Hawks vs. Brady in bi-district bout

By DON YOUNG

It's a bit ironic that the team Iowa Park played prior to week one is the same team that the Hawks must now beat to play in week 12.

Iowa Park, 7-3, will travel to Abilene to take on the District 6-3A champion Brady Bulldogs, 9-1, Friday night at 7:30 p.m. at Shotwell Stadium in a Bi-District showdown.

These same two teams met in the first and only scrimmage of the season for Iowa Park, with Iowa Park winning 3-2.

Both the Bulldogs and Hawks will be looking for their first playoff victory in over 11 years when the two teams meet.

Iowa Park will be making its fourth straight playoff appearance, looking for its first playoff win since 1987, while it's been even longer since the Bulldogs have tasted a playoff victory.

The Bulldogs will be making their first trip to the State playoffs in 18 years and will be looking to end a 27-year streak without a post season win.

And even though the two teams have already faced each other this season, Iowa Park head coach Weldon Nelms feels his team has shown much more improvement since the scrimmage and that his non-district as well as his district schedule has his team better prepared for the challenge Friday night.

"There's no doubt that we've played a much tougher schedule than they have," Nelms said. "When you look at our non-district schedule, three of the five teams we played are in the playoffs and the other two teams lost out on a coin flip. I also think that our district is a much tougher district from top to bottom, which forces you to play at a higher level week in and week out. Brady hasn't had to play at that level every week and that should work in our advantage."

"I've been real pleased with the approach that our kids have taken this week in workouts," Nelms added. "They are taking a more business like approach and working hard. They are excited about being here, but on the same hand they are not getting caught up in the excitement."

The Bulldogs' toughest two games this season were against Llano, a 6-3 loss, and with Abilene Wylie, a 29-16 victory which led them to the district title.

In all, the Bulldog defense has allowed only four touchdowns all season long and according to Nelms is the heart and soul of the team.

"Their defense is by far their strongest suite," said Nelms. They've only given up four touchdowns all year and their defense has really set up their offense in good shape with fumble recoveries and interceptions allowing them to go shorter distances to score offensively.

"They haven't been as consistent offensively in moving the ball long distances to score," said Nelms. "They're more of a three to four yard a play type team. They seldom beat you with the big play. One of the keys for us is that we're going to have to force them to drive the ball against us. If we can force them into some second and third and long situations it will definitely work in our advantage. They are a senior ballclub much like we were last season, where they've been playing together since they were sophomores. That's one of the reasons they looked so good in the scrimmage. Our kids know that they can play with them and will be ready to play come Friday night."

The Bulldogs are led offensively by quarterback Craig Tally, a 5-9, 180-lb. senior, and by tailback Michael Shipman, a 5-10, 170-lb. senior.

School board to meet at 7:30 this evening

A regular meeting of the Iowa Park school board will begin at 7:30 this evening in the library of W.F. George Middle School.

Preceding the meeting, at 7:00 p.m., a public hearing will be held on the performance of students in the Iowa Park school district on the state Academic Excellence Indicator System (AEIS).

A discussion of facility needs is scheduled during the meeting. Trustees will review the studies and recommendations made by the Facility Task Force, Marr's Architects, engineers, a committee of board members following a walk-through, and Supt. Mike Caplinger. A bond election time line will also be studied.

In addition to the regular business and reports, trustees will take action of a number of items. These include the annual audit report, bid for a new handicapped bus, a change in drug testing companies, letting of bids for a heating and air conditioning unit at the high school, a monetary gift to the school district, and appointing a representative to the Wichita County Appraisal District board of directors.

"The Tally kid is just a real good athlete," Nelms said. "He runs the option well and if you give him time, he can beat you with his arm as well."

Water rates rise for major buyers outside of city

The price Iowa Park charges for water to two major entities is going up the first of December.

The city council approved new contracts with the Horseshoe Bend Estates Homeowners Association and Wichita Valley Water Supply Corporation, but official action on the rates will not be taken until the Nov. 23 council meeting.

