Park some time in the future.

The council approved rezoning of a 13.2-acre tract of land that fronts West Highway, known as "Barbour pipeyard," from light industrial to commercial.

Included in the ordinance besides rezoning was the official closing of portions of three streets and the alleys which were designated in that area.

Another ordinance approved during the meeting accepted the replat of property which fronts First Street, at the request of owner Michael Sewell.

The council accepted the lowest of four bids offered on a one-ton cab and chassis truck, which will be used at the water and wastewater treatment plants.

The bid submitted by Larry Slack Ford-Mercury of Burkburnett was $15,990. Highest of the bids received was $17,262.

Council members approved the appointment of Fred Daume as the community's representative to the Wichita Appraisal District.

The city and school have for years alternated naming a representative, and this was the school's year to make its nomination. The city had earlier re-elected Marc Newman as its representative.

Representatives of Little League Girls Softball asked that the city allow the use of Burnett Field for its senior league games.

Because a part of the request included infusion of some city funds, in order to get the field into playable condition, Mayor Tim Hunter told the representatives to put down in writing what the cost estimate was, how much the organization could put up, and a meeting would be scheduled to work out details.

It was pointed out that the city's budget for the year had already been adopted, and expenses for the field were not included.

The council later went into executive session, during which they met with attorneys concerning litigation.

Discussed with legal council were a suit brought by Harold Swanson and Cheryl Cook against the City of Iowa Park and Jack McGuinn, and another in which Jack McGuinn is suing the City of Iowa Park and Ray Smock.

No action was taken once the council resumed its meeting in open session.

Also during the meeting, the council observed the swearing in of Jason Jones, the city's newest police officer, and aldermen reaffirmed next Monday as a work session concerning an attempt to have a golf course developed here. That meeting is to begin at 7 p.m., and it is open to the general public.

Chamber luncheon Monday

Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce will hold its annual All-Membership Luncheon at noon Monday, at the Recreational Activities Club.

Guest speaker for the event will be Frank Terlizzi, manager of the Iowa Park Cryovac plant.

The meeting serves as the organization's annual business event, at which time new officers and directors for 1997 will be elected.

The newly-elected officers will be installed during the Chamber's annual banquet in January.

Reservations for the catered luncheon should be made by Friday, at the Chamber office. Tickets are $5.50 per person.

NEWS BRIEFS

City receives .38-inch rainfall

Iowa Park received more than a quarter of an inch precipitation Wednesday.

Virgil Woodfin reported he had measured .38 of an inch Thursday morning.

Hawks meeting Wylie Friday in bi-district

The Hawks are back where they expected to be following Friday night's win over Bowie.

For the second year in a row, head coach Weldon Nelms has directed his team into the Class 3-A State Playoffs. Last season Iowa Park came close but couldn't advance past the opening round, losing to Boyd in bi-district.

This year, things aren't any easier as the Hawks will square off against Abilene Wylie in a bi-district game scheduled for a 7:30 p.m. kickoff at Clark Field in Fort Worth tomorrow night.

The Bulldogs enter the game with a perfect 10-0 record following last week's 42-6 win over Clyde, which was unbeaten at the time.

Wylie, the District 6-3A champions, are led by their 145-lb. senior tailback Jacob Pruitt, who accounts for nearly 75 percent of the Bulldogs total offense. Pruitt totaled over 230 yards in total offense in the win over Clyde.

Brady Hall is the quarterback for the Bulldogs and does a good job throwing the ball according to Iowa Park coaches. Wylie's offensive line averages 205 pounds and they do a good job opening holes for Pruitt and their big fullback to run through.

Defensively, the Bulldogs run a base 5-2 with one of their best players in Justin Scott playing the nose guard. According to coaches, Scott likes to shoot the gaps and cause confusion in

Directions to Clark Stadium

Clark Stadium is located in Southeast Fort Worth. Take I-20 off 35W, or traveling East on the Southwest Loop, and exit at Wichita Street. Turn left under the overpass, and the stadium will be within sight on your left.

