Homecoming '97 promises something for everyone

It's Homecoming weekend-in Iowa Park, and that means the busiest period of the year for everyone.

Everything is centered around Friday night's big football game with Decatur in Hawk Stadium, but that certainly isn't all that will be taking place.

Kicking everything off will be a bon fire at 8:00 this evening. It will be located in the area immediately south of the stadium. Most of the parking, however, will by necessity have to be in the larger parking lot on the north side.

The parade is to get underway at 4:30 p.m. Friday. Organizations that will be participating have been issued places to form on Park, Bank, Bond and Victoria. Its route will begin on Cash, turn on Yosemite, back on Park, then to Yosemite, and turn east on Bank, where it will disburse in the area of Bond. Theme of this year's parade is "Super Heros."

Coronation of the homecoming queen will be held prior to kickoff of the football game, beginning at 7 p.m.

All day Saturday, the annual Whoop-T-Do will be staged in the area of East Cash and Wall. Some 25 non-profit organizations will have booths featuring games, activities and refreshments, while entertainment will be staged on a platform near the Post Office. In addition, numerous individual arts and craft booths will be on the sidewalk along West Cash and Wall.

Climax of the weekend will take place Saturday evening, with the annual Ex-Student Association's annual banquet in the high school cafeteria. The social visitation period will begin at 5:30 p.m., and the banquet following at 7:30.

Special effort has been made to assemble all surviving members of the Class of 1947, to attend this year's banquet. All graduates whose years ended in seven also will be recognized this year.

Undefeated Hawks are host to Decatur

The Hawks ran their record to 2-0 Thursday night by beating their second 4A school in as many weeks, as they downed Wichita Falls High School 19-8.

Iowa Park will be looking to go 3-0 to start the season, just as they did last year, as they prepare to host Decatur Friday night for Homecoming.

Last year Iowa Park's offense couldn't find the end zone the entire game against the Eagles and had to rely on a fumble return by the defense for the game's only score as the Hawks prevailed 7-0. And even though this year's team is expected to be better than the '96 guad, head coach Weldon Nelms is still waiting for his offense to finally get things going the way he would like.

pointing drive. I think if we had scored there and been on top 20-0 at half time, added. "I thought our kicking game we would have had a lot of momentum that would have carried over into the second half. But as it was we didn't score and we came out flat in the third quarter and didn't make a single first down, which was very frustrating."

But for the second week in a row, the offense rose to the occasion in the fourth quarter when the game was still in question. Iowa Park drove 90 yards in 10 plays to seal the victory.

"It was nice to see the team re-Nelms said. "You'd like to see them go out and play the whole game like played pretty well again," Nelms was up and down. We didn't play as well on our kickoffs and extra points, but our punting game was much improved. We got the big return by J.T. for the touchdown and we did a good job with our punt coverage. So we're seeing some things start to come around.

"Overall you have to be happy with the victory," Nelms said. "But on the same hand, I'm a little disappointed that we're not playing better. A few years ago, everyone was happy expectations being as high as they are, people are expecting us to go out and blow teams away. Every team we play knows that we've got a good football team so we're not going to sneak up on anybody. We just need to be patient. I'd rather peak in week six than to peak in game two. I think things will come together at just the right time."

"Our game against Old High was not one of our better performances," Nelms said. "We looked good in spots, but our offense still looked eratic. We're still making way too many mistakes offensively and we're not executing like we should.

"We had a chance to score right before the half against the Coyotes and back-to-back holding calls killed us," said Nelms. "That was a disap-that. I'm still confident in our offense. It will come around. Last week our offensive line played passive and they saw that on film. We've got to get back to being a physical football team. That's one of the reasons we looked so dominate in our two scrimmages. We were just knocking people off the line."

The Iowa Park defense has looked sharp all season long as they've held both Burk and Old High to only one touchdown each.

"Defensively, I thought we

Venhaus nominated top teacher in state

Carole Venhaus, foreign languages teacher at Iowa Park High School, has been selected to represent Region Nine in competition for the Outstanding Secondary Teacher of the Year in Texas.

