RAILROAD STRIKE

It looks like it is impossible to avert the railroad strike on all the railroads of this country. President Wilson has worked earnestly to bring the heads of the roads and employes to an agreement, but without results so far. The question is now up to congress. This is the gravest crisis this country has had to face since the civil war and may prove as disastrous. Is it possible that the people of the United States have assisted in building up a great industrial system that they thought was to be their servant, but turns out to be their master? Jones who pays the freight is liable to have a say so in the final settlement of the issue though he seems to have been ignored by both parties to the controversy.

The strike is set for Monday, Sept. 4th, Labor Day. We all hope it will not be put into effect.

BIG SHOW COMING

Lesson X.—Third Quarter, For Sept. 3, 1916.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, II Cor. xi, 21-33. Memory Verses, 25, 26—Golden Text, II Cor. xii, 9—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The beginning of our lesson chapter takes up the very topic of the last part of last week's lesson, that of the church being espoused as a chaste virgin to Christ as her husband, or, as he said in Rom. vii, 4, we are married to Christ, raised from the dead, that we should bring forth fruit unto God. We still wait for the actual marriage of the Lamb, which must take place before we can come with Him in His glory. See the order of events in Rev. xix. Paul speaks of Eve being beguiled by the serpent, and the church is the body and bride of Christ, the last Adam, just as Eve was both the body and bride of the first Adam. When this Eve shall have been builded she shall be brought to her Adam in the air, and then shall be the marriage of the Lamb, in which approaching event all the redeemed in glory must be intensely interested. The same serpent who deceived Eve is still deceiving all his blinded ones, coming to them as an angel of light, preaching another Jesus, another spirit, another gospel (verses 3, 4, 13). All from whom the true gospel is hid are blinded by him as the god of this world, and now, as in the time of Paul, multitudes suffer gladly to be taught by fools rather than listen to the wisdom of God (verse 19: iv, 3, 4). It is sometimes said of preachers and evangelists that they are in the work for what there is in it financially. This may be true of some, but we prefer to judge nothing before the time till the Lord come, for the judgment seat of Christ will make all His own and their works manifest (I Cor. iv, 5; II Cor. v, 9, 10).

They could not accuse Paul of seeking his own gain in any way, for while at Corinth, as we saw in Acts xviii, 2, 3, he and Aquila and Priscilla worked at their occupation at tent makers. He would not be chargeable to any man nor be a burden to any one—rather would he spend and be spent for them, though the more he loved them the less he was loved by them (chapters xi, 7-9; xii, 15-18). He counted all things as nothing compared with the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus, his Lord, for whom he suffered the loss of all things (Phil. iii, 7-10). He did not tell us that it was a special privilege to suffer with Christ (Phil. i, 29) without having tasted of the same in full measure himself.

In verse 23 he speaks of labors, stripes, prisons, deaths, and then in the verses following he tells of five scourgings, three beatings with rods, once stoned, three shipwrecks, besides all other sufferings which he mentions, making up a list which perhaps was never exceeded in the life of any other individual believer. Yet he says: "Most gladly will I glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me. Therefore I take pleasure in infirmities, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses for Christ's sake" (xii, 9, 10).

Was there ever such another devoted follower of the Lord Jesus or such a record of suffering for His sake? He certainly did cause others to suffer when he was a persecutor and murderer, but when his turn came he must have far exceeded them all. If the record in chapter xii, 1-8, refers to his experience at Lystra, when he was stoned to death there on his first missionary tour, what he saw and heard in paradise or the third heaven, while for a little while dead, and dragged out of Lystra as such must have greatly sustained him in all his sufferings after that, Peter tells us that we should rejoice to be partakers of Christ's sufferings; for when His glory shall be revealed we shall be glad with exceeding joy (I Pet. iv, 12, 13). In II Cor. iv, 17, Paul speaks of affliction as being light, and but for a moment, compared with the far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory which will be ours.