Fans who followed the Hawk baseball team in 1993 when it played at Goldstein Stadium will remember the football stadium that was right next to it. (That year, the baseball team just happened to have defeated Abilene Wylie, by the way, and met Graham there.)

the backfield. The defensive line averages only about 185-lbs. per man, but their quickness and stunts are what gives teams problems. Aaron Calhoun leads the linebackers and is quick to read the play and reacts well to the ball. Their secondary does a good job of keeping things in front of them and they haven't been prone to giving up the big play much.

One of the things Wylie likes to do is to line up in different formations and try and confuse opponents on defense. They like to move Pruitt around and try and get him the ball in the passing game, where he can get one-on-one with the defensive player.

"This is a great time of the season," said coach Nelms. "The kids are excited and ready to play. From here on out every game is a championship game for us and the team that is hungry and not just content to be in the playoffs is the one that will advance. We saw what it was like to be in the playoffs last year and this time we want to move on to the next level." Coach Nelms and his team aren't in awe of Wylie's 10-0 record and feel like they can play with anybody.

"Wylie's opponents are not weak but they're not that strong either," Nelms added. "Their non-district wins are over Snyder, Graham and Hamlin, and none of those teams made the playoffs. They only beat Graham by a field goal. They're a good team but I think they're beatable. We're going to have to play well and control the ball and not turn it over on offense and on defense, we're going to have to make adjustments to their different formations."

"We need to have a balanced attack both rushing and passing the ball," Nelms said. "We have to take what the defense gives you. Their secondary will give up some short passes and we have to be patient and make the plays to keep drives alive."

Iowa Park will have starting quarterback Todd Yeager back on the field for the game against the Bulldogs as his bruised elbow that caused him to leave the Bowie game in the third quarter has improved.

"I thought Todd looked better throwing the ball today than he has looked in the last three weeks," Nelms said. "We will not have Brandon Green or Wally Wahl this week, but I know the kids will pick up the slack like they have all season long when we have had someone get hurt."

"I know Fort Worth is a long trip," Nelms added. "But I'd like to see another crowd like we had in Bowie to cheer us on. The kids deserve it. They are playing hard and with a lot of class and pride. Iowa Park hasn't won a playoff game since 1986, but this one could be the one."

City-wide, super pep rally Friday

All residents are encouraged to join every student in Iowa Park schools for a super pep rally at 9:45 a.m. Friday in Hawk Stadium, as the Hawks prepare to leave for the bi-district game that evening against Abilene Wylie. It will be 45 minutes in duration.

All 2,000 students in Iowa Park schools will be in attendance, so adults are asked to sit in the South (visitors' side) stands.

A special treat during the rally will be the award-winning performance of the Mean Green Marching Machine.

Should bad weather prohibit the event being held in the stadium, it will be moved inside to the gymnasium, but the elementary and junior high students will not be in attendance.

Citizens launch study of school needs

A large group of community members, teachers and administrators, who had been asked to serve on a task force to study school facilities, met last Thursday night in the Junior High School library.

At their Oct. 24 board meeting, trustees authorized Supt. Mike Caplinger to form a task force of citizens to study the needs on each campus and, if needed, make recommendations to the school board.

According to a survey done over a year ago by SHW Group Inc., all four campuses in the Iowa Park school district are operating close to or beyond student capacity. The study pointed out that there is not adequate space for the projected increase in student enrollment.

At the beginning of the task force meeting, Supt. Caplinger gave a brief overview of the school district's financial situation, and reasons for forming the study group.

He explained how a $30-million increase in the district's tax base had created a problem. The state computes its payments to school districts on a two-year sliding scale with penalties for wealthier districts which, in their estimation, don't have a high enough tax rate. The more a district taxes, the more state aid it receives.

