Chick Raisers Are Ready for Iowa Park Poultry Show

Among the interesting final reports coming into the Chamber of Commerce office is one from Bennie Rogers of Kamay, who has raised 4 chicks out of 50. In a letter to his sponsor Commissioner Buck Voyles, Bennie says: "I received the first egg on September 5th, since then I have received 88 eggs." (as of Sept. 30).

Young Rogers gave some of his chicks to his parents to pay for his feed bill and some for eating. He also sold the eggs. He now has on hand 29 chickens weighing from 4 to 5 1/2 pounds.

The Junior Poultry Show of Iowa Park will be held at the Industrial Building at the Texas-Oklahoma Fair grounds on Friday and Saturday, October 14 and 15.

Contestants are being reminded to get in their exhibits by 5 o'clock on Friday afternoon. Judging will begin at 7:30 a.m. Saturday by Geo. O. Stodghill, poultry supervisor of the Wichita Falls State Hospital.

Information needed for the pens of chickens should include the following: Name of contestant, breed of chickens, total number raised, cost of raising, profit, and name of sponsor.

There will be a public sale of chickens not claimed by sponsors and the money received put in a revolving fund for the next year's project.

Presbyterian News

Reverend Maurice C. Yeargan and Graham Purcell of Archer City, representing the First Presbyterian church of Iowa Park, are attending the annual stated meeting of the Presbyterian Synod of Texas meeting in Sherman this week.

An early count reported 1,700 reservations had been made by delegates for this joint meeting of the Synods of Texas and Oklahoma, U.S.A. and of the Synod of Texas.

An outstanding feature of the convention is a series of addresses by Dr. George Butterick of New York City.
This meeting also begins the celebration of the Centennial of Austin college. The Austin college capella choir will be heard at two of the sessions, in the Municipal auditorium.

Members of the Business Women's circle will meet on Tuesday evening, October 11 at 7:30 at the home of Miss Frances Park. Guest speaker will be the Rev. Francis E. Barnes of the First Christian church who will lead the group in a study of John.

Plans Are Made for School Carnival at Hallowe'en Time

The Iowa Park Parent-Teachers association met Thursday morning at 9:00 at the high school building, with Mrs. George Lewis, chairman, and Mrs. Arch Hughes, president of room mothers, in charge.

Purpose of the special session was the making of plans for the year's program of entertainment and for the annual Hallowe'en night carnival. The latter is the one big event which the PTA sponsors for raising funds for the school year.

Another big carnival will be held on Main Street with each school grade having a part in the evening extravaganza. As soon as plans are completed for the different grades, publicity will be given and citizens of Iowa Park and surrounding area can start looking forward to a full evening of fun and fantasy.
Hallowe'en comes on Monday this year.

It was announced Thursday that the County Council will meet next Wednesday morning at Burk Burnett, with registration starting at 9:00. The program will commence at 9:30.

Mrs. James Sewell, chairman of music, invited all mothers to meet at her home next Tuesday at 2:30 to practice some new songs for the PTA meetings and other activities. All those interested should get in touch with Mrs. Sewell, so she will know how to plan for the study period.

Farm Bureau Team Captains to Meet

George Lewis, president of the Wichita County Farm Bureau, has announced that all team captains will meet in the directors room of the State National bank in Iowa Park on Monday night, Oct. 10 at 7:30.

Purpose of the meeting is to work out final plans for Farm Bureau membership week, Lewis said. J. Z. Munn, president of the Wilbarger county group, has accepted an invitation to speak on this occasion.

October 20-27 has been designated as Texas Farm Bureau organization week in Texas by official proclamation issued by Gov. Allan Shivers on Sept. 10. Some 10,000 voluntary workers in more than 200 counties will be inviting friends and neighbors to join Farm Bureau that week. Wichita County Farm Bureau is participating in the statewide enrollment week, Lewis said.

