Iowa Park school trustees held their regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening and re-elected C. L. Vaughn as band director and John E. Sibley as vocational agriculture teacher.

The board voted to take immediate action on improvement of the football and practice fields.

Elvy Sargent and Bud May were appointed to investigate the water problem for the fields and report back to the board.

The group decided to move the house occupied by Watkins Walker to East Bank just back of the football stadium. The Robinson house and Richard Jones house will be moved to other locations, and the new gymnasium will be built on the cleared site just east of the high school building.

Trustees okayed the final sale of bonds for the gymnasium. The first $80,000 will draw 2.5 per cent interest, and the next $44,000 will draw 2.75 per cent interest.

In setting up the annual school election, the board chose Fred Parkey as judge, M. E. Banks, Mrs. R. R. Brubaker and T. E. Gilbreath as clerks.

Only two trustees are to be selected this year, to fill the expired terms now held by James Sewell and J. R. Cope. Mr. Sewell has announced he will seek re-election. Louis Whittenberg, a newcomer in the race, will be a candidate. He lives in Valley Farms and is a farmer and Wichita Falls mail carrier.

Sargent and Jim Miller have one more year to serve. C. E. Birk, Bud May and Miles Thompson have two.

Anyone who wishes to file for the school board may do so before 6:00 p.m. Friday, March 30, which is 10 days before the election. Contact Bud May if you are interested.

An African People Decides Its Future

The first plebiscite ever held under the international trusteeship system is currently underway in Togoland under British Administration, a small United Nations trust territory in West Africa. This plebiscite follows a decision of the United Kingdom to grant independence to the neighboring colony of the Gold Coast in conjunction with which British Togoland has been administered for the past 40 years. The Togolese are being asked to state whether they wish to join an independent Gold Coast, or continue under UN trusteeship. The holding of the plebiscite was approved by the Tenth General Assembly and is being conducted under the supervision of a UN Plebiscite Commissioner, assisted by an international corps of observers. The picture shows an official going about his work in one of the districts where the plebiscite will be held.

Negro Music Studied by Club

Modern Music Study club met at the home of Mrs. W. G. Steele for their March meeting. After the roll call, Mrs. James A. Sewell, president, urged as many members as possible to attend state convention next month in Dallas.

Mrs. Fenton Dale was program chairman for the evening, and she gave an interesting background talk on Negro music. Mrs. Dale introduced Mrs. O. E. Lochridge who played an organ solo entitled "Sometimes I Feel Like a Motherless Child," arranged by Burleigh. Club members were next treated to a vocal recording by Mrs. Bob Covington, the title of which was "Were You There?" also arranged by Burleigh. Mrs. Covington was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Sewell.

Bringing out the joyous side of the Negro, Mrs. Sewell played the rollicking "Juba Dance" by Dett. Members present in addition to those mentioned above were Mesdames Henry Jones, M. J. McDonald, Joe Flannagan, Fred Wright, Arch Hughes, Preston Pace, Paul Zink, Esther Thornberry, Wayne House; and Miss Mary Butcher.

Farmers Union speaks

Thirty-two Texas Farmers Union members spent February 26 to March 2 in Washington, D.C. where they actively solicited support for farm legislation which will increase farm income this year.

Wichita County Local 101 was represented by John Staber. He was joined in Washington by 90 other Farmers Union members of Pennsylvania, North Dakota, and Illinois, who spent the same days in the capital city.

This brings to a total of 39 buses containing 1,298 FU members from North Dakota, Minnesota, Colorado, Montana, South Dakota, Illinois, Arkansas, Texas, Ohio, Missouri Kentucky and Pennsylvania.

J. M. Rankins, of Carlton reports the Texas group contacted their Congressmen and Senators and urged them to support proposals that will provide 100 per cent of parity income for all farm families. Alex Dickie, president of TPU, of Denton, adds the present bill being considered by the Senate falls considerably short of accomplishing this objective. Although, he points out the bill does call for re-instatement of 90 per cent price supports for corn, wheat, cotton, peanuts and 80 per cent for manufacturing milk.

