Trustees work on budget without firm numbers

Without firm tax figures, school board members began work on the 1997-98 budget during a special called meeting Thursday night in the junior high school library.

Despite efforts of administrative personnel in cutting budget requests, the school district apparently will still be short on funding for this year's budget.

Although over $300,000 has been cut from this year's budget, with the state-mandated teacher's salary increase, which came to $234,031 locally, the budget is still $169,374 over expected revenues. Revenue totals were reached using figures that will apply if the statewide constitutional amendment passes on Aug. 9.

If approved, the constitutional amendment would increase the school tax exemption on homesteads from the present maximum of $5,000 to $15,000. Also, a pay raise for teachers is included in the legislation.

Supt. Mike Caplinger said that they are having to work with limited information since everything hinges on whether the amendment passes.

Sharon Powell, the district's business manager, went over the budget figures with board members.

Caplinger was highly complimentary of principals and department heads for their cooperation in making budget cuts. "They understand the financial condition the school district is in and that cuts were necessary," he said.

Cuts include: high school $81,150; junior high, $60,452; Bradford Elementary, $55,783; Kidwell Elementary, $28,645; athletics, $68,200; and band, $19,300. There will also be reductions in student TAAS incentives, student extracurricular meals, teacher stipends for college hours, summer schools, replacement of one choir director, reduction of bus purchase to lease-purchase, and others.

The district discovered it was in financial trouble last year when state funding was cut because of the existing low tax rate.

The Texas Education Agency computes its payments to school districts on a two-year sliding scale with penalties for wealthier districts that, in their estimation, don't have a high enough tax rate. The more a district taxes, the more state aid it receives. The district has kept its tax rate low over the years, being in the bottom 10 percent of all Texas schools. Now schools are required to tax higher to secure increased state funding, and Iowa Park is being penalized for being a "low tax effort" school district, local officials said.

Iowa Park's tax rate is currently $1.14. It was pointed out that in order to apply for a grant, a school's tax rate should be at least $1.30. Supt. Caplinger suggested that trustees might want to raise the local tax rate eight-cents this year putting the rate at $1.22, pointing out that right now there is a window of opportunity in which the district could go eight-cents above the current $1.14 and not face a rollback election.

Following a closed session to discuss resignations and employment of personnel, trustees voted to accept the resignation of Wendell Allen, and to employ four new teachers.

Allen, who was I.S.S. and A.E.P. teacher, resigned to accept another position in Archer City.

New teachers hired are Sabra Dell Wright, Carolyn J. Evans, Ryan Jay Menasco, and Kimberly Raylynn Huff.

Mrs. Wright, who will teach music at Bradford Elementary, has taught at schools in Irving, Phoenix, Ariz., and Wichita Falls. A graduate of Irving High School, she received her Bachelor of Music Education degree at Tarleton State Univ., worked toward her degree in Elementary Education at Arizona State Univ., and received a Masters of Education degree at Northern Arizona Univ.

Evans, who attended Iowa Park schools and graduated Wichita Falls High School, received a BSIS/English degree from Midwestern State Univ. in 1996. She will be replaced by Wendell Allen as I.S.S. and A.E.P. teacher.

Menasco will fill a coaching position at the junior high, replacing David May who is being moved to the high school. May will fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Jeff Standard. Menasco is a graduate of Holliday High School and Midwestern State University, where he majored in Sport Exercise Science and minored in biology. Last year he was a teacher and coach for Woodson ISD.

Huff was hired as the new girls' head basketball coach. A graduate of Texas A&M Univ., she has been a teacher and coach at Birdville ISD, and Richland High School.

Earlier in the meeting, Dee Holly, mother of a City View student, appeared before the board. She was requesting that her son be allowed to attend Iowa Park High School under the district's sibling policy.

Keith Fisher, board president, told her that the trustees needed time to discuss the matter, and they would let her know something next week.