Expected to attend the team captains meeting are W. T. Jenne, G. R. McNeil, Jim Robinson, Wymore Downing, Bernard Cure, Gail Mitchell, Ed Hodgkins and Edd Hennig of precinct 1; J. L. Reeves, Jerry Hodges, W. W. Bishop, Otho Childers, E. A. Birkman, Gale Lowrance, Will and Hill Spruiell, Lee Trimm, Tom Pace, H. B. Klinkerman and John Wesley of precinct 2; Arthur Evert, Fred Minick, W. G. Flenig of precinct 2; and Geo. Streit, Herbert Detmer, Ed and Walter Foster, Fred Lalk, L. H. Klinkerman and Mike Baxter of precinct 4. All other interested members are invited.

Baptist Brotherhood Hears Wichita Leader

Eighty-eight were present last Monday night for the Baptist Brotherhood dinner in the church basement. According to the minister, Rev. James N. Easterwood, the meeting was greatly enjoyed since the speaker of the evening brought a message which is very timely and very important.

Russell Willis of Wichita Falls, director of the Young People's Training Union of the First Baptist church, and president of the Wichita Falls Lions club was presented and chose to speak on moral conditions of the world.

"It is time," he said, "for all men, and lay members of the church especially, to take a stand on the various issues concerning the moral standards and social customs of the world. Particularly must they ever be on the alert to maintain high standards in the local community."

"The sale and consumption of alcoholic beverages in Wichita county, although not so excessive as it is in other localities, should be a concern of every right thinking man in the county. To church men it offers a challenge."

Mrs. Capehart Hostess To Park Area Club

The Park Area Home Demonstration club met in the home of Mrs. Andy Capehart, Wednesday, Oct. 5. Miss LaDell Trimm, president, was in charge of the business session.

The group accepted an invitation from the Electra County Line H. D. club to an entertainment Oct. 17 at the new community house near Electra.

A chicken barbecue will be held the night of Oct. 17 at the home of Mrs. R. F. Pruitt. Mrs. L. E. Brooks will be in charge of the recreation. She will be assisted by Mrs. V. I. Woodfin and Mrs. C. B. Smith.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Gale Lowrance on Oct. 19. Mrs. Smith will be in charge of the program on Bulb Culture.

Refreshments were served during this week's meeting to Mesdames R. F. Pruitt, James Barbour, Gale Lowrance, V. I. Woodfin, C. C. Burrows, John Wesley, L. R. Trimm, Miss Trimm and the hostess.

School Leaders Are Kept Busy with Fair and Gilmer-Aiken

A 40 bushel shipment of pears has been received by the schools for distribution among the children who eat at school. Those who bring their own lunches are to receive pears as well as those who patronize the school cafeteria.

Mr. W. R. Bradford, superintendent, will be in Austin Sunday and Monday for a superintendents meeting. There he will get further instructions on the workings of the Gilmer-Aiken school program.

A final report on the Gilmer-Aiken program in Iowa Park is being prepared. The figures reveal that if Iowa Park could avail itself of all that is offered, we would receive $50,094.66 in school aid. The lack of space for agriculture and the scarcity of teachers for handicapped students have prevented our taking full advantage of this recently adopted plan.

Mr. Bradford expressed his gratitude this week for the services of parents and teachers in running the Senior and Junior stands at the fair last week.

A careful checkup on the Senior Stand shows that they had total sales of $1,845.54, expenses of $891.70 leaving a profit of $953.84. This stand sold 120 fryers, 346 pounds of hamburger, 2,236 hamburger buns, 46 pullman loaves of bread, 120 pies, 170 cases of pop, besides many smaller articles.

The Junior Stand, with sales totaling $512.06, had a profit of $322.08. W. R. Bradford, superintendent of the Iowa Park school system, attended a meeting of school superintendents recently at which the rules and regulations concerning bus transportation were explained and discussed by representatives of the state department of education.

Saturday morning, Oct. 1 he met with the superintendent of Wichita county and discussed the duplications of the scholastics of this county and the cross country duplications. This procedure is done each year in order to avoid paying twice on transient students.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Phillips of Milwaukee are here visiting in the home of his mother Mrs. Emma Phillips and his sister Mrs. G. C. McDonald and family.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Ford of Dallas visited relatives here last week and attended the fair.

YOUR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE —

RUTH HILL YEARGAN

Speaking conservatively (and not as a Chamber of Commerce) there are about 2,500 people in Iowa Park. Of that number there are many people who have some opinion on what Iowa Park needs. Even the children—the tiny ones, would like to see a change: perhaps houses made of cookies, ice cream cone flowers, candy trees lining the streets and for the slightly older—houses papered with comic books and soda pop on tap instead of water, and hamburgers everywhere.