While the increases reflect new prices for water sold by Wichita Falls to Iowa Park. The Wichita Falls council recently approved a 260-percent increase in that rate.

However, residents of Iowa Park will see no increases, at least for another year.

Horseshoe Bend residents will be charged $3.0224 per 1,000 gallons of water.

Because that water is taken directly from a transmission line between here and Wichita Falls, that rate reflects the new rate charged Iowa Park, plus a five-percent margin, City Administrator Mike Price said.

Wichita Valley's new rate will be $1.5364 per 1,000 gallons. That rate is considerably lower than the Horseshoe Bend rate, because only a small portion of Wichita Falls water is sold to the cooperative.

Iowa Park purchases only a small portion of its water from Wichita Falls, and that is when demand is greater than the city's water treatment plant is capable of processing.

Another rate change was approved by the council. It concerns the charge for permits to dispose rubbish at the convenience center.

The ordinance which was approved Monday calls for resident permit fees to increase from $5 to $15, and from $150 to $200 for businesses.

Also, the permits will no longer be good for a year from the date of issuance, but will be from January 1 through December 31, it was explained.

Additionally, resident use of the city's dump trucks for disposing of rubbish will be raised from $10 per use to $20.

Another ordinance approved during Monday's meeting officially closed the 60-foot right-of-way for Fourth Street, between West Highway and Magnolia.

The closing, already approved by the Planning and Zoning Commission, was reportedly requested by Randy Catlin and Tami Witherpoon, who are proposing to build a business on the property.

In a personal appearance before the council, Steven Raby thanked the council for allowing him to use the old Recreational Activities Center for a haunted house project during Halloween.

Raby then presented the council the proceeds he raised from the project -- $600 -- to help fund construction of the walking track around Lake Gordon.

BROTHERS KEN, LEFT, AND HAROLD ADAMS ... reflecting on many years they didn't know where the other was.

AFTER 42 YEARS

Adams brothers are reunited

Two brothers were reunited here Sunday, for the first time in 42 years.

Harold Adams, who lives at 1010 North Fourth, and his brother, Ken, had only about three hours together, before Ken, returns to his home in Coconut Grove, Fla.

They had not known where each other was, until Harold happened to see his brother on tele vision one day.

Ken, a contractor, was being interviewed concerning a suit he was filing against a tow truck firm, which had allegedly removed his truck. The firm had refused to return the vehicle, thus the suit, he explained.

But even though Harold felt he recognized his brother on the screen, he was confused with the name "Ken" used in the interview.

Ken explained he had adopted his middle name before entering high school. "I didn't want to be known as 'Hubert', which was my first name. So I adopted my middle name," he said.

Harold and Ken had their reunion shortened, however, because of a misrouting by the airline. He flew into Dallas and was supposed to arrive in Wichita Falls early Saturday evening.

But the person who set up his airline reservations apparently misunderstood which "Wichita" he wanted to go to, and he was flown to Wichita, Kansas by mistake.

The brothers stated emphatically that Sunday's brief visit wouldn't be their last. A part of that visit was to pledge more frequent gatherings in the future.

And Harold had no problem establishing how long it had been since he had seen Hubert Kenneth, because it was when he and his wife married -- 42 years ago.

What you need to know if you're Going To The Game

All adult tickets to the game will be sold at the game, $5 each. Student tickets will be sold Friday, until 1:30 p.m., at the high school, for $3 each. At the gate, student tickets are also $5.

The public is encouraged to be at the high school for a 1:15 sendoff of the team.

NEWS OF THE IOWA PARK
GENEALOGICAL & HISTORICAL SOCIETY

At our November 7 meeting we were shown a video by Heritage Quest, Orting Washington, provided by Shirley Banks, president of IPGHS.

The film demonstrated how to take rubbings of lettering on tombstones. Using a non-menthol shaving creme smoothed over the surface will make the engraving stand out for better pictures.