Referring to the acceptance, at the June 12 meeting, of Dwight Jones Agency as student/athletic insurance carrier for the 1997-98 year, Coach Weldon Nelms told the board that it was discovered that not all carriers involved in the bidding were aware that the district would consider a PPO approach. Nelms then contacted the carriers and asked for new bids.

After considering the new bids, trustees voted to rescind their vote, taken at the earlier meeting, accepting the Dwight Jones bid, and approved the bid of Lamar Life.

Other bids considered and approved by the board included those for cafeteria food/nonfood items, and bread, milk, and ice cream.

Other action taken by the board included:

- * second reading and approval of Iowa Park CISD Policy Update 55;
- * approved the Local District Policy Update concerning Bus Driver Alcohol and Drug Testing;
- * approved the Local District Policy Update concerning Planning and Decision Making, and another concerning state leave, and the Family and Medical Leave Act; and
- * approved amendment to local policy regarding payment of student meals for extracurricular travel activities.

TWO IOWA PARKANS were transported to a Wichita Falls hospital, following a two-car collision Friday evening at the intersection of Pacific and Magnolia. Jonathan Russell Eastep, 23, and Tonya Daniel Gray, 28, were traveling north on Pacific when a vehicle containing two Vernon men, Reva Hackney Hardin, 66, and John B. Hardin, 70, crossed into their path after stopping at the east-bound Magnolia stop sign.

Student registration, orientation next week

New student registration and orientations for Iowa Park schools will begin next week.

Kidwell Elementary will hold new student registrations for Pre-kindergarten through second grade beginning Tuesday from 8:30 a.m. to noon, and 1 to 3 p.m.

Sixth through eighth grade students who are new to the school district may register Monday and Tuesday from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Sixth grade students can pick up schedules, locker assignments and lock combinations Aug. 8 from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Junior high Principal Randy Lovelady announced that junior high students will be allowed to use backpacks this school year, provided they can be folded or hung inside a locker. Backpacks will not be allowed in classrooms.

All new high school students not previously enrolled in the Iowa Park school district should go to the high school counselor's office Friday and Monday from 8 a.m. to noon or 1 to 3 p.m.

Earlier students to the district will need to bring a shot record and a previous school transcript.

Freshman orientation will be held at 1 p.m. Aug. 8 in the Iowa Park High School cafeteria.

There will be a short video, a time for questions and students will be able to walk around the school to help them feel more comfortable when school starts.

The program portion of the meeting will last approximately 20 minutes and parents are welcome to attend.

Anyone with questions should call 592-2144.

City seeks voluntary annexations

Letters to be mailed to property owners adjoining the city limits, but not within the city limits, are being mailed by Administrator Mike Price, soliciting them to seek voluntary annexation.

The letters were approved by members of the city council, during their regularly-scheduled meeting Monday evening.

Aldermen had previously been under the impression that such property could be involuntarily annexed, if it were contiguous with the city limits and received city services such as water and/or sewer.

However, the laws governing annexation were researched by city attorney Jay Cantrell, revealing the council's plight.

Council members at a previous meeting had discussed the need of not only better defining the city limits' irregular outline, but also the need of expanding its extraterritorial jurisdiction in view of announced intentions of neighboring Wichita Falls.

Iowa Park operates under a General Law charter, which is different from a Home Rule charter. Specifics of a General Law charter are established in the state constitution.

Because Iowa Park has the population qualifying it to adopt a Home Rule charter, and hasn't, it is not eligible to enact involuntary annexations, Cantrell pointed out.

Price's letter makes the point that most residents who are not in the city likely would save money by seeking annexation.

Using figures based on a home valued at $45,000, and receiving city water, sewer, trash service, and tax on the trash service, he said the the homeowner's cost for a year was $434.40, as compared with $1,153.20 for those residing outside.

As far as ad valorem taxes are concerned, if the council adopts the rate it has been working on for next year, which is 69-cents, taxes would be $310.50.

Additionally, he points out in his letter that water customers living outside the city limits must pay a meter deposit of $100, while those inside the city pay only $40.

