Undefeated Hawks to hit road Friday

A 4-0 start is something every football team thinks about when they hit the field for two-a-day practices to start the season, yet very few will get off to such a fast start.

After winning its first three games of the season, Iowa Park will be looking for that perfect 4-0 start Friday night when the Hawks travel to Stamford to take on the Bulldogs with the kickoff scheduled for 8 p.m..

Iowa Park, 3-0, is coming off a tough 7-0 win over Decatur in which the Hawk offense wasn't at its best and had to rely on a 73-yard fumble return by Jonathon Horton to pull out the win.

Stamford enters the game at 1-2 after picking up its first win of the season last week by beating Haskell 26-6. The Bulldog's two losses came to Clyde and Colorado City.

"Stamford should really be 3-0 coming into this game," said head coach Weldon Nelms. "They've been in all three games and have made some mistakes which cost them against Clyde and Colorado City, which are both good football teams. Their quarterback is a good athlete that can run and throw the ball real well. They have a couple of backs that are real good and have some speed that can score on any play. They have a kid at split end that is a 23-foot long jumper who is their go-to-guy in their passing game that we must be able to contain as well."

"Their overall defense is fundamentally sound," Nelms added. "They're like we are in that they swarm to the football. They're a young team and I don't think their depth is near as strong as our's is, but I expect another tough challenge this week."

Iowa Park enters the game averaging 18 points per game while allowing only just over 7 in its three wins. The Hawk offense has used both ball control and the big play to put points on the board this season. Iowa Park has racked up 53 first downs while only giving up 28 and has out-rushed its opponents, gaining 636 yards while holding teams to only 488 yards.

The Hawks also hold an advantage in the passing department, 222-160. Turnovers are even as the Hawks have turned the ball over six times but have forced six turnovers as well.

Individually, Brandon Brown leads Iowa Park in the rushing department with 298 yards on 50 carries for an average of 5.96 yards per carry, while Todd Yeager has gained 204 yards on 34 tries for an average of 6 yards per attempt. Yeager has completed over 50% of his pass attempts hitting 17-of-32 for 222 yards and one touchdown. His top three receivers are wingback Michael Swenson, who has grabbed 5 passes for 119 yards and a touchdown, tailback Brown, who has caught 3 for 27 yards, and split end Chad Wright who has hauled in 3 for 38 yards.

With an offense that has piled up those kinds of numbers, it's no reason coach Nelms was a bit disappointed with his team's play Friday night against Decatur.

"I think our kids got caught up in what the media and everyone was saying all week about how we were supposed to play," Nelms said. "It effected our preparation for the game and it showed. The four fumbles were a lack of concentration and it seemed like every fumble came after we had moved the ball well and that took a lot out of us. This week we went back to the fundamentals and have had a good week of work and should be more focused this Friday night against Stamford."

"Defensively, I thought we played outstanding last week," Nelms added. "Our defense was on the field for almost 70 plays where as in our first two games, our offense has controlled the ball and allowed our defense to stay off the field. It would have been easy to have had a let down after all the fumbles and mistakes but our defense played well. They bent on that one drive but never broke. We've always said defense wins championships and our's came through for us last week."

The Hawks will be coming into the Stamford game fairly healthy.

Brandon McClemore suffered a deep thigh bruise against the Eagles and is listed as questionable for Friday's game and Kevin Braziel is still nursing a knee injury that could keep him sidelined for one or two more weeks. Shawn Campbell turned an ankle in practice on Monday and his status will be looked at day-to-day.

"It was sure nice to see all our fans that traveled to Decatur to follow

Council nixes request for new business site

For the second time, the city council voted Monday night against a proposal to change the zoning of three lots on West Highway to allow construction of a beauty parlor.

Michelle Neves had sought to have the zoning changed from residential to commercial, on three lots she had purchased in the 1000 block.

The proposal had been turned down at a previous meeting, by a 3-2 vote, with Mayor Tim Hunter casting the tie-breaker. Alderman Mark Raby was absent for that meeting.

And, as was the case at the earlier meeting, the council chamber was almost completely packed by homeowners in the area, all of whom spoke against the rezoning.

When asked why the issue had been brought up again, Alderman Bob Hamilton said he had requested it because the full council had not been present earlier, and "...because I wanted to."

Neighborhood residents said they wanted to preserve the area for homes, and they also said they feared devaluation of their property if a business were allowed to locate there.

Neves had said she planned to build a structure similar to those of Farm Bureau Insurance and Catlin Oil, and she passed out a drawing of the proposed structure.

She said that, following the earlier meeting, she had sent letters to four homeowners that adjoin the property on Van Horn, offering to sell the property to them.

When a man in the audience responded that the price she had quoted was too high, Neves said she had posed the average per-foot price of $1.10 that lots are being sold at currently in Iowa Park.

She added, however, that in her letter she had said she was willing to negotiate on the price, but never heard back from any of the neighbors.

Alderman Raby commented that the building being proposed would cost $70,000 to construct, which would produce approximately $450 annually in property taxes. Then he added that the land is now being taxes at $14.70 per lot, annually.

Alderman Singer said the drawing of the proposed building looked much like a residence, which would compliment the area, and added that homeowners behind K&K don't feel they have a problem with that business being there.

Singer also said the zoning board, when considering the request, had been split 3-2 against, and called it a "feeling of indecision."

In-city bus program to end next Thursday

Next Tuesday will mark the beginning of major changes in the Iowa Park school's transportation system. As of that date, high school and junior high school students who live within two miles of the schools, measured by the nearest public road, will no longer be eligible to ride school district buses. Students living outside the two mile limit will be eligible to ride.

Bus routes for Bradford Elementary and Kidwell Elementary students will continue to operate as they have in the past. All students who cross a designated hazardous road or live two miles from the school will be eligible bus students. The designated hazardous roads are Bus. 287, FM 368, and the expressway U.S. 287.

