Police holding lost 'C-note' tioner, causing the motor to burn up.

Lost any money lately? The police department might have it stored in the evidence room.

A young boy, accompanied by his mother, went to the police station Thursday morning and reported the youth's find.

He has a $100 bill, which he had spotted in the grassy area in front of Kidwell Elementary, between the circle drive and flag pole.

School personnel were questioned, but none responded as having lost any money.

In such cases, items turned into police and not properly claimed by the owner are returned to whomever turned them in.

The youth's mother explained that the experience was teaching her son, "honesty is the best policy."

Four thefts reported during the past week are being investigated by police.

The owner of a vehicle told police $500 worth of costume jewelry and other items were missing, apparently taken while it was parked at a local business following an accident.

A spare tire reportedly was missing from a pickup normally parked at a residence in the 400 block of Louisa. The owner reported the tire missing last Wednesday, but said she had seen it last on July 15.

A compact CD player, valued at $270, reportedly was taken Friday evening from an unlocked vehicle while parked in the 100 block of Hope.

Tuesday, police received a report that a ski rope and water ski innertube had been taken from the bed of a pickup while parked in the 700 block of West Magnolia.

Three cases of criminal mischief were reported during the week.

Police were called to an unoccupied residence in the 400 block of Valley Drive, where it was determined someone had apparently kicked holes in the walls. Damage was estimated at $300.

Two of the cases were reported

Rezonings from general residential to automotive and recreational commercial have been requested for three lots of the Crawford Subdivision and the entire block 21 of the Texas Addition.

Iowa Park school district earns 'recognized' rating School personnel were excited rating a campus must have at least 35 last week when they were notified percent of the students passing each that, for the first time, Iowa Park High School has received the "Recognized" rating from the Texas Education Agency.

The Junior High School, Bradford Elementary, and Kidwell Elementary each received an "Acceptable" rating, but the base TAAS scores from these schools were so high, that the entire school district was given a "Recognized" rating.

The ratings are based on student performance on the Texas Assessment of Academic Skills test, as well as school's annual dropout and attendance rates.

In the state's accountability ratings, "Recognized" is second only to "Exemplary," which requires at least 90 percent passing each subject area, one percent dropout rate, and a 94 percent attendance rate.

To be "Recognized," districts and campuses have met the "Recognized" level performance standards for all base indicators and have demonstrated required improvement, where applicable, on TAAS. All campuses in "Recognized" districts must be rated "Acceptable" or higher.

A district cannot be rated "Exemplary" or "Recognized" if it has one or more "low-performing" cam-subject area, 6.0 percent or less dropout rate for 1995-96, and an attendance rate of at least 94 percent.

High school principal, Richard Davis said he credits the teachers and students for all the hard work they did to prepare for the tests.

Supt. Mike Caplinger said, "I'm just elated with this accomplishment of our students and entire district team, and I think it is just the start of more exciting things ahead." "I'm proud of our students, administrators, teachers, and board of trustees for focusing on goals to make this school district outstanding," he said.

Henderson new Cryovac manager

Mike Henderson was named plant manager of Cryovac's facility here, effective Aug. 1, according to former manager Ray Youngblood.

Henderson succeeds Frank Terlizzi, who served as manager until he was assigned as general operations manager of the Simpsonville, SC manufacturing facility.

Henderson has been manager of the company's Cedar Rapids, Iowa plant since March of 1994.

Prior to being promoted to manager at Cedar Rapids, he was director of quality assurance in Duncan, SC. "Mike has worked in a number of other quality and production positions during his career with Cryovac, ch began in 1963," Youngblood Henderson, who holds a business degree from Furman Univ., and his wife are currently looking at purchasing a residence in the area.

The original manager of the Iowa Park plant, Charley Lee, also came

UPS strike not having major effect locally

Although Iowa Park businesses and individuals have heavily relied on United Parcel Service (UPS) for outgoing and incomings shipments, the recent strike by teamsters hasn't hit as hard here as in other areas.

Despite UPS giving what it's calling it's "last, best and final" contract offer to the International Brotherhood of Teamsters over the weekend, the Teamster union refused to agree to the company proposal and members went on strike at 12:01 a.m.

UPS continues to operate on a contingency bases, relying on management and other non-Teamster employees to deliver. The management teams have been working to clear all packages that were moving through the system at the time the strike began. They will continue to move high priority packages including medical and pharmaceutical shipments, domestic air express packages and international letters and parcels in and out of the United States. Hughes Pharmacy, Iowa Park's shipping point for UPS, said before the strike began, they had been shipping out anywhere from five to 12 packages a day for local residents. An employee for Hughes said they will still accept packages to be shipped, but they won't go out until the strike ends.

Greig Moers, personnel manager at Cryovac, said the company uses crunch the school district is facing several means for shipping and feels this year, they have ordered supplies

"We anticipated this event," Moers said. "We're confident that business."