Many people read the advertisement on "What Will Iowa Park Be Tomorrow?" and expressed themselves (but not on paper). Everywhere we went someone told us what they thought was the number one need of Iowa Park, and it was interesting to hear such diversified opinions on what the town needs. Some suggestions were long range planning—others for shorter duration, some of inestimable value to the town, others of personal value.

There are three activities in which a chamber of commerce may concern itself: commercial, industrial and civic, and a good Program of Work should be so made up that it does not neglect any of the three classes. And there may be both short and long range plans.

In a round table discussion of chamber of commerce managers, one man told of a project on which his particular chamber worked for over 25 years—an intercoastal canal. In all that time, the town had worked steadily for it—overcoming one obstacle after another until it had finally been completed.

"Don't get discouraged" was the keynote of the discussion. "Set your star high in the sky and keep reaching out until you hold it in your possession."

Too often we get discouraged when all our efforts to accomplish some particular piece of work fail miserably. We run into difficulties, and into indifference that chills our ardor. We decide that we just don't care about our town, we'll just let it stay a one-horse town if that's the way people want it—and then we get to thinking about improving the town this way or that and decide that we will keep on trying, maybe some day, who knows, enough others will have the same idea and the determination to see it through.

Still—a one-horse town has its advantages. Have you heard this definition of a one-horse town? "A one-horse town is a town in which there is no place you can go where you shouldn't be."

YWA Elects Officers

Presentation of Mrs. Homer Blalock, counselor for the coming year, was made by Mrs. J. C. Roby, outgoing counselor. The meeting was closed with a prayer.

Standing with the bride and groom were Miss Mary Fortner and Jimmy Dale Williams.

HAWKS FACE STIFF COMPETITION IN OLNEY SQUAD HERE

With two setbacks already on record in conference play, the Iowa Park Hawks go up against another formidable foe this Friday night when Olney High School football players take the field against them in an at home contest for the Hawks.

In the past three weekends the Iowa Park lads have been unable to develop a scoring punch, although they have looked good in the middle of the field and have piled up respectable yardage gained statistics.

The breaks definitely went for Olney last week, when they were able to pile up 14 points on a safety and two touchdowns.

Practice this week has been concentrated on developing something of an offensive punch and Coaches Tommie Beene and Bill Cook are anxious to have a large crowd out for this important game to see what the boys have been able to accomplish.

Tom Huckaby, freshman in OU, Norman, spent the weekend here with his parents Mr. and Mrs. George R. Huckaby. He was accompanied by Charles McKinney of Marlow, Okla., also a student at the University of Oklahoma.

J. C. HORN TO FINISH YEAR AS PRESIDENT OF IOWA PARK C. C.

At their board meeting on Tuesday evening, Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce directors readied for the activities that mark the close of the year.

President J. C. Horn appointed on the nominating committee for new directors L. E. Brooks, chairman, Arch Hughes and W. E. Pastusek.

Program Chairman A. L. Reed, Dr. C. J. Simpson and John B. Barbour have secured as Annual Banquet speaker William McCraw of Dallas. The banquet is set for Friday, December 9.

Town Party plans are getting underway under the leadership of the Merchants committee chairman, Sam H. Hill. The directors recommended to the committee that plans along the same line be used. The decided success of last year's party was recognized.

Dr. Gordon G. Clark made a report on the financial success of the Texas-Oklahoma Fair, and of the intention of the Fair Association to make it bigger and better next year.

J. C. Horn presented his resignation as president of the Chamber since he has recently entered business in Nocona and will shortly be moving there with his family. The directors refused to accept his resignation, wishing him to complete his two years as president, in which capacity he has served so acceptably.

Directors present for the regular October meeting were A. W. Berry, C. E. Birk, L. E. Brooks, Dr. G. G. Clark, J. C. Horn, O. R. Kelly, Fred Parkey, W. R. Pastusek, A. L. Reed, Curtis Sewell, H. R. Sullivan, Layere Thompson and one visitor J. H. Chastain Jr.