The video also reminded us of the wealth of information to be found in cemeteries. Names and dates on tombstones as well as graves near may reveal other information of family relationships.

When visiting a cemetery where the office is closed, leave a note with your request and name and address.

Local funeral directors retain records at times for many years. There is a funeral directory that lists all funeral homes, locations and other helpful data.

Church records are helpful as well as the many fraternal organizations who keep fine records. And don't forget the GAR, and other sponsored cemeteries.

If he or she was a service veteran, the Veterans Administration and National Cemeteries may be helpful.

Death certificates may be available but few before 1900, when states were required to register vital statistics.

If you need addresses and help, members of local genealogy societies as well as national societies can help. A fee is usually involved in writing for information, other than national.

If anyone is interested in cemetery research and needs help, come to an IPGHS meeting, or if interested in a workshop on researching contact a society member.

As I See It...By Bob Hamilton

If you were among the missing when the Veterans' Day ceremony was held Wednesday at Hawk Stadium, you were the loser.

It was most impressive. Thanks to the coordination efforts of Mike Caplinger, superintendent of schools, this one was the best I've attended in Iowa Park or anywhere else.

The stadium was a most natural place, because of the seating, sound system, and the decorations.

Students were there to welcome all adults, and to usher veterans into the seating area down on the track... after they had pinned an American flag on arrivals.

The Iowa Park Rotary Club had loaned several dozen of their flags to the school, which were on prominent display and made the stadium even more impressive.

There were dozens of veterans in the seating area on the track -- so many that extra seats had to be brought in.

Among the veterans who had worn their uniforms, or parts thereof, was Gregory Ross, who is still able to fit into his Air Force dress uniforms... comfortably!

The apparent entire high school student body was in the stands, along with numerous adults. I kinda felt sorry for many of the students, however, who had failed to wear their jackets. But they stayed and observed.

The color guard from Sheppard AFB raised the flag on the pole on the East end of the stadium, with the Hawk Band playing the national anthem.

And the brief address given by Dr. Greg Ammons, pastor of Faith Baptist Church, was fittingly informative.

I can tell you that a lot of planning and work went into Wednesday's event, that a committee will critique the program, and immediately begin making plans for next year.

I'd like to suggest you make every effort to attend if you possibly can.

It was a good'un.

Thanks Booster Club

Thank you very much to the Iowa Park Athletic Booster Club for the smoker -- We're still stunned that we won! It is a well-made, beautiful, and above all, useful, cooker/smoker trailer. We are most grateful to have been blessed with this tremendous win, and it is a pleasure to say that it will be staying in Iowa Park for many years.

We are aware that many members of the community have invested a great deal of time, effort, and money making this a great fundraiser for our athletes. In this spirit of community we hope to be able to show our gratitude by making the "Hawk Smoker" available to the Booster Club and others who continue to make Iowa Park such a wonderful place to live. The O'Callaghan Family (Dan, Pat, Danny, Sean, Brady, Colleen, Tom, and Casey) P.S. ## City receives tax rebate

September apparently was a good month for local businesses, according to the sales tax rebate report released by the state comptroller's office.

The City of Iowa Park received a sales tax rebate check for $33,892.71 this month, which was an increase of 5.69 percent over last year's report.

November's payments include local sales taxes collected by monthly filers on September sales, and by quarterly filers on July, August and September sales, reported to the comptroller in October.

For the year, Iowa Park is 3.48 percent better than in 1997, receiving a total of $264,541.40 in tax rebates.

Burk Burnett and Wichita Falls, both of which doubled their local sales tax rates, are running 106.15 and 106.97 percent ahead for the year, while Electra is a minus 0.79 percent, according to the report.

Holiday also is in the minus column for the year, -7.38 percent.

Cubs seeking food donations

Members of Cub Scout Pack 7 will be collecting food this weekend for their annual food drive.

Residents are requested to place non-perishable foods in a bag on their front porches by 9 a.m. Saturday, and the Cubs will begin picking them up at that time.

The Scouts placed placards requesting the donations on front doors of residences last weekend, after having received permission from the city council.