The average tax rate in the state is $1.40. Iowa Park, at $1.14, is considered a low tax effort.

Because state funding is determined every two years, this sets a benchmark that will be in effect through 1998-99.

In a letter sent out to potential task force members, Caplinger wrote, "Facing the need for facilities at each campus, and the prospect of little

Trash pickup change told

Beginning next week, all residents of the city who have 90-gallon roll-out carts will have their pick-up dates changed.

Curb-side pick-up for that size roll-out containers will be on Mondays, according to Belvin Lytle, public works director, and that begins next Monday.

The change of schedule is due to the type of truck that will be collecting the trash.

The city is sending out letters to all residents using the 90-gallon carts, informing them of the changes.

Those who do not receive the notification by mail should contact city hall to make sure their name is on the list of residents having a roll-out cart. This is necessary in order for the truck driver to know he is picking up all of the carts.

Therefore, residents who set out their carts on Monday, and it is not picked up by Tuesday, should notify city hall, and it will be taken care of.

Residents using the roll-out carts are reminded that if they have extra trash which will not fit in their cart, it should be stacked beside the cart to be picked up.

"We appreciate the residents' patience and cooperation in this change," said Lytle. "Hopefully, there will be a smooth transition to the new time of collection."

Garden Club hears workshop on bulbs

Vickie Gilmore, an inactive member of Iowa Park Garden Club, directed a workshop for forcing bulbs when club members met Friday at the RAC.

A Thanksgiving motif was used by Jo Gilbert and Evelyn Thompson, hostesses for the meeting.

Mrs. Gilmore displayed five varieties of bulbs. The group chose to plant three or four paperwhites in a clay pot.

By putting the pots in darkness for a couple of weeks, then in the light, blooms should be enjoyed during the holidays, Mrs. Gilmore explained.

During the business meeting, directed by Bonnie Illingworth, president, a committee was chosen to select names to be presented to members at the first meeting in December.

Election of the new officers will be at the first meeting in January and installed at the last meeting in May. The nominating committee is composed of Jimmy Aston, Louise Clapp, and Norma Fortner.

Aretas Spruiell distributed the "Visions of Beauty" calendars to members who had ordered them.

A tribute "To Friendship", a poem by Eleanor Long, was read by Mrs. Fortner, chaplain, as the thought for the day.

Wards celebrate 50th wedding anniversary

James G. and Dorothy S. Ward of Kamay were honored at a reception Saturday in celebration of their Golden Wedding Anniversary.

Hosting the event at the Kamay Fire Department Recreation Center for relatives and friends were their sons and wives and their children.

Ward and Dorothy St. John were married Nov. 8, 1946 in Abilene. They had met in 1944 at Reno Army Air Base where both were stationed during World War II and both were on softball teams. Someone asked Ward how they met and he replied, "I met her on second base"---an honest answer.

The couple's first date was to go on a softball trip.

Ward was reared at Swenson, graduated high school there and enrolled in what then was Abilene Christian College. He attended three years before enlisting in the service.

He served four years in the Army Air Corps and was PT instructor at the base gym. He was discharged as a Tech Sergeant.

He also had five brothers who served in World War II and the Korean Conflict.

After his discharge Ward returned to ACC, earning his BS Degree. He earned his Masters in Education from Texas Tech University. The Wards were married a year after their discharge. Dorothy attended each of the schools after their marriage.

James worked in school systems, one year each in New Deal and Wilson, near Lubbock, as class room teacher and coach.

The rest of the time he was at Lazbuddie, Valley View and Iowa Park. A total of 18 years as superintendent and 16 years as principal. He retired in 1984, but still is employed part-time in the Iowa Park School system. He is a member of the American Association of Retired Teachers.

Dorothy was born at Benninton, Okla. and graduated high school there. She worked one year in air craft factories in Tulsa and Wichita, Kans., before entering the service. She and her sister enlisted at the same time. She was a clerk typist. At the time of her discharge she was a corporal.