City and school offices also have of the strike.

Caplinger said because of the budget that things will go smoothly for them. in smaller quantities than in the past. That, coupled with the fact that companies are shipping using alternative there will be no disruption in our methods, haven't made the strike a factor in the start of the school year.

Janice Newman, Iowa Park City experienced little disruption because Secretary, said that although they receive UPS shipments almost every School Superintendent Mike day, it hasn't caused any problems with city business.

___ Health Notes ___ Herbal Therapy for Depression

by Joe Hughes, R.PH

The British Medical Journal evaluated 23 studies involving 1,757 patients with mild to moderate depression who were treated with the herbal product hypericum, also known as St. John's wort.

Several studies showed that St. John's wort was as effective as prescription antidepressants and more effective than placebo, while 19.8% of patients receiving St. John's wort and 52.8% of patients receiving antidepressants reported adverse effects. However, no one should discontinue any prescription antidepressant or add this herbal preparation without first consulting their physician. Taking hypericum and prescription antidepressants together could cause serious problems. When this BMJ meta-analysis was conducted in 1994, the authors did not find a single clinical study of St. John's wort published in the English language. This typical lack of information is a major barrier against English speaking health professionals becoming more informed about herbal products.

I know I've said it before, but I just can't agree with unions going on

This strike against UPS is one that could bring business in the country to a standstill if it isn't settled in the near future, or some major changes are made.

Not many people had come to realize how much UPS means to the business community.

The corporation's quick, overnight service has allowed businesses to cut down on their inventories, because they could call in an order on Wednesday, and have it delivered on Thursday.

You've probably already read or heard that the Teamsters' main complaint was that UPS has so many parttime employees, and they want to be full-time.

Shucks, if those part-time folks wanted a full-time job, all they had to do was go somewhere else and get one . . . if they were qualified.

Of course, UPS has such a high salary structure that a job with the corporation is desirable to just about

I quit my job at Dumas and moved to Hereford for a $25-perweek salary increase. UPS part-timers make more than that in two hours.

The big thing with unions these days is job security. They want that assurance from their employer. But has an employee ever thought of assuring an employer that his business would always be there, making a profit after expenses?

Added to the UPS situation was the report Tuesday that members of the machinest union at Sheppard AFB had joined in on the picketing.

That's a bunch of bull!!! And, speaking of bull, someone in the highway department dropped

Worth Quoting

Most all of us that are members of the old geezers club remember things about Ben Hogan, some personal, and some by what we have read in the sports pages.

Many year ago, when I was working at the Abilene Reporter-News, I had a chance to talk to and see a different side of the Mr. Hogan that we had grown used to. The newspaper conducted a golf clinic and tournament for junior golfers accompanied by the usual barbecue.

Late in the morning, Ben Hogan was conducting a clinic on how to hit a fade, a draw, a knockdown shot, etc. He had on his usual white hat with white shirt and gray trousers. Standing on the tee box at Number 10, Hogan set shot after shot screaming toward the green, which was 346 yards away. Although the clinic was for juniors, there was a large crowd of adults straining for a look at the legendary golfer.

Following the shot-making session, Hogan turned around to look in my direction. I was standing in the crowd with Sammy Baugh, who at that time was coach at Hardin Simmons University. Baugh always drew a big crowd. He was accompanied by Wayne Milner, one of the assistant coaches.

Baugh and I had been exchanging thoughts on golf, football and his days with the Washington Redskins. Hogan told the youngsters to work hard and practice a lot, or they would end up hitting the golf ball like Sammy Baugh. He then turned his cap sideways and slammed three or four balls into the lake in front of Number 10. Everyone roared and Hogan flashed his famous smile and wave to the rangy Baugh with his big cowboy hat and his chew of tobacco.

July's building permits of $136,810 raised 1987's total to $826,712. Mrs. Mabel Karstetter formally objected with the city's operation of its sanitary landfill. Louis Jewelry observed its 31st anniversary in Iowa Park. Members of the Kamay Volunteer Fire Dept. held a watermelon feed to raise money for equipment. There's no question that the old highway is the responsibility of the Texas Department of Transportation.

But there's no question that the people of Iowa Park are citizens of the state, and therefore due the courtesy of advance notice that such traffic-sensitive activity is scheduled.

Building permit report is filed

No building permit was issued by city hall for the construction of a new residence during July, but the month's total still amounted to $203,365.

That elevated the seven-month total to $2,947,200.

GARDENING HINTS

By MARK TERNING, COUNTY AGENT - HORTICULTURE

Q. We live on the northern side of Wichita Falls. Our two year old trees are turning brown at the edges of the leaves. Is this a disease problem or insects?