Abraham was sustained by the assurance of the city for which he looked and was fully persuaded that God would do as He had said. What Jacob saw in vision at Bethel must have been a great strength to him, unworthy though he was. The assurances given to Joseph in his dreams must have been a great comfort to him in the years of his imprisonment and slavery. The good will of Him who dwelt in the bush and the recompense of the reward were more to Moses than all the pleasures and treasures and prospects in Egypt. Isaiah was cheered in dark days by a vision of the King, the Lord of Hosts (Isa. vi), and our Lord Himself was sustained by the joy set before Him (Heb. xii, 2). There is nothing like visions of God and of glory to lift us above the things seen and temporal. If we have some physical ministry, as Paul had, God may be more glorified by our bearing it patiently than by our being delivered from it. Leave it to Him. The lilies all do, and they grow. Nothing counts unless God is glorified in us (Phil. i, 20). Chapter xii, 9, 10, comes in well here and teaches us that God needs our weakness, not our strength, for His strength is made perfect in weakness. If we desired the power of Christ upon us, as Paul did, we would welcome all things as for our good (Rom. viii, 28).

MEMORABLE OCCASION

E. J. Kiest

"I consider the annual Press Day at the Fair," said Mr. Kiest, "as a most valuable and interesting institution, and I am hoping, in fact we are all hoping, that we will have the honor of entertaining every Texas editor and newspaper man this year.

"Press Day is an institution conceived for the single purpose of promoting a 'get together' spirit among Texas publishers; to bring about a larger and better acquaintance; a closer personal fellowship, and to provide an opportunity for co-operative discussion of matters in which we are all interested.

"I consider that this meeting of right should be held in connection with the State Fair, for it is the State Fair that we are all trying to 'boost', and which, in its turn, is giving a powerful boost to everything that pertains to Texas and belongs to Texans.

"I believe I am well within the facts when I say that Press Day this year will have an added interest to every good publisher who is in attendance. We have several new things which we propose to do this year—and have found several new ways in which to make this occasion one long to be remembered.

ATHLETIC GAMES DURING 1916 STATE FAIR SPLENDID

J. J. Eckford

It is announced by J. J. Eckford, who is director in charge of the athletics division of the State Fair of Texas, that many important championship games have been arranged to be held at the State Fair this year. These games, principally football will be contested by teams representing the foremost educational institutions of the Southwest, and some exceedingly close and interesting sport is looked for.

"Practically every day of the coming Fair," said Mr. Eckford, "will have its scheduled contest, and I am sure that these exhibitions of healthy and manly sport will be of interest to thousands of Fair visitors."

COLISEUM ATTRACTIONS GREATEST OF STATE FAIR

A. A. Jackson

A collection of the greatest vaudeville acts that the world has to offer, is promised visitors to the State Fair of Texas this year by A. A. Jackson, director in charge of the big Coliseum in Fair Park.

"This attraction will be staged in the Coliseum, and will remain there for the entire period of the Fair, October 14 to 29, inclusive," said Mr. Jackson recently, "and I am confident that Fair visitors will find it the most thoroughly enjoyable bill of vaudeville ever presented in any part of the South.

"For this show we have engaged several of the most famous and highest priced acts in the world today, and the balance of the bill will be rounded out with artists who are seldom seen out of the $2 theatres of the North and East.

"I feel confident in stating that the show in the Coliseum this year will totally eclipse any offering of previous years, and that never before has any State Fair presented such attractions."

GOOD CULVERTS ARE NEEDED

Crossroads and Byroads Are Put Off With Old Wooden Contraptions—Accidents Result.

