REBEKAHS

CAMPING PARTY

Quiet a crowd of young people, chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Homer Driskill and Mrs. Shine Phillips, of Big Springs, spent the week camping on the Hubbard. Those who enjoyed the outing were: Misses Lora and Inez Franklin, Kathryn Boydston, Bettie Harris, Nina Griggs, Wren Foy, Jean Powell, and Helen Walker. Messers John Driskill, Frank and Harold Austin, Marvin Handcock, Wendell Russell, Justin Anderson, Ed Glover, Jack Young, Ford Allen and Mack Bell. Frequent visitors came from Baird and Albany. The occasion was made more pleasant by the Victrola furnished by Ed Glover. Plenty of fish were caught and a big time was reported by all.

BRIDGE PARTY

Miss Helen Walker entertained Wednesday morning with Bridge for her visitors, Misses Lucile and Florence Durrett, of Ft. Worth and Helen Murdock, of El Paso. Refreshments of salad, wafers, olives, potato chips and tea were served.

A FINE FARM

Tuesday, in company with T. E. Powell and Will Boydston THE STAR man visited the farm of T. R. Price, west of town on the Clyde road. Mr. Price invited us out to see his feed crop he said, but we saw several things besides the feed stuff.

The first thing Mr. Price showed us was his new storm cellar, with brick walls and arched roof. The cellar was pretty well filled with jars of fruit. The next and most interesting thing to us was a bunch of Red Duroc Jersey hogs. We never thought much of a red razor back hog and some how he was always considered a freak, but the Red Durocs show up much better. Mr. Price says his hogs brought him more money than his cotton crop last year.

Mr. Price has about 150 acres in cultivation, which he and his two sons, with occasional hired help, work. He walked us all over his farm, of which he is justly proud, especially his feed and other crops. His cotton is well fruited, looks green and growing and has many grown bolls. He has a few boll weevil. He has two orchards, one berry patch and a small vineyard. We went through the orchards, but think Will Boydston eat all the peaches except what THE STAR man got. The maize crop is fine and of the dwarf variety and has some fine heads. He has some kaffir corn, but his maize crop is the largest. He also has a fine crop of June corn.

Mr. Price's farm is what is known as the Park's place, and some told Mr. Price when he moved there that he could not make a living on the place, but he is and doing fine. One thing we noticed, the farm is well arranged and well cultivated and clear of weeds and Johnson grass.

Mr. Price has a few cattle, hogs, maize, kaffir corn, peaches, apples, plums, cherries, grapes, berries, sweet potatoes and we don't know what all. Talk about one not making a living on a farm, Mr. Price is proving that they can. Industry and thrift will over come many difficulties. We certainly enjoyed the trip though Mr. Price liked to have walked our legs off.

SAW CULBERSON AUGUST 5.

Gatesville Man Declares Senator is Ill and Not in Condition to Represent the People.

To The Dallas News

Gatesville, Texas, Aug. 14.—I have noticed in the last few days letters that you have published from various and sundry persons relative to the physical condition of Senator Charles Culberson. I presume The News wishes to be fair and to gain all authentic information for the benefit of its readers, therefore I take the liberty of addressing you this letter, and I hope you can see fit to give it the same publicity as you have similar correspondence.

I was in Washington City Saturday, Aug. 5th and I had the pleasure of calling on one of our Texas Senators. I did not have an interview with Mr. Culberson for the following reasons: I was in the private wing of the Senate, standing within twelve feet of Senator Culberson. He was sitting alone, and seemed to be taking no interest in the deliberations of the Senate. I was indeed sorry to see him in the condition that he is. He seems to be suffering with the palsy and I noticed his being very nervous, decrepit and in my judgment physically unable to defend any measure in the Senate that would require twenty minutes' debate. Mr. Culberson is thin in stature and in my judgment he can not sign his own name with pen and ink, for the following reason: nervousness and the palsy. And the State of Texas has been good to Mr. Culberson and I am surprised that his friends in Texas would advocate him to now fill a position for which he is physically unqualified to perform.

The State of Texas needs at this time a man with vigorous manhood and intellectual mind to perform the most strenuous tasks that ever came before the American public, and I see no reason why the followers of Senator Culberson in the past should not vote for O. B. Colquitt in the next primaries, as they have paid their debt to Mr. Culberson, and he being at this time unable to ever fill his seat in the Senate again.

Yours truly,

T. P. Priddie

Editorial Note: This statement corroborates what Bob Henry told the people, but they did not believe him, because he was a candidate. This corroborates what many others have said about Senator Culberson's health of late and especially State Senator W. A. Johnson, who returned from Washington about four weeks ago. We have known Senator Johnson for more than twenty years and know him to be honorable and truthful. He has known Senator Culberson ever since he was governor. He said he was shocked at Senator Culberson's physical condition. Those who are trying to deceive the people of Texas about the serious condition of the Senator's health get some man, Will James, and others, just from Washington to tell you how well Senator Culberson looks and how highly he is spoken of at Washington, but not a single one tells of having any conversation with him. Why? Mr. Priddie tells us why. Personally we regret Senator Culberson's condition and wish it were otherwise. His friends, who persuaded him to enter the race, did him and the people of Texas a grievous wrong, no matter whether he is elected or defeated.