Only one arrest reported

Only one arrest was included in the police blotter during the past week, but officers were not without work to do.

The most common instances on the blotter during the week had to do with juveniles who were not where they were supposed to be, one officer stated.

The lone arrest was made at 1:01 a.m. Saturday, on the Southbound side of US 287.

Wayne Elliott Tice Jr., 36, was taken into custody on a driving while intoxicated charge.

At the police station, officers conducted the usual search of his clothing, and reported finding less than two ounces of marijuana.

He was then transported to the county jail in Wichita Falls, according to the blotter entry.

A resident in the 700 block of West Coleman told police someone "keyed" the side of his van while parked overnight Monday at his residence.

Monday, the department received a call that a "creature" was in Lake Gordon, scaring the ducks away. An officer investigated, and reported observing a large beaver in the water.

.27 in rainfall

Iowa Park residents welcomed the .27 of an inch precipitation during the past week, but they could do without the high winds which accompanied one of the two rain storms.

Regil Woodfin reported having measured .05 in his gauge Friday, and an additional .22 Monday evening, which was accompanied by winds estimated at 55 MPH.

WORTH QUOTING

Looking backward is not too difficult. Often, it is joyful and a bit maudlin as in the funeral "Blest Be the Tie That Binds." It is looking inward that is tough and elusive. And looking forward is chancy and exhilarating and, alas, just a big frightening.

Well, last weekend, while living in the present, I was thrust too quickly into the past at the 100th anniversary of the Iowa Park School District. It was more than a class reunion.

The present summoned the past: Those old folks were once youths. That is not to say that they are not somewhat youthful today.

They have just lived awhile, traveling into the workaday life, to college, to war and back, and into marriage, mortgages and parenthood. In their aged character-lines appearance, they have summoned new but old transformations.

How could it be, you wonder absurdly, that these boys and girls from your youth can be so old and now are sojourning into their 50s and 60s. And their upper-classmen are heading into their 70s, 80s and 90s.

Indeed, it is one of life's wonders that time, which back then seemed to creep like a turtle, is now not exactly lightning-fast but surely is a gazelle. And have you noticed that even the turtle, in its ponderous crawl, suddenly is out of sight and gone?

That's time. At school reunions, it is the oldsters who, able or not, show up. It is the youngsters, those recent graduates, who unusually don't. There hasn't been enough erosion of time to leave them sentimental. That will come, though.

"What's getting into these kids?" an older rhetorically asked of the relatively recent graduates, now into the 20s and 30s, who rarely make appearances at school reunions.

When they get into their 40s, after their progeny has made it through high school, their curiosity, sentiment, and nostalgia will start brewing, and they will begin showing up.

The Class of 1948 made a strong appearance on its 50th anniversary. Of course, the old classmates cast adorations at one another and occasionally chanced loving bars. There was the one about an Iowa Park High School Hawks football player who, on a three-point stance ready for a play, "rooted like a pig. When he got through rooting, the play was over."

In the Class of 1956, two out of a class of 30-something dared to show up: Jerry Geisert, who is now retired and over at Wichita Falls, and this fellow who fears that retirement suggests getting older. And who, not me, is going to admit that to anybody and, most of all, to himself? No, sir, and no, ma'am.

My brothers, Delbert, Class of 1952, and Gene, Class of 1964, speak well of the school and all the goings-on and antics and studies and class trips and things talked about and things hushed.

Most of all, we must salute our resolute teachers and fellow students who persevered. They were a good lot. The teachers, especially, are to be lauded for their kindness, patience, scholarship, and no-tom-foolery strictness. Ruth Weiler, teacher of English grammar and literature; Roy Smith, mathematics teacher; Dorothy Thompson, science teacher; Maude Owens, English literature teacher; Bertha McDonald, social studies teacher; Tom Hughes, history teacher; Mary Hughes, business teacher, and others, including another keeper, Page Morgan, the librarian.