Problems caused by these changes are expected to be relieved by a proposed inter-city bus system operated by Rolling Plains Management Corporation.

A survey was printed in the Leader and distributed to all students last week, seeking to determine how many students would utilize the service. School officials reported that, as of Tuesday, 61 students had indicated they would use the Rolling Plains bus if routes were created. Additional information on that system may be obtained by calling Jerry McMillan or Cathy Gerhardt at 1-800-633-0852.

Assistant Superintendent Robert Palmer stated that school officials were working hard to make the transition as smooth as possible. District drivers are spending this week making alterations to their routes to serve students who will change buses because of the two in-town routes, routes six and eighteen.

In order that the transition will be as safe as possible, the three local P.T.A.s have tentatively agreed to purchase bus safety and traveling to school safety materials. The materials will be distributed to the students, parents, bus drivers, and media.

For additional information about the changes, call Palmer at 592-4193.

Alumni tickets available

There is still time to get tickets for the annual Iowa Park Alumni Assoc. banquet to be held Oct. 5 at the Iowa Park High School cafeteria.

The Iowa Park MuleSkinners will again provide the meal for the evening event. James D. Fox, author, is the scheduled speaker, and the Coming-Home Queen will be crowned that evening as well.

Tickets for the banquet are $9 each and may be obtained by sending a check with reservations to P.O. Box 614, Iowa Park. Planners are asking that reservations be made as soon as possible.

The Alumni Assoc. will also be represented in this year's homecoming parade, and host a get-together Saturday in the Lion's Club Building during the Whoop-T-Do.

NEAR TRAGEDY - Volunteer medical personnel prepare Staci Wheeler and three young children to be transported by ambulance to medical facilities in Wichita Falls, following a one-vehicle accident on FM 368, just North of the Wichita River bridge. Wheeler was reportedly driving North when she lost control of her vehicle, shown in background, went onto the ditch on the West side and came to rest in a pasture. The incident was reported to authorities at 10:02 a.m. Sunday.

Driver charged DWI following accident

A Wichita Falls man wound up in jail Sunday, following a two-car collision at the intersection of Bell Road and East Highway.

Stephen Forrest Schell, 24, was arrested on charges of driving while intoxicated and driving while his license was suspended.

The driver of the other car, Joy Jeter McKinnon, 78, was injured and transported to Wichita General Hospital.

According to the accident report, Schell was entering Iowa Park from the east, and collided at the intersection when Mrs. McKinnon failed to yield right of way.

Another driver at the scene, who also was traveling west-bound on the old highway, told officers Schell had passed him driving at an estimated speed of 90 miles per hour.

Schell was transported to the sheriff's office, where he reportedly refused to submit to a breathalyzer test.

According to records, he has been charged five different times with DWI, and found guilty of the charge twice. His bonds, prior to the accident, amounted to more than $100,000.

He was arrested on a felony charge of DWI, due to the previous two convictions, and also for driving while license was suspended.

Police continue to investigate a reported hit and run incident, after a driver told officers Saturday someone had struck his vehicle sometime between 6 p.m. Friday and 8 a.m. Saturday, while it was parked in the 500 block of East Alameda.

TRAVELERS WHO STOP at Watson Lake, in the Yukon Province, will know an Iowa Parkan was there when they see the city's logo, posted by Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Threet. The couple recently returned from a nine-week trip into Alaska. Threet used a logo sticker of the city's by applying it onto a metal band, and secured that on the famous sign post with screws.

Cook of the WEEK

Donald F. Potter

As good cooks often do, Donald F. Potter does most of his cooking from memory. And that memory takes him back to his childhood in North Carolina and the cooking methods used there.

Don's recipe for "Black Fruit Cake" is one used by both of his grandmothers. He said for the best taste, you should bake the cake around Thanksgiving, wrap it in white cloth, pour wine over it, and store until Christmas.

Although his recipe for "Hush Puppies" calls for one cup of meal, Don has never tried it with regular corn meal. Instead, he uses a meal that is "as fine as flour" that he gets in North Carolina.

Don grew up in Seven Springs, N.C. When he came to visit relatives in Texas 32 years ago he liked the country and stayed.

He and his wife Dorothy have lived in Iowa Park two years, moving from Wichita Falls. They have three daughters and one son.

Don, a retired cabinetmaker and carpenter, says he likes to hunt, fish, and cook.

Dorothy had worked 30 years at Wichita Falls State Hospital when she retired.

Dorothy was still working when Don retired and he took over the cooking duties. He says he prefers cooking outdoors. When they lived in Wichita Falls, he and a friend built a cooker that was large enough to cook a whole hog in. He said he use to cook a hog twice a year in this manner.

Help with medical expenses sought

Persons who would like to help defray medical expenses for Leslie Prunty Mullins who is undergoing treatments at American Environmental Health Foundation in Dallas, an account has been set up at Norwest Bank. The account number is 7074867. For those who wish to donate to this cause and would like to have a tax number in order for a tax write-off, may secure the number from Ms. Mullins' mother at 592-2939.

Doctors estimate the treatments at $20,000 to $30,000. Her insurance should pay about 80 percent of the total, although the clinic demands payment in advance.

Ms. Mullins, mother of three small sons, was diagnosed earlier this year with an environmental illness, chemical sensitivity. This is a life-threatening illness.

She has been in the clinic five weeks and probably will have to stay at least two more weeks. It is costing $1,000 a week, plus $71 a day for her room.

In addition Ms. Mullins has to eat organic foods. She can't eat the same foods this week she ate last week, because she becomes allergic to anything she eats regularly. She has to order meat like buffalo and antelope to vary her diet.

Her body reacts abnormally to even small doses of chemicals, like cologne or drifting diesel fumes. A rather rare illness, her doctors in Dallas trace it to a "pesticide overexposure".