DEFENDS COLQUITT'S RECORD.

In a communication from P. P. Reynolds of Coleman in defense of O. B. Colquitt's candidacy for the Senate, Mr. Reynolds says, in part.

"For fifty years I have known Ex-Gov. O. B. Colquitt, yea, from the day when he was working at menial tasks in the depot at Daingerfield. As a young man his life was clean, his character above reproach. His habits were correct and his ideals were high. And he has never been forced to stay away from his post of duty on account of a weakened physical condition. He has never been a prisoner on the bounty of the people of Texas."

Ex-Gov. Colquitt really has already won the senatorial race, with a lead of between 30,000 and 40,000 votes. Texas politics has developed many Judas, but this race seems to abound with more than any I have ever seen. There is Tom Campbell trying to deliver his first primary vote to Culberson, forgetting the fact that Colquitt made his election as Governor several years ago by withdrawing in favor of Campbell, enabling him thus to be elected over Bell and Brooks. Then there is Barry Miller 'managing' Culberson's campaign. Barry would not have been known outside of Precinct No. 1 Dallas County if it had not been through Colquitt's having elevated him to a Judge-ship there. And now 'Judge' Miller is 'biting the hand that fed him.'

"We had better pension Culberson and send Colquitt to Washington, so that we can get 'service'."

Lesson VIII.—Third Quarter, For Aug. 20, 1916.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES

Text of the Lesson, Acts xix, 29-41. Memory Verses, 29, 30—Golden Text, I Tim. vi, 10—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

Paul is now on his third and last missionary tour. As he returned from his second tour he left at Ephesus his two fellow workers, Priscilla and Aquila, whom he had brought with him from Corinth. He then proceeded to Jerusalem and thence to Antioch, where he remained for some time before starting on this last tour (xviii, 18-23). We cannot think of him tarrying anywhere without seizing every opportunity to speak of Jesus Christ and His sufferings and glory. Having passed through Galatia and Phrygia, nourishing and strengthening the disciples with bread from heaven, he came again to Ephesus (xix, 1). During his absence Priscilla and Aquila had been busy at something more than tent making, for a Jew from Alexandria, eloquent and mighty in the Scriptures, had come to Ephesus, and because of the fire that was in him he spoke boldly in the synagogue and taught diligently the things of the Lord, but he did not know of the baptism of the Holy Spirit. These two faithful ones expounded the Scriptures more fully to him concerning some things, and then he felt led to go to Corinth and was commended to the disciples there, whom he was able to help much, and he mightily convinced the Jews, from the Scriptures, that Jesus is the Christ (xviii, 24-28). There is many a Priscilla who is qualified to instruct more fully many an Apollos, but the latter are not always as teachable as this one seems to have been. The crown of glory is a special reward for those who feed others with living bread, and it is not eloquence that is needed, but just a willingness to receive the message from the Lord and deliver it in His name, as the disciples received the bread from the Lord's hands when the 5,000 were fed and passed on to the people what they received from Him. They neither made it, nor bought it, nor increased it, nor in any way improved upon it, but were simply channels or messengers between Him and the people. Our Lord Himself only said what His Father told Him to say, as He has told us in John xii, 49, 50, and thus He honored His Father, and the Father wrought through Him.

This gives no opportunity to show what we know or what we can do and is therefore very humiliating to the pride of man, and many will not submit to it. But there is no other way by which we can be true messengers of God. If the message is ours He will not assume any responsibility concerning it, but if it is His message He will see that His purpose and pleasure are accomplished by it (Isa. lv, 11). When Paul came to Ephesus Apollos had gone to Corinth, and Paul began to inquire as to what the believers knew of the Holy Spirit, and, seeing their ignorance in this matter, he taught them more perfectly and became God's channel to them of the gift of the Spirit, so that they spake with tongues and prophesied (xix, 2-7). Every true believer is a temple of the Holy Spirit, and when any one receives the Lord Jesus the Spirit takes up His abode in that person, but there is a difference between being indwelt by the Spirit and filled with the Spirit (John xiv, 17; I Cor. vi, 19, 20; Acts ii, 4). The Spirit abides in the believer, and we cannot pray, as David did, "Take not Thy Holy Spirit from me" (Ps. li, 11), but we may be filled and rebilled as the need arises for special service.

For three months Paul spake in the synagogue at Ephesus, boldly disputing and persuading concerning the Lord Jesus and the kingdom of God, and when opposition drove him out he continued in the school of Tyrannus for two years or more until all in the province of Asia (where he was forbidden to speak on his second tour, as in xvi, 6) heard the word of the Lord Jesus. Some very special miracles were also wrought by the Lord through Paul (xix, 8-12). Wicked men tried to do wonders, even some in high religious standing, using the name of the Lord Jesus as they heard Paul do, but they fared badly indeed, while through Paul the word of God grew mightily and prevailed (xix, 13-20). Having sent Timothy and Erastus into Macedonia, where he hoped to follow them, he continued in Asia, completing three years there (xix, 21, 22; xx, 31), as we shall see in our next lesson. Why he was forbidden to go to Asia on his second journey and now permitted to spend three years there we may perhaps learn some day.