They are all older, if not out of this world and into heaven adventures. I am reminded that teachers, too, were once young students. And, as older teachers know all too well, good teachers are students forever.

Yes, looking backward helps put things -- life -- into perspective and right away.

Golf cards are available

The sport of golf has raised millions of dollars for charitable causes over the years, and now 259 Texas golf courses and their pro's have teamed up with the American Cancer Society's Texas Golf Pass to help raised money to fight cancer in Texas.

And, it's just in time for the holidays.

Are you trying to find something for that special person who has everything? Want to help out a good cause while you're sharing the holiday spirit with friends and family?

Well, this may be the answer to your shopping needs.

The 1999 Texas Golf Pass is now available. For a $35 contribution, it provides golfers over 450 rounds of golf at 259 Texas courses. Last year's pass was so popular that it almost sold out.

The Texas Golf Pass can be ordered by calling 1-800-ACS-2345 or online at www.acs-tx.org. The website has a special search feature to help you find participating courses.

Hawks shut out Steers, 24-0

With a playoff spot on the line, the Iowa Park Hawks came out on fire despite the cold and damp conditions Friday night in the regular-season finale against the Graham Steers.

Iowa Park, needing both a win over Graham and a Vernon win over Bowie to keep alive its three-year playoff run, took control of the game early and never looked back, blanking the Steers 24-0. The win lifts the Hawks record to 7-3 overall and 3-2 in District 5-3A play, while the Steers, who started the season ranked 10th in Class 3A, fell to a disappointing 2-8 overall and 1-4 in district play.

Graham took the opening kickoff and following a 13-yard completion from Alan Jacoba to Chris Duncan, the Steers had moved the ball to their own 40 just three plays into the game.

That was all the Steers would get on their first drive as the Hawk defense stiffened and forced Graham to punt the ball away.

Jacoba's punt traveled only 16 yards, giving Iowa Park the ball at their own 45 with 9:04 left in the opening quarter. Two plays later the score was 7-0 Iowa Park. Tommy Duerson opened the drive with a 25-yard run around his left end, then on the next play, Duerson started right and found nothing, then broke the play back to the left where he out raced everyone the final 30 yards for the touchdown. Daron Blackerby added the first of his three extra points to make the score 7-0 with 8:43 remaining in the first quarter.

Duerson finished the night with 145 yards rushing on 17 carries, which pushed him over the 1000-yard mark giving him a total of 1022 for the season.

The Steers turned the ball over twice in the first half on an interception by Justin Denton late in the first quarter and on a fumble that was recovered by K.C. Green with 1:34 left in the half.

Iowa Park turned the second turnover into points when Tyler Pulley hooked up with Chase Wright on an 18-yard touchdown pass with 47 seconds left in the half to make the score 14-0. Green's fumble recovery gave the ball to the Hawks on the Graham 30. An 11-yard completion from Pulley to Thomas Brake moved the ball to the 19 and three plays later, Pulley hit Wright for the score to give the Hawks some breathing room, not that the Iowa Park defense needed any in the first half.

All the Hawk defense did in the first half was hold the Steers to zero yards rushing on 14 carries and to only 59 yards passing on a five-of-13 performance by Jacoba. Duncan had all but eight of the 59 yards on four catches.

The second half was more of the same, as the Hawks opened the third quarter with a 10-play 76-yard scoring drive that chewed up almost five minutes off the clock. Pulley capped the drive with a 10-yard touchdown to make the score 21-0.

Pulley, who finished the night with 88 yards on 15 carries, picked up 58 of his yards in the opening drive of the second half.

In all of the third quarter, Graham ran only three offensive plays and netted a minus one yard.

Iowa Park took over at its own 43 with 5:35 left in the third quarter and went on a 12-play drive that moved the ball to the Graham five, as the quarter ended with Iowa Park facing a fourth-and-goal.

As the fourth quarter started, Blackerby came on and drilled a 22-yard field goal on the first play of the fourth quarter to make the score 24-0.

