LESTER T. POTTER

D. A. HULCY

Lone Star Gas Has New Prexy

Lester T. Potter was elected president of Lone Star Gas company on July 10. A native of Dallas, he succeeds D. A. Hulcy, who served as Lone Star president more than 17 years.

At request of directors, Hulcy will continue with the company as chairman of the board, to which he was elected in 1952.

At 51, Potter is one of the youngest of Lone Star's official group. He has been with the company since the day after he received a degree in mechanical engineering from Texas A & M college in 1928. In 1954 he was made executive vice-president.

Hulcy began with Lone Star in 1920 as a clerk in the accounting department. In 1940 he was elected president. Under his leadership Lone Star has experienced great growth. When Hulcy became president, company assets amounted to $100 million; on May 31 this year they exceeded $411 million.

Lone Star serves more than 785,000 customers in Iowa Park and 454 other cities and towns in Texas and Oklahoma.

Mildred Farris to Represent I.P. As Barrel Racer in Archer Rodeo

We are fortunate to have Mrs. Mildred Farris in our community. In 1956 and 1957, Mildred was elected vice-president of the Texas Barrel Racing association.

Born in Andrews county, Mildred is one of seven children. Her riding career began as a child on her father's ranch. Being a Texas-bred ranch girl, her love for horses came naturally.

Many hours were spent in the saddle alongside her twin brother Melvin. When 12 years old, because of their father's illness, they took over the ranch work for the summer.

In 1951 Mildred was graduated from Andrews high school. Four years later she finished Sul Ross college in Alpine. While in college she was elected Rodeo Queen, Campus Favorite and Freshman Favorite. She was active in the Women's Recreation association and was on the Student Council. Mildred also belonged to the Fencing club and the House Council.

At the Texas Cowboy Reunion in Stamford, Mildred met John Allen Farris of Iowa Park, and 11 months later, May 31, 1955, they were married.

This is truly a family of champions. John is a rodeo champion, bareback, saddle bronc and bull rider, and has won 25 Championship Buckles. He was All-Around Cowboy at Pampa in 1952-53.

The horse that has carried Mildred to so many championships is Lucky, a bay gelding about 15 hands high weighing approximately 1000 pounds. Mildred first saw Lucky in a roping arena in Andrews four years ago, and seeing possibilities in the horse, she became his owner.

Lucky's breeding is unknown and from where he came to the town of Andrews is unknown. But judging from his powerful build and his tremendous speed he undoubtedly must be of thoroughbred and quarter-horse stock.

From the first Mildred and the horse seemed to get along. Her quiet, gentle manner won Lucky's confidence, and after owning him one week, they won their first barrel. That summer Mildred won four of five barrel races.

Since, Mildred and Lucky have won five championship saddles. They won the first one at Archer City in 1955. In 1956 they won the Cowgirl Sponsor contest at Stamford—the championship saddle.

In addition to numerous other prizes, Mildred has won 14 championship buckles. When points were tabulated and awards presented at the first TERA Roundup, Dec. 1955 in Fort Worth, Mildred received the 1955 Championship Saddle. It was the same in November 1956 at the TERA Roundup in Colorado City (Tex.) — Mildred and Lucky had won the Saddle again.

With the 1957 season half gone, Mildred is again in the lead for the TERA championship. To this wonderful champion barrel racer, each race is still a challenge and each win is a thrilling experience.

She plans to take part in the barrel race at the T-O Fair to be held in Iowa Park Sept. 23-28.

Reflections from the Bible

By Ray Marcum, Minister Iowa Park Church of Christ

In our study of the beginning of the church of our Lord, I don't believe there is a being that can say we have not given a Scripture either as an example or a command for everything thus far established. Last week we taught that the Lord has given us a plan of salvation and by our obedience we become members of His body, the Church. We referred you to the early disciples and began our study of how they became such.

They heard the gospel story (Acts 8:5,6). They believed in Jesus as the Son of God (Acts 16:31) but these people realized that believing the gospel they must also obey it as the next two verses clearly state.

THEY REPENTED OF THEIR SINS: "Repent and be baptized every one of you . . . for the remission of your sins . . ." (Acts 2:38).