She was selected by a panel from among candidates nominated from all 40 school districts in the Region, and is the first educator from Iowa Park to advance to the state level.

Three finalists are to be selected from the state by Friday, and those teachers are to be in Austin on Oct. 11 for final interviews.

The following is the essay prepared by Mrs. Venhaus which was submitted with her nomination on the Region level.

Professional Biography

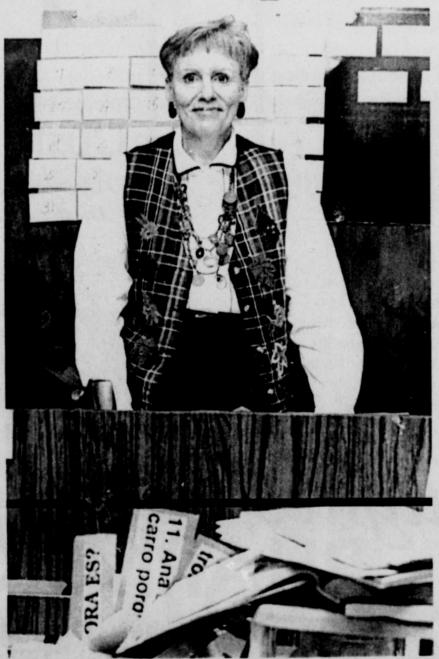

I am a member of a four-generation family of teachers. My grandfather, Carl Williams taught in Arkansas in the early 1900's. My mother and her two sisters taught school for a combined total of over 80 years. My daughter, Amanda is presently enrolled at Midwestern State University majoring in elementary education.

I can't remember a time that I wasn't interested in becoming a teacher. Perhaps it all goes back to my childhood. My mother has been, perhaps, my greatest influence. Mom received her teaching degree in 1935. She taught in a one-room school in a small rural area of Illinois. I can remember her telling me stories of having 14 students in grades one through eight. She had enjoyed those years and talked about them often. After I was old enough to attend school, mom began to teach kindergarten. She taught for 27 years before becoming an elementary principal. She also taught education courses at Southern Illinois University during that period of time. My maternal aunts were also teachers. A great-aunt was a long-time educator in Arkansas, later having an elementary school named for her (Leah Mann Elementary School, Piggott, Arkansas).

Being "steered" into education, then, was not surprising. My childhood friends and I often played "school." I would use mom's old grade and lesson plan books to "conduct" classes. My only problem, if it can be considered one. was deciding exactly what subject area or level I wanted to teach. But it wasn't until 1960 that I finally made a decision as to what I really wanted to teach. It was that summer my family and I made a trip to visit a Mexican family in Puebla, Mexico. We had met the Ojeda family in Illinois when they sent their sons to be "immersed" into English. I thoroughly enjoyed the trip to visit them, and the following fall, I began my first year studying Spanish. By the time I was a junior in high school, I had definitely made up my mind -- I wanted to teach Spanish at the secondary level.

I entered Illinois State University in the fall of 1964, majoring in Spanish and minoring in English. I truly enjoyed my college Spanish courses. After and the second stand and the stand of the st having had four years of Spanish in high school, I began at the sophomore level in the university Spanish program. I completed my college degree (B.A. in Education) in 1967 -- just three years and nine weeks after entering the university. I found a job in November, 1967, teaching Spanish in a small rural town in Illinois.

After completing a year in Mt. Pulaski, Illinois, I married Tom Venhaus, who was then stationed at Sheppard A.F.B. in Wichita Falls, Texas. I was very fortunate to find a teaching position in Spanish in Iowa Park, Texas. I have been with the Iowa Park school system for the past 29 years.

My childhood ties to education have continued into my own family life. My husband, after being discharged from the Air Force, completed his degree in education and has since become a teacher, counselor, and is presently a middle-school principal. Our only daughter is nearly a junior in college -majoring in education with a minor in Spanish.