And, because of discussions by the county commissioners' court, the city's volunteer fire department could possibly stop responding to calls outside the city limits. That would be if the county makes partial financial funding to the department.

The second letter Price is sending out explains changes in extraterritorial jurisdiction which could be made, if Wichita Falls does expand its city limits closer to Iowa Park.

OTHER BUSINESS

An ordinance was adopted which allows the street department to take out the "yield" traffic sign on Wall at Valley Drive, and replace it with a "stop" sign. This was due to numerous accidents and near-accidents reported at that location.

Another ordinance approved extends by one year the Southwestern Bell Telephone franchise to serve city residents. The extension was sought due to changes being made by the Public Utilities Commission, but not yet finalized.

The administrator was authorized to advertise for proposals on a three-year contract for maintenance of the city's water distribution and wastewater collection system. The current contract with Monty's Plumbing expires in September.

Two resolutions, one concerning the city's grant application to the

Donations to help fund walking track

Iowa Park Rotary Club became the first organization to make a donation toward construction of a 1.5-mile walking track around Lake Gordon.

John Rentschler, president, announced during Monday night's meeting of the city council that the civic organization was donating $800 toward the project.

"Like the city, Rotary too is concerned about the quality of life in our community and this project will not only address that issue but also hopefully stimulate our area residents to a healthier lifestyle," Rentschler said.

The following day, members of the Iowa Park Lions Club voted their meeting to donate $250 toward funding the project. Other organizations, and some businesses, in the community also reportedly are planning to make similar donations to help build the concrete walkway, as well as an elevated crossing over the northern end, around the lake.

The city is sending this a request to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Dept. for a grant to aid in the estimated $100,000 project. Much of the city's portion, according to Administrator Mike Price, would be "in-kind" contributions, such as labor and equipment. Pouring and finishing of the contract is expected to be done by trustees from the Allred Unit.

Monday, McIlroy vows read Saturday

Amy Lychelle Monday, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Derrell Monday of Pampa, and Don Christopher McIlroy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam McIlroy of Iowa Park, solemnized their wedding vows Saturday afternoon at First Baptist Church.

The bride's father, pastor of Central Baptist Church of Pampa, officiated the double-ring ceremony.

Elegant use of candelabras provided illumination for the altar area during the ceremony.

A large fan-shaped candelabra centered the altar area, and was flanked by two spiral candelabras and a double heart candelabra. The unity candle was placed to one side of the altar and miniature carriage lanterns were placed near the piano and organ.

Each candelabra held burning votive candles and were decorated with arrangements of white wisteria and purple and gold pansies.

Pews were marked with white ribbon and tulle, accented with purple sweetheart roses.

Music played a special part in the wedding. Prelude music was provided by Mary Helen Thames and Glenna Via. While the mothers of the couple were being seated, the church tower Carillon played Bach's "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring." Erin Hefti offered a saxophone solo, "Household of Faith."

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Monday wore a long sleeveless princess-style gown of white romance satin. The V-shaped neckline was accented with a jeweled medallion.

The back of the bodice featured solid lace, and the lace pattern was repeated on appliques. The train of the gown was trimmed in lace with pearls and sequins.

Her gown was complemented with a double veil of white tulle, secured to a headband of tiny white roses and pearls.

She carried a tear-drop bouquet formed of white roses, white wisteria and purple irises, arranged on a white bridal Bible her mother carried at her wedding. Tucked inside was a handkerchief carried in the weddings of her mother, grandmother and great-grandmother.

Emily Monday of Alpine and Kathy Monday of Lubbock were maids of honor for their sister.

They wore identical princess style floor-length gowns of royal purple Windsor satin. The sleeveless gowns featured a cross design in the back finished with a bow. A presentation bouquet of white and purple roses complemented their attire.

David Warren of Iowa Park was best man for the groom.

Joel McIlroy of Iowa Park, brother of the groom, and Kevin

Mrs. Don Christopher McIlroy
(Amy Lychelle Monday)

Goodner of Wichita Falls were groomsmen.