There is a good deal being said and written about good roads. I fear that the main thing is overlooked in their haste by a good many people. They want to do it all at once. I fear the culvert proposition is overlooked by the automobile main road association, writes J. W. Edwards of Dawson county, Nebraska, in Independent Farmer. They forget that much travel and heavy traffic is done on side roads, especially threshing outfits. It is a lamentable fact that the crossroads and byroads are put off with old wooden culverts, thereby causing innumerable accidents while if some attention was given to building solid concrete culverts, something that would be everlasting and cheaper in the long run, there would be less accidents and threshermen would not need to travel three to five miles to get one mile. The automobile also has to travel these crossroads and byroads frequently.

A wooden culvert soon rots out and becomes dangerous inside of a few years. This is caused by floods and different kinds of weather. While concrete is desirable—water and floods may come and wash over them but they are left where put and it is safe to cross over—the ordinary wooden bridge may be washed out and float off or become dangerous to cross. How many wooden structures do we see or hear of after each large flood, being washed downstream, and oftentimes teams or autos are driven on to the supposed culvert thinking it is there, only covered with a foot or two of water, to find it entirely gone or with two or three planks gone, with the result that some person and probably a horse or two are drowned. Then another death trap will be built.

The writer knows whereof he speaks. He knows of one case where three men drove on to what they thought was a culvert. The water had backed up from the main creek and covered the culvert and it looked all right, but it was partly washed away. The outcome was one man nearly drowned, and both horses drowned and floated down stream. Another case under my own observation was that of a threshing engine which went through a culvert eight or ten feet wide and about that deep. What happened? A fireman was scalded to death.

Now if our good roads boosters will have more to say for good cement culverts, and on the byroads, they will have less opposition. Yours for good culverts.

Register Tractive Force.

A dynamometer mounted on an ordinary dray is used by the United States department of agriculture to register the tractive force required to draw various weights over different kinds of roadways.

Make Finishing Touches.

For putting the finishing touches to concrete roads, a machine driven by a gasoline engine has been invented that can finish about 8,000 square feet a day.

El Mate will help your feelings, Holmes.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

One Year $1.00

William Allen White says the Republicans will make a great mistake if they make their fight against President Wilson, but that is what Hughes is doing.

If President Wilson can settle the railroad strike it will be a great feather in his cap. If he fails it may mean defeat for the Democrats this fall.

Culberson's managers said some bitter things about Colquitt and his friends during the campaign that is likely to have effect upon the prohibition election next year, should one be pulled off, and two years hence many of Culberson's campaigners will seek state offices, and will be appealing to Colquitt's anti supporters for votes. Some of us will remember the past campaign and will tell them to seek help from the pros to elect themselves as they sought help from the pros to elect Culberson.

THE SECOND PRIMARY

Senator Culberson is winner in the second race by about seventy thousand, so press reports say.

The vote was smaller than expected, about two hundred and fifty thousand against four hundred and ten thousand in the first primary.

The result of the second primary is naturally a disappointment to Governor Colquitt's friends, but they accept the result and will vote for President Wilson at the November election just as though there had been no second primary, and just as though Barry Miller and other Culberson speakers had not stated time and again that Colquitt's support came principally from Republicans.

While THE STAR is disappointed at the result in the state, the result in Callahan county is satisfactory. Colquitt carried 14 of the 20 boxes and tied Culberson at one. Culberson only carried 5 boxes, three of them strong pro boxes.

While the pros are exulting over Colquitt's defeat they overlook the fact that Culberson is an anti just as Colquitt is an anti. Most of the Democrats who supported Colquitt did so because they believed Senator Culberson was physically unable to attend to the duties of the office as he should, and as the people of Texas have a right to expect of her senators, and not because they had anything against Senator Culberson. THE STAR made its position plain on this point. The anti won, if the pros did elect the senator. Under the circumstances both pros and anti ought to be satisfied.

EUROPEAN WAR

Business is picking up in the Balkin mountains. Roumania has declared war on Austria and the Greeks and Bulgarians are fighting. Greece, it is believed will enter the war on the side of the entente allies just as Roumanian army has joined with the Russian army, and have invaded Hungary, so reports go.