I have never regretted becoming a teacher. I find that it has kept me "young" in so many ways. I find the challenge of working with students of a rapidly changing society very stimulating. I work to make my classes both interesting and challenging. I find that if I am enthusiastic about my teaching, my students become enthusiastic about learning. I try very hard to keep abreast of new strategies and try to create new and innovative ways of keeping students not only interested, but capable of truly communicating in Spanish. There is nothing worse than studying a foreign language and being unable to use it in oral communications!

Teaching Spanish is very rewarding for me. I can see in a length of two, and in some cases three years, a great accomplishment on the part of the students. They learn to speak the language and can communicate their needs and desires in everyday conversation. Another program that my students and I enjoy is the chance to teach what they have learned to others. As part of my Spanish III program, my students are assigned an elementary class within the school system to use as their proving ground. I have made arrangements for my Spanish III students to instruct some first and second grade classes at Kidwell Elementary School. We spend some of our class time every three or four weeks to prepare Spanish lessons for these elementary classes. My students all teach the same material, but have the liberty of using their own resources and imaginations to create games and methods of introducing the material. My Spanish III students really enjoy working with the elementary students and feel a sense of accomplishment when their "students" respond to them so readily. They get a totally different picture of what being on the "other side" is like. My students find it so "neat" when an elementary student of theirs

Franklin, Morath wedding vows exchanged in Sept. 6 ceremony

Miss Ronda Therese Morath and Jeffery Dale Franklin exchanged vows of matrimony Sept. 6 at Faith Baptist Church.

Dr. Greg Ammons, pastor, officiated the double ring vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Morath of Iowa Park, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Reid of Iowa Park and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Franklin of Wichita Falls.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Morath was radiant in a formal white sleeveless gown.

The bodice was adorned with intricately beaded Alencon lace appliques and seed pearls. The empire waistline flowed to a full skirt of white silk with a chapel length train.

A bandeau of Alencon lace and seed pearls secured a chapel-length veil of bridal illusion.

The finishing touch was a nosegay bouquet formed of porcelain peach, white and light pink roses, tied with organdy mist.

In keeping with bridal tradition, Miss Morath wore a garter made of lace from her mother's wedding gown with a blue ribbon sewn on for "something old" and "something blue." She wore a pearl bracelet belonging to her mother for "something borrowed;" and pearl and diamond earrings, a wedding gift from the groom, for "something new."

Rochelle Morath of Iowa Park, sister of the bride, was maid of honor.

She wore a hunter green floorlength gown. The sleeveless bodice featured an empire waist and tied in the back. She carried a smaller version of the bride's bouquet.

Bridemaids were Jennifer Ricks of Iowa Park and Brande Overman of Stillwater, OK. Each wore a dress identical to the maid of honor and carried an identical bouquet.

Miss Rachel Reid of Flower Mound, niece of the groom, was flower girl.

She wore a floor-length, ivory satin dress with lace at the waistline, which tied in the back. She wore a halo of flowers in her hair, and carried a satin covered basket filled with rose pedals.

John Padgett of Iowa Park was best man. Groomsmen were Mark Register of Tulsa, Ok., and Tom Brillhart of Wichita Falls.

Brett Cue of Lewisville, nephew of the groom, was ring bearer. Ushers included Richard Morath, ies and gypsophila. Pyramid candelabras decorated in the same fashion flanked the altar.

Music played a special part in the ceremony and was provided by Linda Burgoyne, pianist; Dennis and Sandra Neal, soloists; and Ed Hefti on soprano saxophone.

Before the ceremony, grandparents of the couple were seated to "When I Fall In Love," and "Can You Feel The Love Tonight," played by Burgoyne and Hefti.

"Ava Maria" was played by Burgoyne and Hefti as the mothers of the couple were seated. The wedding party entered the sanctuary to "Canon in D," and the bride entered to "Trumpet Voluntary."

During the ceremony Sandra Neal offered "The Wedding Song," and Dennis Neal sang "The Lord's Prayer." The Neals sang a duet, "Here and Now," during the lighting of the unity candle.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Women's Forum in Wichita Falls.