Ushers were Jason Garrett of Fort Carson, Co., cousin of the bride; and P. Sam McIlroy of Electra, cousin of the groom.

The Fellowship Hall of the church was the site of the reception following the ceremony.

The Hall was centered with the bride's table, which featured the four-tiered bride's cake, each tier on a separate pedestal. The cake was flanked by brass candle holders decorated with purple and gold pansies and white wisteria.

The groom's table held a large chocolate cake, mints, nuts, punch and coffee. Brass containers held arrangements of purple and gold pansies.

The church hospitality committee served as the house party at the reception.

The gift table held a cherub water fountain surround by purple and gold pansies.

Birdseed bags were placed in a free-standing brass bowl which was accented with royal purple satin, white wisteria and purple and gold pansies.

Special guests for the wedding were Mary Cantrell of Mesquite, grandmother of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bertrand of Floydada, and Mr. and Mrs. Dub Monday of Mesa, Az., grandparents of the bride.

Out-of-town wedding guests included Mrs. Travis Jones of Floydada, and Mr. and Mrs. Marc Thames and Addison, sister of the groom and her family.

Following a wedding trip to Colorado, the couple will be at home in Iowa Park.

The couple are graduates of Iowa Park High School. The bride is attending Midwestern State Univ., and the groom is a graduate of Vernon Regional Junior College.

Health Notes
Selenium Cuts Cancer Risk
by Joe Hughes, R.P.H.
A study published recently in The Journal of the American Medical Association found significant reductions in certain cancers among people using a daily supplement containing 200 mcg. of selenium for more than four years. The study of over 1300 individuals who had been cured of skin cancer was originally designed to determine the effect of selenium on preventing the development of new skin cancers. While no protective benefit was shown for skin cancer, researchers did find that patients who took daily doses of selenium had 63% fewer cases of prostate cancer, 58% less colon or rectal cancers, and 45% fewer lung cancers than people who took a placebo. Furthermore, the group taking selenium had 50% fewer cancer deaths. Selenium is a mineral found mostly in soil, and vegetables grown in selenium-rich soil have the highest concentration. Selenium is known to preserve the elasticity of body tissues and is important for proper functioning of the immune system.

McElroy, Cook wed June 28 at Fort Sill

Kimberly Kay McElroy of Rush Springs, Okla., and First Lt. Christopher Wayne Cook of Lawton, Okla. exchanged wedding vows June 28, in Fort Sill's New Post Chapel.

The bride's parents are Mike and Kay McElroy of Rush Springs. She is the granddaughter of Lorena Landrum of Rush Springs and Mr. and Mrs. B.M. McElroy of Norman, Okla.

The groom is the son of Jimmy and Penny Cook of Iowa Park, and the grandson of Eugene McNeely of Wichita Falls.

An Americana theme was carried out in the decorations of the church. An arrangement of candles, placed among red and white roses, and baskets of assorted white flowers decorated the altar area. The pews were decorated with candles, accented with bows of gold, red and navy, and American tulle bows tied the white tulle which draped the columns.

Officiating at the double-ring ceremony were Tracy L. Wilson of Duncan, Okla., and Russell Detwiler of Wichita Falls.

Music was provided by vocalists, Vicki and Jeff Gelona of Ardmore, Okla., organist, J. Terpstra of Wichita Falls, and pianist, Anita Johns of Duncan.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, wore a white satin gown styled with a fitted bodice, a bow accenting the back waist, and a scalloped cathedral-length train. The neckline, bodice, sleeves and train were embellished with hand-beaded schiffli embroidered lace cutouts and sequins. Her fingertip veil was attached to a beaded and sequined crown.

Serving as matron of honor was Pree Presley of Kansas City, Mo., and bridesmaids were Shelley Biggs of Mansfield, Liz McElroy of Moore, Okla., Jennie Clayton of Fort Sill, and Angela Cook of Iowa Park.