It looks like Emperor Joseph and the Kaiser have all the war any one needs to satisfy the most war-like rulers on earth.

Old Francis Joseph no doubt now realizes what a foolish thing it was to attack a little helpless kingdom like Serbia over the protest of all Europe, Germany alone excepted. The central powers sowed the wind in the fateful days of July 1914 and now they are reaping the whirlwind.

Germany cannot fight all Europe much longer, but has done so very successfully up to this time.

It is now believed that the entry of Roumania into the war will not materially change results for some time, but will eventually have great influence on the result. Bulgaria entered the war at a time when she thought the central powers would win, but with Bulgaria's help only, little Serbia was overrun. Roumania believes the central powers are bound to lose. If this proves true as it very likely will, Roumania will emerge from the war the most powerful of the Balkin States, a place coveted by the Bulgarians. Bulgaria now probably realizes that she bet on the wrong horse.

EUROPEAN WAR

The most important news from the war this week is that Roumania has entered the war with the entente allies, and it is believed that Greece will do likewise. Greece is practically at war with Bulgaria now as they have been fighting for a week.

The outcome looks dark for the Teutonic allies. Desperate fighting is reported going on in Macedonia near Salonika. Russian troops are said to be crossing Roumanian territory to attack Bulgaria on the east.

COST OF PAPER AND PRINTING

If you think any country newspaper man has a picnic, look at paper and type costs today and two years ago. Blank paper has advanced nearly one hundred percent, and other material from 10 to 30 percent. The advance in blank paper is costing us $9.00 per month more than it did two years ago and the end is not in sight. We have no way to shift this cost to the public because times will not admit of a raise in the subscription or advertising rates, but from now on we will insist on cash in advance on all subscriptions and transient ads.

BURNT BRANCH CULLINGS

"Know one woman by these presents" began a lawyer with a legal instrument, "That's not right, Judge suggested his client, "it should be know all men, etc". "Well it's all the same, if one woman knows it every damn man in the state will know it in twenty-four hours" and there it is.

Bob Teague an old time boy of these parts is visiting his mother, Grandma Teague, and brother, Clingman, and other relatives, Bob is still of droughty Jones county.

Uncle John Wagner says Clarence Russell is doing well. Glad to hear it, there never was a nobler or more deserving boy than Clarence. Will never forget his kindness when I was on four legs and in a "ell of a fix." "And when by my bedside I kneel down to pray I will remember you boy in my prayers."

Mrs. Jinks Garrett of Jayton is visiting the old folks at Dressy.

Jack Aiken has finished his tanking operations here and has taken a contract from "ye scribe" No water no pay.

A singing school is on tap at Dressy, and as Bob Taylor said "the instructor or old field teacher is "the hero of the hour," but I am not going to tell what else he said for fear of serious results, besides my descriptive powers are inferior to Bob's.

Hart & Henson are extensively tanking and have struck a seep, which will feed the tank in sufficient quantities for their hogs and other stock. These gentlemen are building an ideal hog ranch and when completed will be the pride of the Cross Plains country. Let's shake boys.

Frank Bryson of east of the Terminal is extensively in the hog business with Cris Parsons and others in the wake.

Parties who have tried it inform me Sudan grass is the best all round pasturage for the swine. Plant in rows 3 feet apart and when up to a stand cultivate twice then turn in his hogship and he will do the rest, and don't you forget it. Drill thick in order to get a good stand.

Geo. B. Scott is turning the stubble, but his man says: "too hard for a moleboard plow." While some with disks are doing only tolerable.

Uncle Mike Waller says he cultivated 50 acres of land with a blind mule. The bragadocio element had best take note.

Wait until the 26th, then spout and twist, it may be the last for sometime as we are not going to have submission. Now listen and hear that fanatical element roar. This is in accordance with the platform adopted by the Democracy at Houston.

What has become of Blanton, it is high time we were receiving your card of thanks.