In addition to Dorothy and her sister, they had four brothers who served in World War II. One was killed in the Normandy Invasion.

After Dorothy's discharge, she attended Draughon's Business School in Dallas. She worked 18 years as a part-time secretary in Lazbuddie and Valley View and retired from Family Housing at Sheppard Air Force Base.

The Wards have two sons, Mike, who is married to the former Sandra Mishoe, and Paul who is married to the former Jenefer Croy. Their son, John, died in 1991. He was married to Mona Szenasi. She now lives in Grapevine. The Wards also have four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren in the Iowa Park area.

James and Dorothy have lived in the Valley View community 33 years. They are members of the Kamay Church of Christ.

Their hobbies all pertain to sports, card games, dominoes and being with family and friends.

James is interested in and has played and coached baseball, softball, and basketball.

Dorothy is a bridge enthusiast and received a silver medal in the recent North Texas Senior Classic. She also is a member of the Bridge Clubs that regularly meet at the Iowa Park RAC.

SANTA'S CASTLE

Pre-registration is a MUST for the children to attend this program. Each group will spend an hour participating in four different 15-minute time frames, starting on the hour, quarter hour or half hour time slot. Registration will end Friday, Nov. 29.

Since we have such a big response in attendance already signed up, we will need volunteers for Mondays Dec. 9 and 16 and Wednesdays Dec. 11 and 18. Those who would like to help with crafts, videos, Santa or Mrs. Claus areas please give us a call.

A first this year is the fact that we will need to ask for a donation of one dollar from each child to help offset the expenses of ceramic pieces and snacks.

If you have any questions, please feel free to call, 592-4981.

FFA members to help at national convention

Almost any event becomes more intriguing when you're behind the scenes. The national FFA convention, which includes everything from arena stage events and laser light shows to dances and workshops for its 37,000 attendees, is no exception.

Nearly 1,000 FFA members, including four students from the Iowa Park FFA Chapter, will form the Courtesy Corps and view this year's convention from the other side - backstage, in the newsroom and as hosts throughout the convention center - playing a crucial role in event logistics. The 69th National FFA Convention will be Nov. 13-16 in Kansas City, Mo.

Members volunteering from the Iowa Park FFA Chapter are Clint Myers, Ross Dillard, Mindy Atchley, and Katy Williamson. The chapter FFA advisor is Ray Dillard.

"Participants in the Courtesy Corps provide valuable services for the overall convention operation," said National FFA Advisor Larry D. Case. "FFA gains a tremendous resource, and the participant gain great volunteer experience and an insight into the planning and logistics necessary to ensure a safe and successful convention. They are key to our ability to create a premier leadership and educational event for our 37,000 guests."

increase in state funding over the next few years, we find ourselves at a critical time balancing needs with affordability." He added that as a newcomer to the district, the task force will give him a greater perspective of where the community wants to go as a school district.

Following the orientation, the group divided into committees, one for each campus. Each committee selected a chairman and set a time to visit their designated campus.

Each committee will present its recommendations to the entire task force for study and review.

The next meeting of the entire task force will be at 7 p.m., Nov. 21, in the junior high library. During that meeting, a general chairman and recording secretary will be selected.

Brag on emergency care

Dear Bob,
I want to brag on our young men who service our 911 services. I'm late doing this but better late than never. About a month ago I fell, at night, in my bathroom. My husband called 911 and it seemed like he barely hung the phone up and they were here. Assuredly I had broken my hip and had Wichita Falls on the way. Minutes later I was on my way to Wichita General.

We are very proud of our little town and can't sing our praises too loud for these young men that take care of us.

Jeanne L. Gray

Letters to Editor policy explained

The Leader receives numerous letters which cannot, for one reason or another, be published.

Letters will not be printed unless they are signed. A typed name will not do. And, for the sake of verification, the writer's telephone should be included.