The focal point of the room was the table which held the bride and groom's cakes. Draped in white with white netting caught up in swags with hunter green bows, the centerpiece was a tall crystal vase with white dendrolium peach and pink roses, white snapdragons and stargazer lilies.

The bride's four-tiered cake was placed at one externity of the table. The tiers were stacked and iced in ivory with ivory scrollwork on the edges and sides of each tier. Fresh greenery and roses cascaded down and around each tier and encircled the cake. A bouquet of fresh roses served as the cake top.

Serving the bride cake was Valorie Crow, Mandy Skeeler and Brooke Selin, all cousins of the bride, and Lisa Lane, sister-in-law of the bride.

At the other extremity of the table was the groom's cake. The doublelayered chocolate cake featured a basketweave design and was encircled in fresh greenery with white chocolate-dipped strawberries. The groom's initials were inscribed on the top in bold dark chocolate.

Tralessa Chumley and Cheri Murphy, sisters of the groom, served the groom's cake.

A silver tea service, crystal appointments and a crystal bride and groom atop a mirror base completed the table setting.

An hors d'oeuvres table was draped in white and flanked by ficus trees wrapped in white lights. It held chafing dishes, cheese and vegetable trays and finger sandwiches.

As guests entered the reception area, they were greeted by Shaunda Chumley, niece of the groom. The registry table held the bride's book and two porcelain angels that were a gift to the couple from the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Threet, Sr.

Also in the foyer was a small cherub water fountain, and a bridal portrait on an easel draped in ivory tulle, English ivy and white ribbon.

Reception guests were seated at tables covered in ivory linen, and centered with candles in hurricane globes encircled with tulle and English ivy.

Justin and Lauren Morath, nephew and niece of the bride, handed out programs.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Reid hosted the rehearsal dinner Friday evening at the Wichita Falls Country Club.

Following a honeymoon trip to Ruidoso, N.M., the couple are at home in Wichita Falls.

The couple graduated Iowa Park High School and attend Midwestern State Univ.

IOWA PARK Page Thursday, Sept. 18, 1997 P LEADER 4 Iowa Park, Texas

Here's a big welcome to all of you former students and residents who have come back to Iowa Park for the big homecoming weekend.

I hope you have scheduled adequate time to visit everyone -- including us at the Leader -- and also to drive around town to look at all the growth, improvement and changes.

We're very proud and want to share that pride with you.

One couple that won't be able to be here this weekend got some personal updating last weekend.

Dolores and I made a quick trip out to Atlanta, Ga., to visit with our oldest daughter, Kellie, her husband Mike and their three children.

They have been out there almost two years, built a beautiful home, and we'd not had an opportunity to see it.

However, we took advantage of the situation that had presented itself and finally got to make the trip -quick as it was. I figured it this way: homecoming was almost at hand; the Hawks had their football game on Thursday night, leaving the weekend open, so I asked Dolores to make reservations on an airline.

We left out of Oklahoma City Friday afternoon, and returned about the same hour Sunday.

My observation of the Atlanta area is that Houston and the Dallas-Fort Worth areas don't hold a candle to what is going on in the Atlanta area.

I've never seen so much growth, anywhere. Just take my word for it, because there's not enough space on this page for me to relate all we saw in that short period of time.

Anyway, the Brady Bunch said to tell everyone we see this weekend hello, and they'll be out this way around Thanksgiving.

But, once again, we hope everyone has a wonderful homecoming weekend. And also, we want to remind you that it's not necessary to wait until next year's homecoming to come back home, to Iowa Park.

Tobacco Suits

The Marlboro Man has his hands in the air. Several state governments are holding him at gunpoint demanding... what? Money, of course. What does government always want.

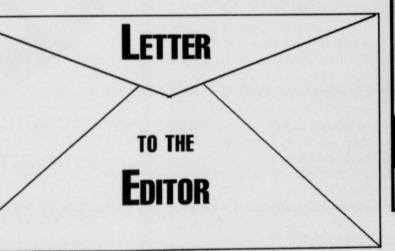

As this robbery is taking place, we seem to be watching a movie in which the audience knows where the microfilm is hidden but the actors have had their brains removed. Is tobacco addictive? Have smokers known this since Pocahantas lit up John Smith? Is this a secret?