The Steers did move the ball to the Iowa Park 27 midway through the fourth quarter, but failed to score, turning the ball over on downs after three straight incompletions.

On Graham's next possession, defensive tackle Russell Duggins came up with every lineman's dream by intercepting a pass with 7:55 left to play in the game.

The Hawk defense continued to shine in the second half, limiting the Steers to only 45 yards rushing for the game on 24 carries and held Duncan without a reception, leaving Graham with only 97 yards passing.

AG AGENT'S REPORT

By JOE RAFF, Wichita County Agriculture Agent

Rats and Mice

It sure is nice to see the cooler weather set in. Bundling up in front of a fireplace, neat stuff.

Of course, there is also scraping your windshield in the mornings and breaking ice for the cows when it's 10 below, and listening to the new arrivals in your home -- mice and rats.

Yes, they want to stay warm and the best place for them is your home, barn or outhouse.

There are several ways to get rid of these pests: removal of food and water; using traps; using rodenticides and anticoagulants.

The best way to eliminate the food supply is to store foodstuffs in rat-proof containers such as glass or metal, and to dispose of waste and garbage in tightly-covered metal cans. Mending leaky faucets and doing away with water storage areas that rodents have access to is also an essential part of rat and mouse control.

Traps are effective tools to use against rats and mice, but require more skill and labor. They are recommended where the use of rodenticides seems inadvisable, and in places where there are few rats and mice.

The best place to set traps is close to walls in areas where rodents run. Traps should be set in such a manner that the rodent, in following its natural course, will pass directly over the trigger. To make the trap more effective, a 2 inch by 2 inch piece of cardboard can be attached to the trigger.

One of the more popular recommended ways to destroy rats and mice is the use of rodenticides. There are many different kinds of rodenticides available.

Anticoagulant rodenticides are available in either single pellet or water soluble formulations. Rats and mice normally begin dying three to 10 days after feeding on the baits.

Although rodenticides are generally safe to use, care should be taken when placing these chemicals, so that neither people nor domestic animals have access to them. The label directions should always be read and followed exactly.

For best results, offer dry cereal anticoagulant bait to rats and mice in 1/4 to 1/2 pound sacks or packages. Place bait less than 25 feet apart where rats and mice feed along walls, inside and under stairways. To hasten feeding, slit paper sacks so that bait spills out.

The number of baits to distribute varies. For small buildings with a few rats, two pounds is sufficient. If there are many rats and mice, use four to five pounds. The average Texas farm is about 10 pounds.

If rats and mice are eating the bait in certain places and not in others, move the bait to the location where they prefer to eat. Keep replenishing the bait until the rats and mice stop eating. Where there is a source of re-infestation from other areas, such as a dump ground, etc., keep anticoagulant bait out at all times for new rats and mice.

In addition to the dry form, a water-soluble material is available for use in water bait. This is particularly effective in dry surroundings, and where an attractive source of food is already available.

Use one packet of multi-dose, soluble anticoagulant per quart of water in water fountains or similar containers. Where freezing occurs, use plastic containers rather than glass. Freezing, however, does not seem to alter the effect of the anticoagulant.

Water-soluble bait and cereal bait placed together are a very effective control program.

Lunneys accept Abilene positions

Former Iowa Park Mike and Jeanie Lunney recently accepted the positions of head director and assistant director of Abilene Wylie school bands.

Lunney has held the director position of bands at Electra and Holliday, and Mrs. Lunney has been assistant director at Iowa Park, Electra and Holliday.

The Wylie Bulldog Band competed in the same division as Iowa Park in the UIL Area B marching contest at Bedford. Wylie placed fifth, behind the fourth earned by Iowa Park.

Lunney is a 1981 graduate of Iowa Park High, and later graduated Midwestern State Univ. He was a six-year student in the local band program, all under director Greg Miller.

GARDENING HINTS

By MARK TERNING, COUNTY AGENT - HORTICULTURE

Q. We have a nice Red Oak in Wichita Falls. The root system in some areas is slightly exposed above the soil. Now, a strange type of growth is growing out of the roots in one spot. What is this and what caused this unusual growth? Can we do anything to stop the growth?