Should the writer not wish his/her name printed, it will be omitted upon request. However, the letter will be kept on file to be read upon request.

Letters also must be free of libel. If not, they will not be published, because we will not edit the content of any letter.

In letters supporting political candidates or issues, the Leader reserves the right to limit their lengths.

We encourage your Letters to the Editor, and offer the paper space as your forum for discussions of ideas and observations.

Tree guide available

"What Tree Is That?," a pocket guide for identifying trees, is available free-of-charge from The National Arbor Day Foundation.

The 72-page guide will help you identify 135 different trees found in the eastern and central U.S.

Well-known trees are included: oaks, maples, spruces, and pines. Also species such as horsechestnut and mockernut hickory, sassafras and shadbush, persimmon and pawpaw and pagodatree and pecan.

Dozens of drawings illustrate the trees' leaves or needles and their acorns, berries, seed pods, cones, etc. "What Tree Is That?" is organized to make it easy to identify trees in a simple step-by-step fashion.

"Helping people enjoy and appreciate trees is central to the educational mission of the Arbor Day Foundation," John Rosenow, the Foundation's president, said. "Being able to identify trees is important to knowing how to plant the right tree in the right place."

To obtain your free tree ID guide, send your name and address to "What Tree Is That?," The National Arbor Day Foundation, Nebraska City, NE, 68410.

As I See It... By Bob Hamilton

Willie Nelson made a song popular that applies to me, and I'm sure most Iowa Park residents:

"On the road again."

I thought of it on our way home Friday night from the football game at Bowie.

We're on the road again, in high school athletics. We're backing our Hawks in their effort for another state championship.

Gosh, how I love it!

Iowa Park's athletic teams down through the years have brought more recognition to our school and community than we could ever have hoped.

And, along with it, our residents unify behind these fine youths -- it makes no difference whether it's athletics, music or academics, we unify and share the glory being earned by our young folks.

If you've lived in a small town most of your life, this type of unity of citizens isn't anything new.

But, if you'll stop and think about it, Iowa Park is no longer a small town... we don't really know each other that well because some of us are new, some of us don't work here, and some of us maybe haven't taken the time to meet our neighbors.

But when we have a situation of general interest, we become unified.

Last Friday was a typical example of which I was reminded. We had an outstanding turnout of fans at the game in Bowie. There's no question in my mind that we outnumbered Bowie's residents.

There were several fans I saw who formerly lived here, but live elsewhere, and wanted to see the game.

On the way home, there was another familiar sight: nothing but tail lights as far as one could see. Sure, it was on busy US 287, but I'll tell you that most of those were Iowa Parkans on their way home.

A suggestion to those of you who haven't lived here long, and don't have a youngster in high school:

Come with us; attend the pep rallies; attend the games, you'll like being involved.

Like someone else once said: "Try it, you'll like it!"

They looked like General Patton's troops marching toward Bastogne.

Is a couple of pieces of candy that great of a commodity?

Okay, that's it. I feel much better and I would like to thank everybody for letting me vent my feelings this way. If you agreed with any of my whining -- that's fine. If you disagree though with some or all of it -- well, that's fine also.

Everyone has their own pet peeves and I realize that I'm fortunate to have a place to air mine.

I'll try not to make a habit of it but releasing a little frustration every now and then seems to really help. I seem to turn me into a new man.

Unfortunately that man happens to be Andy Rooney.

SEAN McBETH
Burkburnett Informer/Star

WORTH QUOTING

Three unrelated items really bugged me last week.

Instead of holding in all my frustrations though I'm going to release my tension via Borderline and hopefully, finally, achieve some degree of inner peace. At least until something else starts bugging me which should give me inner peace for maybe... 15 minutes.

Here they are in no particular order and presented with as little tact as possible.