We, as a nation have taken care of our cancer plagued, coronary prone, emphysematous victims of this vice. Just as we take care of those who succumbed to the lure of other temptations and suffered their consequences . . . marijuana, heroin, A.I.D.S., whiskey, greed, cocaine, and disingenuous gurus.

So why sue just the tobacco companies? We are not suing Ernest & Julio Gallo or the brokers who promote speculation on soybean contracts or the TV preachers who offering. They damage at least as going down the same highway. "I thought I told you to take that pig to the zoo." "Idid," explained the Aggie, "and tomorrow we're going to Six Flags."

many lives. But the suit is not about justice or retribution. It is about money. The root of all evil.

The plaintiffs doing the suing have managed to circumvent the tobacco company's strongest defense strategy, i.e. the warning printed on the package right in front of their eyes that says, "DON'T SMOKE, STUPID". The victim's justification is, "I couldn't help myself. The devil made me do it. It's not my fault. Pay me."

So they spar around until govemment and the lawyers all agree on their share of the loot. Then it will be settled.

But we can take comfort in knowing that as soon as the Marlboro Man has had his pockets picked, Joe Camel is mugged and Virginia Slim is assaulted, the lawyers will be looking for other prey.

As a matter of fact, recently a suit was filed against the dairy industry by a lawyer for a client claiming he was addicted to ice cream. They are particularly adamant about demanding warning labels.

WARNING: Consumption of almond mocha fudge satin ripple ice cream by people who have the self discipline of a pack of wild dogs, can lead to premature love handles.

If he wins his suit and warning labels are put on ice cream, the dairy industry will have to beef up its promotion to overcome it. 'Course, their timing is good. I know at least three advertising symbols who may be available soon. The Marlboro Man might look good with a milk moustache.

Questions policy Dear Editor

Do you have a child or grandchild who attends school in Iowa Park? Those of you parents who do this letter is for you.

Are you aware that any adult can visit your child at school, have lunch, etc., all without your consent. Actually, against your expressed wishes if need be.

This could be anyone, the ex who has sworn to disappear with your child at the first opportunity. Maybe it's a "friend," who isn't a friend. Or it could even be an abusive person you have notified the school about and been told, "We can't prevent a visitor unless you have a legal document restraining this person."

Last year I personally picked up a five year old little girl for a friend of mine on three separate occasions, not once was I stopped or questioned as to why I was leaving with this child. I simply walked into the cafeteria, took her by the hand and walked out of the building.

Is this as frightening to other persons as it is to me?

July was bad for business

July apparently was a poor month for business, not only here in Iowa Park but for the other three cities in Wichita County.

All four cities received less in sales tax rebates this month from the state comptroller's office, than was received this same time in 1996.

Iowa Park's rebate check was for $19,617.77, a 6.67-percent reduction from the $21,020.51 received in September last year.

Wichita Falls was a minus 8.5 percent, Electra minus 3.1, and Burkburnett a whopping 26.8 percent lower.

Iowa Park is still ahead of 1996 for total sales tax rebates, however, with a gain of 2.28 percent.

Wichita Falls is a plus 2.19 percent and Electra is 9.44 ahead, but Burkburnett is 0.3-percent below its total for last year, according to the comptroller's report.

r Holliday is 15.72 percent ahead for the year.

Rebuilding underway of Victoria Street

Preliminary work is to get underway on the rebuilding of Victoria, from Cash to the 287 Service Road.

A pre-construction conference was held Thursday morning at the Department of Transportation office in Wichita Falls, where all details were discussed by officials.

Barricades were to be put in place at all crossing intersections Wednesday.

Once the project commences, only those vehicles used by residents or businesses along the street, will be allowed onto Victoria on week days.

It will remain open, however, from Friday night until Monday morning.

There will be east-west crossings allowed on Cash, Washington, Aldine and Bank.

The project is expected to be completed by March.

graduated Iowa Park High School in 1983.