One of the highlights of the trip, according to Roland Shepard of Hart, was listening to a part of Sen. Hubert Humphrey's comprehensive 358 page oration on the general farm situation on the floor of the Senate.

A 2 1/2 hour conference with Department of Agriculture officials revealed certain facts, John Barrett of Kress reports, that seemed to be in direct contradiction to Sec. Ezra Benson's statement of the previous weekend, when he declared on a national TV show that anyone who claims farmers are depression-bound is "simply not telling the truth."

One of the charts displayed at the Department meeting showed farm income dropped from 100 per cent (of 1947-49) to 80 per cent in 1954 and still lower in 1955, while national income jumped from 100 per cent to 140 per cent in the same period.

Another Department chart showed in the farmer's share of the consumer's food dollar is today at an all-time low, having dropped from 49c in 1950 to 38c now.

One of the Department officials concluded his remarks by saying

Mike Anglin Dies in Colorado

Word was received last week that Mike Anglin, 54, of Grand Junction, Colo., a former resident of Iowa Park, had died Monday, March 5, in Grand Junction after several months illness. Funeral services were conducted Thursday of last week.

Mike Anglin was a well known district attorney in this area serving Wichita, Archer and Young counties from 1929 to 1934. He was a graduate of the University of Oklahoma and did some private practice before being elected district attorney.

After this office was abolished in 1935 and 1936, he went back into private practice. He later moved to Longview where he served as assistant district attorney and later as elected district attorney of Gregg county.

Since he and his family moved to Colorado, Mike had been interested in oil, mining and uranium. Survivors are his widow Lois; two sons Bob and Clay, all of Grand Junction; a brother Hill, former water superintendent of Iowa Park and now interested in ranching at Nara Visa, N.M.; a sister.

Robert Riley of the air force came up from Dallas recently for a visit with his uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Riley. He is to report for duty at Biloxi, Miss. The Rileys live in Valley Farms community at Horseshoe Lake, which they are turning into a pleasure resort.

The material he had presented "highlights sort of a serious situation" and that he didn't "think it can continue much longer," according to Leon Osborne of Sanger.

He also pointed out that most of the Washington Farmers Union visitors felt that Benson's nationwide TV statement of only four nights earlier to the effect that farmers were in a sound financial condition, was not at all in line with the hard cold facts as presented by the Department officials at their Tuesday morning conference.

While in Washington the group visited many important points of historical interest, including Washington monument, Lincoln and Jefferson memorials, Mt. Vernon, FBI headquarters and the Smithsonian Institute.

The Cotton Plant That Kills Insects

Cotton plants with built-in protection against insects will be grown this year in Mississippi and Texas. This is made possible by treating cotton seeds before planting with a new insecticide, named Thimet, which stays in the growing plant for up to seven weeks and eliminates two to four early season dustings or sprayings. The cotton plant at right in the photo was protected by Thimet; the one on the left was not and shows typical insect damage.

Thimet, developed by American Cyanamid Company, was recently accepted by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. It will be marketed in other cotton producing states next season. Cyanamid is also testing Thimet on corn, peas, beans, lettuce, beets, peanuts, tree fruits, and tobacco seedlings. Results, they say, are promising.

lkard says
 One of the most acute problems facing the Southwest is the proper conservation, control and utilization of water. Shortly, the House will be considering a bill which will have as its purpose the broadening of the present federal program for conservation, development, utilization and disposal of water in the upstream flood control program.
 This upstream program has been functioning for several years but has been related just to the "agricultural phases" of the conservation of water. Some of the projects under the present program are now operating in Jack, Cooke and Montague counties.

This new proposal provides that such things as municipal and industrial water supplies may be included as a part of this watershed program and would permit building of dams with a capacity in excess of 5,000 acre feet if the water in excess of that figure is for purposes other than flood prevention and if construction costs for this excessive capacity are borne entirely by local organizations.
 Local organizations would not be required to pay for any of the facilities that were used for flood prevention. They would be required, as presently, to provide rights-of-way, easements etc. for dams and waterways necessary to carry out this program. Farmers on land in the drainage area of any reservoir would be required to carry out good soil conservation measures.
 Projects developed under the current program have shown that the control of upper watersheds of streams is one of the most effective ways to conserve water and to prevent floods. It is just another way of trapping water as nearly as possible where it falls.
 Adoption of this program would be extremely beneficial to Texas and to other Western and Southwestern states.

