L'I'L ABNER (By Special Permission, Al Capp)

Valley View

By Mrs. Roy Lakey

Monday morning brought a well-come rain. Enough to wash the dust off shrubs and fields. Everything looks like it had its face washed.
Perhaps the wheat not yet up will push its way to the surface. That already 'tip looks much greener already. Even the cotton is making a last effort to help the farmers since the worms gave up their destruction.

Wiley Bishop has a field across from us that is putting on new squares but of course it's too late for making cotton now.

Did not get the news in last week. Several have reminded of that fact, but I was snowed under with letter writing that had to be done.

Guest in the Hodges home that week was a sister of the late Mr.
Hodges, Mrs. Will Ellison of Oklahoma.

Mrs. Mattie O. Hodges is home after an extended stay at the bedside of her sister Mrs. Ruby Monroe, who died last Wednesday at a son's home in Oklahoma City.

Another friend in our community has our sympathy, Mrs. G.
C. House in the loss of her brother Keese last Saturday evening near Houston, after an extended illness.
Mrs. House has been ill herself for several weeks, so was not able to go. She is feeling some better and we hope she will soon be well. We all miss her when she can't be with us.

The Clifton Sanders family was made happy last Thursday when Donald, a son who has been serving in Alaska the past two years or more, arrived home for a 15 day leave. He will then be stationed at Kansas City, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. Belva Jones are ready to move into their new home this week. It's nice and Midge and Belva are going to be two happy people. She has carried out a green, yellow, chateaux and red color scheme. Gray and white were used outside.

W.S.C.S. met in the home of Mrs.
Vaughn Jones last Monday when Mrs. Jack McCallie and Mrs. C.
C. Burnett co-hostesses. Mrs. Hut Buzbee as leader was assisted by Mrs. Frank Johnson, Swan Reeves and O. D. Childers. Two kinds of cakes and coffee were served to members. We finish our study on Latin America Monday, 2:30 at the church. All are urged to attend.

Evangelistic services start Saturday night here. The visiting minister will be Rev. Easterling. Services scheduled are: Monday, stewards night; Tuesday, young people's night; Wednesday, W.S.C.S. night; Thursday, family night. Everyone bring one and then on Sunday attend the great mass meeting in Wichita Falls at Memorial Auditorium with Bishop Paul E. Martin conducting service, climaxing the conference-wide program.

Miss Maude Kirschner, Mrs. Wiley
Bishop and I attended Zone 3 meeting at Friberg - Cooper Methodist church Tuesday.

Guests in the Clark Wilkes home
last weekend were Mr. and Mrs.
Raymond Budd of Honeygrove and Mr. and Mrs. John O. Stringer of Houston. Mrs. Stringer was Miss Etta Kay Budd, a teacher here. She was matron of honor for another V.V. teacher, the former Miss Wilson Wilson who Saturday became the bride of Homer Lee Havis in Wichita Falls. All attended the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wall have recently moved to Corpus Christi. She is the former Betty Jo Evans. They have been in Austin where Joe was a student in the university. He finished in August. Betty Jo worked for the railroad commission in the capitol building while there. Says now she is going to enjoy housekeeping.

Mr. and Mrs. Otho Childers talked to their son Marvin Dale in Japan recently. The connection was wonderful and every word was understood, so Flossie and Otho were rejoicing over hearing Bud's voice and that he likes it. It's a day long to be remembered by all three.

Game Warden School
To Have Session

F. M. Cowsert, director of law enforcement for the Game and Fish commission said this week applications may now be made for the next game warden school at Texas A and M college. Applicants will be given opportunity to demonstrate their qualifications by employment during the coming hunting season. Candidates for the game warden school will be selected from this group.

Requests for information on the course beginning in February should be addressed to Cowsert at the Game and Fish Commission headquarters, Walton building, Austin.

Senior News

I can't think of a better way to start the news except with some excitement:

Tuesday afternoon a bunch of girls went to Holiday to watch the scrimmage. Helen had a date with the jr quarterback, so she told Delbert Todd (mgr.) to tell him to call her and tell what time he was coming for her. Delbert misunderstood and told Buddy Johnson. Talk about a mixup! that really was. Let down, huh?

As everyone has probably heard,
a party is given at one girl's house after every game. Mary Fortner had the last one and Mary Hackman will give hers at the home of O. B. Nolen jr. (that's Robert's house).

A mixture of jr and sr girls are going to Sheppard AFB Wednesday night, to entertain the sick ones with their ukuleles.

Noralee and James Williams
double dated with Helen and Lee Roy, Tuesday night. I guess they had a swell time 'cause they were all laughing Wednesday morning. I suppose they were still amused by the show they saw, 'That's My Boy.
It was pretty funny.