Less than two years later, they married.

Darla is an assistant registrar and assistant director of admissions at Midwestern State Univ., and Ben is a heavy Equipment Mechanic for Texas Industries.

The couple, who still reside in Iowa Park, are the parents of two children, Brady, nine years old, and Amber, six.

Darla recently completed her Master of Arts degree in public management. She says, "I am now glad to have more time to spend with my kids, instead of studying."

She said she enjoys following her kids activities, as well as being active at St. Paul Lutheran Church, and serving as mentor in the Partner in Education program at Wichita Falls High School.

Darla said she has many favorite high school memories including "the feeling we would get at marching contest when the announcer would say, 'Iowa Park....ONE.'" Another fond memory is being in the homecoming court her senior year.

Another favorite was Mr. Dawson's first-of-school speeches, "most of which we can still recite by heart."

But most of all, she said, the thing she didn't realize at the time, was having a chance to be with her friends on a daily basis. Something she said she now realizes there is never enough time or opportunity to do in later years.

Darla had a difficult time narrowing her favorite teacher to just one. So she didn't. She listed Mr. Gotcher, Mr. Miller and Mrs. Laird as her favorites.

As far as information she learned in school and thought she'd never need..."that would have to be some things we learned in Vocational Office Education (VOE) from Mrs. Medlinger. She would make us do over or correct anything we turned in for the tiniest error. It drove us crazy! But she was teaching us how important it is to do a good job for your employer and to proofread what you do. This is something valuable to

"Mrs. Med!" All in all, I have great memories of IPHS and I'm honored to be included in the homecoming issue of the Leader."

Ben said Mr. Gotcher was his favorite teacher while he was in high school.

His favorite memories were some of the "crazy" things he and Stanley Watson would do such as dancing at pep rallies and going to the county ag shows.

He credits the FFA and Ag Coop class for information he received that has been invaluable.

In his spare time, Ben enjoys taking his son hunting and fishing, and following the children's activities. will be located on the grounds, at the Chamber office, by the stage near the Post Office, and also by the driveway of Sam Hunter's residence.

Tickets to be used at all events will be sold at those booths, with a cash value of 25 cents each. They will be available in strips of four tickets for $1, or in sheets of 24 valued at $6.

Booth operators should realize the tickets are money redeemable and treat them as such, says Susan Dillard, Chamber secretary.

Operators should take their tickets to the Chamber office no later than one hour after closing, where they will be issued a receipt, and checks will be issued on Tuesday.

No meeting of the city council will be held Monday night, according to City Administrator Mike Price.

The council's regular meetings are held on the second and fourth Mondays. However, Price said no important issues had been provided for an agenda, as of noon Wednesday.

Stewart, Fannin vows solemnized August 16 in Austin

Music for the ceremony was good friend of the bride. Selections played before the ceremony included

Love" while mothers of the bride and groom lighted candles, and "Only God Could Love You More" during the lighting of the unity candle.

Paul Clark Fannin II were married Aug. 16, at Park Hills Baptist Church in Austin.

Doug Gibson, pastor of Central Christian Church in Richardson, officiated the exchange of double ring vows for the children of Dennis and June Stewart of Amarillo, Anita Childs of Iowa Park, and Dan Fannin of Steilacoom, Wa.

Beautiful simplicity was carried out in the altar decorations. A white wrought-iron and brass arch candelabra was flanked by spiral candelabras on either side. Each held burning white tapers providing illumination for the service. White and red silk bows accented each candelabra, and marked pews for guest seating.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a white satin gown for her special day.

The fitted bodice featured a scooped neckline in front and back, accented with appliques and seed pearls. The back of the bodice dipped to a small candybox bow, which secured a detachable chapel-length train of satin. The dropped-V waist flowed to a full gathered skirt.

A fingertip veil of bridal illusion was secured by a headpiece of white satin roses with pearl accents. To complete her ensemble, the bride wore a pearl drop necklace and earrings, borrowed from an aunt, and carried a bouquet of fresh white roses, carnations and daisies, interspersed with greenery and Monte Casino.