Going fishing seems to be the order of the day. Wish I was an invalid so I could enjoy the sport and while away the dry times.

An Englishman traveling in America thus accosted a newsboy: "Hello Newsy, can you take a joke?" "Try me." "Look at your nose and tell me what time it is." The boy quickly replied: "Look at your own, mine's not running." Get ahead of a kid, especially a vendor of news.

They say a fellow in the Cottonwood neck of the woods has bought a new auto and he now as never be-

Holland Bond is seriously ill at his home south of here.

Two cars of hogs were shipped from the Terminal this week by Hart, Henson and Boothe.

The progressive citizenship, doubtless assisted by our great big County Commissioner, are strawing the sandy places on the road from these parts to Cross Plains.

More sad hearts have returned from the west and say no good, old Callahan for me.

The Terminal has received several bales of new cotton which sold at good prices. The first bale bringing $122.52 says the Review.

The Review reports one half inch rain.

Uncle John Wagner and good wife have returned from Plainview where they visited their relatives, Clarence Russell and family. Welcome back Uncle John, the Terminal doesn't look natural without you.

When we get short on news items we turn to the Review columns and we get them.

Mr. L. W. Teague took considerable interest in the candidacy of his friend, Cartwright, and while here took occasion to look up the vote cast for him and his opponent in the recent primary here.—Review I assure you it is all o. k. and regular Old battle scared Taylor beat you to a finish and that's all there is to it. Come again and we will again fix you and you can again investigate the record.

Now Uncle Bill as we have got the hook clear, we will spit on the slate, rub it out and call it even and may the Good Lord bless you.

We hear Capt. J. O. Hall and family of Oklahoma are out on the ranch looking after affairs.

Just as soon as I catch up with my work I am coming up and spend a week. Now laugh, Uncle Bill.

COTTONWOOD LOCALS

August 28, 1916.—The time has come again for us to inflict the readers of The Star with another one of our intelligent communications and our think pot is as destitute of all idea as a drum is of anything.

We have been having some fine prospects for rain, but up to date the dampness has been "nix," but we are still hopeful. Peanuts and June corn are the principal crops that rain would benefit, but we want to sow turnips and plant some Irish potatoes.

Well the "run off" primary is over and Culberson is nominated and a great many citizens of Texas are well satisfied, and Uncle Jimmie is extremely satisfied, for several reasons, first we think Culberson is the right man to represent us in the U. S. Senate, next is the dissatisfaction of the disgruntled democracy of our Country, and again we are impressed with the idea that Culberson's health will improve for we are forced to the conclusion that a large percent of Culberson's illness is in the minds of the Colquitt men, and last but not least we have a brainy man to represent us in the U. S. Senate.

The Christian meeting at Cottonwood closed last Sunday night with three accessions to the church by Baptism and one reclaimed. This perhaps ends the series of meetings for this summer, and the primaries being over and cotton picking being on hand, our town will become exceeding dull. The cotton picking in our country will not amount to much but the people will go to other points in quest of work.

Mr. Clyde Hays, of New Mexico, and a son of Mrs. J. M. Casey by a former husband and who has been visiting his mother at Cottonwood, has returned to his home.

A Phrenologist and a slight of hand performer was doing our town last Monday night. His phrenological exercises and also his slight of hand performance was somewhat amusing to the small audience in attendance. Old soldiers and cripples were admitted free, so you see Uncle Jimmie was on hand.

Mr. J. T. Casey, of Haskel Co., Gray Casey and family and Jack Casey, all of Ira, Scurry County, who has been visiting Cottonwood, the guest of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Casey, have returned to their home.

G. N. Borden will lecture at Cottonwood Saturday September 2nd, at 3 o'clock p. m.

Miss Inez Brown, of Brown County, and a former teacher in the Cottonwood High School and her sister, Miss Hattie Brown, also of Brown County, are visiting Cottonwood the guests of Miss Matjie and Jewell Casey. Miss Hattie has secured and will teach the Belle Plain school.

