Roofing Keeps Crawl Spaces, Wood Posts Dry

Roll roofing laid on ground in crawl space keeps moisture from rising up to decay wood framing.

Asphalt roofing gets its name from the best waterproofing agent known to man. The waterproofing quality which keeps roofs watertight also can be used to keep dampness from rotting the base of wood posts.

When a post is to rest on con-crete, masonry, or other wood, a piece of asphalt roofing can be cemented to the bottom of the post before putting the post in place. This keeps water from en-tering the porous end grain of the wood When a post is to rest on cor wood.

The same waterproofing quality explains why asphalt roll roofing is often laid on the ground beneath crawl spaces. The roofing prevents moisture from rising from the ground into the house, eliminating condensation.

Fashion Expert Says Texas Tops For Good Taste And High Style

BY VIRGINIA POPE Former Fashion Editor, The New York Times

and immediately there comes to mind the good-looking clothes that take their place in the broad fashion pic-ture of the United States.

I have long been aware of the posi-tion held by Texas, for I have been coming to Dallas from New York for bon winners of the manufacturers exhibiting at the Fashion Round-Up to be held in October at the 1955 State Fair of Texas.

My former impressions of the high quality of the Texas fashion industry were confirmed as some 500 items of apparel passed in review before us. Here was a comprehensive style pan-orama ranging from enchanting togs for toddlers to formal creations for sophisticated grown-ups.

These were clothes that did not aim to express ultra extravagance in trends – there were no alphabetical silhouettes as the H, A and Y – all came within the outlines of the accepted new trends in a manner which makes them suitable to the American way of life. In short, they can hold their own wherever they go.

Present in excellent editions were the slender sheaths (they have been making front-page news in New York, Paris and Italy) seen in front-buttoned coat dresses, afternoon silks and cottons adapted to many social hours of the day. The American woman has no intention of giving up the youthful style and the coquettry of petticoats, particularly when it We had to doff our hats to the hats, comes to pretty dresses of cotton, silk and the fabrics made of the new synthetic yarns that combine beauty and practicality.

The offerings of the Texas manufacturers I found to be rich in fabric

Was a time when Texas styles were | had the crisp feel of taffeta and the spoken of, one conjured up a picture of shirts and jeans, of sombreros and riding boots. That day has gone. Mention Texas in relation to style today, with more extravagant pure silks. Wool found its place in suits and coats. Newest of the new was printed Pelon which flaunted its crispness in a gay separate skirt shown with a simple blouse.

For the approaching fall and win-ter seasons, many black velveteens contributed rich elegance. Some were coming to Dallas from New York for the past ten years to report the offerings of the Texas market, as represented by the state's manufacturers. Recently, the Dallas Fashion Arts honored me by inviting me to be one of the three (the other judges were Mrs. C. R. Holmes of San Antonio and Mr. Morris L. Lichtenstein of Corpus Christi) to select the blue ribbon winners of the manufacturers exhibiting at the Fashion Round-Up to hibiting at the Fashion Round-Up to ognize that in these days of increased travel facilities and speed, the costume – two- or three-piece – is indispensable. Their discriminating taste was shown in straight coats of tweed or flannel, companions to well-tai-lored dresses or skirt and blouse. In some instances they were part of multiple-piece coordinates.

Cay as butterflies were the separates, their colorful skirts swirling.

Interesting were chenille-embroi-dered felt, printed and be-sequined burlap and cottons blended with

To one, who within the last weeks visited the rarified atmosphere of the Paris couture salons, it was like drinking in a deep draught of the winds that blow across the plains to see the ranch togs, denims, shirts, boots and all the rest. No, there's nothing new about them, but they are a refreshing Texas tonic.

The romance of the South was exoccasions.

There were tunics built on slim lines or flaring at the knees. Full skirts held an important place for all some ingenious designer had fash-ioned of silk and laid in delicate for they were becoming and very feminine. Said the male member of our trio of judges, "They certainly make the girls look pretty!"

In this day of universality of think-ing along many lines, it was intervariety. Their choice was well esting to this writer to see the Texas adapted to the styles in which they were interpreted. Printed cordurous in an expression that so characteristiappeared in soft, tapestried effects. Cally expresses the thinking and social Orlon, nylon and rayon used in blends needs of the great state.

The incomparable Margaret Field and the spectacular Jimmy Lawrence are starred in the Ice Capades international edition being presented Oct. 7-23 at the Dallas Ice Arena during the State Fair of Texas. Mail orders for the big ice extravaganza now are being accepted through Box 7772, Dallas.

'Growth Of A Giant'

The huge scale of the exhibits in the Agriculture Show at the 1955 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 7-23, is illustrated by the display showing how agricultural research has developed grain sorghum into Texas' leading grain crop. "The Growth of a Giant" depicts the development of the crop from the old-fashioned tall, goose-necked, hand-harvested grain through the short combine-harvested type to the hybrid of today with as much as 40 per cent higher yield.

Combs Stars in Games Our Coaches

Gerald Ape Combs, local football hero of last year, is making a name for himself and Iowa Park. This youngster promises to be one of the outstanding players for Navarro Junior college of Corsicana this year and next.

Gerald had a good night in the first game played by Navarro, getting away for a 55 yard TD. But last Friday night against the Mc-Murry B team, he went wild, Combs opened scoring by scampering 42 yards through the entire McMurry team. Then in the 2nd quarter Navarro marched to the 26, when again Gerald was called on and again he responded by cutting over right guard and going the distance.

After intermission Ape again showed he was college material. even if only 135 pounds of it, by bursting over left tackle and hustling 59 yards for his 3rd counter the evening.

He holds the scoring leadership for NJC in the first two games and is second in yards gained and first in average yards per carry.

Gerald was the only member of the 1954 Hawk team to make all district. Coach Bob Covington says he is a fine boy and richly deserves to play college ball. Ape is fast and shifty, a great competitor and a good example of sportsmanship.

We hope he will have several more great nights of play in his college career.
