Food, fellowship and carefully arranged decorations featured the banquet given last Friday night for graduating seniors of Iowa Park High School. The First Methodist church parlors were the scene of the affair and the Woman's Society of Christian Service was the hostess group. Besides the senior class, the guest list included the entire school faculty and mother sponsors of the class. Outstanding feature of the table decorations were the large doily fans and the fan shaped programs which were hand made in various colors. Tall white candles tied in the middle with pink and blue bows added a touch of beauty to the evening scene. Bouquets of bridal wreath and purple flags placed at intervals on the two long table and the two end tables added much to the splendor of the occasion. Rev. Floyd A. Boulware, who acted as toastmaster for the banquet, led the assembly in singing grace preceding the meal.

First on the program was a violin

H.R. 2465 SHOULD PASIS

It is encouraging to know that progressive congressmen are trying to make free library service as universal as rural free delivery. The Library Demonstration Bill, which was recently passed by the Senate, would assist states in extending library service to the 35,000,000 Americans - 32 millions of them in rural areas - who do not have access to public library facilities.

Several Texas congressmen are strongly supporting the bill, and one bill would do a lot for my state of Texas, as well as for other states. There are more people in Texas without library service than in any other state. Over 3,000,000 Texans, or about half our population, do not know what free public library service is. Of the 254 counties in Texas, 150 have no public library within their bounds.

Under the terms of the bill, Texas will receive $25,000 a year outright, and up to $75,000 a year more, to Teller. be matched by state funds, for a four year library demonstration program. The Texas State Library will make the plans for using money the Federal government. Texas beautiful garden next door. would use the money to establish county and intercounty library serv-

Remember our last summer's trip and the remarks we made about the neat looking homes and gardens we saw? Sometimes it was a very little place, but it was so neat and trim, so well-cared-for that we were impressed and the picture will linger in our minds long after we've forgotten about the spacious lawns and exotic flowers of the palatial homes.

consultant for the Silver Burdett Publishing company, visited the Iowa Park Ward School last Wednesday by request. The Silver Burdett company offers the services of a reading consultant if the schools want that service. The Ward School was one of the few in this area fortunate enough to secure the services of Miss Phillips. The request was made early last fall but because of the demand for her, she was unable to be in Iowa Park before last week. Miss Phillips has had special training in the teaching of reading and has studied under the supervision of the authors of our basal texts. She presented to the teachers the most approved methods in teaching reading and phonics thru demonstration classes. The teachers were very enthusiastic over the demonstration classes and expressed regret that Mrs. Phillips could not stay for several days. Mrs. Buck and Mrs. Thomason of the Valley View schools were visitors in the Ward School, Wednesday Miss Bulah Terry of Wichita Falls was also present to observe the demonstration teaching.

Jerry Schoonover, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Schoonover, Kamay road, had his tonsils out at the Park clinic Wednesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Edwards re-turned Friday from Ponca City, Okla., where they had visited Mr. Edwards' brothers.

By Mrs. M. L. Hines Farm Bureau members were gratified this week to learn that the U.S. Congress has begun consideration of a long-range farm program. Senator Aiken of Vermont has introduced a bill in the Senate which complies closely with the desires of Farm Bureau members. This measur eis more flexible than the old Triple A program. Support prices will range from 60 to 90 per cent of parity with farmers having the option to vote for quotas in wheat, corn and rice when the prices of these products fall to 75 per cent of parity. Cotton farmers will be allowed to vote quotas when the price falls to 90 per cent of parity, provided the supply is normal.

The long range farm program was discussed at the Young County Farm Bureau meeting at Fort Belknap, April 21 by Loys D. Barbour, district 3 director of the Texas FBF The Iowa Park man emphasized that the proposed Aiken Bill was an immediate step to be taken so farmers would know under what conditions they were to produce and market their products. All of the present program will expire this year, and in case Congress does not have time to pass a long-range program. Congressman Clifford Hope of Kansas, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, has introduced a bill to extend the presen tfarm program for one year.