Mr. J. A. Ayres left Monday for Oklahoma City, Kansas City and perhaps other points of interest. Mr. Ayres is taking a much needed rest and will be gone for quite an extended visit.

Miss Fay McClure, of Putnam, has been visiting Miss Casey.

Miss Mattie Casey, of Cottonwood, after an extended visit to May, Brownwood and Santa Anna has returned to her home. Miss Mattie was a teacher in the Cottonwood High School at one time and taught in Brown County last session. Miss Mattie is an estimable young lady, a fine teacher, and justly merits the confidence and respect of any community in which she casts her lot. Owing to delicate health, Miss Mattie will not teach this fall but will take a much needed rest.

Now owing to the fact that we have run out of material, and have to gather and market some tomatoes, "we are going to leave, for as long as we stay around home they will want us to do something and we are constitutionally opposed to engaging in so undignified exercises as manual labor." We have to "Keno." Yours Beautifully, "Uncle Jimmie.

DALLAS FAIR

The 1916 State Fair of Texas, which will be held in Dallas October 14 to 29, is to be the largest, most interesting and most valuable agricultural and educational exposition ever held in America. No previous State Fair or Exposition in Texas or any other State has reached the high standard of quality set for this year's big exposition at Dallas.

The above paragraph is taken from a recent announcement issued by R. E. L. Knight, president of the State Fair of Texas, and indicates the position of the Fair management with reference to the coming Fair.

Incomparable agricultural exhibits, together with vast showings of all that is latest and best in farm implements and machinery, are some of the features which are expected to prove of vital interest to the Southwestern farmers.

Then too there will be wonderful exhibits of all kinds of horses, cattle, swine and sheep, and the thousands of specimens of woman's work will be carefully featured.

It is said that practically all of educational institutions of Texas are preparing interesting exhibits, and the educational division will doubtless be of much interest.

But the State Fair of Texas is not entirely educational. While education, and development through education...may properly be called its theme, it has other interests. The various program of attractions, the various amusements for which it is famous, annually draw hundreds of people to Dallas, and it may be said that these vast crowds of pleasure-seekers have never been disappointed. Nor will they be disappointed this year, for the program of amusements for this year's Fair reads like a trip through a veritable wonderland of pleasure.

First and foremost there is the wonderful bill of vaudeville which will be presented in the Coliseum. This will undoubtedly prove to be the greatest collection of individual stars ever seen in the South. Several of the world's best and highest priced acts have already been put under contract to appear at the performance throughout the entire period of the Fair, and others of the same high class are being booked. The complete bill will be one that will linger long in the memories of Fair visitors.

Then, in addition there will be a mammoth Circus and Hippodrome performance, an attraction requiring the services of more than 25 of the best acts in the circus world. This attraction will be seen twice daily in order that all Fair visitors may have an opportunity to see it.

Automobile racing, with the world's master drivers and fastest cars entered, will be a feature of this year's State Fair that will be of interest to many. The track at Fair Park has been put into ideal condition for this sport, and world's record time will doubtless be made.

A tremendous showing of 1917 models of automobiles has also been arranged in order that Fair visitors may have a chance to see and compare all of the standards makes. This feature will be free to the public and will be on the grounds throughout the Fair, October 14 to 29. It is stated that about three hundred cars will be show in connection with this year's Fair.

The C. A. Worthams shows have also been engaged for the entire period of the Fair, and this wonderful collection of all-star amusements will undoubtedly add much to the pleasure of a visit to Fair Park. The Wortham Shows of 1916 include the following: Backman Trained Animals Circus, Model City, My Lady's Fan, Arabian Knights, Panama Canal, Athletic Show, Follies of Life, Wild West, Wonders of the Universe, Pike's Peak, Toyland, The Whip, Over and Under the Sea, Ferris Wheel, Merry-go-arounds, etc.