The rest of our lesson chapter is occupied with the record of the riot of the silversmiths, whose craft was suffering because of the exaltation by Paul of the Lord Jesus. Their cry in verse 27 concerning Diana, "whom all Asia and the world worshipeth," makes us think of the coming anti-christ, whom all that dwell on the earth shall worship (Rev. xii, 8), but the kingdom shall be the Lord's (Dan vii, 14, 27; Obad. 21). Until then we must expect that opposition to the truth will steadily increase and people give heed to lies and doctrines of demons (II Tim. iii, 1-5; iv, 3, 4; II Thess. ii, 8-12). But the Lamb will overcome (Rev. xvii, 14).

STATE FAIR AUTO SHOW TO HAVE ALL 1917 MODELS

J. S. Kendall, director in charge of the Automobile Division of the State Fair of Texas, announces that plans for the biggest automobile show the South ever saw have been completed by the Fair management, and that the active interest and co-operation of the Texas dealers has been secured.

During the past year the Automobile Building in Fair Park, Dallas, which houses this big show, has been extensively remodeled and redecored, and its facilities have been brought right down to date, so that the 1916 show will be presented under the most favorable conditions possible.

There is no doubt but what this show will be presented under the most favorable conditions possible. There is no doubt but what this show will be intensely interesting to many prospective car owners through out the Southwest, as it offers practically the only opportunity the people of this section will have to see all the new 1917 models side by side, and to make comparisons of the relative values of each.

John W. Atwood, of Dallas, who is president of the Automobile Dealers Association, states that the members of that body are all actively interested in the coming show and are making extensive preparations for their exhibits and demonstration work.

It is authoritatively stated that practically all of the popular makes will be included in the big show at the State Fair of Texas, and that each will be represented by its very latest models. Trucks and commercial cars will be seen in large numbers, as well as the best of the exclusively pleasure cars.

MANY MADE PRODUCTS WILL BE SEEN AT STATE FAIR

S. I. Munger, director in charge of the Manufactures Division of the State Fair of Texas, announces that the displays in his section this year will be a revelation to Fair visitors, and that practically every manufacturer of any importance in the Southwest will be represented with a good and thoroughly representative exhibit. Particular attention has been paid by the Fair management this year to the matter of securing exhibits of the products "made-in-Texas," and it is stated that these products will be at the Fair in overwhelming numbers.

The average Texan has little or no real idea of the wonderful diversity of products made in this State, and the "Made-in-Texas" exhibits are expected, for this reason, to be of a great deal of interest. They will include hundreds of articles which are not generally attributed to Texas manufacturers, but which are actually made here—and well made, too.

The Manufacturers exhibits at the State Fair are always interesting. This year, because of their increased numbers, and also because of the increasing importance of Texas as a manufacturing State, they are expected to be even more so.

W. H. Stratton, secretary of the Fair Association, states that practically all the available space in the Manufactures Building has been contracted for, but that a few choice positions are still remaining, and that these may be secured by writing direct to the Fair Association, Dallas.

BURIED SILVER BARS FOUND.

CLAIM MADE IT REPRESENTS GREAT AMOUNT OF WEALTH.

A farmer by the name of Palmer, residing four miles west of Nocona, Montague county, Tex., has plowed up a fortune variously estimated at from $100,000 to $280,000. The wealth is in silver bars, seven inches long and about half an inch thick. Palmer told friends he had found more silver in his cotton field than two men could carry. The matter has been secret as he wants to have the metal assayed at the Denver mint or the University of Texas.

Pursues Assailant Some Distance, Beats His Brains Out and Going to the Residence of Wife's Father Soon Expires.

After he had been called to the front door of his residence, three and a half miles southwest of Roysce City, Rock wall county, Tex., about 1 o'clock in the morning by Jack Canup and shot three times in the stomach with a pumpgun, B. James pursued his assailant some distance, took the gun away from him and beat him to death. He broke the stock over the head of Canup at the first blow. James then walked to the home of his father-in-law, about 3,000 yards away, related the circumstances and in a short time was a corpse.

Canup was unmarried. A wife and child are left by James. Trouble of long standing had existed between the parties.

Texas Farmers' Congress.

During the fourteenth annual session of the Farmers' Union of Texas, held at Houston, Henry N. Pope of Fort Worth was re-elected president. Herbert Butts of Hondo was chosen vice president; Charles Smith, Eort Worth, secretary-treasurer; J. S. Aihart, general organizer and lecturer; J. W. Gregg, Rusk, conductor; J. P. Lane, Gallatin, chaplain. Location of one of the twelve regional land banks is favored for Texas at once; establishment of a farmers' bank, capital stock not less than $500,000 and affiliated with the federal reserve system favored; agricultural extension work centered in the agricultural and mechanical college to prevent duplication of efforts by other agencies and proposed constitutional amendment to raise maximum school tax levy from 50 cents to $1 endorsed.