She is stressed out all day long, having frequent anxiety and panic attacks, because the illness affects her nervous system. And, she feels all of the time like she has the flu, with fatigue and aching joints.

Her condition puts a lot of stress on the family. She and her husband, Dwayne separated shortly before his wife's condition was diagnosed. Her mother, Jamie Prunty, says there is only so much you can take before you are stressed out too, and think you can't deal with the situation any longer.

This illness is one that Ms. Mullins will have to deal with all of her life. The treatment she is now receiving can repair her health part of the way and at this point is saving her life.

When she returns home she will have to give herself shots and return to the hospital at intervals for testing. These will help to make her immune system stronger.

A part of her treatment include 150-degree saunas and laxatives to force the toxins out of her body. If she had access to a sauna when she returns home, it would be an added help for her illness.

However, she will always be susceptible to chemicals and will have to avoid them as much as possible and always eat organic foods.

23 Study Club opens year with brunch

Twenty Three Study Club's year opened Thursday, Sept. 19, with a brunch in the home of Wanda Singer, president. Co-hostesses were Flossie Nunn and Ina Brown.

Mrs. Singer called the meeting to order and introduced Jean Johnson, program leader for the meeting.

Patsy Todd gave the meditation on "Understanding". She used a quote from the Book of Proverbs, "When we ask for wisdom, we need understanding also."

She offered the invocation before the brunch that featured a fall bounty theme, prepared by the hostesses.

Mrs. Johnson led the Pledge of Allegiance to the American Flag.

Mrs. Singer's theme for the year is "Unity in Diversity--Carry the Torch of Federation." Programs for the year will be presented from within the six departments of the General Federation of Womens Clubs, which are Arts, Conservation, Education, Home Life, International Affairs, and Public Affairs.

Thursday's program, presented by Norma Harrell, focused on "Women in the Arts," and featured Georgia O'Keefe, renowned educator and artist.

Mrs. O'Keefe recently was honored by having one of her works of art featured on a United States Postal stamp. Following the presentation by Mrs. Harrell, Margaret Soell gave each one present one of the stamps honoring Mrs. O'Keefe.

September birthdays of Mrs. Soell and Mrs. Singer were acknowledged by members singing "Happy Birthday", and Mrs. Harrell presented each of the honorees with an Iris and a Chrysanthemum, which are the club flowers.

Mrs. Singer introduced the speaker for the day, Beverly Edsel, program director for First Step, Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Edsel has been on the staff eight years, working directly with victims of abuse. She outlined the history of First Step from its humble beginnings in 1977 to the present time.

It was organized by a group of women who wanted to make a difference in the lives of women victims of the community, which now includes Iowa Park and Burk Burnett, as well as 12 surrounding counties.

The name was adapted from the saying, "First Step Away From a Violent Situation". The speaker related that originally volunteers took victims into their own home to care for them.

She quoted statistics that show one out of two women will be a victim of abuse sometime during her lifetime, and that one out of every four homes is a site of domestic violence.

Mrs. Edsel said that last year in Texas, 155 women were killed by their partners. She added that men also are sometimes victims of abuse, numbering five to 10 percent of the victims.

She stated that following the death of Nicole Simpson they saw a considerable increase in the number of women coming into the shelter with more severe signs of abuse.

Ninety-four individuals were sheltered in August, with 919 days of shelter provided. Counseling is provided the victims, both in and out of the shelter, as well as referring them to existing support groups.

Their youngest assault victim was 22 months of age, first assaulted at five months of age. Their oldest client was in her late 80s. Male victims, sometimes accompanied by their children are also served, as the mission of First Step is to help the victims and children stay safe. Last year, they worked with 300 sexually abused children.

A question and answer session following her address revealed ways in which the general public might assist the organization.

New yearbooks were distributed by Mrs. Soell in the business session following the program.

Mrs. Singer gave a short history of GFWC and issued her challenge to "Carry the Torch", emphasizing Flexibility, Compromise and Commitment.

Colleen Roberts read notes of appreciation from Wichita Falls State Hospital, several second grade teachers and students at Kidwell Elementary for the Club's sponsorship of the Newsletter, "Kind News", and from the Friendly Door for the two miniature crape myrtle plants placed at their new facility.

Federation Counselor's report was given by Joy Belle McKinnon, who reported that the 1,200 delegates at last year's convention in Nashville, TN., was the largest attendance since the Centennial meeting.

Mrs. Soell reported the Club's gift to Tom Burnett Memorial Library of the book, "What Every American Needs to Know About Women's History", by Christine Lunardini, Ph.D.

The meeting closed with reminders to the members of the Santa Rosa District Fall Board Meeting Oct. 5, and also that the deadline for registering for the Nov. 5 election is 30 days prior to that date in the State of Texas.

As I See It...By Bob Hamilton

It took us a long time to do it, but Dolores and I finally went on an outing Sunday, and ever since I've been wondering why we hadn't done it far sooner.

The weather was perfect and we didn't have anything in particular to do, so we did it.

We ventured into Oklahoma, to the Wichita Mountains.

Good gosh! We've traveled to every point in Texas, into New Mexico a couple of times, and up to Branson, Missouri numerous times, but always seemed to overlook one of the most impressive tourist attractions that exists, right here in our own back yard.

Actually, we had been to the area twice before, but only to eat at a couple of fine places in the immediate area. But we hadn't gone on into the mountain area itself.

It doesn't take long to get there, especially if you take 144 (a good part of that stretch is 75 mph).

And one of the things I liked the most was how inexpensive it all was. Shucks, I can afford the $2 charged on the 144 toll road ($1 in and $1 out).

The most impressive part of it all was driving up to the top of Mt. Scott, from where you can see miles and miles of nothing but miles and miles.

While the lakes were very inviting, they're really not my cup of tea. (Been there, done that.) Actually, I was in one of them, but it was back about 1936, and all I remember was the cold water and gravel beach.