A. The description of the problem is a bit vague, however, there is a good possibility that what you are seeing is a Bracket Fungi. Exposed roots at the soil line or just above are likely to be damaged by lawn mowers, string trimmers and other mechanical devices. This open area or wound is subject to decay.

Often times a fungal organism which is very visible will begin to break down the decaying wood. Bracket fungal organisms can be seen on trunks of trees or on roots where any type of damage has occurred. They look unusual and are always attached to the tree. This is the reasoning for the name Bracket Fungus.

The best way to control this problem is to avoid wounding a tree or the root system in any way. Keep mowers and string trimmers well away from the trunk and any exposed roots.

You can carefully scrape the fungus off of the root system and cleanse the area with a 10 percent bleach solution. Try to remove the fungus down to sound wood without doing any additional tree damage. Periodically spraying with a control product like Dursban to prevent insect attack in a wounded area is also a good idea.

Q. I live in Burkburnett and would like to move some English Ivy from my friend's home to our landscape. How and when should I move the Ivy?

A. Move the Ivy this fall or right after our first hard freeze. Try to get a section of the vine that has some of the roots attached where the vine originates from the ground. Move the plant immediately to the new location (preferably a shaded area) and apply a rooting stimulator one time after planting. There after maintain a reasonable level of soil moisture throughout the winter if we don't receive adequate normal rainfall.

Lady Hawks lose in Area level

The Iowa Park Lady Hawks came up just short in their bid to win back-to-back playoff games Saturday when they fell 15-9, 17-15 to Clifton in the Area Round of the playoffs.

Iowa Park defeated Dublin to win Bi-District last week and had their chances to win against a good Clifton team, according to head coach Brenda Hodges.

"I thought we played one of our better games of the year," Hodges said. "We played real well at times, but when we didn't play well it was when they were serving, and when they were playing poorly it was when they were serving, so it didn't hurt them as much."

In the second game of the match, Iowa Park held leads of 7-1 and 12-6, then had three game points before falling 17-15.

"In the second game we had several chances to get the win," Hodges said. "We jumped on top 7-1 and I thought we were going to win. When we led 12-6, I still thought we were going to win. Then down the stretch we had three game points but we just could never seem to finish it off."

"We were up and we had all the momentum in the second game," said Randi Nelms. "But we just kind of got stuck on 12 for a while. When they started to come back we started to panic, I guess. We watched it on film and we saw all the chances we had to win, we just couldn't finish them off. One of our goals was to make the playoffs and play well and we did. We won bi-district and got a big trophy, which is something we can always look back on."

"I know that the girls were disappointed, but we had a good season,"

Hodges added. "I am very proud of the effort they put forth all year long and for the way they played."

Scores of games played last week by teams on Iowa Park's schedule included:

- Vernon 18, Bowie 0
- Childress 35, Henrietta 7
- Holliday 55, Seymour 15
- Hirschi 55, Burk Burnett 6
- Rider 21, Wichita Falls High 18
- Bridgeport 21, Gainesville 14

Those teams advancing in the playoffs include:

- * Vernon vs. Abilene Wylie, 7:30 p.m. Friday at Abilene Wylie.
- * Childress vs. Ballinger, 7:30 p.m. Friday at Hamlin.
- * Holliday vs. Boyd, 7:30 p.m. Thursday at Bedford's Pennington Field.
- * Hirschi vs. Springtown, 2 p.m. Saturday at WF Memorial Stadium.
- * Gainesville vs. Frisco, 7:00 Saturday at Bedford's Pennington Field.

Tri-Star Contest, sponsored by the Iowa Park Optimist Club, will be held at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 21, at the Fordon Griffith Field.

Friday the 13th might turn some folks off as a day of misfortune. But to Head Coach Weldon Nelms it's not. That was the date of his first win with the Iowa Park Hawks, and it's also the date Iowa Park takes on Brady in Bi-District.