The Election - As I've stated before I am not a Republican or a Democrat. There are certain relatively important issues that align me with one party and certain relatively important issues that align me with the other. More than anything though I feel that our two party system is in need of some major changes and I truly feel we'll see these changes early into the next century. Some kind of internal, peaceful revolution brought on by a disgruntled citizenry -- would be my prediction.

I will say this though.

I believe the public received the most one sided, biased media coverage of a presidential election in the history of our country. I think it was subtle... but very very strong.

Without a doubt, the majority of the major media outlets in this country are being run by journalists who are ultra liberal Democrats. Most of them are even starting to admit it in public.

Bleeding heart liberals really bug me.

- That Paper - The Wichita Falls Times and Record News (also known as "That Thar Paper" by us rednecks) covered a relatively minor disciplinary action at Burkburnett High School as if it was the Kent State riot.

My gosh, two front page reports, the second one -- the day's lead story, about a couple of guys getting sent home from school because of the way their faces were painted for Halloween. I can hear Dan Rather now.

"President Clinton and presidential candidate Bob Dole today began their final march... wait a minute... this just in... Bulletin... two boys in Burkburnett, Texas were sent home from school today for painting their faces!"

I think this little series by the W.F.T.R.N. was a thinly disguised effort to draw away or deflect the public's attention from the Wichita Falls high schools... where there are some REAL problems.

And I mean REAL PROBLEMS.

- Trick or Treaters - Halloween has come and gone for another year and I know for a fact that the little ones had a great time with their annual fright night activities. The Fall Family Festival, sponsored by the First Baptist Church, was a life saver to many of the parents and kids who shortened their usual route due to the cold, rainy weather. From what I hear, it was a great little activity that turned out to be pretty big.

I swear though if one more rude 15 year old kid, without a costume, carrying a pillowcase... had come to my door... I think I would have let out a blood curdling scream that would have sent all the ghosts and goblins back to the safety of their homes.

Next year there will be two bowls at our house: one filled with candy for the little ones and the other filled with candy wrapped notes that say "you are too old to be trick or treating... please go home where you belong!"

I think the rude teenager platoon outnumbered the little ones by at least 4-1 this year. Even after I turned off the porch light and closed the curtains at 9 p.m., they still rang my doorbell. I would step outside and watch these teens, trotting down the street, flanking a slow moving vehicle and practically running over the little ones. Their mission... to fill those precious pillowcases all the way to the top."

Registration materials are available in the high school counselor's office, or you may call Nancy Young or LaRae Collins, 592-2144.

BRADFORD

Rockin' with the seniors

Fourth graders performed their program "Rockin' 50's," for Iowa Park High School seniors Monday...a step back in time in more than one way.

The senior class presented the same program when they were fourth graders.

According to Bradford Principal Pat Cravens, the production was a hit for both.

Indian study continues

Fifth grade students continued their study of Indians, with local well-known western artist Jack Stevens addressing the social studies classes Monday.

Last week the classes worked on Teepees, and this week began totem poles.

That time again

Check those backpacks! Report cards for the second six weeks grading period are being sent home today.

Food being collected

Bradford students are collecting food to be given to Iowa Park families.

Students may bring canned goods and other non-perishable food items to the school, which will be distributed through the Iowa Park Food Pantry.

G/T Classes to take trip

Bradford's third, fourth and fifth grade Gifted and Talented classes will take a trip to the Brahm's dairy, and a science museum Monday in Oklahoma.

The classes will leave at 7 a.m. and return at 7 p.m.

District-wide pep rally

A district-wide pep rally for the play-off bound varsity Hawks will be held at 9:30 a.m. Friday in Hawk stadium, with students from all campuses to attend.

The 45-minute rally will feature the Mean Green Marching Machine's state award-winning performance. The pep rally is open to the entire community, and school officials are urging citizens to attend.

Parents are reminded to dress their children warmly, as temperatures are expected to be cold that morning for the outdoor event.

KIDWELL

A T- for the letter T

Tuesday is T-Shirt day for Kindergarten.