They wore long dresses of navy blue crepe, featuring short sleeves and empire waists, and carried bouquets of red roses and white calla lilies.

Lisa Landrum of Shawnee, Okla. served as candlelighter. The flower girl, Kendyl Biggs, and ring bearer, Brenden Biggs, are both from Mansfield.

The groom's father, Jimmy Cook, served as best man. Groomsman were Dustin Kennedy of Oklahoma City, Eugene McNeely of Jonesboro, Ark.,

Chris Kalenak of Wichita Falls, and Steve Renner of Dayton, Ohio.

Kevin McElroy of Moore, Shawn Landrum of Tulsa, Okla., and Gene McNeely of Albuquerque, N.M. served as ushers.

The military arch of sabers was conducted immediately following the ceremony.

Saber bearers were 1LT Scott Moore, 1LT Shawn Beebe, 2LT Ralph Heaton, 2LT Jim Glover, SSG Brian Frazier, SSG Charles Dulaney, SSG Matthew Sanford, and SGT Mark Davis, all of Fort Sill.

A reception following the ceremony was held at the Fort Sill Officer's Club.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at Monterrey Jack's in Lawton.

The groom is a graduate of Iowa Park High School, and Eastern Oklahoma Univ. in Ada. He is a First Lieutenant in the Army, stationed at Fort Sill.

The bride is employed as a medical records consultant with the Cancer Registry in Oklahoma City.

Following a honeymoon in Tennessee, the couple will make their home in Lawton.

Mrs. Christopher Wayne Cook (Kimberly Kay McElroy)

As I See It... By Bob Hamilton

In less than a three-month period, my avid-reading wife Dolores came wagging home two books in which a couple of notable characters in our lives were subjects.

Both were welcomed reading, because it was one of those situations: We knew them when they weren't nationally prominent.

The first of the books she found is entitled Paper Tigers, in which Graham native Dean Singleton takes up an entire chapter.

The second, Rough Mix, is an entire book about Jimmy Bowen, who was an acquaintance of our's when we were married and moved to Dumas in 1956.

Neither could hardly afford the price of a hamburger and soft drink when we first knew them. Now they're full-fledged millionaires and leaders in their respective fields.

I was introduced to Singleton in the early 1970s, when he decided he wanted to establish a new, competitive weekly newspaper in Clarendon. Though he had experience working for the Graham Leader, his new paper was to be printed by offset press, and I was asked to show him how to paste up his first edition.

In case the name Singleton hasn't struck a cord of recognition to you as yet, he's the top fella of a corporation which owns, among other properties, the Denver Post, along with a couple of hundred others. And, yeah, he now owns the Graham Leader.

The Clarendon project really never was successful, however.

But he's there in that big old book, along with such names as Rupert Murdoch, Robert Maxwell, The Aga Kahn, Warwick Fairfax, Ralph Ingersoll and Katherine Graham.

Jimmy Bowen will likely mean even less to you, unless you've paid attention to recording labels in the music industry.

Now retired, Bowen was the biggest of the biggies in the industry. But it wasn't during those years that we knew him.

Bowen and another young man from Dumas had become associated with a fellow from Happy, while they were students at West Texas State Univ.

They named themselves the Rythum Orchids, and as I recall were the first of the pop groups who accompanied themselves with stringed instruments.

I guess I wrote the first article about this newly-organized group, shortly after going to work for the Moore County News. As personal friends and in appreciation for that piece, they sent an orchid for Dolores' pillow when our first daughter was born at the hospital.

Some of you may be old enough to remember their song Party Doll which made the top-selling list nationally. It was so big that they appeared more than once on the nationally-televised Ed Sullivan Show.

That fellow from Happy was Buddy Knox, who was a big name before Lubbock's Buddy Holly.

They performed along side Holly and his Crickets, Chuck Barry, Bo Diddley, Eddie Cochran, Fats Domino, Bobby Darin and the Everly Brothers.

But those years were peanuts for Jimmy, as compared with what came in later years, starting in the 1960s.