Hawks

We need to keep pressure on him and force him to make some mistakes. He is playing with a shoulder injury on his left shoulder which might slow him down some. Their tailback is just a good runner. He seldom loses yardage. He follows his blockers well and is tough to bring down. Speed-wise they are not as quick as we are and that is another big plus for us. I think our quickness and ability to utilize some different blocking schemes will be another big factor in the outcome of the game."

Defensively, the Bulldogs are tough. Their defensive line averages almost 240-lbs. per man with a pair of defensive tackles going 273 and 265. But it's their middle linebacker that drew the most praise from Nelms.

"The Ferris kid is definitely their leader on defense," Nelms stated. "He's tough to block and he reacts to the football real well. Those two big tackles try and keep the blockers off him to let him run to the ball. Their secondary is tough to beat deep. They've shown that you can complete some stuff in front of them but they seldom give up the big play."

"Their special teams have been suspect all season long," Nelms said. "They've given up some big plays like having two or three punts blocked, they've allowed two kickoffs to be returned for touchdowns and had some punts returned for touchdowns as well. They've also had some trouble with their extra points. In big games like this it always seems to come down to special teams that makes a difference. We work hard on our special team play every week and I feel like we have a big edge in that department this week."

"Our kids are motivated and want to be the first group since '87 to get a playoff victory," said Nelms. "And even though we've played them already and we've played a tougher schedule, it's still going to come down to which team performs the best Friday night. I know it's a long road trip to Abilene, but I feel like those fans that make the trip will get to see a good football game. We are ready to play and will be looking to bring home our first playoff win since I've been here."

Freshmen finish season

The Freshman Hawks ended their season on a positive note by beating Graham 14-7 Thursday night to finish the season at 6-4 overall and 4-1 in district play.

The Hawk offense kept the ball most of the game with methodical drives that ended in two touchdowns and a two-point conversion, the last coming on a 97-yard drive which used up most of the fourth quarter.

Matt Ohm's one-yard touchdown gave Iowa Park the lead at 12-7. Jeremy Wilson caught the two-point conversion pass from Matt Kelly to make the final 14-7. Kyle Chaney scored the Hawks first touchdown, giving Iowa Park a 6-0 lead. Graham answered with a touchdown and an extra point to lead 7-6 until the final drive.

Iowa Park's defense also came up big by shutting down an explosive Steer offense with two goal line stands, the last of which occurred as the time ran out in the fourth quarter.

TOP OF TEXAS FOOTBALL

The Iowa Park Midget East Hawks continued their perfect season Saturday afternoon with a 30-6 playoff victory over Vernon.

The win puts the Hawks in the semi-finals Saturday at 2 p.m. against Henrietta at Iowa Park.

Zac McAllister opened the scoring for the Hawks with a 36-yard touchdown on Iowa Park's first possession. McAllister then added the two-point conversion to give his team an 8-0 lead.

The Iowa Park defense led by Jeremy Williams, Chris Trevino, David Quick and Michael Sargent all played another big game for the Hawks. Matt Glasgow and Sam Rains each came up with an interception for the Hawks while Grant Miller, Blake Beals and Tyler Duggins all had fumble recoveries.

Iowa Park pushed the lead to 16-0 at the half on a 10-yard touchdown run by quarterback Justin Swenson. Swenson then threw the conversion pass to Glasgow.

In the third quarter, Swenson scored his second touchdown, this one on a four-yard run, then threw to Quick for the conversion to push the lead to 24-0. Sargent added the final touchdown for the Hawks on a 16-yard run.

JV captures loop crown

Despite falling in their final game of the season, the JV Hawks finished with a 6-4 record overall and were the District champs with a 4-1 record.

Graham handed the Hawks their only loss in district play on Thursday night in Graham, winning 27-6.

The Steers took advantage of four long touchdown passes to pick up the win. Iowa Park's lone score came on a 75-yard interception return by Alex Quick.