With all this wonderful wealth of exhibits and amusements already arranged for, it is apparent that the ambitions of the Fair management are in a fair way to be realized, and that the 1916 State Fair of Texas will go down in history as the biggest and finest State Fair ever produced in any part of the World.

GOOD ROADS

GOOD ROADS ASSIST CITIES

Merchants in Town Reap as Much Profit as Persons Living Along Improved Highways.

"Men who have been successful in building up large enterprises, men who have made a lifelong study of conditions of affairs where bad roads predominate, and men who have put their best efforts into improving highways are unanimous in one opinion—that it is the duty of big cities to help in building good roads that lead into their limits," said a good roads enthusiast to a Washington Star representative.

"The cities derive as much benefit as, if not more than, the residents along the route of the proposed improvement.

"It has been proved time and time again that farm lands with a hard road outlet into the city are far more valuable than the farm that is shut off from the city five months out of the year on account of impassable roads.

"The farmer benefits by easier hauling, cheaper transportation, time saving and better social conditions for his wife, children and self.

"The city benefits by cheaper produce, the opportunity for the rural resident to get into the city and make purchases and the merchant in town can extend his zone of delivery far out into the country.

"The best proof that good roads bring prosperity is brought home to the very doors of Washington by a comparison of the two states on the borders of the District of Columbia.

"Maryland has practically finished a six-year job of good roads building. Virginia has hardly commenced. A two-hour automobile ride, say to Frederick, Md., followed by a two-hour ride through Virginia to Warrenton, will show a contrast that is not hard to understand.

"Washington has profited greatly by the good roads to Frederick. It has brought thousands of dollars to this city.

"Within the past year a good road has been built to Fairfax, Va., which is half way to Warrenton. Conditions for the better are noticeable along this stretch. Twenty-three more miles are needed to put Warrenton in close touch with the capital. A greater part of the amount necessary has been raised in the country district, the balance is looked for in Washington. Just how far the business and motorists in Washington will go along this line is problematical, but that Washington will profit by a good road to Warrenton or any other Virginia town within a radius of fifty to one hundred miles is a certainty. Making the path to one's door easy for the purchasers is always good advertising. Helping build a good road into the city that will bring thousands of buyers into town is surely making the path easier."

ASPHALT OIL BEST ON ROADS

University of Missouri Engineering Dean Says Tests Show It is Superior to Anything Else.

The only kind of oil used in oiling streets or roads, in the opinion of Dean E. J. McCaustland of the school of engineering of the University of Missouri, should be an oil that contains asphalt. Oil that contains paraffin will evaporate rapidly and leave a road muddy and sticky.

The engineering experiment station here has analyzed many samples of road oils sent to the university from various parts of the state. Oil that has an asphalt base will give almost as much satisfaction as asphalt pavement, is the opinion of Dean McCaustland.

This office has received the 37th annual catalogue of the Sam Houston Normal Institute at Huntsville an institution which now ranks as a State College for teachers. The catalogue contains full page illustrations of the various college buildings campus scenes and students activities. The plant includes seven brick buildings, three of them fire proof construction, a gymnasium with swimming pool, ample athletic fields, school garden, small demonstration farm and an amphitheatre for out-door dramas. Six hundred and thirty-eight students were enrolled in the session 1915-16, and over 700 in the summer session. The various courses of study lead to teacher's certificates as well as to advanced standing at first class universities. Of the 1915-16 students 49 received diplomas and permanent certificates, 89 received first grade Junior certificates, 144 first grade Sophomore certificates, and 112 second grade Freshman certificates. The next session opens on September 27th.

Mrs. Willie Flores-Barnhill's guests the past week were Mr. and W. R. Mahon and little Billie Jack Mahon of Stamford, Mrs. Jack West of Kingsville, Mrs. Erie Merchant Tuttle and daughters Misses Lucile and Carrie Tuttle of Chickasha Okla. John and Claude Flores.