The bride's sister, Amy Flores of Amarillo, served as matron of honor. Cissy Hernandez of Austin, Nicole Duran of Arlington, and Nelda Talamantes of Austin were bridesmaids. They wore knee-length dresses of red chiffon designed with a fitted, sleeveless bodice, cut low in the back and accented with a red chiffon tie. They each carried a smaller version of the bridal bouquet.

All flowers were arranged by the bride's uncle, Lee Shinsman.

Toni Duran of Arlington was flower girl. She wore a full-length dress of white silk. Pearl appliques adorned the neckline and hemline, and small red ribbon roses accented bows on the sleeves and back of the dress.

Ring bearer was Garrett Duran of Arlington. He wore a black tuxedo with a red handkerchief in the pocket and a white rose boutonniere.

Brad Meyer of Decatur was best man. Serving as groomsmen were J.E. Blackshear of Albuquerque, N.M., Mike Harrison of Allen, and Bob Rutherford of Austin. Cousins of the bride, Ben and James Shinsman of Amarillo, and Mark Childs of Iowa Park, brother of the groom, were ushers.

The groom and male members of the wedding party wore black tuxedoes complimented with white rose bouttonieres.

The groom's sisters, Samantha Childs and Katie Fannin, served as candlelighters. Melanie Pickett of Austin presided over the registry book, and Emily Buell and McKenzie Cowan of Austin greeted the guests as they arrived.

Following the ceremony, a reception, hosted by the groom's mother, was held at the Shady Hollow Community Center.

The tables were covered with white linen cloths, accented at the corners with red silk bows. The tables were decorated with pots of red and white geraniums, arranged by the bride's aunt, Sue Beth Miller. Also arrangements of white roses, daisies, and red mini carnations were designed by the bride's uncle, Lee Stinsman.

The bride's white three-tiered cake was designed with the top layer being elevated by three wine glasses with miniature roses and babys breath inside. Adorning the top was an arrangement of fresh red carnations, white roses and daisies. The base of the cake was encircled with roses, carnations, daisies and ivy.

The groom's chocolate cake was accented with chocolate-dipped strawberries.

The bride received a BA degree in Phychology from St. Edward's Univ. in Austin, and a Masters in Education in Counseling degree from Southwest Texas State Univ. in San Marcos.

First Baptist Church to host "Bring a Friend" program

First Baptist Church, in conjunction with Bethania Regional Health Care Center, will host the "Bring a Friend" program on Oct. 7.

In observance of National Breast Cancer Awareness Month, Bethania's "Bring a Friend" program will provide an extra incentive for Iowa Park women to receive their annual screening mammogram, involve their friends, and get gifts as well.

During the month of October, all women who receive a mammogram on Bethania's mobile unit will receive a gift bag. If they "Bring a Friend" who also receives a mammogram, both will be eligible for end-of-the month drawings. The gift bags contain educational materials, gifts, and coupons.

Breast cancer is the leading cancer diagnosed in women in America, and early detection is the best protection.

This year more than 180,000 women will learn for the first time that they have this disease and more than 40,000 will lose their lives. However, when breast cancer is detected early and treated promptly, suffering and ultimately the loss of life can be significantly reduced.

Mammography, yearly clinical exams, and month breast self exams are the most effective methods to detect breast changes that may occur. But, they must be done routinely. To schedule an appointment, contact Vicki at 1-800-767-2742.

Friends of State Rep. Charles Finnell of Holliday have announced plans for the Finnell Fish Fry to be held Thursday, Oct. 16.

The rural flavor of the district will be most evident at the event. The buffet-style meal and musical entertainment is scheduled to begin at 6:30 p.m. at the Holliday School cafeteria. Individual admission is $15 each.

The meal will once again be prepared and served by the Iowa Park MuleSkinners.

AG AGENT'S REPORT

By JOE RAFF, Wichita County Agriculture Agent

We've all heard the old adage. "two heads are better than one" and I'm sure that at one time or another we all have been told to "share and share alike." These old sayings taught us to work with others. One good example of working together is the 4-H program, where volunteers work together for a common goal -- youth.