After the mountain-top view, we drove on further, looking at the buffalo herds, viewing the soon-to-be-opened information center, and, I must admit, looking over the numerous picnic areas. (I was beginning to get hungry.)

At one point on the road, in an area where the woods close in on the pavement pretty closely, I had to come to a complete halt -- to let a buffalo bull amble his way from one side to another.

I judged him to be as large as my station wagon, and was glad it was daylight and I hadn't crashed into him. He didn't care about me, but I sure cared about him!

They've got picnic areas all over the areas, all among trees, and the concrete tables are ideal for having a picnic meal.

The parks department also provides an adequate number of trash containers, nearby each eating area, but as usual, a lot of kooks fail to use them.

Because it was the fourth Sunday of September, well after all the schools had gotten underway, I was surprised at the large number of people who were up there. Especially all the families.

On the way home, I was glad to reach a sign along the highway that stated it was the end of the toll road's maintenance.

That was because it was relatively smooth asphalt. The toll road portion was concrete, and like driving on a giant washboard.

I never have figured out what happens to all that toll fee revenue, other than paying the people who are there to collect it.

City

Former council member Bud Mercer spoke of problems the city has had in the past.

Both Mayor Hunter and Alderman Joe Ward said they felt the same way they had the last time the issue was considered, and had not changed their minds.

When a vote was called for on the proposal, Hamilton and Tracy Fears again voted for the change, but Ward, Singer and Raby voted against it.

In other business, the council took the following action:

* Mayor Hunter read a proclamation declaring October as "Domestic Violence Awareness" month in Iowa Park;

* Administrator Mike Price was authorized to purchase a replacement flowmeter for the wastewater treatment plant, for $5,550;

* And aldermen approved a resolution to approve the award of Texas Home Investment Partnership Program funds for first-time homebuyer assistance;

* Witnessed the mayor's swearing in of new police officer Donnie Cavinder.

During the general discussion period, Hamilton asked that the council might consider designating all or part of Lake Iowa Park as a park area, which would prohibit consumption of alcohol there.

He pointed out recent damage to the Hammond Park area at the lake, which apparently was caused by a group of beer-drinkers.

His suggestion that city staff might look into the situation and make a recommendation for possible council action was agreed to by the other council members.

EARLY-DAY IOWA PARK SCHOOL, with students of all grades, posed for this photo sometime between 1901 and 1910. Formerly owned by Katherine S. Jacquart, 614 West Texas, the picture was provided by Mrs. Ruth Gard. The building was located midway between Cash and Park, and faced Texowa. More on the building is included in the Letter to the Editor.

WORTH QUOTING

An independent oilfield contractor brought a copy of a letter he had received from Texas Railroad Commissioner Carole Keeton Rylander recently that greatly disturbed him.

The letter told of a plan by the Clinton Administration to seek a binding international agreement, through the United Nations, that imposes mandatory emissions limits for all industrialized nations.

The limitations would include fossil fuels or 85 percent of our nation's energy.

The rest of Rylander's letter states:

"I am personally outraged by this. While the Railroad Commission is working to increase production of our Texas oil and natural gas to create high-skilled/high-pay jobs, the Clinton Administration is putting us on a course to effectively shut down the oil and natural gas industry in Texas.

"A study by DRI/McGraw Hill estimates the agreement will result in the loss of 500,000 jobs per year over the next 14 years. The oil and gas industry employs more than 293,000 people in Texas and pumped $52 billion into our state economy in 1995 alone.

"The most frequent method discussed to limit emissions in the Clinton/U.N. environmental agreement includes a tax on fossil fuels (labeled a 'carbon tax'). This tax will be levied on oil, gas and coal. The carbon tax rate (estimated by DRI/McGraw Hill) would equal $200 per metric ton, causing an estimated 4.2 percent drop in U.S. Gross Domestic Product. Passed on to the consumer as a BTU tax, the tax would equal an additional $.60 per gallon gasoline tax.

"Protecting the environment is far too important to be left in the hands of the federal government and the United Nations. I believe that the environment should be protected as the state and local levels in cooperation with industry. The oil and gas industry already spends $10.6 billion each year on environmental improvement -- as much as is spent on domestic oil and gas exploration!

"I am writing to encourage you to contact your Congressman and U.S. Senators to let them know that you oppose the Administration's plan."

The local contractor was concerned about the impact such a plan would have locally with the oil industry already on the decline in the area. The oil and gas industry is crucial to this state. Consider these facts from the Railroad Commission:

The oil and gas industry has bought, through local property taxes, the equivalent of one out of 18 schools in Texas.

The Texas oil and gas industry pays 5.7 percent of all local property taxes for schools -- that amounted to about $500 million in 1995 alone. That's $135 per child.

Texas is the number one oil and gas producing state in the United States. In fact, Texas produces approximately one-fourth of our nation's oil and gas.

If Texas were a nation by itself, it would rank as the 15th largest producer of oil in the world.

Our nation already suffers from a poor or nonexistent energy policy. We do not need an environmental policy that will only further hamper our oil and gas industry.

RICK CRAIG
Hamlin Herald

The oil industry in this country has about as many friends in Washington as an ill-tempered skunk.

The administration would go to war in the Middle East to protect oil interests over there -- yet wouldn't raise a pinky to help the domestic oil industry.

There's one county in Texas, Wichita County, that has more actively producing oil wells than the entire Middle East combined.

Wichita County has 7,988 oil wells, the entire Middle East only 7,790.

The breakdown over there is Abu Dhabi 993, Iran 730, Iraq 820, Kuwait 350, Neutral Zone 231, Qatar 268, and Saudi Arabia 1,400.

Can you see Billy Boy ordering out the stealth bombers, the troops to go to Wichita Falls, Burk Burnett, or Iowa Park to save oil production?