Mr. Barbour said that farmers can feel confident they will have supported prices for another year regardless of the fate of the Aiken

Among those present at Young County meeting from the Wichita County Farm Bureau were Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Smith, Lee Trimm, Mr. and Mrs. Loys D. Barbour, of Iowa Park; Miss Clara Schulz of Wichita Falls; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Smith, J. R. Sullivan and Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Everett of Burkburnett; and Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Hines, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Scott and Mr. and Mrs. George Lewis of Iowa Park.

Clothing Is Prepared By Church Women For Overseas Needy

The Iowa Park Council of Church Women met Wednesday at the First Christian church to sort, mend and pack the clothes to be sent overseas which have been gathered in their third drive of this nature.

District president of the organization, Lucy W. Goosetree was high in her praise for the work the Iowa Park women have done in this connection since starting last May. She also was complimentary in her remarks about the recreation program sponsored by the group and of the series of lectures on alcohol held

The clothing drive in Iowa Park is greatly indebted to two local business establishments for the services they render. Mrs. George V. Pybus has arranged for having the clothing cleaned free of charge, which makes a great saving to the Council. The W. C. Probst Service station which is the representative for Miller & Miller and Strickland freight lines, handle all the shipping to Church World Services Center at New Orleans. This is done free of charge also. International Flavor of Study Attracts Many

To W.S.C.S. Meeting "We the Peoples of the United Nations" was the theme of the first session of a new course of study being undertaken by the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Iowa Park Methodist church. Mrs. Floyd Boulware was program chairman when the women met Monday afternoon at the church.

To set the mood, Mrs. James Sewell played the national anthems of many countries as a prelude. She was dressed to represent Norway and gave a reading from the literature of that country.

The members and their guests were seated at beautifully decorated tables, each representing a different nation. As they registered each was presented a badge to wear and a flag to carry to her country's table. Mrs. Boulware called the roll and each person gave a comment about the country she represented. Mrs. L. B. Finnell of Holliday gave one of the most interesting parts of the interesting program. Mrs. Finnell has studied at the University of Mexico and, dressed in Mexican costume, she told of the manners and customs of our neighbors to the south. She also repeated the Lord's Prayer in Spanish.

Besides Mrs. Finnell, guests from out of town included Mesdames Bill Wooster, I. A. Smith, M. H. Salyer, E. A. Gurley, J. L. Land, H. S. Tankhurst, G. A. Gaynor, H. O. Dewhitt and E. E. Morton.

Tea and Gift Shower Accorded Mrs. Short At Baptist Church

A lovely post-nuptial courtesy was extended Mrs. Donald Short, Saturday evening when she was complimented at a tea and miscellaneous shower. The honoree, a bride of the early spring, was the former Miss Bettye Van Noy of Wichita Falls.

The parlor of the First Baptist church where the affair was given was handsomely adorned with colorful and fragrant blossoms of the season. The floral grouping on the refreshment table was one of striking beauty and featured iris, bridal wreath and snapdragons to place emphasis on a dainty yellow and white color scheme. The same note was repeated in the refreshments and on the white napkins on which the names of the bride and groom were lattered in gold.

Burning candles which flanked the floral creation completed the picture. The long table on which the gifts were displayed was centered with a bouquet of purple iris. Elsewhere in the parlor, spring flowers in the pastel shades were used effectively with ivy to add beauty and dignity to the setting.

The hostess group for the party was made up of Mesdames Ray Herrington, Roy Lancaster, Louis Quick, J. C. Roby, Sam Hill, R. E. Jackson, George Lewis, Carl McKinnon, O. E. Lochridge, Walter Scott, Homer Blalock and Misses Frances Bell and June Robinson.

As guests arrived they were greeted by Mesdames Herrington, Mc-Kinnon and Scott. Miss Robinson secured signatures for the bride's book, and Mesdames Quick and Lancaster presided at the refreshment

The honoree was attractively attired in a grey crepe costume with which she wore a pink carnation corsage presented to her by the hostesses. Mrs. E. Van Noy of Wichita Falls, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Wayne Short, mother of the groom, were also remembered with corsages.

Musical entertainment was furnished by Miss Joan Whistler and Miss Robinson throughout the hours of entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brown and children Ralph and Lenora visited Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ward in Lawton, Sunday afternoon