Layman's Day Is Oct. 9 for Baptists

Sunday, October 9, is being designated throughout the Southern Baptist Convention as Layman's Day in all the Baptist churches, according to Rev. James N. Easterwood, local pastor.

In the local Baptist church the choir will be an all-male choir. The special music will be furnished by the men.

A layman will read the scripture lesson for the morning and the pastor will bring a special Layman's Day message on the subject "There Was a Man."

Slogan for the special day is: "The pastor in the pulpit, the layman in the pew." Every male member of the Iowa Park church is urged to help make it a real Layman's Day by being present.

Mrs. E. S. Lowrance, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Knox of Dallas visited friends here during the fair.

SENIOR NEWS

The teachers are certainly amazed this week at the wonderful recitations of the srs. after the rushing week of the fair. At least Mrs. McDonald is. (If anybody sees her reading this would you kindly attract her attention or borrow the paper or something. It'd be purely coincidental, really).

Coach Cook was seen washing dishes at the sr. stand. I really know why but he won't admit it was because of a couple of, oh well. I better not tell you because the couple of... don't even know it yet. Or do they? Coach, don't you know you'll get dishpan hands? Anyway, thanks to all the teachers, mothers, and everybody who helped us. We really appreciate it.

Shirley (now known as Crash Landing Shir) was out driving her daddy's old beat up Ford (at least it is now) the other day. She's still learning to drive, you know. She really likes it if it wasn't for one thing; Shirley says that awful crash when she parks the car almost makes her deaf. That's Okay, Shirley, if that happens we will all scrape up a nickel and buy a surprise package at Hoffman's and with luck one of them might contain a nice hearing aid.

If you see Jimmy Miller crying it's because he lost his mummy in the torture show at the carnival. We hope you find her, Jimmy.

We sure witnessed a swell game over at Crowell last week. The Hawks really were going strong but a few breaks went the wrong way. Oh well, we'll sure help you get Olney this week. The pep squad was really yelling their lungs out, too. It might be because we have 3 srs. to lead them.

Next time I'm over at the little store and you're there too, Puff, well just be sure and remind me to buy you a peanut patty. I don't want you rummaging around trying to find some candy anymore. See?

Just because a certain sr. has been going over to Mrs. Ralston's lately is the reason that they have no food. He eats and eats and then still eats some more. Just so you don't eat them out of house and home, it'll be Okay.

Peeping in the gym the other day, we noticed that Mr. Taylor had lost quite a lot of weight. We strained our eyes through a pair of bifocals and discovered that it wasn't he at all, but Jerald Brown. He was really waving that little stick at the members. Keep it up, Jock, and we'll have a real band. Has anybody seen a stray camel walking around? Pug saw it but she didn't want to get it. If anybody finds it, please return to Walter. After all, Walt has to have some way to get home if he misses the bus.

Did you know we were going to have a new exit in our bookkeeping room? Miss Linton has threatened to knock a few of us through the wall if we don't be quiet. Oh well, we need a door closer to the water fountain anyway.

If you want to hear a real dilly wa la dude, just go ask Laverne Talley. I hear that she has been stocking up on a fresh supply of jokes. It's so that she'll always have a retort to anything anybody says. Well, if you find the writing a little shaky, don't think a thing about it. It's just because six weeks tests are next week and we're a bit scared. It wouldn't be because we have only been to school four weeks, would it?

My apologies go to the kind short-hand class who bore the brunt of this writing. You see, I used their period to type part of this here news.

Every time you see Phillip Turner, you're gonna have to start saluting him. He's our fire drill captain for government class. He even volunteered for the job. Thanks Shorty.

If there's any candy mission at the candy stand, don't blame it on Mary Coleman. After all, there a jr. working there. And you know how these jrs. are just plain ole cleptomaniacs (after all, we're srs. now and we can use big words even if we have to consult a dictionary for the spelling). (Printers note: why didn't you look this word up, or did you?)

Katy Merle Sumrall had a nice long chat with G. R. the other day. He carried out trash and even swept a little. Training him early, aren't you? Don't blame anybody for this bit of news, Katy, 'cause a little bird told me and I believe that it's true.