A. Leaf browning or scorching at the edge or margins of the leaf are usually indications of moisture stress. Triple digit temperatures of July and August with minimal rainfall levels will always tend to cause marginal leaf scorching symptoms as you have described. Regular, deep watering at the dripline area of trees will certainly help reduce the moisture stress and resulting foliage damage. Some parts of town received an inch or so of rain this week, however, don't put the garden hoses up. We will all have to hottest part of the season.

Q. How can I control sandburs in a Bermuda lawn area? We are having terrible problems with this weed. We live at Lake Arrowhead

A. Sandburs are a tough weed to combat. To effectively control sandburs you will have to use pre-emergent herbicides, regular fertilizations and watering of the Bermuda, and use of a post-emerge herbicide. Applications of Durflan, or Betasan (preemergent herbicides) put down in spring and again in summer and fall will help prevent weed seed germination. This is referred to as a split application. The spring and summer applications are critical. Regular fertilization of the Bermuda with a quality 3-1-2 ratio lawn food and regular deep watering will keep the

Hawks, coaches looking forward to '97 season

fter back-to-back playoff apnces the last two seasons, 19 ing lettermen, nine offensive ight defensive starters returning an 8-3 team, everyone has high ctations for the '97 Hawk football

And at 12:01 Wednesday mornbig crowd turned out to get the glimpse of what this year's squad ld look like.

With the University Interschoc League not allowing teams to ctice until Wednesday, Iowa Park, the second consecutive year, didn't ste any time in getting on the field Midnight Madness II kicked off school year.

Seniors through freshmen took field and ran through some drills a few plays to get the fans interest The highlight of the workout was nice pass from quarterback Todd eager to Michael Swenson in a ven-on-seven drill, who made an l-out dive along the sideline to haul e ball in, bringing a roar from the Coaches as well as players are excited and ready to get the season inderway. They too share the same igh expectations as their players.

"Our expectations are very high," said head coach Weldon Nelms. "We as coaches have had a chance to implement our system and get used to the players. We've got a very good group of seniors coming back this season that will provide a lot of leadership.

"Everyone has been saying that this was the group of kids that would be able to get the job done. Many of them have been playing together since they were in Pee Wees. They're hungry and determined. They've had a taste of the playoffs the last two years and now they are ready to move on to the next level.

'We had a great spring workout and we got a lot done," Nelms added. "And with as many starters and lettermen returning, we should be way ahead of where we were at this point last season. This team reminds me of the '93 team I coached in Wimberley. They both had a great senior class, both had high expectations and if we can stay free from injuries and get a little luck, we have a chance to be a real good football team."

Some of the reasons that the expectations are so high are, again, the number of players returning.

One of those is Yeager, a senior quarterback who has started the two previous seasons. Chris Ellis, the quarterback coach, is expecting big things from his signal caller this season. "Todd's a great kid," Ellis said. "His work ethic is super and he's earned the respect from all the coaches and teammates. With him back for the third year, it allows us to work on the finer points of our offense rather than teach as much on the fundamentals. This group of kids expect a lot from each other and they put more pressure on themselves than anybody else does. They've had a taste of were last season and we're going to be playoff football and now they're wanting to do a little better."

Most coaches agree that everything starts with the offensive line and Iowa Park's Steve Stewart is one of the firm believers that the guys up front are very important in any good offense.

"I'm real excited about this group of kids," Stewart said. "We're going to take up where we left off last year and build from that. We're going to be bigger, stronger and faster than we more experienced. We'll be able to do a lot more on offense this season and the guys will feel more comfortable after playing together last season. We'll have a lot of senior leadership on the line and I'm going to demand more from each and everyone of them. I know them and they know me and they know what I expect out of them. We're going to be able to take charge

Defense will be another strong

out there."

Season ticket sales to begin

Season tickets for Hawk varsity football games will go on sale Monday in the principal's office.

Fans who had season reserved seat tickets last year will have until the first home game, Sept. 5, to renew their option on the same seats again this year.

The book of tickets for all five home games will cost $25 per seat. Reserved seats after the first game will be $5 per game.

General admission tickets this year will be $2 for students and $4 for adults, if purchased before the game.

No reserved seats will be sold at the gate, and all general admission tiekts sold at the game will be $5.

Tickets are sold at the principal's office from 8 a.m. until 12-noon, and 1-4 p.m. on weekdays.

Gary Smith 592-5920 1109 FM 368 S. lowa Park suit for the Hawks according to de- The Pick in '96." fensive coordinator Bruce Merrill.

"We'll have the opportunity to be a good team defensively," Merrill said. "We've got a lot of depth at all positions and we've got several kids that have played for us for three years. Overall, we're going to be the biggest, the strongest and the fastest team in the four years we've coached here. I think we have the opportunity to be an overpowering and intimidating type defense.

The new slogan for the '97 Hawks is "Be a Champion in '97."

In '94, it was "Hawks Will Soar in '94." In '95, it was "Hawks Come Alive in '95," and in '96, it was "Hawks'