Instead, our president has called upon Saudi Arabia to increase its crude oil output to offset the loss of Iraqi oil and help bring the price of domestic crude down.

With friends like that in Washington, perhaps Texas, which, if a nation, would rank 15th in the world, oughta make a deal with Saddam Hussein -- to set those oil wells on fire again.

Just for the record, you might be interested in these crude oil well

As has been the case for the past several years, the Pipers will open their football season with high expectations. The season opener is in Wylie Friday.

Over the past several seasons, it has almost become "expected" that the pipers will make the playoffs.

But what Piper fans have to remember is that these expectations are pinned on 16-, 17- and 18-year-old athletes. These athletes have the same expectations as the fans, but they are the ones that have worked hard during two-a-days and afternoon workouts.

When you go to the games this fall, remember that the main purpose behind high school football is to teach young athletes lifelong skills such as teamwork and determination. They are also on the field to have fun.

But to hear some of our fans, one would think they were watching professional athletes that have played the game for over 10 years.

That 17-year-old athlete is not going to drop a pass on purpose. They are doing their best all the time. The 18-year-old runningback is not going to fumble intentionally -- he is trying to gain the most yardage he possibly can.

The 17-year-old linebacker is not going to miss a tackle intentionally. He is giving his best effort every day.

All too often our Piper fans tend to be more fanatics than true supporters of our athletes.

Remember, a fan's role is to support and encourage our athletes, not to criticize. Just think what kind of team would be on the field on Friday nights if our athletes yelled at each other the same way some of our fans yell at the athletes.

Piper fans have also earned a reputation for criticizing coaches from the stands. But again, stop and think if you want to trade jobs on a Friday night.

I know of very few workers who would like to have thousands of eyes watching every move or decision he or she makes. Secondly, I can think of no other profession where one would consider going into a place of business and openly criticizing a worker.

Go to the game Friday night; enjoy the game; but most importantly, be supportive not critical.

Doc says a play on words is as American as apple pie or orange juice.

A case in point!
A boy worked as a bagger at a supermarket. One day the store installed a machine for squeezing fresh orange juice.

Intrigued, the young man asked if he could be allowed to work the machine.

Said the manager: "Sorry, kid, but baggers can't be juicers."

Ouch!

Remembers old building

Dear Sir:

My schooling started in 1911 in the building shown in the Leader, page 4, August 15. At that time there was a double-pipe fence around the entire school ground, with a stile in front instead of a gate. There was no building between it and Cash Street, but it was at least 100 yards North of Cash Street. I particularly remember the bellfy and the slanting roof.

Miss Gertrude Denny was my first grade teacher and Miss Ida Denny my seventh. Having been promoted from the first to the third grade gave me six years in that school house.

In the summer of 1917, that school house was torn down and another building erected South of it, about half way to Cash Street. Several school-age boys hauled concrete in wheelbarrows from the mixer to make the foundation. I was one of those boys. I helped finish the roof, but worked on nothing between the foundation and the roof. The Northeast top corner of this building was later damaged by a cyclone.

I think it was about 1923 when that building was torn down and the W.F. George building replaced it. That school was on the corner of Cash Street and the street going North and South (Texowa).

Sorry I have no pictures to send, but would enjoy seeing some if you do receive any.

Yours Truly,
Edwin M. Davis

HAPPY 14TH TO THIS JR. HIGH CHEERLEADER

State Capital

HIGHLIGHTS
By Lyndell Williams & Ed Sterling
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Texas homeowners who have cried for tax relief may see their school property taxes cut next year if the state Legislature puts more of the burden on the business sector.

Speaking to reporters following a Rotary Club meeting, Sen. Bill Ratliff, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, suggested that a "hybrid" tax could spread the burden evenly among businesses.

Ratliff said a sales tax increase would not be a good option, but the combination of a gross receipts tax on business and a value-added tax on goods might fare better in the Legislature.

"We have to fashion a system that doesn't have a disproportionate impact on any one business sector," he said, and predicted, "You will see a plan from the governor's office, if no where else, that will have a significant reduction of property taxes."

Ratliff and Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock both expressed doubt regarding legislators' willingness to fight the battles that must be fought to shift the tax burden. The school property tax raised $10 billion last year.

Meanwhile, last week, the Citizens Committee on Property Tax Relief had its final meeting. The panel, appointed by Gov. George W. Bush, traveled the state seeking public input on relief from school property taxes.

Bush spokesman Ray Sullivan told the Austin American-Statesman the governor is looking forward to the committee's report.

Sports Park Tax Discussed

The House Business and Industry Committee discussed a proposal that would allow a city, county or group of counties to put a resolution before local voters to acquire, build or renovate a sports venue with specific taxes.

The state comptroller would review such resolutions to ensure they would not cost the state money.

Committee chairman Kim Brimer R-Arlington, worked to defeat a similar bill in the 1995 legislative session that would have allowed tax dollars to be used for professional sports facilities.

"Since I killed it, I thought I ought to come back and try to clean it up and see if I can do something with it," Brimer told the Associated Press.

Brimer called the 1995 bill "corporate welfare" and said sports facilities are regional projects and should be financed regionally, the AP reported.

The new proposal includes local taxing options that would raise sales and use taxes 0.5 percent, car rental taxes up to 5 percent, admission taxes up to $2 per person, parking tax up to $1 per vehicle and hotel occupancy tax up to 2 percent of the room price.

Brimer said the sports facility proposal is opposed by car rental companies and the Texas Hotel & Motel Association.

Welfare Plan Raises Questions

Mike McKinney, Texas Health and Human Services Commissioner, last week recommended that top state officials accept money from the federal government now to fund welfare programs.

Every day the state waits after Oct. 1, it stands to lose money — about $270,000 a day — because the welfare rolls are shrinking, McKinney said.