Jackie is still pinching all the girls on the cheek, and he and Ferdie are still real popular at the parties. When we play games where you have to walk around the house all time. Just as soon as they walk in the door some girl grabs them and out they go again.

Last Friday, Rosemary, Janice,
Mary and Jimmy Joy did 3 witch scenes from Macbeth. We all got so tickled at ourselves that Rosemary cried from laughing, and she had on so much makeup that her tears looked like the rainbow.
Jimmy Joy was the queen of us witches and you should have seen her scold us when she found that we had plotted without her consent. We got a grade for it though.

There is a real cute jr girl wearing a '32 sr ring. I wonder who it is. Huh, Joe?

Mac has also been showering his affection toward the jr class. Or shall I say a jr majorette.

The game is to be in Electra, Friday night. We'd like to see all you there backing the Hawks.

Speaking of football games, we had a good one last Friday when we played Burk. Ferdie finally met his match. There was a boy on their team who weighed 260 and he and Ferdie really had a time.

History is going to repeat itself beginning Mon. Oct. 29. We are going to have twirp season. The girls have to ask the boys for dates, supply the car and money. Sounds fun! Can't wait. Bye.

Margie Lemond and
James Kasparek Wed
Oct. 5 in Graham

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Lemond are announcing this week the marriage of their youngest daughter Marie to James Kasparek jr. of Red Springs, Friday evening, Oct. 5. The ceremony was performed by Rev.
A. A. Jones in Graham.

The bride wore a black suit, white blouse and black accessories. She was attended by Mrs. Fred Moore.

Best man for the groom was Fred Moore.

The bride is well known in Iowa Park. She is a graduate of the local high school and is active in young people's work of the Baptist church.
She finished a beauty course in Wichita Falls and for the past several months has been employed at Jean's beauty shop in Seymour.

The groom is son of Mr. and Mrs.
James Kasparek of Red Springs. After completing high school he served four years in the marines during World War II. He is now trucking cattle to and from Mexico.

The couple has established residence at Haskell.

Rural Mother Helps
With Cub Den

Living out in Valley Farms does not stop Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Johnson, who moved here recently from Ablene, from taking an active part in affairs in Iowa Park. With their son Boyd Young, fourth grade student in our school, they live in the Allen Grantham apartment on Route two.

Mrs. Johnson is working with the cub scouts and is a den mother. She picks up the boys and takes them out home for den meetings, returning them to their homes after the weekly session.

Mr. Johnson operates a cafe at Ninth and Lamar in Wichita Falls.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Guess They Felt
Pretty "Sheepish"

My wife and I went to Central City Saturday for the football game and it was a top-notch. But I began to wonder if it was worth the trouble when we got in a traffic jam coming home.

Traffic makes me mighty impatient. When I came to a side road that seemed to point towards the main highway, I turned onto it. This road bumps along for maybe a mile, then fetches up short by the railroad—a dead end.

So, I turned around and darned if there weren't twenty cars behind me! One driver had followed —figuring I knew a short cut—then a whole string of them swung after him, like sheep.

From where I sit, there's no sense in just "following along."
Whether it's choosing a road, a movie star, or what beverage to drink at meal time, it's always better to make your own decisions.
Personally, I often like a glass beer with my dinner, but most of all, I like the freedom of making up my own mind about it!

Wanda Dillard and James Hair Wed in Church Ceremony Sunday, To Live in California

The impressive solemnity of a church wedding was emphasized Sunday afternoon when Miss Wanda Dillard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Dillard, became the bride of James Hair, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Hair of Jolly, formerly of Iowa Park.

The sanctuary of the Methodist church was the scene when nuptial lines were recited at 4:00 under direction of the pastor, Rev. Guy E. Perdue.

A setting of unusual beauty was created in the nuptial space where the bride and groom stood beneath an arch entwined with pines fern. Massed jade greenery formed a background for the arch, which was flanked by two bouquets of large white mums. Flickering candlelight played upon afternoon shadows to lend a softening effect and to direct attention to the supplemental additions of greenery.

Wedding music was furnished by Mrs. James A. Sewell, organist. Prenuptial selections were "Song of Love," "My Hero," "Oh Moon of My Delight," "Thine Alone" and "Indian Love Call." The organist also played the traditional marches and offered a muted interpretation of "Olaire de Lune" during the exchange of vows.