T-Shirts will be worn as part of the study of the letter "T."

Report card day!

Say cheese...again

Picture retakes for Kidwell students has been set for Friday.

Re-takes will be taken of students who were absent on the first picture day or who had unsatisfactory pictures.

Second Graders to give program

Kidwell's second graders will present their program "Ameri-Kids," at 7 p.m. Tuesday at the high school auditorium.

The patriotic program is open to the public, and admission is free.

Time to give thanks... and canned goods

Kidwell's annual canned good drive has begun.

Students may bring canned goods and other non-perishable food items to the school through November. Everything collected will be distributed through the Iowa Park Food Pantry.

GO HAWKS!

Substitute QB comes through

Jake Dillard got to live out a dream that every boy who has ever picked up a football has had at one time or another.

This is to go into the biggest game of the season and lead his team to a score that would win the game.

Dillard came on in the third quarter, after the starting quarterback Todd Yeager had to leave the game with a bruised elbow, and with the game still very much in question, drove the Hawks 85 yards in 14 plays to set up Keith Trammell, who knocked home a 26-yard field goal with 2:17 left on the clock as Iowa Park advanced to the playoffs for the second consecutive year with a 22-11 victory over Bowie.

Following a Bowie touchdown run and two-point conversion run by Aaron Kernek that cut the Iowa Park lead to 19-11 with 9:03 remaining, the Hawks found themselves in a hole with the momentum all on the Bowie sideline.

Iowa Park took the kickoff following the Kernek touchdown at the Hawks' 15 and after a pair of runs, one by Shawn Fulfer and the other by Brandon Brown that netted only one yard, the Hawks were facing a crucial third-and-nine from the Bowie 16. Dillard, taking his first snaps of the season at quarterback, rolled to his right and found Brown in the flat for an 11-yard gain and a first down to keep the drive alive. It was the first pass Dillard had thrown this season and the only completion for the evening for the Hawks.

Eleven plays later, Trammell's field goal put the game out of reach and sent the Hawks into the playoffs where they will take on Abilene Wylie in Fort Worth at 7:30 Friday night.

"It wasn't pretty, but it got there," said Dillard. "I was nervous, but after that pass play things got better."

SHAWN FULFER PICKS UP BIG YARDAGE

The way the game started out, no one would have ever thought that there would be any need for any heroics as Iowa Park took the opening kickoff and drove the ball 71 yards in 7 plays, capped by Yeager's 4-yard touchdown to go on top 6-0 with 9:19 left in the first quarter.

A questionable pass interference call on Bowie's opening possession led to a 27-yard field goal by Dustin Hunter that cut the Iowa Park lead to 6-3 with 6:03 remaining in the first.

Iowa Park went on top by 10, at 13-3 with 7:45 left in the half, when the Hawks took advantage of a short punt by Bowie. Iowa Park took over at the Rabbits' 37-yard line and five plays later Fulfer scored from two yards out to pad the lead. Trammell's point after made the score 13-3.

The Hawks held a huge edge in every offensive category at the half, including a 107 edge in rushing yards, a 9-3 edge in first downs and a 43-6 edge in penalties.

The latter edge is what kept the Hawks from enjoying a comfortable lead. Three first-half drives were ended with holding calls against Iowa Park.

The Hawks increased their lead to 19-3 in the third quarter when Brown scored on a 43-yard run with 1:27 left in the quarter.

Brown finished the game with 165 yards rushing on 19 carries, while Fulfer finished with 75 yards on 21 tries. Hunter led Bowie with 110 yards on 11 attempts.

The Hawk defense also came up big in the game as the secondary held Bowie's big receiver, Thor Thornhill, who came into the game with 860 yards in receptions, without a catch. Iowa Park also intercepted three passes, two by Yeager and the third by safety Chad Graham.

Bowie, under first year head coach Paul Hurst, finished the season at 4-6 overall and 2-2 in district play.