Barbara E. (I don't know how to spell Entreklin, so I'll just use an E. for short). Well, now back to the story. Barbara was seen riding the Loop-a-Plane with a couple of guys. Before riding it, one of them offered to share his arms with her. But from all reports he was more frightened than Barbara. But did Barbara have fun on the Thriller with a certain Bill?

Oh yes, Va. Partney, I was told you had a crooked nose. From now on when you begin to say a sonnet be sure you have your nose all straightened out so someone will listen!

Well, just remember this is all till no-nose grows a new nose that he can get nosier with and have more nosy newsgossip.
— James, Pat, Franklin.

Uncle Sam Says

Everyone will have a part in the U. S. Savings Bonds great "Opportunity Drive May 16-June 30. The armed forces are responding to the call for volunteer assistance by offering to fly a number of covered wagons to Independence, Mo., for a big ceremony marking opening of the drive. They will then transport the wagons to various States. The covered wagons typify the difference between the terrible hardships the original 49'ers went through in their search for riches and security and how easy it is for the modern 49'er to build for a secure future. Today you are given the opportunity to invest in U. S. Savings Bonds—the easy way to pile up riches. In ten short years you will receive $100 for every $75 invested.

PHILADELPHIA—The Philadelphia Athletics recently established a new American League double play record for one season when they surpassed the 193 mark set by the 1945 Boston Red Sox. The A's great infield includes Hank Majeski at third, Eddie Joost at short, Pete Suder on second, and Ferris Fain holding down first.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J.—Rutgers University has been chosen as the site for the "National Football Shrine." Rutgers played hosts to Princeton in the first intercollegiate football game played on Nov. 6, 1869.

NEW YORK — Madison Square Garden will offer 26 basketball doubleheaders this winter. Kentucky, the NCAA champion, and San Francisco, Invitational tourney winner, will head the list of 46 out-of-towners scheduled to appear in the Big Town.

BROOKLYN—Pride of the Dodgers, Jackie Robinson, recently broke another Dodger record. Robby now holds the record for hitting into the most double plays in one season. He topped the old Brooklyn mark of 20 two weeks before the season closed.

JUNIOR NEWS

Grab your coat and get your hat, leave your worries on the doorstep, just direct your feet to the jr. side of the street! Yes, hags, bags, and peabrains of Iowa Park High, we're in the headlines again. Iowa Park Citizens vs. Junior Hot Dogs. (By the way, the drug stores are probably sold out of Tums for the tummy, but Fort Worth or Dallas might have a few left) Anyway, it looks as if the srs. might get to Craterville after all.

Flash! Flash! What a shiny green and yellow jacket a certain jr. girl has been sportin'! But we don't want to use slang expressions in print, so you can figure out for yourself where it's from. Seems Caroline Sue got embarrassed in geometry Tuesday when she shouted out "An angle." (What happen, Gay?)

In case no one in his knows it—the band uniforms are here! But you'll have to admit they're the mostest prettiest suits in a 1,000 mile radius.

Boy! Can one of our majorettes twist, but at least she attracted attention. That's a jr. for ya. By the way, majorettes, in the English language, tell us what you think of the Electra twirlers. (Short skirts must be coming back!) Seems we're going to have to give Parish a little pep talk. We don't want the Olney team to get it in for him too. (But as John Paul Jones once said — Parish has not yet begun to fight!)

Why does Jackie have to giggle so much in Spanish just because of a word translation? (Ask her, she may tell you.)

One of our players remarked he found some very potent plays in a football almanac. Who knows, we may win tomorrow night after all, thanks to a jr.

It seems another one of Wilma's party plans has fallen through. You give her time though and I bet she throws a shindig yet.

Jackie and Charlene are really slick. Half the jr. class is still wondering what they were laughing and staring at down the hall, Tuesday before English. Even Mrs. Owens was puzzled. A hag and a bag can really stir up trouble.

The population of the metropolises of Junior is going to be less one. Pappy Horn is leaving for Nocona this weekend. We really hate to see another pea-brain leave our class, but Nocona will at least be giving something. Those Nhs boys will really be on the run.

The 4-H booth at the fair seemed to be a meeting place for quite a few jrs.—at least they stayed there about half the week. The 4-Hers may not have made much profit, but, boy, the acquaintances that derived from that little booth! Just ask Page, James, Lucille, Dorothea, Sandra and Eva Nell about their new friends!! (Electra? Valley View? and all points in between?) Excuse me for cussing.