A short time ago the Wichita Falls Garden club sent me a mesquite tree to be planted on the public grounds in Washington as a representative tree of our part of the state. The tree is now being kept in the Botanical Gardens to make sure it will live in this climate. If everything goes well with this Texas mesquite, within a few years it will be growing in a spot here in Washington where everyone can see what a real Texas mesquite looks like.

Mrs. O. L. Habern and Mrs. W. F. Sheldon of Wichita Falls had lunch with Peanuts and Avis Wilson, Tuesday.

RESOLUTION
 Whereas, the unprecedented growth of the state, both in population and number of motor vehicles, has created a traffic load on the Texas highway system far in excess of the ability of the presently developed system to carry with comfort, speed and safety; and
 Whereas, continued expansion of the economy of our state is directly dependent upon the availability of adequate motor vehicle transportation; and
 Whereas, an expanded highway program is demanded at the present time by these critical highway needs;
 Now, therefore, be it resolved by the membership of the Texas Good Roads association, represented by its executive committee, assembled in Austin, this 5th day of March, 1956, that the Texas delegation in the national Congress be urged to support to the fullest extent the immediate passage of the Federal Aid Highway Act of 1956, expanded to meet the current needs of the nation; and, further, that in the passage of this Federal Aid Highway Act all care be taken in all respects to preserve the integrity of state laws that have been so successful in operating the state highway development program during the past 30 years.

It's The Law In Texas
JURY DUTY
 One of these days—perhaps soon—you may get a notice telling you to report for jury duty—and to "fail not." In serving, you share one of the most solemn duties known to our democracy.
 Some people try to get out of jury service. It may be inconvenient or unpleasant. Yet, when you are put on a jury you should think of this as a chance to help make good one of the promises of our Constitution—trial by jury. Say the following to yourself:
 "My forefathers wrested my right to serve as a juror from tyrants.
 "Under our law no one's life, liberty or property can be taken without due process of law.
 "Trial by jury is our basic right. All who seek their day in court should have a fair hearing. They will get it from me.
 "I will not ask to be excused from jury service except in an emergency.
 "On my oath I will well and truly try each case before me, and a true verdict render under the law given me by the judge and the evidence at the trial without fear, favor, or hope of reward.
 "I will listen closely, with open mind to all of the testimony, instructions, and arguments, I will not make up my mind until all the facts are in and the judge has instructed the jury on the law.
 "I will search for the truth regardless of wealth or poverty, enmity or friendship, of any party or witnesses.
 "To someone my decision may mean the difference between freedom or imprisonment, poverty or wealth.
 "Justice, once but a dream, is a reality when I, as a juror, do my full duty. No act of mine shall bring shame to our system of liberty under law."

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh
Information "On The Line"
 I was reading the other day how a person can get all sorts of things just by dialing a number on his telephone.
 In New York you can get the time, the weather, or a prayer. In Philadelphia it's the stock reports. In Boston a voice tells bird watchers what's to be watched in the park.
 Over in Europe, they go further. Vienna offers a five-minute fairy tale for kids. In Switzerland you can get the news in any of three languages. And a couple of places have "talking menus" for desperate housewives.
 From where I sit, it doesn't matter if ideas are put out by telephone, through edito-ri-als or in person—as long as we can take them or leave them. I happen to like a glass of beer with my supper. You may prefer coffee, tea or branch water. Well, there's no harm in "listening" to another's opinions... but if he should try to force them on you, it's always an American's privilege to simply "hang up!"

Teddy Overbey Is Top Speller

Friday morning, March 9, in an assembly program, several junior high students competed in the local spelling bee. Teddy Lynn Overbey, 7th grade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Overbey, was winner and will represent Iowa Park in the county spelling contest.