Noted Surgeon No More.

Dr. John B. Murphy of Chicago, one of the world's most renowned surgeons, died suddenly at Mackinac Island, Mich., while on a summer outing. Dr. Murphy, who was fifty-eight years old, was recently knighted by Pope Benedict for his researches in surgery. He was credited with being the first surgeon to perform an appendicitis operation, and was the originator of the Murphy button, making it possible for a moderately skilled practitioner to unite a severed intestine.

Verdict for Shreveport.

Class and commodity rates between Shreveport and points in east Texas were pronounced by the interstate commerce commission unreasonable and prejudicial to Shreveport and ordered readjusted. It also ruled that railroads must not apply to transportation with Texas rules or minimum carload rates different from or lower than those applicable to freight between Shreveport and Texas points prejudicial to Shreveport.

Drowned as He Joked.

D. W. Haggard, a private in the Arkansas national guard, doing recruiting duty at Arkadelphia, drowned while swimming in the Ouachita river. As he started to swim across the river Haggard called to some companions: "If I drown, be sure to notify my folks." He said this jokingly. Less than five minutes later he sank.

Archie Reese, sixteen years of age, was drowned in the Sabine river near Longview while swimming. He was a son of Dave Reese, a Harrison county farmer.

Over 500 persons, 98 per cent actual farmers, attended the first four grades of the agricultural and mechanical college at Blackjack, Smith county, seven miles from Troup.

W. G. Williamson, wife and eight children passed through Paris in a light spring wagon pulled by a pair of diminutive burros en route from New Mexico to Alabama.

East Texas Odd Fellows' association, with many delegates present, held an interesting two-day session at Tyler. Grand Master Johnson of Corsicana and other officials attended.

An initial order for 30,100 copies of textbooks used in the first four grades of the Dallas public schools, costing about $7,000 and to be furnished free to the children of those grades has been placed.

Get your Colquitt friends to go to the polls and vote.

If Colquitt is a Republican then there are no Democrats in Texas.

Joe Cockrell says sixty-five thousand Republicans voted for Colquitt in the general primary. Well, how many party prohibitionists you suppose voted against him?

The Prohibition Party, the only party in this country that has ever declared for Prohibition, county, state and nation, has nominated a state ticket and called on the Anti Saloon League for help—and the A. S. L. refused. Why?

It was alright for Senator Culbertson, while a candidate for governor, to criticize President Cleveland, but it is treason for Colquitt to criticize President Wilson. Will the Dallas News or one of the high-brow spouters for Culbertson answer?

The Dallas News seems to think a sight more of Senator Culbertson now than it did of Governor Culbertson twenty years ago. At one time the Dallas News had about as much use for Culbertson as it did for Jim Hogg and we all know how the News loved (?) Hogg.

One reason given by a leading pro why he opposes Colquitt is that he stumped the state against prohibition in 1911, and if elected senator he is liable to do the same thing in 1917. Has Senator Culbertson given any promise to the pros that he will not do anything against prohibition in Texas next year?

What is the reason most of the leading pros are for Culbertson? Because Colquitt had the nerve to take the stump against state-wide prohibition and Culbertson did not. That is a good reason why a pro should support Culbertson, but a good reason why an anti should support Colquitt.

The wildest visionary could not have dreamed that anything could happen in a day that would bring Col. Jake Wolters, J. H. Gambrell, Barry Miller, Dr. A. J. Barton, Col. R. M. Johnston and S. P. Brooks all into the same political camp. They are all supporting Culbertson, Barry Miller and Col. Johnston perhaps because of long personal friendship, Gambrell, Barton, Brooks and Wolters, not because they love Culbertson but because they hate Colquitt, we mean politically. Texas Democrats are going to teach these High-Brows that they do not control either the Pros, Antis or Democrats of this state.

One of the main arguments of Culbertson's supporters that his services in the senate is indispensable to the Wilson administration. Gov. Colquitt in a speech the other day, quoting from the Congressional Record showed that of the 115 roll calls on the most important measures advocated by Wilson, Senator Culbertson was absent 57 times, Senator Sheppard was present 115 times. If Woodrow Wilson could succeed so well half the time without Culbertson he can get along all the time without him. If not, why not?

Colquitt received over thirty thousand more votes than Senator Culbertson in the first primary and several thousand more votes than either of the successful candidates for Congressman-at-large, yet these and all other candidates for state, congress and all district offices have been declared the nominees while Colquitt and Culbertson, have to make another race. Will some one please tell us why the legislature singled out this one office requiring a majority vote when all other candidates are nominated by a plurality vote?

Which shall it be Colquitt or Culbertson? Well, the Herald man voted for Colquitt on the 22d, and we still think that we voted right—Toyah Valley (Balmorhea) Herald.