When the bride met her groom at the altar she was wearing a smart winter white fallie suit. The short jacket which was accented at design, flared into a stunning peplum shoulder with a rhinestone leaf lum at the waistline. Interest on the full skirt was heightened by unpressed pleats in the back. The bride wore a sixpence in her black opera pumps. She carried a purple throated orchid atop a white Bible which was her "something borrowed" belonging to Mrs. Lee Perry. For "something old" she wore an antique lavalliere, a family heirloom, the jeweled necklace featuring a rhinestone in the center and a pearl in the pendant.

Miss Caroline Sue Gay, maid of honor, was attired in a white and gray fallie dress with which she wore red accessories and a red carnation corsage.

Sammy Shelton served as best man for the groom. Ushers were Gordon Hair and Jimmy Shelton. The newlyweds left immediately on a honeymoon trip to Colorado Springs and Fort Collins, Colo. Upon return the groom will report to Bremerton, Wash., where he has been stationed with the navy. He is scheduled for a transfer to San Diego, Calif., where his bride will join him about Nov. 20.

Mrs. Hair was graduated from Iowa Park High School last spring. During her sophomore year she was a cheerleader. She was junior reporter and a princess to the football queen that year. While a senior she was a member of the Singing Seven.

James was graduated here in 1950. He was senior reporter and co-captain of the football squad.

he would be unable to come, so we're flying up to Washington next weekend to play for him.

Everyone be sure and go to Electric Friday night, because it's really going to be a good game. Just because my predictions about last week's game were wrong, that does not mean they will be this time!

This week might as well have been Love Week as far as everything was concerned. There were more new romances started this week than all year. They may as well have the Jr-sr classes all in one, the way things are turning out. If a girl comes up and asks for a date, don't be surprised, because "twirp season" starts pretty soon. The boys are all over-excited, for some reason. (We're going to fool them though and let them stay home all week.) No kidding, this may start some new love affairs (right, Marthy?) or break up some!

If you tell your mother you're going to church some Sunday night, you'd better go ahead and go. Isn't that so, Dempsey? He told me to go home and tell my mother she wants me, so I'll see you next week.

Ruth Mary, reporter.
P.S. I forgot your medal! Maybe I'll have it next week. RM

Bride-Elect Honored With Shower and Tea

A lovely party this week was the prenuptial shower and tea given for Miss Betty Jane Sullivan, bride-elect of Richard Wayne Schroeder, Thursday evening. The social hall of the Methodist church was scene of the party.

Composing the hostess list were Mesdames Lee Thompson, M. L. Smith, Herman Mahler, H. W. Weaver, Fenton Dale, Bill Harris, Richey Abernathy, E. B. Taylor, M. J. McDonald, C. W. Coppock, James A. Sewell, Otis Gay, T. J. Pace, J. H. Hatten, Jack Ralston, Della Craft, and Miss Billie Lynch Harris.

Decorations in the room followed a blue and yellow theme, those colors being selected by the bride-elect for her wedding which is scheduled for Sunday afternoon, Nov. 5 at the church.

Of special interest was the lace-laid refreshment table with a soft blue undercover which emphasized the richness of the sterling tea service and the other table settings. The centerpiece was fashioned of yellow and blue blossoms arranged in a crystal bowl. Flanking yellow candles burned in silver candelabra. Daisies, marigolds and ageratum were used elsewhere in the room.

Guests calling were greeted by Mesdames Pace, Ralston and mith. At a nearby table which held the brides book were Mrs. McDonald and Miss Harris. Mesdames Abernathy, Taylor, Craft and Harris directed serving of refreshments.

Special music was arranged by Mesdames. Gay, Sewell and Coppock.

The honoree's costume was set off with a blue chrysanthemum corsage tied with narrow yellow ribbons, which was a gift from the hostesses. The bride-elect's mother Mrs. Carl Sullivan, her sister Mrs. Alan Bennett and the groom-elect's mother were presented yellow corsages.

Approximately 150 friends of the engaged couple were included on the invitation list.

Harold Eaton has re-enlisted in the army. He is with the 90th Division in Munich, Germany, landing there Sept. 2.

A PUMPER TRUCK isn't of much value to a fire department if it doesn't pump—and in sufficient quantity. Here a fireman watches while inspectors of the Fire Prevention and Engineering Bureau of Texas check a pumper's performance. Checking municipal fire defenses is just one of the many jobs performed by the Bureau as a public service of the fire insurance companies.

Shivers Salutes Oil Industry

Official recognition came to the Texas oil industry today in the form of a proclamation issued by Governor Allan Shivers designating Oct. 14-20 "Oil Progress Week" in the Lone Star state. In this picture, Shivers signs the proclamation as Roy M. Stephens, Texas chairman of the Oil Industry Information Committee, looks on.