The jrs. wish to thank all the mothers for their help and food at the Junior Stand. We also thank Mrs. Hugh Thompson, who does not have a jr. but enjoyed working with us.

You have now read the latest news roundup of the jr. class, you lucky people! After all, only privileged characters to get read this. Boringly, Lou Ann.

Wheeling, W.Va.—Charles Johnston didn't even slow down in his berry-picking when a poisonous copperhead snake scored a direct hit on his leg. The limb was artificial.

Detroit — Frank Moody lost in more ways than one when he played checkers with Albert Giddings. Giddings took not only the game, but also a piece of Moody's lip, which he bit off in a dispute over the rules.

Phillipsburg, N.J.—Heavy sleeper James Kiggins, 36, promises he'll be more careful hereafter in selecting his resting places. He woke up with a slight pain recently and says it was all a result of carelessness. It seems Kiggins had fallen asleep in a parking lot and somebody drove an automobile onto his chest.

Sudden Death Takes Mrs. Pace's Brother

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Pace went to Stephenville, Thursday to attend the funeral services of her brother Calvin C. Kiker, who died suddenly Tuesday morning at Sheffield, Ala. Mr. Kiker, 52, was senior sanitary engineer for the Tennessee Valley Authority and one of America's foremost authorities on malaria and mosquito control. He has had a long and successful career in sanitation engineering.

Born at Blum in 1897, his education was received in Clarendon and Plainview, and later at TCU. Soon after the First World War, in which Mr. Kiker served with the navy, he was appointed sanitary engineer of the Alabama state health department and served there for 12 years.

He has been with the TVA since 1929. For two years he was a special lecturer at Vanderbilt university on mosquito control and sanitation. He also made several trips for the Rockefeller Foundation through Mexico and parts of South America giving lectures and making inspections.

Clarence Kiker married the former Miss Wauldeen Loring of Stephenville in 1922. They have a son Loring, both of whom survive. Other survivors include two brothers, George Kiker of Sweetwater and Oral P. Kiker of New Orleans.

Mr. Kiker's parents, Rev. and Mrs. O. P. Kiker, live in Wichita Falls, but were unable to attend the funeral services.

15 Entrants File for Bridwell Awards, Parkey Is Praised

Fred Parkey is credited with enlisting 11 farmers in the $5,000 Bridwell Soil Builders contest and is being commended by the sponsors of the contest for his enthusiastic efforts. At present there are 15 entrants in the contest as follows: Dewey Steed, George Lewis, Locke Lowrance, Walter Kasper, Mike Hartmangruber, L. J. Lane, R. E. Waters, J. M. McFall, Lee B. Trigg, and E. G. Muller, all of the Iowa Park area; and four others: Fred J. Daume, Bacon Switch, W. T. McQuerry Jr., north of Wichita Falls; Harvey Ramming, north of Burk; Charlie L. Kelley, northwest of Thornberry.

Fred Parkey of the Soil Conservation Service at Iowa Park, urges farmers and ranchers of Wichita, Clay and Archer counties to get into the Bridwell Soil Builders Program early.

Parkey, specializing in the irrigated legumes and legume grass pastures phase, issued a statement to help ranchers and farmers.

"The Bridwell Soil Builders Awards Program, in connection with irrigated legumes and legume grass pastures, has created considerable interest in the Wichita Irrigated Valley. With the abundance of water and the proper preparation of irrigation land for utilization of water, failure will not be known. Farmers are finding that legume and irrigation legume and grass mixture offer great opportunity as a grazing crop. Several Wichita Valley farmers are now planting legume and grass pastures—pasture is one of the cheapest feed for stockmen.

"The following cool weather grasses and legume mixtures seeded in the fall at the following rates, have given good results: 5 pounds Perennial Rye; 5 pounds of Alta Fescue; 4 pounds of Orchard grass; 4 lbs. of Brome grass; and either 5 lbs. of alfalfa or madrid clover. The legume seed should be inoculated prior to seeding. A good pasture of this kind will graze 7 to 8 months out of the year.