But Gov. Bush, Lt. Gov. Bullock and House Speaker Pete Lancy aren't ready to accept the money until they are sure that doing so won't hurt Texas' budget. Losing money by waiting must be balanced against other costly measures that will be triggered once the law goes into effect, they said.

"Remember 60 years of welfare as we know it has been changed very quickly in a 700-page bill. That has far-reaching consequences for the states and for the federal government too," Bullock told the American-Statesman.

The Health and Human Services Commission will have a public hearing on the issue Sept. 24.

Regulators Taking Action

Nursing home regulators adopted a plan that would improve the handling of public complaints.

The action came after pressure from state leaders, following the publication of an American-Statesman report that showed the Texas Board of Nursing Facility Administrators had not disciplined anyone in three years, despite hundreds of complaints.

Gov. Bush's spokesman, Ray Sullivan, said the governor considers the plan "a step in the right direction."

The board voted to:

- Prioritize complaints and ensure swift and appropriate action is taken.

- Call for an October vote on a proposed code of ethics for administrators.

- Conduct more frequent meetings.

- Share information and cooperate on hearings and investigations with the Texas Department of Human Services, which regulates nursing homes.

- Add more members or consultants to the board's complaints committee.

Health Commissioner to Tech

Texas Health Commissioner David Smith resigned last week to accept an appointment as president of the Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center in Lubbock.

The appointment was announced by Texas Tech Chancellor John Montford, who retired last month from a 14-year career in the state Senate.

Smith, who served as health commissioner since 1992, will head Tech's medical school, which has branches in Amarillo, Odessa and El Paso.

NEWS OF THE IOWA PARK GENEALOGICAL & HISTORICAL SOCIETY

As geologists look for information on their ancestors, they often find themselves getting into a rut in the type of records they consider. Certainly vital records, census enumerations, probate papers, family records, and church registers are of great value to the family historian and should never be overlooked. But there are a great many records which can also contain information valuable to us as we seek our ancestry.

One of the reasons these records are often not considered is their limited availability in many cases. This is not to say they cannot be found, but their location by the researcher may involve some correspondence, and will certainly involve some use of libraries and bibliographic reference books. Even so, many of these records can be obtained through diligence and imagination.

Most of us are familiar with telephone directories, and many are also familiar with city directories which are now published for most large and medium cities. Similar directories have been published for large cities, and even entire counties, for at least 200 years.

Many directories are general in nature, listing all of the residents in the locality. However, some directories are specialized, focusing on farmers, professional people, merchants, or members of the nobility or landed gentry.

Although the exact format of these directories might vary with the place and time, generally these directories list the residents of the city in alphabetic order by their surnames, giving their addresses and occupations.

Modern city directories are published by several companies, one of the best known being the R.L. Polk & Company of Nashville, TN. Local libraries are the usual repositories for directories, although university, college, and other large libraries may also keep directories in their collections.

Another rarely used source of genealogical information is that of the voting or poll lists. To prevent abuses of the voting process, ensuring that only those granted the right to vote will exercise that prerogative, localities have long maintained lists of persons qualified to participate in elections.

This is true of the United States, as well as many other countries. Strict rules do not exist for all such lists, but they will usually include the names of qualified voters with their residences and qualifications for the vote. Quite often these lists will be arranged in alphabetical order.

Occasionally these lists were published, somewhat in the same manner as directories, to be used in locating prominent area residents. Local and large regional libraries and historical archives are among the most likely places to look for any surviving poll lists. They may also be in the custody of county clerks, recorders, or political party organizations.

Three Masons honored with service awards

During a special open meeting of Iowa Park Lodge No. 713 Ancient Free and Accepted Masons held at the Lodge Hall Thursday, three masons were honored.

Bill Lane, Miles Thompson and R.B. Wilkerson each have served the fraternal organization more than 50 years.

Right Worshipful Bobby Blackburn of Archer City, District Deputy Grand Master of Masonic District No. 88 made the presentation of the Grand Lodge 50-Year Masonic Service Awards.

The full Masonic Record of each honoree was read aloud by Chuck Sects, secretary of the Lodge. Following the reading, Right Worshipful Blackburn asked Patsy Lane and Hilda Thompson to pin the gold emblem on their respective husbands. Each 50-year Mason in attendance was also presented a copy of their record, suitable for framing, as a memento of the occasion.

R.B. Wilkerson was unable to attend the open meeting, but will be presented his pin and record by Blackburn and Marvin Doyle Parks, Master of the Iowa Park Lodge for the current year. Wilkerson's wife, Ernestine will pin his gold emblem.

Fifty-two friends and brethren attended to honor these outstanding citizens of Iowa Park Masonic Lodge and the city of Iowa Park.

LOOSE BALL AT LOWER LEFT WAS AMONG FOUR HAWK FUMBLES FRIDAY

Mean Green defense wins

It's not very often in football where you learn a valuable lesson and can come away with a win. Most of the time it costs you a loss, but that was not the case Friday night as the Hawks escaped Decatur with a 7-0 win and a lesson tucked away that can be looked back on later in the season.

"I think the kids got caught up in all the media attention that we were getting last week and that effected our preparation and it showed in how we played," said head coach Weldon Nelms. "This was a good learning experience for us in that it showed everyone what can happen if you aren't mentally ready to play. Every team is going to have a down night and it said something about our kids to come away with a win even though we didn't play our best."

The Iowa Park offense, which had been averaging over 23 points per game was shut out Friday night as the Hawks turned the ball over four times, all on fumbles.

It was the Iowa Park defense which saved the day as not only did it shut out the Eagles, but midway through the third quarter the defense saved the day for the entire team.

With Decatur in possession of the ball at the Iowa Park 29, quarterback Landon Wren ran an option to his right and just as he faked the ball to his fullback, Iowa Park's Clint Mathis made contact with the ball causing it to pop up and into the hands of defensive end Jonathon Horton, who rambled 73 yards for the touchdown. Keith Trammell's point after made the score 7-0 with 8:09 left in the third quarter.