Jimmy went into recording production, and his list of clients who made it big were Sammy Davis Jr., Nancy Sinatra, Frank Sinatra and Dean Martin, while in Los Angeles, and then he moved to Nashville, where, among others, he worked with Garth Brooks, Tanya Tucker, Steven Curtis Chapman, Willie Nelson, Charlie Daniels, Reba McEntire, Waylon Jennings, Glen Campbell, Hank Williams Jr., Conway Twitty and George Strait.

Like I said, both those guys, Singleton and Bowen, started out from the bottom, and made it big.

And I can always say, "I knew them when..."

Aldermen granted permission to Price to dispose of an automobile which had been used by the fire department that was badly damaged in an accident. Insurance funds for its repairs will be used to assist the department to purchase a pickup truck.

Looking Back...

News in the July 29, 1948 issue of the Iowa Park Herald included: J.C. Haynes employed as principal of Valley View, and his wife as first grade teacher, announced by C.C. Wilkes, new superintendent. Mrs. J. Roy Lackey has returned to her home in Kamay after attending a 10-day school of missions at Mt. Sequola, Fayetteville, Ark. Lt. Col. Joseph H. (Jay) Sherwood and his family returned from being stationed at Nuernberg, Germany, for a brief visit. Kenneth Richter was wearing a cast on his leg, broken while playing football on the lawn of the Methodist Church. The Democratic primary produced the need of a runoff for commissioner of Wichita County Precinct Three, between incumbent M.L. Hines and challenger Buck Voyles. Jan Bedford was honored with a Coke party on her 16th birthday. Doyle Parks was employed at Hoge Motor Co., and planning for a college education and career in petroleum engineering. F.E. Guthrie of Texarkana was a visitor in the home of his brother N.E. Guthrie and father W.L. Guthrie. And Parker's Food Stores was featuring a pound can of Admiration Coffee for 55-cents; head of lettuce, 10-cents, and a pound of Hawkeye sliced Bacon for 55-cents.

the schools need and not go overboard.

"People need to understand that computers can't compete with a good teacher."

As I said, kids are often more perceptive than we give them credit for.

SOCIAL SECURITY NEWS

Widows, Widowers Get Alert on Higher Retirement Benefits

Using a new automated system, Social Security is now reminding surviving spouses four months before they reach age 65 that they may be eligible for a higher benefit based on their own earnings record.

Although surviving spouses are told at the time they apply for widows or widowers benefits at age 60 (or age 50 if disabled) that they may be eligible for a higher retirement benefit at age 65, many fail to contact Social Security to file a claim.

Car's theft short-lived

A 15-year-old female didn't have the use of a vehicle very long that she reportedly had taken without authorization the other evening.

Police were notified at 10:52 p.m. Friday that a 1995 Ford Escort had been taken from a residence in the 200 block of West Poe.

Seven minutes after midnight, police located the car, and the girl, parked at Movin Movies, with her sitting behind the steering wheel.

She was taken into custody, and then transported to the juvenile detention center in Wichita Falls, according to the police blotter.

Sunday evening, a man was taken into custody on a charge of deadly conduct, and placed in the county jail under a $5,000 bond.

Police received a report that Martin Wayne Chowning, 51, had fired a shot from a gun at a female, while she was attempting to gather her belongings at her home Sunday evening.

Two men were taken into custody last week, both on outstanding warrants from the Wichita County Sheriff's Dept.

Michael Ryan Luera, 23, was arrested in the 300 block of East Ruby, early Thursday morning, after officers determined a warrant existed for failure to identify.

A 16-year-old male was taken into custody in the 200 block of East Washington Friday morning, on a warrant for criminal mischief, with no bond permitted.

Both were transported to the county jail by sheriff's deputies.

Fourth historical marker to be dedicated Sunday

The fourth official Texas historical marker for Iowa Park will be dedicated Sunday.

Unveiling of the marker will be at 2 p.m. at the Masonic Lodge Hall, 700 West Washington.