Farmers who are not planting cool weather grasses and legume mixtures are planning to plant warm season grazing plants such as alfalfa, madrid clover, or a mixture of alfalfa and Johnson grass, or Johnson grass and madrid clover. Farmers planning to plant irrigated pastures should level and border their land before seeding.

"For best grazing results, ease in watering, and proper utilization of plants, the pasture should be fenced in three fields of equal size. This will permit one to be watering, one drying and one grazing at all times. On a good irrigated pasture a farmer can expect a carrying capacity of one or more cows per acre.

"The Bridwell Soil Builders Awards program will give a total of $300 to the farmers doing the best job on irrigated pastures in Wichita Irrigated Valley. Prizes run from $125 for first prize, down to $20 for fifth prize. Items that govern the winners in this contest will be establishment and land management, carrying capacity, pasture management program, a definite plan and report at end of the project. Several farmers think that irrigated pastures offer one of the greatest possibilities for the dairy and livestock farmer in the irrigated valley."

Get your contest entry blanks this week from the Farm Home Administrator or from Fred Parkey at the Soil Conservation Service in Iowa Park.

SEE NORGE BEFORE YOU BUY

Many people find anxious hearts and troubled minds pressing them into serious situations when a little thought and study would reveal the mountain was often but a molehill.

I once knew a man who one day found himself pinned down by enemy fire in a shallow ditch near a landing strip. As the bombs fell and machine-gun fire sprayed the field, the man became panicky thinking the ditch too shallow, and jumping up ran toward a slit-trench several yards away. He never reached that trench. We buried him the next day. If he had stopped for a moment to think he would never have tried to run that gauntlet of fire. In the trench he was concealed and safe from all but accidental hits while in the open he was a target for every gun in the planes strafing the field.

Often in facing problems we jump to hasty conclusions and without forethought engage in futile attempts to solve what would be no serious problem at all if we approached it with honest consideration and thought. We are all too often like the little fellow who found himself bound by a rope around his ankles and sat down to take hold of the rope, straining and pulling until he was red in the face and exhausted yet still held a prisoner by the rope, until a passerby suggested, "Why don't you just untie the rope?"

One of the greatest figures of religious history learned this lesson at great cost but great profit to himself. For years Saul of Tarsus fought against the powers struggling within his breast until the day he seriously faced the question, "Why resist so stubbornly? Do you not know it is hard to struggle against the right?"

The problems we so often find men facing—those situations threatening destruction of a home, the loss of individual freedom, the enslaving habit destroying hope and bringing defeat—problems which becloud life and make going on seem not worth while are the inevitable results of failure to think and face facts.

Long ago the Galilean, Jesus, reminded men of the need to think and face facts in life—"The Truth Shall Make You Free."

Let us begin to think and face facts before we create our problems and the problems will never come.

Our Stockades are filled with those who did not think before they acted. Our divorce courts are busy with those who failed to think of the consequences of rash actions. Our courts operate only for those who fail to look ahead.

Remember! "Where there is no looking forward into the future the people perish" but "The Truth shall make you free" and "If the Son shall make you free ye shall be free indeed" for "Thy Word is Truth, O God."

"Safety-Fill" means Longer Battery Life

Here's why...

Willard "Safety-Fill"—a patented, exclusive feature—gives complete, positive protection against overfilling a Willard Battery. A battery which is overfilled is far more likely to suffer damage from acid spray than one filled to the proper level. So "Safety-Fill" helps to assure longer battery life. It's one of many important reasons why wise buyers buy Willard.

Gayle's swallowed a bobby pin!

When her two-year-old daughter swallowed a bobby pin late one evening, Mrs. Chenoweth rushed to the telephone—and this series of calls followed. She says that she wouldn't even try to guess what these calls were really worth to her. But she can tell you what her actual cost was—less than 2c each! Mrs. Chenoweth knows the cost because she kept an accurate record of all her telephone conversations, then checked it against her monthly bill. "I never realized before," she reports, "how much the telephone helps me run our house, keep in touch with our friends and meet emergencies. It's a real bargain!"

To Mrs. Chenoweth's verdict, may we add: We're doing our best to make your telephone service a real bargain today . . . and to keep it growing in value every year. Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.