Horton's defensive play of the game was a bright spot for the Hawks, who's offense had managed only two first downs in the first half and only 46 total yards.

Iowa Park started the game nicely, picking up 7 yards in it's first two rushes, then on third down, quarterback Todd Yeager hooked up with his tailback Brandon Brown on a 25-yard pass play that moved the ball to the Decatur 10. But a fumble by Brown after the catch gave the ball back to Decatur at it's own 9.

The Hawks defense held the Eagles on four downs, forcing a punt. Iowa Park took over and moved the ball to the Decatur 21 only to turn it over on downs when a fourth-and-11 pass fell incomplete.

The Eagles took over and moved to the Iowa Park 48 but on fourth-and-five, tried a fake punt that came up two yards short of the first giving the ball back to Iowa Park to start the second quarter.

The second quarter was a punting battle as neither team mounted a serious scoring threat.

Iowa Park took the ball to open the third quarter and after a 38-yard return by Shawn Fulfer, the Hawks had excellent field position at the 49. Four plays later the Hawks fumbled for the second time to squander another scoring opportunity.

Decatur took over at the Iowa Park 37 and three plays later the Eagles were looking at a first-and-10 from the Hawks 29 when Mathis jarred the ball loose from Wren setting up the game's only score.

On Decatur's next possession, the Eagles moved all the way to the Iowa Park 11 and were looking at a first-and-10, but a run for a three yard loss and three straight incomplete passes by Wren ended the drive with 9:50 left in the game.

Brown and Yeager each rushed for 79 yards. Brown also caught four passes for another 27 yards. Michael Swenson hauled in one pass for 51 yards. Fulfer had an interception to help preserve the shutout.

Influenza can be avoided

As influenza approaches, the American Lung Association reminds Texans that influenza is a potentially life-threatening contagious lung disease that can be prevented with an annual vaccination.

"An ounce of prevention is definitely worth a pound of cure when it comes to getting your annual flu shot," says Texas Thoracic Society President, Kenneth Nugent, M.D.

"An influenza vaccination is about 70 percent effective in preventing influenza and reducing its severity, and it's safe." Together, influenza and pneumonia, are the fifth leading cause of death among Americans over age 65 and the sixth leading cause of death among all Americans.

Anyone can be a flu victim, however, high-risk groups are the most vulnerable. High-risk groups include anyone over the age of 65, or anyone suffering from a chronic health condition or lung disease, such as asthma, emphysema or chronic bronchitis.

Also included in the high-risk category is anyone that wishes to avoid taking off from work, school or home. In addition, members of the health care profession are included in the high risk category because of the volume of flu patients trafficking through their offices.

The prime time to get a flu shot is between Oct. 1 and Nov. 15, before the flu season begins. In Texas, some physicians begin providing shots in early September and may continue offering the service through mid-December.

Flu shots are available at doctors' offices, Health Maintenance Organizations (HMO), and most other health care facilities.

In addition, flu shots are covered by Medicare and Medicaid. Most people experience little or no reaction to the vaccine. However, one in four people might have a swollen, red, tender area where the shot was delivered.

A person can easily contract the flu because the virus that causes it may belong to different strains of flu families. This is why the Lung Association encourages everyone to get an annual flu shot to protect yourself against the current year's flu virus.

The American Lung Association is an advocate of the prevention, control and cure of lung disease, the third leading cause of death in Texas.

For more information about influenza, flu shots or lung disease, contact the American Lung Association of Texas at 800-252-2864.

Junior High Roundup

It was a tough week for the Junior High Hawks as the 7th and 8th grade A teams traveled to Decatur Thursday, then returned home to host Zundy on Tuesday afternoon.

In 7th grade A team action Thursday, Decatur scored early, then hung on to defeat the Hawks 8-0.

Offensive players of the game for Iowa Park were Bryan Swenson, who had several nice gains on the ground for the Hawks, and fullback Matt Ohm. Defensively, linebackers Brad Duggins and Andy Simpson and cornerback Matt Kelly all had good games.

The 8th grade A team picked up its first win of the season Thursday against the Eagles, winning 12-8. Chase Wright scored a pair of touchdowns to lead the Hawks past Decatur.

Offensive players of the game were Wright and fullback Brandon Criswell, while on defense, Nathan Creekmore, Mitch Singleton and Rowdy Hebel were all listed as having good games.

In Tuesday's games against Zundy, the 7th grade B team lost 22-0. Offensively, quarterback Jeremy Wilson was listed as having a good game for the Hawks while on defense, John Schram, Jason Peters and Billy Price all played well, according to coaches.

In the 7th grade A team's game, the Eagles came away with a 14-0 win after leading 6-0 at the half.

Offensive players of the game included Swenson, who did a good job running the ball and quarterback Nick Kennedy and tight end Kyle Young, who hooked up on a pair of completions that picked up first downs that kept drives alive. Defensively, Simpson, Duggins, Swenson, and Kelly all had good games for the Hawks.

The 8th grade B team fell to Zundy 44-0 Tuesday dropping their record to 0-2.

Offensively Jim Brown was listed as having a good game while defensively, Pete Ermis, Josh Parker and Chris McGhee all played well for the Hawks.

In the 8th grade A team's game, the Eagles snapped the Hawks one-game winning streak, handing Iowa Park a 28-6 loss.

The lone Iowa Park score came on a 2-yard touchdown run by Wright, who helped set up the score on a pair of long passes to Singleton.

Offensive players of the game were Wright, Criswell and Heath Hodges while on defense, Criswell, Wright and Chris Simmons all had good games for the Hawks.

Big week for Lady Hawks

It was a perfect week on the volleyball courts for the Lady Hawks as Iowa Park swept Harrold on Saturday and continued its winning ways with an impressive win over Big Pasture on Tuesday.