Correct. Plug'er in again and tell the other boys to do likewise. Texas needs a man like Colquitt in the senate worse now than at any time in its history. Culbertson has served long and well, but his health has failed and he can only at times attend to his duties. Capt. J. W. Jones is just back from an auto trip to Balmorhea and says all West Texas is for Colquitt. Senator Claude Hudspeth, of El Paso says the same.

Col. Wolters, Barry Miller and Louis Wortham will be calling on Colquitt's supporters next year to save the state from the prohibitionist yet they are calling on the pros now to smash Colquitt because he had the nerve to stand up for the rights of Texas to protection from the federal government. How much help will Woodrow Wilson give these antis next year when they will need the vote of every anti in Texas to keep the pros from winning? Woodrow Wilson will probably say, as he did in 1910 that from what he knew of Texas state-wide prohibition was both feasible and desirable.

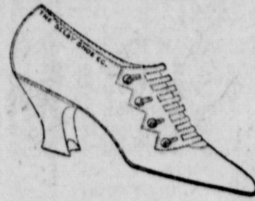

Jake Wolters has been denounced by the pros more than any one other man in Texas as the tool of the liquor interest. Colquitt has come in too for a good share of abuse along that line. Yet it is a fact that through Colquitt's recommendation as governor more stringent laws regulating the sale of liquor in Texas than under any governor including Culbertson and Tom Campbell while they were governor. The claim is made that Wolters disagreed with Colquitt over the 9:30 closing law which lead to estrangement between Colquitt and Wolters still the Pros tell us Colquitt is the tool of the liquor interests. Colquitt is not the tool of any man or set of men and that is why some of the leading Antis oppose him just as some leading Antis opposed the wild untamed mustang Jim Ferguson. Col. Johnston credited with editing the greatest whiskey organ in the south, The Houston Post—an unjust accusation however—published an open letter a few days before the primary in 1914 in which he pointedly told Jim Ferguson that Texas never had selected such timber as he for governor and never would, but they did. Col. Johnson is supporting Culbertson, at least he supported him in the first primary. There is no reason that we can see why a Pro should support Culbertson against Colquitt except spite. Most of the extreme liquor element in Texas, an element that wants little if any regulation of the liquor traffic are against Colquitt. Call the roll of what the Pros have always called the liquor press and they are for Culbertson: Galveston-Dallas News, Fort Worth Star-Telegram, Houston Post, San Antonio Express and Austin American. The Fort Worth Record is the only daily paper in North Texas supporting Colquitt. Take the politicians, Barry Miller, Jake Wolters, the most prominent on the anti side and extreme antis. Then take Dr. Barton, Tom Campbell and lesser lights on the pro side, all are fighting for "Brother" Culbertson, as one preacher put it.

Louis Wortham, editor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, has let it be known that he will be a candidate for governor in 1918. Mr. Wortham truly says many things may happen in two years, and we will add that something is happening right now that is liable to have considerable influence on the fortunes of any anti candidate for governor. We allude to the senatorial campaign now on between two antis, Culbertson and Colquitt. The Star-Telegram is an active supporter of Senator Culbertson, which it has a perfect right to do, but some of the criticisms of Gov. Colquitt just after the first primary, many of Colquitt's friends thought were unfair and unjust. Whatever Colquitt's faults may be he is not afraid to tell the people, or even the President of the United States, where he stands. He may be a little blunt in speech at times, but he had enough worry over the Mexican troubles while Governor to aggravate a saint. In place of having the active support of the senators and representatives in congress and the support of the daily press of Texas, he met with opposition when he had a right, and the people of Texas had a right to expect support in his efforts to protect the Texas border.

Senator Culbertson, so far as known, did not oppose Gov. Colquitt in this and possibly would have assisted him had he not been too ill to attend to his duties. But to get back to the subject of Wortham's candidacy. Don't forget Colonel, that the Texas woods are full of Colquitt men and no anti can hope to be elected governor without this support and they have good memories. We know the claim is made that Gov. Colquitt polled his full strength in this first primary, and we are not sure that Col. Wortham is not one of those who made this claim. That is a delusion that we think the second primary will dispel. If Colquitt polled his full strength, how about Culbertson, who received thirty thousand fewer votes than Colquitt? Is it not a fact that Culbertson's friends hope to beat Colquitt with pro votes? Suppose they do, that will not help any anti candidate two years hence, because Culbertson cannot control the pro vote for his friend, Col. Wortham, or some other anti friend. The pros will vote for some other pro, never doubt that.