THEY CONFESSED THAT JESUS IS THE CHRIST: "I believe that Jesus is the Christ" (Acts 8:37). "With the mouth confession is made UNTO salvation" (Rom. 10:10).

THEY WERE BAPTIZED FOR THE REMISSION OF THEIR SINS: "And now why tarriest thou? Arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins . . ." (Acts 22:16).

The churches of Christ teach this one plan of salvation as it is the only one taught in the word of God. Of the examples in the book of conversions (Acts) this is the plan that all obeyed. We will show next week that such acts are acts of faith.

THIS WEEK

—In Washington

With Clinton Davidson

In Washington this week there is cautious optimism that an easing may be taking place in the cold war before long, but there still are plenty of skeptics.

Confidential military and diplomatic reports to congressional leaders and members of a few key committees have had the effect of raising hope that real progress toward a more stable peace is possible.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, however, has cautioned the Senate Foreign Relations Committee against letting down our guard too soon just because Russia wants to talk about ending the arms race.

"Experience," he told the Committee, "has demonstrated that agreements with the Communists are not dependable so long as they are merely based on paper accord."

It is possible now, without violating security provisions, to reveal the essential facts which have raised hopes for at least a start toward an easing of the threat of World War III.

Russian leaders appear, according to reports from Moscow, to have become convinced they cannot win either a cold war by present tactics, or an all-out military conflict at this time.

There has been no change, so far as U. S. diplomats can learn, in Russia's ultimate objective of spreading communism throughout the world. Plans for doing that, however, apparently are being changed.

Military intelligence reports indicate Russian leaders have become convinced neither side could win a fighting war, now or in the foreseeable future. Neither side has a defense that could stop the offense of the other.

The Communists, therefore, face the necessity of changing their tactics. Almost everything they have tried since 1945 has failed to crack Western defense against the spread of Communism.

First, the effort to undermine democratic governments through infiltration, subversion and sabotage failed. There are fewer communists outside of Russia than there were 10 or 12 years ago.

Second, Russia counted on a serious post-war depression among the democracies to develop a fertile ground for spread of communism. Economic progress has been more rapid among the democracies than in Russia.

Third, it was reasoned that the U. S. would not extend military and economic aid on a broad scale to all parts of the Free World. They counted on the U. S. to return to isolationism, as it did after World War I.

Fourth, that Americans would not spend the many billions necessary to match the military buildup being forced on the Russian people. In 10 years we have spent about $400 billion.

For a dozen years Russia has probed the Free World for signs of weakness, and has met only unexpected strength. Russian ambitions have been thwarted time after time.

Russia seems to Washington to be preparing the way for a change in strategy, not in objectives. She may be thinking of easing the burden of a costly military machine, and thus the threat of a shooting war.

The Kremlin objective, as seen here, is time to strengthen the Russian economy, stamp out resistance from the peoples of subjugated nations, and gather strength for a propaganda campaign to spread communist influence among smaller nations in the Western alliance.

Perfect Never Lump Gravy Made With Instant Cream

THE MODERN BACKYARD is also a kitchen. With all types of grills on the market—outdoor cooking holds forth in every form and fashion. And truly the new style cooks do not sacrifice quality for speed—they get them both.

A recipe that combines these attributes is gravy made with instant cream—and it's equally as good for both indoor and outdoor cooking. Possibly you have used this new instant cream as a "creamer" for coffee. If so you have a supply on your kitchen shelf and we know that you will enjoy it for other purposes, too. As a starter try this never lump gravy. The recipe follows:

NEVER LUMP GRAVY

For each cup gravy, measure 2 tsp. drippings back into skillet, add 1 cup water and blend. Mix 4 tsp. instant cream with 4 tsp. flour and shake into water. Bring to a full boil, stirring. Season to taste with salt and pepper. NEVER LUMPS.

PURE WATER is distributed in a typical scene duplicated many times in the flood-ravaged areas of eastern Kentucky, Virginia and West Virginia. To meet the recent food situation which had cut off 10,000 families from drinking water supplies, four dairy farms put their eight plants to work preparing 60,000 gallons of safe water in cardboard milk cartons and milk tank trucks. It was the first time the Federal Civil Defense Administration's plan for emergency water distribution had been put to practical use in a disaster.