Iowa Park picked up its fifth win of the season, against Harrold with Tiffany Tidwell, Shannon Gafford and Laci Downs all being credited for playing well.

In Tuesday's 15-7, 15-2 win over Big Pasture, head coach Brenda Hodges was hesitant to name exceptional players stating, "We really played well as a team, I thought."

"We're starting to click a little bit," Hodges added. "We are starting to come together as a team. Big Pas-

JV beats Decatur, 32-6

The JV Hawks improved to 2-1 Thursday night at Hawk Stadium with an impressive 32-6 win over the Decatur Eagles.

Things didn't start off in the right direction for Iowa Park as Decatur got on the board first after recovering a Hawk fumble at the Iowa Park 17. The Eagles turned the turnover into 6 points for their only score of the night.

Following a 49-yard punt return by Justin Terry, Tommy Duerson tied the game at 6-6 on a 21-yard TD run. The point after failed leaving the game tied.

Late in the second quarter, Ross Dillard covered a Decatur fumble at the Iowa Park 23 giving the Hawks the ball again. A Duerson 53-yard touchdown was called back because of a penalty, but Iowa Park still managed to put points on the board on the drive after Terry hit Travis Cline with a 34-yard completion, followed by Duerson's 18-yard touchdown run with only 17 seconds left in the first half, giving the Hawks a 12-6 lead.

Another fumble recovery, this one by Tres Beisch, set up another score as Malcom Wise found the end zone from 17 yards out to boost the lead to 18-6.

Iowa Park made it 24-6 in the fourth quarter when Terry hooked up with Beisch on a 21-yard TD pass. The final touchdown was set up when Andrew LaBrier blocked a Decatur punt and returned it to the 12, where fullback Brian Miller scored. Josh Parker added the two-point run to make the final 32-6.

Offensive standouts for the Hawks included Duerson, Wise, Cline, Jeremy Dorzab, Jason Willingham and Thomas Brake.

Defensive players of the game were LaBrier, Dillard, Clint Thompson, Parker and Toby Williams.

Iowa Park will take on Stamford tonight following the freshmen game at Hawk Stadium.

Frosh Hawks undefeated

The freshman Hawks remained perfect and ran their record to 3-0 with a 24-12 win over the Decatur Eagles Thursday night at Hawk Stadium.

Iowa Park got on the board on the first play of the second quarter when Aaron Duran scored from 20 yards out. Ryan Huff added the two-point conversion to make the score 8-0. The score was set up when Troy Tatom intercepted an Eagle pass on Decatur's third play from scrimmage.

Decatur literally scrambled back into the game on a 50-yard scamper by the quarterback to cut the lead to 8-6. The Eagles attempt to tie the score on the point-after failed, leaving the Hawks on top by two.

Iowa Park took over with just over four minutes left in the half and cashed in for a touchdown with only 48 seconds remaining when Tyler Pulley scored from 3 yards out. Pulley then connected with Scotty Mitchell for the two-point conversion to raise the Iowa Park lead to 16-6 at the half.

The Hawks made it 24-6 in the third quarter when Pulley scored his second touchdown of the game, this one capped a 78-yard drive. He also scored the point after.

Decatur added a late touchdown to make the final score 24-12.

Outstanding offensive players of the game included, Pulley, Duran, and Shane Dunn. Defensively, Damon Fox, Bryan Swanson and Tatom were all credited with outstanding efforts.

Iowa Park will be looking to make it 4-0 tonight when they play host to Stamford at 5:30.

Hawks

Continued from page 1 and cheer us on last week," Nelms said. "I know it's a long trip to Stamford this week, but we'd like to see everyone back out to support the team this week before we return home for our homecoming game next week."

West Texas Nursery offers advice, seedlings

A West Texas nursery is planning conservation throughout two-thirds of the state, while also lending a helping hand to High Plains producers.

For the last 18 years the Texas Forest Service (TFS) West Texas Nursery (WTN) has grown windbreak seedlings, evergreen and deciduous trees and shrubs, for landowners from the coast of Corpus Christi to Texline in the Panhandle.

The WTN's primary objective is to produce and sell quality seedlings at a price that landowners can afford, enabling them to plant large quantities of trees to establish multiple row windbreaks.

Windbreaks are trees and shrubs systematically planted adjacent to fields, homesteads, or feedlots as a barrier to reduce or redirect the wind. They create permanent, natural protection and habitat for wildlife, reduce erosion and increase land value and aesthetics.

Annually, the WTN grows approximately 200,000 evergreens of eight different species in its two irrigated greenhouses and about 400,000 bare-root seedlings in its eight-acre field nursery. The trees are grown from seed collected by the nursery staff.

Each year the seedlings are sold and delivered through 93 participating Soil and Water Conservation Districts (SWCD) around the state. The date of delivery, beginning in January, is dependent on the planting season within the delivery region.

But the WTN's service does not halt at production. Nursery staff members also assist High Plains producers by taking conservation from the greenhouse to the field.

Upon the request of a High Plains landowner, the TFS WTN will meet with the landowner, discuss the protection needs and design a windbreak plan according to those needs. Landowners willing to follow the guidelines listed within their plan are then personally assisted by the TFS in planting the windbreak.

Qualifying landowners must own at least 160 acres.

The TFS supplies a tree planter, which plants 400 to 500 seedlings per hour, and a fabric layer, rolling out a UV synthetic fabric over the seedlings. The fabric conserves moisture and reduces weeds.

The TFS assists in planting field, livestock, homestead and wildlife windbreaks and living snow fences. In 1995 the TFS assisted High Plains landowners in planting 14 miles of windbreaks.

Producers, be it the farmer or rancher, interested in windbreak protection can begin ordering seedlings this fall for the 1997 planting season at participating SWCDs. For more information contact your local district, or for assistance in planting a multiple row windbreak contact the TFS WTN at (806) 746-5801.