We want it understood that we have no word of criticism of Senator Culbertson for his record in the senate or his absence from the senate so often during the past eight years. Our contention is that Senator Culbertson, according to all reports, is physically unable to attend to his duties much of the time, and that Texas needs two senators all the time in the senate more now than ever before. The statement made by some that Culbertson sick is worth more than Colquitt well, is "sickly" sentiment, but not good sense. Senator Culbertson should never have entered the race for a fourth term. Senator Culbertson is one of the ablest, if not the ablest senator Texas ever had in the senate, but if the Associated Press and special correspondents of the Texas daily papers are to be credited as men of ordinary veracity, Senator Culbertson has been in failing health for the past seven or eight years and has spent much of his time away from Washington. The news of his friends that he is in daily attendance of the senate now and attending to his duties as other senators is put out by his managers to blind the people to the real truth. Senator Culbertson is a sick man and never will recover or some of the Texas papers that are now supporting Culbertson have had correspondents in Washington in years past that have grossly deceived the people about Senator Culbertson's health. The truth will come out after the primary no matter which is the winner, and if it turns out that Senator Culbertson is really as ill as reports from Washington for years have shown, then the political leaders responsible for the deception played upon the people of Texas, will have their political goose cooked for all time.

COUNTRY CORRESPONDENCE

BURNT BRANCH CULLINGS

Some of my solicitous friends have taken me to task for a recent squib in regard to one political organization. Now I have quite a lot of friends in said party, and socially and as friends and neighbors I respect, love and as it were, revere them, but politically I would not give a dam for the whole push, that's all.

From the way Culberson ran in the primary he must be a lively corpse. And now its Colquitt vs Culberson in the run off, and the first mentioned gentleman will realize that he isn't dealing with a dead man.

You remember away back I told you of an old Indian medicine man, who got to monkeying with his "roots and herbs" and killed 2 or 3 of the best men of his tribe, and if my father had not had compassion on him, taking him in and doctoring him up he too would have with his fathers in the happy hunting grounds.

A grand old patriotic doctor living near the old fort practiced medicine, not for the money in it, but for the relief of suffering humanity. The said doctor had a negro Joe who is general boss of the whole outfit and a cusser from away back, otherwise he was a practical christian character. When Joe heard of the incident above referred to he went to the doctor and the following resulted: "Look here old Massa Doc, you mus stop dat medicine racket, fust thing you knows dey will have you up like dat Ingin Medicine man, and land you too in de happy hunting grounds, and I'll be damed if I can run de shebang with old Massa Doc gone to dat land from which no trabler ever returns, only in de spirit. Now take my vice and quit right now." If the doctor ceased operations "deponent saith not."

Mrs. Jim Warren is visiting her daughter at Lubbock, accompanied by some of her friends. Jim and the young ladies are selling the finest Elberta peaches we have seen.

The Star nobly expressed it when it said our deceased friend A. W. Booth was "a diamond in the rough." Peace to his ashes. And Uncle Bill when I die if you can conscientiously say the same of me, that's enough:

"When Jesus comes to claim us, he found us very tough

But praise the Lord he saved us, a diamond in the rough."

In Kansas City, Kansas a pillory has been constructed on a prominent street to which wife beaters will be chained and exposed to the public as a punishment to those offenders and a warning to others who prefer that family exercise to honest labor. After the Prohibition plunge is but a step to the pillory and other punishments which put the Spanish Inquisition into the kindergarten class of instruments of fanatical torture and pious revenge.—Harpoon. What next for bleeding Kansas, who takes so much pious interest in the affairs of others especially on the Pro question. They even tell us Texas fellows how to vote, to which we have not responded so far, thank the Lord and I hope never will.

Nolen Duncan is marketing the Drewery grain crop.

There is a vast territory west and north-west of Cross Plains could be turned there by making the roads passable, as it is Coleman gets it. They are progressive which means good roads.

Uncle Bill, did you ever try smoking your pipe, reading a newspaper, and churning, three-in-one. But if you happen to drop a few ashes in the churn you hear it thunder on the feminine side of the house.

It is now Colquitt and Culberson, or like a blamed politician: "I told you so" Who ever is elected, the Government will survive, but a fellow must have a choice if for nothing more than something to howl about. If Culberson can choke off the Cyclone he has some chances, but should the thing visit Texas in his interest he's a goner "sure thing"

Hot dry, and as the natives say, "We are needing of rain."

We learn that Maj. Payne has rented the Dr. Cochran residence and will move to the city.

Cyclone Davis is replaced by Garrett, the grandest thing the Prohibitionist ever did, "you bet."

As flung to the breeze from the mast head of our own Baird Star. Gilliland too is some class when it comes to a newspaper, and may both editors and papers prosper is the sincere wish of ye Scribe "Juan".

Until that stale stuff spoken of is used up I will discontinue, "Juan."

MORAN GAS AND OIL CO. ORGANIZED

Some six weeks or two months ago, the Moran Gas and Oil Co. with T. E. Powell of Baird at the head of it, secured a Charter from the State of Texas to do business in the Moran field.

The Charter called for a Capital stock of $65,000 to be sold in shares of $100. each.

The Company owns 80 acres of land out of the E. S. Graham track about 2 miles North West of Moran. It is the purpose of the Company to drill at least 5 wells on this track, and to begin work about four months after first stock was sold. It is our understanding that the first stock was sold in July and work will begin in Oct.