Horse Training Stable Established Here

Now that the T-O Fair is over and the dust and excitement have died down, three local men, Bill Overbey, John Farris, and Clint Shelton, have rented the quarter horse barns and arena for use as a boarding and training stable for quarter horses.

Interested horse lovers and just plain curious people can find a great bit of excitement most any day by visiting the fair grounds at times when the men are training horses for duty on the cattle ranches, at rodeos and in the show ring.

Another source of income for the Fair association is rentals from other large buildings on the grounds which are being used as warehouses.

Band Trip to Dallas Is Reported in Full

Can anyone tell the band members where to get a magic potion that takes the place of sleep? I think everyone in the band will agree that a bus seat doesn't offer the comfort of a nice soft bed.

We had an enjoyable trip to Dallas to the State Fair. I will try to give a brief idea of the trip.

Wednesday about 8 a.m., most of the band started gathering at the schoolhouse. Everyone was kinda sleepy, but anxious to get started.

About the time we got out of and we were on our way.

About the time we got out of the city limits, Caroline and Mary Anne pulled out their lunch and let everyone have a sniff of fried chicken. Everybody was quiet, catching up on funnybook reading.

Mr. Vaughn said we would stop every hour to rest for a few minutes with no other stops except for emergencies. We really had lots of emergencies! Of course, Hazel Geo. and Betty Lowe, our chaperones, kept busy giggling most of the time.

We got excited when Sheriff Ham Vance passed just outside of Wichita Falls. Betty and Hazel had a hard time convincing Jimmie Joy we had a police escort. We felt important going through towns with all the traffic stopped to let us pass. I guess that shows, as Mr. V says, "It isn't what you know, it's whom you know."

After many stops for emergencies, we finally got to Dallas about 12:30. We were beginning to think Dallas had certainly grown when we drove about 30 miles and still hadn't reached our destination. However, we discovered we had missed our turn and were many miles from the Fair.

Finally we got on the right street and made it there. After instructions from Mr. V, everyone headed for the midway. We had about an hour of free time. The roller coaster was the most popular ride and that's where many of our quarters went.

About 2:30 most of the band was assembled back at the bus to get ready for our concert at 3:00. However, some of our little buddies reported a bit late and for some reason we didn't give a concert. Mr. V really had us worried when he said we would spend an hour or so marching. I guess he decided that marching in the sun would be too much for one afternoon, so we didn't practice marching.

At 4:30, all the 24 bands assembled in the Cotton Bowl to practice for our performance. We were all hoping for that norter we had heard so much about, but it just wasn't our day for things to go right.

About 6:30 we were dismissed to eat supper. We were to eat a free picnic lunch, but the long line certainly looked discouraging, so most of us adjourned to the nearest hamburger stand.

At 7:30, we reassembled at the Cotton Bowl for the performance. It was a colorful sight to see all the brightly colored uniforms together on the field. At 8:00 the program began, and after the choir had finished the bands performed.

The first formation was three bands making a huge outline of Texas with each band making its school letters around the outline. The bands then wrote out "Music Education" and next "Texas Music Educators." We really saw a fine performance when the band from Ponca City, Okla., showed us an exhibition of the fine art of marching. I hope Mr. V doesn't get any wild ideas! We also enjoyed the fireworks after our performance.

At about 10:15 everyone left for the buses. We had 15 minutes to change clothes and be ready to leave for home!

There isn't much to say for the return trip. Everyone was so tired and sleepy, we were willing to behave. After eating what was left of the lunches, we decided to go to sleep. It was uncomfortable at first, but after a while everyone forgot comfort and settled down for a nap.

Every time we stopped Hazel and Betty made sure everyone was awakened. Finally about three stops and three hundred drinks of water later, we saw the lights of dear old Iowa Park. Someone suggested we just stay and sleep at the schoolhouse. The thought of a nice bed was in everyone's mind. It was 3:30 a.m. when we got back.

I speak on behalf of the band when I say "We really had a nice time." We wish to thank J. D. and Watkins for having so much patience, especially honking the horn when we went under an overpass so we all could make a wish.

That's all, Lou Ann.

Stock Favored by Moystner Family

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Moystner of Valley View have just completed construction of a new cow shed and tool shed and are getting ready to build a milk barn and hog shed. Their home is being re-roofed and a rent house on the place is being painted.

They have been on their farm 1 1/2 miles this side of Valley View on the Iowa Park-Valley View highway about 11 months, coming from Wichita Falls. The Moystners are specializing in registered cattle and hogs. They have a good stock of dairy cattle and expect to begin selling grade A milk soon. They have one son 14 years of age who is a student at Valley View high school. Another son is in the army of occupation in Germany.

