

In a small bowl, soak prunes in the hot water 10 to 15 minutes, until plump and soft. Place prunes and the soaking liquid in a blender; process until smooth.

In a medium bowl, whisk together the prune puree, sugar, yogurt, oil, and egg whites. In another bowl, mix the flour, cocoa, salt, soda, and coffee. Using a wooden spoon, mix the dry ingredients into the wet mixture just until blended.

Drop by tablespoons onto the prepared baking sheets 1 1/2 inches apart. Bake 12 to 14 minutes, or until tops spring back when lightly touched. Cool on wire racks.

Peanut Butter Fudge

This candy was my girls' favorite.

2 cups sugar
2 Tbsps. cocoa
3/4 cup milk

Mix together and bring to boil. Cook until it reaches the soft ball stage.

Mix in 2 heaping tablespoons of peanut butter and stir until it begins to firm. Pour into buttered dish and let set until firm enough to cut into squares.