It is our honest opinion with this Company, and shared by most of the Moran people that Moran's gas and oil field is yet in its infancy, and by organizing a company and going to work, they may be the recipients of some very profitable dividends.

It is not the intention of the Company to confine their efforts to this particular tract, but to use it as a basis on which to start and if it is profitable, get into the field on lease and extend their operations.

We are most delighted to see the growth and push forward of this Company. Because it is a home Company and whatever developments it may make will create competition and add to the general oil business.

It is common opinion that many holes hither to has been pronounced dry holes, can, and will be made pump wells.

It is our opinion that the Producers Oil Co. has this field in such a shape that they can wait a while for it to produce oil and thus repay money expended.

They have a number of wells and the present out put is from 100 to 150 tanks per month.

They also control a number of gas wells which are at present capped down and it is only a matter of time when they will seek a market for it.

When development in Stephens Co. around the Parks Well No. 1 which is said to produce about 3 million feet of gas, is developed. Then as far as we read the intent and purpose of the Co. a pipe line will be laid and a market sought for the gas.

If Stephens Co. proves to be a gas and oil field which is almost assured the fields will be consolidated and worked as one.

This lull in the Moran field part, only shows the breadth of their understanding. And while it may spell time, it will be a most thorough development.

We believe that the mineral right of this and the majority portion of Stephens County is worth untold millions of dollars for it is an established fact that oil, gas and coal is here in abundance.—Moran News.

"GRINGO"

A correspondent of the New York World asked that paper the other day the derivation of the word "gringo" applied by Mexicans as a term of contempt for Americans. The World replied that the word was Spanish and meant gibberish. It had the best authority, Webster, who gives his derivation of "gringo."

Now comes another correspondent of the World who gives an entirely different, and it would appear a very plausible explanation of how the word originated with the Mexicans. He says that when Gen. Scott's army was marching on the City of Mexico, during the Mexican war, the American soldiers sang "Green Grows the Grass O." All the Mexicans could understand of the song was "Green Grows," which they pronounced "gringo," after that they have applied it to Americans ever since.

This theory of the origin of "gringo" is interesting at this time, although it is more likely the Spanish meaning of the term explains its use by the Mexicans. They have nothing but contempt for the English language, which to them is only so much gibberish, although their own Spanish is far from perfect.—Exchange.

A SEASON OF TORTURE FOR SOME

Hay fever causes untold misery to thousands. Asthma, too, counts its sufferers by the hundreds. No remedy has proven more beneficial for hay fever and asthma, as well as coughs and colds, than Foley's Honey and Tar. It soothes that raw, rasping feeling in the throat, relieves hoarseness and wheezing, brings comfort by making breathing easier, heals inflammation, and by allaying these disturbances permits refreshing, natural slumber. Contains no opiates.

PAY A LITTLE MORE AND GET A LOT MORE

Don't put a mortgage on your judgment in buying a car.

There's many a man in this county who paid too low a price for his car—and lived to regret the day.

I am not saying anything against low-priced cars. There are a number of good ones. They do the job well.

I am trying to get people to get a bird's-eye view of the motor car situation instead of a worm's-eye view.

Sometimes by paying a hundred or two hundred more you get $500 extra value.

I refer now to the 1917 3400 Chalmers. Here's a car that has been run more than 1,000,000 miles in the hands of owners, yet attained a service record of 99.21% perfect.

That is the mark of a great car. And though it costs, possibly, a little more than you ever paid for a car before—remember that extra little sum gets you from the zone of a fair car to the zone of a great car.

It is not only money in your pocket in the long run, but pride everywhere you drive. There's a pleasant and interesting satisfaction in driving a regular car.

Price $1090 Detroit—really a $1400 value.

AUTO MAKER SOUNDS WARNING TO RECKLESS MOTORISTS

Blame for Accidents Falls on Motorist, Although Pedestrians Are Responsible in Most Cases Says Hugh Chalmers

"With automobile accidents increasing daily in the larger cities of the country, and civic authorities at their wits' end in an effort to solve the traffic problem, it seems to me that the time has come for the motorist to take up the burden," said Hugh Chalmers yesterday.

"Although practically every record kept by a police department shows the pedestrian responsible in nine out of ten automobile accidents, we must recognize the fact that the general public is inclined to blame the toll of deaths and injuries on the driver of the car.

"Bearing this in mind, I believe that it rests almost entirely with motor car owners whether future accidents are to increase with each season's new crop of drivers. In the first place, there is undoubtedly a portion of the blame resting with certain types of drivers.

Imprisonment for Joy Rider.

"The intoxicated 'joy rider' and others of his ilk, who frequent city streets during the late hours of the night, are a menace to society. To this class, speed laws mean nothing. Heavy fines and imprisonment are about the only remedies that can be meted out to the joy-riding fraternity. Unfortunately, however, only a small portion of the big total of accidents in the past year can be laid at the door of the joy-riders. Every day, the papers contain reports of collisions on the open road and more especially in traffic.