The land is being leveled and a mesquite eradication program is in operation at the Moystner farm. Mrs. Moystner enjoys farm life and is starting in the chicken business.

Park Area Women Study Storage Space

Reports from committees and a program on bedroom storage were heard by members of the Park Area Home Demonstration club last Wednesday.

Mmes. Gale Lowrance, Virgil I. Woodfin, Lester Brooks, Jim Barbour, Cliff Burrows and C. H. Bowman gave reports for their committees. Miss Cathryn Sands, home demonstration agent, gave the program on bedroom storage.

Large closets for storage depends on how well it is organized. Adequate storage makes housekeeping more pleasant, said Miss Sands.

Have a closet for each room and have it well lighted, plenty of air and painted. Paint discourages the moths. Remove spots on clothing before hanging them up. Cedar bags protect colors. Store all garments not in use, wrap white shoes and purses in blue or dark paper to prevent them from turning yellow. Prepare hangers within reach of children.

Mrs. C. H. Bowman and Mrs. Cliff Burrows are going soon to Quanah and conduct a school on making aluminum trays.

Refreshments carrying out the theme of Halloween were served by the hostess Mrs. Mabel Bailey, to Meses. L. E. Brooks, John D. Herrell, Gale Lowrance, Jim Barbour, Nell Johnson, Cliff Burrows, C. H. Bowman, A. H. Estes, Virgil Woodfin, Rex Lehman, Miss Sands and three children.

Mrs. Della Price returned Tuesday from a two months visit with her son in law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Mather at New Liberia, La.

You and your Congress

Four points stand out in connection with the tax situation:

1. There are two alternatives to raising taxes—borrowing money or reducing expenditures.

2. The best estimates of federal income from taxes and of spending show that the government will be in the red when the year ends next June 30.

3. There is a point beyond which taxes cannot be increased without: (1) resulting in diminished returns, (2) bringing rebellion by taxpayers, (3) weakening the economy—or all three.

4. Congress, which alone can increase federal taxes under the constitution, has direct control over only about a third of the money the government is spending.

That four-point dilemma faces Congress until some forthright decisions are made.

The problem eventually may boil down to a choice between reduction of expenditures or more deficit financing. That is not to say there will be no further calls for more tax increases.

The ingredients of the situation include the following:

Close of the fiscal year will see a cash deficit of at least $1 billion, according to Budget Bureau estimates, but spending is scheduled to rise from $70 billion this fiscal year to between $80 and $90 billions in the next.

So the government will have to tax more or borrow more or spend less.

Odds are against enactment of large tax increases in 1952—and yet a sizable increase would be required to offset the deficit expected.

Meanwhile, Sen. George (D-Ga.) and Rep. Doughton (D-N.C.), chairmen of the Senate and House taxation committees, have said they are against further tax increases unless all-out war should develop; and Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), Republican policy leader, takes the same stand. Their argument is that the point beyond which taxes should not be increased is close at hand, if not already here.

Other congressional leaders also are aware that Congress' grip on expenditures is weakening. One reason is the spending commitments Congress authorized in the past and now must appropriate to meet. Another is the vast amount of spending taken for granted as a military urgency.

Government borrowing would be a temporary answer to the problem and would be inflationary. The government borrows by selling bonds which frequently are used by banks and other purchasers as the basis for making more loans. Thus new credit is created to bid against supplies of goods that are decreasing because of diversion of production to military items.

That costs the public more because additional credit feeds inflation which forces prices up. It is not likely to be popular with the public either.

That leaves reduction of expenditures to be considered.

Congress will have to review appropriations requests more closely, rescind some spending commitments it made in the past and look carefully at military expenditures.

The Senate appropriations committee, whose subcommittee on military expenditures has had a one-man staff to review a $60 billion budget request, has been given money to increase that staff.

Mrs. Scott Morris has returned from a two weeks trip during which she visited her daughter Mrs. Clyde E. Mayo in McKinney and another daughter Mrs. Frank D. Sutton and family in Dallas.

E. H. Noel has under construction two rent houses just off the highway in east Iowa Park. They are one bedroom homes with all modern conveniences.

Pat Sewell, NTSC student, visited Sunday with his parents Mr. and Mrs. James Sewell.

Rev. and Mrs. James N. Easterwood are attending the state Baptist convention at Houston this week. L. E. Brooks, district Brotherhood president, and Charles Quick attended the state Brotherhood meeting Monday night preceding the general convention.

Mrs. Lige Teed was in Iowa Park, Monday to pick up her grandchildren Louie and Jerry Teed, who are in the fourth and fifth grades. They live on the Tom Burnett ranch six miles west of town.