The dedication will be carried out jointly by members of the Masonic Lodge and Wichita County Historical Commission, culminating a dream of Lodge members which began a year ago.

The general public is invited to attend.

One Hundred Six Years of Lodge History

In 1885 when the Fort Worth and Denver City Railroad passed through, the switch on the line at the present site of Iowa Park was known as Daggett, named in honor of a prominent Tarrant County family.

In 1888 a plat was filed for the town of Iowa Park. Many of the early settlers were busy themselves at the same time getting started a lodge of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons. According to those old pioneers, a town predominately Masonic needed neither a bank, a jail, nor a court house.

In July of 1891 the application for a charter was made to the Grand Lodge of Texas, signed by W.R. Gibson, J.T. Black and J.L. Womack. This application was honored and District Deputy R.L. Underwood first set the lodge to work under dispensation on August 4, 1891. The first meeting after being set to work was held on August 18, 1891. There were 26 charter members. R.D. Hill, the first candidate of the newly formed lodge, was initiated on September 15, 1891. He was raised to the Sublime Degree of a Master Mason on November 10, 1891 while the lodge was still under dispensation from the Grand Lodge of Texas. Iowa Park Lodge No. 713 received its charter on December 11, 1891. On February 8, 1892 Grand Master John Watson proceeded to open a Lodge of Master Masons and to constitute Iowa Park Lodge No. 713 A.F. and A.M. according to the Ancient custom of the order.

Brother E.A. McCleskey was the first brother to be raised after the lodge was constituted. He was raised to the Sublime Degree of a Master Mason on July 5, 1892. E.A. McCleskey was the first elected mayor of Iowa Park and served as master of the lodge eight times. No other brother has even come close to this record.

In accordance with the custom of early Masonic Lodges, trials to discipline fellow lodge members were often held. One such trial involved the first Tiler of the Iowa Park Lodge, Willie Spencer. He was involved in a disagreement with Frank White about a lady friend. About noon May 4, 1894, shots rang out, several from the pistol of Frank White, and two from Willie Spencer's shot gun. Both men were wounded but Frank White died of his wounds on the following Monday.

This shooting brought about the first serious Masonic Trial. Willie Spencer was acquitted of charges during the Masonic Trial, but the resulting civil trial convicted Willie Spencer to a term in the state penitentiary. Willie Spencer was pardoned by the Governor in 1898 and sat in lodge again.

On June 29, 1901, members of the Masonic Lodge laid the cornerstone for the new public school which stood until 1916 when the same brick was used to build a new school which faced Cash Street. A public school building was built at W.F. George High School in 1923, with the Iowa Park Lodge again laying the cornerstone. W.A. "Dutch" George, son of the man for whom the school was named, was on hand in 1976 when demolition of the building began and the contents of the cornerstone were placed on display. These contents consisted of copies of weekly newspapers and a letter from the faculty and student body.

The first lodge hall was rented from Kriedler & Windle for a sum of $2.54 a month and served as a meeting place from August to December 31 of 1891. A second lodge hall was secured for meetings starting January 1, 1892, and was called Birk Hall. Rent there was $8.33 per month.

The third lodge hall was established when the lodge moved into the upstairs of the First National Bank building on January 25, 1896. A contract was signed on February 2, 1901, to rent the First National Bank upstairs yearly for the sum of $48.

Work began in 1967 on a building to be owned by the Iowa Park Masonic Lodge. Meetings were held above the bank until March 24, 1969, when members first met in the new building at 700 West Washington. Worshipful Master A.D. Hanna made the last payment on the lodge building note in March, 1973.

Brother Ancil Derward Hanna served as Worshipful Master of Iowa Park Lodge in 1972 and continued his Masonic career, becoming the 1990

Most Worshipful Grand Master of the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Texas, the only member of this Lodge to attain that office. He died in a traffic accident on May 5, 1996.