"It is in traffic driving that the motorist has the greatest opportunity to reduce the number of accidents. Reports prepared by the New York Police Department show that from January to July last year, the majority of accidents occurred from 11 a. m. to 12 noon and from 5 to 7 p. m., or during the so-called Rush Hours. The same report carries the information that ninety per cent of the accidents were due to carelessness or other fault of the injured pedestrians. But if we are to be really conscientious about the matter, we must admit that just because the unfortunate man on foot is to blame, the motorist should not feel entirely absolved in the case. A little forethought on the part of the driver, slower speed in traffic, and less anxiety to beat the traffic policeman's whistle should work wonders in the way of cutting down accidents.

Congestion Increases Each Year

"With the hundreds of thousands of new motor cars marketed every year by American motor car makers, traffic will undoubtedly grow more congested each season, and the necessity for extreme caution and owner-drivers for their responsibilities, I believe a campaign of education should be started by the various automobile clubs and motor trade papers along the lines of Safety First. The matter is not all one of speed limits or drastic legislation. Some drivers are more capable at thirty miles an hour than others are at ten. I feel sure that the real remedy will be found in the loyal co-operation of every man at the wheel obeying traffic laws now in force and reporting violations to the authorities.

"As far as pedestrians are concerned, it should be just as much of an offence for the man on foot to disobey the traffic officer's signal as it is for the automobile driver to ignore it. Jay walking in the busy districts of metropolitan centers will have to be eliminated.

"Until persons on foot realize that absolute safety lies only in crossing crowded thoroughfares at street intersections, there will always be a certain number of accidents caused by people walking around vehicles between blocks.

"Summing up matters, all drivers of motor cars should accept the fundamental fact that it is impossible to change human nature, and lay their plans accordingly. Give the pedestrian the widest sort of margin, even though you may feel you are being imposed upon at times, and I believe the much harmful legislation against the motor car will be forestalled."

"THE STORE WITH THE NEW GOODS"

BAIRD, TEXAS

"UNDER TEST IN TEXAS."

The New Orleans American gives space to the pictures of Charles A. Culberson and Oscar B. Colquitt under this caption: "President's Policies Under Test in Texas." This is the story carried by the American: The popularity of President Wilson's policies in Texas will be tested at the Democratic senatorial primary in that state on Aug. 26. The two candidates are ex-Governor O. B. Colquitt and Senator Culberson. Colquitt is attacking almost every important policy of the administration, while Culberson, who seeks to be renominated, is championing the President's cause.

The American must have received its dope from a federal office holder or a political tangoist flying along the avenues in Washington. Colquitt is not assailing the Wilson policies in every speech; Culberson is not defending the Wilson policies in every speech. Culberson isn't making speeches. Colquitt is a regular Democrat. His party made a platform in the city of St. Louis. He bowed to the will of the majority. His party made a platform in the city of Houston.

Colquitt again bowed to the maj-

The Houston platform applauds President Wilson Mexican's policy. Colquitt approves the policy. Why shouldn't he? He made the policy three years ago. A year later Wilson adopted it as his own. Why should Colquitt criticize his own handiwork? "Away down here in Texas" all Democrats are free to criticize their servants. If the occasion demands it; they criticize a constable, a tax collector, a sheriff, a judge, a governor, a United States senator or the President of the United States.

Democrats are loyal to party but they are not serfs to their servants.

A Democrat office holder isn't a sacred image like an ugly faced idol in the Joss house of a Mongolian. Texas Democrats are born free. They make and unmake servants. They create their own orders; they do not take them from up above. All power is derived from the people and not from the office holders. For years and years Colquitt has championed the interests of the farmers.

He was a tenant farmer at eleven, the head a family.

His father a maimed Confederate soldier, had passed on to his reward. Colquitt took his place and fought on for a widowed mother and brothers and sisters. He fought his way up the ladder and every fight he made he enlisted the support of the farmers. He was for the farmers when he served as a state senator. He was for the farmers as a railroad commissioner. He was for the farmers during his two terms as governor of Texas, and the bulk of his votes came from the farmers of Texas.

When Cotton was 6 cents a pound and the financial world was in conspiracy against it Colquitt, as governor, remained loyal to the farmers. What did the federal government do when cotton was 6 cents a pound? From November, 1914, to May 1916 the federal government insured cotton from 11.96 per cent to 14 per cent or an average of 13 cents per pound. This same cotton insured for 13 cents a pound was being sold on the market by debt-ridden farmers at from 5 to 8 cents per pound.

The federal government appropriated $36,000,000 to build a railroad to develop privately owned mines in Alaska but not a cent to help the cotton farmers of the South until a later date when Secretary McAdoo deposited $5,000,000 in a federal reserve bank with instructions to the reserve bankers to loan it to the cotton farmers at 6 per cent.

Did they loan it? Go ask the farmer.

If this is a criticism of the Wilson administration, if it is a crime to criticize a Democratic administration then it is treason to tell the truth. Producers of cotton do not subscribe to the doctrine that it is a crime to tell the truth and neither do the Democrats of Texas who are fair minded and their own masters.—Ft. Worth Record.