To further this cooperation outside the county, Keith Klement (County Agent for Archer County) and I will be co-sponsoring several meetings for the rest of this year and continue through 1998.

These meetings will be every other month and will deal with one specific topic. We have found through surveys, that meetings are better when there is one or two topics discussed, opposed to several that are briefly touched upon.

To kick off these multi-county meetings, two are scheduled in November. The first meeting will be on Wednesday, Nov. 12 and will deal with "Learning The Range." Handson learning of grass species and how to predict forage production will be on the agenda.

The second will be Thursday, Nov. 13 and will address managing cow/calf and stocker cattle through the winter on existing forage.

In January there will be a follow up meeting on maintaining forage quality and quantity. Results from the November meeting will be discussed and plans for spring grazing will be addressed.

In March the topics will switch to managing livestock and wildlife together to better utilize your rangeland. Brush and weed control practices will be evaluated as well as stocking rates. Setting up game leases will also be discussed.

For more information on these meetings, call the Wichita County office at 716-5580, or the Archer County office at (940) 674-4914.

And as always, my door is always open.

Card of Thanks

I would like to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to all my family, friends, and neighbors, and members of the United Pentecostal Church for all their prayers, calls, visits, flowers, cards, and kind words of hope and inspiration during my extended stay in the hospital. It is times like these that helps us realize just how precious life is and thank God for each new day. May God bless each and every one of you.

We spend most of our time searching for names, dates of birth, death, marriages and other details about our ancestors but we don't find much of their social history.

During the "Great Depression" one of the work projects created of value to genealogists and historians, was the encouragement of pioneers to write their stories of their "early days." Many of these interesting tales were bound together in book form. If you have been fortunate to have read these accounts, you have had a glimpse of how people lived during the early "settlement" years. Many interesting stories were preserved and perhaps some of your ancestors took part and/ or wrote diaries or journals.

Take a little time to understand the times your ancestors lived in, why did they leave the "old country?" Some search, there are some written on social history. Reviews say this is an absolutely fascinating book that should be read and enjoyed by anyone tracing British ancestors who came to America between 1628 and 1775. WHERE ARE THEY NOW?

Thomas Pace Class of '46

Thomas Pace continues to live at Carbondale, Ill., following his retirement from Southern Illinois Univ., where he was Professor of Communications.

He and his wife, Tommye Kaye, are the parents of four children: Patricia, Professor of Theater at Georgia Southern Univ.; Tom III, Methodist minister at Sugar Land, Tex. (he has five daughters); Jennifer, freshman at Southern Illinois Univ.; and Brad, sophomore ar Carbondale High School.

Thomas lists six of his former teachers as his favorites, including Ethyle Kidwell, Rena Harbor, Ruth Carney, Robert Bruce Lowrance, Mary Frances Reaves Farris, and Martha McSteen.

Recalling his favorite high school instances, Pace says, "There are many fond memories of the Junior and Senior class booths at the Wichita County Fair as well as the class trips to Craterville, Carlsbad Caverns and El Paso.

"A memory still fresh in my mind is beating the older, then skinny (believe it or not) basketball star, Wayne House, in a basketball game of '21' the afternoon before an important 'Hawk' night game. Wayne finally beat me but he was so tired he played poorly that night."

Responding to the question of "what you learned in school . . ," he writes, "What I didn't realize until after I left school was how the experiences in school and the community of Iowa Park influenced much of what I did and believed. Loving classmates and caring teachers can have a profound effect on your adult life."

Pace lists his hobbies and interests as, "My hobbies and interests are trying to maintain a yard in hot, humid Southern Illinois, working in the Emeritus college, and my family. I enjoy travel, and in particular, enjoyed traveling to Iowa Park several times a year to visit my mother, Perle, before her passing in 1994.

"A highlight of last year was the 50th year reunion of the Class of 1946, beautifully organized by our local classmates. I wish I might attend homecoming this year, but other obligations will not permit," says Pace.