The Lodge has developed a positive interface with the surrounding community through programs such as presentation of the Mirabeau B. Lamar Award of Excellence for Personal Achievement to a deserving high school student for outstanding achievement, whether it be in academic work, overcoming a handicap, citizenship, volunteer work in the community, sports or any other outstanding personal accomplishment. A second Lamar Award may also be presented to a deserving educator. The Community Builder Award, given by the Lodge, has been designed to formally recognize outstanding non-Masons who have distinguished themselves through their service to the community, to the local, state, or national government, to their church of synagogue, or to humanity.

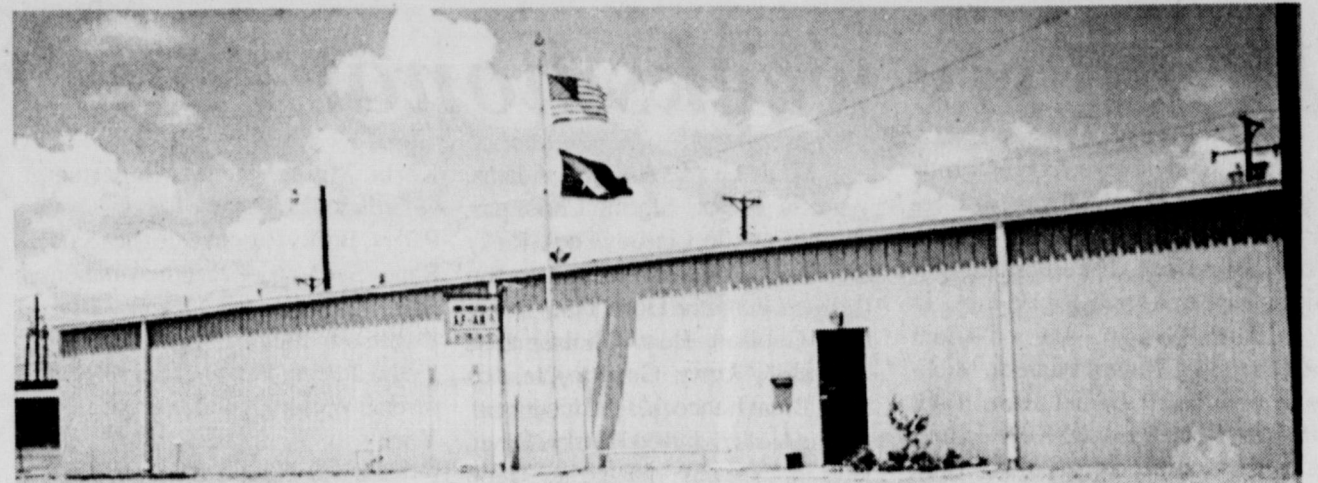

Masons have offered their Lodge facility for the purpose of taking official court depositions, and for the purpose of Red Cross blood collection drives, and also participated in the Texas State Adopt-A-Highway litter control program.

A program of free installation and maintenance of smoke detectors to assist older lodge brothers and sisters was another way the lodge served the community. Response was so great, it was immediately expanded to include any senior citizen or handicapped member of the community.

Some Iowa Park Mayors Have Been Masons

Among Iowa Park Mayors who have also been members of Iowa Park Lodge No. 713 A.F. and A.M. were E.A. McCleskey, E.C. Knox, T.J. Pace, R.E. Van Horn, and C.L. Metz.

The Lodge is fortunate to have 12 living 50-Year Masons. They are Lodge meetings were held on the upper floor of the First National Bank building until 1969 when they moved into their present building at 700 W. Washington.

Justin Butts, Edward A. Clark, Earle L. Denny, Taylor George, Joe C. Hester, William C. Lane, Herman Mahler, Cleburne M. Maier, Fred E. Ruth, Tillman L. Tharel, Miles V. Thompson and Robert B. Wilkerson.

With the dedication of this Texas Historical Marker, members of Iowa Park Lodge take pride in having a part in the process of saving the history of our city, county and state and thank the Wichita County Historical Commission for their efforts toward this end.
